And Then It Happened

by Elaine Edford

Board of Education members had the opportunity last week to hear and view a "child control on buses" program presented by Barb Voss, director of Special Education and New Driver Education, and Jack Seward, head of Advanced Driver Training, both of Eastern and Wayne State Universities.

Mrs. Voss and Mr. Seward have recommended that the program be presented to Plymouth Community School District school children in the hopes that "future accidents and possible fatalities be avoided." The program is aimed at controlling "horseplay" on busses - "innocent fun," stated Seward, "that can result in death and injury."

A film entitled, "And Then It Happened," is aimed at the kindergarten through fifth grade levels. The film re-enacts actual school bus fatalities call caused by irresponsible behavior which distracted the driver and caused an accident. Mr. Seward was quick to point out that even veteran bus drivers are involved in accidents if student harassment is bad enough.

Grades six through twelve are presented with a talk and slide program. Mrs. Voss began the program by vividly describing an accident involving a school bus and a train - an actual accident which occurred recently in Maryland.

Mrs. Voss stated that older students must be "hit hard with the cold facts and the reality" of a horrible accident in order to bring about any positive change in their behavior. Thus, graphic, actual slides of real accidents are shown to the students.

Mrs. Voss and Mr. Seward emphatically recommended the program be shown in both the upper and lower grades "in the hopes that a possible tragedy may be avoided in Plymouth."

Budget Hearing Set

by Robert Nicora

The Plymouth City Commission designated April 29th as the date of a formal public hearing to discuss the proposed 1974-75 budget for the city of Plymouth, during the Monday, April 1st commission meeting.

In presenting the proposed budget to the commission, which projects a tax increase of 1.75 mills, City Manager Fred L. Yockey said, "I wish I had a magic formula which would allow the same tax rate for the next fiscal year that we had this year. However, that would only be an April fool hoax because the cost of government like anything else is just skyrocketing."

Yockey maintained that the proposed increase in taxes would be necessary to offset the cutbacks in state and federal revenues that were previously made available to the city.

Yockey stated, "This country is experiencing the worst inflationary spiral that I have observed in my 23 years as a City Manager."

The inflationary trend combined with the loss of federal and state grants, Yockey said, makes the proposed tax increase necessary to maintain the present level of services provided by the city.

The commission, Monday, also set aside May 6th for public hearings on two resolutions.

The first resolution deals with a proposed ordinance to amend Section 5.186, Footnote (o), Article XIV, Chapter 52 of the Plymouth city zoning code. The proposed amendment would change the code in order to permit the use of second floor areas in downtown buildings as residential facilities.

Presently the code restricts second story space for commercial use only.

The other resolution deals with the vacation of the northerly 31 feet of Hamilton Street.

Sewer Problems in Lakepointe

by Bruce Phillips

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees, at the March 26 meeting, discussed sewer problems at Lake Point Village. The issue was called to their attention by Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Verduce and their neighbors, who live in the area.

Mr. Verduce explained to the Trustees that whenever there is a good rainfall his, as well as neighbors', basements are flooded. "There must be something wrong with the sewer system to cause the water to back up into the basements." Besides water in the basements, there is a great deal of water sitting in the yards and surrounding area with no place to drain. Only a few weeks ago after the rain, the D.P.W. was called to pump water out of the area basements, as well as underground drains. The sewage then sets in the streets where the children can play in it. The home owners believe that the sewers are too small and the flooding is caused by some form of back up.

Mr. Hamill, the City Engineer, informed the Board and residents of the particulars involving Lake Point Village. The sewage problem only happens when there is a heavy rainfall, which he believes can be solved by sump pumps, at this time. The Township and the D.P.W. are looking into a long-run project to service the area in the future.

Mr. Verduce then added that sump pumps are only a temporary and inadequate solution to the problem. The concerned home owners would like both sanitary and storm sewers to be checked by an impartial, reputable, and responsible authority to see if they are well-planned and adequate for the area.

The Board of Trustees decided to have Mr. Hamill report back to them in two weeks with a progress report on the area sewage problem.

It was brought to this paper's attention that on Friday, March 29th, after that miserable snow storm, Norm Druce stopped his car on the way to a Rotary meeting and actually helped Joe Hudson across icy Main Street.

Joe Crissey Fund Going Strong

by Dennis O'Connor

A big "pat on the back" goes to the people of the Plymouth community this week.

The community has really shown what good people are made of as they continue to donate to the Joe Crissey Fund.

The many donations of $3, $5 and $10 have added up tremendously to contribute to the fund reaching close to the $5,000 mark. It's great to see how the people come through for little Joe when help is needed.

The Dixieland Sing-a-long, which was held last Thursday night at the Good Counsel gym, raised $425. Thanks to Father Joe Dustin, and Bill Thomas and his "Alley Cats" for the great music, and to all the women who helped organize the evening. Good Counsel has now contributed close to $2,000.

Pioneer Middle School made its donation this week as they held a Friday afternoon assembly to raffle off many different things. This big raffle collected $827 for the fund.

Joe and his family received a real big treat last Saturday as Birmingham Brother Rice High School gave them front row tickets to the Class A Michigan High School Basketball Championship held in East Lansing. Joe was asked to sit on the bench of the Rice team as he watched the Warriors win the title over Cash Tech in an overtime thriller.

A meeting will be held this Saturday, April 6, in Kellogg Park to sign potential walkers and sponsors, for the walk-a-thon on Joe Crissey Day April 13. Anyone can sponsor or walk. For more information call the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce at 453-1540.

The family comedy called "Seven Nuns in Las Vegas" will be presented by the Plymouth Theater Guild (April 25, 26, and 27) with all proceeds going to Joe. For more information call Clemie Cyburt, director, at 453-4140.

A talent show has been organized by Mike Telekesy. This show, which features local talent, will be held April 26 at the Salem auditorium. Tickets will be available in the near future at the middle schools and high schools. Donations are $1.50 with the money going to Joe.

Remember, canisters are still all around town and donations can be sent to Frances O'Connor, 15046 Robinwood, or Marianne Heaton, 15875 Marilyn.

$827.00 Raised for Joe Crissey

by Elaine Edford

The students of Plymouth Middle School presented an $827.00 check to Joe Crissey last Friday at the "Joe Crissey Raffle." The children raised the money through the sale of raffle tickets to fellow students. Prizes were donated by Plymouth Merchants and Pioneer school teachers.

Gary Balconi, Pioneer teacher, together with his Transactional Analysis classes, organized the raffle and drawing on Friday. Mr. Balconi stated that the kids walked door to door about the Plymouth community to ask various merchants for prize donations and later walked door to door again to pick up the prizes to be given away at the raffle. Balconi also praised the Middle School youngsters for keeping track of and turning in "every cent donated to the Crissey Fund."

Joe attended the drawing and received a standing ovation from students when he appeared on the school stage. Joe drew out a few of the winners from the raffle drum.

In addition to $827.00 cash, Joe received playing cards (for his trip to New York) and a walkie-talkie set. Mr. and Mrs. Crissey were given a $25.00 check "to be used for a dinner in New York."

John Marsh, "Plymouth Six" Boy Scout, instructs Girl Scout Cadets of Troop No. 407, Northville, in a First Aid class. Marsh is working on his Eagle badge. "Plymouth Six" Scouts have been teaching First Aid to the Girl Scouts as part of a special Eagle project under the direction of Scoutmaster William Neu. Boys desiring Eagle status individually plan and teach the courses. Troop leader Pat Magdick claims that the five-week program is so successful that it is to be conducted indefinitely.

Credit Union Annual Meeting a Success

Despite the winter's worst ice storm, the Plymouth Credit Union Annual meeting proceeded on schedule. Margaret Dunning, John Hoben, Glen Krieg, Dr. Cliff McClumpha and Richard Wernette were elected to two year terms, joining Walter Hagen, Russell Koepke, George Lawton and Clarence Moore on the nine person board.

President Dunning reported on an excellent year with assets approaching seven million dollars, owned by almost 7,000 members.

The $50.00 door prize was won by Joan Palmer, with Amy Barts, Marie Cripe, Leroy Cripe and Gary Bartz winning the other prizes.

Margaret Dunning was presented with a special spring floral arrangement by Bartels, for her 12 years of outstanding service as a director and her eight years as President of the Credit Union.

CRIER'S LITE

TRAIN!! TRAIN!!! TRAIN!!!! These were the last words spoken by three boys on a school bus in Congress, New York on March 23, 1972. The three boys were sitting at the point of impact in a school bus-train accident that brought tragedy to the entire community of Congress.

These three boys, along with the many other injured children on that bus, yelled "train" every morning - but at every other time there was no train. On March 23, the train was there. The bus driver didn't realize this would be the last call until it was too late.

This is a constant problem for bus drivers across the nation. Even though bus drivers complete a driving school, and are certified by the state, the disciplinary problems still occur. Our major concern is why they occur in our school community, and how they can be solved. Driving a school bus, with 66 yelling and screaming kids, to and from school, is one of the hardest jobs this community has to offer, and it seems parents are unaware of the problems some children create.

Last Thursday I attended a film presentation which demonstrated some disciplinary problems on buses, and then showed the accidents that occurred because of these problems. It was rough to watch. The train in Congress hit the bus at about 35 miles per hour. After the train stopped, 680 ft. later, it had crushed a mass of steel that once was a school bus. The kids inside lost limbs and broke bones. Five were killed and 15 suffered traumatic amputations.

In Maryland, video cameras were placed in a bus for a parent teacher program on bus discipline. The study was done just a little bit too late. When this bus was hit, you could see the children being thrown against the edges of jagged steel, which acted as scapels and amputated hands, arms and legs.

The communities in Maryland and in New York were very similar to the community of Plymouth. They had a growing school system, where kids went to school every day by bus. When the kids were on the bus, they used to yell and scream and holler. But these communities are slightly different from ours. They have gone through the agony and the publicity of being one town in hundreds where fatal bus accidents occur every year. Let's face the problem head on. Plymouth doesn't need to be a town that may become a statistic.

If individual parents would talk to their children about bus discipline and explain what could happen if the driver of their bus can't hear the siren of an approaching fire truck because of the noise; explain what could happen if the driver can't see a train coming because of kids standing in the aisle; explain the possible effects 66 screaming kids could have on driving ability, and finally explain possible pain and injury and death due to such circumstances. Perhaps the Plymouth Community could avoid a tragedy that is all too common in this country.

Letters To The Editor

On Warpath!

To Whom It May Concern:

While reading your paper on Wednesday, March 20th, in the sports section, I noticed that the article on Plymouth Salem High School's Basketball Game should have been worded differently. Let me remind you that there is no longer just one Plymouth High School, but two. There is a Plymouth/Canton High School and a Plymouth/Salem High School. The way in which the articles were written was alright, but the name of the school and the nickname was incorrectly edited. Instead of Plymouth High School, it should have read Plymouth/Salem High School; and instead of the Plymouth Rocks, it should have read the Plymouth/Salem Rocks. Plymouth/Canton High School has as its nickname, the Plymouth/Canton Chiefs or the Canton Chiefs.

There are many solutions to this problem. One is to do as the people of Garden City did; they call their high schools Garden City East and Garden City West. However, I think that Livonia has the best solution by naming their high schools Bentley, Churchill, Franklin, and Stevenson.

I know that this situation is new to Plymouth in that having two high schools and calling, what use to be known as Plymouth High School, now is changed to Plymouth/Salem High School. It will be hard to get use to this change in name, but will be better in the long run.

So in the future, PLEASE make a vital effort to correct these mistakes.

Sincerely,
A Chief on the Warpath!
Sociology Class Surveys Future Development

To the editor:

We of the Plymouth - Salem High School Advanced Sociology class have taken an interest in the Community of Plymouth and its future.

We consulted several officials who are involved in the future planning of the Plymouth Community. Based on the information we received from these people, we conducted a survey given at random to residents in the Plymouth - Canton area.

In drawing our conclusions, we divided the surveys according to age groups and the length of time the individual has lived in Plymouth. The age groups are: under 16, 17-20, 21-40, and 41 and up. (Enclosed is a copy of our survey.)

We have found from the results of our survey that generally, people do not want Plymouth to grow. Many fear Plymouth will lose its small town atmosphere and become a large metropolitan city. At the present time, most of the people view the Plymouth Community as a colonial town, but the community's future as just another large city. One person commented, "Plymouth will probably end up like every other 'small town,' someday it will be very industrialized and heavily populated."

Long time residents of Plymouth seem to have negative attitudes to the new subdivisions.

Residents of Canton are opposed to a substantial amount of growth, however, if it is inevitable, they prefer industry as opposed to shopping malls.

In conclusion, residents of the Plymouth - Canton area are very concerned about the future of Plymouth's perspective growth.

Sincerely: Sandy Cooper, Gail McKenny, Marguerite McKenzie and Greg Merriman.

"Good to Know"

Dear Sir:

We would like to express our sincere appreciation for the fine coverage given by your newspaper to our recent showing of the film "Isn't it Good to Know." Because of your ad many people had the opportunity to see the film who would not have known about it otherwise.

Hi From Florida

Hi you-all!

So glad there is once again a newspaper with some Plymouth news! We don't miss the cold weather but we do miss news from home.

You might be interested to know that for many years there has been a "Plymouth Michigan Sunshine Club" in Florida. They meet the first Tuesday in March at Lake Alfred for a picnic dinner, and a chance to see a familiar face and talk over old times "back home." Past years have brought out 60 or 70

P.S. Received my first paper on Thursday and the next one on Saturday!

Dear Mr. Foley and Mr. Warshauer,
Your newspaper is a welcome addition to Plymouth.

As the daughter of Elton Eaton, the former owner of the Plymouth Mail, may I make two suggestions?

First, use names. Get someone to make calls and find out who has entertained, vacationed or been to some and under your pictures use the names of people photographed.

Second, when you begin to use more editorials, take a stand. Not necessarily on politics, but on suggestions of policies concerning Plymouth.

GOOD LUCK.
Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Ken Gust

Smiling faces were in abundance at Lakepointe Garden Club's Spring Luncheon.

Lakepointe Garden Luncheon

The Lakepointe Village Branch of the National Farm and Garden Association, Inc. held its 6th annual Salad Luncheon Saturday, March 30.

The luncheon could only be described as a success — since the 40 member club served 260 luncheons to accommodate a total of 257 in attendance.

The luncheon began at 12:00 Saturday, and was promptly followed by a fashion show. Ten Garden Club members modeled the spring and summer fashions, provided by Minerva's-Dunning's of Plymouth.

The luncheon and fashion show are to be used by the Lakepointe Garden Club for scholarship funds as well as other Plymouth Community services.

Rotary Celebrates 50th

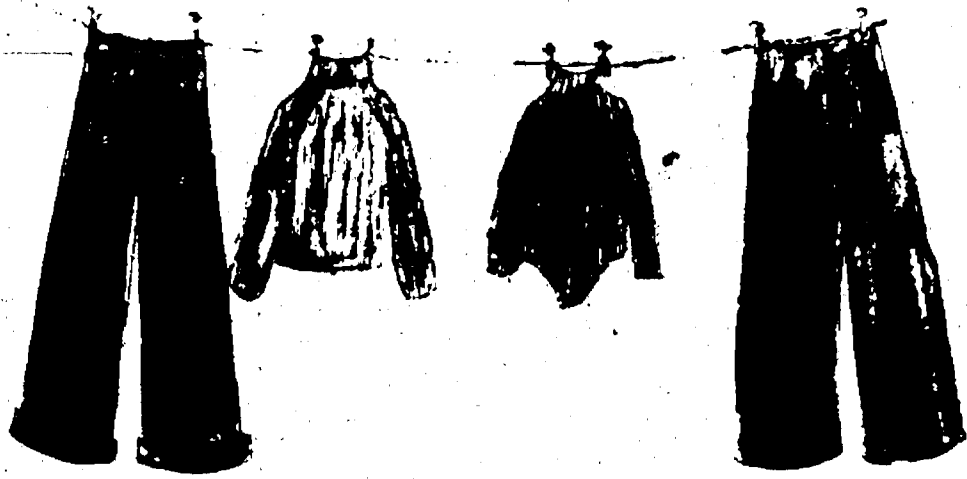

The Plymouth Rotary Club celebrated its 50 anniversary Friday, March 22, at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth. Rotarians from various sections of Michigan and Canada joined the 250 who attended the dinner. Larry Carino, vice president and general manager of Channel 2, joined the tribute, praising the Plymouth Rotarians as "one of the most noteworthy."

Plymouth Rotary has been very active in the Plymouth community working with crippled children, funding scholarships, contributing $20,000 to the Farm Division of Centennial Educational Park, to name only a few contributions. In early March, Plymouth Rotary donated a kidney dialysis unit to St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia. Funding of such projects is made possible by the Rotary's annual Fall Festival "chicken barbecue."

Mrs. George Smith, widow of the club's first Rotary president, was given a Paul Harris medallion at the anniversary dinner — one of the highest honors in the Rotary International Foundation.

Happiness Is a Bear Named 'Fuzzy'

by James Watson

Little Kimberly McCain, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCain, 1096 Hartsough, Plymouth, is the happiest student at Smith Elementary School. She was the holder of the winning ticket in the raffle held during the 24th annual Smith Mardi Gras.

Kim's prize, a 64-inch stuffed bear, was one of three major prizes raffled off. Bessie Wallace of 5731 Harvey in Westland won a 15-inch black and white TV.

and Donna Planck of 10875 Brookwood, Plymouth, won a clock radio.

The Mardi Gras at Smith has become a Plymouth community institution, this year attracting over 2,000 people. The event, organized and staffed by the Smith School P.F.O., had over 200 parents actively involved. Mr. William Lutz, principal at Smith, said, "The response of our parents is unbelievable. There is no lack of enthusiasm or interest at Smith."

School Aid Payments on Way

Quarterly state school aid payments are on their way to school districts in the 52nd District, State Representative Raymond Smit (R-Ann Arbor) announced today.

The payments are based on a formula adopted by the Legislature. These payments provide local school districts with operating money in addition to that collected through local property taxes and other sources.

Title I and III funds are available through the Elementary-Secondary Education Act of 1965, and Vocational Education funds are provided through the Vocational Education Act of 1963.

The amounts of the quarterly payments for April 1, 1974 and the money remitted under Title I and III and the Vocational Education funds are as follows for Plymouth Community Schools:

Plymouth Community School District, $492,850 in regular state aid; $4,783 in Title I; and $5,277 in vocational education funds.

Northville Public Schools: $275,020 in regular state aid; and $510 in vocational education funds.

Letters to Lynne

by Linda Warshauer

I'd like to meet the extremely unperceptive individual who invented the "Family Room," especially the family room located directly off the kitchen. I'm sure if he or she is still alive, no doubt in the confines of a quite and secure padded cell, they have eliminated this "selling point" from their home.

I realize that the original objective of the family room (the bigger the better?) was to enable the cheerful mom to have full view of her impossible offspring. I will, however, give credit when due. With the family room close by - the referee (who else) is always there - to comfort and hug when needed. I am, however, here-to-fore, stating my protest to this architectural innovation.

Remember the finished basement of days gone by - where toys and noise were not a constant eye-sore and ear-sore? Why was it necessary to move all the clutter upstairs? Let's face it girls - the kitchen is where we spend most of our time - kids are supposed to be seen and not heard, right? Not in our house! I'm invariably bumping into one of my kids while en-route to the refrigerator, or breaking my neck and just managing to keep my balance as I step on a racing car with ball-bearing wheels. Not to mention the noise level.

There's no such thing as having the radio tuned to a Mozart Concerto - after all "Speed Racer" is on and the two are definitely contrapuntal! Then starts the usual vocal contributions of three active kids who never talk below a screech! It's a wonder my family hasn't suffered food poisoning from my trying to prepare dinner under such hazardous circumstances.

Needless to say, the family room is a decorator's dream. Usually in full view of any company that enters the front door, the family room has lost its casual playroom-type air and has given way to becoming a second living room. We become frantic when company's expected - picking up the debris normally found scattered around our family room. The matching love seats flanking the fireplace, the contemporary glass and chrome coffee table, and the shag carpeting are often hidden by unhung jackets, scattered books and newspapers, toys, etc. I frequently walk into my living room (with the vacuum tracks still showing on the carpeting) to remind myself that it really does exist. Wouldn't it be nice to return to the "olden days" and sit comfortably in the living room, soothing music on the stereo and the kids relegated to playing in the basement?

I vote for the abolishment of all family rooms - decorated to a "T" and no longer serving the purpose for which it was originally intended - maybe we could move it to the garage?

Plymouth Children's Nursery Capacity Enrollment

by Peggy Fisher

Increasing demands for nursery school classes for three and four year-olds have expanded and now filled to capacity the pre-school enrollment at the Plymouth Children's Nursery, Inc., the only cooperative nursery school now operating in the Plymouth Community School District. The Plymouth Co-op, which was established in 1962 is housed in the old Hough School, located on the corner of Warren and Haggerty Roads.

The spiraling population growth in the Plymouth-Canton area, coupled with the current emphasis on the importance of pre-school education, has pushed the cooperative's enrollment growth continuously for the past several years. Even though an additional class session was added at the Plymouth Co-op in 1970, all class sessions were quickly filled, and the 1973-74 school year began with fifty families still on a waiting list. Already enrollment is full for the 1974-75 year, and the number of families on the waiting list now stands at thirty.

When many area parents found themselves unable to enroll their children in a nursery school last summer, a group formed to organize a second cooperative nursery school, to be called The Little Pilgrims of Plymouth. The Plymouth Children's Nursery helped the group with organizational procedures and advice and suggested membership in the Huron Valley Council of Cooperative Nurseries, the nursery school organization where the Plymouth Co-op maintains membership. The Plymouth Co-op also appropriated $100 for the Little Pilgrims to use toward equipment and/or other initial expenses. However, the Little Pilgrims were unable to open in 1973, because they could not find facilities that were adequate and suitable for licensing.

Because the demand for nursery school classes is so great, the group continued their organization and plans to have facilities approved in time to open in September 1974. They hope to hold two three-day class sessions for 20 three and four-year olds. The cost will depend on the participants, but will be in line with current cooperative prices. Anyone interested in enrolling their children in this cooperative should contact Sherry Brooks, 43511 Hanfod.

Cooperative nursery schools differ from standard nurseries, because they are not privately owned schools run-as a business, but rather non-profit schools jointly owned and operated by the parents of the children enrolled. Co-ops are less expensive, because parents give of their time to maintain the building, carry on the business of the school, and assist in the classroom. The only paid employees of a cooperative nursery are the teachers who are college graduates with educational experience.

The whole philosophy of cooperatives centers around parent involvement and parent education right along with pre-school education. Parents hear speakers on child psychology and development and attend workshops on innovative educational techniques while working with their children. They watch and help their children grow educationally and grow right along with them. Cooperative nursery schools strive to nurture a concern for progressive education that will carry over into the community when children begin their public school education.

Class structure may vary from school to school and from time to time. The Plymouth Children's Nursery has had a gradual growth toward a more open classroom situation, as have most schools recently. Four teachers work with the five sessions at the school and the structures of the sessions vary. There is one three day four-year old class, one two day four-year old class, two two-day three and four-year old classes, and one one-day three-year old class. There are 21 children in each class with a nearly equal balance of boys and girls, and each session is guided by a teacher and four parent assistants. Most often the assistants are mothers, but recently fathers have been coming in to work at nursery school more and more, and the children really enjoy and profit from having the men around.

The current Plymouth Children's Nursery President is Klo Phillippi and the President-Elect for 1974-75 is Marge Hodge.

Custodian Retires

Central Middle School held a reception for Charles F. Dennis, a member of the Central School Custodial Staff who is retiring after 22 years of service to the Plymouth Community School District.

Acknowledgements and gifts were presented and made by Gustav T. Gorguze, Central's building principal, John M. Hoben, Superintendent of Schools, John Sandmann, Director of Athletics, Paul Cummings, representing the Coaches, Ruth Krump, cafeteria supervisor and Martin Schomberger, Supervisor of Custodians.

Refreshments were prepared and served by the Cafeteria and Clerical Staff. Most pleased was Mrs. Edith Dennis, Charlie's wife who was overwhelmed to know that his old friends "still remembered."

Charlie was most appreciative of the kindness and thoughtfulness of the staff and his friends. "A person looks forward to retirement, - but when the time comes it's hard to leave your friends and associates." He and his wife expressed deeply felt thanks to all.

Mr. Dennis is a South Lyon resident and looks forward to retirement.

Brian Smith of Plymouth Salem takes a practice run.

Looking to Track...

by D.J. Martin

"There is little glory in running, most of the glory is that tremendous self-satisfaction that is obtained after you reflect back upon the race," said Brian Smith, senior trackman for Plymouth Salem.

Brian has been running track since the seventh grade where he first started out as a hurdler, until his coach decided to use him in the half-mile. On his first attempt Brian ran 2:14, which set a Junior High School record and tops the list of outstanding performances for the state of Michigan. In ninth grade, Brian placed first in the half-mile in the league meet. In his sophomore year Brian was a key member of the 2-mile Relay which won the observerland relays and set a league record of 8:07.

During Brian's Junior year, he again ran on the 2-Mile Relay and that team placed third in the observerland relays and sixth at the Spartan Relays, and Brian also placed in the Sub. 8 league in the half-mile. (on April 6 Salem is running a 2-Mile Relay in the Spartan Relays, which again Brian is a member of.)

"Track is primarily based upon one's individual effort, and the degree of proficiency he wants to obtain," said Brian. "You set your goals according to what you can achieve, your goal is to win. I think running is about 60 percent physical and 40 percent mental, on any given day, one can defeat almost anyone."

Not all of Brian's effort is placed upon track. He has received other important awards, such as: vice-mayor of Plymouth Educational Park Student Council, Co-authored the new Student Government Constitution and chairman of nine school committees. This year, Brian is President of the School Senate, and was selected as "Most Valuable Student" by the Elks Club, and also won first place in the Youth Citizenship Award.

Brian is looking forward to attending U of M and majoring in Political Science and eventually going after a law degree. As far as continuing his track, Brian is going to let his senior year decide that, but with the determination and effort Brian puts forth, it's going to be a tough decision.

Canton Varsity Banquet

by Dan Herriman

"There are many records Canton Varsity has set this year. It's been quite an experience being the first Canton basketball team. We've given future teams records to break," said Coach Casey Cavell at the Canton banquet last week.

Players, cheerleaders, parents, and guests ignored the inclement weather Thursday and met at the Elks Club for the first Canton Basketball Banquet. Canton Varsity and Junior Varsity team members, Varsity and J.V. cheerleaders, and the Chiefettes were all presented with awards as small tokens for their great efforts.

Cavell went on to say, "We hope next year our win - lost record will be turned around." The Canton Chiefs finished 4-17 for the entire season. "No matter how far we were behind, we never gave up. Anyone who saw our games, saw this."

Cavell's hustlers were there,

Scott Dunagan, Tim Cooper, Mike Haarer, Tom Close, Brian Stemberger, Marty Peck, Ray Mandl, Dave Edwards, and Ron Lack, to receive awards. Unable to attend were Rick Thom, Kim Hammonds, and Don Lloyd. Bill Szilagy was awarded for his services as manager and statistician. Handymen Mike Cavell and Jeff Baker were also recognized for their help.

Wayne Weimer, Junior Varsity Coach, wished he could have the season over again. "I'm not completely satisfied with the outcome of the season. We could have done better. We were in there from time to time, though."

The J.V. players are Mike Sochacki, Mark Sieber, Mike McIntosh, Steve Preuter, Jeff Westin, Steve Salyer, Marc Nurmi, Jim Tiller, Dan Ward, David Pink, Bill Parson, Mike Ogden, and Keith Osborne.

Cindy Merry presented the Chiefette awards as Ellen Curtis wasn't able to attend. The Penney, Sue Rutter, Cheryl Wendland, Janet Baron, and Beth Diehl.

Miss Merry also presented her two squads awards. The Varsity Cheerleaders are Jodi Overholt, Sue Petrits, Lor McAllister, Sharon Hayes, Holly Heaton, Mary Hallway, Ann Matthews, Diane Robinson, and Christi Sommerville.

On the Junior Varsity squad are Joni Frank, Jenny Diehl, Bonny King, Cheryl Greenleaf, Amy Garcia, Diana Ley, Madelyn Maher, and Beth Gates. Chiefettes are Jo Kenyon, Holly Mitzok, Wendy Dusbiber, Claudia Edmiston, Laura Gardner, Rita Walker, Laura

Canton Track

"We have a tough schedule for our first season," said Brian Schwall, Plymouth - Canton's track coach. "We are scheduled against Catholic Central, Bishop Borgess, and Ann Arbor Huron."

And he should know. Coach Schwall hails from Catholic Central.

"Catholic Central is one of the toughest teams in the Catholic School league," says coach Schwall. His record at C.C. for last year was 9-3.

Coach Schwall said he came to Canton because of the challenge he would have in coaching a first year team. He believes the Canton team has good potential. And he stated that he hopes to build it up to one of the best teams around. He also feels that Canton has good facilities.

Looking ahead to the upcoming season he sees Ann Arbor Huron as another tough competitor because they are one of the best in the state.

Rocks' Baseball Opens Tomorrow

by Dennis O'Connor

With another basketball season now part of the record books, it's the Plymouth - Salem baseball team's turn to enter the sport's spotlight as they open their season tomorrow afternoon at Thurston (game time 3:30 p.m.) and their league schedule Monday afternoon in a home affair against Bentley (game time 4:00 p.m.)

For Plymouth's head coach Wayne Sparkman, he will be entering his fifth year as the Rocks' coach. Sparkman is coming off a 7-15 record which his Rocks compiled in school competition last year, although that same team won their league in summer competition.

Plymouth is losing nine seniors from last year's team and enters this rebuilding year with five returning lettermen and only one previous starter.

This year's team, which consists of six seniors and eleven juniors, includes:

Name	Cl.	Position
*Dan Bidwall	Sr.	IF
Kirk Brannock	Jr.	IF
*John Chiatas	Sr.	P-OF
Tom Davidson	Jr.	IF
Bill DenHouter	Jr.	P
Darry Hamlin	Sr.	OF
John Major	Sr.	IF
Danny Moore	Jr.	OF
Brian Murphy	Jr.	IF
Vern Nagel	Jr.	C
Darrel Rowe	Jr.	OF
*Mark Stephens	Sr.	C
Chuck Thomas	Jr.	P-IF
Doug Tripp	Jr.	OF
*Jeff Waller	Sr.	IF
Doug Ward	Jr.	P-OF
*Tom Willette	Jr.	P-IF-OF
* Letterman

Lost for the season is junior infielder Tim Dillon who underwent surgery on an injured knee last week.

The teams which figure to be top contenders for the Suburban Eight League crown this year are Dearborn, Redford Union, Edsel Ford, Plymouth, and Allen Park.

"We must improve our hitting and continue our strong pitching from last year," emphasized Coach Sparkman whose Rocks' team batting average was a dismal .212 last season.

Sparkman is a graduate from Plymouth High School with the 1960 class. From here, he went on to the University of Michigan to obtain his master's degree in 1965 while playing football for the Wolverines.

Sparkman returned to Plymouth in 1966 and taught gym at Middle School East. He now teaches gym at Plymouth High School.

His coaching career also started in 1966, by assistant coaching ninth grade football. Sparkman went on to assist JV football in 1967 and became head JV coach in 1968. Now Sparkman is a varsity assistant football coach and has had that post since 1969.

He started coaching baseball in 1968 as JV coach before moving up to the varsity job in 1970.

Good luck to Coach Sparkman and his team for the upcoming season.

Plymouth Residents Win 4-H Awards

The Plymouth Town and Country 4-H Club gave county awards to five Plymouth residents last week.

Among the winners were Carol Terry - Dog Care and Training; Carol Terry, Chris Burda - Horse and Pony Care; Sandra Green, Bill Strautz - Poultry; and Jane Stuart, Chris Burda - Veterinary Science.

Edith Eareheart, Plymouth Bridle Club leader, was given a ten year leader award. Edith resides in Northville.

Tom and Charlotte Root received a Distinguished Service Award. The couple has built one of the largest 4-H youth groups in the 4-H program. They work and reside with their two children on the Plymouth Rotary School Farm in Plymouth.

Plymouth's 'Jenny' Wins

REGENCY'S NITE SONG, a fourteen (14) month old brindle Boxer owned by Jerry and Sally Toomey of Plymouth, won a four (4) point major with Winners Bitch and Best of Winners at the Mid-West Boxer Club Specialty in Chicago on March 29, 1974. She was judged by Dr. Richard Greathouse from a total entry of 64 Boxers, and handled by Chuck Steele of Belleville, a professionally licensed handler.

Even though "Jenny" (her informal name) has many wins in her show career, including the Michigan Boxer Club annual award for having the most blue ribbons from puppy classes, these are her first points toward her championship. What a thrill, her first time in the Open class! Unfortunately, the proud owners were not there because of a new litter at home. Watch for "Jenny" at the Livonia Kennel Club Show Sunday, April 7, at the Detroit Race Course.

Art Council Ends Season

by Jill Lawrence

In 1969, Joanne Hulce of Plymouth made a trip to New York City. She came home with a collection of exceptional reproductions, and the idea of making them available to students in Plymouth schools.

Luckily for Plymouth, Jo Hulce decided that the best way to facilitate this would be through an arts council. So, in the spring of 1969, with a total of three women as members, the Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC) was born.

Funded by the PTA and a $500 loan from the Board of Education (repaid within the year), the original organization was limited in scope. Mini-galleries in the middle schools, with each exhibit centered around a specific motive, were the first projects.

Five years later, PCAC offers a wide array of services and projects. Art, theater, dance, music and crafts programs have been initiated. Membership has also grown accordingly - from three to 150.

Some of these members are called service members, contributing time and energy to PCAC projects. Others are supporting members who pay $5 annually to help fund the Council. Personal donations are also a means of support. But PCAC's major source of income is the Fall Festival Arts and Crafts Fair, where the sale of tickets and booth space earns them approximately $1,800 every fall. And while the Board of Education no longer lends significant financial support, PCAC depends on it for mailing and communications.

One of PCAC's most popular services is its "Picture Lady" program in elementary visual arts. True to its title, this program involves volunteer women who bring prints to classrooms and then discuss them with the children. These "picture ladies" are not experts, but they like to work with children. When they visit classrooms, they draw upon research done by other PCAC volunteers.

Also in its first year PCAC began a program of macrame, basketry and origami classes in elementary schools. A year later these crafts workshops were extended to include older children and adults. Other skills taught have been dried flower arrangements, quilting, crewel embroidery and rug hooking. Proceeds from these classes have gone towards establishing a PCAC craft collection and an Arts and Crafts Center.

PCAC has increased its involvement with the community at large every year. The year 1971 saw the beginning of visual programs including slides, lectures and manuals which were displayed at high schools and the Dunning-Hough Library. Art and Man packages, also housed at the Dunning-Hough Library, contain magazines, drawings, records and three-dimensional artifacts on such themes as Africa, Shaker Art, and Art and War.

PCAC sponsors many traveling exhibits in high schools and libraries. Perhaps its most successful large-scale venture was when it sponsored Artrain's visit to Plymouth. Close to 70,000 people went through five railroad cars of artistic achievements, from cave paintings to contemporary art. The city government, the railroad, local contractors, Boy Scouts, Garden Club and Grange members, and local schools all cooperated with the Artrain project. People on line enjoyed live entertainment from local drummers, string quartets, and other groups. They exited from Artrain through an old freight house, where they could see demonstrations of quilting, weaving, sculpting, oil painting, and Ukrainian egg-painting.

"We put more people through than any city besides Detroit," commented Performing Arts chairperson Gae McCord. "Every school child in Plymouth went through. We had children, senior citizens, and people from other cities. It was a tremendous feat of scheduling!"

PCAC's performing arts program began in 1971 with an appearance by the Philip Molby Marionette Theater. Two performances were scheduled, according to Gae McCord, and 18 were given. On the basis of that enthusiasm, PCAC next brought in "On Account of Sid Shrycock," a University of Michigan production. The good response was largely due to a tremendous publicity effort where most tickets were sold through personal contacts.

A two-day residency was featured in 1973 by the New York City Center theater group, which put on "School for Scandal," gave lecture-demonstrations in the schools, and offered several workshops.

This past year has been PCAC's first complete season. Four shows were brought to Plymouth - "No Sex Please, We're British" with Noel Harrison, the musical and ballet-oriented "Untamed Land" with Jimmy Rogers, and Continental Theater productions of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" and "The Fantasticks."

PCAC does not have a professional music program. However, amateur programs in the schools have featured opera, stringed instruments, and an Arts of Alaska show which included folk music as well as sculpture and poetry.

PCAC is aware that its programs do not encompass many cultural activities in Plymouth. One of its goals is to better coordinate diverse cultural organizations such as the Plymouth Symphony and Junior Symphony, the community theater, and the Plymouth Historical Society, and the tri-city art group.

However, PCAC also wishes to retain its unique function within the Plymouth school system. Unlike most art councils, which serve mainly as coordinators and umbrella organizations, PCAC began in the schools and will continue to direct its major thrust towards school programs.

Expansion plans are in the air for next year. The PCAC office, currently housed at Central School in two re-locatable classrooms provided by the Board of Education, will soon be moved to a more central and visible location. The group intends to restructure itself into a non-profit corporation. Under the new structure, it is hoped that more men will get involved. Currently all the officers and most of the volunteer workers are women.

Upcoming PCAC activities include Monday night showings of Alistair Cooke's America at the Dunning-Hough Library (through April 15) and a May 15 trip to the Detroit Institute of Art to see the Medici exhibit. Also coming up is PCAC's first annual membership luncheon. "We are trying to get together as many facets of the organization as possible," Gae McCord explained, and added, "It's also a reward for work well done."

Last year we figured out that we had donated 10,000 volunteer hours to the schools. This year it's probably 20,000!"

Many Plymouth Community theater-goers turned out to see "The Fantasticks."

Michigan Bell to Improve

Michigan Bell announced today that it plans to spend over $3.5 million this year to expand and improve communications facilities in Plymouth.

David K. Easlick, Michigan Bell president, said in Detroit that the expenditure is part of the company's record $420 million construction program for 1974. He said that the company had committed itself to the record outlay even though "neither the immediate economic outlook nor the company's poor earnings would ordinarily encourage an investment of this magnitude."

Easlick said the construction program is based on forecasts that, despite the present instability in the economy, there will be continuing long-term growth in telephone customers and calling, requiring major expansion of communications facilities.

"We must look ahead and plan for the future," Easlick said. "It is less costly to anticipate future growth and to build now than it would be to engage in a 'crash' construction program at a later date," he said. "And, in the long run, a 'catch-up' construction program would cost us and our customers more money and wouldn't satisfactorily meet our service obligations to them."

Local manager Hazen J. Wilson reported this breakdown of the company's expected 1974 expenditures in Plymouth: $1 million for central office equipment; $725,000 for equipment in customer homes and businesses; and $1.8 million for outside plant facilities.

He noted that the company has some 860 employees here with a payroll of nearly $8.2 million last year.

Stressing the importance of the company's program to the economy, Easlick said it would directly support some 20,000 jobs - half of them in Michigan - in the telephone company and in such industries as construction and manufacturing.

Easlick pointed out that providing communications services requires a lead time of months and even years in some instances in the planning, engineering and manufacturing of the increasingly complex equipment needed to meet customer demands.

"And, we have to keep ahead of population shifts and local growth too," he said.

"It costs money to meet customer expectations and to keep a step ahead of growth," he emphasized, "and our 1974 construction budget is a reflection of this." Easlick said that the company has spent over $2.2 billion during the past decade for new construction in Michigan - nearly $1.5 billion of it in the past five years.

Easlick noted that the 1974 statewide construction budget is up 19.3 percent over 1973 expenditures of $352 million. This is slightly more than the 15.4 percent increase in 1973 over the previous year and is, in part, due to the continuing escalating effects of inflation, he said.

Michigan Bell provides service to over 2.7 million customers in all or part of 76 of the state's 83 counties.

The company expects to add about 185,000 telephones this year, which will bring its total telephone to over 5.3 million. The company anticipates handling over 9.6 billion local and long distance calls this year compared with 8.9 billion in 1973.

Consumer Protection Unit

Consumers in Wayne County are expected to soon have a strong ally when they fall victim to deceptive business practices.

Plans for a new Consumer Protection Unit were among five major law enforcement-related applications for federal funds approved by the County Board of Commissioners March 21.

County officials expressed hope for early approval of the application by the Michigan Office of Criminal Justice Programs (OCJP) because that office encouraged planning of the program.

Medication and consumer education will be handled by the Legal Aid and Defenders Association of Detroit. Investigation and prosecution of criminal violations will be conducted by the prosecutor's office.

The program is designed to:

- Educate both consumers and businessmen through the news media, printed materials and direct contacts, with regard to the laws designed to protect consumers;

- Provide investigation, mediation, reconciliation and litigation of consumer disputes, and

WHAT EVERY HOUSEHOLDER SHOULD KNOW ABOUT FIRE AND SUPERHEATED AIR

FIRE travels FAST - much faster than the layman realizes. Most of us think of it as progressing by turning from one object to another, yet that is a small part of the story. Radiation and conduction play their part, too, but the gravest threat is what the engineers call convection.

Prosecute in those instances where criminality exists in consumer disputes.

Complaint-taking facilities will be established at police agencies, city and township halls and governmental buildings throughout Wayne County.

A "one-stop" office will be centrally located in Detroit to receive and resolve consumer complaints.

The program is designed to provide full services for a case volume of 500 per month or 6,000 a year.

George Matish, chief counsel for Legal Aid, said his office received 10,000 consumer-related complaints last year, but was able to handle only a fraction of them due to a lack of staff.

The new program will have a staff of 45 persons. They will include six attorneys — two of them prosecutors — plus five investigators, two public education specialists and 15 part-time students.

Target date for the start of the county-wide consumer program is July 1.

Mediation of consumer complaints and a large-scale consumer education campaign will be provided for the first time.

The program will include prosecution when a consumer complaint turns up evidence of a legal violation.

The Board of Commissioners approved an application for $415,134 in federal law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) funds and earmarked $23,063 as the local share to finance the first year of the program. The state also will contribute $23,063 for a total one-year funding of $461,260.

New Phone Books Coming

New phone books are coming out within the month, and since Michigan Bell doesn't collect the old books, it seems that it would be a real worthwhile event for someone to collect all the extra books and run a community paper drive. This would bring some relief to the paper shortage.

Com. Manning Urges Car Pool Tax Break

Wayne County Commissioner Richard E. Manning recently said he would use his appointment to a national counties' energy conservation post to press for tax deductions for car pool drivers.

Manning, Redford Democrat, has been named to the Environment and Energy Steering Committee of the National Association of Counties (NACo) in Washington, D.C.

The committee develops national positions on legislation relating to pollution control, various conservation programs and preservation of important resources.

"I believe the appointment will give me the influence I need to be effective in urging both federal and state income tax deductions and other special exemptions to encourage the use of car pools," said Manning.

Manning is also chairman of the Wayne County Energy Conservation Council and represents the Board of Commissioners on the Metropolitan Detroit Vehicle Pool Coordinating Committee.

A resolution by Manning, proposing tax exemptions and other special privileges, was introduced to the Environment and Energy Committee in February at the NACo annual legislative conference.

The resolution is also under deliberation by the Wayne County Commissioners' General Government Committee, of which Manning is vice-chairman.

Under the proposal, drivers in car pools would receive a personal income tax exemption amounting to $1.50 per day for each person transported, which Manning says could save as much as $380 per year.

Also, any driver transporting three or more persons to and from work on a regular basis would be permitted to claim the same deductions and depreciation allowed for business vehicles.

Drivers in car pools also would be exempt from requirements to purchase gasoline on staggered days, allowing them to buy gasoline at all times.

Manning estimates that his proposal could save 20 billion gallons of gasoline across the nation, and would help lessen traffic congestion, parking problems and air pollution.

The County's seven-member Energy Conservation Council represents both energy experts and users of fuel, and the Vehicle Pool Coordinating Committee is composed of representatives from the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments, the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, the Central Business District Association and others concerned with transportation and parking needs.

Local Man, Guest At Uniflow

The Kold-Draft Division of Uniflow Manufacturing Company, Erie, Pennsylvania, hosted a refrigeration service school for servicemen throughout the United States on March 12th and 13th, 1974. Mr. John Sheperd of B & H Refrigeration, Plymouth, Michigan, attended.

Over 100 men representing Kold-Draft distributors and dealers gathered at Uniflow Manufacturing Company, 1525 East Lake Road, Erie, Pennsylvania facilities to review engineering and service techniques for the Kold-Draft automatic ice maker, and associated products.

The men were the guests of Uniflow during their stay in Erie, Pennsylvania. A factory team headed by our Chief Engineer, E. C. Potthoff, conducted the daily training session along with Uniflow's Engineering personnel and Sales personnel.

To highlight the stay, a tour of the manufacturing facilities was given providing the personnel with the opportunity to see Kold-Draft personnel manufacturing ice maker equipment, beverage coolers and merchandisers, draft beer systems, water coolers, and walk-in coolers/freezers.
