THE PLYMOUTH - CANTON COMMUNITY'S HOMETOWN NEWSPAPER

November 13, 1974

GUARDING THE LIVES of Starkweather School students who cross the intersection of Caster and Mill is Plymouth school district crossing guard Cleatos Schnegg, a veteran, like many crossing guards, of foul weather and disgruntled drivers.

Faltering Fund Extends Deadline

Deadlines for the Plymouth Community Fund have been extended one week - until Thursday, Nov. 21 - to give fund drive volunteers a chance to make their 1974 goals, according to general chairman Don Fleming.

Fleming reported that with only a week to go, pledges have reached $191,000 of the $220,000 goal.

Only the industrial community has topped its target sum, so far, raising $165,000 against a goal of $163,000.

The fund has changed the format of its victory celebration this year to avoid the expense of a formal victory dinner celebration as was held in the past.

This year the fund will honor its area chairmen at a luncheon to be hosted by Fleming's company, Western Electric, on Thursday, Nov. 21.

Band Fundraisers Ask for 'Skip Day'

BY HANK MEIJER

The board of education Monday referred to the administration a request by Dennis Golbesky, controller of Howmet Corp., for Centennial Park band members to be excused from a day of school to raise money for their trip to the Orange Bowl, where they will perform New Year's Day.

Golbesky, speaking with the support of chamber of commerce President James McKeon and Director James McCartney, proposed that band members be allowed to visit local plants where businessmen would contribute to their expenses in return for a few minutes' performances for plant or store employees.

Golbesky noted that the day would not only help defray expenses for the trip, but also acquaint with the band many people who work in Plymouth and live elsewhere who are never around on weekends to hear the band in action.

The board was reluctant to act on Golbesky's request because of the possibility that approving a day's absence for all members of the band might bring criticism from North Central Association accreditors.

The administration and Centennial Park principals are expected to meet soon to discuss the possible effects of the request and recommend appropriate action to the board.

Golbesky stressed the desire of industry, the community's "corporate citizens," to encourage the achievements of the band.

Our Unsung Heroes - The School Crossing Guards

BY KATHY KUENZER

HELP WANTED: Someone who enjoys children. Must be willing to work outdoors in any weather. Must be willing to risk life on busy streets. Hours, 7:30 to 8:45 a.m., 11:15 a.m. to 1 p.m., and 2:30 to 4 p.m.

Would you answer this ad? Surprisingly, many people in the Plymouth school district have - maybe not one worded exactly like this, but for the same job. They are the unsung heroes of the street corner - the crossing guards who protect the lives of our children.

Mrs. Johnnie Belcher of Plymouth is one of these people. She started last year as a permanent guard in front of Miller School, but this year became the district's only "roving guard." She fills in at any school where a guard is absent and arranges for substitutes where she can't do it herself. She also represents all crossing guards on the School Safety Committee, reporting complaints and seeing to it that the guards have proper equipment.

Do the strange hours and bad weather bother Mrs. Belcher? On the contrary, she likes the hours. With her husband and five children she enjoys being able to come home between shifts to do housework and prepare meals.

She dresses warmly for the inclement weather and says that her health hasn't suffered a bit from it.

But the main reason she enjoys her work is that she loves working with kids. She smiles at them and says: "Keep smiling, it's not all that bad!" She finds that the kids are friendly in return and ask her: "Why do you smile and not the other guard?" or "Will you be coming back to this corner next time?"

Mrs. Belcher proudly says that she has never once had trouble with an unruly child.

But, as the want-ad stated, the crossing guard must be willing to lay his or her life on the line.

Once at the corner of Main and Hill, Mrs. Belcher was crossing with about 27 children when she saw a motorist coming who wasn't slowing down for the red light. She realized that unless she acted quickly many children would be hit.

She stepped out into the intersection in front of the oncoming car, waving her stop sign frantically. Luckily, she caught his eye in time for him to stop - within two feet of the children. The motorist was apologetic, saying he had been in a "dream world." He should have been terribly grateful for Mrs. Belcher's courage.

In order to be effective, Mrs.

Belcher believes that a crossing guard should be able to smile. After all, the hand-held stop sign is only an aid, not a legal sign, and motorists are more likely to cooperate if they are greeted by a smiling face. Mrs. Belcher says that after awhile, regular drivers will say good morning or wave to her on their daily trip through the intersection. Still, there are people like the lady in the white Cadillac who stopped momentarily, but then kept creeping and creeping forward until she finally worked her way around the guard.

CITY FIREFIGHTERS went out on two major runs last Wednesday morning — the first to this fire at the Detroit News office on Wing Street. Damage there was light and was caused when the papers were stacked against a wall furnace, according to Fire Chief George Schoenneman. While the firemen were there they received a call of smoke coming from the Knights of Columbus Hall, 150 Fair St. Upon arriving there, firefighters found a smoldering fire, which had apparently started from dish rags the night before, but had burned itself out without causing much fire damage. "We're damn lucky that wasn't a bad fire," Schoenneman said. (Staff photo by John Foley)

Bowles: 'What Do People Want from County Court?'

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

"The courts belong to the people."

Underscoring that ideal, Wayne County Circuit Court Judge George E. Bowles, told the Plymouth Rotary Club Friday that the county circuit court should find out how the people want their courts to function.

Bowles, a Plymouth Township resident, said that Wayne County has been considering establishing an out-county court facility in western Wayne County.

There are many things to be considered in making such a move, Bowles said. Among them are: population trends, availability of transportation and the origin of legal business throughout the county.

Also to be considered — but not the only factor — is geographical access to those who use the county court system, he added.

But the most important consideration, Bowles emphasized, is what the people think about court facility needs.

In the current discussion of revamping the Wayne County Circuit Court facilities, Bowles explained, "No one to my knowledge has attempted to find out what the public thinks and what the considered expectations of the general public are."

The judge said that some of those dealing with the county courts have been polled about their feelings, but only those dealing in a structured manner with the courts (such as jury members).

Bowles said the other people who must transact business with the courts should also be encouraged to give their opinions.

"The Wayne County Circuit Court does not seek marble palaces for its judges," Bowles added. "We strive and yearn for functionally adequate courtrooms where the people's important business may be transacted in fairness, dignity and security."

Ceremonies Honor Veterans

Road Patrol Nabs Escapee

BY ROBERT CAMERON

The Wayne County Sheriff's patrol captured a suspected escapee from the Detroit House of Corrections Sunday noon at the rear of the Palace Restaurant on Ann Arbor Road near Sheldon.

Patrolman C. Spratt apprehended the suspect with help from Patrolmen G. Kopp and N. Frank.

The search for the suspect had begun earlier when a resident reported seeing a man in prison garb crossing through empty fields behind his house. The road patrol went to the roof of a nearby apartment complex to spot the suspect.

Schools to Consider Teachers' In-Service Resource Center

School board member Marda Benson and James Leary, assistant superintendent for curriculum, presented the Plymouth school board Monday with the possibility of an intensive in-service program for kindergarten through eighth grade teachers which would create a "Center for the Advance Study of Education."

The center concept, presented to some members of the board several weeks ago, was proposed by two visiting English educators who would be responsible for setting up the program. According to Leary, the center would provide building-level in-service training for teachers and serve as a catalyst for innovative and alternative learning programs in the younger grades.

"It would be an ideal set-up for promoting good growth at the building level," Leary said. "It's a chance for teachers to get together to discuss common problems."

Leary will meet with the English educators next week to consider the program in greater detail. Costs of the center would be a minimum of $50,000, he said, but shared-time arrangements may be explored with Northville and Novi schools and the project could also be eligible for federal funds.

Englishmen Gordon Hill and Malcolm McDonald, both noted administrators and former teachers, would stay in the district to set up the program and work with teachers.

Without a Millage: Can Canton Meet its Fire, Police Needs?

If the parsings of Canton voters get any tighter they may choke off any hope for progress in the township. The defeat of the proposed three - mill, 10-year levy for fire and police protection was certainly due to the faltering economy and the desire to "hold on to every penny we've got." Unfortunately, it may mean Canton residents will still have to pay in the end if protection is not improved soon.

It is simply not feasible for the lone fire station and crew to continue to adequately serve the needs of a community that has grown from 5,300 people to 26,000 in the last 14 years. The communities of Plymouth and Plymouth Township, which combined are only slightly larger than half of Canton, have four fire stations serving 32,000 people. What's more, Plymouth has its own police department. With all of Canton's new business and industry, especially the large Kroge warehouse and Meijer store, fire and police protection will be even more in demand.

Unfortunately, it's the little guy, the average homeowner, who is going to "get burned," so to speak. He's the one who suffers most when a few extra moments elapse because the fire department is busy elsewhere while his home burns. He's the one who has to put up with wondering how close the Wayne County Sheriff's patrol car is when he needs immediate help. He's the one whose child gets hit by a speeding motorist in a 25 mph zone that can't be watched simply because one patrol car can only watch one street at a time.

It's a frightening and frustrating feeling to know that 26,000 people are being protected by one fire station crew and one roving sheriff's car (which the township may lose if Wayne County decides to withdraw its services).

Of course it's too late now to bring up all these things. The election is over. They should have been pointed out earlier, but few candidates like to openly push anything that is going to cost the taxpayer an extra buck. In fact, unless openly questioned about the millage, the "Concerned Team" did not mention the proposal in any of its literature this writer saw.

Township officials foresee a 49 per cent increase in revenues in 1975. The new budget shows $230,000 will be allocated for land and improvements. Let's hope Greenstein and the board will find some alternative way to work within this budget and still give Canton this needed protection. The voters have decided it has to be up to the board - and the township can't wait any longer for action.

On the 'Contingent' Flu

Something contagious is afflicting local governmental units.

The virus hit last year when the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees turned down a request by the school board to help pay the salaries of Plymouth school district crossing guards.

While the township withheld payment if its share (about $5,000), both the City of Plymouth and Canton Township paid their portions.

When it came time this August for the schools to bill the local governments for crossing guard salaries for the past year, the City had fallen prey to the bug. The township again refused to pay and the city said it would only pay "contingent upon" payment by the other local governments - namely Plymouth Township, because once again Canton came through without a whimper.

Monday night the flu struck again. The city asked the schools to kick in a third (along with the city and the township) of the city's 25 per cent of the cost of installing a traffic light at the corner of Sheldon and Hartsough, by consensus one of the most dangerous crossings. Plymouth school children (mostly township residents in this case) encounter.

This time the city was caught in the middle and the schools turned the tables - agreeing to share the cost of the stoplight "contingent upon" payments from the other governmental unit involved - the township.

So the schools are stuck with the cost of the crossing guards - $28,000 last year - and the city may be stuck with the cost of the traffic light - $1,490. Neither sum is enormous, but both have aggravated the relationship between local governments and illuminated their unwillingness to cooperate.

Yet in each case these actions have not been entirely unjustified. School district residents approved a safety millage last spring which was to go for a stoplight at Sheldon and Hartsough, among other improvements, according to safety committee chairman Flossie Tonda.

Township residents can claim, with some degree of justification, that they have contributed to the stoplight through the millage and should not be taxed again for it. School board members can hardly be blamed for hoping that their action would make the city and township realize the narrowness of their stands on crossing guards.

The city can hardly be blamed for not wanting to pay the crossing guards' salaries unless the township shares equally. Finally, the township says that it simply cannot afford to pay the cost of crossing guards, while the schools can use their safety millage funds.

So the revolving door swings faster and faster and the spirit of cooperation collapses.

The problem is that crossing guard salaries cannot be paid from the one-year safety millage revenues, according to Mrs. Tonda.

So when the township and city don't pay, the school district, with a little help from Canton, is stuck with the tab.

Where will it end? Enlightened school and safety officials have broached the possibility of having the schools pay the entire $1,450 local share (in effect the city's bill) for the street light at Sheldon and Hartsough.

The money is there from the safety millage and township residents, who contend that additional payment on their part would amount to double taxation, would be off the hook.

In response to the schools' show of cooperation, perhaps the city would kick in its share of the crossing guards - abandoning its insistence on "contingent" payments until only the township's reluctance to support crossing guards remained. What might happen then isn't certain, but a modicum of cooperation might cause the township to reconsider its stand.

School board Treasurer Tom Yack has offered an idea which might ease things - an intergovernmental relations committee at the elected - official level. School board members, township trustees and city commissioners would meet on a regular basis to discuss problems which affect everyone in the school district.

In many ways the problems of the school district embrace city and townships alike. Yack's proposal could be an important first step in preventing future outbreaks of the "contingent upon" flu - whether over stop lights or crossing guards or anything else.

Re: Social and Business
Unification

It was with great joy last Saturday night that I witnessed our city and township officials and business people getting together to wine and dine and honor their own at the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce annual meeting and banquet. It is interesting to note how we can unite for business reasons but we can not do the same for area consolidation reasons.

I wish to compliment the Chamber on an evening of enjoyment, a well run program, an encouraging business report and the opportunity to see the workings of the Chamber in action.

However, I would like to point out that the Chamber of Commerce is a business organization but that business is made by people. Therefore, I would like to see more meetings like Saturday night, but let's invite the general public. Open up your meetings to make your plans and needs known. Its the people of the community who will make your plans and needs successful.

Congratulations to the new officers and welcome to the new staff organization.

Having lived and worked in the Plymouth Community my entire life, I have always been very interested in serving my community to the best of my ability. I'm a firm believer that "Action speaks louder than words."

Vargo's is Back With New Look

Out of the ashes of a fire which destroyed "Vargo's" restaurant last April, and after six months of renovation, Don Vargo has opened his new night spot.

He has renamed the new restaurant "Vargo's of Livonia." Located at 30325 Six Mile Rd., the new entertainment night-spot, which appears to be a modernistic one level building from the exterior, surprises it's patrons with a bi-level New Orleans type atmosphere once inside.

The lower-level, which houses the main bar, booths, tables, a piano bar, dance floor and the entertainment is set off with a casual appearance.

The upper dining room, which offers a more formal atmosphere, is decorated with black leather booths, partially hidden by red velvet curtains so the booth occupants can enjoy the privacy of their own secluded dining area.

Last spring the fire which destroyed the building also claimed Vargo's pride and joy; the largest wine cellar in Michigan. Don has already begun to replenish the cellar with a variety of moderately priced wines to suit everyone's taste.

The menu also offers something for everyone to enjoy. Monday evenings are special nights at Vargo's of Livonia. The prices on the menu drop to the prices of the Good Old Days. The highest priced dinner on that menu is $4.95, which is the lobster tail.

The recommended dinner list includes: seafood platter which consists of bountiful portions of Lobster tail, Escargot, Oysters Rockefeller, Dover Sole, Alaskan King Crab Legs, Shrimp, and of course the House Specialty, Soft Shell Crab.

Other cuisine specials which one wouldn't expect to find in a moderately priced restaurant is Oysters Breithaupt, a combination of oysters, shrimp, and mushrooms, diced and baked in a cheese and cogniac sauce, or Vargo's specialty, Lobster Fettucine au Vargo.

Vargo's of Livonia is open from 11 a.m. until 2 a.m., Monday through Friday and 6:00 to 2:30 on Saturday.

When owner-manager Don Vargo was asked if he enjoyed his work which is made up of being the host, the bus boy and occasionally wine steward, Vargo only replied that he loved what he was doing because he enjoyed the people.

Trip Pays Off for Schools' "Credit Rating"

A timely trip to New York by Plymouth school officials may have saved district taxpayers a minimum of $600,000 over the next few years, according to Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business.

The schools recently sold $9.97 million in 25-year new school construction bonds at an interest rate of 7.01 per cent. According to Hoedel, the district could never have gotten the relatively low interest rate had it not improved its credit rating from A-1 to AA, one of the highest designations a governmental unit can have.

Hoedel and district financial consultant Raymond Stauder made a presentation of the district's financial health before analysts from Moody's Investor Service of New York, an institution which determines the schools' bond ratings.

Moody's assessed the district's strengths and weaknesses, its ability to retire its debts, the adequacy of its budget planning and its outlook for the future. Hoedel used aerial photos to show the burgeoning growth of business and industry which is expected to swell the district's tax base.

The thoroughness of the presentation itself, was an important factor in Moody's decision to give Plymouth the high rating. "More and more rating companies are impressed with the financial management of schools," Hoedel said. "They look at them as large businesses."

Without the improved rating the district might have had to pay upwards of 7.4 per cent interest on the bonds. Wayne County Community College had to pay 7.8 per cent in its $39 million issue, the most recent one in the area.

"I was elated," Hoedel said. "Not all trips are a waste of taxpayers' money. There was no guarantee otherwise that we could even have gotten the A-1 rating base. This trip paid off."

MACLD Asks School Board: Don't Slight Reading Program

Mrs. Barbara Leffler, president of the Plymouth Northville chapter of the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities (MACLD) asked the board of education Monday to consider all special education needs in the district before meeting the needs of learning disabled children at the expense of remedial reading instruction.

According to Mrs. Leffler, reading teachers in the district are slated to become exclusively learning disabled specialists and may have to devote their teaching in the future to those students alone without providing a remedial reading program.

"There's not a money problem in the district, but a priority problem," she told the board. "Let's find the money for special education and if it means realignment of the program, let's do it. Many parents are coming to us worried and upset."

She said that the MACLD chapter was "extremely happy" to see the learning disability program begin in September and expressed confidence that with the board, administrators and MACLD parents working together, all special education needs could be met.

Schools Considering 4 Bus Yard Plans

According to school board Treasurer Tom Yack and Assistant Superintendent for Business Ray Hoedel, the school district has four alternatives to consider in creating an adequate bus maintenance garage for district school buses.

Describing the need as "one of our real priorities," Hoedel said that a committee studying the bus garage options was looking for a way to complete the project for less than $200,000, even though that might permit only "stopgap" improvements.

The district could build a new garage adjacent to its existing facilities on Mill Street, build a new garage on a site in the Centennial Park complex or purchase a site with an existing garage facility which could be adapted to district needs, Hoedel said. All of those alternatives may be too expensive, however.

Hoedel and Yack agreed that the most feasible approach might be to enlarge by two or three bays the existing garage on Mill Street and house transportation offices in used portable classrooms which could be set on Mill Street property at relatively low cost. While the entire package might still cost $100,000 or more and only meet district needs in the short term, it would be considerably cheaper than the other alternatives, Hoedel said.

Old Village Holding Yule Open House

Merchants in the Old Village Association have scheduled Saturday, Nov. 23, as the date for the Old Village Open House, by which date Old Village merchants plan to have their businesses decorated on a "Christmas in the Village" theme.

After Thanksgiving merchants will extend their business hours to 8:30 p.m. daily, with Sunday openings if enough interest is shown.

Constable Robbed

Ask Canton Township Constable-elect Ann Blevins - it can happen to anybody. Mrs. Blevins of 39652 Cather reported to the state police Friday night that coin collections with a total value estimated at about $230 had been stolen from her home.

The money was last seen five weeks ago, the police report said, but its disappearance was not noticed until Friday night.

While the police report indicated that there was no sign of forced entry at the Blevins home, Mrs. Blevins reported that the rear door could have been opened without a key if its safety bar were not in place.

School Guard

The job of crossing guard requires more than the ability to hold up a sign and watch the children go across. The guards must also be on the lookout for motorists who disobey traffic laws, threatening the lives of children in the street. For instance, motorists who ignore the blinking school bus signals and pass the bus from either direction pose a real hazard. Suspicious people loitering around the schools or regularly driving past at slow speeds are also reported. Summer training sessions have been started to provide guards with the knowledge and skill needed to handle tough situations.

The guards are also encouraged to be neat in appearance, polite, prompt, consistent, and positive in their attitude. Mrs. Belcher stresses that their actions reflect upon the school district and upon the children they assist.

The next time you're stopped by a crossing guard, consider how lucky we are to have dedicated people to protect our children. The monetary return isn't great, but to the guards that doesn't mean much compared to the value of a child's life.

Salem Finishes With Perfect Season

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

In a battle of two undefeated league champions, our own Plymouth Rocks prevailed as the overwhelming victor to the Farmington Harrison Hawks 28-7 in a game played before a crowd of about 4,000 people at Harrison.

After winning sole possession of the Suburban Eight Crown a week ago, the Rocks showed what true champions they were with this Saturday afternoon, Nov. 9 onslaught.

For Head Coach Tom Moshimer and his Plymouth crew, it marked the end of a most rewarding season.

Along with the first place finish in the Tough Suburban Eight, Plymouth also ended with a perfect unbeaten, untied record of 9-0-0, their first since 1952.

This record has given them the recognition of not only being the Number One team in the area, but also the Number One team in the State of Michigan, according to the "paper playoff" system of points for victories.

The games' first score came on a beautifully executed Plymouth drive which went for 80 yards in eight plays. The drive lasted through the last three minutes of the opening quarter and a little over a minute into the second period.

A big play helping the drive was a rare pass from Tim Dillon to Tight End Rich Jenkins covering 44 yards.

Fullback Scott Agnew capped the march as he went off tackle for the final eight yards.

The always reliable toe of place kicker Doug Tripp was right on target all afternoon as he booted his first of four consecutive conversions to make the score 7-0.

Two third-quarter touchdowns by a very inspirational teammate put the Rocks 21 points up on the dazed Western Six Champs.

Doug Ward, who broke his wrist in the opening game against Bloomfield Hills Andover, was billed by almost everybody as 'out for the season' But Ward showed how important he was to the team by his ever present encouragement he gave to his teammates during the year.

Now, after a long eight weeks of no action, Doug had his cast removed and came back to play with sheer determination.

This determination gave Ward and the Rocks two touchdown runs of one and 28 yards putting things out of reach.

Both teams scored on quarterback sneaks in the fourth quarter. Dillon scored the Plymouth touchdown with less than two minutes to go in the contest.

Plymouth thoroughly dominated the Hawks in every possible statistic.

Offensively, the Rocks won the first down battle 13-5. They gained more total yards than Harrison 325-132 and demonstrated better ball control running 55 plays to the Hawks 43.

Ward led all rushers with an 102 yards in 12 carries, with the supreme option quarterbacking of Dillon gaining 67 yards for himself.

On defense, the superb team play limited Harrison to less than 100 yards on the ground while completing four of 12 for a mere 35 yards.

Key defensive efforts included fumble recoveries by Gorden Baker and Jerry Brink along with an intercepted pass by linebacker Dan Ross.

Are Rocks' Fans Loyal?

The action at the Plymouth-Salem game with Farmington Harrison Saturday captured most - but not all - of the fans' attention.

One man in the crowd had brought along a small, portable television and was watching the Michigan State-Ohio State game.

In the final exciting minutes of the Spartan upset, many of the Salem fans gathered around the set and let the Salem game go unnoticed.

Chiefs Fall 26-7

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

The end of a long, hard season came Friday night for the Plymouth-Canton Chiefs as they suffered a 26-7 non-league loss to the Dearborn Pioneers of the Suburban Eight.

This setback, on Parent's Night at the Centennial Field, dropped the Chiefs' final season mark to a disappointing 3-6. The record leaves Canton with a second place finish in the Western Six Conference (3-2) and a winless season against non-league competition (0-4).

The story behind a number of the Canton losses this year was the fact that the Chiefs only played solid football during one half in most of their ball games. Such was the case against Dearborn. In the second half, Canton thoroughly dominated the Pioneers. Not only did they outscore their opponents 7-6, but the Chiefs held Dearborn to only 20 yards in total offense in the final two quarters. The Pioneers didn't complete any of their seven pass attempts or gain a first down. Meanwhile, the Chiefs offense completely controlled the ball, running 41 plays to Dearborn's 15. The Canton offense gained more than 100 yards in that time.

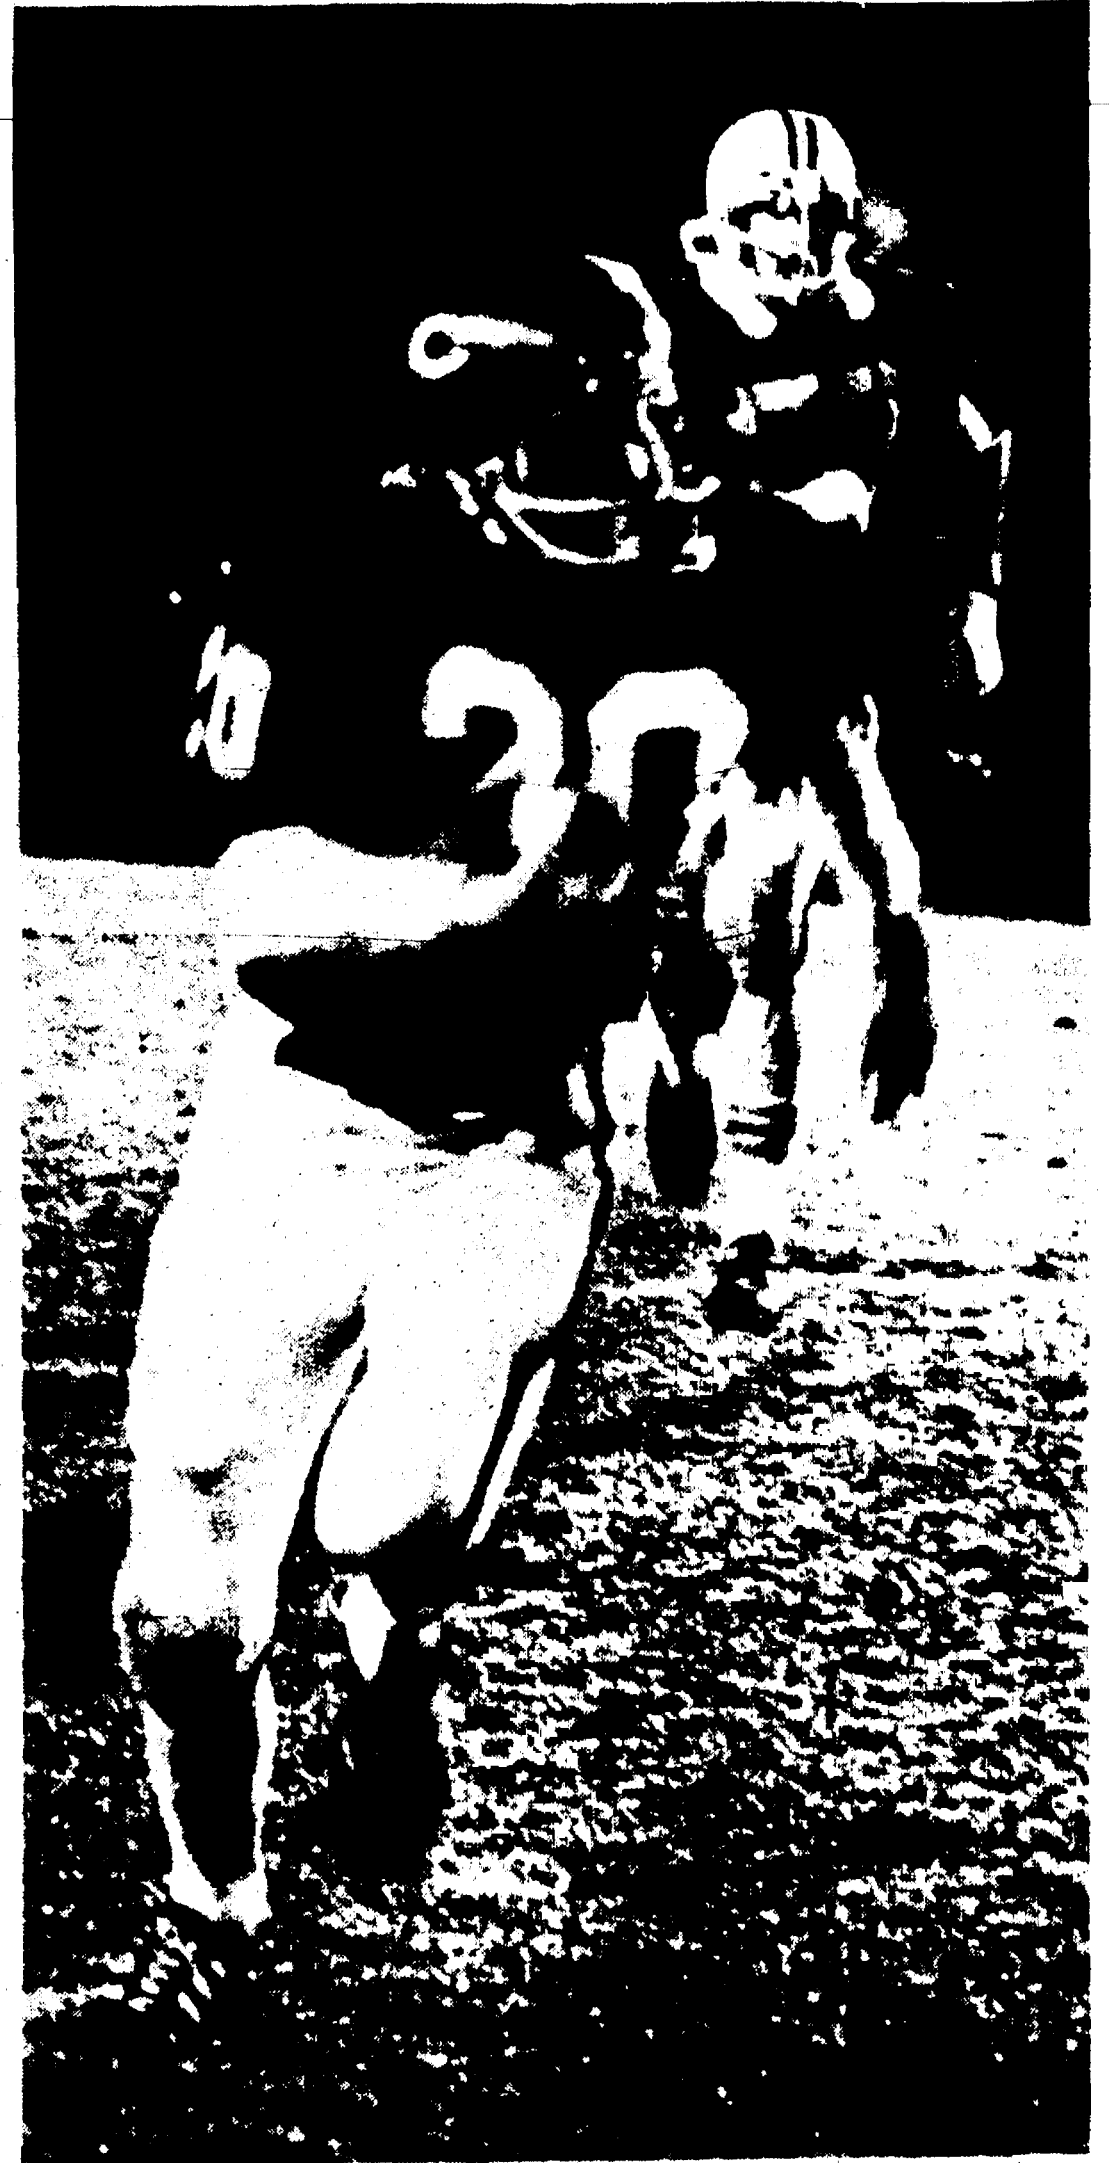

Unfortunately, the Chiefs couldn't execute as smoothly in the first 24 minutes as they were held to minus 14 yards on the ground. The Pioneers put three touchdowns on the board before the Chiefs could score.

The game opened with both defenses stealing the show. After each squad gained possession of the pigskin twice and failed to score, Dearborn finally broke the ice, scoring first on a 23-yard run with 1:39 left in the quarter to lead 7-0.

A fierce Chief goal line defense went for naught in the second period, when the Pioneers scored on fourth down after starting their series first and goal on the two. The extra point was unsuccessful, but Dearborn led 13-0.

The Pioneers wasted no time getting their third touchdown on the board, throwing a 55-yard scoring pass on the first play of their next possession. The final Pioneer touchdown came on a 35-yard return of a blocked-punt recovery.

The lone Chief score came in the last three minutes of the game when a Tom Close pass to tight end Rich Thom covered the final ten yards of a nine-play 57-yard drive. Riste Maihailovich booted the extra point.

Injured Hammond's Physical Lost, Found

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

The case of the "missing" physical has been closed. Plymouth-Canton's head football coach, Jim Muneio, told The Community Crier that the doctor's physical for injured halfback Kim Hammonds was "misplaced" but has been found.

Hammonds was injured in 20-19 win over Waterford-Mott and suffered cartilage and tendon damage to his left knee.

After the injury team officials looked up Hammonds' physical, which is required to be filled out by a doctor before a student can play varsity sport.

"Apparently they had trouble finding it," Muneio said. "But it has been found."

Doc's Corner

by Dennis O'Connor

The Plymouth Rocks football team is not "Rah" "Rah" type of ball club.

Throughout the entire season they never seemed to show much emotion during a game. They just went out in a quiet confident, sort of way and executed to perfection against every team they faced.

On the bus ride to Farmington-Harrison before their biggest game of the year, that feeling of a winning confidence loomed through the air.

And when they hit the field, everything was aimed toward beating this undefeated opponent, the obstacle that was the final step to an unbeaten, untied record and a state championship.

The Rocks not only beat Harrison, but won in the typical Plymouth way, by playing good hard nosed football, grinding out the necessary yardage on the ground while frustrating the Hawks' offensive attack.

The awesome quickness and intelligence of the Rocks paid off again, this time winning for them the game and the "paper playoff" state championship.

The perfect 9-0-0 mark was the first of its kind since 1952 for Plymouth and the always tough Suburban Eight League title was the first in 11 years.

This undefeated season was by far no fluke for Tom Moshimer's squad as six of the nine teams they faced finished over the .500 mark for the year. Suburban Eight League opponents Trenton, Edsel Ford, Dearborn, and Bentley ended with records of 7-2, 6-3, 6-3, and 5-4 respectively.

Their two non-league opponents, Bloomfield Hills Andover and Farmington-Harrison, both won their respective league titles and finished 8-1 for the season, losing only to Plymouth.

With another football season now concluded, I would like to extend my sincere congratulations to Coach Moshimer, his staff, and all the players for a job well done. And thank-you for giving the people of the Plymouth Canton Community a football team to be very proud of for a long time to come.

Plymouth-Canton Frosh Whip Salem

BY BRUCE GERISH

Coach Russ Carlson was all smiles Thursday as his Canton freshmen capped off an undefeated season with a come-from-behind 28-12 victory over cross-campus rival Salem.

Carlson said that all of Canton's coaches, including the varsity athletic directors, were ecstatic over their underclassmen's 8-0 record.

Canton took the opening kick-off, but fumbled on its first play from scrimmage and Salem came up with the ball.

The Rocks didn't waste any time, taking only three plays to hit paydirt. Doug Agnew carried the pigskin the final yard. Salem made it 12-0 when Brent Eckler plunged in from four yards out with only nine minutes gone in the ball game. This play capped off a drive which began when the Rocks picked up a second costly Chief fumble.

From this point on, it was all Canton. The first Chief charge ended with Jerry Simons barrelling three yards up the middle to top a sixty yard drive. Paul Hoarz tied things at 12-all when he took a quick pitch from quarterback Doug Smith and scampered 15 yards into the Salem end-zone. The score came with four minutes left in the first half.

Defense was the story of the third quarter until Jerry Simons broke the ice midway through.

Simons finished a 70-yard Chief drive when he bulled his way home from the four. Smith then passed to Davey March for the two-point conversion to put Canton on top 20-12.

No more scoring occurred until late in the fourth period.

Safety Doug Smith snuffed out all hopes of a Rock comeback when he picked up a Blue and White fumble and outraced the Rocks 73 yards for the score. Doug combined with March again for the two-point conversion, wrapping up the Chiefs' 28-12 win.

The Canton squad finished the season with an 8-0 record. Salem, coached by John Saulter and Bob Kroeger, closed the year with a 1-3-2 mark.

Canton Gals Win Again

The surge of coach Mike McCauley's Plymouth-Canton girls' basketball squad continued last week with a league win over rival Churchill, 51-40, on Thursday, Nov. 7.

Outscoring Churchill in every quarter, the Chiefs built up a 30-15 lead in the third quarter and went on to clear the bench.

Guard Sue Myrtle led all scorers with 16, followed by the balance scoring of Cindy Krieg, 10, Lori Tomalack, eight, and Carolyn Rumberger, eight.

The Canton record now moves up to 4-2 in league play and 4-3 overall.

Pat O'Donnell's Junior Varsity team stuck it to Churchill earlier as they won 30-20.

SKIER LINDA WILK and other members of the newly-organized Plymouth Ski Club will hold a membership meeting Monday, Nov. 18, at 8 p.m. at the cultural center, 525 Farmer Street.

Salem Gals Drop Rematch

BY BRUCE GERISH

The Plymouth - Salem girls' basketball team saw their title hopes washed away as they suffered a 48-35 loss to the now Suburban Eight Champions, Redford Union.

Salem looked like it was out to avenge their earlier 22 point defeat, as they took an 8-7 first quarter lead. Molly Mead, led the Rocks as she hit two shots from way out. Peggy Moore and Barb Croci added a basket each in that opening stanza.

But the second quarter was all Redford Union as they were led by the shooting of Amy Giemak which gave the Panthers a 19-12 halftime advantage. Amy eventually wound up with 22 points.

The Rocks attempted to make a third quarter comeback, but it was all in vain as fourth quarter foul trouble hampered Salem from regaining the lead.

Croci led the Rock scorers with 12. Ann Renaver and Meade added six each.

Rock Grid Standouts Win All-Conference Honors

The state champion Plymouth Rocks, winners of the tough Suburban Eight League, placed five players on the first and second team all league selections and 11 more on honorable mention.

The only Rock to make the first team offensive squad was Doug McCowan, Plymouth's 6'1", 185-pound offensive tackle.

Three Rocks were on the first team defensive squad.

For the second straight year, co-captain Scott Agnew was chosen as linebacker. The other Rock co-captain Tim Dillon, was

Percussion Set Disappears

When 12-year-old Jerry Swantek of Plymouth Township stepped off his school bus Thursday afternoon at the corner of Gold Arbor and Ann Arbor Road, a classmate threw something at him and he chased after the other boy.

In the excitement he dropped his heavy $112 percussion set to the ground next to the school bus. When he returned to the spot the large, black case with its unusual four-foot x two-foot x six-inch shape, was gone.

State police found tire tracks near the scene but had no other clues. The unusual set will likely be abandoned somewhere, however, Jerry's mother theorized according to the police report, because "the average person wouldn't know what it was."

Board of Education Minutes Plymouth Community School District

Following is a synopsis of approved minutes from the meeting of the Plymouth Board of Education held on October 28, 1974 at Plymouth-Canton High School, beginning at 8 p.m. A public hearing on the proposed 1974-75 general operating fund budget had preceded the meeting. Member Lawton was absent from the meeting, and Member Benson arrived at 8:50 p.m. All other members were present, as well as administrators and about 35 guests.

All motions carried unanimously, unless otherwise noted. The minutes of the regular meeting of October 14, 1974 were approved as distributed.

Citizens: Comments: Mrs. K. Sullivan, representing fourth grade parents at Fiegel School, requested that the Board reconsider a realignment of fourth grade pupils at that school which has resulted in a larger class size than seems reasonable. Background on the problem as well as basis for decisions made were explained to Mrs. Sullivan by administration; class size throughout the District was reviewed and number in classes at Fiegel were presented. They explained how additional growth would be handled at all elementary schools. Member Mirto moved that an additional fourth grade teacher be retained at Fiegel School, but the motion was not seconded.

Mr. James Rossman raised several questions relative to the proposed 1974-75 budget and commended Mr. Hoedel for a fine presentation. He was particularly interested in the budget being set on a cash or accrual basis, and the fund equity shown, and also differences in interest earned and paid out.

Administrative Action Items: It was moved by Member Borowski and seconded by Member Berry to employ a Consultant for the Emotionally Disturbed children in this School District. It was noted that hiring such a consultant would show good faith by the District to the Wayne County Intermediate School District who has raised the question of inadequacy in this field within the Plymouth District.

Member Borowski moved, supported by Member Yack, that the School District provide busses to transport band members to and from Metropolitan Airport for their trip to the Orange Bowl on December 28, returning January 2, but that all cost involved be borne by those using the busses. President McClendon abstained from voting on the motion, and Member Mirto voted "nay." The President explained that he had abstained from voting since he wished to be on record as opposed to disallowing transportation cost for band members in this case. The President was supported by other Board members on a clarification of the motion requested by Member Mirto.

It was moved by Member Borowski, seconded by Member Berry, not to take an option to purchase 5.4 acres within the Stonegate Subdivision in Canton Township, for future use as a school site. A request from the Plymouth Community YMCA for use of Plymouth Salem High School facilities for a Sunday Health Club was approved on a motion by Member Yack, supported by Member Mirto; provided all issues are explored before implementation of the contract. A representative from the YMCA was requested to be present at the next Board meeting to answer questions.

The schematic design and the "Design and Development Stage" for the new elementary schools as presented by Tarrapata, McMann and Paulsen, Architects, was approved on a motion by Member Mirto, seconded by Member Borowski.

The 1974-75 school year General Fund Operating Fund budget was again discussed. Several questions regarding accounts were raised by Member Mirto and answered by Asst. Supt. Hoedel. Member Borowski moved, seconded by Member Benson, that the Board adopt the budget as presented, in its most general form, with the provision that a November 8-9 at a workshop of the Board, the budget be reviewed line-item by line-item. Member Benson indicated there were several priority items which should be considered for inclusion in the budget, and Member Borowski asked that budget procedures be established in the future, and that other questions regarding the budget be explored at the Workshop. Members Benson and Mirto voted "nay" on the adoption of the budget.

Business Administration Action Items: Member Yack moved, seconded by Member Borowski, that bills for payment be approved as presented by the Business Division in the total amount of $745,374.37.

New Business: A memorandum from Post, Smythe, Lutz and Ziel, CPAs, was reviewed, and administration was directed to follow up on all suggestions, reporting back by the second meeting in November; motion made by Member Berry, seconded by Member Benson.

Old Business: Member Borowski raised several questions regarding business formerly discussed by the Board: (1) The Reduced Fee Lunch Program - administration indicating that such a plan may be implemented by the second semester; (2) status of the Scheduled Maintenance Program - report to be ready by first meeting in November; and (3) status of two committees on attendance boundaries and on utilization of the Centennial Education Park - matter to be discussed at November 8-0 workshop, but Member Borowski asked what had been done to publicize the committees within the Community and indicated she had several questions on guides provided to the Study Committees.

Policies: Administration was directed to formulate, with specific steps listed, a policy to establish General Fund Budgets in future year, on a motion by Member Borowski, seconded by Member Mirto.

The Safety Committee minutes of October 14, 1974, were received by the Board. The meeting was then adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

The minutes of the regular meeting of October 28, 1974 may be examined in their entirety at the Board of Education office.

Schools Share Light's Cost

The school board Monday said that it would only share in the cost of a traffic light at the corner of Sheldon and Hartsough if Plymouth Township also agreed to pay a share.

The board received the request in a letter from City Manager Fred Yockey which said that the city is billed for 25 percent, or $1,450, of the total cost of $5,880. The bulk of the project is paid for by the Wayne County Road Commission.

The city has asked both the schools and the township to pay $490, one-third of its share of the cost.
