Fund Hits Goal

BY HANK MEIJER

Even after an extra week the outcome of the 1974 Plymouth Community Fund Drive was in doubt, but seven minutes before the results were to be announced at a luncheon Thursday, drive chairman Don Fleming totaled up the final collections and discovered that the drive had made it.

The goal for 1974 was $220,000 — the fund drive collected $220,000.

"We have reached our goal," a jubilant Fleming told the division chairmen and fund directors. "It was the hourly rate worker, the guy on the bench, who made the difference."

According to final returns, only the industrial division exceeded its goal — in this case by a margin big enough to put the entire drive over the top.

Dick Anderson of Associated Spring, chairman of the industrial division, reported that his team — Gil Forthofer, Bill Carlson, Jim Boyce, John Walenski, Bob Johnson, Dave McGloughlin, Mark Penner and John Lynch — raised $183,500 against a goal of $163,000.

"That was an exceptional job in very difficult times," Fleming said.

School administrator Jim Leary, chairman of the educational division, reported collections of $6,738 against a goal of $12,000, but noted that 100 percent of one group of school employees (cafeteria personnel) contributed to the fund.

Residential chairman Charlotte Petro collected $6,358 on a goal of $7,500. Business chairman Chuck Heidt reported that his division collected $14,200 against a goal of $21,000. Professional division chairman Janet Brass raised $3,495 toward a goal of $9,000 and governmental chairman Jim Grater reported that government employees contributed $2,200 against a goal of $3,000.

Special gifts chairman Scott Dodge collected contributions of $3,465 toward a goal of $4,500.

Fleming, whose Western Electric Co. hosted the Thursday luncheon, was awarded the community fund's "Go-Go Bird" for his efforts as chairman of the drive.

"He's a real driver," said Helen Richardson, chairman of the fund's boards of directors. "Each and every person has given generously. I feel very humble. We were leery of victory — up until the last minute we had not arrived."

Ann Arbor Road, Haggerty, Joy to Open

Ann Arbor Road between Main Street and Lilley Road should be open for traffic Monday, according to a spokesman for the state highway department.

The reopening is one of several improvements expected to make driving easier in the next few weeks for Plymouth-Canton motorists.

Joy Road, which has been closed for several months at the I-275 overpass, during reconstruction of a collapsed sanitary sewer, should re-open about Dec. 15, county road commission officials report.

Paving of a stretch of Haggerty Road between Hines Drive and Ann Arbor Trail is just about complete and that road should be open this week.

State highway officials are shooting for an early January opening of a five-mile segment of the I-275 expressway between Schoolcraft and Ford Road.

A VAN BURST into flames Saturday night shortly after it was abandoned on an empty stretch of McClumpha Road between Ann Arbor Trail and Ann Arbor Road. Within moments after it was ignited, the van was consumed by fire. The incident occurred near the home of Dr. Edwin Page, director of pupil personnel for the Plymouth schools. "Two cars pulled over," Page said. "One took off and a minute later the other burst into flames. I thought I saw a red glow inside it just before it went up. It was all in flames when I got here." When the first witnesses reached the scene it was impossible to tell whether anyone was inside the van. Plymouth Township firefighters arrived minutes later with a fire truck and ambulance. Firemen forced the doors of the vehicle open to find that it was unoccupied.

The van was later towed to a local auto dealer where State Police crime lab investigators are studying it this week. The vehicle was registered to Taylor resident who was reportedly at work at the time of the incident, police said. Police at the scene theorized that the van might have been stolen and "torched" intentionally. One fireman received a slight injury when a spark flew in his eye. (Photo by Robert Cameron)

Tom T... Dressing for Dinner

BY KATHY KUENZER

EDITOR'S NOTE: Recently a reporter from the Community Crier visited the Gottschalk turkey farm on North Territorial Road in Plymouth Township to see what the turkeys there were up to before Thanksgiving.

Our reporter was lucky enough to interview one Thomas Turkey, the 39-pound spokesman for the large flock that resides at the farm.

Reporter: How does it feel to be the largest turkey on the farm?

Tom: Well, it has its advantages. Most people don't want a turkey as big as me on the table, so I don't have to give myself for the "cause" as soon as some of the rest.

Reporter: The "cause"? What exactly is that?

Tom: Well, you know, all of us turkeys are really martyrs for a good cause — to keep people full and happy on Thanksgiving Day. Course, some of us — the 12 to 15 pounders — go sooner than us bigger fellas.

Reporter: How long have you lived on the farm?

Tom: About half of us came here in May, the rest in June; but a good two-thirds of us will be leaving the farm for Thanksgiving, and the rest will be gone for Christmas.

Reporter: Do you receive good care out here?

Tom: Oh my, yes. We're fed regularly and have a nice big yard to run in. Lloyd Sharland, the boss, has had lot of experience at this — 30 years, no less.

Reporter: Then did Sharland buy the business from Mr. Gottschalk, for whom the farm is named?

Tom: No. Sharland is Gottschalk's son-in-law and they worked the turkey business together before Gottschalk passed away.

Reporter: How did the business get started?

Tom: You know, that's an interesting story. My great-grandfather 28 times removed was won in a keno game by Gottschalk, who also bought some Henriettas — you folks call them hens — and a couple more Toms to keep Grandpa Turkey company. Before he knew it, he had a flourishing business going! There

Pioneer Teacher Honored

After a year's work, students and faculty members at Pioneer Middle School gathered there Thursday to dedicate the James Wick Room — a memorial to a teacher and friend who died last year.

Teachers, students and friends joined together to remodel and furnish the drab classroom next to Wick's industrial arts shop into a comfortable lounge and study area.

"This was a sad occasion because of the way it began," the ceremonies, which included a flute solo by violinist Karen Kan, a Plymouth-Salem musician and former Pioneer student. A variety show was held after the ceremonies to raise money to complete the furnishings in the room.

Pioneer Principal Gerry Elston told the gathering Thursday night, "but a happy one nonetheless because of our remembrance of Jim."

Before he died, Jim Wick tiled the ceiling to improve acoustics in the room. His friends have now painted it, added carpeting and wainscoting, chairs, tables and a vocational library.

Wick's mother, Mrs. Mary Kommerell of St. Louis, formerly of Plymouth, and his wife, Mrs. Carol Wick, attended

"We dedicate ourselves to using this room in the loving spirit in which it was created," Elston said. "The kids now have a room to grow in — the James Wick Room."

TAKING THE OATH last Wednesday night as new Canton Township officials are (from left) Trustee Gerald Cheske (two-year term), Trustee Robert Myers (four-year term), Supervisor Robert Greenstein and Treasurer Carl Parsell. Judge Dunbar Davis administered the oaths in ceremonies at the UAW Hall on Michigan Avenue.

Canton Slate Takes Office

BY KATHY KUENZER

Despite miserable weather, a large gathering attended swearing-in ceremonies and a reception Wednesday night for Canton's new township officials.

The function was held in the UAW Hall on Michigan Avenue with township dignitaries, friends and families of the newly-elected officials on hand.

Supervisor Robert Greenstein was sworn in, along with Treasurer Carl Parsell, Clerk John Flodin and Trustees Gerald Cheske (two-year term), Robert Myers and Brian Schwall (four-year terms).

Four constables took the oath of office, among them Gene Reaves, Timothy Murphy and the township's first husband-wife team, Ann and Jack Blevins.

Judge Dunbar Davis officiated in the ceremony. He noted that the large turnout was a hopeful sign in two ways; first, that the officials know many residents are behind them; and second, that there is a strength in the combined wisdom of citizens and government.

"Wisdom is not confined to the governmental chambers but problems that now are obstacles in Canton are simply opportunities."

After the oaths were taken, is there in society, in the streets," he said, "many Greenstein spoke on the needs of Canton Township, saying that the only thing he really could talk about was "responsibility."

"I think it's your responsibility to get involved," he told the audience. "We invite you and want you - we need your help. We know all of you care, and that's the thing we need to know."

He pledged that he and the rest of the board would "try to run and develop the community - try to make it a better place to live. "I give you my pledge that I intend to fulfill my responsibilities, so help me God."

Three presentations were made during the evening.

Retiring Treasurer Grant Campbell was given a plaque by the new board in appreciation for his service to the township. Retiring Supervisor Phil Dingledey, who was unable to attend the function, was also awarded a plaque by the board, honoring him for his 42 years in community government. Greenstein was presented with a gavel and wood block by members of the Canton Democratic Club.

Burglary Thwarted

Plymouth police arrested two city residents Sunday night following an attempted burglary at B & F Auto Supply, 1100 Starkweather.

Police reported that one of the suspects was discovered outside a gate at the back of the store with 43 batteries loaded in the rear of a station wagon. A hacksaw and sawed-off lock to the gate were discovered under the front seat of the car.

The car was registered to the second suspect, who was picked up while walking near the scene.

Isbister 'Spree' Set for Monday

A magic show, a book fair, a bazaar and "Santa's Shop" will highlight Isbister School's Christmas Shopping Spree Monday at the school on Canton Center Road between Joy and Ann Arbor Roads.

The holiday carnival, designed to raise funds for playground equipment and other school needs, will be held in several rooms at the school from 3:45 to 8:30 p.m.

"Magic Mr. Mike," 18-year-old Plymouth-Salem senior Mike Telesky, will perform a variety of tricks for the whole family in a free magic show. The book fair will feature books for elementary-age children, cookbooks, calendars, games and puzzles, while an assortment of Christmas gifts will be for sale in Santa's Secret Shop.

Townships, City To Get Job Funds

New federal funds may soon enable the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton to add unemployed residents to their public payrolls.

The grants are supplemental funding under the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). All three units of government received initial grants from the act last summer.

Under a formula created by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, Plymouth Township has been allocated $40,943, the largest share among local communities; the City of Plymouth will get $31,257 and Canton Township $25,497.

Because the money need not be spent for two years, some of the governments have yet to decide exactly what they'll do with it.

Plymouth Township hired a full-time clerk in the treasurer's office with last summer's grant and tentatively plans to put four residents to work this spring on the township recreation site and the newly-purchased Hilltop Golf Course.

Plymouth City Manager Fred L. Yockey hopes that the additional funds will enable the city to hire its first ordinance officer, an official charged with enforcing city ordinances, issuing dog licenses and checking parking meters.

The city already plans to add a full-time employee in the department of public works, a full-time maintenance worker at the cultural center and an additional clerk in the department of parks and recreation.

Yockey noted that while the jobs are only temporary, the new employees might have an opportunity to stay with the city if permanent funding were found for their jobs.

"These are jobs to employ people," he said, "but if federal funding were to come through and if they can work out and develop into regular city employees, fine."

Yockey said that he expects to be advertising soon for residents to fill the positions.

Canton Township received $25,497 from the newly-released funds and a similar allocation last summer.

According to Clerk John Flodin, the supplement, like the initial grant, will likely be used to add more firemen to the township force.

Flodin, like Yockey, would like to see an ordinance officer hired to enforce township ordinances, but the defeat Nov. 5 of the police and fire millage makes it probable that all the funds will go to pay firemen.

Box Bar Burglarized

The Box Bar, 777 W. Ann Arbor Trail, was burglarized Sunday night or early Monday morning and an undetermined amount of cash taken from several game, juke, box and cigarette machine coin boxes, according to Plymouth police.

The burglars pulled out a vent fan in the roof and knocked a hole in the ceiling sometime between 7 p.m. Sunday and 7 a.m. Monday, police reports indicate.

WXYZ Talk Show Host Found Dead in Hines Park

The body of a new WXYZ Radio talk show host who had been living in Plymouth was found last week in a car on Hines Drive near Woods Drive in Plymouth Township.

Alan Douglas, 50, was found late Tuesday afternoon with his arms slashed. The county medical examiner has yet to rule on the official cause of death.

A WXYZ official said that Douglas had been hired Nov. 12 to host a nightly radio talk show. Monday, the day before his death, he did his first and only show.

Although he was a Detroit native, he became a broadcasting personality in Cleveland and, more recently, on WNBC radio in New York.

WXYZ reported that following news of Douglas' death its switchboard was flooded with calls from New York and Cleveland.

Relatives reportedly told Sheriff's investigators that Douglas "had been despondent" recently and was worried about his career.

The body was discovered by Wayne County Road Commission workers. The name and address of Douglas' Plymouth relatives have been withheld.

ANN BLEVINS (left) and her husband, Jack, were sworn in as Canton Township constables Wednesday by Judge Dunbar Davis in ceremonies at the UAW Hall on Michigan Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Blevins are the first husband-wife team in Canton Township government and one of the few married couples jointly holding elective office in Michigan.

Canton Tax Bills Altered

When their tax bills come out Dec. 1, Canton residents will be required to pay a new one per cent collection fee, according to retiring Township Treasurer Grant Campbell.

The one per cent fee merely replaces an older charge previously built into tax bills by rounding off their decimal places, Campbell said. In legislation passed last year, townships were given the authority to levy collection fees in place of the traditional method of rounding off the taxes to the nearest higher figure.

In September the Canton Board of Trustees approved the levy of the one per cent fee. Residents of the Plymouth school district will pay 9.7 cents more in 1975 per $1,000 of assessed property value. The amount will vary slightly in the Van Buren and Wayne-Westland districts.

Tom T...Turkeyday Martyr

were 1,500 to 1,800 turkeys out here.

Reporter: Does Sharland still raise as many as he used to?

Tom: No, he's cut down to 1,000, almost all hens. The cackling around here is still unbelievable sometimes!

Actually, there are only about 10 of us Toms left on the farm — like I said, we get pretty big and aren't so easy to sell.

Reporter: Now here's a question I want you to be honest about. Who has the best quality meat, a hen or a Tom?

Tom: As much as I'd like to brag and say we're better, I guess there's actually no difference between us in taste or quality — as long as we're the same age. 'Course the older we get, the tougher we get, if you know what I mean.

Reporter: Is there anything in particular that you turkeys dislike?

Tom: That cold and windy snap we had a couple of weeks ago sure was hard on us. We can stand the cold, but we can't take the wind.

Reporter: And what would you like to say in closing?

Tom: I sure hope that folks will stop and give thanks on Thanksgiving Day. And I hope we can do our part to make it a real nice meal for them.

Scouts Plant

Girl Scouts from Junior Troop No. 230 from the Bird School Cluster completed a service project recently for the Plymouth Community School Farm on Joy Road in Canton Township.

The Plymouth Rotary Club purchased flowering bulbs for the girls to plant.

Jim McCartney is Optimistic

By KATHY KUENZER

Despite the present economic slowdown, Jim McCartney, the new executive director of the Plymouth-Canton Development Commission and the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, is taking a positive outlook towards his new job.

Although the official starting date was Oct. 1, McCartney began the job much earlier by talking at length with many community officials and leaders in the weeks before to get a "feel" for the area.

He says what he found was a very positive attitude among townspeople — one of "let's get on with it." He points out that the recent vote on the Plymouth Loop Road was an example of this attitude. Although it might have been more encouraging to have had a 7-0 vote in favor of the Loop, the 4-3 vote still shows how the town wants to start moving ahead.

McCartney splits his time equally between the PCDC and the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce since the Chamber has been contracted by the PCDC to work for them.

Office secretary Gloria Wiski also divides her time between the two offices, both located in the building at 878 Wing St. Some might see a conflict of interest for McCartney, serving two organizations, both seeking new business development. But he says this is simply not the case.

With the PCDC he is aiding Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton Township and the rest of the Plymouth School District. With the Plymouth Chamber he is also working with the various committees to aid the established Plymouth businesses.

As the man now responsible for attracting new business into the area, Jim McCartney brings valuable experience from two previous positions. His last job was with the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce where he served as Manager of the Economic Development Dept.

for five years. Before that he was with the City of Westland as head of the Dept. of Economic Development.

As director of the PCDC he is again involved in industrial-commercial development activities in the Plymouth-Canton area. This entails giving "dollars and cents justification" why it's good for businesses to come here, besides actively seeking out new business development.

One area in which McCartney sees some room for improvement is in the committee function of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. From his observation, the Chamber Board has been doing all the work of the committees — coming up with new ideas for projects, passing upon them, then implementing them. According to McCartney the function of the Board is ideally only to give the go ahead or not to ideas brought before it by the committees, each made up of specialists in their particular area.

Right now, Jim McCartney seems anxious to "get on with it" himself. He and his secretary are in the process of setting up files so that the PCDC and the Plymouth Chamber have easier access to records of what's been happening and what's going to happen in the Plymouth-Canton area, whether it be industrial growth, retail sales projections, or what civic organizations and businesses now exist in the area.

Houk, Wife Uninjured In Accident

Former Plymouth mayor and director of the Plymouth-Canton Development Commission James Houk and his wife escaped injury recently when their car and travel trailer rolled over on the expressway in Ohio.

The Houks, who were heading South for a vacation after his retirement from the PCDC position, were traveling south of Cleveland when the trailer began to sway. No other cars were involved.

Houk, who was driving at the time, said he could not determine what caused the mishap but felt it might have been due to the leveling bars. Both were wearing shoulder-harness seat belts which, Houk said, probably saved them from injury.

Their trailer was a total loss.

Fund Supporters Deserve 'Thanks'

The Plymouth Community Fund has made it once again — but just barely.

With only seven minutes to go before its week-delayed deadline, the Fund still has not reached the top.

But it made it.

"We were pretty shook (at being that close), but very grateful we made it," said Helen Richardson, 1974 Community Fund president.

We pass on her tribute to all those who gave to the Fund in these difficult economic times so that others might benefit. Let's hope the generosity of residents in the Plymouth community will never diminish.

Once again we have maintained a separate community fund which proves our community is self-sufficient. But that can be true only as long as the Plymouth Community Fund sets and makes a reasonable goal each year.

Should it fail, it is inevitable that the agencies it supports will turn to the Metropolitan Detroit Fund Drive for help.

Congratulations to all the tree-shakers (the area chairmen and bell ringers) who helped make this year's Fund successful.

More importantly, all those who gave — no matter how much — deserve a thanks for their support.

With Malice Toward None

By W. Edward WENDOVER

My what a different song some candidates sing after being elected to office.

Take newly-elected Plymouth Township Trustee Dick Gornick for example. Remember during the consolidation election when Gornick argued against cityhood?

Remember how he said the township form of government is superior to the city form?

Well let's hope you're sitting down ... Gornick recently urged his homeowners group to seriously consider approving a charter for the City of Plymouth Heights because there are many advantages to cityhood.

Honest — Gornick, the strongest advocate against consolidation with the city, actually told his neighbors that cityhood is good.

He used to argue that city government was more distant from the people than township government. Isn't it funny that now that he's elected he's had a change of heart?

When questioned about it, Gornick said, "I'm not that anti-city, but at the time (of the consolidation election), yes, I was.

"At that time we were against consolidation, so we were using the arguments against it," he said, adding that it was up to the other side to explain cityhood's virtues.

The new township trustee said he did not campaign on the anti-consolidation issue — but certainly it was his advocacy of anti-cityhood that catapulted him to "fame." And he did not bring out this change in heart before the election.

Now he's talking out of the other side of his mouth about "cityhood," saying it offers control of the roads and — get this — the ability to set a tax limitation (which allows a city council to raise taxes up to that amount without a vote of the people).

Doesn't that sound about 180 degrees about face from Gornick's previous public speeches on the evils of cityhood?

Come on Dick, one side of the mouth at a time.

He Who Laughs Last...

WASHING OFF the Maize and Blue paint job from the front of his store was Buckeye fan Fred Hill. The paint job was part of the traditional rivalry between Plymouth's University of Michigan and Ohio State fans. But of course the Buckeyes got the last laugh when the U of M backers, led by former school board member Ned Stirton, sang the Ohio State fight song at the fountain in Kellogg Park after the Buckeye victory. The Wolverines also finished Hill's clean-up job. (Staff photo)

AAUW Lauds UNICEF Support

Editor:

On behalf of the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University

Women, I would like to thank the communities of Plymouth and Canton for their support, participation and contributions to the 1974 UNICEF drive.

The $900 collected will help feed, educate and treat many needy, starving and ill children of the world.

I would like to extend a tremendous thank-you for a job well-done to those youth and adults who canvassed the area. It is great to see such interest and enthusiasm displayed by the communities for such a worthwhile cause.

Those Plymouth and Canton residents who did not have an opportunity to contribute or would like to add to their donations may send a check or money order to the U.S. Committee for UNICEF, P.O. Box 4000, Grand Central Station, New York, New York 10017.

Any interested groups and/or individuals who would like to work for the 1975 UNICEF drive in any capacity, please contact me.

Thank you.

Regal elegance comes alive in a dramatic long gown. Bodice is enhanced with a sparkling jeweled medallion and delicate embroidery at neckline. To insure figure flattery, bodice is artfully shaped and midriff is discreetly notched. The dome skirt vibrantly falls from midriff for a completely spectacular effect.

Police Chief Offers Holiday Driving Tips

Christmas spirit is one thing, but, according to Chief of Police Tim Ford, "Christmas spirits" are something else again.

"To many people," the Chief reminded Plymouth area motorists, "having a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year means overdoing when it comes to the consumption of alcoholic beverages."

Chief Ford quoted National Safety Council statistics to emphasize the problem. At least half of all traffic fatalities last year in this country involved alcohol as a factor. Moreover, it's long been known that a vast majority of fatal holiday accidents are associated with drinking.

The Chief cited a few holiday party tips that have been endorsed by the International Association of Chiefs of Police:

- If you're the host, close down your bar earlier - at least an hour before guests leave. Have plenty of food and coffee available as a "nightcap."

- If a guest has overindulged, have a less enthusiastic party goer take him home, or call a taxi. He may be resentful, but you'll be doing him a lifesaving favor.

- As either host or guest, remember that it takes your body at least one hour per drink to eliminate the devastating effects of alcohol. Take time to dry out.

"The best advice," according to Chief Ford, "is still the common sense reminder, 'If you drink, don't drive.'"

Club Plans Yule Walk

The Plymouth branch of the Michigan division of the Women's National Farm and Garden Club met recently to set plans for its annual "Christmas is Coming up the Walk" tour of homes, scheduled this year for Dec. 12. Tickets for the tour of local homes are available from Stitch 'n' Tyme, Muriel's Doll House or ticket co-chairmen Mrs. Robert Schultz and Mrs. Robert Bake.

How You Can Help Play Santa Claus

BY KATHY KUENZER

Can you believe it? Christmas is just around the corner. Even though most of us have hardly given a thought to our shopping lists, Santa has been working on this year's projects since his last Christmas was tucked to bed.

Reaves, who was J.L. Hudson's Santa from 1935-1945, has made the State Home his project for the last five years. This year he hopes to deliver 120 sweaters and the same number of winter hats and pairs of mittens to children at the home. His contributions come from many sources, not the least of which is his own pocket. All of the fees he receives as a notary public in Canton Township go into Santa's Christmas Fund. He also makes wooden name plaques for homes and sells them to benefit the fund.

Of course Santa Reaves has plenty of helpers, too. One of the most interesting of these is Mrs. Clara Cleland of Lathrup Village. Mrs. Cleland has been knitting sweaters for Santa for the past five years, starting with 14 five years ago and raising her output to 20 this year.

She heard about Reaves' project through the newspapers and decided that this was something she would enjoy doing — which is a story in itself. Mrs. Cleland, who is arthritic and confined to her wheelchair, will be 93 on Christmas Day.

This year Reaves notes that with Christmas fast approaching, his bag is not as full as it should be. He plans to visit the State Home about Dec. 16 and time is running out. If you would like to become a contributing helper contact him at 453-1072 or write: Gene "Santa" Reaves, 39500 Warren Rd., Plymouth 48170.

Canton Girls Lose District Semi-Finals

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

Win number six in a row for the Plymouth-Canton girls basketball team came last Tuesday (Nov. 19) in a convincing 64-16 victory over Northville, but the season ended abruptly Saturday night as the Chiefs were upset in their first district outing.

Squaring off in district play against St. Mary's of Redford in Detroit, the Chiefs rallied late in the game, but fell short in the end, suffering a disappointing 45-42 loss to the host team.

Costly turnovers (25 of them) and a lack of a balanced scoring attack kept the Chiefs from winning.

Chief leading scorer Sue Myrtle carried the offensive load as she accounted for 22 of the 42 point total. Cindy Kreig added 15 points to the cause. Coach Mike McCauley's team was in command all the way against Northville taking a dominating 31-8 lead at the half and outscoring the Mustangs 33-6 in the second half.

Sue Myrtle led all scorers with 16 points. Cindy Kreig and Ellan Doran followed with eight each. The rest of the scoring was balanced, as all 10 players contributed points to the 64 total.

Pat O'Donnell's Canton JV girls finished their season with an impressive 49-10 romp over Northville. Balanced scoring from Kathy Sochacki (14), Sue Rekuc (14) and Lori Barnes (10) did the trick offensively. Great team defense kept Northville from scoring at all in the first and fourth quarters.

Salem, Canton Athletes Honored

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

The 1974 fall sports season was officially brought to a close last week when the Plymouth Elks Club hosted the annual sports banquets for Plymouth-Canton and Plymouth-Salem High Schools.

A standing ovation for the state champion Plymouth-Salem Rocks football squad highlighted Salem's football banquet last Wednesday.

It was an evening of praise for the young men who brought an undefeated season and a state championship to Plymouth.

Deputy Supt. Earl Hogan, representing the Plymouth school board, presented Coach Tom Moshimer with a resolution expressing the board's appreciation for the great season.

Athletic Director John Sandmann presented the Suburban Eight trophy to Moshimer and co-captains Tim Dillon and Scott Agnew.

The awards and presentations were summed up neatly by Sandmann, who said that although he wouldn't compare the 1974 state championship team with past Plymouth teams, no squad had ever shown more poise than the '74 team. No team had more desire, more talent, more dedication or better coaching than the '74 edition.

Individual awards were headed by recognition of Co-Most Valuable Players Tim Dillon and Scott Agnew. Most Valuable Lineman went to Doug McCowan, who played defensive end and offensive tackle.

Most Improved Player was awarded to tight end Rich Jenkins, whose superior blocking and clutch catches were a great contribution to the team's success.

The coaches' award for dedication and effort beyond the call of duty was given to Joe Hibler. The "red shirt" award, for the player who didn't play much but contributed to the team in spirit and practiced hard, went to senior Doug Ward, who sat out all but two games because of a broken wrist.

Other speakers who expressed their congratulations to the Rocks were Mrs. Mary Ross, representing the players' parents, and Hank Rupert, head of Maintenance at Plymouth-Salem and a friend of the team.

Coaches Dick Barr and Craig Bell, along with John Salter and Bob Kroeger, praised the junior varsity and freshmen teams.

The cheerleaders and Rockettes were also recognized for their support throughout the season.

Kent Buikema, principal at Canton High, was the master of ceremonies at the Chief banquet on Tuesday, Nov. 19. Honored at the Elks' banquet tables were the cross-country, golf and football teams. The cheerleaders and Chieftettes were also given special recognition for their hard work during the past year.

Coach John Crosson praised his youthful golf team, which finished second in the Western Six Conference meet and fourth in regional competition, failing by only one stroke to qualify for state competition.

Brian Schwall, Canton cross-country coach, reported that his squad improved greatly as the season went on. The harriers finished fourth in the Western Six meet.

Mary Reading and Laurie Howe, cheerleading coaches, congratulated their squads for their contributions. The most exciting part of the varsity season had to be their second place finish (out of 30 schools) last summer at the Eastern Michigan University cheerleading camp. Jo Kenyon, captain of the Chieftettes, handled the presentation of the dancing squad for sponsor Ellen Curtis, who was unable to attend.

The freshman team's awards drew enthusiastic praise for the ninth grade football squad, the first Canton sports team to go undefeated in the school's short two-year history. Coaches Tom Garrett, Russ Carlson and Sam Daas expressed pride in the youthful players who will make up Canton's first junior varsity team next season.

Head coach Jim Muneio handled the varsity football awards with help from assistants Dan Chrenko, Gary Grady and Jim Jarvey. The Chiefs wound up second best in the league with a 3-2 record.

Most Valuable Offensive Player was leading rusher Jim Tiller. Most Valuable Defensive Player was Dave Edwards, who led the team in tackles. Most Valuable All-Around Player was Gregg Burke. Burke served as a tri-captain of the team, excelling as a defensive linebacker and offensive tackle.

With the football season at a close, awards and honors continue to roll in for outstanding individual players. Co-Captains Tim Dillon and Scott Agnew of the state champion Plymouth Rocks head this list of top athletes.

The Detroit News named Dillon as first team safety on its All Metro-West and All-Metro teams. He was also on the Detroit Free Press, All-Suburban and All-Metro honorable mention lists.

The Detroit News also praised fullback Scott Agnew, selecting him for the first team All-Metro West and honorable mention All-Metro. The Free Press placed Agnew on second team All-Suburban and honorable mention All-Metro.

Plymouth coach Tom Moshimer was also honored for his hard work, as he was chosen number one coach in the Metro area by the Detroit News.

Dave Edwards led the Canton Chiefs, winning honorable mention Detroit Free Press All-Suburban and All-Metro honors.

Sports

Doc's Corner

by Dennis O'Connor

When the COMMUNITY CRIER published its first edition back in February of this year, the sports section concentrated on the varsity basketball seasons of Plymouth-Salem and Plymouth-Canton High Schools. Last night (Tuesday) both teams started their respective 1974-75 seasons with high hopes.

The Plymouth-Salem Rocks, coached by Fred Thomann, will try to repeat as last year's Suburban Eight League champs. They will also be aiming for a higher finish in state tournament play. Last season the Rocks won their district, but fell in the first regional game to Livonia Franklin.

Thomann has eight lettermen returning from last year's record breaking team, which lost only one league game and finished 21-3 overall (the best in Plymouth history).

Three returning starters form the nucleus of this year's squad. The enormous front line consists of six-foot nine and one-half inch senior Eric Agardy and six-foot-seven and one-half inch junior Jim Ellinghausen. The other returning starter is six-foot-two and one-half inch senior Dan Moore.

Other returning lettermen are Jim Anderson, Bill DenHouter, Tim Dillon, John Maloney and Mark Manthey. New members, from last year's successful JV squad are Rich Gladstone, Mark Gothard, Howard Inch, Bob Evans, Mike Primeau and Brian Wolcott.

After winning just two games last season in Canton's first year of varsity competition, Coach Casey Cavell is optimistic going into this season as all his players are returning.

The Chiefs are in a balanced Western Six League which finds any one of four teams favored to take the crown.

The starting team for Cavell averages about six-three. Heading the squad is six-foot-three forward Ron Lack, who led the Chiefs in scoring last season. Other returning players include Marty Peck, Brian Stemberger, Ran Mandel, Scott Dunagan, Tom Clöse, Rick Thom, Dave Edwards, Mike Haarer and Don Lloyd.

New members include Keith Osborne, Dan Ward, Bill Parson, Dave Pink, Keith Hammonds, Joe Waid, Steve Salyer.

I extend my best wishes to both teams. Good luck in the upcoming season.
