Teacher Walkout Still Looms

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Depending on developments in court on the Crestwood teachers' strike, many of Plymouth's teachers may still walk out in sympathy.

Exactly when the Plymouth Education Assn. (PEA; teachers' union) will support a "protest strike" hinges on what happens in court, but it may be "later this week or early next week," according to the PEA hotline.

The president of the PEA, Margaret "Dolly" Carter, has refused to comment on the latest developments to the press.

However, in a tape-recorded message on the union's hotline Monday, Ms. Carter said:

"Due to the recent court developments, the leadership of the 16 coordinated bargaining districts met at the Michigan Education Association headquarters last night to receive an up-to-the-minute progress report and to map out strategies in the event the coordinated bargaining commitment is called on later this week or early next week.

"Our commitment may yet be called in support of the 190 teachers fired in Crestwood," Ms. Carter's hotline message said.

"They are depending on all of us in Plymouth who pledged our support to them or anyone who is fired in their attempts to get a master agreement."

The PEA's plans, according to a letter sent to Plymouth teachers Monday by Ms. Carter, depend on whether the Michigan Supreme Court upholds or overturns Sunday's decision by the State Appeals Court.

The appellate court ruling "stayed" an earlier Circuit Court decision in the Crestwood case which ordered the 160 teachers fired in Crestwood to be allowed back to teach.

Plymouth teachers had been prepared to walk off their jobs last Wednesday morning in protest of the Crestwood teachers' firings, but a last-minute surprise directive from the Michigan Education Association (MEA) postponed that action until the circuit court ruling.

After that ruling came in the teachers' favor, the Crestwood school board appealed the case to the State Appeals Court and after that court overturned the lower court, the case has gone to the state Supreme Court.

It is expected that the earliest the Supreme Court would rule on the matter is Monday.

In the meantime, the PEA "crisis committee" and its executive board have been meeting to plan what actions will be taken here.

The Plymouth School Board, which met Monday night but did not discuss the proposed strike then, has "changed none of its positions" on the issue, said E. J. McClendon, president of the board.

"We're trying to keep all our options open," he said.

"We've made it clear we're going to keep the schools open."

The board, in a letter to teachers last week, said teachers would be docked pay and fringe benefits if they walk off their jobs and may jeopardize their contracts.

Plymouth school administrators have mapped out plans to use parent volunteers and substitute teachers to keep schools open should a large contingent of Plymouth teachers walk out.

A citizens' group has been formed to support the school board's position and the Plymouth - Northville League of Women Voters is forming a task force to "act as a catalyst" in revamping legislation dealing with teacher negotiations.

Heights Charter Readied

BY HANK MEIJER

For the fifth time in the last 18 years the City of Plymouth Heights will soon have a new charter.

Plymouth Heights - Plymouth Township as it would be incorporated as a city - will have a strong mayor and four city councilmen if the charter just being completed is approved by township voters.

Nine charter commissioners were elected in last November's general election to draw up the new document. In early February, 90 days later, the charter for the proposed City of Plymouth Heights must be on the governor's desk.

According to Robert Richardson, chairman of the charter commission, previous charters have provided a solid foundation on which to build the new one. The revised version is in its last stages now and final typing is expected to begin next week.

Richardson's major goal has been to streamline the city government - to eliminate duplicated responsibilities in various departments and place more authority in the hands of the mayor.

For example, the last charter, drafted in 1970, vested authority over parks and recreation in both a parks commission and the department of public works.

Under the new charter, the DPW would be solely responsible for maintaining parks and recreation areas, with the need for additional park advisory or administrative positions up to the mayor.

Richardson acknowledged that the strong mayor approach involves some risks - while a good mayor is free to work more effectively and creatively, a bad one can subject the city to greater abuses.

"We give him a lot of rope," Richardson said.

In addition to the mayor, the new city would have a clerk, a treasurer and four councilmen, all serving staggered terms. The mayor, clerk and treasurer would serve for four years rather than the two prescribed in the last charter.

Richardson envisions off-year elections like those for state officials so that township races are not influenced by presidential elections.

The last charter provided the city with seven councilmen,

Court Panel Censures Teacher 'Sympathy Strikes'

The Wayne County Circuit Court panel's opinion in the Crestwood teachers' strike situation issued last week:

- Called for new legislation to deal with teacher negotiations.
- Censured the local teacher unions (like Plymouth) planning "sympathy strikes."

The court panel's majority opinion, written by Circuit Court Judge George E. Bowles, a Plymouth Township resident whose wife is a Plymouth school teacher, said in part:

"There are vastly larger issues here, community issues, and more especially, the welfare of the students of this school district and the welfare of the school system.

"Indeed, we would hope that the Governor and the Legislature in considering new legislation which is so desperately needed would state as preeminent the best interests of the students and the educational systems of the state.

"The analogy to custody disputes is not inapt where we now recognize the best interests of the children despite the desires or demands of the parents.

"We are reaping the wild whirlwind of a bad labor law.

"The majority concurs in Judge Rashid's holding that both parties are in open and flagrant defiance and violation of his Honor's orders. The majority deplores such defiance.

"It also deplores resorting to any unlawful strikes termed 'sympathy strikes' that are in clear violation of collective bargaining contracts between parties not involved in this case.

"We find most regrettable the so-called pressure tactics calculated to induce or encourage a favorable result one way or another before this Honorable Court.

"Such conduct manifests a cynical lack of knowledge of how courts function and judges decide cases."

City Fire Alarms Down in '74

The number of fire alarms in the City of Plymouth in 1974 was a slight drop from the year's total, according to Fire Chief George Schoenneman.

Schoenneman said that last year city firefighters responded to 666 alarms, down four from the 1973 total of 670.

Although the number of fires rose from 69 in 1973 to 90 last year, Schoenneman cites a jump from 17 to 35 rubbish and grass fires as accounting for most of the total.

Ambulance runs declined from 369 to 346, while emergency runs - calls on injuries or accidents - dropped from 134 to 127. Car fires were down from 17 to 10.

The number of false alarms rose, although Schoenneman notes that the totals include both malicious and non-malicious calls. In 1973 the department received four false alarms, while last year there were nine.

Schoenneman blamed inflation for part of the big 1974 increase in fire damage, when city residents and businesses lost $103,725 compared to $53,000 the year before.

According to Schoenneman, the city's fire inspection program, which involves twice-a-year inspections of all city commercial and industrial establishments, keeps people fire-conscious and helps cut down on fires.

Canton Fire Runs Up

Along with more people, Canton Township also made more fire runs last year than ever before.

According to Fire Chief Mel Paulin, the township department answered 1,153 alarms during 1974, compared to 1,022 in 1973.

While the increase in the number of alarms was relatively moderate, Paulin noted that fire damage more than doubled in the township last year. With two apartment fires (most notably a blaze in the Stonybrooke Apartments) accounting for much of the increase, fire damage rose from $254,160 in 1973 to $638,700 last year, Paulin said.

She Sorts History, Junk in City Hall's Dungeons

BY HANK MEIJER

Only Dana Vargo knows how much of Plymouth's history is buried in the basement of City Hall.

Filling dozens of shelves and file cabinets in a basement room are decades of paperwork and records — complaints from citizens, commission minutes, bills, reports and interoffice memos that are the by-product of municipal bureaucracy.

A few of the records have been microfilmed, but nobody really knows how much of what is down there is important. Some documents need be preserved for office purposes, some for historical. Some of the paper is litter in triplicate.

According to City Manager Fred Yockey, the place was a mess when he came to the city. Last summer Plymouth received a federal grant to provide jobs for the unemployed. Yockey used $10,500 of it to hire 25-year-old Dana Vargo to overhaul the city's records retention program.

"I'd been downstairs and we just had stacks of stuff down there," he said. "There was no order to it and we had nobody to spend any time on it."

Ms. Vargo, who lives in Plymouth, has worked as an archivist in the library at Oakland University, cataloging and preserving university records.

Government Cooperation Meeting Set

The Plymouth community's newly-formed Intergovernmental Relations Committee will meet for the first time Thursday night in the offices of the Plymouth Board of Education.

The group, the result of an idea first proposed by school board Treasurer Thomas Yack, will include representatives from the elected governing bodies of Canton Township, Plymouth Township, the City of Plymouth, Salem Township, Superior Township and the Plymouth Community School District.

Its goal, as Yack outlined it, will be to discuss mutual problems and concerns and foster cooperation among the various governmental units in the school district.

The committee was proposed last fall after the schools, the city and Plymouth Township squabbled over sharing the cost of crossing guards and traffic lights on intersections used by city and township schoolchildren.

DANA VARGO

"A file clerk really can't do a job like this," Yockey said. "We're just pleased as punch — we're not only putting somebody to work, but after Dana we won't be juggling files back and forth and always sending people downstairs to track things down."

Yockey wants Dana to make the city's records orderly enough so that when her stay runs out June 30 city secretaries will have little difficulty maintaining departmental records.

"We're finding a great duplication of things," he said. "There have been 25 copies of something that's five years old."

Dana's job is to pare down the building file drawers and make vital records easy to find. One of the most difficult parts of her job is deciding what to save and what to throw out.

Both the city manager and his administrative assistant advise her on just which materials warrant saving and which don't. As she becomes more familiar with the city's records, her own judgement becomes more acute.

"I know these shelves will be nearly empty when I get done,"

Cops Nab Nudist

Railroad workers in the C & O Yard in Plymouth found a naked man in their caboose late Friday night.

According to Plymouth Police, the man claimed he had come from Lansing and had discarded his clothes to "get rid of sin."

Although the subject was cooperative, police said, he asked for marijuana to calm his nerves.

Repeated phone calls failed to turn up any friends or relatives and the man was taken to Northville State Hospital. His identification was not known.

Ms. Vargo said. "I've filled a garbage can every day."

"The more I got to do it, the more I understood what had to be on permanent record. As I got near the end of the alphabet I found fewer and fewer things that were important. I'm mostly trying to get rid of things that don't concern Plymouth."

"If somebody has a complaint, for example, it should stay on the record," she said. "An interoffice memo isn't in the same category."

Judging by the correspondence, "Plymouth seems like a very stable community," Dana said. "People really do try to fight city hall. And what's really amazing — their complaints are acted on."

Before money for her job runs out at the end of June, she will work with permanent city employees to insure orderly record-keeping in the future.

"It would be a crime to develop something like this and not follow through with it," Yockey said.

What's it like to work at a job which requires you to spend a good share of your day in a cage in the basement sorting through dusty records?

"The more I think about it, the more I'm going to hate to leave," Dana said.

According to Ms. Vargo, up to 20,000 letters can be filed on a single roll of microfilm. What microfilming has been done before was the work of a Kelly Girl in 1967. Only one-tenth of all the records will be microfilmed, but even that amount will lower the basement stacks significantly.

The choice is not always between garbage and permanent microfilm, however. Sometimes the archivist's eye for history is invaluable.

"I have to get the historical society here to help me," Dana said, noting that her job has already taught her much about the workings of municipal government.

"I didn't pay much attention to eighth grade civics," she said. "I'm getting an idea now as to hierarchy and structure."

She would like to have some of the older documents — 1885 assessment rolls, a ledger from 1858, invoices from the city's incorporation in 1867 — on display, and everything else readily accessible to students and other residents. She has also unearthed old maps and photographs.

"I'd like to have high school students be able to see the progression of the city," she said. "I find myself getting more and more patriotic. I'm amazed at how many people write to me city manager."

"I'm interested in how people take part in the city."

City Officials Tour Other Loop Sites

City commissioners are slated to visit Lapeer next week on the first of several inspection trips to cities which have tried projects similar to the loop road proposed for Plymouth's downtown business district.

According to City Manager Fred Yockey, the commissioners will visit Lapeer Thursday, Jan. 23. The city's downtown improvements were recommended for inspection by local officials by Vilcan-Leman Associates, the city's planners.

The itinerary is also expected to include Jackson, where changes in downtown traffic patterns may not be entirely satisfactory, and Sylvania, Ohio, where a downtown development project is reported to be very successful.

According to one commissioner, Plymouth officials must schedule their visits to coincide with times when officials and planners in the other cities are available to show them around.

5 Year Old City Girl Thrown from Car

A five-year-old Plymouth girl is listed in good condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, after she was thrown from the car in which she was riding in an accident late Friday afternoon at Sheldon and Ann Arbor Road.

According to State Police, a station wagon driven by Mrs. Phyllis Hess of 1056 Simpson was struck in the rear by another car as Mrs. Hess made a left turn on an amber light. The station wagon's rear window was broken on impact and five-year-old Nancy Hess, who was riding in the back, was thrown through the window and onto the pavement.

She suffered a fractured skull and lacerations to her face and head.

N'ville Twp. Keeps Police

The Northville Township Police Department has been granted a reprieve.

The department, which the Northville Township Board had voted late last year to eliminate as of this week, will continue to operate at least through April 15 thanks to a change of heart by the township board.

The board voted to borrow money from the township's public improvements fund to keep the six full-time and 16 reserve policemen on the job.

According to Township Supervisor Larry Wright, the township will likely ask its residents sometime in March to approve a levy of up to two mills to save the police force and ease the financial straits of the township.

"If the millage passes we can maintain services," Wright said. "Otherwise, I don't know how much more we can tighten our belts." The proposed millage

PEA Vote Can Span Dolly's Credibility Gap

Opinions

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

January 15, 1975

"As regards to the grossly unfair press we received in the local paper, I ask that all Plymouth teachers and their other educational associates in this community refuse to accept the Crier into their homes and request refunds on their subscriptions.

"I further ask that you give consideration to not patronizing those businesses that advertise in what has become the vehicle for two men to misquote and misrepresent the PEA leadership at their own whim.

"In a very short conversation with Mr. Wendover last Friday afternoon I assured him that it was of no purpose to answer any of his questions since he would write and print what he wished how he wished. I remarked that I was tired of being misrepresented and misquoted. He replied that he would state that I refused to comment. I replied that that at least would finally be a true statement coming from his paper."

— excerpt from PEA President Dolly Carter's letter to Plymouth teachers sent out Monday (to avoid altering Ms. Carter's message, we have made no changes in the grammar or spelling)

What's Her Gripe?

For the second time in five months, the president of the Plymouth Education Assn. has asked her organization's members to boycott The Community Crier.

But in addition to calling for a Crier subscription boycott in a letter sent to Plymouth teachers Monday, PEA President Margaret "Dolly" Carter has also asked her union members to boycott Crier advertisers.

She states that she has been misquoted and has received "grossly unfair press."

Since Ms. Carter has raised no specific instances or examples, of misquoting, we cannot respond. We will be happy to discuss specific instances should she choose to raise them.

We have observed, however, that most of the quotes relating to the current situation have appeared in other local papers as well. This leads us to wonder whether Ms. Carter's real objection is to our editorials — and not to our reporting.

Whatever the case, we feel we must point out that advertisers are not responsible for our reportorial product and thus are unfairly being attacked by Ms. Carter.

Although we have in the past reminded the PEA president that she is welcome to respond to editorials and columns we again extend that invitation.

In addition, since it is important for the PEA president to comment on local developments in the proposed "protest strikes," we invite Ms. Carter to a public press conference (with all media covering the Plymouth situation).

—THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Youth Lose Friend

With the passing of Gene Stermer, the youth of this community have lost a friend.

Stermer, who died Jan. 3 of a sudden heart attack, had led Youth Inc. through some of its most difficult battles.

Gene would often be seen dashing about town on some small but crucial errand for the continuation of the Youth Center's programs.

His involvement in youth activities was more than that expected of the Plymouth Youth Inc. board chairman for he found no problem too small for his attention.

Gene will be missed.

—THE COMMUNITY CRIER

The Plymouth teachers' union is back in the news again, as you've no doubt noticed.

And, just like last September during the teachers' strike, the Plymouth Education Assn. (PEA) has been suffering from a credibility problem.

In essence this problem can be summed up in three words — Margaret "Dolly" Carter (the president of the PEA).

During the strike which delayed the start of school, many teachers criticized the three newspapers covering the local situation for failing to give equal coverage to their point of view.

That criticism was well founded, but it was aimed at the wrong target, for during the September strike and during current discussions on a "protest strike" of Plymouth schools, Ms. Carter has refused to cooperate with the press.

She has refused to return phone calls and to comment on the issues when even the president of the Michigan Education Assn. (the state-wide teacher union organization with which the PEA is affiliated) called The Community Crier to discuss the issues. The area representative for the MEA also talked to The Crier about the situation.

In order to report on the local developments, it is necessary to talk to the PEA president.

On Friday, the Crier asked Ms. Carter if she would comment on the proposed "protest strike" which had been planned by the PEA for last week in sympathy for the fired Crestwood teachers.

She refused to comment, saying, "You'll just print what you want to anyway."

Since she was having lunch with School Board member Marda Benson at the time, we offered to interview her in Ms. Benson's presence, but Ms. Carter declined.

Ms. Benson told The Crier she thought that was a "fair" offer and tried over the weekend, without success, to set up a press conference with Ms. Carter for all media covering the local situation.

Ms. Carter's lack of cooperation is solely responsible for whatever "one-sided reporting" has taken place. (Editorials are, of course, opinions and reflect the views of their authors.)

By refusing to speak openly with the press, the reporters have been forced to obtain information through informal channels, such as listening through the locked doors of PEA meetings. (In 1969 the press was allowed to attend PEA membership meetings during the strike.)

The question Ms. Carter's uncooperativeness raises is, "What is she trying to hide?"

It is time PEA members ask Ms. Carter about this.

They should ask Ms. Carter why the coordinated bargaining pact was not explained more

With Malice Toward None

fully before the vote was taken on it last fall. (The PEA recently passed out pamphlets entitled, "What Your Mother Never Told You About Coordinated Bargaining," to its members. They could also have been entitled, "What Dolly Never Told You About Coordinated Bargaining.")

More importantly, the PEA members should ask why Ms. Carter would not allow a secret ballot vote on the coordinated bargaining pact. (Such elections were held by other education associations like Northville, Wayne - Westland, Grosse Ile, Flat Rock and Warren.) Is she afraid that such a vote would show that the PEA is an independent organization and not a puppet of the MEA as she has tried to make it?

It is important to realize that not all Plymouth teachers support the present drift of the PEA. But until a secret ballot vote is called on the coordinated bargaining plan, all teachers must carry the burden.

The people deserve to know exactly what the teachers' sentiments are. The only way they can find out is to hear the results of a secret ballot vote.

Lastly, the PEA members should ask Ms. Carter why she won't openly discuss what's going on in the union — particularly when it affects the lives of our school children and their jobs.

(Perhaps Ms. Carter doesn't want any outsiders to know that she says things like, "Life can be made hell" for teachers who don't join the protest strike.)

Because Ms. Carter's credibility problems have gone unchallenged thus far, she has now tainted the credibility of the PEA and its members.

By W. Edward WENDOVER

Never in our teachers' association history has local independence been forsaken to the point of breaching a signed contract at the urging of the MEA.

This lack of credibility, displayed by proposing to go back on one's word, has irreparably harmed the esteem of each individual teacher in the Plymouth School District.

Wake up, teachers. Education is a difficult task, particularly when suffering from credibility problems. The teachers should demand the full truth from Ms. Carter. They deserve it and so do the people.

'Thank You Teachers'

Editor:

Please, thank you to the teachers for staying in school Wednesday (Jan. 8, the day the Plymouth Education Association had planned to walk out before the MEA order came through delaying the action — Editor).

I'm an interested observer. Secret ballots and meetings whose contents are made known to the public instead of secret meetings and voting by show of hands would let us observers know the teachers' side.

After all, they're usually our neighbors; and while we didn't elect them, we live side by side and have come to like them as friends.

Mrs. Robert Kinsler

FEBRUARY 15, 1907

THIS YELLOWED SCRAP of paper, saying that the Electric Appliance Co. of Chicago could no longer honor its 1907 catalog prices, was found last week under the floor boards of the Wilcox House, now known as the "Penniman Apartments."

Price Hikes Nothing New, Shows Long-Lost Notice

"This could have come in today's mail!"

That was the comment by Plymouth Electrician Kenneth Rich of 6750 Salem Road as he read a yellowed scrap of paper discovered last week between the floor and ceiling in one of Plymouth's older houses - the large, white Wilcox House facing Kellogg Park.

The paper was an announcement from the Electric Appliance Company of Chicago that they would no longer honor the prices shown in their latest catalog, "owing to continued advances in all classes of material."

It was dated Feb. 15th, 1907.

In an envelope addressed to "Plymouth Municipal Lighting Company," the notice had apparently been discarded by a workman when the new power was introduced shortly after the turn of the century. It had remained undisturbed through the years until its discovery by Rich as he added additional circuits for one of the apartments in the building.

"I keep getting similar announcements from my current suppliers and that makes bidding for new work quite difficult," the electrician said, "but I guess it was a problem long before I was born. They seemed to survive so I'm sure we will, too."

The building, now known as the "Penniman Apartments," is almost 100 years old. It was one of the first residences in town to use electric lights at a time when power was supplied only during evening hours.

Rich, whose grandfather once operated a blacksmith shop where the Masonic Temple now stands, says he will donate the document to the Plymouth Historical Society and the Plymouth Museum.

Rocks, Chiefs Both Win Twice!

Sports

Chiefs Shine in OT

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

Coach Casey Cavell and his Plymouth-Canton Chiefs started the new year in winning fashion as they beat Farmington High 62-59 in a non-league contest on Tuesday (Jan. 7) and followed with an overtime victory over Western Six League opponent Walled Lake Western 67-65 on Friday (Jan. 10).

These two wins in the past week matches the Chiefs longest win streak of the season (two) and raises their overall record to 5-4.

Another encouraging aspect of the victories is that both of them came on the road. But this factor didn't seem to bother Canton at all as they played excellent ball, showing great team work along with a good running attack.

The Farmington contest was a close battle all the way with neither team able to pull away from the other to hold a substantial lead.

The inside penetration of Dave Edwards and the outside shooting of Tom Close led the offensive charge for the Chiefs. Edwards made nine of 13 shots from the floor, scoring six in the second and eight in the third period in route to a 20-point game. Close hit on seven of 12 attempts, scoring six in the first and fourth quarters leading to a 16-point performance.

Close, Rich Thom and Edwards shared the rebounding load with nine each. Brian Stemberger and Ron Lack each followed with seven.

In the Walled Lake thriller, Canton got off to a horrible start finding themselves down 21-10 at the end of the first period of play. But the Chiefs came roaring back as they made a complete about face and outscored the Warriors 20-10 in the next quarter to trail by only one at the half.

The game remained close the rest of the way as Canton finished the third period with a slim one point lead.

Western made up that difference in the final quarter to send the game into the extra

Agardy Haunts Allen Park

Overcoming the slowdown play of both of their opponents, the Plymouth-Salem Rocks last week won their fifth and sixth games in a row over Suburban Eight League foes in games with Dearborn Edsel Ford and Allen Park. The victories raised the Rocks' record to 8-1 overall and 4-1 in the conference.

With the Dearborn Pioneers still refusing to lose in league play, the showdown is set between the first-place Pioneers (5-0) and the second-place Rocks this Friday night (Jan. 17) in the Plymouth gym.

Plymouth's six-foot-nine-and-a-half inch center and leading scorer Eric Agardy returned to Allen Park last Friday night (Jan. 10) to face his old teammates from two years. The reception for the Plymouth big man and the rest of the Rocks was not a friendly one as the 1-8 Jaguars played their hearts out in an attempt to upset the taller and more experienced Rocks.

The attempt almost became a reality for the fans and players as Allen Park overcame a slow start to lead at the intermission and throughout most of the second half before Plymouth caught up and secured a 42-39 victory in the final seconds.

For the first time this season, the Rocks were able to get off to

Kenney, Harris Pace Chiefs in 98-73 Swim Triumph

Coach Bill Faunce's Plymouth-Canton swim team won seven of the eleven events to score a 98-73 win over Walled Lake Western last Thursday (Jan. 9) afternoon.

The victory evens the Chiefs' record at 2-2 for the season.

Along with the seven first places, Canton tankers finished 1-2 in four events. Brian Kenney and Kevin Harris won two individual events for the Chiefs.

Harris' time of 24.1 seconds in the 50-yard freestyle was good enough for a school record.

Middle School Cagers Debut

Central Middle School's eighth grade team got off to a fast start last Thursday (Jan. 9), opening its season with a 42-19 win over Hilbert of Redford Union.

All of the 20-member squad saw action in the game. Central's scoring attack was balanced, with nine players breaking into the scoring column.

East Middle School cagers started their season on the road against Pearson of Redford Union last Wednesday (Jan. 8) and the result was a 54-30 win for coach Richard Schryer's eighth graders.

A balanced scoring attack featured Kurt Herbert and Mike Morin each scoring 10. All the members of the 17-man squad saw action in the victory.

Pioneer Middle School's eighth graders opened their season on a disappointing note last Thursday (Jan. 9), losing 58-36 to the Northville Mustangs. School eighth graders scored at will last Thursday as they defeated Livonia Clarenceville 43-17 in their opening game.

Mike Shay's West Middle Using a full court press, the Bulldogs at one time held a 36-5 lead before Shay got all of his 24 ballplayers into the contest. Rich Hewlett led the green and white, while six-foot-three Mitch Haas added 10.

Doc's Corner

by Dennis O'Connor

The holiday break must have done some good for both variety basketball squads. Plymouth-Salem continued its winning ways with two victories and Plymouth-Canton started a streak of its own with two wins, erasing a two-game losing streak carried into the new year.

The Chief ballgames were extremely close battles, including a 67-65 overtime thriller with Walled Lake Western. This win over the Warriors had some good effects for the Chiefs.

First off, it once again pushed them over the all-important .500 mark, raising their record to 5-4 for the season. It also raised their Western Six League record to 2-2 and set the stage for a second-place battle with rival Livonia Churchill this Saturday night (Jan. 18). Churchill's league record is also 2-2.

The Western victory showed the Chiefs' ability to come from behind and catch their opponent. This is something Canton hasn't been able to do with any success this year. The game also demonstrated their ability to play under pressure. Anytime a team wins an overtime game, it shows it can handle the pressure when it arises.

Dave Edwards should be commended for his superlative offensive play during the past week, leading the Chief scoring attack and offensive penetration on the opponents' basket.

The two Plymouth-Salem victories saw Plymouth's captain Danny Moore sit out the Edsel Ford game and see limited action in the Allen Park contest due to an ankle injury. Guards Tim Dillon, Brian Wolcott and Howard Inch did a super job to make up for Moore's loss as they ran, passed, and played defense with authority.

Dillon ran the Plymouth offense like an expert in the Edsel Ford game as the Rocks played great team offense, consistently hitting the open man for the basket. Dillon led Plymouth with six assists.

Dillon and Wolcott were defensive magicians in the Allen Park game as they took over the defensive chores midway through the third quarter on the Jaguars' Phil Beyer. Beyer scored 20 points in the game, but was limited to only two in the final quarter - and a half as Dillon and Wolcott took turns shadowing him to lead the Plymouth comeback victory.

Chief Grapplers Fall 38-18

The young Plymouth-Canton varsity wrestling team is showing signs of improvement. The grapplers demonstrated this progress in a 38-18 loss to Northville last Thursday (Jan. 9).

Of their trio of six-point victories, the Chiefs scored two on pins and one on a forfeit (the heavyweight match).

The always-reliable Gregg Burke pinned his opponent in the second period of the 185 weight match. Ron Craig was the other Chief victor, pinning his opponent in the 140 weight class in the third period.

a quick start and maintain a commanding lead after the first period of play. But the 14-4 lead that the Rocks took over Allen Park didn't seem to shake the Jaguars, as they patiently came back, working for the open shot or forcing the Rocks to foul. In either case the Jaguars caught Plymouth, converting 12 of 13 free throws and adding five buckets to score 22 points in the second quarter.

At the other end of the court, the Plymouth offensive attack was slowed down to only 11 points in that period as countless and questionable three-second calls seemed to throw the Rocks off track, enabling Allen Park to take a 26-25 lead into the second half.

The third period saw the defenses take over as the Jaguars scored only nine points while Plymouth managed eight.

The game remained close in the final period, as Plymouth stayed within two points. The Rocks caught the Jaguars for good at 39-39 with two minutes to go. It was Agardy who showed the Allen Park fans who was the boss as he made one of two free throws with less than two minutes to go to put Plymouth ahead to stay 40-39.

Allen Park still had a chance to win, but clutch steals by Jim Ellinghausen and then Agardy with seven seconds to go foiled the Jaguars' bid for an upset. Two free throws by Rock captain Danny Moore with three seconds left iced the victory.

Agardy was the Rocks' leading point getter with eight. No Plymouth player hit double figures. Phil Beyer of Allen Park had game honors with 20.

The patient, semi-stall offense of the Jaguars was characteristic also of the Edsel Ford T-Birds, but the Rocks put on a 12-2 surge in the last four minutes of play to whip Ford 59-45 in a game played last Tuesday (Jan. 9) in the Plymouth gym.

Sub-8 Champs Edge Salem Wrestlers 24-21

BY BRUCE GERISH

The Plymouth-Salem wrestling squad fought till their last breath, before surrendering to defending Suburban 8 champ Trenton 24-21.

The match, held at Salem on Thursday, Jan. 9th, saw the Rocks fall behind early as their first three men were either outpointed or pinned. Forced to play catch-up, Ron Krueger's troops responded with Carl Schultz' pin and successive victories by Brian Hawkins and Jeff Kenney to tie things up at 12-12.

However the Trojans came back with two victories of their own to gain an 18-12 advantage.

Scott Agnew made it a new ballgame by pinning his rival, but Trenton gained a pin of its own in the next match. That, coupled with heavyweight Dan Ross' victory, left the Rocks three points short of a tie.

On Friday and Saturday the Blue and White participated in the Schoolcraft Invitational Wrestling Tournament held at Schoolcraft College.

The Rocks did very well, finishing 11th out of 34 teams. Top individual efforts were recorded by Scott Agnew who finished third at 167. Bob Zalimeni came in at fifth at 107 as did Jerry Brink at 140.

The Rocks led all the way in Friday's 62-55 win over Livonia Pierce.

Heights Charter Nearly Set

Richardson and his colleagues have trimmed the ranks to four. On the other hand, partly in recognition of inflation and partly because "if you're going to have good people you have to pay them," city officials will make more money under the new charter than they would have under the old - with councilmen receiving up to $1,200 annually rather than about $900.

Another possible change is the elimination of constables. While the old charter includes such positions, Richardson feels that with a police department they might duplicate ordinance enforcement functions.

According to Richardson, one of the questions the charter commissioners must still resolve is whether the police, fire and DPW departments in the new city should be independent departments, each with its own administrator, or a single public safety department under the authority of one supervisor.

Richardson said that the commission would likely choose independent departments to encourage better-trained, specialized personnel.

Despite holiday vacation schedules and a December blizzard, the commission managed to achieve a quorum at each of its meetings. The group usually met twice a week, dividing into committees to scrutinize particular passages in the charter.

Much of its work has been aimed at updating the last charter to conform to changes in state law.

If the new charter is approved by the governor and the attorney general, Richardson said that township residents could get a chance to vote on it and nominate their first city fathers in the August, 1976 primary.

Correction

A story in last week's Community Crier incorrectly reported that water bills for Plymouth Township would be coming out April 1 instead of March 1.

In fact, the change affects only a small portion of the township and water customers in that specific area have been notified by letter.

The change will mean that after the one-four-month billing period, that area affected will be on a new three-month billing rotation.

Chiefs to victory. Forward Don Lloyd also did a great job of coming off the bench to pop in 13 points along with two free throws in the overtime minutes.

Edwards was once again the leading Chief scorer as he put together his second 20-point game in a row. Thom added 12 for Canton with Close also reaching double figures with 11.

Canton will now open a four-game home stand (after last night's game at Dearborn Annapolis) starting with a Saturday night encounter with Churchill (Jan. 18).

JENNY, a brindle boxer owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Toomey of Plymouth, has garnered enough points in the dog shows throughout the midwest in the past year to qualify as an "American Champion." The Toomeys plan to enter her soon in the Canadian Championship and in this spring's United States Best of Breed Competition, with hopes that she will eventually become an international champion. Jenny is the Toomeys' first champion in six years of breeding.

Canton JV Edged Out

Coach Wayne Weimer's Plymouth - Canton junior varsity lost two heartbreakers last week. The squad fell to Farmington 55-52 (Tuesday, Jan. 7) and Walled Lake Western 62-56 (Friday, Jan. 10).

The Chiefs' record stands at 3-6 for the season.

It was the same story in both losses, as the Canton JVs collected more field goals than their opponents but came up with fewer points at the foul line.

Frosh Fall Short

A second half rally by the Plymouth - Canton freshmen basketball team fell short of the mark last Friday (Jan. 10) as the Northville Mustangs edged the Chiefs 41-40.

The Chiefs had three more field goals than the Mustangs (20-17), but never went to the foul line while Northville converted 7 of 17.

Keith Fuelling led the Chief scorers with 14, followed by Kevin O'Connor with 10.

Canton's record is now 1-3 for the year.
