Bida places sixth

Incumbents Moehle, Childs, lead city voting

BY DONNA LOMAS

Unofficial results of the Plymouth City Commission primary Tuesday night sliced from contention commission hopefuls Lorraine Watt, Ronald G. Loiselle, and James B. Arlen; while commission incumbents John Moehle and Mary Childs placed first and second respectively in the race.

It came as a surprise to some political onlookers that incumbent Mayor Joe Bida placed a low sixth.

"You can bet I'm going to start campaigning now," Bida remarked when he saw the results.

The top eight finishers, including absentee ballots, are as follows: Moehle with 624 total votes; Childs, 552; Mark Wehmeyer, 544; Penelope Wright, 504; James C. Houk, 413; Bida, 380; David Pugh, 356 and Clay Fechter, 345.

Watt garnered 258 votes, followed by Loiselle with 228 and Arlen with 46.

A 19 per cent of the registered voters showed up for the primary - more than the 16-18 per cent turnout city officials had anticipated last week. Of the 6,170 voters registered in the city, 1,191 voted.

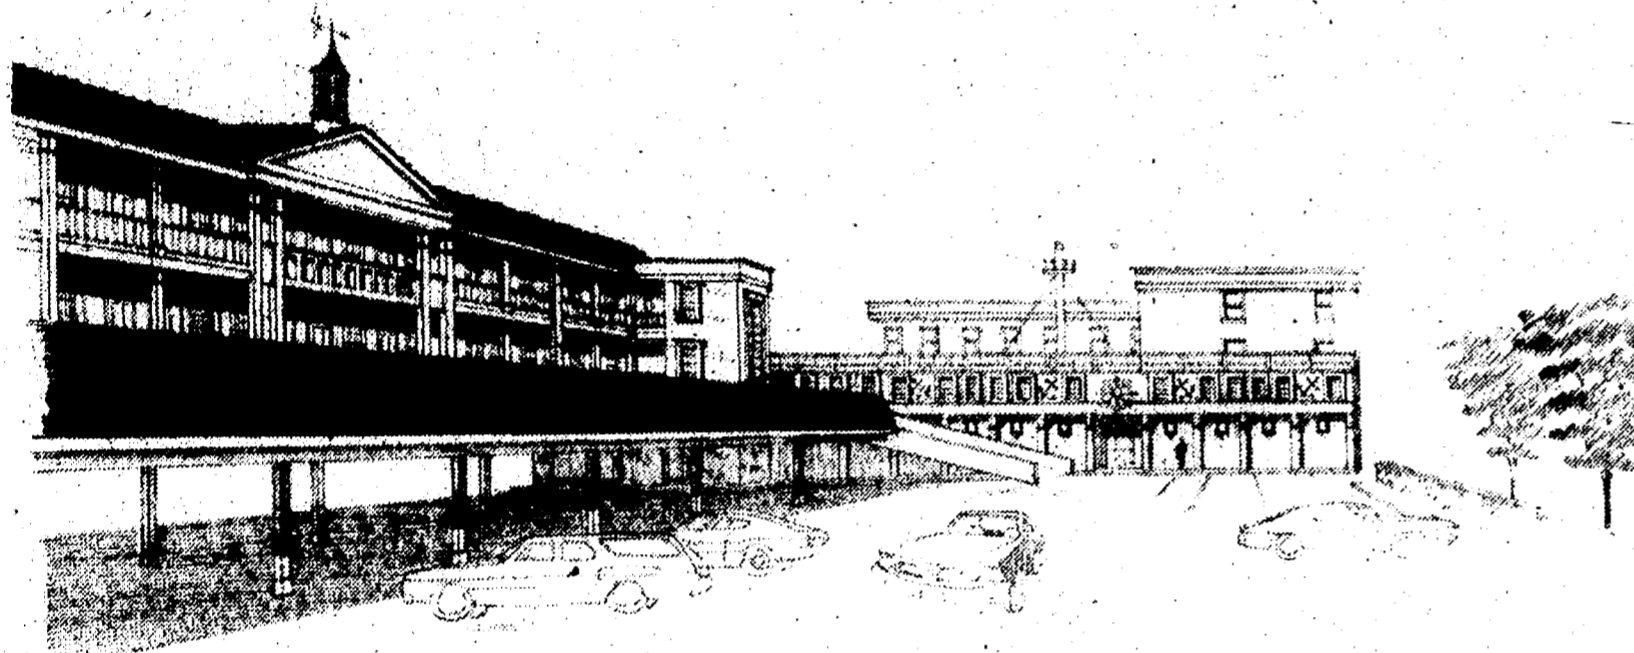

A total of 133 absentee ballots were turned in.

The top eight finishers in this primary will go on to the general election in November. The top three vote-getters in the November election will win four-year terms on the City Commission and the fourth place finisher wins a two-year term.

A primary held two years ago when nine candidates filed for city commission, saw the top four vote-getters in the primary finishing as the top four in the general election. However, the voter turnout in that final election was double that of the primary 27.42 per cent.

Canton hires former Wayne chief to head police

BY CHAS CHILD

A former chief of police for the city of Wayne, Walter D. MacGregor, was hired as Canton's new police chief last night by the Board of Trustees.

The vote was 4-3, and the three dissenters, Trustees Brian Schwall, Lynne Goldsmith and Bob Myers all said that another applicant was much more qualified for the position.

Supervisor Harold Stein, Treasurer Anne Bradley, Trustee Eugene Daley and Clerk John Flodin voted to hire MacGregor.

Goldsmith said in a press release that James F. Spickard, a former undersheriff in the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department was "clearly, without question, the choice recommended by the Michigan Municipal League (MML) for the position."

Spickard, MacGregor and Elliott D. Fredland, a former Captain in the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department, were the top three applicants recommended by the MML, who tested and interviewed the applicants.

Myers said at the meeting that he wondered why MacGregor's application was received two months before the official request for applications was given by the township.

Daley said that MacGregor had contacted him before the official request about the possibility of the township hiring a police chief. Daley said it was common knowledge that Canton would be in the market for a police chief.

Timothy C. Ford, Plymouth Police Chief, said, "If anybody can straighten things out over there, then it's Walt. He's a real line cop and a good administrator. I couldn't be more pleased."

MacGregor, 57, is currently unemployed, but worked from Sept. 8, 1975 to April 15 of this year as driveout manager and security chief of Automobile Transport, Inc. in Wayne. He applied for the Canton post March 20.

Before that he was police chief of the City of Wayne from 1967-75. He was also President of the Wayne County Chiefs of Police in 1972.

MacGregor said he knew Daley, Stein and Flodin professionally from working in the area for many years. He said his reason for leaving Automobile Transport Inc. shortly after applying for the Canton position had "nothing to do with Canton. I left for personal reasons."

MacGregor said he hoped to have a "professional police agency that will respond to the needs of the community."

He said he had no plans for great change in Canton's police force. "You have to have reason for change. I'll have to know the total function of the department."

Canton's part-time police force currently patrols the township only during the evenings and on weekends. On the Aug. 27 recall ballot the voters will be asked to set up a district to assess a police millage.

Township officials hope to use the money to build a full-time police department for Canton.

How you can apply for schools' seat

Have you always wanted to be on the school board but were afraid to run for office?

Here's your chance.

The vacancy on the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education resulting from the resignation of Board President Marcia Borowski will be filled by appointment of a new trustee by the remaining six board members. Any registered elector residing in the school district may apply for the post.

Applications for the Board of Education position may be filed with the Secretary of the Board, Board of Education, 454 S. Harvey St., Plymouth. Deadline for applications is 4:30 p.m. on Aug. 15. The office is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Applicants should write a letter stating their name, address, phone number and why they wish to serve on the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education. Applicants will be interviewed by the board before an appointment is made.

According to Borowski, the appointment will be made in the latter part of August.

The Board of Education is responsible for setting policies for the operation of the school district. They hold regular meetings on the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 7:30 p.m. Board workshops are held on most other Monday evenings.

Board of Education trustees receive no pay. The school district provides $2,000 per year to be divided among the seven board members for expenses.

The school board has twice before sought applications to fill board vacancies. Both Flossie Tonda and Tom Turner were selected from among applicants.

Memorial concert set for crash victims

A memorial concert for the six youths killed in last week's tragic auto crash will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 13 at Salem High School auditorium.

Details of the concert have not yet been arranged, according to Sylvia Mullen, one of the organizers, but plans are to have various types of musical performers. More information will be available next week, she said.

'We should take heed of tragedy,' youths say

BY CRAIG BRASS

"It's up to us. We are the ones who have to keep these deaths from being senseless ones."

Thoughts like these were all that many students had to lean on after the tragic death of six of their classmates in a car crash in Dexter.

Still trying to adjust to the shock, about 30 students spoke at a "rap session" Thursday at the First United Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Philip Magee conducted the session for those who wanted to talk about how they felt and clear up rumors.

"I don't feel that it was a senseless death," said one. "I feel we should take heed of this tragedy and better ourselves."

The main feeling of the group was that the accident was caused by ignorance, and that people will have to use more common sense.

"Don't be pig-headed. Even if it's your car, let someone else drive. I'm sure your parents would rather get you and the car home safe no matter who drives," another added.

Rev. Magee brought up the question of guilt. He said that he had talked to some adults in the community and said they were looking for someone or something to blame.

None of the students, however, felt a need to blame anyone. Most agreed that human ignorance was at fault, and no one blamed the driver.

"It's hard for one person to override a group," a student said. "One of them probably said, 'Let's see what the car can do'. Then the rest of them started in and the result was tragedy. Human ignorance."

Rev. Magee urged the teens to go out to the community and let them know that there is no reason to start making accusations.

"Let adults know that they shouldn't make a stiff stereotype of teenagers," he said. "Make sure that Brad (Wilson the driver,) isn't blamed. It wasn't solely his fault."

"This will leave a mark on a lot of people," a student said. "I don't know why someone has to die before we learn something."

Dying birds litter Union St.; residents blame Adistra poison

"THE LAST THING WE WANT TO DO is kill them," said George Athaf an administrator for Adistra Corp. on Union Street in Plymouth. But according to some residents who live nearby, pigeons are apparently being poisoned there - one resident found four sick birds in her yard. Athaf said Adistra has a one year program underway for getting rid of the pigeons on their roof. "It's a health hazard and there are more pigeons than roof up there now," he said. Athaf said there was "a large flock, 100 and some pigeons" on the roof. He said Rose Exterminating Company, based in Livonia "puts something up there and it makes the pigeons sick and they fly away." Rose service manager, Dick Murdock said they use the "green method to control the pigeons. It's a mixture inside corn," he said. "The birds ingest it and react to it inside - the birds will get sick and transmit a signal to the other pigeons and they stay away. A bird may eat too much and it could possibly kill them, but it is not meant to kill," Murdock said. "I looked (at one) and it had this green stuff on its neck," said a boy with a paper route. "I saw this blackbird lying in the road." Plymouth police report that half a dozen persons have called about the birds. (Crier photo by Brian Watkins.)

Leslie Provow wins new trial for slaying

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER
Leslie Provow, convicted of manslaughter in the 1975 Canton slaying of Terry Buchman, has been granted a new trial.

Imprisoned in the Detroit House of Corrections Women's Division the past two years, Ms. Provow will appear at 9 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 11 before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Thomas Roumell who presided over her original trial two years ago.

The Michigan Court of Appeals has ruled that Roumell did not have sufficient reason to accept Ms. Provow's nolo contendere plea on the manslaughter charge and ordered the new trial. A nolo contendere plea means that the defendant does not wish to contest the charge.

Buchman was slain during the early morning hours of Jan. 28, 1975 in a field at Joy and Ridge Rds. following several hours of drinking and taking drugs by several friends, testimony at the trials showed.

The sensational trials which followed the Buchman slaying resulted in Ms. Provow, originally charged with first degree murder, being found guilty of manslaughter and her husband, Barry Provow, being found guilty of murder.

A third defendant, Robert Umney, was found not guilty on a murder charge and has since left the country.

Attorney Robert Delaney, who defended Umney and who will help in Ms. Provow's new trial, said Umney will return to testify in her behalf.

Delaney said Ms. Provow will attempt to withdraw her nolo contendere plea before Judge Roumell next Thursday.

The two Provows and Umney were arrested by a State Highway Patrolman in Laramie, Wyo. a week after the slaying.

Survivor says:

Bar didn't check ID

BY CHAS CHILD

It began like many other vacation summer nights.

The boys got some beer and went to a local park and started drinking.

They would have liked to move on to a party but they didn't know of any in Plymouth that evening. So they decided to try to get into a bar - and chose the Anchor Inn in Pinckney.

The doorman let them in, apparently without checking their identification. It's uncertain how unusual that is at the country bar, but the 'what ifs' have become insignificant since Plymouth heard how the summer night ended: a car crash which killed six of the seven partying teenagers.

The only survivor, Don Gulau, 16, of Canton Township, told the story of that evening from his bed at Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

"Three of us got together at the park (a Plymouth Township Park) and split a case of beer - 24 bottles," Gulau said in a quiet tone, his eyes drifting to and from the TV set.

"The (Wayne County) sheriffs were hassling us. We had to hide the beer every time they drove by so we decided to leave. But there weren't any parties that night, we didn't have anything to do," Gulau said.

"So we decided to go to the Anchor Inn. It seemed to be everybody's idea, even though only two of us had been there before."

Asked if their identifications were checked, Gulau said, "No. The way it worked was if you looked 18, they let you in. They didn't check any of us."

Only one of the group, Steven Radgens of Plymouth, was 18. The rest were minors.

At the inn, Gulau guessed they drank about two beers apiece. At first they were refused entrance into the "go-go" section where topless dancers performed, but later returned and were served beer," Gulau said.

"There were actually more than seven of us out there that night," he said. "But one of us had to leave, meaning seven of us had to drive home in one car. That was really the biggest 'if' of the whole thing," Gulau said softly.

Another "if" was that the driver, Brad Wilson missed a turn onto homeward-bound North Territorial Road and apparently got lost.

A spokesman for the Washtenaw County Sheriff Department attributed the crash to the driver speeding on unfamiliar roads.

"There was no hurry to get home, though," Gulau said. "The driver was supposed to be home by one a.m. but his parents always gave him a half-hour grace period."

"I don't know if he was trying to show off. I fell asleep just after getting in the car to go home."

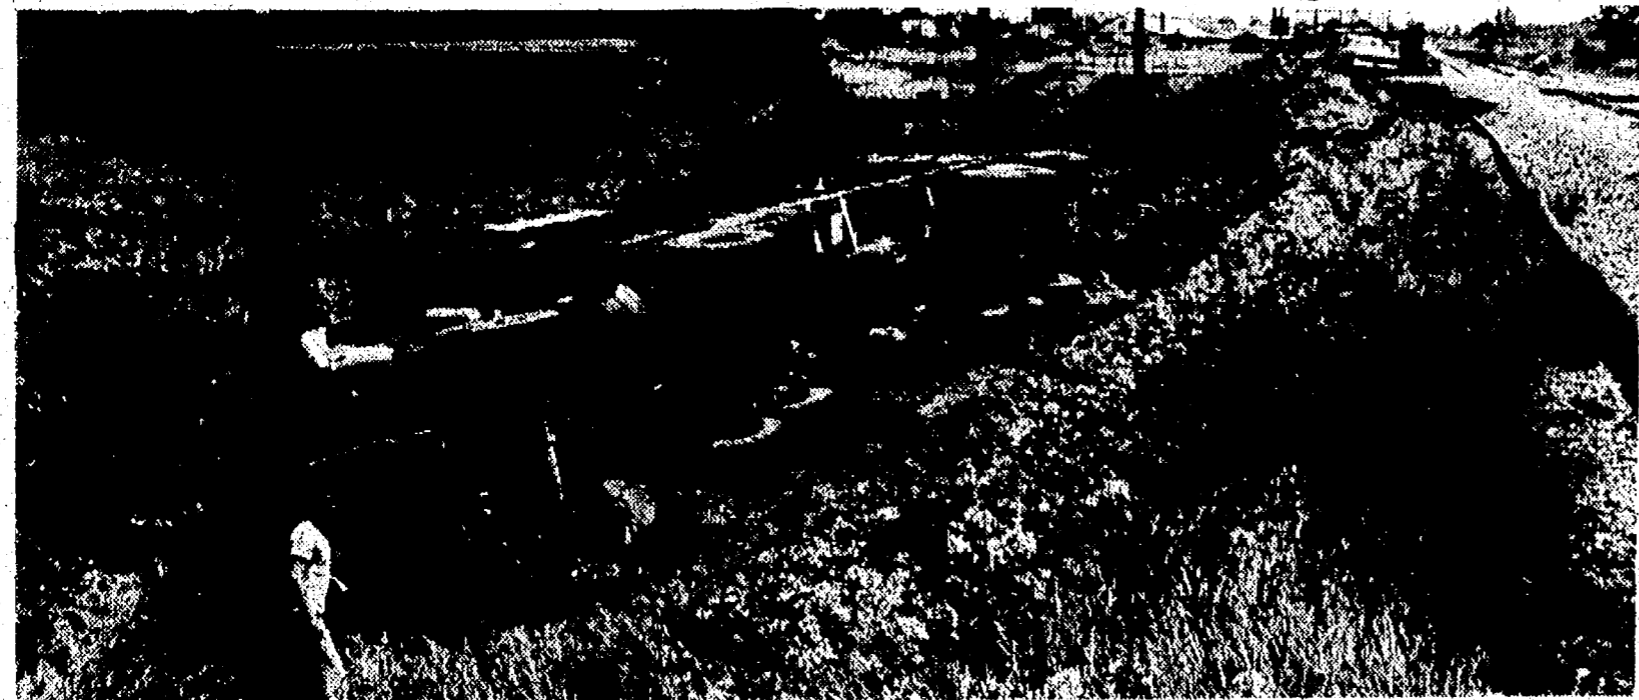

Some observers have speculated that because he was asleep and relaxed, his life was saved during the wreck.

In the accident, Gulau suffered two breaks in his left leg, a broken collarbone and many cuts, all of which required 11 hours of surgery at University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Resting with his left leg in traction, Gulau said he was happy to hear that there might be a benefit concert for his six friends.

"They were really nice kids, the best I could ever know."

On Thursday he seemed to be recovering quickly and his stepmother said there was a chance he would be released from Mott Friday or Saturday - just one week after a night that began like so many other summer nights.

Truck ditches to avoid train

AFTER AVOIDING HITTING a train at the intersection of Five Mile Road in Plymouth Township last Tuesday, this truck, which was hauling 65 yards of garbage, "took the ditch" according to a Browning Ferris Industry (BFI) spokesman. The driver, Ronald Thorp, received 16 stitches but was not admitted to the hospital. Damage to the truck was $15,000 said the spokesman. (Crier photo by Brian Watkins.)

Study says Canton should buy Golf course

BY CHAS CHILD

Fellows Creek Golf Course, could be completely self-sustaining if Canton bought it, a feasibility study by an accounting firm reports. Revenue from the course would meet the yearly bond payment and more, the accounting firm of Seidman &

Sneidman says in its report commissioned by the township and presented to the Board of Trustees last night. The facts and figures look like this: *Preliminary negotiations indicate that the sale price for the facility is $1 million," the report says.

*"With Canton's high credit rating, the township could issue 20-year bonds at an interest rate of five and three-quarters per cent, making an annual payment of $85,425. *The township could expect a net cash income of $85,000 to $105,000 annually from ownership of the course," the report says. To avoid an increased burden on the township's employees, Seidman & Seidman recommended that Canton "lease the operations (of the course) to an independent management firm for a fixed fee or percentage of annual income." The township's agreement with the management firm would guarantee $100,000 or 50 per cent of total green fees which-ever is greater.

ship board. "Title to the golf course would reside with the authority until all bonds are retired, and then revert to the township. This would allow the township to pledge its full faith and credit to meet the rental payments, and indirectly the bond issue," the report says. After the building authority is set up, a notice of intent to finance must be published. If 10 per cent of the voters sign petitions objecting to the purchase of the golf course, within 45 days of this time, a referendum will be held on the matter.

Plymouth Twp landfill OK

BY DONNA LOMAS

After a move to table a request for a landfill application was defeated by a 3-3 tie vote, the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees granted the application to Holloway Construction Co. and Beck-Territorial Assoc. by a 4-2 vote. Supervisor Tome Notebaert, Township Treasurer Joe West, Deputy Clerk Mary Ellen Kenyong and Trustee Frank Millington, voted yes. Trustees Lee

Fidge and Richard Gornick voted no. Trustee Maurice Breen was absent. West moved to approve the application for the landfill, taking into consideration the approval with a security bond of $4,500, and a cash bond in the amount of $500 to pay for engineering fees and expenses. Millington seconded the motion. An earlier motion made by Fidge was defeated by the tie vote. Millington voted "yes" to table, in addition with Gornick and Fidge. Fidge said to Joe Simo, a Holloway Construction spokesman, that he hadn't obtained a permit for the landfill, located at the northwest corner of Beck and North Territorial Roads. The landfill is surplus material from the M-14 excavation site. Simo replied that the "initial work doesn't require it (a permit.)" and that Holloway planned to fill more than 10 acres.

The Detroit Commercial Zone for interstate shipping has been extended twenty miles beyond the present boundary of Eckles Road. The extension was confirmed through Plymouth Township Trustee Frank Millington and the U.S. Trucking Company as well as Freight Traffic Service of Livonia. "It wasn't the cost so much as it was the way it traveled before it got to Plymouth," said Millington. "Freight often came through Detroit first, then to the cartage company and finally here, which resulted in increased rates by the time it got here." John Graham, vice-president of Freight Traffic, will be speaking at a Plymouth Chamber of Commerce breakfast Aug. 30. in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel. According to Chamber Executive Secretary, Janet Curlee, it will be an informal, sit-down breakfast and Graham will be there to speak with interested persons on the zone extension and explain the specifics. The breakfast is $4 per person. "It (the zone extension) will improve service and, in some instances, freight rate advantages," said Graham.

Plymouth picks Parking board

BY DONNA LOMAS

The Plymouth City Commission acted on Mayor Joe Bida's recommendations for members of the newly-created Municipal Parking Commission. They are: Barb LeClair, Dennis Bila, Charles G. Shaw, Jim Jabara and Harold Guenther, all of Plymouth. LeClair, of 1496 Hartsough, is a local businesswoman and part-owner of Pick O' the Wick shop;

She was appointed for a three-year term. Bila, of 987 Dewey St., had been a resident of Plymouth for five years and is a math professor at Washtenaw Community College. He was also appointed for a three year term. Gordon, appointed for a two year term, is a four year resident of the community and lives at 349 Arthur St. He works for Morrison Accounting. Jim Jabara, of Elm St., has been a past mayor of the city and is a developer. He will serve a two year term. Harold Guenther, of 1132 N. Holbrook will serve for a one year term. He is a local businessman. In related action, the board also unanimously passed a new section of a city ordinance governing the parking commission.

Three staff members of The Community Crier have become minority stockholders in this paper's publishing company. The three are: Donna Lomas, Fran Hennings (and her husband, Robert), and Phyllis Redfern. They have purchased stock recently repurchased by The Crier from one of the 10 minority stockholders in the publishing company.

Mrs. Lomas is editor of The Crier and a City of Plymouth resident. She is a member of the publishing company's board of directors and is secretary of the company. She joined The Crier in February, 1975. Mrs. Hennings, a Northville Township resident, has been an advertising consultant for The Crier for more than three years. Mrs. Redfern, a Canton resident, is circulation and office manager of the newspaper. She is also the author of the popular column, "Tell it to Phyllis" Mrs. Redfern joined the paper last year.

The ordinance, effective Aug. 23, calls for a five-member parking commission appointed by the Mayor contingent with the approval of the commission; specifies the terms of office: two members for three years, two for two years and one for one year. It states all members shall hold office until successors are appointed, and that they can be removed in accordance with the city chapter. Any vacancies are subject to appointment by the Mayor and approval of the commission. The ordinance also stipulates the Commission meet at least quarterly (four times a year) and "then as often as necessary."

Canton drops fire taxes

Canton's fire millage will be one-quarter of a mill lower this year than last as the board of trustees last Tuesday approved a one- and one-quarter assessment for next year. Cantonites were assessed one and one-half mills this year. The vote was unanimous, although Trustee Robert Myers was absent.

"We're pleased to welcome these staffers to ownership in our company," said W. Edward Wendover, publisher and chairman of The Crier. "As members of our community and as key members of the staff, these women will now add even more to our paper's role in the community."

The duties of the Parking Commission are "to advise the City Commission with respect to the ways and means of developing and financing public parking and reviewing and recommending to the city commission on all aspects of parking consistent with the parking policy."

Did Canton vote violate open meeting law?

BY CHAS CHILD

Canton's Board of Trustees apparently violated the state's Open Meeting Act last month by voting on a matter in a closed session.

The law allows "deliberations" at closed meetings but not "decisions," or votes.

In a closed session after their June 28 meeting, the board voted unanimously against reinstating A. L. McEwan, a former police instructor, to Canton's police department.

After checking with Township Attorney William Sempliner, Supervisor Harold Stein said that he did not believe that the board violated the law. He said, however, that "We may have been wrong. But if it was, it wasn't intentional."

Sempliner had no comment when asked by The Crier about the legality of the board's closed session vote.

In a letter dated July 21, Clerk John Flodin wrote McEwan: "The Township Board met in closed session after a regular meeting, on June 28, and the following resolution was passed:

"A motion was made by Trustee Bob Myers and supported by (Treasurer Anne) Bradley and unanimously carried that the Board deny the request of A. McEwan for reinstatement to the Police Department."

Stein said they considered the question of reinstating McEwan in closed session for fear of disclosing something "detrimental" about McEwan's admitted emotional problems.

At a board meeting last Tuesday, McEwan said he took a medical leave last winter from a full-time job with the Inkster Police department for "menal depression."

The Inkster police have since reinstated him after his psychiatrist said he felt he was fit for duty.

The Open Meeting's Act permits closed sessions to discuss personnel matters, but all votes must be taken in a meeting open to the public.

Trustee Brian Schwall disagreed with The Crier's interpretation of the law. He said that the board should not have had a closed meeting on McEwan's case at all because he did not request one.

McEwan said he quit his moonlighting position at the Canton force last August because he was a former Supervisor Robert Greenstein appointee, and did not like the political atmosphere in the department.

He said he asked to be reinstated to Canton's force this spring, but was given the "run-around" by the township's police commission; Police Commander Carl Silvers; and other township officials.

At last Tuesday's meeting, Silvers said McEwan's emotional problems would make him a "liability to the township." McEwan asked the board at last Tuesday's meeting to be reinstated and they again unanimously refused. Trustee Bob Myers was absent (from the meeting.)

Trustee Lunne Goldsmith was absent from the June 28 closed session.

FALL FESTIVAL is just six weeks away and contributions are still needed. Festival manager Carl Glass, says that any amount will be appreciated. The coupon above can be used for individual or group donations. Contributions can be sent care of Carl Glass Plymouth Fall Festival, 702 Coolidge, Plymouth, Mi. 48170.

Each year the Fall Festival attracts 100,000 visitors to the Plymouth-Canton Community.

Because of that, we reap many rewards. For example, many of our neighbors first visited Plymouth-Canton to see the Festival.

Those of us in business here, also receive benefits. Not only do the throngs shop here that particular weekend, but they return later in the year to the pleasant, one-of-a-kind small town.

Realizing this, the Fall Festival, plagued by rising costs, as we all are, has appealed to local businesses to assist in this time of need.

This appeal is not new. Many years ago the local chamber of commerce exerted the effort needed to make the Festival into a four-day affair. At that time, the business community rose to the occasion.

Sure, we businesses are besieged with requests for donations to a myriad of worthwhile projects.

But if we look at all the activities our community sponsors, few will be found which benefit us as a whole as much as the Fall Festival.

In particular, many businesses realize a direct benefit from the Fest. It would seem that they in particular could contribute to this cause.

To start the ball rolling, The Community Crier has offered this year on behalf of the advertisers in our annual Fall Festival - to sponsor the produce tent and competition at the Festival. For each ad in the Festival guide, The Crier will donate a portion of the price to the produce tent operation.

There are many other things the Festival needs. The board has asked businesses for help in specific areas or just in general.

Those pledging and contributing to the Festival will be recognized in The Crier at Festival time - it's our way of thanking those who aid our community's biggest drawing card.

A pledge card will be found in today's Crier.

Won't you help?

Canton recall has only 1 issue - growth control

EDITOR:

Much as been written regarding the issues in the upcoming Canton Township recall election. As far as I'm concerned there is one central issue with all other issues revolving around it.

The issue is whether the present administration has done enough to manage growth in Canton Township.

The answer is no!

From all outward appearances it would appear that much has been done in growth management. After all there have been citizen study groups, planning studies and resolutions concerning minimum lot sizes and the limited availability of sewers.

However, look deeper and consider the following:

1. The township continues to exclusively employ Wade, Trim and Associates as the township planners. This is the same firm which has had over seven years to recommend innovative planning solutions to Canton's growth problem. Instead they have responded by replicating in Canton the planning disasters found to our east.

2. The township has contracted with Wade, Trim and Associates to conduct a study on growth alternatives that the citizen's growth committee considered a waste of time and money because the bulk of the information was already available.

We did it! Your support helped make the Dearie Day Dance a tremendous success.

Because of you at The Crier, and others like you who show a genuine concern for Old Village, this area will surely grow and prosper.

3. The township accepted without question the township attorney's indicating that a moratorium on new platting linked to limited sewer capacity would be illegal.

4. The township continues to pursue (and in fact, lead) "Super Sewer", even though limited sewer capacity may be the townships only hope of limiting growth. (This qualifies as talking out of both sides of your mouth).

5. The township has taken a "bold step" to increase minimum lot size to 70 feet.

6. Numerous progrowth statements by members of the present administration have filled the newspapers over the last six months.

If the present administration were serious about growth management for Canton Township, they would:

1. Increase the minimum lot size to 80 foot frontage and minimum 10,000 square feet area.

2. Do Nothing to encourage the construction of "Super Sewer".

3. Retain growth management advocate-experts in the areas of community planning and the legal profession to develop and implement a growth management program for Canton Township. This one single action would do more than any other to convince the people of Canton Township that our present administration is serious about coming to grips with the growth problem.

Too often the township has relied upon illprepared, uncommitted and self serving local resources to accomplish a complicated and difficult task, its time that provincialism came to an end.

Time is running out on the present administration.

We back Bida, Pugh, Houk, Childs Old Village merchants need official's support

EDITOR:

Last week's issue of your newspaper pictured residents and merchants happy to hear news of the Federal Grant for the Old Village Area.

Our City Commission was presented with the plan providing for a park, playground, commercial fountain square, parking, lighting, trees and planting. The Concept was conceived some years ago to help turn a "marginal" area of our city around. Federal money could be available if the Commissioners supported the plans.

Commissioners Bida, Childs, Turner, Dodge and Batterman supported the plan and shortly the grant was approved. Our thanks to those Commissioners who supported the Old Village in this effort.

It was disappointing that Commissioners Moehle and McAninch voted "no" to this opportunity of assistance to our neighborhood.

Needless to say in the coming election we lend our support to the positive thinking of Commissioners Joe Bida and Mary Childs and also support the candidacy of Dave Pugh and Jim Houk. We need their kind of positive support to help turn the Old Village into a vital residential and small business neighborhood.

I vote no on recall

EDITOR:

As a newcomer to Canton I did not know too much about our local government, so I decided to attend some of the board meetings.

What I saw, and heard from some of the recall petitioners has decided my vote on the August 27th election.

It will be "No" for the three officials on the list.

Emotions ignored by 'Adult minded citizen'

EDITOR:

As a very concerned band student at CEP, I am writing this regarding my own thoughts and the article of "An Adult Minded Citizen" from the edition of The Community Crier of July 27.

First of all as a participant of the CEP bands, I'd like to say that not only are our talents involved, but our emotions also. Others may think dismantling something good and making it mediocre will result in something better.

But in my own personal view I'd like to say that our bands have earned and maintained an outstanding reputation of musicianship and skill in many music circles.

Why should I be happy if I have to accept being forced to play in a band that can't perform the calibre of music possible when you have a sufficient number of capable musicians. Besides, there really was opportunity for anyone to play under the previous band structure at CEP.

Maybe this new structure 'will' give more people the chance to sit in a higher chair, but if the music is not satisfying and challenging to the performer and to the listener, then we've lost something that was worth keeping.

I only expect to go to High School once in my life, and I'd like to get the most out of that experience that I can.

Who knows how many years it will take to rebuild what was taken apart in so few minutes.

Bon Voyage!

AS THE CHESSIE STEAM SPECIAL pulled out of the Plymouth station, for the last time, Plymouth-Canton residents wave good-bye. The Special was a pleasant reminder of the way things used to be.

Governmental fingers needed in Point pie

The efforts of some area citizens to beautify the 'Point' will remain in limbo until either or both the city and township of Plymouth make the first move to commit themselves on the project.

Not only in approving the 'concept' of beautification - which both governing units have done - but specific plans and funding.

The 'Point' is the pie shaped parcel of land at Ann Arbor Road and Ann Arbor Trail. Wayne County Commission and the State Department of Highways and Transportation owns part of the pie, but the proposed park is currently owned by the city.

But before approving plans and funding, City and Township must decide if they want to work together on the Point.

Another entrance to the community that has been beautified by service clubs is the Old Village Pointe Park - proof of what can happen when government supports the efforts of citizenry.

The City Commission declared at a recent meeting that they would contribute the land but not use city equipment to maintain it.

The Township Board indicated they would accept the land on those terms.

But somehow, both city and township balk when it comes to discussing money for the Point.

There are several service clubs who would volunteer their time to improve the eyesore at the western end of the community.

Tentative plans have been drawn up, which include a sign saying "Welcome to the Plymouth Community".

But when it comes to specifics and monies, both units of government balk.

Community opinions

And then there is the problem of the part of the parcel Wayne County Road Commission owns - if the proposed 90 degree right-of-way is installed, some say the land would be cut in half and the proposed park project would be useless.

But whatever the size, both city and township stand to benefit from the beautification, and from the volunteer work of the service clubs.

We urge the city and township to decide quickly on the Point. The people, the plans and the land are waiting - and tulips should be planted before the first frost.

'Cloak of secrecy' shrouds Stein

EDITOR:

What is happening to "freedom of speech" and "freedom of the press" in Canton Township? It seems that when I was campaigning for Harold Stein last year, I was a "dear friend".

It seems that Stein has misunderstood our relationship. There are certain principles I stand for in government: for example, respect for the citizenry, fair-mindedness, honesty, open dealings, avoiding the appearance of impropriety, etc., just to name a few.

More importantly, I think each voter should express his or her opinions, and call elected officials to task. It was alright if I criticized Greenstein. Now, however, the shoe is on the other foot. I've criticized our beloved supervisor H. Stein, on several occasions. I've even been quoted in several papers. Some of my past criticisms are: (1) lacking a civil service ordinance; (2) Lack of a full-time police department; (3) opposing the Economic Development Corporation (EDC) and opposing purchase of Fellows Creek Golf Course. These last two seem to have struck a nerve.

Maybe it's because some of Stein's old friends are the incorporators of the EDC. Maybe because I thought the township tried to "sneak one by us" regarding the golf course.

It's not that I'm alleging anything dishonest: just the manner in which it was done. For example, it was a well-kept secret that the township had had a secret meeting to discuss purchase of the golf course, and the citizens knew nothing about it. Then, thank heavens, someone leaked this to the people.

However, one week before this happened, the board mysteriously resolved to create a building authority (with no explanation). Then, we heard the board wanted to use this building authority to purchase the golf course. I then discovered that the appraised value of the course was for $750,000 (taxed at half that value), but that the owners didn't want to sell for less than $1 million. However, the 1977 annual report of the Corporation owning the course only listed its value at about $300,000.

Then, there is the matter of the financial statement done by the township's accounting firm, which supposedly states the course would be a profitable investment. For some reason, Mr. Stein thinks this statement is confidential and has yet to release it to the public, although requested to do so.

My complaint is: why operate under this cloak of secrecy? We, the people, are ultimately responsible for the payment of any bonds used to buy the golf course. Furthermore, the people were never asked their opinion on the matter (which is why I raised the issue at a board meeting.)

Mr. Stein should realize that there is not a conspiracy to "get Stein." There is a conspiracy, however, to get at the truth. There is a conspiracy to make public officials accountable for their actions. There is a conspiracy to see where officials spend our tax dollars. Whenever officials try to hide the truth from us, whether justifiable or not, I have to be suspicious.

There are few people who speak out anymore. To even attempt to silence these small voices is improper, for when an individual can't speak against something and the press can't print it, then we don't have a democracy, but a tyranny.

Mr. Stein should realize that I am not a "team player", nor are the newspapers. For some strange reason, Stein is acting in the same manner as his predecessor (in some respects), and this was why the people ousted his predecessor.

Canton planners stall on Center zoning approval

BY CHAS CHILD

"The Center," a recreation complex proposed for Haggerty Road in Canton, is being billed by some as the place to go in western Wayne County.

Instead, it may be the center of a huge traffic jam, some local residents fear.

The huge indoor facility is slated to have 72 bowling lanes, four movie houses, 21 racquetball courts and seven tennis courts.

Visitors coming and going from these attractions, especially during rush hour, might back traffic up the I-275 exit ramps and onto the highway, local homeowners say.

They also fear that unpaved Haggerty will turn into a mud-hole, and their property values will drop.

"I understand that the property is zoned commercial, but I thought the township had more sense than to let something like that go in here," said Shari McCann, who lives in Bedford Villas, a development across Haggerty from the site.

The township has granted a liquor license for The Center, but last Monday the Canton Planning Commission deadlocked 3-3 on whether to approve or deny its site plan approval.

Commission Members Brian Schwall, Gus Matzo and Bob Miller voted for denial, while Robert Padget, Joyce Willis and Dick Kirchgatter voted not to deny it. Bart Berg was absent.

The commission tabled the matter until their Aug. 22 meeting.

Besides site plan approval from the planning commission, The Center must also get the nod from the board of trustees before construction can begin.

Ned Apigian, the planner of the project said the project must also be approved by the zoning board of appeals because the plans call for a building four feet taller than township ordinances allow.

Canton officials have asked the county road commission and the federal highway authorities to pave Haggerty, but have made no headway.

The county told Canton that no funds are available, and federal officials said Haggerty is not a feeder road to I-275.

Apigian proposed that The Center's developers and the Haggerty residents form an assessment district to raise funds for the paving.

An attorney for some of the Bedford Villa residents, Peter Bundarin, said this would be too expensive for the residents, however.

Overall, Apigian denounced the tactics of residents trying to prevent or delay construction of his sports complex. "They should be paving the ground for us.

"If they don't like it, they should sell quietly or not have bought near commercial property," he said.

"The Center is not a tacky building. It will not bring tacky people into Canton. It will mean a lot of tax dollars for the townships," Apigian said.

"Residential developments bring nothing but trouble - more kids, sewers and all the rest," he added.

"Let's get this issue out of housewife politics," Apigian said. "We aren't professional developers. My clients should have hired a professional who would have brought their lawyers here to really drive them crazy."

At last Tuesday's board meeting, McCann asked the trustees for an environmental impact study of The Center, but the township does not require such studies.

Trustee Lynne Goldsmith introduced such an ordinance two months ago but the planning commission has not acted on it.

Crier advertisers to sponsor Festival tent

Each advertiser in The Community Crier's annual Fall Festival section will co-sponsor the Produce Tent and competition in this year's Festival.

The Fall Festival Board which has been searching for a sponsor of the tent, learned that the search was over Monday.

A certain portion of the cost of each ad appearing in The Crier's guide to the Fall Festival will go towards the produce tent operation. The Crier told the Festival Board Monday.

Local gardeners are encouraged to start planning now for entering the produce competition. Details on entering will be published soon.

Dance biggest money maker for Dearie Day

This year's Dearie Day Festival brought in a profit of $1,511.20 for the Old Village Association Fund, according to a statement from Daniel Herriman, treasurer.

The dance held during the festival was by far the biggest money-maker of all the events. Profits totaled $1,166.96 or ten times more than the $116 made last year.

A drawing, dunk tank, pony rides, moon walk, magician and other entertainment and refreshment sales raised the rest of the money.

The Association's funds are used for beautifying Old Village, said Herriman, and this year a "special project" is being tentatively planned.

"We are giving $2,000 towards a parcel of land to lease for 20 years to build a fountain and garden," said Pat Hann of the Old Village Association.

"The fountain will be at the back of Blunk Street and will tie Liberty Street into the Old Village. Other monies will go towards planting and lighting, especially in the Cannon Park area."

Pilots benefit MD

FLYING HIGH for the fight against Muscular Dystrophy (MD) last weekend were several local residents and Detroit-area television and radio personalities. At Mettetal Airport, one of three Detroit-area locations, local pilots like Woody and Barb Lynch, Atha Smith, Dr. Don Ross, Ken Spencer, Tony Nagorsen, Jim Jabara and Ted Lawpkowski (of Plymouth Aero) donated their planes and time to take some 400 passengers for plane rides. The $5 cost of each ride - $2,000 in all - is being donated to the fight against MD. On hand at Mettetal were (from left) Jo Jo Shutty, Byron McGregor, MD patient Tim Tomasik, Mr. Whodini, and Plymouth Township Pilot Woody Lynch. (John Hatala Photo).

Deer Creek complex improved, renamed

BY DONNA LOMAS

Deer Creek Apartments just aren't what they used to be. Residents who lived in and around the 744-unit complex had complained to the Canton board that Deer Creek had become, to many, a dangerous place.

But, according to the new owners, Standard Realty of Southfield, that has changed.

And to prove it, says Standard Realty, which has been working on improving the garden apartment townhouse complex since they took over on Jan. 1 of this year, open house is being held there this weekend.

The new owners have renamed the complex "Honeytree", after they considered the complex had reached a successful turnaround point.

Some improvements that have been made, according to Standard Realty, are:

- a property manager, full-time
- a fulltime, six-man security staff, available around the clock,
- a 10 man maintenance staff,
- hiring a social director;
- repairing exterior of buildings, recarpeting and redecorating of hallways and apartments;
- renovating the "community" building
- repairing play areas and
- installing or improving the sprinkler systems.

The rent has also gone up, says Standard Realty - in some cases, $80.

"The nuisances have moved out, or were persuaded to move out," a spokesperson for Standard Realty said.

Some $500,000 more for improvements next year has been slated, said the spokesperson, in addition to the $1 million already invested by Standard Realty.

Mall boosts area sales

BY ELAINE GUREGIAN
Children's clothes, stuffed animals, trains, and junior and misses clothing can all be found at three new Forest Place Mall shops.

this area for more than 100 years.

The Claire Kelly Shop of Northville has also moved into the new mall.

The shops opened just last week.

Small stores have remained popular in the Plymouth-Canton area despite competition from the large malls in the area.

Little Angels Shoppe which sells children's clothing, and The Hobby Shop, which sells a wide variety of trains, both reported good business at the sidewalk sales Friday and Saturday.

With the new Forest Place addition and the Penniman Avenue Shops it appears that residents will be able to enjoy increasingly varied and unique shopping downtown.

Alice McDonald, who runs the Little Angels' business with her husband Oscar, said that she was very happy to be in the new location. The shop had been in the original Forest Place Mall location before the addition was built.

"I think we got some exposure at the sidewalk sales," said a salesman at The Hobby Shop. He said that he thought the downtown location was convenient for people and that Marvin Hauk, the owner, was pleased with the business they had done Friday and Saturday. The Hauk family has lived in

We need all our retailers to join us Aug. 9 to discuss a number of issues which will affect each of you.

At times I find myself caught up in a feeling that "I am meeting to death" and I know others may feel the same way.

We will be discussing a Senior Discount Program for Plymouth; Extended business hours during Fall Festival; promotion of the Chicken Flying Contest at our Fall Festival booth; and business participation in Matinee shows.

Memories to be revived

Class of '27 to meet Aug 26

BY ELAINE GUREGIAN
Members of the Plymouth High School Class of '27 are looking forward to their 50th year reunion, to be held August 26 at the Mayflower Meetinghouse.

From a class of 47, 26 class members have made reservations for themselves and their spouses which makes the projected attendance at the event 44.

Beulah Trombley, chairwoman of the event, said that the deadline for reservations is Aug 5. She added that friends who had been in classes before or after 1927 were welcome to join the party after the dinner hour.

The evening will begin with a "get acquainted hour" from 6 to 7 p.m. and continue with dinner at 7 p.m. The rest of the evening is reserved simply for reminiscing, according to Mrs. Trombley.

"Some of us haven't seen each other in 50 years," she said, "and we didn't schedule any other events because we thought it was important just to talk."

Although the majority of the class members settled down in Plymouth, said Trombley, classmates are returning home from all over the country, especially Florida.

To make reservations for the event, contact Beulah Trombley, at 474-6858.

2nd Canton Chamber picnic a 'great success'

The Canton Chamber of Commerce said their second annual Chicken Barbecue was "a great success."

Children's games, a dunk tank, and an all-star baseball game rounded out the events. The highlight of course, was a lot of chicken cooked by Township Clerk, John Flodin, J.D. Clark, Frank McMurray, Richard Potter, Harold Fischer, and Al Daly.

Winners of the games were as follows:

Candy hunt - Kelly Hallan, Bubble gum blowing - Eric McMurray and Kelly Bills, Ron Wisniewski and Nancy Granstrom, Special Adult contest - Ron Bills, Frisbee throw - Eric McMurray and Michelle Denomme, Lenny Wascenski and Nancy Grandstrom, Adult egg throwing contest - 1st place to Mr. and Mrs. Bill John-Schwartz Brown, 2nd place to Pat Zelek and Kathy Stevens.

The Chamber thanked the merchants who donated to the event and to all Canton residents who participated.

4-H'ers make impression

Winners of the Plymouth Paw Prints 4-H Club attended the Michigan State University 4H Dog Show in East Lansing recently.

Plymouth Canton members placing in the show were: Carol Terry, Patty Schneider, Cindy Head, Peter Kinsler, Patty Huff Dan Barnett and Carrie Kinsler.

Motel, parking deck proposed for Wiedman lot

A proposal to build a 36-unit motel unit above a partial parking deck on the Wiedman Parking Lot was given approval in concept unanimously by the City of Plymouth Monday.

The $450,000 motel and $175,000 parking deck plan was presented by Ralph Lorenz, owner of the 40-room Mayflower Hotel, the Mayflower Meetinghouse and the 16-unit Mayflower Motel near the parking lot.

Lorenz made his proposal to the city commission, which must give approval of the project because it would be built over the city-owned parking lot.

In exchange for the air rights to build the 12 luxury rooms and 24 standard motel rooms on the parking deck, Lorenz offered the city $5,000 a year for 50 years.

That amount, he said, would be over and above the normal property taxes assessed against a $450,000 building.

Lorenz's plan calls for the city to construct the parking deck over the western half of the parking lot and to finance it through the city's municipal bonding powers. The innkeeper said he would find investors to buy the bonds.

In exchange for the city's building the 36 to 40 parking space deck, Lorenz would contract with the city to lease the spots at $32 per month each - the rate suggested by the city's recent parking study.

The 15,000 sq. ft. modular unit motel would then be placed over the parking deck, according to the plan.

Construction of the entire project could be finished by November, Lorenz said. "Thirty days after the parking structure is done, we'll have the motel.

"Nov. 11 is the 50th anniversary of the hotel," he explained, "and we'd like to have the lights on then (in the new motel units)."

Plans for the development, drawn by Architect John Cullotta, slate a Georgian colonial-style front for the motel with a roof which will screen upper deck parking from view on Main Street. It will be the same height as the existing hotel.

The unit construction form will be soundproof, Lorenz said, and may be heated in part by solar power.

Based on the current employment level at the hotel, Lorenz told The Crier, some 72 additional staff members would be hired for the new units. "That certainly would be significant to the town, adding that many employees to the payroll," he said.

"There'll be no space lost," in the 96-space Weidman lot, Lorenz told the commission. The parking spaces added on the deck will at least equal the number of spaces required by city code for the development and could be more if valet parking is used, he said.

Accompanying the project, Lorenz told The Crier, will be a facelift and a portico addition for the Mayflower Meetinghouse, which will also be getting an elevator.

At Monday's commission meeting, the proposal gained unanimous approval in concept - but not without a few hot words.

Lorenz asked the commission to give a tentative indication of its feeling to enable him to proceed with the financing, legal and architectural planning.

"This is a project that will benefit everyone downtown," he told the commission.

Commissioners Tom Turner, Mary Childs and Joe Bida said the project was "fantastic," "tremendous", and "an asset to the community."

Commissioner Jack Moehle said that before the commission gave approval to Lorenz, the city should "consider an alternative of selling the land."

Lorenz said that because of the agreement the city had with those merchants who paid into the lot, it could not be sold.

"Are we foregoing any better uses for the community," Moehle asked. "At one time we considered a major parking structure for there. I think we might lose the options (for developing) the property."

Lorenz told the commission that he hoped for a speedy decision on the matter. "I'm 67 years old and I'm not going to wait any longer."

Commissioner Bev McAninch raised questions about comparative costs of air rights in other communities and the bonding arrangements for the parking deck.

The planning commission should consider air rights, said Commissioner Norb Battermann.

Moehle said, "The city commission would be premature to endorse it now." Some of biggest mistakes are where we've rushed into things without enough study."

Bida countered, "I'm sick of listening to this hogwash. Give me some examples."

Battermann moved that the commission approve the plan in concept.

The commission closed debate and voted unanimously to approve the Lorenz proposal in concept, to have the planning commission explore relative costs of air rights, to have the attorney explore the legality of air rights, and to have city administration explore the bonding method for the parking deck.

Final results followed primary two years ago

Results of Tuesday's City of Plymouth Primary Election were watched closely by the candidates because of their anticipated similarity with the candidates' standing in November's final election.

Two years ago, when the city held its first primary in recent history, the first four finishers in the primary ended up as the top four candidates in the final vote as well.

The following is a break down of the comparison between those elections two years ago:

PRIMARY ELECTION POSITION	CANDIDATE	FINAL ELECTION POSITION
1	Scott Dodge	1
2	Beverly McAninch	2
4	Thomas Turner	3
3	Mary Childs	4
5	Alfred Thoman, Jr.	5
6	John Cummings	6
8	David Pugh	7
7	Les Howes	8
9	Leonard Budnick	(eliminated)

THE UNOFFICIAL CITY PRIMARY RESULTS were tallied last night by city primary workers. Above are the unofficial tallies by precinct. Incumbent commissioners John Moehle and Mary Childs led, followed by Mark Wehmeyer and Penny Wright. Mayor Joe Bida placed sixth. Three hopefuls who lost were Lorraine Watt, Ronald Loiselle and James Arlen.

Chorus needs accompanist

The Plymouth Community Chorus is in urgent need of an accompanist. With commitments to sing in the up-coming Fall Festival, Tiger Stadium, and possibly the State Fair the Chorus is conducting an area-wide search to replace Jim Wagner, their former accompanist, as soon as possible.

Pay will depend upon experience and ability. If you would be interested in helping the Chorus out and having fun at the same time, contact Kathy Conroy at 459-4019.

Thieves rob jewelers

Plymouth police report a breaking and entering last Thursday at Bluford Jewelers on 467 Forest Ave.

Police report that an alarm was ringing at the location upon arriving, saw the north exterior showcase window smashed. Police found a gold-colored ID (identification) bracelet and an electric shaver brush in front of the window on the ground, and returned them to the owner. Police estimate the value of the plate-glass window at $275.

Cops nab speeders

Complaints of speeding cars on Blunk St., resulted in special enforcement patrols by the Plymouth police and seven citations over a four-day period.

The special enforcement patrols were used after residents complained and the City Commission requested the patrols. During the four days, 117 vehicles were monitored and checked by radar, police said.

Daily speeds ranged from 29.8 to 25.8 miles-per-hour, the report said. All vehicles exceeding 30 m.p.h. were cited, resulting in seven citations over the four days. Police said the highest speed recorded was 37 m.p.h.

Schools hire Telford, Bowman

After appeasing one dissenter, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education voted to hire Dr. John Telford as director of secondary education and Dr. Barbara Bowman as director of elementary education.

Trustee Joe Gray voted "no" on the first vote, he said, because he objected to recruiting being limited to about a 100 mile radius, and because the members of the screening committee will all be working under the newly hired directors.

Four votes were needed to pass the motion and since Tom Yack, Steve Harper and George Lawton were absent, Gray's approval was necessary.

Superintendent of Schools John M. Hoben said that the method of screening that was being used was the usual policy and that if Gray disapproved he should work to change the policy.

A second vote was then taken with Gray changing his vote to "yes", which passed the motion.

Both Dr. Telford and Dr. Bowman will work under Dr. Michael Homes, who has recently been hired as assistant superintendent for instruction.

Telford, 41, got his doctorate in education with an emphasis on secondary administration and supervision and curriculum from Wayne State University in 1968. He received his masters of education degree in English Education from Wayne in 1961, and earned his bachelors in English there in 1958.

He was a teacher, department head and track coach for Detroit Public Schools for nine years.

Telford was an assistant high school principal for Walled Lake School District and was director of the division of basic education for Macomb Community College.

Before accepting the Plymouth position, Telford was director of the health, physical education and athletics departments.

Telford was once named to the NCAA all-star track team and represented the U.S. in international competition in 1958-59.

Bowman, 35, received her doctorate with a double major in teacher education and elementary education and a minor in educational psychology from Michigan State University in 1976.

She received her Master's in elementary education from Michigan State in 1970 and her bachelor's in elementary education from Wayne State in 1965.

Bowman taught for three years in Detroit, two years in Lamphere School District and three years in East Lansing.

She has lectured at the University of Idaho and taught graduate classes at Wayne. She had been a consultant for the state departments of education, in Ohio and New York and has made presentations to groups including the National Education Assoc. and the Michigan Assoc. for Childhood Education.

As director since 1972 of the Teacher Improvement Project she has conducted workshops for seven school districts.

Plymouth-Canton school update

BY FLORENCE BEIER

As six schools in the Plymouth-Canton Community begin year-round school this fall, the school program as well as the calendar may be affected.

What kinds of changes can students and parents expect from their schedule of nine weeks in school and three weeks of vacation?

First, let's look at what will not change. Books, teachers, tests, films, libraries, learning materials of all kinds will still be there. Report cards will come home at about the same intervals. The number of days of instruction will still be 180.

But already in the planning stages, teachers and principals are having to take a very careful look at the use of time in the classroom.

The nine-week session is an excellent framework for the beginning and ending of learning units. Teachers must sharpen their organizational skills to time presentations, projects and evaluation.

A definite change in instruction, which has been evident in the two-year pilot 45-15 program at Miller Elementary School, is the need for less review time. Miller teachers felt they gained as much as six weeks for new instruction during the year because they did not have to re-teach after the long summer break.

Motivation, a major part of teaching, will take on a different aspect. Students returning to a fresh classroom after a three-week break have a built-in enthusiasm.

Many kinds of projects are possible in a year-round school. Students can plant seeds for science class and be there to harvest the vegetables or see which plants grew best. They can feed the birds in the summer to keep them around for winter observation.

As planning for next year progresses, we noticed other changes in the program.

Field trips can be distributed throughout the year instead of bunched together in the spring. School libraries will be opened to students on their three-week break, to encourage their practicing reading skills.

There are some disadvantages to a year-round school schedule, but they do not appear to be in the area of curriculum and instruction, especially in the elementary schools. In later articles we'll discuss scheduling, transportation, vacations, impact on families, cost, and the special concerns of the middle school.

Many people in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District have a lot of questions, doubts and, in general, strong feelings pro and con of things that happen in the schools. A great way of expressing those feelings and at the same time getting to know some administrative people is at the luncheon and breakfast held once a month at the board office.

Not being a morning person, I have to admit that communicating with anyone at 8 a.m. can be a bit of a problem. I did manage to open my eyes enough to discover that Mike Hoben (Superintendent of the school district) is a real human being and not a distant bureaucrat, like I thought. That's not to say that I agree with everything he says, (in fact, there are many things we disagree on), but it's nice to know that he is human.

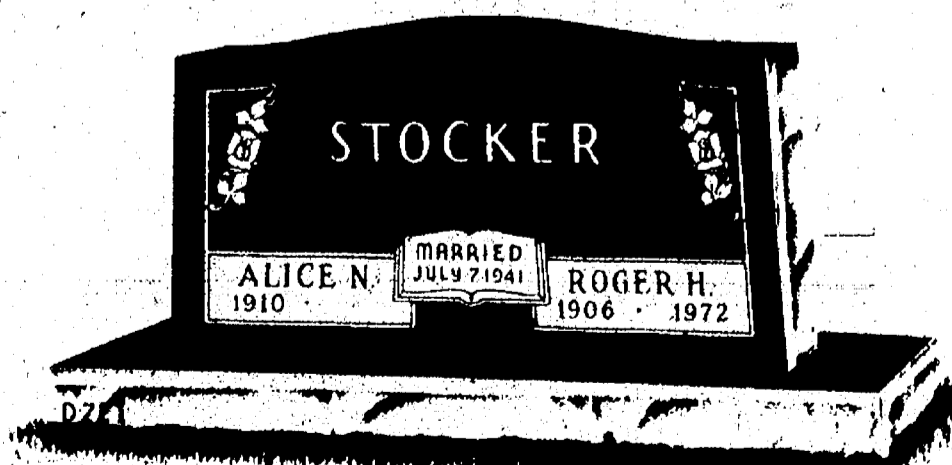

It is also nice to meet some of the people who have recently been hired to work in the schools. Dr. John Telford was appointed secondary curriculum coordinator and Dr. Barbara Bowman is elementary curriculum coordinator.

The real purpose of the breakfast and luncheon is to open communication between administration and the public. Some say there has been a communication breakdown in our school district; there's no better time to heal the wounds and start working together. Perhaps if everyone (parents, teachers, taxpayers, administrators, school board members and students) did one thing in a positive direction and tried to work with one another we could have the kind of system we all want - one our children can learn and excel in.

Sue Furdak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Furdak of 12536 Lighthouse Ct. in Plymouth recently returned from cheerleading camp. Sue is a senior at Bishop Borgess High School in Redford. In individual competition Sue placed fifth out of about 200. As a group the school received two first place honors, one second, two third and a fourth place award.

Mike Schnellbach, winner of the tackle box in the Dearie Days raffle couldn't pick up his gift because a sudden illness landed him in the hospital. Thanks to a friendly neighbor, Mike now has the tackle box. Hope you're feeling better Mike and out catching lots of fish soon.

Monday night, the Plymouth Community Civitan Club held a surprise party for Jerry Firth and his wife JoAnn who were in town visiting from Salt Lake City. Jerry was an active member in the Civitan Club until he was transferred two years ago. The party was held at the home of Mike and Ginny Caffery of Main Street in Plymouth.

City boosts Hendry senior housing idea

A senior housing apartment project, sponsored by the administrator of Hendry Convalescent Center, was given a vote of confidence by the Plymouth City Commission Monday night.

John C. Hendry, administrator of the Center, asked for a vote of approval from the Commission after the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) turned down his request for a loan for a mortgage.

The mortgage was for a 66-unit dwelling for "frail, elderly people" to be built adjacent to the existing Hendry Convalescent Center on Haggerty Road in Plymouth.

Hendry said HUD turned down his application for two reasons: the site wasn't good and the citizens of Plymouth "were not upper or middle class who could support the project."

Hendry asked for the help of the City Commission to "convince HUD that this is a middle-class outfit."

"The project is ideal," he said. "Many people have loved ones who are in the Center and they would rather live in these apartments close by."

Hendry said that the apartments were for the spouses or friends of those in the center who were not well enough to live completely alone, but needed a little assistance.

"Plymouth Park would retain the dignity of these people," said Hendry.

Hendry cited services the proposed project would provide the 66 residents:

- Transportation. Plymouth Park would have a shuttle bus service for its residents.

- Meals provided for residents. Hendry said a kitchen would be in every apartment, but that a community dining room would be available for "the social activity of eating." Room service would also be available.

- Organized activities. A "meaningful level" of activity would be planned for residents who did or did not work.

- Shopping would be available.

- Medical care and security. Residents at Plymouth Park would be able to use the facilities at the convalescent center and every apartment would have "panic buttons" to push and two nurses would answer.

Hendry stressed when talking to The Crier, that his proposed building was not a HUD subsidy project.

"I'm just asking for a loan," he said. "If I went through conventional sources (banks) it would cost more, and I would have to pass those interest costs on to the people renting these units."

Hendry said the cost of renting a unit, if they were in existence now, with all services and utilities included, except phone, would be $535 to $555.

"Hud really didn't have a good excuse for refusing us," said Hendry.

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce offered their support to Plymouth Park in the form of a resolution.

The Chamber offered the following reasons for their support:

1. Fill the needs of certain senior citizens and incapacitated citizens of our community.

2. Provide substantial tax base for the City and school district;

3. Generate additional jobs within the community.

Commissioner Jack Moehle recommended that Hendry go before the Blue Ribbon Committee to get recognition and an endorsement from them as well as from the Commission.

A motion to support a re-evaluation of the HUD decision was approved unanimously by the Commission.

Twp. still eyes maverick sewer

Although Plymouth Township is not yet a member of the break-away Huron Valley Sewer Authority, the township board has agreed to send Supervisor Tom Notebaert as a township representative of the authority to Washington to meet with legislators.

In a letter to the board, Notebaert said he felt it was important that Plymouth Township be represented at the meeting, and that expenses to Washington "should not exceed $300."

Trustess Lee Fidge and Richard Gornick said the trip would be an "investment," and said it would be "well worth it to establish communication channels" for federal funds in Washington, even though this trip is specifically for the sewer authority.

Deputy Clerk Mary Ellen Kenyon, who by township law sits in and votes for Township Clerk Helen Richardson when she is absent said "We've never done this before. We aren't yet members of the authority."

"It's about time we did," replied Gornick. "That's where all the action is. That's where federal funds come from and I think we should join the current trend."

Aging group misses quorums, deadline

The City of Plymouth's Blue Ribbon Committee on Aging has failed to muster a quorum at its last two meetings and has missed its city-commission-set deadline for a report on housing for the elderly.

In a resolution passed last Tuesday - without a quorum of the representatives present - the committee informed the City Commission that it would include its housing report with its final report in December.

Glimpse at yesterday

A letter from Mrs. Walter Kleinschmidt, a former Plymouth resident who now lives in Pigeon has cleared up the mystery of the Phoenix Bridge.

Mrs. Kleinschmidt also enclosed a picture of the Wilcox Mill, also taken in the 1920's shortly before it became one of Henry Ford's "village factories." It is now the site of the Phoenix Sign Shop of the Wayne County Road Commission.

In the late 1800's, the Phoenix Bridge Mill, according to Sam Hudson, author of the book "Plymouth Michigan. A Midwest Microcosm," was in operation adjacent to Phoenix Lake.

It was considered one of the best mills in the area in early days, but was destroyed by fire about 1905. Its last owner was John Hartz of Detroit, and its last function, said Hudson, was the production of "Plymouth Wheat Flakes".

Canton asks for growth law

Canton's Board of Trustees asked their attorney to investigate methods of controlling growth at their meeting last Tuesday.

In a letter written by Trustee Brian Schwall, Canton attorney Bert Burgoyne is requested to advise the board "of any and all legal means which will prove effective in our particular situation."

Burgoyne is not asked to "pass legal judgement on any specific alternatives presented but rather for positive and forceful legal guidance..."

The board unanimously approved the letter. Trustee Bob Myers was absent.

The reports of two groups, the Growth Management and Land Use Study Committees, were listed as guides for Burgoyne.

There was no indication at the meeting how long it would take the attorney to write his opinion.

Twp. OKs landfill

"The Planning Commission has become very sensitive about landfill," said Gornick. "We should have a diagram presented to us."

"All the questions have been answered by the Planning Commission," said Simo. "We're trying to complete M-14. Would the board feel at ease if we posted a $10,000 bond?"

Simo added that Planning Commissioner Fred Davids "was so outspoken (about Holloway's not obtaining a landfill permit) because of an incident four or five years ago when broken concrete was put by his property."

Norman L. Dietrich Associates, township engineers, recommended approval of the permit on the condition that a Soil and Erosion and Sedimentation Control permit be secured before continuing further landfill activities.

Dietrich also recommended that the board ask for an appropriate financial guarantee to "ensure completion of the land fill and stabilization of same."

They also recommended that the township building department make soil borings of the area already filled to "make sure the topsoil was removed and the desired compaction achieved."

Simo told The Crier (July 27) that broken concrete and more than 100,000 cubic feet of soil would be put on the 20-acre site, owned by Beck Territorial Associates.

"We are hard-pressed to complete the job this fall. If the board would suggest a reasonable bond," Simo said. "Would $4,500, the same as Wayne County has, be enough?"

After continued discussion by the board members, Simo then suggested $1,000 for each bond: the security bond and the engineering fees.

"I don't go for that," said Deputy Clerk Mary Ellen Kenyon. "$4,500 sounds better than $1,000."

The board then acted on West's motion and the landfill permit was approved.

"I'm incensed by the decision," said Fidge. "We'll be haunted by this landfill decision, wait and see."

Moshimer to quit Salem football post after season

BY CHAS CHILD AND CRAIG BRASS

Tom Moshimer has resigned as head coach of Salem's varsity football team, effective at the end of this season.

His letter of resignation was accepted by Bill Brown, principal of Salem, Monday, July 25.

Moshimer, who led his team to a state championship in 1974, refused to comment on why he resigned. "I would not like to say anything about that."

On Monday before the team's "conditioning workout," a member of the team said Moshimer took the seniors and juniors aside and told them that he resigned because he could not get his teaching schedule changed.

One source said Moshimer wanted his last hour off so he could work out in the weight room at CEP.

A source close to the team said that the resignation should "not necessarily be considered permanent. If the reasons can be rectified, he might reconsider."

Seemingly hopeful that his decision would not disrupt the upcoming season, Moshimer said, "We don't need anything more to play over. We'd like to have a good season."

Moshimer's best year at Salem was in 1974 when the team went undefeated with a 9-0 record.

Last year the team was 4-5, and two years ago had a 5-4 record.

The 42-year-old coach came to the Plymouth Canton schools in 1966, after coaching Dundee High School varsity football from 1959-66.

Redmond, Schultz cop major crowns

BY CHAS CHILD

Number seven seed Curt Schultz pulled off a solid upset to cap The Crier Tennis Tournament, beating last year's winner Ken Bloom in the men's 16 and over category.

His straight-set victory was unexpectedly easy as he rolled by the number one seeded Bloom, 6-2, 6-2 at Canton High School's court Monday.

In another exciting match, unseeded Rom Sriraman swept from nowhere to come within a set to cop the 35 and over crown.

In the finals against number one seed, Jim Hayes, Sriraman took the first set, 6-4, but then succumbed to the Canton varsity coach's spins and chops, 6-2, 6-1.

Sriraman said he didn't even know he was in the tournament until his wife told him. She had entered him earlier.

The big winner of the tourney was Beth Redmond. She took three titles: women's 16 and over singles, women's doubles and mixed doubles.

Ranked second in the singles, she beat the number one seed, Laura Hastings, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, for the trophy.

With Hastings, however, as her doubles partner, Redmond won the doubles title by whipping Nancy Reynolds and Beverly Bain, 6-2, 6-1.

Her third title came in the mixed doubles as she and Bill Boehle defeated Mark Mayberry and (you guessed it) Laura Hastings, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

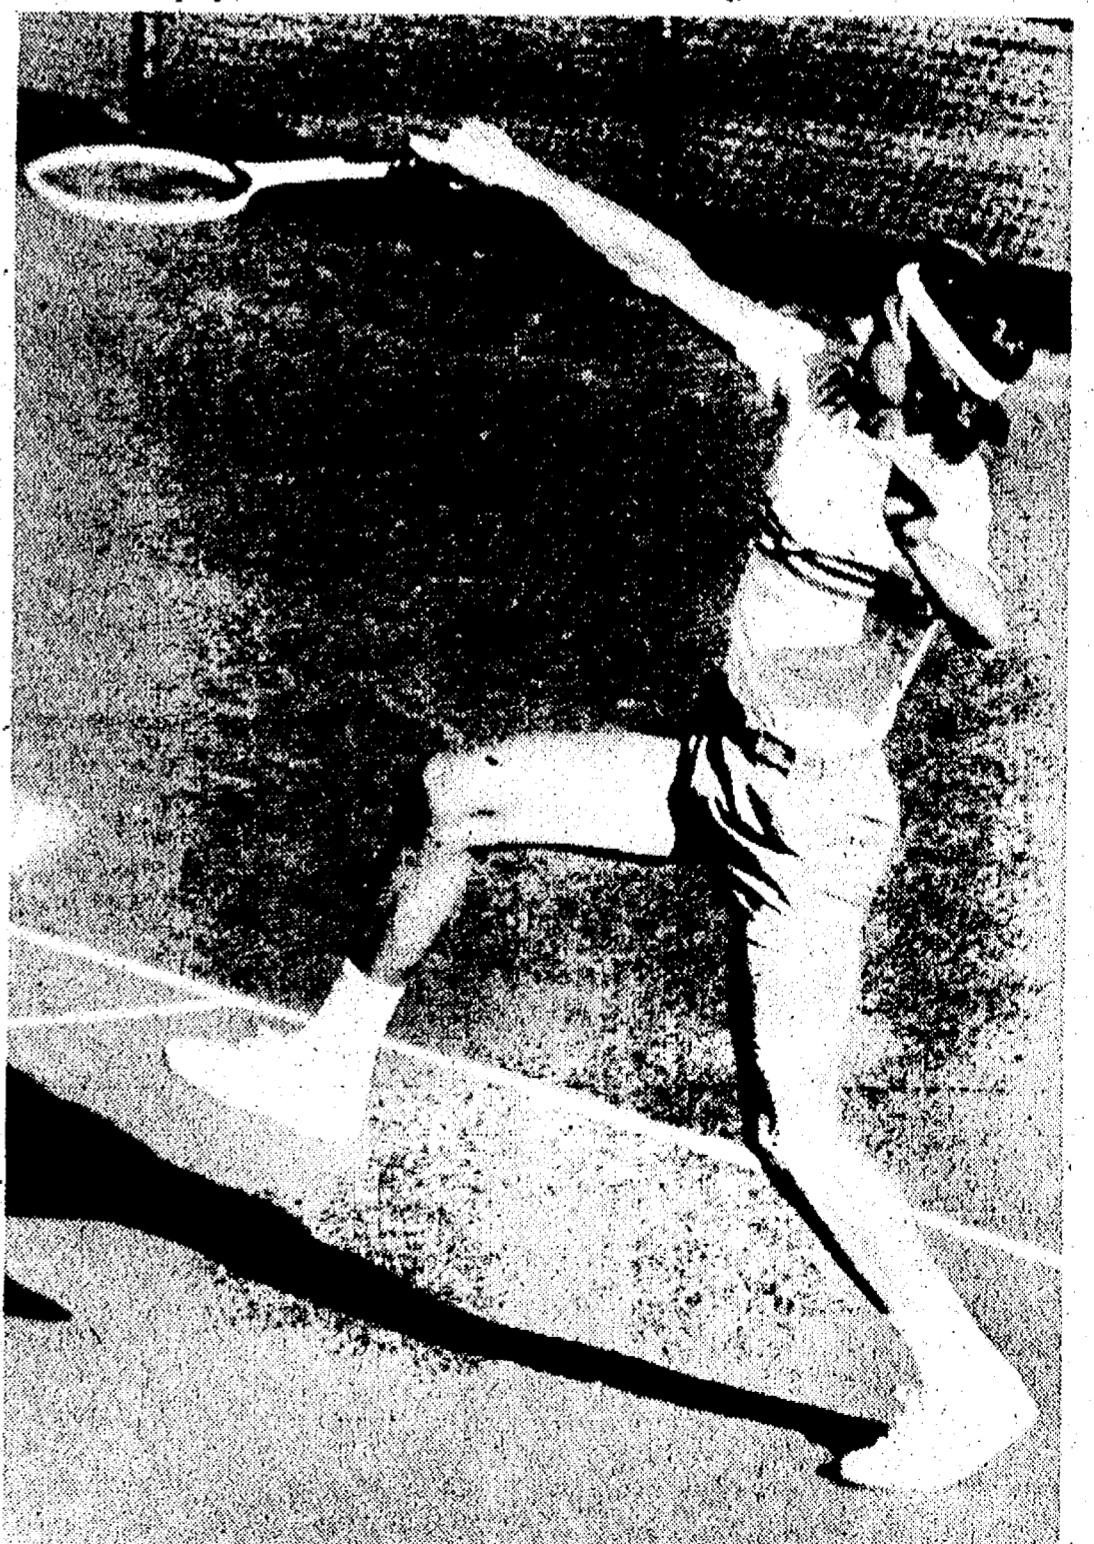

A family affair marked the 10-12 girls division. Christine Gilles beat her little sister, Wendy, 6-1, 6-0 in the finals.

It was Wendy's first year in competition, and her mother told her it was the "best she ever played," as she walked off the court.

In the other women's category, Cathy Horton defeated Betsy Moon in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3 to win the girls 13-15 division.

In the two boys divisions, Scott Crespo beat Dick Cook, 6-2, 6-0 for the 13-15 year old crown. And Doug Baker outlasted Dave Goodsir, 6-7, 6-2, 6-1 for the 10-12 title.

The winners will have to wait until Friday to pick up their trophies as the Plymouth Recreation Department was tardy in ordering them.

Local youths crawl to record lengths

Few people would get down on their hands and knees for anything, much less stay there for 11½ hours.

But that's exactly what three

Plymouth youths did Saturday to set a new world crawling record of 13½ miles, smashing the old mark of 8½.

Kevin Krolicki, 12; John Graves, 14; and James Graves, 12; also gathered $300 in pledges in their crawlathon for the Muscular Dystrophy drive.

Starting at 4:25 a.m. Saturday at the Canton High School track, the boys crawled 54 times around the oval. "We all have blisters on our hands and knees," Krolicki said.

Canton Twp golf

The Canton Township Men's Golf League finished its first nine week league this past week with John Tetsworth and Paul Oberhelman taking first place. They took all 5 points from Rod Grahn and Jack Blumenshine with Mike Roemer substituting for Paul Oberhelman. Second place was taken by Robert White and Mike Ryan, as they took 5 points from Jack Koers and Robert Koers. The best score of the night was shot by Tony Valenti who came in with a 37. Tony Matson and Dominique Patalidis both shot 38.

Chris Matson and Frankie McNutt took 3 points from Tiuu Himmelberger and Sylvia Dickenson to take over first place.

Mary Kay Frey and Sandra Froozan slipped to second place as they split their match with Pauline Pryor and Helen McGee. Both teams taking 1½ points.

Mary Moore shot the best score of the day as she came in with a 48. Kay Nichols had a 50 and Bev Green shot a 51 for the other best scores of the day.

Massey, 16-0, nears crown

Undefeated Don Massey Cadillac, 16 and 0, Garden City Sports with a 15 and 2 record; and the Kool Kings with a 14 and 2 season; have all wrapped up first place in their divisions.

The last week of regular season play will be for placement in the City Playoffs to determine the City Champs.

The real race is for the best second place team in the league. If H.A.F. Industries can defeat the powerful Massey Squad today, they will have berth in the championship series. Should HAF lose, then a tie exists between them and Kurl N Kut Hut. A flip of a coin may determine the winner.

Division I leaders, Garden City Sports easily thrashed Port to Port in a 13 to 4 contest. Sports pumped out 25 hits, six doubles, one triple and one home run to Ports' 15 hits and three doubles. Sports Richardson was four for four and one double, Dempsey playing second base was four for four and two doubles while left fielder Kellman was three for three and one triple. Ports' Jeff Horton was three for three and one double for the losers.

Second Place Finlan Insurance easily beat Michigan Boiler seven to zip. Mash could have moved into sole possession of second place but lost their first game to Port to Port 10 to 15. Port's upset victory was paced by a 22-hit attack, including two double, one triple and one home run. Mash could only muster 19 hits. Mash then plugged Puckett Plumbing's pipes with a 14 to 11 victory.

Puckett's bid for a tie for second place was flushed this last week as they lost another game to fifth place Magic, seven to three. The show was on as the Magic team won another over Stahl, eight to five.

Kool Kings, leaders of Division II with a 14 and 2 record, split a pair this week. Manley, Bennett & McDonald, in sixth place knocked off the leaders 17 to 14. Heidenreich (for short) came from nowhere, had 26 hits, four doubles and one triple against the Kings 22 hits. Heidenreich's victory was a true team effort as everyone got at least one hit. That loss must have fired up the Kings as they beat the Sajo's Pizza 10 to 8. Kings 20 hits, seven doubles, one triple and one home run proved to much for sajo's. Sajo's tied the game in the sixth, scoring six runs on nine hits. The Kings scored the winning two runs after two outs in the seventh.

Second place Sun Plastics also split their two games giving them a 11 and 5 season record. The Knights of Columbus knocked out 26 hits, four doubles and two triples to pace their 13 to 9 victory over the stunned Plastics team. Bill Milovich and Chico Kisabeth were four for four for the K of C team. Chico Kisabet was hot as four of his hits were for two doubles and one triple. Sun Plastics could only muster 20 hits, three doubles, one triple and one home run. Sun counced right back and beat the Heidenreich Team six to zero. A good defensive game as Sun Plastics only hit 15 safety's to Heidenreich nine hits.

The Plymouth Knights of Columbus won their second game of the week and sewed up third place. Garfield was the victim this time, losing eight to seven in a close game. That game wasn't decided until the last out in the seventh inning as both teams scored. The Plymouth Jaycees surprised everyone as they won both of their games. Garfield got stalled as the J.C.'s beat them 12 to 9, and Bathey lost five to four. The J.C.'s, a happy-go-lucky type team must have taken the game seriously as this was their fourth and fifth victory for the season.

The Don Massey team almost lost their bid for an undefeated season when they met the Kurl N Kut squad. Massey's closest win yet this year, seven to five, saw a defensive battle. Massey's big sticks only pumped out 11 hits, three doubles and one home run. Kurl out hit the old timers as their rally in the seventh inning was cut short. Massey bounced back and beat the Bill Knapps team seven to zip.

Second place HAF had 18 hits, four doubles, one triple and two home runs. Gary Flummerfelt and Kiriazis each had the round trippers for HAF.

Kool Kings trounced Napoleon's seven to two. Adistra won both of their games, beating Napoleon's six to five, and massacred Bayloff 17 to one. In that game, Adistra had 22 hits, five doubles and one grand slam home run hit by second baseman McBurney.

Woman's Division Leaders, Century 21 beat Little Caesars 18 to 9, and ran their undefeated streak to 11 and 0. Second place ACMIC and Daly Drive In both won their games. ACMIC ambushed Trail Bar 12 to one, and Daly's sub-totalled Total Images 18 to 4.

Girl basketball practice

All girls who want to play basketball at CEP this fall should report to Phase III, Aug. 15, at the following times: Canton 6 - 8 p.m.; Salem 8 a.m. to noon.

The coaches, Canton's Mike McCauley and Salem's Debbie Hatcher, said there will be tryouts for the schools' varsity, junior varsity and freshman teams.

There will also be conditioning for anyone interested, the coaches said.

REALTOR

LOOKING? KEEP A RECORD

Buying a home is a big investment and involves major decisions. So, it's understandable why so much time and care is taken when looking for a home that's right for you. No one knows this better than your local Realtor.

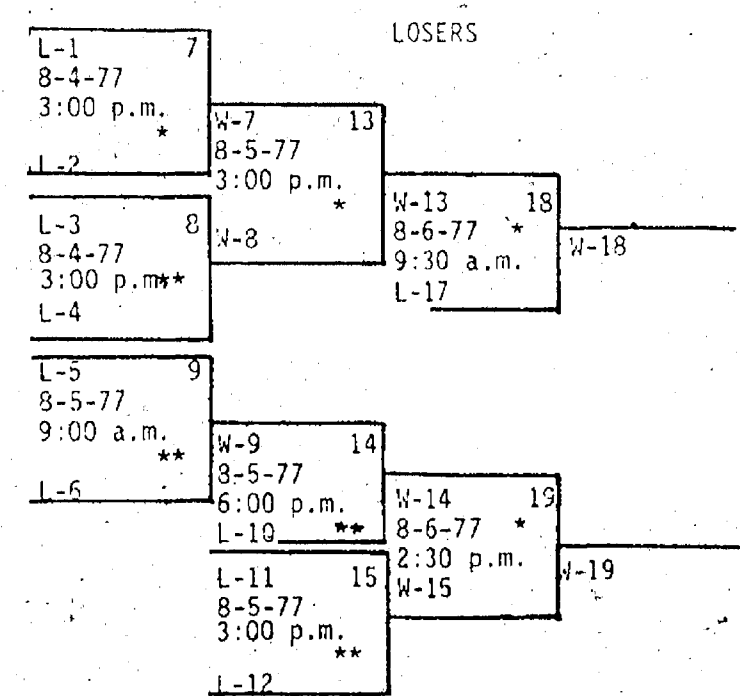

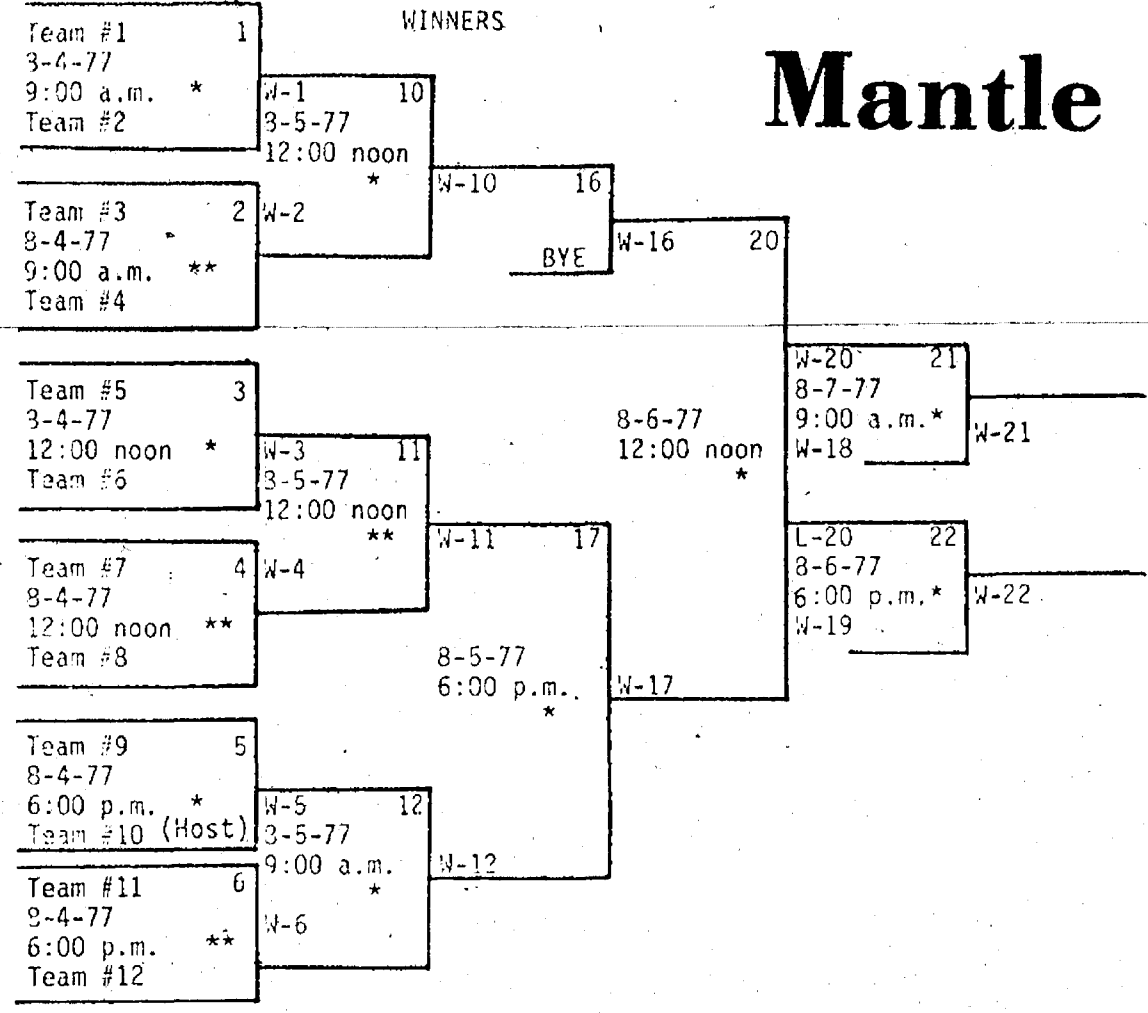

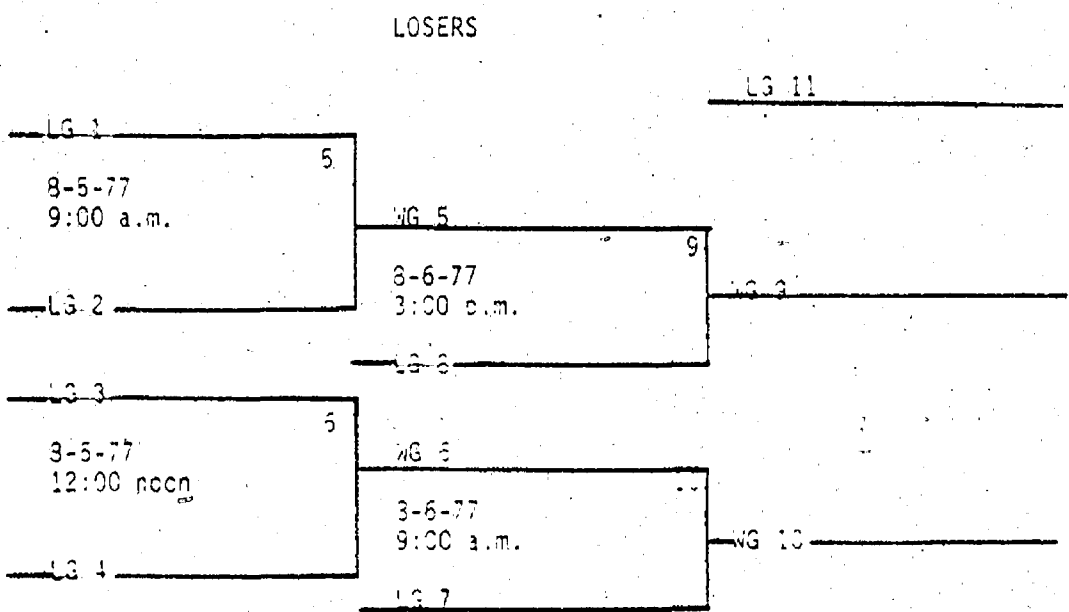

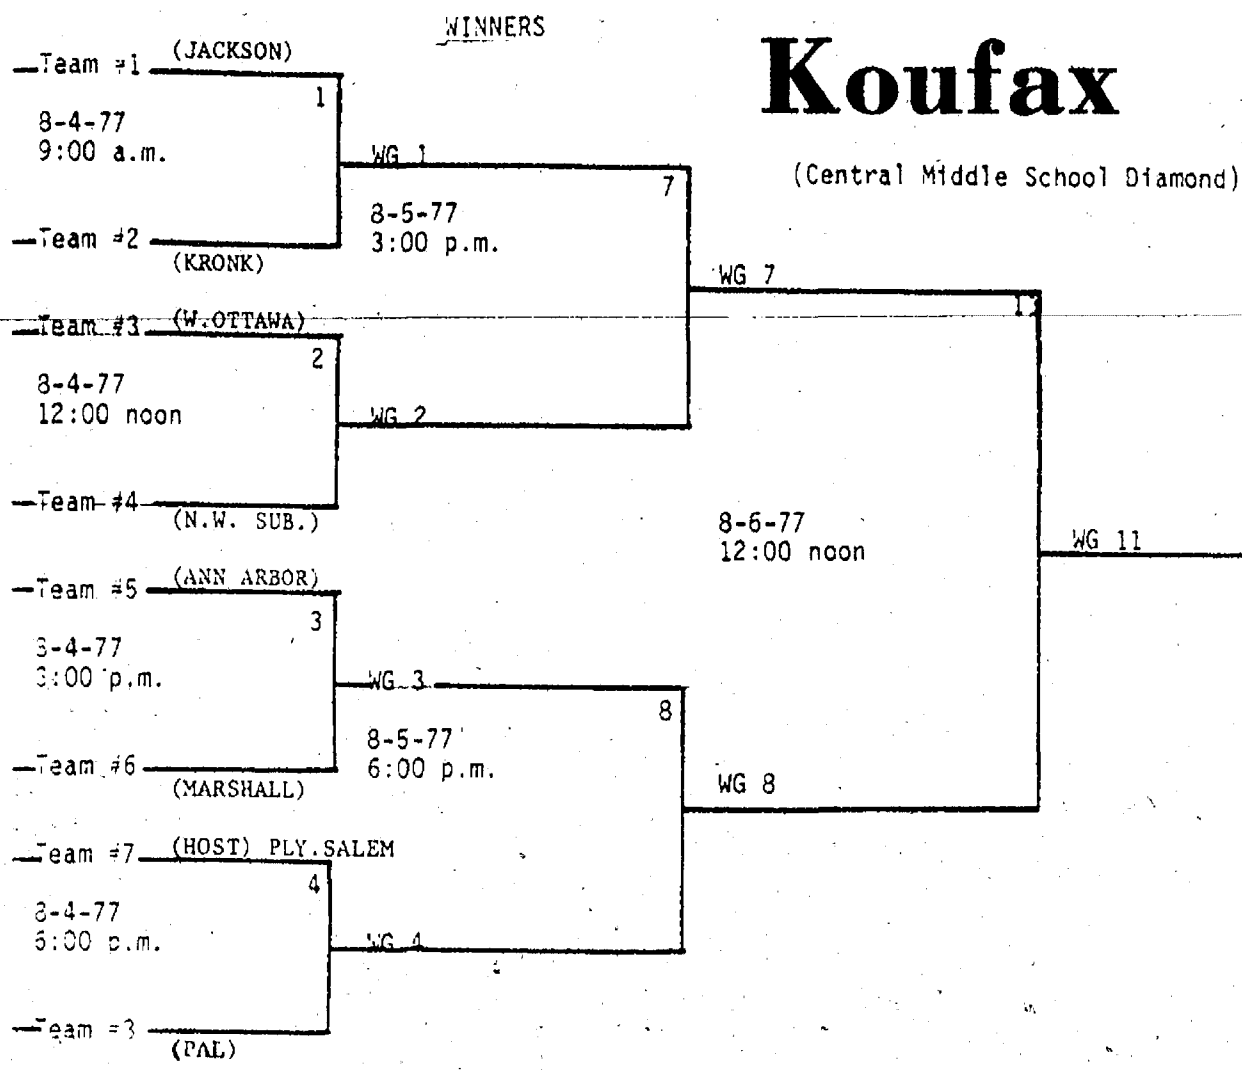

Once the Realtor takes on the assignment of finding you a home, he'll probably show you several. Therefore, it's important to take notes on what you have seen or you may forget which home is where, how big it is, what shapes it's in, and how much it costs.

Your Realtor can provide you with a checklist to make this important task easier. This way, you can rate each home as you see it and instantly recall the location, price, construction, number of rooms, heat, fuel, taxes, and financial requirements. If you have a Polaroid picture of the house to go with the notes - so much the better when describing it to your other half.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at REALTY WORLD, Wm. Decker, Inc. Realtors, 670 S. Main St. Plymouth. Phone: 455 - 8400. We're here to help!

Angels take 'G' crown

The G Senior Girls ended their season with their playoff championship game at CEP (Centennial Educational Park) Saturday.

The Angels, after a closely played, see-saw game won the championship over the Tigers 8-7. The Angels and Tigers had tied as co-champions of the National League during the regular season.

The Angels jumped off to a quick 3-0 lead but the Tigers scored 5 runs in the third inning to go ahead 5-3.

Angels then scored runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings to go on top 8-5. The Tigers scored two in the bottom of the sixth, then held the Angels scoreless in the seventh. However, the Angels shut the Tigers off in the bottom of the seventh to hold on to their 8-7 lead and the championship.

McMurray wins; eyes undefeated season

McMurray Insurance, Division "A" Champions, took another step toward an undefeated season with a narrow 4-3 victory over George Smith Realty. McMurray scored a run in the sixth-inning which proved to be the winning run.

In other games, Little Caesar's erupted for twelve runs in the first inning and coasted to a 14-5 victory over Clark Block. The pizzamen's second baseman Claude Tunison led the batting attack with a three for four effort. Claude banged out a triple and two singles, good for two RBIs.

Don Massey picked up it's ninth victory of the 1977 season with a 15-0 white washing of Quality Construction. Massey's Pat Byrnes twirled a fine three hitter, as well as picking up a rare shut-out. Pat also laced two singles and a double.

The Lion & the Sword moved within a game of second place by stunning second-place Merchants by the score of 9-6 in Division "B" competition. Manager Terry Brozek's squad scored seven runs in the last three innings to post their seventh victory. Third Baseman Hal Winters banged out two hits in three at bats, with two RBIs for The Lion & the Sword.

George Smith Realty picked up it's seventh victory of the season by topping Quality Construction 13-5 in Division "A" action. The Smith attack was highlighted by the home run ball. Winning hurler, Marty Laporte clouted a three run homer and a solo blast.

Perlongo Excavating received a scare from a-determined Chapman squad and recorded their thirteenth victory by the score of 18-16 in Division "B" competition. The game was a see-saw battle until Perlongo picked up six runs in the sixth and two more in the seventh to obtain the win.

Chapman Bros. Realty picked up it's fourth victory of the season by stunning third place Lion & the Sword 13-12. The Realty men scored three runs in the top of the seventh to post the victory.

Ovidon, perched atop the Division "C" League standings, moved a step closer to the title with a convincing 20-4 victory over Geneva Church.

Metro Bolt & Fastener overwhelmed Huffman's Roofing 22-11, to stay one game behind league leading Ovidon. Ray Bloch of Metro had a perfect evening at the plate with four straight hits in four at bats. One of Rays hits went for the distance.

Centry Farms - AmRoy Canton held the Canton Police at bay with a 29-15 victory. Mark (Sure foot) Crawford led the well balanced attack with three doubles and a single. Paul Deedler, Al Hartman, Craig Master-ton, Jack Bockstanz, and Mike Kowalski all banged out three hits for the winners.

RESOLUTION
That all property owners and developers should be aware of the possibility of future cutoff of new connections to the existing sewer system due to limited sewer capacity.

That all those who seek approval of plans for the development of any land in Canton Township be advised of the sewer capacity situation. And although approval to subdivide be given, it cannot be guaranteed that such property when developed into lots will be able to connect to the existing sewers.

And that, in the same respect, as part of the approval of any new development project, the developer should be required to notify prospective purchasers of lots, in writing, that connection to existing sewers may not be available.

And further, be it resolved, that the Township Board shall advise the Planning Commission to do what is necessary to change the zoning ordinance to allow a minimum of 70 foot lots on all new plattings.

A motion was made by Stein and supported by Goldsmith and carried that the following resolution be adopted:

Yes: Daley, Flodin, Goldsmith, Myers, Schwall, Stein

No: Bradley

The question of adoption of a Civil Service Ordinance was discussed. It was agreed to hold a special meeting for that purpose in the near future.

TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH BOARD OF TRUSTEES - REGULAR MEETING TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1977
Supervisor Notebaert called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m., followed by the pledge of allegiance. All members were present except Mr. Richardson, (on vacation).
Mrs. Fidge moved approval of the minutes of the Regular Meeting of June 28, 1977 as submitted. Supported by Mr. Gornick and carried unanimously.
Mr. Gornick moved approval for payment of the Bills in the total amount of $20,746.73. Supported by Mr. Millington. The motion carried unanimously on a roll call vote.
Warren Smith, S & W Hardware, & G. David Whitmore, Pilgrim Party Store. Re: Requesting Township to construct a storm sewer to service their property. Mr. Gornick moved that the Township proceed forthwith to have the storm sewer installed as per the request of the property owner, cost not to exceed $9,000.00 to be paid from non-budget general funds. Supported by Mrs. Fidge and carried 5-2.
Roof Repair - Replacement-Township Hall. Mr. Breen moved to approve the recommendation of the Supervisor for the acceptance of the low bid as submitted by Mr. McGuire, (Texas Refinery Co.) Supported by Mr. Fidge and carried unanimously.
Stanley T. Jaroh. Re: Sanitary Sewer for new party store at L & D Service Station, Ann Arbor Road - acceptance of same. Mr. Breen stated that sometime ago the Board took the position that these problems would be straightened out before they came to the Board: that this is normal Planning Commission business and to jump from the Commission to the Board is obviating the very basis of policy for that purpose moved that this particular request be denied. Supported by Mr. Kenyon and carried unanimously.
Approval of final route of the Byron Sanitary Sewer West. Mrs. Fidge moved to table this item for up to 30 days for further information, and that the Engineer, Mr. Hamill, be prepared with the route and complete engineering cost so that a resolution could be prepared in case the Board decides to go that route, and to direct the Supervisor to obtain information in total to be included in the Board's packets for further perusal. Supported by Joseph West and carried unanimously.
Request for back-up for Northville Township's new fire department to be established as of September 1, 1977. Mr. Gornick moved that, as a sister Township, we do provide back-up assistance to Northville Township during their embryonic beginnings as a fire department, and until they become a full fledged member of the Mutual Aid Association, unless the Fire Chief shows some reason that we are not aware of, that we should not become embroiled in this. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.
Engineering Service Agreement for Step No. 1 Facilities Planning Grant for Rouge Valley Waste Water Control System. Mr. Breen moved approval of the Engineering Agreement for Step No. 1 Facilities Planning Grant for Rouge Valley Waste Water Control System and the employment of Norman L. Dietrich and Associates for the preparation of Waste Water Management study subject to final approval of the contract by the Board after review by the Township legal counsel and by the County of Wayne. Supported by Mrs. Fidge and carried unanimously.
Approval of revised copy of the preliminary contract between the Board of Public Works and the local unit of government. Mr. Breen moved to concur with the recommendation of the Attorney and not take any action on this contract until after the July 15 meeting, at the very earliest. Supported by Mr.

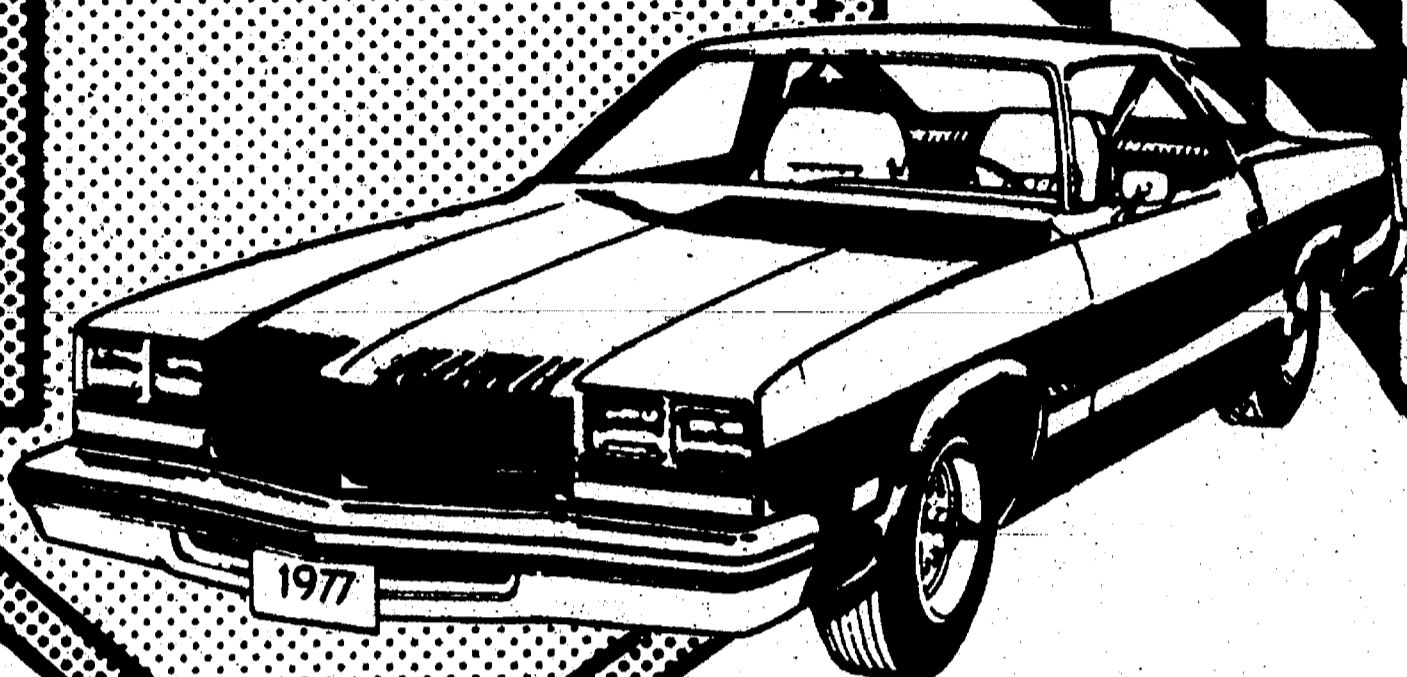

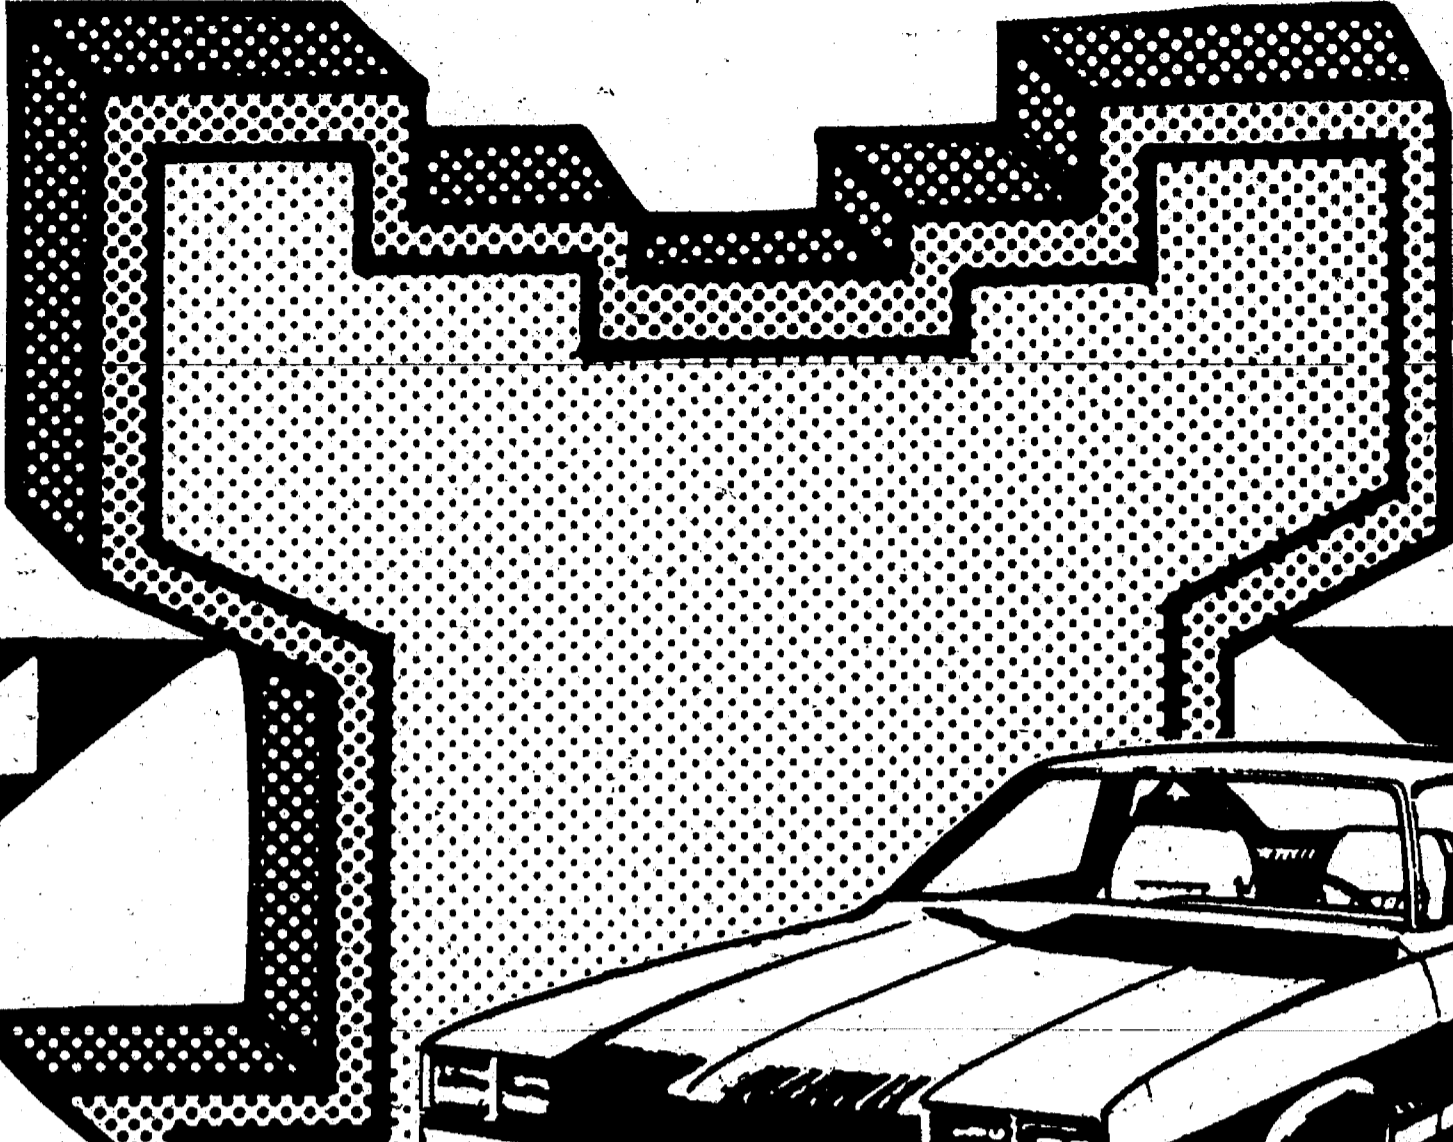

Gornick and carried unanimously.
Beautification of Ann Arbor Road and Ann Arbor Trail Intersection. Mr. Breen moved that the Board agree with the plan submitted in-principal and that the committee would proceed with a presentation to the City of Plymouth for their comments. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously. Mr. Harold Guenther of the City of Plymouth was in the audience and commented that he would like to have the same presentation given to the City of Plymouth so, both municipalities could come to an agreement as to how the work should be done. Mr. Bailey advised that he would be happy to make the presentation.
Contract between Township of Plymouth and Reginald Damron. Mr. Millington asked if the Township would provide an automobile for the new Fire Inspector. Mr. Notebaert replied that he would be using a vehicle during actual inspections. Mr. Millington asked how many hours Mr. Damron would be working to which the supervisor replied that this is a contract for service and time cannot be specified. He will be making a certain number of inspections within a specified time. Mr. West moved approval of the contract between the Township of Plymouth and Reginald Damron for making fire inspections for the Township. Supported by Mr. Millington. Motion carried 5-2.
Mr. Breen moved to approve the recommendation of the Clerk for transfer of funds as per her letter of July 7, 1977. Supported by Mrs. Fidge and carried unanimously.
Holloway Construction Company. Re: Change Order. Mr. Breen moved approval of Change Order No. 1 on the construction of sanitary sewers for the Township of Plymouth across M-14, a decrease of $188.10 making the contract price $68,087.03 due to change in the premium joint. Supported by Mr. Gornick and carried unanimously.
Plymouth Historical Society. Requesting financial assistance and/or grant to offset the costs of operations. Mrs. Fidge moved that the Board explore to see if there are funds that will possibly give support to the Society. Mr. Notebaert asked for an amount for the Board to consider Mrs. Fidge suggested 10 cents per resident with the total amount not to exceed $2,000.00. The motion was supported by Mr. Millington and carried 4-1 with 2 abstentions. Mr. Breen commented that this is not a public entity under the law and granting this request was contrary to statute, the Board is not empowered to grant this request.
Purchase of Walkie Talkie for the Fire Department. Mr. Gornick moved to table this request until the next regular meeting so the Fire Chief can be present to answer questions raised by the Board. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.
Mr. Joseph West moved to add to the agenda, the reappointment of Planning Commission Members. Supported by Richard Gornick and carried unanimously. Mr. Breen moved approval of Supervisor's recommendation to reappoint Mr. Goulet, Mrs. Ritchie and Mr. Horton to the Planning Commission, terms to expire in July 1980. Supported by Mr. Gornick, and carried 6-1.
Joseph West, Treasurer. Re: Distribution of Taxes. Mr. Millington moved approval of the resolution as presented by Mr. West. Supported by Mr. Breen and carried with one abstention. Mrs. Lee Fidge moved to adjourn the meeting, supported by Mr. Breen Supervisor Notebaert adjourned the meeting at 10:08 p.m.
Approved, Thomas G. Notebaert, Supervisor
Respectfully submitted, M.E. Kenyon, Deputy Clerk
