

Schools interviewing 13 for vacant board seat

It may take until next week for the Plymouth-Canton School Board to interview all of the 13 persons who have applied for appointment to the vacant school board seat.

Half hour interviews began with the applicants last night, will continue tonight (starting at 7:30 p.m. at the board offices 454 S. Harvey St.) and may go to Monday night when one interview is tentatively scheduled for prior to the start of the official school board meeting. The public may attend the interviews.

The school board has until Sept. 4 - 20 days from Monday's official resignation by Board President Marcia Borowski - to fill the vacancy or the county intermediate school district will appoint someone to the seat.

Applying for the appointment to the board are:

Roseanne M. Rogers, Elaine Kirchgatter, R. Richard Hayes, Jr., Barbara L. Leffler, Elizabeth A. Hamann, Richard H. Dilts, Richard A. Smith, Ellice Kulick, Barbara M. Olson, Carol Davis, Lynn T. Cole, Mary Jan Mulaski, and Bruce A. Vance.

In her letter of resignation, Mrs. Borowski said her service on the board - which was highlighted when she was elected board president last month - was "both rewarding and frustrating."

She said it was rewarding to have worked with the schools closely but frustrating because so many things she hoped to accomplish had not been completed.

"I regret that I have not been able to fulfill my campaign goals to insure every individual succeeds in school," she said. "But I sincerely appreciate the opportunity to have served the community in trying to come closer to these goals."

"There is nothing I would rather have done these last three years," Mrs. Borowski concluded.

When will schools tap new president?

In addition to filling its vacant seat, the Plymouth-Canton School Board has another important task ahead - choosing a new board president.

The two organizational matters have been necessitated by the resignation of Marcia Borowski, who was elected board president at the July 1 annual organizational meeting.

It is expected that the board will pick a new leader at Monday's school board meeting.

Board Vice President Tom Yack, expected to be the board's choice for replacing Mrs. Borowski, said it was not yet determined when the board would elect its new president.

It could depend, Yack said, on when the new board member was appointed. If that happened Monday night, the board might then proceed to pick the new president, he explained. The board could also pick a new president before appointing someone to the vacancy, Yack added, but as of press time, no plans had been made.

If recall passes, parties pick new candidates

BY CHAS CHILD

In the Canton recall, all the sparks have been flying over whether Supervisor Harold Stein's slate should stay or go.

Little public discussion has been heard as to who will choose their successors if they are removed from office.

There will be no primary, no convention. The party officials will choose the candidates for the special election, should the Steiner's lose.

The vacant positions will be filled temporarily by the remaining members of the Canton Board of Trustees.

But, state law says local officials from the Republican and Democratic parties will choose the candidates special election to be held within 60 days of the Aug. 27 recall vote.

In the Republican Party only two men, James Poole and James Walaskay, compose the entire local committee.

Ernie Fackler, chairman of the 15th Congressional District Republican Party, said these two men will make their recommendations to representatives from the whole district for approval.

"The whole committee has the final say, but the local recommendations are usually accepted," Fackler said.

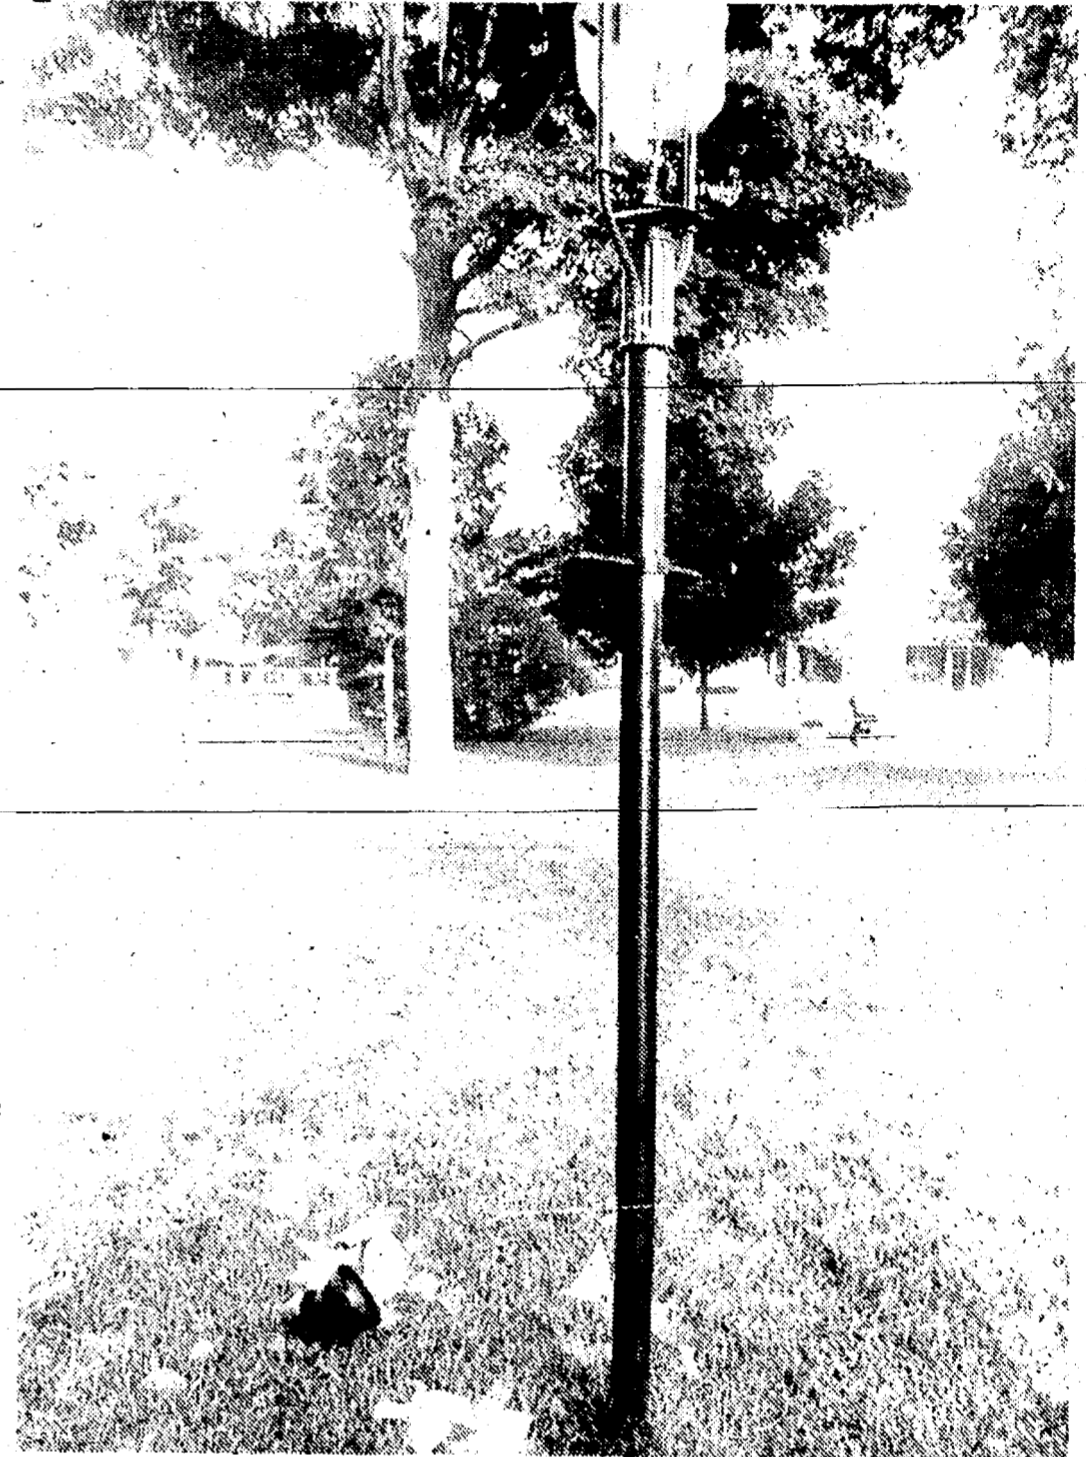

The Democratic Party's procedure is similar. Vincent Petitpren, chairman of the 15th District Democratic Party, said he would choose a committee of at least five from the Democratic precinct delegates to make the recommendations for the candidates.

According to the Wayne County Clerk's office, these delegates are: Darlene B. Protulis, Charles Gorham, Cecelia M. Saja, Susan Ann Dunn, Angie Corrieri, Gerald L. Bodenmiller, Gene W. Reaves, William D. Maloney and Robert E. Greenstein.

Greenstein, who was elected supervisor in 1974, was defeated last year in the Democratic primary by Stein. He waged a write-in campaign for the general election, losing narrowly to Stein and ahead of Republican Peter Bundarin.

The committee's recommendations would again be subject to approval by members of the larger district, but the local endorsements are usually accepted.

ANOTHER KELLOGG PARK gas lamp was vandalized last weekend in the continuing battle between the vandals and the efforts of the City DPW to keep the park in good condition. Tim Roache, Public Works Supervisor for the City, said it costs about $30 - $40 to replace the globes on the lamps. He also cited damage to the sprinkler system in the park. "There seems to be more (vandalism) this summer," he said. It just makes you mad more than anything else. It's a pretty consistent thing - it happens every weekend." (Crier photo by Brian Watkins.)

Petitpren said any Democrat of good standing would be acceptable to him except Greenstein. The former supervisor's write-in campaign against fellow Democrat Stein in last November's election showed that he does not follow the "philosophy of the Democratic Party," Petitpren said.

The 15th District Democratic party, led by Petitpren, endorsed Stein in the general election last November and recently reaffirmed its endorsement for the recall.

James Poole, one of the two local Republican committeemen, lost his trustee seat on the township board in November. Poole also lost to Greenstein in the 1974 supervisor race.

A spokesman for the Wayne County Elections Committee Orville Tungate, said that although the state recall law is unclear, he will accept the candidates names from the chairmen of the two district parties.

He said also, that no third party will be on the ballot because none qualified in the last election.

Write-ins, as usual, will be accepted, he said.

Canton recall quiet; both sides watching closely

BY CHAS CHILD

Other than two flyers from the slate facing recall, the campaign to remove them from office in Canton has been very quiet. Both sides have been watching each other closely, but so far, few speeches, literature, or brouhaha have been evident. A big push in the last week before the Aug. 27 vote, however, is promised by the officials elected eight months ago - Supervisor Harold Stein, Treasurer Anne Bradley and Trustee Eugene Daley - and their recallers.

"We've been looking to see what they will be doing," said Cindy Monks, co-chairman of the Stein recall. "And working on what we've got going." Peter Gabbert, chief of the Stein recall effort, said that he had a "few aces up our sleeve," but declined to say what they were. Monks said they would be revealed in the flyers her group was preparing for distribution this weekend. "We've been shoving the recall down the people's throat for six months," Gabbert said. "We want to give it a rest."

He said he also wanted to give the Canton Police Officers Association (CPOA) a chance to publicize the police millage, also on the Aug. 27 ballot. "If you rush, you make mistakes," Gabbert said. "Our effort will be well thought out. We've been figuring out our direction, and will play out our trump slowly."

The Stein slate made the first major move of the campaign by distributing flyers throughout the township this weekend and last weekend. Entitled "We Deserve to Serve" the flyers state the three officials "8 months of accomplishments" An endorsement of the slate by the Fifteenth Congressional District Democratic Party is included in the literature.

Monks said the flyers were similar to the slate's November campaign literature and contained the same endorsements. "I'm not going to take this lying down," Stein said. "We'll have more literature in our grass roots effort. We're not taking anything for granted."

The slate is planning a public corn roast on Sunday. Lynn LaBell, leader of the effort to recall Bradley and Daley, refused to comment on the campaign.

No sign of mosquitoes

BY CHAS CHILD

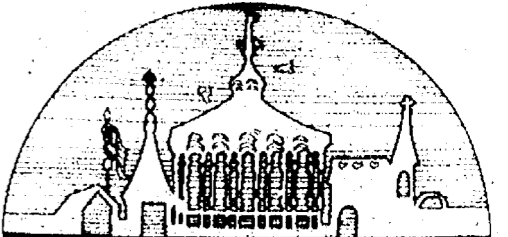

No evidence of mosquito-borne encephalitis in Wayne County has been reported this year, health officials report.

Two years ago, 36 cases of the disease were reported in Wyne, but last year only six were reported in all of Michigan.

Canton Supervisor Harold Stein said he was in contact with the Wayne County Health Department to keep track of developments.

At this time, Canton has no plans to spray for mosquitoes. The county health department recommends these methods to reduce their breeding:

Change water in wading pools daily, fill in low areas of yards that don't drain, check house rain gutters and downspouts for clogging or holding water, keep drainage ditches in front of your property clean, and in general, eliminate all standing or stagnant water.

Notice of Canton Special Election

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CANTON
NOTICE OF
SPECIAL ELECTION
TO THE
QUALIFIED ELECTORS:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A SPECIAL ELECTION WILL BE HELD IN THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CANTON, COUNTY OF WAYNE, STATE OF MICHIGAN, WITHIN SAID TOWNSHIP ON

SATURDAY, AUGUST 27, 1977

AT WHICH TIME THREE RECALL QUESTIONS WILL BE VOTED: AND TO VOTE ON A SPECIAL ASSESSMENT PROPOSITION FOR THE TOWNSHIP.

Reasons for Recall

1. Mr. Stein has consistently proposed and supported policies and programs to undermine the progressive development of Canton.
2. Mr. Stein is seeking to have the Canton Board of Trustees rescind the 1976 Master Land Use Plan.
3. Mr. Stein has refused to support the interest of the homeowners from incompatible land uses that will undermine the property values of their homes.
4. Mr. Stein has initiated the removal of a professional police officer over Canton's Police Force without providing a suitable replacement.
5. Mr. Stein has failed to fulfill his campaign pledge to make Canton's Township government open and not hold secret meetings.
6. Mr. Stein has undermined the effectiveness of his study commissions when they have taken direction opposite from that which he has wanted.

Supervisor's Justification for Action

The above charges are not specific and have no factual merit. Certainly there is no evidence of wrongdoing. I am proud of the accomplishments of my Township administration in the first few months as the choice of the people of Canton. I am weeding politics out of the Police Department and the Zoning Board Open Township meetings are conducted according to law. Better public procedures and public record keeping have been introduced. Township offices are now open to the public Monday nights. I have improved senior citizen activities, public transportation and recreation. Dial-a-Ride has been implemented. I am making good progress toward constructing the Huron Valley Water System without Detroit control.

The 1976 Master Land Use Plan does not provide fair and reasonable compensation to Canton Citizens because sacred property rights were disregarded. Canton's zoning ordinance contradicts the Master Plan I have been conscientiously working to guarantee compatible land use which will increase property values for homeowners. Our new home warranty ordinance further protects homeowners.

As Supervisor, I initiated several committees encouraging citizen input including Police and Land Use. I support those citizen committees by voting for their recommendations.

SHALL HAROLD STEIN BE RECALLED FROM THE OFFICE OF TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR? YES NO

Reasons for Recall

1. Mrs. Bradley has caused a school tax crisis by failing to pursue voter approved concept of limited development and consistently proposed and supported policies and programs to undermine the progressive development of Canton.
2. She has failed to fulfill her campaign pledge to make Canton's government open by limiting public input at township meetings.
3. She has refused to support the interest of homeowners from incompatible land uses that will undermine the property values of their homes.
4. Blatantly ignoring the Attorney General's legal opinions to the detriment of the township.

Treasurer's Justification for Action

The recall charges are not justified and have nothing to do with the factual performance of my job on behalf of all the people of Canton.

I am part of the administration working toward organized growth in Canton Township. I share the opinion of the majority of the Township Planning Commission and the Township Board that the 1976 Master Land Use Plan should be revised because it is not in the interest of Canton homeowners. And my elected office has nothing to do with school taxes which are the responsibility of the independently elected School Board.

For the first time and with unanimous Township Board approval, I voted to tape record meetings for the public record.

For the first time, we have unanimous approval for written Rules of Order. I also pushed for that.

Representing homeowners and other important segments of Canton, we sought and received professional legal advice regarding the Zoning Board of Appeals. We took the case to court and the court ruled against the Attorney General's opinion and the original Zoning Board of Appeals.

SHALL ANNE BRADLEY BE RECALLED FROM THE OFFICE OF TOWNSHIP TREASURER? YES NO

Reasons for Recall

1. Mr. Daley has caused a school tax crisis by failing to pursue voter approved concept of limited development and consistently proposed and supported policies and programs to undermine the progressive development of Canton.
2. He has failed to fulfill his campaign pledge to make Canton's government open by limiting public input at township meetings.
3. He has refused to support the interest of homeowners from incompatible land uses that will undermine the property values of their homes.
4. Blatantly ignoring the Attorney General's legal opinions to the detriment of the township.
5. He, a Wayne County Sheriff lieutenant, has demonstrated substantial conflict of interest by repeatedly voting against the local police force.
6. He has continually supported huge tax expenditures for Wayne County Sheriff's road patrol.

Trustee's Justification for Action

During the first eight months of my elected term as Trustee, I believe I have provided Canton Township with individual initiative and support for the kind of responsible land use which will increase the property values of our homes and improve the quality of life in our community.

As part of the new Township Board, I have been working with the Planning Commission, the Township Planner, the other members of the Township Board, the Building Department, the Zoning Board, legal counsel and Canton homeowners to help assure compatible land uses.

I helped implement tape recorded public Township meetings. I approved taking the original Zoning Board and the Attorney General's opinion to court and I am pleased the People of Canton won.

I have never voted for any tax expenditures, huge or small, for Sheriff Road Patrols. I have used my 20 years of experience as a profession, command-level police officer to vote for establishing the Canton Police Department Study Committee. I voted in favor of adopting committee recommendations. I urged the successful utilization of the Michigan Municipal League to interview for a new Canton Police Chief and other personnel.

SHALL EUGENE DALEY BE RECALLED FROM THE OFFICE OF TOWNSHIP TRUSTEE? YES NO

Special Assessment District To Provide Police Protection

Shall a Special Assessment District comprising the entire area of the Charter Township of Canton be created under the provisions of Public Act 181 of the Public Acts of 1951 to provide police protection for the Township, to defray the cost of the purchase of police motor vehicles, apparatus and equipment, and for the housing, maintenance and operation thereof? City's Sept. sewer bills will show increase

The City of Plymouth September sewer bill will show increased sewer rates the City of Detroit has passed on to its outlying customers to avoid forfeiting $400 million in federal clean water funds.

No matter that the City of Plymouth and surrounding townships of Canton and Plymouth and several others have a case pending against the City of Detroit, in court - it doesn't look as if they can avoid paying the increased rates, which were billed starting Aug. 1.

"Frankly, at this point, we don't know if we are the plaintiffs or the defendants," said City Attorney Charles Lowe. "We don't know our position in the case, although we are now paying the increased rate." The Detroit City Council recently voted to increase city and suburban sewer rates because they are faced with losing the federal monies.

Lowe said suburbs, City of Plymouth included, are being forced to waive the 90-day notice (for increased rates) rights and that Detroit "won't compromise, won't even discuss compromise on the rates."

"I know nothing to tell you how to get out," Lowe told city commissioners. "It's a hard place, 76 other communities are looking for the same answer."

If Detroit loses the $400 million, Detroit sewer customers will be charged their share to clean up what Detroit wasn't able to do and charged for it. "Each community will be assessed for the clean-up," Lowe said.

City Manager, Fred Yockey, said he thought the grant would be extended.

"Detroit is pulling the same old political trick on us," he said. "They want us to think they have us under the gun."

"Other communities have been keeping up with (clean water) standards," said Commissioner Bev McAninch. "We're just going to have to play catch-up. Many have been paying much more than we have for years."

The city commission will return with an ordinance change concerning the sewer rates at their Sept. 12 meeting.

School comp benefits may up district bills

The cost of education in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District could increase by $207,000 in 1978 if a bill now before the Michigan Senate does not pass in its present form, school officials report.

Senate Bill 714, an unemployment compensation proposal, is designed to bring Michigan into compliance with new federal unemployment compensation standards.

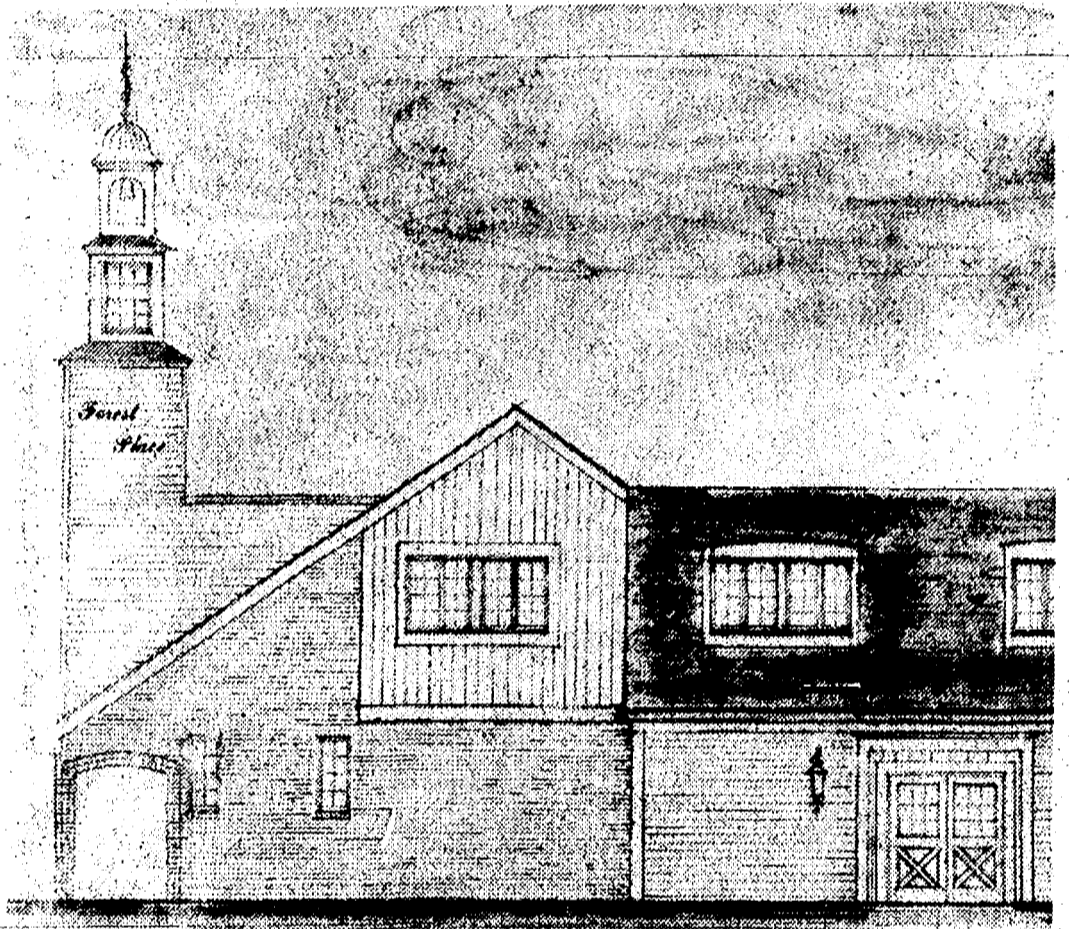

Under current Michigan Law, school employees are not entitled to collect unemployment compensation benefits during the summer months or during the vacation and holiday recesses that occur during the school year. State Bill 714 was amended in the Senate Labor Committee to allow that practice to stand. Without those amendments, however, school employees who are not teachers or administrators will be eligible for benefits during those times.

The new federal unemployment compensation standards do not require the State to extend eligibility to nonprofessional school employees for summers or for holidays and vacation periods that occur within the school year. But the federal standards do make such legislation permissive school officials say.

Figures compiled by the Michigan Association of School Boards and the Michigan Association of School Administrators indicate that without the amendments approved by the Senate Labor Committee, the added cost for implementing S.B. 714 would exceed $64.5 million.

At least some labor leaders have indicated that their members would be willing to support a local millage increase to pay for this increased benefit for nonprofessional school employees.

Approximately 700 employees in this district, who would not otherwise be eligible for unemployment compensation benefits during the summer and in-year vacation periods under Senate Bill 714 as amended, could become eligible if the bill becomes law.

Some little green men visited Canton a couple of weeks ago. Or maybe it was swamp gas. No one really knows, but Clerk John Flodin reports that an unknown woman called him and matter-of-factly described several flying saucers which that night had hovered over her Franklin Palmer Estates subdivision.

"She said they were brightly lit and hovered in the air awhile before finally disappearing," Flodin said.

Yes, Virginia (or whomever you may be), there really is a bogie man.

City tempers flare

While discussing proposed rezoning on parcels of land on North Main Street at Monday's city commission meeting, angry words flew between Mayor Joe Bida and Commissioner John Moehle.

Moehle asked questions on the parcels for clarification and brought up the question of graded separations. Bida objected, saying it had nothing to do with the proposed rezonings.

"Don't bring up that crap," said Bida.

"May I continue, Mr. Mayor," said Moehle.

"Sure, you can continue," said Bida. "You never say anything anyway."

At that point, Anthony Licata, representative of the Plymouth Civic Federation said from his seat in the audience,

"Mr. Mayor, the purpose of the moderator is not to criticize."

"You - I've already told you what I think of you," Bida said to him.

"You have," Licata replied, "and I intend to bring that up later on this meeting."

Commissioners Bev McAninch and Moehle later voted "no" on a proposed public hearing for the rezoning and the meeting resumed without further exchanges.

Both Bida and Moehle are running for re-election to the city commission this November.

Existing Canton cops to get preference

Fears among Canton's part-time police officers that they would not be first in line for full-time jobs when and if the force expands were allayed by the supervisor and new police chief last week.

Walter MacGregor, the newly-hired police chief, told the officers that they would be given "consideration and possible preferential treatment" for full-time jobs.

Supervisor Harold Stein said he assured John Longridge, president of the Canton Police Officers Association (CPOA) that they would get preferential treatment at a meeting Thursday afternoon.

"It's only fair," Stein said.

MacGregor said that "I don't want anybody to think they have anything in the bag. They have to be qualified, and they're going to have to compete."

"We're qualified," Longridge said. After meeting with Stein he said he was confident "our officers will get the jobs as they become available."

If the police millage on the Aug. 27 recall ballot passes, township officials have said there will be at least some full-time positions created.

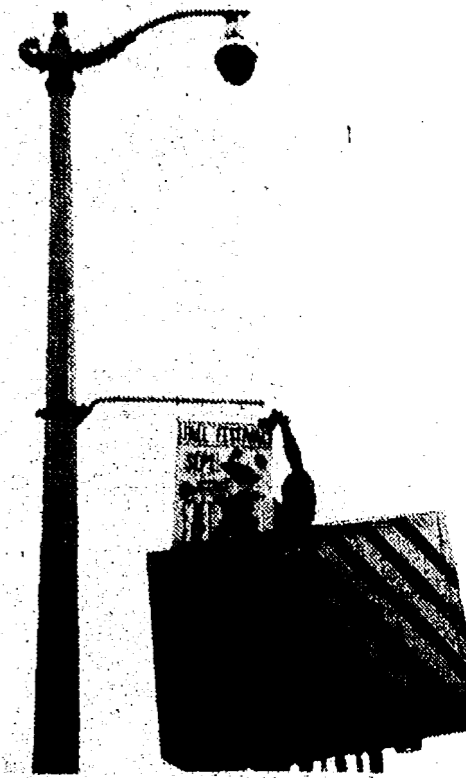

"We will give the Canton officers preferential treatment, but it is too early to tell what form of treatment that will be. The decisions have not been made yet," MacGregor said.

"The millage is the crux of the whole thing. If that passes, then we can get going," he said.

Stein also said the CPOA's concern was premature. "Only when the millage passes can be make the decisions of who and how many will be hired. You can't second guess these things."

Just before Longridge's meeting with Stein, sources said there was some question whether the CPOA would continue its campaign supporting the approval of the millage.

Longridge said after the meeting that the CPOA still supported the millage. Also, he said he was glad MacGregor had been hired and thought he was very qualified.

Township residents convince board not to install sidewalks

Sidewalks are "ugly" and they "devalue" home properties. Besides, "nobody uses them. Why put in concrete slivers that lead to nowhere? Children walking to school don't use them, they use the street."

Those sentiments and others were voiced at the Plymouth

Township board of trustee meeting last week when homeowners of Beacon Estates No. 4 and 5 voiced strong disapproval of township installing sidewalks in front of their homes.

"My kids don't use them, I don't use them, what's their use," said one homeowner.

City bakery owner guilty of tax charge

A Canton man pleaded guilty Friday in a Detroit court to failure to pay the government income and social security taxes he withheld from his employees, the U.S. Attorney's office reports.

Howard Wendel, of Versailles Street in Canton, owner of Terry's Bakery on Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth, pleaded guilty to one count of a nine count charge leveled against him by the Internal Revenue Service for not paying $1,780 into six employees funds from Nov. 5, 1975 to Dec. 29, 1975, the Attorney's office said.

Counts one and three through nine will be dismissed upon sentencing which will be in about two months.

The charges could carry up to one year in jail or a $5,000 fine.

"I just bought a house there and if I had thought sidewalks were to be put in, I wouldn't have bought that house," said another. "Now what do I do with the money I've already invested in it?"

Township Clerk, Helen Richardson said the township was always caught in the middle when sidewalks were not put in.

"We'll be hung in later years when the walks aren't in," said Richardson. "A school may be built there later on, what will children walk on to get there?"

Eventually a sort of compromise was reached.

The board passed a resolution saying requirements for sidewalks in Beacon Estates 4 and 5 would be waived for three years after the last house was sold - and then sidewalks could be put in only on the approval of the majority of residents in the two subs.

The resolution passed 6-1 with Clerk Richardson voting "no".

Absentee ballots close soon

Canton township officials report that the last day for requests for absentee ballots for the Aug. 27 election is Aug. 20 up to 2 p.m.

Any person qualified to vote absentee can vote in person at the Township Clerk's office before 2 p.m. up to the day before the election (Aug. 26), excepting Sundays and legal holidays. If you are qualified, you can receive your absentee ballot and vote in the clerk's office at the same time.

Canton revising cop rules

BY CHAS CHILD

Canton's new police chief, Walter MacGregor, was instructed to write new rules and regulations for the police department by the Board of Trustees last Tuesday.

Trustee Eugene Daley, a Wayne County Sheriff, said the present rules, written for Canton's all-reserve force, are inadequate.

"I foresee at least some full-time officers even if the millage fails, and the present rules aren't complete for a full-time department," he said.

On the recall ballot Aug. 27, voters will be asked to give the township permission to levy a police millage. The millage is aimed, officials said, at starting a full-time force.

Daley said the rules will cover conduct of officers, responsibilities of each rank, proper uniform, etc.

700 attend memorial concert

More than 700 persons attended the memorial concert Saturday for six Plymouth Canton youths killed recently in a car crash.

"We were very pleased with the crowd," said Sylvia Mullen, one of the concert organizers. "It was amazing, we recognized former high school students there, too."

Mullen said about $450 was collected, and that donations are still being accepted at a special post office box: Box 584, Plymouth, 48170.

"Right now, we don't know what the money will be used for," she said. "We would like it to go to the parents and let them decide where it should go."

"The 'people's band' was superb," Mullen said. "It was made up of all stage bands from this year and a few classes back. The crowd was especially quiet when Mark Even sang the song he wrote especially for them. You could tell the words meant a lot."

Major dinners will highlight Fall Fest again this year

The carefully cooked cuisine of the "Big-5" service clubs at every Fall Festival is the result of time, talent, and planning.

For Colonial Kiwanis member Doug Blunk, activity starts long before the group's Italian dinner opens for serving at Thursday noon in Kellogg Park.

Blunk heads the kitchen committee. Assisted by nine fellow Kiwanians, Blunk prepares a spaghetti sauce that has become a festival favorite.

"But don't ask for the recipe," warns the cook. "It's a pinch of this and a pinch of that."

But even without his recipe, Blunk claims that the taste of the sauce is quite consistent. "It's a little bit like the queen's jubilee - it's been accepted exceptionally well."

The actual food preparation begins on Wednesday night and many Kiwanians will rise as early as 4 a.m. Thursday morning to have the food ready at noon.

The biggest problem for the cooks, according to Blunk, has been keeping the noodles warm outdoors. The best method is to pre-cook the spaghetti, blanch it, and then dip it in hot water before pouring the hot sauce over it. The group usually aims for 2,500 servings.

Planning for the dinner began early this year under the direction of Colonial Kiwanian Dick Raison. Featured with the spaghetti will be salad, roll and butter, beverage, and ice cream - all for $3. Tickets purchased in advance are $2.75.

On Friday, the master organizers, the Plymouth Lion's Club sponsor their annual Fish Dinner.

Frank Tanner is general chairperson of this year's operation. He oversees the activities of twelve different committees.

"Everything is all figured out in advance," says Tanner.

"Everyone has a job and knows exactly what to do."

Last year the Lion's boasted a serving line that prepared over 3,200 dinners with never more than a six or seven minute wait. Tanner says the Lions - a 55 member club and their families participate to keep the operation running smooth.

While the men cook the perch, their wives 'man' the serving line.

Included with the fish is coleslaw, roll and butter, french fries and beverage. Cost of the seaworthy meal is $3 with the special rate of $2 for senior citizens.

For expert pancake making, the Masonic Temple is the place to be all day Saturday. From 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. a group of dedicated Kiwanians keep the pancakes hot and rolling.

Pancake festival organizer, Don Tripp says the trick of serving is having enough experienced men and plenty of hot grills. Kiwanians claim their pancakes are prepared on demand. They are never served cold.

Last year, the Kiwanians served over 2,700 guests. Dinners include all the pancakes you can eat, sausage, and beverage. Tickets are $1.75 in advance and $2 at the door.

Saturday is also a long day for the Plymouth Jaycees and the Jayettes. The group gathers at 7 a.m. and by the time they have finished the clean-up, it is usually past 11 p.m.

Bob Tamske is president of this year's dinner.

The Jayettes dish up the coleslaw and box the barbecued beef at the serving lines. The men do the cooking and the ordering.

Barbecuing all that beef requires over 1500 pounds of charcoal, according to purchasing chairmen, Bob Jarmol. He has also ordered 3,700 ears of corn, 850 pounds of coleslaw, 3,700 pounds of short ribs along with rolls, butter, napkins, milk, salt and pepper.

The price of the dinner is $3.50 and $3 for senior citizens.

Sunday, of course, is the granddaddy of them all - the Rotary Chicken Barbecue. The Fall Festival evolved from a small Rotary picnic held in 1956. Today, the barbecue is one of the largest mass dinners in the nation.

Due to the efforts of Wilford and Guy Bunyea, and Oakie Hamlin, the club even has its own corn crop which is harvested just in time for the festival.

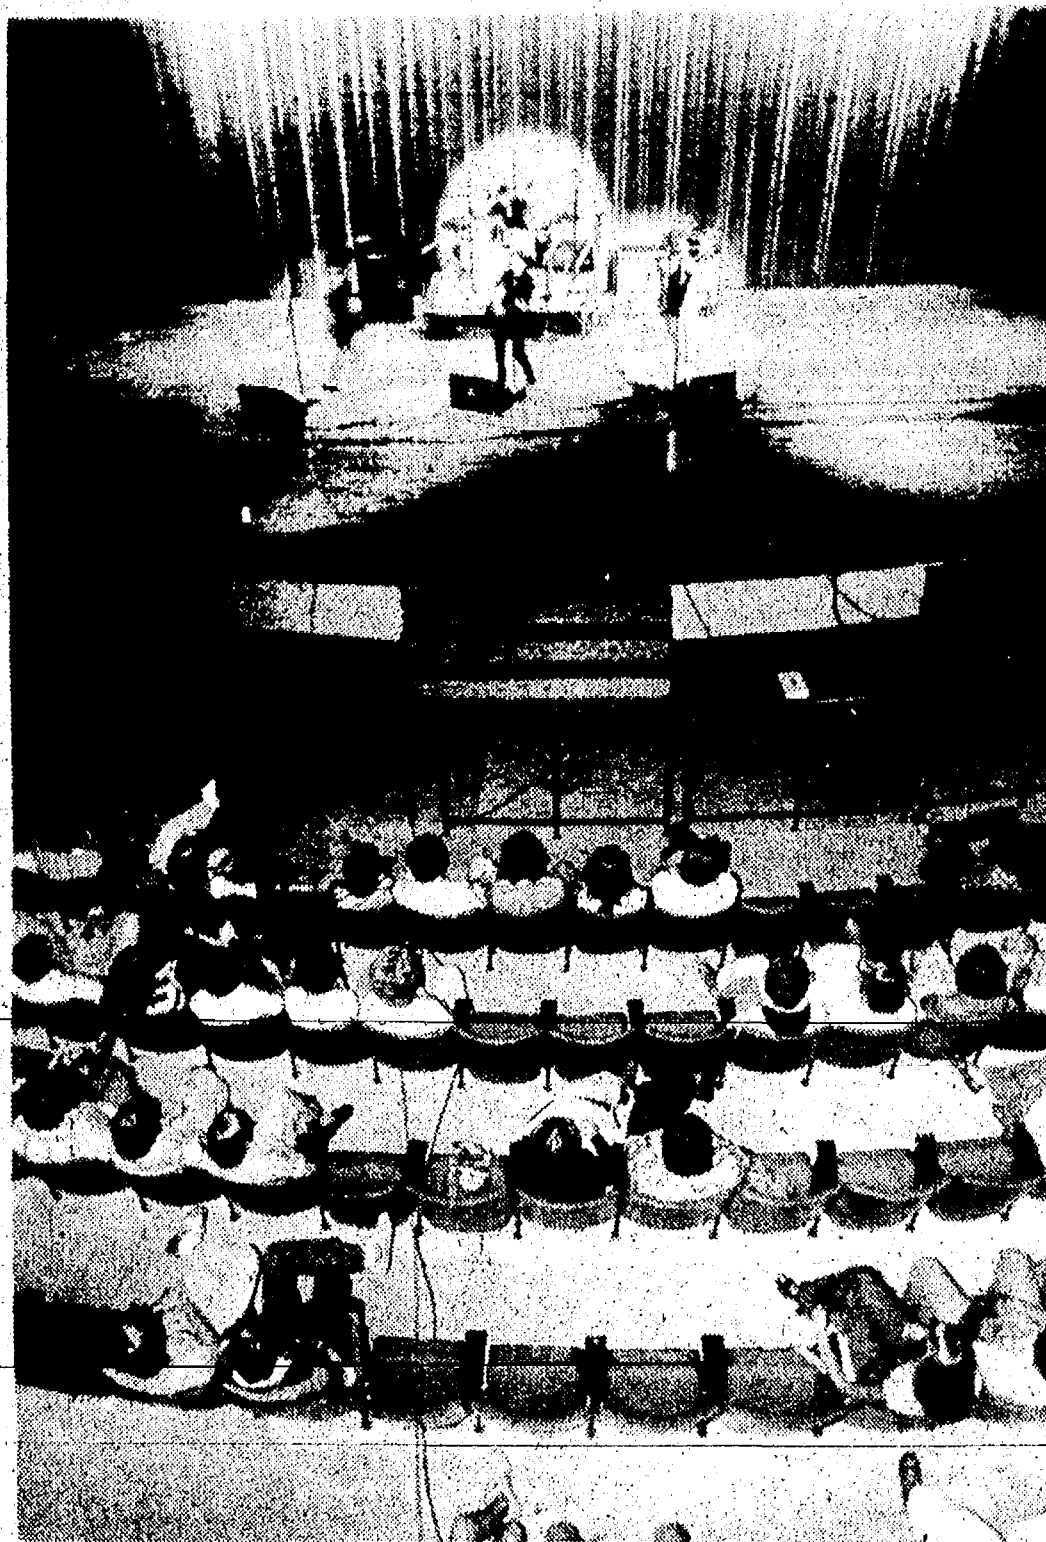

The Bunyeas and Mr. Hamlin make two or three plantings each to guarantee a ripe crop for the festival. When the corn looks good and yellow, the farmers gather family, neighbors and volunteers to husk and prepare over 16,000 ears.

Four years ago, the Rotarians tried using frozen corn for the festival which was brought from outside the Plymouth-Canton area. Use of the imported crop lasted only one year. The organization soon switched back to the homegrown taste of the local variety.

The Canton area is known statewide for its delicious, savory corn.

Wilford Bunyea is also on hand at the festival to cook the corn with his steam engine. Bunyea usually runs the steam engine while four or five others add the corn.

Along with the corn, Rotarians will be serving chicken, rolls with butter, beverage and ice cream. The price is $3 and chairperson for this year's dinner is Jim Carney.

Housewives are citizens, Mr. Apigian

Ned Apigian, the developer of "The Center," a huge sports complex planned for Canton told The Crier recently that approval of the project should be taken out of "housewife politics."

No matter how worthy a project, or how architecturally pleasing, all developments affecting the township should be subject to the approval of its citizens. Including housewives, Mr. Apigian.

After all, we all have to live here.

Police needs outweigh extra tax burden

Canton's voters can give their police department a badly needed first step towards a fulltime force if they approve the police millage on the Aug. 27 recall ballot.

No accurate estimates are yet available on how much protection the millage will provide, but the voters must accept the responsibility to create a full-time, professional force and this millage will take that first step.

Especially in the light of the inadequate protection provided by the Wayne County Sheriff Department, Canton can no longer put off the inevitable.

The sheriff has only three patrols for seven Wayne County townships which stretch 24 miles between the Monroe and Oakland County lines.

A solid step in the right direction was taken when the township hired a new full-time chief.

Walter MacGregor has been praised by the police chiefs of the City of Plymouth and Northville Township and by the president of the Canton Police Officers Assoc., John Longridge.

MacGregor also helped the Wayne Police Department grow from a small force to a large, full-service organization, and could help Canton's do the same. We therefore urge Canton's voters to approve the millage. True, voters are asked to bear an ever-increasing tax burden, but this service is critical to a burgeoning community like Canton.

The township's force now patrols in the evenings and on the weekend with 15 parttime and 15 reserves. We don't doubt that many of these men are dedicated professionals, but there's no substitute for full-time, career officers.

One thing that the voters should keep in mind however, is that they are not voting on the size of the millage Aug. 27 (despite what one other newspaper said. They are only giving the township the right to tax them for the police.

The township board has resolved to levy "up to two mills," but they are not legally bound to this.

State law allows up to 10 mills and the board theoretically could levy this amount after they have the right to tax. This is unlikely, though. It would be capriciously breaking the public trust.

Under a similar set-up, the township board recently reduced its levy for fire millage.

For the extra money needed to start a fulltime force, we urge the township to vigorously pursue federal funds earmarked for local law enforcement - particularly for startup costs.

Police protection has always been costly. But the price of trying to get by without it is costlier.

Growth control robs landowner's pension

EDITOR:

C. Child wrote a very good and enlightening article on the Canton Growth Plan. He seems to have a very good insight in the problem that is facing Canton Township.

We have the "old timers" who have held on to their land as an investment and in most cases the only pension plan they have and on the other side we have the "new people" who moved in on land that the tax money from the "old timers" developed.

Now the "new people" don't like the crowded conditions that they made and since they see open land around, have been led to believe that the open land is free to them and really does not belong to anyone. It is just there.

I am considered one of the "old timers". My husband and I bought some land in Canton years ago. The payments we made on it were as hard to make as the people in the subdivisions have to make on their homes. We had hoped that we might be able to sell our land for our retirement.

We paid high taxes for the last ten years for the development of the east side. We farmed it as long as we could, now we can no longer farm it. The rent for this land pays a very small percentage of the taxes, since our taxes are based on its potential and that is development.

So we have been caught in the squeeze. No one will buy it, neither can we farm it, yet our taxes go on every year and you know if you don't pay your taxes you will lose your land. I have met many nice "new people" and have talked to them about the condition. They have all told me that they had no idea that some people were being hurt by their vote to retain the farm land to down zone it to agriculture land.

Now I am all in favor in giving the farms who still farm their land a tax break. Had this been done years ago a lot of farms would never have been sold. Many farmers were forced out of Canton because of the high taxes. But what of the people who can no longer farm? I feel that we have a right to sell our land the same way the people in the subdivisions have a right to sell their house if they choose.

When the vote went through to down zone the west side as farm land, the value of the land was cut in half. Why is it that when a builder tries to build a smaller home near a better subdivision, the whole subdivision is up in arms because the value of their investment is threatened. Why is it any different than our investment? I cannot believe that the "new people" are insensitive to our threatened loss. They just don't understand the situation.

I have asked some of the "new people" if they wanted to buy our land and they seemed very much surprised to think they might have to pay for it. I asked them who they thought should pay for it and they admitted they never gave it a thought. It was there and open and they just assumed it was free for the taking.

Even though I have never met her, I am sure Mrs. LaBell would not want anyone to lose their investment, no more than I would want her to lose her investment in her home. I understand her problem, she sees her taxes going up every year, the same way we have. She has one advantage that we don't have, she can sell her home and move away and we cannot. Her husband is probably covered under a pension plan where he works and our pension is our land. Can you imagine what would happen in the future, say two years before her husband is to retire, some other people come along and vote his pension away from him.

ISABEL SPIGARELLI

Protection costs 5¢

What are you - the consumer - willing to pay for representation of your interests in Washington?

Does a nickel sound like too much; how about two nickels? A stalled bill, HR 6805, would create a federal agency for the protection of consumers (read - everyone who eats, buys clothes, drives cars, and the like).

It looks like a good thing. The measure would establish an agency that could advocate consumer interests before other federal agencies, that could provide the public information on consumer matters, and that could act as a clearinghouse for consumer complaints.

It would also save the consumer offices of some 37 different federal agencies.

All this can be accomplished on a budget of $15 million for the first year. As President Carter's consumer advisor, Esther Peterson put it, the sum is about what it costs to run the Pentagon for 90 minutes.

President Carter supports the bill. He cites it as an example of streamlining government:

This agency will be a small effective group, its purpose will be to plead the consumer's case within the government. It will not require major additions to the government's size or operations; in significant part, it can be established by drawing together resources now scattered throughout the government. It will not be another regulatory agency. Its purpose is to improve the way rules, regulations, and decisions are made and carried out, rather than issuing new rules itself.

The consumer supports the bill. A Harris poll shows that 52% of American consumers favor the measure. Thirty four percent do not; the rest were undecided.

Oddly enough, even many big corporations have supported the bill - at least until this month. Several major business supports have withdrawn recently; presumably bowing to pressure created by the business interests lobbying against the bill.

Who are against it? Leading the campaign against the bill are the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the National Assoc. of Mfg. and the Grocery Manufacturers Association.

Opponents of the bill say it would create a new, costly level of bureaucracy that would be capable of wielding "unprecedented powers in the consumers interest."

Big business is afraid of the bill and is starting to engage in a classic case of clouding the issue by setting up a big government vs. big business debate. Somehow the consumer is left out. Just as big business prefers.

Don't let it happen. And this brings us back to the nickel.

Consumer advocates, including a Ralph Nader group and the Consumers Union, estimate that the cost of the Consumers Protection Agency to each American consumer would be about five cents. To express your support for the measure they suggest that you send a nickel to your representative to show that you are willing to spend a nickel for the agency now as well as later.

Since U.S. Rep. William Ford, whose district includes Canton and U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell whose district includes Plymouth and Plymouth Township are not super supporters of the bill, your nickels and their votes count. Ford supports the concept and Pursell wants to see what the latest round of amendments does to it.

They both could go either way. And your nickel could show them that you want the agency.

After all, what's a dime? It certainly will not buy a cup of coffee, but this one might insure that the cup you buy in the future will be poured with your consuming interests in mind.

Send your nickel to Rep. Ford at 2368 Rayburn House Office Building, and to Rep. Pursell at 1709 Longworth House Office Building. Both are in Washington, D.C. 20515. Be sure to accompany your nickel with a letter saying you feel HR 6805 should be approved.

Editors note: Charles R. Tuori, is The Community Crier's Washington, D.C. bureau head.

Casualties mount

Drive slowly

If the recent traffic related fatalities affecting the Plymouth-Canton Community haven't caused you to be more careful when you drive, please think about them again.

Seven persons have died here in the past three weeks due to carelessness on the roads.

It may be impossible to avoid having any accidents at all, but many times mishaps can be avoided simply by exercising extra caution and by using common sense, defensive driving techniques.

While it may be gruesome to see the tragic news (it's even worse to have to track down and report the details), awareness of the repercussions from bad driving should make us all more careful on the road.

'McAninch speaks with forked tongue'

EDITOR:

Commissioner McAninch speaks with forked tongue and writes with poison pen. She makes herself vulnerable in letters to the editor of both local papers. Also to the planning board.

Both accusations about a gift of half a block on Maple Street and the city selling me parking credits at a fraction of the cost are lies. Thus, Bev. McAninch, you are a liar and I challenge you take me before a judge.

If you had the decency to ask your city attorney about the facts in either charge, you wouldn't be assassinating my character deliberately. Defamation is involved.

The Master Plan by the city resulted in closing 14 streets in Plymouth. I had purchased eight old houses and a garage for sites on Maple Street; four on one side and four on the other. The master plan was to close the portion on Maple Street. When that happens the street automatically will go back to the owners; one half to one party and the other half to the other. All affected property owners were notified by letter and legal publication. Not one objection, all were glad that the noisy raceway was closed. That portion of the street that was closed was placed on the tax roll.

Elm Street to Sheldon, three doors from where you live in Hough Subdivision was also closed. Everyone in your neighborhood must enjoy the lack of through traffic and the nice private park with swings. I have no objections. Incidentally, your street did not get back on the tax roll. (People in glass houses shouldn't throw stones.)

Regarding parking credits. I never owned, asked for, needed or bought one single parking credit from the city. Check the treasurer's office. However, I have built, paved and improved (at my expense), over 180 parking stalls across from the hotel. They are all on the tax roll and are heavily taxed. I have, for years been a large financial contributor and fund raiser in the central lot, voluntarily. I am one of five merchants surrounding the Wiedman Lot, and we gifted the city with $86,000.

If you call that a fraction, show me any other 50 contributors that matched that. Also the city put meters on the lot. In 1948 the local merchants cooperated with the city and agreed to street meters. The money to be ear marked for future parking lots and acquisitions. The $86,000 contributions and notes we signed were a gift, we purchased nothing, and the title is in the city's name. None of us were required to do so.

Community opinions

Regarding parking deck and air rights, all I asked Monday night from the city commissioners, especially you, was an attitude expression.

Remembering well your snub of the new bank building, you were invited as mayor, to come to a preview with the planning board, other commissioners, bank officials and my mortgage man. A very critical meeting for me.

You took one fast look at the model with no emotion, said to a group of us "well, I have other things to do, I am going to give a speech to a group of women voters," turned on your heels and walked out. Others came and apologized for you. My mortgage man wished me well. You almost scuttled that project for me.

Then when the bank finally received its license and a very nice opening party planned, you were especially invited. Again, you were conspicuous with your absence. It was a great occasion and many people came, but not Bev.

To this day, ever since the new bank building has been opened, the Manley, Bennett Building, the new motel you as the commissioner, mayor, or private citizen have not had one word of congratulations, encouragement or praise to make about the recycling of that part of the downtown.

These were the first big privately owned building improvements in 25 years of Plymouth.

Your policy has been to bad mouth the downtown "No leadership downtown," you say?? You and your handy man killed the loop road concept after the city spent over $50,000 for planning.

Your weasel wording on the recent senior citizens building destroyed their hopes. There is a need here. Under the guise of high rise you helped defeat it. However, a few years ago, you, as a commissioner had agreed to a 12 story high rise apartment and commercial complex with a group of Texan investors, which included multi-deck parking. I have your signature on that proposal, just why can't you do it for your own people?

You and your friend have discouraged more tax base in the downtown area than all the other commissioners in Plymouth history.

One half of the loop road is now functioning, starting by the credit union crossing Main Street and absorbing the traffic from the bank and the motel and Meetinghouse. It has cost the tax payers nothing, the other half should cost the same. If you would only tell the facts. Only the people on the loop are concerned financially if they want to be. No one else should pay.

The downtown can be the tax base you need to replace the industrial Exodus. Your downtown is glowing, - - Penniman Avenue, Forest Mall, the new Salem type shops and more planned. Every merchant has been swimming upstream the last few years. You should look upon us as prospects not suspects. More goods on our shelves to be taxed, the less your taxes will be. Other cities are soliciting merchants to come and are offering a bonus.

Back to the beginning. Monday night I asked for an attitude expression only from the commissioners. I was given a 7-0 expression by everyone. Tuesday afternoon on city stationary and addressed from you came this letter to the editor. If this letter is meant to recind your attitude vote on Monday night, then I too will withdraw my offer I made to the city and go elsewhere.

The next move is yours. My family and I are investing over $2 million in the downtown of Plymouth, mortgaged of course. We have been firm believers in Plymouth since 1921. My roots are deep, so don't try to pull them up. I graduated from Plymouth High School and so did my six children. That is before it was Salem. Why don't you take that as a project and get our high school's name back. We in the downtown area need, once in a while, a smile and at least a thank you, we are trying to make Plymouth the place to be.

Before we can continue to negotiate I wanted to be sure your accusations are corrected. The city is looking at a $9,000 a year income and the school about the same, all for air rights, plus gaining a parking deck for $170,000. You are picking this project apart in order to delay it for the next commission. I am familiar with the act. I will stand for no part of it. This commission should make the decision and should either accept or reject it as soon as possible.

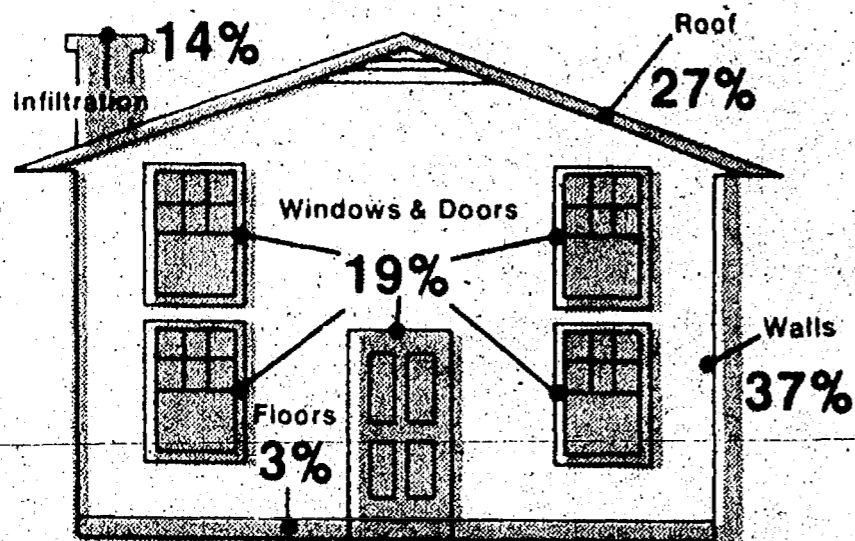

Bev, maybe you could be a good commissioner, you certainly are a good investigator, you gather a lot of facts, but too often come to the wrong conclusions.

I must quit as my parking meter just ran out of time. YES - I pay.

No money Only support for cops

EDITOR:

The Canton Chamber of Commerce was recently contacted by Mr. Dan Antieau and Ms. Kathy Petres of the Canton Police Officers Assoc. (CPOA), requesting financial support for the campaign regarding an issue on the Aug. 27 ballot to establish a special assessment district for police protection in Canton. They attended our regular board of directors meeting on Aug. 3.

Also attending this meeting was Mr. Carl Silvers, who requested the chamber of commerce's moral support on this issue.

The chamber office has taken a telephone poll to survey the membership on their feelings on this issue. This office contacted a majority of members (75%) to obtain their opinions.

The chamber will support the establishment of a special assessment district to provide police protection for the whole of Canton Township.

However, the majority of the members polled did not favor financial support, the executive board recommends personal contact with the business community by the CPOA.

Loop plan far-sighted

EDITOR:

Permit me to congratulate you on the splendid presentation you made in the Aug. 3 issue of The Crier, relative to the proposed improvements in the loop area of downtown Plymouth.

Rahter than pick flaws and criticise proposed improvements of the business section of Plymouth, I would suggest our commission look to the future, in place of immediate circumstances.

Long after the present commission has ceased to exist, Plymouth will continue to be a city of homes, it will have all the niceties of what constitutes worthwhile living. Ralph Lorenz has presented to the City fathers a method of expansion that will reflect on the far-sighted judgment of this governing body. May they have the foresight to see the light.

WILLIAM C. HARTMANN
Mayor, 1948-49.

McAninch deliberately ignores facts for her own political purposes

EDITOR:

I wish to respond to Commissioner McAninch's public letter to the City Planning Commission. I find it discouraging that she continues to mislead the public by half-truths and totally untrue statements shrouded with the pretense of authority. What respect can the public have in the City Commission when one of its own members does such a disservice to the people she is supposed to represent?

Let me illustrate:

1. With respect to the proposed Mayflower expansion proposal, my motion was for the Planning Commission to study the zoning implications of air rights, and the City Attorney to review the legality of the granting of air rights. Commissioner McAninch's amendment directed the Planning Commission to explore relative costs of air rights, bonding and payment guarantees.

I categorically deny that my vote against her amendment, in any way, represented a vote against careful review of all aspects of the proposal. As anyone at the meeting can attest, a lengthy discussion of the type of information that would be required was held prior to my original motion. I voted against her amendment solely on the basis that it was being directed to the wrong body.

We have a competent City Administration, Legal Advisor and Municipal Building Authority to provide the City Commission these data. This amendment should never have been directed to the Planning Commission, consequently, I could not go along with the amendment as presented.

2. A rushed hearing on tax abatement? I don't agree. The Commission was initially exposed to the Forest City Dillon project in early 1976 and the tax abatement public hearing was not held until August 13, 1976. I might add that while Commissioners McAninch and Moehle fought the project they never suggested a referendum. I called for the special meeting to put the question of tax abatement to the vote of the people.

3. She states that the next City Commission (not the present one) should act on the Lorenz Motel proposal. Obviously she intends to delay this project as she has all other projects to help the downtown. Our downtown gives Plymouth its identity - why does she consistently oppose all downtown proposals?

4. She states that the City gave Ralph Lorenz a block of Maple Street. The fact is that Maple Street was vacated by the City. Vacated alleys and streets go to the abutting property owners. This is not a point of generosity to Ralph Lorenz but a point of law by precedent.

5. She states that Mr. Lorenz was sold parking credits at a fraction of their costs. The fact is that he and several of the adjacent property owners gave the City $86,000 toward the purchase of the Weidman Lot.

In return, the City awarded these individuals parking credits based on a cost of $1,000 each rather than the $600, which the City was asking for parking credits in the Central Parking lot at that time.

I can understand a new Commissioner making untrue and misleading statements out of ignorance, but Commissioner McAninch deliberately ignores the facts in her public statements for her own political purpose.

Short and sweet: yes on recall

This will be short and sweet. After seeing Mr. Stein, Mr. Daley and Mrs. Bradley in action, I will be more than happy to vote "yes" for their recall, I will also encourage others to do the same.

MARYANN STARK

Plymouth, Canton All Stars superb

EDITOR:

I just wanted to publicly thank all the players representing The Plymouth Slow Pitch All Stars in their game of Thursday, Aug. 4, against the Canton League All Stars. Of the two squads, I personally think the defensive plays by the Plymouth All Stars were more spectacular. However, both squads played outstanding softball as was evidenced by the ten inning game, that see-sawed back and forth.

Every player to a man on the Plymouth All Star Team were true sportsmen, and should be proud to have represented their teams and Plymouth. For men to be arch rivals during the regular season to join forces and play as one team, helping and encouraging each man on, is indicative of the reason our league exists: Sportsmanship and Recreation.

I only hope I did not offend any player or team in the manner I managed our team and am extremely pleased to have been a part of what I hope will be an annual event.

Plymouth Symphony: 32 years of harmony

BY DAWN M. BOEGLER

The need to quench the thirst for cultural refinement and the love and appreciation of good music created the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra 32 years ago here.

The first director, Paul Wagner, joined a number of other Plymouth notables, including Rev. Henry Walch, and formed the Plymouth Symphony in 1946. The first Symphony presentation was brought to the Plymouth-Canton Community on April 20, 1947.

After five years, Wayne Dunlap became the director and when the Symphony celebrated its 30th birthday two years ago, Dunlap celebrated his 25th year with them.

Along with the Symphony is the Plymouth Symphony Society (the managing group of the symphony) and the Symphony League (the fund raisers of the Symphony).

"The Society runs the business of the Symphony making the determinations and covering the paper work," said Fran Lang, a long-time member of the League. "In the League we do the fund-raising events to help support the Symphony."

The League has pledged $6,000 toward defraying the costs of the Symphony. When those costs total over $30,000, Lang pointed out, the pledge is very important.

"It will take all of our fund-raising activities to make that pledge," she said. "We have our Round-Robin Bridge, Pops Concert and Antique Mart coming up - along with the Symphony Ball."

The Symphony Ball dates back to the early days of the Symphony and began as an informal dance in East Junior High (now East Middle School) with punch and cookies for refreshments and an incredible ticket price of $2.75.

"Now it's held at the Mayflower Hotel, very formal, and with a ticket price of around $30 per couple," Lang said.

To be a society member, one needs to have a season ticket to the Symphony. Some ticket holders are from out of state.

But the League is open to anyone who wishes to join them.

"We are five groups of women working for a common goal - and the Symphony is our goal," she said. "We have a lot of fun that goes along with the hard work too."

The Symphony also receives support from the Michigan Council for the Arts and long-time symphony members like Bill Beitner who has played his trumpet with the Symphony since the second year of its existence.

"We're about 90 members strong," said Beitner, "and we are a very close-knit group under the direction of Wayne Dunlap."

"It's been an absolute joy being a part of the Symphony and I know of no other place where one could play the caliber and amount of music that we play," Beitner said.

Beitner expressed a special feeling of "friendship and togetherness" in the group of musicians and says it is amazing how a group of people can come together singly and produce such a "tremendous whole."

He said it mainly has to do with the musical and organizational talents of Dunlap.

The Symphony will begin its 32nd season on October 16 with The New World String Quartet, newly formed in 1974 but already demanding attention.

A touch of cultural refinement is in store for the young-at-heart, when the Symphony will present Hansel and Gretel in connection with the Piccolo Opera Company in December.

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra is something for everyone. The music they play doesn't limit the orchestra to just the Plymouth-Canton community. "We're here for everyone," said Lang. "We want everyone to enjoy our music."

Symphony sells antiques

Grandmother called it "furniture," mother called it "junk," but today people scour the countryside and lovingly refurbish "antiques."

Taking their cue from this trend, the Plymouth Symphony League will present its 15th annual Antique Mart at the 1977 Plymouth Community Fall Festival.

Antiques from twenty dealers will be featured along with antique appraisals by Rae Choma, a certified Michigan appraiser. Visitors can admire the mellow patina of aged oak, savor a delicate porcelain, or run their hands over plush velvet.

The mart will be held at the Plymouth Cultural Center on Friday, Sept. 9 and Saturday, Sept. 10, from noon to 9 p.m. On Sunday the mart will run from noon to 7 p.m. Donations are $1. Proceeds from the show will go to the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

Circulating among the antique booths will be the women of the Symphony League, dressed in costumes reminiscent of the Shaker period.

League members begin planning for the mart in January. The general chairpersons for this year's event are Fran Lang and Joyce Kelly. Assisting the chairpersons are Jean Sigmen, treasurer; Helen Merrill, dealers; Mary Smith, Marian Waterhouse, hostesses; Carol Pastori, dealer signs and decorations; Judy Dahlberg, set up and clean up; Ruth Paul and Evelyn Funk, posters, fliers and programs; Alice Smith and Wanda Nash, publicity.

High school schedules set

Students who will be attending Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem High Schools may pick up their class schedules according to the following schedule:

Ninth grade - Wed., Aug. 24, 8 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.; 12th grade, Wed., Aug. 24, 12:30 - 2:30 p.m.; 10th grade - Thurs., Aug. 25, 8 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.; 11th grade, Thurs., Aug. 25, 12:30 - 2:30 p.m.; ninth through twelfth, Friday, Aug. 26, 9 a.m. to noon.

It is important that students report at the appropriate time to pick up their schedules school officials said. Identification pictures will be taken. All students are required to have a picture I.D. card, and must turn in their health emergency card prior to receiving their schedules. A copy of the emergency card has been mailed to each student.

Canton students will pick up their schedules in the Canton cafeteria. Salem students will pick up their schedules in the lower commons at Salem. If you have any questions, call 453-3100 for more information.

Griffin Park hearing tonight

Anyone who has ideas for the development of Canton's Griffin Community Park can speak at a public hearing tonight.

Plans for the complete development of the park will be presented by professional park planners tonight at 7 p.m. at the Canton Fire Hall, 128 Canton Center Rd.

Chester Hill, a park planner from Ann Arbor hired by the township, said his proposed plan calls for three additional ball diamonds, eight tennis courts, handball and shuffleboard courts and play areas on the acre park.

The final plan will be presented to the board of trustees Tuesday for its approval.

Frank McMurray, chairman of the recreation committee said work on the park will be started this fall and finished next spring.

The park is on Canton Center Road, just north of Cherry Hill Road.

Celebrities visit for dolphin cause

BY CRAIG BRASS

It's not the money we're concerned with most, we're interested in telling the people about dolphins," said Detroit radio personality Jerry St. James. St. James was the host Saturday for the Fund for Animals Inc. Celebrity Mini-Golf Tournament held at Oasis Golf Center.

St. James, along with regional field agent Doris Dixon headed up this fund raiser that brought well over 10,000 Plymouth-Canton people to Oasis. Many came to see such media celebs as John Kelley, Marilyn Turner, St. James and mostly Mark Fidrych. Fidrych was a busy man Saturday - he was also in Canton at Meijers Thrifty Acres signing autographs for scores of fans.

The basic efforts of the Fund for the past six years has been to save the dolphins. The Fund is now engaged in one of the most critical situations they have faced. The U.S. House recently passed a bill allowing tuna boats to kill an extra 10,000 dolphins for the remainder of this year, said St. James. Also added to this figure are 6,500 eastern spinner dolphins, already declared depleted by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

"I'm glad there's a lot of good looking girls around, or this would be impossible," said Fidrych. He was cornered by autograph seekers wherever he went. Expressing his golf prowess before he was on camera, Fidrych remarked, "I hope they don't make me swing - I'm a pitch and putt man."

Cantonites vacation in northern Michigan

Northern Michigan with all its beautiful lakes is a popular place for vacations. Many people from the Plymouth-Canton area are attracted to the Traverse City area.

Tim and Debbie Crow and family from Canton enjoyed the first week of August staying in a cabin on Arbutus Lake. Staying at the same resort, were Bill and Bev Carleson and their family. It's a great place for a family vacation - a nice playground area for children, a good lake for fishing and swimming, and screened in porches overlooking the lake, surrounded by many tall trees in a quiet, relaxing atmosphere.

Traverse City is a central location for many things and places. You can go to Mackinac Island for a day and ride bikes or take a horse drawn carriage around the Island. For Mackinac is fun as well as interesting to go through, and taking the ferry to and from the Island is always exciting.

Sleeping Bear Sand Dunes is another good place to spend a day. Climbing the dunes has got to be great exercise as you huff and puff your way to the top. It's fun to ride the dune buggies and if you want to do some driving yourself, take the scenic drive through the park.

Sailing on Grand Traverse Bay, horseback riding and canoeing on the Boardman River are just a few of the things to keep an active family busy. There's always a nice sandy beach to soak up some sun or build a sand castle, or how about a nice quiet afternoon sitting under a tree with a good book.

I still dream of that fantastic vacation in Monte Carlo, but good 'ole Michigan has a lot to offer.

Bill and Jane Clarke of Plymouth are sold on the Traverse City area and it's easy to understand why with the beautiful summer home they have on Long Lake. Jim and Rose Scharmen fell in love with the area and along with his brother, Don, bought a gas station and moved up north. They said it is beautiful there even in the winter with all the snow. Another Plymouth family migrating north are Ron and Ina Hacker who had a summer home on Glenn Lake and decided to turn it into a year round home. This past spring they opened a gift shop, The Penny Pincher, in downtown Traverse City.

Getting back to the local scene - Dennis and Victoria Wheaver are the proud parents of a daughter, Carrie Elizabeth. She was born July 28 weighing seven pounds 12 ounces.

Nursing home seeks approval

A Plymouth nursing home is seeking approval from the state for proposed capital investment projects.

Hanon Convalescent Home, 49650 Warren Road, has programmed a remodeling project that would correct existing licensing deficiencies. As a result of the proposed $75,000 project, the facility's bed capacity would be reduced from 44 to 40 beds.

Final route of Byron sewer OK'd

The final route of the Byron Sanitary Sewer was approved by a 5-2 vote of the Plymouth Township board of trustees last Tuesday.

Trustees Lee Fidge and Richard Gornick voted 'no' on the sewer route, saying development and new homes would proceed faster than the community, services, and schools could handle.

The final route goes west of Sheldon Rd., to Ann Arbor Trail beyond the township recreation site, through the township golf course north to Plymouth Hills subdivision, south on Amherst Court and west on Powell Road.

The estimated cost of the final route, which includes the Sly Drain trunk in Lake Pointe area of the township, will be about $2 million.

Township Clerk Helen Richardson said the original route north by Byron Creek could not be obtained because landowners there would not give the township land for sewer easements.

The plans for the sewer route have been in the making for about five years - and the original would have been only to Beck Road.

However, a landowner who wanted to develop land west of Beck, took the township to court and in a declaratory judgment the judge then prohibited the township from stopping the route at Beck.

"I deplore going down Powell," said Gornick. "I think it's great up to Beck Road, but Beck to Ridge is a serious departure."

"There's a need to be consistent with our orderly growth policy (to keep it at Beck). The impact on municipal services will be too great. I'm willing to take it to court."

"It appears that we're pretty committed to go to Ridge," said Supervisor Tom Notebaert, "I think the board and the planning commission have enough power to control the growth even if the sewer is installed."

"Also, the costs for this keep rising. When we started out five years ago on it, the estimated cost was $1 million," he said.

Treasurer Joe West agreed with Notebaert, saying nothing could be gained by holding the route in court for another four years.

No construction timetable for the sewer has yet been set.

Lions to pay first

The Lions Club has pledged to be the first service organization to pay the Fall Festival Board this year.

Lions member Frank Tanner made the pledge to the board at last week's Fall Festival meeting.

According to festival regulations, participating groups are required to turn 25 percent of their profits over to the festival board. The money helps pay the costs of managing and running the four day event.

"It was reported that we were the last to pay in '76," said Tanner. "We've decided that we would not be part of the problem."

Last year, the festival board had difficulty meeting expenses. The board cited delinquent service club payments as part of the problem.

"We are going to try to challenge the other organizations to get their money in quick," said Tanner. He explained that this year the Lions will take an estimate of what they owe the Board based on the number of dinners served.

The payment will be presented to the Fall Festival Board the day after the Lion's Fish Dinner.

'Center' hearing Monday

Approval of "The Center" an indoor complex of tennis and racquetball courts, bowling lanes and possibly movie houses will be discussed at a meeting of Canton's Planning Commission Monday, 7 p.m. at the Canton Fire Hall.

At their last meeting the commission delayed its decision until Monday pending a study of the traffic problems the complex might cause near its site on Haggerty Road just south of Ford Road.

Haggerty Road is unpaved at the site, and local officials have not yet persuaded county and federal governments to pave it.

THIS IS THE FINAL ROUTE of the Byron Creek sewer line, voted on last week by the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees. Trustees Richard Gornick and Lee Fidge voted "no" on the proposed route. The original plan for the sewer route, drawn up more than four years ago, called for the sewer to follow Byron Creek. Township officials were unable to obtain the needed easements, however, which resulted in the final route following Powell Road west to Ridge Road.

Plymouth-Canton school update

BY FLORENCE BEIER

Extended School Year at Pioneer Middle School in 1977-78 is a pilot program. While the four elementary schools starting E.S.Y. this fall can build on the experience of the two years of year-round school at Miller Elementary School, Pioneer must truly be a pioneer for this program at the middle school level.

The Plymouth-Canton Community Schools will have about 4,000 students on an Extended School Year program this year in order to provide space for a rapidly expanding student population.

With Extended School Year (45-15) scheduling students are divided into four "tracks". Each track with its teachers, attends school for nine weeks (45 school days) and then has a three week vacation (15 days). With a new track starting every three weeks, one-fourth of the students are always out of school. This schedule expands the capacity of a school building by one-third. Middle school students will experience the same advantages which elementary students have gained from E.S.Y. These include continuity of learning, better distribution of field trips, and outdoor projects.

Test data on reading scores at Pioneer Middle School show that 58% of sixth graders show a loss in reading comprehension over the summer months. Year-round schools with more frequent, shorter vacations may help prevent some of this backsliding in the learning process.

There are some problems which the staff at Pioneer are working to solve before school opens. Some difficulties may have to be worked out as the years progress.

Athletic teams will not all be in school at the same time and even the coaches could have a break during a sports season.

Music classes face the possibility of certain instruments or voices being out for vacation. School plays and musical performances are hard to schedule to include all students.

Solutions are not impossible, according to Pioneer staff members, but it will take some ingenuity to find them. Perhaps two school plays will be staged. Students can participate in some activities after school even though they are not attending classes. Assemblies and tests will have to be given twice.

Space is a major concern at Pioneer with the E.S.Y. program. Office space is short as well as room for teachers to work. Extra lockers are being installed to accommodate the larger numbers of students.

But staff and students are optimistic and excited at the prospect of trying a new way to organize learning, especially when it means that they can stay at Pioneer Middle School.

MARK (THE BIRD) FIDRYCH, and Detroit Tiger pitchers Dave Rozema and Mickey Stanley obliged hundreds of fans last Thursday with a marathon autograph signing session. More

Local throngs see The Bird, others

More than 1500 youngsters jammed the Meijer Thrifty Acres shopping center on Canton Center and Ford Roads last Thursday afternoon to get autographs and a glimpse of three Tiger pitching aces, Mark Fidrych, Dave Rozema and Mickey Stanley.

But according to one disgruntled parent who wrote The Crier, many kids only got a glimpse of the three Tigers and not an autograph - after waiting more than four hours in line. The store ran out of baseballs, the parents ran out of patience, but Fidrych, Rozema and Stanley signed and signed for the autograph hounds.

Fidrych and Rozema were most sought after by young female fans, but veteran Tiger Stanley didn't seem to mind.

Mike Bowler, manager of the Meijer Canton store, said they are trying to reschedule a re-appearance of the three Tiger pitchers.

"We are desperately trying to get them back, we're working on it right now," Bowler said. "In the meantime, we are sending autographed pictures to take care of those who didn't get an autograph."

Bowler said he received about 20 to 30 complaints from persons who were not able to get autographs.

Twp limits building times

Construction hours - especially highway - in Plymouth Township will be shorter as a result of a resolution passed by the township board.

A township citizen, Anna Miligan, complained last month that the 5:30 a.m. construction starting time in the township was "too early", and that crews often did not stop until 9 p.m.

She asked the township board to change the starting time to 7 a.m. and the board promised to come back with information on starting times in surrounding communities.

At Tuesday's board meeting, the board unanimously passed a resolution that read:

"Whereas, the Township of Plymouth determines that excessive noise not only destroys privacy, but is also deleterious to health no matter at what time of day such excessive noise is produced;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the erection (including excavating) demolition, alteration or repair of any building, or the excavation of streets and highways be prohibited between the hours of 6 p.m. and 7 a.m., excludes emergency repairs."

Supervisor Tom Notebaert recommended to the board that a resolution be passed instead of an ordinance so it could be put into effect immediately, "rather than to wait for the (township) Attorney to draft an ordinance, our (board) review and enforcement 30 days after publication."

The shorter construction hours will be enforced through the township Building and Construction Department.

"We are notifying the construction people now," said Jim Briggs, township building chief. "We've got the law to work with if they are disturbing anyone."

"If enforcing it becomes a problem, we attempt to shut them down and go to court on it," said Township Clerk Helen Richardson. "The resolution was passed and it is enforceable. However, we've never had any problems with our resolutions before," she said.

Woman escapes injury after driving into train

NO ONE WAS INJURED seriously late last Wednesday night when a Northville woman drove her car around the railroad crossing gates at Starkweather and hit a C & O freight train, Plymouth police report. According to the police, the 41-year-old woman drove through a parking lot around the gate at the tracks at 11:02 p.m., drove onto the railroad track closest to her and outsped the train which was east-bound on the next track. She then turned her car across the path of the freight train, which stopped after striking her car in front of the C&O Train Station. Police said the woman told them, "I'm trying to kill myself." She was treated and released from St. Mary's Hospital and was ticketed by police for careless driving. There was severe damage reported to her car - which came to rest over several rails lying along the tracks - and minor damage reported to the front of the train.

Caesars women beat Meijer for Canton crown, 14-2

Little Caesars of the Canton Township Women's Division breezed by their last obstacle of the season to become the newly crowned champions of the women's division. The Caesars squad destroyed the Meijers team by the score of 14-2. Caesar's Lee Jaskolski led the champion squad with three hits in four attempts. All-Star selections Carole Smith continued her fine hitting with a triple and a single. Janice Tunison and Pam Flanigan chipped in with two hits for Caesars. Debbie (Goobar) Smith chipped in with a timely single in Caesars five run uprising in the fourth inning.

Meijer's Shelly Arner banged out a double and a single for the losers. Third sacker Betty (Calm) Bird turned in a fine defensive performance, with several fine catches. Diane Jaskolski and Rita Spaulding shared the mound duties for the winning Caesar's team. The duo combined to only allow Meijers four safties.

The Caesar squad ended the season undefeated, 12 - 0. Meijer's compiled a 14-2 record.

Lanes whip Box; take Modified title

Lanes - merchants and Box Bar, first and second divisions finishes in the regular season, battled to the wire, but a five-run first inning in the final game gave the Lanemen the championship in the Men's Modified playoffs.

The Lanemen swept through the winner's bracket and the Box was faced with the unenviable task of having to beat them twice in a row Friday.

But Barmen kept their hopes alive as they took the first game, 3 - 1. Pitcher Jerry Staszal scattered only four hits in the victory.

Leadoff hitter Bobby Lawson for the Box rapped two singles and scored their first run in the contest.

But their hopes were short-lived. Lanes - Merchants erupted for five runs in the first inning in the final game.

The Box never came close to this early advantage.

The Barmen could only manage one hit and one run for the rest of the game against the strong pitching of George Fulton.

Terry Donaldson led off Lanes-Merchants' big first inning by getting on by an error, Rick Dretter sacrificed him to second and Rick Frayer walked.

Mike Gee singled, followed by walks to Mike Dodson and Mike McCowan. An error by the Box's first baseman on Craig Crey's grounder brought the final runs in.

Smith outslugs Caesars, 21-18

In a see-saw slugfest, Smith Realty outlasted Little Caesar's for the Canton softball playoff championship, 21 - 18.

The Realtors banged out 23 hits to overpower the pizzamen.

They didn't waste much time at the plate, either, as they scored nine runs in the bottom of the first. Gary Mooney topped off the scoring in the inning with a home run.

Caesars came right back in the second, however with seven runs. Charlie and Tom Jaskolski led off with singles followed by a walk to John Raimer.

the singles spree, and Claude Tunison followed with a double two drive in two runs.

Things were more or less quiet until Smith put the game out of reach in a big seven-run sixth inning.

Bill Bufe, Vic Fryling, Mooney, Ochodnick, Larry Loufra all tallied singles for the realtors.

Good defense was the key in the last two innings for Smith as they put out the pizzamen three up, three down in the last two innings.

In the semifinals of the tournament, Smith Realty bombed the Merchants, 17-1, and Little Caesars beat Clark Block, 10-6.

City softball ends season with surprises

Regular league play was completed last week with a couple of surprises.

Division I was supposed to be a toss-up, and no one would have suspected Finlan Insurance or Puckett Plumbing to finish so far off the top. Both teams are good and have the potential to play better. Sun Plastic's of Division II fooled everyone by finishing second ahead of Plymouth Knights of Columbus. And, HAF Industries and Kurl N Kut Hut were expected to knock off the powerful Don Massey Cadillac team. HAF and Kurl finished in a tie as the best second place team in the entire league.

This was the first year of the expanded league, (eight new teams were added) and overall everything went smooth.

The season is over for 12 of the teams and we hope they return next year as reorganization will provide better competition.

Garden City Sports, managed by Craig Notebaert, finished first in the Division I bracket with a 16 - 2 record. The sports team beat the second place Finlan Insurance squad by a score of 16 - 13.

Kool Kings are the winners of Division 2 with 16 - 2 record. The Kings won both of their games, beating Sun Plastics and Knights of Columbus. Against the second place Sun Plastics, Kool Kings pounded out 24 hits scoring 13 runs to Sun's 15 hits and eight runs.

Division 3 was won by the league leaders, Don Massey Cadillac. Massey had a perfect season with an 18 - 0 record. First place Massey ran over Bayloff 20 - 2. Massey had 27 hits in six innings with four double, five triples and two home runs, against Bayloff's 12 hits.

All-Stars chosen

Led by outfielder Matt Etiene, four members of the Salem Mantle and Koufax teams earned a spot on the all-star team of the tournament played in Plymouth last weekend.

Besides Etiene, utility man Sam Merrill and pitchers, Bruce Piper and Brian James made the team.

Etiene batted .385 in the tournament to lead both Salem Mantle and Koufax squads. It was also third best overall.

Merrill hit .308, good for eleventh in the tournament.

City loses tourney

Why isn't Plymouth hosting the American Softball Assoc. (ASA) regional modified softball tournament this year?

The answer is simple, according to Chuck Skene, City of Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department director.

ASA, while telling teams that Plymouth would sponsor the tournament like last year, neglected to call Plymouth Parks and Recreation to advise them of their host status, Skene said. "If they're not going to send us the information to run the tournament, how're we supposed to run it?" Skene told The Crier.

Originally the tournament had been scheduled for last weekend but was not held, Skene said, because he couldn't reach anyone from ASA. As far as he knew, no revised date has been picked and "at this time, I don't think they have a site."

Canton golf leaders

Estella Heidt and Virginia Atwood moved into first place by taking all three points from Chris Matson and Frankie McNut. Kay Nichols and Ginnie Johnson moved into second place by taking three points from Helen McGee and Pauline Pryor.

The best round of the week was shot by Kay Nichols who came in with 50. Mary Kay Frey and Silvia Dickenson had the second best rounds as they both posted 57's.
