Cops investigate Crier break-in

SGT. DAN CARPENTER of the Plymouth Detective Bureau dusts a desk for fingerprints in The Community Crier newspaper office after a person or persons unknown broke into the office last week. State panel extends inactive liquor license

The State Liquor Control Commission last week agreed to grant former Thunderbird Inn owner Art Kobierzynski and extension on an inactive liquor license he formerly held for what is now the Hilton Inn on Northville Road in Plymouth Township.

The commission ruled in favor of the requested extension despite refusal two weeks ago by the Plymouth Township

Board of Trustees to drop its opposition.

Kobierzynski, who sold his interest in the Thunderbird Inn two years ago, has announced plans to develop a shopping center and apartment complex on the east side of Northville Road across from the Hilton. Included in the plans is a restaurant-lounge to which he is expected to apply the inactive license.

Young lone gunman robs city gas station

City of Plymouth Police report that a young man with "a high-pitched voice" wearing a ski mask and carrying a long barreled blue steel handgun robbed a Gulf gas station on Ann Arbor Trail last Wednesday evening.

Police said a young man, between 14 and 16 years old entered the station wearing a green and tan design ski mask and a blue "police-type jacket.

He was carrying a paper brown bag and pulled a long-barrelled blue steel handgun from underneath his shirt, police said.

The suspect told an employe of the gas station to "give me your money," police said. The employe then gave the youth $50.

Police reported the youth ran from the station following the incident.

Kid swipes embalmer's fluid from local mortuary

One 13-year old Plymouth youth was arrested last Tuesday and three others questioned by police after taking a case of embalming fluid from a funeral home, City of Plymouth Police report.

A witness told police that he observed three youths approach the storage door of Schrader Funeral Home on Main Street, saw them mill around and then walk away. The witness then saw one youth walk back, throw his coat over an item and carried it back to the other two, police said.

The witness detained all three youths until police arrived. Police report the case of embalming fluid was worth $30.

Canton police denounce possible hiring of outsiders

BY CHAS CHILD

The President of the Canton Police Officers Association (CPOA) denounced as "unacceptable" a hiring policy proposed by the township which invites applications from outsiders for the 10 full-time patrolmen positions.

John Longridge, president of the CPOA said the present Canton reserves should get all the 10 jobs which were created by the police millage approved by the voters Aug. 27.

Canton's part-time officers patrol the township in the evenings and on weekends.

Under the proposed policy to fill the 10 full-time positions, applications will be accepted from Canton residents aged 21 through 32 who meet basic criteria like U.S. citizenship, good vision and "moral" character.

The applicants will then take five tests: agility, written, oral, physical and psychological.

Longridge said his 35 officers are highly trained and already have been tested enough for the township to make their choice.

Canton's police chief, Walter MacGregor, said that the test the reserves took was an exam for police reserves, not for full-time officers.

Longridge said he would take the township to court on the hiring issue.

Canton Supervisor Harold Stein said the township wants to hire the best police officers for the full-time department. "I want the township to have the best possible department for the money," he said.

The Board of Trustees was due to discuss and perhaps approve the policy last night.

Trustee Brian Schwall, a member of the police commission which wrote the policy with MacGregor, said if the present Canton officers are well qualified they should not be afraid of being tested.

Echoing this opinion was MacGregor: "If they're as competent as they say, they shouldn't worry."

Judge Dunbar Davis of the 35th District Court said the Canton police "compare favorably" with the other police in the district - the police of the cities of Plymouth and Northville, Northville Township, and the Wayne County Sheriff Department.

The hiring policy gives any Canton reserve who takes the written test five percentage points added to his score. Longridge said, however, that this was insignificant.

"This township already has a police department," Longridge said. "What do they think we've been doing all this time?"

"The present administration continues to be against this police department. They got in-office fighting this department," Longridge said.

Former Supervisor Robert Greenstein's administration hired most of the present reserves. Some observers have pointed to the political difference between Greenstein and Stein as the cause of any dispute between the reserves and Stein.

"My officers have been the ones going out on the road risking their lives," said Longridge. "We deserve to get the 10 jobs."

'We're halfway' PCF campaigners say

"We're halfway there," said Dan LeBlond, Plymouth Community Fund (PCF) general chairman as he announced Monday that 50 per cent of the $250,000 goal for this year had been reached.

LeBlond reported that $124,784.14 has been collected from the eight divisions of the PCF.

Monday's report was the third so far in this year's fund-raising effort. LeBlond and co-chairman Jim Boyce have said that this year the PCF may appear to be further ahead than last year, however, the later reporting date for the Fund this year gave each division more time to sign up contributors.

There is still time (up to Dec. 9) to contribute to the PCF.

Some of the organizations the Plymouth Community Fund helps each year are the Girl Scouts, Salvation Army and Red Cross, Plymouth-Canton YMCA, Growthworks, and the Plymouth Opportunity House.

New schools needed here?

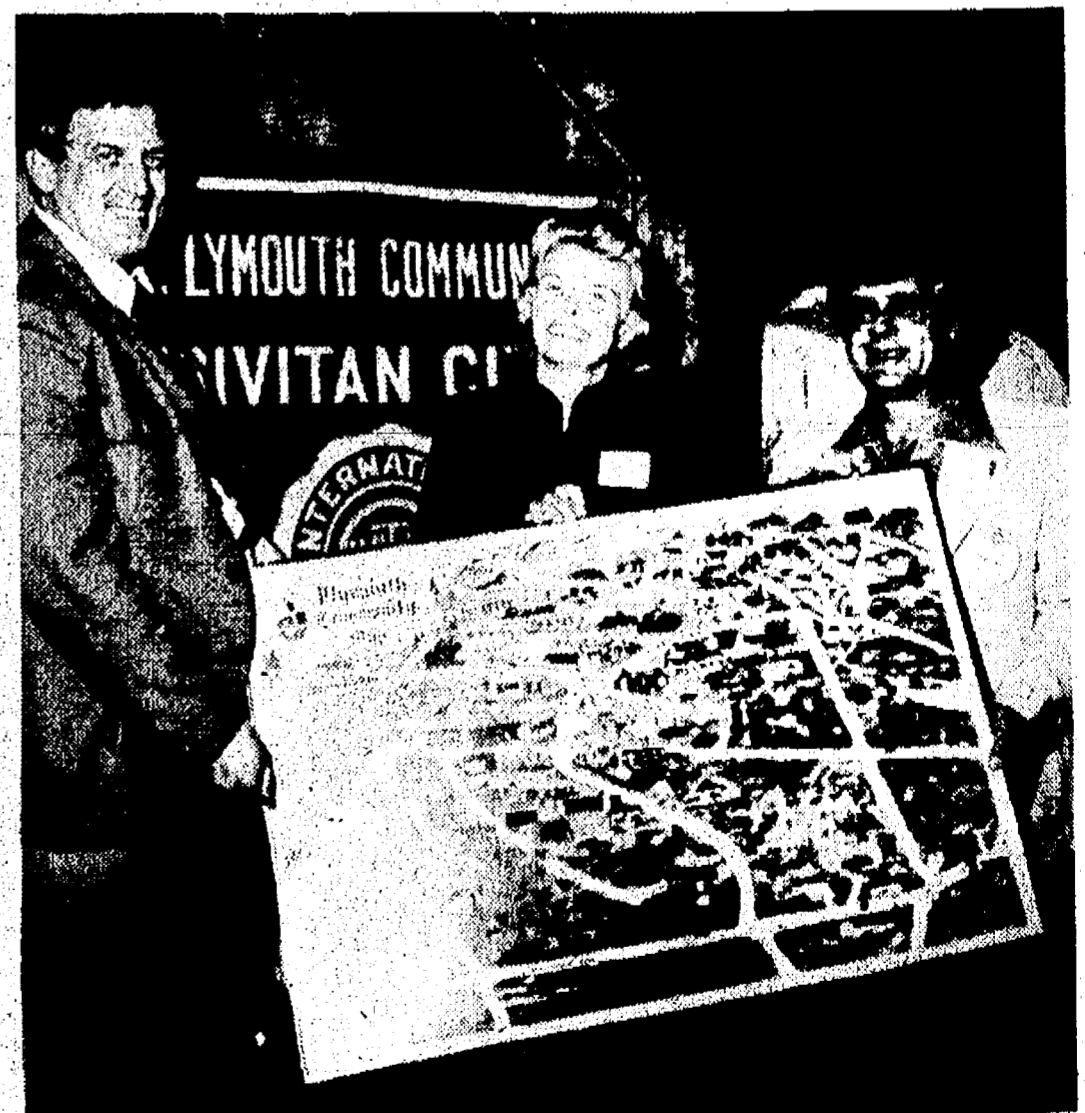

On the basis of preliminary growth projections, the Plymouth-Canton schools may ask voters for two new elementary school buildings in the spring.

Superintendent Mike Hoben said the Extended School Year (ESY) program can probably absorb the district's growth for the next two years but after that two elementary will probably be needed.

He emphasized at a Board of Education workshop Monday that the projections are based on initial figures and he was still working on his final recommendation to the board.

The major growth in the district has been in Canton, Hoben said, and the new elementary schools will probably be needed near the Sunflower subdivision and on Saltz Road.

Beyond the next two years, Hoben said a major worry was how much growth the opening of the M-14 and I-696 freeways will bring in the northern part of the district.

Vandalism, rail tie-ups remain problems

Crime in city decreases

BY DONNA LOMAS

Crime in the City of Plymouth has decreased slightly in the past year, says City of Plymouth Police Chief Timothy Ford in the fifth annual police report.

The report, released this summer, covers the year 1976. Ford says because of the unique variables involved in the City of Plymouth, the report cannot be compared to any surrounding communities nor on a national level. The report is based on reported crimes, he added.

Total crimes per person in 1976 fell seven per cent from the 1975 figure. According to the report, the greatest increase was seen in assaults.

"The most frequently reported offense continues to be assaults," Ford commented in the report. "However, 1976 totals are 16 per cent below the newly-established five-year index."

Rape, attempts and assaults increased 15 per cent in the past five years, the report shows. Three rapes were reported in the city last year, the highest since five were reported in 1972.

Ford also noted that armed robbery "took an unexplained jump" in 1976, from two reported in 1975 to eight armed robberies reported for 1976.

"One reason for our low crime rate is our relatively isolated geographic location," Ford said. "One possible reason (for armed robbery increase) is that we have been discovered - that more people know about us."

From 1971 through 1976, one murder was committed in the City of Plymouth.

Chief Ford said conditions indicate the City may expect one murder every eight years.

The report says vandalism and arson have increased in the past few years, but that the increase is "as yet, unremarkable."

"Vandalism is common to small towns," Chief Ford said. "It is mostly attributable to young people."

The report notes the number of complaints against the C and O Railroad continues to grow as they "continue to violate the five minute holding ordinance."

Ford says there has been more attacks on police officers and resistance throughout the five years - and increase of 200 per cent.

"We have had to deal with people harder because more are resistant and we have an obligation to the public," said Ford.

Ford noted in his October 1977 report to the City Commission that an "uncommon number of fights and assaultive problems" occurred in the department that month.

"Never in our recollection has there been such continued violence for little or no apparent reason," Ford told the commission in that report.

Original city record omitted Footnote O

City of Plymouth Attorney Chuck Lowe, told city commissioners Monday night that Footnote O was not included in an ordinance that was passed in 1972.

"There was a problem with the legislation in 1972," Lowe said. "It was impossible to get the original documents with that ordinance on it."

"It was determined in 1972 that the legislation included footnotes m, o and p. Footnotes

Accidents have decreased, Ford said in his report, but also said the severity of automobile accidents "seems to have increased," putting a greater strain on police services.

"Most of the time our force is adequate," he said. "But there is now a greater demand for our services - we appear in court more frequently, we receive more calls and are in more physical combat (meaning more resistance to police officers)"

Ford also cited the "multiplicity of calls" the distribution of more liquor licenses as other stresses on city police service.

"We are getting back on our feet now," he said. "If it weren't for the excellence and dedication of the officers, we'd be even further behind." The City recently hired two Community Service officers to replace officers who had retired and or were ill.

"The only acceptable figure for crime is zero," said Ford. "While the reality is somewhat different, this report is useful in planning and to help us do a good job."

"m" and "p" were transferred but "o" disappeared," Lowe stated.

"Whether it (the disappearance) was by design or negligence, I don't know," he said. "But when the legislation was voted on in 1972, footnote 'o' was not there."

Because footnote "o" was not included in 1972, Lowe said it had not been in effect in B-3 (general business district) areas since Oct. 10 of 1972.

Despite flaws, ESY scheduling seems to work

BY CHAS CHILD

How is the Extended School Year (ESY) program working?

Introduced into five elementary schools and one middle school this year as a way to handle a growing student population, the program seems to be working well despite some problems.

Teachers and administrators said that it's hard to tell whether the difficulties are inherent in ESY or just temporary and can be worked out.

With it problems, ESY is still preferable to the alternatives: split sessions or class overloads, Assistant Superintendent Michael Homes said.

The lone middle school on ESY, Pioneer, is having a harder adjusting than the elementary schools because a middle school has more activities - sports, clubs, band and orchestra, - that can be disrupted by the four tracks coming and going.

The school's population is divided into four tracks, each of which attends classes for nine weeks and then is off for three weeks, all year 'round.

Classes like band and orchestra are disrupted by students on all four tracks entering and leaving on their schedule.

The Home Living classes at Pioneer have similar problems. In cooking for example, the instructor has beginners, intermediates and advanced students, depending on their track's schedule, all in the same class.

Mary Beth Reef, a home living instructor at Pioneer, said the home living courses will change to one track to a class next semester.

The academic courses at Pioneer and the elementary schools - Miller, Gallimore, Erickson, Isbister and Field - are on this schedule. A class and its teacher are on the same track and they come and go together.

Miller has been on ESY for two years as a pilot program. Communication in general is a problem at Pioneer, too. Lynn Sandmann, a physical education teacher and coach, said that if she wants a team meeting, for example, it's time-consuming to call all the players on the off track.

ESY has also disrupted assemblies, concerts, mixers and other school-wide activities, which hurt the school's "togetherness," she said.

Teachers had different opinions of ESY's effect on the students.

One instructor said the kids were fresher and got a "new chance" each time they returned, while another said they seemed bored by staying at home.

To combat the kids' boredom during their odd vacation times, Canton Township's recreation department has started activities that fit into the ESY schedule.

The personal reaction of teachers is mixed, also. Some teachers have complained that it is harder to take college courses at the local universities.

Plymouth-Canton school officials are trying to arrange special courses at the local colleges for the teachers on ESY.

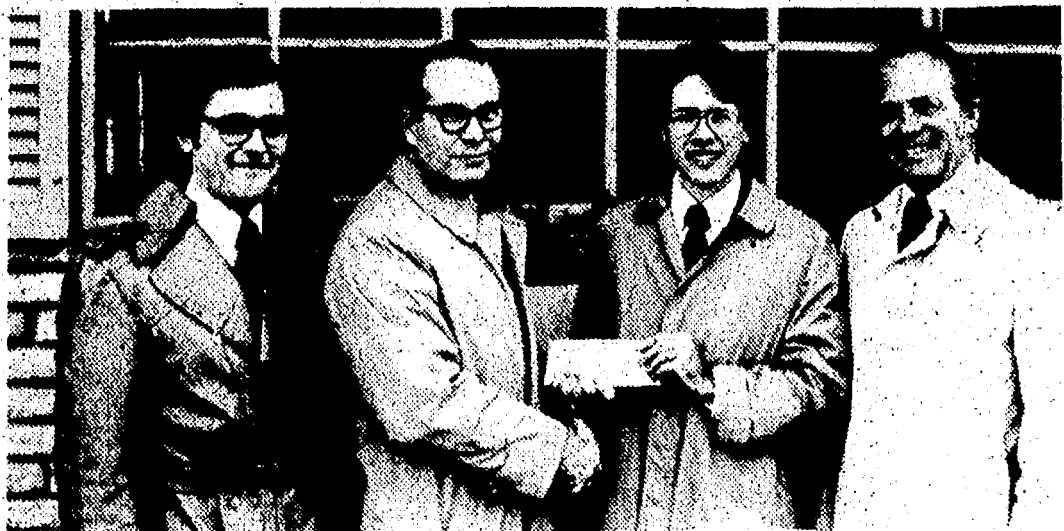

ESY's future? Superintendent Mike Hoben said Monday night that on the basis of preliminary projections ESY may not have to be expanded next year.

The school district is growing, however, and, the program will probably be needed for more schools in the future, he said.

Boundaries shouldn't split city, township

Consolidation time is here

Citizenry sleeps while Canton grows

EDITOR:

Apathy has become the major ingredient in Canton's political scene since the summer recall election.

Because of the recent lack of citizen interest in our local government, the conservative Democratic board of trustees that rules the township has become a do nothing body. The issues and problems facing Canton are not only not being solved, they are in fact growing and multiplying.

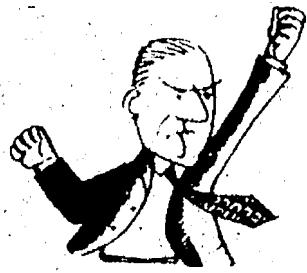

It is time that this do nothing Democratic board and Democratic supervisor get off their collective "duffs" and start acting to solve Canton's problems rather than boring us to death with discussions on a multitude of approaches that can be possibly instituted.

We require immediate action in the following areas:

First, Canton's growth problems are greater than ever. Yet, Mr. Stein is trying to decide how to protect the property values of his rural supporters. Growth management and farm land preservation though related issues, must in the short term be handled as separate problems. Canton's growth rate in the eastern half of our township is astronomical. We must have immediated growth regulating legislation.

Second, since the inauguration of this new board in 1976, we have not had one major commercial or industrial development approved for Canton. However, if one considers the approval of a White Castle restaurant next to the Palace restaurant an achievement, then to those citizens I retract this statement.

Third, Ford Road is quickly becoming the chain restaurant and fast food center of Western Wayne County. It will continue to do so unless our township board acts quickly to correct this situation. I propose that Canton, through new zoning ordinance regulations, limit the number of such establishments allowed in a designated geographic area and control the distance such establishments may be to one another.

It is time for the divided concerned citizens of Canton to stop licking their wounds of their losses in the last two elections. We must start working together to save what can still be a great township in which to raise a family.

PETER B. BUNDARIN
Chairman of the Republican Independent Club of Canton

With the spectre of annexation looming large in Plymouth Township, the time may be ripe, nearly four years after township and City of Plymouth voters roundly rejected a merger of the two governmental units, to talk consolidation.

Talk, in fact, is already in the air. Since the State Supreme Court a month ago acknowledged the authority of the State Boundary Commission to grant annexation requests by cities, more and more consolidation talk has bubbled to the surface.

In recent weeks both the township clerk and the city mayor have broached the subject - it's so much more harmonious than all that nasty annexation business.

With the state apparently ready to approve city annexation requests, many observers, even in the township, expect township boundaries to erode.

More than one township official has probably studied the map of his governmental unit as a besieged general would a diagram of his thinly-manned ramparts. He'd be second-guessing those greedy city fathers, trying to predict where the next annexation attack will come.

He envisions city officials studying township maps of their own, sizing up the terrain that surrounds their little municipality and dreaming of new boundary lines.

It is this position of strength which should inspire city fathers to make the symbolic flight to Israel to open negotiations with their suspicious neighbors and drum up support, not for annexation, but for its neighborly counterpart, consolidation.

Although one of three annexation petitions the city has already filed with the boundary commission calls for annexation of the entire township, there's little danger of that. Township voters would have to approve such a move, and they'd as soon annex themselves to the Ukraine.

But piecemeal annexation - of a Burroughs parking lot here, a Hillside Inn there - appears inevitable barring some dramatic reversal of the recent court decision.

Piecemeal erosion of township boundaries would mean the gradual loss of some of the township's prime present and potential tax base. Taken to the next step, it could spell higher taxes for township residents, who would have to support a larger share of governmental services now underwritten to such a large extent by industry and commerce.

Such fears make consolidation, a move which would give township voters - who outnumber city voters nearly 2-1 - an upper hand, suddenly appear palatable.

City voters have had to sift their way in recent months through a fog of anti-growth rhetoric. Many are in no mood to see multi-story buildings blossoming in their midst. But many have also come to recognize the city's hole-in-the-doughnut position. Small shops may be springing up all over, but Plymouth now seems unprepared or unwilling to attract substantial additions to its tax base.

The Burroughs parking lot property on Plymouth Road, the object of the city's first annexation petition filed nearly four years ago, may soon fall within its redrawn boundaries.

With that victory in hand, city officials might give pause to re-examine their intentions with regard to their two other annexation petitions - for the Hillside Inn and the township as a whole.

The bid for the entire township must be dealt with first, and it's doomed to defeat at the hands of township voters.

Township voters don't get to vote on the Burroughs or Hillside or other requests where the land involved is inhabited by fewer than 100 persons.

If the city withdrew its petition to annex the entire township, its piecemeal annexation could continue, yet notice would have been served to township residents that the economic realities of a small city, not the greed of its residents to have their tax burden foisted off on township residents, is the determining force behind annexation.

That same force, in the guise of consolidation, might mean cooperation instead of bitter conflict.

If the court's decision means piecemeal annexation is the wave of the future, serious consolidation talk should start now, before either side paints itself into a corner. Before The City of Plymouth Place encircles the City of Plymouth on a map which would look all too permanent despite what lip service township officials give to continuing hope for consolidation.

Township officials need a gesture from the city to impress upon them the opportunity for consolidation. Township residents need township officials who really want consolidation to come to pass.

I'm going to ask Santa for a helicopter for Christmas.

It seems to be hotter than the swine flu fever was last year. Instead of "get your shot yet," it may become "get your copter yet?"

Canton Supervisor Harold Stein has it. Canton's Santa Claus will arrive by helicopter. Plymouth Canton residents can now whirlybird their way to work from the local airport.

If the fever reaches epidemic proportions, the City of Plymouth may well end up clearing Kellogg Park of its trees to build a "high-rise heliport."

It would at least save the city some money on repairing gas lamps and unclogging a suds filled fountain.

"The citizens of Michigan are faced with a crisis that came to the forefront four years ago and has yet to be resolved. It is the energy crisis. The crisis has many facets: it is a crisis of diminishing resources and increased dependence on foreign imports; it is a crisis of skyrocketing costs and of waste; and, unfortunately, it is a crisis of disbelief. Many citizens are not yet convinced that we are indeed confronted with an invisible enemy that touches all aspects of our lives. Michigan is particularly vulnerable since it must import close to 95 percent of its energy supplies. But the energy crisis is such that individual efforts can make a difference. Therefore, I, William G. Milliken, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby declare November, 1977, as the second annual Energy Month in Michigan. I urge every citizen in the state to focus in on the issues of energy and the importance energy plays in our lives. And I urge every citizen to seek new ways to conserve energy while at the same time developing a new energy ethic."

Governor William G. Milliken

Nancy Dickerson, prominent national correspondent, reports for Detroit Edison:

It's Michigan Energy Month. Take another look at how you can use energy wisely.

Governor William Milliken has officially proclaimed November as Energy Month to promote discussion about energy conservation in Michigan.

It's a good time for all of us to find and share new ways to use energy wisely.

The theme for the month, "Energy—Handle with Care," tells the story. Many of the fuels we use to supply energy are becoming scarce and expensive. So energy conservation directly concerns us all.

If you have questions on energy-saving techniques, call the Energy Hot Line in Lansing during November. The number is 1-800-292-4704 and it's toll-free.

Here are just a few of the things you can do to conserve energy at home. You'll be dollars ahead on energy costs, too.

- Have your home properly insulated. If you own your home, Detroit Edison's Home Insulation Finance Plan may help you get the work done. Ask about it at any customer office.

- Install storm windows and doors, and check weatherstripping and caulking. Close draperies and pull shades at night to cut down on heat loss through glass areas.

- Keep your furnace and air conditioner in good repair, and replace filters often. Faulty appliances waste energy and money.
- Consider installing a heat pump for energy-efficient heating and cooling. If you're planning on buying an air conditioner next summer, make sure it's the right size for the area you want to cool and has an Energy Efficiency Rating of 8 or more.

As an energy supplier, Detroit Edison is an active and concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation.

So, even though the people at Detroit Edison cannot control the use of energy other than their own, they are continually working to produce and supply electricity as efficiently as possible; both to conserve our non-renewable natural resources and to give you the most for your energy dollar.

Here are some of the things Detroit Edison is doing:

- salvaging and recycling paper, wire, lines hardware, poles, street-lighting equipment, transformers, capacitors... even oil, again saving limited resources

- using compact service vehicles for more efficient and economical operation and gas mileage
- pioneering time-of-day rates and remote-controlled air conditioning and water heating to reduce energy consumption and waste as well as slowing the need to build costly new generating plants
- continuing research into alternative energy sources such as solar, nuclear, wind and refuse in order to conserve scarce fossil fuels.

America's crusade for conservation requires a working relationship between those who supply energy and those who use it.

Detroit Edison is working hard to do its part. But the success of this crusade depends on all of us... every day, every month, all year round.

November is Energy Month.
Conserve for all it's worth. The power is in your hands.

Who should Cantonites call?

When Canton residents were jolted awake recently by a bomb that blew a hole in the wall of a local pizzeria, many tried to call the Canton reserve police.

The problem was the Canton police went off duty at 11 p.m. and the bomb exploded at 11:10 p.m. Calls to the township were channeled through the Fire Department.

The township fire department was besieged with calls from more than 100 residents, who had no more information at first than did the callers.

Whom do Canton township residents call in a case like last Tuesday's?

"They should call the Wayne County Sheriff," said Canton Supervisor Harold Stein. "Most communities do that have part-time police. Call the Sheriff or State Police."

"I don't know yet if we will have an emergency number for the police when they go fulltime. Those are things we are looking into."

The number for the Wayne County Sheriff is 721-2222. Northville Post Michigan State Police can be reached at 455-5550.

Familiar face for 35 years

Asst. Chief Johnson retires

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

Trees completely lined Main Street in 1942 when Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson first joined the City of Plymouth force.

Now, 35 years later, as Johnson prepared to retire, he talked about those years and said there had been many changes both in the city and on the police force.

"When I first started, we were assigned a 10 or 10½ hour shift," he said. "We had four days a month off (any four as long as it wasn't Saturday or Sunday), and if we were sick, we didn't get paid."

He added that his first paychecks were $125 a month and that he was "lucky" to get one week of vacation every year.

There was a time Johnson said, when he knew 90 per cent of the people in the city by their first name, but he admits that was back when Plymouth was really a small town. Personnel has more than tripled from six to 19 people who have been sworn in since Asst. Chief Johnson began, he said.

Johnson came to Plymouth from Kansas in 1937, the hope of finding a job during the depression. He met his wife, Marie in Plymouth.

"That is one reason I stayed here," the Asst. Chief said.

After working with the Plymouth force a little more than two years, Johnson was drafted. Following the service stint, Johnson said he had no intention of rejoining the police, so he started a cab business where he earned "three times as much money."

Asst. Police Chief

Working for a cab company paid but the hours were not any better. "I just wasn't doing what I wanted to be doing," Johnson said.

According to Johnson, his first attempt at rejoining the Plymouth Police in 1948 failed because he was "too old."

But in 1950 at age 33 he passed a physical fitness test and a four-hour written test. He was soon back on the force.

He worked his way up through the ranks and was the first sergeant the City of Plymouth had on its force. In 1959 he became Assistant Police Chief.

"I don't know of any enemies I've made", Johnson stated. "I believe that if you treat people right they will eventually know that what you're doing is right."

He said people's attitudes towards police officers have changed through the years. "It has never been very good in the big cities," Johnson said.

"I don't think there's the respect for police today - unfortunately, some police brought it on themselves," he added.

Johnson strongly believes that the people who enforce the law should set a good example. According to him, police officers have no more right to speed than anyone else.

When Asst. Chief Johnson retires in January, his familiar face at the police desk will be sorely missed by Plymouth residents. Johnson knows he will miss his friends, too.

He is looking forward to having free time to do things that he has always wanted to do - like traveling, fishing and starting a garden. Now is a good time to let a younger person take over and he can enjoy traveling while he is still in good health, he said.

Johnson's wife, Marie, will be retiring from Burroughs about the same time that he retires.

Being a family man, he says he enjoys cooking while his wife is a "great seamstress." They have two children and five grandchildren. Their daughter, Kay Jones and her family live in Walled Lake, and their son and his family live in Othello, Washington.

And if he gets bored with any of his projects, Johnson said that he has already been offered three part-time jobs. He may look into them, he said but they will have to be on his terms with his hours.

"No more having to report in at 6:30 a.m. every day," Asst. Chief Johnson chuckled.

Get involved, Cantonites told

A chamber of commerce today must do more than organize Christmas visits by Santa if it's going to effectively represent its members, a political organizer from the State

Chamber of Commerce told Canton Chamber members at a special meeting last Wednesday night.

Speaking to more than 30 chamber members in a dinner meeting at the Superbowl on Ford Road, Robert LaBrant, political action manager for the state chamber, urged Canton business people to form a political action arm of their chamber which would lend weight to business interests in state and local elections.

LaBrant cited the dozens of political action groups formed by organized labor to push candidates who'll do labor's bidding. "The business community can out-organize organized labor if they get involved in the political process," he said. "The business community has treated the political process like leprosy. The legislature has had nowhere else to turn but labor (for campaign funds)."

Calling money "the mother's milk of politics," LaBrant described re-election-minded politicians as having a "Capistrano Syndrome," like the California doves who return to the same perch every year.

Following LaBrant's address, a panel of chamber members addressed the issue of chamber participation - in local politics as well as at the state level. Asked former Chamber President Bart Berg, "How much longer can the business community afford not to get involved in local politics?"

6-1 vote

Free parking OK'd by city

The Plymouth City Commission approved free parking for Christmas shoppers for 11 days by a vote of 6-1 Monday night.

Commissioner Bev McAninch was the only commissioner to vote no. She had previously suggested the free parking be for only seven days.

All paid parking will be suspended for Christmas shoppers in the City of Plymouth from Monday, Dec. 12 until Saturday, Dec. 24. The "goodwill gesture" will cost the City some $2,800.

Commissioner Dave Pugh recommended adding a footnote to the no paid-parking resolution. It stated that by the Commission approving free parking for the holidays, they deprived the parking fund of the monies.

The footnote will show up in next year's budget identified as a loss of revenue to the parking fund.

The Commission asked Margaret Wilson if the Chamber of Commerce would be able to foot some of the parking bill this year.

"I don't see any way we could do that this year," she said. "All Chamber monies for Christmas have been spent."

Chamber plans New Year ball

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce will be sponsoring its first annual New Year's Eve Ball this year.

The ball will be at the Mayflower Meetinghouse, beginning at 7 p.m. with cocktails and appetizers. A full Chateaubriand dinner will be served. Also included are hats, noisemakers and favors. A live band will be featured.

A donation of $50 per couple is being asked. Call the Chamber office for reservations.

Wilson added, however, that next year, the Chamber could be prepared to pay some of the parking bill if the Commission asked.

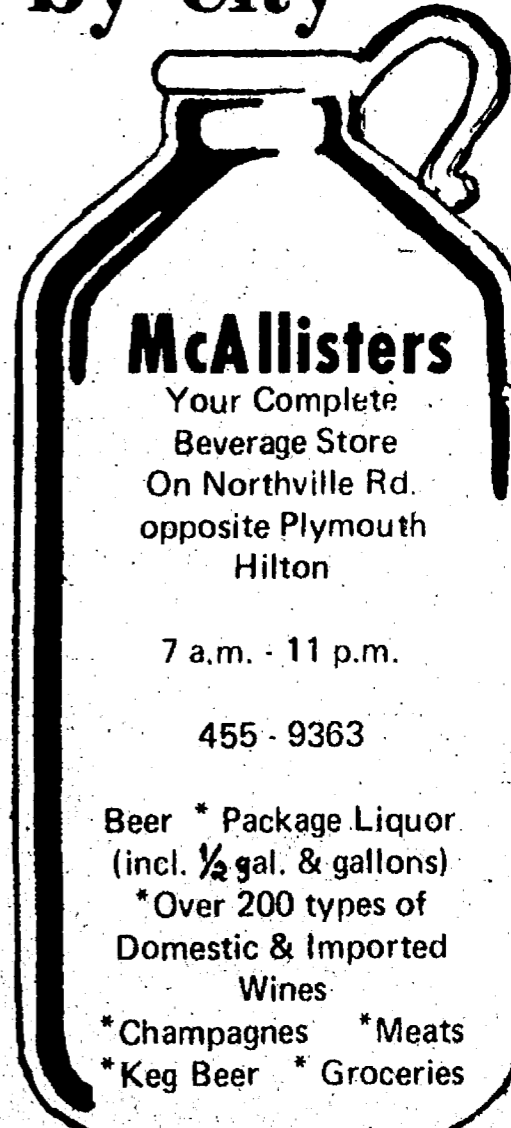

Chamber hires CETA employes

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce has added a CETA employe to their staff.

The CETA funds were provided by Plymouth Township.

With the addition of the new staffer, the Chamber office needs an electric typewriter. If any Chamber member can loan the office a typewriter for one year, please call the Chamber at 453-1540.

The day before Thanksgiving is so exciting! Moms and grandmas are busy in the kitchen getting a head start on tomorrow's big dinner. The aroma of pumpkin pie drifts through the air and the refrigerator is filled with cranberry relish, special molded salads and good 'ole tom turkey.

Finally the big day arrives and dad piles the family in the car and we're off to grandma's house. This year mom and dad remembered the cotton for their ears so they can smile as the kids sing the first verse of "Over The River And Through The Woods To Grandmother's House We Go" 101 times.

Holidays are fun for young and old (with the possible exception of teenagers) alike. It's a great time for families to get together and catch up on all the latest happenings. Aunt Mable has a new set of false teeth, cousin Bob is finally getting married and little Becky who used to live down the street, just received her law degree. And above all else, get dinner served and over with before the football game begins.

Plymouth Ex-Newcomers club will hold their annual holiday auction Tuesday, Nov. 29 at 7:30 p.m. at the Plymouth Community Credit Union. Members are asked to bring a salable item for the group to bid on. Tea sandwiches, petit fours, coffee, and tea will be served so come early and browse. The auction will begin at 8 p.m.

Either I'm at a loss for words or ravisly hungry from not eating all day but the lunch menu this week appears to be a gourmet's delight.

What's happening?

Maybe a slight complaint about the pizza noodle casserole, but even the chili and peanut butter and jelly is gone. Restaurant style dishes like stuffed green peppers, ham and cheese, lasagna and even homemade soups have replaced them.

I realize what sounds tempting on paper may not appear that way on your plate. Only the students can tell if our cooks are becoming gourmet chefs. What do you think, kids?

Rep. says state should finance our schools

BY DONNA LOMAS

A resolution to amend the constitution to change school financing property tax structure is currently under consideration by representatives in Lansing and is being proposed by its backers for next November's ballot.

If passed under its present form, the Plymouth Canton School District, along with all other districts in Michigan could be dissolved into one state-wide district.

Roy Smith, 52nd District State Representative whose district includes Plymouth and Canton, created the amendment proposal to "provide equal educational opportunities to every Michigan student by shifting . . . school financing from property tax to personal income tax."

Smith says his proposed Trooper cited for lifesaving

Trooper John McAllen of the State Police Post at Northville has been awarded a State Police Citation for Lifesaving for his efforts last year in transporting a Westland man to a hospital after a minor property-damage accident in the Plymouth area.

The award said the man was driving himself to the hospital and was bleeding profusely from a ruptured artery in a lung when the mishap occurred. McAllen, who radioed ahead an alert for emergency preparations, drove the man to the hospital in his patrol car.

Fest pays city

Fall Festival Committee President Doug Blunk gave a check to the City of Plymouth to pay 1977 Fall Festival debts Monday night.

Blunk reported to the City Commission that the Festival was "in the black" this year and apologized for last year's check being late.

amendment would require state financing of education, yet local control would still be maintained.

Smith says one provision would permit the state legislature to establish a system of credits, or vouchers, against state income tax for college students and students who attend non-public schools.

Another part of the proposed legislation is that the graduated income tax may be repealed, and the State Legislature would determine how much income tax would be paid.

Smith said the repeal of the graduated income tax section has "potential controversy."

Gene Caesar, majority education specialist, said that to make education equal throughout the state and have it still legally acceptable, income tax would have to be increased 10 percent and the single business tax increased to 7.75 per cent.

Caesar also said the amendment makes no provision for special education and that "enriched" programs would not be possible because state aid would limit offerings.

The proposed amendment is still in early working stages and a final draft has not yet been released.

"The School Board has not taken an official position on this," said Florence Beier, assistant for community relations for the schools said "The final draft isn't ready."

Beier said she doubted, however, if the schools would agree to the proposal as it stands.

Opponents to the proposal say it would make Michigan a single school district and instead of one check per school district, a check for state aid would arrive for each student in Michigan.

Backers to the proposed amendment are mostly non-public schools. Some petitions are currently being passed out at local churches urging its members to support the amendment.

"We are passing out petitions and encouraging people to sign so we can get it on the ballot and see what the people think of it," said Fr. Robert Keller of Our Lady of Good Counsel parish in Plymouth.

Chiefs tune up for districts

BY JEFF REY

In front of their largest home crowd in the team's history, the Canton womens basketball team walloped Dearborn Fordson 53-11, Thursday.

"It was one of our best defensive games," said coach Mike McCauley.

The Chiefs just about shut off Dearborn's offensive attack allowing them an average of just under three points a quarter, and picking off 31 steals.

The win moved the Chief's record to 18-0. Canton will be one of two undefeated teams when they travel to Detroit for the district playoffs next week.

Canton dominated the court during the first quarter, jumping out to a quick 18-2 lead. Evie Pasek dropped in seven of her nine points in the quarter.

The Chiefs increased their lead by two during the second period 24-6 and added 18 points the third quarter to Fordson's three. Kathey Sochacki scored 6 of her points in the third quarter and the Chiefs went on to win their second most decisive game of the season.

Sochacki who played one of her best games of the season was Canton's high scorer with 14 points and 73% shooting from the field. Pasek added nine points and five steals, Kelly Heaton had six points along with Pam Schipani scoring six. The J. V. suffered their second loss of the season to Dearborn on Thursday 46-43. Their record now stands at 16-2.

In the districts, Canton has a tough row to hoe.

To advance to the regionals, the Chiefs will probably have to beat the Detroit city champs, Detroit Mumford, on their home court.

Luckily, the Chiefs drew Dearborn Edsel Ford in the first game on Tuesday, Nov. 29. "I haven't scouted Edsel, but Salem has beaten them twice," McCauley said.

Mumford will play Redford High School in their first game in the district on Monday. Mumford beat Redford earlier in the year and McCauley predicted a Canton-Mumford final.

"Mumford is the best team in Detroit. They play 'alley ball,' run and shoot," McCauley said. "Plus, playing on Mumford's home court will give them a 10-point advantage."

Rocks win debut

In its first game of the season, Salem's boys basketball team coasted to an easy win over Walled Lake Central, 89-66, on Central's court.

The Rocks jumped to a 14-2 lead after only four minutes and the game was never in doubt as Coach Fred Thomann cleared his bench by halftime.

Mike Christie and Tom Ellinghausen were high scorers for Salem with 16 points apiece. David Monk was the other Rock in double figures with 12 points.

"We got into our running game and saw a lot of kids play," said Thomann. "It was a well-played game for us."

Salem's junior varsity won, 48-37. High scorer was Rob Neu.

Accident on city ice hurts puckster

A hockey player was seriously injured late last night in an accident during play on the ice at the Cultural Center on Farmer Street, Plymouth Police reported. The man involved was hospitalized by the Plymouth Fire Department Rescue Squad. Further details were unavailable at press time.

Salem trounces N. Farmington

BY CHAS CHILD

Salem's basketball team thrashed it's last two regular season opponents and are now tuning up for a new season - the playoffs.

The Rocks will travel to Dearborn next week to take on some tough opponents in the districts.

Last Tuesday, Salem overwhelmed North Farmington, 62-27. Coach Debbie Hatcher cleared the bench, getting every player in the game.

Kathy Dillon tied a school record of 12 steals in the game and the team had a total of 33. Dillon also sank four field goals in the second quarter to help the Rocks pull away for good.

Hatcher said the reserves played very well. Terri Tripp tallied three buckets in the fourth quarter and Sarah Marks and Cindy Leveille did a good job.

Thursday, the Rocks polished off their final league opponent, Allen Park, 44-22. Salem held the Jaguars to only four points total in the second and third quarters to seal their fate.

The whole team played against Allen Park, also. Everyone got at least one rebound and nearly everyone scored.

At the end of the third quarter, the Jaguars only had 10 points. They did score 12 in the final stanza against Salem's reserves to make the score somewhat respectable.

The final league victory gives the Rocks a 10-4 season record.

Next week Salem travels to Dearborn for district action in the state playoffs. The Rocks and Detroit Osborne look to the favorites, with Dearborn, Detroit Denby, and Dearborn Fordson given only fair chances by Hatcher to advance into the regionals.

Osborne is mainly a run-and-shoot team, said Hatcher. "They are competitors and have a good center, but I think we can control the game with our defense," she said.

The Rocks have faced Dearborn twice this season and beaten the Pioneers both times, 34-32 and 39-32. "They like a controlled game, but we know what to expect from them," she said.

The Salem coach said she hadn't seen Denby play but thinks the Rocks can beat their run and gun style with defense, also.

Dearborn Fordson is the weakest team, and aren't much to worry about, Hatcher said.

At press time Salem's draw had not been decided. One game will be played Monday to narrow the field to four teams. Two semifinal games will be played Tuesday with the finals Wednesday.

Salem swimmers roll to Suburban Eight crown

Salem's swimmers overwhelmed the rest of the Suburban Eight Thursday and Friday and ran away with the league title.

Of the 11 events, the Rocks captured first place in seven. And in four events, all four of Salem's allowed entries finished in the top 12 to score some points.

In the 200-yard medley relay, the team of Jill McCann, Collette Cabadas, Sue Stanwood and Sarah Stanwood took the league crown with a time of 2:02.2, good for a spot in the state meet.

Marion Stanwood won the 200-yard individual medley, Sue Stanwood copped second and Sharon Ross was fourth.

The Rocks had four point-scorers in the 50 freestyle, led by first-place Sarah Stanwood. Linda Wochna was seventh; Sue Sparling, eighth; and Linda Frazee finished 12th.

Amy McClumpha was shaded out of first place in diving by just one point. Lisa Lukens captured fourth and Pattie Larson finished 11th.

The Rocks had three placers in the 100-yard butterfly: Sue Stanwood, third; Sue Schmidt, eighth; and Sue Evans, 10th.

Sarah Stanwood captured first in the 100-yard freestyle, followed by Madeleine Lakatos who touched fourth and Sue Sparling, 11th.

Salem dominated the 500-yard freestyle, finishing first, second, seventh and 11th in this order: Marion Stanwood, Sharon Ross, Kim Coates and Kathy Sample.

The Rocks scored even more points in the 100-yard backstroke and all with underclassmen. Junior Jill McCann captured first, Freshman Linda Wochna was second, Sophomore Renee Lakatos finished fourth and Sophomore Diane Perpich copped ninth.

The 100-yard breaststroke saw four Rocks score points also. Collette Cabadas placed sixth; Karen Kohler, eighth; and Patty Perpich, 10th; and Laura Perpich, 12.

The team of Madeleine Lakatos, Sharon Ross, Sue Sparling and Marion Stanwood placed second in the 400-yard relay.

For the state meet Dec. 2 and 3, the Rocks have qualified the following swimmers: Marion Stanwood in the 200-yard freestyle and the 500-yard freestyle; the 200-yard medley relay listed above; Sue Stanwood in the 100-yard butterfly; Sarah Stanwood in the 100-yard freestyle; plus the 400-yard freestyle relay of the three Stanwood sisters and either Madeleine Lakatos or Sharon Ross.

In diving Lisa Lukens and Amy McClumpha have qualified for the regionals Tuesday in Ann Arbor.

"I think the divers have an excellent chance to make it to the state meet," Coach Chuck Olson said, "and I'm shooting for the team to place in the top ten."

Canton tankers cop fifth

BY JEFFREY

The Canton women's swim team closed out its league meet on Thursday with a 175-point fifth place finish.

The Chief's had a slight edge over Livonia Churchill through the entire meet until the finals when the Mustangs pulled in front of Canton by seven points for a fourth-place finish in the Western Six.

"We lost it in our freestyles", said Coach Arne Massey, "Churchill has some really good swimmers."

As predictable as winter,

Northville once again finished on top in the league followed by Farmington Harrison, Walled Lake Western and Churchill.

Canton did have some outstanding finishes, starting off with Kim Massey in the 200 freestyle with a third place 2:07.4. The time set a new varsity record for the Chiefs.

In the 200 individual medley Cindy Shelansky placed seventh with a 2:34.2 effort. Peggy McElmeel swam to an eighth place finish in the 50 freestyle with a 28.8 and a seventh in the 100 freestyle with a 1:05.5.

In the 100 butterfly, Annette Piethe placed fifth with a 1:11.8, Kay Spring took a seventh with a 1:17.6 and Julie Stratton finished eighth, turning in a 1:19.9.

Massey had her best finish in the 500 freestyle turning in a 5:44.7 second place. Mary Reardon finished eighth with a 6:40.4 in the same event.

Shelansky finished her best with a second place in the 100 backstroke, turning in a 1:07.

Both Shelansky and Massey are going to the state meet on Dec. 2 & 3.

In diving Jamie Zuverink surprised some people by finishing fourth and qualifying for regionals in diving next week in Ann Arbor. Zuverink finished with a 266 point total and Chris Wennerberg finished tenth with 216.4 points.

The 400 freestyle relay of Piethe, McElmeel, Shelansky and Massey finished fourth with a 4:11.9 and the 200 medley relay finished fifth with a 2:14.9. Stratton, Laura Toor, Sandy Diot, and Jackie Bennett swam the event for the Chiefs.

"We're in a very tough league", said Massey, "But I thought our girls did a fantastic job. We are also lacking in experience."

The entire team will be returning next year with the exception of three seniors.

Jr. tankers lose to Ypsi

INTERIOR SELLING TIPS

Remember -- when you are showing the inside of your home to a prospective buyer, first impressions are lasting and have an important effect on a potential sale.

A clean, well-kept home shows a home that has had good care and has been properly maintained. Repaint the interior if it needs it, but use neutral colors, if possible. An attractive, comfortable living room is a major attraction, but a sparkling kitchen will appeal to the lady of the house. It's the heart of any home, so keep it spotless. No dirty dishes. Women are also sensitive about bathrooms; keep them clean and orderly.

Bedrooms are important -- arrange their furnishings neatly. Shiny, clean windows not only are a great asset, but let sunlight in and brighten the entire atmosphere. Clean out the clutter in the closets, basement, and garage. And, if you have pets, clear them out too when showing.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at REALTY WORLD, / Wm. Decker, Inc. Realtors, 670 S. Main St. Plymouth. Phone: 455-8400. We're here to help!

Salem wrestlers eye Suburban 8 title

BY CHAS CHILD
With a number of outstanding grapplers returning from last year, Salem's wrestling team will not be conceding a thing to Suburban Eight defending champions, Belleville.

Belleville has not lost one wrestler who scored points at the league meet last year, but Coach Ron Krueger says the Tigers can be beaten, "if we're ready."

"This year, I have some excellent wrestlers, potentially the best I've ever had," Krueger said.

Leading off the Rock lineup at the lightest weight class will be one of two sophomores, Jeff Brown and Jeff Dunson, who will be battling it out for the starting job.

At 105 pounds, Senior Terry Ward looks strong. "He had some injuries last year, but he's strong, quick and experienced," his coach said.

Three wrestlers will hold down the 112 and 119-pound spot - Steve Ernst, Randy Viperman and Mark Ross. "Ernst is an outstanding wrestler," Krueger said. "I expect him to go along way this year."

Viperman was a regional qualifier last year and set a school mark for most victories as a sophomore, 23. Ross set the school record for most victories as a freshman last year.

Krueger has another trio of outstanding wrestlers at 126 and 132 pounds. Rene Leist, who finished third in the regionals last year and Jimmy Ross, defending Suburban Eight champ, lead the list.

They are supported by Senior Bob Barackman. "Leist set the school mark for most wins as a junior last with 30," Krueger said. "Ross worked hard on his moves and I expect a lot out of him."

At 138 pounds Senior Roger Penix is injured, and Jerry Valshine will see some action, along with Scott Piper at 145 pounds.

Joe Piccola, Jeff Powers and

OLGC falls

Our Lady of Good Council's varsity basketball team fought to the finals of the St. Mary's Orchard Lake Tournament, but lost to St. Louis the King, 48-44.

Last Wednesday, OLGC beat St. Linus, 52-10, and whipped Our Lady of Refuge 35-29 Thursday to get to the finals.

Three OLGC players made the all tournament team: John Gannon, Dave Miller and Greg Wierciach.

Mark Choma will be battling to wrestle at 155 pounds.

Senior transfer Wally Brown from Romulus will fit in well at 165 pounds, Krueger said. "He's done well in scrimmage and we're glad to have him."

At 178 pounds, first-year grappler Bruce Piper is working hard. "He has a lot of strength and he'll help us a lot," Krueger said.

Bob Doherty will be wrestling at 191 pounds, Krueger said, when he recovers from a hand injury. "He came on very strong at the end of last season." Until he's ready, Junior Scott Miller will be filling in, his coach said.

At heavyweight, the Rocks will have Bob Dasher, who Krueger said is the best at that class he's ever coached. "He's got strength, size and knowledge - everything it takes to be an outstanding wrestler."

Besides Belleville, the Salem coach said that Edsel Ford looks very strong, and Dearborn and Trenton always have some good wrestlers.

The Rocks have little time to get ready for Bellville. The Tigers coming to town Dec. 8 to be Salem's first home opponent.

"I'm looking forward to a good year. I'm very pleased with our progress so far," said Krueger.

Led by seniors, Canton grapplers aim for best season ever

BY CHAS CHILD

On paper, Canton's wrestling team is the best in the school's history.

Getting the team to gel into an effective unit though will be the key to their success.

"We could finish anywhere from first to fourth in the Western Six depending on our attitude and how things shape up," Coach Dan Chrenko said.

The Chiefs have a number of experienced wrestlers, but some are crowded in the same weight classes. It will be Chrenko's and his team's challenge to include as many experienced wrestlers in the lineup.

In the smallest weight class, 98 pounds, Tommy Harrell, however, seems to have the position wrapped up: Harrell had a 2-2 varsity record last year and an 8-2 junior varsity mark. "He'll come at you and is very aggressive," Chrenko said.

Two sophomores, Ron Richards and Scott Commive will be battling it out at the 105-pound slot.

Another sophomore, Danny March, will be wrestling at 112 pounds, Chrenko said. March tied a school record for most wins as a freshman - 8 - last year.

Dave Durkin a senior who was on the varsity as a sophomore will be wrestling at 112 or 119 pounds. "He can attack lers in the area," Chrenko said. Also near the 145 weight class are two other good wrestlers, Dave March and Terry Clifton. "They'll be wrestling, they just need a spot," their coach said.

Scott Collings will be leading the team at the 155 pound position. He recorded a sparkling 38-9 mark last year and finished ninth in the state. "He's exceptionally quick and strong," said Chrenko.

Dennis Howell and Paul Haarz will be fighting it out at 165 pounds and George Hamblin will see a lot of action at 178.

At 191 pounds, Tony Loden has a lot of potential, Chrenko said. "He's very strong and I look for him to improve a lot."

Chuck Walker, who posted an 18-12 record last year as a junior, will be representing the Chiefs at the heavyweight slot. "He's improved a lot and is quicker than many people might think," Chrenko said.

In the Western Six, Chrenko said the teams are very balanced. Farmington Harrison, Walled Lake Western, Waterford Mott and Canton all have a good chance at the title, he said.

"We've never had so many seniors," Chrenko said, "and I look to them for leadership. The key will be how hard the whole team wants to work."

from all angles and has a lot of natural talent," said Chrenko.

Senior Craig Lee, who posted a 26-14 record last year at 112 pounds will wrestle in 119-pound slot this year, his coach said. "He's tenacious and takes advantage of his opponents' mistakes."

A wrestler who, according to his coach, has improved 100 per cent from last year - Mike Kitti - will be wrestling at 126 pounds.

Senior Mark Bartlett will see action at 126 or 132 when he recovers from an injury. "He probably won't be back until after Christmas," Chrenko said of March who had a 17-15 record last year.

The 132-pound slot will be led by Jeff Rey, senior wrestling for his fourth year for the Chiefs. "He has a good take down and uses a lot of finesse," Chrenko said. Junior Jay Lee whom his coach describes as "relentless," will also see action at 132.

A senior transfer from Wayne, Vince Novak, will probably wrestle at 138 pounds, Chrenko said.

The strength of the team is at 145 pounds, led by Kyle Heaton. Canton's most improved wrestler last year, Heaton had a 26-13-1 mark.

"Heaton's worked hard to learn all aspects of the game and is one of the outstanding wrest-thru Old Village.....

Let's Take An Oldfashioned Walk.....

Old Village sketch by Barb Cornelius

"Let's Take an Old-Fashioned Walk through Old Village" was the brainchild of Starkweather teachers and parents who compiled the handy walker's guide through Old Village. Some 24 points of interest in Old Village are listed, some which include the former sites of the Mineral Springs Co., an ashery(where wood ashes were converted to soap)a cheese factory and the Plymouth Cigar Co. Barb Cornelius, a Starkweather parent drew the above cover for the Old Village pamphlet. Several other participants, including Old Village merchants, were responsible for color slides, printing costs, typing and gathering and researching the history of Old Village. The pamphlet was finished in time for Starkweather School's 50th Anniversary.

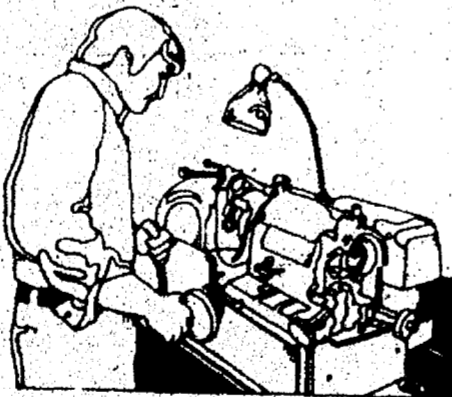

IF YOU LIKE NAPA PARTS, YOU'LL LOVE THE NAPA MACHINE SHOP.

When your vehicle parts have worn out, you've probably learned to head for your local NAPA store for top quality replacements. But what do you do when something on your vehicle needs machine work?

The answer is the same. Your local NAPA store features a machine shop that offers a long list of machine work equal in quality to NAPA parts.

Your NAPA machine shop can grind your valves, turn your brake drums, repair ignition and distributor units, rebore and rebuild engines, press axle bearings and much more.

Top quality repair work and top quality NAPA parts spell more miles for your car and more savings for you. So check with your NAPA store for both parts and machine work.

Gay festivities mark Christmas in Old Village

BY CAROL MITCHELL

A variety of Christmas festivities will be hosted by the Old Village Association on Nov. 27.

Brunch with Santa Claus starts the day at the Plymouth Hilton. The brunch begins at 10 a.m. and is open to the public.

Stores in the Old Village will be gaily decorated and carolers will sing on street corners throughout the day. Santa Claus is expected to visit the village where he will talk to children in clothing, candy and toy stores.

Visitors to Old Village will be able to take an "Old Fashioned Walk" through the area and see the sites of old Plymouth's churches, businesses and homes.

Pamphlets for the old fashioned walk will be available in Old Village stores. More than 20 sites are listed in the walk with wood-burnt number plaques identifying each one.

For adults, each store will offer special food or drink. Some of the refreshments to be offered include champagne, fancy glazed cakes, punch and candy.

According to Old Village merchant Pat Hann, "All the stores will be doing something special."

Festivities are scheduled to last from noon till 5 p.m.

From plain eggshells to Christmas art

BY CAROL MITCHELL

Eggshells are more likely to end up in the garbage can than be recycled into art. But in the hands of Plymouth resident Roberta Orr, a simple eggshell becomes a lovely decoration suitable for Christmas trees, centerpieces and gifts.

Mrs. Orr, who has decorated eggs for more than 25 years, is an accomplished artist. Her craft is based on removing an oval section of an eggshell to make a viewing window. She then paints the inside of the eggshell and decorates the outside with fabric or other material.

Eggs decorated in every possible fashion and color are displayed in her home. The display ranges from religious scenes to popular figures such as Santa Claus.

According to Mrs. Orr the craft is both creative and fun. "I think eggs are fascinating and I relax doing it," said Mrs. Orr.

Eggs decorated by Mrs. Orr can be found with friends from Newfoundland to Florida. "Over the years, as I came to like someone I gave them a decorated egg as a friendship token."

Mrs. Orr advises people who would like to try the craft to handle eggshells gently and use

Eggshells to art

anything for decoration that appeals to them.

For those who would like to try the craft, the basic procedure follows:

Draw an oval on the side of an uncooked egg with pencil, no ink. Ink will discolor the eggshell. Tap the middle of the oval lightly to make a small hole in the shell. Drain the egg out of the shell and rinse in cold, not hot, water.

After the egg has been removed, carefully clip away the shell around the pencil line with nail scissors. The eggshell should be left to dry for several days before decoration can begin.

After it is thoroughly dry, Mrs. Orr says she often uses Elmer's Glue to fasten a small scene clipped from a magazine on the inside and paints over it in acrylic colors. Alternative decorations for the inside are small figurines or seashells.

After the interior is dry, the exterior can be decorated with velvet, satin, beads, braid, or sequins. The fragile eggs are then stored in cardboard apple dividers between use as decorations.

Over the years, Mrs. Orr's collection has become so large that her home now has two Christmas trees. One fir tree is decorated with commercially made ornaments while the delicate eggshell decorations are specially displayed on a tree of plain branches.

By doing her part for recycling, Roberta Orr has also created festive art in her home for the holidays.

Spirit of Christmas finds home in Plymouth's 'new' Old Village

BY FRAN HENNINGS

Once upon a time in mid-November, Santa Claus came home from a long day's work of making toys to find Mrs. Claus dressed up and ready to go out.

She was wearing her warm red coat with the fur collar, and her hands were tucked into a matching muff.

Without letting Santa know, she and the elves had planned a special evening out in Old Village to kindle enthusiasm for a spectacular Christmas in 1977.

Santa put on his big red coat with the shiny silver buckle on the black belt. He donned his fur cap, and they hurried out the door.

Rudolph knew exactly where they were going, and took off through the clouds, past the icebergs where the penguins strutted, over the Great Lakes, then down to the twinkling lights of Old Village, Plymouth.

As they landed, the Clauses were greeted with shouts of Joy, for the whole area had been eagerly anticipating this special Christmas Walk with Santa.

Warm greetings from Pat and Eric at the OLD VILLAGE GALLERY pleased Santa greatly, and he found just the perfect painting of Plymouth for their home. Just across the street he had a talk with Dave, at OLD VILLAGE UPHOLSTERY about his fireside chair, which needed a new covering and reinforcing, because of his extra pounds. Dave promised the chair would be ready Christmas Eve.

Bob Puckett, of PUCKETT PLUMBING AND HEATING had already checked the plumbing at the North Pole (he goes everywhere) and had adjusted and cleaned their furnace for the cold months ahead.

Mrs. Claus was a bit weary, so a bowl of piping hot home-made soup at Roger's OLD VILLAGE RESTAURANT was the perfect answer. Ben, his sons, Ed and Glenn, from PLYMOUTH RUG stopped by and Mrs. Claus arranged for them to carpet the Claus' living room floor with beautiful new shag carpeting.

By now the streets were filled with carolers, and Santa excused himself to see them, really he wanted to arrange for a New Years Eve clam bake from Curtis at THE FISH BARREL. He slipped into PLYMOUTH METAL DETECTORS to have Bill look over the strange coins and unusual bottles he had found at the North Pole. A package of Milton's delicious barbecued beef and beans at BILL'S MARKET for a late night snack was his next purchase. Roberta quickly took care of it while slipping in one of her own oil paintings for a holiday surprise.

Mrs. Claus in the meantime had gone into the HOUSE OF GLAMOUR for Pat and the girls to give her a new hair style, manicure, and shh! Don't tell Santa, long eyelashes!

With the help of Amy and Rose at NEW GAL IN TOWN, Mrs. Claus selected a beautiful green gown for the holidays and next door, Jean and Chris at VAN DAM'S assisted Mrs. Claus in choosing a nightie and slip for her twin nieces' Christmas gifts.

During Mrs. Claus' shopping spree, Santa was arranging with Doug and Sally BLUNK, INC., to have his sleigh carpeted with nylon plush for the long Christmas Eve trip. Around the corner, from Jerry at OLD VILLAGE TACKLE SHOP, Santa bought a new lure and tackle box. Then he dashed over to Russ at PLYMOUTH KITCHEN AND BATH to arrange a surprise for Mrs. Claus.

A kitchen remodeling right after Christmas. By that time, Santa had precious few minutes left to get the rest of his shopping done, and ran over to THE LIBERTY BELL. Judy at the NOELLE SHOP quickly made him a cup of tea as Santa ordered beautiful ornaments for the tree at North Pole. Pat from the PAPERBACK EXCHANGE helped Santa find 12 paperbacks to read on cold winter nights from among the bookshelves.

As Santa picked several bars of soap from Kathi at THE HOPE CHEST he thought the fragrance reminded him of vanilla. He bought another piece of art from Tom and Debby at the WINDMILL GALLERY. Can you imagine Santa's delight when Denise at BLENDED NATURALLY gave him a 100 per cent all wool scarf?

After rejoining Mrs. Claus, they decided on a midnight snack at the PLYMOUTH HILTON, but first stopped at OLD VILLAGE BOUTIQUE where Mrs. Claus made appointments with Eula as Christmas gifts for several friends. Santa and Mrs. Claus were delighted to find Sol and Adrienne in the newly opened VILLAGE FREIGHT SHOP, with a great assortment of lovely gifts.

After reaching the Hilton, Santa took a tour and even danced in the newly decorated JOLLY MILLER. Santa was pleased the OLD VILLAGE ASSOCIATION had been thoughtful enough to arrange the tour.

With much left to see and do, the Claus' hurried back to JUST ANN'S, where Ann helped them choose a cheerful wallpaper for the Claus' powder room. Ann introduced them to Mary next door at WOODEN HEAT STOVE WORKS and they ordered a wood-burning stove for their family room. Mary promised Gordon would deliver it right after Christmas. Then a stop at what used to be the Heide House, now transformed into four unique shops. Bonnie greeted them at the front door and Mrs. Claus had a fine time picking baskets at THE WICK WAREHOUSE. And, peeking through the door, she found Leslie, Shirley and Ronnie at THE ACCENT BIN and found two boxes of stationery for friends and a marvelous handmade cloth bag for herself. Santa had always wanted to make a clay pot, so he tried his hand at it at THE POTTER'S WHEEL while Mrs. Claus watched and sipped aromatic coffee from Anita and Sharon from upstairs at PERK-BREW AND CASHEW. Then across the street for a new vacuum from Jerry at AUSTIN VACUUM for Santa's sawdust-filled workshop.

Old-fashion feeling infects holidays here

Antique Shops were fun to visit too, the Claus' said. The elves had been at THE CORNER CANDY STORE all this time, where Doug and Curtis sold caramel covered apples, candies for Christmas stockings (and a few goodies for themselves.) They congratulated Doug on becoming Old Village Association President this year.

At LORRAINE'S DOLLS they selected dolls and doll houses for all the good girls and chose some new sailboats for the good boys. The Claus' could not believe their eyes at all the activity in Old Village: a new park, and streets and a fountain were being built. With Christmas decorations everywhere and a soft snow falling, they thought they were in a picture postcard. They took a minute to stop in and compliment Betty whose IN THE MEANTIME shop had just opened and presented her with the lovely cupboard they had made for her by Bill at his own shop.

They would be ready soon for the trip home, but first Santa had George at B & F AUTO check his special sleigh. Wasn't it fortunate Tom had moved TOM'S CUSTOM AUTO SHOP near the railroad tracks on Davis?

Santa arranged to have it painted just before the big trip on Dec. 24. Mrs. Claus was attending to other matters and stopped in at WILDWOOD IMPORTS to get Tom, Margaret and Linda to take four very bright pots over to HEIDE'S for Bill to plant. Bill's flowers would be used for the table at Christmas dinner and Joan, who just opened FOREVER YOURS gave her a figurine to put on the Claus' fireplace mantel.

A chat with Connie and Gertrude at OLD VILLAGE SAUSAGE SHOP and Mrs. Claus had all the catering arrangements done for a dear nephew's wedding in the spring. She even had some great sandwiches for the trip home. On her way back, she stopped in to see Suzanne at the PHOENIX GALLERY, where Mrs. Claus bought some irresistible wall hangings and batik prints.

Santa remembered to pick up four large pizzas from Jerry's COLONIAL PIZZA for the elves to munch on. Then on to the CLOTHES TREE, where Fran assisted in choosing bright winter jackets as gifts for their many nieces and nephews.

It was time to leave, but Santa and Mrs. Claus planned to return for THE CHRISTMAS WALK SUNDAY NOV. 27 in Old Village from noon to 5 p.m. They would also brunch at the Hilton before the walk that Sunday.

As they climbed into the sleigh, Santa and Mrs. Claus took one last look at Old Village before taking off into the silvery moonlight. It had been a very special evening for them and for OLD VILLAGE, where all had enjoyed Santa and Mrs. Claus' shopping spree.

SAVING ENERGY

You have heard about them
and read about them,
Now They Are Here.....

The Finest of Furnace Add-On Units!

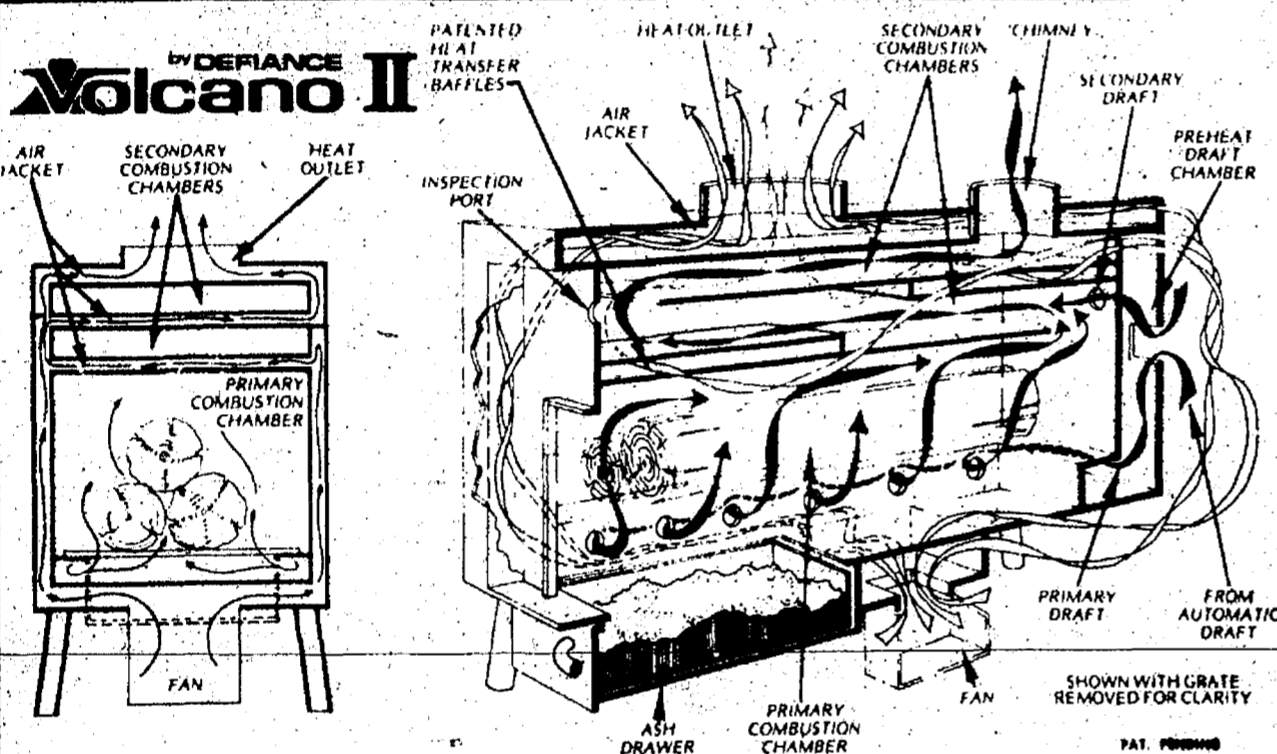

Don't Think of these units as your Supplemental Heating

Save Your Firewood Supply

You are indeed a fortunate individual if you have your own supply of firewood - but, whether you have your own stand of trees or purchase your supply by the cord, this is not the time to be wasteful! Sixty percent of the heat (or BTU's) available from your logs are in the gases released when the logs are burned. With almost every stove on the market today all of this heating energy is lost up the chimney - unburned and unused. That's right! Most homeowners heating with wood today send 60 percent of their firewood up the chimney in the form of unignited gas. Not so with the Defiance Volcano. In the Defiance Volcano the gases are mixed with hot air as they enter the secondary combustion chamber resulting in a sheet of flame 18" wide and up to 48" long. This flame produces heat that far surpasses the heat produced in the primary combustion chamber. In fact, when you allow your friends and neighbors to view this sheet of flame through the Defiance Volcano inspection port (provided on each unit), they will be utterly amazed at what they see. And as we all know, Seeing IS Believing.

- 1/4" Plate Throughout the Fire Box
- Takes Logs up to 24" in Length
- Ash Drawer
- Automatic Draft Control
- Burns the Gases - Less Creosote

Many Other Units To Choose From;

A.F.S. Fireplace * The Earth Stove * The European Efel & Godin
The Free Heat Machine * Johnson Energy System * The Monarch * The Sierra * Tempwood * Gateway Exchanger

Special Points....

- Wood is the only renewable fuel
- Our way is non-polluting
- The burning of wood benefits the forests of our country by producing carbon dioxide - much needed for the growth of all plant life...
- One load burns 10-12 hours

Presbyterians sponsor charity sale of used toys

The First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth will sponsor a Christmas toy sale open to the public on Dec. 3. The sale of used toys starts at 10 a.m. and will run until 4 p.m.

Most toys will be priced under $5 and proceeds from the toy sale will be used to help needy families in the Plymouth community at Christmastime, according to church member Diane Mallard.

Anyone wishing to donate toys to the sale can bring them to the church before Nov. 27, she said.

"We have a lot of toys already but we can always use more," said Mrs. Mallard.

Gene 'Santa' Reaves brightens Christmas

BY MARY DINGELDEY
AND CAROL MITCHELL

Yes, Canton there is a Santa Claus. He will make his special appearance the day after Thanksgiving at Griffin Park in Canton.

He will make a special appearance in Canton at Griffin Park at 1 p.m. He plans on visiting with children from the Plymouth-Canton area and is scheduled to receive the key to Canton from Candice and Chris Jefferson.

Years ago, Santa would arrive in Canton in a red and gold car complete with speakers and a chauffeur. Lucky children would go for a ride with the kindly old gentlemen. Today, however, Santa arrives in a helicopter to take requests for Christmas gifts.

This year, Canton is preparing for the arrival of a "special" Santa Claus - Gene "Santa" Reaves.

Sources say Santa Reaves contacted the Canton Chamber and said "you need help? I'll help you," just as he has for the community the past 42 years.

Reaves has been appearing as Santa since 1935, when he was first "chief of the reindeer" in the J. L. Hudson Thanksgiving parade for 10 years.

When Santa arrives by helicopter at Griffin Park, parents and children can talk to him and also enjoy coffee, doughnuts and punch at the Canton Firehall near the Park, located at Canton Center Road just north of Cherry Hill.

Santa will also be busy in the Plymouth Canton community. He may visit the Plymouth State Home and Training School. One year, he visited the home of a family whose child was afflicted with terminal lung disease. Three of the children had never seen Santa before.

In recent years, "Santa" Reaves has been a strong supporter of the mentally handicapped and blind children at the Plymouth State Home. For many months before Christmas, Reaves contacts persons in the Plymouth-Canton community and Detroit for donations of mittens, hats, and sweaters to brighten Christmas for many "forgotten" children.

A special project for Reaves is collecting donations to buy gift certificates for senior citizens active in the Foster Grandparents program at the Plymouth training school.

About 50 foster grandparents donate their time to the Plymouth Home, Reaves said. Although gift certificates will be presented to the grandparents, Reaves said "nine times out of 10 they will buy something for the child they work with."

"Santa" Reaves says donations for the gift certificates can be sent to Gene "Santa" Reaves, Willow Creek Apartments, 37789 Hixford Place, Apt. F-12, Westland, Mi. 48185.

Campaign urges residents to shop in local stores

For the second year, a campaign has been planned on behalf of local merchants urging community residents to "Shop Plymouth First."

First National Bank of Plymouth President Chuck Heidt said the program is aimed at encouraging Plymouth residents to do their shopping "right here in Plymouth."

As part of the campaign, local merchants will receive buttons for their employes to wear between now and Christmas picturing a holly wreath and bearing the legend "Christmas Shop Plymouth." Each store, as Heidt announced to members of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce in a special meeting last week, will receive a door sticker and window posters, as well as other materials featuring the "Christmas Shop Plymouth" slogan.

Heidt cited the benefits to the local economy of local shopping dollars, providing jobs here as well as spurring growth and development of new stores.

"It's not necessary that people shop only in Plymouth," Heidt added, "but because our dollars work twice as hard when they're spent at home, we encourage everyone to "Christmas Shop Plymouth."

The promotion will begin with a kick-off breakfast for merchants Nov. 29 at 8 a.m. in the Mayflower Meeting House.

Homemade felt decorations are a family tradition for Connie Kralik and her sister Beverly Dennis of Canton Township.

All the women in her family said Mrs. Kralik, including her mother and sisters, make felt Christmas tree decorations designed in the shape of well-known characters from books and legends.

The family collection currently consists of over six hundred figures. Mrs. Kralik's mother, Helen Wilson of Englewood, Ohio, began the tradition around 1965 with a dress-maker's pattern for tree decorations.

According to Mrs. Kralik, the craft is time-consuming but well worth the effort. "Little by little you get to the point where you just have to have them because they're so cute," she said.

Some of the popular characters in the collection include Raggedy Ann and Andy, Dorothy and the Tin Man, Hansel and Gretel, Goldilocks and the Three Bears, and Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus.

Mrs. Kralik's brother, Mike Wilson of Miamisburg, Ohio, has a tree decorated entirely with Peanut characters. Snoopy, Charlie Brown, Lucy and the rest of the gang are all there every Christmas holiday.

The collection has grown to the point where only the felt decorations and lights are used on family Christmas trees, Mrs. Kralik said.

Although her mother designs her own patterns, the rest of the family uses kits that are available commercially.

"It isn't anything that anybody else couldn't do," said Mrs. Kralik.

But proof of her own originality and Christmas creativity (and that of her family) decorate their Christmas trees every year in a very special way.

Warm Robes

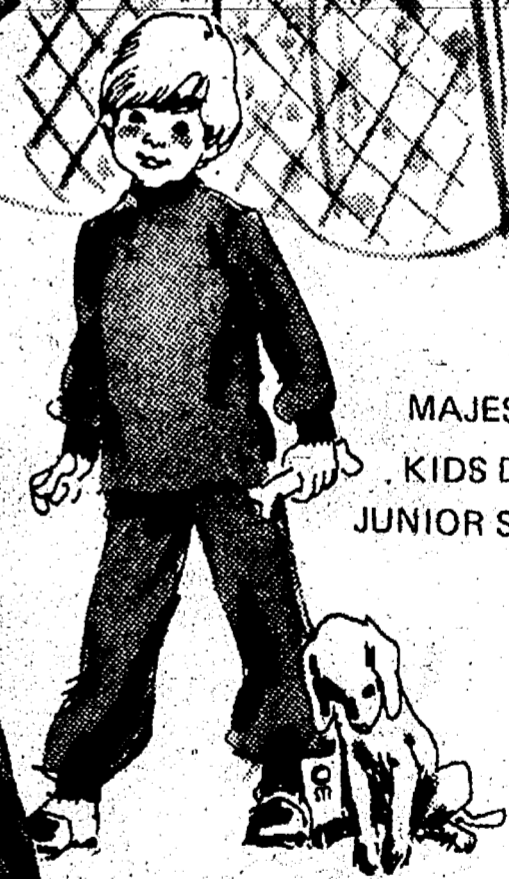

Think of her comfort during those cold Winter nights. She can cuddle up in one of these toasty quilted or wooly robes or caftans. The perfect gift.

Local Goodfellows want your help to give every kid a Christmas

If you think you're going to have a challenge choosing Christmas gifts this year, just imagine the task the Goodfellows of our community face.

This year, as every year, the goal of the Goodfellows of Plymouth and Canton is to make sure there's "No Kiddie Without a Christmas." Once again the Goodfellows will be out on street corners and at shopping centers here selling their special annual Goodfellow papers with that cherished aim in mind.

Both organizations will hold their sales this year on Saturday, Dec. 10. That date will mark the 39th annual sale for the Plymouth Goodfellows and the 26th for the Canton Goodfellows. Growth in the community has meant a growing need for the gifts of food and clothing the Goodfellows provide, officials of both organizations agree.

"If we're going to take care of all our cases this year we'll need more money or we'll have to cut down on what we do," added one Goodfellow.

Volunteers are welcome to help make sure there's "No Kiddie Without a Christmas." To take part in the sale Dec. 10, call Plymouth City Hall or the Canton Fire Department.

Officers of the Goodfellow organizations here this year are: in Plymouth, Paul Buckley, president; Tom Surface, vice-president; Lt. Henry Berghoff, treasurer; and Tony Sayers, secretary. Sgt. Ken Witt of the Canton Fire Department is president of the Canton Goodfellows.
