Budget calls for 1.9 new mills

Schools seek millage boost

At a workshop Tuesday, the Plymouth-Canton School board will discuss the number of mills to be requested from district voters in the spring.

Three major budgets prepared by Superintendent Mike Hoben will be scrutinized by the board. Two of these keep the basic programs in the district intact, while the third is a "worst-case" option, which could be used if the three mills up for renewal this spring is not approved by the voters.

"The board will be working towards a consensus on how much money we need," said School Board President Tom Yack.

The meeting which starts at 7:30 p.m. at the schools' administrative offices is, like all board meetings, open to the public.

The administration's first budget calls for 1.9 additional mills beyond the three that are expiring and would maintain present class sizes and programs.

The second budget calls for cuts of $850,000 that would mean increased class sizes, reduced allocations per student to each school and "in some cases, not replacing some vacant positions," the administration's report said.

This second alternative would still require an additional four-tenths of one mill beyond the three mills that are expiring.

The third alternative, based on voter reduction of the three mills, would accommodate "drastic reductions," including shortening the school day and a reduction of 65 teachers below this year's level.

More than half - 53.2 per cent - of the $5,093,000 needed to balance next year's budget is needed to cover increased wages to school employees, including the teachers who settled a two-year contract last spring.

School to give 'new' setting

BY CHAS CHILD

Will more than a 100 alternative education high school students attending classes next fall at Central Middle School disrupt the younger children?

"That problem can be managed," said Gus Gorguze, principal of Central, but others, including some Plymouth-Canton Board of Education members, were more skeptical.

This question and others surrounding a proposal to open an alternative high school in Plymouth-Canton next fall were covered in a wide-ranging discussion at a workshop meeting of the board Monday night.

"If you put alternative ed kids into Central there will be problems with smoking and drugs," said Trustee Joe Gray.

School administrators and citizens who worked on the Alternative Education Committee said that smoking and drugs will not be that much of a problem because 1) the alternative high school will not be just for troublemakers, but also for serious students who need a new environment; 2) there will be more supervision of the alternative ed kids than at CEP; and 3) the classrooms used for the alternative high school will be separate from the middle school area.

Aside from the mixing of the two student groups, some board members argued with the "student-centered" approach proposed for the new high school by the alternative ed committee.

"The programs will be individualized for each student," said Dale Yagiela, the Director of Growth Works, who worked on the alternative ed committee. "They will not be unstructured. Students, faculty, and parents will be working on the students' schedule."

Trustee Dick Arlen argued, though, that students need a standard of achievement to follow closely. "Most students don't know where they're going," he said.

As proposed, students who want to enter the school must do so voluntarily with a commitment from their parents to get involved.

"What makes you think students who aren't doing well at the Park will commit to a

Racquetball courts included

City recreation plan expected soon

City Manager Fred Yockey announced that the City Commission will discuss a long-range city recreation plan within the month.

A report on the recreation study will be presented to the Commission soon, Yockey said, and will provide for up to five-year recreation plans in the city.

Yockey said racquetball courts would be part of the plan.

Yockey would not comment on the possibility of land purchase or merging city and township recreation services.

Last week, The Crier reported on the possibility of the city and Plymouth township merging some public services.

An announcement is expected at the end of the month on the specifics of the merging services.

Plymouth Mayor Tom Turner said he did not want to speculate on the possibility of joint recreation services.

"I don't envision it will limit us to what we can do together, but it's strictly speculative," he said.

Supervisor Tom Notebaert was on vacation and unavailable for comment, but Township Clerk Helen Richardson said thus far the township had not officially discussed it.

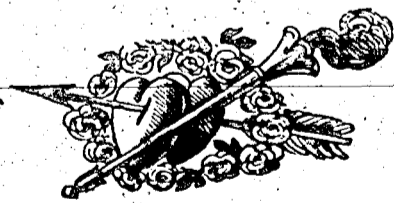

"The discussion is strictly between Mr. Turner and Mr. Notebaert, right now," she said!

Brick dispute goes to court

A Canton township subdivision builder will go to court Feb. 22 "merely to answer the complaint" filed against him by Canton township police for obstructing traffic by not moving two piles of bricks from a construction site.

"I don't know if we will sue," said Frank Koss, builder for Mayfair subdivision at Oakbrook and Morton Taylor Roads.

"They issued a citation for which there is a fine. We will attend that court hearing. Right now, we are speaking with the township regarding the incident."

The incident Koss referred to was the removal of the bricks by Canton Department of Public Works after Canton police had issued two orders to Koss that he move the bricks himself, according to Canton police.

Koss said the bricks were worth more than $3,000, which included the bricks and the costs incurred to "clean up" after the Canton DPW used a backhoe to remove the bricks.

According to Canton police, on Jan. 6 they notified Koss that two piles of bricks, from five to six feet high each, were obstructing traffic on Candlewood and Oakwood in the Mayfair subdivision.

Police say they gave Koss one week to remove the bricks that were blocking the street, or the department would take action to clear it. Canton police said they would "push the bricks off the road."

On Jan. 12, the bricks were still there, Canton police said, and Koss was again contacted and warned that the bricks would be moved.

Koss said he was aware of the problem and would clear the bricks, according to police.

The next day, Koss was told again by the police to move the bricks and he said he would move them, police said. But, according to police, by 5 p.m. the bricks still hadn't been moved, so the Canton DPW was called and they began moving the bricks.

"A few residents out there complained that their vision was blocked," said Canton township attorney Walter Guth. "If they take us to court, I don't think they would win. I think the officers were right in what they did."

Bowler's hubcaps swiped

Returning to his car after bowling at Plaza Lañes in Plymouth Township last Tuesday, James V. Fisher of 44215 Craftsburg Court, Canton, found all four hubcaps missing from his late-model automobile, according to State Police.

No footprints were found near the car and the larceny may have occurred elsewhere, the police said. There are no suspects, said the report.

BETTY BUZUVIS of Plymouth, her daughter and two neighbors picketed the school district's offices on Harvey Street last Wednesday afternoon protesting the random selection process the school presently uses to balance attendance figures between the two high schools. Mrs. Buzuvis said her daughter was the only student on her block who had to attend Canton, and in her opinion, the school administration did not give sufficient consideration to her appeal. (Crier photo by Hank Meijer).

Parents take gripes to board

Random selection draws ire

BY CHAS CHILD

Random selection, the controversial policy that uses a computer to assign students to Canton or Salem High School, drew a storm of criticism Monday night from parents angry about their children's placements at a workshop Monday of the Plymouth-Canton School Board.

The most common complaint from parents in the audience was that students in predominantly Canton neighborhoods, for example, were assigned to Salem, and vice versa.

"Our daughter is the only child in our neighborhood going to Salem," one parent told the board. "We are very pleased with her present peer group and she might not be so lucky in finding a new peer group next year."

Adopted this school year, random selection gives eighth graders who have a sibling at Canton or Salem the choice to go to that school. The only or eldest child, however, receives an assignment from a computer.

According to Superintendent Mike Hoben, the policy was adopted for two main reasons: No boundary adjustments are necessary, and balance between the schools will be more easily achieved.

The policy also provides an even mix of socio-economic groups in the two high schools and aids long-range planning by the administration, Hoben said.

The superintendent briefly explained the alternative to random selection, including the feeder school plan which was used prior to this year's change.

The alternatives are: 1) Random selection of all students, 2) open enrollment, 3) one school, 4) geographical division, and random assignment by geographical division.

Previously, students from East and Central middle schools went to Canton, and Pioneer and West middle school graduates went to Salem.

This system caused Salem to grow faster than Canton, and boundary changes were necessary to balance the schools' populations, which in at least one case, split a family.

Many protesting parents said they understood the board's problems but advocated a return to geographical boundaries for the two schools.

"I think splitting peer groups (under random selection) is worse than splitting families (under boundary changes)," one father said.

Trustee Joe Gray, the only vocal opponent of random selection on the board, agreed: "I'd hate to have the only kid in the sub going to a different school." He advocated a return to boundary lines. "With good planning, the lines would not have to be changed for years," he said.

Overall, the board received 43 appeals of the computer's assignments of more than 1,000 selections. Only two of these appeals were granted, but both were students involved in special education.

Parent William Johnson said, "Look at these appeals. These kids are individuals. Don't dismiss them out of hand."

The students are not allowed to choose and the schools have made no exceptions Hoben said, to avoid any conflict with state athletic guidelines which ban a practice that could allow high school coaches to recruit promising middle school athletes.

"It's up to us to pick the solution that will have the least impact on the community," School Board President Tom Yack said.

Sewers, roads top city's wish list

The City of Plymouth hopes to obtain some $33,000 for a city sewer survey and $40,000 for road improvement at the intersection of Mill and Main Streets in Old Village.

Those were two of the sites the City Commission decided to apply for in the first of a three year program Community Development projects.

The City expects to receive $100,000 for each of the three years and Monday prioritized the first year list and discussed items on the second and third year programs.

For the first year, the City has applied for (in the following order) the Mill and Main intersection improvements; improvements of the fire department communication system for $10,000; a planning study to determine what projects to list in the second and third years for $1,000; a fair housing study for $1,000; the sewer survey evaluation; Old Village redevelopment, which would include street lighting, entrance signs and a rose arbor for $10,000 and the remainder to offset the cost of a fire truck.

Tentative items for the second year include $40,000 for the fire truck; $40,000 for replacement of a band shell; a City Hall elevator for improving handicapped access to the building for $40,000; and a day care center for $20,000.

The third year list would include more funds for the fire truck (a new one is now estimated to cost $250,000); recreation improvements, a senior citizens room in the Cultural Center for $155,000 and the re-surfacing of Starkweather Street for $80,000.

City Commissioners again discussed the high cost of a new fire truck. Mayor Tom Turner said he thought the price tag was too expensive for the City.

"When it comes down to spending a quarter of a million dollars for a city with 12,000 residents; it's a hard decision to make," he said.

Commissioner Bev McAninch suggested funding for the truck, new or used, could be obtained from the Community Development program.

Other commissioners said perhaps the city could share the costs of the fire vehicle with adjoining communities. City Fire Chief George Schoenneman had told commissioners previously that the present city fire truck, built 35 years ago and purchased used from the City of Detroit 10 years ago was becoming "obsolete."

Others commented that to buy a used truck was "to buy someone else's troubles."

The Commissioners listed the funds for the fire truck last in the first year priority list in the Community Development program.

City engineer warns of Tonquish flooding

BY DONNA LOMAS

Plymouth City Engineer Kenneth West told city commissioners Monday that Plymouth was being "adversely affected" by storm water runoff in the Tonquish Creek Catch Basin.

West said parts of the city could flood if improvements are not made soon. Development around the Tonquish Creek catch basin (located in Plymouth Township) and runoff that more and more frequently approaches the capacity of the basin have created the potential for trouble.

As much as 30 per cent of local rainfall now ends up in the stream compared to only 10 per cent before development, said West.

"In the past 10 years, the character of the basin upstream has changed, so the percentage of rainfall has increased to three times as much," the engineer told the commission. West said only 10 per cent of a rainfall would end up in a stream that had undeveloped (open) land around it.

The city expects a study from the U.S. Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service to be completed in March. The study, which analyzes the hazards of flooding around the Tonquish, would define areas in the city that could be affected by flooding.

"The more development, the more water in the stream," West said. "The city's increased runoff is also creating increased erosion. You may open your back door one day and find half your backyard gone if the erosion goes too far."

West said the Wayne County Drain Commissioner had primary responsibility of controlling the runoff, but that the city, the townships of Canton and Plymouth, and Westland had to work together if the situation was going to improve.

"If we stop development, it would only keep the runoff as large as it is today," he said. "Control on development could maintain that runoff or improve it."

"If a big enough drain system is provided it would take away the rainfall, or you could store the rainfall and release it at a rate the present system could hold."

West said both those alternatives were proposed, but were not accepted. A study done 10 years ago for the City recommended improving the drain, but the Plymouth Township engineers recommended a reservoir method.

"Yes, the city could suffer a flood," West said. "We'll know in a few months what effect it will have."

Pilot walks away from airplane crash

An Ypsilanti man walked away from his wrecked two-seater airplane Saturday after he was forced to land it in a field in Salem township.

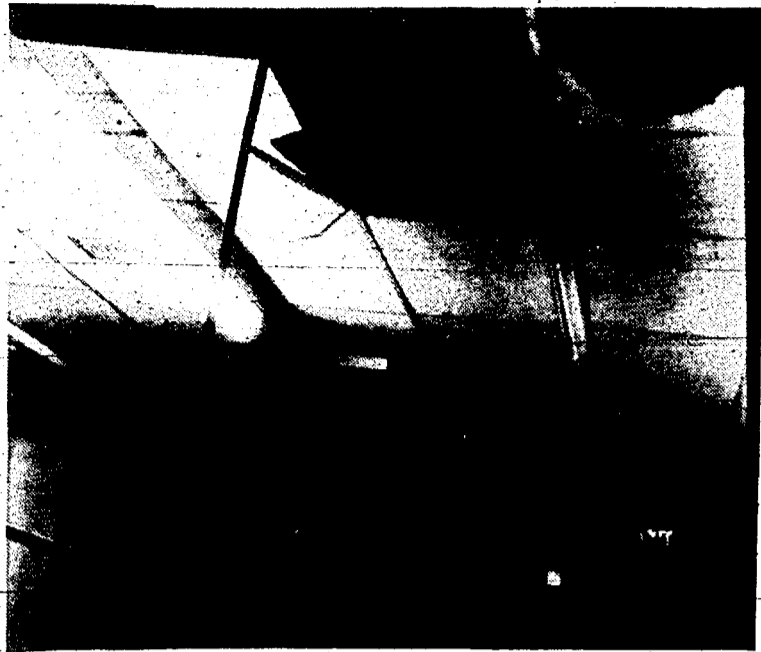

According to State Police in Brighton, the control stick of Burton Blodgett's 1946 Luscombe airplane jammed and he landed it near 7 Mile Road between Chubb and Currie at 4:45 p.m.

The plane sustained extensive damage to the front and windshield, and Blodgett suffered cuts and bruises, the police said. He received treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ypsilanti and was released.

The Federal Aviation Administration is investigating the crash, police said.

Myers may have edge for county seat

Cat burglar tumbles

"IF HE WASN'T hurt, he's the luckiest guy in the world," was Canton shop-owner Richard Doyle's remark after discovering a gaping hole in his Herman Survivor Shop ceiling Wednesday morning. Wayne County Sheriffs report the would-be cat burglar apparently cut a hole in the roof of the New Towne Plaza Shop and scrambled across heating ducts and pipes before losing balance and crashing through the ceiling to the concrete floor below. A crowbar and screwdriver were found on the floor and detectives discovered dusty handprints on the ducts. The culprit left through the back door of the shop after he fell more than 20 feet. Doyle said nothing was taken from his boot shop. (Crier photo).

Canton Trustee Robert Myers has announced that he has received an endorsement from the United Auto Workers' Region I Council to fill the Wayne County Board of Commissioners seat recently vacated by County DPW Chief Royce Smith.

Smith resigned the Commission seat Jan. 27 to accept the DPW post. Whomever is chosen to replace him will serve out the term until Dec. 31.

Vying for the seat with Myers is: Maurice Breen, Plymouth Township trustee and attorney; Walter Hink, Canton attorney who finished second to Smith in the primary two years ago; James Poole, former Canton trustee and a retired Army major; William Joyner, an administrative assistant to Livonia mayor Edward McNamara; Fred Montgomery, a local union official at Wayne County General Hospital and Eugene O'Grady of Wayne, a retired Wayne County Sheriff's Deputy.

The 27th District seat includes Canton, Plymouth Township, the City of Plymouth and parts of Westland, Van Buren, Northville and Belleville townships.

County Commissioners are expected to appoint a replacement Feb. 16. Candidates will then seek Republican and Democratic nominations at the Aug. 8 primary for the two-year seat.

Myers said if appointed, he will immediately resign as Canton trustee. The 33-year old UAW member said he believed he had a "50-50" chance of getting the appointment.

"I will be a candidate because Canton is a growing community and I think we ought to have a representative that knows what is happening in Plymouth and Canton," he said. "If appointed, I will make it a full-time job."

Another candidate, R. William Joyner, a former City of Livonia employe was endorsed by the UAW Region 1E. The metropolitan Detroit AFL-CIO has endorsed Frank Montgomery.

Myers is an assembly line worker at General Motors and has been a Canton trustee since 1974. He is president of the Michigan Mobile Homeowners Association, an executive committee member of the National Mobile Home Council and a member of the Michigan Mobile Home Commission.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners will elect the next 27th district county commissioner at its meeting Feb. 16.

Nominations will be made by the commissioners to comply with a state law the required tilling the vacancy within 30 days.

County Commissioners are trying to remove the requirement for special elections to fill vacancies in county boards of commissioners in election years.

"The bill (to remove election requirements) would save Wayne County taxpayers a total of $100,000 this year for special elections. Right now, the county is required to hold the elections in the next 90 days and the new commissioner would serve less than three months before the primary election in August," Barr said.

The commissioners have directed its councils to meet with the Election Scheduling Committee to determine the "earliest feasible date for a special election," Barr said.

The county seat pays $17,500 a year. Candidates must be U.S. citizens, be a registered voter and live in the 27th district.

Local firm bought out

Charles Drake, president of Medar, a computer systems manufacturer for control of welding equipment, has announced the merging of the Plymouth based company with Maxco, a small conglomerate based in Lansing. Maxco has acquired all outstanding stock of Medar through an exchange of Maxco common stock as announced Jan. 31.

Drake said Medar becomes the 13th subsidiary of Maxco. "We're pleased," he said. "The stockholders are happy. The move was good for us."

Drake said the new subsidiary will remain with the same management and will "be staying in Plymouth and expanding."

City switchboard deluged

More than 300 phone calls jammed the City of Plymouth police switchboard the Thursday morning the blizzard began, most of them from parents.

A city spokesperson said the calls were from angry parents who had not been notified early enough that schools were closed and had already sent their children outside to wait for the bus.

The schools participate in a state police network that notifies radio stations through a code system.

Local stations that broadcast school closings are: WCAR, WJR, WWJ, WXYZ and WUOM.

Miller Woods gets clean-up boost

The Plymouth-Canton School District received last week a $42,501 grant to hire teenagers to clean up Miller Woods and to help landscape Canton Township's new hall.

Twenty-four youths, aged 15 through 19, will be hired from June through August to do the work. The pay will be $2.65 per hour for 30 hours per week.

Applications are available from the Student Placement Center at CEP and are due by March 1.

The State of Michigan's Department of Natural Resources provided $29,751, while Canton Township added the rest -- $12,750 -- in matching funds. The project is part of the department's Youth Conservation Corp program.

Miller Woods, a 10-acre parcel on Powell Road in Plymouth Township, is one of the last virgin forests left in Michigan.

Lately, however, the unique forest has been littered with trash and dumpings and the youth workers will clean up the trash.

"We have tried to get money to clean up Miller Woods in the past, and we are very pleased to get this grant," said Sam Ulsaker, Administrative Assistant for the school. The schools own the property.

Still under construction, Canton Township Hall is due to be finished in May. The youth workers will tend the trees that will be planted on the hall's grounds at Canton Center and Proctor Rds., said Mike Gorman, the township's Deputy Treasurer.

Long wait for 'copters

Canton township is still "on the waiting list" for purchasing used helicopters from the federal government, according to Canton Supervisor Harold Stein.

The township was put on the waiting list last fall for the purchase of the surplus helicopters, which are sold at $500 each through the Civil Defense program.

Stein has said that helicopters could aid Canton police during hunting season, watching over township parks and patrol the township faster than a police car.

"When we hear they are available we'll have to fly out to Phoenix and check them out," Stein said. "A lot of the time, you take your chances with these used ones."

Will Canton join PCF?

Canton trustees and United Fund officials, along with Plymouth Community Fund (PCF) leaders were expected to discuss the community fund at last night's meeting.

Last September, the Canton trustees decided to ask if Canton could join with the PCF to form the Canton-Plymouth Community Fund.

Canton is presently a member of the United Metro Fund, and several Canton residents contribute yearly to that and also to the Plymouth fund.

At that time, Canton Supervisor Harold Stein said he wanted Canton township to join the fund so local funds would go to local services.

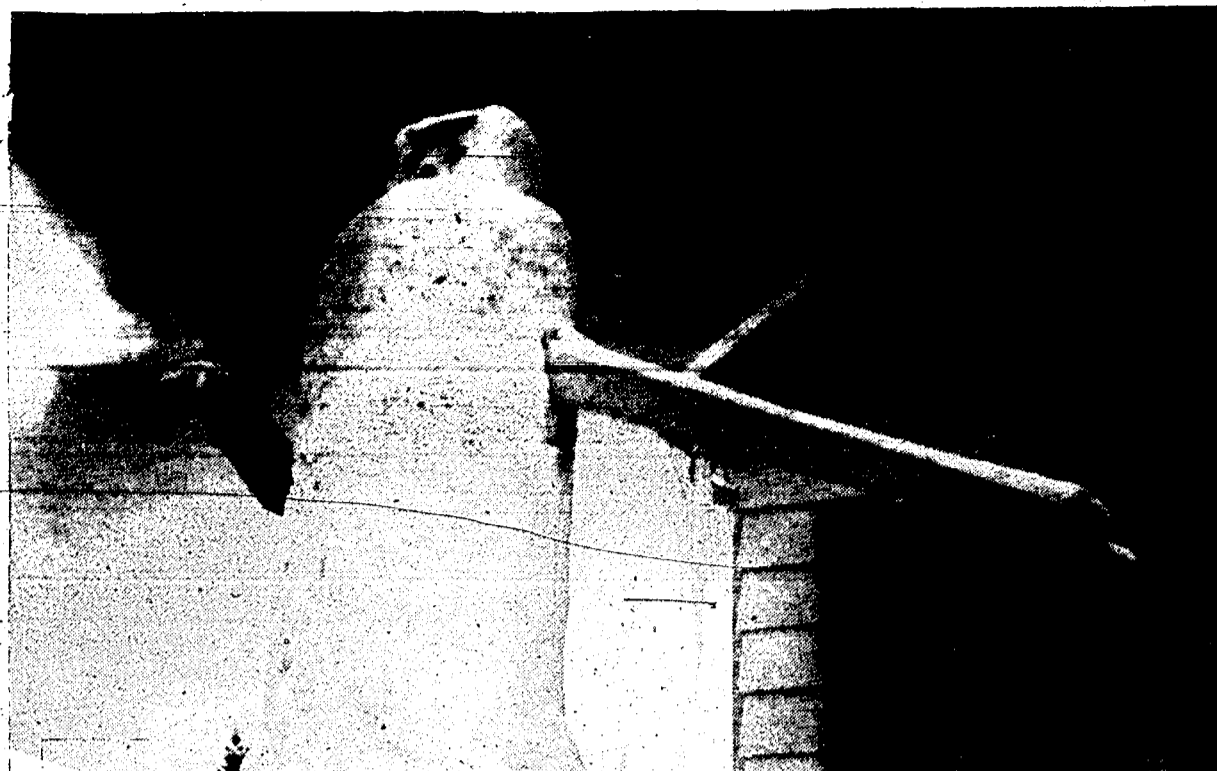

Chamber dinner set

The Canton Chamber of Commerce has tickets available now for its Sixth Annual Dinner meeting, scheduled for Wednesday, March 1.

The meeting will be held at the Roman Forum Restaurant on Ford Road and will be the first meeting held in Canton, said chamber office manager Mary Dingeldey.

Chamber officers will be installed and newly-elected directors introduced.

Tickets are $9.50 per person. For further information, call the Chamber office at 453-4040.

Cantonites can fight property tax levels

Canton township officials are reminding Canton residents and land owners of their right to protest property tax assessments.

Canton taxpayers who think they have been assessed unfairly, or those wishing a reduction in taxes because of a hardship or disability can appear before the Tax Board of Review beginning March 7.

Appointments can be made by calling Rose Bretzlaff at township offices at 397-1000. The Board of Review will be in session daily from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. until March 15. That day protests will be heard until 8:30 p.m.

"The Board will continue to meet until all protests are heard," said Harold Stein, Canton Supervisor.

Also everyone must appear before the Board of Review each year. When the Board of Review lowers an assessment the reduction is only good for one year. A resident does not have to appear in person if they were given a reduction the previous year and want the Board to continue the reduction, but these people still must submit the request to the Board in writing giving the necessary information.

Petitions must be filled out completely prior to a hearing before the Board. These petitions may be obtained from the Township offices at 44508 Geddes or citizens may call the township and have a petition mailed to them.

REDUCE TAXABLE SALE PROFIT

If you sell your home and make a profit, Uncle Sam will expect to get a share of that profit in the form of income taxes. That is, unless you reinvest your proceeds in another home or are over 65.

Therefore, those who profit from a home sale, put the check in the bank and rent an apartment, should not overlook any legitimate expenses which would reduce the size of the taxable gain. Expenses such as the Realtor's commissions, deed preparation, legal and appraisal fees, and any escrow fees, can be taken off the top.

So-called "fix-up" expenses also can lead to tax savings. This "fix-up" work must be done during the 90 day period before the sale and payment must be made no later than 30 days after the sale.

Canton surplus should be returned to taxpayers

And all this time we thought Canton was run by its officials like a country store. We reckon it's about time to change that particular point of view - those folks down there are slicker than we thought.

A surplus of $836,000 in the township's general fund has been building up for some years. The 1977 budget surplus contributed some $267,000 to that amount.

Shucks - can you imagine $836,000 - a little more than two Canton mills in cash in the Canton township bank account? Those stacks of bills are also earning interest for the township which will be put back into the general fund.

Nothing wrong with a little extra money, in fact it is downright pleasant - but will it be for Canton residents? It is admittedly difficult to determine exactly what it will cost to run the township for a year and what services the ever-growing residential population will need.

It is also to the township's advantage to have a little extra in the bank, township officials say. Like for emergencies. Like for expanding the township police department (county service provides two patrol cars for an expensive price and not much service); for a third police station, for DPW equipment, for land purchase that may someday become community parks. Or, on the more frivolous and specialized interest group side: helicopters, a golf course, more municipal buildings.

Canton township officials are now faced with the difficult task of what to do with the money.

According to Canton Finance Director Mike Gorman, there won't be all that much left if the board accepts his recommendation to retain at least $500,000 until the growth stops, until the "community stabilizes."

Only then should it be returned to the residents, he says, either indirectly (through expanding police, building a courthouse) or directly (lowering taxes.)

Other township officials no doubt have their own particular (peculiar?) ideas on what best to do with the money. It could become a gruesome little scene, much like family squabbling over a dead relative's money, each more deserving (or so they think) than the last.

Canton is expecting the results of a survey soon from several communities about what they did with surplus money. Once the results are in order, the township board will discuss their options. Residents, too, will get a chance to suggest ways to use the money at two public hearings.

We think Canton owes its present residents a break. The money should be channeled back to the residents as quickly as possible.

Those who paid taxes in 1977 and move next year are certainly not going to enjoy the benefits of an expanded police department or a community park created from land not yet purchased. Township residents get little enough now in the way of services for taxes they pay the township.

The most direct, fairest way is to lower the taxes or mail each resident a refund check.

Another alternative would be a tree planting program for township residents. In what used to be acres of cornfields, are now miles of shade-less subdivision homes.

If you can't earn interest on the money in your own bank account, you might as well sit in the shade of your newly-planted township tree and dream about it.

Shucks, Canton, how about it?

Spend alternative ed funds in middle school

Few people could disagree with the Alternative Education Committee's rationale for opening an alternative high school in Plymouth-Canton. There are many students who simply don't thrive on the traditional education provided by Canton and Salem high schools.

These students are unmotivated, have little sense of direction and see no reason to apply themselves to their studies.

In designing programs to help these students, however, a full-fledged alternative high school may not be the best approach.

By the time troubled students get to high school, their bad habits are already well ingrained. A alternative high school would be treating the symptoms, rather than the causes, of their problems.

What's needed is some preventive medicine. The bulk of the "Alternative ed" money, extra teaching time and effort - should be spent in the middle schools to get the students started on the right path.

Middle school students are at an age of insecurity, beset by complex pressures from friends, parents and themselves. It is at this time that they need extra guidance and direction.

Some students, though, are better helped at the high school level, and teachers and counselors at CEP should have the time to pay special attention to them.

To create a full-fledged alternative high school, administrators should prove that 1) the money would not be better spent in the middle schools and 2) the students can be that much better served at an alternative school than by the present programs and counselors at CEP.

Hospital developer should reveal previous involvement

The day Mel Stein, of Great American Building Corp. in Farmington, first proposed construction of a nursing home-office-hospital complex in Canton, he admitted that years before he had owned a hospital, but refused to give any details of his involvement.

The Crier has heard from another source that the hospital was in Florida and Stein was forced to sell out, but he has ignored repeated requests from us for more information.

Our telephone calls to Stein's office asking for an explanation of his involvement have not been returned for two weeks.

The lone call Stein (no relation to Canton Supervisor Harold Stein) returned, he said he could not talk about the Florida hospital over the phone at the airport. He said he would get back to us with the whole story, but no explanation was received, despite repeated calls for two weeks.

What has Stein got to hide? Whatever it is, township officials should insist on the details of his Florida hospital involvement before they grant him his rezoning request of the site on Canton Center Road just south of Ford Road.

Supervisor Stein said he did not know of Developer Stein's Florida hospital, and he would rely on State of Michigan health agencies to investigate his background.

The consequences for Canton are too great, however, for the township to wait until the state decides whether or not to give Developer Stein a certificate of need for his hospital.

Canton would certainly be a better place to live with a hospital, but there can be no unanswered questions about the person who wants to build it.

Steve and Mike saved car

EDITOR:

I would like to say "Thank you" to two Central Middle School students, Steve Caloia and Michael Hirt, whose help last Monday was greatly appreciated.

I was glad to be on my way to work at 7 a.m. (after being snow-bound for four days) when I heard a muffled explosion and saw sparks flying.

As I pulled off the road at the Plymouth-Hilton and stopped, two boys ran up, shouting "Get out of your car - it's on fire". I did so quickly and they rushed into the lobby of the Hilton to ask someone to call the Fire Department. Then they returned with a fire extinguisher and put out the flames of what was left of my catalytic converter.

Their quickness and resourcefulness helped prevent an explosion. Steve and Mike certainly were not afraid to get involved and did what they could to prevent the possible loss of my car.

Their assistance, along with the courtesy of the Plymouth-Hilton desk clerk and the help of the Township Fire Department will be remembered a long time. Thank you to all for caring enough to help someone in trouble.

Student parking fees deplorable

EDITOR:

I would like the community to know about a deplorable administrative practice at Centennial Educational Park.

Students who drive to school are being turned away and told that they can not park their cars on CEP property without the purchase of a $2 parking permit or because there is no more room in the student parking lot.

This is only one of the many parking problems students are confronted with at the Park. There is only one lot for student use, and that lot is supposed to serve two schools. To add to the problem, there are only 380 spaces in that lot. Salem High alone has already issued 382 student parking permits: Where does this leave Canton High?

This presents a terrible overcrowding situation on a normal day, not to mention the current problem with snow piles taking up about 100 spaces.

It continues to amaze me as to how the school, in the face of unprecedented student growth, can be limiting student parking space, rather than opening up some of the half-used lots at Canton.

How are such absences to be explained to teachers and parents? Who would believe that the school administrators would be refusing to let the students in, when it has always been my impression that these administrators were there to get students to class, not keep them away.

I also feel that the "concerned parents" should reevaluate their facts. Is it the students of the High School that don't go to classes, or is it the Administration that creates a truancy problem by not allowing students to come to school and park their cars?

If you, as parents, students or citizens of this community feel that the unethical practices of the school faculty should be abandoned at once, make your concerns known to the Superintendent of Schools at the board office.

There's consolidation in the air

A couple of weeks ago, when Plymouth City Commissioners were trying to figure out their spending priorities for Federal Block Grant money, a comment by Mayor Tom Turner should have tipped us off that city-township consolidation talk would soon be in the air again.

One item for which the city should apply for Federal aid, some officials suggested, was a new aerial ladder truck for the fire department. Nowhere has inflation struck with more of a vengeance than in the cost of fire trucks. What was the price tag on this new rig — which could make a crucial difference if a fire broke out in a downtown building or a factory? Nearly $240,000. Even the chief gulped.

The aerial truck the city uses now is a cast-off from the Detroit Fire Department that pre-dates D-Day. And the nearest good ladder truck — the city has called upon it on several occasions — belongs to Plymouth Township. The township paid $90,000 for its truck only a few years ago, although at the time even that sum seemed astronomical.

When the truck came up, the mayor declared, "$240,000 is far beyond the economic reality of a community our size."

That observation had the ring of truth — and more. It sounded like the voice of a man ready to come to grips with consolidation.

We should all be. The township has a big park, the city has an ice arena. The township has an aerial fire truck and a fire station close to the city's Old Village, the city has a police department.

There's a message in that list. When Joe Bida and Bev McAninch were mayors and J. D. McLaren was township supervisor, everyone seemed more inclined to sling mud than talk about sharing. It remains for Turner and Supervisor Tom Notebaert, neither of whom could ever be accused of being impulsive, to get beyond the talking stage and win the support of their commissioners and trustees.

If they can lay the foundations for a community which shares its costly services and ultimately becomes the single community it should be, saving the extravagant cost of a fire engine could be one of many benefits.

*AAUW production
 livelier each year*

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

Live entertainment is as exciting for children as it is for their parents.

Each year children in the Plymouth Canton School District look forward to the play presented annually by the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW).

Members of the AAUW first became interested in putting together a children's play in October 1960 after studying contemporary drama.

Their first, "Snow White and Rose Red" was written, produced and directed by Pam Wisniewski. Stage setting then consisted of a fireplace cut from a large TV box, and trees that became real with imagination, and chicken wire filled with multi-colored tissue paper.

Costumes for that first play were discovered in dusty attics and borrowed from generous friends. The only money spent was $25 which went towards printing the tickets said Bobbi Abbott, publicity chairman. They thought it was important to sell tickets in advance, but they sold so fast that plans for two performances were changed to three, Mrs. Abbott said.

After repaying the AAUW board the $25, they made a profit of $184.70 the first year. That amount climbed to $366.23 the following year when the group presented "Rumpelstiltskin".

Through the years the simple sets and costumes have changed into elaborate productions, and interest and support for the plays has continued to grow.

For two months each year most of the 250 members of the Plymouth-Canton branch are involved in some way with the production. Besides those rehearsing for stage parts, each play also involves the participation of many

Kiwanis film depicts Panama paradise

A film depicting the underwater and tropical land worlds of Panama will be shown by the Kiwanis Club Tuesday, Feb. 14 at 8 p.m. in Salem auditorium.

The Panama film, narrated by scuba diver and film maker Clint Denn, is the fourth in the Kiwanis film series in the local area.

According to the film, "The New Panama", is a "vibrant young nation nestled between the blue Pacific and the restless Atlantic." The film shows the American canal zone and takes viewers on trips to pirate havens, palm island resorts and native Indian villages. Banana culture is explored.

Tickets are $2 for each performance.

'HANSEL AND GRETEL' is this year's AAUW production. From left to right, Cathy Fife as Hansel, Jane Emery as The Witch, Judy Kameraad as Gretel and Sheridan Brown as The Cat. The play will be performed Feb.

24, 25, and 26 at Salem High School. Tickets will be on sale Feb. 14 and 15 at the school. For more information, call Bobbie Abbott at 453-2603. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler).

people backstage. Working behind the scenes includes jobs like stagehands, make-up, ushers, artists who design sets, costumes, posters, scenery, tickets, music and publicity.

Plays that the AAUW have presented include such favorites as "Cinderella"; "Black Beauty"; "The Wizard of Oz"; "Snow White and Seven Dwarfs"; "Pinocchio"; and this year "Hansel and Gretel".

Getting children involved in the productions is part of each plays purpose. Most plays are geared to the three to nine year old children giving them plenty of opportunity for audience participation and imagination.

ALTHOUGH THE BRICKLAYERS have stopped because the joints don't set below 20 degrees, Canton Township's new hall will still be finished close to its scheduled opening date in May, said Deputy Treasurer Mike Gorman. The bricklayers did enclose the first floor and basement so electrical and mechanical work is going on inside, Gorman said. "It's up to Mother Nature. The bricklayers will probably start back up in about a month, and hopefully they'll add extra workers to stay on schedule." In a related development, the Plymouth-Canton School District recently received a grant to hire youths that will help landscape the hall in the summer. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler).

Clear fireplugs

Canton Fire Chief Mel Paulen asks any citizen with a fire hydrant in his neighborhood to clean the snow off it.

There had been no emergency as of last week, Paulen said, but firemen can waste precious time searching for a buried hydrant.

Senior citizens can take advantage of income tax clinics sponsored by the Plymouth Northville American Association of Retired Persons. The service is free and will be held at selected locations throughout the Plymouth Northville areas.

The purpose of the clinics is to help seniors with their tax returns and alert them to deductions they may have overlooked, says Fred Bradley of the AARP. For further information call Bradley at 348-2909.

The AARP Tax Aide Team has spent more than three days training, in both federal and state income tax returns. At the tax clinics, seniors can bring in their own tax data or they may bring questions.

February clinics will be held at:

Monday, Feb. 13, Plymouth Cultural Center, 2 to 4 p.m.
Thursday, Feb. 16, Northville Public Library, 2 to 5 p.m.
Wednesday, Feb. 22, Plymouth Presbyterian Church, 2 to 3 p.m. (following regular Chapter meeting).

My column has been shortened this week in order to print "My Valentine To The Cooks."

*Valentines Day is a time for love, but I know for me the cooks have none;
They don't realize that my column above, has always been in the spirit of fun.*

*Students express their complaints, they have a right to be heard;
But the cooks only concern is,
that their name has been slurred.*

*This poem appears in the paper today,
for all the times I've been unfair;
Yours is a difficult job with little pay,
and for the records, I really do care!*

*So may cupid strike them with his bow, and on their faces put back that glow;
I'll keep typing kids' gripes, valid or not,
down to the simplest—their food is not hot!*

Alternative school studied voluntary program?" asked Gray.

Five teachers will work with about 100-125 students in the new school, as planned by the alternative education committee. The new teachers will be needed as a result of regular growth in the district, and they will have no impact on the budget, committee members said.

Bussing the students to Central will cost extra, though — about $8,000, the committee said.

The new school will help students who suffer from many problems, including: abusive behavior, no direction, poor achievement, no challenge, and for those who have unique interests.

It was the consensus of the board that there were still many unanswered questions about the proposal, and it will discuss it again at a workshop session after the regular board meeting on Monday, Feb. 13.

PACTS eyes future

Any citizen who wants to be heard on the major issues facing the Plymouth-Canton School District in the next two years and beyond should attend a special school meeting Wednesday, Feb. 15 at Pioneer Middle School at 7:30 p.m.

The five major issues to be discussed are: planning for growth, curriculum continuity, communication, maintenance of buildings and equipment, and transportation.

The special meeting is part of the ongoing PACTS (parents, administrators, citizens, teachers and students) assemblies which are charged with working on long-range planning for the district.

There is a PACTS committee at each school of the district and representatives from each committee will attend the special meeting.

At last Wednesday's PACTS meeting, chairpersons for each issue committee were chosen. Carol Schwall will head curriculum, Geraldine Dugan will head growth, and Sue Wisniewski will chair communication. Also, Mike Morgan will be in charge of maintenance and JoAnn Presley will chair the transportation committee.

LD speaker due

Dr. Joseph Gonzales, Ph.D. will be guest speaker at the Plymouth-Canton-Northville chapter of the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities (M.A.C.L.D.) February meeting.

The chapter's fifth meeting of the season will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 15, at Pioneer Middle School cafeteria, 46081 Ann Arbor Rd. Dr. Gonzales will discuss "Language Correction and Speech."

The meeting is free and open to the public.

Tires punctured

A Plymouth Township woman who lives on Postiff street told State Police last week that she has had nine flat tires in the past two weeks.

She said just the air had been let out of the tires sometimes, but on other occasions, they had been punctured, according to the police report.

There is no suspect in the case and troopers will patrol her apartment complex, the Plymouth House Apartments, the police report said.

Pine racers zoom toward trophies

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

The crowd gathered and excitement was in the air as the annual Pine Wood Derby at Gallimore School was about to begin. Fathers and sons spent many hours cutting, sanding and painting their cars getting them in perfect shape for the big race.

Cub Scout Pack No. 766 at Gallimore School had 66 cars running in their derby last Thursday night. The boys did most of the miniature car work themselves with a little help and guidance from their dads.

Top prize of the evening went to David Slater whose car came in first place. Second place went to Kevin Chrysler, and David Sandel won the third place award. The seven runners up were Greg Dani, James Farrell, Mark Lopez, Matt Pilon, Brian Reel, Gary Sandel and Steve Spotts. Scott Rice received a first place award for the boy scouts who took part in a separate race.

Winners in the style and design category were Tom Stafford, Bill Biedron, Brian Reel, Steven Pitcher, Jeff Clark and Jim Paul. Rob McLeavey won in the style and design for the boy scouts.

Judges for style and design were Bob Najmowicz and Jack Lashbrook. Larry Barkoff and Tom Ford of the Miller School Cub Scout pack judged the race.

Steve Green, whose car won one heat before being disqualified, said his dad helped him a little but he came up with the design himself. Steve, who will be nine on Friday thought he might try something different with the design next year.

Eric Pemperton of Den Three declared "my dad and I designed it together and it only lost by that much". Eric sanded and painted the car himself. His dad who works at General Motors said they "kept it simple by using very basic lines."

Carl Perpich also won once before losing out said that he designed and did most of the work himself. He said his dad helped him put on the wheels. "It might run faster if it was skinnier," he said. "Maybe that's what I'll do next year."

Eric Pahl, a fourth grader at Hulsing was somewhat disappointed that his gold car didn't win any race.

"I don't know what I'll do different next year," he said. "But I have a year to think about it." He did admit that he had fun making the car. His father, Gerald Pahl is a production supervisor at Cadillac Motor Co. He said he thought it was important for the boys to make their cars themselves. "It's for their training - not ours," Eric's dad said.

Win or lose all the boys had fun building their cars and watching them race down the track. Watch out next year - with a little experience behind them maybe some of this years losers will be the ones walking out with the trophies.

Chiefs avenge earlier loss

BY JEFF REY

Will wonders ever cease? For Casey Cavell's sake, I hope they don't.

Maybe the Canton basketball team is more interested in making their games exciting than just simply winning. It appeared that way on Friday when the Chiefs fought off a final quarter comeback to nip the Churchill Chargers 51-50. Canton took revenge on the Chargers, who had handed the Chiefs their only league loss of the season, back in December.

The Chiefs led throughout the entire first half, going into halftime with a four point lead, 26-22. The Chiefs extended their lead by two to take a 40-34 lead after three quarters of play.

The Chiefs then started to have some troubles offensively. "We weren't getting inside like we did in the first half", said Coach Casey Cavell.

Churchill started to close the gap and finally took the lead when Charger Jerry Dupie sunk a foul shot with 5:23 remaining in the final quarter. This gave the Chargers a 43-42 advantage.

From then on the lead went back and forth until the final two minutes when Canton picked up three points on a Churchill technical to move out in front by one.

Then with only 25 seconds remaining, Butch King went to the line to chalk up Cantons final two points of the game, which gave the Chiefs a 51-48 lead.

The Chargers came right back again to score a quick basket, and a Canton turnover gave the Chargers the ball with nine seconds on the clock.

Luck was with the Chiefs, though, when Russ Mandle intercepted a pass to give Canton the victory.

"We just didn't quit", said a jubilant Cavell after the game, "we controlled the ball when we needed to."

Rusty Mandle was high scorer for the Chiefs with 17 points and ten rebounds, followed by King with 14 points and Eckles with nine. King shot an amazing 100% from the line along with Mandle, who shot a superb 70% from the field. "Mandle had a terrific game", said Cavell "we also got a lot of help from our bench."

The Chiefs record now stands at 11-5 overall and 6-1 in the Western Six.

Canton travels to Northville on Friday with JV, beginning at 6:30 p.m. and varsity at 8.

the Crier Sports

Chiefs stumble, 87-64

Caught a little flat-footed after a big win on Friday, the Canton basketball team fell to Livonia Stevenson last night, 87-64.

The Chiefs ran into a very hot shooting Stevenson squad which sprinted to a 26-15 lead after only one quarter.

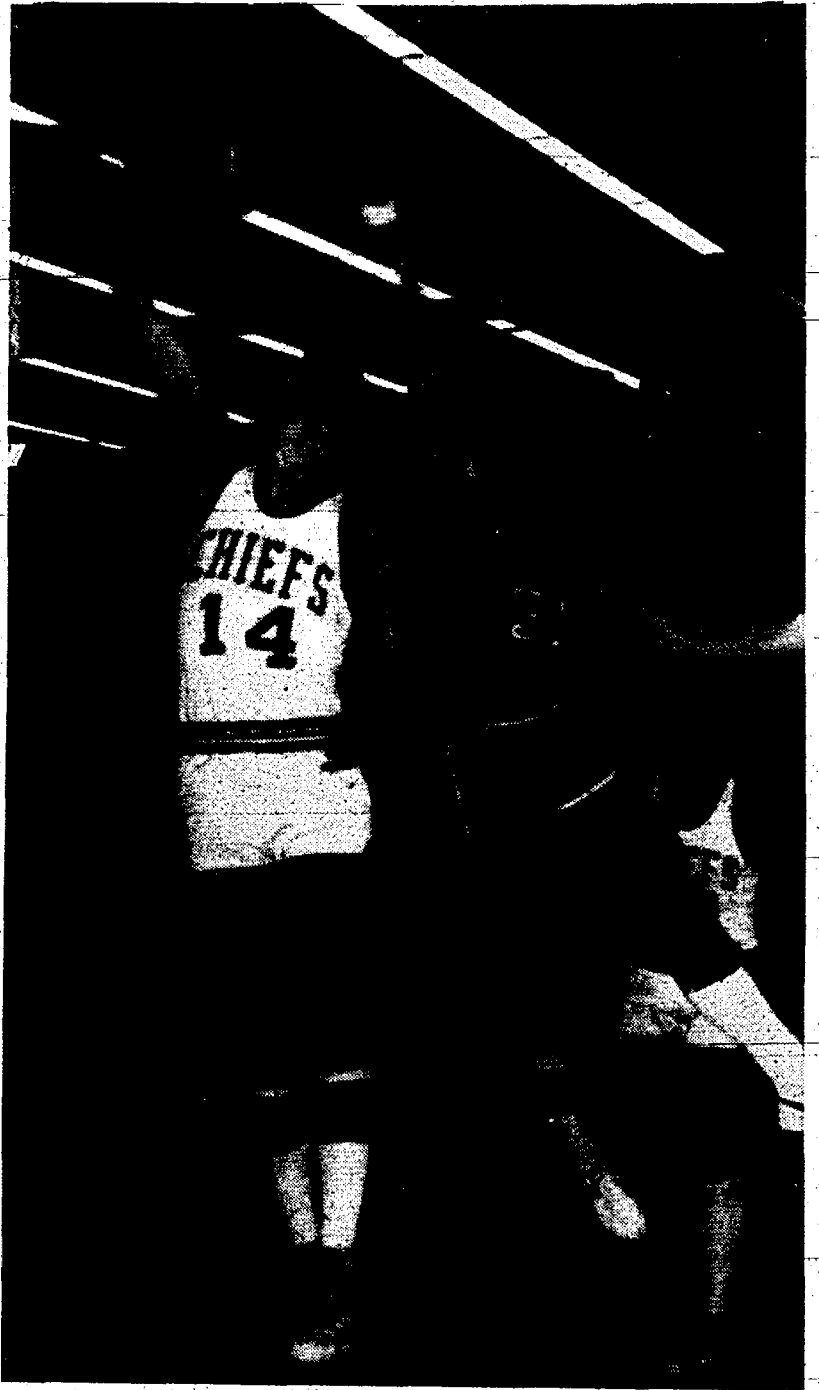

"Stevenson played an excellent ball game," Canton Coach Casey Cavell said. "They moved the ball well and reacted very well defensively."

The Chiefs cut their lead to 14 points at halftime, but failed to contain Stevenson offensively in the second half to lose any chance of a comeback.

The non-league loss snapped a four-game Canton win streak and dropped the Plymouthites' record to 9-6.

Butch King was high scorer for the Chiefs with 20 points, followed by Kurt Herbert with 12, Randy Rienas with 10 and Russ Mandle with six.

Canton resumes Western Six action Friday with an important game against Northville on the Mustangs' court.

Rocks pound Trenton

Salem High's basketball squad overwhelmed Trenton last night, 77-50.

The Rocks used a sticky man-to-man defense to hold their Suburban Eight opponents to only five field goals in the first half, and lead at intermission, 40-17.

Rich Hewlett set the tone for the game with two quick jumpers after the opening tip-off, and Salem went on to build up a 12-1 lead in the first quarter. The Rocks got so far ahead, Coach Fred Thomann cleared his bench half way through the second period.

After Salem had built up an awesome lead, 60-27 at the end of three quarters, Thomann again sent in his reserves.

Forward Tom Ellinghausen lead the Plymouthites in scoring with 22. Rich Hewlett added eight and Steve Horton chipped in 11.

Horton, coming off the bench, grabbed the most rebounds for the Rocks with nine, and Hewlett lead the team in steals (three) and assists (nine).

The win boosts Salem's record to 13-2 overall and 7-2 in the Suburban Eight League, good for second place.

Trenton is now 3-12 overall and 1-9 in the league.

Despite Rob Neu's 32 points, the Salem junior varsity lost to Trenton's JV, 56-52.

Canton wrestlers 3rd

The Canton wrestling team placed third in the Western Six after the league meet in Plymouth last night, its best finish in five years.

Three Chiefs captured championships at their weight classes: Craig Lee, Dave March and Kyle Heaton.

Heaton dominated his 158-pound class with three straight pins for the title.

Finishing second were Vince Novack, Dennis Howell and Chuck Walker.

Farmington Harrison was first with 177 points, followed by Walled Lake Western, 160½ and Canton, 135½.

Salem edges R U to stay in Sub-8 race

BY TERRI TRIPP

After a dismal first half in which the Salem Rocks were able to put only 18 points on the scoreboard, they exploded in the second half and gained an exciting victory over Redford Union, 48-43.

Both teams were cold at the start of the game, despite the highly-charged atmosphere, and with 6:35 left on the clock, Tom Ellinghausen scored the first basket of the game and the first two of his 19 points, which was high for the game.

Redford Union dominated the first half of the game, controlling both offensive and defensive boards, and built up a 30-18 lead at intermission.

The second half was a complete turnaround. Ellinghausen had two quick baskets to trigger a 19 to 4 Salem domination of the third quarter. The Rocks outscored the Panthers 30 to 13 in the second half.

"We played with more intensity in the second half," said Salem Coach Fred Thomann.

Aiding in the turnaround was the fact that RU's Mike Petsch sat out most of the third and fourth quarter in foul trouble.

"Mike Christie had a tremendous game coming off the bench, scoring several crucial baskets for us", said Thomann. "He had a terrific game. It was a heck of a comeback. We played very well in the second half."

Defensive hustle and steals by Rich Hewlett, Doug Agnew and Matt Etienne also make a big difference in the turnaround.

Ellinghausen lead all scorers with 19 points, and Christie added 10. Rich Hewlett had seven points and played a great defensive game with five key steals.

The junior varsity won another exciting game over RU, 49-45.

Salem will be getting ready for the showdown Friday night, as they take on highly rated Livonia Bentley on the Bulldogs' court.

Bentley is undefeated in the league with a 8-0 record, followed by second-place Salem, 7-2 in the Sub-8. With three games left in the league race, the contest is a must for the Rocks to stay in contention. Salem (48): Ellinghausen 9, 1-2, 19; Hewlett 2, 3-6, 7; Christie 5, 0-0, 10; Agnew 2, 0-0, 4; Broderick 1, 0-0, 2; Etienne 2, 0-0, 4; Monk 0, 2-2, 2; Petsch 7, 3-5, 17; Grimwade 8, 0-1, 16; Miller 0, 4-5, 4; Bravo 1, 0-0, 2; Henry 0, 0-0, 0; Mouch 1, 0-0, 2.

Total Fouls: Plymouth 15, Redford Union 14,

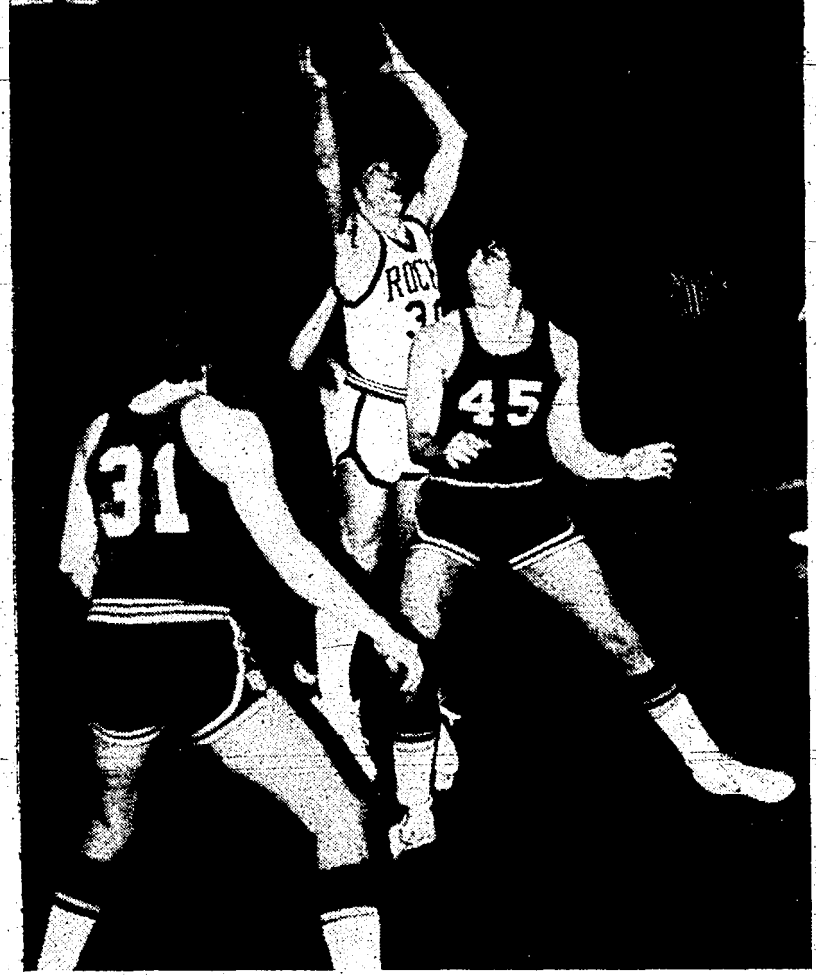

Fouled out: none.

Both Central and Western Canton sinks Walled Lake

BY JEFF REY

The Canton swim team terrorized the City of Walled Lake last week, beating Walled Lake Central on Tuesday 111-61, and finishing off Walled Lake Western on Thursday by a score of 108-67.

During Tuesday's meet against Central, Canton dominated the entire contest, winning 10 out of 11 events. Mike Gaab was a double winner for the Chiefs taking firsts in the 100 and 200-yard freestyles.

"A lot of our younger swimmers got a chance to swim," said coach Bill Faunce.

On Tuesday the Chiefs showed no signs of letting up, running away with nine out of the 11 events against their league rival.

Canton started off taking a second in the 200-yard medley with Ted Henning, John Hawkins, Paul Ardonowski and Doug Hetu swimming for the Chiefs.

Dave Tanner grabbed a first in the 200 freestyle with a 1:51.1. Dave Smith finished third and Keith Greenleaf finished fourth in the event.

Gaab placed first in the 200 individual medley with a 2:22.6 effort and Paul Pederson took a first with 23.6 in the 50 freestyle.

In diving, sophomore Steve Gray started putting things together, taking a first with an 162.5 point total.

"Steve is really starting to dive well," said Faunce. "He is at a point where he is starting to compete."

Steve Wood took a first in the 100 fly with a 58.3, followed by Ardonowski finishing third and Hetu placing fourth.

Bob Cline finished on top in the 500 freestyle turning in 5:17.3 and Hennig placed first in the 100 backstroke with a 108.9.

In the 100 breaststroke John Hawkins took a first with a 1:13.4 effort, followed by Pat Gilligan who finished second. The 400 freestyle relay team of Pederson, Cline, Wood, and Tanner took first place honors with a 3:35.1 finish.

On Saturday the Detroit News sponsored their own swim meet inviting the top 18 times of each event from the entire state.

Canton's powerful medley relay team of Cline, Pederson, Wood, and Tanner finished eighth, recording a 1:45.1 finish. The only other qualifier for the meet was Pederson who finished tenth in the 100 I.M. and fifth in the 100 breaststroke.

Canton competes in the John Glenn Invitational on Friday and Saturday at the John Glenn facility.

Rocks wrestlers cop title

Bouncing back from an earlier loss to Belleville, Salem's wrestlers won the Suburban Eight league meet last Wednesday to become co-champions with the Tigers.

The Rocks rolled up a total of 187 points, followed by Belleville with 173½ and Trenton, 126.

Saturday, nine Rocks placed in the district competition to advance to the regionals Saturday in Ypsilanti.

In team standings in the districts, Salem with 147 points finished second behind John Glenn's total of 156½. Wayne Memorial was third with 137½, while Ypsilanti was fourth with 119.

In the league meet, four Rocks ran through the competition undefeated to win their weight classes: Jeff Brown at 98; Randy Viperman, 105; Jim Ross, 126; Wally Brown, 165, and Bob Dasher at heavyweight.

Winning their first two matches but losing in the finals were Steve Ernst at 112, Rene Leist at 199, Bruce Piper at 178, and Bob Doherty at 191.

Also, Roger Penix won his consolation final match at 138 pounds to cop third place.

At the districts, Bob Dasher was Salem's only first place finisher, although eight of his teammates are going onto the regionals. Dasher pinned his opponent in the final match.

At other weight classes, Rene Leist and Wally Brown worked their way to the finals, but lost to claim seconds.

Finishing third were Steve Ernst, Jim Ross, Roger Penix, and Bruce Piper. Bob Doherty copped a fourth.

Finley state bound

Salem sophomore Craig Finley qualified for the state meet Thursday in the 500-yard freestyle, breaking the standard by three seconds.

Swimming against Allen Park, whom the Rocks whipped 123-48, Finley swam a 4:56.3.

Salem's Craig Hoffman was second in the event with a time of 5:48.9, while Barre Lee swam a 5:49.6, good for third.

In the 200-yard freestyle, Finley swam his personal best, 149.9, for first place but missed the state qualifying time of 1:49.5 by a slim four-tenths of a second. Tom Rubadue was second with a 1:53.0 effort.

Overall, the Rocks dominated the Jaguars by taking first and second in most events and sweeping first, second and third in some.

In the 200-yard medley relay, the team of Bruce Harwood, Bob Simone, Rob Kuebler, and Mike Etienne took first touching at 1:49.9. Taking second with a time of 1:55.0 were Brian Lazarus, Steve McKenna, Kirk Albert and Barre Lee.

The Rocks scored a sweep in the 100-yard butterfly. Kuebler was first, Albert was second and Jeff Stella touched third.

In the 200-yard individual medley, Kuebler grappled first in a time of 2:17.5, and Albert took second with a 2:19.0 clocking.

Mike Etienne touched first in the 50-yard freestyle, was first in the 100-yard freestyle in a time of :51.2.

Diver Jim LaRiche rolled up a total of 171.0 points, good for second while Harwood grabbed second in the 100-yard backstroke, touching at 1:13.0.

In the 100-yard breaststroke, the Rocks 1-2 combination was Harris and Simone, in that order, with times of 1:09.2 and 1:09.4.

With a clocking of 3:38.0, the quartet of Scott Plagens, Charlie Spurlock, Rubadue and Finley took first in the 400-yard freestyle relay.

The Rocks are now in fifth place in the Suburban Eight league with a 1-1-1 record. Overall, their record is 4-3-1.

The team goes against Redford Union at home tomorrow beginning at 7 p.m.

3 Chiefs head to regionals

Canton wrestlers Craig Lee, Kyle Heaton and Scott Collins placed in the top four at the districts Saturday and will go on to the regionals.

At 122 pounds, Lee beat an Ypsilanti opponent in his first match in a balanced effort, 6-1.

He then edged Darrin Dreher of Dearborn Heights Crestwood, 4-1, to insure a spot in the regionals. The top four grapplers in each class qualified for regional competition and two victories were needed to get in.

Dreher had pinned Lee in his first match of the season, so the victory in the seesaw battle was especially satisfying.

Lee lost his next two matches, however, to be seeded fourth in the regionals Saturday in Ypsilanti.

Collins, at 148 pounds, had just got ten over a bout with mononucleosis, and had only wrestled one match (Thursday against Harrison since Dec. 10 going into the districts.

Receiving a bye in his first match, Collins went on to whip Brian Horanoff of Livonia Churchill, 7-0, to qualify for the regionals.

He then beat Todd Hunter of Ann Arbor Pioneer, 3-1, but lost his final match to capture a second seed in the regionals. Heaton, at 158 pounds, whipped a Garden City East wrestler in his first match and beat Rick Eifiminger of John Glenn 8-6, for his two qualifying wins.

Heaton fell behind 4-0 at the beginning and had to come back twice for the victory. He lost his third match, however, but came back to whip a Wayne Memorial wrestler, 4-0, for a third regional seed.

"His last match was his best of the year," Canton Coach Dan Chrenko said. "He totally controlled his opponent."

Thursday, the Chiefs lost to Farmington Harrison, 42-17 in their final Western Six dual meet before the league meet last night.

Tommy Herald, Collins, Heaton and Heavyweight Chuck Walker scored victories, however, against the Hawks.

Herald separated his shoulder in the districts Saturday and was lost to the Chiefs in last night's league meet.

"He had an excellent chance to win his weight class in the league," Chrenko said. "We're really sorry to lose him."

Also in district action, Dave March at 141 pounds and Chuck Walker at heavyweight won their first matches but lost their second to lose a chance to get to the regionals.

The regionals will start at 11 a.m. Saturday at Ypsilanti.

Rock volleyballers split

BY JEFF REY

The Salem volleyball team went one on one against their league rivals last week, losing to Bentley on Monday 15-2, 15-12; and defeating Redford Union on Wednesday 15-11, 9-15, 16-14.

On Monday the Rocks played somewhat stale against the Bulldogs never really putting it together.

"We were forced to play Bentley without practicing for six straight days, due to the snow," said coach Cathey Himes, "it really made things difficult."

The Rocks did manage to even things out against Redford Union on Wednesday, however.

Salem demonstrated some superb serving in the opening game but were unable to keep it going through the second game," we were overly aggressive, causing us to make mistakes," said Himes.

During the final game the Rocks were able to settle down and snatch the victory.

"We started to place the ball a lot better during the third game," said Himes.

The Rocks travel to Belleville today to defend their 3-1 league record.

Canton spikers fall

Canton's volleyballers ran into some serving problems against Livonia Stevenson last Wednesday and lost only their second game of the season, 15-7, 15-10.

"It boiled down to they got their serves over and we didn't," Canton Coach Cindy Burnstein said. "It was really the first time this season we've had trouble with our serves."

The Chiefs were also bothered by Stevenson's excellent placing of its returns in the contest and failed to win the second game, despite improving their serves.

Canton did get some good spikes from Kelly Heaton while Kathy Sochacki was "all over the place on the back row," Burnstein said.

Overall, the loss dropped the Chiefs' record to 6-2, while in the league they remain at 4-1, tied for first with Churchill and Northville.

CANTON GYMNAST LEDAH SCHRADER

Chief gymnasts nip champ

Canton's gymnasts nipped Walled Lake Western, the defending champions of the Western Six league for the last four years, Monday night, 80.5-78.2.

The win put the Chiefs in the favorite spot for the league championship in only their first year of competition.

Leslie Bublin swept to three firsts, in vaulting, balance beam, and floor exercise. Canton captured the other first as Wendy Gray took the uneven bars.

No one besides Bublin placed in vaulting, but Kay Heaton took two seconds behind Bublin in the beam and floor exercise.

Bublin scored a 7.5 on the balance beam and a 7.45 in floor exercise. Heaton had a 6.9 on the beam and earned a 7.15 in the floor exercise.

Gray won the bars with a 7.25, followed by a third place finish for Bublin with a 5.9 total.

"We did really well," said Coach Barb Winn. "We got a lift since it was our first home meet."

Although they didn't place, Winn said four of her gymnasts improved a lot: Kathy Keefer, Maureen Morahan and Robin Radoye in floor exercise, and Anita Hulack in vaulting.

To make the regionals, a team must score 80 or more points during the season so the Chiefs are one-quarter the way to their goal.

Central downs Salem

Despite improved scores, Salem's gymnasts lost to Walled Lake Central last Wednesday, 67.3 to 40.1.

Renee Louks was the only Rock who placed, earning a third in vaulting. Her score, 5.3, was greatly improved over her previous best of 4.35.

"We were hurt by a lack of practice during the blizzard," said Salem Coach Gretchen Parcells, "but I was still pleased with our improvement."

In the balance beam, Michelle Griffen and Tina Melone tied for fifth with identical 2.65 scores, and Nicole Rollins also earned a fifth in the floor exercise.

Rollins scored Salem's highest total in the uneven bars, 2.5.

The Rocks meet with Northville and Oak Park, cancelled Jan. 25, has been rescheduled for tonight at Northville starting at 7 p.m.

with Mrs. Richardson abstaining as she had been absent from the January

NEW BUSINESS

Plymouth Township Planning Commission. Re: Action taken at their meeting of January 4, 1978

1a. Bob Jeannotte Pontiac -- Application No. 390

Re: Rezoning from R-1 to C-2 of property on the north side of Ann Arbor Road between Terry and Haggerty Road.

Mr. Gornick moved that we deny Application No. 390, Bob Jeannotte Pontiac as per the Planning Commission's recommendations for denial and the reasons given by the Wayne County Planning Commission as follows: 1) The proposed amendment would extend the commercial impact area north across Ann Arbor Road and directly abutting properties presently developed as Single Family Residential. 2) The proposed amendment could result in a negative impact on the existing single family area north and east of the subject property. 3) The use indicated in the application
