Schools must negotiate starting times

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education violated its collective bargaining agreement when it changed school opening and closing times without negotiating with district teachers first, an arbitrator decided.

In a three-clause decision, arbitrator Nathan Lipson of the American Arbitration Association said the teachers and the board must sit down at the bargaining table immediately to negotiate the schedule.

Furthermore, if no agreement is reached at the bargaining table within 20 days, the teachers could request the reinstatement of last year's teachers' schedule, together with a compatible bus schedule, said Lipson.

President of the Plymouth-Canton Education Association John Ryder said he was "naturally pleased with the decision," and claimed the hours and working conditions of teachers are negotiable issues.

Norm Kee, asst. supt. for employe relations, said "We're disappointed with the decision," and he said he didn't think those working conditions were negotiable.

Kee said returning to last year's schedule would mean hiring more teachers and buying more buses. After last June's millage defeat, the board eliminated the unified arts program at the elementary schools and transferred those teachers to other subjects. This cut resulted in a one-hour delay of school opening time one day per week. The board also staggered school opening and closing times to alleviate double tripping by buses and it shortened the lunch period by 10 minutes.

At the bargaining table, the two parties must settle other grievances including changing the planning-time periods of elementary teachers; excessive classes being assigned to elementary art, music and physical education teachers; and, involuntary transfer of teachers.

In the award, the arbitrator retains jurisdiction over any disputes involving the grievance which the two parties are unable to settle.

Teachers filed suit against the board at the end of Aug., and in court the two parties agreed to binding arbitration.

City seeks annexation speedup

BY CHAS CHILD

The long-standing feud between the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township over the ownership of the Burroughs parking lot took another twist last week when city officials asked their attorney to investigate the possibility of intervening in a township annexation suit.

The township's suit, filed in Ingham County court, is aimed at blocking the State Boundary Commission's earlier decision to give the parking lot to the city.

Plymouth Mayor Tom Turner said; however, that there have been many delays in the court case, putting the parking lot "in limbo."

"The city's interest has not been represented in the court case," said Turner. "We would like to see the matter settled."

Therefore, City Attorney Chuck Lowe was asked in a secret session last Monday by City Commission to look into intervening in the suit to get a decision, said Turner.

This summer, the potential taxes to be gained by the two municipalities were boosted when plans for a eight and one-half story condominium complex were unveiled for the parcel.

"In fairness to the developers, the status of the property should be determined," said Turner. "I'm sure it represents a large investment to them."

Plymouth Township's Planning Commission has already approved the complex.

In 1974 the city filed petitions with with Boundary Commission to annex not only the Burroughs parking lot, but the whole township and the Hillside Inn property. Earlier this year, the commission decided in favor of the city to transfer the parking lot.

"We are definitely fighting the annexation. It is not fair for the city to grab our property, said Plymouth Township Clerk Helen Richardson. "We need tax money as badly as they do."

Ford Hospital eyes Canton site

A piece of Canton Township property has been examined by Henry Ford Hospital as a possible location for a new outpatient clinic.

"We have looked at Canton as a possible site for expansion," said a Ford Hospital spokeswoman, adding, "we've no definite plans for buying anything."

The hospital, which maintains outpatient clinics in West Bloomfield, Troy and Dearborn in addition to its Detroit main location, has scouted property in many other southeastern Michigan areas as well during the past two years.

Canton to hire 6 cops

Six full-time police officers were expected to be hired by Canton Township's Board of Trustees last night.

All certified reserves in the township's force, the six will probably be on the street within two or three weeks, said Police Chief Walter MacGregor.

With 10 full-time officers now, the additions will boost the number of patrolman by 60 per cent. The department also has four sergeants and the chief.

The six officers were selected from a list that ranked the reserves according to previous tests. The list itself resulted from a successful suit filed by the Canton Police Officers Association which required the township to give first choice to the reserves of any full-time jobs in the force.

Recommended to the board by MacGregor were: Davey LeBlanc, Eddie Tanner, Daniel Antieau, George Sharp, Kathy Petres and Leonard Bush.

If approved as expected, Petres will become the first full-time woman police officer on the force. She will join the Plymouth-Canton Community's only other woman officer, Anne Herndon of the City of Plymouth police.

The six officers were added to the force to boost patrols and protection in the township. MacGregor said that by most standards, the Canton force was short-handed. With 16 already working full-time, the reserves are now down to seven persons. They are: John Longridge, Raymond Brostean, Donald LaFramboise, Rene Le Blanc (no relation to Davey LeBlanc), Ernest Sayre, Gerald Niezgodra and Robert Greenstein.

One reserve, William Britcher, resigned on Oct. 4 for personal reasons, said MacGregor.

Schools oppose Tisch

The Plymouth-Canton School Board voted Monday night to oppose the Tisch tax reduction plan and the voucher plan which will be on next month's Michigan ballot.

No stand was taken by the board on the Headlee tax limitation proposal which School Supt. John M. Hoben said "would not seriously affect our financing except bonding."

By a vote of 5-1, the board voted to oppose Proposal H (the education pay voucher plan which would eliminate use of local property taxes to support schools) and Proposal J (the Tisch amendment which would out property taxes in half). Board Member Flossie Tonda voted against the resolution opposing the measures saying she opposed all three of the amendments. Board President Tom Yack was absent.

Senior citizen services cut

Help for senior citizens who need their lawns cut or snow shoveled may not be available this year, said Janet Luce, acting executive director of the YMCA program for senior citizens.

The cutbacks were made necessary by a $5,000 decrease in operating funds allocated by the Detroit-Wayne County Agency on Aging. According to Luce, last year the program drew $25,853 in federal funds, but this year, it will receive $21,000.

"Both indoor and outdoor home services will be reduced to keep us within our budget," said Luce.

A major service of the YMCA program is providing the driver and van to take seniors to and from medical appointments, and shopping excursions around town. The Y pays drivers and workers a minimum $2.65 to provide such services free of charge to seniors.

"We can't serve all the people when the funds are cut. We feel that seniors are the backbone of our country, and they should get their fair share," said Luce.

Luce said the bulk of the funds - $1,235,094 - was allocated to inner city programs in Detroit, and only $529,326 was allocated to suburban programs.

The YMCA will look for volunteers to help staff the program and provide services. To contact Janet Luce, call 453-2904.

Twp. sewer extension delayed by county

The proposed extension of the Byron Creek sewer into western Plymouth Township cannot receive the necessary Wayne County approval until Oct. 19.

Facing the possibility that one of two state-wide tax limitation proposals will be approved by voters in November, the township has hastened its sewer extension plan. (The Wayne County Circuit Court has ordered the sewer extended despite a recent rejection of the plan by township voters.)

Originally, it was thought the sewer proposal could have been approved by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners last week, but county attorneys decided the proposal must first be approved by the county Department of Public Works board, which next meets this week.

Following the DPW approval, the Plymouth Township sewer proposal must be approved by the county Ways and Means Committee and then the board of commissioners, which next meets Oct. 19.

Once final Wayne County approval is granted, the proposal must be approved by the state's Municipal Finance Commission. To beat the Headlee tax limitation deadline, (should that proposal pass) the township bond issue must receive final state approval by Dec. 22.

Stein apologizes to employes

Canton Supervisor Harold Stein has apologized to any building department employee he may have caused "undue hardship" by calling for an investigation of the department.

On Sept. 25, Stein asked for a probe of the department but was told four days later by Lt. William Tomczyk of the Michigan State Police that the evidence he presented did not warrant an investigation.

Stein was sharply criticized by Trustee Brian Schwall at last Tuesday's board meeting for calling for the probe and then remaining silent on what the wrongdoing may have been.

"The Board of Trustee's posture is that we would like to make it clear that this investigation should in no way reflect on the hardworking and dedicated men and women of the building department who are properly fulfilling their duties," said Stein in a press release issued Monday.

Stein said in the release that the evidence he gave to Tomczyk was of possible wrongdoing and questionable practices on the part of former employes of the department.

If the call for an investigation "brought any undue hardship on those men and women fulfilling their duties, I would like this to serve as an apology," wrote Stein in the release.

A train derailment in the City of Plymouth on Friday - the second in two weeks - has prompted a meeting scheduled for today between City Manager Fred Yockey and Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad officials.

"I've had it with them," said Yockey. "We've had long delays in traffic." On Friday, cars were delayed for about an hour at Main Street. A grade separation (a bridge for the railroad tracks) at Main Street may be discussed at the meeting although, "the city can't afford it without federal aid," said Yockey. "And the railroad will only pay up to 15 per cent."

Police Chief Tim Ford said 1978 has been an especially bad year for traffic delays caused by trains in the city.

"The trains are as long as they can possibly make them. Not only that, the cars themselves are larger nowadays," said the chief.

"We are the only city in Michigan with major train operations and crossroads running right through the heart of town," said Ford. "Even a grade separation at Main Street may not help that much. There's still Farmer, Sheldon and Ann Arbor Trail."

For train delays

Higher fines urged

Plymouth-Canton motorists angered by lengthy delays at railroad crossings will be pleased to know that train companies responsible for the delays may have to pay up to $1,000 fines for each obstruction.

Legislation introduced last week by Senate Majority Leader William Faust, whose district includes Canton, will provide a $1,000 fine for trains blocking streets 10 minutes or more and a $500 penalty for blocking traffic between five and 10 minutes.

"It can be very aggravating to sit at a railroad crossing five minutes or more, while a train blocks the road. In the case of ambulances, fire trucks or police cars this is more than just an inconvenience - it could pose a serious threat to life or property," said Faust.

"My bill will provide train companies with some financial motivation to keep road obstructions to a minimum," he said.

The current law provides a maximum $500 fine for single or repeated train delays of five minutes or longer.

Food pact OKd

Plymouth-Canton Schools have approved a new one-year contract with their cafeteria workers calling for an 8 per cent pay hike.

"This settlement is line with other groups that have settled for this year," said Asst. Supt. for Employee Relations Norm Kee.

The agreement was unanimously approved by the school board with President Tom Yack absent.

Schwall blasts Stein for building dept. charges

BY CHAS CHILD

Canton Trustee Brian Schwall blasted Supervisor Harold Stein for allegedly placing a cloud of suspicion over the township's building department.

Stein, by asking for an investigation of the department and then remaining silent on what the charges might be, had tried the department in the press, said Schwall at last Tuesday's Board of Trustees meeting.

"It was in very poor taste to issue a press release and then claim the sanctity of silence," Schwall said. "We owe our employes fair dealings." "The State Police told me to remain silent so as not to jeopardize the investigation," replied the supervisor.

Stein's request for a probe was turned down three days earlier by Lt. William Tomczyk of the Northville State Police post.

Tomczyk said the evidence Stein presented to him did not warrant an investigation.

Stein claimed that his press release did not put the entire building department under suspicion. However, he told a reporter for The Community Crier on Sept. 25 that the department was under investigation, and the other two newspapers which cover Canton received similar information from Stein's phone calls on the same day.

"Do the newspapers ever quote us the way we say it?" asked Treasurer Anne Bradley when Schwall said all three newspapers had reported that Stein had asked for an investigation of the building department. Bradley also said, "Brian have you ever investigated any of the homeowner's complaints?" in the emotional interchange.

Opponents of Stein and

Bradley claimed in the recent primary election that the pair had not done anything for homeowners who were alleged victims of shoddy workmanship and construction delays by builders in Canton.

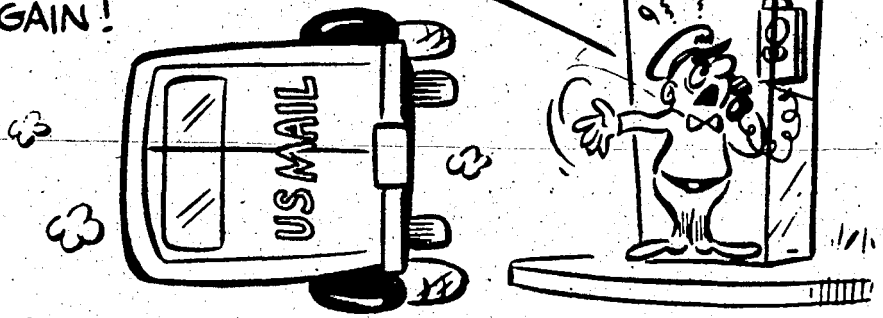

Trustee Lynne Goldsmith said that the board should have been aware of the accusations and made the decision to ask for an investigation.

"If I made a mistake, so be it," said Stein. "But if I had to make the same decision, I'd do it again."

Dog fees to rise?

A new animal ordinance giving Canton's dog warden the authority to write tickets was presented to the Board of Trustees last night.

The proposed law overhauls the present ordinance that dates back to 1953.

Virtually all the fees for violations and licenses are scheduled to rise, and the biggest jump comes in the kennel fees. For a private kennel (between four and nine dogs) a license will cost $50, up from $15 or $20.

A boarding license (for a kennel with more than nine dogs) will cost $100, a jump from the same $15 or $20.

Also, impoundment fees are scheduled to go up. To retrieve your dog from the pound in Westland it will cost $3.50 per day. Second offenders will be charged $7 per day, while third offenders will be assessed $10.50 per day.

Dog license fees are proposed to jump to $5 from $4, and if the owner waits until after the March 1 deadline, the fee will be doubled to $10. In addition, a replacement license will cost $1 instead of 50 cents under the old ordinance.

Presented to the board by Animal Control Officer John Swalley last night for discussion, the ordinance still has to go to an attorney for approval, passed by the board, and published in the newspaper before it becomes a law.

Salem grid parents lack pride in sons

EDITOR:

I would like to comment on the Salem Football team parents. As we all know Plymouth Salem defeated Belleville 66-0 and coach Moshimer played the entire team.

On Tuesday evenings at 8 p.m. in the coaches room at the high school, films of last Friday's game are shown for the parents. We all know the time the coaches spend with the team each week preparing them for the game the coming Friday.

Coach Moshimer on Tuesday conducts practice, rushes home for a quick meal and is back at school by 8 p.m. to show these films to the parents. After all this, do you know the turn out - about (10) people. Some of the boys who played in the Allen Park and Belleville games will not play that much more this season. However they did play in these games and excelled.

(Just ask any one of the coaches).

Do you know how many parents came to see their sons on film - none. They can't claim they didn't know about the films, because it was announced at the game.

Another thing, how many of the parents of all the athletes, cheerleaders and Rockettes at Salem in all the grades (both girls and boys) have bothered to support them by joining the Boosters Club and attending their monthly meeting.

I can tell you, 50 parents out of 400 parents who were asked have joined. This comes out to 17% of the parents of students who are participating in one of the activities at Salem High School. The organization supports the students but where are the parents.

Parents: study tax proposals

EDITOR:

We parents have some crucial decisions to make about our children's education as we go to the polls in November to cast our vote for or against proposals E, H, and J. Hopefully, we will not let our emotional and/or financial frustrations rule our vote on tax proposals and worry about the reprisals later. Hopefully, we will look at the specifics of each of these tax proposals, and meditate on how each would create or limit the learning opportunities our children will have next year.

The Kids' Committee is hosting a Tax Reform Voter Education Seminar at the Belleville High School auditorium Monday, Oct. 16, 7:30 p.m. Parents and citizens will have the opportunity to listen to speakers representing the three tax reform proposals, and to ask questions concerning each proposal. I wish that auditorium would be packed with parents and citizens for this community and neighboring ones. Child care will be provided. Our kids' future education hangs in the balance.

Canton tax cut made to buy votes

Who can complain when the Canton Board of Trustees lowered the tax rate by 0.5 mills?

On the surface it was fine, but it took the board a whole year to do it.

The township had a surplus large enough to cut the budget a half mill a year ago. Instead, the board sat on the taxpayers' cash until, you guessed it, election time.

Rather than giving the money back to the people as soon as possible the board made a cut as a gesture to garner votes.

We don't begrudge the money, but not as a self-serving price for votes.

Engineer suggests Fowl Fest starting gates modification

EDITOR:

The enclosed sketch shows a technological improvement which might be used for the Fourth Annual Chicken Flying Contest, to make it even more exciting.

The present starting arrangement permits the doors in front of the baskets to drop completely down, so when the chicken launches, it has to get its wings spread inside the basket.

This favors the smaller birds, and based on actual observation last week 82.3% of the chickens who resisted leaving the basket were large birds.

The proposed improvement would have a support which would stop the door in the horizontal plane, and would add a perch made from a 1 1/2" diameter tree limb.

This would permit the birds to casually saunter out, hop on the perch, pick their flight paths, and launch themselves much more effectively than in the past.

It is well known to ornithologists that at its present state of evolution, Gallus Domesticus prefers a cylindrical perch as a launching platform for extended flights.

Aerodynamically sound flight can only occur when the bird is able to spread its wings, to prevent stalling caused by flow separation and lack of boundary layer control, at the low Mach numbers common in chicken flight.

I trust this suggestion will be accepted as a constructive contribution to bigger and better (and larger) chicken flying contests of the future.

'Pig in Poke,' Twp. bite Wendover back

Community opinions

EDITOR:

Congratulations! Your headline last week over W.E. Wendover's column "Pig in a poke bites Twp. back" has won you the "Mixed Metaphore" trophy of the week.

Don't you think something simple like "Man bites Twp." would have been more appropriate?

Of course it is possible that this headline was designed intentionally.

Perhaps you are going to run all the responses to this column under the headline "Pig in a poke and Twp. bite Wendover back" to be followed the next week by "Wendover bites Pig in a poke, Twp., and others back" (without malice, of course).

Please let me buy your headline writer a beer.

Also, for his column, I'll gladly buy Mr. Wendover a chicken dinner, with the stipulation that you send a photographer and run the picture of WEW consuming Grandma's finest under the headline "Crier Owner Bites Crier Flier" (or is it Frier?).

REEF MORSE

Why not try some accurate reporting?

EDITOR:

I read your Oct. 4 article "With Malice Toward None" in wonderment. Did you read the original report? Have you any first-hand knowledge of the problems which it addressed?

The matter of a study of personal policies and procedures came before the board initially at my urging - long before there was any election rivalry in the wind (summer, 1977). It grew out of dissatisfaction by the board with the administration of the Fire Department.

The report was also intended to bring together, under one cover, all policies regarding employe rights and obligations as well as existing fringe benefits. This was done! And it was done by June 19, at an open Board meeting and unanimously adopted by the Township Board.

Why the furor now? Apparently someone's feelings were offended by the use of "Cracker Barrel." I told you in a phone conversation that I did not like to argue through the newspapers, but why not try some accurate reporting yourself?

Incidentally, your column should more appropriately be entitled "Malice Toward All".

Child's play

By Chas Child

There are few things that Canton needs less than helicopters, yet Harold Stein is making a last-ditch stand to buy surplus choppers for the township.

Despite the Board of Trustee's 5-1 vote to rescind its previous motion to buy the three craft, Stein is pushing ahead with a dubious scheme to get a federal grant for the program with the backing of eight communities, including the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Stein, by digging in his heels behind the program, is risking whatever chance he has to retain the supervisor's chair with a write-in campaign.

Moreover, he seems to be stretching the facts too. In a letter to the Canton board, he wrote, "I have personally contacted all the communities involved and they have shown interest and will support my ideas and concept of this program."

But Tom Notebaert, supervisor of Plymouth Township, said that he would only listen to Stein's proposal.

Stein was obviously stung by the board's rejection of the plan last Tuesday -- as any leader worth his salt would be. But there comes a time to stiffen the upper lip and go on.

Unfortunately, Stein refuses to face the facts.

Balladeer to sing "Old Man River"

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Wayne Dunlap, begins its 33rd season on Sunday, Oct. 15 at 4 p.m. in the Salem High School Auditorium.

William Warfield, star of concert hall, movie screen and television, and the biggest "name" Plymouth has attracted in many years, will be the guest soloist.

As an old friend of the director's, Warfield is a professor at the University of Illinois. He will sing three scenes from "Boris Godounov" and two songs from "Porgy and Bess."

Warfield is best known for his stunning performance of the song "Old Man River" in Jerome Kern's "Showboat." That sequence was repeated in the recent United Artist's movie "That's Entertainment."

Warfield has recorded portions of both "Showboat" and Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess" as well as song cycles by Robert Schumann and Johannes Brahms, Handel's "Messiah" (with both the Philadelphia and New York Philharmonic orchestras) and Mozart "Requiem".

Ticket prices are $3.50 for adults, $1.75 for senior citizens and free for elementary and high school students. Tickets may be obtained at the door or at Bietner Jewelry, Book World, Heidi Flowers, Audette Office Supply and in Canton at Arnold Williams Music Store. Babysitting will be provided for pre-school age children by the Girl Scouts. Senior citizen's bus pick up will be at Tonquish Creek at 3:15 p.m.

Season memberships are still available by contacting the Plymouth Symphony Society, P.O. Box 467, Plymouth or at the box office the day of the concert. For further information please call 453-5064.

This program is made possible in part by a grant from the State of Michigan through the Michigan Council for the Arts; Plymouth Symphony League; and Ford Motor Co., Sheldon Road Plant.

Claud discovers water using divining rod, faith

the Crier's

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: October 11, 1978

SHOWING GOOD FORM, Claud Rocker follows the rod's nose in the search for water.

He has found water where modern techniques have failed. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER
Whether or not you believe it, Plymouth Township's Claud Rocker can find water with a divining rod.

Claud, of 8851 Morrison, discovered two artesian wells with his forked stick after electronic searches made by two well drilling companies failed.

The wells, located on the township's Hilltop Golf Course and Recreation Center, are now providing water for the course and the recreation facility.

And to top it off, 66-year-old Claud wouldn't accept any payment for his services. "I've never felt I should charge for this," he said. The first water source he discovered was drilled at 43 feet and proved to be an artesian well. The second source, located by Hilltop's ninth green, pumps out 9,000 gallons per hour, at 70 feet.

How does it work?

"I just use any green stick," Claud said. "All you've got to do is have a little faith."

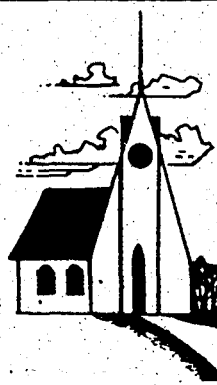

"I've been finding these things for 40 years."

Claud first discovered his unusual talent when, as a boy, he and his dad got an old man who lived along Joy Road to find them a water source for their new house. Before driving the old man home, Claud gave the forked stick a try - and it worked.

"That little old stick tells you where it is every time," he said.

Board shoots down Stein's choppers

BY CHAS CHILD

Harold Stein's helicopter program was shot down last week, but the Canton supervisor has not given up his plan to bring choppers to the township.

Last Tuesday, the board rescinded a motion made last month which authorized the purchase of three helicopters. The vote came after it was discovered that the surplus whirly-birds must be returned to the federal government if they weren't operational within one year.

Stein, who cast the only "no" vote on the motion to rescind, had earlier claimed that Canton had five years to store the craft, and if they weren't in the air in that time, they could be sold at a profit.

"They changed the rules, but I'm still in favor of the long-range concept," said Stein on Friday.

As part of his new plan, Stein said he is trying to organize eight communities along I-275 to help pay for the chopper program through a federal grant. They are: Northville Township, City of Northville, City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Van Buren Township, City of Belleville, Sumpter Township and Huron Township.

"I have personally contacted all the communities involved and they have shown interest and will support my ideas and concept of this program," Stein wrote the board.

However, Tom Notebaert, supervisor of Plymouth Township, said he told Stein that he would only listen to his proposal. "His presentation was over the phone and naturally it was sketchy," said Notebaert. "It depends on the cost. And the Board of Trustees would have to put its blessing on it."

At last Tuesday's meeting, Trustee Lynne Goldsmith also said that the Law Enforcement Assistance Agency (LEAA), which has funded helicopter programs in the United States, has changed its policy. "The LEAA believes helicopters are effective for patrolling industrial areas like railroad areas, but not suburban areas like Canton," she said.

Stein, however, disagreed with Goldsmith on the possibility of LEAA funding for the chopper program. "In Washington, (Stein recently traveled to the nation's capital with three other township officials), we discussed getting innovative grants for the program and I think it can be done," he said.

"I have a good track record with innovative grants, since we received grants for the growth management study and the police radio network," he added.

In his defense, Stein claims that extensions on the one-year limit on using surplus equipment are possible. Also, the Wayne County Sheriff's helicopter program ends Dec. 1, so the communities he contacted could be protected by his program, said Stein.

The choppers could be used for police surveillance, emergency blood runs, public relations and more, said Stein.

Last night, Stein was scheduled to resubmit his plans to the board.

VACATION HOME AND TAXES

If you build or buy a vacation home, you can let it help your annual tax bill and still enjoy it for your family's pleasure. However, with the 1976 tax reform bill, (effective 1/1/77) there have been changes restricting some of the deductions under certain conditions.

For starters -- whether you use it for yourself or not, there are always the usual deductions for mortgage interest and property taxes.

The interest deduction can be considerable during the early years of the loan.

There are other deductions that also may be taken -- just as you would if you owned an apartment house for an investment: depreciation, maintenance, utilities, insurance, etc. In order to take these deductions the total cannot exceed the amount of rental income (less taxes and interest) and the home cannot be occupied by the owner for more than two weeks or 10% of the rental use. However, rents are not taxable if the house is rented less than 15 days.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at REALTY WORLD, Wm. Decker, Inc. Realtors, 670 S. Main St. Plymouth. Phone: 455-8400. We're here to help!

Bikes to rule Hines

Enjoy the peak days of autumn colors along Hines Drive while perched atop a bicycle at the fourth annual Bike Day on Saturday, Oct. 14 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The route will wind along the Middle Rouge Parkway along Hines Drive on an 11-mile stretch starting at Ford Road in Dearborn and ending at Haggerty Road in Plymouth Township.

The area will be closed to all motorized traffic. Irma Parker of the Wayne County Road Commission suggested bikers ride to the scene since parking is not permitted down in the park.

Canton cuts taxes

1/2 mill for 1979

Canton taxpayers received some good news last Tuesday: The Board of Trustees lowered the township levy by 0.5 mill.

The cut, which will lower the regular millage from 5.0 to 4.5 mills, was made possible by a $1 million surplus to the township's general fund.

However, half this surplus, $500,000, is proposed to be spent next year to help raise the budget to its highest total ever, $3,248,000. This total is 15 per cent higher than this year's budget of $2,768,841.

The police force is main beneficiary of the proposed budget. The department's allocation is up $260,000, with most of the money going to fund six new officers and remodeling of old township business offices on Geddes Road into a new police headquarters.

Garbage collection will also cost the township $319,000, up $124,000 from last year. Other major increases planned in the budget are pay raises for the Fire Department (113,000) and raises for other township employees ($100,000); the whole building department ($102,000); and the Recreation Department ($72,360).

A public hearing on the proposed budget is set for the board's meeting last night.

Trustee Lynne Goldsmith was the only "no" vote in the board's decision to lower the millage. She said that perhaps the millage could have been lowered even more.

Schools may contract lunches out

Despite making a profit of $12,638 from its school lunch program this past year, the Plymouth-Canton schools may look to contracting out for its school lunch program.

One company which has submitted such a proposal to the school district has offered to fly school board and administration officials to Ohio to see one school program run by the company. Although at Monday's meeting, school board members discussed the idea of taking the trip, no firm plans were made then.

According to Asst. Supt. for Business Ray Hoedel, the offer was made by Servomation, which, along with ARA and Sabo Foods, have tendered proposals to run the Plymouth-Canton School lunch program under contract.

Hoedel said that the Servomation offer guaranteed the district a profit of $11,000 yearly while charging the schools for food used and management costs. The offer said Servomation would continue to use cafeteria workers already employed without any cutback in hours, Hoedel said.

The advantage to the schools, said Hoedel, is "We'd no longer have to tie up our money on inventory." He said the company's profit would come through its expertise in menu planning and bulk quantity buying.

tell it to phyllis

Trains are always a sore point with many frustrated Plymouth-Canton motorists. It never fails: When you're late for a meeting or on your way home, knowing dinner should have been in the oven 20 minutes ago - there you are trapped by an engine pulling at least 104 cars. It's frustrating to sit there for what seems like hours, waiting for that train to slowly make it's way past the crossing.

The best way to get over being upset with the railroad is to take a trip by train. It's fun to sit by the window, waving to all those stranded motorists. There are lots of other fun and exciting reasons to travel by train, as I learned in a train trip to Niles last week.

There was a nice old conductor, who, after watching me fall flat on my face, helped put the luggage in the rack over the seats. It was so relaxing to sit back and watch the beautiful fall scenes and small towns pass by the window.

The train isn't as smooth as flying and there aren't any seat belts to fasten. The post cards I wrote weren't legible, but I'm not sure I should blame that on the train. It was smooth enough to read a good book - when I could tear my eyes away from the scenery long enough to read.

Then there's the dining car, complete with juice, soft drinks, sandwiches and munchies. It was fun to try a little of this and a little of that.

The trip was great, but no matter how you travel it's nice to have friends see you off and be greeted by other friends at the other end.

The next time I'm sitting at a railroad crossing counting the cars, knowing I'm late again, maybe I can manage to smile and wave to the engineer.

Silent alarm triggers cops to alleged theft

A Livonia man was arrested in the backyard of Auto Entertainment in Plymouth after an alleged burglary of the store last Monday, police report. Another man was seen running from the scene when Plymouth police arrived but he escaped. Arrested was Daniel Walter of 9211 Stark Road in Livonia.

Police were alerted to alleged burglary by a silent alarm, said the report. About $729 worth of stereo was reported missing from the store at 1082 S. Main St.

Headstart needs kids

The PLUS preschool program is looking for three-year-olds to take part in a new Head Start program that will also include activities for the family, said Mary Fritz, Head Start director.

The Head Start program is a joint project of the Plymouth-Canton school district and the federal government. Children from all over the district whose families meet income criteria set up by the government are eligible for participation.

A beginning learning program will be developed for three-year-olds that will be carried out by a specially trained home visitor who will visit moms and children weekly. Simple early learning skills will be taught jointly by the home-visitor and the mothers.

A learning kit featuring materials found in the home will be left for mother and child to work with the rest of the week.

Four-year-olds who meet Head Start guidelines will also be eligible for home visits or in the PLUS school-based program.

Field trips and activities for parents will also be featured.

Families with three-and four-year-olds will be eligible for the Head Start programs if:

- a) You live in the Plymouth-Canton School district;
- b) Your child will be three or four years of age by Dec. 1, 1978;
- c) You can verify your income status;
- d) He/she is a foster child; or
- e) He/she can qualify in a handicapped category.

Those who feel they can qualify for this program are urged to call 453-8889.

Sub sandwiches surface on Monday

BY BILL BRESLER
Looks like Mexican-American week in the Plymouth Canton school district. Tacos are offered at several schools, with Spanish Rice and even tostadas to round out the menu. Ethnic foods are great additions to school menus. It gives the kids opportunities to sample a bit of different cultures. Hey, Cooks! How about expanding this idea? Why not have Pierogis or Kielbasa some week? I can see it now: Quiche at Fiegel, and Peking Duck at Gallimore.

Forgotten crime details recalled under hypnosis

BY CHAS CHILD

Gone are the days when police interrogate witnesses under hot bare light bulbs.

Gentle suggestion and a state of semi-sleep - hypnosis - have replaced the bare bulb in today's police department.

"I've been told that in 10 years, every police force in the country will have a hypnotist," said Canton Det. Sgt. Larry Stewart, who recently returned from a four-day training session where he learned the techniques.

"My concept of hypnosis was totally wrong," he said. "I thought people under hypnosis were asleep. In fact, most people have been hypnotized and don't know it. When you're engrossed in a movie you're under one state of hypnosis."

The method is not for use on criminal suspects. Rather, it's for witnesses only, said the sergeant.

Valuable details that a person can't recall in a normal conscious state can be brought forth under hypnosis, he said.

Stewart gave this example: A person sees a car speeding down the street and doesn't think too much about it. Later, if he learns that the car was a getaway vehicle in robbery, chances are he wouldn't be able to remember even its color.

Under hypnosis, however, he could probably recall its license plate number, the number of passengers and details such as who was wearing glasses.

"The mind can record four trillion bits of information," said Stewart. "Hypnosis enables a person to recall

"The police sketch of the Oakland County child murderer ... was drawn from the memory of persons under hypnosis."

-Det. Sgt. Larry Stewart

what he thought has been forgotten."

During the seminar in Atlanta, the instructors took a man under hypnosis back in time gradually. "At each age they asked him to write his name and it changed according to his age," he said. "When he got back to the time he was in second grade, his signature came out in a printed scrawl just as it was at that age."

Are some people easier to hypnotize than others? "Yes," said Stewart. "The higher your IQ, the easier you go under. But skeptical persons like police and doctors are hard to hypnotize."

The first step in the technique, said Stewart, is to explain hypnosis to the subject, advising him that he only has to answer what he wants to. Then, the subject is put at ease and told to relax so that he's not feeling much at all, said the sergeant. "After this state, you put him on an escalator in his mind and take him down and down."

"Also, it helps to put him in say, an easy chair in his mind's eye to help him relax," said Stewart. "It's a matter of practice. It might take six sessions before you get him deep enough to get the information you need."

Fifteen minutes are usually necessary to put the subject under, and the total session probably lasts two and one-half to three hours, he said. During the session, the subject responds to yes-or-no questions from the interviewer with hand movements because a person can only talk in a shallow level of hypnosis, said Stewart.

"I plan to use the technique in any case where we have the time and where we have a good chance for success," he said. "This includes the case of a lost car radio."

The Los Angeles Police Department, which pioneered the technique and has full time "Hypnotechnicians," limits its use to homicides and rapes, he said.

"A hypnotist for the Wash-tenaw County Sheriff's Department told me recently that it was the best thing they had for dead-end cases," said Stewart. "The police sketch of the Oakland County child murderer, for example, was drawn from the memory of persons under hypnosis."

"If anyone in your family is handicapped, you should look into these services..."

We have a wide range of services that can help the physically impaired to communicate by telephone. For people with difficulties in hearing or speech, there are amplifying devices. For example: A telephone handset that allows adjustment of volume for hearing and another that permits amplification of speech.

As an aid for those with speech loss, Michigan Bell has an artificial larynx. And people with motion impairments should know about services such as easy-to-use card dialers, speakerphones, telephone headsets, and School-to-Home telephone service for students unable to attend class.

If you think any of these services might help you or someone in your family to communicate more easily, just call your local Michigan Bell Business Office.

State rep candidates discuss property taxes

1. Taxation: We need fair taxation; I support property tax reform. We must encourage home ownership. Total review of Michigan's tax system is

2. What changes, if any, would you advocate in state aid to local school districts?
3. How would you propose to balance the needs of urban and rural areas of Michigan?

essential. The state must curb spending; will continue to attempt to prioritize state budget items. We should be able to justify all public expenditures.

Highways, Roads and Streets: School safety programs and improvements are necessary. More police patrols, expanded transportation programs legislation have been initiated, enactment is near.

2. Many K-12 school districts are experiencing declining enrollment while others are experiencing increased enrollment. The declining enrollment problem is being addressed in the school aid formula this year. The need for a solution to the increasing enrollment must be addressed. I believe an added student count date should be allowed to reestablish the student population in those districts experiencing increased enrollment so as to assure proper funding.

3. We started to address these needs in 1971 with state revenue sharing. But the formula has been distorted by State grants being made to some communities outside the revenue sharing formula. Also state government is prone to pass mandatory costly statutory legislation and not send the necessary funding to local units. I have in the past suggested an improved revenue sharing plan including the funds for implementing mandatory legislative programs.

1. Property taxation, governmental spending and its effect on the middle and working classes. The 1963 State Constitution requires assessments not to exceed 50 per cent and it should be changed to 33 1/3%, of fair market value. Senior citizens already burdened with years of property taxation should pay only a set percentage. Some type of incentive or tuition credit needs to be instituted to help offset the heavy burden on the working man.

2. The state-aid formula to school districts is in need of an overhauling. Districts with high school millages are not given enough consideration. Since a loss of students reduces aid and the birthrate is down so drastically a modification of the formula is required. Threats by school boards to cut sports, extra curricular activities etc. . . . if millage is not passed has left a bitter taste in the taxpayer's mouth, in my opinion.

3. By making urban and rural officials aware of each others need. Interaction, not isolation, by these two groups is required before a balance can be sought. If this can be achieved through visits, meetings, etc. . . . then a balance agreeable to both groups will be much easier to achieve.

On this page are printed answers to questions submitted by the League of Women Voters from candidates for the two State Representative districts and one County Commission seat in the Plymouth-Canton Community.

The 52nd State Representative District includes all of the City of Plymouth and most of Plymouth Township, while the 37th District includes all of Canton Township and the remainder of Plymouth Township.

Thomas Kaas

Democrat
52nd District

1. In property tax reform and state spendings, I would work for: a) stronger legislation with enforcement procedures to promote fair and equal assessment practices on a state wide basis; b) additional property tax credits on the Michigan Income Tax forms; c) closer examination of state budgets and programs to determine program success, and cost efficiency.

For economic and job development, I support: a) stronger push through state agencies, i.e. Commerce Dept. and new legislation to attract new business and industry to relocate in Michigan; b) assist local government in retaining business and industry.

2. At this time I would not advocate any changes in the state aid formula. I'm not all that familiar with the mechanism, but would favor the present system over the proposed voucher system that is currently being discussed as a ballot issue. Of the two mechanisms, it appears that the present state aid system is the most practical for all the participants involved in the funding scheme of public education.

3. First by accepting the fact that this balance is crucial in meeting needs of both urban and rural areas. I would design and promote legislation that's consistent with local, independent input and cognizant of existing plans or programs already established in the given area. Additionally by promoting non-competitive legislation, while meeting needs of one given area respects and maintains characteristics of the other, so that the remedy doesn't become rural vs. urban.

Roy Smith

Republican
52nd District

1. The property tax system, as presently administered, is unfair and excessive. It's unfair in that property of similar value is assessed differently in different parts of the State. It is excessive in that it's used to finance both local units of government and schools; and, being excessive it threatens people's homes and encourages drastic measures such as California's Proposition 13.

Present financing of K-12 education does not ensure equal and quality education for all students.

2. I believe a statewide income tax that does not reduce local control of schools should be used to finance K-12 education.

State aid to each school district should be sufficient to ensure quality education. Local discretion for additional funding should be maintained.

3. Needs arise periodically in both urban and rural areas. I don't believe there's any way to predict and balance needs. However, we can attempt to apply solutions as the needs occur.

I believe it's senseless to have an "urban policy" which transfers resources from rural areas to urban areas; and also a "rural policy" which transfers resources from urban areas to rural areas. We must be selective and weigh needs.

County hopefuls want county exec

ISSUE QUESTIONS

1. Would you favor putting the question of having a County Executive on the ballot? Explain.

2. Are services such as police protection equitable to townships and cities? If not, how would you correct this.

3. What suggestions do you have for improving the structure of Wayne County government?

and resident service (ombudsman). Third, perhaps fewer commissioners. We need to make people more aware of the county government. We need leadership.

Frank Yonish

Republican

1. I favor placing the question of a County Executive on the ballot. The commissioners at present, are faced with the almost unachievable task of regulating the operation of county government. It is therefore necessary that Wayne County establish a County Executive to see that the Commissioners' policies are carried out.

2. Police protection is equitable to certain townships and cities. The sheriff's department furnishes police protection in many unincorporated areas, and to the city of Romulus by contract. Although with the recent population growth in such townships as Canton, sheriff's patrols should be increased in proportion to the population.

3. I suggest establishing a County Executive as one way to improve the structure of county government, as was put forth in question number one. Also, I suggest the county provide services to its taxpayers, but with a cost effectiveness approach toward spending and a hold the line approach toward taxing.

1. Yes. I am firmly convinced that the people of Wayne County must have the opportunity to vote on this needed reform. Wayne County government lacks the leadership necessary to be a truly dynamic force. I want to see the people given the chance to make a needed commitment for change.

2. No. The county has an obligation to provide services and protection for residents on a 24-hour basis. As long as townships exist without police then we must provide police protection. Should the legislature override the Governor's veto of SB 1517, Wayne County will be financially better off to provide the protection.

Suburban kids find rural life on farm

PG.

Farm raises cows, sheep

Milking the goats and sling- ing chicken feed baskets are farm chores that most suburban kids haven't experienced.

But about 2,200 Plymouth and Canton school children helped with the chores and visited the animals last year at the Rotary School Farm, located beside Salem High School on Joy Road.

The farm is supported by the Plymouth-Canton schools and Farm Manager Mike Smith submitted a progress report to the Board of Education at its workshop on Monday, Oct. 2.

A nature trail, running along the hedgerow and back into the forest on the southwestern corner of the school lot, is also being developed by Farm Manager Mike Smith, who is working with the Nature Trail Committee, under the direction of Art Durow, ecology teacher at Salem High School.

They will develop a path with about 25 stopping points featuring different kinds of plant life, rock formations, or other natural points of interest.

The development of the nature trail also includes laying the wood chips marking the trail, writing a trail guide to accompany the walking tour, and developing a slide show of the plant life in the area, according to Durow.

At the farm, school children are able to see various livestock and learn about their living habits, under Smith's direction. Cows, sheep, ponies, goats, ducks, geese, and chickens live there, and teachers can plan a trip to the farm in conjunction with science lessons.

Smith tried to plant cash crops of corn, wheat, and oats last year in order to use all the land on the approximately 200-acre site, however some of the equipment needed to harvest the crops was not available. Smith said that he would like to develop the land so that the farm could become more self-sufficient.

The farm features two chicken coops, a sheep barn, a main barn and a farm house occupied by the farm manager and his family. Smith said the house was in good shape, but the second bedroom needed to be finished.

He also said the barn yard doors and one chicken coop will probably need to be replaced next year.

As farm manager, Smith's salary is $12,610, but he said he could understand why it was difficult to keep a farm manager for more than a year.

"The hours are very long - usually from 6:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. - and it's impossible to leave without having a substitute come in to take care of the animals," said Smith.

Smith also said the Rotary Club donated $20,000 to the farm and the Plymouth Jaycees donated money for the Farmyard Express, a renovated bus used to transport animals.

The public is welcome to visit the farm on the first and third Sundays of the month from 12 noon to 4 p.m.

Miller Woods to display autumn colors during tour on Sunday

Twenty-four high school students are ready to show off their summer's labor during a fall walk through Miller Woods on Sunday, Oct. 15 from 1-4 p.m.

Last summer, the students, employed by the Youth Conservation Corps., collected litter, cleared a path, and then marked a trail through the woods with woodchips.

The forest contains many rare plants characteristic of the beech-maple ecological system that took hundreds of years to form, said Penny Wright, chairperson of the Miller

Woods Committee.

Miller Woods, located on Powell Road off N. Territorial Road, is owned by the Plymouth-Canton school district. Members of the Miller Woods Committee and the YCC program will conduct tours through the woods on Sunday.

Rocks nip Redford Union 13-6

BY ERIC OLSON

Football rollercoaster.

That's what the Salem grid-ers have been riding this season - at least on offense. And Friday's 13-6 victory over Redford Union was a dip in the tracks as the offense could not get untracked.

The week before Salem hit an all-time high with 60 points against Belleville and the week before that they tallied 35 against Allen Park, but in Friday's game they managed only 13 points. However, the important thing is that they won and remained unbeaten with 5-0 record.

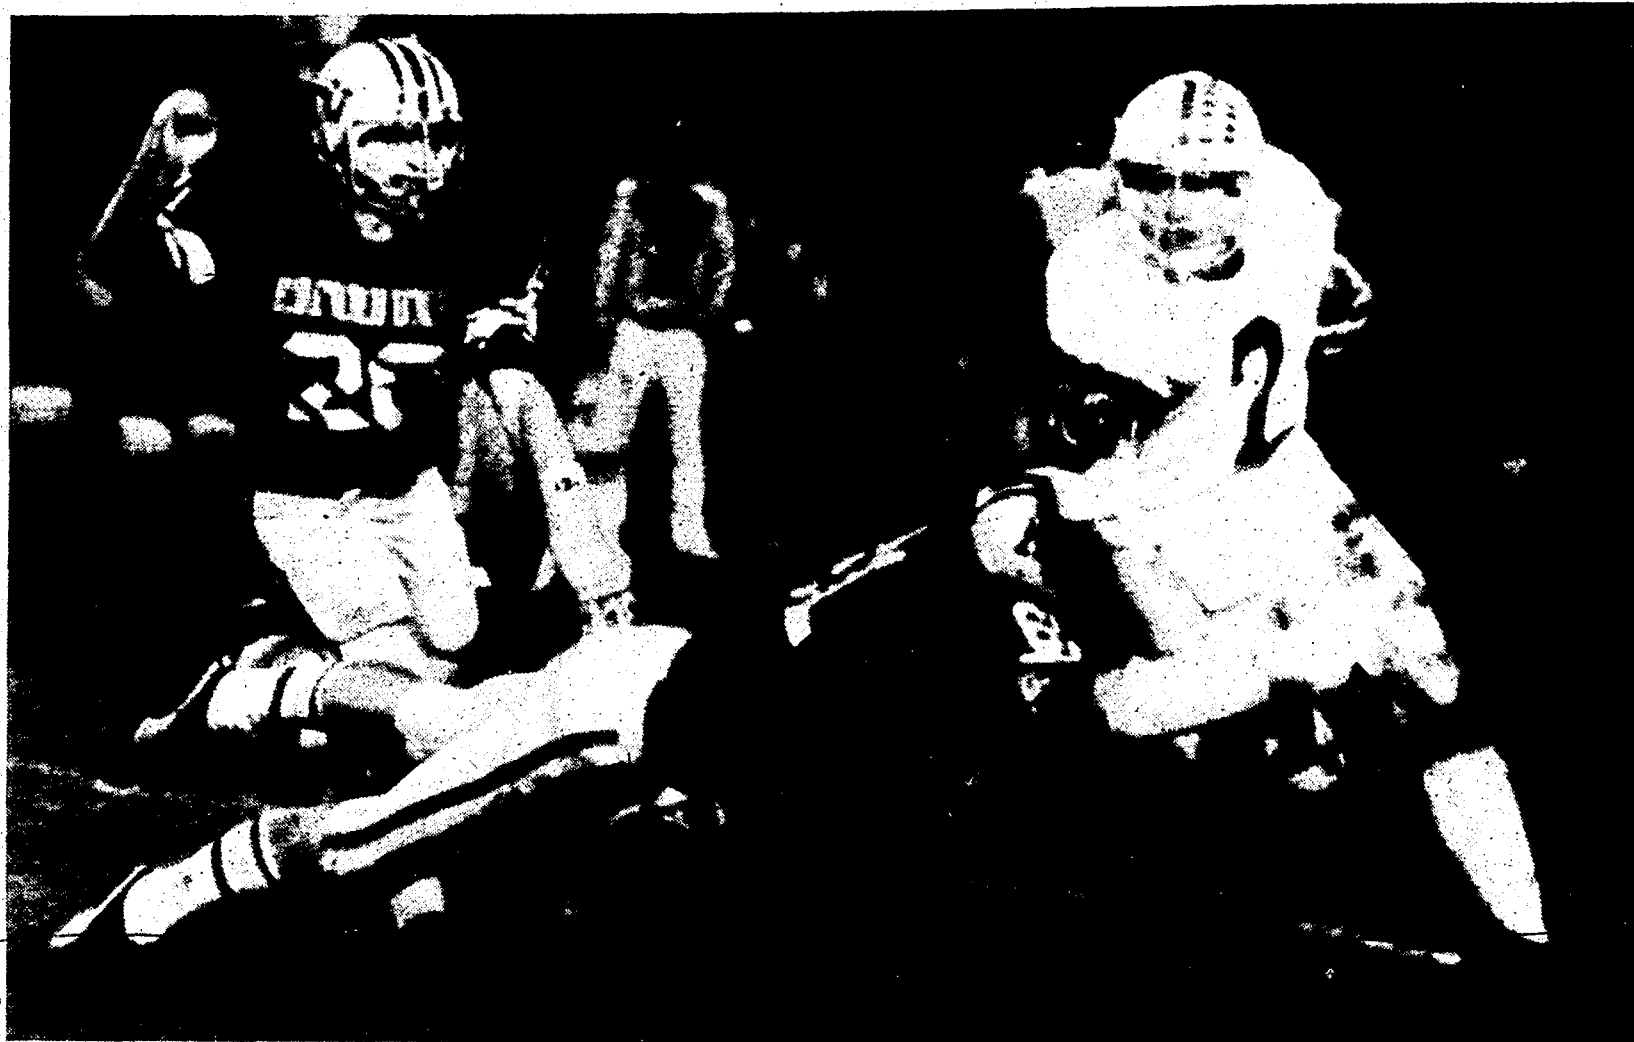

One thing that has not been up and down for Salem this year has been the defense which has been steady if not stupendous. Their defense kept them in the game against Redford Union as neither team scored until the fourth quarter.

Not until Rich Hewlett crashed in from the one-yard line with 9:39 remaining in the game did the scoreboard light up for either team. Hewlett's run capped a time-consuming 56-yard drive.

The point after touchdown kick by Rich Hanshu failed and the score was 6-0.

Redford Union came back to know the score 6-6 on a 47-yard drive with 1:39 left

Chief football game has team change

Canton's Nov. 3 football game against Dearborn has been changed to Edsel Ford. The home game for the Chiefs will begin at 7:30.

The change was brought about by a series of discussions and negotiations with the Dearborn schools resulting from the district's late millage election.

Chiefs stomp Mott, 18-0

BY PATTY RADZIK

It was Homecoming.

However, this Homecoming did not star Jon Voight and Jane Fonda; but rather Canton tailback Rusty Mandle as he rushed for 212 yards and scored two touchdowns to cap off the week's Homecoming festivities with an 18-0 mauling of Waterford Mott on Friday night.

The win ended the Chiefs two game losing streak and lifted their season mark to 3-2.

Mandle's touchdown runs were of 43 and 19 yards as his total of 212 yards rushing was a career high for him.

After receiving the opening kickoff Canton wasted no time in getting on the scoreboard as seven plays later they hit paydirt to go up 6-0. Mandle did the bulk of the work as he rushed five times in the drive and his last carry being the 43-yard TD sprint.

In Mott's first attempt to move the ball, Canton gave them 15 yards free, as the Chief defense penalized three times in a row for encroachment. But on the next series of downs the Chief defense held the Corsairs and forced them to punt.

Salem netters sweep Sub-8 title

BY PATTY RADZIK

The Salem girl netters did it again. But this year, it is their name alone that is inscribed on the Suburban Eight champion's trophy.

Last year, the Rock netters ended the season in a three way tie for first place. However, after tying for first in the Suburban Eight League meet, and defeating Edsel Ford last Monday, the girls have won outright possession of the championship.

Three of Salem's players walked off the courts individual champions, in Thursdays' League meet held in Dearborn.

No. 1 singles player Becky Crespo was upset in the finals by Trenton's Lynn Schendel 7-5, 6-7, 2-6. Crespo, who won the title last year, was hampered by bad weather in the finals match. During the final set, even further, as she did not adjust to the indoor courts.

The three champions were all singles players as No. 2 player Kathy Horton won her finals match over Missy Chapman of Trenton, 6-4, 6-1 and No. 3 singles player Betsy Moon won in split sets in her final 2-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Renee Braun, No. 4 singles, beat her Allen Park opponent 6-2, 7-6. In the doubles play the number one team of the Hathaways' lost in the second round 5-7, 6-3, 6-0. Laurie Smith and Kathy Webber, No. 2 doubles, also lost in the second round by a 6-3, 4-6, 5-7 score. Rounding out the pairs were Kathy Somers and Vickie Sterling, who lost in the finals 6-2, 7-6.

Trenton won the singles competition, and Dearborn won the title in doubles title. "It was a moral victory for us," Coach Janet Lawson said at the end of the day. "We performed well." Salem and Trenton tied for first with 14 tournament points each with Dearborn finishing in second. Coming in third, fourth and fifth were: Allen Park, Bentley and Edsel Ford respectively.

In the title clinching match on Monday with the T-Birds, Salem needed only an hour to dispose of their opponents. The match was a continuation of the earlier rained out one.

Crespo easily won her match over Lori Wash 6-4, 6-0. Horton won handily 6-0, 6-1 over Mary Pat Richard. Moon narrowly escaped defeat 6-2, 7-6(5-4). Braun also won with no trouble 6-4, 6-0.

The only loss suffered during the whole match was that of the Hathaway sisters as they lost 6-3, 6-4. Laurie Smith and Kathy Weber picked up a 6-0, 6-1 win and Kathy Somers and partner Vicki Sterling won in a shut-out 6-0, 6-0.

"The girls earned this," Lawson commented after the victory, adding, "I'm very happy."

The Rock's season officially ends tonight as the girls play Northville at home. This coming Friday and Saturday Salem travels to Ann Arbor to compete in the Regionals.

"I'm hoping that we do well in the Regionals," Lawson said. "We want to go to State."

Matches will be played at Ann Arbor Huron High School located at Huron Valley Parkway and Fuller road and also at Ann Arbor Pioneer High School located on Stadium and State streets.

Plymouth finished Suburban Eight play with a record of 5-0.

Tankers third in relays

BY PATTY RADZIK

West Bloomfield and Northville. Those were the two reasons why the Salem Girl's swim team finished third in the Redford Union Relays.

Bloomfield and Northville, two of the best swim team schools around, battled each other throughout the meet, with Salem poking its head in now and then. In almost every race, one or the other took first or second place.

Out of the 10 events, including diving, West Bloomfield won five and Northville won four. Both teams set a record for the relays. Bloomfield did it in the diving competition when Ellen Deska and Monique Ozinkowski tallied up 223.10 points after five dives a piece.

Northville's 200-yard freestyle team won with a record time of 1:46.7. Salem did not win any of the events, but came close several times. First of all the Rocks qualified in all but two of the races.

Salem placed third in the 400-yard medley relay with a time of 4:30.3, six tenths of a second faster than their qualifying time.

Event No. 2 found the Rocks again coming in third, with a time of 4:24.5 in the 400 freestyle relay.

The girls finished fifth in the 200 breaststroke relay, with a time of 3:32.4. Plymouth came in second behind Stevenson, and ahead of West Bloomfield in the 200 backstroke relay, with a 2:06.8 timing.

In diving competition, Natalie McClumpha and Patty Larson combined their efforts, and earned fifth place with 144.85 points.

The crescendo relay, event No. 7, had Salem finishing third with a time of 5:37.7. That time was seven tenths of a second slower than their qualifying time. Salem came in third in the 400 individual medley race and fifth in the 200 medley relay.

The Rocks were in second place and not far from third going into the last race of the night. However, since Salem did not swim in the 200 freestyle relay, and Northville won it in record time, Plymouth settled for a third place finish with a total point score of 52. Northville then finished second with 61 points, and West Bloomfield took home the cake with a whopping 101 points.

All in all, Salem coach Chuck Olson was pleased with his team's performance. "All of the girls swam extremely well," he commented. "We placed in every event but two, which shows the depth of our team."

"We beat other good teams and finished well. I would have liked to have won one of the events, but it was a difficult meet to place in," Olson said.

The team goes up against Churchill and then Edsel Ford tomorrow night in the T-Birds pool at seven o'clock.

The Churchill meet should be an easy one for Salem, as the Chargers are a weak team. Olson will take the opportunity to move people around from one event to another, and also give some people a needed rest.

DAVE RUBADUE, Salem harrier, placed second in Thursday's meet against Bentley, which Salem lost 26-29. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

Harriers humbled

The Salem cross country team lost its only dual meet last week to Bentley 29-26 on Thursday. The setback lowered the Rock's season mark to 3-4 in dual-meet competition.

Paul Hess, Salem's top harrier, had to sit out the race because of illness in the form of a pulled tooth. "He probably would have won the race, and if he had we would have won the meet," said Rock Coach Scott Dunson.

Dave Rubadue was the top Salem runner as he came in third in a time of 17:37. Rubadue was followed by: Dave Truesdale in fourth (17:41), Kevin Waara in fifth (17:45), Chris Whitaker in eighth (17:59), and Jeff Haretel in a time of 18:06.

Chief cagers rebound

The Canton girls basketball team had its 30 game regular season win streak snapped last Tuesday by Walled Lake Western, but they rebounded Thursday night to crush Churchill 48-26.

The win improved the Chiefs season mark to 6-1 and their Western Six mark to 2-1.

The Churchill game was plagued by poor shooting by both teams in the first quarter as the score was only 4-4 with 5:40 remaining in the quarter. Then, the Chiefs got their offense rolling as they reeled off eight consecutive points to lead 12-4 at the end of the first stanza.

Churchill never came closer than eight for the remainder of the game.

Although the Chiefs poor shooting continued into second quarter Central's was worse, when they got a chance to shoot. Central was plagued by Canton's tight defense which caused many turnovers. The Chiefs led 22-14 at halftime.

Canton's defense was even more impressive in the third quarter as they held Churchill to just three points. Canton also got their offense going behind play making guard Vicki Cavallaro as she directed them to 14 points in the quarter.

Center Kelley Heaton paced the Chiefs with 10 points and Dawn Malek added eight for the game.

CEP band takes third

Experience, a desire to win, and a 1000 per cent improvement over last year's performance inspired the Centennial Educational Park Marching Band to strut away with two trophies last Saturday, said Director James Griffith.

Scoring 74 points, the band took third place in the Cavalcade of Bands sponsored by Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

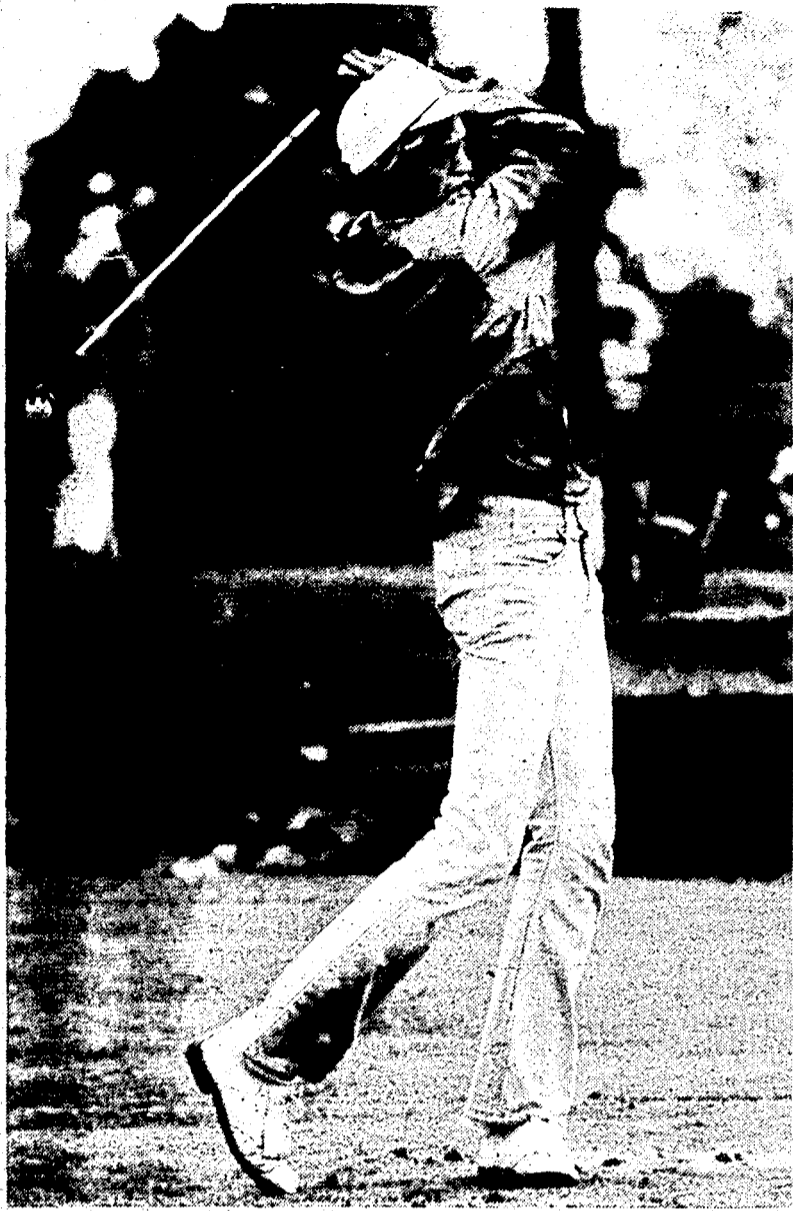

The percussion section also distinguished itself by winning a first place for its section. Seven bands from Michigan and one band from Indiana competed for the awards.

The 118-member band performed these selections in competition: "Commando March" by Samuel Barber; "The Sheriff" by Emerson, Lake and Palmer; "Come Take A Ride With Me" by Chuck Mangione with junior Mark Thrasher featured on alto sax; and, "Buckaroo Holiday" by Aaron Copeland with Lisa Holk on trumpet.

Ralph Johnson and Mark Fisher, students from Plymouth currently attending Central Michigan University, and Associate Director Carl Battishill assisted with the musical arrangements, drill design, color guards and drill rehearsals.

Chiefs improve, but lose

Although the Canton girls tennis team dropped both of their matches last week coach Cindy Burnstein was pleased because of the squad's improvement.

"Even though we lost to Churchill 6-1 again, we played much better this time as the closer set scores indicate," said Burnstein. "I was especially happy with our third doubles team because of the 6-4, 7-6 score."

After Monday's loss to Churchill the Chief netters were edged by Waterford Mott 4-3; Eileen McGlenn at No. 2 singles and Lori Smith at No. 3 singles were winners. McGlenn won 6-4, 6-0 and Smith won handily 6-2, 6-0.

The No. 3 doubles team of Julie Krause and Barb Ruppercht was also victorious as they won by a 6-0, 7-5 count. Canton also won all four of the junior varsity matches.

"We just couldn't win the big match that would give us the win," said Burnstein after the Waterford Mott match which dropped the Chiefs' season mark to 1-8.

Friday's match with Northville was rained out.

Golfers win by one point

The Salem golf team edged Trenton by one stroke 162-163 on Thursday to lift its season dual meet record to 10-1.

Blake Lundberg and Ed Thomas paced the Rocks as they each fired 39's, while Craig Stevens and Rob Jarvis each carded 42's.

The weather made playing conditions very difficult as Salem coach Bob Waters said that the wind and rain made playing the ball extremely hard because it would change directions.

The 10-1 record by the Rocks is their best ever.

Canton whips Mott

fumbled in the second quarter on Mott's 15-yard line, dashing hopes of another score three minutes away from half-time.

After two clipping penalties in the third quarter, Steve Gray intercepted Mott quarterback Chuck Simon's pass. The interception set up Canton's second score of the night. With 10:45 left in the game, Mandle raced 19 yards to put the Chiefs up 12-0. A minute later, another Mott pass was intercepted. This time it was Jay McKinley doing the stealing.

Canton had a bit of a problem moving the ball by themselves after the interception but the problem was solved by several of Mott penalties. With 18 seconds left in the game, Mandle charged to the one-yard line to set up a touchdown by Greg Mallare who snuck over the goal line. For the game quarterback Dawson completed 2 of 5 passes, with Steve Gray and Mandle doing the receiving.

Waterford Mott starting quarterback Kerry Downing was benched after the first half in favor of Simon. Downing completed none of the seven passes he tried and he was unable to move the ball club. Simon had more success as he hit on five of nine passes, but he still could not get Waterford Mott into the Canton endzone.

On the evening the Chiefs had 12 first downs to Mott's seven.

The victory was important for the Chiefs as it stopped a losing streak and the Chiefs proved to themselves that they can comeback after playing poorly in their last two games to win.

Canton's next game is at home, Oct. 14 starting at 7:30 p.m.

Rocks undefeated

After a tight first half, the Rocks pulled out during the third quarter to log 18 points to Ford's six.

Pulling ahead to widen a one-point halftime lead, the Salem girls basketball team defeated Edsel Ford, 54-36, last Thursday.

The Rocks had trouble handling a man-to-man full-court press during the first half and after the first quarter, the Rocks were trailing by five points, 15-10.

Rock, Trenton showdown Friday

with the touchdown play being an eight-yard toss from quarterback Dave Shopa to Charles Babbitts. However, their conversion also failed.

After receiving the Redford Union kickoff the Rocks tallied the winning touchdown on a 78-yard gallop by tailback Phil Anderson. This time Hanschu's kick was good to make the score 13-6.

Salem's defense stopped Redford Union after kicking off and then on getting the ball, the Rocks ran out the clock.

For the first three stanzas Redford Union did not move the ball at all against the Rock defense. As for the game, Redford managed only 58 yards rushing on 37 attempts and just 32 yards passing as

Tracksters wanted

The Roadrunner Track Club is looking for girls 10-18 years old interested in learning track and field techniques and conditioning for indoor track. Interested athletes who have a strong desire to improve their track and field records or those who would like to participate in the sport should contact Scott Kurtz at Salem High School or by calling him at 455-6325 during the evening and on weekends.

they hit on three of 10 tosses.

The Rocks moved the ball, but only between the two 30-yard lines. They never were able to continue a drive once they got in scoring position. Salem had 218 yards rushing on 37 attempts and they had 40 yards passing on two completions in seven throws.

Salem totaled nine first downs and Redford had eight.

When Redford Union scored they ended the Rocks' string of scoreless quarters at 10. The string began in the Allen Park game. So far this season, the Rocks have allowed just 32 points in five games which averages to 6.4 points allowed per game.

Another thing that has continuously been steady for Salem this season has been the team's raise in the state rankings and in the regional point standings which determines the teams that get into the state playoffs.

In Hal Schram's prep poll in the Detroit Free Press the Rocks are now ranked tenth and in the coaches' poll they have honorable mention. The Rocks started the year unranked in either poll. Salem has also moved into fifth spot in their region which is only one position away from a state playoff berth.

The chance of state playoffs and of a higher state ranking ride on this week's game against Suburban Eight rival Trenton. Trenton is 5-0 on the season and undefeated in the conference as is Salem.

The home game for Salem begins at 8 p.m. Fri., Oct. 13.

THE RUN. Hanschu spins away from the Redford Union cornerback on his way to the endzone however, he stumbled and fell at the two-yard line. Rich Hewlett took it in for the

TD on the next play to give the Rock's a 6-0 lead in the fourth quarter. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron.)

BY CHAS CHILD
 Ben Burgoyne, Canton Township's attorney, contributed $1,000 to the re-election campaign of Supervisor Harold Stein and his slate mates, according to campaign financial records.

Required by state law, the statements filed at the City-County Building in Detroit also reveal that a number of developers and realtors active in Canton contributed funds to the United Democratic Club of Canton which endorsed and supported the campaigns of Stein, Treasurer Anne Bradley and two candidates for trustee, Frank McMurray and Robert Schaeztl, in the Aug. 8 primary.

The house builders who contributed to the club include: James S. Bonadeo of Bonadeo Construction; Mark Dembs, of Dembs Building Co.; Kim Wilkins of Amurcon Corp.; Howard Binkow of Republic Development Corp.; L. Cervi of Cervi Home Builders; and Alan Lederman of Almar Homes.

Other developers who donated to the club are: Ned Apigian, an architect representing The Center, a $5 million recreation complex slated for Haggerty Road; Ara Gholdoian, an architect and developer active in the township; and Claude Howard, a realtor in Canton.

Bonadeo, Lederman and Cervi contributed $200, while Dembs, Binkow and Apigian each gave $125. Gholdoian contributed $50, and Howard added a total of $325.

Howard gave twice according to the statement. A $200 donation was listed under Claude Howard, while another $125 was listed under Howard & Howard Real Estate. Both contributions listed the same address, 8625 N. Wayne in Westland.

Besides Burgoyne, three other persons who do business with the township contributed to the United Democratic Club.

Ralls & Hamill, an architectural firm in Livonia which was recently awarded the contract to design Canton's new DPW building, contributed $50. Canton Resident Robert Wade, of Wade & Trim Associates, the township's

Township races Headlee for sewers

EDWARD WITKOVER, Plymouth Township engineer, has pushed a $10 million sewer project through the township board. Competing with the Headlee tax limitation plan is approved by Michigan voters in November and rising costs.

According to Dick Breuder, engineer for the project, and other bond and financial consultants, passage of the Headlee tax limitation plan would mean few, if any, municipal bond projects would be approved by the state's Municipal Finance Authority in the next two years.

The sewer project has been planned for the past five years by the township, which is now in court order to install two sewer lines even though township voters rejected the idea in August (as they have before).

In the decade since the plan has been discussed, the cost of the project has risen dramatically and is currently increasing about 10 per cent per month, Breuder estimated.

At a special meeting Monday, the township board that although the original bond issue was approved for $2.8 million, the cost of the project will now probably be $10 million.

Fund drive kick off

The public is invited to help kick off the Plymouth Community Fund Drive at the Pride and Spirit dinner on Sept. 25 at the Mayflower Meeting House.

The cost of the dinner is $10.50 and to attend, call 453-6879.

Representatives of government, schools, churches, service organizations and business and industrial leaders will attend the affair.

STUDY: Plymouth Township is studying the possibility of a 100% increase in parking fines. The township board is expected to vote on the issue in the next few weeks.

Neighbors, police officers and firefighters searched unsuccessfully for the snake on Saturday and Sunday. The snake was finally spotted by a resident who called the township. The snake was killed on Friday afternoon.

Dick Hock of Fellow Creek Apartments, 44547 Savory Rd., was listed in stable condition on Saturday in Detroit Children's Hospital following treatment of the right thigh bite.

Canton police officers and the animal warden will continue checking the area periodically, but some officers say the snake may have moved out of the area.

Thomas Rumsey of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources advised area residents to use caution while walking in unfamiliar areas and to look carefully before stepping while walking through marshy areas.

City Attorney Charles Lowe said higher fines will "deter people from disobeying the parking law. We have our share of scofflaws."

"Our present rates are significantly lower than Ann Arbor and Livonia," said Ford, explaining the increases. "Also, we're running low on our present tickets, and will need to print the new rates on the new tickets."

Some other fines that are proposed to go up are: expired meter, from $1 to $2 (after 14 days, from $3 to $5); and parked over 48 hours, from $5 to $10 (after 14 days, from $7 to $20).

Canopy rats hunted

Neighbors, police officers and firefighters searched unsuccessfully for the snake on Saturday and Sunday. The snake was finally spotted by a resident who called the township. The snake was killed on Friday afternoon.

Dick Hock of Fellow Creek Apartments, 44547 Savory Rd., was listed in stable condition on Saturday in Detroit Children's Hospital following treatment of the right thigh bite.

Canton police officers and the animal warden will continue checking the area periodically, but some officers say the snake may have moved out of the area.

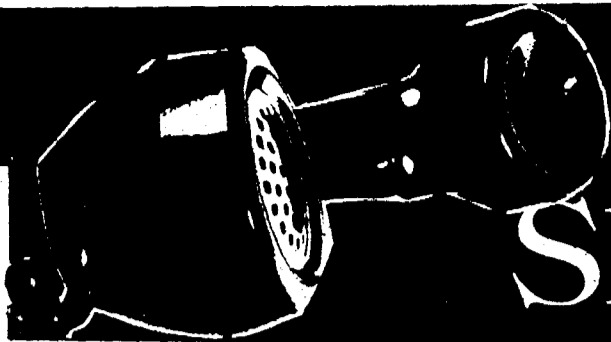

Thomas Rumsey of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources advised area residents to use caution while walking in unfamiliar areas and to look carefully before stepping while walking through marshy areas.

The snake is believed to be a Massagua rattler, the only poisonous snake in Michigan.
