Voters face school ballot Monday

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Plymouth-Canton school officials expect about 10,000 voters to go to the polls Monday, June 11. This figure represents about one-quarter of the estimated 38,000 registered voters in the district. The district's 14 precincts will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

"The impact of a campaign with 14 board candidates will draw voters to the polls," said Florence Beier, schools' spokesperson. "We know how voters feel about increased taxes, so every vote will count on the 1.5 mill increase for operating expenses," Beier continued.

Voters will face six separate decisions on the ballot.

In the race for two seats on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Educations, voters will choose from among 14 candidates. Candidates are: Kevin F. Campbell, Stephen B. Foley, Linda Garrett, John C. Kim, Douglass Koch, LeRoy L. Nelson, Sr., Gary Roberts, James L. Sinclair, Allen Neil Smith, Sylvia A. Stetz, Earl D. Swartzwelder, Kenneth Vogras, Jeanette Wines, and Thomas J. Yack.

Garrett has withdrawn from the race, although her name is still on the ballot. The terms are for four-years each.

Plymouth-Canton voters will be asked to approve a 1.5 mill increase for operating expenses. Passage of the millage means restoration of a full-day at elementary schools which were cut by 45 minutes one day each week and restoration of seventh and ninth grade athletic programs, according to school officials.

The 1.5 mill increase will add up to a four-

Election virtually meaningless

Only 4 hopefuls file for 4 city seats

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

The 1979 Plymouth Commission races are virtually over at the start.

Only four candidates filed for the four seats up for contention.

The sole decision therefore, pending an unusually successful write-in campaign, will be which of the four hopefuls will get the two-year term. Under the city charter, the top three vote-getters receive four-year terms while the fourth-place finisher gets a two-year seat.

Filing for the seats by the 4 p.m. Tuesday deadline were: Karl William Gansler II, of 525 Blunk St.; Ronald G. Loiselle, 503 Ann St.; Eldon W. Martin, of 880 Fairground; Thomas A. Turner, of 1300 Linden.

Turner is currently mayor of the city and is seeking his second term on the commission. Martin was appointed to the commission to fill a vacancy and is facing his first election test. Loiselle, a city planning commissioner was defeated in his first bid for the commission two years ago. Gansler is a former president of the Plymouth Jaycees.

Retiring from the commission are: Beverly McAnich, a former mayor who is barred by the charter from seeking a third consecutive term; and James Houk, also a former mayor of the city.

Since fewer than nine candidates filed for the race, no city primary election will be held. The general election, all but a formality for the candidates, will be held Nov. 6.

"With four people running, you can imagine what kind of turnout we'll have," said City Clerk Paul Brumfield.

By way of comparison, the last two commission elections required primaries to handle the number of candidates. In 1977, 11 persons filed for four seats and in 1975, 10 candidates threw their hats in the ring.

Twp. charter status snagged

BY CHAS CHILD

Plymouth Township's efforts to achieve charter status may have been delayed by legal questions surrounding just how it should be accomplished.

Township Attorney Don Morgan, in a letter to the Board of Trustees last week, asked the board to delay a decision on adopting a charter until he can further research the state law.

The board was scheduled to consider charter status at its meeting last night. The township administration believed the way was clear to become a charter township after citizens failed to challenge an earlier declaration to adopt a charter.

Residents had until May 29 to file petitions asking for a referendum on the question.

But Morgan said that state law "fails to specify what constitutes 'final passage of the resolution' (to incorporate)."

The law does not clearly spell out the steps to achieve charter status after citizens fail to challenge the move to charterhood with petitions, said Morgan.

Clerk Esther Hulsing agreed that the law was "hazy," but said before the meeting that the board should proceed with its earlier

To stop floods, creek may be cleaned

Service club members and businessmen may unite to clean up Tonquish Creek to prevent flooding as a result of discussion at Monday night's City Commission meeting.

The plan was initiated by Jim McKeon, a downtown merchant, who told the commission that he toured the Tonquish recently and found considerable debris along the bank. A heavy rain, he said, could wash this debris into the grate covering the pipe which runs under the city and cause flooding.

The central parking lot has been flooded twice in the last two years, caused in part by debris covering the grate.

Money spent in the past to improve the drainage is being wasted because the area is not cleaned up, said McKeon, a former mayor of the city.

"Nothing is being done," he said. I'm asking if you would allow us (downtown businessmen) to pull out the trash, and then the city DPW could pick it up."

City Manager Fred Yockey agreed that there is a debris problem, but the Wayne County Drain Commissioner has jurisdiction over the drainage area.

Call schools for jobs

The Job Placement Office of the Plymouth-Canton school district is accepting applications from students and former students of the district who are seeking employment.

Full-time, part-time and temporary jobs are available through the placement office, located at Canton High School, room 184. Contact Joyce Willis, job placement specialist, at 453-3100 for further information.

However, City Attorney Chuck Lowe said that while the drain commissioner has jurisdiction and responsibility over the creek, "there would be no harm done if we cleaned out the drain."

After his opinion, Commissioner Bud Martin volunteered the Lions club, of which he is a member, to help clean out the creek. And McKeon then similarly offered the services of his club, Kiwanis.

"If we all pitched in some Saturday, we could do a real good job," said Commissioner James Houk.

Besides these planned efforts, City Engineer Ken West said that the city has applied for a grant to put more grates upstream from the central lot grate to collect debris, and to put an alarm at the grate area to warn of rising water.

School hopefuls discuss millage, growth, vandalism

THE COMMUNITY CRIB: June 6, 1979

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Tackling a broad range of issues from high school vandalism to housing additional students to teacher accountability, 11 candidates for the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education spoke to the public Thursday night. The race will be decided in the June 11 school election.

The candidates night forum, sponsored by the League of Women Voters, was held at West Middle School. About 65 persons attended. Candidates who attended were: Douglass Koch, Jeanette Wines, Kenneth Vogras, John Kim, Allen Neil Smith, Earl D. Swartzwelter, Sylvia Stetz, Tom Yack, Jim Sinclair, Kevin Campbell, and Stephen Foley.

Foley came to the forum about one and one-half hours late. Two candidates -- LeRoy Nelson and Gary Roberts -- said they were unable to attend. Roberts said he was ill.

Asked if they supported the 1.5 mill increase on the June 11 ballot, all candidates said "yes."

"With inflation putting such a strain on the school budget, we need the money," said Swartzwelter. He added that the proposed increase would be offset by a decrease in the district's debt retirement fund which means school taxes would go up about four-tenths of a mill.

To explain why she approved of the millage increase, Stetz said, "I'd like to see restoration of a full-day at elementary schools and seventh and ninth grade athletics." With the extended school year (ESY) program being adopted at Hulsing School, the district needs more money to operate, she continued.

Koch advocated more long-range planning in the district. School-community relations need to be improved, he said. "We should be sensitive to problems in advance and plan for them," he added.

Asked to list the two biggest problems facing the district and how to deal with them, most candidates said rapid student enrollment posed the biggest problem.

To accommodate growth, Campbell said ESY should be continued. Koch added that the idea of moving the sixth grade back to elementary schools and ninth grade back to middle schools should be considered.

"ESY is not the only solution. We'll have to build more schools south of Ford Road," said Wines. Furthermore, she added that parents wanted to see "reading, writing, spelling, and other basics emphasized in school."

Smith agreed, saying growth would force the district to build more schools south of Ford Road and in western parts of the district. "Boundary changes will have to be made as the district grows," he said. As the second problem facing the district, Smith said, "there's room for improvement in the quality of education offered here."

A combination of ESY and portable classrooms would ease growth problems, said Swartzwelter. He listed inflation and budget problems as the second problem facing the district. "We need better feedback from citizens and parents," he said. He proposed the school board meet in various schools throughout the district to encourage citizens to attend.

After growth, Stetz said more consistent programs should be offered throughout the school district.

Yack, the only incumbent in the race, listed student growth and inconsistency in programs as the two biggest problems. The Bond Advisory Committee has recommended a tax bond be placed before the voters to build new schools, he said. Goal-based curriculum, a program which school officials are working on now, will help make programs more consistent, he said.

In addition to growth, Sinclair said inflation was a problem. He supported the proposed 1.5 mill increase on the June 11 ballot saying it would provide more money to expand ESY.

Kim said communications to taxpayers and parents should be improved in the district.

In a question directed to Sinclair asking if scholastics or athletics were his No. 1 priority, Sinclair said, "scholastics -- there's no question about it." He is past president of the Plymouth-Canton Junior Athletic Association.

Asked how to stop student vandalism at the Centennial Educational Park without putting restraints on students who aren't involved, Vogras suggested installing a camera to monitor students. Communications and discipline must be improved between students and parents, he said.

When asked how teachers can be held accountable for their classroom performances, Foley said there's no problem with accountability because teachers are reviewed for two years before getting tenure.

To conclude the forum, all candidates were asked if their telephone numbers were listed. All replied "yes."

Dearborn hospital plans family clinic in Canton

Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn has asked the state to approve a family medical center in Canton Township.

The center, tentatively proposed for property near Canton Center and Warren roads, would have about 10 doctors, said Gerald Fitzgerald, executive vice president of Oakwood.

No beds are planned for overnight care in the center, but complete out-patient services for family-type practice will be available, said Fitzgerald.

Also, 24-hour walk-in emergency service is planned, he said.

Approval for the $996,000 project is needed from both Canton Township officials and the Michigan Department of Public Health, division of Health Facility Planning and Construction.

A certificate of need is needed from the state before any new hospital construction can take place.

In July, Fitzgerald expects a hearing before the township Planning Commission to approve plans for the center.

"The facility is part of our long-range community planning," said Fitzgerald. "Because of its growth, we've determined that Canton needs a center such as this. In fact, many of doctors have found that many of their patients live in Canton."

Oakwood is a 600-bed hospital located at 18101 Oakwood Boulevard in Dearborn.

As does low-income housing Sludge factory seeks OK

Two controversial projects -- a sludge composting plant and a subsidized-income apartment complex -- are scheduled to request site-plan approvals from the Canton Planning Commission next Monday.

Bi-Products Systems of Michigan, Inc. has proposed a facility south of Michigan Avenue off Morton-Taylor that would compost about 600 tons of treated sewage (sludge) into fertilizer.

Neighbors of the site have complained that the plant will smell bad, add to the truck traffic on Canton roads, and may contaminate the water table with toxic substances such as cadmium, zinc and others.

Last month, the commission tabled Bi-Products's request so that Bob Wade, township engineer, could review an environmental-impact review submitted by Bi-Products.

The subsidized-income apartment complex is being proposed by Amurcon Corp. of Southfield for an 19-acre site on the east side of Lilley Road, south of Warren. 168 units are proposed in the project.

Neighbors in the Pickwick Village Subdivision say that the complex, called Independence Square will lower their property values. Further, they claim that a contract between the original landowner and the township (called a PUD) would be violated if apartments were built on the site.

An opinion is due soon from a township attorney on whether the township could fight the project based on possible violation of the PUD.

Also on the commission's agenda is a request for a site-plan approval from the Palace Restaurant for an addition to their building. The restaurant is located on the south side of Ford Road, west of I-275.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. at Township Hall, 1150 Canton Center Road.

If approved, the projects must still receive OKs from the Board of Trustees before construction could begin. If denied, the developers could still take their projects to the trustees for its approval.

On strike

AFTER THEIR CONTRACTS EXPIRED, some workers from Bethcy Manufacturing, pictured above, manned the picket lines on Wednesday, May 30. Negotiations are still underway, Bethcy officials are unsure when a contract settlement will be reached, said John Perks, personnel manager. About 325 production and maintenance workers are participating in the strike. Bethcy makes wire mesh and industrial containers and is located on Mill Street in Plymouth. ## Panel recommends pay hikes for Canton officials

A 33 per cent pay raise over one and one-half years for Canton Supervisor Noel Culbert has been recommended by the Canton Compensation Commission.

Culbert's salary is now $21,000, and the commission urged it be raised to $28,000 starting Dec. 1, 1980. Two raises were also recommended in the meantime: On June 1, the supervisor's salary should rise to $23,500, and on June 1, 1980, it should be $25,000, said the commission.

Raises for township clerk and treasurer were also recommended.

The schedule for Clerk John Flodin should go like this, the commission said: His present salary of $19,700 should be raised to $22,000 on June 1; $23,000, effective June 1, 1980; and $24,000 on Dec. 1, 1980. This would be a 21.8 per cent increase overall.

Treasurer James Donahue's salary should be increased from its present $7,500 to $8,000 on Dec. 1, 1980, said the commission.

The raises must be approved by the Board of Trustees before they become effective, and the matter was before the board at last night's meeting.

Members of the non-partisan compensation commission are: Michael Mack, chairman; Michael Wallace, secretary; Richard Humberger; Flossie Tonda; and Roger Haslick.

City begins 2nd look at cable TV

A proposal for cable television was started through channels at City Hall Monday night.

The City Commission, apparently receptive to a request from Omnicom of Michigan for a cable television franchise, referred the matter to the city administration for its review.

For about $6 to $10 per month, the service would offer numerous channels from as far away as Atlanta and Chicago, and include programming from New York, Boston and San Francisco, said John Raines of Omnicom.

Also, first-run, commercial-free movies will be offered, he said, as well as special channels offering news, financial reports, sports, weather and more.

City Manager Fred Yockey said, "My feeling is that we should approve this because we have no one in the wings waiting and I think the people of the city should be given the opportunity of saying whether or not they want this service."

The matter was referred to the city administration for review of a contract with Omnicom and for comments from citizens.

Schools weigh Sunflower Sub school

School officials are eyeing a 16-acre site in the Sunflower Subdivision on which to build a kindergarten through eighth grade school, according to Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business in the district.

The land, located on Warren road between Canton Center and Beck roads, was purchased by the district in October, 1977, said Hoedel. The school district owns 17 land sites.

"If we constructed a flexible building which could be adopted to a senior citizen or medical complex in 15 or 20 years when the district no longer needs the school, then we could sell it," said Hoedel.

In a related matter, The Canton Chamber of Commerce recently released the results of two surveys taken of the business and residential communities. The survey results indicate that the business and residential communities favor constructing new schools on commercial or industrially-zoned property, said the chamber.

According to Hoedel, many of the land sites owned by the school district are zoned residential. "If we built a new school in an industrial area, the district would have a tremendous problem busing the students," said Superintendent Mike Hoben.

Before any action is taken, Plymouth-Canton voters must approve a bond proposal to fund new school construction. School officials have recommended that a bond proposal be placed before the voters in January, said Hoedel. The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education may decide the size of the bond proposal within the next few months.

City hikes water rates 45% but.....

Water rates in the City of Plymouth will probably go up about $30 per year starting July 1.

The new rates, representing about a 45 per cent increase, were presented to the City Commission at Monday night's meeting. Final approval of the rates was delayed, however, until the city administration could alter the original proposal to come up with an equal price for all customers.

The administration's first proposal called for giving a break to heavy users.

City Clerk Paul Brumfield listed two reasons for the rate hike. First, the City of Detroit, which supplies water to Plymouth, increased their charges, and second, the loss of Burroughs Corporation as of Dec. 31, 1975, which represented about 35 per cent of consumption, he said.

The equalized rate is due back to the commission at its next meeting, June 18.

The new rates will first appear in the October, 1979, billing, said Brumfield.

Leaks continue

City Manager Fred Yockey answered former mayor Jim McKeon's concerns that there was heavy leakage from the city's water system by agreeing that it was excessive. "By the city's efforts, it (leakage) has come down from fiscal year 1977-78 of 20.6 per cent to 13.6 per cent," said Yockey.

"We will keep an eye on it for future improvements," added the city manager.

Car smashed into showroom

LAUREL Furniture, on 584 W. Ann Arbor Trail, suffered about $5,000 worth of damage on May 24 when a car smashed through its wall and into a showroom, police report. The driver, Terry L. Trent, of 726 S. Mill, was eastbound on Ann Arbor Trail around 11 p.m. when he crossed the center stripe and struck the building, causing a five by 10-foot hole, police said. (Photo by Don Wurm.)

For parking

City nixes rezoning on Ross

A request to rezone a residential lot on Ross Street in the City of Plymouth to permit parking was denied by the City Commission Monday night.

The first lot west of the corner at Main and Ross, the vacant parcel is owned by Fleet Street Association, which also owns two adjoining lots on Main Street which it leases to The Community Crier.

With the additional parking, Fleet Street planned to construct a new office building to house The Crier offices.

W. Edward Wendover, speaking for Fleet Street, said the proposal would allow development of the parcels in an attractive manner to the neighborhood with an office use more desirable than general commercial.

Several residents of Ross Street opposed the proposed rezoning. James McCarthy, attorney for the residents, said the rezoning would deny the homeowners' property rights. Also, it would "set" a precedent of going into a subdivision.

"We shouldn't sacrifice residential areas for commercial interests," said James Wright of 853 Ross.

Commissioner James Houk, who cast the lone "yes" vote for the rezoning, said, "The time has come to face the issue that the commercial areas must have parking. Either that or have run down places on Main Street like the area across from the (Carl's) restaurant. This (project) will improve the entire area."

Commissioner Bev McAninch disagreed: "It would be an encroachment on the neighborhood, which is not in transition."

Voting against the rezoning request were Commissioners Dave Fugh, Mary Childs, McAninch, Mark Wehmeyer, Bud Martin, and Mayor Tom Turner.

PCEA endorses 2

Candidates John Kim and Sylvia Stetz were endorsed by the Plymouth-Canton Education Association (PCEA) in the upcoming June 11 school board race.

The PCEA interviewed nine of the candidates in the race and endorsed Stetz and Kim because they were "best qualified to sit on the board," said Bill Heath, a spokesperson for the PCEA Public Affairs Council.

He added that all 13 candidates were invited to interview with the PCEA council, a representative group of about 15 teachers, but two candidates didn't come to the interview. He declined to name the candidates.

According to Heath, the candidates were asked similar questions and then a consensus vote was taken by the council. Their choices were then endorsed by the PCEA's executive board.

City, Twp. talk floods

BY FRED DeLANO

It's a pity Chief Tonquish won't be at Plymouth City Hall tonight.

The meandering, southbound stream that bears his name is going to be blamed for all sorts of community flooding problems.

Tonight's meeting at 7 p.m. will bring together the storm water management committees of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township, prodded into action by recent storm-provoked floods that have inundated areas of the community.

The downtown city section has been particularly hard hit, and the flow of the riling Tonquish Creek, as it descends upon the area, has caught the brunt of blame.

The memo to fellow township committee members from Chairperson Lee Fidge stated:

"There was a great deal of discussion as to the agenda items presented by the City's committee. It was agreed there wouldn't be any necessity to formulate an agenda of our own. We would go to the meeting with an open mind and a desire to work together to address the problems at hand."

In addition to Fidge, the township committee includes Supervisor Thomas Notebaert, Engineer Mike Bailey, Building Inspector Jim Briggs, Engineering Consultant Dick Brender, and Water-Sewer superintendent Tom Hollis.

City Hall will be represented by City Manager Fred Yockey, Engineer Kenneth West, and Commissioners David Pugh and Beverly McAninch.

It is expected that among favorable items reported to the joint governmental committee will be approval last night of a township grant of at least $30,000 for storm water items. The committee will make still another pitch for strong governmental backing in a presentation to the June 13 meeting of the Township Planning Commission.

School tax deserves 'yes' vote

To maintain quality education in the Plymouth-Canton school district, vote "yes" on the 1.5 mill increase for operating expenses on the June 11 ballot.

This millage will be used to re-instate two programs cut after earlier millage defeats and to buy additional school supplies for students. First, a full-day of classes will be restored to elementary school students who were cut by 45 minutes one day each week. Second, seventh and ninth grade athletics will be re-instated. Third, school officials would have an additional $56,000 to buy instructional supplies for students.

Restoration of these programs will assure that Plymouth-Canton students get the best education the district can offer.

Furthermore, if passed, the millage rate will increase only four-tenths of a mill due to a drop in the district's debt retirement levy. That fund will continue to drop over the next few years, according to school officials.

Inflation has hurt everyone's paycheck; however, a 1.5-mill increase which only adds up to four-tenths of a mill is a fair exchange considering the programs which will be restored.

One side note to the millage request we should mention is the expiring teachers' contract. We are disappointed that the negotiations between the schools and the teachers aren't farther along. For many voters, it's hard to approve a millage increase when there's a chance it may be used to buy off the teachers before school starts in the fall.

community opinions

But the teachers' representatives know full well that it's to their advantage to delay the negotiations until school draws near, so the school administration can't be blamed for the late negotiations.

A millage defeat will mean a series of small cuts which will be made throughout the district. In the long run, they'll add up to fewer programs for students and less money to maintain the district's schools.

If you want to maintain high standards in the Plymouth-Canton school district, vote "yes."

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Yack, Koch are best of school board candidates

Several candidates emerged as informed and qualified contenders in the race for two seats on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education. The Community Crier endorses Tom Yack and Douglass Koch. Jim Sinclair and Earl D. Swartzwelter are good choices too.

Yack, the only incumbent in the race, deserves the nod because of his past performance as board president. In February when more than 300 parents objected to school boundary changes, Yack handled the pressure well. He was open-minded and willing to listen to disgruntled complaints, while keeping tight control over a difficult situation.

More importantly, Yack has risen from being a school board member from Canton to representing the interests of Plymouth-Canton residents.

While demonstrating strong leadership at steering the board meetings, Yack may be inflexible at times. Teachers' contracts settlements have been stalled twice in past years because of his inability to compromise.

Yack's familiarity with school issues and his commitment to the district are evident. He deserves your vote.

We need local rep for S'craft

With an all-Livonia cast on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees, it's good to see someone from the Plymouth-Canton school district is seeking a seat on the board.

Michael W. Burley of Canton, an administrator in the Northville schools, seems well qualified for the job. Although we have not interviewed all the candidates, we believe Plymouth-Canton needs a representative at the college.

He has run a solid campaign for the seat and deserves a "yes" vote.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Sinclair, Swartzwelter good too

TOM YACK

Advocating more long-range planning in the district, Koch was more familiar with the issues than others at Candidates Night Thursday. To house additional students, Koch proposed moving the sixth grade back to the elementary schools and pushing the ninth grade back to the middle schools.

Koch must prove he can represent the entire district; however, his experience in management and on various school committees could be an asset to the board. Koch has a good voting record after having cast ballots in six out of seven school elections since moving to the district.

Although his wife is a Plymouth-Canton teacher, her position shouldn't interfere with his performance as a board member.

Sinclair, probably the hardest campaigner in the race, is also a reasonable choice. As past president of the Plymouth-Canton Junior Athletic Association, he has shown a strong commitment to children.

Sinclair is hurt, though, by his poor voting record. He's voted in only two of the 18 school elections held since he moved here 14 years ago.

DOUGLASS KOCH

Swartzwelter has also been a visible candidate in the school board race. He has a good voting record and has attended board meetings since the race started.

Furthermore, he's made an effort to learn about school issues and that familiarity proved to be an asset at Candidates Night. To solve growth problems, he supported using both ESY and portable classrooms. He supports the 1.5 mill increase on June 11 partially because the increase will be offset by a decrease in the district's debt retirement fund. Both comments show he's done his homework and is worthy of consideration in the voting booth.

As Yack, Koch, Sinclair, and Swartzwelter emerged as knowledgeable contenders at candidates forum Thursday night, the other candidates were left by the wayside.

Given more exposure to school issues, John Kim, Sylvia Stetz, and Jeanette Wines could be formidable candidates in the future. However in this race, Kim, who was past president of the L'Anse Creuse school board, didn't know the problems facing this district now; Stetz's responses were vague and her strongest asset seemed to be her role as president of the Allen School Parent Teacher Organization; and, Wines, although lacking experience now, may be a stronger candidate in the future if she continues to attend board meetings as regularly as she has recently.

Kevin Campbell, Kenneth Vogras, and Allen Neil Smith lack a basic grasp of some of the issues facing the district now. Campbell hedged on many candidate-night questions; Smith proposed that every neighborhood have its own elementary school and possibly a middle school too; and, Vogras couldn't answer a question on improving the quality of education here considering the current rate of inflation. In earlier remarks, Vogras claimed his experience in city management would help the district solve its budgetary woes.

Gary Roberts, LeRoy Nelson, and Stephen Foley can't be considered serious contenders either. Roberts made no efforts to show any interest in the school district; Foley attended candidates night more than one and one-half hours late and he registered to vote in January, 1979 after living here for six years; and, Nelson failed to respond to the League of Women Voters' questionnaire on school issues and its invitation to attend Candidates Night.

Vote for Tom Yack and Douglass Koch.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Schoolcraft College needs both millages

Schoolcraft Community College needs your support at the polls Monday. On this, the annual school election date across Michigan, you will be given the opportunity to bolster SCC's higher education program by voting "yes" on its two millage proposals.

Each is for one-half mill. Each levy would be for one year only. Each, in that taxing period, would give the college about an additional million dollars.

No. 1 on your Schoolcraft special proposition ballot would give the college the final money to allow completion of the culinary arts expansion program, where the core is a $750,000 grant from the state for facilities -- but a core which SCC can't yet match in dollars available for physical structure or staff. Without matching funds, the program is an uncooked goose.

No. 2 is more easily appreciated. SCC buildings have been out there on Haggerty Road, serving thousands of post-high school students since the early '60's, and they need repair. Boilers need replacing. New roofing is an absolute necessity in some places. Maintenance has suffered, and structural problems have arisen that demand immediate correction.

This is where the money would go, if you approve No. 2 -- and we think you should.

AAUW supports local school millage increase

EDITOR:

Because we believe in providing the best possible education for the children of our community;

Because we believe that inflation, increased utility costs, and other increased costs related to growth make it necessary for the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools to have additional millage to maintain current levels of educational program;

Because there have been no increases in operating millage since September 1976;

We therefore urge a "yes" vote on the proposed additional 1.5 mills on June 11.

SHARON L. FLOWER

President, AAUW Plymouth Branch

For 32¢ per week, vote 'yes' on school tax

EDITOR:

As a housewife who must pay a higher grocery bill, higher Edison bill etc., I am not surprised that the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools must ask for more operating millage. In fact, I am surprised that the request is for only 1.5 mills.

I read an article in your paper explaining that because the schools have paid off some bonds, the actual increase on our tax bills, if the millage passes, would amount to less than half of one mill (four tenths).

Weighing less than half a mill increase against the possible loss of sixth grade camp, loss of forensics, a decrease of classroom supplies, continuation of the 45 minute shortened elementary school day, etc., I can only hope people will vote for this very slight increase.

An average house with a market value of $80,000 would pay an additional $16 a year, $1.33 a month, 32 cents a week over their present rate. May I suggest that as taxpayers and parents, we look at a raise of 32 cents a week (58¢ a week on a $150,000 home) and compare it to the cost of a can of pop! Surely it's worth the price of a can of pop to try to hang on to some quality in the PCCA.

For an additional 32 cents a week, couldn't we please vote "yes" on the millage June 11 and help our kids, our community and our future?

JANET CAMPBELL

P.S. I am not on the millage committee-- just a parent.

CCOFA backs Yack, Sinclair

EDITOR:

We are hereby endorsing Tom Yack and Jim Sinclair for the two school board seats.

We firmly believe that Tom Yack has been consistently fair and open minded. He always made himself available, on his own personal time, to meet with our organization to talk about different school district problems and work for the betterment of the community.

We would like to see him re-elected because of his experience as a learning specialist and administrator and his first hand knowledge at handling the problems this district faces.

We are endorsing Jim Sinclair because of his community contributions and personal commitment to the youth of the Plymouth-Canton district. His past record of community involvement show his sincerity, dedication and dependability. We believe Jim will be an asset to the school board and will work hard at improving the school system.

Culbert forgets part of Canton

EDITOR:

An Open Letter to Mr. Culbert:

I was delighted to see that you wish to ensure the absence of pornographic movie theaters in Canton Township. The exact quote in a local newspaper was: "They can leave all that stuff east of Lotz Road."

I will be even more delighted Mr. Culbert, if you would notify the Canton tax assessor that the area east of Lotz Road is not part of Canton. Also, if it's not too much trouble, tell me who to contact regarding a refund on the Canton property taxes I have been paying for three years.

I am waiting anxiously for your reply.

Hopefuls should hit issues

EDITOR:

I attended the League of Women Voters candidates night May 31.

As a new member to this community I felt it would be a good way to familiarize myself with the candidates and their views on the issues.

The program opened with each candidate given three minutes to discuss their views on an issue of their choice. Only two candidates, Jeanette Wines and Tom Yack, discussed an issue. The remaining candidates simply reviewed their biographical information and qualifications which have appeared numerous times in the papers. By doing this, most of the candidates have failed to present their position or views to the voters.

The short question-and-answer period did not allow the public to really know the views of the candidates who were relying on only their background to get elected.

In my opinion most of the candidates have done themselves and the voters a disservice by not addressing the issues. I, as a voter, will vote for people not hesitant to face and discuss issues.

'Dangerous situation' exists in Canton

EDITOR:

I hereby serve notice that a dangerous situation is being created by teenagers at Fellows Creek at the end of Willard Road.

Last year the teenagers tied a rope underneath a tree to swing from one side to the other side of the creek; trees were cut down and even a tree house was built. Natural beauty was destroyed and replaced by bottles, food containers, cigarettes and later drugs before the police dispersed the cursing gang. I did not call the police, somebody else did.

About a month ago certain teenagers threw about nine cement blocks into Fellows Creek. Over a week ago a rope was tied to a tree in back of my yard for swinging. Few days later two more ropes were strung. Then cement blocks were taken from my yard and swung across the creek. These blocks were first used for sitting on 2X8 plank taken from my property. Later they were used as a fire pit to shoo away mosquitoes.

The teenagers would sit on the stick at the end of rope and swing across the creek. They destroyed the Iris flower section along the bank of the creek and even broke off branches from the peach tree.

In the meantime nobody asked me permission to use the tree, or the cement blocks, or use of my property. It is strange that despite the high dollar we taxpayers are paying to educate sensible children, they don't even have the intelligence to admit that cursing, destruction, stealing and trespassing on private property are wrong.

However, these teenagers are sharp in conniving destructive ideas and making fantastic excuses. They even have the nerve to innocently ask for a drink of good ole well water as if the world owes them a living.

Meantime, they have left the creek polluted with debris of broken branches, cement blocks, etc. The trees have been cut unmercifully and bark removed. It is easy to see that "environmentalism" is surely a corrupted word.

I asked the boys to bring back the cement blocks across the creek, but so far there has been no action. Due to my age and health, I am unable to swing the blocks across the creek. I wonder if any of the teenagers (upper half) are manly enough to do it?

In fear that an accident may occur with three swings on one old tree, I am notifying our honorable supervisor, Board of Trustees, police chief and parents of Canton Township of this dangerous situation with hopes that appropriate steps be taken. I serve notice that I have warned the teenagers and henceforth am not responsible for injuries occurred, nor for fires that may set the entire forest in blaze.

It is obvious that these teenagers are interested only in what they desire free, but have no sense of responsibility or moral code. If this is the "year of the child," it sure is moving in reverse gear. Speaking of autos, speeding down a neighborhood street is not a civil right, but a dangerous safety hazard.

community opinions

Article was misleading

EDITOR:

I found your article, "Where are the Candidates?" very misleading. You reported in an adjoining article that it was a brief, 10-minute meeting.

Candidate Jeanette Wines met Mr. Kee (Assistant Superintendent) on the steps to the board room just after it was adjourned. Yet, you did not say she attempted to attend that meeting.

To attend board meetings after announcing your candidacy is only good politicking. More to the point is how many board meetings and workshops have they attended during their residency in this area.

Is their interest in a trustee position sparked by a recent single issue? Running our schools is a complex, many-faceted job. Our schools can not be run by single-issue people.

Jeanette Wines has attended a multitude of meetings over the six years of her residency. She has been there not just for major issues but to keep informed on the routine business involved with running a school district.

This is the background information I think your article should have been about. Where have the other candidates been during their residency?

Editor's Note:

C. L. SCHUMACHER

The "Where Are the Candidates?" photo was not taken at the same meeting which was referred to in the adjoining article. The meeting at which that photo was taken lasted at least two hours, perhaps longer. The date of that school board meeting and the photo was May 7.

After 43 years experience

Lucile Finkbeiner says kids are smarter than ever

LUCILE FINKBEINER

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Lucile E. Finkbeiner, an Allen Elementary School teacher who is retiring in June after 43 years experience, is ready to shatter many of the myths surrounding education today.

For example, she says today's kids are smarter than ever and they read more too. "During one three-week period, my fourth-graders read 1,199 hours both at home and school," she beamed.

On the other hand, she said some kids stay inside and watch television too much rather than playing outside.

Through movies, TV, and family vacations, kids are exposed to a broader range of experience than in the past, said Lucile. Scouts, team sports, after-school games, piano lessons -- there are so many activities for kids today, she said. Kids have a broader range of knowledge today, she added.

Although schools had "no frills" when she first began teaching in Roseville in 1943, Lucile said media centers, gyms, and art classes at school stimulate students to be more creative.

"Field trips are excellent, but I don't allow my students to use calculators in school," said Lucile in defining her boundaries. "Students don't need them. They've got to learn the basics first," she added firmly. A two-foot, felt board poster on long division propped on a cabinet in the front of the classroom verified her position.

Lucile is proud of her fourth-graders. With her hand placed on a student's shoulder while talking about a social studies project, she isn't afraid to touch her students.

She said: "Teachers may have more influence than we realize. Some of it may be negative, but hopefully it's positive."

What qualities does she stress in the classroom?

"The Golden Rule -- treat others as you would like to be treated -- is No. 1 here. Honesty and courtesy are high priorities, too, she added.

Blond-haired Lucile laughed when asked if students were becoming more and more unruly and harder to discipline over the years. "Frankly, when it comes to classroom discipline, I think I've mellowed over the years," she smiled. "A lot depends on how you treat the students," she added with her eyes twinkling.

Contrary to what some persons may think, Lucile said communication between parents and teachers has improved and grown stronger since she started teaching. "We try to understand the whole child now -- both at home and school." For example, she said parent-teacher conferences weren't established yet when she began teaching. Furthermore, she praised parents for being extremely co-operative here. "A good, stable home life is extremely important for children," she said, adding that parent-teacher ties are strong in this district.

What are the biggest problems facing the school district now? Larger class sizes are a problem and I have 32 students now, said Lucile. "As the group gets larger, I don't have as much time to give to individual students," she said.

What about growth and the 500-600 additional students who move to the district each year? Lucile shunned the question saying it was "an administrative problem."

Lucile's made no definite plans after she retires in June. "Between traveling, playing the piano and organ, and arranging flowers, I'm not at a loss for things to do," she smiled.

Young thespians ready to act up this summer

Young People's Theater (YPT) of Ann Arbor with the Plymouth Community Arts Council will expand its class offerings in Plymouth this summer. Two, four-week sessions, from June 25 to July 20 and July 23 to August 17, will be available at varying times to provide experience for both beginning and advanced students.

Production classes will be offered for the first time in Plymouth. These classes for Grades three to five and six to 10 will meet several times a week to prepare a show for presentation at the end of the class session. In addition to performance skills, young actors and actresses will learn skills in the technical arts of theater such as makeup and set construction.

These classes provide a show experience in a controlled educational environment. They are geared to young people with some performance or class experience. Grades three to five will meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 10 a.m. to noon in Session A and from 4 to 6 p.m. in Session B. Grades six to 10 will meet from 10 a.m. to noon in Session B only.

YPT will continue to offer Creative Acting classes for the beginning theater student. These are skill development classes essential for all young performers. Emphasis is on improvisation, voice and movement, and script work. Grades three to five will meet Mondays and Wednesdays from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in Session A only. Grades six to 10 will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in Session A only.

Young People's Theater boasts a staff of teachers, all with theater experience. Advanced students work as demonstrators and apprentices in the classes to provide additional help and a youthful perspective in the classes.

Partial and full scholarships are available upon request for all classes. YPT is funded in part by the Michigan Council for the Arts and Xerox Corporation. A subsidy for Plymouth classes is provided by the Plymouth Community Arts Council.

Classes will be held in a central Plymouth location to be announced. For additional information and for applications call the Plymouth Community Arts Council Monday-Thursday, 9 a.m. to noon at 455-5260; or call Young People's Theater in Ann Arbor at 995-3542 weekdays.

If the dentist's drill doesn't get you, the bill will

Who says the dentist is a nice guy? Everyone knows parents are the only ones selling that kind of propaganda. Kids are smarter than that. They know they can't get a sucker for being good at the dentist's office. The real praise goes to mom for dragging delinquent sons and daughters into the bathroom every night, armed with a toothbrush.

I got my dose of praise last week for being brave. While under the influence of nitrous oxide; I would have agreed to almost anything. I did agree to hard-core drilling on what was supposed to be a small cavity. I admit it only took a few minutes of actual drilling, but even two seconds on a nerve is enough to send you through the ceiling.

I love it when Mr. Nice guy says, "hold on, only a few more minutes." What does he think I've been doing to the arms of the chair, trying to permanently imbed my finger prints in them? I realize he thinks he is doing me a favor by not giving me a shot of novocain, and now that it's over, I guess he was right. At least I didn't have to spend the afternoon feeling like someone had punched me in the jaw.

I sometimes wonder just how a dentist gets his (or her) reputation. My dentist is a nice, good looking, intelligent person, but armed with a drill, he takes on a different image. It usually doesn't take children long to pick up the same views as their parents. After spending half a holiday week end and working until 10 p.m. one night, replacing broken front teeth with shiny new caps, my children view the dentist as a hero.

What ever your feelings are about going to the dentist, I'm sure we all agree on one thing -- if the drill doesn't get you, the bill will.

Plymouth-Canton's newest newspaper hit the street a couple of weeks ago. The Girl Scout-Gazette, put out by Troop 367 offers many interesting articles. Complete with pictures, jokes, and drawings, not to mention news, the paper displays some real talent.

I do, however, have one complaint -- while I do have the nose for it, my last name isn't Diller. Just wait, someday I'll get back at you. The Girl Scouts involved in writing the paper were: Audrey Buck, Becky Aquino, Melinda Paul, Shelly Curd, Jennifer Buck, Terri Drossart, Sue Morse, Lisa Nelson, Nan Hahn, Karen Cameron, and Terry Brzezicki.

William R. Grawe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grawe of Maplewood in Plymouth recently graduated from the United States Coast Guard Academy. He received a bachelor of science degree as well as his commission.

Delores Czach received the Charlotte Joy Farnsworth Award at the Camp Fire Annual Leaders Award Dinner. The award is given for outstanding and exceptional service to the area as an administrative or support consultant, or round table co-ordinator volunteer. The recipient must currently be registered and have had at least three years membership in Camp Fire.

City wants cost of deck over central parking lot

The Plymouth City Commission asked for a cost estimate of building a parking deck on the central parking lot Monday night.

A deck on the lot is the latest plan developed by the city's Parking Commission to ease the downtown parking shortage.

Harold Guenther, chairman of the parking commission, said, however, that the deck needs to be more than just a place to park cars.

He said he envisions some kind of enclosed structure that could turn the stores in the area into a kind of mall. "You could get all the stores involved with some original thinking and new ideas for the area," he said.

"If you want business people to get involved, than get ideas of how the deck will do more than just stack cars," said Jim McKeon, a downtown merchant.

The city administration was directed to complete a cost per parking space in a deck by the commission's next meeting, June 18.

With the cost estimate, the commission could see how large a structure the city could afford, and then proceed with possible plans for the deck, said Mayor Tom Turner.

Personnel head ponders job

BY CHAS CHILD

A Redford Township official who turned down an offer as Canton's Personnel Director may reconsider.

The renewed offer to Deno Syrios, assistant personnel director in Redford, may be the result of a joint meeting between the Board of Trustees and the Merit Commission last Wednesday.

Syrios declined the position in a letter to the trustees two weeks ago in which he said, "I was extremely disappointed in the manner in which I was treated upon our initial meeting."

Further, "It was evident from your comments and debate that your attitude toward the personnel function does not lend itself toward a sophisticated personnel management system," he wrote.

In the letter he detailed this system and the functions of a personnel director, which the board adopted at last Wednesday's meeting.

The only stumbling block on the director's duties was in the area of labor negotiations. Trustee Robert Greenstein said he should play an active role in representing management during contract negotiations, while Larry Bowerman, chairman of the merit commission disagreed.

"The idea is that he won't be labelled so management oriented that he won't be able to perform other functions," said Bowerman.

Greenstein replied: "The employees will listen to people if they have the power to enforce what they say. He should be the man in charge in labor negotiations. A man without authority will be a laughingstock."

Clerk John Flodin said, "It will all get down to whether this individual can be fair."

After the board adopted Syrios's concept of the job, Bowerman said he would contact him to see if he was still interested.

Canton to toast sweet corn

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Get started on your corn costume right away.

Corn costume?

The Canton Chamber of Commerce is expanding its annual chicken barbecue to add a Sweet Corn Festival for Aug. 12.

Among the many contests will be a costume contest for the best-dressed attendees -- wearing costumes representing corn in its natural state (kernels, tassels, stalks, ears, etc.).

The event will promote Canton's most famous agricultural product in another way too. There soon will be two-quart jars of corn kernels available for inspection at participating Canton merchants with shoppers having an opportunity to guess the number of kernels for various prizes. (The official corn kernel jar will be sealed in a bank vault.)

Other activities planned for the annual event, to be held again at Griffin Park, are: the start of the township's softball tournament, a senior citizens pinochle tournament, kids games, a machinery demonstration and a calliope.

A poster contest among nursery school children in Canton is already underway to pick the promotional poster for the event.

Clean out the pantries is the order of the day at four schools in the district. That's right, it's Cook's Choice Wednesday at Central Middle, Starkweather, Tanger and Canton-Salem. Remember kids, it may be Cook's Choice but you can choose whether or not to eat it. Actually Cook's Choice can be good or bad depending on what's left.

Field School whips up an oriental lunch on Thursday. Chop Suey, egg roll, mandarin oranges, mmm. . . one of my favorites. Purists will remind us that Chop Suey is about as oriental as a hot dog, but who cares? After all, pizza isn't Italian either.

Hulsing kiddies will want to wear outdoorsie type clothes on Wednesday because that's when the cooks present the Annual School Picnic. I hope the weather holds.

Voters face millage hike

tenths of a mill increase due to a decrease in the district's debt retirement fund, said Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business in the district. If the millage proposal fails, school taxes will go down about 1.1 mills, according to Hoedel.

Four candidates are vying for two seats on the Schoolcraft Community College Board of Trustees. They are: Nancie Blatt, Michael W. Burley, Gerald L. Cox, and Robert A. Ficano. Burley is the only candidate in the race from the Plymouth-Canton area. Board seats are for six years.

In a second proposal to elect a member to the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees for a two-year term, Richard J. Hayward and Thomas S. Moore are vying for the post.

There are two tax proposals on the ballot for Schoolcraft Community College. First, voters will be asked to approve a one-half mill increase for constructing and equipping a Culinary Arts Addition and making site improvements on the college campus.

In a second millage proposal, voters will be asked to approve a one-half mill increase for remodeling, equipping, and re-equipping existing buildings, making site improvements, and for major maintenance expenditures.

A one-mill tax increase for Schoolcraft College was defeated by voters earlier this spring.

By Tuesday morning, 176 voters cast absentee ballots at school district offices. The deadline for absentee voting is 2 p.m. Saturday, June 9. School district offices at 454 S. Harvey St. will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday for voters unable to go to the polls on Monday.

If you have questions about where to vote, call 453-0200, ext. 422, 403 or 401 for more information.

For election results on Monday night, June 11, call The Community Crier at 453-6900 or see next Wednesday's edition.

Stewart tapped

Former Det. Sgt. Larry Stewart of the Canton Police Department was promoted to lieutenant by the Board of Trustees last Wednesday night.

The selection was made on the recommendation of Police Chief Jerry Cox, who had earlier named Stewart acting lieutenant.

The job opened when Cox was promoted from lieutenant to chief after former Chief Walter MacGregor resigned in April.

have been proper and I would recommend that we proceed. The people have indicated that they want charter status -- no one filed any petitions. We should go ahead and ask Mr. Morgan to continue answering some of questions he's raised."

"Mr. Morgan can work out the problems afterwards," she said. "We've dilly-dallied long enough on this."

The township has sought charter status in an attempt to block annexation attempts from the City of Plymouth, which has annexation petitions on file with the state.

Under a state act passed last year, charter townships which also provide police and garbage protection and meet other requirements cannot be annexed.

The township is preparing plans to provide both police and garbage services.

YOUR NEXT HOME NOW!!!

If you knew interest rates would drop 2% in one year would it pay you to wait a year to buy a home? No!!!

Suppose you buy a $50,000 home and get a 30 year 9% mortgage, with 20% (or $10,000) down. Your monthly payment comes to $321.85 for principal and interest.

Assume that after one year, interest rates drop back down to 7% and you want to refinance. Even though your home will probably appreciate in value -- by say 15% to $57,500 -- you are refinancing based upon your original $40,000 mortgage. The appreciation on the home is gravy. Assuming a prepayment penalty of 41,788, your new principal balance would be $41,525. (some states have no prepayment penalties). At 7% your monthly payments would then be $276.27.

If, however, you elect to wait a year to buy the same home with a 7% mortgage, you first of all need a larger down payment -- $11,500 instead of $10,000. Your mortgage will now be $46,000 which at 7% boils down to $306.04 per month -- an annual increase of $357.24. The moral is -- it's the cost of the house, not the interest rate, that makes the biggest impact on monthly payments.

The seventh grade Skills for Living class at West Middle School in Plymouth has won a Proctor-Silex "Meal Maker" Toaster Oven, the runner-up prize in Co-ed Magazine's National "Fast-to-Fix Meals" Contest.

Under the supervision of Skills for Living teacher Betty Salagyi, the class planned three days of "Fast-to-Fix Meals" for a family of four. The students themselves described the family members, chose the menus and recipes, shopped for the food and prepared it.

Despite the complexity of the contest and the amount of time involved to prepare an entry, the contest drew hundreds of high school and middle school student entries from all over the country.

The members of the class who participated in this contest are: Barb McDonald, Kim Abner, Lori Engel, Florina Stoja, Lisa Reichard, Tammy Zimmerman, Traci Harrell, Bruce Ling, Ann Richardson, Wendy King, Connie Spicer, Alice McDonald, Barb Williams, Betsy Notestine, Barry Bell, Theresa Fields, Susan Hacker, Beverly Barnett, Sue Candler, Erich Hartnett, Tom Oldford, Steve Swanson, Rita Hoesseindoust, Pam Swain, Denise Simmons.

Dial-a-ride

Senior citizens and handicapped persons from the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township are eligible for taxi rides at subsidized rates under a new "Dial-A-Ride" program.

The fare will range from 50 cents to $1.10 and persons requesting a taxi must say the words "dial-a-ride" over the telephone to specify that service. Passengers should call at least one hour in advance for service.

To take advantage of the program, persons south of Five Mile Road should call 421-1100. Persons north of Five Mile Road should call 474-3333.

"Dial-A-Ride" is sponsored by SEMTA (Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority) in co-operation with the cities of Livonia, Northville and Plymouth, and Northville and Plymouth townships.

Register for kiddie storytime at library next week

The Dunning-Hough Library will be holding a summer story time beginning in June. The theme will be "In the good old summertime." Registration is open to children three and one-half to five years old who reside in Plymouth, Plymouth Township, and Canton.

Parents are asked to register their own children in person on Tuesday, June 12. Parents who had children enrolled in the spring session are asked to wait until Friday, June 15 when they may register their children by phone if there are any vacancies.

There will be one session at 10 a.m. on Tuesday mornings beginning June 19 (if the demand is great another session at 11 a.m. will be opened). The sessions will last 30-40 minutes and will be held once a week for six weeks. Story Time will include picture books, songs, fingerplays, and filmstrips. The storyteller will be Pam Rawlinson, children's librarian.

The summer hours for the Dunning-Hough Library are: Monday thru Thursday 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday closed.

Speak up on local problems

A Citizen Get-Together, a meeting for local people to talk about local problems, has been scheduled by State Representatives Roy Smith and Robert Law Thursday, June 7 at 7:30 p.m. at Farrand Elementary School, 41400 Greenbrier Lane in Plymouth.

The Get-Togethers are part of a community action plan that will give Plymouth residents a chance to offer ideas and suggestions and make their gripes known, the two lawmakers said.

Special guests will be Flossie Tonda, member of the Plymouth-Canton School Board, and Gerald Law, and Maurice Breen Plymouth Township Trustees.

"Everyday, decisions are made in Lansing that affect all of us, our families and our communities," Smith said. "Yet trying to have something to say about those decisions can often be frustrating especially if your only outlet is a letter or phone call."

"We'd like to encourage people to give state government a chance to be responsive," Smith said. "We hope as many people as possible attend this meeting."

Law and Smith said the Get-Together is similar to a town hall meeting. Future Get-Togethers will be scheduled in Westland, Canton, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth.

Coffee and cookies will be served.

Salem eliminates Canton in baseball District, 5-4

BY E. DALE LEE

If Salem High wins the Michigan Class A high school baseball championship in 1979, Rock manager Brian Gilles will no doubt say Saturday's 5-4 extra-inning District final triumph over cross-creek rival Canton turned the tide.

Chief manager Fred Crissey was worried before the playoffs began that his club would run into a hot pitcher. otherwise, he said, his club would take all the marbles.

Saturday's Salem victory proved Crissey's earlier suspicions true.

Hard-throwing lefthander Matt Etienne hurled the first four innings of Salem's District semifinal decision over Southfield High -- holding the Jays scoreless before reliever Dave Runge allowed a pair of runs in the 12-2 triumph, which was ended in the fifth inning on a mercy rule.

Etienne notched his fifth victory of the year against three losses by pitching three scoreless innings against the Chiefs in the final game -- striking out seven batters while allowing a hit and a walk.

Canton countered with ace righthander Scott Dawson, who blazed his way to 12 strikeouts in going the full eight innings. He allowed five walks and seven hits in absorbing the loss.

Canton reached the finals by tripping Milford Lakeland in the semis by 6-3 on the strength of Brian James' arm.

The final game was a classic -- the lead changed hands three times before the Rocks pocketed the win.

Canton led, 4-2, entering the top of the seventh before an unlikely hero knotted the score at four.

Etienne led off the frame by fanning. Mike Cimino was hit by a pitch on the third pitch by Dawson, but home plate umpire Tom Wallace, in an unusual call, wouldn't allow

Waters resigns Rock golf post

Bob Waters, who has coached the Salem High girls' golf team the past four seasons, announced his retirement last week.

The 32-year-old Eastern Michigan University graduate, who has been coaching in the Plymouth-Canton School District the past eight years, will retain his standing as Salem's boys' golf coach.

Waters coached five years of middle school swimming and three years of middle school tennis. He's been the boys' golf coach at Salem the past seven campaigns.

Canton wins Central Six League

The Salem High girls' golf team sailed to a third-place tie with Saline in the Central Six League meet May 30. Canton High took first and Pinckney placed second.

The final league standings were determined during an 18-hole meet at Burroughs Farms. Pinckney shot 415 strokes to win the meet followed by Canton with 427, Salem with 443, Saline with 448, Brighton with 453, and Willow Run with 578 strokes.

Freshman Carol Ross shot 101 strokes to finish third on the league team out of 36 linksters. Rounding out the Rock line-up were Beth Maggio with 107 strokes, Nancy Stevens with 116, and Meg McGee with 119 strokes.

Cimino to take his base. He said Cimino didn't make an effort to get out of the flight of the ball. Eventually Cimino walked, and Chuck Janovsky pinch ran for him.

Mike Woodard and Chris Hannan, both worked Dawson for bases on balls to load the bases for Paul Woodard. But the Salem rightfielder trickled an easy double-play topper back to the mound. Dawson flipped the ball belatedly home to force Cimino, but catcher Rusty Mandle couldn't double up any baserunners. With two down, Salem's fortunes rode with Paul Dillon.

The Rock secondbaseman worked a one ball, two-strike count before lining a ground single to center, scoring Janovsky with the Rocks' third run. Mike Woodard advanced to third before Gilles held him up. He scored when Mandle's throw to second clipped Hannan's body and bounded to center. Woodard crossed the plate with the game tying fourth run, where he was greeted by the entire Rock bench. Jim Anderson lined out to third to end the inning.

After Canton went down one-two-three in the bottom of the seventh, Salem tallied a run in the eighth to eventually spell doom for the powerful Chief contingent.

With runners on second and third, Cimino lashed a liner to right to score Sam Merrill, who advanced to third on an error and a wild pitch.

Etienne struck out Mandle swinging to open the bottom of the final innings. Al Lipinski walked before Frank McMurray fanned swinging. Don Dreher ended the contest by whiffing on a called third strike.

There were two key turning points that took the wind out of Canton's sails. Besides Dawson's slow throw for the force at home in the seventh, a foul up by a pinch runner and an alert appeal play by Salem rescinded a Chief score in the bottom of the fifth.

With Runge pitching in relief of starter Barry Owens, who lasted the first three innings and gave up three earned runs, Canton's Steve Gray led off by doubling up the alley in right-centerfield to the fence and moved to third on firstbaseman Dave Meador's sacrifice bunt.

Dawson singled to right to score Gray with the Chiefs' fourth run. Tim Racer was inserted by Crissey for Dawson as a pinch runner at first. Mandle struck out swinging before Lipinski clouted a double to the same area Gray had found, scoring Racer with Canton's fifth run.

But Salem appealed that Racer had missed third base on his way to scoring and umpire Wallace concurred and the run was nullified.

Salem scored first in the second inning when Merrill came across on a Dawson wild pitch with the bases jammed with one out and again in the fourth when Merrill drilled a 365-foot solo homer over the right-center fence for a 2-0 lead.

Canton chased Owens from the mound with two singles and two walks starting off the fourth, scoring its first two runs when Lipinski smashed a line shot to left with the bases loaded. Runge entered on the mound, stage right.

McMurray forced Lipinski at second for the first out and put runners on first and third. Dreher forced McMurray at second and Mandle scored to give the Chiefs a 3-2 edge.

Both managers had a lot to say after the contest.

"We lost our composure," Crissey said of his Chiefs, whose season ends with a 19-6 overall mark. "When you do that you don't deserve to win."

Without the appeal play, Gilles' Rocks would have been beaten. Was this appeal just a stab in the dark?

"No way," Gilles explained. "I look all the time to make sure these guys (his opponents) tag all the bases. It was close so I appealed the play and it worked in our favor."

"But I wasn't happy with the umpiring at all. Usually I don't complain about the umpiring but today I thought he (Wallace) made a lot of poor calls, especially that one with Cimino (where he was hit with a pitch but didn't get his base). That could have been crucial."

Salem stands 17-5 on the year overall and will advance to the next round of state competition in the regionals.

CHIEF DON DREHER draws a walk.

OUT AT FIRST BASE, Canton's Gay Kaseaca completes a successful sacrifice bunt in the top of the fifth inning.

Rocks move into softball regionals Saturday

BY PATTY RADZIK

Last Saturday in Brighton, behind the return of Jan Boyd to the mound, the Salem High girls' softball team blitzed Northville 10-0 in five innings in the semifinals of its district, and carried on to shutout Canton 4-0 in the deciding contest.

Boyd hurled a four-hitter against the Chiefs, allowing four walks and striking out six. Maryanne Pink suffered the loss for Canton, giving up five hits and walking four.

Salem scored all of its runs in the second inning when Sue McDowell reached base on an error. Becky Crespo singled and Doris Hoelscher walked, loading the bases, only to be cleared by a triple by Cheryl Sobkow. Sobkow went 2-for-2 on the day, and had three runs batted in.

Patty Weidman got to first on a fielder's choice, and Nan Horwood, who went 2-for-3, brought her in on a triple.

Salem, now 9-9 overall, moves into Regional play Saturday. The opponent and place has yet to be determined.

Chiefs cap softball season with 7-3 record

BY PATTY RADZIK

What can you say after finishing second in the Western Six League, riding all the way to the District finals, and losing? Canton High softball Coach Max Sommerville found the right words. "There's always next year."

The Chiefs, after completing the season with a 7-3 record, were shut out by Salem, 4-0, in the District finals last weekend.

"We got runners in scoring position," Sommerville said, "but we didn't get the hits when we needed them."

Maryanne Pink, who has filled in for the injured Lucy Howe, suffered the loss, tossing a five-hitter and walking one.

In gaining the finals' berth, Canton knocked off Walled Lake Central 6-4 in the Pre-District contest, and scored a 9-1 semifinal triumph over Milford.

However, in their last league game, the Chiefs went "flat," as Sommerville described it, and lost to Northville, 3-1.

Summer track set to begin in community

Looking for a way to keep fit and trim this summer? Gary Balconi and Mike Spitz, the boys' track coaches at Salem and Canton high schools, are organizing a series of Thursday night summer track meets at the Centennial Educational Park.

The open meets, which begin June 28, can be entered for a $1 fee. The coaches say that runners of any calibre may enter all of the races if they so desire and that some of the later summer meets could have medals and ribbons for winners.

Spitz awards 24 track letters

Canton High boys' track Coach Mike Spitz awarded 24 varsity letters to his Chiefs Monday night at the club's annual banquet, held at the high school's cafeteria.

Senior Rich Fleischer and junior Dan McGlenn were named co-Most Valuable Players for 1979 and sophomore Dan Inloes earned Most Improved Player designation. John Tarr was given the Coach's Award, given to the player that helped out Spitz the most.

Begg commands CTSC golf lead

Bill Begg turned in a 43 for the low round in Canton Township Senior Citizens Golf League. Picking up five points for his round, Bill took over first place all alone in the league. Gary Aleman shot a 49 and Louie Seromik carded a 55 for the next best round.

Salem surprises Sub-8 track field in 2nd place

Shocking the competition at the Suburban Eight League boys' league track meet last Wednesday were Salem High's Rocks, who pulled off a second-place finish behind Dearborn -- the highest showing in 10 years for the Plymouth high school.

But the State meet in Flint Saturday wasn't as triumphant for Rock Coach Gary Balconi. Jack Wellman finished seventh in the pole vault competition by clearing 13 feet, three inches. But sophomore Dave Skone and senior Dennis Ogden failed to place.

Skone was stopped at the 12 feet, nine inch barrier while Ogden, who's heading for Eastern Michigan University in the fall, knocked the bar off at all three of his attempts. Ogden had been the No. 1 ranked

Rock gals fifth in Suburban Eight

The Salem High girls' track team raced to a fifth place in the Suburban Eight League meet May 29. Trenton won with 138 points, followed by Dearborn with 128 points. Salem scored 47 points.

"The score improved by 26 points over last year's record, so I'm pleased," said Coach Scott Kurtz.

Carin Ford was the only Rock to place first. She won the shot-put event by tossing it 34 feet, 11 inches.

In the 220-yard low hurdles, Ann Meixner placed second in :31.5. Co-captain Erin Lucas also took fourth in the 110-yard low hurdles in :15.8 to set a new school record.

Diane Perpich tied for second place in the high jump with four feet, 10 inches.

Scoring the best time of the year, the one-mile relay team of Lucas, Meixner, Carol Hay, and Linda Lybarger ran the course in 4:19. They placed fourth.

pole vaulter in the State going into the competition.

Senior Rich Hanschu, who also wants EMU to be his collegiate experience, notched a seventh-place final in the long jump with

Chiefs end respectable track campaign with 1-5 mark

BY E. DALE LEE

A storybook year it wasn't. But a respectable year it was. "I'd have to say we made a lot of strides this year," said Canton High boys' track Coach Mike Spitz, whose Chiefs finished their season last Wednesday in last place at the Western Six League meet at Belleville.

Spitz cited his club's first-ever dual meet victory as the major stride, a 92-40 annihilation of Redford Thurston in the season finale. The win was the Chiefs' first in over 40 tries.

"For a lot of schools it (the win) wouldn't be a big deal," Spitz explained. "But for us, it was. That win has put us in the right direction."

Ending the dual meet portion of their schedule at 1-5, Spitz was surprised with his team's basement showing in the league meet, but he was very happy with junior Dan McGlenn's third-place :39.5 timing in the 330-yard low hurdles during Saturday's State championships in Flint. The time shattered the Canton school record for the fifth time this year.

Winning the league title was Livonia Churchill with 120 points, followed by Waterford Mott (112), Walled Lake Western (108), Northville (99), Farmington Harrison (42), and Canton (36).

Rich Fleischer copped the only first-place finish for the Chiefs, leading the way in the 220-yard dash field with a :23.2 final. McGlenn was second in the 330-yard low hurdles with a :40.6 timing.

Fleischer also scored a fourth in the 100-yard dash with a :10.8 finish. The 440-yard relay team of Daryl Goldsmith, John Tarr, Dave Desautel, and Alan Olszewski was also fourth with a :47.6 timing.

The 880-yard and mile relay teams garnered fifth-place finishes. McGlenn, Tarr, Fleischer, and Dave Talaga ran to a 3:38 final in the mile-relay while the 880 team of Tarr, McGlenn, Fleischer, and Goldsmith checked in at 1:40.1. The latter crew botched a baton transaction.

Talaga rounded out the Canton scoring with a fifth-place high jump of five feet, eight inches.

a leap of 21 feet, six inches during State competition. Sophomore Bob Pittaway threw the discus 138 feet, but failed to place.

The league meet at Belleville last week provided a lot of excitement for its viewers as the top four teams were separated by only 11 points.

Dearborn High won the meet with 87 points, followed by Salem (78), Belleville (76½), Dearborn Edsel Ford (76), Trenton (35½), Livonia Bentley (35), and Allen Park (19).

"I think we surprised a few people," Balconi explained. "We only beat Trenton by two points in a dual meet this season. Edsel Ford, Belleville, and Dearborn handled us pretty well, too. We're a big meet type of club."

Grabbing first-place finishes were Wellman in the pole vault (13 feet, six inches), Rob Neu in the high jump (six feet, one inch), and Hanschu in the long jump (22 feet) and the 120-yard high hurdles (:15.24).

Pittaway in the discus (143 feet, five inches) and Leigh Langkabel in the 440-yard dash (:51.3) brought home second-place finals for Salem. Balconi is very satisfied with Langkabel's development.

"I knew Leigh was going to contribute something this year," he said. "His basketball training helped his legs get a lot stronger. He's been a key this year."

Neu earned a third place in the long jump with a leap of 20 feet, one-and-one-half inches, as did the three relay teams.

Pittaway, Hanschu, Greg Stevens, and Greg Lipka raced to a 1:33.9 timing in the 880-yard relay team for a third. Hanschu, Lipka, Stevens, and Craig Stack had a :45.2 final in the 440-yard relay, and Neu, Langkabel, Ogden, and Kris Kappler dashed to a 3:34.2 timing in the mile-relay.

Fourths were garnered by Langkabel in the 220-yard dash (:23.8) and Stack in the 100-yard dash (:10.8). Skone (12 feet, three inches in the pole vault), Ogden (:52.9 in the 440-yard dash), and John Froozan (136 feet, six inches in the discus) earned fifth-place finals and scored two each.

Let's Talk
 Real Estate

Barbara M. Olson
 A large downpayment may have some advantages, depending on your personal financial situation. For one thing, the buyer may find it easier to obtain a loan. One may also be able to obtain a loan at a lesser rate of interest. Total interest expense, of course, will be lower and the equity in the home, greater. Statistics show that on a 25-year, 8 percent loan, every $1,000 of downpayment decreases the amount of total interest paid by about $1,310. If a large downpayment is possible, it may be a good way to buy. Check alternative uses of available capital, however.

Discuss your home financing problems with professional real estate personnel at the office of REALTY WORLD-COLONIAL VILLAGE INC., 42142 Ford Rd., Lawton, 455-7790 and many times we can show you how a home of your own can be affordable now.
