

Parade, dedication, race mark July 4th festivities

"Independence and the American Way of Life" is the theme for the Fourth of July parade in downtown Plymouth this year.

Festivities for the July 4th celebration include the dedication of Plymouth's Rock as an historical site at 12:30 p.m. and a five-mile run starting at 10 a.m. The parade and five-mile run are both sponsored by the Plymouth Jaycees.

Starting at 10 a.m. at Northville Downs, the five-mile run will wind through Plymouth. Three trophies will be given to the first male and female runners and the fastest senior citizen (50 years old or older) who completes the course. There is a $5 entry fee.

To enter the race, contact Chuck Stoll at 459-3779 or Randy Shoemaker at 455-2248.

The Fourth of July parade will kick-off at 1 p.m. at the intersection of Main and Theodore streets, in front of the railroad tracks in Plymouth.

Six bands have signed up to march the 1.4 mile parade route, said Mike Beauchamp, Jaycee parade chairperson. They include: the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps; Farmington Community Band; Plymouth Community Band; Amherstburg Marching Band; Tri-Club Lions Youth Band from Ontario, Canada, and Pioneer Middle School Band.

One of the parade highlights will feature an all-mutt precision drill team from the Michigan All-Breed Dog Association. Ten to 14 dogs will form a unit and "the drill team should be fun," said Beauchamp.

The parade route will start at Theodore and Main streets and wind through downtown Plymouth. The bands will turn left at Hart-sough Street and March to East Middle School, said Beauchamp.

Public officials who will march in the parade include: Thomas Notebaert, Plymouth Township supervisor; Dunbar Davis and James Garber, 35th District Court judges; William Lucas, Wayne County Sheriff; Bill Joyner, Wayne County commissioner; Robert Law, 36th District representative to the state house; Robert Ceake, 14th district representative to the state Senate; and, Carl Pursell, 2nd District representative to the U.S. House.

Along with the bands and public officials, Beauchamp said various organizations and businesses are sponsoring floats for the parade. They include: the Plymouth-Canton-Northville YMCA Indian Guides; Plymouth Business and Professional Woman's Club; Grandma's Chicken; and St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

Awards will be given to the sponsor of the best band, and parade trophies will be awarded in the following categories: best adult float; best youth float; best marching band; best marching unit; and best majorette unit.

Beauchamp added that band sponsors are still needed for the parade and recognition will be given to each parade sponsor on July 4. Three local businesses — John Smith Clothing Store; me and mr. Jones, and Jerry's Bicycles — have signed up to sponsor bands, said Beauchamp.

Groups wishing to march in the parade can still sign up by contacting him at 459-9064.

Before the parade, local officials will dedicate Plymouth Rock as an historical site in front of Plymouth City Hall. The ceremonies will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Expenses for the Fourth of July parade are estimated at about $2,000, said Beauchamp. On June 22, donations from various businesses and persons added up to about 30 per cent, he said.

If you would like to help defray expenses, send your contributions to: Plymouth Jaycees, P.O. Box 279, Plymouth, Michigan 48170.

The following businesses and persons have contributed to the parade: Mr. & Mrs. E.B. Shultz Jr., Plymouth Stamping, Minerva's and Dunning's, Dunbar Davis, Robinson Rental Co. David R. McCubbrey

Will teacher pact talks disrupt ESY?

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Plymouth-Canton school administrators want to settle contract negotiations for teachers by Aug. 27 -- the day when students on Tracks A, B, and C of schools on the extended school year (ESY) calendar begin classes, said Norm Kee, assistant superintendent for employee relations.

The ESY calendar makes the timing on a contract settlement crucial to the district because each track is scheduled for 180 days of classes and there are few extra days left over in which to schedule classes.

Scheduling double sessions or teaching during holiday periods such as Christmas are two of the alternatives being considered by administrators if a contract agreement isn't reached by Aug. 27 and teachers walk out, said Kee.

Canton home building tops all of southeastern Michigan

Canton Township was the fastest growing community in southeast Michigan in 1978.

Figures released last week from SEMCOG (Southeast Michigan Council of Governments) show that Canton led all municipalities in building permits for single-family and multiple family dwellings in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair, Livingston and Monroe counties.

Sterling Heights, first on the 1977 list, dropped to second in 1978. Canton was second in 1977.

Because there is still a "tremendous" number of vacant lots available in the township, Canton should stay in the top 10 for another two or three years, said the township's planning director, Jim Kosteva.

But, with an economic downturn soon, expected by many experts, the number of houses built in Canton may drop, he said. "I expect about 1,500 building permits this year," said Kosteva. "And if a slow-down continues, there may be increased pressure for multiple-family (apartments) construction in Canton."

The planner doesn't foresee increasing pressure to develop land on the western half of the township, which includes a lot of farmland.

"First, there is a lot of land available on the eastern half (east of Canton Center Road)," said Kosteva. "And developers would be pushing against political pressure."

The township is preparing a program to preserve farming in the western half of the township.

The 1978 top 10 in total residential units authorized looks like this:

"The calendar could be condensed to accommodate a few days, but we hope there isn't a teacher walkout," said Kee.

He said negotiating teams have been meeting "on a regular basis" since April. However, "we're not setting the world on fire with our speed," said Kee.

Asked if he felt increased pressure to settle contract negotiations before the end of August due to the ESY calendar, John Ryder, president of the Plymouth-Canton Education Association, said, "administration probably feel more pressure."

He added negotiating teams have exchanged their first proposals and they are discussing the proposals term-by-term to reach agreement.

Jim Burt, administrative intern at Isbister School, which follows an ESY calendar, described ESY as having "little flexibility."

Even with classes scheduled throughout the year (at ESY schools), meeting the state-required 180 days of classes forces administrators to still schedule one day during the year when all four tracks of students are in session, Burt said.

The current contract for the more than 800 teachers in the district expires on Aug. 31, said Kee.

Twp., county begin police talks

BY FRED DeLANO

Plymouth Township Supervisor Thomas Notebaert met Monday morning with a committee whose purpose is to negotiate a police protection plan with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Present were Notebaert, Township Clerk Esther Hulsing, Township Trustee Maurice Breen, an attorney, and Deputy Jim Akhtar, liason for Sheriff William Lucas.

Notebaert said there is no chairman.

He forecast that the committee will have a report and recommendation to present to the full Board of Trustees after several more meetings between now and the end of July.

Included will be a recommendation of what millage proposal should be submitted to the township electorate in the special vote set for Sept. 11 when the only issue on the ballot (at least at this point) will be police for the township, and related costs.

Notebaert said that of several sheriff's proposals the one being given most serious consideration calls for assignment of nine officers to the township, with two patrol cars at their beck and call.

Estimated cost is around $230,000 per year, but the nuts and bolts of the full program have yet to be worked out.

When the trustees voted last week to switch to charter status, an interim plan of police protection was approved to meet the minimal requirements of the state.

This gives the township the services of one sheriff's deputy and a patrol car for one eight-hour day per week, although technicalities dictate that the township pay the officer overtime for the entire shift.

Township officials were pleased to hear that the deputy who drew the assignment was Andy Pruner, a resident of the Bradbury complex off Joy Road.

Notebaert said Pruner's basic responsibilities, usually on Saturdays, will be to cruise subdivisions and the township's recreation park on Ann Arbor Trail.

The last time Notebaert was instructed by the board to appoint a study committee came several weeks ago when the need was for a group that would produce ideas for a long-range capital improvement program.

However, the supervisor's recommendations for appointments were not met favorably by the board and only Notebaert's suggestion for chairman, Trustee Breen, survived the ax.

Breen went ahead and appointed those suggested by Notebaert, as well as enlarging the committee's scope, and its meetings are now in progress.

Forest Trails developer given association order

The developer of Forest Trails subdivision in Canton has been given a deadline of July 10 to form a homeowners association for the sub and to seed and grade its two parks.

Bruce Phillips, director of the township's ordinance department, set the deadline in a letter to Mark Weideman, vice president of Barnes Mortgage Investment Trust, the sub's developer.

"I learned about six months ago that a number of provisions of Forest Trail's PUD (planned unit development) had not been met," said Phillips. "I've had conversations with Weideman, and they've done some of the work. But I thought it was time to set a deadline."

A PUD is a contract between the developer and the township which governs land use of developed property. Among the requirements of the Forest Trails PUD which Phillips said were unfinished were a sidewalk from the sub to nearby Gallimore School, other sidewalks in the Forest Trails, establishment of the homeowners association, and grading and seeding of the two parks.

The sidewalk work is finished, Phillips said, but not the other items. "It's not an impossible deadline," he said. "They've already hired a management company to help establish the association."

The two subdivision parks that need seeding and grading are located behind Gallimore and south of the apartment complex under construction on Joy Road between Canton Center and Sheldon roads.

Residents of Forest Trails recently complained to the Board of Trustees that they were hampered from fighting a subsidized-income apartment complex, under construction on Joy, because they had no official homeowners association.

Car battered

About eight young men attacked a car with a baseball bat leaving a parking lot in downtown Plymouth Saturday night, police said.

Gary Piatek, 6255 Grandville in Detroit, said he was leaving a lot on Forest Street when the eight men, aged from 18 to 24, rushed toward him as one said "Let's get him," police report.

The group then incurred about $150 worth of damage to his 1974 Ford two-door caused in part by a baseball bat, Piatek told police.

The victim said one attacker was driving a black Chevy compact, police report. The incident happened around 12:30 p.m., said police.

Let's Talk Real Estate

The price of a used home should relate to its condition. If the house is not in good condition but is priced accordingly, it may still be a good buy. Before deciding to buy, however, it is a good idea to find out the cost of repairs and improvements necessary to put the house and equipment in acceptable condition. Some people also ask a qualified engineer or home builder to make an inspection. A fee is normally charged for this service, but it may save heavy expense later. The names of people who make these inspections may be obtained from a financial institution's mortgage department, or from a reliable real estate individual.

When it comes to real estate, advice from a good friend is important. The friend you have in this area is REALTY WORLD-COLONIAL VILLAGE INC., 42142 Ford Rd., Canton, 455-7790. CEP drinking on the rise Drugs like pot, hashish, and barbituates are not major problems at the Centennial Educational Park, according to Superintendent Mike Hoben.

At a joint meeting of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education and the Canton Township Board of Trustees last Wednesday night, Hoben discouraged Canton Township from joining Detroit area townships in an out-county drug-abuse program called Downriver Community Conference.

"Drugs are on the decline, but drinking alcohol seems to be up," said Hoben.

The biggest problem at the Park is strangers -- young people who don't attend classes there, but come into the schools as though they are students, said Hoben.

Canton Township Supervisor Noel Culbert said he was "surprised but gratified" by Hoben's remarks. "If school officials had felt there was a need, Canton would have joined the drug abuse program," he continued.

Canton's attorney fees tops in Wayne County

Canton paid more for attorneys' services in 1978 than any other township in Wayne County, according to a recent survey.

Only three other communities in Wayne topped Canton: Detroit ($3,700,000); Dearborn, $287,282; and Livonia, $183,700. Canton paid its lawyers $90,740.

Westland, by comparison, paid $71,000 for legal services, Plymouth Township paid $31,230, and the City of Plymouth, $22,032.

The main reason for Canton's high legal bills is the number of lawsuits in which the township's been a party, said Finance Director Mike Gorman.

Included in these were a suit filed by the Canton Police Officers Association over hiring priorities, former Police Commander Carl Silver's suit over his position in the department, and a suit, originally filed by the Windsor Park Homeowners Association against a builder, which was paid for by the township.

How are 1979's legal fees shaping up? They will probably end up way over budget, Gorman said. Through May of this year, the township had paid its lawyers $32,498.65. The Board of Trustees had budgeted $40,000 for all of 1979 for legal services, he said.

City Fire Chief Schoenneman plans to retire

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

After 32 years of fighting fires in the City of Plymouth, Fire Chief George Schoenneman is retiring.

Schoenneman, who was hired as the city's first full-time fireman, has watched and guided the department from its early catch-as-catch-can days to the modern levels of staffing and technology.

"I've seen this town grow a hell of a lot," the chief reflected after announcing his Aug. 31 retirement date. "When I first started here we even covered the township and we used to cover Canton rescue runs too."

Serving the department since September, 1947, as assistant chief from 1951, and as chief since 1965, Schoenneman has toyed with the retirement idea for some time. He and his wife, Winnie, are selling their Harvey Street home to move to L'Anse in the Upper Peninsula where they completed construction of a new home last year.

"It's been a good career," the chief said. "There's a certain amount of excitement about the job because you don't know what you're going to do until you get to the scene."

Schoenneman has seen a number of milestones in the Plymouth Fire Department. From a one-man-per-shift staffing when he first began as chief, he's guided the department to its current three-man crew level. Rescue service was added to the department in 1969 -- about the same time firefighters unionized.

Of course, a fire chief marks his tenure by the blazes he battled and the amusing "woman wedged into a bathtub" type incidents. Although Schoenneman fought the General Motors Plant fire in Livonia over 25 years ago and served during the Detroit riots, the all time barn-burners in the city itself highlight his career.

The 1974 Packaging Corp. of America plant fire was the largest single fire in the state that year. Under Schoenneman's leadership, firefighters from many area departments braved bitter cold and raging winds in a battle to keep the corrugated cardboard assembly plant fire from spreading elsewhere. It was impossible to save the Packaging Corp. plant and large pieces of burning cardboard rose in the smoke and endangered the nearby industrial and residential areas of the city's north end.

The P&A Theater fire on Penniman Avenue, again typical of the bitter cold-weather fires Plymouth has been known for, was another major blaze which threatened the entire downtown. A welder's torch was apparently the cause of that 1967 fire, which destroyed one of the city's architectural landmarks.

Schoenneman has received several honors during his 32 years with the Plymouth Fire Dept., including the "Outstanding Plymouth Community Firefighter" award in 1977.

City Manager Fred L. Yockey praised Schoenneman's service record to the city and lamented his decision to retire. "We have talked about it many times," Yockey said,

"and I sincerely do not wish for (him) to leave at this time, but he and Winnie want to live in (their) place up north and I can only wish (them) the best from us."

"I think he's been a good chief. I'm going to miss him," the city manager said.

While no replacement for Schoenneman has been tapped, notice of the vacancy is being sent to the city department's three fire lieutenants -- Paul Sanders, Charlie Groth and Bob Deegan.

GEORGE SCHOENNEMAN, fire chief in the City of Plymouth, is retiring after 32 years with the department. The city's first full-time firefighter, Schoenneman is moving to the Upper Peninsula. Football booted in favor of soccer in 7th grade

Soccer will replace football as the seventh-grade sport next fall, according to school officials.

"We promised to restore seventh and ninth grade athletic programs if the 1.5-mill increase passed on June 11," said Superintendent Mike Hoben at a Board of Education meeting Monday night.

Soccer is a growing sport involving more students, said Hoben. "Fewer students are injured in soccer and soccer equipment isn't as costly (as football)," said Hoben. School administrators approved the idea of replacing football with soccer at an earlier meeting, said Hoben.

Soccer will be offered for boys while seventh-grade girls can play volleyball.

Asked if soccer could be offered for both girls and boys, Gerald Elston, principal at Pioneer Middle School, said: "We don't have the playing fields for both sports at the same time."

Speak out on Canton issues at July 18 forum

Canton Supervisor Noel Culbert has asked all community leaders and the public to attend a meeting to discuss vital issues facing the township.

"The township is approaching a point where several important decisions will have to be reached," Culbert said. These include, he said:

- *How can we implement a street paving program?
- *How can we provide better police service?

- *Should the police/fire millages be raised?
- *Where should new parks be located?
- *Where can industry be located without adversely affecting homeowners?

"Our implementation of the above programs will vitally affect many homeowners and I feel it only proper they be involved in the decision-making process," said the supervisor.

The meeting will start at 7 p.m. on July 18 at Township Hall, 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

Twp.'s sewer construction bids stalled in court

Ministrelli Construction Co. of Novi was scheduled to appear in Wayne County Circuit Court today (Wednesday) to press demands for return of an $85,000 bid bond which had been posted in relation to a six-mile Plymouth Township sanitary sewer construction project.

Ministrelli was the lowest of eight bidders on the job at approximately $1.7 million, but later claimed its calculations were in error.

The project would open the west side of the township to development by extending sewer service west to Ridge Road.

Ministrelli's request to withdraw was refused by the county Board of Public Works, but even so the company declined to accept the assignment.

It has resulted in a stalemate, with the Lanzo Construction Co., which was the next lowest bidder at $2.2 million, waiting in the wings.

Supervisor Thomas Notebaert said this week he expects Lonzo to be awarded the contract, but county sources said this won't be done before the Ministrelli arguments to recover its $85,000 are heard in court, and then ruled upon.

By comparison, Canton had 1,625 authorized units in 1977, and 1,051 in 1976. The township's total included 1,577 detached single-family units, 16 two-family units, and 220 multi-family units.

The City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township also grew in 1978, but only modestly compared to Canton. Plymouth Township authorized 311 total units, all detached single-family. The city, meanwhile had a total of 88 units — 12 detached single-family, six two-family, and 70 multi-family units.

In the seven counties, the number of residential building permits issued during 1978 rose two per cent over 1977, to 27,849 from 27,252.

Schools hire outside firm to manage lunches

To make serving school lunches a profitable business, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education passed a resolution to hire the ARA Food Management Company Monday night.

School officials assured cafeteria workers that this move would not mean employees would be laid off or cafeteria staffs would change. "Employees fear being laid off, but that's not true," said Dan White, executive director of finance in the school district.

He added that the food management team

Talented kids offered classes

Talented and gifted students (TAG) from the Plymouth-Canton school district can sign up for classes specially designed for them at Schoolcraft Community College this summer.

Classes start July 2 and are open to TAG students from second to eighth grades. Four classes are available: music composition, which will concentrate on melodic construction, harmony, and musical form; computer programming, which will teach students how to use a terminal; imaginative writing in poetry and short stories; and, conversational French to introduce cultural differences and basic French vocabulary.

Applications for TAG summer classes are available from Rick Olenchak, TAG co-ordinator for the Plymouth-Canton schools, or from Robert Burnside, Director of Admissions, Schoolcraft College.

For more information, call 455-0470.

will aim to make the district's food service program more efficient. The number of cafeteria workers may decrease as some of them retire, but workers won't be laid off, White said.

According to White, the ARA Food management team will:

- *supply four persons to work in various schools purchasing food and co-ordinating menus between schools.

- *eliminate the need for a central warehouse for food storage.

- *increase the price of the standard, Type A lunch by five cents.

- *guarantee the school district a profit of $1,281 in the lunch program for the 1979-80 school year.

Ed Dennison, ARA sales director, said the food management team will take preference surveys at the beginning of the school year to see what foods Plymouth-Canton students prefer.

There will be some changes in the schools' menus, said White. They'll be more standardized because the same foodstuffs will be used throughout the district on the same day, he said.

According to a financial summary of the district's food service costs, ARA labor will cost $78,068. These costs will be offset by a more efficient food program, said White.

ARA Food Management Co. currently manages food services in 15 school districts in Michigan including Wayne State University, Marygrove College, and the Jackson Public Schools.

The resolution passed by a vote of 6-0 with board member Steve Harper absent.

Canton may yank liquor license of restaurant

BY CHAS CHILD

A motion to grant the Canton House Restaurant in Canton a liquor license may be rescinded by the Board of Trustees.

The board is tentatively scheduled to consider the move at its July 5 meeting.

The owners of the restaurant, located at 42400 Ford Rd., are fighting the rescission, saying it is not fair for the board to grant a license and then change its mind.

Deputy Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz, who is pushing the rescission, listed a number of reasons not to grant the restaurant a liquor license. First, she said licenses are granted to establishments that will improve the tax base of the community. "The restaurant doesn't do enough business to increase the tax base," she said. "It will turn into just a bar, not a full-fledged restaurant that will serve drinks."

"Also, the license will increase traffic congestion at the (Ford-Lilley) intersection and the neighbors are opposed to it," she said.

"The board gave a license to The Palace and the House of Woo, but they're not trying to rescind theirs," said Lucie Daniel Haddad, who owns the Canton House with her husband, Philip. "We've invested a lot of money in our plans and now we are spending a lot on lawyer fees (to defend the license.) It's not fair."

The restaurant's request for a license was approved by the board before the election in November, 1978. And in the spring the new board considered cancelling the approval, but was stayed by an injunction from the Wayne County Circuit Court.

About three weeks ago, the court lifted the injunction and said, according to Supervisor Noel Culbert, that the board could change its mind, but it must have a good reason. "We need to bring forward facts that the board didn't have when Stein approved it," said Culbert.

Both Falkiewicz and Culbert said that the township was investigating complaints against the restaurant. "We're looking into some things, but I can't reveal them yet," the supervisor said.

To get a liquor license, a restaurant must also be approved by the state Liquor Control Commission (LCC). The LCC was scheduled to decide the Canton House's request earlier this year when the township indicated it might change its mind.

The board of trustees was originally due to vote on the rescission at last night's meeting, but it was tentatively delayed until July 5.

Don't lie, builders

An ordinance requiring Canton Township builders to identify which school children moving into a new subdivision will attend may be passed by the Canton Township Board of Trustees in the near future.

Some builders have lied to new residents — telling them their children would attend the schools closest to their homes, school board trustee Elaine Kirchgatter told school board members and Canton Township trustees at a joint meeting last Wednesday night.

"We've received a lot of complaints from persons who were told incorrect information," said Kirchgatter.

John Flodin, Canton Township clerk, said the board would probably pass an ordinance preventing such practices if the school district would provide up-to-date information about school boundaries.

Gym shortage limits Canton recreation programs

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

The Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department needs more access to school gyms in which to sponsor its activities, according to Mike Gouin, Canton recreation director.

"All the school gyms are already scheduled (by other groups), and the rec department has minimal use," Gouin told Canton trustees and the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education members at a joint meeting last Wednesday night.

For example, Gouin said his department couldn't offer men's basketball or women's volleyball leagues because there were no gyms at which to play. Gyms are scheduled for Plymouth-Canton Community Education classes or the YMCA or the Plymouth-Canton Junior Athletic Association, said Gouin.

"Scheduling gyms is one of our biggest problems," said Larry Masteller, director of the community education program. Neighborhood groups such as the parent-teacher organizations have first priority for school gyms and classrooms, said Masteller.

The gym crunch has affected classes offered under the community education program, too, said Masteller. It's hard to find a gym big enough for the women who sign up for the slim and trim volleyball class, he added.

School board president Tom Yack asked if Canton Township would financially support constructing a multi-purpose recreation building when the school district asks voters to approve a bond proposal in the near future.

"It would be worth consideration," said Canton supervisor Noel Culbert.

To avoid duplicating programs and to co-ordinate recreation activities, Mike Hoben, school superintendent, suggested forming a recreation committee which would include the schools' community education program, YMCA, Plymouth-Canton Junior Athletic Association, and, recreation departments from the City of Plymouth and Canton Township.

Plymouth Township does not have its own recreation department.

In a related issue, Hoben said the school district was "caught in the middle of the YMCA situation." Plymouth is part of the Plymouth-Canton-Northville YMCA, but Canton is considered part of the metropolitan Detroit area YMCA, said Hoben.

A joint committee to co-ordinate recreation programs could put together one whale of a program for the taxpayers' dollars, said Yack. He added that the schools should support the programs that are funded by tax dollars.

Canton cops want cadets

BY CHAS CHILD

Canton Police Chief Jerry Cox has proposed a cadet program for his department to boost manpower and provide a pool from which to choose future officers.

Similar to the City of Livonia's cadet program, the plan calls for starting with six cadets in 1980. Starting out with in-station

Rotarians chosen

Officers for the Rotary Club of Plymouth will be sworn in on Thursday, June 28 at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth. The meeting starts at 6:30 p.m.

The following members will take office: Norman T. Druce, president; Richard Kirchgatter, vice-president; Robert Sparling, treasurer; Louis LaRiche, club secretary; Charles Gordon Shaw, financial secretary; and, Harry O. Draper, executive secretary.

Elected to serve on the Board of Directors was: Gerard J. Loiselle, Lee Feldkamp, William Taylor, Clarence DuCharme, Earl Merriam, and Carl Lampton, immediate past president.

work such as dispatching, the cadets will work their way up to traffic control, domestic violence and other tasks, said Cox.

"Their jobs will help free our regular officers to perform more important duties where a fully-experienced person is needed," the chief said.

While working for the department, the cadets will attend law-enforcement classes. Madonna College is currently working with Cox to prepare a curriculum for the cadets.

"When openings come in our regular force, we will be able to choose the best cadets," said Cox. "Hopefully, we'll be able to choose all our officers from the program."

The minimum age for cadet candidates will be 18, with no maximum age, said Cox. And the township's Merit Commission, which is reviewing the program, has yet to decide whether only Canton residents will be eligible, he added.

The proposal will be before the Board of Trustees in about two weeks, said the chief, adding that he will request the board to start the program with two or three cadets during 1979.

Candidate says critic shouldn't sit on sidelines

EDITOR:

In response to W. D. McAninch's letter to the Editor—I take great exception to Mr. McAninch's assumption that qualified candidates are not running for the City Commission.

If Mr. McAninch is so concerned about qualified candidates and/or patsies on the Planning Commission then how come his name is never among those who serve our community or run for an elected position?

It's obvious his talk and attitude is not where his action is. You don't get the job

Thanks, Crier, for coverage

EDITOR:

On behalf of the League of Women Voters, I thank you for the outstanding job you did in publicizing and covering the League-sponsored candidates forum for the Plymouth-Canton school board.

We feel these forums are an ideal way of informing voters on candidates' views. Without your cooperation, this information would not reach the number of voters it does presently.

done by not being involved and only expressing yourself when a subject becomes your personal issue.

You also don't get the job done or help your community when you only express yourself on a "hit and run" approach, and then walk away from the issues.

It's those who do come forward to serve their community in any capacity who are the qualified ones -- not those who are occasionally heard from but are not seen on the city and community committees and/or elected positions.

To be qualified means you are willing to work and be concerned for the total community, not just for a select few -- that your help not hinder -- that you are constructive in your actions, not destructive.

Why not Plymouth-Canton as the site for a state, or even national, high school band contest?

Every now and then, when band buffs like Keith Burton, Bill Upton and myself gather, we speculate about such a possibility. Obstacles are many, it is true, and the organizational effort would be immense, but this is one corner where there is the feeling that it deserves serious study.

Many years ago, you know, there used to be such competition.

Now, in Michigan at least, school musical groups end their academic year with district and state festivals where they are judged only on their own performance rather than head-to-head.

The goal is to get what the kids call "Straight 1's" which means being given the highest possible rating by every adjudicator both in quality of musicianship in rehearsed numbers and in sight-reading a piece of music they never have before seen.

For years, Plymouth-Canton groups, including bands and orchestras from the middle school level on up, have consistently been rated in the top bracket. I wish they would carry it a step further, particularly for the bands, by letting 'em match sharps and flats for an actual championship.

I'm prejudiced enough to believe that the Plymouth-Canton school district would spawn as many state champions in music as it has on the athletic field, where there have been several. Maybe there would even be more.

We have an auditorium here, in Salem High School, where learned musical critics say the acoustics are second to none. We have a stadium next door, behind Canton High School, where a throng of 6,000 and upwards could be accommodated if the participating bands were to join in a mass outdoor concert under the baton of someone the equivalent of a John Philip Sousa.

Wishful thinking tells me that Leonard Bernstein in that role would be a factor that would help in the sale of the television rights.

This dream comes to mind at the moment partly because tomorrow night our Community Band will be starting its annual series of Thursday night concerts in Kellogg Park. By coincidence, a few days ago I was with Ernie Jones, who has appeared in the park as guest conductor several times.

He remembers the scene as one of the treasured bits of Americana and asked that his best regards be conveyed to such as the Burtons, Uptons, Don Kortez, Don McLeods, Clayton Leroues et al who have given freely of their time on the bandstand for many years just for the fun of it and for the entertainment of the local public.

Jones is one of the world's leading advertising executives, but music is his avocation. He has been a guest conductor in Carnegie Hall, Ford Auditorium, the London Music Hall and, oh, yes, University of Michigan Stadium, just to give you a sampling of his credentials.

When conversation led to the concept of a state or national band contest, Ernie turned the clock back to 1930 when he played in the high school band at Jamestown, N.Y., and came to Flint for the national finals in exactly that kind of competition.

When he went back to his office, he even dug through his files long enough to find his lone copy of the souvenir program published for the three-day gathering in Flint of more than 30 bands from across the nation.

He saw that I got it, and right there in the center spread where pictures of the judges were printed are likenesses of two of the greatest bandmasters the world ever knew. Sousa and Edwin Franko Goldman. Of course, they are personally autographed.

Ernie's 44-page program tells a reader that such contests originated in 1924 under sponsorship of the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music. The sharp Jones memory recalls that the 1930 national championship trophy went to the band from Hobart, Ind., where the director was William D. Revelli.

Yup, that's the same Bill Revelli who later conducted with distinction for many years at the University of Michigan and who, too, has been a Community Band guest conductor in Kellogg Park.

Quite likely for promotional reasons, more than the expected quota of Michigan bands were invited to perform at Flint. Included were units from Lansing, Kalamazoo, Ludington, Iron River, Oxford, Benzonia and Flint itself.

Maybe you were a member of one of those bands yourself.

If so, you must remember it as one of the experiences of a lifetime, just as Ernie Jones does. In case you really were there, but have lost your copy of the program, the ad on the inside cover touted that Chevrolet's top of the line vehicle of 1930 could be purchased for $725.

Think what antique car collectors would pay you for it today, had you taken one home from a Flint showroom!

Let's talk about the whole thing when we meet in Kellogg Park tomorrow night.

Child's play

by Chas Child

On the seven-member Canton Board of Trustees, power, obviously, is control of four votes. Which is what the Greenstein group may have after the July 5 meeting.

At that meeting, the board is tentatively scheduled to fill the vacancy left by the recent resignation of Trustee Lynne Goldsmith.

Can Trustee Robert Greenstein and his two cohorts, Treasurer James Donahue and Trustee Carol Bodenmiller, add a fourth to their ranks?

It all depends on whether the remaining three board members -- Supervisor Noel Culbert, Clerk John Flodin, and Trustee Gene Daley -- can hang tough. It will take four votes to choose someone, so one of them will have to join the Greenstein folks.

My guess is that they'd be slightly unbalanced to give Greenstein four votes. The three would lose most of their influence if they're reduced to a minority.

An irony in the whole affair is that the Greenstein folks are attempting to build a controlling slate on the board. Yet in last August's primary, the Greenstein forces campaigned heavily against former Supervisor Harold Stein's efforts to build a slate. But then politicians aren't known for their long memories.

32 parents lost their votes in band trip ballot

THE COMMUNITY CRIER, June 27, 1979

The democratic concept of voting has taken an interesting twist for parents of students in the Centennial Educational Park Symphony Band.

By an almost unanimous vote two weeks ago, parents approved a three-day trip to California for their sons and daughters to perform at the Western International Band Clinic in January, 1980, according to James Griffith, band director.

According to school board policy, the cost of the trip is the parent's responsibility and at least 90 per cent of the parents whose children are involved must agree to the proposed trip.

So on June 12 when band parents gathered to cast their votes on the trip, the results looked like this:

community opinions
IN FAVOR OF THE TRIP	TOTAL
43 parents at the meeting voted "yes"	45
2 parents sent in absentee ballots	45
AGAINST THE TRIP	3
3 parents at the meeting voted "no"	3
"NO SHOW" PARENTS	32
32 parents didn't cast ballots	32
Transfer the 32 "no show" votes into the "yes" column and you'll see a total of 87 parents or 96 per cent of the parents approved of the band trip to California. That's the figure which was presented to the Board of Education at its meeting on Monday night.

Don't be confused. Parents were told if they didn't come to the meeting or send in their ballot that their votes would be tallied with the "yes" votes.

However, this tactic gives cause for some playful speculation. For example, in the June 11 millage election, only 6,080 of the approximately 38,000 registered voters in the district cast ballots. Of those votes, 3,302 were "yes" votes in favor of the 1.5 mill increase and 2,628 voters were against the millage increase.

That means indifference was the biggest vote-getter with about 31,920 voters not casting ballots. They represent about 84 per cent of the registered voters in the district.

Transfer those "no show" votes into the "yes" column and the millage increase would have passed by an overwhelming 35,292 votes compared to a meager 2,628 "no" votes. Is that democracy in action?

Band leaders are wise to insist on parent participation in the California question particularly when the students' money will, most likely, come from mom and dad's pockets.

However tampering with the ballot box is a dangerous business. Changing the votes of those parents who didn't bother to cast them into "yes" votes is a shoddy tactic.

The CEP band students will grow up and become voters themselves. What will they think?

Community Crier annual financial statement

Once again, although not required to reveal such information, The Plymouth-Canton Community Crier, Inc. is publishing its financial statement for the past year.

We do so in the firm belief that your support as readers and advertisers is vital to the success of The Newspaper with Its Heart in The Plymouth-Canton Community.

A newspaper, like any other privately-owned business, must be financially responsible. It must produce a return on its investment in addition to meeting costs of operating.

But in addition, a community newspaper must be financially secure in order to be a strong community leader.

We are pleased to report that while the profit shown in 1978 was less than ideal for the paper's volume of business, we once again made headway in building the paper's stability.

Our growth in 1978 was a direct result of the community's growth. We saw records set in distribution and in paid circulation. Advertising lineage set records in 10 of 12 months and classifieds produced their highest level in the paper's five years of publication.

All this contributed to the increased quality and size of our efforts, as demonstrated by the several awards received in editorial and advertising fields during the year.

But we are not resting on our accomplishments in 1978. We are continuing to exert efforts at improving the newspaper and we've already made important strides during 1979.

The financial strength of The Crier affects you in several ways.

For example, most newspapers run about 75 per cent advertising and 25 per cent editorial content. The Crier's goal is to run about 50 per cent-50 per cent and yet, if all goes well, make a modest profit. The impact of that goal on you as a reader or as an advertiser is obvious.

Financial success also allows the newspaper to undertake projects which serve the Plymouth-Canton community without necessarily producing a return in dollars to The Crier.

We are thankful that through careful cost management we have been able to produce the quality of community newspaper we like to bring you. Only because of your support is this possible.

By sharing this type of inside-The-Crier information with you, we hope to demonstrate that The Crier appreciates your support and looks forward to serving you in the future.

After all, since (for the fifth straight year) The Crier is not paying dividends to its investors, our sole satisfaction is delivering you a solid community paper owned and operated by your Plymouth-Canton neighbors.

Paul Bunyans log in

GREG CHRISTENSEN looked apprehensive as his classmates piled logs into his arms to see how many he could hold during Paul Bunyan Day at Ishister School Monday. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

Wooly lumberjack shirts and stocking caps were resurrected and the "chop-chop" sound of axes, finely crafted from aluminum foil resounded across the playground at Ishister School Monday as Paul Bunyan and Babe the Blue Ox came back to life.

Monday was the third-annual Paul Bunyan day and the festivities were organized under the direction of George Przygodski, a first and second grade teacher.

There were log carries, log stacking, and log tossing, plus the more traditional log-rolling contest. For kids not so keen on logging, there were other more traditional games such as rope climbing, nail tossing, rope jumping, and arm wrestling.

After all the games and contests, points were tabulated for each participating bunkhouse. The grand winner was Przygodski's Bunkhouse with 1,150 points followed by Francis' Bunkhouse with 910 points. Alexander's Bunkhouse captured third-place with 670 points and Brenkert's Bunkhouse had 660 points.

At the end of the day, the stocking caps were returned to closets and axes were taken home. Stories about Paul Bunyan and Babe the Blue Ox won't be easily forgotten. They live in the kids' imaginations.

Summer concerts on tap

Sustained by the hope that it'll never rain on Thursday, the Plymouth Community Band is tuning up for its Thursday evening outdoor summer concert series.

The 18th annual concert season will open tomorrow, Thursday, June 28 at 8 p.m. in Plymouth's Kellogg Park.

The 60-odd members of the band will perform under the direction of Carl Battishill, associate band director at the Centennial Educational Park this season. Under Battishill's direction, the CEP jazz band won national honors at an Ohio State University Band Festival in April.

The premier concert of the season will be "I Haven't The Foggiest" under the direction of George Cavender, guest conductor. Cavender recently stepped down as director of the University of Michigan Marching Band.

In commemoration of Independence Day on July 4, the band will perform "I Love America" for its concert on Thursday, July 5.

For jazz lovers, the Community Band will feature a program titled "All That Jazz" on Thursday, July 12 followed by "Around the World in 80 Minutes" on July 19.

On Thursday, July 26, the concert theme will be "From Maine to Oregon." To close the season on a note of cheer, the band will perform "Classical Gas" on Thursday, Aug. 5.

Don't forget your lawn chairs, pillows, or cushions to sit on. You might want to tote your mosquito repellent along, too.

Grown-ups like tea parties

Tea parties are fun for everyone. I remember when I was little spending many afternoons under the big maple tree in our front yard, sipping make-believe tea. On a warm afternoon with nothing else to do I would tuck my favorite doll under one arm and an old blanket and my tea set under the other arm and head for the shade tree.

After arranging everything just right on the blanket, I would sneak back into the house and raid the box of graham crackers and fill the little tea pot with water. Molly (my doll) and I had such fascinating conversations while munching crackers and sipping tea. Every now and then, on special occasions, we were able to have juice and cookies at our parties.

Molly was always a very well-mannered doll. She never spilled her tea or made a mess with cracker crumbs, quite unlike my two brothers who always seemed to sniff out the food.

Molly and I were interrupted on more than once occasion when cowboys and Indians attacked our peaceful setting and threaten to scalp Molly if we didn't turn over all of our food to them. My brothers sure were a pain in the neck sometimes.

Then there were the tea parties we had in the back yard on the sand pile. Armed with the tea pot filled with water, we mixed just the right amount of water and sand to make mud pies. Using sticks and stones, or what ever we could find, we tried to make our mud pie look better than anyone elses. Brothers were allowed to join these parties, until they started wrecking all the beautiful mud pies.

Some things never change -- brothers still tease and can be a real pain in the neck, and I still love tea parties.

Last week, for the first time in a long time I went to a tea party at a friend's house. Her mother was visiting from out of town, so she invited her sister and I to join them for lunch.

Some of the imagination was missing from my original tea parties, but this one was just as much fun. The tuna salad and homemade biscuits with strawberry jam were much better than stale graham crackers, and real iced tea has a bit more flavor than the make-believe kind. The best part was that we could laugh and talk and not worry about being ambushed by a couple of stupid brothers.

Lee H. Prutton, son of Mrs. Dawn Prutton of Danbridge in Plymouth earned a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree from Michigan State University's College of Veterinary Medicine. Prutton is a graduate of Plymouth High School.

Lisa Grimm, daughter of Hal and Toni Grimm of Portsmouth Crossing, has been cast in the Greenfield Village Players musical, "A Trip to Chinatown," by Charles Hoyt. Lisa plays the part of Toni in the production, which opened at the Henry Ford Museum Theater June 22 and will continue on week-ends through July 28.

Lisa is a theater major at Wayne State University and a 1977 graduate of Canton High School.

Last Tuesday, June 19, Pioneer Middle School held two major events for sixth grade students and parents: Awards for the Second Annual Wildlife Art Contest were presented. An art show in the school's commons area presented work in the areas of water colors, pen and ink, pastels, charcoal and pencil.

The contest was financed by the Student Council and judged by Maureen Murphy, Pioneer Administrative Intern, Ernest Bevins, Student Council Sponsor, and Dee Schulte, art teacher and member of the Plymouth Arts Council. Following the art show, the sixth grade band presented a musical program in the gymnasium.

Little Leaguers play in the dark

BY BETTY DeLANO

Four days a week 210 baseball players invade the three diamonds at Plymouth Township Park as members of the Plymouth Canton Junior Baseball League (PCJBL). All of these players play on the "A" league and are either 11 or 12 years old.

Two games are played each Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday night. The first game starts at 6 p.m. and the second at 8 p.m. Those kids that play at 6 p.m. always finish their games unless it rains, but the teams playing at 8 p.m. have other factors involved that often result in postponing games until a later date: lighting.

Out of three diamonds, only one has adequate lighting for night-time games, says the PCJBL.

A brief rundown on each diamond is pretty much the same for all three as far as maintenance is concerned. The only exception is on diamond three, where 80 per cent of the lights are in working condition compared to 25 per cent on the other two.

On diamond one, in the northeast corner of the park, there is only one light aimed at the home plate area. Lights along both the first and third base lines are also burned out leaving the outfield lights to light the entire field.

Diamond two is in the same situation except there is one light shining on home plate . . . it flickers on and off and is a bug light instead of a regular incandescent lightbulb.

Safety for the players is the main concern of the PCJBL and without lights on the diamonds the players have a hard time finding the ball after it has left the pitcher's hand.

"Pitchers are literally throwing into the dark," said A league director Dennis Schultz. "We're playing on a roulette wheel waiting for a serious accident to happen."

THESE PLYMOUTH-CANTON B League baseball players are looking forward to moving up to the A League next year, but not if they have to play in the dark.

Accidents on the rise

Plymouth Township Supervisor Tom Notebaert suggested that the games be rescheduled so they aren't being played in the dark. Notebaert also stated that a bid of $4,544 was being submitted to the Township Board of Trustees to replace the lights and lenses.

"Quotations on a price to replace the lights and lenses destroyed by vandalism had to be acquired first," said Notebaert.

According to members of the PCJBL, the league had been promised lighting on the diamonds by the first game of the season. The season is now half over and the board of trustees is just now getting to the bid.

"If we hadn't been promised the lights in the first place, we would have scheduled the games earlier in the day," said PCJBL president Jim Schols.

Notebaert denied making any kind of promise to the PCJBL regarding the lights being installed prior to the start of the season.

Schols went on to say, "We're really grateful to be able to play on the hill but the lighting situation makes us pretty upset. If they would even take some of the lights off diamond three and put them on the other two it would be safer than it is now."

Field maintenance is another thing that the league administrators and parents are concerned with. Batters at home plate are standing a foot beneath the plate because of the holes, and outfielders are continuously being injured on tractor treads molded in the ground.

Fielding a ball in the infield or the outfield is next to impossible for these 11 and 12 year olds. The ball is either lost in the grass or it takes a wild hop off one of the holes.

"The infields are half dirt and half weeds and the outfield is all clay and filled with holes and tractor treads," said Angels coach Jim Penfield. "The managers have come out on weekends to try and fix the fields up but they can only do so much."

According to Schols, any equipment that the PCJBL brings on the diamonds to fix them up has to be cleared with the township first.

"The Plymouth-Canton area is a prospering one," said A league equipment manager Gordie Wurster. "Compared to other parks in this area I wouldn't want to bring any outsider here."

"You can't expect the kids to be able to play decent baseball on these diamonds in the condition they're in right now. We're doing everything we can but the diamonds are getting worse, not better. We don't have the money or the equipment needed to fix the diamonds the way they should be," said Wurster, who is also the coach for the Red Sox.

The league is expecting to expand the size of the A league next year. Of the 420 kids playing in A league this year, half of them will be back next year and 250 more are expected to move up from the B league.

Realizing that the possibility of the lights being installed before the end of the season is close to non-existent, the PCJBL is hoping that the lights and fields will be in better condition at the start of next year.

Recto eyed for star spot at Ferris State

BY BETTY DeLANO

Quite some time ago Monette Recto, a 1979 graduate from Plymouth Salem, had made up her mind concerning what university she would attend in the fall. But as a member of the Rocks varsity volleyball team, her plans took a turn towards the middle of last season.

During an invitational tournament in Howell, Monica Folske approached Salem coach Cathy Himes with an offer that involved Recto.

Folske is the volleyball coach at Ferris State University and she approached Himes to find out what college plans Recto had made and whether or not any volleyball scholarships had been offered.

The answer to these questions of Folske's were answered and resulted in a volleyball scholarship at Ferris State for Recto that will take care of the cost of books and tuition.

Previous to her offer from Folske, Monette had planned on attending St. Thomas University in the Philippines. Recto signed her letter of intent to play for Ferris on March 25.

Recto caught Folske's eye with her setting ability. She (Recto) played as the Rocks' only setter this season and also showed her versatility on the court throughout the season to end up as the team's best all around player.

According to Folske, Ferris has always had weak setters and Recto will add greatly to the program. Coach Himes agreed with Folske.

"The biggest adjustment that Monette will have to make will be a social one, not a physical one," said Himes. "Playing a position that the team really needs and that she is good at puts her at an advantage but the flack from upper classmen on a team can sometimes be pretty rough."

"Playing the main position as primary setter, she'll still have to take the back seat to everyone else, but Monette will definitely be a starter. The drive she has when she starts something and to do it to the best of her ability will make her a fine collegiate player."

Recto had originally planned to become a nurse but has changed her major from nursing to health service management because of the availability of jobs. During her first semester at Ferris Monette is planning on taking mostly basic studies courses.

Playing volleyball as a high school freshman at Brian High School in Livonia, Monette moved to Plymouth her sophomore year and played for Himes on the junior varsity level and then played varsity volleyball as a junior and senior.

"I'm really looking forward to playing volleyball in college," said Recto. "I didn't apply for any colleges in the United States because it was already decided that I would go to St. Thomas. The scholarship offer made the difference between staying in the United States or going to the Philippines."

Working part time as a substitute nurse in Farmington right now, Monette is looking for a more full-time job for the summer to pay the cost of room and board. She is the daughter of Claro and Sylvia Recto of Canton Township.

Rupert Invt. a success

The fifth annual Hank Rupert Invitational Golf Tournament was held Saturday at Fellows Creek Golf Course in Canton Township.

Jeff Rogers carded a low score of 76 for first place and was followed by Doug Trip at 79 and Tim Dillon at 83.

Bringing up the rear was Bob Dasher and Rick Gladstone who came in off the 18-hole course with a pair of 133's.

The field of 45 players were made up mainly of graduates of Salem High where Hank Rupert is the plant engineer.

Other participants in this year's Rupert Invitational included Ron Kruger, Gary Balconi, Rich Hewett, Doug Agnew, Bob Hissom and many others that were popular in the athletic scene at Salem during their high school days. Kruger and Balconi are coaches and teachers at Salem.

Tournament director Paul Sincock said that as usual the tournament ran very smooth and was another Rupert success.

Last year's winner was Mike Wickham with a score of 73. Hilltop Glen golf Course was the sight of last year's tournament but was moved to Fellows Creek this year to enhance the degree of difficulty of the course.

Boobie prizes were also awarded to Rupert participants that didn't receive low score trophies. Inflatable toys and other fun prizes prove the Rupert to be a true classic in the golfing world.

Gymnastics clinic starts Monday

Plymouth Canton gymnastics coach Barb Winn will be teaching a gymnastics clinic at Canton High School starting July 2 and running to July 27.

The class will meet every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10-12:00 a.m. Offered through the Department of Continuing Education and Recreation, the cost of the clinic will be $35.

Open to students interested in participating on the high school squads this winter, the course's main emphasis will be placed on increasing the students skill level.

Class enrollment is limited to 15 on a first-come, first-serve basis. For more information on the clinic contact Winn at 450-1329 or send registration fees, with your name and the grade you'll be in this fall, to 472 Adams, Plymouth.

Betty's Bench

BY BETTY DeLANO

All during this week many Plymouth and Canton residents will be making a trip to the Dearborn Country Club to be part of the gallery for the second annual Lady Stroh's Open.

The Lady Stroh's Open runs through Sunday and became a major stop on the Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA) tour after the success of last year's tournament.

Again this year, as I did last year, I will be making the Dearborn run everyday this week. I guess the main reason I go is because I like to dream about being the one that beats the famed Nancy Lopez on a regular basis.

I feel that I should warn you that if the reason you're making the Dearborn run is to get a glimpse of the Jack Nicklaus of the woman's golfing world, forget it because Lopez and her husband are moving into their new house this week.

A few tips that I learned at last year's Stroh's that I will pass on to you is not to park in the Ford Motor Company lot and ride the shuttle bus back to the tournament. Instead, park in the subdivision across the street from the golf course and save yourself some time and money.

For some people the best way to watch a golf tournament is to find a place on a green and let the players come to them. Others like to walk around and follow different players on different holes. Which ever method interests you, make sure you wear comfortable shoes because either way you're going to do a lot of walking.

Golf tournaments are always fun to watch, whether it be from the gallery at the course or the gallery in your living room or study. But they are also just as much fun to play in.

In this area the number of golfers that participate in leagues at courses like Hilltop and Fox Hills in Plymouth Township or Fellows Creek in Canton Township is exceptional. Can you imagine how many of these players would like to participate in a Plymouth-canton Open?

What prompted this discussion was the mention of a Long Beach City Open winner living under the same roof as I -- my father Fred DeLano. Held at the Lakeland Country Club in Long Beach, California in some 25 years ago, this golfer beat the other entree in the seventh flight to bring home a trophy that would make Arnold Palmer proud.

From there the direction was turned towards the golfing interest in this area and that the idea for a Plymouth City Open had been put on the drawing board years ago but never left the ground.

The talent in this community, both Plymouth and Canton, includes championship golfers such as Roger Strong, Dave Wall, Bob Waters, Tom Ross, John Jawor and many more. But there are also enough golfers to make lower flights a challenge. Ted Kuhns, Doug Trip, Jim Ross, Cathy Andersen, Carol oss and Beth Maggio all represent the quality of good golf at the younger level and the thousands of league golfers fill in the middle.

The summer months have just started and I think that some kind of Plymouth-Canton Open plans can be launched and a date set for one of the many courses in the area before the days get too short and the college golfers have to go back to school.

The only request that I have is that there are no two-player flights and that the date is not set for the third week of August when I will be vacationing in the Traverse City area.

S'craft tennis passes offered

The Schoolcraft College Summer Tennis Program will hold an Open House from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Sunday, July 1.

According to coordinator Pat Page, season passes will be offered at half price during the Open House which has been re-scheduled since an earlier one was rained out on May 26.

Half Price rates are $17.50 for adults, $10 for students and $27.50 for families. Each season pass offers individual or family court time which may be reserved up to 24 hours in advance.

The tennis program features classes, leaue play, challenge ladders and tournaments on the College's 12 all-weather courts, eight of which are lighted for night play. Play has been improved with the addition of spruce trees which serve as a natural windscreen for the courts.

A new match-up program called "Need A Partner?" is available for individuals who are without partners and want to play. Participants are matched on the basis of their playing ability and times they want to play.

Summer tennis classes are also available and schedule information may be obtained by calling the tennis house at 591-6392. Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road in Livonia.

Tennis tourney this weekend

The Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring a doubles tennis tournament in conjunction with National Tennis Week on Saturday, June 30 and Sunday, July 1.

Tournament action will take place at Griffin Park in Canton Township. The only cost for participants is that they supply three new tennis balls prior to the start of the tournament.

A single elimination, best two-out-three-set format will be followed with a nine-point tie breaker if needed. Competition will be divided into men's doubles, women's doubles and mixed doubles classes. Trophies will be awarded to the winners of each class.

To register contact the Canton Parks and Recreation Department between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. or call 397-1000. All entries must be received by Friday, June 29.

When the word "mountain" is printed on a bottle of wine, it usually means that the wine came from grapes grown on hillside vineyards, rather than in the valleys. Hillside vines generally get better sun and have more drainage than do those from the valley and so may often be better than their cousins from low lands. But there is no assurance of that either. Often "mountain" is simply a marketing term. We suggest that during your next wine tasting, compare the wines labeled "mountain" and those that are not.

At the CHEESE & WINE BARN, 515 Forest Ave., we try to meet the individual and personal tastes of all our customers. Stop by today and see the excellent variety of wines we offer. Whatever the occasion, whatever the taste preference and whatever the budget, at the CHEESE & WINE BARN we try to have something that will please everyone, and according to our customers, we usually are successful. Open Mon.-Wed., Sat. 10-6, Th. & Fri. til 9.

It's best to avoid a vinegar dressing when serving wine with a meal, or at least avoid sipping wine after a forkful of such dressing.

FLEXIBLE MORTGAGE

There's a new type of mortgage loan on the horizon which would tailor the payment schedule to the borrower's needs and abilities. Instead of level payments for the life of the loan, payments could be smaller for one period and larger for another period depending on your future prospects.

Under the proposed regulations, the borrower and lender would negotiate the repayment schedule as long as each payment would cover interest costs and would be on a fully amortized basis after eight years. Thus a young couple could arrange smaller payments during the initial years of the term or an elderly couple could have smaller payments following retirement.

As an example, after eight years, a 20-year mortgage with a monthly payment of $220. Using the flexible payment plan, the borrower could pay as little as $200 per month for the first eight years, then $240 for the remainder of the term. When or if - this plan becomes effective, you'll read about it right here.

TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH BOARD OF TRUSTEES - SPECIAL MEETING THURSDAY, JUNE 14, 1979

A special meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Township of Plymouth was called to order by Supervisor Notchbart at 7:30 P.M. followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. All trustees were present. The meeting had been called to act on CHARTER TOWNSHIP STATUS.

ADDITIONS TO THE AGENDA

It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing, supported by Mr. West to add as Item No. 4 to the agenda "Police Protection". Ayes all. It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing, supported by Mrs. Fidge to add as Item No. 5 to the agenda; "Collective Sewers." Ayes all.

There was no objection to the agenda being adopted as added to. The following Resolution was offered by Mr. Breen and supported by Mrs. Lynch; it was read in its entirety by the Clerk.

RESOLUTION TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN

Upon the motion of Maurice Breen, supported by Barbara Lynch: WHEREAS, the Township of Plymouth has a population of 5,000 or more inhabitants according to the most recently made regular or special federal or state census; and

WHEREAS, the Township of Plymouth after notification to the Clerk by the Secretary of State within thirty (30) days following the effective date of Act No. 90, Public Acts of 1976, that the Township may be incorporated as the Charter Township of Plymouth under Act No. 359, Public Acts of 1947, as amended; considered such notification by and through its Board of Trustees; and

WHEREAS, the Township Board of Trustees by a majority vote did adopt a resolution of intent to approve incorporation as the Charter Township of Plymouth at a meeting duly called and held March 29, 1979 and designated as Resolution No. 7-79; and

WHEREAS, the Clerk did cause to be published on April 11th, 1979 and on April 16, 1979, in a newspaper of general circulation in the Township a notice of such adoption of a Resolution of intent to approve incorporation and of the right of the electors of the Township to a referendum on the incorporation question if a petition of disagreement to the intent resolution to the incorporation was filed within sixty (60) days; and

WHEREAS, more than sixty (60) days have passed since the adoption of the resolution of intent to approve incorporation and no petition of disagreement or for a referendum having been filed; and

WHEREAS, the Township Board of Trustees continues to intend the incorporation of the Township as a Charter Township which shall be a municipal corporation subject to the provisions of Act No. 359 of the Public Acts of 1947, as amended, which Act shall constitute the charter of such municipal corporation;

NOW, THEREFORE

BE IT RESOLVED, AND IT HEREBY IS RESOLVED, that the Township of Plymouth of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, shall be a municipal corporation subject to the provisions of Act No. 359 of the Public Acts of 1947, as amended, which act shall constitute the charter of such municipal corporation, and upon this final passage the township shall be duly and legally incorporated as a charter township.

Ye: Thomas Notchbart, Esther Hulsing, Joseph West, Maurice Breen, Lee Fidge, Gerald Law, Barbara Lynch.

No: NONE

The Resolution was declared adopted on June 14, 1979. The attorney explained that two readings of an Ordinance in its final form are necessary for a Charter Township, unless it is declared an emergency reading. The term "reading" is synonymous with "publishing" in this case. If it is a penal ordinance then it can't go into effect for thirty days after the second publication.

It was moved by Mr. Breen that the license fee for a solid waste hauler be twenty-five ($25.00) dollars plus five ($5.00) dollars for each solid waste transporting unit owned or utilized by the licensed waste hauler. Supported by Mrs. Hulsing. Ayes all.

The Attorney was directed to investigate the amount of the surety bond that should be required of each hauler. It will be expected of each licensed waste hauler that he will provide the Clerk's office with a current schedule of his fees and his current schedule of pick-up at the time he applies for his yearly license.

It was moved by Mr. Breen to adopt the proposed interim budget as presented by the Supervisor for the Charter Township of Plymouth and further that the budget be adopted as a line item appropriation. Supported by Mr. West. Ayes: Lynch, West, Law, Breen, Hulsing and Notchbart. Nays: Fidge.

At the request of the Supervisor Mr. Akter submitted the proposal for the Wayne County Sheriff to provide police protection for the Township on an interim basis. At the time a full contract is entered into officers will be assigned only to Plymouth Township and will be working on a full time basis rather than on overtime. This service can be provided immediately rather than waiting for a contract to be negotiated with the Sheriff's Department and then go through the approval structure of the County which will take a minimum of eight weeks.

State Legislator Breen, who was present concurred with Mr. Morgan in advising the Board that to protect a Charter Township from infringement of its borders by annexation all five criteria for such status must be met. The two criteria not currently met by Plymouth Township are Police Protection which must be provided either by the Township itself or through contract with the Sheriff's Department and the provision for Solid Waste Disposal. Mr. Morgan pointed out that the Judge on July 6, 1979 may or may not recognize the changed status of Plymouth Township.

It was moved by Mr. Breen and supported by Mrs. Fidge to accept the proposal from Sheriff Lane as contained in his letter of June 14, 1979 as outlined for additional Wayne County Road Patrol Personnel; that the Supervisor and Clerk be authorized to sign the proposal; that we request the assignment of one police officer on Saturday of each week until further notice and further that the Supervisor appoint immediately a committee for the purpose of entering into negotiations with the Sheriff's Department to negotiate a contract for Police Services on a regular and continuing basis. On a roll call vote: Ayes: Fidge, West, Law, Breen, Lynch, Hulsing, and Notchbart. Nays: None.

It was moved by Mrs. Fidge and supported by Mr. Law not to assume the responsibility in any standard subdivision for collector sewers serving rear yards and/or sump pump drainage. Ayes all.

It was moved by Mr. Breen, supported by Mrs. Fidge to add the subject of the vacating of Powell Road to the agenda. Ayes all.

Mr. Breen reviewed the actions that had taken place concerning the vacating of Powell Road up to the moment. There was no motion to rescind the direction of the Board in directing the attorney to bring such legal action as is necessary to get the County to follow the recommendation of their own hearing commission to close Powell Road.

It was moved by Mr. Law, supported by Mr. Breen to adjourn at 10:35 P.M. Ayes all.

Approved by Thomas C. Notchbart, Supervisor

Respectfully submitted, Esther Hulsing, Clerk
