School board re-elects Yack president

Thomas Yack was re-elected president of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education Monday night. Yack drew about 2,500 votes in the June 11 race for two board seats.

Sylvia Stets, the second winner in the June 11 race, began her four-year term on the board Monday night. She replaced retiring board member Joe Gray.

Also elected to serve as board officers for the 1979-80 school year were: Richard Arlen as vice-president; Elaine Kirchgatter as secretary; and, Steve Harper as treasurer.

Kirchgatter replaced Flossie Tonda as board secretary. Arlen and Harper were both re-elected to their respective offices.

Tonda, Stetz, and Carol Davis will serve as board trustees.

Before the election of officers, Gray was presented a plaque and lifetime pass to all activities in the Plymouth-Canton schools for his six years of service as a board member.

"It's been a lot of fun and a lot of work. I've seen a lot of agreement and a lot of disagreement," said Gray.

Gray added that he hoped the school district would continue to emphasize the spelling bee contest and the district's reading program.

The board will continue to meet regularly on the second and fourth Mondays of each month at school district offices, 454 S. Harvey St. Plymouth at 7:30 p.m.

A motion, made by Harper, to begin presentations, and executive sessions which are usually closed to the public at 7:30 p.m. instead of 7 or 6:30 p.m., was defeated.

The board chose to start its regular business meeting at 7:30 p.m. rather than ask the public to wait until they finished executive sessions at 8 or 8:30 p.m.

The next meeting of the board will be held at Field Elementary School on Monday, July 16. A special presentation by Field students will begin at 7:30 p.m. followed by a public forum at 8:30 p.m. The meeting is open to all residents.

The board will continue to meet on the first and third Mondays of each month for informal workshops at the school district offices.

The next workshop will be held on Wednesday, July 25 at 7:30 p.m. instead of Monday, July 30. The topic will be curriculum.

BERT ALLEN, after nearly 32 years of pouring coffee, will soon retire. See page 16.

Twp. won't seek police millage

BY FRED DeLANO

Plymouth Township electors won't vote after all Sept. 11 on whether to appropriate one mill ($1 from every $1,000) in assessed valuation) to pay for police protection.

Last night, the Board of Trustees agreed 7-0 that they had enough extra cash in the general fund for the current 1978-79 fiscal year to pay the estimated $240,000 the Wayne County Sheriff's Department wants for two patrol cars and nine officers for around-the-clock scheduling. They then cancelled the Sept. 11 special election.

After the first year, the township board anticipates having to go to the public trough for more money.

Clerk Esther Hulsing suggested a one-mill levy for five years at last night's meeting, but it was inundated with negativism. Trustee Gerald Law and cohorts claimed the money on hand would suffice, and this attitude prevailed.

In surprise move

Larson gets Canton seat

Steve Larson, vice president of Forestbrook subdivision, was selected last night to fill the vacant trustee seat on Canton's Board of Trustees.

Nominated by Treasurer Jim Donahue, he was chosen on the first ballot by a 4-2 vote. Donahue, Supervisor Noel Culbert, and Trustees Bob Greenstein and Carol Bodenmiller cast "yes" votes, while Clerk John Flodin and Trustee Eugene Daley voted "no."

Larson was the only person nominated from a list of 13 candidates who applied for the job.

A three-year resident of the township, Larson, 34, serves on the committee on cable television.

He lives at 2457 Brookfield and is a translation specialist for Ford Motor Co.

Will project go to court?

The struggle by Canton's Pickwick Village subdivision to stop a large, subsidized-income housing project looks like it may be decided by the courts.

Before last night's meeting, a lawyer for Amurcon said that the proposed complex would not violate the PUD.

Whether the township board would go to court on the question or accept some compromise was not clear before the meeting. A possible compromise permitting Amurcon to build apartments on the site, but banning subsidized tenants, was mentioned by one Canton official who did not want to be named.

Pickwick residents maintain that the apartment complex, especially if it contains subsidized tenants, will lower their property values.

Subsidized housing on the site was OK'd after the township's planning consultant, George Peek, sent a letter to the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) listing no objections.

Some residents and current township officials have alleged that then Supervisor Harold Stein failed to make public the township's response to the request for subsidized housing.

Amurcon's mortgage for the project is being guaranteed by HUD, which will provide subsidies to low-income tenants.

At last night's Board of Trustees meeting, an attorney for the board, which agreed to take on Pickwick's fight against Amurcon Corp., was expected to say that the developer violated the PUD (Planned Unit Development) agreement of the proposed housing site on the east side of Lilley Road south of Warren.

A PUD is an agreement between a developer and the township which governs how the land can be used.

According to Dave Berry, attorney for the township, the PUD states that the apartments in the subdivision should have been built before single-family homes. Since the houses are already built, the PUD would be violated if Amurcon proceeded with the apartments, said Berry.

On this basis, the township could deny Amurcon's request for site-plan approval of the 168 two- and three-bedroom apartment complex.

Twp. eyes police levy 1-mill, 5-year ceiling

Plymouth Township's Board of Trustees was scheduled to debate Tuesday night a proposal from Clerk Esther Hulsing that the special police service tax levy not exceed 1 mill for a period of five years.

The board has reserved Tuesday, Sept. 11 for a special election on the issue, and in her official language Hulsing presented to the board a proposed resolution that would have the ballot read:

"Shall the total tax rate limitation on property in the Charter Township of Plymouth, Wayne County, Michigan, be increased by an additional amount not to exceed one mill ($1.00 per $1,000) upon the equalized valuation of all real and personal property in the Township of Plymouth for five years beginning in 1980 through 1984,

Robinwood gets bridge fence

The State Department of Transportation is scheduled to take bids in Lansing on July 18 for screening on a bridge carrying Robinwood Drive over M-14 in Plymouth Township.

The department had originally intended to take bids on the project, estimated to cost $30,000, in October, 1979.

"It was felt that the bridge posed a potential safety hazard without this screen," said State Representative Robert Law of Livonia.

"This project has been pending for almost a year and the department agreed to take an earlier bid which will speed up completion for early this fall," said Law.

Law said bids would be taken at the Lansing Civic Center at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, July 18. "I would like to encourage any interested firms to bid on the project," Law said. "Competition will assure that we get the best quality work."

both inclusive, and the funds thereby derived be used for the purpose of contracting with the Wayne County Sheriff for police service?"

Hulsing informed the board that at the moment the tax base of the township stands at $242,760,390. This means one mill assessed against that figure would yield better than $242,000.

The proposal from Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas which is looked upon by favor by most township officials would provide nine officers and two patrol cars for assignment on a daily 24-hour schedule at a cost of somewhat better than $230,000 per year, at current salary and operational rates.

Supervisor Thomas Notebaert let it be known in advance of Tuesday's meeting that he would like to see the voters presented with a request for a levy of at least 1½ mills per year to provide latitude in face of the inflationary cost spiral.

The one-mill proposition is "her own," Notebaert said of the Hulsing resolution.

He added that he believes some members of the seven-person board hope to get by without any sort of a special police levy, maintaining police service as at present with a one-man, one-day-a-week token police presence financed out of the general fund.

Authorities say the latter satisfies the legal requirements of Michigan's statutes pertaining to the right of charter townships to refuse annexation attempts of other governments, but it is not the sales pitch advanced by local officials in recent months as they preached charterhood.

The City of Plymouth has three annexation suits pending against the township, the first of which was to have been heard in Ingham County Circuit Court last Friday. However, the case was postponed without a new date being set.

CANTON SUPERVISOR Noel Culbert now takes the stairs rather than the elevator.

Canton's Culbert: ups, downs & in-betweens

BY CHAS CHILD

Canton Township lost its supervisor last Wednesday. And nobody noticed.

Canton Supervisor Noel Culbert has had his share of political tussles, but last Wednesday night he struggled with a different sort of opponent at Township Hall: the elevator.

En route from the second to first floor around 9:30 p.m. with his family, an elevator fuse blew, and the ride halted halfway down.

No one else was in the building, so the alarm bell inside the compartment was useless. Worse, the supervisor's wife and two children, aged 1 and 9, were trapped also.

"We could have been trapped in there all night," said Culbert, who said he went into the office to get some papers.

Fortunately, the hydraulic lift (similar to gas-station car lift), which raises the compartment, began to lose pressure, lowering the bottom of the car about three inches below the top of the first-floor door.

After opening the inner and outer elevator doors, Culbert could see a fire-alarm, just out of reach on the wall.

Culbert threw shoes and other objects at the alarm, to no avail. Thinking the compartment had an escape hatch in the ceiling, Culbert broke a fluorescent light trying to dismantle the roof.

"I was lucky I wear glasses, because it burst in my face," he said. His wife, Chris, and sons Stevie, 1, and Jimmy, 9, were not hurt either by the glass. The compartment has no escape hatch.

Finally, after an hour and one-half Culbert realized that jumping up and down on the car caused the hydraulic lift to give way slowly. So by coordinating their jumps, Noel, Chris, and Jimmy managed to widen the gap to about 10 inches.

"At that point, I slid out on my stomach, and helped the other three out."

"It was lucky it happened to me and not an elderly person or someone not mechanically adept," he added. "We're thinking about installing a telephone in the compartment, so you could call for help."

"I've learned another thing. Never send the whole family down the elevator together."

Hotel pays 1/2 parking

Under an agreement between the Mayflower Hotel and the City of Plymouth, Weidman Parking Lot patrons will not have to pay the newly doubled parking rates.

The hotel's owner, Ralph Lorenz, has agreed to pay twice the amount of money collected in the lot's meters during the next six months to avoid having his patrons paying the new rates.

A story in last week's Crier incorrectly stated that the hotel would pick up the entire parking tab.

Under the agreement, the public may continue to use the Weidman Lot without restriction and the hotel will pay what would have been the high rates based on the meter totals.

Prince family finds new home, much generosity

Thanks to the generosity of a Canton realtor, the Prince family has a house to live in.

In a fire two weeks ago that swept through the upper floor of their house on Sheldon Road, 6-year-old Tony Prince died of smoke inhalation and the seven-member family was left homeless.

The family was offered a four-bedroom house on Carriage Hill Road in Canton with free rent for three months and reduced rent thereafter by Ken Dividock of Century 21. Also, Storage Unlimited has donated a storage area for as long as needed.

According to Geneva United Presbyterian Church, which is organizing aid to the Princes, many other persons have offered help large and small, including money, furniture and household necessities.

Money, however, is still needed, said the church. Anyone wishing to help should call the church at 459-0013.

'Government should have access'

Canton wants localized cable tv effort

BY CHAS CHILD

A cable television company requesting permission to operate in Canton Township should offer three community-service programs, as well as hire two full-time persons to initiate programs of interest to Canton citizens.

This is the recommendation of a committee formed to review Omnicom of Michigan's request to provide cable television to the township.

"Canton's volatile nature demands responsive, progressive community channels devoted to the activities of the community," wrote the committee in a report to the Board of Trustees. "These channels should inform and entertain citizens with news and programs about local, municipal, educational and athletic events.

"People should, and must, be able to find out what is happening. When people learn what is happening they often want to get more involved. This is clearly the importance of community channels."

Omnicom has asked to provide service not only to Canton, but the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township as well. The firm has proposed complete cable service, including television stations from Michigan and Ohio, and special programming from New York, Atlanta, and Boston. Special movie channels would also be available under Omnicom's proposal.

The two full-time staffers are needed to originate local programming, says the committee. "Most cable companies in this country, according to our findings, do not sustain an acceptable level of local origination programming because they sit back and wait for the community to come to them.

"Our grantee (Omnicom) must have the philosophy of going to the community and convincing the people -- through example -- that television is an exciting medium at the local level."

Three channels should be available for local programs, said the committee: one for the government of Canton, the second for the educational community in the township, and the third for programs originated locally.

Supervisor Noel Culbert said that the cable network could be used by the police department to monitor stores in the township and parking lots and streets. "It could be an excellent crime deterrent," he said.

Included in the locally originated services could be, according to the committee: a cable guide, or list of local programs; a community-bulletin board; classified advertisements; and weather information.

Also, a Canton Citizens Advisory Committee comprised of representatives of the municipality, schools, major art groups and sports organizations should be formed to guide the operation of the local origination channels, the committee recommended.

The cost of the basic television service with converter should be $7.95 per month, with an additional $5.95 per month for the full-movie channel, said the committee.

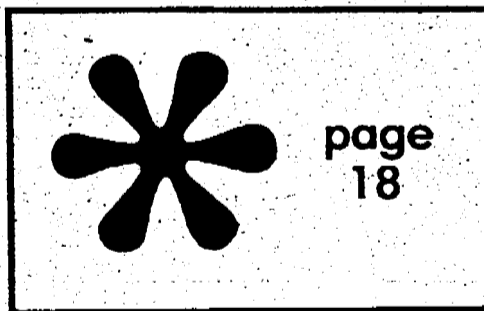

Composed of Treasurer Jim Donahue, Planning Commissioner Thom Carman, Trustee Bob Greenstein and Steve Larson, the committee said it had come to a gentleman's agreement with Jeff Dorm of Omnicom on its requests, but a formal agreement incorporating the recommendations should be adopted before Omnicom enters the township.

The committee's recommendation's were scheduled to be presented to the Board of Trustees at last night's meeting.

Zoning law to stop firms

PG. 5
THE COMMUNITY CRIB: JULY 11, 1979

BY CHAS CHILD

An interim zoning ordinance to freeze development on Ford Road in Canton is due to be considered by the Board of Trustees next Tuesday.

The ordinance is designed to give township officials time to propose an alternative to strip commercial development on the township's main business avenue, said Trustee Carol Bodenmiller.

"We don't want the strip in Canton to look like the other communities (along Ford)," said Bodenmiller. "If development continues under the present law, it may be too late. Once a building goes up, you can't turn back."

Based on the township's new master land-use plan, the ordinance calls for clustering business development between Sheldon and Canton Center and between the I-275 interchange and Lilley Road.

This will bar commercial development on the remaining portions of Ford, which has upset some property owners.

"We don't want to undermine anybody's property values," said Bodenmiller. "But we have to consider what Ford Road will look like 15 or 20 years in the future. In other areas, the strips have developed and they've just gone downhill."

What alternatives might be suggested for Ford? Bodenmiller said nothing concrete has been proposed. "It may take six months to come up with a plan," she said. "So without the interim zoning ordinance, the developers could move in."

Also included in the zoning ordinance is a new sign ordinance which would permit small free-standing ground signs. The present sign ordinance bans free-standing signs for businesses.

Hundreds of local jet-setters flew the friendly Plymouth-Canton skies Saturday and Sunday at the sixth-annual "Fly High for Dystrophy" at Mettetal Airport.

Charging $5 per ride, the Muscular Dystrophy Association earned about $10,000 from the three participating airports, said Bonnie Fantz of the dystrophy association. Detroit City and Oakland Pontiac airports also participated in the two-day fund-raiser.

Cloudless skies permitted the passengers to get a bird's eye glimpse of the area after they were escorted to their seats by members of the Plymouth Civil Air Patrol.

Local pilots Janet Bone, Woody Lynch, Carl Hubbell, J. P. McCarthy, Bill Rogers, and Jim Jabara contributed their time and gas to the dystrophy drive.

Will road closings hurt Canton industry?

BY CHAS CHILD

If Lotz and Lilley roads are closed at the New York Central Railroad tracks, as proposed by state officials, neighborhood property values might drop, fire fighting would be hampered, and insurance rates might rise, says Canton Township's Planning Department.

In a letter to Supervisor Noel Culbert, the planners urged that "that all possible efforts be put forth to prevent the closing."

The state has proposed closing the two crossings because they are in poor repair and neither the railroad nor the Wayne County Road commission has the money to make them safe, said Dave Nicholson of the township planning department.

"However, it would seem inappropriate to decrease the danger of the rail crossing via any method that will increase danger to the public in other ways," said Planning Director Jim Kosteva in the letter to Culbert.

Fire fighters would have to take longer, slower routes to fires south of the proposed closings, said the letter. Insurance rates would rise, and since most of the surrounding property is zoned industrial, the township's plan to build its industrial tax base would be hampered, said the planner.

Also, children in the area would have to walk longer distances to catch a school bus, and residential property values might drop, he added.

The letter was presented to the Board of Trustees at last night's meeting.

'Center' plans still alive

Remember The Center, the huge indoor recreation complex approved in concept on a site on Haggerty Road south of Ford in Canton back in 1977?

The project is still "full-speed ahead," said one of its owners, Richard Mooravian. "We hope to have some brick and mortar up at the end of the summer, and completed late 1980."

The complex will have 72 bowling lanes, 21 racquetball courts, seven tennis courts, four theaters, as well as a bar and lounge, he said.

Don't forget to get shots

It's time to make sure your child is immunized before enrolling in school next fall.

Parents must submit proof of immunization signed by a doctor or the Wayne County Department of Health before the child can enter school.

Children must be immunized against the following: DPT (diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus); polio, and both "hard" measles and three-day measles.

A vaccination against mumps is also recommended by the health department, but not required for 1979-80.

Transfer students from other Michigan school districts and out-of-state districts must bring a complete immunization record when registering for school.

Canton movie house plan on Ford delayed by board

BY CHAS CHILD

A rezoning on Ford Road in Canton to permit a movie house was delayed by the Planning Commission Monday night.

The delay was made so as not to commit the property to commercial use until after a public hearing, scheduled for Aug. 8, on a revised master land use plan for the whole township.

The proposed master plan calls for clustering businesses along two stretches of Ford: between I-275 and Lilley Road, and between Sheldon and Canton Center roads.

Rotary Club announces musical revue

PG. 7

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: July 11, 1979

To celebrate Rotary International's 75th anniversary the Canton Rotary Club will present a large "song and dance" stage show in October.

"This show, according to Rotary President Bill Tesen, "will consist mainly of Canton Township talent, with an occasional act being recruited from nearby communities if needed. It will be for the people of Canton, and their neighboring communities, produced by Canton Rotary Club members, directed by a Canton Township resident and held in our area."

All proceeds will go to various community projects within the geographic boundaries of Canton Township, he added.

Orren M. Hall, 39500 W. Warren Canton, will serve as director of the show, working with the committees made up entirely of Rotary Club members. It will be Hall's responsibility to design the format of the show, recruit talent, and direct the show during its two-night presentation.

Salem High School's auditorium has been reserved for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 5 and 6, for the show.

The date of the audition, where professional judges in dance, song and instrumental music will screen the prospective talent, will be announced later.

"We will have talent to please our youngsters, our teens, the adult community as well as our young-at-heart senior citizens," said Hall.

"Our main interest is to promote Canton Township, contribute to its worthwhile civic projects and show the surrounding communities what a wealth of community spirit we have."

Tickets for the stage show will go on sale shortly at $3 each.

Twp. to expand golf clubhouse, course

It was only paper work, but the wording almost sent readers of a letter from Plymouth Township Attorney Donald C. Morgan to the Board of Trustees into a dither this week concerning the liquor license for the township-owned Hilltop Golf Course.

Morgan's intent was merely to pass on the information he had received from the licensing and enforcement director of the Michigan

Liquor Control Commission that the 1978 Class C and Sunday sales license held by Hilltop had been cancelled.

It had nothing to do with the 1979 Class C license, which is held jointly by the township and the new lessor, John Jawor, although Morgan's letter of notification failed to specify that.

Under this license, Hilltop is allowed to serve liquor by the glass, but the club is permitted only beer and wine sales on Sundays.

Jawor says he has no objection to the latter fact for the time being, since the clubhouse area still has not been enlarged to the table capacity planned by the township.

What's known as the clubhouse actually is a transplanted courtroom which had been an annex of township hall. It was moved to replace the golf course structure which was destroyed by fire last fall. However, an adjoining enclosed porch between the clubhouse and the ninth green still has not been built.

On Monday, the contractor told The Crier that work on this project will start this week.

Also, before the week is over, Supervisor Thomas Notebaert expects the closing conference to be held between the sellers of 33 acres adjoining the course to expand it to 18 holes.

If no delays in planning and construction are encountered, the new layout could be in readiness for golfers by 1981.

Senior aid sought in Canton

Canton Township's senior citizens may get increased help if the federal government approves a grant to fund "in-home services."

The services would include things like cleaning, house maintenance, snow shoveling, said Terry Carroll, grants coordinator for the township. Eligible are persons 62 years old and above or handicapped.

Applying with Canton is the tier of west-central suburbs, including Wayne, Westland, Dearborn and Dearborn Heights.

The Detroit-Wayne County Area Agency on Aging will be administering the grant, with each community providing some funds and labor to help provide the services, said Carroll.

Canton's Board of Trustees was scheduled to give the go ahead last night to apply for the grant.

The proposed movie house site, on the south side of Ford between Lilley and Morton-Taylor, does not fall in the proposed commercial zone.

About 50 neighboring residents, mostly from Westbrook subdivision, voiced opposition to the proposed movie house, which would contain from four to six screens. "It will lower our property values," said one resident.

The parcel is currently zoned for single-family houses.

Man shoots wife, self

A Canton Township man shot and killed his wife and then himself in front of the house of a minister in Livonia Sunday evening, police report.

Dead are James F. Crackel, 32, of 6622 Carriage Hill, and his wife Bonnie Crackel. The couple had three children, aged 12, 8, and 2.

According to Livonia police, the whole Crackel family was at the home of William R.

Carter, a minister, at 38495 Ann Arbor Trail, for family counselling.

Around 8:30 p.m., Crackel and his wife left the house and went out to their car parked in front of the house, said police. He then shot his wife and himself with a .32 caliber pistol, police said.

Chief Jerry Cox of the Canton police said the Crackels had had a history of family trouble.

$$$ fizzled fireworks

PLYMOUTH DIDN'T have its own July 4 fireworks this year for a simple reason: no money. The sponsors of both the July 4 parade and fireworks, The Plymouth Jaycees, decided to concentrate only on raising money for the parade after losing about $2,000 on last year's fireworks.

"Many people think tax dollars pay for the fireworks," said Randy Shoemaker, president of the Jaycees. "They don't. Our fund-raising drive is the only source of income."

Shoemaker solution to the problem: Start a year-round fund to pay for the fireworks and the parade. "If there's enough public interest, we could get it going right away," he said. "I wouldn't want to see the fireworks die. There's a need for it, especially for the kids."

If you're interested, call Shoemaker at 455-2248.

Don't make decisions shooting from the hip

Good government takes hard work. Major decisions cannot be made overnight. Even though there've been occasions when our local boards have spent unproductive hours studying issues to death; we recently are seeing shoot-from-the-hip policy making.

With no advance time to study the proposal, the Plymouth Township board recently took one hour to approve an "interim" contract with the Wayne County Sheriff Dept. for police protection. That measure deserved more study and at least a little hard questioning by the board.

Now the City of Plymouth is following suit. At Monday's meeting the City Commission will consider granting a cable-television franchise, which was presented to the last commission get-together DURING the meeting (with no advance study).

The city's attorney, Chuck Lowe, at first was telling the commission that passing the agreement was all right, but changed his tune when he saw the commissioners were balking at such rapid action.

But a week later, the same proposal the commission was to vote on without examination then was not available either to the commissioners or to the general public. (The Crier was refused Monday a copy, although it was technically presented at a public meeting, because, according to the city manager's staff, the commission will not be given copies of the proposed agreement until this Friday.)

Three days is not enough time for our part-time commissioners to evaluate such a major step. This is particularly true since the cable television contract awarded by the city never got off the ground.

We expect our governmental leaders to give careful deliberations to matters of importance and that means more than quick perusal of contracts which bind the community.

We're not looking for 3 a.m. study sessions, just the proper deliberation -- which, we hasten to point out, gives a greater chance for public input.

Are schools fair to aides?

EDITOR:

An open letter to the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education:

The Plymouth-Canton Educational Aides Association appreciates the courtesy of the board in our recent grievance hearing regarding the employment of a new aide this spring at a rate exceeding that paid all other aides under five years seniority.

Your attentiveness to the details of the problem and your consideration of its broader ramifications demonstrated your sincere interest. Although your decision disappointed us, we understood the viewpoint it represented.

However, we came away with several very disturbing implied messages, messages to our association and inevitably to other bargaining units and to the community.

First, although the administration had violated our contract, a contract you yourselves had signed, you deemed it unsuitable to reprimand or comment directly to the offending administrator or to the administrative chain of command. The message we receive from this is that you view breach of contract as unfortunate but not serious enough to warrant discipline or a plan to prevent recurrences.

We have to wonder if the message also means that any breach of contract by the district's bargaining units would be similarly casually handled, without retribution or disciplinary measures!

Secondly, you ignored the indication of administrative laxity in ending the illegal practice once Mr. Hoben had so ordered. It has added insult to our injury to observe that the foot-dragging coincided remarkably conveniently with the approaching end of the school year, when the possibility no longer mattered that the aide in question might quit when demoted.

Our message from this is that you are abdicating your responsibility when you permit the administration to be accountable not to you but only to themselves.

Thirdly, you feared that financial restitution would be precedent-setting. Did you forget that the matter involved breach of contract by your designated representative, therefore ultimately by you? The message this indicated to us is that you anticipate the probability of other such breaches, apparently enough of them to make precedent-setting a valid worry. To many of us this is the most appalling implication of the entire hearing.

We would like to acknowledge publicly our appreciation for the concern that Carol Davis evidently had in some of these areas. Her lone vote against your decision was to us a message that for her, as for us, the credibility and ethical image of the board, while important to all the members of your conscientious group, had not been well served in these proceedings.

There's CEP drinking

EDITOR: This letter is written in response to the Crier's June 27, 1979 article "CEP drinking on the rise."

In this story, at a joint meeting of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education and the Canton Township Board of Trustees, Superintendent Mike Hoben "discouraged Canton Township from joining Detroit area townships in an out-county drug abuse program called Downriver Community Conference."

Hoben said drugs isn't a major problem at CEP. "Drugs are on the decline, but drinking alcohol seems to be up," said Hoben.

Obviously, Mr. Hoben's sources of information, if any, have made a mistake in their evaluation. Just ask a CEP student. Most would agree that the drinking of alcohol on school grounds when school is in session has not increased, due to the large amount of security officers CEP employs, the change to traditional scheduling, and the new drinking age law.

Although many students can still purchase alcoholic beverages, it is extremely impractical and too easy for students to get caught with large amounts of alcohol.

While I agree with Mr. Hoben that we do not need the Downriver Community Conference, it is my opinion that drugs are on the rise at CEP. It is by far easier for a student to light up a joint walking from school to school than it is to carry a pint or a six pack.

The article went on to say, "The biggest problem at the Park is strangers -- young people who don't attend classes there, but come into the schools as though they are students," said Hoben. During my senior year at Canton, "strangers" were not a problem to my knowledge. Maybe I'm naive, but I think there are bigger problems at CEP, such as overcrowded classrooms and lack of materials, to mention a few.

This letter is not in any way meant to reflect negatively on your integrity, Mr. Hoben, but rather to represent a first hand, different view; that of a former student.

Judge bites tongue

Your newest judge of the 35th District Court, James Noble Garber II, marked the end of his first six months on the bench last week and admits that as much as he loves the role there are times "when I must swallow real hard to stay out of the fray."

Judge Jim finds that after a 20-year career in civil and criminal law the toughest part of his new job is maintaining the "reactive" posture after being "pro-active" as an advocate so many times.

"As an advocate, you can do things. But a judge must stay above the fray and wait for the strategies to develop," he commented. "It's like watching artists at work to see two good lawyers argue a case, but I do have to bite my tongue now and then to keep from joining the battle."

The judge will be observing his 46th birthday tomorrow, July 12, and it will be just about like any other Thursday, which means he'll be holding court in Northville.

He does that every Tuesday and Thursday, sitting in Canton Township each Monday, Wednesday and Friday. His colleague on the 35th District bench, Judge Duane Davis, now holds forth regularly in the courtroom in Plymouth's City Hall.

The Garber family name is familiar in the area both because of Jim's own career and the fact that his father, Ralph Garber, was a member of the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees for a number of years.

Incidentally, the elder Garbers, who moved to Detroit after selling the Garber farmland on North Territorial in the early '70s, are so homesick that they will be moving back to Plymouth this fall. They celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary in June, and residence in the city already has been arranged.

Among the little known facts in the history of Judge Jim, who was named for his grandfather, is his role as one of the founders of what became the Plymouth Community Band. Don't be surprised if that group breaks into a rendition of "Happy Birthday" in Jim's honor during the Kellogg Park concert Thursday night.

Although Garber rarely picks up his trombone any more, he was one of the five musicians who rode on a flatbed truck in our Fourth of July parade in 1959, their performance so captivating the audience that the idea of a full-fledged band was born that very day.

Of that original com-pub quintet, only trumpeter Bill Upton and tuba player Keith Burton still are active band members, but what they started is one of the factors which help make Plymouth the envy of many Michigan communities.

The judge already was a student in Albion College when the family moved to Plymouth from Detroit, where Jim had graduated from central High School. After he had earned his law degree at the University of Michigan, Garber's early years in the legal profession were in the service of the Wayne County Road Commission and Board of Supervisors.

Establishing Plymouth residency on his own with his new bride, Garber later became chief of the criminal division in the county prosecutor's office and then in the mid-'70s headed the Criminal Justice Institute in Detroit. Two years in general practice here preceded last fall's successful campaign to be elected District Court judge.

"The only other time I ever ran for office I was beaten by 23 votes in the Plymouth school board election of 1963," he recalled recently.

At this point in time, Garber anticipates trying for a second term but disclaims any notion of seeking a higher office. "I enjoy what I'm doing right here," is the way he puts it. At the age of 46, it isn't a bad place to be sitting, Jim.

JCs say 'thanks'

EDITOR:

The Plymouth Jaycees and Jayettes would like to express our appreciation to the many people in the Plymouth Community that helped make the Fourth of July parade possible. It is an undertaking that we look forward to each year.

We would like to extend an invitation to those people in Plymouth that would like to know more about the Plymouth Jaycees and Jayettes to visit with us Friday evening at 7:30 (that is the 13th of July), at the Plymouth Township Park in the new pavilion.

We will be serving hotdogs and pop corn and drinks in an informal party as a way to explain to those interested what the Jaycee movement is all about.

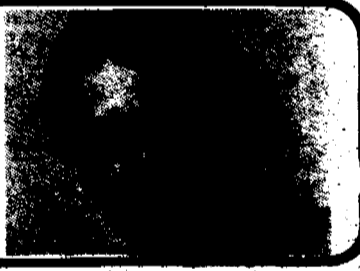

So if you are between 18 and 36 give us a call and let us know if you are interested in attending this membership night on Friday.

If you liked the 4th of July parade you will love the Jaycees and Jayettes.

Child's play

by Chas Child

A politician's dream come true: Mr. Smith, local official -- "Miss Jones, take some dictation. Dear Chas. Print this article without change in next week's edition:

All community leaders applauded Supervisor Tom Smith yesterday for his efforts to put flower pots in all Township Hall offices.

"Tom has once again shown he is working 100 per cent for the health, safety, and welfare of township residents," said Bill Thomas, township trustee. "Everyone in the community should be very grateful."

Smith thanked Thomas for his kind remarks, adding that anyone wishing to contribute to his re-election campaign can call him at Township Hall.

Fanciful, yes. No editor would print such a self-serving article from a politician. Yet, a group of Canton Township officials have devised a scheme to run an end-around the local newspaper editors using a different medium: cable television.

Headed by Thom Carman, a planning commissioner; Treasurer Jim Donahue; and Trustee Robert Greenstein, the committee submitted a number of proposals to govern Omnicom, a firm that wants to provide cable television to township residents.

Among these requirements is a stipulation that Omnicom provide two full-time staff persons to create and direct programs about Canton issues and affairs.

And who would "advise" these staffers on their programming? A "Canton Citizens Advisory Committee" comprised of representatives from the community, including the township government.

It's not too hard to imagine that the advisory committee would have considerable influence over the slant of the shows produced by Omnicom. Maybe not to the extent of the imaginary letter printed above, but I wouldn't trust such a set-up, especially since Omnicom would be licensed to operate by the township. There's not a newspaper in the country which needs a license from the government to publish.

Politicians and the media shouldn't mix. To insure objective reporting, free comment, and an educated public, an adversary relationship between the two is necessary.

I welcome cable television in Canton and in the rest of the community, especially local programming. But I don't welcome an advisory committee that could easily end up as a censorship board for Township Hall sealots.

A THEATRICAL TROUPE REHEARSING IN DETROIT

Hillmer's photos captured the way we were

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

The Starkweather-Hiller families recorded the lifestyles and peoples of Plymouth long before it became fashionable.

Two examples of these early records recently became available. A copy of a handwritten book by Mary Kezia Starkweather Hillmer, who compiled the family tree in 1947, was given to the Plymouth Historical Society by Dr. and Mrs. Max Hillmer from Tiffin, Ohio last Sunday.

Secondly, photographs of Plymouth from its earliest days are shown here. They were taken by Davis Bradley Hillmer whose family roots date back to the earliest days when Plymouth was first settled.

tell it to Phyllis

Making a gang of neighborhood kids happy on a boring summer evening is no trick at all when you agree to take a group of them to the movies. Of course, it takes a slightly insane person to make such an agreement.

It's a good way to get on the best side of your neighbors, as they look forward to a quiet evening (at least a couple of hours) without the kids around.

Piling the kids and myself into the car was no easy feat, but with seven determined kids it only took about 30 seconds to decide who was going to sit where. I must have looked like a mother duck, with all her little ducklings lined up behind her as we waited in line to purchase our tickets.

Once we made it through the mass confusion at the popcorn counter, our next goal was finding eight seats together. The two older girls found a row of six seats, with two seats in the row behind it. At the age of 12 there's nothing worse than being seen sitting next to your mother at the movies.

Finally, after playing musical seats for five minutes, everyone settled down next to their favorite friend at the moment, and the movie began.

Knowing that the movie was rated PG (parental guidance suggested), I heard there were a couple of swear words used in the movie and that was the reason for the rating. It was a funny show and the kids really enjoyed the car racing scenes, but the person who told me about the language, forgot to tell me that those couple of swear words were used more than once throughout the movie.

When something funny was said, I laughed, then looked down the row of kids to see what their reaction was. They did the same thing -- they laughed, then looked at me to see what my reaction was.

Back in the car, after the show, the kids discussed all the funny, exciting things that happened. Then the older kids turned to the younger ones and said, "Remember, you can't say those words. It's okay to use them in the movies, but you can't say them in real life."

I wonder how the kids explained the movie to their parents. I haven't heard many complaints from the neighbors, but none of them have suggested I take the kids to the show again either.

Plymouth Community Arts Council members are also starting to get some things organized for the Fall Festival. The group is in charge of the arts and crafts show, held each year at Central Middle school.

With plans to expand the student booth at the show this year, the PCAC is looking for students in fourth grade or above who are interested in making crafts and earning some extra money.

Whatever your specialties (macrame, wood crafts, sculpture, paintings, prints or needlework), make them to sell at the student booth. Besides, it's a great way for moms to keep kids busy during the summer. For more information call 453-8051 or 453-8931.

Plymouth students attending Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp in Twin Lake are: Andrea Fechter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Fechter of Evergreen; Barbara Olender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Olender of Sutherland; and Lissa Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Potter of Adams. Andrea is majoring in band; while Barbara and Lissa are majoring in orchestra.

At 8 p.m., the troupe will present "To Kill A Mockingbird," based on the story by Harper Lee.

Both performances are free, however persons are asked to pick up tickets in advance at the following locations: First United Methodist Church; Dave's Carpet Service; Emma's Restaurant; Hands-On Leather Shop; Wiltse's Community Pharmacy; Detroit Edison Office in Plymouth; and, Jerry's Bicycles.

Let's Talk
Real Estate

by Barbara M. Olson

Today most mortgages are amortized loans. What this means is this: the borrower is required to make a fixed periodic payment, usually monthly. The payments include interest (and in some instances, taxes and insurance), as well as reduction of the principal of the mortgage debt after each payment. During the early years of repayment, a large share of each payment is for interest. As the borrower keeps paying, however, a smaller share of each payment is for interest and a larger share is available for repayment of capital.

The staff at REALTY WORLD-COLONIAL VILLAGE INC., 42142 Ford Rd., Canton, 455-7790 is ready to assist you in the solutions of your real estate problems whether they involve financing or another aspect of the transaction. Bert retires coffee pot

After 31 and one-half years of serving coffee from behind the counter, veteran waitress Bert Allen is retiring.

Bert is the familiar face who pours steaming cups of coffee for the many caffeine addicts who frequent the downtown Plymouth diner. She is also a strong believer in people.

"People make the difference in business. Robots can serve coffee. But if you sell yourself, you can sell anything," she says firmly in the soft Southern drawl she's retained since moving to Michigan in the 1940's.

Born Bertha McGee in the farming community of Ripley, Oklahoma (population 300), she was the fifth child of six. After growing up, she came to Detroit. In her first job as a trouble-shooter for a telephone company, she faced "walls and walls of electrical equipment."

While considering that job in retrospect, she offers this stern advice: "If you're not doing what you like -- change jobs," she says.

After her husband, Fred, returned from military service, they moved to Plymouth. "When we traveled through Plymouth, I always thought it was a quaint little village," she recalls. Soon afterward, she began waitressing and juggled work with raising their three children, Ron, Cheryl, and Carolyn.

Since her arrival in Plymouth, Bert has seen Plymouth "explode" with new people, new homes, and new businesses. Even though the area has been growing rapidly, she remembers the way things used to be.

She remembers when coffee was a nickel a cup. "Heavens, people squalked and squalked when it went up to a dime," she says.

She remembers when milk was sold in the quarts -- not by the half-gallon -- as it is today.

Most of all, she remembers the people who have become "regulars" at the diner. "I've seen so many kids grow up right in front of my very eyes," she says. Or, she tells stories similar to this one:

"There was a grouchy old man who came in to buy a quart of milk everyday. No one could get him to smile, but I watched him for five or six months and kept talking to him. Pretty soon, he started talking to me."

"Live every moment," she says. That's the clue to her success as a waitress. "Wake up each day and enjoy every moment. Don't keep thinking ahead and worrying about what will happen when you get off work."

There's an introspective side to Bert's lively personality. "People turn me on -- I like them, but I don't have enough time to be alone. I miss the time to meditate," she says.

Bert claims that perma-press clothes have taken over our lives. She explains: "I used to do my ironing in the basement and it was a good time to be by myself and think." Now, she laments the fact that perma-press clothes mean no more ironing.

Her leisurely retirement days will be spent catching up -- on housework, reading, sewing, and some traveling.

"I'll miss Cloverdale's -- it's like one big family," she says, referring to both the regular customers and her coworkers. She'll celebrate her retirement at a party Friday afternoon.

Her coffee arm which has brandished thousands of coffee pots over the years, will, hopefully, remain strong. Although Bert limits herself to one cup of Sanka each morning (she doesn't like regular coffee), her husband does enjoy his cup of brew.

Mary Hillmer tells her story

The Starkweather family arrived here in 1825. William Starkweather, his wife Kezia, and son Albert Oscar "slept the first night under a great elm tree and made a shanty of saplings covered with bark," writes Mary Hillmer.

According to Mary's account, "Kezia was the first white woman in what is now known as the Northville, Plymouth, Canton area."

George Anson, the seventh son of William and Kezia Starkweather, was born on Feb. 20, 1826 in Plymouth. He was a farmer, merchant, lawyer, schoolmaster, state legislator, Justice of the Peace, township-supervisor, and president of the village, wrote Mary in her diary.

After his death in 1907, his friends changed Oak Street in Old Village to Starkweather Street in his honor.

George had three daughters before he died, but no sons. His eldest daughter, Mary, married Louis Hillmer. Their five children were Karl, Max, Rose, Gertrude, and Davis.

Once again, a stroll through Old Village today will reveal the Starkweather tradition in the name of a second street there. Karmada Street was named by combining the names of Louis and Mary's three sons, Karl, Max, and Davis.

To continue the Starkweather name, Karl Starkweather Hillmer changed his name to Karl Hillmer Starkweather in the early 1900's.

Louis and Mary's son, Davis, worked as a professional photographer for the Hudson Company for more than 40 years before his retirement in the late 1960's.

His photographs of Plymouth and its people are tangible reminders of the local heritage and the way we were.

Cavell named new Canton golf coach

BY PATTY RADZIK

There will be a big change in Casey Cavell's life this coming fall. That change includes going from high-top gym shoes to spiked street shoes, muggy gymnasiums to the fresh outdoors and from basketball to golf clubs.

After a five-year stint as the Plymouth Canton boys varsity basketball coach, Cavell resigned from his basketball position in 1977.

This fall Cavell will be back on the Canton coaching staff as the head coach of the boys' golf team.

Cavell will replace John Crossen, Canton's coach since the school opened in 1972. Crossen coached the Salem squad the year before that and then moved to Canton, leaving Bob Waters with the Salem position.

According to Cavell, a 17-year Plymouth-Canton school district teaching veteran, the change in sports will be a welcome one.

"I haven't coached golf but I've played the game for years and have really enjoyed it," said Cavell. "It's (golf) not a year-round sport like basketball is. That's why I left basketball, because it was too time consuming."

Cavell went on to say that the big difference in switching from basketball to golf is in coaching an individual sport rather than a team sport like basketball.

"There will be a lot more teaching involved in golf than there was in basketball," said Cavell.

Cavell's main goal for this season is to lead the Chief linksters to their Western Six League title.

Sparked by returning letter-winners Dave Visser, Scott Adler, John Mathews and Kirk Rasmussen Cavell's goal may not be too difficult to attain.

"We have a good chance of winning the league title this year because there is a lot of experience in the club. If everything goes right, we will be contenders for a state title," commented Cavell.

The Canton squad plays all of its home matches at Brae Burn Golf Course in Plymouth Township and will start its season on Monday, Sept. 10 against Livonia Churchill.

Neu scores first 'ace'

Jim Neu, a 13-year old entering his freshman year at Salem High School, fired his first perfect golf shot Saturday on the seventh hole at Burroughs Farm in Brighton.

The 95-yard, par-3 hole was pounced upon by Neu with an eight iron and helped Neu in breaking 40 on the nine-hole round. The final score of 39 was only six over par and gave Neu the winning honor over his out-of-town counterparts.

Jim's ace was the second in the Neu family. Brother Rob earned his hole-in-one four years ago on the longer 18-hole layout at Burroughs Farm. The yardage on the shorter course measures 1,915 yards.

JOHN MATHEWS is one of the reasons why Casey Cavell thinks the Canton boys golf will have a successful season this year. Cavell is taking the Canton club over from former coach John Crossen.

Sign up for Sweetcorn run

The 129 runners that entered in the annual Fourth of July Five Mile Run sponsored by the Plymouth Jaycees will be glad to know that they will have a chance to improve on their times next month in the "Sweetcorn Festival Five Mile Run" on Sunday, Aug. 12.

The race is sponsored by the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department and the Canton Chamber of Commerce and is scheduled to start at Township Hall building, wind down Proctor, Beck and Cherry Hill Roads, and end at Griffin Park, a straight five mile jog down Canton Center Road.

The racing field is open to anyone 10 years old and over and each participant will receive a special T-shirt for competing. Winners of each age division will be awarded trophies.

Race time is slated for 1:30 p.m. and all participants should report to the starting grounds no later than 1 p.m. the day of the race.

Age classifications are broken down into six groups for both men and women. Junior runners are divided into 10-13 year olds and 14-18 year olds and seniors are divided 19-25, 26-34, 35-45 and 45 and over.

To register, send in the official registration form to the Park and Recreation Department or sign up in person at the Parks and Recreation office at 1150 S. Canton Center Rd. Checks should be made out to Canton Township. The registration fee is $4.

For more information on the race contact Bob Dates, program coordinator for the Parks and Recreation Department at 397-1000.

Wind up your pitching arm for the softball tournament at Griffin Park in Canton from Aug. 16 through 19. All proceeds will be donated to the muscular dystrophy fund.

A total of 48 teams will be able to play this year, said Don Nash, a tournament organizer. In the men's division Class C for those who pitch 500 or less, 36 teams can enter. To play, each team must pay a $65 entry fee, pay a $6 umpire fee per game, and provide a game ball. Women's teams are also encouraged to enter.

One highlight of the four-day tournament will pit the Detroit Red Wings all stars against the Canton Township Firefighters in an exhibition game on Saturday, Aug. 18.

Included in the Red Wing lineup will be Nick Libbett, Paul Woods, Willie Huber, Jimmy Rutherford, Rogie Vachon, Terry Harper, Bobby Kromm, and Ted Lindsey.

Dr. Jack Falvo of Canton is the director of the tournament. Team and individual trophies will be awarded to the winners at the close of the tournament. A sportsmanship trophy will also be given out.

To enter your team or find out more about the tournament, call 453-8637 or 453-9149. You can also call Mike Gouin, Canton Township recreation director, at 397-1000.

Betty's Bench

BY BETTY DeLANO

Right about now the excitement of summer vacation and being out of school for three months is being replaced by a restless feeling of boredom for kids to young to work and to old to spend the day sleeping.

Besides being a sports writer I spend a lot of time babysitting.

Eastern Michigan University ends its winter semester in early spring so I get a jump on my college friends in the job market. But this past spring I ended up babysitting for two infants, one newborn and one that had reached the terrible twos one year early.

Now that both of their mothers have their days free (they teach at Canton High School) I have taken a job sitting for a nine-year-old. I now know how mothers feel when their little darlings can't find anything else to do besides tear the house apart.

I shouldn't gripe because Ron lives in Canton Township and is fortunate to have the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department to sponsor contests and events at the playgrounds located in many Canton subdivisions.

Throughout the summer the playground supervisors run tournaments and games that the kids can win prizes and compete against each other on a friendly basis. The Parks and Recreation Department also sponsors contests like the "Youth Superstars" contest held Saturday, the Canton Township Junior Olympics on July 19 and a Rotten Sneaker contest that is scheduled for July 27.

Moms can send their kids to playgrounds during the morning hours between 9:30 and 12:30 at Windsor Park East, Pickwick, and Fiegel school and to Windsor Park West, Pickwick and Fiegel from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

From 1 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. Griffin Park, Stonegate-Wagonwheel, Canterbury Mews and Canton Commons Parks are supervised. In Carriage Hills the Paul Revere and Hanridge Parks are open from 1 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. on an alternating schedule along with the Willows East and West Parks.

With the nine different parks open to the kids during the days and the contests run by Parks and Recreation, the only time the kids have an excuse to rip up the house is on the weekends and when it rains. Let's hope for a dry summer.

Canton Parks & Rec. names Youth Superstars

July 11, 1979
THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Boys and girls numbering around 65 gathered at Griffin Park Saturday to participate in the first annual "Youth Superstars" contest sponsored by the Canton parks and Recreation Department.

Competing in seven different events, the object of the contest was to find out who was the best young athlete in the Canton area in various age groups. Age divisions were nine years old and under, 10-12 years old and 13-15 years old. Trophies were awarded to boys and girls taking first place in each age division and second and third place finishers received ribbons for the efforts.

Working on a 10 points system, first place finishers got 10 points, second place received seven points, third got five, fourth place got three and fifth place finishers got one point to add to their total score. The highest point total in each age group was the winner.

The seven events included basketball shooting from five different areas of the court, basketball dribbling, frisbee throwing, golf, the 50-yard dash, soccer and baseball.

Top finishers who now hold "superstar" titles are given below as well as the top five contestants in each event.

The contest was supervised by Parks and Recreation Department program coordinator Bob Dates. Help was also rendered by playground attendants that work at different parks in the Canton area during the week.

The Germans need not settle for second best when it comes to wine making. Their grape of renown is the Riesling and most of the great, sweet, white German wines are made from it. But, the Germans continue to experiment with their grape growing and wine making techniques. Some of the new varieties of grapes being tried in their sweet white wines are Muller-Thurgau and Kerner. Some experts say that these sweet wines, though good, do not match the strength of the Rieslings, but give them a try for yourself.

With the CHEESE & WINE BARN, 515 Forest Ave., at your service, you need never settle for second best. stop in today even if only to say hello and take a look around. ## Horwood tops team voting

BY PATTY RADZIK

Plymouth Salem junior Nan Horwood was recently voted the Most Valuable Player on the Salem varsity softball team for the 1979 season.

Beside being honored by her teammates as the squad's MVP, Horwood was also the recipient of one of four awards given by Coach Livi Way. Horwood was named as the Offensive Player of the Year for her consistent hitting and aggressiveness in running bases.

"As the lead-off batter Horwood has been very consistent in getting hits and was always a threat on base," said Way.

Defensively, Horwood sparked the Rocks from behind the plate as the team's No. 1 catcher.

Other awards given by Way were presented to Cathy Gardner for Defensive Player of the Year, Denise Zonca for Rookie of the Year and Doris Hoelscher received the coaches award.

Hoelscher received the coaches award for being the only four-year letter winner on the squad. Hoelscher played leftfield this season.

Gardner played second base and Zonca saw action from a number of positions ranging from catcher to outfield.

Pitcher Jan Boyd and shortstop Becky Crespo recently collected medals after being named to the first team of the Suburban Eight All-League teams.

JAN BOYD was the strength of the Salem softball team's pitching staff this season and earned Suburban Eight All League recognition along with shortstop Becky Crespo.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH BOARD OF TRUSTEES - REGULAR MEETING TUESDAY, JUNE 26, 1979

The meeting of the Charter Township of Plymouth Board of Trustees was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by Supervisor Notebaert followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. All members were present.

Mrs. Fidge moved approval of the Minutes of the Regular Meeting of the Board of Trustees for June 12, 1979 as corrected. Supported by Mrs. Lynch and carried unanimously.

Mr. Breen moved approval of the Minutes of the Special Meeting of June 14, 1979 as revised. Supported by Mrs. Fidge and carried unanimously.

Mrs. Hulsing moved approval of the bills for General Fund and Water and Sewer in the amount of $125,712.90. Supported by Mr. West and passed unanimously on a roll call vote.

Mr. Breen moved approval of the agenda as presented. Supported by Mrs. Lynch and carried unanimously.

Mr. O'Reilly from the Lake Pointe Homeowner's Association brought to the attention of the Board of Trustees the Lake Pointe Homeowners Association's wish to enclose the overpass at Robinwood and the I-96 Expressway to protect the children using it. The Lake Pointe Homeowners had been advised that contracts were to be let in the spring for the construction of said protection or barrier.

Mr. Notebaert reported that he was in contact with Mr. Cox, District Engineer for this area, who had assured him that the letting for the contract will be in July and the work should be done between mid-September and early October.

The Lake Pointe Homeowner's Association wished consideration be given to having a bike path installed on Wilcox Road between Haggerty Road and Hines Drive.

Mr. Law commented that a Public Hearing was to be held on July 14, 1979 at 10:00 a.m. at the Recreational Park after which the Planning Commission will establish priorities in the building of bike paths.

Mr. O'Reilly suggest that the Board of Trustees look into the availability of the former Church Building now being used by the State Highway Department for Community use.

Mr. Notebaert reported that he has been advised by Mr. Winter, Manager of Excess Property of the State Highway Department will notify the Township when the highway Department is ready to dispose of the building.

Mr. O'Reilly urged the Board to consider acquisition of any parcel of land that becomes available along the expressway from Haggerty Road west to Five Mile and Northville Road. Mr. Notebaert went over the proposed property available with Mr. O'Reilly and the Board of Trustees as to what parcels the township has reservations for acquisition. Mr. Notebaert explained we do have the right of first refusal on a surplus owned by the highway department after SEMTA or another regional or federal agency.

The Lake Pointe Homeowner's Association would like the Township to consider planting trees on the Farrand School property -- Mr. Notebaert advised Mr. O'Reilly that usually this is the responsibility of the School Board.

Mr. Breen remembered that a prior Township Board had set aside money in its budget to cooperate with areas interested in landscaping schools in a residential setting. The money had not been used. The approval of such a project generally comes from the particular school's principal. Both Mr. O'Reilly and Mr. Notebaert were asked to confer with Mr. Gibson.

Mr. West moved that the Board of Trustees approve application No. 454 pertaining to the Land Split on the south side of North Territorial Road just West of Beck Road. Supported by Mrs. Hulsing. Roll Call: Ayes: Law, Hulsing, West, Lynch, Notebaert. Nays: Breen, Fidge. Motion carried 5-2.

He presented a copy of his proposal to the Board.

Mr. Morrison of Accountant's Computer Services presented several possible programs. Before his company could give a complete proposal they would have to interview all personnel and departments involved.

Mr. West presented his proposals from the banks. He did not have the information in written form but will have it in thirty days as the banks provide the finished drafts.

Mr. Notebaert appointed Mr. Breen, Mrs. Lynch and himself to a Committee to analyze the different proposals to be reported back to the Board on July 10, 1979. He directed this item to be tabled to the next regular meeting July 10, 1979.

Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Carried unanimously.
