Hospitals plan health center for Plymouth area

An outpatient health care center may be built for residents from the Plymouth area.

According to Sister Mary Columbine, president of St. Mary Hospital, two hospitals have signed an agreement to work toward developing an ambulatory health care center.

"There's definitely a need for such a facility," she said. The clinic would provide services in various specialties, as well as educational programs for outpatients. St. Mary Hospital of Livonia and Henry Ford Hospital of Detroit have agreed to the cooperative pact.

The size, location, and specific details about the services to be offered in the facility haven't been decided yet, said the president. It would be developed for residents from the Livonia-Plymouth area.

The center would provide care for non-emergency and follow-up patients and a group practice setting for physicians. The Henry Ford Hospital system includes two ambulatory care satellites, Fairlane Center in Dearborn and West Bloomfield Center.

"Our goal is to provide accessible, quality patient care services in appropriate settings. By sharing resources, duplication of services and equipment are reduced; the growth in technology has made it impractical for one institution to do it all. Also, the economy and regulation within the health care field are conducive for health-care providers to closely assess their planning and seek ways to work with each other," said Alan Case, a spokesperson for the Henry Ford Hospital.

St. Mary Hospital is a 335-bed institution operated by the Felician Sisters. It's located on Five Mile Road at Levan Road within a 200-acre complex that includes Madonna College.

The Henry Ford Hospital system includes a 1,000-bed hospital and clinic complex on West Grand Boulevard in Detroit and two major ambulatory care satellites in Dearborn and West Bloomfield.

Don't forget. Tuesday, June 3 at 4 p.m. is the deadline to file for various county, state, and township posts.

To run for the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, Wayne County Charter Commission, state House of Representatives, or U.S. House of Representatives, you can file at the City-County Building, Woodward at Jefferson, Detroit, room 207.

If you want to pay a $100 fee to enter the charter commission race (instead of circulating petitions), the filing deadline is Friday, May 30. For more information about filing, call the county clerk, 224-5525.

In Plymouth and Canton townships, all seven seats on each township board of trustees are up for grabs in the Aug. 5 primary. Each board consists of four trustees, and a supervisor, treasurer, and clerk.

To pick up petitions, call Plymouth Township Clerk Esther Hulsing, 453-3840, or Canton Township Clerk John Flodin, 397-1000. Terms are for four years each.

If you run, call The Crier

The Community Crier will provide complete election coverage in the upcoming races for various state, county, and township posts.

Residents who are running for office are asked to drop off a resume and black-and-white photo to The Crier as soon as possible.

A call beforehand to say you are dropping by will help. Ask for Chas Child, Patricia Bartold, or Dan Bodene. The Crier office is located at 1226 S. Main St., Plymouth.

The filing deadline is June 3, 4 p.m.

Culbert to seek re-election to supervisor post

BY CHAS CHILD

Supervisor Noel Culbert has declared his candidacy for re-election to the job he's held for two years.

If re-elected, Culbert said his primary goal will be to "promote industrial development in Canton.

"Although this is a goal of every administration, including the present one, we found it necessary to first provide the things industry wanted in order to relocate in Canton -- those being additional water mains and additional sewer capacity," he said.

Culbert said his administration has accomplished, among other things, the following things while in office:

1) "obtained a moratorium from the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) on low-income housing;

2) "forced the City of Detroit Water and Sewerage Commission to commence the construction of the Stark Road water main in Livonia. This water main is vital to water pressure in the township and future industrial growth.

3) "enacted a new zoning ordinance and master land-use plan for the township;

4) "increased police protection; and

5) "obtained a commitment from SEMTA for additional mass transit, including a commuter rail project in the south end of the township."

Besides increased industrial development, Culbert also hopes to provide more recreation for township residents. Recreation programs are "vital to Canton residents but their implementation depend on the state of the economy and on the status of various state and federal grants," he said.

"From the administrative standpoint, it is my desire to provide more efficient government and to look for ways to implement this," he added. "I believe the present administration has contributed significantly to the way of life of township residents and it is my wish to continue this."

Culbert, 33, married, with one child, lives at 1706 Woodbridge Ct. He's a member of the Canton Jaycees and a lawyer.

Headlee rollback Schools to lose 1.26 mills

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

The Plymouth-Canton schools will lose about $1,052,660 in revenue during the 1980-81 school year because of the millage rollback imposed by the Headlee Amendment. That figure represents 1.26 mills.

To recoup its loss, the school board is asking voters to let the district levy its authorized millage rate of 35.26 mills. If the proposition meets defeat Monday, June 9, the district's levy will be reduced to 34.00 mills; if OK'd, the district can levy 35.26 mills.

The amount of the millage rollback imposed by the Headlee Amendment has fluctuated over the past several months. Originally estimated to be 1.32 mills, the rollback figure grew to 1.69 mills about two weeks ago. Last week, it was reduced to 1.26 mills which is closer to its original 1.32 mill-estimate. One mill equals about $835,444 in revenue for the district.

The new rollback figure was called "the most accurate one from my estimates," said Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business in the school district. He said he didn't expect the rollback figure to change. The Wayne County Tax Allocation Board will set the rollback figure for each district throughout the county during the first week in June, he added.

Asked why the rollback figure has fluctuated, Hoedel replied, "There was an error somewhere in the system." A $10 million clerical error in addition was made by the county when the Plymouth-Canton tax assessments were added up, he said.

A second proposition is also on the June 9 ballot. It asks voters to approve an $11 million bond issue. Projects to be paid for from the issue include: boiler repairs; roof repairs and replacement; asphalt repairs; barrier-free projects; building maintenance; and installing an energy management system.

For a homeowner with a $60,000 house, the bond would cost about $32.10 during the first year of the proposal in increased taxes. A homeowner with an $80,000 home would pay an additional $42.80 in taxes; a homeowner with a $100,000 home would pay an increase of $53.50 per year.

What will happen if both propositions fail June 9? School officials have estimated the district will face as high as a $3.2 million deficit in the coming school year if one or both of the propositions fail.

To compensate for the deficit, officials have started making preliminary lists of cuts to be made. Those cutbacks include: not hiring additional teachers for student growth; reducing funds for maintenance; delaying the bus replacement program; reducing funds for teaching supplies; reducing the number of athletic programs.

Cutbacks also depend on the state aid formula, the number of students enrolled next year, and the amount of the executive order cutback imposed by Gov. Milliken.

City ordered to stop Salem Twp. landfill pollution

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: May 28, 1980

The City of Plymouth has until June 1 to repair its former landfill in Salem Township and stop ammonia-laden pollution from seeping into nearby ground water.

That deadline was given by the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) in a letter to the city dated March 26. After reviewing the site at Five Mile and Chubb roads and testing for pollutants, the DNR ordered the city to take the following steps:

- * pack clay around portions of the landfill where contaminants are seeping out;
- * seed eroded areas of the landfill;
- * eliminate ponding at the site by grading and filling;
- * clean and repair, if necessary, the drainage pipe that runs from east to west through the landfill;
- * secure the gas dissipation pipes on the site against vandalism.

The city operated the dump from before 1956 until about 1971.

Joe Bida, former Plymouth mayor who headed the city DPW during the years the dump was in operation, said it was closed once the city switched from its own garbage collection to having the contractor haul city trash. "It got too costly to maintain," he said.

"Salem was giving us a rough go. Washtenaw County (Board of Health) was giving us trouble, too," Bida said. "They were claiming there was seepage into the ground and was causing the creeks to smell.

"We had neighbors over there giving us hell about the smell, too," he added.

"In the end we were actually running it for the convenience of Salem Township," Bida said, because the city garbage contractor was dumping the garbage elsewhere while Salem residents got free dumping privileges.

CITY Manager Henry Graper said he would proceed with measures to solve the problems after a meeting scheduled with representatives of the following agencies: The DNR, the operator of the former dump, the Washtenaw County Drain Commission, and the Washtenaw County Health Department.

Because the Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner may further request corrective measures, said Graper, he wants to wait and do the work all at once.

Larry AuBuchon, of the DNR's Resource Recovery Division, said the pollutants seeping out of the landfill present no immediate health emergency. There were no heavy metals or industrial wastes found in the samples the DNR tested of the pollution escaping from the site -- called "leachate," he said.

"Imagine filling your bathtub with household garbage and letting it soak for a long time -- that's what leachate is like," said Tom Blessing, Washtenaw County's Drain Commissioner. The leachate is high in ammonia, said AuBuchon.

The Washtenaw Drain Commissioner is involved because a county drain runs right through the landfill from west to east. The leachate, though, is not seeping out of this drain, which is covered, said AuBuchon. The leachate is leaving the landfill on its western edge, he said.

Although the DNR has taken some tests, Blessing said more testing of ground water in the area needs to be done. "It's one thing to know there is leachate and it's another to know the extent of the problem," he said.

The City of Plymouth would be responsible for this testing, which could be expensive, he added.

The corrective work requested by the DNR, said Graper, will probably be paid for out of a $5,000 performance bond held by the city. This bond was posted by the firm which closed the landfill about 10 years ago, he said.

A complaint lodged by a resident near the landfill prompted the DNR to test the site, said AuBuchon.

AN OMINOUS GURGLING and a strong stench emanate from this grate-covered drain hole as the creek flows out from under the dump site.

Dump was meeting place

For the last two decades, the biggest weekly held social event in Salem Township has been Saturday morning at the dump. -- From the early days when the City of Plymouth operated its landfill at Chubb and Five Mile roads (see related story) to the currently operated Holloway Construction dump at Napier and Six Mile roads, the weekly necessity of disposing of garbage made Saturday mornings into a ritual of neighborly cooperation and gossip.

Candidates have even been known to stump for votes in the heart of the dump as residents with trunksful of grass clippings and trash bags nuzzle in between huge municipal garbage trucks.

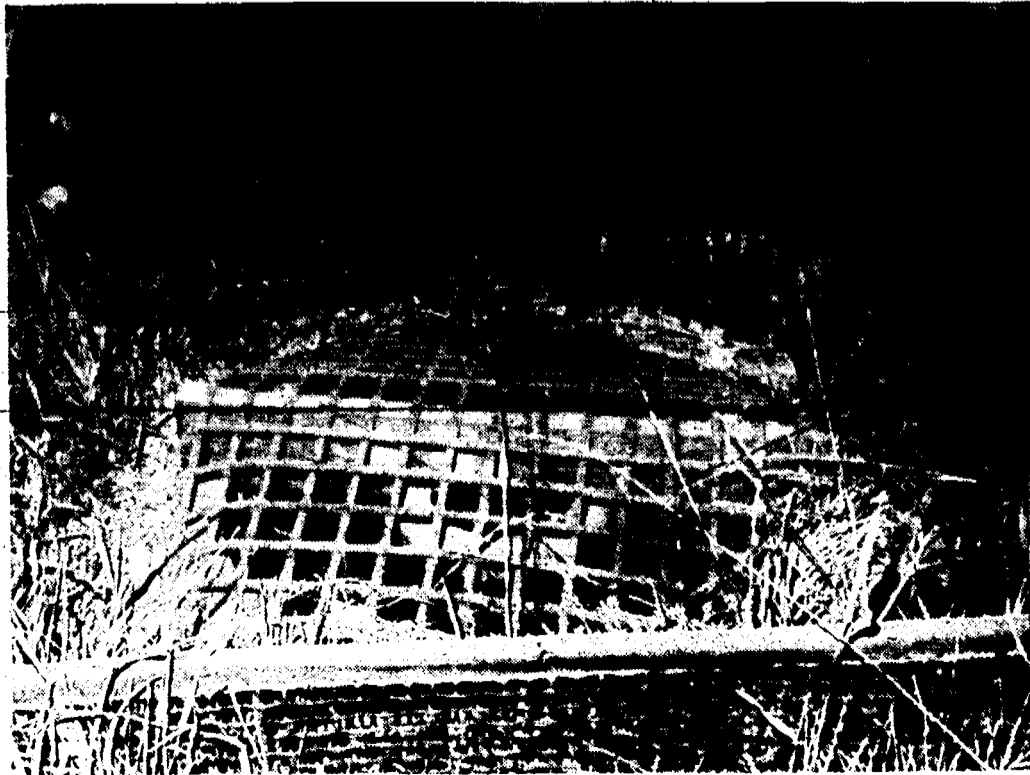

Salemites have been told by their township board that the tradeoff for concerns about hosting such dumping was free privileges for township residents. Additionally, the Holloway dump -- which is now becoming a mountain of trash -- will be turned over to the township as a recreation site for downhill skiing, says the board.

On occasion, the Salem dumps have become political issues but never disrupted the Salem board's determination to allow dumping in the township.

And so, the dumping goes on in Salem.

While their community gets a reputation as the dumping grounds for several municipalities whose waste is disposed there, Salem residents continue to enjoy free dumping and a chance to see their neighbors every Saturday morning.

City OKs cop pact

A new police labor contract was unanimously approved last Tuesday night by the Plymouth City Commission.

The contract specified a total wage increase of 23 and one-half per cent and fringe benefit upgrade of nearly five per cent.

Fringe benefits included police optical insurance to be added to the current city program, longevity pay of $40 per year after five years, and a sick leave contract which stipulates a doctor's certificate may be required if abuse of sick leave is suspected. In such a case, the city would pick up the cost of such a certificate. Graper said that such a clause is standard in many types of labor contracts.

Also included in the fringe benefit package is a provision increasing short-term disability from $150 to $250 per week, and long term disability from $1,000 to a maximum of $1,500.

At the commission meeting, the issue of residency requirements for police officers was raised by Commissioner David Pugh. In response, Graper said that it would be discussed with the police. Residency was required years ago, but according to Graper, the requirement would be impossible to reinstate without an incentive program.

Graper also said that in the future, it may not be necessary to employ the services of a labor relations attorney, adding the city would make every effort to maintain dialogue with its employees to prevent the type of contract troubles which have plagued the signing of the police agreement.

City Attorney Charles Lowe commented, "Don't call it an end when the contract is negotiated -- it is just the beginning."

Kidston loses school post

The administrative contract for Brian Kidston, assistant principal at Central Middle School, has not been renewed by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

That action, taken in a special meeting held Monday, was the result of a hearing held Thursday night to consider the termination.

According to School Board President Tom Yack, Kidston was given an unsatisfactory evaluation and put on an assistance program to help him. Kidston, however, refused to participate in the program and was judged "insubordinate," said Yack.

"I am not insubordinate," said Kidston. Furthermore, he said secret files were used to justify his firing. He said some complaints cited against him could not be found in his personnel file. There were "complaints about my performance," but they were not on file, he said.

He did not participate in the program of assistance set up for him because the school board didn't tell him why he should participate, he said. In his brief from his attorneys, he said he was "only given broad vague generalizations."

Legally, he is entitled to the answers he has requested and if those answers indicate that a program of assistance is needed, he will be happy to participate, the brief continued.

In August, 1979, the school board denied a grievance filed by Kidston.

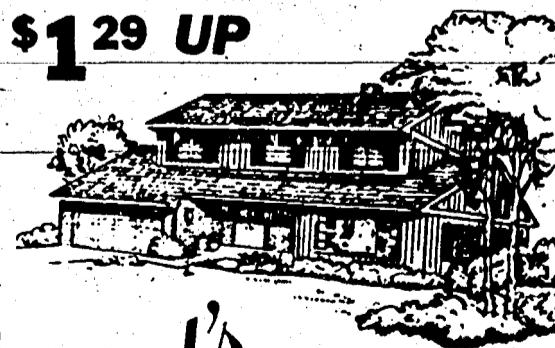

Kidston's contract will be terminated at the end of the school year. He can appeal the board's decision to Circuit Court or he can apply to the Plymouth-Canton schools for a teaching post, said Yack.

Because of his tenure as a teacher, the board would have to honor his rights to a job, said Yack.

Kidston, who has a doctorate in education, has worked in the school district since 1973.

News on New Items

Watch for a white Zinfandel. It's a delightful light wine quite unlike the robust Red Zinfandel.

Michigan is producing some outstanding wines which are ready to drink now. These include Cabernet Sauvignon, Pinot Noir and Chardonnay. When you come in, we'll direct you to the brand name we think is most enjoyable.

Two new cheeses are coming in. Havarti with dill and a new brand of Italian Fontina. The Havarti is a tasty mild cheese perked up with the refreshing flavor of dill. The Fontina is mild and soft yet creamy and some what firm. It's delicious!

All the wines mentioned above go very well with the new cheeses.

Canton hikes fire training after critical letter

BY CHAS CHILD

An anonymous letter claiming that Canton's fire vehicles are in poor repair has apparently caused snow-balling hard feelings between Canton's firefighters' union and the township administration.

Written anonymously, the letter said that many township fire vehicles were not being maintained properly and that the oil in one ambulance had not been changed for so long that it was in danger of damaging the vehicle's engine.

The anonymous writer, who claimed to be a Canton fireman, said Canton Fire Chief Mel Paulun was to blame.

Shortly after the Board of Trustees received the letter, Supervisor Noel Culbert visited Fire Station No. 2 and said he was "irritated" by what he saw: one fireman sleeping, one reading, and three watching television.

Although the visit was made around 2 p.m., after the time set aside for the firefighters' training and chores, Culbert said, "It didn't sit too well with me."

In response, Culbert ordered the firemen to start special training sessions in the afternoon.

Dave Hamilton, president of the Canton firefighters union, said these extra training sessions are prohibited by their contract. Culbert says otherwise.

The extra training sessions are "harassment in return for the letter," said Hamilton.

The contract covering the extra training says, "Ordinary housekeeping and normal training functions are completed between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. This does not restrict specialized training which may be scheduled at appropriate times."

Culbert said he ordered training for such things as emergencies like tornadoes, chemical explosions, and mass evacuations. "If the Kalamazoo tornado touched down here, would they be prepared?" he said.

The only afternoon training the firefighters have done so far, however, has consisted of reading routine training manuals, said Hamilton.

Moreover, the anonymous letter, said Hamilton, was not necessarily written by a firefighter. "It could have been written by anyone," he said. After all, "it's a political year," he added.

As for Culbert's surprise visit, Hamilton said, "A fireman is here for 24 hours. He can't stare at the telephone all day. You're free to do what you want as long as it's not written that you can't."

Asked whether the union was planning to file a formal grievance over the afternoon training exercises, Hamilton said, "No comment."

"There are ways to resolve these things," added Hamilton. "Culbert hasn't said 'boo' to me. Let's sit down and talk. We want to sit down and talk."

Besides the special afternoon training sessions, Culbert also ordered, after consulting Fire Chief Paulun, the following steps: every fire vehicle will be inspected thoroughly every day at 8 a.m.; each vehicle will have a sticker placed on its dash which states the date and mileage of its last oil change; and, three mock disasters will be held this summer, one for each shift.

"Repeated practice of firefighting techniques will be performed until the proper skills are automatic," said Culbert.

"They're good firefighters and good employees," added the supervisor. "However, everyone can always do better."

We need sea walls

EDITOR:

A few years ago I assumed that the resurfacing on N. Main St. would continue thru S. Main St. thus eliminating the destruction to pedestrians clothes as they walk the hazards of S. Main St. after a rain or snow. I might also mention the money wasted by the daily filling of pot-holes that last in most cases not even 24 hours (the asphalt ending up on the sidewalks and frontages of business places.)

I was told by City Hall there was no money left (for the particular project) and we would have to wait.

If this be the case I would like to suggest that the city approach the Army Corps of Engineers requesting the erection of sea walls similar to those constructed in the St. Clair Shores areas. This would lay the financial burden on the government, and give anybody walking on S. Main St. that much needed protection.

Chorus merits coverage

EDITOR:

It is amazing to me, and I am sure to most of an audience of almost 1,000, that not one word of picture appeared in your issue of the Crier of May 21 on the wonderful concert the Plymouth Chorus presented Sunday, May 18 at the Salem Auditorium. It was an event well worth your attention. No less a celebrity than Ted Strasser deemed the chorus important enough to narrate their program.

The chorus was organized seven years ago and for many years it was ignored by the press in our community. It started small, as all new community projects do, but now boasts 90 members. This alone should be newsworthy.

The chorus is a musical force in the Plymouth Community, as it should be. It has had many financially hard years but it has survived because of dedicated singers, conductors, a sympathetic school board, the administration at East Middle School, and most of all the business men who believed in them.

Along with the Plymouth Symphony and the Community Band we now have a full fledged chorus. Our area is indeed fortunate to have three such fine musical organizations.

WILLIAM J. GRIMMER

(Editor's note: The Crier tries to ensure equal coverage to all local clubs and organizations. To accomplish this goal, many groups have appointed publicity chairpersons who provide essential information on the concert or meeting to The Crier prior to the event. Such information, which includes the time, date, place, and the names of performers, speakers, or conductors, is passed on to our readership. In addition, The Crier staff sends a photographer or reporter to various events in the Plymouth-Canton Community as time permits.)

Do your part -- run for office

Although there's not much time left, interested citizens should still consider filing to run for local office.

All seven seats on both the Plymouth and Canton Township Boards of Trustees are up for grabs. And the terms of all 14 seats are for four years each. Since there won't be a chance to get new blood on the boards in two years, it's imperative that the best candidates step forward now.

Both townships will face growth problems soon, even though the economy is currently stifling home building. Those who want a voice in how to handle growth problems, and other public issues, should file.

The deadline for the township, county, and state races is June 3, 4 p.m.

With Malice Toward None

Please don't say, "If you can't lick them, join them." I've heard that enough from my colleagues.

This week I'll be filing as a candidate for the Wayne County Charter Commission. Yes, you read that right. The perennial cynic who accuses politicians of manure spreading is going to join in the folly.

It's a temptation of all mediafolk to jump into the fray after years of seeing thoughtful advice go unheeded and hearing "wounded" politicians respond with, "If you know so much, why don't you run?" If even Walter Cronkite can be tempted, why not me?

I won't use this paper's space to discuss why I'm running or what my platform is -- I'll buy ads and use my candidate statement like everyone else -- but I do want to clarify this foolhardy venture as it relates to my job at the newspaper.

This is my last "With Malice Toward None" to deal with the upcoming elections or with Wayne County government. From here on, such topics will be discussed on the editorial pages of The Crier by the other staff members here.

It's fair and important to separate my candidacy from our paper's role in covering county government. That's what I want and it's what our independent-minded editorial staffers want too.

As to a continuing role, if elected, as it relates to The Crier, I should point out that the Wayne County charter revision (if it's approved by the voters) will involve a one-shot stint by a charter commission which has no connection with the day-to-day operation of the county.

In fact, the charter commission should stay as much as possible above the political fray, and concentrate on the constitutional issues of good government. It is these issues, not partisan politics, that attracted me to the race.

This means simply that I'll no longer be involved in covering or editorializing on the county here.

The county task won't be easy. If anything, the time required there will hurt the paper by diverting my attention. But with our capable staff to handle things, it shouldn't affect The Crier much.

Be assured that the staffers will maintain the same skeptical approach towards office hopefuls -- including yours truly. This may be the chance they've been waiting for to blow the whistle on the boss's manure spreading.

Canton: add emergency numbers Ma Bell forgot

If you're one of the thousands of Michigan Telephone Bell customers living in Canton, there are two emergency numbers you should take a moment to add to your new phone book:

CANTON FIRE & RESCUE -- 981-1111
CANTON POLICE -- 397-3350
The "Plymouth Community Neighborhood Directory" recently released by Bell includes small areas of Northville, Salem and Superior townships, and Westland as well as Plymouth and Plymouth Township, but also most of Canton's population area as well.

Yet the two emergency numbers for Canton are not listed under emergency numbers on the directory's inside cover. (The Flat Rock State Police post is listed, however, in case you need it.)

While it's a welcome addition to have our own separate community phone book, you've got to wonder about the phone company's marketing strategy (where's the rest of Canton?) and certainly about the planning of the emergency numbers page.

If you're one of the Canton phone customers who got the book, please take a minute now to add the important numbers you might need in a hurry someday.

EDITOR:

Many, many thanks for letting our students see the various working rooms of a newspaper office and for introducing them to the variety of such a business, in terms of career awareness.

Your time and effort was especially appreciated. We literally had no place else to go -- and what a delightful chance-alternative you were! The enthusiasm and joy you exuded was felt by us all. Many of the students are now thinking about and reconsidering their once low esteemed placement of their English Classes!

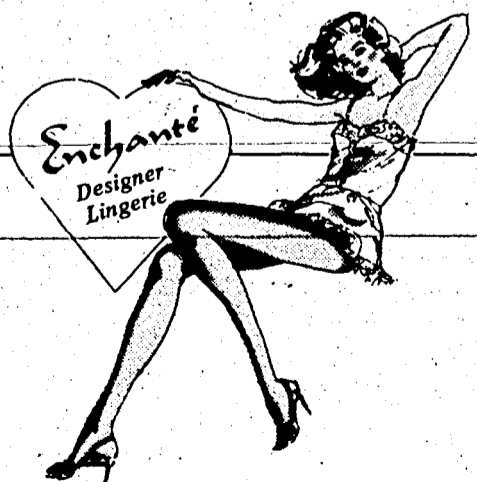

Indeed, you were a wonderful hostess! Thanks for caring enough, to give of yourself.

Local houses named landmark sites by AAUW

Two local historical sites were presented with landmark awards by the American Association of University Women (AAUW) last Wednesday, Heritage Day of Michigan Week.

The old hospital building at 218 S. Main, now occupied by a real estate company and the Hamilton-Moon house at 311 Hamilton St. were chosen by the AAUW Landmarks Committee as historical buildings and presented with bronze plaques.

Since 1973, the AAUW has presented plaques designating historical sites, with the cost donated by local groups in the community. This year's Landmark Committee included Chairman Carol Packard, Luan Brownlee, Elizabeth Gribble, Mary Kehoe, Donna Keough, Deborah Maloni, Nancy Mather, Susan Schrader, Virginia Warden, Prudence Westerhold and Camille Zornow. The markers were donated this year by the Plymouth Rotary Foundation and Kal and Jim Jabara.

According to Bob Bake, the house at 218 S. Main was built in 1890 by Thomas Patterson, an Irish immigrant, and constructed in the Victorian "Queen Anne" style. Patterson settled in the Livonia area in 1846 and became a prosperous builder and cement contractor. In 1889 he purchased the land for the house in Plymouth, in what was then a wealthy and influential neighborhood. With its bay windows, stained leaded glass, wide wooden moldings with bulls-eye trim and sliding doors, the house Patterson built for his family was similar to the elegant surroundings of his neighbors.

The house remained in the Patterson family until 1920 and then changed owners several times over the next nine years. Sold at bankruptcy proceedings, the house became bank property until 1932, when sisters Alma and Lena Weist rented the structure in order to build a hospital. On August 27 of that year, the Weist sisters opened the doors of the hospital. Lena, a trained nurse, was responsible for patient care while Alma supervised the business end of the venture.

Used by many local doctors and dentists, the building featured medical, surgical and maternity facilities. The hospital also handled emergency services, often free of charge.

After the death of Lena Weist in 1966, the hospital closed. Several years later, after Alma's death, the interior was found to still be fully equipped for medical care.

In 1978 the building was sold. Much work has been done to restore the house, including interior redecoration and a fresh coat of paint for the exterior.

Also honored by the AAUW committee was the Hamilton-Moon house at 311 Hamilton St., originally called Depot Street.

Built in 1874 by Clarence Hamilton in the Victorian "Gothic" style, the building at one time housed two families, the Clarence Hamiltons and his son, Coella, and his family. In 1888 Hamilton invented and patented the air rifle which the Daisy Air Rifle Co. manufactured in Plymouth. Ten years later, he sold his interest in Daisy and built a factory across from his home, where his company manufactured an inexpensive type of .22 caliber rifle.

In 1926 the house was remodeled to return it to a one-family unit following the death of Coella's mother.

Coella Hamilton lived in the house until his death in 1967. The next year, the house was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Helmer, the second family to own the house in 94 years. Minor changes were made, including a new roof, the addition of a laundry room and some redecorating.

The latest owners of the home are Mr. and Mrs. William Moon, who had often been guests of the Hamiltons.

Today, the house boasts wall coverings of grass cloth, over 50 years old. The original narrow-loom carpeting, laid in 1926, still exists. The wall paper is of a design from the Greenfield Village collection. A coverlet on an upstairs bed dates to 1837. Although the porch at one time encircled the house, the structure today is relatively unchanged from 1874.

Old homes were built to last.

Eriksson Elementary was named the top Michigan school in the recent state-wide Multiple Sclerosis Read-a-thon, after turning in $3,491.51 in pledges.

While the average school collected $500 in pledges, Eriksson students far surpassed the norm.

After seeing a filmstrip about the Read-a-thon, Eriksson students had five weeks to collect pledges based on the number of books they could read. Neighbors, friends and family were among the patrons of the drive.

On May 20 an assembly was hosted by Read-a-thon Coordinator, Rick Tasch. He presented prizes to the children who read the most books and collected the greatest amounts of money. Tina Borchardt, Tripti Kataria and Derick Adkins all collected more than $100 each, and received calculators for their efforts.

In addition, a state-wide drawing was held to pick two students who will have lunch with Bo Schembechler, University of Michigan head football coach. One of the winners was Pioneer Middle School student Bob Collins, who will join Schembechler for lunch.

A matter of direction...

Some people get lost going around the block, while others wait until they're speeding past the exit to lose their sense of direction. Then there's the rest of us who haven't quite figured out the difference between north, south, east, or west.

While some people seem to have a built-in compass and always know what direction they're going in, there are those of us who are born with an upside-down compass. Just when I'm positive I'm going north, all the signs say south.

Why is it when it's my turn to drive to soccer, the game is played somewhere out in no man's land? It's not that I mind driving that far, but someone forgot to put no man's land on the map. The maps made up with all the soccer fields marked off are fantastic. The only problem is that the roads don't happen to match the map.

Have you ever noticed how maps are always upside down? It's bad enough to have a kid sitting there watching the clock, yelling "Hurry up, we're going to be late again." The cars behind you are honking because you're not going fast enough, and there's no place to pull over, and there you are -- trying to read the street names on the map upside down. I'm sure whoever draws maps, does it on their head just to a confuse people.

Finally, it was my turn to drive to a nearby game. I was so excited, because for once I knew just where the park was. Feeling very confident, I drove through the park entrance only to find many teams playing baseball. Way in the distance we could see the soccer fields, so I started driving back to them. Suddenly there appeared a rut in the road deep and wide enough to float a barge. The only solution was to back up and go around and find another park entrance.

At that point the kid yelled, "Stop the car, I'll run across the field. With my luck, you won't find the other entrance before the game is half over."

Some people wear necklaces around their neck, some cows wear bells, I guess I'll have to find a compass to wear around my neck.

Senior Power Day was held in Lansing on Wednesday, May 14. Among the senior citizens from Plymouth attending were Frank J. Ryan, Irma Ryan, Gordon Arthur, Marion Arthur, Florence Griggs, Mildred Kingsley, and Walter N. Fletcher representing the Plymouth Community Council on Aging Inc.; Isabelle Maurer and Albert Meyer on behalf of the Senior Citizens Clubs of Plymouth; and Traci Goyt Johnson of the Parks and Recreation Dept. James C. Houk, former City Commissioner was also there. The keynote speaker was Nelson Cruikshank, President Carter's special advisor on Aging Issues and chairman of the Federal Council on Aging.

Music fills the air as area students practice for their upcoming piano recital June 1, at 2 p.m. at Geneva United Presbyterian Church. Students participating in the recital are: Nancy Warkentin, Julie Keen, Suzie O'Day, Kelli and Jennifer Theard, Karen and Jeff Kling, Jennifer Croll, Michele, Annette, and Denise Hopkins, John and Jim Totten, Susan Decker, Laura Powell, David Bromet, Nancy Henry, Marcia Rood, Julie Watroba, Buffy Heslip, Marla Schwarz, Megan and Dan Boyle, Jennifer Kath, Carol Hamlin, Margaret and Mary Meissner, Andy and Laura Dahlke, Leslie Lynch, Rene and Eric Pierson, Penny Hendricks, Frank and Joseph Santorelli, Tricia Walsh, Jennifer Brining, Elaine Willis, and Theresa and Marjorie Church. Registration for the 30 kilometer (18 mile) walk will be held until 9:30 a.m. June 7 at all 15 Detroit locations. Starting point in Canton will be at Salem High School.

POSTPONED FROM LAST WEEK, Canton's Kite Flying Contest had considerably better weather Saturday for the event, held at Canton Township Hall. Nick Bogdanos, with son Paul, won "Best Looking" kite in the contest. A six-sided kite built of tissue paper and wood, the entry was constructed from plans drawn up by Bogdanos and his father in Greece. The Greek kites took hours to build, and were flown by Bogdanos and his father years ago "in the old country." (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Miller Woods memories wanted

Dig deep into your memory bank. If you can come up with some fond recollections of Miller Woods "way-back-when," the Miller Woods Committee would like to have them.

Plans are afoot to publish a Miller Woods brochure describing the history, ecology and significance of this unique nature area located in the Plymouth-Canton Community. A special section in the information guide will highlight sentiments and memories about the beech-maple climax forest.

Spurred by generous donations from the Pilgrim Garden Club and the Sunshine Garden Club totalling $300, committee members believe the time is ripe for just such a publication.

"Interest in Miller Woods is growing," says Penny Wright committee chairperson.

"We think the guide will increase enjoyment of the forest and aid our preservation efforts." A children's guide to the woods is also being considered which could be used as an education tool for school groups.

Recollections can be sent to: Memories of Miller Woods, Plymouth-Canton Board of Education Office, 454 S. Harvey St. Plymouth, MI. 48170.

FLORENCE BEIER, above, the Plymouth-Canton school district's community relations person, will be leaving her post in late June. She will become the director of public relations and marketing for a hospital in San Mateo, Cal., south of San Francisco. She's worked for the school district since 1975. (Crier photo)

addenda & errata

The story on the still-standing walls of the Penniman Avenue Shops in Plymouth in last week's Crier indicated that delays in the walls' demolition involved a dispute between property owners, William Morrison, and Dave Pugh and Rod Cannon. Pugh's and Cannon's insurance company, actually, is not involved in the delays.

Flanders Field poem highlights the tone of Memorial Day parade

MEMORIAL DAY is traditionally celebrated with a parade and Plymouth was treated to a fine example this year, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion posts in town. Young and old alike enjoyed the activities, including (above right) some youngsters who may be viewing their first parade and some of the city's senior residents (above left) listening to speeches immediately after the procession. Right, Bob Dunn and his daughter, Erin, also listened to some Memorial Day speeches after the parade, which included a mirror-shaded tuba player (below left). Mary Beth Bologna (below right) recited the poem, "Flanders Field" at the ceremony. Hal Young (far right) along with local VFW members, salute during the memorial address, while bugler Harry Krumm (bottom right) blows taps. Central Middle School's Marching Band (bottom left) was one of the groups which marched in the parade before a crowd described as larger than usual.

Young Authors clown

YOUNG AUTHORS Eva Felts, Hadil Bilbeisi, Ricky Clark, and David Bonandrini show off their efforts for this year's Young Authors program, the theme of which was "Under the Big-top." Along with the rest of Cathy Seibert's second and third grade class at Miller School, the four dressed up for clowning around, complete with makeup, assisted by intern Lynn Parkllan and volunteers Darlene Egbert, Evon Sajkovic, Lisa Rohde, and Michele Frame. Some of the other activities planned for the day included a magic show by Bill Heiney, clown skits, and sharing their books with other classes. (Crier photo by Dan Bodene).

CEP journalists earn high marks from judges

At the Sixth Annual High School Journalism Contest awards sponsored by Schoolcraft College, several Plymouth-Canton efforts won high marks from judges.

Three student journalists from Canton High School, writing for "New Media", took first place honors. Cheryl Pijanowski won in the personal columns category, judged by Eric Kearns, a reporter and columnist. Pijanowski's winning entry was entitled "Rights," and was cited by Kearns for "an enormous amount of hard work."

Mike Henshaw also took first place for his work, "Proposal No. 1 Best Choice" in the editorial category. Judge Jack Hoffman, called Henshaw's piece "very informative, good arguments, easy reading; it pulls no punches."

Henshaw is the assistant sports editor of The Crier.

Second place in the editorial category was won by Mark Swanson of Salem High School, writing a piece for Salem's "Rockpile," entitled "Students Create Class." Swanson's work was praised for being "well written, very interesting, excellent use of quotes," by Hoffman.

Also in the personal columns category, judged by Kearns, third place was won by Dawn Gresock of Salem High, writing for "Rockpile." "Very well done, almost poetic" was one of the comments on her column, "Comes the Dawn."

In the sports category, an article on "Paul Petersen: Canton's All-American" by Bob Hamilton in Canton High's "New Media" took third place. Wylie Gerdes, a copy editor and judge of the category said, "Bob displays an interesting method of wrapping background into first-person account."

Two CEP students took honors in the analysis, interpretive or investigative reporting category. Judged by W. Edward Wendover, publisher of the Crier, Ruth Sample of Canton High shared third place honors with Peggy Daley of Novi High School. Sample's article, entitled "Closed Campus Forever?" along with Daley's piece prompted Wendover's comment: "Here are two examples of how a student newspaper can be effective in the educational system's policy making."

Also in the same category, an article on "Employment or Education . . . Which is More Important?" co-authored by Nancy Skotzke and Carol Hay in Salem High's "Rockpile" won an honorable mention.

Laurie Nitz, also writing for the Salem High paper, won an honorable mention for her column, "Teachers, Why So Confusing?" Judged by Tom Panzenhagen, a copy editor, in the feature writing -- humorous category, the work was lauded for being "very pointed, full of fine examples."

The purpose of the contest as "honor(ing) the best in newspaper writing, through the recognition of individual writers as well as school newspapers."

Cash awards of $7.50 for first place, $5 for second place and $2.50 for third place were given in 15 categories ranging from best newspaper to advertising.

Participating in the contest were public and parochial schools from Clarenceville, Farmington, Garden City, Livonia, Northville, Novi, Plymouth-Canton, Redford Township, Southfield, South Lyon, Wayne-Westland School Districts.

Kin graduate

Of the 20 recent graduates of the Community Education Program of the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, eight were related -- four sets of mothers and sons.

Beverly Booth and her son Scott Brewer, Pam Howard and her son Gene, Sandra Price and her son Marty, and Anna Huddleston and her son Lewis were among the 20 who received diplomas for their work.

Under state law, a person who wants a high school diploma cannot be discriminated against on the basis of age. The Community Education program allows people to pursue a high school education at a night school under Northcentral Accreditation Association guidelines.

Of the most recent class of 20, six are headed for college, according to Community Education Chairman David Dursum. They ranged in age from 18 to 40 years, and participated in the program from one to 13 years, said Dursum.

Salem's Sharon Ross wins first annual Ceci Warrick award

Scores of Salem High School seniors were given awards Thursday night at the annual Honors Convocation.

A co-captain of the girls' swimming team, Sharon Ross was given the Ceci B. Warrick Memorial Prize. She was also a National Merit finalist, No. 1 in her graduating class, and given three honors keys, in Physical Science, French, and Physical Education.

The audience responded with a standing ovation when the Warrick Memorial Award was announced. This year marks its first year. It was started to commemorate Ceci Warrick, a 1976 Salem High School graduate who died unexpectedly over the Christmas holidays in 1979.

The award will be ongoing and it relied on contributions from college seniors, parents, and CEP teachers, said Ruth Tonner, an English teacher, who presented Ross with the award.

"We may be poor now, but next year when we all have two nickels to rub together, we'll give more," said Barb Yockey, a friend of Ceci's from Plymouth and a college student.

Ross will continue both her swimming and academic career at Oberlin College in Ohio.

Many seniors were given honor keys, which are awards given to outstanding performances in specific departments. Paul Modson, James Switzj, Gary A. Brown, James Rucinski, Scott Maguran, Joseph Mandel, and Mark Stocker were given keys from the Industrial Arts Department.

Receiving keys from the Business Department were Carrie Lee, Christine Wilbur, and Steven Rosiewicz.

Sandra Gottwald, Mary Beth Bologna, Mark Sampson, Lisa Page, Walter Ickes, Steven Ryan, William Clemmons, Ralph Robinson III, and April Lewis were given English honor keys. Gottwald was given two keys.

The Math Department awarded keys to Kristopher Simons, Jeffrey Todd Curtis, and Peter Richardson.

In Foreign Languages, Mary Bahr, Marie Mason, Donna Schaw, Tim Jones, Laurette Nitz, Sharon Ross, and Lisa Miyazaki were given honor keys.

Laurette Nitz was given an honor key from the Social Studies Department.

Receiving keys from the Science Department were Sharon Ross and Denise Gerst.

Gail Lieberman, John Upton, and Michael McGonagle received music honor keys.

In the Physical Education Department, Jeffrey Brown, Kirk Albert, Nanell Horwood, and Sharon Ross were awarded keys.

Canton cops want you to be their eyes and ears

BY CHAS CHILD

Canton Township's Crime Prevention Unit is gearing up to stop crime before it happens.

On the theory that the best medicine is preventive medicine, the police will set up local neighborhood watch programs, explain how to make homes and businesses more secure, and get citizens in the habit of looking for suspicious cars or persons.

Residents of subdivisions "know what belongs in their neighborhoods better than I would," said the head of the crime-prevention unit, patrolman Jim Hannah.

The Board of Trustees recently funded the program for nine months on a pilot basis.

If desired by citizens of a neighborhood ask for it, the police will organize a neighborhood watch. "It's a sophisticated system in which we number each house," said Hannah. That way, citizens can call, tell us by the code which house is suspicious and they'll never have to identify themselves, he said.

Subdivision breaking-and-enterings are Canton's most widespread crime, he said. And the neighborhood watch program should help cut these down considerably, he added.

"We want to get to know the community and let them know what they can do," said Hannah. Fifty-one per cent of the residents of a neighborhood must sign a petition to get a watch program off the ground.

The board authorized a van for the crime prevention unit, which has not arrived. It will tour neighborhoods with pamphlets and information on how to install secure locks, and other methods to burglar proof a home.

Hannah is also available to any township group for talks on security systems and crime prevention. "We've had tremendous feedback so far," he said.

"We want to get into other areas, too, like showing movies in the schools about shoplifting," he said. "Teenagers have to know that if they're convicted of shoplifting, they'll have problems, say, getting credit.

"In the past, police departments have worked after the fact," he said. "Now, we're trying to turn the whole situation around."

Anyone interested in any of these programs or measures can call Hannah at the Canton police station, 397-3000.

Parade planned

"Stand up for America" is the theme of the Plymouth Jaycees' July 4th parade.

Marching bands, marching units, adult and youth floats, and antique cars -- and sponsors for all these -- are still needed, said the Jaycees.

Applications for all categories can be obtained at the First National Bank of Plymouth and at the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

Trophies will be awarded to the first and second places in the band and float categories. Certificates will be given to third-place winners.

Also, the Plymouth Jayettes will be judging a bicycle-decorating contest for children 15 years and under. Certificates will be awarded for first, second, and third places.

For donations or band sponsorships, contact Chip Jacobs, parade co-chairman, 455-8874; or Mike Stankov, financial co-chairman, 459-6749.

4 get club grants

Four college-bound students recently received $125 scholarships from the Woman's Club of Plymouth as a sign of the club's appreciation for their achievements in high school.

The students and their mothers were guests of the club at its May luncheon. The four are: Laura Bobcean of Salem High, who will be attending Eastern Michigan University; Mike Henshaw of Canton High and Margaret McGee of Salem High, who will be attending the University of Michigan; and Karen Lattin of Canton High, who will attend Central Michigan University.

The Scholarship Committee, who awarded the students, is chaired by Margaret Kidston who was assisted by Doris Richard and Clara Isbister.

In the top photo, the ball hits Schumacher's glove. Not realizing the ball is in the dirt (middle photo) Schumacher still puts the tag down. Chiefs lose pre-district baseball game

Canton's baseball squad finished its season last weekend when Farmington handed the Chiefs a 5-3 pre-district defeat. The defeat takes Canton out of state competition and completes its 1980 season.

Canton finished the year second in the Western Six League with a 7-3 record and a 16-10 overall mark.

"We hit the ball really well against Farmington but we hit into four double plays that broke up our scoring chances," said Canton coach Fred Crissey. "It was a tough lose to take. I thought we were a better ball club than them and when you lose to a team you feel you should beat it's tough."

Al Lipinski suffered the pitching defeat for Canton. He pitched six and a 1/3 innings and received relief from Dan Funkhouser who completed the game.

Canton had five hits but left five runners stranded on base. Farmington had six hits and left three runners on base.

Canton tallied three runs in the sixth inning while Farmington scored four runs in the sixth and one in the seventh.

In that sixth inning for Canton, Jeff Stemberger singled to score two runners. Stemberger went to second on the throw to the plate and then scored when Dave Meador hit a grounder that Farmington shortstop picked up and overthrew to first.

Frank McMurray was the only Chief batter with two hits.

"The ball didn't fall for us but it did fall for them," said Crissey.

Rocks win, on to districts this weekend

Salem's baseball team enters state Class A district action this Saturday at home after defeating Walled Lake Western last weekend 6-2.

The Rocks will face off in a 10 a.m. contest against the winner of the North Farmington, Milford game. If Salem wins that first game they will face the winners of the noon game in the district championship that afternoon.

Against Western, the Rocks had to work to beat a team that has struggled most of the year.

"Western is a 500 ball club with a just a few good players, but I thought they were really up for the game. They battled us and were not shaken by facing Pat McNamara," said Salem coach Brian Gilles.

McNamara hurled the entire game for the Rocks and notched 11 strikeouts with four walks. He also gave up three hits, while Salem tallied eight hits.

"I thought we had to work to get ourselves up for this game. It was an away game on Friday and it was tough to get on track right away," Gilles said. "We knew we had to win this game and the team did what they had to do to win."

Salem opened the scoring in the first inning when John Hetkowski walked, Mitch Wilcox singled, McNamara sacrifice bunted the runners to second and third and Mike

Canton golfers finish season in 4th

The Canton girls' golf team closed out its regular season last week with a fourth-place finish in the Central Six league and a 15th placing at the regional competition.

The Chiefs dropped their final two league matches, 232-208 to Saline last Tuesday and 212-204 to Brighton Thursday, to finish 3-9 on the year.

Salem won the Central Six league race with an 11-1 overall record.

Rocks also win doubleheader

Earlier in the week, Salem topped Belleville in both ends of a Suburban Eight League doubleheader and gained at least a share of the league title.

The Rocks won the first contest 7-2. Salem had seven hits, while Belleville was held to two.

Pat McNamara was the winning pitcher. He threw the entire game, striking out 10 and walking three.

Salem scored five runs in the first inning and two more in the third, while Belleville tallied two in the sixth.

In the first inning Mitch Wilcox, John Hetkowski and Jim Anderson walked to load the bases. Mike Woodard then blasted a three-run triple.

Greg Etienne brought Woodard home with a double. Etienne then scored home himself when Dave Slavin tripled.

Slavin accounted for Salem's two runs in the third when he smacked a two-run homer.

Etienne, Slavin and McNamara had two hits each for the Rocks, while Woodard had three RBIs.

Salem won the second game, 3-2, with a run in the eighth inning. The Rocks had eight hits and three errors as compared to Belleville's four hits and no errors.

Woodard brought in the winning run in that eighth frame when he hit a sacrifice fly scoring Wilcox. Wilcox singled and McNamara and Anderson had walked to load the bases before Woodard hit the sacrifice.

The Rocks tallied their two other runs in the seventh inning when Anderson singled, Woodard doubled, and Etienne doubled.

Salem softballers lose, to miss districts...

BY CHAS CHILD

For the first time in four years, the Salem softball team won't be competing for the district crown.

The Rocks were eliminated from the tourney by Redford Union in a pre-district game Friday, 9-7.

Salem was leading 5-4 going into the bottom of the sixth, but RU exploded for five runs, unfortunately aided by three Rock fielding errors.

"It was a tough loss," said Salem Coach Livi Way. "We just had one bad inning."

Jill Goodrich pitched for the Rocks and gave up only three hits, despite the loss. Overall, Salem fielders committed eight errors.

Up until the disastrous sixth inning, the game was close. Led by the bats of catcher Nan Horwood, Sue McDowell, and Laura Arnold, who all had two hits apiece, Salem stayed right with RU. The game was tied 2-2 after two innings, and 4-4 after four.

And in the seventh, down by four runs, the Rocks pushed two runs across the plate, but the rally fell short.

...beat Belleville earlier in league doubleheader

Earlier in the week, the Rocks defeated Belleville in both ends of a Suburban Eight League doubleheader.

The first game went nine innings before the issue was decided in Salem's favor. The Rocks won the game 1-0.

In the ninth frame, Nan Horwood hit a bunt single, moved to second on a sacrifice bunt and scored when Sue McDowell singled.

Goodrich pitched the entire game for the Rocks. She struck out four batters and walked two.

Salem collected five hits as did Belleville.

"We didn't hit the ball as well as we should have in that game," said Salem coach Livi Way.

The Rocks picked up their hitting effort in the second game and won that contest, 8-2. The Rocks had only six hits. Belleville was held to one.

Again Goodrich pitched the entire game. She walked eight and struck out one batter.

Salem opened the scoring with two in the first inning when Horwood walked and scored when McDowell singled. McDowell crossed the plate on Patty Weidman's single.

The Rocks added two more runs in the second frame when Stacy Nicolin walked and moved to second on a sacrifice bunt. Horwood was safe on an error and Kathy Gardner brought home Nicolin with a sacrifice fly. McDowell then singled home Horwood.

In the third frame, Laura Arnold was safe on an error, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch, and scored when Nicolin hit into a sacrifice bunt play.

Horwood led off Salem's fourth inning with a walk. She then stole second base and moved to third on a passed ball and scored on McDowell's single. Weidman then hit a single and Denise Zonca hit a sacrifice bunt scoring McDowell.

The Rocks added one more run in the sixth inning when Horwood walked, Gardner singled and was replaced with Bonnie Southerland as a pinch runner. The two then double stole second and third base and, when Weidman hit into a fielder's choice, Horwood scored.

McDowell and Weidman both had two hits and two RBIs for the Rocks.

"The girls ran very aggressively all day. Nan was 0-1 at the plate but she was on the bases four times and scored four times and that was important to us," said Way.

Way also credited Goodrich with two fine pitching outings for the team. "She still looked strong after 16 innings," said Way.

Salem also walloped Livonia Stevenson at the beginning of the week 10-0 in a non-league game, that went five innings and was called because of the mercy rule.

"We had absolutely no problem with Stevenson. They didn't have any defense, offense and pitching," Way said.

Weidman, Gardner and McDowell each had three hits for Salem, while Horwood added two hits. Weidman had three RBIs as did McDowell.

Goodrich took the pitching victory with three strikeouts and eight walks.

"Our defense was excellent in the game. I was happy to see that we played up to our caliber," said Way.

Canton girls' tracksters in league competition today

BY MIKE HENSHAW

Livonia Bentley captured 13 first places in 15 events to defeat Canton 87-36 in non-league girls' track action last Tuesday, leaving the Chiefs record at 4-6 overall at the close of the dual meet season.

Canton finished 2-3 in Western Six league dual meets, and competes in today's league meet, in which the final places are determined, at Farmington High School.

Liz Gorecki placed first in two events for Canton, winning the discus with a throw of 97-10 and the shot put with a toss of 29-8.

Freshman Kim Brown, in her first meet of the year after a leg injury, was clocked at :28.67 in the 220-yard dash, good for Canton's other first-place showing.

Michelle Perrot gained second-place honors for the Chiefs in both the mile-run, with a time of 5:46.0, and the two-mile run, with a 12:34.47 clocking.

Also finishing second for Canton were Diane Durocher in the discus event, with a throw of 92-10, and Mary Fideler in the 220-yard low hurdles, with a time of :35.5. It was also learned this week that Fideler's time of :33.5 in the 220 lows at last week's regionals is a Canton school record.

Colleen Crissey and Geri Schufeldt each recorded two third-place finishes for Canton.

Crissey's time of 13:10.1 in the two-mile run was good enough for third place, as was her jump of 13-3 1/4 in the long jump. Shufeldt placed third in the mile-run, with a time of 5:50.45, and was clocked at 2:35.4 in the 880-yard run, also good for third place.

In addition to Crissey and Shufeldt, Brenda Bigelow took third in the high jump, by clearing 4-6, Fideler finished third in the 110-yard low hurdles with a time of :17.70, Durocher gained third in the shot put with a toss of 28-9, Charlotte Thomas was third in the 220-yard low hurdles with a clocking of :36.3, and Gorecki was third in the 220-yard dash with a time of :29.0.

Chiefs end 'banner year of sorts' in boys track

BY MIKE HENSHAW

Although the Canton track team concluded its 1980 season on a sour note, losing to Waterford Mott 81-57 last Wednesday, overall it was a banner year of sorts for the Chiefs under coach Mike Spitz.

Canton, which won its first dual meet in the school's history last season, won two meets this year, including its first-ever Western Six league triumph, over Northville earlier in the season. Canton finishes the regular season with a 1-4 record in the Western Six, tied for fourth with Northville and Farmington Harrison, and 2-6 overall.

Canton softball squad makes districts

BY MIKE HENSHAW

With an 8-2 victory over Livonia Franklin Friday afternoon, the Canton softball team advanced to the district playoffs to be held Saturday in Redford.

The Chiefs struck for four runs in the opening inning to take a 4-1 lead.

Vicki Cavallaro and Joni Sommerville opened the stanza with walks, each advancing a base on a passed ball.

Cindy Steven's sacrifice fly brought home Cavallaro and after a walk to Pam Schipani, Jean Krashovetz singled home Sommerville for the second run of the inning.

Another single, by Marlene McKinley, scored Schipani, and consecutive walks to Cathy Campbell and Vicki Skeen scored Canton's season is not over yet, however, as the final league standings in the Western Six are determined by the results of today's league meet at Waterford Mott.

"Our goal is to finish in third place, which is being realistic because I think either Churchill or Walled Lake Western will win it," said Spitz. "Overall I think we had a pretty good year."

Against Mott, the Chiefs did not fare two well in the field events, which hurt their chances, with the exception of Ted Toll.

Toll's victories in both the shot put (42-6) and discus (129-0) events, Mark Bennett's third place in the pole vault (10-6), and Ron Rienas' third place in the high jump (5-6) were the only points Canton earned in the field events.

Dan McGlenn finished first for the Chiefs in the 220-yard high hurdles (:15.7) and second in the 330-yard high low hurdles (:41.5).

Mark Kowalczyk placed first in the 100-yard dash with a :10.7 clocking and teamed up with John Tarr, Scott Brookhouse, and Ken Jayroe to win the 440-yard relay for Canton with a time of :47.1.

Scott Hand picked up the Chiefs other first-place finish, in the 880-yard run, with a time of 2:07.

Second-place finishes for Canton were also recorded by Mike Swisher in the 440-yard dash (:54.0), Dan Inloes in the 880-yard run (2:03.4), and Kowalczyk in the 220-yard dash (:24.4).

Coming in third were Steve West and Dan Henry, who came across the finish line together in the mile-run (4:51.7), Jayroe in the 100-yard dash (:11.0), Jack Pacente in the two-mile run (10:27.9), and Dan Malin in the 330-yard low hurdles (:42.8).

The third-place times of Henry and Malin were their personal bests of the year.

Rocks double-header results

Belleville got onto the scoreboard in the first inning with its two runs.

Jeff Primeau went the distance on the mound for the Rocks. He struck out three with one walk.

The victory gives Salem at least a share in the Suburban Eight baseball crown along with Livonia Bentley and Belleville. The Rocks are 8-2-1 in the league and 13-5-2 overall.

"We had a really good team effort in those two games. We also had outstanding pitching -- only four walks in 15 innings," said Salem coach Brian Gilles. "Our defense was pretty good throughout the day and even though we didn't have a lot of hits the ones we had proved to be timely."

Krashovetz.

Canton picked up its fifth run in the fourth and its final three in the sixth on walks to Krashovetz and Skeen and singles by Cavallaro, Sommerville, and Marianne Pink.

The win over Franklin revenged an earlier loss; in the second game of a doubleheader, to the Patriots, Canton's only loss of the season.

Pink pitched the first six innings for the Chiefs, allowing just five hits and three walks, striking out three, before being relieved by Cindy Sovine in the final inning.

"We are really playing well," said Canton coach Max Sommerville. "We need to win two games Saturday to win the district title and go on to the regionals, and I feel we are capable of doing just that."

Rock golfers wrap up title

Salem's golf squad wrapped up the Central Six League golf title last week with two league victories.

The Rocks bested Willow Run with a score of 190 compared to 292.

Liza Marino carded a 43, while Carol Ross shot a 47, Meg McGee shot a 48 and Nancy Stevens a 52.

Earlier in the week, Salem defeated Pinckney with a score of 191. Pinckney tallied 197.

In that match, Marino carded a 42, while Ross had a 46, McGee a 48 and Stevens a 55.

Salem will compete in the all-day state golf finals at Burroughs Golf Course near Brighton on June 2.

Salem finished the year with an 11-1 mark.

Women's Golf League results

After one week of league play in the Canton Township Recreation Department Women's Fellows Creek Golf League, there is a four-way tie for first place. Betty Williams, Deirdre Vesnaugh, Ginnie Attwood, and Nadia Alimpich all got 5 points their first night out.

Betty Williams turned in the best round of the night as she posted a 53. Yoshiko Reyst shot a 54 and Shirley Young came in with a 59.

Salem runners trampled by Edsel Ford

Salem's boys' track squad faced off against Suburban Eight League opponent Dearborn Edsel Ford last week and lost the meet, 80-52.

It was the last chance the Rocks had to ready for their league meet scheduled for today at Belleville. The preliminaries start at 3 p.m. and the finals at 7:30 p.m.

Salem still had a number of impressive efforts against Edsel Ford.

Bob Pittaway was second in the discus with a throw of 156-5 while John Froozan was third with a toss of 134-7. It was first time this year that Pittaway was beaten out of first in the discus.

Froozan was also second in the shot put with a throw of 47-10.

Dave Argonis won the long jump with a leap of 18-7 while Rob Neu was second at 18-5.

Scott Fuller was second in the high jump with a leap of six feet, while Dave Skone was impressive in the pole vault with a winning jump of 13 feet. Len Czupski was third at 10 feet.

Phil Anderson won the high hurdles with a time of 16.2 seconds, while Pittaway won the 100-yard dash with an effort of 10.5 seconds. Greg Lipca was second at 10.6 seconds.

Jeff Haertel was third in the mile with a time of 4:43.5.

Salem's 440-yard relay quartet of Lipca, Pittaway, Jim Spooner and Craig Stack clocked 45.6 seconds to win that event.

Steve Schafer was third in the low hurdles at 41.9 seconds and Leigh Langkabel won the half mile with a time of 2:05.

Argonis was third in the 220-yard dash with a time of 24.4 seconds, while Paul Hess was third in the two mile with an effort of 10:11.

"In spite of the score we still had some outstanding performances. Skone was excellent in the pole vault and Schafer ran his personal best in the hurdles," said Salem coach Gary Balconi.

"This was our last opportunity to evaluate some positions and prepare for the league meet. From Edsel Ford until the league meet the only thing we are going to do is rest, so we are ready when the league meet comes," continued the coach.

THIS IS SALEM shot putter John Froozan's final throw at the regional track meet two weekends ago. The effort was not good enough for the state finals and Froozan and his Salem teammates ended their dual season last week with a loss to Dearborn Edsel Ford. Froozan was second in his event that day. Girl tracksters finish year with loss Salem's girls tracksters completed their dual season last week with a 73-50 loss to Dearborn Edsel Ford in a Suburban Eight League meet.

Even with the defeat, Salem still finished the year with one of their best records in the past four years, according to coach Scott Kurtz. Salem was 5-3 in dual meet competition.

"It is our best record in four years. The girls improved all year. We broke records every meet it seemed and for a team of 23, we did extremely well this season," said Kurtz.

Against Edsel Ford, Carin Ford won both the discus and the shot put for the Rocks. She won the discus with a new school record throw of 95 feet three inches. She also threw 31 feet eight and a half inches in the shot put for first.

Liza Myrasaki was second in the discus with her best effort this season of 85 feet seven inches.

Diane Perpich was second in the long jump with a leap of 14 feet nine inches and she won the high jump by clearing five feet.

Ann Meixner won both hurdle events for Salem. She clocked 17.1 seconds in the 110-yard hurdles and 31.8 seconds in the 220-yard hurdles.

Cindy McSurely was second in the 110-yard hurdles for Salem, 18 seconds, and third in the 220-yard event with an effort of 34 seconds.

Linda Lybarger was third in the 100-yard dash with a time of 12.3 seconds, while Beth Hoerner was third in the mile race with a solid effort of 5:46.

In the 440-yard dash, an event that Kurtz called the race of the day, freshman Carol Lindsay was first for Salem with a new freshman record of 62.8 seconds, while Lybarger was second with a new sophomore record of 62.9 seconds.

"That is the first time this year we've had one girl let alone two girls under 63 seconds in that race," said Kurtz.

Lori Grissom was third in the half mile with a time of 2:38, while Lindsay was third in the 220-yard dash with a time of 28.3 seconds. Lybarger and Liz Carlson were behind Lindsay for fourth and fifth. Each clocked 28.4 seconds.

Grissom, Meixner, Lybarger and Lindsay teamed up to win the mile relay for the Rocks with an effort of 4:19.4.

Canton softballers wrap up year

BY MIKE HENSHAW

The Canton softball team wrapped up its finest season ever last Wednesday with an 18-0 whitewashing of Walled Lake Western.

The Chiefs finish the regular season with a 15-1 record, including a pre-district state playoff win over Thurston, and sport a perfect 10-0 mark in the Western Six league. They won the league championship, much to the delight of second-year coach Max Sommerville.

"We were second last year and it feels great to win it all this year," he said. "We have smoked just about everyone we have played."

Canton has outscored its opponents 198-57 on the year.

Against Western, the Chiefs opened the scoring in the first inning in grand fashion, as Cindy Stevens belted a grand-slam home run following singles by Vicki Cavallaro and Joni Sommerville, and after Marianne Pink was safe on an error.

Canton scored one time in the second and then erupted for six runs in the third.

Jean Krashovetz triped and scored on a single by Marlene McKinley. Cathy Campbell then doubled home McKinley and scored herself on a sacrifice fly by Janet Nostrant.

With two outs, Cavallaro singled and Sommerville was safe on an error, followed by a single by Pink that scored Cavallaro. Stevens then singled home the final two runs of the inning.

The Chiefs continued to pour it on, scoring four more times in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the seventh while Pink and Cindy Sovine were not letting Western get on the board with their fine pitching performance.

Pink pitched the first four innings to pick up the win, allowing just two hits and a walk while striking out one batter. Sovine came on in the fifth and allowed just one hit and two walks over the final three innings.

Chief netters conclude regular season at 10-5

BY MIKE HENSHAW

Canton netters won three of four three-set matches against Walled Lake Western last Wednesday and went on to record a 6-1 Western Six league tennis victory.

The Chiefs conclude the regular season

6-4 in the league, good for third place behind Northville and Farmington Harrison, going into today's league meet, and 10-5 overall.

At No. 1 singles, Bob Young from Canton defeated Aldo Stanisavlavic, 6-4, 6-2, while teammate Kreg Kinnel, at the No. 2 singles position, was beating Paul Durocher 6-4, 6-7, 6-3.

Canton's Kevin Johnston, at No. 3 singles, and Bob Adams, at No. 4 singles, took on the other two Durocher brothers, Johnston beating Mark, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, and Adams losing to John, 6-3, 4-6, 5-7.

The Chiefs swept the doubles matches.

At the No. 1 position, Jeff Garity and Curt Crocker knocked off Rob Armstrong and Rick Hendershot, 6-1, 5-7, 6-3.

Pete Lee and Mark Roberts won their No. 2 doubles match over Mark Adanczyk and Mark Kelly, 6-1, 6-1, and the Chief No. 3 team of Drew Hosey and Grant Crago handled Ken Krestiner and Jeff Roseto in straight sets also, 6-1, 6-3.

Canton could move into second place in the final league standings by winning today's league meet against all of the teams in the Western Six.

"It has been a good year for us," said Canton coach Jim Hayes. "This is the best record we have ever achieved and we hope to do well in the league meet."

Section 8.24 Borders, states that "In front yard areas borders shall not exceed fifty (50) feet in length in any and/or all directions. On corner lots in residential areas no border or other obstruction to vision above a height of thirty (30) inches from the street gutter grade shall be permitted within the triangular areas at the intersection of any street right-of-way drawn between said right-of-way lines for a distance along each line twenty-five (25) feet from their point of intersection."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS
CITY OF PLYMOUTH, MICHIGAN

At a meeting of the Zoning Board of Appeals to be held in the Commission Chamber of the City Hall on Thursday, June 5, 1980 at 7:30 p.m., a public hearing will be held to consider the following:

APPEAL CASE NO. 79-23 James B. McKeon, 48101 Brewster Court, Plymouth, Michigan, requesting permission to revert a single family structure at 831 Wing Street to a two-family structure, located in a B-3 (General Business District) zoning, which is in conflict with Section 5.193 (5)(e). Article XV of Chapter 52, Zoning, of the Plymouth City Code. On December 6, 1979, the ZBA gave the applicant approval of this request, subject to the provision of an easement in order to satisfy parking requirements at the rear of Lot 858a1. Since the applicant could not comply with this condition, he requests approval of a license for ingress and egress in lieu of a recorded easement.

Section 5.193 (5) (e) states: When a non-conforming use of a structure, or structure and premises in combination, is discontinued or ceases to exist for six (6) consecutive months or for eighteen (18) months during any three-year period, the structure or structure and premises in combination, shall not thereafter be used except in conformance with the regulations of the district in which it is located. Structures occupied by seasonal uses shall be exempted from this provision.

All interested parties will be given an ample opportunity to participate in the hearing, and at the close of said hearing, all comments and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the Zoning Board of Appeals, prior to rendering its decision.
