

On Monday's school ballot

Voters to decide bond, millage, candidate issues

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Plymouth-Canton voters will face three questions on the school district's ballot Monday, June 9. The district's 14 polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

First, voters will elect two candidates to four-year terms on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education. Seven residents are vying for the two spots.

Voters will also be asked to approve two proposals, a millage proposition and an $11 million bond proposition.

In the school board race, seven candidates will be listed on Monday's ballot. Emil Hagopian, a Plymouth Township resident, did not respond to the League of Women Voters' questionnaire and did not attend candidates' night, also sponsored by the league, last Tuesday.

The other six candidates are: James Steffen, Flossie Tonda, and Dennie Holyoak, all of Canton Township;

James Sinclair and Glenn Schroeder, both of Plymouth Township; and, Richard Arlen of the City of Plymouth. They all responded to the league questionnaire and attended candidates' night.

Proposition I asks the voters to let the school district levy the 1.26 mills to be rolled back from the district's current operating fund because of the Headlee Amendment. The current millage rate of 38.98 mills includes 26.36 operating, 8.9 county, and 3.72 debt retirement.

"Levying the entire present operating millage is needed to cover the current budget items," according to school officials.

Proposition II, for an $11 million bond issue with a 17-year retirement at a 10 per cent interest rate, is primarily for building maintenance and energy management.

Installation of an energy management system would centralize the district's utility controls to regulate cooling and heating systems throughout the district.

The proposition, if OK'd, would also fund projects in the school district such as: installing ramps for barrier-free requirements; replacing equipment;

Supervisor race has familiar faces

BY CHAS CHILD

Two former supervisors of Canton Township have challenged the incumbent for the Democratic nomination of the township's top job in the upcoming August primary.

Harold Stein, who held the supervisor's seat from 1976-78, and Robert Greenstein, who was supervisor for two years before Stein, have filed petitions to face the incumbent, Noel Culbert.

Another Democrat, John Barnette, has also joined the race.

In the Republican primary for supervisor, former trustee Jim Poole, will run unopposed for the nomination and will face the Democratic winner in November's general election.

The filing deadline was yesterday (Tuesday) at 4 p.m.

Fifteen persons filed for four trustee seats on the Board of Trustees, six Republicans and nine Democrats.

In the trustee race are three incumbents, Eugene Daley and Carol Bodenmiller, both Democrats, and Stephen Larson, a Republican. The fourth current trustee, Robert Greenstein, is running for supervisor.

The crowded trustee field also includes four members of the township's Planning Commission: Robert Padget (Republican), Thom Garmar (Republican), Dianne Neihengen (Democrat), and Carol Bodenmiller (Democrat).

The other persons in the trustee race are: Loren Bennett, Duane Bordine, and Robert Schaetzl (all Republicans), and Democrats Gary Roberts, Elizabeth Hamann, Michael Quick, Mary Dingeldey, James Bridenthal, and Larry Bowerman.

The top four vote-getters for trustee in each party will advance to the November election.

Notebaert, Breen, Levitte vie for Twp. supervisor

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Two Republicans and one Democrat have filed for supervisor of Plymouth Township.

Incumbent Tom Notebaert will face former supervisor Maurice Breen for the top spot on the Aug. 5 primary. Both are Republicans.

The winner in the primary will face Democratic challenger Carol A. Levitte in the November general election.

Breen, 47, of 12381 Pinecrest Dr., was Plymouth Township supervisor from 1970-72, when he was defeated by J.D. McLaren in a re-election bid.

Currently a member of the Board of Trustees, Breen was elected in 1976. He also served as a trustee from 1968-70. From 1964

68, Breen was a member of the Plymouth Township Planning Commission, an appointed post. Breen is an attorney in Plymouth and has been a resident for nearly 20 years.

Notebaert, 57, was elected to the supervisor's post in 1976 and is seeking his third term in office. A resident at 12415 Woodgate Dr., Notebaert says he has fostered a better relationship between the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township; spurred the drive from general law status to charter township status; and, signed a contract for police service with the Wayne County

Out-county districts fight for 'equal representation'

Claiming unequal representation, the City of Plymouth and Canton and Plymouth townships have joined with 36 other Wayne County communities in a suit against the Wayne County Apportionment Commission.

The suit was filed in Wayne County Circuit Court Monday with Plymouth Township Supervisor Tom Notebaert named as a plaintiff in the case.

The suit charges that the 1970 census figures, which are used to determine the districts for the Wayne County Charter Commission, do not allow proportionate representation based on census information between the City of Detroit and out-county districts.

"Charter Commission districts based upon the 1970 census are not now 'as equal in population as practicable' given currently available population data, thus causing the weight and value of one person's vote to be substantially unequal to the weight and value of another's vote," says the suit.

Twenty-seven districts will be represented in the Wayne County Charter Commission with generally 12 commissioners representing the out-county districts and 15 commissioners representing the City of Detroit. The districts were drawn up using the 1970 census figures by the Wayne County Apportionment Commission. Five members are on the commission, James Killeen, Wayne County clerk; William Cahalan, Wayne County prosecutor; Raymond J. Wojtowicz, Wayne County treasurer; Marie Weigold, representative of the Democratic party, and Edward Haroutunian, Republican party representative.

The out-county districts ask the judge to order the defendants to adopt a plan of apportionment based upon the 1980 federal census figures when they become available.

Furthermore, the out-county districts seek a restraining order or injunction to stop the county clerk from accepting nominating petitions from candidates for the Charter Commission posts. They also want to prevent the clerk from placing either the charter commission question or candidates before the voters in the Aug. 5 primary.

The Charter Commission was designed to reorganize and rewrite the charter for Wayne County. The Wayne County Board of Commissioners approved of its organization in April.

Briggs leaves

Jim Briggs, Plymouth Township's chief building inspector for the last eight years, has resigned his post.

He was hired by the City of Dearborn Heights in a similar position at a higher salary and better fringe benefits, he told the Board of Trustees at last Tuesday's meeting.

Joe Attard, the former electrical inspector for the township, was appointed acting chief building inspector.

Canton sounds off

Don't be alarmed if you hear Canton's warning siren at noon on the first Saturday of each month.

At that time, the Canton fire departments sounds a three-minute blast for testing purposes only, department officials say.

Enjoy fireworks July 4th

Fourth of July festivities this year will include fireworks in addition to the traditional parade, according to Jim Owens, president of the Plymouth Jaycees, sponsors of the event.

Fireworks will be displayed at Massey Field, with parking at the Burroughs lot. Don Massey Cadillac, as well as other citizens, provided the funds for the display, said Owens.

The parade, beginning at 1 p.m., will start at the corner of Theodore and Main Streets, where floats, bands and other parade units will assemble. The procession will follow Main Street, south to Hartsough, and east to East Middle School.

The theme for this year's parade will be "Stand Up for America." According to Harold Jacobs, parade chairman, more than 30,000 people are expected to watch the event.

Currently, 20 bands have been contacted to appear in the parade, with five consenting so far, said Owens. In addition, several area dignitaries are expected to participate.

Yockey appointed

Fred Yockey, former manager of the City of Plymouth, has been appointed to the city manager's post in South Lyon.

He had been serving as South Lyon's manager in an interim basis for several months. He was forced to resign from his Plymouth job in August, 1979. Further details on the appointment were not available at press time.

Should teachers strike?

School board candidates mull issues at forum

BY PATRICIA BAROLD

Do the six active candidates for two posts on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education favor the two ballot proposals on the June 9 ballot?

Four candidates, Flossie Tonda, Dennie Holyoak, Richard Arlen, and Glenn Schroeder, favor both proposals. James Sinclair does not support either proposal. James Steffen supports the proposal allowing the district to levy the 1.26 mills to be rolled back because of the Headlee Amendment; he does not support the $11 million bond proposal.

Six candidates spoke to an audience of 40 at the League of Women Voters Candidates' Forum last Tuesday night. The seventh candidate, Emil Hagopian who was not at the forum, is not actively campaigning although his name will appear on the June 9 ballot.

Candidates outlined some of their experiences and reasons for running for the posts.

Steffen, an attorney and Canton resident, moved here more than two years ago with his family. He said Plymouth-Canton administrative costs are "top heavy" and suggested returning to basic educational programs. One priority he would like to develop is the TAG (Talented and Gifted) program for exceptional students, he said.

He also favors allowing teachers to strike. "(If they are allowed to strike) it would bring more reason and sanity to the bargaining process," he said.

He criticized the current school board for holding too many elections. To raise funds (rather than increase taxes through millage or bond elections), he suggested the district sell some of its undeveloped land sites.

A Plymouth Township resident and Ford employe, Schroeder, said his experience in budget and management would benefit the district. "Every dollar must be carefully spent . . . to gain the confidence of the taxpayers."

The random selection process used at the high schools "equalizes the two schools," he said.

To house the school district's expanding population, Schroeder suggested realigning the grades to push sixth graders back to elementary schools and ninth graders back to middle schools. By renting Lowell Junior High School from the Livonia district, additional students could be housed, he said. If the school district has to make cuts, he said the cost effectiveness of programs must be analyzed. Teachers should not be allowed to strike, he said.

Holyoak, a Canton resident, also said teachers shouldn't be allowed to strike. Furthermore, he said the district's three biggest problems are housing students, making proposed cuts (to balance the budget), and parental apathy.

However, he said he didn't have any clear-cut answers for those problems. "We have to look into the ramifications of realigning grades, for example," he said. He favored renting Lowell from Livonia.

Asked how the board's credibility can be improved in the community, Holyoak said: "It's hard to believe such a credibility problem exists because most parents don't even know who the school board members are."

Sinclair, a Plymouth Township resident and Ford employe, is making his second bid for the school board. Last year he was fourth in a 14-person race for two board seats. At candidates' night, Sinclair supported realigning grades to relieve crowded classrooms at the high schools. He also said administrative raises (given this spring) were untimely, adding that the school board agrees with administration "too much."

Asked if he would cut athletic programs, if cutbacks are made in the district, Sinclair said: "Yes, education is first. I would cut athletics, however, the English Department at the high schools offer at least 41 different classes." He criticized classes such as "Advanced Science Fiction" saying they are "superficial."

"Do we need to offer 230 classes in high schools for a student to graduate with 20 credit hours?" he asked.

Sinclair is the past president of the Plymouth-Canton Junior Athletic Association.

The two incumbents in the race are Flossie Tonda and Richard Arlen. A resident of the City of Plymouth and a teacher at Schoolcraft College, Arlen said he wants to continue working on programs, such as long-range planning and analysis.

Furthermore, he said there is "no conflict" between his role as a negotiator for teachers' union at Schoolcraft and his role as a board member negotiating new contracts for employe groups.

If cuts are made in the district, Arlen said he wouldn't cut maintenance programs. "That's why we have the bond issue on the ballot now," he said.

Moreover, he added that he "basically supports" a teacher's right to strike, although he doesn't support the present bill in the state legislature.

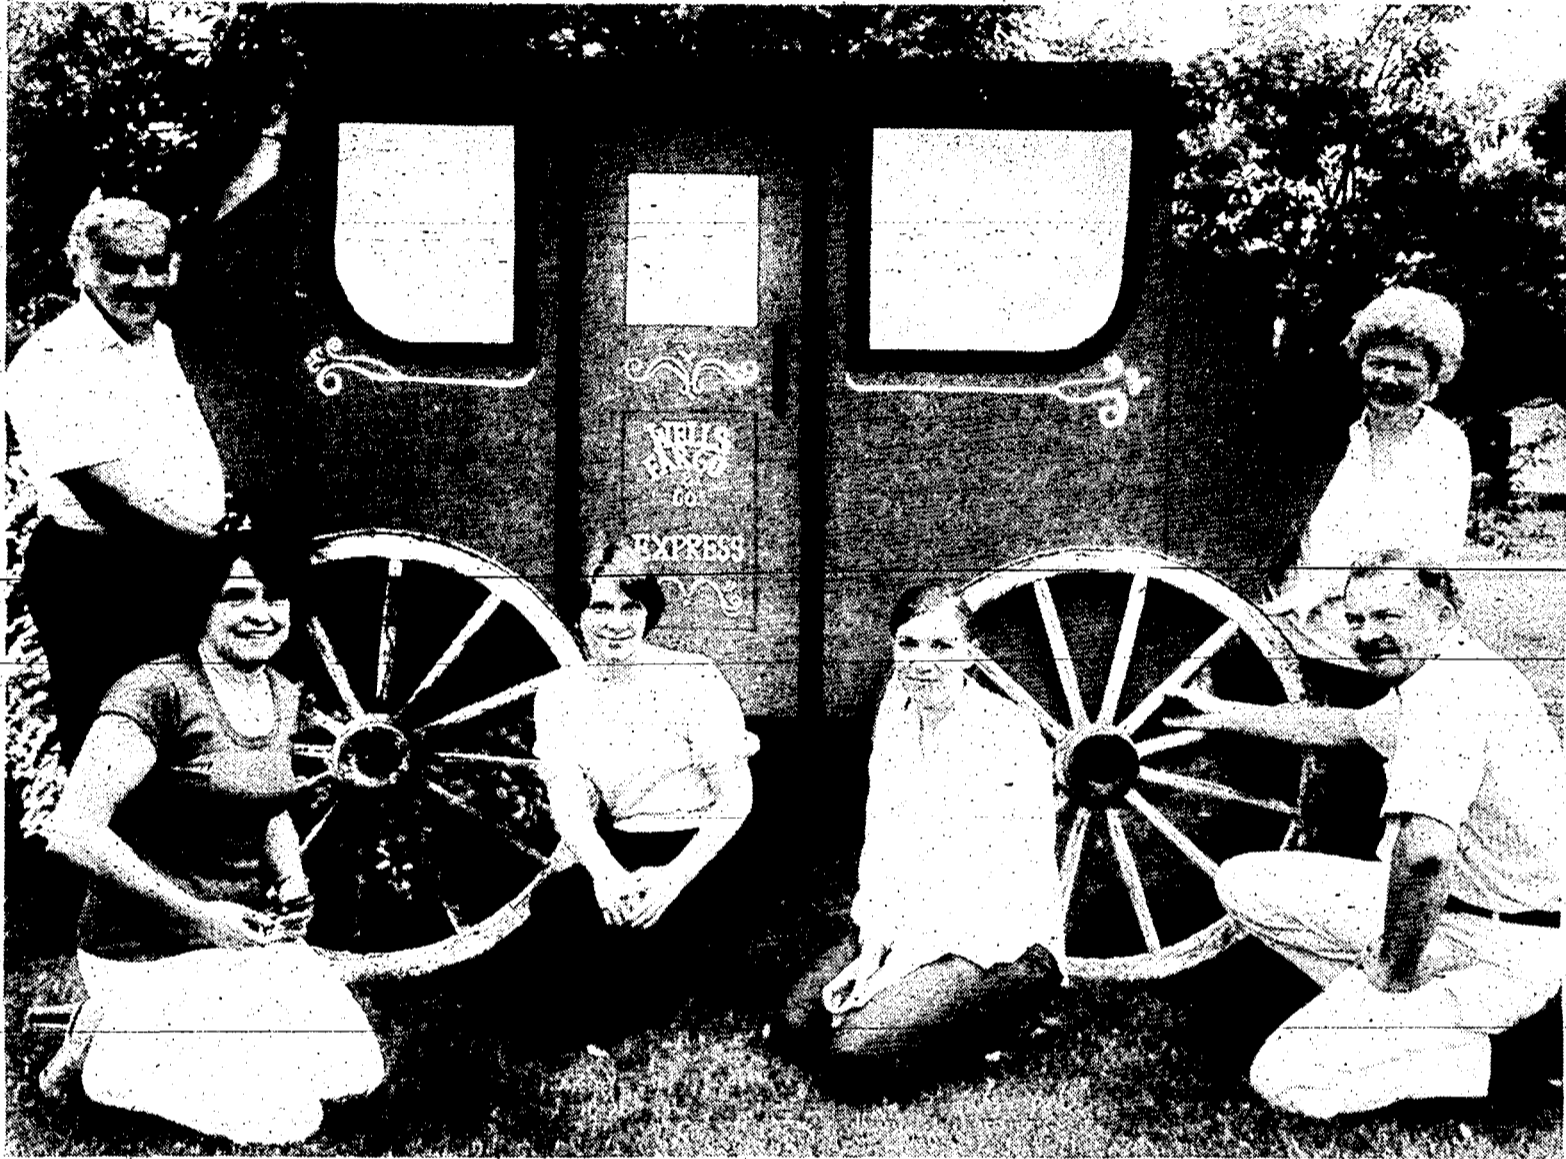

Tonda, on the other hand, said she opposes a teacher's right to strike. "Public employes have to be penalized -- just like private employes."

A Canton resident, Tonda wants to continue working on programs to improve students' reading scores; Goal-Based Curriculum; employe evaluations; and research and evaluation programs.

Honesty and good listening skills are keys to being a good board member, she said.

She proposed cutting programs that don't directly effect teaching, such as maintenance and travel to conventions. However, she said, "In the long run, (such cuts) will hurt kids."

She defended the board's record on siding with administrative recommendations. "When you don't take a majority of recommendations from your superintendent, then I think it's time to get rid of your superintendent . . . and I don't really mean that," she said smiling.

Canton fire trucks need rustproofing

BY CHAS CHILD

A report recommending the expenditure of $26,700 to repair and rustproof Canton's fire vehicles was scheduled to be submitted to the Board of Trustees at last night's meeting.

Prepared by a citizen, Tim Orbacki, appointed to investigate the fire vehicles' state of repair, and Fire Chief Mel Paulun, the report also urges the board to hire a full-time fire-vehicle mechanic.

Orbacki was chosen to investigate the vehicles after the board received an anonymous letter, purportedly from a fireman, claiming that the oil in one of the township's rescue trucks was past due changing, thereby threatening to damage the vehicle's engine.

The board voted two weeks ago to make the repairs, pending Orbacki's report, and to upgrade vehicle maintenance and training procedures in the fire department.

Orbacki found that seven fire vehicles need rustproofing and repairs; both rescue vehicles, two pumpers, two squirters, and a tanker.

The $26,700 needed for these repairs

"is only minimal taking into consideration the cost to replace one of the units," said the report.

Most of the allotment, $22,000, is needed to repair the pump in one of the pumpers, said the report. These funds had already been included in the 1980 budget. The rest of the request, $4,700, is needed for rust-work for the vehicles.

Besides these repairs, the board had already authorized about $40,000 to replace the chassis on both the rescue vehicles.

As for hiring a fire-vehicle mechanic, Supervisor Noel Culbert said he is studying possible alternatives to this, including contracting the work out to private firms.

Hoben recalls former teaching days

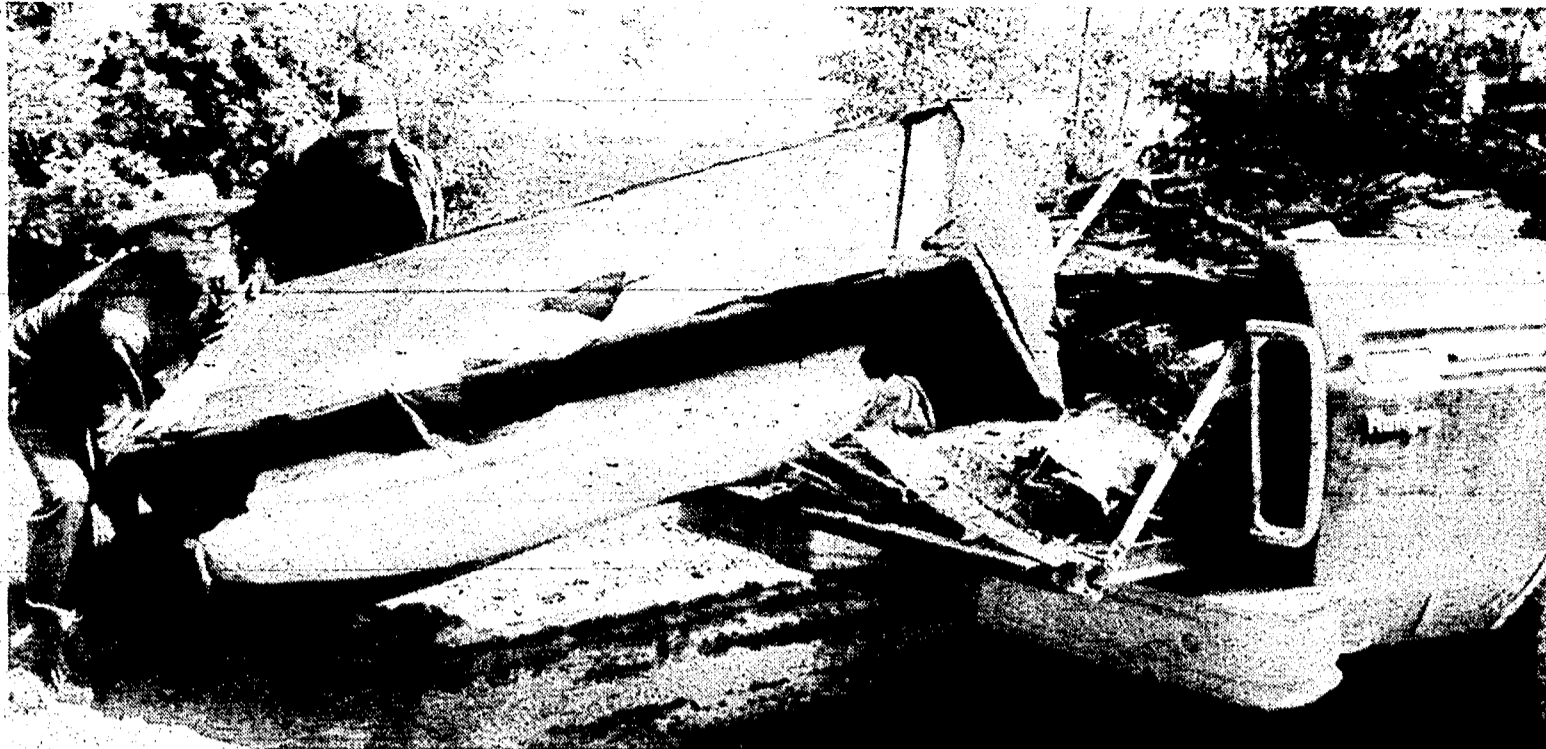

"I had the feeling that I'd been there before," Supt. John M. Hoben told the school board Monday night.

With a quizzical look on his face, he observed, "Yes, the gut level and the control are still there."

"There is still the young guard versus the old guard. I was looking at the dynamics of the group before I got up to speak to them."

His engagement? Hoben spoke to the Plymouth-Canton Education Association last Thursday about the bond and millage proposals on the June 9 ballot, trying to elicit its support.

Why had he felt as though he'd been in front of the group before? He was simply recalling his days back "in '62 or was it '63?" he mused as a wry smile crossed his face. His post? He was the teachers' association president.

Holiday work

Buy fresh produce at Canton market

Canton's Board of Trustees unanimously approved plans for a farmer's market last Tuesday and for now, space rentals will be free.

Trustee Carol Bodenmiller and Planning Commissioner Diane Neihengen requested approval of the market after reporting to the board the results of a farmland preservation meeting at which six areas of concern were discussed. The six items were the farmers market, drain improvements, millage concerns, grants status, availability of a land assessor and a farm cooperative.

Neihengen said 19 farmers were being contacted to determine participation in the market. With half polled, Neihengen reported four or five definite commitments. She also said that there is a good possibility that farmers who couldn't get into the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti markets would participate in Canton's market.

Bodenmiller told the board that although participation in the market was still being gauged, many farmers were "excited."

Currently, use of land in the western side of the township is being investigated for market use. Tentatively, the Township Municipal Building parking lot is set as the market location.

Thanks to volunteers

Volunteers from the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools gathered Thursday evening at Pioneer Middle School for an appreciation party sponsored by the Board of Education. Over 3,000 invitations were sent to school volunteers.

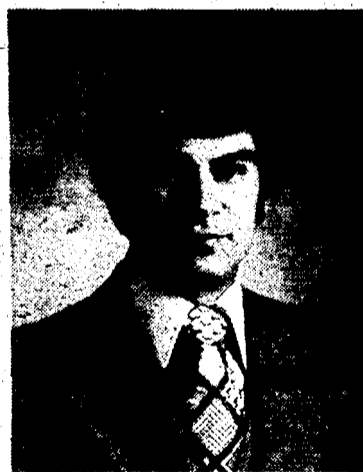

The theme of the party was to say thanks to the volunteers with music, displays, refreshments, and a brief program. Each volunteer attending received an official volunteer identification badge.

About 200 people attended the event, which was initiated by Carol Davis, board of Education member.

For Monday's election

Teachers OK both proposals

The Plymouth-Canton teachers' union supports Richard Arlen and James Steffen for the two seats on the Board of Education.

The Public Affairs Council of the Plymouth-Canton Education Association interviewed five of the seven candidates who are vying for the posts in the June 9 election. Candidates James Sinclair and Emil Hagopian were not interviewed.

"We're satisfied that Arlen will continue to serve the board well during another term," said Bill Heath, chairperson of the committee. He also said the committee believes Steffen's background as an attorney would be helpful to the board.

John Ryder, PCEA president, said the executive committee has endorsed both propositions which will appear on the June 9 ballot.

"Remember Proposition I asks voters to approve the same operating millage in order to offset the limitations of the Headlee Amendment . . . Operating millage provides monies for salaries, supplies, maintenance, transportation, and other day-to-day operating costs . . . Support Proposition I," said Ryder's letter to teachers.

The committee urged support of Proposition II because it decided that "regardless of different feelings toward grade realignments, Extended School Year, construction of new buildings, renting from other districts, etc., it is pure folly to think that a growing district can continue year after year without new construction or major renovations," said Ryder.

Wiland joins district court

George Wiland has been named Director of Operations for the 35th District Court, effective Monday.

He is responsible for all aspects of court administration, and will coordinate with Judges James Garber and Dunbar Davis in the Canton, Plymouth and Northville court locations.

Wiland has worked in Records Court in Detroit since 1967. Previously, he worked 10 years with the Wayne County Civil Service Commission and the Retirement Board.

A resident of Detroit, Wiland was also recently considered for a federal court administrator job. Judge Garber said he was especially interested in Wiland "because of his experience with personnel, court and court management."

Garber also said, "The theory is that judges should not run the administration of a court any more than doctors should run the administration of a hospital."

Wiland will also coordinate with Plymouth's City Manager and Consolidated Court Committee on plans for the consolidated court location.

Good times at Canton fair

The sixth annual Canton Jaycee Fair is scheduled for June 11-15.

Featuring numerous rides, booths, a pancake breakfast, food, and games, the fair will be held at the southeast corner of Ford and Lilley.

On Saturday and Sunday from 8:30 a.m. until noon, the Canton Boy Scouts will hold pancake breakfasts at the fair. Tickets will be $2 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12 and senior citizens.

Special events include a dunk tank, moon walk, and games of chance. There will be a beer booth Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

From 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday only there will be "pay one price" special. For $5, fair-goers can enjoy as many rides as they want for as long as they want.

The fair's hours will be these: Wednesday and Thursday, 3-10 p.m.; Friday, 3-11 p.m.; Saturday, 11 a.m.-11 p.m.; and Sunday, 11:30 a.m.-10 p.m.

The fair will also tie in with the "Grand Opening Sale" planned for June 13-15 by many Canton merchants. Participating merchants will have flags flying in front of their stores during the sale.

The Plymouth REACT team will help park cars during the fair.

A special section detailing all the events of the sale and fair will appear in next week's Crier.

job, two Republicans and three Democrats. On the Democratic ticket, Maria Falkiewicz, the current deputy treasurer will face Gerald Brown and the woman she defeated in the 1978 Democratic primary, Anne Bradley, who was the incumbent at that time.

Running for the Republican nomination for treasurer are Leo Knasiak and James Kearney.

And in the clerk race, incumbent John Flodin is the only person in either party to file.

Stein, Greenstein, and Culbert will renew their often bitter struggle for political leadership in a township known for mud-slinging politics.

The trio's battles started in 1976 when Stein, then a political unknown, stunned Greenstein by upsetting him in the Democratic primary.

The supporters of Greenstein, who many believe underestimated Stein, then launched a write-in campaign in November's general election. But again, he narrowly lost to Stein.

Stein's troubles had only just started, however. After less than a year in office, he narrowly survived a recall election aimed at removing him and two political allies, current Trustee Gene Daley and former Treasurer Anne Bradley.

In 1978, another relative unknown, Noel Culbert, took a page from Stein's book and ambushed him in the Democratic primary. Stein, too, though, sought to retain his job with a write-in effort, but was trounced.

Greenstein, meanwhile, was elected as a trustee in 1978, and has strongly criticized Culbert for his performance ever since.

Often out-spoken and controversial, Greenstein has slammed Culbert for his alleged lack of leadership.

Culbert, on the other hand, says he has led the township quietly and efficiently during the last two years.

"I admit I am not the smooth-talking politician some would like me to be," said Stein, announcing his candidacy. "I am a strong, hard-working leader. 'Action speaks louder than words.' I feel I have a proven success record."

Barnette, who operates John and Dudes Towing on Canton Center Road, said he is fed up with the way Canton's government is run.

Sheriff's Department.

After the August primary, either Breen or Notebaert will face Levitte in November. A resident at 42629 Five Mile Rd., Levitte was graduated from the Detroit College of Law in June, 1979. She is 34 years old and moved to Plymouth Township in 1971.

Her bid for the supervisor's post on the Democratic ticket is unusual in Plymouth Township, which has been considered a Republican stronghold for years.

Among her community activities, Levitte has worked on the Committee for United Services (between the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township, a bellringer for the Community Fund, and a volunteer bus driver for the Tonquish Creek Manor.

Incumbent Clerk Esther Hulsing is running unopposed on the Republican ticket. She is a resident at 12619 Beacon Hill Court and was first elected in 1978.

Meanwhile Trustee Barbara Lynch is challenging incumbent Joseph West for the treasurer's post. Both filed as Republicans. Lynch, a resident at 10028 Wolfriver, was elected to the Board of Trustees in 1978. She has worked on the Committee for Township Hall Renovation, Committee for Cable TV, and the Zoning Board of Appeals. Recently, she has been critical of the township administration, particularly the treasurer's office.

West, a resident of 44467 Charnwood, is seeking his fourth term in office. He was first elected in 1974 and was president of the Western Wayne County Treasurer's Association in 1979-80. He is a life-long resident of the Plymouth community.

This year's election marks the first time that the supervisor, clerk, and treasurer will serve for four years. Formerly, they were elected to two-year terms; however, the state legislature approved a change in the law last year.

Since there is no Democratic challenger for the treasurer's post, whoever wins the Aug. 5 primary -- Lynch or West -- will run unopposed in the November election.

Lynch also filed to retain her post on the Board of Trustees; however, late Tuesday afternoon, she said she planned to withdraw from the trustee race today (Wednesday, June 4). The withdrawal date for removing a candidate's name from the race is Friday, June 6 at 4 p.m.

In the trustee race, two Democrats and five Republicans have filed. Since four trustee seats will be decided in November's election, the two Democrats will face five Republicans on the ballot then. One candidate will be trimmed from the Republican ticket in the Aug. 5 primary.

Filing as Democrats for a trustee post are Donald Skinner, 45501 Ann Arbor Trail, and F. Patrick Downes, 48099 Colony Farm Circle. Skinner, a current member of the township Planning Commission, works for Michigan Bell. Downes is a local developer.

Five candidates filed as Republicans: Ann Arendsen, 11927 Appletree Dr.; Gerald Law, 45209 Woodleigh Way; Andy Pruner, 40431 Newporte Dr.; Weyona Lee Fidge, 49125 N. Territorial Rd.; and, Albert Calille, 44426 Oregon Trail.

Law and Fidge are both incumbents; Law was elected in 1978; Fidge was first elected to the board in 1976.

Pruner, a deputy with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, was an unsuccessful candidate for a trustee post in 1976.

Arendsen is seeking her first term in office. Calille is an attorney for Michigan Bell.

WILLIAM D. FORD

JAMES CAYGILL

2 Republicans to run against Ford for U.S. House of Reps.

Two Republicans will face each other in the Aug. 5 primary in Michigan's 15th U.S. Congressional District, which includes Canton Township. The winner will face incumbent William D. Ford in the November election.

The Republicans are James A. Caygill, public safety director of the City of Woodhaven, and Gerald Carlson, of Dearborn. Ford lives at 15513 DuPage, Taylor. Caygill's address is 22143 Chestnut Lane, Woodhaven, while Carlson lives at 21954 Morley, Dearborn.

Pursell to face O'Reilly

Two Plymouthites will campaign to represent Michigan's 2nd U.S. Congressional District, which includes the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Carl Pursell, the Republican incumbent, will try to earn a third term, against Kathleen O'Reilly.

O'Reilly, an attorney who has spent recent years in Washington D.C., maintains her address with her parents at 10541 Jo-Ann Lane in Plymouth Township.

She was elected executive director of the Consumer Federation of America in 1977, and served as the organization's chief administrator, spokesman, and lobbyist.

Pursell has defeated to Ann Arborites, Earl Greene in 1978, and Edward Pierce in 1976, to stay in Washington for the last four years. His address is 46200 N. Territorial Rd., Plymouth Township.

Helen Gotowka, of 8234 Grayfield, Dearborn Heights, did file against Pursell for the Aug. 5 primary. Although she lives outside the 2nd District, which includes parts of Wayne, Washtenaw, and Monroe counties, she maintains that she is still eligible for the race.

O'Reilly will face no opposition in the Democratic primary.

The filing deadline for the race was yesterday, Tuesday, at 4 p.m.

KATHLEEN O'REILLY

CARL PURSELL

Thiel challenges Smith in 52

Democratic Judy Thiel, of Salem Township, will campaign against incumbent Republican Roy Smith to represent the 52nd State Representative District, which includes all of the City of Plymouth and most of Plymouth Township.

The two were the only ones to file before yesterday's deadline at 4 p.m. and so they will face no opposition in the primary.

Smith lives at 7768 Munger Rd., Ypsilanti, while Thiel's address is 6277 Six Mile Rd., Salem.

The 52nd District includes most of Washtenaw County and the Plymouth community.

County Charter race draws 1 Rep., 8 Dems

Nine persons have filed to run for a seat on Wayne County's Charter Commission in the 27th District, which includes all of the Plymouth-Canton Community.

Eight Democrats will square off in the Aug. 5 primary, and the winner will face Canton's Bart Berg, a Republican, in the November general election.

The Democrats are: Patrick J. Foley, 8156 Honeytree, Canton; Robert Myers, 51074 Mott #63, Canton; Gloria Hammonds, 6505 Boston Hill Lane, Canton, Greg Holland, 2427 Cabot, Canton; Jack Weigand, 44441 Newburyport, Canton; Walter Hink, 45460 Lilac Lane, Belleville; W. Edward Wendover.

1176 S. Main, Plymouth, and Harold Stein, 41955 North Dr., Canton.

The commission, with one representative from each of the county's 27 districts, will meet late this year and early next year to write two possible charters for the county. Included in these will be provisions for a county executive or county manager.

Vote 'YES' on Proposition I Monday

Vote "YES" on Proposition I in the school election Monday, June 9.

Proposition I asks the voters to let the Plymouth-Canton school district levy its full millage rate this year without rolling back 1.26 milles. That current projected rollback is imposed by the Headlee Amendment.

This proposition represents a good means of counteracting the crippling effects of the Headlee Amendment on growing school districts.

The Plymouth-Canton school district has become an unfortunate victim of the well-meaning Headlee Amendment. Approved by the voters in 1978, the Headlee Amendment was designed to limit the increase in taxes to the rise in inflation. Its weakness is that the amendment was not written for growing school districts.

Even though property values are skyrocketing in Plymouth-Canton, the district is unable to keep pace financially with the district's growing student population. If the 1.26 rollback is imposed, the school district will not reap the entire benefits of higher taxes through higher home assessments.

community opinions

Proposition I does not call for an increase in the tax rate. The district would levy approximately the same number of mills in the 1980-81 tax bills as it did in 1979-80. Approval of Proposition I would mean that the school taxes paid wouldn't be reduced by 1.26 mills, although if a homeowner's state equalized valuation increased -- as all did in the Plymouth-Canton Community -- the same tax levy would yield more dollars.

One of the best ways to keep property values high in Plymouth-Canton is to maintain a solid, well-rounded school district. To keep quality education in Plymouth-Canton, vote "YES" on Proposition I.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Elect Tonda, then either Schroeder or Sinclair

The Community Crier clearly endorses one candidate -- Flossie Tonda -- for the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education election Monday, June 9.

To fill the second, four-year post, we recommend voting for either Glenn Schroeder or James Sinclair. Both represent good choices; each would serve the public well as a board member.

The Crier does not support the re-election of Richard Arlen, currently the board's vice-president, to another term.

Tonda has served on the board since 1976. Her past performance as a trustee and secretary has shown she is capable, sincere, and hard-working. Most of all, she represents the community while making decisions on the school board. She proposes her own ideas at board meetings and isn't afraid to ask tough questions or challenge administrators.

For example, the school board recently approved the transfer of nine students from Tanger to Farrand School. Tonda dissented, saying that she couldn't OK changing schools for some students without being will-

The Community Crier makes its endorsements using the one-person, one-vote rule. The editorial staff sponsored a meeting last week to discuss the issues on Monday's ballot. The meeting was open to all Crier employees.

After discussion, a vote was taken and the today's editorials are a reflection of the points discussed. These endorsements are not a final answer, but only one opinion from a staff which has followed this story for months. Readers should consider The Crier's endorsements along with other opinions.

ing to make similar changes for other students. Such a decision shows her consistency and fairness on issues in the district.

Tonda is the people's candidate, if such a candidate exists. She has a broad range of support because she listens to her constituents and answers their questions. She deserves your support at the polls Monday.

Schroeder would be a good addition to the school board. Since working as a member of the Citizens' Bond Advisory Committee, he has often attended school board meetings. He is familiar with the district's problems and takes a thoughtful approach before suggesting solutions. His decisive attitude at Candidates' Night last Tuesday showed his knowledge of the district; he did his homework before deciding to run. We believe these qualities are indicative of well-qualified school board members. For these reasons, we support his candidacy.

Sinclair also shows promise in becoming a good school board member. Although we disagree with him on some issues -- for example, he does not support either the bond or millage proposal on the June 9 ballot -- Sinclair's point of view deserves representation on the board.

Last year, Sinclair finished fourth in the school board race. Through his past volunteer services and by filing again this year, he has shown his sincerity, persistence, and stamina in coping with the demands of public office.

However, although Sinclair's appearance was unexpectedly welcomed at Candidates' Night last Tuesday the forum also revealed that he hasn't done his homework completely. He tripped up when criticizing the district's random selection -- ignorance is no excuse for a school board candidate.

At the forum, Sinclair suggested that eighth-graders be allowed to attend the same high school as their older siblings. That policy is already in effect; he should know current policies before launching a bogus attack.

Arlen doesn't deserve your support at the polls. Of all the candidates, he seems least willing to take a position on any issue.

For example, Arlen's answers to the League of Women Voters' questionnaire were vague, at best. Asked to list specific ways the district could be more fiscally efficient, Arlen wrote in a hard-to-decipher scrawl: "The district could use a general tightening up."

Broad generalities won't work here; if we should support him because of his experience on the board, he must articulate that experience.

Arlen deserves to be thanked for his past four years of service and then shown the door. His "whichever way the wind blows" vacillations have left him representing no one. For example, his handling of the junior high sports left the sports league hanging after he led them on. His role as president of the Schoolcraft College teachers' union was despicable considering his school board position during contract talks with the affiliated Plymouth-Canton teachers' union. When acting as board president at meetings, he's become defensive rather than a good listener. Don't vote for Arlen.

In this race, James Steffen also deserves mention. We hope he continues his involvement in school affairs. With more knowledge of the district, he could provide insight. In this race, though, he needs to represent the entire community as a school board member -- not simply TAG parents. Dennie Holyoak should also not be discouraged from running again for the board next year.

The seventh candidate, Emil Hagopian, has not demonstrated an interest in the race. He didn't respond to the league's questionnaire. Don't waste your vote on him in this election.

Most importantly, remember to vote Monday, June 9. The polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Bond issue is needed for growth

Vote "YES" on Proposition II Monday. The proposal asks voters to approve an $11 million bond for remodeling, reconstructing, refurbishing, and re-equipping schools throughout the district.

The Crier supported passage of the $14 million bond proposal in March. We endorse this trimmed-down version of the March proposal because it includes the same sound plans for housing the school district's burgeoning student population.

These plans include: renting Lowell Junior High School from Livonia; realigning the grades to K-6, 7-9, and 10-12; remodeling Central Middle School; and installing an energy-management system in schools throughout the district.

Renting Lowell Junior High School, though not directly financed through a bond proposal, is an innovative use of resources. It means that Plymouth-Canton will not be stuck with an empty school 10, 20 or even 30 years down the road.

Considering the overcrowded classrooms at the high schools, the move to realign the grades has merit. The idea has also been fairly well accepted from the community as a random school survey last fall indicated.

The renovation of Central Middle School is also a wise move. We should renovate Central; it's a landmark in our community and well-worth the cost of renovation. It's cheaper to renovate Central than to replace it. Since inflation will only drive the cost of repairing it up even further, we believe that it's smart to sign up to the project now.

The installation of an energy-management system in the school district has sparked controversy lately. Designed to regulate and monitor utilities and heating controls in all schools, the system is needed. In the long run, it would save the taxpayers money by reducing operational costs. Like insulating your home, the system would pay for itself within years. We think its installation costs would be money well spent.

Monday's ballot is certainly more clear than the propositions presented by the school board in March. The board seems to have learned its lesson; Ballot proposals should be easy to understand and represent clear-cut decisions.

We urge Plymouth-Canton voters to continue their support of the school district at the polls Monday. Vote "YES" on Proposition II.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

We back issues

EDITOR:

The Special Education Parent Advisory Committee, after lengthy and careful review of the millage and bond proposals, and with the knowledge of their implications for our Special Education students, strongly urges all parents to support these issues.

Passage of these proposals would mean maintaining the degree of services and appropriate programs for our children. Defeat would seriously hinder the progress that the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools has made towards the education of these special students.

Somebody knows. Somebody knows who set the fire that destroyed the Penniman Avenue Shops. And that person or persons can earn up to $1,000 if they call the state of Michigan's "Arson Control" hotline -- 517-322-0469, collect. Plymouth and state fire officials are encouraging anyone who has any possible tip or lead on the arsonist who set the fire to call. If the information leads to arrest or conviction of the persons responsible, the in-

Arson, committed mostly to rip off insurance companies, is increasing across the nation. And virtually all arsonists leave some clues behind, they are seen in the area, or they buy unusual amounts of gasoline. Somebody knows -- and should call.

Culbert: try to research fire dept. investigation

EDITOR: One fireman sleeping, one reading, three watching television and a partridge in a pear tree. Ah -- yes, this is an election year and the politicians are digging in - taking their best footholds, but why is it the innocent are always challenged, possibly because for the most part we are defenseless. As you said in your article, Mr. Culbert which appeared in the May 28th issue of The Crier your visit to Station 2 was made after 2 p.m., which should indicate to you, according to a contract signed by both the township and the union that this time was for our own use unless we are called to fire, rescue or public service. Certain responsibilities follow certain jobs. When I start to work at 8 in the morning, my responsibility to the citizens in this township extends for 24 hours and during this time I am willing to give everything in my power to do my job. It would be impossible to function as a firefighter or EMT in this 24 hour period if I were to stand at attention or what ever you would like me to do that extended period. Irritated? You must have been when you entered Station 2 because when you observed one sleeping, one reading and three watching television you observed one more than the Township is paying for. You should be aware that there are only four employees at Station 2 at any one time, not five. I am sure Mr. Culbert your intentions are of the very best, but please try to research your investigations and relate only what you see or find factual. If you are truly integested in our performance as a firefighting and rescue unit I suggest you talk to the citizens of this township and get their opinion. These views are my own and I remain your faithful employee. FRANK CHAKRABARTY Firefighter

No ticket for Ford?

EDITOR: You reported in your May 28 edition that a police car suffered $800 worth of damages when it "pulled out of a driveway" and "collided with a car heading southbound on Mill" which, presumably, had the right of way over a car in a driveway. You also reported that no citations were issued to the driver of the police car, Chief Timothy Ford. Is this the same Chief Ford whose memo you published a few weeks ago? As I recall, the memo, addressed to all Plymouth police officers, complained about the drop in the number of tickets being issued, and threatened "each officer will be held individually accountable" for a more vigorous enforcement of local traffic laws. Et tu, Chief? MICHAEL SHIELDS

Small Business Week helpers get thanks

EDITOR: We, at the Canton Chamber of Commerce, wish to express our thanks for your involvement in our recent "Small Business Week Program." It was our desire to alert the general public to the many problems we have in keeping that "local" store open for business and service with a smile. Many times, people will 'tap' the local businessperson for donations and favors. We suggest that when this is done that a short letter of appreciation be sent to the storeowner. Helping to keep the free enterprise system working, I remain, commercially yours. FRANK A. McMURRAY, President Canton Chamber of Commerce

EDITOR: I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the members of the Plymouth-Canton Boosters Club for the generous gift of the court rollers provided at the Centennial Educational Park Tennis Courts. There were many times our practices would have been cancelled this spring without the aid of the rollers. They really have been a fine addition to the maintenance of the tennis courts and are greatly appreciated by the players and coaches. TOM WILLIAMS Salem tennis coach

Artist mouse wins 4,000 new friends

MR. HARTUNG AND HIS WIFE, played by Ken Van Kirk and Terry Holton, discuss the finer points of culture with social club members Nancy Morin, Tammy Ward and Leah Rankin. Always at odds with his wife and her friends, Mr. Hartung asks Edam for help, and the two scheme to provide the ultimate entertainment for the group.

Children at Bird Elementary were treated to "The Adventures of Edam Stilton" last Friday when members of Canton High's Acting II class enacted the story of a thoroughly cultured rodent.

Edam, played by Marc Hölland, is a formally educated artist and both a source of friendship and embarrassment to his henpecked mentor, Mr. Hartung, played by Ken Van Kirk. Eternally harassed by his wife (Terry Holton) and her social-climbing friends, Mr. Hartung arranges with the help of Edam and his cohorts to redeem his failing social status.

Edam enlists the aid of Mademoiselle Pamplemousse (Sue Odom), a refugee from France, to coax the famous Madame Chauvenet to appear before Mrs. Hartung's social circle. All's well that ends well, with Mr. Hartung salvaging his dignity and Edam in the throes of romance.

The play, directed by Lane Sabourin, an English instructor at Canton High, was performed at seven area elementary schools before an estimated 4,000 children.

MADEMOISELLE PAMPLEMOUSSE, played by Sue Odom, provided both a romantic interest and the key to Mr. Hartung's problems for Edam. Convincing her friend Madame Chauvenet to appear before Mrs. Hartung's social group, she helps Edam and his confidants, Mr. and Mrs. Parcheesi (played by Keith Greenleaf and Tracie Craft, at left).

Say cheese!

EDAM STILTON, the educated mouse, was played by Marc Holland. Rescuing his friend Mr. Hartung from the scorn of Mrs. Hartung and her snobbish friends, Edam also manages to woo the lovely Mademoiselle Pamplemousse in his carefully engineered plan to save the day for everyone.

Putting on the spare is really quite tire-some

There we were cruising down the freeway on a beautiful afternoon, when suddenly a loud pop scared me half to death. "What was that?" I yelled as I glanced at the kid with the sheepish grin who had just popped the bubble gum. With a sigh of relief I was grateful it wasn't a flat tire.

It did make me think about the problems I'd have if it was a flat tire. I've never had to change a tire before.

I'm not sure it was the power of suggestion, but the next pop had nothing to do with bubble gum. I had a flat tire. I was calm and didn't panic -- after all, I've heard even a bird brain can change a flat tire.

Not wanting to upset the kids (after screaming in a near hysterical voice to be quiet and sit still), I pretended I knew what I was doing. At least I knew where the spare tire and jack were. I guess there are not many places in a car to hide something like that.

I'm not sure if it was the pathetic look on the kids' faces or the sight of a woman half in the trunk attacking a tire that drew attention. Whatever it was, two passing motorists stopped to offer assistance.

I may be proud an independent, but when I couldn't unscrew the spare tire, I was thankful someone stopped to help the woman in distress. I was also thankful the gentleman didn't laugh when I tried to put the jack together upside-down.

I've never liked the name powder puff mechanics because it makes women seem dumb and inferior. But maybe we make ourselves look stupid sometimes -- does anyone know where I can enroll in a powder puff mechanic course?

All-Star Band to play in Kellogg

A concert in Kellogg Park will be presented Friday, June 6 at 7:30 p.m. by the Plymouth-Canton Middle School All-Star Band.

Under the direction of James Griffith, the concert will be in conjunction with the High School Symphonic Band. The All-Star Band is composed of outstanding 7th and 8th grade band members from the four middle schools.

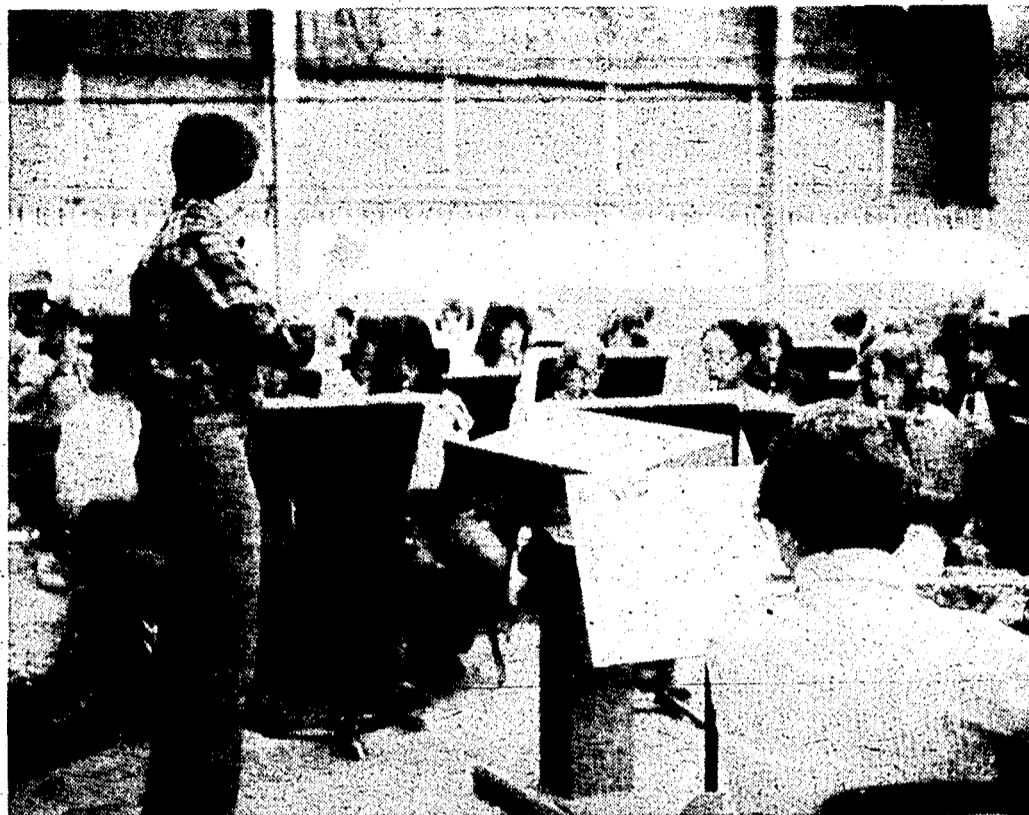

The band met for three evening rehearsals after a May 17 organizational meeting to prepare for the concert.

Four selections will be presented Friday, each with a different conductor. Cheryl Waldenmyer of Central Middle School will conduct the opening number, "Americans We" by Henry Fillmore.

In addition, "Variation Overture" by Clifton Williams will be presented, with Michael Chiumento of West Middle School conducting. "Prelude and Fugue in B-Flat" by Bach/Moehlmann will be lead by Carl Battishill, associate director of bands at Canton High.

The band will be joined by three trumpet soloists on the last selection, "Bugler's Holiday" by Leroy Anderson. Cheryl Waldenmyer, William Beitner and Carl Battishill will perform in the Anderson piece, conducted by Linda Mapes of East Middle School.

In case of rain, the concert will be held in the Salem High auditorium.

THE FIRST CONCERT IN THE PARK of the season is scheduled for June 6 in Kellogg Park. Featuring the Middle School All-Star Band, shown here at one of the only three rehearsals, the concert will feature four selections. For each of the musical pieces, a different conductor will lead the band.

Local singer records single in Nashville

LUCY ANN TRUEWELL

Lucy Ann Truwell of Plymouth recently made a recording in Nashville which should be arriving in over 100 radio stations by the end of the week.

According to Jerry Trierweiler, her manager, the record is currently being played in two stations -- WFUL in Fulton, Ky. and WPON in Pontiac. "The people in Kentucky think we've really got a hot seller," said Trierweiler.

The record is a 45-rpm featuring two singles. The first, "Better Off By Myself" was written by Geoffrey Morgon for Barbara Mandrell in 1975. The song, which appeared in a slow version on one of Mandrell's LPs, was arranged for Truwell in a more upbeat tempo. The flip side features the ballad "That's The Way He Wants Me" written by Bruce Berger.

Truwell made the recording in Nashville which was arranged and produced by Jack Mollette. She is scheduled to return

June 9 to 15 for Fanfare Week.

Born in Union City, Tenn., Truwell moved to Michigan in 1955. She began singing in church at age 6 and dreamed of being a singer, but it was not until she married in 1978 that her husband encouraged her to sing publicly.

Beginning with a local band in 1979, she started her own band in January 1980, "Lucy Ann and the Country Lovers." She has appeared with country stars such as Jeannie Shepard, Skeeter Davis, Elmer Fudpucker and Charlie Walker.

Last week Truwell and her band were featured in a closed-circuit TV show in Ann Arbor, and in a few weeks are scheduled for a "PM Magazine" biography.

Cheryl to compete in Ireland for 'Rose of Tralee' title

Cheryl Collins of Plymouth has been selected as one of 11 contestants from the U.S. who will compete in the County Kerry Rose of Tralee contest in Ireland, from Aug. 28 to Sept. 7.

Collins, runner-up in the Detroit St. Patrick's Day Maid of Erin contest, won the Metro Area Rose of Tralee pageant May 17 in Detroit. Judged on poise, personality, knowledge of Ireland and talent, Collins said the four judges "were with us all the time."

Sponsored by the Pallotine Fathers Irish Catholic Missionaries in Ireland and the U.S., the pageant has been described as a kind of Irish Mardi Gras -- a week-long festive celebration. Collins will compete with hopefuls from around the world for the Rose of Tralee crown.

She is a 1977 graduate of Salem High School, and now attends Madonna College.

CHERYL COLLINS

TAMORAH MCLAUGHLIN

Tamorah to wed

Tamorah McLaughlin of Plymouth Township will be married Saturday, June 14 to Steve J. Cooper of Indianapolis, Ind.

The bride-to-be is a 1979 graduate of Canton High School and is presently a secretary for United Transportation Union in Plymouth. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McLaughlin.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harding Cooper of Indianapolis, and is presently employed with the Scholler Trucking Co. as its chief air pilot.

The couple plan to reside in Indianapolis.

Sheriffs recover blue dome

The flasher has been found. A blue-plastic dome light, stolen from the top of the Plymouth Township Pavilion Saturday night, was recovered late Monday afternoon. The flashing light was designed to alert township officials of possible vandals, however, although the plastic light was tarred onto the roof of the pavilion, it hadn't been hooked up. So, when vandals struck the park late Saturday night, they found the flasher was an easy steal.

Deputy Gary Burtka of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department found the dome light Monday afternoon while on patrol. It was in the Mayflower subdivision along the side of a road near a tree, he said.

Any suspects? Burtka said the incident may be related to the "same juveniles who are breaking and entering various homes in the Mayflower sub."

WAGNER APPOINTED

Plymouth native Kathleen B. Wagner has been appointed to the new post of market planning manager for the Marketing Division at Automobile Club of Michigan. She previously was director of marketing at Michigan National Bank of Detroit.

MICALLEFS CHOSEN

A Plymouth couple, Joseph & Elizabeth Micallef, has been named to a group of Amway distributors, signifying their recent success in the organization. Through their achievements as independent Amway distributors, the Micallefs have joined a group which has succeeded to the Ruby Direct Distributor level. The Ruby award is given in recognition of a high level of personal sales volume and acknowledges them as leaders in the Amway distributor organization.

PENCE ELECTED

William K. Pence of Plymouth has been elected assistant vice president-production for the Detroit Edison Co. Pence has served as manager-production since 1978. He, 56, joined Detroit Edison in 1952 as an engineering assistant.

JASKIERNY APPOINTED

National Bank of Detroit has announced the appointment of Douglas G. Jaskierny of Plymouth as assistant loan officer in its Regional Banking Division.

DIETRICH TO LEAVE

Norman L. Dietrich Associates, P.C. a professional corporation in Plymouth consisting of civil engineers, landscape architects and planners, recently announced the reorganization of the corporation. James D. Anulewicz is the newly elected president of the corporation and Michael J. Bailey, the newly elected secretary-treasurer. Norman L. Dietrich, former president and the founder of the firm has decided after a two year teaching experience with Michigan State University to leave the firm and pursue the field of education. When asked about his reasons for leaving, Dietrich indicated that he found the teaching experience to be very rewarding and in tune with his personal and professional goals. Martin E. LaForte, a registered landscape architect, and James A. Fisher, a registered civil engineer have both been named as associates of the firm. Both are Canton residents.

repairing electrical, heating, and plumbing systems; and a major renovation in Central Middle School.

Some bond money will also be used for furnishing Lowell Junior High School, which the district plans to rent from Livonia starting in the fall of 1981.

For the homeowner with a $60,000 house (assessed at $30,00), Proposition II would cost $32.10 during the first year of the bond; a homeowner with an $80,000 home would pay $42.80; and, a homeowner with a $100,000 home would pay $53.50.

School election officials expect thousands of voters to go to the polls Monday. By Friday afternoon, they reported absentee voting was "somewhat lower than usual" with 51 ballots returned. There are more than 44,100 voters in the Plymouth-Canton school district.

Bernice Nichols, an election worker, also reminded voters that the location of school district polls is different from city or township polls. If you have questions about where to vote, call 453-0200, ext. 475.

Asked her opinion of the election outcome, Florence Beier, administrative assistant for community relations in the district, said: "Economic times are tough. Some people have said that we've got good proposals on the ballot, but I just don't know (what the outcome will be)."

Pioneer Wildlife Art Contest winners listed

Winners of the third annual Wildlife Art Contest at Pioneer School have been announced, culled from over 300 entries in five categories.

Open to all sixth-grade students, the contest was judged by Barbara Bray and Dee Schulte, art teachers and members of the Plymouth Community Arts Council. It was held under the supervision of Carol Guregian a math-science teacher at Pioneer.

In the water color category, first place was awarded to Louie Stockwell, second place to Cynthia Johnston, third place to Richard Pauli, and an honorable mention was given to Asta Zinbo.

First place in the pen and ink category went to Rod Galovoy, with Chris Hart awarded an honorable mention for his entry.

Winner of the top prize in the pastels and charcoal category was John Sheridan. Two second prizes were awarded, to Dawn Wright and Jeff Gray. Third place was also shared by Steve Dawson and Lisa Plateau, with an honorable mention going to Janet McKeon.

In the pencil drawing category, first place was won by George Denison, second place went to Kirsten Green and third place was awarded to Lam Vu. Honorable mentions were given to Adam Kocik and Gail Chalian.

Competition in the mobiles category was won by Dana Aposchanski, with second and third places awarded to Asta Zinbo and Jennifer Headrick, respectively. Honorable mentions were given to both Tina Clark and Dawn Miller.

Entries for the contest were done in school during science classes or electives designated for wildlife art. Students were allowed no more than one entry per category.

First prize entries were awarded $10, second prize money was $5, and third prizes won $2. Funds for the contest were supplied by the student council.

Country 'Pops'

'Y'all ought to come to the "Pops Hoe-down" Concert by the Centennial Educational Park Orchestra on Wednesday, June 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the Salem High auditorium.

You'll hear country and western, classical and popular music like "Hoe-down" from "Rodeo" by Aaron Copland and "Hullabaloo" arranged by Richard Hayman. There'll also be "The "Little" Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin, with Mike McGonagle on piano, and "Color My World" by Chicago.

Couple of more include fiddle solos by Bonnie Knaus, playing "Czardas" by Monte and Shannon Townsend doing "Fiddler's Jig" by Henry Cowell.

It's gonna be just like a hoedown or barn dance, and everybody will be wearing their western duds. Even the audience, if they want. The best part is, you can get in free.

Late rally beats Canton in district softball action

BY MIKE HENSHAW

Livonia Bentley rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh Saturday afternoon to knock Canton out of the girls' softball state tournament, 7-6.

The loss was heartbreaking for the Chiefs, who had rallied in the sixth inning, erasing a 4-0 deficit by exploding for six runs, and were just three outs away from advancing to the district final.

"Bentley has a nice team, especially defensively, and we didn't get a break all day," said a disappointed Canton coach Max Sommerville, whose team carried a 15-1 record into the game. "I felt we should have won, because we outplayed them really."

Two walks given up by Canton pitcher Mariann Pink, who went the distance for the Chiefs, in the first inning proved costly as the Bulldogs scored three runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Bentley added another run in the fifth inning on a controversial play. With a runner on second, a ground ball was hit to the left of Canton shortstop Vicki Cavallaro. The Bulldog runner ran into the path of Cavallaro, allowing the ball to get through the infield when Cavallaro hesitated, and the runner to score from second.

The umpire ruled that because the runner did not make contact with the fielder, the run counted. The rule book states, however, that any "hindrance" of the fielder is interference, and the runner is out.

"Vicki was definitely 'hindered'," said Sommerville.

Canton got right back into the game in the sixth.

With one out, Joni Sommerville singled and Pink walked. After a bunt single by Cindy Stevens, Pam Schipani walked to drive in a run.

Jean Krashovetz, the team leader in extra-base hits, then cleared the bases with a three-run double to tie the score.

Marlene McKinley then singled home Krashovetz to give the Chiefs their first lead. Julie Stratton ran for McKinley and scored the final run of the inning on consecutive singles by Cathy Campbell and Vicki Skeen.

Bentley started its game winning rally with a pair of singles and the bases were loaded with nobody out when Pink tried to throw the runner out at third on a bunt and everybody was safe. The Canton ace hurler then walked in a run to make the score 6-5.

The next bulldog batter lined the ball straight back to Pink, who whirled and threw to first to complete a double play. The runner on third bolted home and was ruled safe in an extremely close play that would have been the final out and a Canton victory.

A clutch single by the Livonia leadoff hitter drove home the winning run and sent the Chiefs, undefeated Western Six league champions, home in defeat.

"Two or three calls that could have gone either way made the difference," said Sommerville. "It's a tough way to lose, because if we had gotten by Bentley I think we could have advanced pretty far."

Canton out hit Bentley nine to seven on the day, six of them coming in the big sixth inning rally.

Pink took the loss, allowing five walks and striking out two in finishing the season at 11-2.

"We have some key players coming back next year, and our junior varsity went undefeated," said Sommerville. "We should be a strong team again next year."

Salem golfers 7th in state

Salem's golf squad completed an outstanding season Monday with a seventh place showing at the state Class A golf finals at Burroughs Golf Club near Brighton.

The Rocks shot a combined 390 for seventh out of 14 teams involved in the competition.

Liza Marino carded an 86, while Meg McGee had a 98, Nancy Stevens a 99 and Carol Ross a 107.

Marino would have been fifth in the state in individual scoring, while McGee was 16th, Stevens 17th and Ross 24th.

"I was hoping to get in the top 10 teams so obviously I am quite pleased," said Salem coach Jim Stevens. "I was pleased with our entire season. We won a 16-team invitational at Pinckney, we were our league (Central Six) champions and we had the best showing of a Salem team at the state finals." The Rocks completed the year with a 12-1 record and an average team score of 191.

"I think the league championship was probably more important than the state finals. You have to compete against those teams in the league twice each year and even if the competition is not as keen as at the state it is an important step for any team," said Stevens. "The girls certainly lived up to my expectations this year."

Freshman Marino paced the Rocks' efforts this season. She was medalist for the team in every duel meet, she was third at the regionals and fifth at state.

Senior McGee will not be back next season but Stevens and Ross will join Marino to form the backbone of next year's team.

Salem girls compete in state finals

Ann Meixner and Cindy McSurely represented Salem's girls' track squad at the state Class A girls track finals at Housman Field in Grand Rapids last weekend.

Meixner, a senior, clocked 31.1 seconds in the 220-yard low hurdles but did not place and McSurely, a freshman, failed to clear the opening height in the high jump at five feet two inches.

"We were happy that the girls got to the finals. At least we got some experience out of the whole affair," said Salem coach Scott Kurtz. "I was quite pleased with the girls efforts."

Earlier in the week, the Rocks ran their Suburban Eight League meet and scored 54 and a half points for fifth place. Dearborn won the competition, while Trenton was second and Dearborn Edsel Ford was third. Livonia Bentley also edged the Rocks at the fourth spot.

Salem claimed two league champions at the meet. Carin Ford won the shot put competition with a throw of "34 feet plus," according to Kurtz, while Carol Lindsay won the 440-yard dash.

Lindsay, a freshman, clocked a time of 1:01.5 to win an event she has only run twice in her life.

Linda Lybarger was fourth in that event with an effort of 1:03.7.

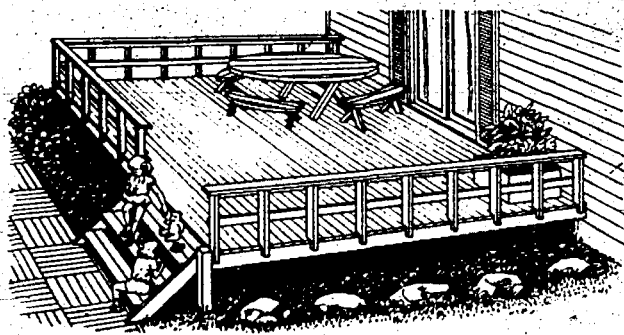

Meixner was edged out by a Trenton runner both the 110-yard hurdles and the 220-yard hurdles. Meixner was second in the former with an effort of 15.7 seconds and second in the later at 30.5 seconds.

Ruth Sample "finally got her act together," according to Kurtz and ran her best time of the year, 12:12 for third in the two mile.

Raiders ram Rocks in district baseball game

BY KEN VOYLES

Salem's baseball squad didn't look sharp last Saturday for their district baseball effort against the Raiders of North Farmington. The Rocks egged on by both the wind and their own blunders lost the game, 11-4, to end their season.

"We were definitely not sharp today. We didn't move the ball in the key situation and when you have guys on base you have to move it," said Salem coach Brian Gilles.

Salem had their chances no doubt but every time the Rocks put together a run, North would slam back with two or three of their own.

"If we could have turned the corner it would have helped us," said Gilles. "But every time we closed the score they added more runs."

The Rocks started their scoring with one run in the first inning when John Hetkowsky walked, moved to second when Mitch Wilcox hit into an error, moved to third on a fielder's choice and scored when Jim Anderson was safe on a fielder's choice.

In the fourth frame, Greg Etienne singled, Dave Slavin singled and Hetkowsky singled for one run but the rally was stopped with two runners still on base.

Etienne and Slavin teamed up again in the fifth inning to account for Salem's third run. Etienne tripled then Slavin singled.

The team's final run came in the sixth frame: Kevin Merrill was hit by a pitch, Pat McNamara was safe on an error with Merrill moving to third and Anderson dropped in a hit into short left field scoring Merrill. Then with runners still on first and third, the rally ended when Mike Woodard hit a deep fly that was caught.

In North Farmington's half of that sixth inning, the club put together its biggest rally of the day with five runs.

Earlier in the game, the Raiders tallied three runs in the second inning, one in the third and two in the fourth.

Salem totalled nine hits and four errors out hitting North Farmington which had seven hits and was charged with five errors.

McNamara was charged with the pitching defeat for Salem. He hurled five innings, walked seven, and struck out four. He also gave up nine of North's 11 runs. Eight of those were earned.

Jeff Primeau came on for Salem in the sixth frame after McNamara had loaded the bases with no outs. He promptly walked in two runners and gave up a double.

"Pat had trouble getting his curve over the plate. He had to work hard every inning because of that," said Gilles.

SALEM'S GREG ETIENNE takes a cut at what the North Farmington pitcher has to offer in Saturday's district baseball competition. The Rocks fell 11-4 to bow out of state competition, but Etienne picked up two hits for the Rocks. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Runners compete in league meet

Jeanne Gray teamed up for fifth in the 880-yard relay with a time of 1:58.6.

Ford was also fifth in the discus, while Diane Perpich tied for fifth in the high jump.

Liza Miyazaki was sixth in the discus, while Beth Hoerner was sixth in the mile at 5:43.9 and the 440-yard relay team of McCall, Davis, Carlson and Gray were sixth with an effort of 55.5 seconds.

Salem's mile relay foursome of Meixner,

Lori Grissom, Lybarger and Lindsay ran a 4:13.2 for first but were disqualified for making contact with another runner while in the passing lane.

"I still say that we are No. 1 in the mile relay in the league and we have proved it. The call was strictly a judgment call. He could have called it or not," said Kurtz.

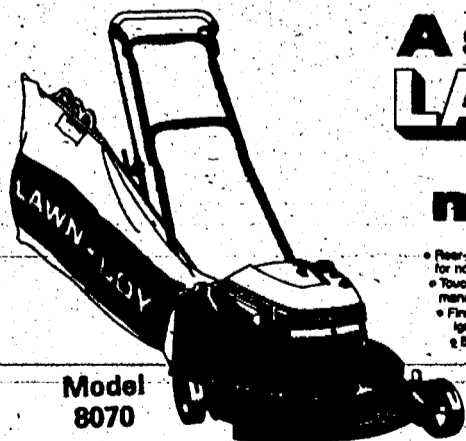

Salem finished the season with a 5-3 overall dual meet record and 3-3 in the league.

Salem tracksters finish season at state finals, also run Suburban Eight meet

Salem's boys' track squad completed their season as a team with the league meet, while state qualifiers Bob Pittaway and the members of the 440-yard relay team competed in the state finals over the weekend.

At those state finals in Grand Rapids, Pittaway threw the discus 153-8 which did not get him into the finals. Overall he was 12th.

Greg Lipca, Pittaway, Jim Spooner and Leigh Langkabel ran their fastest time of the year in the 440-yard relay but it was not fast enough to score at the state. The four-some clocked 44.2 seconds just missing the school mark of 44.1.

"In terms of performances all you have to do is look at the 440-yard relay. They ran the fastest 440 in four years for this school," said Salem coach Gary Balconi. "I was pleased with our effort at the meet."

The Suburban Eight League meet proved to be quite exciting on its own. Although the Rocks finished third in the standings, there was a first-place tie between Dearborn and Dearborn Edsel Ford with 97 points each.

Belleville was second with 87 and Salem had 69. Livonia Bentley, Trenton and Allen Park trailed by a considered margin.

Belleville had been considered the top contender for the league championship until the final event the mile relay. Belleville's fourth runner hurt his leg and pulled out of the race. Edsel Ford won it with Dearborn second and Salem third.

The Rocks had three league champions by the end of the meet. The 440-yard relay team of Lipca, Spooner, Craig Stack and Pittaway combined to clock 44.4 seconds for first.

Pittaway also won the discus with a throw of 157-10 and Langkabel was first in the 440-yard dash with an effort of 50.7 seconds.

Rob Neu was second in the long jump with a leap of 20-6. It was the first time in three weeks for the senior to compete in the long jump event.

Pittaway was second in the 100-yard dash with a time of 10:23 seconds, while Lipca was fifth in that event with a time of 10.4 seconds.

Neu was also third in the high jump with an effort of 6-2 and Salem's mile relay team of Steve Schafer, Stack, Neu and Pittaway were third with their best time this season 3:35.5.

Dave Skone and Mike Prykowski were third and sixth respectively in the pole vault. Skone cleared 13-1 and Prukowski cleared 12-10. It was also their best efforts of this season.

Scott Fuller was fifth in the high jump at 6 and Paul Hess ran his best time in the two mile, 10:16 for fifth.

John Froozan was sixth in the discus at 123 feet, while Dave Argonis was sixth in the long jump at 18-1/2.

Phil Anderson clocked 15.8 seconds for sixth in the 120-yard high hurdles and Jeff Haertel was sixth in the mile with his best effort this year at 4:36.

"I would say yes I was very pleased with the performances," said Balconi. "When your kids give their best performances of the whole season in the league meet it is excellent. You can't expect more when that happens."

"We knew it would be a fight and we hung in there until the very end. Our track conference is very tough and it is a tough title to crack but we will keep trying," continued Balconi.

Chief softballers on league teams

BY MIKE HENSHAW

Canton players dominate the Western Six all-league softball teams, which were chosen by the league coaches at a meeting Saturday morning.

Mariann Pink, the Chief pitching ace who compiled a perfect 7-0 mark on the year as Canton went 10-0 in the Western Six to win the championship, was chosen as the first team pitcher. Pink was 11-2 overall on her season, giving up just 21 hits and 16 runs in 39 innings of work, striking out 18 batters. She also batted for a .414 average.

Canton first baseman Cindy Stevens was also selected to the first team, along with teammates Joni Sommerville, at second base, and Vicki Cavallaro, at shortstop.

Stevens had the highest batting average in league play, .543, and hit .368 over the entire 18-game schedule.

Sommerville batted at a .333 clip in the Western Six and .385 overall and Cavallaro sported a .371 average in the league and a .369 mark overall.

Named to the second team for Canton were catcher Pam Schipani, third baseman Marlene McKinley, and pitcher Cindy Sovine.

Schipani batted .242 in the league and .293 overall while doing a fine job defensively. McKinley averaged .385 in the league and .341 over 18 games.

Sovine, who shared the pitching duties with Pink, posted a 3-0 record.

Gaining honorable mention for Canton were centerfielder Cathy Campbell and Vicki Skeen. Campbell hit at a .250 pace and Skeen's average was .282 on the year.

"I'm really proud of all the girls," said Canton coach Max Sommerville. "They all worked hard and we had a fine season to show for it."

Indian guide track results

The 1980 Plymouth Y.M.C.A. Indian Guide track meet was held last week at Central Middle School and involved boys and girls from the various tribes from the ages of five and six years to 11 and older.

Competition was held for dart throw, standing long jump, running long jump, two-man relay and 50-yard dash.

Each age group was awarded a first, second and third-place ribbon for each event.

The event was sponsored by the Hopi and Sioux tribes.

Darren Bell and Curtis Dennison from the Shawnee won the two-man relay for five-six year olds, while Bret Kearney and Todd Kearney were second from Huron. Blake Chesney, Cherokee, Owen Crosby, Huron, were third.

Matt Setlak and Joey Gorsich won the event for seven-eight year olds, while Charley Packard and Dave Bares were second from Comanche and Mark Boluch and Scott Doyle from Chippewa were third.

Jeff Hanert and Todd Saunders from Hopi tribe won the event for 9-10 year olds. Brad Chesney and Danny Gorsich from Cherokee and Sioux were second and Derek Dennison and David Holmes from Miami were third.

In 11 and over, Mike McSurely and Jeff Blunt won the two-man relay. McSurely is from Hopi and Blunt from Blackfoot. Gary Kroll and Steve Drossart from Hopi were second.

Jason Greanya from Apache won the 5-6 year old 50-yard dash. Bell was second and Brent L'Heureux, Sioux was third.

Setlak won that event for 7-8 year olds, while Joey Gorsich was second and Doyle was third.

In the 9-10 year olds 50-yard dash, Hanert and Saunders from Hopi went one and two, while Joe Gondoly was third from Mohawk.

McSurely won the event for 11 and over. Drossart was second and Blunt was third.

Dennison won the 5-6 year olds running long jump, while L'Heureux was second and Lenny Adams from Huron was third.

Setlak won the competition for 7-8 year olds, while Joey Gorsich was second and Doyle was third.

Hanert won the 9-10 year olds, while Holmes was second and Saunders was third.

Again McSurely won the 11 and over with Blunt second and Drossart third.

In the standing long jump for 5-6 year olds, Bell was first, L'Heureux was second and Kevin Beach was third from Pueblo.

Setlak topped the 7-8 year olds in the event, while Joey Gorsich was second and Bares was third.

Saunders was first among the 9-10 year old jumpers, while Hanert tied for second with Joannine Fauxe from Kickapoo and Holmes was third.

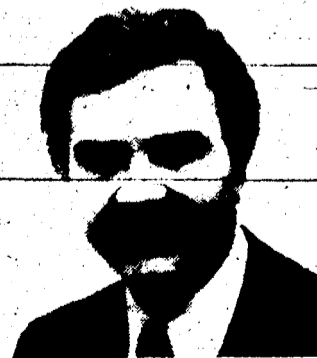

McSurely won 11 and over, Blunt was second and Drossart was third.

In the dart throw, Steve Amburgy from Pueblo was third in the 5-6 year old competition, while Crosby was second and Grenya from Apache was third.

Ryan Crosby won the event for 7-8 year olds, while Setlak was second and Jonathan Ziebol from Apache was third.

Ed Barlage won the event at 9-10 years, while Aron Mefford was second from Miami and Dawson from Miami was third.

Kroll won the 11 and over dart throw. Blunt was second and Drossart was third.

Canton boys tracksters last at Western Six meet

PG. 29 THE COMMUNITY CRIBER: June 4, 1980

BY MIKE HENSHAW

The Canton boys' track team finished last at last Wednesday's Western Six league meet, but the team's performance capped a year of consistent improvement.

The Chief team total of 52 points was the highest in history, and Canton was only one point away from fifth place, two points from fourth place, and six points from third place.

Livonia-Churchill dominated the meet, totaling 190 points, followed by Walled Lake Western with 90 team points.

Canton's discus competitors, Ted Toll and Keith Vitoratos, each had a good day. Toll was fourth with a toss of 132.5 and Vitoratos placed seventh.

The Chiefs lost third place in the 440-yard relay, when, while leading the race, the baton was dropped by a Canton runner causing a last-place showing. A win in the event would have moved the Chiefs into third place.

"That really hurt," said Canton coach Mike Spitz. "I just told the team afterward that it was a close meet and they had nothing to be ashamed of. I felt we did really well, not only in this meet, but all year long."

Randy Lee was Canton's highest finisher of the day, as he placed second in the pole vault by clearing 12-6.

Dan McGlenn placed third for the Chiefs in the 120-yard high hurdles, with a time of 15.4, and turned in the lowest time of his career (:40.1) in the 330-yard low hurdles in finishing fourth.

Canton's strongest event was the 880-yard run, as Scott Hand placed third with a time of 2:04 and Dan Inloes fourth at 2:05.1. Jay Malin also set a freshman record for the Chiefs in the event, with a time of 2:09.5.

The Canton mile relay team of John Tarr, Mike Swisher, Mike Kowalczyk, and McGlenn shattered the old school record time in the event by over three seconds with a clocking of 3:35.4, good for third place.

Kowalczyk also finished third in the 100-yard dash, 0:10.6, and Swisher placed fourth in the 440-yard dash with a time of 0:53.4.

The Chief 880-yard relay team of Tarr, Ken Jayroe, Kowalczyk, and McGlenn finished third with a time of 1:35.0.

Other bright spots for Canton were Ron Rienas' clearing of 5-9 in the high jump, a freshman record, and Jack Pacente's fifth place finish in the two-mile run with a clocking of 10:29.

Canton Open Golf tourney this weekend

Here is the first chance this summer for local golfers to hit the links and participate in tournament golf competition. The event is the Canton Open Golf Championship and will be held the weekend of June 7-8 at Fellows Creek Golf Course.

The tournament is sponsored by the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department and will be 36 holes in length.

All players will be divided into flight competition at the end of the first round. There will be trophies for the top three positions in each flight.

The entry fee is $25 and that covers both days of competition. All entries must be sent to the Canton Parks and Recreation office no later than 5 p.m. on June 5.

Entry forms are available at Fellows Creek Golf Course or the Recreation Department.

Rock netters finish season at league meet

Salem netters vied for individual honors at thier Suburban Eight League tennis meet last week at Dearborn after finishing the regular season with a third place in the conference.

Trenton won the league title, while Dearborn was second.

"What happens in our league meet is that everything is simply for individual honors. The final standings are already on the board so the teams compete as individuals," said Salem coach Tom Williams.

The Rocks finished the league season with a 6-4 record and carded a 10-4 overall record.

Dick Cooke, Salem's first singles players drew a bye in the first round and then played Fay Ororyn from Livonia Bentley and lost, 6-0 and 6-0, in the second round.

Scott Crispo won his first round match with Earl also from Bentley, 6-3 and 6-2. Crispo was then defeated by McKenna from Dearborn in the second round. Crispo won the first set 6-3 but then lost the next two 6-4 and 6-2.

Jeff Howell was defeated by Trenton's Scott Muir 6-2 and 6-0 in his opening round match at third singles.

Dave Goodsir advanced all the way to the finals in his fourth singles competition. Goodsir beat Howey of Trenton, 6-4 and 6-1, in the first round then he defeated Prokner from Dearborn, 7-6, 1-6 and 6-2, in the second round.

"Dave played just super. He pulled a muscle at the end of the first set against Prokner and didn't receive anything for it until the third set. Dave showed a lot of guts," Williams said.

In the finals, Goodsir was defeated by Chuck Davis from Dearborn Edsel Ford, 6-0 and 6-2.

The Rocks first doubles team of Blake Lundberg and Craig Baker also reached the finals. The pair defeated Paputa and Rufus from Dearborn in their opening round, 6-4 and 7-6, and knocked off the Grenne brothers from Allen Park, 6-0 and 6-1 in round two.

In the finals, against Desaria and Gambio from Trenton, Lundberg and Baker lost in two sets, 6-1 and 6-3.

Bob Jarvis and Doug Baker also reached the finals. The pair played second doubles and defeated Didrick and Donvonan from Allen Park, 6-0 and 6-2, in round one.

The twosome then defeated Simple and Soap from Edsel Ford, 6-1 and 7-5, in round two and played the Scharboneau brothers from Trenton in the finals and lost, 6-3 and 6-4.

At third doubles Jack Thomas and John Wimmers drew a bye in the first round but then lost to Molaski and Severyn, 6-2 and 6-3, in the second round. Molaski and Severyn are from Trenton.

Bob Stratton and Craig Flower lost their first round match at fourth doubles for the Rocks. Stratton and Flower were knocked off by Dearborn's pair of Schultz and Matthews, 6-4 and 6-2.

"That ends a good good season for us. I was very pleased with all the good things that happened this year," said Williams. "We weren't expected to do very well but we did nd the team showed a lot of improvement."

Canton girls run league, finish 4th

Walled Lake Western edged Livonia Churchill by 10 points last Wednesday to win the Western Six girls' track league meet, with Canton placing fourth.

The Chiefs totaled 54 team points while Western recorded 152 points and Churchill 142.

Michelle Perrot was the Chief's best finisher, placing second in the two-mile run with a time of 12:39.

Three Canton competitors turned in third-place finishes. Brenda Bigelow finished third in the high jump by clearing 4-8, Liz Gorecki was third in the discus with a toss of 97-5, Diane Durocher was placed third in the shot put with a throw of 30-4 1/4, and Colleen Crissey leaped 15-7 3/4 in the long jump, also good for third place.

Gorecki was fourth in the shot with a throw of 29-6 1/2 and Kathy Brophy, in the long jump, Durocher in the discus, Lisa Bundarin in the shot put, Geri Shufeldt in the mile run, and Lori Shufeldt in the 440-yard dash, each captured fifth-place honors. In addition, Perrot finished sixth in the mile run.

Pair take 1st in golf league

After four weeks of league play in the Canton Fox Hills Men's Golf League, Dan Riggs and Gary Rehberg took four points from Jim Canning and Jim Young to move into first place all alone.

Mike Moggio and Paul Oberhelman swept all five points from Harry Ackley and Dennis Stuebben to nail down second place just a half point behind the leaders.

Oberhelman turned in a par round 36 as he had two birdies, five pars and two bogeys.

Bruce Martin's 40 and Moggio's and Dick Kraft's 42s were the next best rounds of the week.

3-way tie in women's league

After two weeks of league play in the Canton Fellows Creek Women's Golf League, a three-way tie for first position has emerged.

Nadia Alimpich and Dierdre Vesnaugh scored four points each, while Jan Nelson took five points to form the three-way tie up.

Yoshiko Reyst turned in the best round of the week as she posted a 53. Shirley Young had a 54 and Betty Williams a 61 for the round.

Canton netters 2nd in conference

The Canton tennis team closed out the 1980 campaign with a fine second-place showing at the Western Six league meet held last Wednesday at the CEP courts. Northville was first with 17 points, followed by Canton with 12 and Farmington Harrison with 11.

Junior Bob Adams emerged as the Chief's lone league champion, at the No. 4 singles. Adams ousted Farmington Harrison's Rick Kovan in the finals 1-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Two Canton doubles teams and Kreg Kinnel at No. 2 singles lost final matches to Northville opponents, the difference in the meet.

Kinnel was defeated by the Mustang's Doug Horst 4-6, 7-5, 6-2. The Chief No. 1 doubles team of Curt Crocker and Jeff Garity lost to Northville's Andy Orlando and Ian Wild, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Grant Crago and Steve Jones dropped their No. 3 doubles match to Les Neal and Dale Fisher, 6-3, 6-4.

At No. 1 singles, Canton's Bob Young lost to eventual league champion Barry Ouellete of Northville in the semi-finals, 6-1, 6-3.

At No. 3 singles, Canton's Kevin Johnston lost in the semi-finals to Nancy Green of Farmington Harrison, who won the league at the position.

The Chief No. 2 doubles team of Pete Lee and Mark Roberts fell 3-6, 6-1, 6-4 to Kevin Swayne and Jim Herbel also in the semi-finals.

S'craft tennis tourney coming

Schoolcraft College will hold its Sixth Annual Open Tennis Tournament the week-end of June 5 through 8.

Entry fees are $6 for singles competition and $8 for doubles teams. Registration forms are available at the Schoolcraft College tennis house. All entries must be received no later than June 2.

Play will start on Thursday and Friday and run from 6 to 10 p.m. On Saturday and Sunday the tournament will run from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Players should contact the tennis house (591-6392) on June 4 for their match times.

All play will be conducted on the school's 12 plexipave tennis courts of which eight are lighted.

Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Yes: West, Fidge, Hulsing, Lynch, Breen, Notebaert. No: None. Resolution adopted.

Mrs. Lynch moved that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth authorize Mr. Hollis to advertise for bids to purchase one-half ton pick-up truck for the Water and Sewer Department. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Ayes all.

Mr. Breen moved approval of the recommendations of Mr. West, Treasurer to increase the salary of Mrs. Kathryn A. Bigelow from Level 1, minimum salary of $9,300.00 to Level 1, 6 months $9,600.00 retroactive to March 14, 1980. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Ayes all.

Mrs. Hulsing moved to accept the resignation of Chief Building Official, Mr. James Briggs with regret; Mr. West requested the Clerk to draft a resolution relative to the fine job and the dedication of Mr. Briggs during his 7 1/2-8 years tenure with the Charter Township of Plymouth. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Ayes all.

WHEREAS, for almost eight years James Briggs, Chief Building Official has served the Township faithfully and well, and

WHEREAS, his building department has doubled in size and James Briggs has in that expansion increased its expertise in the necessary fields, and

WHEREAS, James Briggs has piloted the building department through the most expansive growth the Township has ever known, and

WHEREAS, his department must deal fairly with the problems of the builders and developers but at all times protect the interest of the local residents, insuring that they are well served and he has faithfully met both requirements, and

WHEREAS, because of his faithful service and unwavering loyalty to the betterment of Plymouth Township our Township has maintained the high quality reputation we had earned over the years, now

BE IT RESOLVED, that it is with deep regret we accept the resignation of James Briggs, we are losing an excellent worker and personal friend. We wish him well.

Mr. West moved that Mr. Joseph Attard be appointed as temporary acting Building Official at level 6, first year $21,000. Supported by Mr. Breen. Ayes all.

Mr. Breen moved that a joint meeting be called with the Planning Commission, the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth, representatives from Wayne County Economic Development Corporation and the Township Attorney on June 10, 1980 at 7:00 p.m. for informational purposes. Supported by Mr. West. Ayes all.

Mrs. Lynch moved that the Township of Plymouth Board of Trustees transfer $139.20 from Contingency 941 to Account 201-977 Accounting-Office Equipment. Supported by Mr. West. Ayes all.

Mr. Breen moved authorization of $135.00 additional funds to be put into a common legal fund for the Michigan Township Association be approved. Supported by Mrs. Hulsing. Ayes all.

Mr. Breen moved the resolution which would retain the County Delinquent Tax revolving fund program. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mr. Breen moved a resolution opposing House Bill 4645 relative to strikes and compulsory arbitration. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Motion carried unanimously on a roll call vote.

Mr. Breen moved a resolution opposing the creation of a new County Charter based on disproportionment and unfair representation and therefore, recommends that citizens vote "No" on the proposition for County Reform. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Resolution carried unanimously on a roll call vote.

Mrs. Hulsing moved that Mr. Notebaert, Mrs. Fidge and Mr. Carlson have some procedural rules pertaining to a person addressing a meeting of the Board of Trustees in written form to bring back to the Board June 10, 1980 meeting. Supported by Mr. Breen. Ayes all.

Mr. West moved that the meeting be adjourned. Supported by Mr. Breen. Ayes all. Mr. Notebaert adjourned the meeting at 10:40 p.m.
