

Some good news--some bad news

School board gets financial picture

BY DAN BODENE

There was some good news and some bad news at Monday's Plymouth-Canton Board of Education meeting, when the district financial report was presented.

Raymond Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business, gave the board the bad news first.

The fund balance for June, 1982 will be decreased by $304,000 from what was originally projected, he said, due to an unexpected 487 fewer students in grades kindergarten through 12 and a corresponding decrease in state aid.

Loss of students meant a change in the state aid formula, Hoedel explained -- there is now $49 less aid per student district-wide, a loss of approximately $620,000.

Continuing problems include absorbing executive order cutbacks, Hoedel said. The first such cutback, which will come out of the October state aid payment, will be approximately $64,000. Another is expected later and Hoedel calculated it will mean a loss of another $151,000. A third cutback may even be ordered, he added, or the second enlarged.

On the almost-good news side, Hoedel said, so far the executive cutbacks have been within amounts budgeted for them.

Other almost-good news is a projected savings of $144,000 in certified personnel costs. However, an estimated eight more teaching positions will have to be eliminated before Jan. 1, 1982 due to changes in certified ratios precipitated by the low enrollment.

All-good news are increases in transportation aid of $88,000; lowering of special education cost projections by $12,000; increases in federal grants of $61,000; and an increase of $356,000 in local revenues, due mainly to consistently high interest rates on investments.

Superintendent John Hoben said the district's financial "pie" consists of 85 per cent in personnel costs, 4.9 per cent in utility costs, 3 per cent in interest costs on borrowed money and 7 per cent for other expenditures.

When cutting the budget, he warned, not too much more can be trimmed from the 7 per cent budgeted for program and other costs.

Tuesday ballot to settle local, county issues

Voters going to the polls in the City of Plymouth and Canton and Plymouth Townships on November 3 won't be facing a bedsheet ballot full of candidates and proposals but the election is an important one none the less.

In the city and two townships, as in all of Wayne County, the proposal calling for making Wayne County the first charter township in Michigan with the alternatives of placing county government under either an elected county executive officer or a county executive officer appointed by a 15-member county board of commissioners will be decided.

In Canton Township voters will face a local proposal calling for the township to purchase development rights to 5,000 acres of farmland west of Canton Center Road in an effort to preserve farmland from the pressures of future development. The purchase of the development rights proposal calls for financing through issuing of $7 million in bonds with all taxpayers in the township to repay the bonds, plus interest over an extended period of time at an estimated average millage rate of 1.16 mills.

In the City of Plymouth, along with the county charter proposal, voters will fill four city commission seats from a slate of seven candidates. The field is made up of incumbents David Pugh, Mark O. Wehmeyer and Ralph J. Kenyon and Dorothy Frid, Marda Benson, William L. Robinson and Gregory Green.

In Plymouth Township voters will have only the county charter issue to decide.

If the demand for absent voter ballots in Canton and Plymouth Townships and the City of Plymouth is any indication, it shouldn't be necessary to stand in line at the precinct polling booths on Nov. 3.

Absent voter ballot demand is extremely light. In the City of Plymouth as of presstime on Tuesday only 80 absent voter ballots have been cast. That's well below the usual demand.

Canton Township Clerk John Flodin also reported 80 absent voter ballots turned in--way below the normal number.

In Plymouth Township Clerk Esther Hulsing reported only 22 absent voter ballots turned in with the election just one week away.

On election day polls in all the two townships and the city will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Canton trustees reject farmland preservation

There will be no official motion fixing the position of the Canton Township board regarding the farmland preservation bonding issue to be voted on Tuesday.

At last night's meeting trustees discussed a resolution but a resolution of support was never presented.

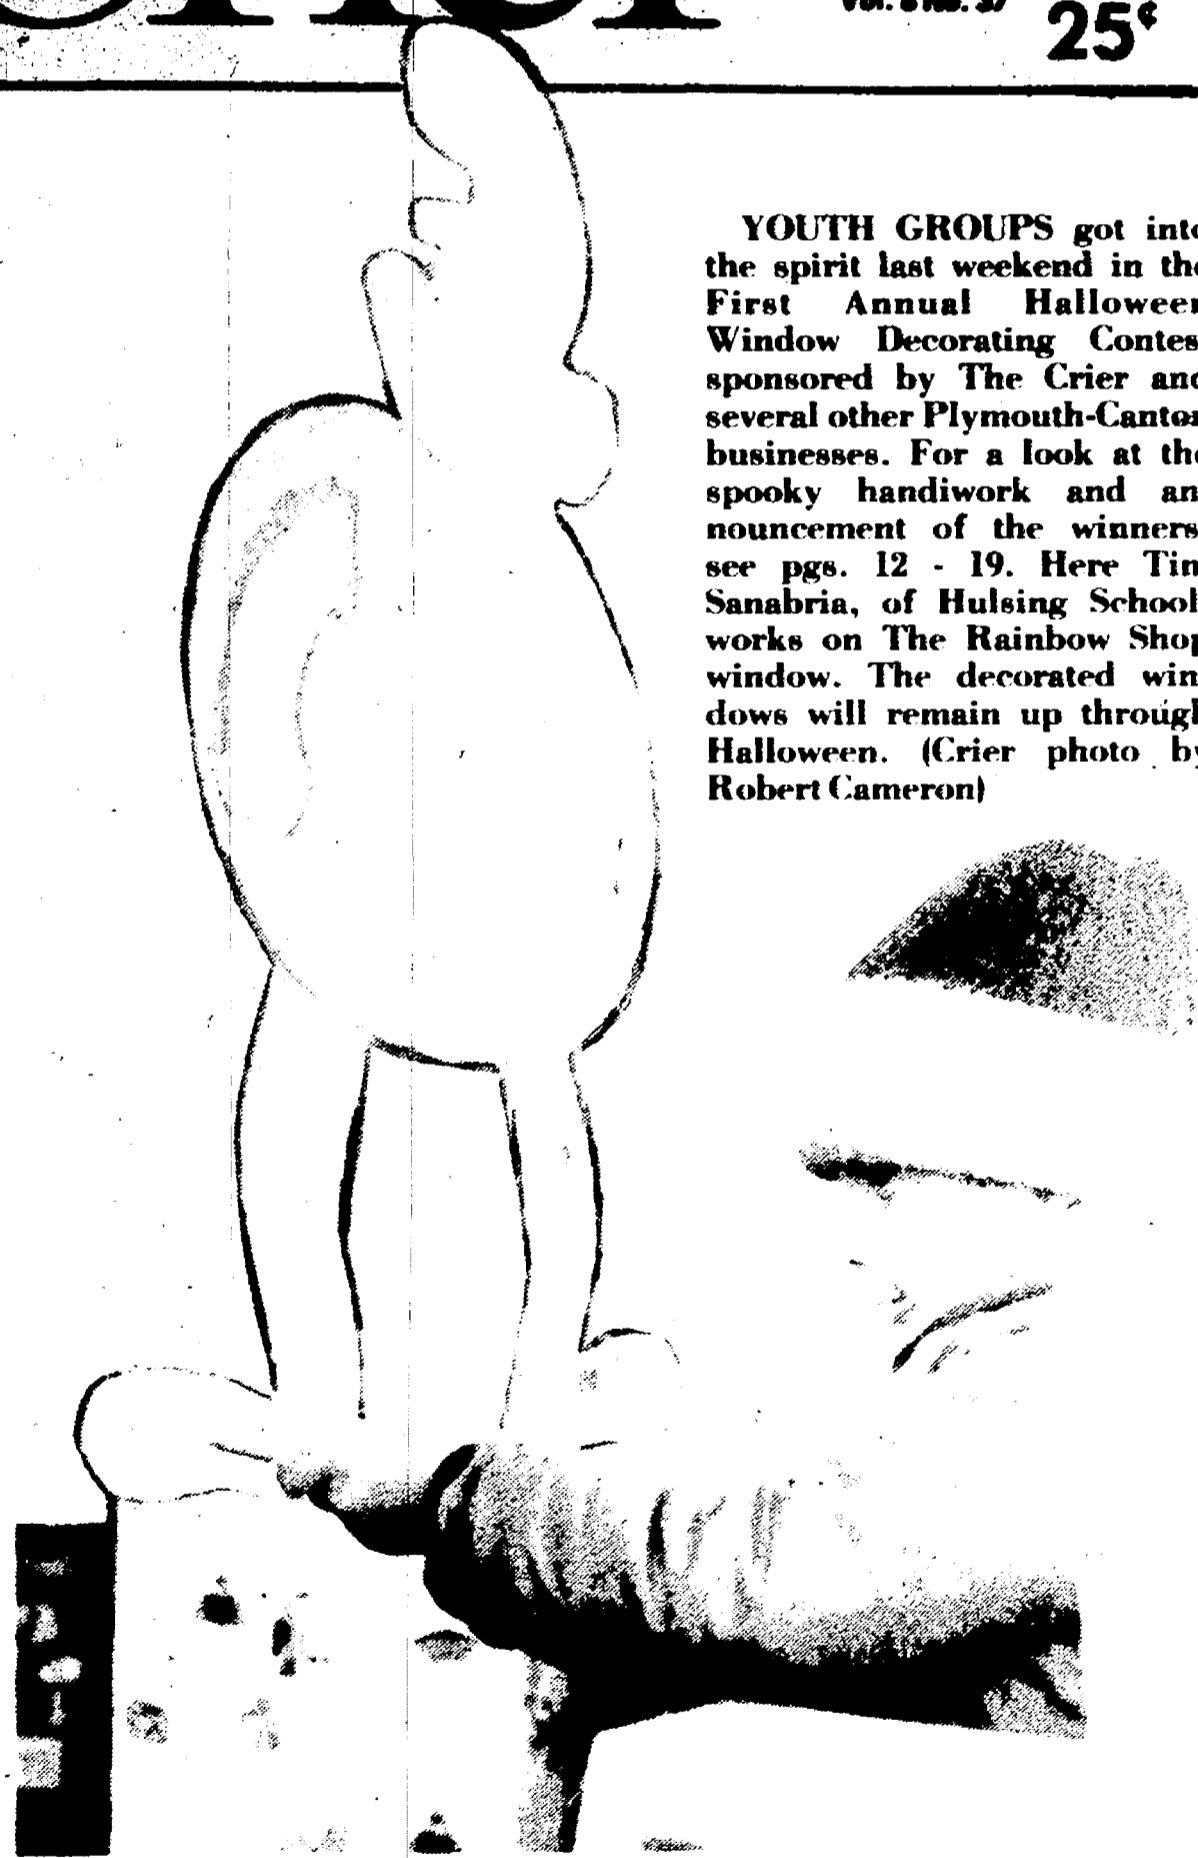

There were individual testimonies of support during the discussion from trustees Carol Bodenmiller and Robert Padgett.

Bodenmiller praised the farmland proposal and accused Supervisor Jim Poole of attacking and casting doubt on the issue.

Poole responded that legal opinions that he had sought termed any promotion of a yes vote utilizing township funds as illegal.

Padgett said he supported an affirmative vote in Tuesday's election but called an official board motion of support "an improper procedure by the board to influence voters."

School food service firm gives board report

Jack Chandler, district manager for Interstate United, gave the first report to school board members Monday night on his company's takeover of district food service.

Interstate assumed food service duties

Super Sewer cost estimates presented for area communities

The Wayne County Board of Public Works and members of the communities involved in the Huron Valley Wastewater Program for the north service area - Super Sewer - met in Romulus Thursday to discuss preliminary costs per community for the six alternate facilities and treatment plans selected two months ago.

The cost figures are based on local shares. Plymouth Township's local share ranges from no commitment to $4.4 million. City of Plymouth costs range from no commitment to $1.2 million, and Canton Township preliminary figures range from $11 million to $16 million.

"The Public Works people wanted it emphasized that these are preliminary figures only," said Plymouth Township Trustee Lee Fidge after attending the meeting. Fidge added that the board requested and received a six month extension to work out more specific costs.

The costs are based on design peak flow (cubic feet per second), or the maximum amount permitted for a community to discharge into the proposed interceptors packages. Plymouth Township's CFS, for example, is 26.65, while Plymouth's is 7.36 and Canton is 88.86.

for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools on Aug. 31, Chandler said, and since then has initiated several programs.

A standardized inventory control system has been put in place, manager's meetings have been scheduled frequently, voluntary training seminars are now available to food service personnel, work has begun on organizing and fine-tuning the purchasing process and district schools have been toured and evaluated by an Interstate team, Chandler explained.

In addition, he said accounting procedures have been initiated to provide board members with a monthly profit-loss statement, a condition specified by the board when Interstate was hired.

The operating statement for September, said Executive Director of Finance Daniel White, reflects a loss of $7,000, although he added the loss for the same month last year under management by ARA Services was $12,000.

Most of the loss was sustained in elementary schools, Chandler said, where participation in meals was not as great as anticipated. The ala carte meal program in middle and high schools, he said, has been received well.

Although losses were noted in smaller schools' operations, they were mainly due to low participation and built-in labor costs, Chandler said.

Meals for Gallimore and Geer schools, he added, were being prepared at Pioneer Middle School as part of a "satellite" food preparation program.

Chandler said this month he and Jack Driscoll, also of Interstate, would again survey schools "as a basis for concrete suggestions of expanding food service." One study he noted would be one of the feasibility of family-style meals.

Board of Education members accepted the Interstate report unanimously.

City-Township police coverage working well

BY KEN VOYLES

If the Plymouth Community were to be protected according to Federal Bureau of Investigation standards it would need a police force over 60 officers strong to cover both city and township, says Plymouth Police Chief Carl Berry.

The FBI recommends two officers per 1,000 people in a community. Berry's 21-man force, entering its ninth month on a one-year contract to protect the township as well as city, would need a hefty increase in numbers to cover the 30,000 plus residents of the community by FBI standards.

City and township officials recently expressed satisfaction with the department's efforts nine months into a service contract that was signed in mid-February of this year. The size of the force has not been a stumbling block in the efforts to combat local crime on an expanded front, says Berry.

"From the department's viewpoint the contract has been a success so far. We have provided the service, more than asked, even, and that reflects back to the officers and the work and attitude they put forth," said Berry.

Berry said Tuesday that his department's main goal right now is to make the public aware that it can learn to be on the watch for itself. "We want to better educate the community so it can better protect itself," he said.

The department's main efforts so far have included the forming of a citizen watch team and a neighborhood watch program in the township. That program will also be implemented in the city.

"Generally the work load in the township has been a little more than anticipated. The calls have doubled. The actual amount of work hasn't doubled but it has increased," said Berry. He added that his department is working at a level anticipated before the contract was signed.

The department's budget for this year is $708,000. Of that, $278,000 is paid for by the township.

Signs will warn Joy

Road motorists of low-flying planes

Motorists driving Joy Road will have another set of signs to look at thanks to a push from Canton Township Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz.

The Wayne County Road Commission has agreed to erect two warning signs which will read, "Caution-Low Flying Aircraft."

Concern of township officials coupled with an editorial in The Crier after a plane crashed on the North side of Joy at the end of a Mettetal runway, started a series of letters from the township to Wayne County Road Commission and Michigan Department of Transportation officials seeking the posting of signs along Joy warning drivers to be on the lookout for low flying aircraft using the runways which end close to Joy Road.

State and county officials pointed out that Mettetal Airport management could further relieve the dangerous situation by requiring planes to land further down the runway.

In terms of actual runs, or calls, the department has made 4,347 in the city through Sept. and 4,322 in the township. In man hours the department spent 253 in the city and 112 in the township in September. The department also spent 10 overtime hours in the city and 72 in the township for September.

The township's monthly portion of the police budget is $23,209. According to Plymouth City Manager Henry Graper Jr. the force is spending almost 50 per cent of its time in the township. In terms of dollars the city spends approximately 60 per cent and the township 40 per cent.

Graper added, "We are covering more miles and more people. We didn't know how much people would be asking for when we started the contract, now we have a good grasp on the needs," said Graper. "We found the Wayne County Sheriff's department a very visible force when they were in the area, but as far as crime runs they were not as effective. People would not call on them."

Graper added that the one area the department has not put in as much time as it would like is traffic control, especially in the heart of the city and along the western township roads.

Berry said response time within the city and township ranges from 30 seconds to four minutes on emergency calls and up to an hour on non-emergency.

To combat the overload of work for the officers, the department has formulated several new policies. For example, in the past officers would make a run on a complaint that involved an insurance report. Now the resident must come to the department to file a report. Also the department will no longer help car owners who have locked their keys inside the car.

Other efforts, like loading up the night shift, and giving both patrol and command officers expanded duties have kept the department from reaching a critical strain on its manpower.

Berry's monthly department report for September gives a breakdown on crime in the city and township and their numbers.

The biggest single crime in numbers is burglary against property. There have been 108 case of burglary against residential homes in the township alone for 1981 to date, and 42 in the city. Non-residential B & E's number 47 in the township and 57 in the city.

Also there have been 86 personal injury car accidents to date in the township and 57 in the city. Personal damage accidents are 161 for township and 179 for city.

Community Fund shows $69,027 in bag

Plymouth Community Fund's 1981 drive is gradually picking up steam. At Friday's report luncheon to total reached $69,027, according to Community Fund officials.

That leaves a quite a bit to come in in the final weeks if the fund drive is to hit its goal of $340,000.

Plymouth Community Fund supports local youth organizations, senior citizen activities, YMCA, Red Cross and many other service organizations serving the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Plymouth-Canton education gets comprehensive study

12x12 school committees on schedule

BY DAN BODENE

Partway through their 12 week (with exceptions) limit, 12 committees appointed by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education are already writing reports.

From statements of position and action plans to assessments and memos, interim reports prepared recently show a wide range of concerns.

- For example, Budget Committee members have suggested examining the possibility of a self-imposed district "millage" request moratorium as a gesture of goodwill to voters. Committee member Bruce Mirto says the group feels adversary relationships are an underlying cause of the negligible likelihood for a successful school millage increase in the future.

One problem is that although personnel costs account for approximately 85 per cent of the budget, any reduction there means layoffs, Mirto said.

The committee is scheduled to investigate strategies for 1982 through 1985 and look at an on-going finance committee.

- The third draft of the Data Processing Committee report, says Jerry Henderson, states "the gross lack of opportunity" for computer science instruction is found to be "unacceptable." Goals are listed for pre-high school and high school programs and an action plan is recommended.

Henderson says committee members have admitted they are not completely familiar with instructional modes of data processing, but will have a forthcoming report on administrative applications.

- High School Curriculum Committee member Nancy Renski says her group is identifying "core clusters" of basic classes taking into account state and district requirements, along with individual curricula.

Basic and minimum programs will be discussed, she says, along with college preparatory and general education programs.

- Extra-curricular Activity Committee members say they are currently attempting to clearly define key issues.

They report elementary and middle school extra-curricular activities are limited, and that cost-effectiveness of high school level programs must be weighed against the total school budget.

- The Housing Committee interim report details five housing alternatives with 10 questions to be answered for each, and looks at reviewing student population growth, decline and capacity in present buildings, special needs and changes.

Steve Harper, a member of the committee, says they offer "no sneak previews" or "crystal ball" predictions.

- Elementary Curriculum Committee member Judy Duerr says the group is going through district offerings, looking for a "buyback" priority list.

The committee's final report, according to their tentative outline, will be distributed on Dec. 2.

- For the first five weeks the Middle School Curriculum Committee has been examining curriculum and standards, according to Earl Harrington and Jane Watts, and where they are headed is to look at all required courses and outcomes expected of each student, options for realignment and packaging classes, and prioritization of courses.

An assumption, says Harrington, is that there will be fewer resources available for middle school students and teachers.

- Discipline and Attendance Committee members are looking at general school behavior, smoking, dress codes, abuse of special areas and many areas of policy.

Jeanette Wines of the committee says much of the atmosphere at Centennial Education Park is felt to be "chaotic," and that modular scheduling may be the culprit.

- Maintenance Committee members have been looking at a long list of concerns, researching a plethora of topics with an eye toward improvement.

The committee is currently looking at primary maintenance needs, timetables, energy conservation, rental fees, vandalism, cleanliness, custodial service and supervisory needs, safety, energy management, preventative maintenance and others.

- Volunteerism Committee members have completed a "needs assessment" and are preparing a resource booklet for teachers and administrators, and a possible list of job descriptions for many types of volunteer work.

One concern the committee has is making sure volunteer resources are available to the district, but that staff is not pressured out in the process.

- Special Services Committee research on alternative education, special education, Talented and Gifted, vocational education, Title I and guidance and counseling is still being conducted, say committee members.

A series of questions will be directed to each, and a list of recommendations will be forthcoming, they add.

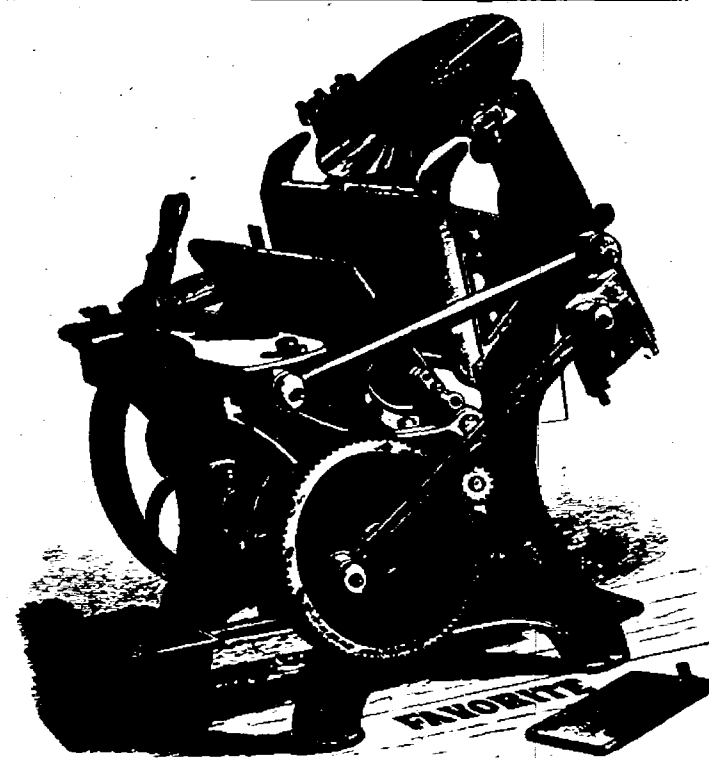

- The Legislative Committee is meeting with lawmakers, says Les Walker, and will soon meet with an educational lobbyist in Lansing. A problem, Walker adds, is that aspects of local, state and federal legislation can be discussed at great length, although committee members are "zeroing in" on the state level.

Three basic needs, the committee says, are community awareness of legislative impacts, community involvement and effective communication between legislators, district administration and the community.

Class has openings

The Canton Parks and Recreation Department still has a few openings for its Wednesday Exercise Class from 5:15 to 6:15 p.m.

Tuesday's election is vital

Next Tuesday's election is vitally important no matter where you live in Wayne County.

If you live in Canton, you've got farmland preservation on the ballot. The outcome of that referendum will certainly affect the future of the township.

If you're a City of Plymouth voter, you'll decide on four City Commission seats from among seven candidates. Thus more than half the city's policy-making power is at stake.

But even if you vote in Plymouth Township, there's too vital an issue on the ballot to pass up Tuesday:

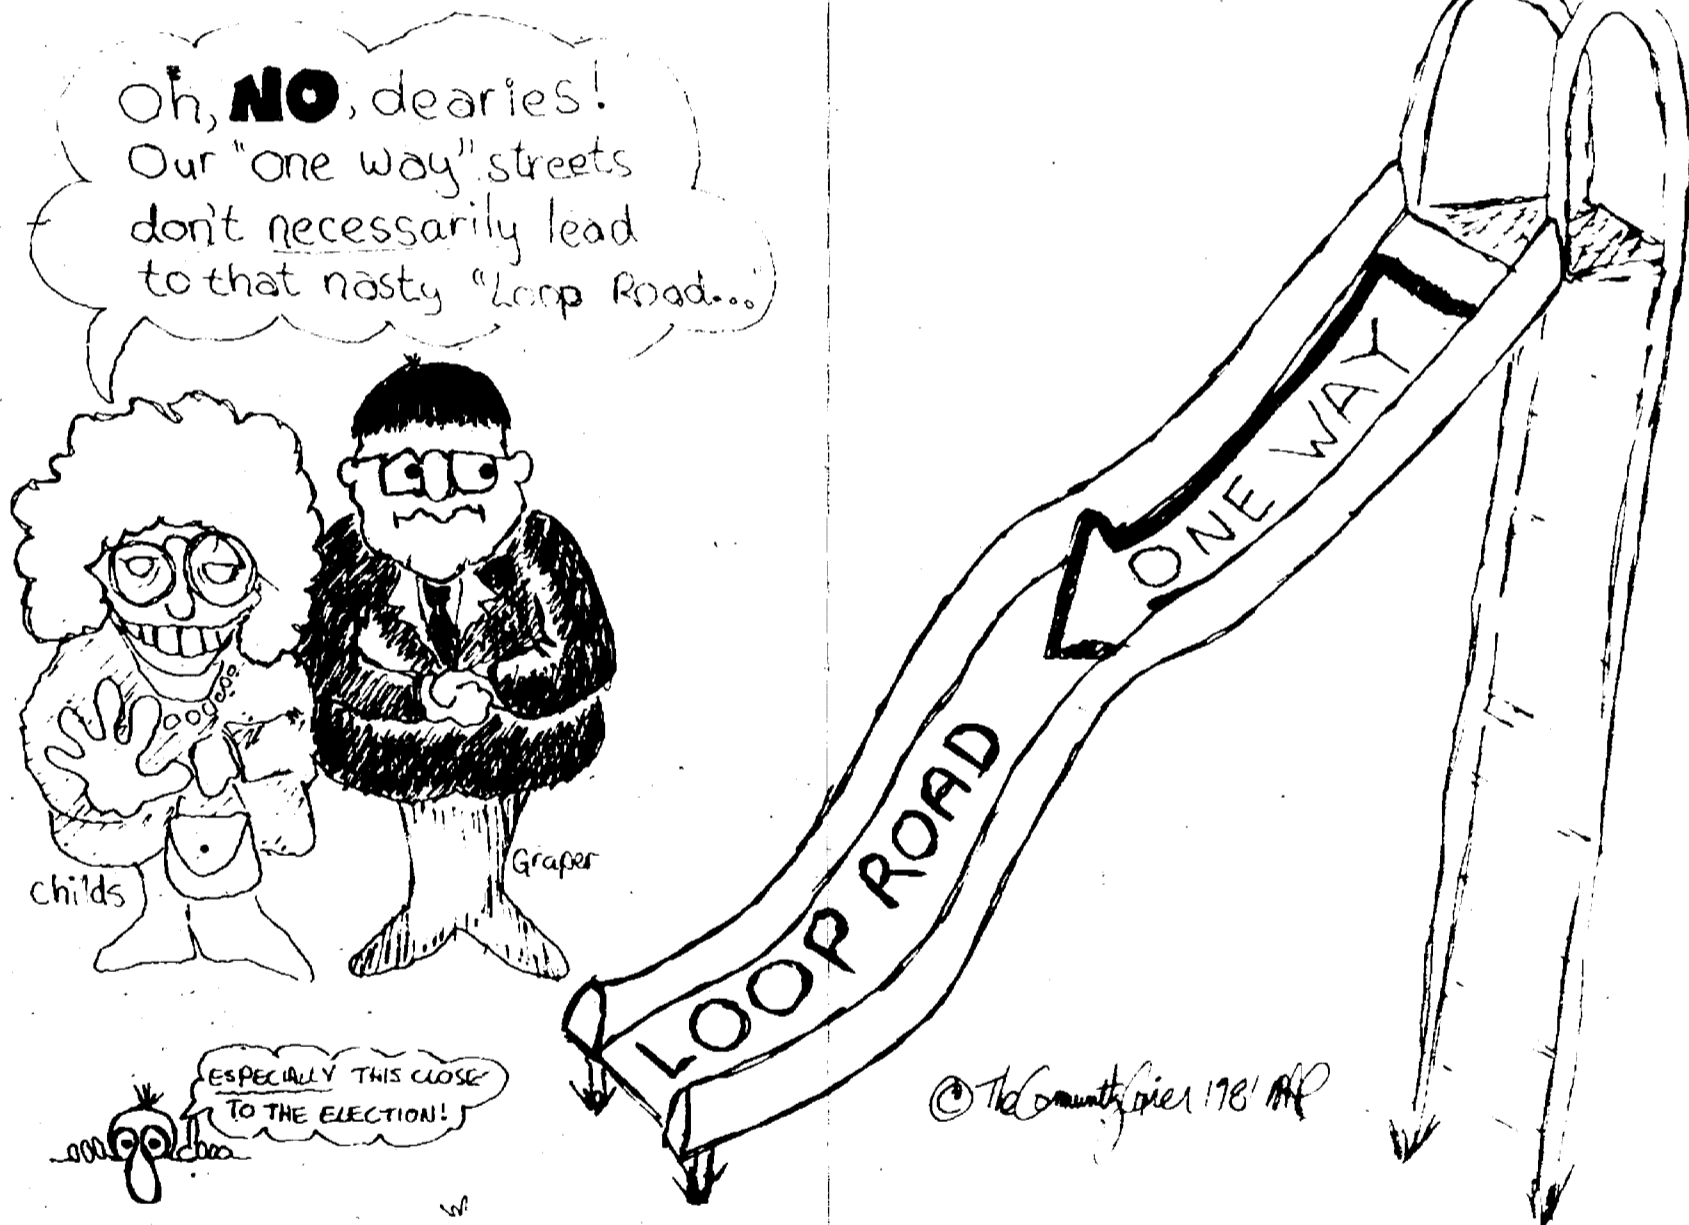

A NEW WAYNE COUNTY CHARTER, offering many revisions in our currently uncontrolled county government, is on the ballot in two forms -- one for an elected county executive and one for an appointed county manager.

This reform issue is especially critical in the suburbs of Wayne County because the spineless county and state legislators had it placed on the ballot when Detroit is electing its officials. (Clearly, in the interest of fairness, this should have been on a neutral ballot.) A good voter turnout in the out-county is therefore our only hope of seeing that Detroit doesn't gain an unfair advantage in determining the form of Wayne County reform.

So your vote IS important. Please, whichever way you'll vote Tuesday, go to the polls and cast your vote.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Vote YES on farmland preservation

Canton Township voters will face an important issue in Tuesday's election—an issue that could cast the mold for future development of the western half of the township. It is also an issue that affects the taxpayers' pocketbooks.

Canton voters will, for the second time, vote on a plan to preserve Canton farmland by authorizing the township to purchase development rights to 5,100 acres of agricultural land west of Canton Center Road.

In 1978 a similar proposal went down to a narrow defeat.

After weighing the cost of the current proposal against the long-range benefits of preserving farming, curbing sprawling hit-and-miss residential and commercial development and the costs of providing roads, sewers, police and fire protection and schools, The Crier recommends a "YES" vote.

This is a poor time in area economy to recommend approval on an issue which must be paid for by special millage assessed against all Canton taxpayers, but the cost in interest and principal on $7 million in bonds over the next 20 years estimated at $18.5 million, will be far less than the cost of providing utilities and services to development tracts and businesses which are sure to come in the future.

A vote of approval now, painful as it might seem, would be the cheaper way to go.

There are some other pitfalls to the plan besides the cost to the taxpayers.

One of those hazards, if the measure passes, is that if the township owns development rights and down the road a few years the township is offered big money for those development rights to a particular parcel, it will take a vote of the people to sell those rights.

Unless the agricultural preservation board and the township board stand firm and are backed by the voters, the same piece meal development sprawl could develop.

The farmland preservation proposal is not a short-term measure. It will take vigilance on the part of Canton officials and the voters to keep the farmland preservation program on track if it is started.

community opinions

Basically
by Ken Voyles

With all this talk of Surrey Trail, loop roads, one-way streets - not to mention new parking changes - it would seem somebody is preoccupied with Plymouth's streets.

When one rethinks again, it becomes clearer that it's not streets but bringing business into the city, which is on the mind of the city administration.

It is an understandable approach and a realistic way to consolidate the city's commercial enterprises and develop, while also increasing the tax base and maybe even lessen it upon residents.

A sign of the times will become the placard on what remains of the city's former parking meters, now cut down to half size with a wood crown.

The city administration has moved ahead with its plans for the city streets and for the evolution of parking to a new phase - which can be changed again if unsuccessful.

The meters, over 500 in number, are gone except in the Weidman lot around the Mayflower II expansion and behind the Penn Theatre.

Instead of dropping in quarters residents and guests are given two hours free, after that is the chance of a $5 ticket. The thing the city has to watch is the revenue generated from the changeover, along with a new token machine to be installed in the Central Lot. Funds from the meters and parking fines are mainly used to find and develop parking - which is among the things used to entice business - so the step should be a cautionary one.

Parking revenues were slightly over $100,000 last year, the majority of that from the meters.

The question remains, to get back on track, whether the two hour solution is going to work for the administration. Obviously it will benefit business and residents in many ways, but can future administrations do without the possible revenue. It can be generated in other ways.

That's where bringing business into town comes into the picture. The city is working to build a cleaner parking pattern, along with some re-designed streets for a cleaner traffic pattern.

The removal of the meters was accomplished abruptly. Some remain but they too will be cut to half size.

Work has already started on making Penniman a parking mall. New property for parking has been purchased and, to get to the big street issue, the Surrey Trail loop concept keeps popping up.

Does the city think the loop idea will bring in the businessman and shoppers? It must, why else is it risking the wrath of its residents, who are the ones who will have to cope with the result day in and day out.

Surely the the subject of loops and one-ways will not end at Penniman. Once the election is over the trail will spring to life. The city commissioners voice opposition to the idea. That is a good sign. At least it will take a refined design and good plan even to make them look at the idea. But the commissioners are businessmen and so too is the city manager. Their goal is to bring more business. With businessmen at the wheel the hardship to the residents will be discounted.

The loop will come up again after the election. Residents on the fringes of development now, will cringe, businessmen will leer, and the Main Street of Plymouth will become a memory. This is progress?

COUNTY PROPOSALS

AN ELECTOR MAY VOTE YES OR NO ON EITHER, OR BOTH, OF THE CHARTERS.

A charter shall be declared adopted by the electors if it receives more yes votes than no votes. If both charters receive more yes votes than no votes, the charter which receives the higher number of yes votes shall be declared adopted.

BRIEF CHARTER EXPLANATIONS

Both proposed County Charters, among other things, provide for:

- 1) A reduction of the number of County Commissioners from 27 to 15.
- 2) The elimination of the Board of Auditors.
- 3) A balanced budget and an annual audit.

These proposed Charters are substantially the same except that "Proposal 1" provides for a county executive elected by the voters of Wayne County; and "Proposal 2" provides for a chief administrative officer appointed by the Board of County Commissioners.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER, October 28, 1981

Vote YES on County reform Prop. 1 and NO on Prop. 2

Reform of Wayne County's government is long overdue.

Next Tuesday, county voters have an opportunity to reverse the trend towards county governmental disintegration by voting "YES" for the elected county executive charter AND "NO" for the appointed county administrator charter.

An elected county executive would, along with other county government changes spelled out in the proposed new charter, have the power to get Wayne County back on the track from which it has been derailed.

The proposed charters don't go far enough in changing our antiquated county governmental structure, but they're certainly better than what we have now. And don't be confused by the irresponsible voter groups urging a "yes" vote on both charter forms because clearly one is better than the other.

To give the accountability in Wayne County necessary for good government, we strongly urge you to vote "YES" on the elected county executive charter and "NO" on the appointed county administrator charter this coming Tuesday.

Best City Commission choices: Kenyon, Pugh, Green, Robinson

There may be a big shift in power in Plymouth this year as four positions are up for grabs on the City Commission.

A new mayor will be appointed and a new mayor pro-tem will also be selected.

Seven candidates, including three incumbents, are vying for those four positions, and although on paper all seven look like they have something to add to the commission, the choice is clear.

Incumbent Ralph "Jack" Kenyon should be retained on the commission. He won a spot on the commission with a write-in campaign two years ago in the last election, and since then has shown a hardworking attitude and an inquiring interest in the workings of the city.

Incumbent David Pugh should also be retained on the commission. This is the last time Pugh can run for a seat, and although there are reservations concerning possible conflicts with his vested interests it is clear that Pugh has also contributed much to the commission, questioning, studying and formulating city programs.

Gregory Green should also be elected. This is his second attempt at a commission seat, and he has shown a clear interest and understanding of the issues within the city. He has regularly attended city commission meetings as well as planning commission and zoning board of appeals meetings. He could do well in representing different segments of Plymouth residents, and his outlook could be a change of pace for the commission if he learns how to be a commission gadfly in the vein of the late Arch Vallier.

The fourth choice falls to William Robinson, currently a planning commissioner. Although Robinson has not been an outspoken member of that commission until recently, he will fit into the City Commission with his extensive financial and management experience. Robinson was also a candidate two years ago, and is back for another try. He has a knowledge of Plymouth well-suited for the job.

Incumbent Mark Wehmeyer, although well-versed in city administration, has shown a disturbing absenteeism rate during his term and only lately has become a more vocal member of the commission. It would not be wise to re-elect Wehmeyer because his interest may again soon fade. This is also his last chance to run for a consecutive term.

Candidate Marda Benson has shown a total lack of knowledge in the various issues a commissioner would have to deal with, as well as not showing a true interest in issues confronting citizenry. Benson cannot be recommended because she cannot seriously address many concerns.

Finally, Dorothy Frid had said that the commissioners should each represent a different segment of the Plymouth community, when in fact the purpose of the commission is to represent all the people and not just special interests. Frid cannot be recommended, for that reason and because she also lacks serious knowledge of city administration.

Another issue will affect city administration once the commission race is settled.

Mary Childs' term of office as mayor will end with the Nov. 3 election, and Eldon Martin (current Mayor Pro-Tem) is foremost in line for the mayoral spot.

There will also be a need to choose another Mayor Pro-Tem after the election, and Kenyon and Commissioner Karl Gansler should be considered the front runners for that appointment.

In anonymous letter:

Was parent's attitude fair to son, teammates, coach?

EDITOR:

I am a regular reader of The Crier's "Community Opinions" and was very disturbed by the letter from the individual who signed "One of Many Angry Parents," concerning Salem football coach Tom Moshimer.

Was this parent angry because Mr. Moshimer's comments were interpreted as blaming the players for the defeat? This could not be the case since the writer twice quoted the coach using the pronoun "we" when describing the team's shortcomings, and by doing so, clearly included himself as responsible for the game's outcome.

No, it seems far more likely that the real cause for this parent's anger was the fact that the team lost the game. Why else would he/she devote four paragraphs to outlining Coach Moshimer's tactical errors?

Mr. Moshimer can hardly be termed a poor football coach if the criteria for judging one is by his team's record. The fact that in 15 years of coaching Salem football he and his teams have accumulated 82 wins against 38 losses is not the point. What deeply concerns me is the attitude of this parent that the important part of competitive sports is the winning.

I am not a friend of Tom nor a football fan. I am, however, a coach. And as a coach, I never cease to be dismayed by the need of some parents--albeit a minority--to place blame for losing on coaches, officials and young players.

Surely these parents cannot be aware that this attitude sorely undermines the efforts of coaches to foster a sense of fair play and perspective in young adults--not to mention taking the fun out of what should be the very positive experience of belonging to a team.

It's unfortunate that these parents hadn't spared their son the impossible position of choosing between his parents' and his coach's judgment on the matter of football, and instead made their suggestions directly to the coach. It seems they remained anonymous to the wrong party.

Goodbye Mary

The Era of Good Feeling is about to draw to a close.

Mary Childs, mayor of the City of Plymouth these past two years, retires from the city commission in two weeks.

Sure, we've chided Mary for her "everything is SOOO nice" attitude and suggestions about planting petunias around the fire hydrants. It often seemed her spoonful of sugar was too powerful a dose and it earned her the nickname of Mary Poppins.

But her bubbly attitude left one important mark.

The Childs Commission will go down in history for having battered down the wall between the city and the township.

After the worst decade of city-township relations, the Childs Commission backed away from the annexation route and offered the white flag.

The move was in stark contrast to the commission headed by the last woman mayor, Bev McAninch, and railroaded by former City Manager Fred Yockey, which committed the greatest political blunder of recent times -- filing petitions to annex the township on the very day voters were at the polls to weigh consolidation.

So despite the arguments that City of Plymouth problems need more concrete solutions than petunias, Mary Childs will be remembered for her contribution to city-township good feelings.

Her reign was purely super-califragilisticexpialidocious!

Voters get what they deserve

There are times when those who closely follow government bodies, as they wade through the morass of problems, get that what's-the-use feeling. Are the functions of government as important as the newspaper reporters and the handful of other people who keep tabs on local government think they are?

A couple of times the last two weeks, it would have been easy to say, "The American citizen gets the kind of government he or she deserves. Nobody seems to be interested enough to find out what is going on.

Locally, that means that voters will select four Plymouth City Commissioners in Plymouth and voters in Canton will decide a farmland preservation proposal. Voters in all of Wayne County will also determine whether county government will continue to flounder and possibly sink or take on a new dimension as a charter township with a chief executive officer.

On two occasions the League of Women voters presented forums to discuss the issues and to hear the views of Plymouth city commission candidates.

Both affairs were poorly attended, leading anyone to believe that people just don't care.

At the Plymouth meeting the candidates would have been speaking strictly to the press, a few LWV members and themselves if they hadn't brought along a few members of their own families.

At the Canton meeting which zeroed in on the all-important Wayne County Charter and Farmland Preservation issues, it was the same story. Take away the members of the township farm preservation committee and the press and the speakers presenting both sides of the charter and farmland preservation issue would have been speaking to themselves.

At first blush the conclusion is that people just don't care to find out anything about the various issues. But people do care. They care enough to scream when they think they have been wronged by government. They have plenty of opinions to express and questions to ask when they get their tax bills.

Chances are fairly great that four seats on the Plymouth City Commission will be filled Tuesday by just a handful of voters who will make the effort to go to the polls. It's almost a sure thing that a very small percentage of those eligible to vote will show up in Wayne County to decide the fateful issue of the future of Wayne County government. It is also a sure thing that the same small percentage of voters in Canton will take the time to go to the polls to decide the farmland issue.

Is the poor voter turnout caused by lack of interest, too many elections, too many demands on the electorate's time for bowling, raquetball, television, etc.?

People in the United States get the government they deserve. They can show that they deserve good government by going to the polls Tuesday.

We favor county reform

EDITOR:

The seven Leagues of Women Voters in Wayne County urge a "yes" vote for a county charter on Nov. 3 to improve our county government. The charter provides a badly needed executive, a streamlined and truly legislative board of commissioners and strong financial controls.

Wayne County has long needed an executive. The one provided in the charter would give leadership, draw up and carry out the budget, and appoint the heads of all departments not directed by an elected department head.

There would be a streamlined legislative body—the commission—with only 15 instead of the present 27 members. Their powers would include budget approval, confirmation of most appointments and approval of all contracts, thus setting up a check and balance system we do not now have.

The current $20 million deficit proves the need for financial controls. Charter requirements include a balanced budget, an annual audit by an outside CPA and the use of "generally accepted accounting practices."

County tax increases without a vote of the people are forbidden.

State law requires that two charter proposals face the voters on Nov. 3. They are identical except that one provides for a county executive elected by the people, the other the other for a chief administrative officer chosen by the board of commissioners.

The proposals are presented as two separate ballot questions. You can vote yes or no, or abstain from voting on either or both. If both proposals pass, the one with the larger number of yes votes is adopted.

The League of Women Voters has no position as to whether an elected or appointed executive would be better. Members believe that either is a vast improvement over the present system.

Our youths are great

EDITOR:

On Saturday, Oct. 10, Canton High students headed by Scott Eddy joined in our Apple Festival by running two of our food concessions. We want to acknowledge what fine young people they are!

The concessions were run efficiently and at a profit for both the Old Village Association and the students. We instructed the students not to leave any large sums of money in their cashboxes as a precaution. It is far easier for someone to take money out of a cashbox than to pick a pocket. After the festival, one young lady discovered that she had $66 of the concession money in her pocket. We had no way of knowing that this sum was not turned in to us. We appreciate the honesty of your students and feel that their integrity should be acknowledged.

If these fine young people are an example of the Canton High student body, Principal Kent Buikema should be proud. The Old Village Association welcomes the students of Canton High to join in the Festivals of 1982.

YES on farmland program

EDITOR:

The League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Novi supports the farmland retention proposal on the Nov. 3 Canton Township ballot.

Awareness of the value of agriculture has been increasing steadily over the past years. American cropland provides a source of food for its citizens as well as a much needed commodity for foreign trade. In Michigan, agriculture is the second largest industry and as such, is helping to stabilize the state's economy in this time of recession. Locally, the amount of land devoted to farming has enabled Canton Township to provide residents with an economical and convenient source of produce while maintaining a semi-rural atmosphere.

Development of this acreage would increase the need for costly services such as fire and police protection, sewer extensions, and classrooms.

Converting farmland to urban uses is an irreversible process. The League of Women Voters believes that implementation of this program would insure the continuation of farming as a viable part of Canton's economy, would confine urban sprawl, and could provide the impetus for other communities to begin their own agricultural retention program.

The purpose of the League of Women Voters is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government. The League supports or opposes selected governmental issues after study and consensus.

Shall Canton pass Farmland proposal?

Pro

BY DIANE NEIHENGEN

Every Canton resident will pay for the western half. On Nov. 3 we will chose how much, for how long, and for what benefits.

A "no" vote will save you nothing, especially not tax dollars. A "yes" vote keeps $41 million dollars in your pockets, retains a $2 million agricultural industry, helps to stabilize our ever-changing school boundaries, and maintains an ecological balance.

Retaining farmland makes sense: economically, environmentally, and historically.

If industrial recruitment is a top priority item in Canton, then to pave over 5,000 acres of an existing $2 million agricultural industry, (not qualifying for tax abatements), is folly. To add an additional 31,000 people, in just the first 20 years, to the western half, will act as a dis-incentive to industrial recruitment.

With our present tax level of 90 percent residential contribution, 10 percent commercial-industrial contribution being so far out of balance already, adding additional residential service expenditures will act as a deterrent to industry.

The western half of Canton is not suited for industrial development; it is suited to farming.

There is no lack of industrially-zoned land in Canton. Nearly 90 percent of our 2,911 industrially-zoned acres is vacant. These 2,911 acres have ready access to railroad and expressways; the western half does not.

The western half should continue as an agricultural industry. A "yes" vote insures it.

If attraction of a major commercial development is important to Canton, our 700 acres of vacant commercially-zoned land on the eastern half can readily accomodate it. This land has visible expressway access. The western half does not.

Major commercial (mall) developers prefer expressway access.

A community's buying power is considered over its actual population figures. With the eastern half of the township presently zoned for an additional 30,000 people, minimum, our population will grow to at least 80,000, without paving over the western half. We don't need to.

If Canton residents vote "no" on November 3, they are not simply rejecting farmland retention; they are demanding full development of the township. The vast majority of the land will be re-zoned for residential use, with a population to reach 80,000 to 100,000 people, on the western half alone. Thirteen miles of additional roads will need to be paved.

Sewer and water extensions may be funded by developers, but future development costs will not.

These figures are not computed into

BY ROBERT SCHEFFERLY

Farmland Preservation for Canton Township is (1) not economically justifiable because the 5,000 acres in question are not necessary to Michigan's agriculture; is (2) unfair to Canton's homeowners and taxpayers because it will hurt our future community needs such as schools, sewers, recreation, roads, police-fire protection, etc; is (3) being presented to Canton voters as a glamorous and noble cause through half-truths in planning department news releases and "educational" program; and (4), in my opinion, completely unconstitutional and consequently will be held illegal in federal court when it is tested.

In more detail:

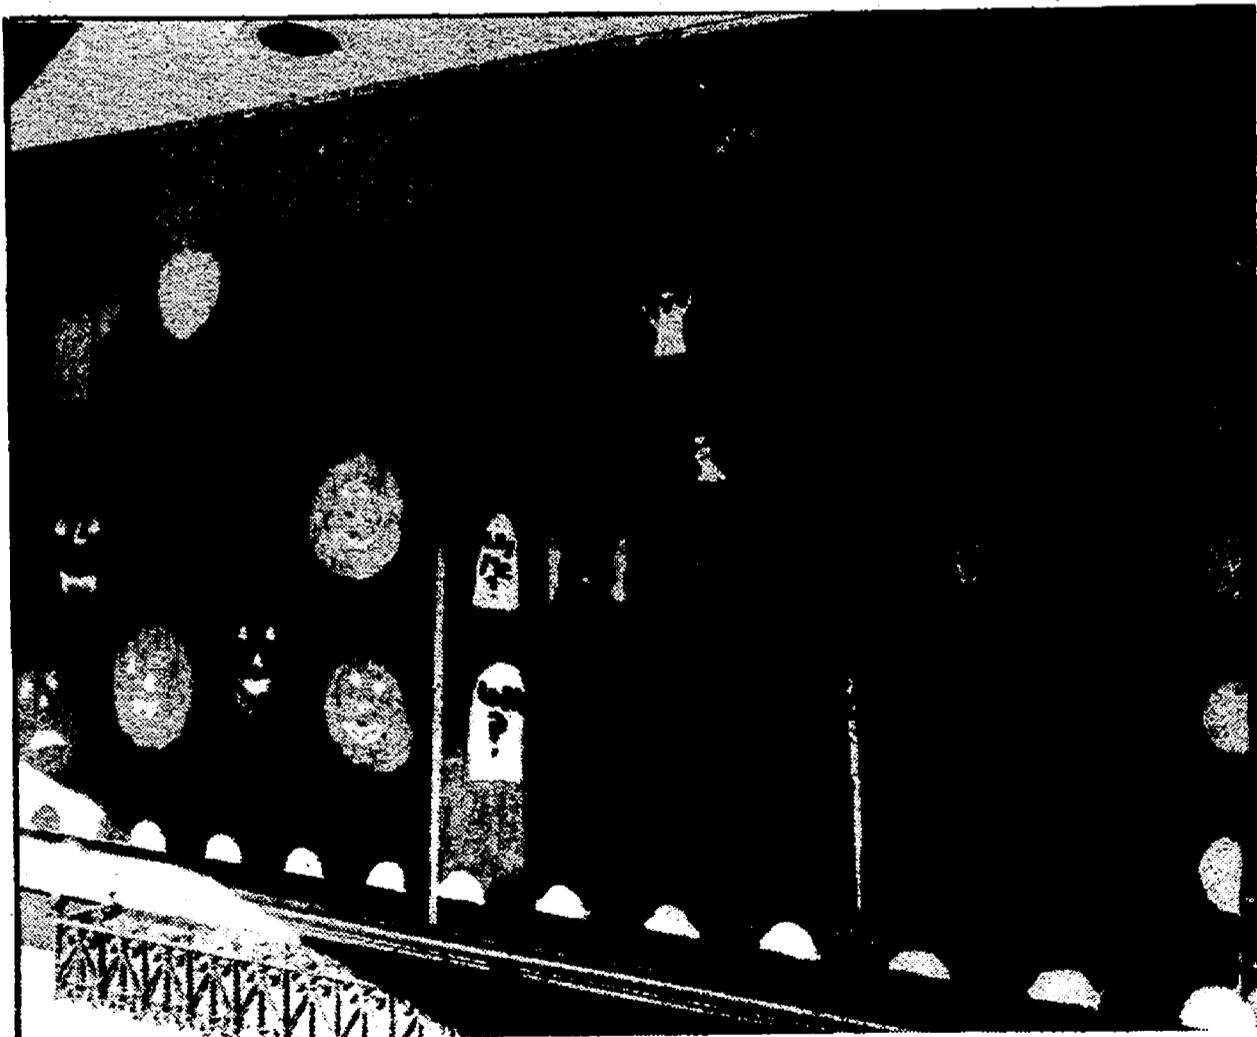

(1) The 1978 agricultural census of Michigan places Wayne County in the 81st position out of 83 Michigan counties. Wayne County contributes only three-tenths of one per cent of Michigan's total market value of agricultural products sold. And that's all of Wayne County . . . not just Canton Township. In Suffolk County, N.Y., which our planning department compares to Canton, Suffolk ranks No. 1 as New York State's highest producer of agricultural products.

(2) The cost of acquiring farmland development rights to Canton homeowners and taxpayers is excessive for what they receive in return. Again our planning department compares a county with a township and uses half-truths. They quote Suffolk's regional planner as saying "You are talking pennies (to the taxpayer)." This is true in Suffolk County's situation since their cost of $10 million is shared by the county's 1980 population of 1,284,231--total cost per capita of $7.79; however, our cost of $7 million is to be shared by only 48,000 people and comes to $145.83 for every man, woman and child in Canton. If Wayne County took on our project the cost per capita would be reduced to only $3, since we would then have over 2 million people to share the cost. Canton taxpayers have just so much money they can contribute to township government. If a disproportionate amount of money is spent on a not-too-practical project for a small unit of government (township) where does the money come from when we need it for everyday necessities--schools, sewers, recreation, roads, police and fire protection?

(3) The $7 million in bonds are in just about all news releases. However, what is the interest on $7 million? How are they going to be paid? How much millage will be levied against us? On Sept. 8 the Board of Trustees passed a preamble and resolution covering Farmland Preservation Bonds. Among items covered . . . the Board can levy whatever millage on Canton taxpayers it needs "without limitation as to rate or amount." Although planning department news releases call for paying the bonds in 20 the following cost analysis of development versus retention, for the first 20 years. . . . As the western half of Canton develops, school children must be housed. Even if there is classroom space for them, operating costs begin immediately. If there is no classroom space available, buildings will be leased or portables purchased, all at a cost.

At the very least, boundaries will again be looked at, and year-around school will probably remain. When all available space is used up, construction of new buildings will be one of the only alternatives left.

Using today's figures, the cost of one elementary school is $2.6 million; one middle school is $7.3 million; one high school is $26 million. Three new schools won't be enough to service a population of 80,000 to 100,000.

A $7 million bond sale would avoid this. A "yes" vote for a $7 million bond sale, even plus interest, is far cheaper.

Besides its contribution as a $2 million agricultural industry, Canton's 5,000 acres of farmland quietly functions as an environmental safeguard to all of us. Not only does it filter snow and rain to maintain a clean groundwater supply, it also absorbs stormwater (rain) minimizing the amount of rain that goes into our presently beleaguered storm sewers. Paving over it will not benefit the homeowner who already experiences flooding basements. Would more pumps minimize the effect of paving-over these 5,000 acres? Maybe, but why incur an unnecessary, additional cost?

Along with agriculture's contribution of storm water retention, each "100 acres of agricultural woodland can trap the smog produced by 20 automobiles, or the carbon dioxide from 125," according to the EPA.

These are present, positive contributions from our farmland. A "yes" vote retains them.

Canton's 5,000 acres provide inexpensive, fresh produce not only to local residents, but to neighboring roadside stands and major food chains. Paving over this food source pushes availability further away and increases costs to the consumer.

An economically "healthy" state grows 70 percent of its food. "Michigan's abuse of its farmland resource was the second worst in the nation," according to a National Association of Counties analysis. As a result, Michigan currently imports more than half its food supply.

Agriculture is vying for first place as Michigan's No. 1 industry. Canton can remain as part of this industrial diversification if we retain our farmland by voting "yes."

Development in Canton will not be an automatic certainty, unless we vote "no." We can no longer afford to continue to pave over our irreplaceable resource. Canton's future can remain in the hands of residents by voting "yes." There is no need to do otherwise.

Con

years, the Board's resolution calls for "not to exceed 40 years;" the planning department news releases tell us development rights last "forever," but the Board's resolution states the usefulness as "estimated to be not less than 40 years;" planning department publicizes the interest rate at 13 per cent but the Board's resolution states "not to exceed 13 per cent per annum, or such higher rate of interest as may be authorized by law." Just last week the House Finance Committee in Lansing unanimously reported out a bill that will permit unrestricted interest rates in Michigan . . . as is the case in many other states. Even at 13 per cent interest, the cost on $7 million for one year is $910,000.

In only one instance did our planning department give us a total cost estimate. That was $18.5 million and was included in their fifth news release. The $18.5 million total will not appear in the brochure that they plan to deliver door-to-door prior to the election.

(4) Numerous Canton boards of trustees have refused to obtain the opinion of an expert from U of M or Harvard law schools on the constitutionality of the Canton Farmland Retention Plan. Our Farmland Preservation Plan is much more restrictive than mineral rights; it amounts to a no-growth land control ordinance. It would be declared illegal by the federal courts at a time when economic conditions were on the upturn and a land management plan was desperately needed so we would not experience the same uncontrolled growth we went through in the 70s. We have several workable land management plans available to us that will be reasonable in cost and have proven legal in other communities.

Once we decide farmland preservation is not practical in Canton Township, it will, in my opinion, take only six months to a year to have a workable, legal growth management program that will guarantee us intelligent control of our future growth. No community can be stagnant . . . you either go forward or you decay. The key to success is to grow intelligently.

Vote Nov. 3 . . . one way or the other . . . but vote, and you'll have no cause to complain in the years to come.

economy this question's answer will grow.

5. The problems of residential property neglect is interesting. I think I would try and talk with the owners of the specific property and find out what their reasons are and plans about their area? Maybe we should consider having a higher tax rate for neglected property to offset the help we may need to extend.

GREGORY GREEN, has been a resident of Plymouth community for 10 years with the last five years as a city resident. He attended Henry Ford Community College. He is a member of City of Plymouth Citizens Advisory Council for Block Grant Programs. For the past two years he has attended almost all of the city commission meetings as an observer.

1. Combining services with other communities is an efficient cost cutting procedure. The city now contracts police service to Plymouth Township and inspection services to Northville. Every effort should be made to expand cooperation with any community when services can be maintained with less burden to the taxpayer.

2. No, a city income tax is not appropriate. Again improved cooperation with neighboring communities is essential to offset the anticipated cuts. Forming consortiums, and improved cooperation in planning and presentations of projects and programs are most important when seeking the return of state and federal funds to the community.

3. Some of the most serious problems with street maintenance are directly caused by the Wayne County Road Commission failures. The city's record of street maintenance is not bad. Revised priorities, and paving schedules along with accurate cost efficient decisions in the actual projects should offset the loss of some funding.

4. Commercial development is an important part of Plymouth's future. Relief to residential taxpayers created by a strong commercial base is crucial. However the areas of commercial expansion or redevelopment must be closely monitored if we are to maintain our pleasant community. No one wants to live in a shopping center.

5. I don't believe that residential areas are suffering from neglect. If city residents have specific complaints they should be addressed to the city management or directly to the city commission. The city commissioners are always eager to help solve problems that may develop in the community.

RALPH J. KENYON, incumbent city commissioner, attended Plymouth schools kindergarten through 12th grade. He graduated from University of Michigan with BS degree in civil engineering and has a masters degree in public administration. He is a registered engineer in Michigan and California. He is chairman of the Plymouth Economic Development Corporation, former member, secretary and chairman of a Pennsylvania township sewer authority, has served as precinct delegate in Redford Township and was active in Scouting in Pennsylvania.

1. Unified services are demonstrated benefits. We should continue to explore other possibilities not only with Plymouth Township but Northville City and Township.

2. I would have to consider a proposal but I can hardly imagine a workable plan at the city level.

3. We are and should continue to solicit increased funds from the state. This effort takes the form, unfortunately, of added gasoline tax. Barring success in that approach, the commission would establish some priorities for the city manager and request some financial plans and alternatives.

4. Certainly.

5. Encourage low/moderate income persons with substandard housing to avail themselves of the Block Grant Housing Funds administered by the City and County. Encourage others to share in the pride of Plymouth while recognizing that individuals have every right to refrain should they so choose.

necessitated further cooperation. This has resulted in the police contract and a sharing of other services. Service sharing should be considered where it proves to be economically beneficial and in the City taxpayer's best interest.

2. I do not favor city income taxes to make up state and federal funding cuts. It would be an unreasonable tax burden. While we expect state and federal funding reductions, they are not significant enough to consider a city income tax.

3. Traditional financing methods for street construction and maintenance effectively were ended with passage of "Headlee". The City is considering a plan that will require voter approval to issue a general obligation bond for all City streets doing away with special assessment bonding.

4. As a means to increase the City's tax base and to reduce the residential tax burden, I am in favor of continued commercial development particularly in the downtown and Old Village areas. Developments, such as Westchester, add more revenue than it costs to provide services to these projects.

5. We can encourage improved residential areas through zoning revisions, as was the case on Maple Street. We recently changed the zoning from commercial to residential because of noted improvement of the area. I also support the use of low interest loans and block grant funding for residential improvement.

1. Not to be rushed into until the results of the combined police responsibility are evaluated. Fire and rescue services and certain civil services should be reviewed and phased in as practical. Merger of the two governmental bodies may be an eventual necessity but must be approached with care to insure mutual benefits to both units.

2. No. Local taxes are now too high and still contain market value escalation. Capital expenditures will have to be cut back or deferred.

3. New construction must be deferred and maintenance financed by restricting other expenditures and constant, continued up grading of the tax base.

4. This program must continue to be emphasized. A drive down Main Street, through Old Village, Forest Avenue and elsewhere will convince anyone of the great improvements made in the past few years also resulting in an improved tax base and more employment.

5. Enforce current ordinances covering property maintenance and encourage property owners of certain residences and vacant property to upgrade property with self help programs through established commissions.

1. I am in favor of unification of services providing that it will reduce our costs or let us maintain our present services without cost increases. Each area must be studied individually to be sure that there is mutual advantage.

2. Cuts in state and federal funding must be offset by cost containment actions or cuts in services or local tax increases. If costs cannot be contained within available funds and service cuts are not acceptable, a tax increase would

3. Work with the State to pass gasoline tax increases so more revenue can be obtained or, if this fails, charge some portion of the costs to property owners. Street maintenance can be held to a minimum for a year or two but it cannot be stopped at any time.

4. The commercial areas are revitalized already but some continuing actions will be necessary to keep things from slipping back. Parking must be monitored and improved when possible without taxpayer cost. The Economic Development Corporation assistance must be continued.

5. Federally financed low interest home improvement loans, if they continue, are an excellent incentive. Zoning changes such as instituted for the east end of Maple can help. The City Commission must continue to encourage modernization of residential areas so the present balance between residential and commercial can be maintained.

CEP parent conference schedule set

Fall semester parent conferences for Centennial Education Park are scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 12, from 3:30 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The conferences will take place in the cafeteria of Plymouth Canton High School. Staff members will be present in the cafeteria, enabling parents to see several teachers in a relatively short period of time.

In order to avoid traffic congestion and conference delays, parents are asked to observe the following schedule:

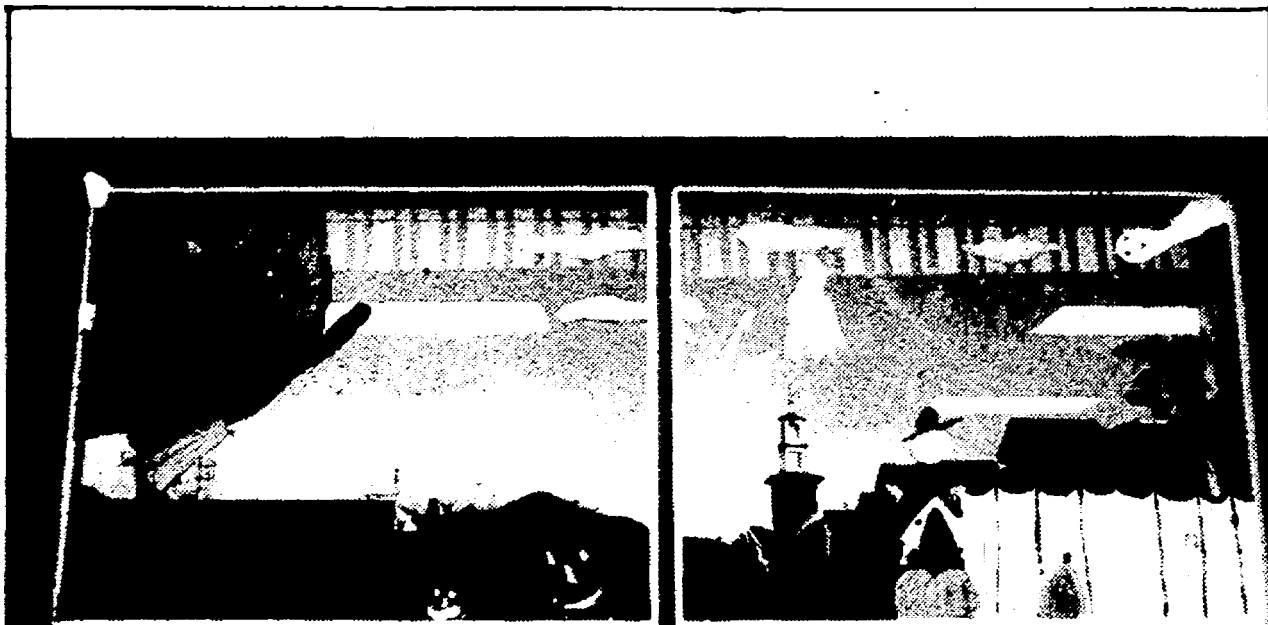

M-Z, 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.; A-L, 5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m.

However, Canton Principal Kent Buikema said, parents should feel free to come at any time if this schedule is inconvenient.

Exchange student even likes TV commercials!

BY ANNE SULLIVAN

"I am here to learn the American way," said Johnny Hermsen, a 17-year-old exchange student from Beek en Donk, The Netherlands.

Johnny arrived in the United States on Aug. 11, after his flight had been delayed six hours due to the air traffic controllers strike. He spent his first night in New York then came to Michigan.

He is staying at the home of Alden and Henriette McDonald in Canton.

In Holland he completed his secondary schooling. So the year he spends at Canton High School is like an extra year of high school.

His week day schedule is full. He is taking commercial foods, U.S. history, gym and English Grammar. He plays fullback on Canton's soccer team. His American brother, Mike McDonald, is the team member.

After completing his exchange student program, Johnny will go back to Holland and enroll in a restaurant school. "I want to manage a first class restaurant," he said.

After school and soccer practice, he, like everyone else, has his chores. "I have to clean my room and cut the grass," he said.

"Johnny has to become part of the family during his stay in America," said his American father. "He is not supposed to be treated like a guest."

Johnny is eagerly awaiting a Michigan winter and says he is looking forward to shoveling snow.

The McDonalds have introduced Johnny to college football and he has become a devout Wolverine fan. He had never seen an American football game before coming to the United States.

"Dallas" is a favorite in Holland, Johnny reported. He has also seen "Charlie's Angels" and "M.A.S.H." but says the programs are different in Holland because there are no commercials.

"Once you get used to them (commercials) they're very handy," he said. "They give you time to get food and go to the bathroom."

Johnny is used to going out more than he's able to do here. "In Canton, there's no place for teenagers to go," he said. If he were in Holland, he would get together with his buddies and head for a disco. "In Holland you can catch a bus and go anywhere." Not many of his friends drive cars. "In Holland gas sells at $4 a gallon."

As an exchange student, he is not allowed to drive. He has other restrictions, too. "You can't get involved with the police, you can't get a girl pregnant, you can only work 10 hours a week and you can't get involved in drugs. If you do, you're sent home immediately," he said.

During his first month in the U.S. he has seen some movies, visited the Ren Cen and gone to Canada. He is looking for seeing more of America. He went to a meeting of the Canton Corvette Club and got a ride in the first Corvette he ever saw. "In Holland there's probably three Corvettes, but I've never seen one," he said. "If you drove one into my town, everyone would come to see it."

"I like America very much," said Johnny. "It's very free here. I'm able to decorate my room any way I want, and the girls are very friendly and charming."

Lora Carlos and Kevin Volpe wed

Lora Leigh Carlos and Kevin Albert Volpe were married Sept. 19 at Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Livonia, with Pastor Robert Seltz officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Carlos of Plymouth. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Volpe, also of Plymouth.

The bride's gown featured a high Victorian neckline with fitted bodice of Chantilly lace, full puffed sleeves, seed pearls, a skirt which came to a pinafore style in back with cathedral train, and matching fingertip veil.

The wedding featured soloist Glenn Carlos, brother of the groom. The reception was held at St. Sarkis Armenian Hall in Dearborn.

After a honeymoon in Bermuda and New York City, the couple plan to live in Farmington Hills.

Betrothal announced

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Agge of Canton Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Terri Lynn, to Mark Allen Hammar of Westland.

She is employed as the Sales Secretary for the Plymouth Hilton Inn. Mr. Hammar is employed with the City of Plymouth as an engineering aide in the Building Department.

A Nov. 7 wedding is planned at Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Ypsilanti.

Lambert-Palgut vows spoken at Good Counsel

Karen Marie Lambert and Todd Alan Palgut were married on July 18 at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, with Fr. Kenneth MacKinnon officiating.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Lambert of Plymouth, is a 1976 graduate of Canton High and graduated from the University of Michigan in 1980 with a bachelors degree in computer science. She is presently employed as a systems programmer.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Palgut of Plymouth, and is a 1976 graduate of Lincoln Park High. He is also a 1980 graduate of the University of Michigan and is a systems programmer.

At the ceremony, the bride wore a gown of her own design and construction, of white chiffon with hand-sewn lace bodice and lace flounces on the train. Flowers were white roses, stephanotis and ivy, and also covered the headpiece.

Five attendants also wore gowns designed and made by the bride, of pale blue quiana and lace.

Cleaning and rearranging the kitchen cupboards is one of those household chores that requires months of thinking about before you actually get around to doing it.

Being the great procrastinator that I am, I do everything tomorrow. When things reached the stage that I couldn't find anything in the kitchen and some of the cupboard doors wouldn't close completely, I knew that tomorrow had arrived and I had to do something about it.

Declaring the kitchen a disaster was easy, however knowing where to start rearranging the mess was a problem. After spending half an hour searching for the shelf paper I purchased a month or two, well maybe six months ago, I finally found it. The next step was taking everything out of the cupboards. Do you have any idea how much stuff you can actually cram in one little cupboard? Not only did I have the counter tops and table full, but there wasn't even a path to walk around things on the floor.

Vinyl shelf paper is not the easiest thing in the world to work with, but I measured and tried to get the thing to stick. When all else failed, I gave in and read the directions. Once the darned paper decided to stick, it wouldn't fit in straight. In the midst of my struggle, the stupid phone kept ringing. How does a person who is home during the day keep her sanity and not yank the phone out of the wall? "No, I don't want my carpet cleaned; no, I don't want my picture taken; yes, my delivery of the newspaper is fine; and no, I don't want a pool in my back yard even if it is a once-in-a-lifetime bargain at end of the season rates. Look, all I want is to put my shelf paper in straight."

Once the shelves were lined, the fun of deciding what to put where began. I soon discovered my worst enemies were muffin tins, loaf pans and the bundt cake pan. For things I don't use very often, they sure take up more room than they're worth. Unfortunately you have to have them, so you might as well find a corner to stick them in.

I spent the entire day getting the kitchen in order and it only took my family 20 minutes of looking for things to start undoing everything. They even had the nerve to tell me the shelf paper was coming loose. In the modern world of cheap shelf paper there's always super glue and tape.

K of C celebrates order's centennial

Members of Council No. 3292 of the Knights of Columbus in Plymouth, 150 Fair St., formally opened their local observance of the 100-year birthday of the world-wide fraternal society on Oct. 12.

Father Victor J. Renaud opened the ceremonies at that meeting, before a formal resolution was adopted. As explained by Grand Knight Joe Dato Jr., the resolution declares that the council, which was chartered in April, 1950, is joining in celebrating the centennial of the Knights. Worldwide observance of the event started in June of 1981.

Founded in New Haven, Conn. in 1882 through the efforts of a young priest, Father Michael J. McGivney, the Catholic fraternal society has spread through the world. Today there are some 7,000 councils or local lodges throughout the world and more than 1.3 million members.

Last year the Knights disbursed more than $29 million for charitable causes. The organization also worked more than 9.2 million man hours in community service projects in the U.S. and other nations.

Knollwood Cemetery audit is due December 15

BY KEELY KALESKI
Lansing News Bureau

The Knollwood Cemetery controversy apparently will wait until Dec. 15 for further action.

Canton Township cemetery owner Sam Tocco, as of Oct. 21, had not yet hired a private CPA firm to audit the cemetery books as he was ordered to do by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Henry J. Szymanski on Oct. 2.

Assistant Attorney General Michael Nickerson said he doesn't expect to hear from Knollwood for a couple of weeks.

George Bruce of the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation, who formerly served as executive secretary for the Michigan Cemetery Commission, said that Knollwood has deficits totaling $322,000 in its merchandise trust fund and endowed care fund.

"What should have happened if the state had money was to hire an independent CPA firm paid for by both parties to audit the books. But now we don't have any funds to do that," said Bruce.

Under court order, Tocco is required to submit proof that he did not default on any obligation covered by the trust funds.

That proof must be submitted by Dec. 15.

"If our figures don't coincide with Knollwood's, there will be a court hearing on Jan. 15," said Nickerson.

Bruce asked the state to revoke Knollwood's license under terms of an agreement in September of 1979 in which Tocco pledged to repay some $300,000 to the merchandise trust fund and endowed care trust fund for Knollwood.

"They have never lived up to that agreement," said Bruce.

The commission held a formal hearing to revoke Knollwood's license on March 29, 1979, but Tocco obtained an injunction to stop the proceedings.

Under the present agreement both sides will meet on Dec. 15 to settle the dispute.

"We furnish our records and they furnish their's," said Bruce.

The CPA firm will decide which side is right based on the evidence, he said.

"We're not worried," said Bruce. "Knollwood has been audited six times since 1970 and we've found shortages in their trust funds each time."

Knollwood officials maintain that the state figures are wrong inasmuch as they do not take cancelled lot sales contracts into account.

City shuffles offices to utilize court space

With the 35th District Court moved into its new home along Plymouth Road there is plenty of room on the second floor of Plymouth's City Hall to move the city's accounting department upstairs.

City Manager Henry Graper Jr. said last week that the department is currently in the process of moving to more spacious quarters on the second floor. The area is also slated to be remodeled.

The engineering and building departments will expand in accounting's former quarters on the first floor, also to be remodeled, added Graper.

ASTIGMATISM

Astigmatism is not a disease, but it is a vision condition where images at all distances may be blurred or distorted.

Astigmatism can occur at any time of life, sometimes even at birth. A slight degree of astigmatism is present in everyone's eyes and can cause headaches, fatigue and poor schoolwork, but higher degrees may cause blurred or distorted vision.

Astigmatism usually occurs when the cornea at the front of the eye is more oval than round in shape. On rare occasions, it may occur in the lens of the eye. Theoretically, astigmatism is inherited or caused as the eye develops. Such contributing factors as poor lighting, incorrect posture or heavy loads of close-up work are also suspected. It is most often corrected with eyeglasses or contact lenses.

Some people have astigmatism without realizing it. The best way to diagnose it is in a complete optometric examination.

'Wait Until Dark' opens Friday night

A DISBELIEVING Mike Talman (portrayed by Tobin Hissong of Canton) confronts blind Suzy Hendrix (played by Lisa Andres of Plymouth), as the sinister figures of Sgt. Carlino and Harry Roat (Jerry Billingsley of Detroit and Vestus J. Spindler, III of Northville) look on in the Plymouth Theatre Guild's production of "Wait Until Dark," opening Oct. 30. Tickets can be ordered by calling Karen Groves at 420-2161 or Irene Troth at 453-4755. (Crier photo by Dan Bodene)

Plymouth Symphony opens new season

BY REEF MORSE

Sunday was opening night at the symphony in Plymouth and the Salem auditorium was packed with people who had come to hear the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra perform a selection of operatic pieces ranging from Verdi to Wagner.

The first half of this ambitious program was a collection of excerpts from various operas. The program opened with the overture to Verdi's "The Forces of Destiny," continued with selections from Puccini's "Manon Lescaut," Wagner's "Lohengrin" and "Tannhauser," Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" and concluded with the quartet from Verdi's "Rigoletto."

The second half was highlights from Bizet's "Carmen" and included most of the solos, duos and quartets from all four acts.

The orchestra worked hard on this performance and they sounded very good. Although a number of people are new in the string sections, with new principals in both violin sections, the cellos and basses, they have integrated well into the orchestra. It is clear that the orchestra can deliver consistently high quality performances and credit should be given to conductor Johan van der Merwe for understanding his orchestra well.

Soloists for this performance were all local. Mezzo soprano Elsie Inselman and Edward Kingins are both Adjunct Professors of Voice at Wayne State University. Earnestine Nimmons teaches in the Detroit Elementary Schools and Steven Henrikson is principal voice instructor at the University of Windsor.

Although each sang in the first half of the program, their performances in "Carmen" were most memorable. All played their roles to perfection. Elsie Inselman, dressed in bright red, was a stunning Carmen, while Edward Kingins played an excellent Don Jose, her erstwhile lover. Their duet in act four, where Carmen tells Don Jose that she no longer loves him, was a powerful and emotional scene. Steven Henrikson played Escamillo, the toreador; his solo performance of the "Toreador Song" was excellent.

Earnestine Nimmons, who played Micaela, Don Jose's fiancée, was contacted only two weeks ago to fill in for Roma Riddell who had undergone surgery. "A girl came to my class and told me I had an important telephone call," said Nimmons. "Since I have two daughters, my heart just fell; I thought something had happened to them. But it was Johan van der Merwe asking me to sing." Nimmons was a real hit and her solo in act three was outstanding.

After the performance, the Plymouth Symphony League had a reception in the hall behind the auditorium and the guest artists remarked repeatedly about how warm and responsive the audience was and how much they enjoyed singing with the orchestra. From what the audience was saying, the feeling of enjoyment was mutual.

Halloween at library

There will be a Halloween storytime at the Dunning-Hough Library for three and a half to five year-olds on Saturday, Oct. 31, beginning at 10 a.m.

Those attending are urged to attend in costume. The program will present favorite ghost stories. There will be singing, too.

To register call the library at 453-0750 before Oct. 28.

Trick or treat safely

Members of the staff of the Plymouth office of the Automobile Club of Michigan dressed up as witches and goblins and sprung for a Halloween party for Plus Pre-School pupils at Central Middle School Monday.

Heinz Topol, Plymouth branch manager, said, "We are continuing the tradition started last year of providing a Halloween party and issuing our annual Halloween safety message."

Topol and his staff offered some tips for the trick or treaters who will be out Saturday night.

"One important rule is to avoid masks that obscure vision and use makeup to paint children's faces," Topol said. He also offered these tips:

—Arm trick-or-treaters with flashlights to make them more visible to motorists.

—Make costumes of bright colors so they can be seen in darkness and keep them short enough so they won't trip small feet.

—Apply luminous paint or tape to costumes to make them even more visible.

—Be sure that children are accompanied by a parent, older brother or sister.

—Caution children to trick-or-treat only on streets which are well-lighted.

—Instruct youngsters to cross only at intersections, after looking both ways first, and to walk facing traffic if there are no sidewalks.

—Caution youngsters to wait until they get home to sort, check and eat their treats, allowing parents time to examine them carefully.

Use approved heaters

Capt. Art Winkel, Canton Township Fire Prevention Officer, has some words of wisdom for homeowners trying to beat the high heating bills by purchasing portable kerosene and propane heaters for supplemental heat.

He warns that use of LP-gas (propane) heaters is prohibited by state regulations.

He also urged that proper safety precautions should be used in operating portable kerosene heaters. First he suggested that a check should be made of local building codes to see if such heaters are allowed. He also urged that only heaters approved by a recognized testing laboratory should be used.

Other precautions should include using such heaters in a well ventilated room to avoid carbon monoxide buildup. Heaters should be placed away from any combustible material such as curtains, drapes bedding and upholstered furniture. Hinkel also urged that heaters be kept where children and pets can not come in contact with them.

Above all, he warned, never refuel the heater inside the home, whether the heater is in operation or not.

Another danger pointed out by the fire safety officer is the substituting of fuel oils, diesel fuel or gasoline in heaters designed for kerosene.

He also suggested that heaters be cleaned and inspected regularly.

Hinkel concluded with the suggestion that people who use portable kerosene heaters should also install smoke detectors.

Canton Township sets Saturday, Nov. 7 as auction sale date

Canton Township trustees okayed Saturday, Nov. 7, for a public auction of miscellaneous unclaimed articles being held by the Canton Township Police Department.

The auction is scheduled to start at 10 a.m. with inspection of articles to be sold set from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m.

A complete list of articles to be offered is being prepared and will be published later.

Canton Lions Club members will offer refreshments the day of the sale.

Executive committee also named

Plymouth Chamber board of directors elected

A new board of directors has been elected to the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, including a new executive committee.

According to Diane Dart, executive director of the Chamber, the executive committee includes: President Woody Lynch, Storage Unlimited; First Vice President Bev Hoisington, C.L. Finlan Insurance; Second Vice President Mary Childs, Plymouth-Canton Schools; Secretary Margaret Wilson, The Penn Theatre; and Treasurer Mike Pollard, Draughelis, Ashton and Scully.

Chamber board members for 1982 include Tom Bohlander, Sunshine Honda; Mike Corp, Air-Tite Insulation; Oscar Hertz, Plymouth Furniture; Jim McKeon, Schweitzer Real Estate; Bill Robinson, Pease Paint; Bill Saxton, Saxton's Garden Center; Win Schrader, Schrader Funeral Home; Margaret Slezak, Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union; Betty Stremich, Hillside Inn; and Bob Walker, Packaging Corporation of America.

In addition, four members of the Chamber will be leaving the board and executive committee.

George Lawton of the Plymouth

Community Federal Credit Union is leaving to devote more time to his avocation of raising sheep. A member of the Chamber since 1957, Lawton has also been past president for two years.

Nick Aron of the Nawrot-Pendleton Shop will leave to go into partial retirement. A member of the Chamber for six years, Aron has served on the executive committee as vice president as well as assisting with numerous special projects.

Ronnie Sebeck, a member of the Old Village Association, will also leave although she will continue to serve the Chamber. According to Dart, she "has been a great asset to the Chamber in her desire to unite all shopping districts in Plymouth."

Finally, Norm Kee, assistant superintendent for employee relations for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, will leave after more than six years with the Chamber after serving in a number of capacities, including a stint on the Education Committee.

Ballots for election to the 1982 board of directors for the Canton Chamber of Commerce have been distributed to Chamber members.

Nominated members include Catherine Foege, owner of Country Place; Russ Johnson, owner of Rusty Nail; Andy Panda, manager of Knight's Inn; Jack Koers, owner of Plymouth Construction Equipment; Jack Falvo, owner of Willow Creek Dental Clinic; Bob Card, owner of McDonald's restaurant (on Michigan Ave.); Al Zelek, owner of London Sweep; Jackie Czerniak, owner of Country Deli and Wine Shoppe; Noel Culbert, attorney; Robin Koelbel, manager of Michigan National Bank; and Gary McCombs, certified public accountant.

Canton Chamber members are asked to vote for eight only. Elected members will serve terms including five three-year terms, one two-year term and two one-year terms.

Ballots must be returned to the Chamber by Oct. 28.

Mark Schang, 10, has been announced as the winner of the recent Lord Baltimore Cleaners drawing for a Schwinn 10-speed bike, according to Lord Baltimore manager Lois Thompson.

Mark had been saving for a bike for a year, but hadn't had much success -- he was $1.37 in the red, the result of a loan from his brother. Lady Luck stepped in just in time, it seems.

Original handmade dollhouses and collectors' miniatures are the specialty of The Little Experience, a new store located at 550 A S. Main, Plymouth.

Owners Nancy Capudean, Shirley Pollack and Susan Deady say their handmade, individually designed items do not duplicate anything already available in the area.

Prior to their store opening, on Oct. 17, the trio exhibited their handiwork at dollhouse and miniature shows in Lansing, Southfield, Toledo, Sandusky and Columbus for three years.

Economic development conference scheduled

"Industry and the Community," a conference on economic development and industry retention and expansion, will be held Oct. 29 at Schoolcraft College.

Jointly sponsored by the Work-Education Council of Southeastern Michigan, Inc.; Livonia and Out-Wayne

County Interagency Collaborative Bodies and state, local, private and public organizations, the conference will run from 8 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. Featured will be sessions with an industry retention team and on image and promotion, what successful communities are doing for industry, and a question and answer period.

The welcome will be provided by Richard McDowell, president of Schoolcraft College. Other conference speakers include Diane Dart, executive director of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce; Lois Yates, business relocation marketing manager for the Wayne County Economic Development Corporation (EDC); Charlotte Mahoney of Detroit Edison; executive assistant to the governor Robert Law; and Robert E. FitzPatrick, executive director of the Wayne County EDC.

According to conference organizers, topics will invite participants to identify local needs and help "provide input for solutions designed to promote economic growth in their communities."

Registration fee is $15, payable to The Work-Education Council of Southeastern Michigan, Inc., 164 N. Main, Plymouth 48170, telephone 459-5360. Registration will also be available on a walk-in basis for $20 each.

Lorie McGrath has been appointed to the Plymouth Hilton Inn staff as a sales representative, according to Sales Manager Michael Haggerty.

McGrath, who previously worked for the Indianapolis, Ind. Rodeway Inn, was also recently married and is living in Plymouth with her husband Bob, a marketing representative for IBM.

A special two-person exhibit including linocuts by Brigitte Kranich of Germany and mixed media watercolors by Johnnie Crosby of Plymouth will hang at Frameworks in Plymouth through Oct. 31.

The show features the work of Kranich, who produces her linoleum prints of nature themes in a world which "is a fairy tale one full of dreams" from her studio in Toppenstadt, Germany; and Crosby, who has studied at Wayne State and Eastern Michigan universities and will also feature a predominant theme of nature in pure watercolors and collages.

Kranich exhibits her prints in Hamburg, Cologne and Stuttgart, Germany, as well as Oslo, Norway and Salzburg, Austria.

Crosby, a member of the Ann Arbor Women Painters, has shown her watercolors at the Detroit Institute of Art, Flint Institute of Art, Butler Institute of American Art, Watercolor USA and Michigan Watercolor Society's Annual Exhibits.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES?
Notice the meter poles in Plymouth and you see not coin meters, but wooden plaques. Metered parking days are almost gone -- although later reincarnation is possible -- and now parking rules have changed. City administrators say the move may help attract shoppers for the Christmas season. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Plymouth Symphony to sell Christmas luminaries

Put a candle out on Christmas Eve and support the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra at the same time.

Members of the Plymouth Symphony League will be out selling luminaries in the city from now through Dec. 15. All proceeds will go to support the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

The candles, a five-year tradition in the city, according to Plymouth Mayor Mary Childs, can be lit and put out on Christmas Eve along the curb of the street in front of your home.

Members of the league will be going door-to-door in the city with the candles on all days except Sunday.

The city will provide the sand in which to put the luminaries, according to officials in the city's DPW Department.

Contact the DPW at 453-7737 for further information on obtaining sand. Sacks must be provided by residents.

According to Eileen Dunn of the Plymouth Symphony League, candles will cost 25 cents each. The league is recommending 10 candles per household.

Dunn added that this is the first year the league has sold the luminaries. "In the past it was often subdivision groups who sold them," she said, "that's why we thought this would be a good community thing to do. There has always been a good response from residents."

It leaked!

NEAR A GRAVEYARD of other stripped hulks, in the edge of a cornfield and reachable only by a muddy track during last week's downpours, Plymouth Police discovered this pond-bound Ford--later revealed to be stolen from Livonia and dumped into this fishing hole in western Plymouth Township. Slippery terrain near the site proved too much for a wrecker so the car was identified--an officer walked to the car in leaky waders, say police--and left for another day. The car body is apparently splattered with shotgun pellets. (Crier photo by Dan Bodene)

35th District Court building dedication scheduled for Nov. 8

Official dedication of the Dunbar Davis Hall of Justice has been set for 1 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 8. The district court facility located at 660 Plymouth Road, near Haggerty in Plymouth is the new unified court house serving 35th District Court for the City of Plymouth, City of Northville, Northville Township, Plymouth Township and Canton Township.

District Judges Dunbar Davis and James Garber will show off the new court facility at a public open house on Nov. 8 between 2:30 p.m. and 4 p.m.

Light refreshments will be served.

Canton to entertain young ghosts, goblins

Canton's Parks and Recreation Department is planning a Halloween party for children 3-12 on Saturday, Oct. 31.

Children ages 3-7 will have a party at the Canton Township Recreation Center on Michigan Ave. at Sheldon from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Children ages 8-12 will have their party at the recreation center from 10:45 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.

There will be costume judging, a cartoon carnival, refreshments and a magic show.

So the invitation is out for all the witches, goblins and ghosts to sign up in advance by calling the Recreation Department at 397-1000, ext. 212 between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Those attending must be pre-registered.

It's a kids only party. Because of limited space parents are asked to drop their children off and pick them up.

Check those treats

Halloween trick-or-treaters in Canton and Plymouth concerned about foreign objects in the Halloween treats can have them checked out at a metal detector station to be located Saturday night at McDonald's Restaurant at 44900 Ford Road, Canton. The project is a joint effort by the restaurant and area Kiwanis clubs.

The metal detector will be in operation from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Oct. 31.

Canton Faith Church announces new pastor

Faith Community Church, Canton, has a new pastor.

The Rev. Larry Christianson, who comes from Victoria, Minn., where he has been serving the Lake Auburn Moravian Church, will be moving to Canton the last week of October with his wife, Norma and two children, Andy, 3, and Emily, eight weeks old.

A native of Green Bay, Wis., he served in the navy four years. He attended the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh, where he earned a BS degree in history. He attended Moravian Theological Seminary in Bethlehem, Pa., and United Theological Seminary in New Brighton, Minn., where he received a master divinity degree.

Faith Community Church is a new mainline protestant church in Canton affiliated with the Moravian Church.

"Although we are affiliated with the Moravian denomination," founding Pastor Daryll Bell said, "the congregation is composed of people from a wide variety of religious backgrounds, which is part of the richness of the church."

The Rev. Bell's last Sunday in Canton was Oct. 18. He and his family have moved to Maple Grove, Minn., where they plan to start another Moravian Church.

The installation service for the Rev. Christianson will be at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday, Nov. 1, at the Faith Community Church, 46001 Warren Road, just west of Canton Center Road. Dr. Warren A. Sautebin, Western District president of the Moravian Church, will officiate.

Chamber council endorses county charter proposal

The West Suburban Area Council of Chambers has thrown its support in the Nov. 3 Wayne County Charter election toward charter approval with the elected county executive officer.

The council, which is made up of Chamber of Commerce representatives from Canton, Plymouth, Belleville, Farmington, Livonia, Northville, Novi, Redford Township, Romulus, Wayne and Westland, passed a resolution supporting the concept of a home rule county charter with an elected executive.

Frank McMurray, president of the council, said, "Since the beginning of our organization, we have looked for areas which overlap the boundaries of the communities involved in the council. The charter issue has been discussed for a considerable length of time and we believe that by going on record in support of an elected executive and the home rule charter, we justify our existence. We urge everyone to go to the polls on Nov. 3 and make their choice."

Craft masterpieces

SOME OF THE CRAFTS which will be available at the Plymouth Children's Co-op Nursery "Masterpiece Auction" include (from left) a handmade sweater worn by Matthew Lee, 4; a Kleenex house held by Graham Wilk, 4; wall hangings displayed by Randy Lee; and a baby comforter held by Linda Wilk. The auction will be held on Nov. 2 beginning at 6:45 p.m. at East Middle School. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Girl Scouts visit Detroit Zoo

Members of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council recently participated in Girl Scout Day at the Detroit Zoo, on Oct. 17.

Scouts attended an opening event featuring a flag ceremony, a welcome by Detroit Common Council member Erma Henderson and talks by zoo deputy director Joe Morgan and zoo veterinarian Dr. William Appelhose.

Special programs available during the day included park tours, photographic workshops, discussions on animal needs and care, and the "Kids on the Block" puppet show.

Participating councils included those of Huron Valley, Michigan Metro, Northern Oakland County, Otsikita, Macomb County, Fairwinds, Flint, Michigan Waterways, Port Huron, Mitten Bay and Michigan Capitol.

Plymouth Antiquarians to view slide show presentation

"Plymouth Antiquarians," a local chapter of the national Questers organization, will have a moving experience on Nov. 3 at the Plymouth Historical Museum.

The occasion will be a slide show and narration by Charles and Katherine Hagler who will take Quester, Antiquarian and Historical Society members and their guests through the process of discovery and moving of an 1833 Greek Revival home, to its present Ypsilanti location.

Charles, president of the Detroit Historical Commission, and Katherine, curator of furniture at the Henry Ford Museum, will document the problems and triumphs of moving the house, split in half, seven miles before its restoration to original condition (with improvements like modern plumbing and electricity).

The Questers, a national antique study group, was founded in Philadelphia in 1944. The goals of the organization are to support preservation and restoration of historic structures; and collection and appreciation of antiques.

City candidates air views at LWV forum

BY DAN BODENE

Spiraling taxes to Surrey Trail.

At the Oct. 20 League of Women Voters candidates' forum in Plymouth, seven hopefuls for City Commission explained their views on these and other topics to a sparse audience, fielding questions mainly from League members.

The seven, competing for four commission seats to be filled at the Nov. 3 election, include incumbent commissioners Ralph J. Kenyon, 1400 Hartsough, David Pugh, 964 Roosevelt and Mark O. Wehmeyer, 1470 Maple; and Marda Benson, 1073 Penniman, Dorothy Frid, 521 Adams, Gregory Green, 1063 York and William L. Robinson, 1395 Elm.

Pugh, who opened the forum, said he favored concentrated growth in currently developed business areas, to expand the commercial tax base and decrease the burden on homeowners.

Robinson remarked that the city faces a bad economic outlook, adding that his experience as a financial consultant would add to management effectiveness of city administration.

Green decried low voter turnout in Plymouth, and said that issues such as Surrey Trail and planned changes in residential areas should be discussed by more residents before they become problems.

Kenyon said he felt his commission seat is not only a job he likes and is qualified to retain, but is also part of his duty to the community, noting "We've all drunk from wells we've not dug, and warmed ourselves at fires we didn't build."

Wehmeyer stressed the need for cost containment, including possibilities for shared services with other communities; and monitoring citizens' problems "and doing something about them."

Benson suggested incorporating the pre-commission meeting into the regular meeting to better inform citizens. She also said she favored increasing intergovernmental cooperation.

Frid said she believes government should be representative of the people, adding that she can aptly represent not only women, but low-income residents. She also favored eliminating taxes and fees such as those for garage sales and parking.

Taxes and city services were a major focus of questions to candidates.

Frid, asked how taxes could be reduced and which services could be cut, commented that property values are based on sales of two or three years ago and on investments in and out of the city, equalized by the state.

Some services, she said, cannot be cut although some expenses might be.

"What has happened," she added, "is that the whole scale of salaries has to be adjusted on what society has. It can come down, and it has to come down."

Kenyon said he felt taxes cannot be reduced, and that it was "wishful thinking" to ask city employees to accept reduced salaries.

Wehmeyer stated the only way to reduce taxes was to convince state legislators to stop state equalization (on property values) increases. Plymouth, he said, was very good at containing costs and maintaining services. It is unreasonable, he added, to "force the economy on employees."

Robinson said property taxation problems were largely a state concern, since equalization factors are set based on law. Green agreed with Robinson's assessment, noting that "Plymouth taxes are not bad, and services are good. The cost of services can only be cut through better management."

Pugh added that there was little recourse for spiraling property taxes short of changing the state law. The city commission, he said, "has tried to do things differently" by sharing services, increasing the length of labor contracts and spreading overhead costs.

Surrey Trail again came up in questions - Pugh said now is not the time for the proposal, and present plans for angle parking are not a "back-door" approach.

Wehmeyer added his opposition to the Surrey Trail traffic routing plan, but said the issue will probably always be around.

Green said he first mentioned the plan as an issue of non-participation by city residents, and cautioned against the commission ever giving taxpayers the impression issues were being "sprung on them."

The present plans to convert Penniman Avenue to one way traffic came about as a result of a directive to City Manager Henry Graper, Jr., Pugh said, and will ultimately create parking at reduced cost. The Penniman plan, he added, was not a prelude to a Surrey Trail route. Fellow incumbent commissioners Wehmeyer and Kenyon agreed.

The forum was sponsored by the Northville-Plymouth-Canton Nov. Chapter of the League of Women Voters, a non-partisan group dedicated to voter education and citizen participation in government.

Pair receives injuries in Plymouth Township two-car collision

A Plymouth and a Canton resident were injured in a two-car collision in Plymouth Township last Tuesday, according to a Plymouth Police report.

Charles McGill, 36, of 6236 Runnymede in Canton, received incapacitating injuries, as did Myrtle Pallister, 65, 40579 Organelawn in Plymouth, after their vehicles collided at Ann Arbor Road and Haggerty.

Witnesses reported to police that McGill's car entered the intersection southbound on Haggerty against the red light and collided with Pallister's car as it was headed westbound on Ann Arbor Road.

Both men were taken to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia by Plymouth Township rescue. They were eventually treated and released, according to a hospital spokesperson.

McGill received a hazardous citation, said police.

At Class A Region Saturday

Salem, Canton cross country teams 13th, 14th

BY KEN VOYLES

Salem and Canton High cross country teams ran at the state Class A Regional on the Cass Benton course on Edward Hines Drive Saturday afternoon and finished 13th and 14th, respectively, among 19 teams.

There were two regional boys races for Class A and two girls races for Class A. In Salem and Canton's boys section Brighton was first with 80 points and Redford Union second.

The regional effort completes Salem and Canton's cross country season for 1981.

Frank Brosnan was Salem's best finish of the race as he clocked 18:04 for 33rd. Brad Hartell was 40th with a time of 18:10, while Skip Whittaker was 67th, 18:43, Lee Chnag was 95th, 19:38, Mike McBride was 97th, 19:37, Paul Mills was 102nd, 19:52, and Karl Gansler was 116th, 21:01.

Dan Henry was Canton's best finish in the boys race as he clocked 18:30. Tim Collins was close on his heels at 18:33, followed by Todd Gattoni a 18:51, Brian Jones at 19:11, Tom Pasley at 19:41, Brian Lee at 19:58 and Keith Biddinger, 20:01.

The Rocks' girls squad finished ninth in their race, while Canton did not have enough runners to place. RU won the girls region. Salem was paced by Ruth Sample who finished 31st with a time of 22:34. Shelly Simmons was 37th, 22:52, Lori Grissom was 62nd, 25:26, Laura McIntrye was 70th, 25:55, and Mary Haddock 75th, 26:36.

The Rocks also ran their final Suburban Eight League meet last week finishing fifth. Dearborn Edsel Ford won it with Dearborn, Trenton and Belleville ahead of Salem.

Hartell was Salem's best finish at he placed 21st with an effort of 18:13. Brosnan was 27th, 18:31, McBride was

Salem netter bows out of state in quarters

Chris Gilles represented Salem High's womens' tennis team at the state Class A finals in Holland Saturday and reached the quarter finals of competition before bowing out.

Gilles fell to the No. 1 seeded player at the No. 1 singles position, Aaron Asher of Grosse Point, 6-0 and 6-4 to complete her title run.

Gilles had won her first match by default and taken the second, 6-0 and 6-1, over a tennis player from Cass Tech.

34th, 19:29, Chang was 35th, 19:46, Mills was 36th, 19:52, and Tom Pettroff was 43rd, 22:25.

Trenton won the girls version of the league meet with Salem finishing second.

Sample was second overall with a time of 21:39, while Simmons clocked 23:03 for fifth. Both girls made the all-league team with their efforts. Grissom made all-league second team with a 12th place finish in 24:29. McIntrye clocked 26:05 for 23rd and Haddock 27:03 for 28th.

Chief kickers blitz N'ville

Canton High's soccer team scored four goals in the first half Monday night to blitz Northville, 4-0.

Eddie Hintz opened the scoring for the Chiefs, 4-4 overall, after he took a pass from Bob Brusa.

Tom Wright tallied the next two goals, the first after an assist from Mike Jennings, and the second after a pass from Mike Battaglia.

Two minutes later Ryad Taila finished Canton's scoring for the night after an assist from Hintz.

Last week the Chiefs fell to Northville, 5-1. Hintz scored Canton's lone goal of the game off an assist by Tom Wright.

"Our defense was not working as well as it had," said Canton coach Tony Lonigro after the loss.

Chief cagers pound Stevenson on Thursday

BY DAVID CALLAHAN

After being flat footed in the first half of play Canton High's women's basketball came alive defensively in the final eight minutes and held its foe Livonia Stevenson scoreless, Thursday, to win the non-league game, 60-23.

"We were flat in the first half," said Canton coach Mike McCauley. The second half, however, was a different story, as the Chiefs were anything but flat, outscoring Livonia Stevenson, 35-4.

"We expected them to play a slow game, and they did," said McCauley. "When they slow down, we don't get fired up." McCauley also said "We were down mentally in the first half."

Canton's Robyn Hudgins paced the Chiefs to a 17-10 lead in the first quarter. Hudgins, who had 12 total points in the game, tallied eight of them in the first period to give the Chiefs the upper hand. Bev Irwin kept the Spartans close, as she hit 11 of her 13 points in the first quarter.

McCauley lauded the play of his center Hudgins, who has come on strong the past four games for the Chiefs. "She is much more aggressive on the boards, and she's starting to score some points for Both clubs scored six points each in the second quarter, as sloppy play dominated the period. The Chiefs kept the lead, 25-19, at the end of the half.

Stevenson scored four of the first six points in the opening minutes of the second half to cut the Canton lead to four, 27-23.

Those were the last points the Spartans were to score for the evening, however, as the Chiefs defensive work shut them down the rest of the game.

By the end of the third quarter, the Chiefs had jumped out to a 36-23 lead. Stevenson also lost starters Bev Irwin and Sherri Evans as they both fouled out.

Canton put the game on ice in the final period, with Reggie Ruggiero scoring 10 of her game-high 14 points in that quarter. Stevenson failed to score in the eight minutes.

With the win, the Chiefs raise their record to 12-1 overall and 4-0 in the conference. Canton puts its record on the line tomorrow, when they face Northville's Mustangs of the Western Six, at home. Varsity game time is 7:30 p.m.

Rocks gain gutsy football victory over Belleville

BY KEN VOYLES

It was a gutsy, physical kind of football game. Neither side scored in the first half, but the dynamos of football made it a tough, exhausting half.

This time Salem High's football squad didn't forget to play after its solid first half. The Rocks sucked it in the second half and tore up Belleville High's Tigers, 16-0, in Suburban Eight League action Friday night.

Belleville, coming off a recent upset of Trenton and a tough loss to Dearborn Edsel Ford, could not get a sustained drive going in the face of Salem's defense.

The Rocks' defensive unit shutdown the Belleville offense from the very first minutes including the running efforts of star back Rich Gatés. It was just a matter of time before Salem would take advantage of some solid running efforts by quarterback Jeff Hubert and backs Darrel Bartkowiak and Mickey Madsen and score a touchdown.

"We are getting better every week - we had good hard practices this week - it has taken some time, but that's typical when you are playing a young team," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer. "They made up their minds to play tonight and they did."

Both squads exchanged the football several times in the first quarter, neither one mounting a drive. The second quarter was much the same, although the Rocks did drive deep into Belleville territory as the time was running out before the half.

Salem opened the scoring after taking a Belleville punt early in the third quarter. The Rocks started at their own 28-yard mark. Bartkowiak made two runs pushing the ball to Salem's 43-yard mark. Two plays later Hubert hit Bob DeBenedet on a pass to move the ball to the Belleville 29.

The Rocks got another first down to Belleville's 15-yard mark before Hubert pitched to Madsen who took the ball to the one. From their Bartkowiak plowed in for the touchdown with 5:43 left in the quarter. Mark Blaesser's kick was good and Salem led 7-0.

Salem then kicked to Belleville. On the a third down pass by the Tiger quarterback, a Salem defender tipped the ball near the line of scrimmage, linebacker Bartkowiak grabbed it and ran to Belleville's 46-yard line.

Two plays later quarterback Hubert kept the ball and scampered on an option to Belleville's nine. Bartkowiak then took it to the five and into the endzone on the next next play. Blaesser's kick missed and the Rocks were in front, 13-0, with 2:11 left in the third period.

Again the Rocks kicked to Belleville and on another third down pass play by the Tiger quarterback Salem defender Joe Roberts snared the ball and ran it to the Belleville 30-yard line. The quarter then ended.

In the fourth period, the Rocks drove the ball to the Belleville five-yard line before a Madsen fumble stopped the drive. Belleville, however, could not move the football in the face of the Rocks defense and so it punted.

Salem took over at its own 45-yard mark and drove all the way to the Belleville nine-yard line before stalling. Blaesser then came in on a fourth down play and booted a 17-yard field goal to give the Rocks a 16-0 margin.

Salem, now 4-3 overall, will be home this Saturday night against non-league foe Dearborn Fordson. Game time is 7:30 p.m. at CEP's football stadium.

Salem cagers show no mercy

BY KEN VOYLES

There are times when one wishes there was a mercy rule in women's basketball.

That was the thought Thursday night when the Salem High women's team shattered Suburban Eight League foe Allen Park, 51-20, after jumping out to a 31-6 lead at the end of the first half.

The Rocks, 12-2 overall and 7-1 in the conference, will now face league foe Dearborn tomorrow. Salem will travel to Dearborn for the game which has a 6:30 p.m. start for junior varsity and 7:30 p.m. for varsity.

Against the Jaugars the Rocks scored the first 17 points of the game to lead 17-0 before an AP player hit one basket at the buzzer end of the first quarter to make it 17-2.

Eileen Moore and Jacque Merrifield scored four points each to pace Salem in the opening eight minutes.

Salem continued to dominate the action in the second quarter as it scored 14 points to lead at the half 31-6. AP added just four points in the second. Jan MacKenzie paced the Rocks in the period with eight points, while Merrifield added four more.

The Rocks took 42 shots from the field in the first half, not including free throws, and made just 13 of those. Salem coach Bob Blohm was not worried about the poor shooting figure for the half, however. "This was the kind of game where you got the good shots and went after the rebound. We were trying to work on rebounding in this game," he said.

Blohm added that shot selection was not a factor, but that his team worked the offensive rebound quite well. "Allen Park is a tough team to play."

Salem added 13 points in the third quarter, while the Jaugars scored just one. Moore had four of those 13 Salem points.

In the fourth quarter the Rocks added eight points, while AP dumped in 13. Many of Salem's starters had left the game by the late minutes of the third quarter.

Senior Sarah Evans made four points for the Rocks in the final eight minutes, while Merrifield and Pam McBride added a bucket each.

The Rocks now take their show on the road for three straight games starting with Dearborn tomorrow. After that Salem will travel to Belleville on Tuesday and Dearborn Edsel Ford next Thursday. All three are league games.

"That should be really good for us," said Blohm. "It's important that we go on the road and learn to deal with other environments."

Salem's junior varsity also defeated Allen Park 77-13.

Canton swimmers gear for West 6 League meet

BY DAVID CALLAHAN

It's three weeks and counting for Canton High's womens' swim team.

"We would like to try and peak at the league meet," said Hooker Wellman, coach of Canton High's womens' swim team, Monday. "We're trying to follow a program that will get us there by that time."

That Western Six League meet is slated for Nov. 18-19.

Wellman's Chiefs may not have reached their potential yet, but they certainly have been impressive recently. Canton picked up its latest victory last Tuesday, when it defeated Western Six League opponent Livonia Churchill, 96-79, at the Churchill pool.

"With fifteen swimmers, we're one of the smallest teams in our league," said Wellman. "But we have got some very good swimmers. They have improved a lot."

Wellman also praised the work of his assistant coach, Bill McCord, saying "We've known each other for a long time and swam together when we were in high school. We always wanted to coach a team together, and now we are. He is an incredible coach."

Against Churchill, the Chiefs scored first and second in the 200-yard freestyle, as Denise DeBell was first with a time of 2:27.18, and teammate Kelly Salyer was second, 2:34.09.

Chief netters finish year

BY DAVID CALLAHAN

Although they had one of their finest seasons in recent memory, the Canton High womens' tennis team ended its season on an off note. At the Western Six League meet last Tuesday, the Chiefs finished third out of five teams.

Farmington Harrison finished as league champion, and Northville finished second.

"I was a little dissappointed," said Canton coach Carol Michaels, "but I thought that we had an excellent season."

Lisa Schlotz, who was undefeated in league play, and was the Chiefs only regional finalist, was league champion at the No. 4 singles slot. She beat Theresa Moehlman of Farmington Harrison, 6-4 and 6-2, to garner league honors.

Nancy Warkentin and Kristin Smith lost to a Northville duo in the finals at the No. 3 doubles position.

At No. 2 singles, the Chiefs Julie Swain lost a semi-final match to the eventual winner Sharise Berk, by scores of 6-7, 6-1, and 6-4.

Michaels said part of the Chiefs problems stemmed from the way her players were seeded. "It might have helped us if some of our players weren't seeded. We split our matches with both Harrison and Northville during the season, but were just a little flat at the league meet."

Michaels stressed the teams fine regular season, and said, "We did very well in the dual meets (5-2) and beat Northville in dual competition, so I would say we had a good year. We had a good bunch of kids this year."

Missy McMurray was first in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 27.02. Kris Burns was third, 29.41.

Canton swept the diving competition, with Shawn Neville winning the event with a score of 159.2. Cindy Sherwood was second with 141.95 points.

Kathy Stern clocked 1:10.5 for first place in the 100-yard butterfly.

The Chiefs also scored the first two places in the 100-yard-freestyle, with Juli Silber taking first; 6:52.14, and Kelly Salyer second; 6:55.83.

Kris Burns finished third in the 100 yard backstroke as she timed 1:16.05.

Canton finished second and third in the 100-yard breastroke. Kim Elliott was second, 1:18.89, and Bronwyn Fitzgerald was third, 1:23.68.

In the 400-yard freestyle relay, Canton's team of Noelle Murphy, DeBell, Salyer, and McMurray were first, with the Chiefs other foursome taking third.

Canton continues its drive for the Western Six title tomorrow, when it travels to Farmington Harrison. The meet will begin at 7 p.m.

Salem swim team rolls over Trojans

Salem High's womens' swim team won a Suburban Eight League dual meet Thursday night, 94-78, over the Trenton High Trojans to up its record to 6-3 overall.

Salem scored seven firsts during the meet with Kelly Brandt, Amy Dunn, and Terri Eudy scoring two first places each.

Brandt won the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 2:14.3, while Robin Cummings was third in that race, 2:21.9. Brandt also won the 500-yard breastroke with an effort of 6:07.4. Cummings was second in that race with a time of 6:24.

Dunn was first in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 27.2 seconds. Corinne Cabadas was third in that race, 28.4 seconds. Dunn also won the 100-yard freestyle with an effort of 59.6 seconds. Sallie Weimer was third, 1:01.3.

Terri Eudy won the individual medley race with a time of 2:18.8. B.J. Bing was third, 2:34.5. Eudy also won the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:05.6. Debbie Darlington was third, 1:08.2.

Eudy broke her own school record in the IM race. Her effort also qualified her for state Class A competition in November.

Cindy McSurely was second in diving with 209.6 points.

Bing was second in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 2:09. Cabadas was second in the 100-yard breaststroke with an effort of 1:15.8, while Kim Nelson was third, 1:18.9.

The Rocks 200-yard medley relay team of Darlington, Cabadas, Dunn and Eudy were first with a time of 2:01.4. Salem was second in the 400-yard freestyle relay with a time of 4:21.2. Salem's foursome included Kelly Urban, Pam Rowde, Brandt and Weimer.

Local combo powers Rowdies

Plymouth's Annette Ruggiero and Shelly Staszal have been a dynamite combination for the Flip Rowdies girl's soccer team of the Bonanza-Express Soccer League this fall.

The pair teamed up once again for two goals in the Rowdies 3-2 win over the Troy Rowdies Sunday. Ruggiero opened the Rowdies scoring on a pass from Staszal and Doreen Dudek scored with an assist from Lisa Russell.

Ruggiero then got the winner after a corner kick from Staszal. The Rowdies are 7-0 this fall.

Quick TDs break Canton in gridiron clash

COMING OUT OF THE DARK SKY. Canton defensive backs Jamie Chilcoff (1) and Matt Santilli (2) both zero in on a Livonia Churchill pass during the Chiefs league game with the Chargers Friday night.

Neither Chilcoff or Santilli were able to grab the football, however, as it spun toward the ground after it had been knocked down. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

BY DAVID CALLAHAN

Sometimes, nothing goes your way.

Canton High's football coach Richard Barr might be inclined to agree with that statement, after watching his Chiefs fall to Western Six League foe Livonia Churchill on Friday night, 20-7.

"They got the big plays, and we didn't," said Barr. "We played with them," added Barr, "except for the occasional breakdown."

It was a Canton breakdown which allowed the Chargers to strike first, early in the first quarter. The Chiefs kicked to Churchill, and the defensive unit was able to stop the Chargers on four downs, forcing them to punt. Canton's David Simms fielded the first punt cleanly. However, the Chiefs accepted a penalty against Churchill and made them kick again. This time, Simms mishandled the punt, and Churchill recovered on the Canton 42-yard line.

Four plays later, Churchill's John Bielis ran it in from 17 yards out, to give the Chargers a 6-0 lead. Churchill missed the point after.

The Chargers struck again in the early minutes of the second quarter. Churchill moved the ball 54 yards in eight plays, with Bielis scoring from the one to cap the drive. The point after was good, and Churchill went up, 13-0.

Canton got on the board in the second quarter, as they put together a 64 yard drive, highlighted by a 44-yard pass from quarterback Pat Murphy to Jamie Chilcoff. Simms took it in from the three for the score. With the extra point, the Chiefs made the score 13-7 as the half ended.

Canton's defensive unit started to play with determination in the third period, stopping Churchill cold on three possessions.

The Chief offense began to heat up in the fourth period, as they drove to tie the game with six minutes left. Simms scampered on a 46-yard run to get the Chiefs deep into Churchill territory. Once inside the Chargers 10, however, the offense stalled, failing to score on four successive downs from the eight-yard line.

Churchill took possession at its own eight. Bielis came through for the Chargers again, breaking off an 84-yard run, which took him to the Canton eight. Five plays later, quarterback Bill Gavin threw a three yard pass to Steve Tracy for the score.

"After that," said Barr, "it was probably all over." He was right, as Churchill was able to run out the clock for the win.

With the loss, the Chiefs drop to 2-5. Canton's next game is Friday, when they face Garden City East at home. Barr said "It will be another close one...we'll be in it all the way." Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Super Bowl party

Michigan's salute to Super Bowl XVI party is slated for 7 p.m. Nov. 10 at Somerset Mall.

Members of the present Detroit Lions as well as former Lions will be on hand for the fund raiser for the Michigan Host Committee of the Super Bowl. J.P. McCarthy will host the gala event.

Atmosphere will be Saturday afternoon football partying so varsity attire is suggested. Tickets are $75 and are available by calling the Michigan Host Committee at (313) 858-8200.

Canton youths win punt, pass and kick

Over 50 Canton youths participated in the 2nd Annual Punt, Pass and Kick contest at Griffin Park Saturday. Six distance records were broken that day.

Mikel Krejcar won the competition for the eight and nine year old group. His total of 192 feet for all three events tied an old record. Ryan Johnson was second with 184 feet and a new record in the pass competition of 72 feet eight inches.

Derick Knapp was third in the eight and nine age.

Greg Darby set a new record in the kick competition for the 10-11 year old group with a distance of 86 feet six inches. His total of 199 feet was good for first place. LaMarchal Crayton was second at 195 feet and Troy Lowenstein was third at 169 feet.

Dave Zdeb won the 12-13 year old competition with a new record total of 276 feet. His punt of 89 feet one inch and his kick of 94 feet six inches were also new record.

Jim Cerretani was second with a total of 264 feet. His pass of 96 feet nine inches also set a record. Bob Powell was third at 12-13 years with a distance total of 262 feet.
