BY KEN VOYLES

It was a night written in the stars, so said new Mayor of Plymouth Eldon 'Bud' Martin after assuming the post at Monday night's special organizational meeting of the City Commission. Commissioner David Pugh was elected Mayor Pro-Tem by fellow commissioners.

Martin, a 50-year resident of the city, said "I never thought of achieving this high point in my life." He then read from a recent forecast for his astrological sign, Pisces, which said November is a month for setting new dreams through new goals and for gaining new insights.

Martin's wife, Dee, sons Scott and David and daughter-in-law Denise were on hand for the ceremony.

Martin was elected unanimously by the commission while the votes for mayor pro-tem were split for Pugh and Commissioner Jack Kenyon.

The three incumbent winners of the Nov. 3 election, Pugh, Kenyon, and Mark Wehmeyer were sworn in, as was commission newcomer William Robinson, after departing Mayor Mary B. Childs stepped down from the seat she held for the past two years.

"I loved being mayor. It was one of the best experiences of my life," she said. "It's not hard for me to step down as Mayor. I know this commission."

The commissioners were then sworn in and they joined Commissioners Karl Gansler and Ronald Loiselle on the board.

Martin was elected, and he proceeded to the business of selecting mayor pro-tem.

After Pugh's election Martin said of Childs, "This person has spent 13 years in your city government. She started on the planning commission, was on the zoning board of appeals and was Mayor. Most of all she was Madame Mayor, a tremendous friend to us all. She put care and feeling in while she was mayor. I have been honored serving with her."

Martin then presented Childs with a plaque from the commissioners. A tree has also been planted next to City Hall, he

Fiegel staff cut draws fire

BY NANCY FERGUSON

There was some heated discussion at Monday night's meeting of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education. Two issues were the main cause of the controversy.

The first area of discussion centered around the resolution to reduce the teaching staff at Fiegel Elementary School. One teacher must be displaced so the school can meet its teacher student ratio.

The parents at Fiegel are upset because they feel displacing a teacher 12 weeks into the school year will be disruptive to the children, said Mrs. Clarice Killian, representing the Fiegel Parent-Teacher Organization.

"Any changes in staff should have been made before school started when it would not have disrupted the students," said Mrs. Killian.

"It's situations like this which cause parents to remove students from public to private schools," added Mrs. Killian.

Norman J. Kee, assistant superintendent, employee relations, said the displacement was necessary to solve the problem of overstaffing.

He said it was an effort to "keep faith with other schools that had to reduce staff".

Kee acknowledged that the move would cause some disruption, but added "the students adjust much more quickly than their parents."

Glenn H. Schroeder, board treasurer, said "It's no more disruptive than if a teacher leaves for any other reason, such as a maternity leave."

Trustee, Thomas J. Yack, disagreed with Schroeder and Kee. He commented, "It's too disruptive for the students. These changes need to be made before the school year begins." His remarks brought a round of applause from parents in the audience.

Kee promised that extra precaution would be taken next year to understaff and then make any necessary adjustments to avoid repeating the situation.

After lengthy discussion, the resolution passed with a 5-2 vote.

The second issue that brought emotional responses concerned the closing of the Plymouth Children's Nursery located in Hough School.

Janet Ryan, secretary of the co-op preschool board, appeared at the meeting to request an $8,000 loan.

Because of sewage disposal problems, the Wayne County Board of Health has ordered the preschool to hook up to the Canton sewer system. The cost would be $15,000.

Since the preschool has only $7,000, it was seeking a loan from the school board for the additional $8,000.

Ms. Ryan said the loan would be repaid at the rate of $2,000 per year with the first installment being paid before the end of this school year.

Fund hits $228,728

Plymouth Community Fund drive solicitors are slowly inching their way toward the record $340,000 goal established for this year's drive. At Friday's fourth report luncheon Community Fund workers reported that $229,728 had been collected or pledged.

That represents 67.5 percent of the $340,000 goal.

Plymouth Community Fund Drive workers are in the process of wrapping up the 1981 drive with the final report to be given at a Dec. 10 dinner.

Money collected in the drive is used to sponsor the activities and services of community service organizations such as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, WMCA, Campfire Girls, senior citizen groups, Growth Works, Salvation Army and many others.

For winter sports at park

Plymouth Township to add lights

Let there be more light. Lights will soon be going up at the Plymouth Township Recreation Park.

Township Board of Trustees accepted the low bid of McSweeney Electric of Novi, at last week's regular meeting of the board, for the removal of 18 light poles from the park's east boundary where they have been unused for several years due to broken light fixtures.

Of those 18 lights, 12 will be stored, while six will be repaired, rewired and installed throughout the lower end of the park on new concrete bases.

The six lights to be used will be placed at key locations around the park's lower end. One light will be installed at the entrance to the park off of Ann Arbor Trail. Another light will be installed near the shelter, while one light will be added near one of the parking areas, one near the maintenance building and two on either side of the pavilion.

One existing pole near the east parking area will be refitted with a new light fixture.

Two lights near the pavilion will be run on timers and will help to light the skating rink this winter. The other four lights will use photocells which go on with the night and off with the day.

The skating rink, originally proposed to be constructed at the east edge of the park, will instead be made a part of the retention pond near the pavilion.

According to Township Chief Building

Official Joe Attard, the pond was first considered unuseable because of rippling effects on the ice during winter. The problem was solved recently when it was discovered that there was a drainage problem at the pond. Water would seep over the hardened ice causing ripples.

The township has since put in a drain system. The pond is approximately 300 feet by 500 feet.

Cost of the project is $9,800 and work is slated to begin within two weeks.

The lights are intended to be used to help illuminate the park when it opens for winter use, said Township Clerk Esther Hulsing.

There will be a bedtime storytime on Monday at 7 p.m. Children ages 3-5 who can sit attentively for a 30 minute period without parental attendance will listen to stories, songs and finger plays. Children are asked to wear pajamas and bring a favorite stuffed animal. Registration is not required.

A puppet workshop will be held on Tuesday from 6:45-8 p.m. for children in grades 1-3. A second workshop will be conducted on Nov. 19 for youngsters in grades 4 and up.

City police set meetings in crime prevention war

The Plymouth Police Department will conduct a pair of Neighborhood Watch and Crime Prevention meetings for the general public tonight and next Wednesday to continue the program recently started by Chief Carl Berry.

Tonight's meeting will be 7:30 p.m. at the West Middle School cafeteria. Berry and Officer Mike Gardner will be on hand to discuss burglary prevention, how to mark property and other tips.

Next Wednesday, Nov. 18, Berry will be at the East Middle school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

"Because of the economic times we are experiencing a great many breaking and enterings, for example," said Berry. "We want to stress we need people to be on the watch for themselves and their neighbors. People should call us if they ever see anything out of the ordinary."

"Somebody is seeing something out there," he continued, "without realizing it. Those are the people we want to encourage to contact our department."

Berry added that if any service clubs, organizations, schools or homeowners, groups of six or more people would like to meet and discuss crime prevention they should call either Berry or the Plymouth Detective Bureau.

Last week alone there were seven breaking and enterings, or attempts in the city alone, according to police. On one occasion the residents came home just after the home had been vacated by suspects. In another case a garage was broken into, and in yet another case a home was broken in and robbed of over $400 worth of items with the residents in the home. Stolen property ranged from $20 to $1,600 according to the reports.

VFW Post plans observance

There will be a short program beginning at 11 a.m. in honor of those who gave their lives in the service of their country and those who returned from armed forces service.

Dunn Steel will leave Plymouth for Tennessee

Dunn Steel is moving out of Plymouth. The plant, which employs 125 workers is relocating in Spencer, Tenn. The business has been in Plymouth since 1920.

The firm, part of the Townsend Division of Textron, Inc. has purchased a 93,000 square ft. plant located on a 30 acre site in Spencer.

The reason for the relocation said Matt Case, vice president and general manager, is "the high cost of doing business in Michigan."

Case was hesitant to comment on whether or not Plymouth employees would have the option of transferring to the new facility. "We haven't entered into any discussion with the union yet," he said.

The plant will begin moving equipment in January of 1982 and expects to complete the relocation by June. When the move is completed and the plant is vacant, the building will be put up for sale, added Case.

Fire hits BJ's Pizza

Plymouth Firefighters were called to 628 S. Main at 4:36 a.m. Monday night as flames engulfed BJ's Pizza carryout, according to Plymouth Captain Donald Belski.

Belski added that the fire is still under investigation and is considered a suspicious fire. No damage estimates were available at press time.

Belski said 17 firefighters were called to the scene. By the time they arrived the roof and front of the of the building were in flames. The Plymouth firefighters battled until 7:05 a.m. before clearing from the scene, said Belski.

RRWC forms executive board to study waste

A group of Western Wayne County residents, including three from the Plymouth-Canton Community have joined the battle to manage the flow of waste going into the Middle Rouge River, as well as study the effects of hazardous waste in all aspects of stormwater management.

The Rouge River Watershed Council (RRWC) met in Canton recently to set its goals for better water resource management within the community. An executive committee was elected at the gathering.

Along the executive committee elected are representatives of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton.

Plymouth Township Trustee Lee Fidge will chair the executive committee, while Canton Township Planner Jim Kosteva was elected secretary and Plymouth City Engineer Ken West was elected treasurer.

RRWC activities include involvement in legislative revision of the Michigan Drain Code. An ad hoc committee will be making recommendations to the Public Works Committee in Lansing. The RRWC will also focus on hazardous waste management in general. Plans are underway to sponsor an educational effort to aid municipalities and citizens in meeting the needs of the area for hazardous waste.

Under the executive committee's guidance, the RRWC will continue to monitor activity on or near the Rouge River which affects water quality.

RRWC membership includes all of the Plymouth-Canton Community, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield Township, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Detroit, Farmington, Farmington Hills, Livonia, Northville, Northville Township, Redford Township, Southfield, and West Bloomfield Township.

An informational meeting is being planned for early in 1982, according to Fidge, who is also pushing to get more members and a wider variety of backgrounds for the ad hoc committees currently being formed to study the Rouge and waste effects upon it.

Twp. Trustees look into Risk Management

Plymouth Township Trustees approved looking into future self-insurance proposals at last Tuesday's regular meeting.

The Board of Trustees passed a resolution at the meeting expressing interest in the Michigan Municipal Risk Management Authority (RMA). The RMA will review the township's insurance "exposures" and come back to the trustees with a proposal and a fee to join the RMA.

RMA is a voluntary organization of 17 Michigan municipalities, including the City of Plymouth, that have banded together to form a self-insurance pool. They can do so because municipalities are not legally required to be insured.

The RMA is run by a board of directors elected from its membership communities.

All contributions of insurance funds into the organization are calculated to each individual community and is based on the actual exposure. Funds paid by the communities go into a joint investment fund and the investment of that fund is directed by the risk manager under the eyes of the board of directors.

According to a spokesperson for the league, Tom Burr, all funds allocated by the township of Plymouth would be used only for township losses.

RMA insures property, both real and personal, and for liabilities including premises and operation.

After the RMA reviews the data supplied by the township it will set a fee to belong to the authority and at that time the township will choose to join or not.

Twp to open firefighter talks soon

The Plymouth Township Firefighters Local 1496, and the township government will be meeting sometime in January of 1982 to start negotiations on a new contract.

The current contract expires March 31, 1982 and negotiations must open 60 days before that deadline, according to Township Clerk Esther Husling.

The Township Board of Trustees recently picked a negotiating team for the upcoming sessions. Township Attorney C.

Charles Bokos was selected to bargain for the township with Hulsing and Township Supervisor Maurice Breen as observers.

Observers are not allowed to participate in the negotiations. They can only observe the discussions.

There are 14 members of the Local 1496, including 11 firefighters and three sergeants. Plymouth Township also has 14 volunteer firefighters unaffected by contract.

Omnicom official issues challenge to newspapers

BY DICK BROWN

"Cable television has the potential to help or hurt community newspapers."

That was the warning issued by Omnicom of Michigan President Pete Newell in a talk before the University Press Club of Michigan Friday at Ann Arbor.

The president of the Plymouth headquartered cable TV company outlined the rapid growth on the horizon for cable television and its capacity to provide local news coverage. "Cable television has the capability to expand the influence of newspapers, promote newspapers, bring in additional revenues and profits, provide subscriber fees and provide a data base," Newell said.

"Newspapers who ignore the potential of cable television could be hurt by competition for reading time and advertising dollars," he warned.

He urged newspapers to "get on board."

Pointing to the growth of 24-hour news stations, the availability of cable TV systems providing up to 104 channels, additional TV satellite systems, development of local tv news gathering techniques and potential interest of advertisers in cable TV, Newell forecast a bright future for cable television.

"Cable TV is the biggest communications revolution since the advent of television itself," he said.

said, and will soon have a plaque honoring the former mayor because "She cares."

The newly-elected mayor then outlined a few goals he has set. "I'm going to ask for a beautification commission. I think it's time we recognize the improvement programs in the city. I will ask Mary Childs to serve."

Martin will also conduct a review of all city policies in its various departments in conjunction with City Manager Henry Graper, Jr.

He plans an informal discussion with Plymouth's former mayors to discuss problems and the city's future, and he wants to organize a community governmental conference with Plymouth Township, Canton and Northville to discuss the community and its future.

He ended by saying, "This commission is going to be open and aggressive."

Preschool in trouble

She said the monies would come from a $20 tuition increase per student and possibly from fund raisers.

If the preschool cannot secure the funds for the sewer hookup it must vacate the building immediately.

In response to a question from Yack regarding the general condition of the building, Ms. Ryan said the "little red school building" is in good repair except for the sewage disposal problems.

The board voted 7-0 to take no immediate action on the co-op's loan request.

Resolutions to create a committee to study computer-assisted instruction and to establish a task force on special education were also passed by the board.

Let's make more improvements

Sometimes what passes for progress is painful to obtain. The Sheldon Road improvements are a good case in point.

Since early last spring just about everyone driving east, west, north or south—and there are plenty of drivers doing it—have been stacked up, had their nerves rubbed raw by delays, mud, dust and a few inconsiderate motorists while construction crews have been at work widening Sheldon Road.

It's been a long summer for the thousands of drivers who normally use Sheldon, Joy Road and Ann Arbor Road and for those living on the west side of Sheldon north of Ann Arbor Road.

But, as the Sheldon Road project nears completion, it is apparent that the temporary inconvenience is going to be well worth it.

It has been especially tough on businesses in the area of Sheldon and Ann Arbor Road. Customers have found it tough to get in and out and the dust and dirt has been hard to keep up with.

The Sheldon Road project has been a hardship for others, too. As drivers sought alternate routes, other streets became more congested. That is particularly true with Main Street.

With Sheldon improvements almost finished, there are other projects which should go to the head of the priority line if the Plymouth traffic flow is to be eased.

The Main Street-Ann Arbor Road intersection needs action. Then there is the much-needed improvement on Mill Street.

Fixing roads does not come cheap and it brings lots of inconveniences, but in spite of the cost and the inconvenience, these two projects would certainly be welcome.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Cooperative efforts applauded

Sunday's official dedication of the Dunbar Davis Hall of Justice was more than just the dedication of a court house. It officially recognized District Judge Dunbar Davis as a long-time contributor to the Plymouth-Canton community by naming the court facility in his honor.

It also represented the teamwork, cooperation and common concern of neighboring local units of government and provided one more example that cooperative effort may be the only way for local governments to survive.

The Cities of Plymouth and Northville and the townships of Canton, Plymouth and Northville worked together in providing the new court facility.

The City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township are successfully joined in a contractual arrangement which has the city successfully and economically providing police protection for the township.

This could be just the beginning. There are other areas of local government which should be consolidated in the interests of economy and providing efficient services.

Cooperation is working in the district court system. It is working in sharing police responsibilities.

Plymouth and Canton Township Boards and the Plymouth City Commission should be looking for other ways to join forces to provide better services at a savings in tax dollars.

P-C Sports issues need clarification

Basically
by Ken Voyles

There are community issues, major and trivial which can be addressed in the fashion of commentary as compared with opinion. In these footnotes on Plymouth-Canton sports issues, keep in mind that fact. Pardon the abruptness, but there are issues which have come forth in this newspaper which need further clarification.

NO LONGER WILL there be an interscholastic sports program for seventh and eighth grade students in Plymouth-Canton and parents, coaches and students are upset. The ninth grade freshmen have been removed from CEP and no longer have a chance to compete on CEP varsity or junior varsity teams.

Many of the discontented said the new program will dilute the efforts of the coaches who have built up programs the past few years, counting on freshmen as a key ingredient. The loss will hurt the high school programs, but there is something unique to be gained by the new program that no one thus far has recognized.

The solution for the middle schools may work but only time will tell. The school administration throws $25,000 to the new program, splits the money 50-50 between the intramural sports - home room teams competing during lunchtimes - and extramural teams - school teams competing against the other middle schools after school hours.

The unique element to this program is the league that will be formed automatically by the extramural programs. It's a neutral to have the five schools in the district compete against each other. It saves money and it keeps the teams in a community atmosphere where support will be strongest.

Why must there be interscholastic events when there are five teams already within the district? Do Livonia junior highs play outside of their district? They didn't when I played.

Any tournaments or playoffs that could be added at the end of the extramural season would be well attended by residents. All games will be within close range for fans and involve the neighbor's kids and those down the block.

The cutting of football is the toughest to live with many have said. The replacement of soccer is a wise decision since that sport has many more local participants than the high school and junior football teams. Students will also have a variety of sports to choose from, and they can be played in the school on a homeroom team or after school against a rival middle school.

SALEM HIGH FOOTBALL coach Tom Moshimer came under fire in The Crier opinion pages two weeks ago when an anonymous fan bitterly complained about the veteran coach's game plan during the Dearborn game.

THIS IS THE WAY the lights looked in the Canton High gym at the Oct. 29 Canton basketball game against Northville. Several of the Chiefs warmup before the start of the contest. Since this photo was taken many of the broken lights have been replaced. Apparently the

A pair of responses since printed gave defense to Moshimer quite well.

Let it be added that in Moshimer's after-game comments to The Crier he also said he blamed himself for calling the punt which was blocked, leading to the winning Dearborn touchdown with time running out in the first half. He said he should have run out the clock. That was not reported in the story.

Moshimer also said his team had had "the greatest week of practice." That also did not make the final story.

The letter pinpoints tactical mistakes, something anybody can do with enough concentration. It takes those young players on the field concentration, and a pride in their coach, to enjoy the effort they unleash during a season.

The Rocks have pride and trust in their coach, and it is not right of a parent to question that trust, surely when the complaint was purely a selfish one.

The fan's right to protest points of on-the-field tactics is absurd. It is the distorted testimony of a car accident victim.

THE NIGHT the lights went out at Canton High's Phase III and the players were left in the dark.

Let's hope it doesn't happen. Two-thirds of the lights in the main gym remain burned out.

Crews are currently starting to replace the lights, according to CEP Athletic Director John Sandmann. He also said that the delay in replacing the lights was caused by a delay in the delivery of the lights.

For much of this fall the Canton women's basketball team has had to play home games under poor light conditions. Other Canton teams, such as wrestling, volleyball, and gymnastics also compete in Phase III.

It's time all the lights were replaced and brought to the point where players, reason for the delay in getting the lighting back to top shape was caused by delays in shipments of the lights. Canton sports teams using the courts will no longer be in semi-darkness. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron) officials, coaches, fans and reporters can view the game without feeling like they're looking through a narrow tube lit only by candle light.

Coloring It Brown

By Dick Brown

All these goodie two-shoes types spouting consumerism causes are taking the fun out of life in their mad dash to save the downtrodden and obviously stupid consumer from himself and the pirates of business, industry and the professions.

One of the big targets is the automobile industry. For 15 or 20 years broadside after broadside has been fired by those in and out of government until the auto industry and those businesses which supply the auto industry, along with the work force, Michigan and particularly our own little corner of Michigan are reeling.

But even more devastating is the fun the Ralph Nader types have taken out of life.

Back in the good old days when neighborhood kids used to gather at curbside on US-127 in Mason to debate the affairs of the world, the relative merits of the family car used to be the No. 1 subject. The knee action Chevy of the Ware family would have to stand the gaff of the debate from the Bailey clan who argued the cause of the Bailey family Essex. Whole Saturdays could be whiled away without benefit of a city-run recreation program just arguing about cars.

The Essex would generally come out the winner because there were more Baileys and they were louder and bigger.

The rest of the neighborhood crowd would toss in second-hand automotive information gleaned from accompanying parents to the A. G. Spenny Garage or Al Torrance's Auto Repair and Blacksmith Shop.

I could gain attention by misquoting a distant relative, Bill Graves, who was an engineer at Packard, and I really got attention when my aunt married a fellow with a Durant roadster with a rumble seat.

All those curbside automotive debates would be irrelevant now that the government experts and Ralphie Nader types have taken over the market place.

It's reached the point that just about anyone with a Gilbert chemistry set and access to a computer is telling the American buying public what is good for them, whether it be cars, toilet tissue, food, soap, nose drops or night shirts.

All the fun is being taken out of the buyer-seller game.

There used to be great satisfaction in bragging about the good car deal and there was even more satisfaction in working up a good hate for the car manufacturer and the dealer who stuck you with the lemon or the mechanic who sold you back your old plugs.

It was more fun to shop for a new car by going out on the lot, kicking the tires and raising the hood to see the latest Detroit gadgets than there is in letting Ralphie Nader and a bunch of bureaucrats do your shopping for you.

In Salvation Army re-zoning issues

Ball Street homeowners are ignored

EDITOR:

How does a nine-inch foot fit into a seven-inch shoe?

This is the analogy of the Salvation Army project in the residential area of Ball Street. Do the rights of homeowners who have deed restrictions with one-family residential on them matter or does their right to privacy and enjoyment of one's property still exist?

The answer depends greatly on the people involved.

We, the residents of Ball Street, are still wrestling with the Salvation Army project. We have to date lost our residential-zoned lots to a large addition to the former Main Street Baptist Church which overlaps into our residential lots with parking for 45 cars. (But don't be concerned . . . it's only a conditional use and someday when there is no longer any use for the facility, won't they just roll up their building and give us back our residential lots? Or will they?)

at 7:30 p.m. we will hear the verdict on whether or not a need exists to break our side yard requirements as set forth in the township ordinances to appease the Salvation Army project. With 11,099 square feet of building, it seems they could get the necessary functions in all that space without breaking the side yard requirements. The project duplicates services which already exist in the community.

We as residents ask of Plymouth Township only to stay within the confines of the ordinance.

We, in our feeble way, have tried to represent ourselves without the benefit of legal counsel. Maybe there is justice and expertise in these matters, but it is very expensive. The results of our efforts have been rather depressing. The outcome of the meetings is as follows:

Rezoning of Main Street property, 75 residents petitioned "No," Township Board passed the rezoning.

Conditional use permit on residential Ball Street property (How conditional is a permanent building?), 110 residents said "No," Township Board passed conditional use permit.

Board of Appeals meeting on variances in side yard requirements, 110 residents said "No," Township Board tabled the issue with a 2-2 vote.

Now, another Board of Appeals meeting and with a track record like this, would anyone want to bet on the outcome?

Farmland vote spoke to lots of concerns

EDITOR:

There was a strong message in the manner in which Canton Township voters spoke to the Farmland Preservation proposal last week.

The defeat of the $7 million bonding proposal was not so much a reflection on the worthiness of Farmland Preservation as it was on the whole idea of taxation.

Those who pay property taxes in essence are telling their elected representatives at every level of government that "enough is enough."

The other part of the message is that taxpayers want their governments to live within their current means and to forget all the niceties and dream schemes which may make life more enjoyable but are the wrong things to spend money on when times are tough.

Canton people didn't vote against farmland preservation. Most people I discussed the issue with were in favor of the plan and recognized the fact that shrinking farmland is something we all should be concerned about.

At the same time, though, they expressed great concern that at this time when Southeastern Michigan is economically reeling from unemployment, inflation and other pocketbook woes, hitting the taxpayers for $30, $40 or $50 a year is too much, even for a worthwhile cause.

Families are attempting to make one pair of shoes do where two pair were considered essential. They are dialing down, turning off and doing without just to pay the bloated utility bills. They expect their government officials to do the same.

New Morning School thanks those who helped

EDITOR:

The parents, children and staff of New Morning School wish to thank the many people who have helped us accomplish our return to Plymouth.

In particular, we wish to thank Stanley Tkacz of Tkacz and Associates for his professional work done in completing the New Morning School site on Haggerty Road in Plymouth Township. Too often, work done in a manner of high professional standards often goes unrecognized. Praise is certainly due Mr. Tkacz for planning and coordinating this project.

Jim McKeon of Schweitzer Realty and David Smith, attorney, are also to be commended for their professional work.

Special thanks are also due to Maurice Breen, township supervisor; Joseph Attard, township building inspector; Plymouth Township Planning Commission; Jim Anulewicz, township planner; and the Lakepointe Homeowners Association.

The following contractors completed work on the building and grounds with high standards of workmanship and are to be commended; Kevin Wright, K T Construction; John Cumming, Plumbing Contractor; Gary VanBuren, VanBuren Electric Co.; Richard; and Frank Palmer, Palmer Paving.

Thanks, also, to Sherwin-Williams Paint Co., Plymouth; Fingerle Lumber, Ann Arbor; and Floorcraft of Roseville for their generous discounts to the school.

We also wish to give special recognition to our new neighbor, Mrs. Helen Eckles, who has been so supportive during the entire construction process.

Many community members and our dedicated parents have worked long hours to bring the New Morning School building to completion. Thanks, too, to Bob Cameron of The Crier, for helping us celebrate our ground breaking ceremonies.

County Commissioner Joyner congratulates voter on choice

EDITOR:

May I offer my sincere congratulations to the voters of the 27th District for leading the way with their support of Proposition I regarding Wayne County reorganization. This is a tremendous step forward, one that many of us have pushed hard to see happen.

The next step is to pay close attention to the candidates who will surface for county executive. We must make sure that they are willing to see the reform continue. The adoption of Proposition I is not the end of the reform, but only the beginning.

I would also like to thank The Community Crier for the strong editorial stand in support of the elected county executive.

I would hope that this paper, along with the residents of my district, will join with me in continuing our watch over county government. We must all do our part to see that the new charter is given every chance to work.

Again, thank you, voters of out-county, for taking the time to vote and for taking the leadership on this vital issue.

R. WILLIAM JOYNER
Wayne County Commissioner

MR. AND MRS. TERRY WARD

Tripp-Ward vows said at Sept. 18 wedding ceremony

Teresa Ann Tripp and Terry A. Ward were married Sept. 18 at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, with Fr. Jim Jaegelski officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tripp of Plymouth. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ward of Canton.

At the ceremony, the bride wore a high necked Victorian-style gown of organza over taffeta. Her fingertip veil was lace trimmed and attached to a beaded headpiece. She carried silk roses and carnations.

The couple's attendants were the bridegroom's brother Douglas and sister-in-law Teri Ward. The matron of honor wore a dark blue taffeta gown with a lace jacket and carried a bouquet of blue and white silk carnations and roses.

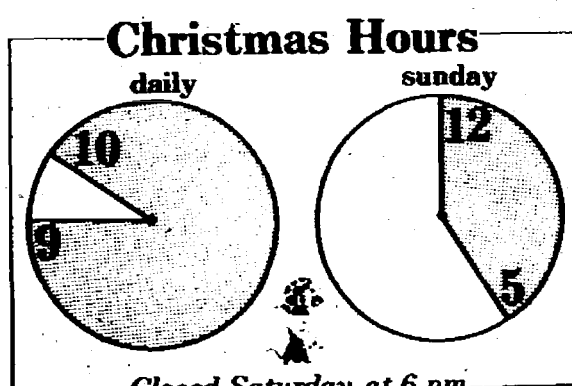

The ceremony also featured soloist Dan Tripp, brother of the bride.

Reception was at Roma Hall, Livonia.

In the Nov. 4 edition of The Crier the name of Det. Lt. Henry Berghoff of the Plymouth Police Department was inadvertently misspelled. We regret the error.

The extension requested and granted for coming up with a final alternate for the North Huron Valley Wastewater System project is six weeks and not six months as reported in The Crier edition of Oct. 28.

Plymouth Chamber dinner draws full house

Plymouth Chamber of Commerce members gathered last Friday evening for the annual chamber dinner at the Mayflower Meeting House.

NASA astronaut Captain James Lovell gave a presentation about his adventures in the space program and especially aboard the Apollo 13. He told the tale of the oxygen malfunction that could have cost him and fellow crew members their lives. He also presented a film on the epic journey in which Apollo 13 had to turn back from the moon due to the malfunction.

More than 200 guests were on hand for the dinner and talk.

Community leaders receiving special awards from the chamber were: Margaret Dunning in history; Ron Griffith in education; Carl Pursell in legislation; Mary Childs and Maurice Breen in government; and Bob Jeannotte and Ralph Lorenz in economics.

A FULL HOUSE was on hand Friday night at the Mayflower Hotel for the annual Plymouth Chamber of Commerce dinner. Former astronaut Captain James Lovell was the guest speaker for the evening. (Crier photo by Rick Smith)

James Lovell; the man

BY KEN VOYLES

Who is James Lovell?

Many Americans, when asked today, plead ignorance about the man who almost went to the moon twice.

Today Captain Lovell is a business executive making a livelihood from the telephone. His experiences in the NASA space program make outstanding reading, and yet many fellow countrymen go blank when the name Lovell is mentioned. He was in Plymouth recently speaking at the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce dinner.

He began his All-American life winning an Eagle Scout Badge with the Boy Scouts. From there he went on to the Naval Academy and the University of Southern California before starting a four-year tour as test pilot. He was selected for the NASA program in 1962 and made the historic Gemini 7 mission in 1965.

Lovell called the 330-hour trend setting flight "just another record to be broken," but added that sitting in the cramped Gemini capsule in zero gravity for that length of time was an experience all its own.

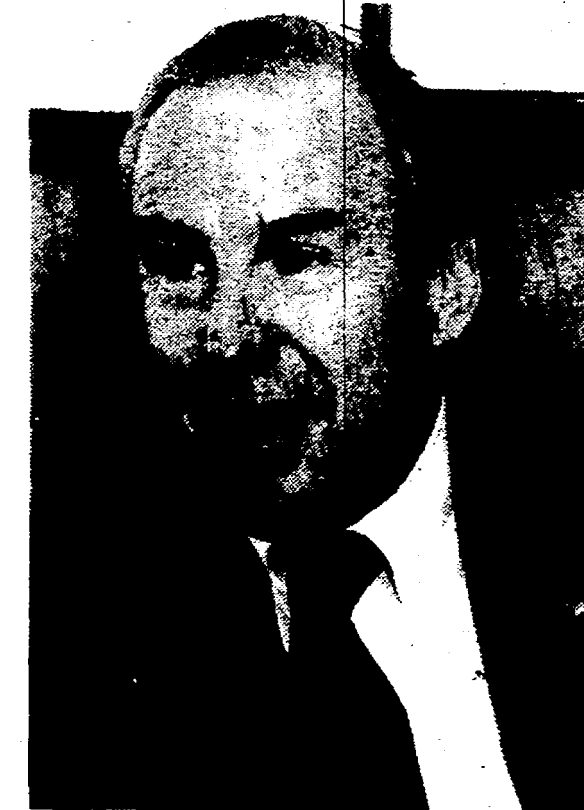

"My legs felt detached and sore for days. When you go up in zero gravity like that and don't use your legs for so many hours they get weak surprisingly fast," he said Friday afternoon at the Mayflower Hotel where he was staying before his speaking engagement.

After Gemini 7 Lovell commanded Gemini 12 and served as navigator for Apollo 8, the first manned spacecraft to the moon.

In April 1970 Lovell was commander of Apollo 13 on a mission that turned into what he calls a "successful failure."

Apollo 13 if you recall had a failure of its cryogenic oxygen systems in the service module forcing Lovell and crewmen John Swigert and Fred Haise to use human ingenuity to keep the flight from turning into disaster.

Middle school age and early teens have got to be some of the hardest years of anyone's life. You're not quite an adult, yet many times you're expected to act like one.

If you think it's hard on the kids at this age, take a look at their parents. This is the time when many parents start going grey or bald.

Talking with other parents going through some of the same problems helps. It's nice to know you're not the only one going crazy. One thing I don't understand is that some people say their kids never talk to them. My kids talk to me, their friends, my friends, the neighbors cat, or anyone who will listen.

My daughter has got to be one of the biggest motor mouths around. Words tumble out of her mouth all day, she even talks in her sleep. When she's not on the phone talking to her friends, she finds time to let me know what's happening in her world.

The blue eyed charmer in the family is my son, who is a little quieter than his older sister. He has to fight for equal talking time, but once he gets started there's no off switch.

I realize the kids don't tell me everything and as they get older there will be more gaps in our conversations. That's okay, I didn't tell my parents everything either.

I'm glad my kids feel free to communicate with me, but there are days when I would love to come home from work to some peace and quiet. "Okay, mom, we'll give you five minutes to relax." It's a joke watching the two of them trying not to talk for five whole minutes.

Once in awhile everyone needs to have some time to themselves. The bath tub is a great place to find peace, until someone camps outside the door and starts talking. I tried saying, "I'm sorry but mom drowned and went down the drain."

The voice casually answered, "well, when she climbs back out of the drain, would you ask her if she will drive us skating tomorrow night?"

Even though they have a way of driving me crazy, I love them both and most of the time wouldn't change them. I've been told we will live through this stage of their growing up and a few others yet to come, and magically 10 years from now we will all be friends and sane human beings again.

Rep. Roy Smith always has time for constituents

BY KEELY KALESKI
Lansing News Bureau

An always open door will be closed to constituents in the 52nd Legislative District on Dec. 31, 1982, when Rep. Roy Smith retires from the Michigan legislature.

"I was 99 percent successful in solving constituent problems," said Rep. Smith, Plymouth. "I try to call everyone who writes me. Sometimes it helps to talk about things."

Rep. Smith, a Republican, has maintained an open door policy, believing that no one should ever feel uncomfortable calling him. His primary areas of concern are education and taxes.

He began his first term on Jan. 1, 1967, with strong voter support from the 52nd District and a desire to try to restructure property taxes in Michigan and K-12 school financing.

"There was considerable verbiage at the time about how bad both were and I introduced legislation to correct the inequities in both," he said.

With the adoption of legislation which equalized Michigan property tax assessment, Rep. Smith said he was able to help bring about uniformity of assessing property in 1981.

"This was probably the major change to promote equity in our property tax structure since Michigan became a state in 1837," he said.

Property taxes are a hot item of debate now as they were when Rep. Smith was elected in 1967.

"Most people don't understand how our tax system works," he said. "Taxation is the foundation of our service structure in government. Our tax structure was developed through necessity. Amendments have been added in crisis situations through high emotional appeal with weakness written on every patch."

"During times of tight money most people advocate cuts for programs that affect everyone else," he said. "No one wants their program to be cut and this causes turmoil in the community."

Rep. Smith's personal philosophy of living a positive and productive life shapes his belief that education should be funded through the state.

"Education is not a local problem," he said. "In my opinion, we have a K-12 education structure which provides for over 600 different systems based primarily upon the ability of local districts to raise money. In some cases this is true where local officials are doing a good job and receiving solid citizen support with local money. In other cases conditions for equality in both education and taxation are not too good."

He said our present system of education does not place enough emphasis on preparing people to be productive citizens.

"Education should teach people how to do something in the field of their choice," he said. "Productive people don't go to jail."

"The cost of such a program should be shared on a uniform tax structure based upon the ability to earn," he said.

REP. ROY SMITH

Twelve years of experience serving on various committees and commissions at township, city, county and state levels of government have helped Smith understand the laws and their intended application.

"I made one promise when I was elected," he said, "and that was to do the best job I could. I've done that."

During his tenure in the House of Representatives he sponsored and authored legislation in numerous fields, including open meetings, education, taxation, educational finance and local government.

He served three consecutive terms from 1967 to 1972 and was defeated in 1972 by Democrat Gary Owen when districts were resuffed by reapportionment.

From 1972 to 1974 he served as city administrator for the city of Saline and was re-elected to the house in 1974, 1976, 1978 and 1980.

A former specification specialist at Ford Motor Company, Rep. Smith was the first elected public official in Ford Motor Co. history to receive a leave of absence, which has been extended each year and is still in effect.

Being a legislator has been a full-time job and Rep. Smith has taken only one vacation in the past 10 years.

Complaints from constituents arrive around the clock and even on Christmas Day. He is asked to speak at various meetings and events in the community and has had up to four appearances in one evening.

"I don't know what I will do after I retire," he said, "maybe some physical work instead of sitting at a desk. I believe in working."

Canton Rec. plans Thanksgiving party

Plymouth local wins Diplomate

Dr. Stephen Leininger, Plymouth, has been named a diplomate of the American Board of Veterinary Practitioners.

Dr. Leininger is the only private practitioner in Michigan to be named a diplomate to the board. Diplomate status is conferred as a result of successfully completing a two day certification exam.

Dr. Leininger and his wife, Dr. Mary Beth Leininger, own and operate the Plymouth Veterinary Hospital. The hospital is accredited by the Michigan Veterinary Medical Association (MVMA).

Dr. Leininger has been chairman of the continuing education committee of the Southeastern Michigan Veterinary Medical Association for the past four years and was recently named head of continuing education for the 100th annual meeting of the MVMA to be held at the Hyatt Regency Dearborn in November, 1982.

"It was probably good for NASA that something like Apollo 13 happened. We were getting complacent. The flights were becoming routine," said Lovell. "I think our problem in space gave a big boost to the world. Over 53 countries offered to assist in our recovery. It brought the world together."

The flight had to be recalled due to the malfunction and never made it to the moon.

Following his retirement in 1973 Lovell became president of Fisk Telephone Systems in Houston, Texas, his home for 18 years - he recently moved to Chicgao.

While still in NASA Lovell became President Lyndon Johnson's consultant for Physical Fitness and Sports Council. He has been involved in the program ever since.

The former test pilot now keeps fit playing racquetball, jogging, flying his own airplane and through his business trips that carry him across the country on a hectic schedule.

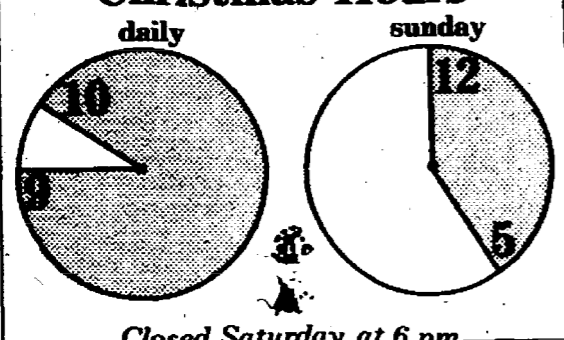

In terms of hours Lovell says he clocks as many hours on commerical flights yearly to compare to his total number of hours in space, 715 hours and five minutes, a long standing record until the Skylab flight. In terms of miles he said he logged seven to eight million in space.

And yet he said he only makes eight or 10 speaking engagements yearly. "I enjoy the different people you meet and going to different places. It is a unique opportunity to see the country. I feel an obligation to the taxpayers who spent their money so I could go to space," he said.

Lovell is also a part owner of the Houston Astros and an avid baseball fan.

As a child Lovell says he became fascinated with rockets after seeing and reading about the German V-2 rockets.

A touch of old Germany makes for quite a party

BY KEN VOYLES

For five fun-filled hours Saturday night there was a little touch of Germany in Plymouth as Plymouth's German-American Club hosted its 4th Annual Oktoberfest in November.

The main ballroom at the Cultural Center was turned into a small town beer tent somewhere in the heart of the German countryside with posters and signs covering the walls and the smell of bratwurst, knackwurst, saurkraut and other German delicacies filling the air.

Besides the main treats for the gourmet the club offered the smooth pilsner beer of Dortmund. It went by the keg-full as a sold-out crowd of 225 people enjoyed its luscious tastes. For the wine drinkers there were bottles and bottles of Liebframulich for sale.

A four-piece band called The Melodias kept the atmosphere alive with music the entire evening. Headed by Horst Buller, the band played everything from traditional German songs, to murambas, and the Doors. The Melodias version of the Doors classic "Light My Fire" sparked some of the wildest dancing of the night as did the traditional "Duck" dance.

There were authentic dancers from the Carpathia Club of Warren doing the schuhplatter, traditional Bavarian dance started in the ancient forests of middle Europe by Bavaria and Austrian woodchoppers. According to the troupe's leader, Adam Medel, the dance was started as a way for woodchoppers to release their excess energy after a day in the woods of the land.

Releasing energy was the name of the game all night. Most of the men and women on hand were of German descent, but there were also those just looking for fun and did they find it.

At one point I even felt like the tourist as I asked one costumed gentleman the name of the dancers. He replied in English that he didn't speak English and directed me to someone who did. Oh to be in the Black Forest in the fall, I thought.

At one point club founder Bob Fitzner explained to me the founding of the club while he cooked bratwurst in the kitchen. "We just wanted to bring together the German speaking people we knew. Over 95 per cent of the members of the club are from Germany," he said making me yet another sandwich from the hearty sausage.

More than a party, more like Germany, and more than I ever expected, the annually held Oktoberfest is recommended to all those who like a good time meeting friendly people and getting to know a country's traditions. And you don't have to be German to enjoy.

Among the others on hand Saturday who provided this reporter with information about the club and the fest, and those who helped set up photos, included the club's current president, Roger Feller, Maria Mulzer, Jerry and Frank Klaes, and Veronica.

Ein Prosit.

PCJFA grid teams give Sunday crowd a show

Before a full house Sunday afternoon the three teams of the two Plymouth-Canton Junior Football Association football clubs fought it out on the Central Middle School gridiron.

The Lions and Steelers, made up boys from Plymouth and Canton, and supported by local cheerleaders, split two of their games and ended in a tie in the third.

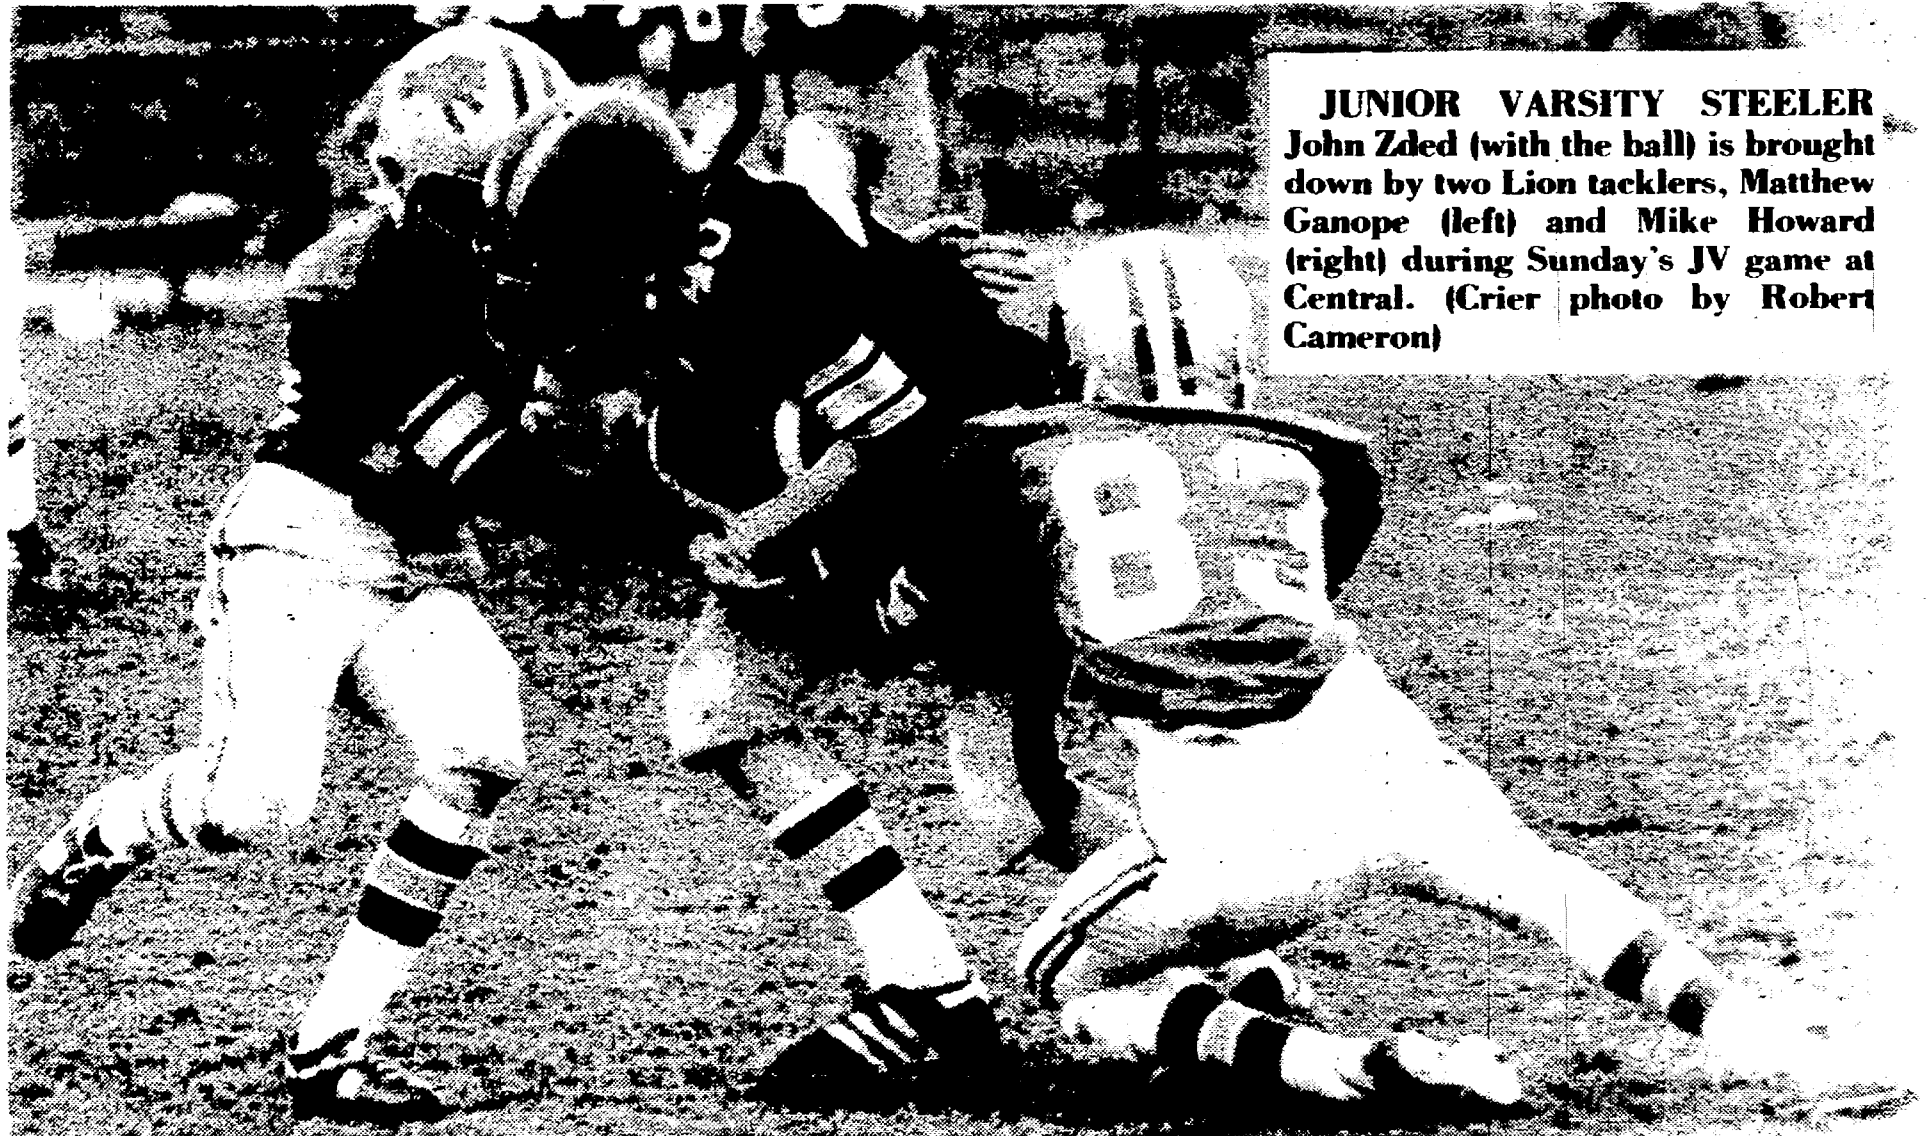

The two varsity teams fought to a 13-13 standstill, while the Steeler junior varsity defeated the Lions JV, 20-13.

The Lions freshmen came away on top in their game with the Steelers freshmen, 25-6.

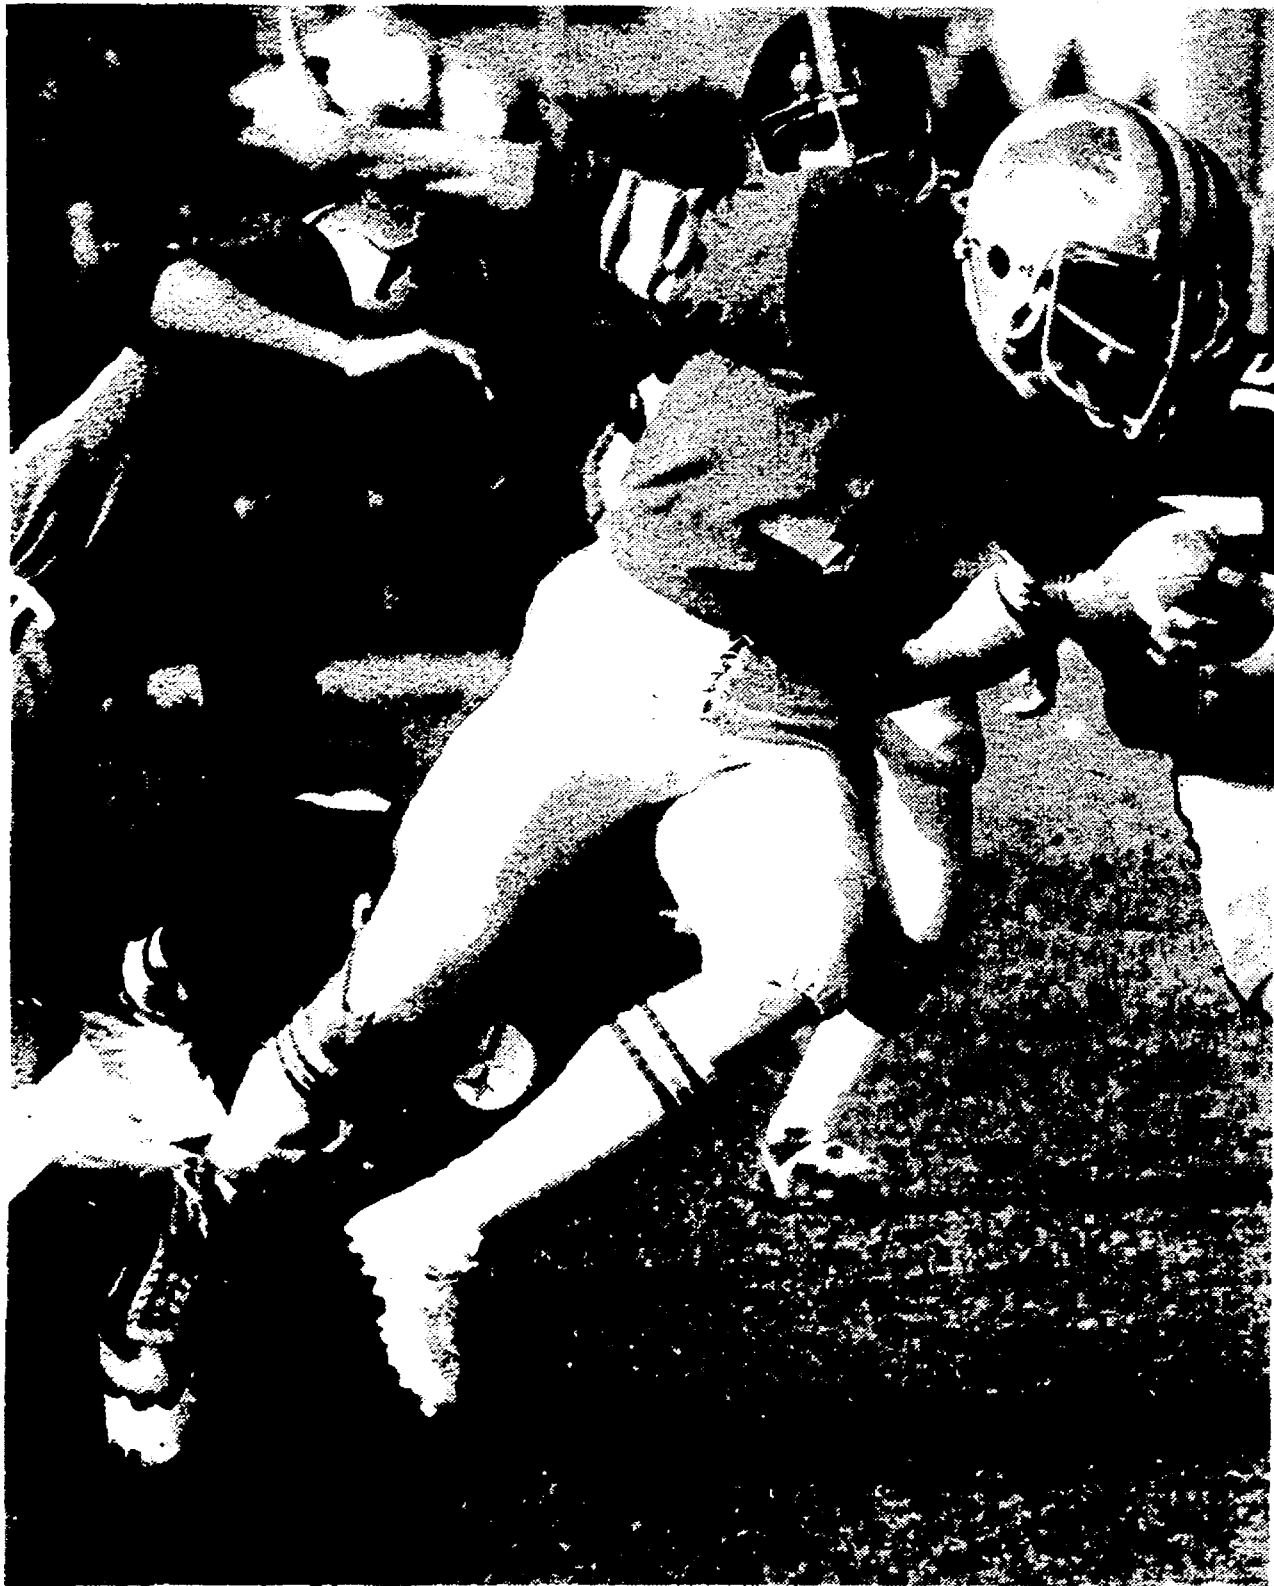

Meanwhile, Saturday night the senior Warriors fell to the Taylor Stallions, 20-12.

The Steelers and Warriors have one more game left.

The Steelers will host the London, Ont. Chiefs this Saturday at noon at Central Middle School. The Warriors are slated to play Southgate Saturday night at 7:30 p.m.

Salem, Canton basketball results from last night

Salem-Edsel Ford

Bring on Livonia Bentley.

Salem High's women's basketball team smothered Dearborn Edsel Ford last night, 50-29, in its final Suburban Eight match-up before the powerhouse Bulldogs come to town tomorrow night. The Rocks are 10-1 in the conference and 17-2 overall. Bentley, also with one loss in the league comes to Salem's gym tomorrow to decide the Sub 8 title. Varsity game time 7:30 p.m.

"We looked pretty tired tonight," said Salem coach Bob Blohm. "I think we are mentally ready for Bentley but I don't know if we are physically. We played a hard defensive game tonight but gave up too many points in the second quarter."

Jan MacKenzie and Eileen Moore opened Salem's offense in the first quarter against Edsel with a miss each. The pair made up for that however as MacKenzie hit Salem's first four points and Moore followed with three straight. Salem led 12-3 at 4:12, but slowed after four misses and ended the quarter ahead 16-5.

The Rocks scored 13 points in the second quarter, while Edsel tossed in 16 to close to 29-21 at the half.

Salem turned on the offensive spark in the third quarter scoring 18 points and holding the T-Birds to four points. MacKenzie got hot again in the quarter and scored 10 points.

The Rocks tallied just three points in the final quarter but by then Edsel had burned out. The T-Birds collected four points, as Blohm got a chance to use his bench freely.

Salem's junior varsity also beat Edsel 55-31.

Canton-Wayne

With two regular season games remaining, Canton High's women's basketball team has hit high gear. Last night, the Chiefs destroyed Wayne Memorial 78-36, at Wayne.

Canton and Wayne played to a standoff until the Chiefs began to press the Zebras. "The press just blew them out," said Canton coach Mike McCauley. "We won't be able to press against tougher competition, though." The Chiefs will face tougher competition next week, when they play Ann Arbor Pioneer in the district tournament.

Canton's half-court press kept Wayne in check in the first quarter. Robyn Hudgins and Sue Gerke provided the offensive spark, scoring six points apiece, as the Chiefs took a 15-9 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Chiefs continued to press in the second quarter, scoring 10 consecutive points, to take a 29-15 lead. Wayne fought back, scoring eight of the next 10 to cut Canton's lead to 10, 33-23, at the end of the half.

The Zebras continued to battle early in the third period, scoring the first four points to cut the Canton lead to six. The Chiefs came back, and outscored Wayne 24-4 in the rest of the quarter to gain a commanding 57-31 lead.

Canton outscored Wayne 21-5, in the final period to cap the victory.

The Chiefs, now 17-1, were led in scoring by Gerke, who finished the night with 20 points.

Canton's junior varsity also won, raising its record to 11-7 with a 44-27 win.

Canton plays its final home game today against Farmington. The Chiefs close out their season Tuesday when they face Livonia Churchill.

Season ends on low note for Canton football

DAVID CALLAHAN

The season ended the way it began for Canton High's football team, as the Chiefs finished a 2-7 season with a 17-6 loss to Belleville on Friday.

The Chiefs were lucky to have kept the game as close as it was. Belleville's Keith Gates was unstoppable by the Canton defense, rushing for 230 yards and one touchdown. The Canton offensive unit had its problems too, failing to score until the final moments of the game.

"Belleville has got a great team," said Canton coach Richard Barr. "We were glad we got six." He added that the Chiefs didn't have a comparable running game, saying "We just don't have a back like Gates."

Despite his team's poor performance this year, Barr is optimistic about the future. "Next year," he said, "We'll have the best team we've had in three years. We have a lot of kids (17) who will be returning to the team."

Gates got the first Belleville score, as he capped a long Belleville drive with an 11-yard scamper for the score. Belleville converted the extra point, took a 7-0 lead, and never looked back, outdistancing the Chiefs the rest of the way.

Belleville moved the ball effortlessly on its possession, and scored again to take a commanding 14-0 lead.

"We were really in a hole after they took it in on their first two possessions," said Barr. "We never quit though, and finally started to play good defense."

Belleville continued to move the ball against the Chiefs, but put no further points on the board in the first half.

Too much chlorine in the pool

DAVID CALLAHAN

There was one thing which was able to stop Canton High's Western Six League leading womens' swim team last week -- chlorine.

Thursday, the Chiefs were scheduled to swim Farmington Harrison at Harrison. Apparently, too much chlorine had been added to the Harrison pool the day before, causing choking chlorine gas to rise off of the pool.

"It was really tough to breathe," said Canton coach Hooker Wellman. "but I can't blame the Harrison people. It was just an accident."

It was the squad's only scheduled dual meet last week.

Wellman also said that while he was initially disappointed that his team would be unable to swim, he has had second thoughts. "The rest might have been good for us."

The Chiefs are still looking towards the Western Six League meet, at Livonia Churchill on Nov. 18-19. "We are going through a tapering off process now," said Wellman. "We're swimming shorter distances, and concentrating more on our turns and strokes."

Wellman feels that the league champion will be "The team that doesn't make mistakes. Whoever wants it, and can give the extra effort will win the meet."

Dual meet record for Canton is 5-2 overall.

The Harrison meet was slated to run yesterday at Harrison.

The two teams played to a standoff in the second half, as Belleville was unable to finish off the rugged Chiefs. Canton's defense was able to come up with several big plays to thwart the Tigers drives. Matt Santilli saved a touchdown when he intercepted a Belleville pass in the end-zone, and Jamie Chilcoff saved another score when he took down Gates inside the Canton 25-yard line after he had beaten the rest of the Chief defenders.

The Tigers did get a score out of Gates' run, as it set them up for a 24-yard field goal which made the score 17-0

Canton avoided the shutout in the closing minutes of the game with passes of 18 and 15 yards from Pat Murphy to Chilcoff. With the ball on the Belleville 13, Murphy found tight end Bob Wasczenski cutting across the field, and hit him for the lone Canton score.

Barr was disappointed with the Chiefs season, and said "We had a lot of games where it was close, but we would make some kind of mistake and end up on the short side of the score. We never did give up on ourselves, though. We'll be back."

Option works! Rock football gains winning season

BY KEN VOYLES

The option offense has brought Salem High's football squad its greatest glory, as well as made head coach Tom Moshimer a successful gridiron coach.

Despite rumors to the contrary, and pressure from armchair coaches, Moshimer has not given up on the option for a passing game as his main weapon. In fact, Friday night it was the option offense that brought the Rocks to a winning season, as they dumped Redford Union, 20-12, in non-league action.

Salem finishes the season with a 5-4 record. Moshimer said, "We ran the option well tonight. It takes time to get a team to work the option. We really came on in the last half of the season."

The Rocks scored one time in each of the first three quarters Friday, while the Panthers put points on the board in the first and third periods. Salem senior quarterback Jeff Hubert paced the offense running for 111 yards and scoring a pair of touchdowns. Senior halfback Darrel Bartkowiak picked up the other Rock TD.

Salem drew first blood on the third play from scrimmage of the game. The Rocks took the opening kickoff at their 30-yard line. The ball was pushed to the 37-yard mark on two rushes before Hubert kept the ball on an option to the right side of the field on third down. He slipped through the interior line untouched and raced up field for a 63-yard romp and touchdown.

The clock read 10:24. Mark Blaesser's kick was good and Salem was ahead 7-0.

RU came back on the ensuing kickoff and might have scored on the runback if it hadn't been for Blaesser's last moment tackle which brought the rusher down at the 46-yard line of RU.

RU went on to score 11 plays later. A faked extra point kick was unsuccessful when the pass was long. The clock read 5:44 left in the first quarter.

Salem stalled on its second drive as did RU. The Panthers then punted and the Rocks took possession at their own 27-yard mark. Effective running by Bartkowiak, Mickey Madsen, John Blanchard and Hubert pushed the football to RU's one-yard line at the start of the second quarter.

From the one Bartkowiak plowed in off tackle for the Rocks second touchdown. Blaesser's kick was good and the score was 14-6 with 11:50 remaining in the first half.

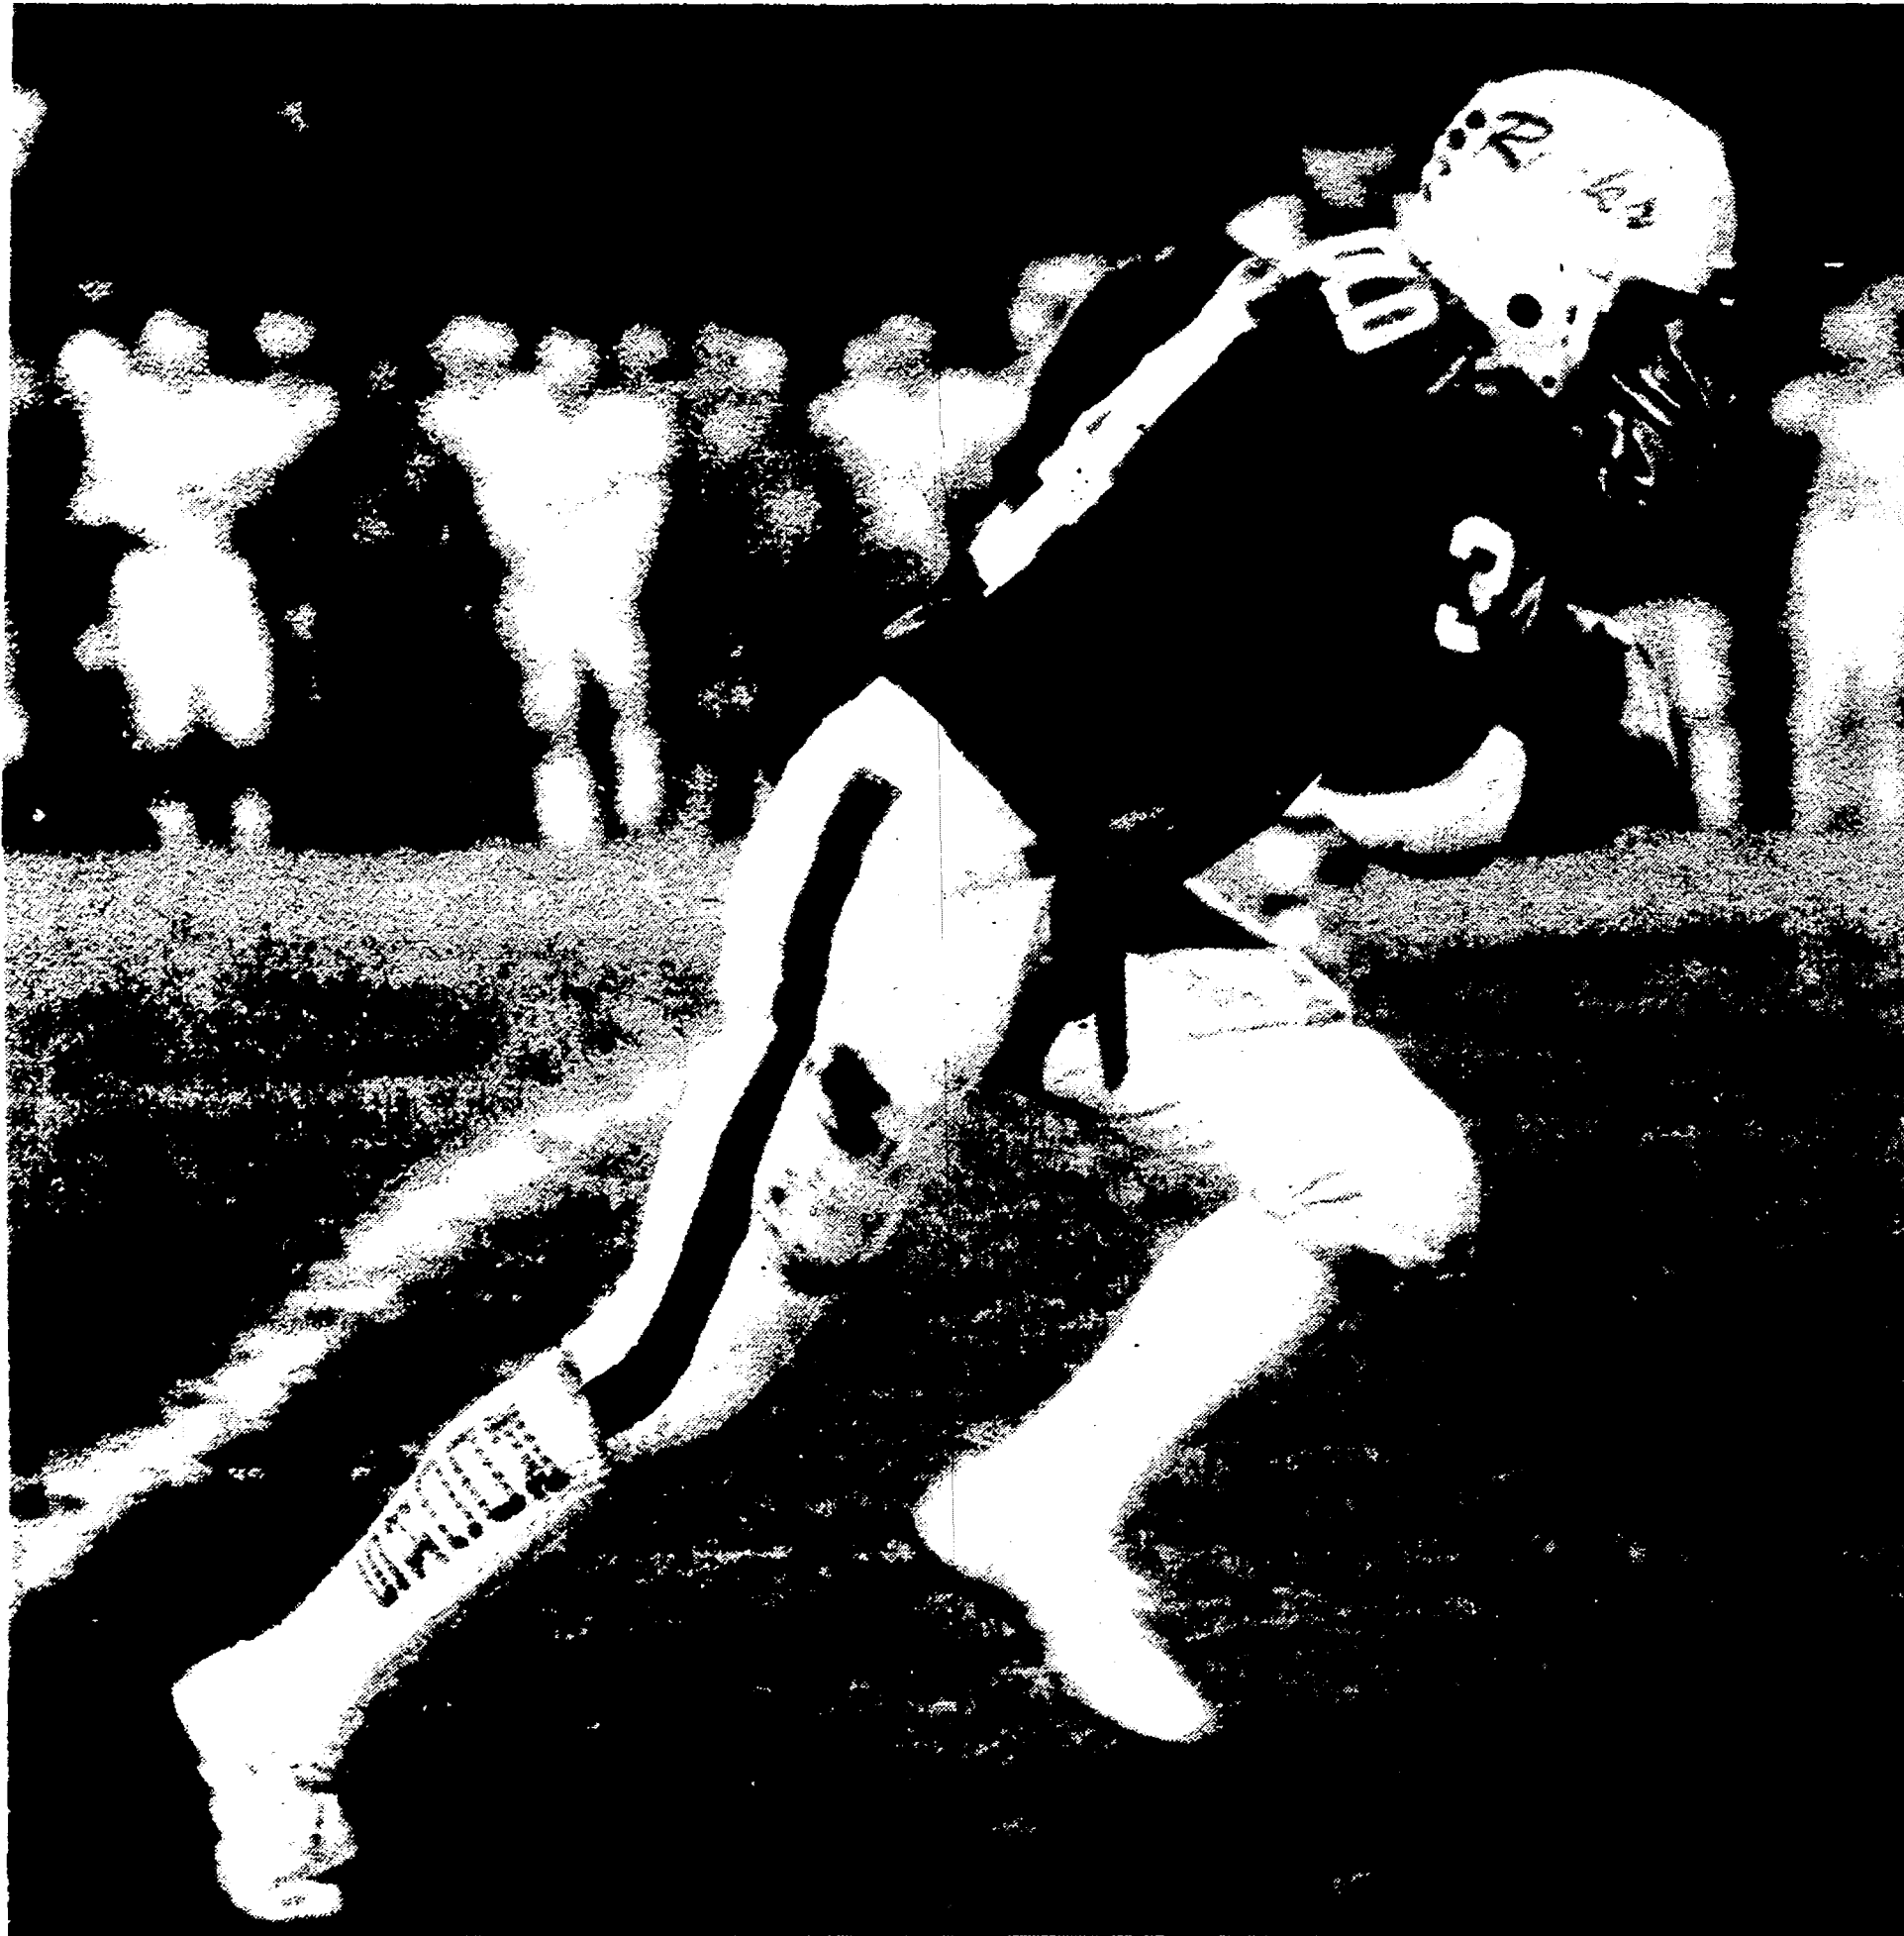

On RU's next possession Salem's Jeff Arnold picked off a pass at the RU 35-yard line and ran to the five. The Rocks, however, were backed up on a penalty and Hubert's third down pass was intercepted in the endzone.

RU then drove to Salem's five-yard line late in the second quarter but flags pushed the ball back and Salem got it back as the half ended.

RU scored its second touchdown of the night with 6:42 remaining in the third quarter after driving from midfield. The two-point conversion attempt to tie the game was unsuccessful and Salem stayed on top 14-12.

The Rocks took the ensuing kickoff. Arnold got the kick at his 10-yard line and ran to the Salem 33 before being stopped. From there the Rocks drove up field on seven plays to score.

Bartkowiak rushed the football to the 44-yard line before Hubert hit Dave Houle on a pass to the RU 27. Two more rushes by Bartkowiak put the ball at the

SALEM HALFBACK Jeff Arnold takes a kickoff during the Rocks final game of the season with Redford Union Friday night, and runs it back from his own seven-yard mark to the Salem 30-yard line. Arnold also had an interception during the game and made a successful punt return for Salem from the Rocks 10 to 33 yard mark. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Chief cagers win 50th in league

BY DAVID CALLAHAN

After stretching its Western Six League victory streak to 50, and with only one conference game remaining on their schedule, Canton High's womens' basketball team has one final question to answer - Can the Chiefs handle the tough post season competition after such an easy regular season?

Canton coach Mike McCauley thinks so.

After the Chiefs swept two league contests, beating Farmington Harrison 54-47 on Thursday, and defeating Walled Lake Western 62-27 last Tuesday, McCauley said "After 50 league wins, it is a little hard to get up for a league game. We only played about three minutes of good ball, and we still won."

McCauley feels that when the time comes, his team will be ready. "When we play a big game, I'm sure we'll be up for it."

The Chiefs stayed in charge of the Western Six, wrapping up the conference title against Harrison. Although the Chiefs played a lackadaisical first half, they exploded in the third quarter to wrap up the victory, outscoring the Hawks 23-10 to gain the upper hand.

Chief center, Robyn Hudgins, got the offense underway in the first quarter, hitting for 10 points. The Hawks Sue Ferguson, who led all scorers with 19 points, scored seven of them in the first period, to keep Harrison close 15-13.

Ferguson had five more points in the second period, and helped the Hawks take a 23-22 halftime lead, as Canton committed numerous turnovers to help them out.

After the big third quarter, it was all coast for the Chiefs, who were outscored 13-9 in the final period. Lori Ninker kept it close, scoring six points for Harrison in the final period.

Leading scorer for the Chiefs was Hudgins with 14 points. Pearly Cunningham added 13, and Colleen Crissey chipped in nine.

Last Tuesday, Canton had another Western Six cakewalk, beating Walled Lake Western for the second time this year. Canton lead 28-17 at the half, but the Chiefs really got it together in the second half, outscoring the Mustangs 34-10 to capture the win. Reggie Ruggiero had 20 points to pace the Canton attack, while Cunningham added 12 points.

Canton has one remaining league game, against the Chargers of Livonia Churchill at home tomorrow. The Chiefs wraps up their regular season next Wednesday, when they travel to Farmington for a non-league contest. Varsity game time for both contests is 7:30 p.m.

SENIOR SALEM CAGER Carol Ross brings the ball up the court during a Suburban Eight league game with Allen Park two weeks ago. The Rocks won the game and continue their dominance over Sub 8 teams. Tomorrow night Salem goes after the league title with a rematch against powerhouse Livonia Bentley at home. Varsity game starts at 7:30 p.m. (Crier photo by Rick Smith)

Rock cagers best B'ville, face Bentley tomorrow

Salem High's women's basketball squad geared up for its rematch with Livonia Bentley - the conference crown at stake - by knocking off Belleville last Tuesday, 52-30.

The Rocks, 9-1 in the Suburban Eight League with the win, are 15-2 overall. They will face the Bulldogs at home tomorrow night to decide the league title. Varsity game starts at 7:30 p.m. Salem edged powerhouse Bentley the last time the two teams faced each other.

Against Belleville senior Eileen Moore paced the offense with 14 points and six assists. Senior Jan MacKenzie had 13 points and junior Jacque Merrifield had eight. Merrifield also had three assists, while senior Carol Ross had five assists.

The Rocks gained a 12-8 lead at the end of the first quarter, but according to coach Bob Blohm, his team could have been up by six or eight more points. "We got a lot of great scoring opportunities in the first quarter that we didn't capitalize on," he said.

Salem's defense turned off the Tiger offense in the second quarter allowing just two points. The Rocks, meanwhile, tossed in 13 to lead 25-10 at the half.

"I thought this was a good effort for us. Belleville is always tough at their home. They weren't as good this time around as when we first faced them," said Blohm. "We had a good defensive effort."

The Rocks scored 15 points in the third quarter and 12 more in the final period, while Belleville scored 11 points and nine points.

As for the Bentley game Blohm said, "I know it's gonna be tough. I know how good they are. I don't think they'll let us jump out in front like the last game."

"We need to keep from making too many turnovers and our ball handling and shot selection must be good if we want to beat them again," Blohm continued. Blohm added that his major concern for that game is how many shots his team can get off the glass and how few Bentley can get off the glass, and off the fast break.

"I don't think we played over our ability when we beat them before," said Blohm.

After Thursday's Bentley game, the Rocks will end their regular season with a home stand against non-league foe Redford Union this Tuesday.

Bing was second in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 1:08.3, while Ettinger was third clocking 1:20.1.

Eudy was second in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:06, while Darlington placed third, 1:12.2.

"This was a really good meet for us," said Salem coach Chuck Olson.

The league meet will start on Wednesday (Nov. 18) with swimming preliminaries at 2:30 p.m. and diving preliminaries one hour after the completion of the swimming events.

On Friday (Nov. 20), finals for both swimming and diving will be conducted. Medals will be given for the top three places in each event and ribbons for the next three finalists.

Chargers win playoffs

The Local Playoffs for the Plymouth boys teams of the Western Suburban Soccer League's Under 10 Divisions were held over the weekend and the Chargers came away with the title from among 12 Plymouth teams.

The Chargers, coached by Joe Cosenza and Frank Caruy, defeated the Kicks 2-0 for the championship. Andrew Cosenza and Eric Mayer accounted for the Charger goals in the finals.

16-yard mark. Hubert then kept the ball on another option this time to the left side and went in unscathed for the touchdown. Blaesser's kick was blocked and Salem led 20-12.

The Rocks attempted a 34-yard field goal in the early minutes of the fourth quarter after stalling at the RU 20, but Blaesser' kick was wide.

RU threatened two more times in the final quarter after the Rocks fumbled the football on a pair of option pitches deep in their own territory. After the first fumble Salem's defense toughened and stopped RU on four plays. Houle intercepted a Panther pass to stop RU after the second fumble.

"We were not that intense at the start but we played steady football and the little things went our way. We had a slight letdown after that tough loss to Fordson in overtime last week," said Mshimer. "We blocked well, executed well and moved the ball."

November 11, 1981

TO THE CITIZENS OF PLYMOUTH-CANTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS:

The statistical report concerning the financial condition of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools is submitted in accordance with Section 216, Act 269, Public Acts 1965 as amended and is compiled from data submitted to the Michigan Department of Education and from the Annual Audit conducted by the firm of Plante & Moran, Certified Public Accountants.

The report substantiates that Plymouth-Canton Community Schools is continuing to operate on a sound financial basis. The twin challenges of inflation and recession continue to affect our community. Even though the cost of doing business, purchasing supplies or buying food for school lunches continues to rise, we were able to accomplish our task with less millage than the prior school year. In the immediate future declining state support of local governments will compound our fiscal problems. Providing a sound educational program while living within our financial resources continues to be a major goal of the district.

The Board of Education and Administration are appreciative of the efforts of citizens and staff for their assistance and attendance at the various committees the Board of Education has established. Be assured the Board of Education will join the staff and citizens in continuous evaluation to determine the extent to which adopted goals and programs are producing the desired educational result and make necessary changes as warranted.

It is our desire to continue to bring the youth of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools the finest education possible within the framework of existing revenues. Your participation in school activities is welcome, encouraged and solicited.

The Board of Education meets on the second and fourth Mondays of each month and a spot on the agenda has been set aside for suggestions from citizens. We encourage you to communicate with the Board of Education in this manner.

Dr. John M. Hoben
Superintendent of School
