Any exit will do in emergency

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP FIREFIGHTER Mark Wendel is helped from a second story window at 45510 W. Ann Arbor Trail Friday morning after he and another firefighter had to make a quick retreat from inside the home due to intense heat and the danger of the floor collapsing. Township units responded to the fire at 11:23 a.m. Friday. The building, which had been unoccupied for quite some time, was burning at least two hours prior to the department's arrival, speculated Fire Chief Larry Groth. The investigation has not revealed a cause yet, he added, but damage is estimated at $75,000. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Plymouth man nabbed after police scuffle

A Plymouth man was arrested early Sunday morning for disorderly conduct and assaulting a Plymouth Police officer, according to a department report.

Isaac Lee, of 822 N. Mill, in Plymouth, was arrested on the steps of the Plymouth Church of God, 585 N. Mill following a scuffle with officers Wayne Carroll and Richard Webster.

The officers had been flagged down by an unidentified resident while driving on Main Street near Penniman Avenue. The citizen said a man was standing on the steps of the church clad only in his underwear and talking to himself.

Upon arrival at the church the officers found the subject on the steps of the church screaming "God will save me."

Another resident in the parking lot, Brian Cross of 509 Fairbrook, witnessed as the officers advised Lee to come down from the steps. The man refused and sought help from Cross, who refused, said police.

The officers then mounted the steps to make an arrest, but Lee struck out at Webster with his left hand, said police, and a struggle ensued.

During the struggle Lee attempted to grab Carroll's service revolver, said the report, but failed. He was finally subdued and transported to the police station where he went berserk again, said police, and had to be subdued a second time.

Schools' budget battle starting

BY DAN BODENE

If projections for next year hold true, it's going to be another tough season for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

According to forecasters, enrollment will drop, revenues will drop and state and federal aid will drop while costs rise.

And although only 35 per cent of community residents have kids in classrooms, everyone shares in the financial plight of the district - school taxes account for the lion's share of all local millage.

At a workshop last Friday and Saturday, members of the Board of Education gathered information in anticipation of another round of budget cuts, hearing presentations on 21 areas for possible reduction.

Raymond Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business, led off with an overview of the district's projected financial picture. Next year, he said, costs are expected to exceed revenues by approximately $1.7 million. Superintendent John Hoben added, however, that government emphasis in aid distribution "seems to favor more high-millage districts," and that the deficit could possibly drop to $1.2 million.

Hoedel also detailed shrinking state aid, noting that during the 1979-1980 school year aid was distributed at $430 per student, while next year projections stand at approximately $50 per student.

On the financially positive side, Hoedel said, there is no projected rollback in millage revenues, block grant aid is up, and state equalized valuation funds have increased.

School board members then began hearing presentations on areas for possible cutback, ranging from administrative support to WSDP radio. Five levels of funding for each were suggested, including "maintenance" (retention of present program levels) and four grades of cutback.

First on line was the custodial unit. Dan Minghine, director of buildings and grounds, gave a description of maintenance staffing and said that at cutback levels three and four everyone in the department would be affected. Custodians would be shared between buildings, he said, and it would be recommended that an afternoon supervisor be hired to offset 15 to 21 layoffs.

Cutbacks in the custodial department ranged from first level reduction of $128,000 to a fourth level reduction of $335,000.

Major maintenance projects were discussed next. Hoedel said boilers have become a problem, particularly at Starkweather Elementary where replacement costs could run from $60,000 to $65,000. In the cutback proposals, funding was calculated for asphalt, boiler, roof and equipment repair or replacement.

Cutbacks ranged from first level reduction of $116,500 to fourth level at $266,500.

School board members next heard a discussion of work orders, which are submitted from each building for maintenance that cannot be accomplished in-house. According to Minghine, with more work order control some on-going maintenance such as paint and door repair would be curtailed, as well as additions such as more shelving and electrical work.

Cutbacks ranged from first level reduction of $85,000 to fourth level of $185,000.

Transportation services were then scrutinized. Hoedel explained that an increase of more than $300,000 to maintain present service levels would be needed because of bus replacement and increases in gas, oil and parts prices.

Transportation director Dale Goby said although buses will be made to last up to 10 years instead of the usual seven years, some must still be replaced each year to avoid even more costly repairs in the future.

First, second and third level cutbacks would reduce special education monitors, routing expenditures and bus replacement funds, with reductions from $134,980 to $238,679.

Fourth level cutbacks would require board policy change, Goby explained. Busing for K-12 students living less than one and a half miles from school would be completely eliminated, along with the high school 4:30 p.m. shuttle and temporary safety busing. "Some say I'm a master of understatement," Goby said. "So believe me when I say one might anticipate serious citizen reaction to this plan."

NEXT WEEK: Administration support, certified staffing, extended school year and more will be discussed.

A hot time in the old ice house

AT ONE TIME AN ICE HOUSE, the building, above, at 309 N. Main in Plymouth, was the scene of a fire Thursday night. According to the Plymouth Fire Department, the blaze started when fuel oil from a malfunctioning furnace ignited and spread through the interior of the building. Here, fire units use the aerial truck to douse the fire. When units arrived smoke was pouring from the inside, and there was concern that Granata Furniture next door would be engulfed. As the units deployed the furnace exploded. Much of the smoke was created by burning sawdust in the ceiling and burning insulation in the walls. Fourteen firefighters fought over two hours to contain the blaze. The interior of the building, used by Plymouth Cab Company, was gutted, according to Capt. Tom Lenaghan. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

City to get tough with property owners on snow removal

The City of Plymouth is going to get tough with those homeowners and businesses who have not cleared their sidewalks of the accumulation of snow. "The DPW is having a rash of telephone calls regarding sidewalks which have not been cleared of ice and snow," Ken Vogras, DPW director, said. He said that the City of Plymouth ordinance will be enforced and that the ordinance provides that if property owners do not do the cleaning job, city work crews will clear the sidewalks with the charges billed to the property owner and those billed who do not pay will have the charges placed on the tax rolls as a lien on the property. Those charges for having the city doing the shoveling do not come cheap. Vogras said the city will charge $40 an hour with a minimum charge of one hour for the job.

Senior citizen aide resigns city post to move to Texas

Traci Johnson has resigned as the City of Plymouth's Senior Citizens Coordinator. She will not be immediately replaced, however, according to officials in the Parks and Recreation Department. Johnson, 24, resigned two weeks ago so that she could follow her husband Dave to San Antonio, Texas, where he recently obtained a teaching position.

According to Paul Sincock, Recreation Director Chuck Skene's assistant, Johnson's position will not be filled for quite some time. "It's a matter of budget, really," he said. "We will use parttime personnel for the present time."

Johnson, a native of Lansing, spent the past two and a half years coordinating the city's various seniors programs through the parks and recreation. She said, "It has been great working for the city. Chuck (Skene) gave me the opportunity to learn the recreation as well as work with the senior citizens."

"This came up quite suddenly," she added. Her husband is a swim coach as well as teacher. She said he noticed a teaching position in a coaches magazine and applied. He has been in Texas two weeks.

Johnson said she will look for a job, "probably in recreation," when she arrives.

Sheriff's deputies back on patrol in Plymouth Twp.

Wayne County Sheriff's Deputies yesterday started secondary road patrol in all of the county's townships, including Plymouth Township.

According to Sgt. Graham McNamee, afternoon desk officer for secondary roads, 15 deputies will be working secondary roads throughout the county.

Original story called 'misleading'

'Missing Carbine Caper' explained

BY KEN VOYLES and W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Copyright 1982 The Plymouth Canton Community Crier, Inc.

A semi-automatic M-1 carbine, missing from the Plymouth Police Dept. arsenal, has led to procedural changes in the way weapons will be handled by the department.

The carbine, originally speculated to have turned up missing during the Jan. 4 incident where a gunman fired at City Hall, has been missing much longer, even as long as six months, police say. A police report filed Jan. 6 by Lt. Robert Commire says the weapon was missing prior to Dec. 27, 1981. After missing that December date, on the report, newspaper reporters discussed the missing weapon with Plymouth Police Chief Carl Berry, and speculated its disappearance was linked to the shootout. Stories in the newspaper erroneously tied the gun's disappearance with the sniping at City Hall.

"I probably misled you," Berry said last week. "It was not intentional."

In response to the controversy over the missing gun, Berry has instituted several changes in the department's arsenal policies.

Where in the past all city policemen had access to all the weapons - including automatic rifles - they now have access only to a small number of specific guns they might require in addition to their standard sidearm issue. "Accessibility has been somewhat limited now," Berry said.

Over the weekend, Berry inventoried the department's weapons in the arsenal, as well as guns held in the property room for evidence or for safekeeping. "All the weapons are accounted for," the chief said.

He said that while inventory procedures had been "hit and miss" in the past, the new system with limited access to the arsenal should mean tighter control.

In the past other city employees also had access to the arsenal, due to its location within the police station. That has been rectified under the new controls, Berry said.

"The weapon is the unimportant part of this right now," said Berry. "What is important is who took it and why. It isn't a valuable piece of property, you can purchase the same gun over the counter."

The missing gun report sets its value at $200 but officials estimated the gun would only be worth about $40 if sold. A replacement carbine would cost the city about $60.

Final approval due on shared police pact

City of Plymouth Commissioners were expected to pass a resolution last night authorizing the mayor and city clerk to sign an agreement worked out for joint police service with Plymouth Township.

The terms and conditions of the contract were spelled out at a Feb. 2 special meeting of the Township Board of Trustees, and have since been drafted into contract form by city and township attorneys.

Cost to the township will be $395,000 for 1982-83, said City Manager Henry Cramer Jr. Other than an increase in cost, terms in the contract will remain almost the same as the original contract signed in February 1981.

Said Graper, "We must strive during the next year to meet those goals established by the Commission and Township Board of Trustees."

Among those goals, as outlined at the Feb. 2 meeting between the city and the township, are the hiring of part time patrol officers, expanding the road patrol itself, forming an auxiliary force, improving police visibility, and consideration of a special police millage.

Sign code gets Canton hearing

BY DICK BROWN

Canton Township Trustees heard another big debate on the proposed changes in the township's stiff sign ordinance Tuesday night. This one, as was the one before the planning commission three weeks ago, was played to a full house composed mostly of township business representatives intent on seeing the passage of the proposed changes which have already received the approval of the Canton Township Planning Commission and the Wayne County Planning Commission.

There was some major opposition to the proposals which would relax the township code to allow such things as billboards, tower signs and portable signs. Most of the opposition came from representatives of the Plymouth-Canton-Northville-Novi chapter of the League of Women Voters.

Final decision on the sign code changes is expected to be made by the township board at the Feb. 23 regular meeting.

A steady parade of business people took to the microphone to urge relaxing of the code. Bob Card, owner of McDonald's Restaurant on Michigan Ave., said, "We can not long survive unless we can attract customers with adequate signing." He gave the results of his own poll of customers which indicated that many people, particularly those traveling I-275, don't realize that his business is located on Michigan Ave. at an I-275 exit.

Other people said that the major problem in Canton is that new business is not being attracted and that lack of adequate signing poses a problem for Canton people looking for a particular business and also poses a traffic hazard to those trying to find a particular business or service.

There were comments from apartment development owners and managers who reported that it was hard to attract new tenants with Canton's stiff sign code.

Again and again the theme was repeated that Canton business was suffering because of lack of adequate signs, both from those driving through the township on I-275, Ford Road and Michigan Avenue, and those who live in the township.

In a prepared statement, the League of Women Voters took the stand that "larger signs do not necessarily equate with an improved business atmosphere. Visual clutter can detract from overall commercial appeal and thereby lessen consumer patronage of area business."

The LWV also took strong exception in its statement that the incentives in the current ordinance for utilizing natural materials is being eliminated. "It is our opinion that those businesses that have utilized natural material signs have contributed to Canton's commercial image in an aesthetically positive manner while enhancing their individual properties."

The LWV statement went on to urge a comprehensive plan in the interest of helping Canton business which would include "site plan approval (for new business) which would require a market analysis, a system to encourage pedestrian traffic, a traffic plan aimed at reducing Ford Road congestion and periodic township-wide special events."

After the LWV statement was read, Canton Township Farmer and Farm Market owner, responded with the statement, "I don't know how many of those women have businesses or whose husbands have businesses in Canton, but I know their group takes in Northville, Plymouth and Novi, who've all got signs. Maybe they'd like to see that Canton doesn't get its share of the pie."

Another strong case for the sign code changes was made by John Schwartz, president of the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

He disagreed with the LWV position that the signs would be "clutter."

"They are not clutter. They will be in good taste and something everyone can live with—an integral part of the business community."

Schwartz went on to point out the strong support that Canton businesses had given to such projects as the township library, the Canton Country Fest and parade, support for projects for local organizations in offering discounts and donations and cash contributions to local causes.

"Now is the chance for the community to help business. All we want is an equal base to compete with other communities—a chance to survive," Schwartz said.

Plymouth Township fire rating improves

Plymouth Township, joining the City of Plymouth and Canton, has been rated Class 6 following a fire insurance rating survey recently conducted by Insurance Services Office (ISO).

The best rating is Class 1 and the worst is Class 10. The township's old ratings had been both Class 8 and 9, according to Township Fire Chief Larry Groth. The two different ratings came about because of differences in the eastern and western sections of the township, he added.

The new rating will result in a decrease in the fire insurance rates for many insured commercial properties within the

2 churches planning for union service on Ash Wednesday

People's Church and Faith Community Church are making plans for their second joint Ash Wednesday worship service to be held at Faith Community Church, 46001 Warren, Canton, on February 24.

The services will be at 7 p.m. It will be a special celebration, reflection and dedication service for the Plymouth-Canton Community.

The service will be led by Pastors Larry Christianson and Harvey Heneveld.

A nursery will be provided the night of the service.

township, reads a letter to Groth from ISO's Harry Westhaus. It will affect typical commercial properties depending on type of building construction, the hazard of occupancy and other rating factors.

The change, however, does not affect rates for sprinklered properties, for residential homes insured under Homeowner-type policies and for some other special scheduled rated properties.

The overall effect is usually about minus 7.6 per cent for wood frame buildings, minus 16 per cent for masonry buildings and minus 5.6 per cent for resistive buildings.

The effect on residential property covered by dwelling-type policies is usually minus 15.1 per cent.

The ratings apply only for insurance companies using ISO rates, said Westhaus.

According to Groth the year and a half study accounted for such things as water pressure checks at township hydrants, checks of sprinkler systems in various commercial and residential buildings, as well as checking the department's equipment and manpower.

"ISO had no problems with our manpower situation. In fact they complimented us on being so well staffed and well equipped," Groth said.

Westhaus said, "The survey was not conducted for property loss prevention or life safety purposes and no life safety or property loss prevention recommendations are made."

Reflections on way to a funeral

Death is complete independence

I made a sad trip back to my family roots this past weekend to mourn the passing of my Grandfather Voyles and came away with a better perspective on independence, in the process.

The Voyles (which translates to "Old Man") family is steeped in American history. Four brothers arrived in this country from Wales, where the family had migrated from France in the 1500s to escape persecution as Huguenots.

The brothers soon went their separate ways after arriving in the Carolinas. When the War of Independence broke out the brothers took up arms. It is rumored that they fought on both sides of the battlefield, as Tories and as Patriots.

After the war my branch of the family headed west - two of the other brothers did so also and the fourth disappeared - to the Ohio River basin where it put down its roots.

Salem, Indiana, is the heart of the Voyles family on my branch of the tree. About 20 miles north of Kentucky Salem was a focal point for Voyles going off to fight in the Civil War. Some went south for good and fought with the rebels, others stayed and fought for the north.

My grandfather, like his father, was born and raised on the family farm near Salem. When still a youth he left his hometown for Detroit where he spent 35 years with the fire department. When he left the department he returned to the family farm with his Detroit wife.

After retiring from farming they bought a home in Salem. My grandmother died nine years ago and my grandfather had been alone after that.

He always reminded me of a gentleman farmer of the south - the kind without slaves - and his death on Thursday came as a shock. He was 84 years old.

The drive down to Salem takes almost eight hours at a good clip. Most of the time the road is little comfort to the thoughts swirling inside my head. I drift through a wash of blue seas (blues seas).

Penniman torch job still remains unsolved

Two years ago last night, an arsonist started one of the community's worst fires in recent history - the Penniman Avenue Shops blaze.

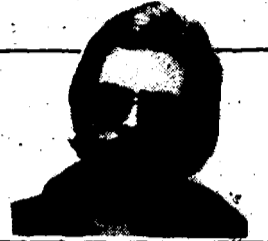

To date, no one has been charged with the crime despite the considerable efforts of local, state and federal law enforcement agencies. As recently as a year ago, some officials were claiming a solution to the case was forthcoming.

Obviously, now, that is unlikely.

The scar on the downtown landscape and economy left by the blaze is nothing compared to the scars left on all those store and building owners and their employes. It will a long time before those scars heal.

Unfortunately, despite the subsequent creation of a regional anti-arson squad, this type of crime is hard to pin down. No matter how difficult it may be, let's hope police and fire investigators haven't given up the pursuit of justice in this case.

Basically by Ken Voyles

from my grandfather to my own search for independence to my family's history.

I look on death as the ultimate independence. It must be awe inspiring to realize that the moments no longer count, that the movements no longer matter and that the matter is all but erased.

And yet that kind of independence is not much help for us on this earth. Independence is something you fight for, not something given to you by the reaper, and here truth may be the key to independence but learning to cope with yourself is the lock in which the key turns.

My grandfather could cope with anything, even loneliness, until the last years of his life. As far as I was concerned he fought for his independence. He may not have learned truth (who really does?) but he lived and loved and knew himself well enough to make the kind of decisions tough for all of us.

Rockettes earn praise

EDITOR:

I would like to take this opportunity to bring to the attention of the community the fine work the Salem Rockettes are doing.

I was fortunate to be asked to sit in on practice time for their annual Rockette Show. I expected to be confronted with 19 disorganized, non-attentive people. Instead I was impressed with a group of young women who were working without adult supervision and as a group handled themselves in an extremely professional manner.

There were no raised voices, disagreements or inattentiveness on their parts with all directions coming from one of their peers. The attention they give to their routines is remarkable . . . details down to which way a hand is held or an elbow turned.

Again, I must say I was tremendously impressed with the 19 girls and I would like to acknowledge the fine work they do. I am a very proud parent.

Public rudeness hits families, too

EDITOR:

Many thanks, Dick Brown, on behalf of the families of the elected officials for your editorial of Feb. 10.

Fortunately, there are only a few rude and abusive folks in our community.

As a school administrator, I must say we meet the children in our schools, daily. After all, the apple doesn't fall very far from the tree.

Plymouth seniors like program coverage

EDITOR:

Please accept this letter as our "thank you" for the fabulous piece of publicity that you were so kind to give our organization in your Feb. 3 issue of The Crier.

I just had to sit down and scribble this letter before going to church as I want you to know how much I appreciate all the kindness.

We can never give you people enough credit for what you do for the public at large. So much of it goes by unnoticed, but then that seems to go along with something you cannot control-human behavior.

Thanks once more for you and your newspaper. May God continue to bless you and your family of workers most richly in the days ahead.

Township fire issue still smolders

EDITOR:

This letter is in response to Mr. Breen's press release concerning the vacancy in the fire department, the Act 604 suit and our wages and benefits.

To clarify the situation:

This situation causes one shift to be reduced to four full-time members or two at each station. When one of these men is off (due to vacation, illness or bereavement leave) he is not replaced. This situation reduces the manning at Station 2 (on Wilcox) to one man. This occurs 24 times a year for vacations alone (six days per year per member).

When one man is on duty at Station 2:

1. The ambulance at that station does not respond so residents in that area must wait for an ambulance from Station 1 (a delay of three to five minutes).

2. The fire engine at that station responds to house fires with one man who cannot enter a burning building alone to conduct rescue or extinguishment operations.

3. The $150,000 aerial truck stationed at Station 2 does not initially respond to industrial and commercial alarms (notably the Plymouth Hilton) anywhere in the township.

We believe any responsible person can see that this situation does jeopardize the safety of residents.

Mr. Breen contends the facts do not support our contention of jeopardized safety. We believe they do.

For example, a Lakepointe man was recently resuscitated by two of our members responding from Station 2; as he was in cardiac arrest upon their arrival, it is almost certain he would not have survived the delay caused by a Station 1 response.

We have responded from Station 1 to cardiac arrests in Station 2's area knowing full well we will arrive too late. I have worked alone at Station 2 and had a lobby full of people screaming at me because I couldn't respond to a serious auto accident around the corner.

These are facts which support our position. Perhaps Mr. Breen is not aware of them.

We know the fulltime firefighters are supplemented by paid volunteers and off-duty fulltime firefighters. We are not asking the township to staff the fire department to ideal levels (three men on an ambulance, four on each engine) or to build a station within a mile of any location in the township. We are simply asking Mr. Breen to keep his promise he made (or at least implied) during the fire millage campaign last summer (to maintain 15 fulltime Fire Department members).

Mr. Breen contends our interest in this matter is self-serving. When this vacancy is filled, each of our members will suffer a reduction in overtime income. This is true regardless of any manning agreement reached in negotiations—hardly self-serving.

Mr. Breen issued a number of figures on sick and vacation leave taken by our members, claiming they speak for themselves in refuting our position. We believe Mr. Breen misses our point. Our point is the regular staffing of only four men on a shift creates a situation where only one absence causes the undesired three-man staffing level.

Regarding the Act 604 suit, the courts will decide the matter.

Regarding our salaries and benefits which Mr. Breen chose to publish for some reason, these are matters being discussed in our current contract negotiations which we have agreed not to conduct in any forum other than at the bargaining table.

We have now spoken the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth on these matters. If the residents of Plymouth Township come forward in support of filling the fire department vacancy, it will be filled; if they don't, they'll save the $1.60 per year per resident the firefighter would cost and receive the accordingly reduced service.

That's the way it is.

Thanks for help

EDITOR:

On behalf of the Salvation Army, its Community Advisory Board and those who have benefited from its services, I wish to thank the many contributors and volunteers to our 1981 Christmas project.

In total, 2,480 individuals received Christmas gifts. This and the year around caring service to local families is only possible because of the generous gifts of time and resources. Thank you to all who were a part of this work.

Keep Geer School open

EDITOR:

Why is it that today, when something unique and good happens, a force materializes to level it back to mediocrity?

My children had the good fortune of attending Geer School from 1975-1979. During that time, it was a yearly battle to keep the school open. It was worth the effort.

Many people could not see what we found appealing about a tiny, old two-room school without a gym, library or cafeteria. But we found many advantages. One was an outstanding teacher, Rita McClumpha. Here is a teacher with the ability to make learning fun and growing up interesting.

By having several grades in one room, the children not only have their learning reinforced, but they also become adept at helping others with their work.

The setting is conducive to learning confidence. By being in close quarters, they learned to solve problems and to take turns. These are only just a few of the many pluses we found in this school. No one in our family ever discovered any minuses.

In fighting to keep the school open, we discovered that it costs no more—even less—to operate Geer than any other school in the district. In addition, the parents have always been willing to work together to help rectify problems that arise with the use of an old building.

Instead of looking for ways to rid itself of Geer, perhaps the district should point proudly to a rare example of individualism and other schools should see if they can find ways to incorporate its uniqueness into their programs.

Bigger is not necessarily better.

Coloring it Brown

By Dick Brown

Envy has never been one of my vices. Not once in the many years as king of the Brown castle has envy appeared on the long list of vices put together by members of the family, particularly my wife, when such lists were presented at occasional family tribunals.

But envy did rear its ugly head this last week when the driveway was full of snow, the car wouldn't start, the Wayne County Road Commission filled the driveway entrance with snow, not once but twice, and the mailman drove right on by when he couldn't find the buried mail box. There was also the eight-pack of Vernors that froze and exploded glass and vernors all over the garage floor.

Envy continued to build up when a call came from a Houston-based son who complained that he had missed two days in the pool because the temperature had dipped to 50. Then after finally reaching The Crier office, us stay-at-homes had to put up with Bookkeeper Jackie Pack's account of her week's cruise in the Caribbean in 80-degree temperatures.

Then came a report from another son who escaped Michigan snow to attend a golf course management convention in New Orleans, a letter from a friend spending the winter in Florida and a wait in line at a local clothing store while an unknown Plymouth resident tried to make up his mind as to whether he should buy red swimming trunks or yellow swimming trunks to take on a Florida trip.

My envy turned to near desolation and despondency when I picked up a copy of Golf Digest featuring a beautiful color picture of green grass and a golf pro in short sleeves explaining that practice and hard work were the only ways to improve your golf game.

I'd like to see Bob Toski or Lee Travino improve their golf games with snow shovels in their hands instead of five irons.

I was so down in the dumps, envious and despondent that I went inside, sat down in front of the TV set and pouted all afternoon and night.

That didn't do any good either. The programs were just as bad as usual but the commercials were worse. It was one patent medicine, beauty care or health care product commercial after another. It brought on the following verse:

Serutan-Sominex-Geritol-Doans

Bring ease to your life by stopping the groans.

Anacin-Aspirin-Bufferin-Dristan

Make aches disappear like grease in a dishpan.

Digel-Symmethacone-Certs and Tums

Put cast iron stomachs on imbibers of rums.

Chewing gum-Polident-Poligrip-Chocks

Keep you smiling each day at life's little knocks.

Alka Seltzer Plus-Pepto Bismal and Nytol

In adding to health are really quite vytol.

I've been able to rid my life of all ills

By taking recommended assortments of pills.

But the sore thing in life that still has reversals

Is "How do we get rid of all the damned commercials?"

Bread lines just aren't the same now

"A Fun Place to Dine" has always been the motto of the Bottom of the Hill, but now it is even more so.

According to manager Ray Miller, the Bottom of the Hill (located at the Hillside Inn in Plymouth) now offers live entertainment Tuesday through Saturday, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Not that anything else has changed drastically - the soup and sandwich menu and Great Depression theme of the place still make it one of the more appropriately appointed restaurants for our times.

But owner Betty Stremich says the intent of the five-year-old venture goes beyond just decoration, in two ways. First, "It's totally different from the Hillside. The reason we built it was to break that formal image, so that we could accomodate casual dining."

Second, "The dating (1929-1934) was done on purpose. When Jake Stremich bought the place in 1929, it was the year of the crash and the beginning of the Depression. He had to wait until 1934 to open the Hillside. But those were fascinating years when people helped each other, when there was a greater sense of community. Here, those principles still hold - informality, camaraderie, a kind of a 'get-down' atmosphere."

Even the help joins in. Miller says

"purveyors" work in teams, and are hired more for personality than for experience. On weekends, patrons are likely to see purveyors dressed in clown costumes, or as Laurel and Hardy.

And finally, entertainers will be joining in the spirit of the Bottom of the Hill. Miller says the current (and inaugural) group, "Northern Lights," was nervous in its first appearances but now "They've fit right in. We were looking for entertainment that wasn't from the same old circuit, and they are it. They really are great."

As for the Bottom of the Hill, bread lines will never be the same.

Mayflower Optical expands

Mayflower Optical Shoppe has two new developments that will appeal to present and prospective customers: more convenient office hours and a new staff member.

Joe Babody of Mayflower Optical says late evening and Saturday examinations are now available for those patrons who just can't make it in during "traditional" office hours.

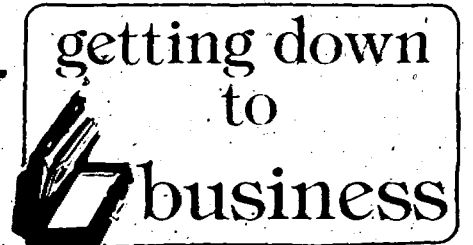

And to help with the workload, Frederick Faes, O.D., a specialist in visual handicaps, is now associated with the staff.

Faes joined the ranks of his profession by what some people might consider to be the long way around - his educational progress first took him through Wayne State, where he received a Bachelors degree in Psychology and a Masters in Rehabilitation Counseling. It was later that he attended the Southern California College of Optometry, where he received a degree in visual science and his O.D.

After a year's private practice in Muskegon, Faes returned to the area in 1979. He is now associated with the Riverfront Medical Group in Flint as well as with Mayflower Optical. Recently, his study on low vision rehabilitation was published in the American Journal of Optometry and Physiological Optics.

Faes, wife Judith (who is expecting another child this spring) and daughter Andrea live in Farmington.

Board of directors named for Crier, inc.

A new board of directors has been elected for the Plymouth-Canton Community Crier, inc., the company which publishes this newspaper.

Elected were: W. Edward Wendover, chairman and publisher of the newspaper; Robert S. Cameron, vice president and treasurer; Phyllis Redfern, secretary; and Dick Brown, Bob Hennings, Mary Perna and Norm Ruehr, directors.

Solar conference locally sponsored

Governor William Milliken has declared February as Solar Energy Month, and local participation will be directed mainly at the Michigan Solar Energy Conference, sponsored by an area association.

Special mention of the association, chaired by Plymouth resident Penny Wright, was made in the governor's executive declaration. According to Governor Milliken, "The Michigan Solar Energy Association, a non-profit organization of scientists, engineers, business people, architects, homeowners, builders, farmers, students and community groups, is involved in the promotion of solar technology - ranging from biomass to windpower."

Two of those MSEA architects are local residents, Erick Carne and Gary Gingras, staff members of Carne Associates, will be attending the conference held in Madison Heights from Feb. 19 to 21.

Carne and Gingras, architects and planners, have designed or commissioned many energy efficient projects, including an earth sheltered passive solar residence for Plymouth contractor George Florcken; solar hot water heating system for Plymouth Place Office Plaza; earth sheltered passive solar commercial greenhouse for William Ruehr; passive solar residences for the Silvermode Company Anthony's Pond Residential Condominiums; and the energy efficient 35th District Courthouse.

Bredin named as Omnicom program director

Shawn Bredin of Plymouth has been named Director of Programming for Omnicom of Michigan.

Bredin, an alumna of Salem High, graduated from Ferris State College in 1981 with a Bachelor of Science degree in television production. She began an internship with Omnicom in December, 1980 and was hired fulltime as assistant director of programming in April, 1981.

Bredin succeeds Hugh Jencks, who has left the company.

Supervising a staff of five, Bredin says "It is more work, but it's worth it. I feel good about it."

Chef Cleary awarded certification

A certified maestro of mouthwatering morsels.

Tim Cleary of the Plymouth Hilton Inn was recently awarded his Executive Chef certification from the American Culinary Federation (ACF), joining a select group of only 500 such chefs in the U.S.

Attaining such recognition was not easy. Requirements to be fulfilled included membership in a local Culinary Federation chapter, in this case the ACF Michigan Chefs de Cuisine; membership in the national federation; completion of a number of courses in management, sanitation and culinary education (Cleary was trained in Ireland); and a minimum of 10 years experience as an executive chef in first-class houses.

"We are proud to present Chef Timothy Cleary with the certification as executive chef," said John VanDerwouw, chairman of the ACF certification committee.

The next step, says Cleary, is certification as Master Chef. That may take awhile - there are currently only 13 in the U.S.

But it's certainly not a case of biting off more than he can chew.

Dr. Henry J. Walch services set for Feb. 21

The Rev. Henry J. Walch, 76, retired pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth and minister emeritus of the church, died Feb. 13 at his Plymouth Township home.

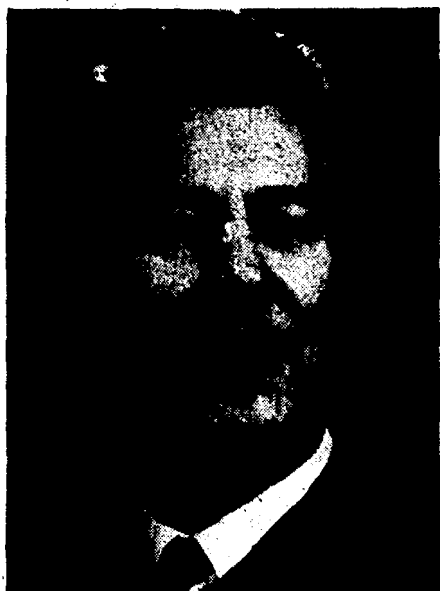

Memorial services will be conducted by Schrader Funeral Home on Sunday, Feb. 21, at 3 p.m. with The Rev. Thomas H. Cook officiating.

Dr. Walch was born April 7, 1905, in Rochester, N.Y. He had been an ordained minister for 51 years. He graduated from Elmhurst Academy in 1924, graduated from McCormick Seminary in Chicago in 1927 and received a BA degree from University of Rochester in 1929. He earned a masters degree from the University of Rochester in 1931 and his doctorate from Alma College in 1947.

He served churches in Oakfield, N.Y., Rochester, N.Y., and Detroit before accepting the pastorate at First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth in 1943. He retired from the Plymouth church in 1971.

A former moderator of the Detroit Presbytery in 1947-48, he continued, in his retirement, to serve as chaplain at the Presbyterian Village from 1978 to 1980.

Dr. Walch was a member of the Rotary Club of Plymouth for 38 years, joining in August of 1943. He was a life member of the Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47, F. and A.M. He was also a member of Knights Templar.

DR. HENRY J. WALCH

He is survived by his wife, Geraldine; a son, Albert, of Mountain View, Calif.; daughters Sandra Sargent of Richmond, Indiana, and Beth Walch of Plymouth; brothers, Albert of Rochester, N.Y., Raymond of Rochester, N.Y., and Louis of Rochester, N.Y.; sisters, Carolyn Sabin of Rochester, N.Y., and Mary Frank of Rochester, N.Y.; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Memorial gifts may be made to the First United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth for a permanent memorial.

Funeral services held for Ernest Koch, 39

2 C.E.P. students place high in state math competition

Plymouth-Canton's C.E.P. produced two of the top 100 math students in the Michigan section of the 25th Annual Michigan Mathematics Prize competition. There were 24,000 high school students in the state who participated.

Michael Blischke, son of Mrs. Joan Koski, 220 Burroughs, Plymouth, a senior, and Michael McClennen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doug McClennen, 619 S. Sheldon, will be honored at the awards program to be held at Central Michigan University Feb. 13.

College scholarships will be awarded to more than 40 of the winners.

The scholarships and the awards program are supported in part through contributions by the Burroughs Corporation, which provides scholarships for the first place winners, Michigan Bell, the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the Kuhlman Corporation.

were taken care of by Muehlig Funeral Chapel of Ann Arbor with Fr. Joseph Emil officiating.

Mr. Koch was born March 29, 1942, in Detroit. An annuities manager for Hartford Insurance Company, he lived in Canton until three years ago when he moved with his family to a 10-acre parcel of property near Dexter where the Koch family built a home.

During the 70s, Koch was an officer in the Windsor Park Subdivision Association and was instrumental in helping establish the Devine Savior Catholic Church in Westland. While living in Canton the Kochs and several other Catholic families held worship services in Fiegel Elementary School. The Kochs, on moving to Dexter, had joined the Old St. Patrick Church where he became an usher and active in the men's club.

As one of the first homeowner association presidents during Canton's formative years, Koch was an early statesman for establishing Canton's own identity. He also contributed to turning the homeowner groups into the political force they still represent in Canton.

Koch is survived by his wife, Judy; daughters Amy, 14, and Katie, 12; parents, Stanley and Helen Koch, of Livonia; and a sister, Donna Koch, Westland.

Memorial contributions can be made to the organization or charity of choice.

Computer goes to classroom

in Plymouth-Canton Elementary Schools

BY DICK BROWN

One day a week David Ode, Coordinator of Data Processing at the Plymouth-Canton School District Administration Office, loads computer equipment into a vehicle and heads for one of the school system's six elementary schools.

Over a 10-week period he offers a hands-on experience with computers to fourth, fifth and sixth graders in the Talented and Gifted Program (TAG). In the 10-15-minute sessions students get a chance to learn about today's modern computer society.

In informal sessions he shows TAG students what the computer can do, how it operates, how to do basic programming and then the students get into the act.

They design their own graphics, take to the keyboard to put the graphics to put into the computer memory and then command the computer to call up those graphics on a television screen.

There are also word processing exercises, computing exercises and video game designing.

Marilyn Finch, TAG teacher, praised the computer indoctrination program, citing the interest of students in computer operation and the chance to actually work with the equipment.

The Community Crier

TODAY'S GOURMET

Some of the best cooks in the Plymouth-Canton Community got together last Saturday at Central Middle School for The Crier's annual cooking contest.

Jeannie Johnson-Lackey of Grosse Pointe Farms won the grand prize with her Spaghettini Jeannie dish. She received a $60 gift certificate from a participating business.

Kimberly Tarrow of Plymouth won the top prize in the Kids in the Kitchen category with her Spider Dogs. Top place in the main dish category went to Juanita Graser for her Connecticut Beef Supper. Helen Wesner of Canton was the winner in the soup category with her Broccoli Soup. An Ice Cream Cake made by Darlene Little of Plymouth won in the desserts. The winners received a $20 certificate.

Judges for the contest were Bob Breithaupt, Dianne Gustin, Mary Lou Johnson, Chris Roby and Phyllis Redfern.

Finalists in the contest were Wade Garard, Sharon Holton, Rick Pirwstill, Candy Murphy, Carol Levitte, Vicki Bragg, Shirley Connors, William Johnson, Amy Alfonso and Sandy Beymer.

Many of the top recipes appear on the following pages.

| 1/2 lb. spinach, washed trimmed and chopped | 1/4 lb. mushrooms, sliced                 |
| 1/4 cup butter                              | 1 large can tomatoes, drained and chopped |
| 2 cloves garlic, minced                     | 3 Tbl. parmesian cheese                   |
| 1 zucchini, sliced                          | 2 Tbl. minced parsley                     |

Cook pasta to al dente stage. Meanwhile, mince spinach in blender or food processor. Add garlic and butter, processing until an "herbed" butter is achieved. Toss with drained pasta and place in bottom of saute pan or cassole dish. In fry pan, saute onion, zucchini, pepper and mushrooms in a little oil or butter. Add tomatoes, cooking briefly. Arrange over pasta. Sprinkle with parmesian and parsley over top.

Note: This recipe is presented as a hearty vegetarian dish. However, it is delicious and attractive with the addition of Italian sausage, sliced, sauteed and arranged on top along with the vegetables.

EASY BAKE COFFEE CAKE

Ingredients
 1½ cup sugar
 2-3 tablespoons cinnamon
 1 stick melted butter (oleo)
 2 loaves frozen bread dough
 (thawed in refrigerator overnight)
 1 well oiled Bundt Pan

Directions
 After bread dough is thawed, cut off pieces in bite size and dip in melted butter. Roll in sugar and cinnamon mixture and place in bottom of bundt pan, making a layer covering bottom. Repeat with a second layer until all the dough is gone. If any butter and sugar are left, pour on top of coffee cake.

Let rise about 45 minutes. Bake in 350° preheated oven for 1 hour or until it springs back up from a light push of the thumb.

When the cake is done, take it out of the oven and insert it on a plate larger than the bundt pan. Scrape out any caramelized mixture left in the pan and spoon it over the cake.

Break off bite size pieces or chunks and enjoy.

CUBE STEAK HAYSTACKS

1) prepare as directed on package . . . 1 package of Betty Crocker hash brown potatoes with onions
 2) set hash browns aside
 3) melt in another large skillet . . . 2 tablespoons shortening
 4) place in skillet . . . 6 cubed beef steaks
 5) cook steaks over medium heat 3 to 5 minutes on each side or until brown. Take skillet from heat
 6) season steaks with . . . ½ teaspoon salt
 7) spread each steak with . . . 2 teaspoons catsup
 8) top each steak with . . . ½ cup of the cooked hash browns
 9) 1 to 2 tablespoons shredded cheddar cheese*
 10) return skillet to heat. Cover and cook over low heat 2 to 3 minutes or until cheese is melted. (6 servings)

*For this recipe you will need 1 package (4 ounces) shredded cheddar cheese.

BANANA SALAD

5 to 7 Bananas
 1 Egg
 1 c. Brown Sugar
 1 T. Butter
 1 T. Vinegar or Lemon Juice
 3½ T. Water

Put egg (beaten), brown sugar, butter, lemon juice, water in a sauce pan and cook slowly until just to boiling stage. Cool.

Slice bananas in circles, and dab or stir mixture on bananas carefully so as not to crush. Top with finely chopped English walnuts.

Dessert delights

- 12 egg whites
1 1/2 cup sugar
1 cup cake flour
1/4 teaspoon salt

ICE CREAM CAKE

- 6 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon cream of tartar

Add salt to egg whites and beat until frothy, add cream of tartar and beat until it holds peaks. Use mixer up to now. Then fold in 2 tablespoons of sugar at a time (by hand) using a wire whisk and beat slowly, then fold in flour 2 tablespoons at a time. Pour in egg yolks that have been beaten until lemon color (add vanilla in yolks) and fold into the mixture. Pour into ungreased tube pan, (I use one with the removable bottom) bake at 325 degrees (or 300 if oven gets hotter than normal) for 1 hour. Invert pan and cool 1 hour before removing from pan.

ICING

- 6 egg yolks
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 cup Homogenized Vit. D Milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 pint whipping cream

- 1 tablespoon cake flour
1 envelope plain gelatin softened in 1/4 cup water
1 teaspoon almond extract

Cook while cake is baking, 6 egg yolks beaten slightly with 1 cup sugar and 1 tablespoon flour. Mix 1 envelope plain gelatin which has been softened in 1/4 cup of water, add to egg mixture. Then add 1 1/2 cups whole milk, bring to a boil and cook until custard coats the spoon a little (about 5 min.) At this time, watch carefully so mixture does not burn. Let mix cool, then put in refrigerator and chill thoroughly.

Whip 1 pint whipping cream, add custard which you've mixed with beater and added 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1 teaspoon almond extract. Cut cake in 4 layers, frost between layers, top, middle and sides. Keep in refrigerator.

MOCHA MERINGUE PIE

- 3 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
3/4 cup sugar
Pinch of salt
1 cup chocolate wafer crumbs
1/2 cup chopped pecans
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

- 1 quart coffee ice cream, softened
1 cup whipping cream
1/2 cup powdered sugar
Sweet chocolate curls
1/2 to 2/3 cup Kahlua or other coffee-flavored liqueur

Beat egg whites (at room temperature) until frothy; add baking powder, beating slightly. Gradually add sugar and salt; continue beating until stiff and glossy. Fold in chocolate wafer crumbs, pecans, and vanilla.

Spoon meringue into a buttered 9-inch piepan; use spoon to shape meringue into a pie shell, swirling sides high. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes; cool.

Spread ice cream evenly over meringue crust; cover & freeze overnight. Combine whipping cream & powdered sugar, beating until light and fluffy; spread on pie. Garnish with chocolate curls; freeze until firm.

Let pie stand at room temperature 10 minutes before slicing. Pour 1 tablespoon Kahlua over each serving. Yield: one 9-inch pie.

Note: This pie is thick and rich. It will easily yield 8 servings.

SPIDER DOGS

6 hot dogs
1/2 cup catsup
1/4 cup barbecue sauce

1/2 cup crumbled potato chips
3 hamburger buns, halved

Mix catsup, barbecue sauce, and crumbled potato chips in a bowl; set aside.

Quarter the ends of each hot dog lengthwise, leaving one inch in the center uncut. (There are 4 "legs" at each end with one inch uncut in the center.)

Put sauce and then hot dogs on the halved buns. Place on a cookie sheet and bake at 350 for approximately 10 minutes or until the hot dogs curl into spiders. Serve with chips on the side. Serves 6.

*Cheese may be put on the hot dog centers after 5 minutes of baking, if desired.

LANDLUBBER'S CHOWDER

- |                                       |  |
|---------------------------------------|--|
| 1 package frozen fordhook lima beans  | 1 can (303 size) stewed tomatoes with peppers and onions |
| 1 can condensed cream of chicken soup | 2 cups (½ lb) grated sharp process American cheese       |
| 1 can solid pack tuna (1 cup)         | ¼ tsp. garlic salt                                       |
|                                       | 1/8 tsp. pepper  |

Cook lima beans. Drain. Add condensed, undiluted chicken soup, tuna in chunks, tomatoes, cheese, garlic salt and pepper. Cook over very low heat until cheese is melted and hot. This makes a hearty soup that may be served in cups or crocks with croutons on the side.

FRENCH ONION ROYAL SOUP

(10-12 servings)

- |                        |                                   |
|------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 3 lbs. of onions       | 3 cups white wine (Rhine)         |
| 2½ sticks of margarine | 2 cans beef boullion              |
| 1 lb. of mushrooms     | 2 teaspoons worchestershire sauce |
| 3 cups water           | 1 teaspoon salt                   |

For each crock of soup - 1 slice French bread (shaped for crock and toasted); 1 or 2 slices Mozzarella cheese.

TO MAKE

- 1) Slice onions and separate (May quarter onions and slice in food processor)
- 2) Slice mushrooms - point stems up while slicing into thin strips
- 3) Melt margarine in large skillet and add sliced onions and mushrooms; cook until onions are transparent and lightly brown
- 4) In large Dutch Oven combine water, wine, boullion, salt and worchestershire sauce
- 5) To liquid in pot add contents of large skillet
- 6) Cover Dutch oven and simmer contents for 5 to 6 hours
- 7) Optional step: Flavor is improved if contents of Dutch Oven are put in storage containers, cooled, and refrigerated for 2 to 3 days.

TO SERVE:

- 1) Shape cheese and French bread to fit soup crock; toast shaped bread and set aside
- 2) Heat soup to a boil
- 3) Heat soup crocks in oven at 300° F for 10 to 15 minutes
- 4) Take crock out of oven fill with heated soup, place French bread on top of soup, place cheese on toast, put top on crock, put crock back in oven.
- 5) Heat filled crock for 8 to 10 minutes
- 6) Remove crock from oven; serve and enjoy

"DILLY" ICIOUS CHICKEN SALAD

Lettuce Salad

Lettuce, sliced onions, celery, carrots and cucumbers (optional)

Topping

Sprinkle Durkees French onion rings (canned) on cookie sheet and place in oven until light brown. Remove from oven and set aside to sprinkle on top of salad.

Chicken Salad

2 cans Swanson White Chicken (or Dark or Salad mixins)
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
dash of salt
pepper

Vegetable Dip

1 cup sour cream
1 cup mayonnaise
1 tsp. seasoned salt
1 tsp. dill weed
1/2 tsp. worcestershire sauce
1/2 tsp. Accent
1 tsp. minced onions
1 tsp. parsley
2 drops tabasco
Mix and chill.

Combine chicken, mayonnaise and enough of the vegetable dip to give it light consistency.

Place lettuce salad in salad bowl. Form a well in center and place chicken salad in center. Sprinkle onions over top of salad. Serve with garlic bread or warmed buns.

Save the vegetable dip and serve with cut, fresh vegetables on another occasion. I keep some dip in refrigerator for times when unexpected company comes.

It takes about 15 minutes to prepare this dinner. Great for a summertime meal with fresh fruit for dessert.

TOFU AND MUSHROOMS IN BECHAMEL SAUCE

(Served with rice)

3 T. butter or margarine	1/8 tsp. salt
1/2 c. chopped onion	1 tsp. Beau Monde
1/2 c. sliced, fresh mushrooms	3 T. cooking Sherry
3 T. all-purpose flour	12 oz. fresh Tofu, diced into
1 1/2 c. milk	1/2" cubes

In a 2 quart saucepan (preferably of the heavy, enameled, cast-iron variety) melt over low heat the 3 T. butter or margarine. Over medium heat saute the chopped onions and sliced mushrooms until onions are transparent. With a wooden spoon blend in the 3 T. all-purpose flour, and stir and cook for one or two minutes. Slowly pour the 1 1/2 c. of milk into the roux while stirring rapidly with a wooden spoon to achieve a smooth and blended mixture. With heat advanced to medium-high, stir briskly with a wire whisk until the sauce bubbles. Immediately turn to low and continue whisking vigorously until thickened (about 1 minute.) (If a heavy-bottomed pan is not used, the sauce is likely to burn on the bottom and greater care and lower heat will be required to prevent this.) Remove from heat and stir in seasonings and cooking Sherry. Adjust seasonings to taste. (If a regular Sherry is used more salt may be needed.) Taste and adjust seasonings to personal preference. Carefully stir in cubed Tofu and return to low heat until Tofu is heated through (about 5 to 8 minutes.) Serve over steaming rice. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Plymouth officer spots car theft in progress

Plymouth Police arrested a Detroit resident Wednesday for the theft of a $22,190 Mark IV Lincoln-Mercury from the Hines Park Lincoln-Mercury dealer, 40601 Ann Arbor Rd, in Plymouth Township.

According to a police report, Louis A. Clark, 23, of 14320 Montrose in Detroit, was nabbed after he was spotted leaving the dealership parking lot at 12:12 a.m. by officer Robert Scoggins.

Scoggins, noticing that the headlights of the 1982 car were not on and that the windshield was iced over, pulled off the road to observe the vehicle as it went by, eastbound on Ann Arbor Road.

When he noted that the car was without plates he moved in and stopped the car on the southbound entrance ramp of I-275 at Ann Arbor Road.

It was later confirmed that the vehicle had in fact been removed from the dealer lot, said police.

City-Township fire pact may be next

Joint fire protection service between the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township could be the next cooperative project between the two municipalities.

City Fire Chief Roy Hall, back on active duty, recently requested that City Manager Henry Graper Jr. arrange meetings with township Fire Department and administration officials. The possibility of a backup program involving the township pertaining to fire protection and rescue rigs will be discussed.

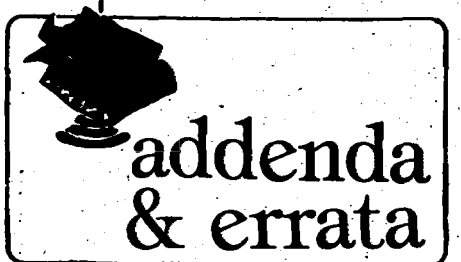

Hall has just completed a survey of fire protection needs in the city. He confirmed that the city has enough manpower to take care of its fire and rescue needs, but much of that manpower is being supplied through costly overtime and volunteers.

No meeting dates have been set yet.

Pursell plans meeting

Cong. Carl Pursell will participate in a town meeting Saturday, Feb. 20, in the Forum Bldg., Room 530, at Schoolcraft College. The meeting will run from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

In the Feb. 3 edition on pg. 10, it was incorrectly stated that the Young Authors Program was begun in 1978. The program has been in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools since 1971. Criteria for Laureate Prizes for Literature were developed for this year's awards.

Bill Joyner will seek state legislative seat

Bill Joyner, 27th District Wayne County Commissioner, has admitted informally what his campaign aides have figured all along - that he will seek a seat on the Michigan state legislature.

"I'm in the running," he told The Crier last week. "We have our nominating petitions printed and will officially announce our campaign kickoff next month."

While the new legislative districts have not yet been officially decided, Joyner has nonetheless put together his campaign committee.

Jan Keller of Plymouth has accepted the job as campaign manager.

Dennis Bila of Plymouth will serve as campaign coordinator and Jon Vachow of Plymouth Township will be campaign treasurer.

Jan Keller and her husband, Don, are active in the Plymouth Jaycees. Bila, a teacher for 18 years and a professor at Washtenaw Community College, most recently served as campaign manager for Plymouth City Commissioner Dave Pugh in the November election.

Vachow and his wife, Jackie, are active in the Plymouth Jaycees.

Joyner has put together a list of honorary campaign managers, according to Keller.

"It is our intent to reach a cross section of local community leaders," she said, "People who will personify the grass roots effort we are looking for."

Agreeing to serve as honorary campaign chairmen are Tom Notebaert, former Plymouth Township Supervisor; Plymouth Mayor Bud Martin; Plymouth Mayor Pro-Tem Dave Pugh; Plymouth Commissioner Karl Gansler; Sylvia Stetz, secretary of Plymouth-Canton Board of Education;

Tom Yack, Plymouth-Canton School Board Trustee; Doug Ritter, Canton Library Commissioner; John Schwartz, Canton Library Commissioner; Laura Toy, Schoolcraft Community College Trustee; Paul Kadish, Schoolcraft Community College Trustee; Carol Bodenmiller, Canton Township Trustee; and Maria Falkiewicz, Canton Township Treasurer.

"Each of these people have recognized the vocal leadership given the Plymouth-Canton Community by Commissioner Joyner. For that reason they are willing to help Bill out, whether he runs for re-election or for the state legislature," Keller said.

In addition several community campaign managers have agreed to sign on. They are Mary Ellen Mc Kercher, a member of the City of Plymouth Planning Commission, who will head up the Plymouth campaign effort; Bill Zachery, a teacher in the Detroit Public Schools who lives in Trailwood subdivision in Plymouth Township, who will head the Plymouth Township campaign;

Diane Neikengen, a member of the Canton Township Planning Commission, who will head the Canton campaign; and Liz McCarville, an active officer of the Park Garden Homeowners Group in Northville Township, who will head up the Northville Township effort.

"Each of these people have recognized the vocal leadership given The Plymouth-Canton Community by Commissioner Joyner. For that reason they are willing to help Bill out," said Keller.

Jan Keller, chairman of the Friends for Joyner campaign committee, has announced the opening of a campaign headquarters in Plymouth, located above Wiltse's Pharmacy on Main Street between Penniman and Ann Arbor Trail.

"We will have the headquarters open each day Monday through Friday, beginning Feb. 15, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. We feel it is very important that Commissioner Joyner keeps all his political involvement separate from his downtown commissioner office, so we decided it was best to open a headquarters to work out of," said Keller in making the announcement.

Those persons interested in working in the headquarters should call Keller at 459-6648.

Plymouth Kiwanians travelogue to feature film on Appalachia

"Smoky Mountain Magic," a film by Richard C. Kern, will be featured for the fifth installment of the 1981-82 Kiwanis Clubs of Plymouth Travel and Adventure Series.

The rugged mountains of the Southern Appalachians, one of the most popular natural areas in the world, are the subject of Kern's film. From the highest peaks laden with Canadian Zone vegetation to the semi-tropical Florida fauna, a detailed look at the region unfolds. Nature sequences are prominently featured, including looks at animal, reptile and aquatic life. A view of mountain culture is also explored, and encounters with moonshiners, herb gatherers and other residents.

Kern, born and raised in New Jersey, holds a degree in biology. After a stint in the U.S. Navy, he taught for three years before making his first documentary film. Since then his works have been seen on many of the country's top lecture circuits.

"Smoky Mountain Magic" will be shown at Salem High's auditorium tonight at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at the door.

"Just nuts about snow and softball"

PAUL'S LOUNGE, of Canton, won the 3rd annual Canton Groundhog's Day Softball Tournament Saturday with a 13-9 win over McMurray Insurance. Played in deep snow, the competition included 13 teams, among those two time defending champs Do-Wa-Ditties. McMurray defeated that squad 17-3 to make the finals, while Paul's knocked off Tampa Bay Rowdies, of Canton, 4-1, to advance. In the finals Paul's broke an 8-8 tie in the sixth inning with five runs. In this photo a member of that squad takes a cut at the oversized orange softball used. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Chiefs win 2nd league grappling championship

BY DAVID CALLAHAN

The Western Six League wrestling trophy has found a home.

In the final conference championship, held Saturday at Northville, Canton High walked away with the trophy for good, edging arch-rival Walled Lake Western with 189 points, and repeating as Western Six champions. Western finished with 183.5 total points.

The two squads were followed by Northville, Farmington Harrison, and Livonia Churchill.

Next year the Western Six teams will be part of the new Western Lakes conference.

More satisfying to coach Dan Chrenko was the manner in which the Chiefs brought home the championship.

Canton placed 12 of 13 wrestlers in the final four, and had nine finalists, six of whom were league champions.

"Last year we beat Western by 8.5 points," said Chrenko, "so we knew it would be close. It was a great team effort."

Todd Gattoni, the Chiefs 98-pounder, pinned his way to the championship, winning two preliminary matches on pins before pinning Stefanko of Livonia Churchill 38 seconds into their final match.

Todd Bartlett, at 105 pounds, was down 6-4 in his final match, and was seemingly injured, before reversing Röllf Hendrickson of Walled Lake Western and winning a 6-6 decision on criteria. For Bartlett, the championship was his second in a row, having won the title at 98 pounds last year.

Tim Collins, wrestling at 119 pounds, pulled off a major upset in his final match, beating Niel Fenzel of Walled Lake, 3-1. Before facing Collins, Fenzel had lost only two matches on the season, and had beaten Collins soundly the last time the two had met.

Brian Lee became the second Chief to win back to back titles, beating Rob Wescott of Walled Lake, 13-6, and repeating as the conference 132-pound champ.

At 145 pounds, Steve Hamblin reclaimed his title, beating Mike Cohan of Churchill, 11-2. Hamblin, a senior, won the 145-pound title as a sophomore, but lost his final match last year.

Marty Heaton became Canton's sixth league champ, defeating Steve Dickson, 13-4, to win the Western Six 155-pound title.

Scott Rodgers was the first of three runners-up, taking a tough 4-2 loss in his final match against Farmington Harrison's Greg McCoy, the 112-pound champion.

Kevin Decker, at 126 pounds, lost his final match to Dave Mittello of Walled Lake, 8-2. Mittello was a regional qualifier last year.

Brett Haarala lost a 4-0 decision to Jack Wallace of Northville in their final 138-pound match, to become the Chiefs' final Looking earthward in a tuck...

SALEM HIGH DIVER Joe Rudelic broke his own team and pool diving records for the seventh time this season during Thursday's league meet with Livonia Bentley. Rudelic, seen here in a warm-up dive before the meet, scored a 299.4 to lead teammates in a sweep of that event -- Todd Riedel was second and John Henry third -- as the Rocks smashed the Bulldogs, 122-49. Salem also got outstanding efforts from Russ Shaffer and John Thompson. Shaffer won the 200-yard free race and the backstroke, while Thompson captured the 50 and 100 yard frees. Other Salem firsts came from Tim Harwood, Jeff Kleinsmith and Ashley Long. The Rocks are 9-1 and travel to Trenton for their final dual tomorrow at 7 p.m. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Poor service hurts Chief spikers

BY DAVID CALLAHAN

An inability to score on serves, and communications problems spelled defeat for Canton High's women's volleyball squad Monday, as it lost a dual meet against Brighton High, 15-10, and 15-6.

"We played pretty well," said coach Cyndi Burnstein, whose squad dropped to 5-3 in dual meets. "We just couldn't score on serves. Four of five servers missed their serves," she said.

In the second game, Brighton scored nine points before Canton got on the board, and both teams exchanged points to give Brighton the win.

In addition to serving problems Burnstein said, "Our communications on the court was bad."

Saturday the Chiefs traveled to the 15-team Howell Invitational. Canton had a 3-5 record in its pool, and failed to qualify for one of the playoff spots.

"Everybody just a lot of mistakes," said Burnstein. "We just didn't have it."

Canton was tied with Salem High, Ann Arbor Pioneer, and Birmingham Groves for the last two playoff positions. Groves advanced by having outscored the Chiefs in the two team's pool play match (16-14, 4-15) and Pioneer advanced by allowing fewer points during pool play.

Last Wednesday, Canton raised its Western Six League record to 3-2 with a 15-13, and 15-12 victory over Northville High. Canton was behind in the first game, 13-9, before rallying to win the game, and then the match.

Canton returns to action tonight, with a home meet against Western Six foe Livonia Churchill, to begin at 7 p.m. Tomorrow, the Chiefs take on conference-leading Walled Lake Western, and Saturday, the Chiefs travel to Schoolcraft College to compete in the Schoolcraft Invitational. Saturday's action is scheduled to begin at 8 a.m.

Cruisers swim

The Plymouth-Canton Cruisers Swim Club swam Willow Run Club Jan. 25 and scored 20 first place finishes in boys and girls competition.

The two teams are part of the four-team Western Wayne Aquatic Conference. Swimmers swim for place and time in the league. No overall point totals or final scores are recorded.

Rock spikers win Monday

Salem High's women's volleyball squad upped its record to 3-3 in the Suburban Eight League Monday night with a 15-4 and 15-13 triumph over Belleville. The Rocks are 3-4 in overall competition.

"The biggest thing our team did tonight was they played with confidence," said Salem coach Jean Martin. "We started out confident at Saturday's tournament but then lost a close match and lost our confidence completely."

Martin's Rocks were among 15 teams in Howell Saturday for an invitational. The squad finished with a 3-5 record in team-pool competition and failed to make the playoff round.

After the loss 17-15 to Kearsley the Rocks dropped their next three matches.

Against Belleville, Kelly Bemiss got a start in the first game for Salem and scored eight points. There were no scoring standouts in the second game, said Martin.

Salem also fell to league foe Dearborn in a whitewash last Wednesday, 15-0 and 15-4.

The Rocks take on Dearborn Edsel Ford tonight at Edsel. Game time is 7 p.m.

Salem gymnasts fall Monday

Salem High gymnasts fell to Dearborn High Monday night, 115.20-83.60.

Salem coach Kathy Kinsella was pleased with her team's consistent effort, despite not having won a dual match all year.

"The best score we've had was 85.85, but this was comparable. The last time we faced Dearborn they scored in the 90s," she said.

Suzanne Gibbons was second in the balance beam for Salem, 6.05, while Lori Anieros was fifth, 4.95, and Julie Mann sixth, 4.75.

Gibbons led Salem on the vault with a 6.1 for fourth, while Vicki Grenillo was sixth, 5.7.

Sarah Rubadue had a 6.10 on the parallel bars for fifth and Gibbons had a 6.70 in floor exercise. She scored seventh for the effort but didn't place.

"Having two of our leading scorers out and still scoring 83 wasn't too bad," said Kinsella.

Last Wednesday the Rocks scored 82.25 in a loss to league foe Belleville. The Tigers tallied 94.80.

Gibbons tied for first on the vault, 6.2, and got a second in floor competition, 6.65. Rubadue had a third on parallel bars, 5.8, and Debbie Bahna got a fourth on bars, 3.95.

The Rocks travel to foe Trenton tonight for a 7 p.m. match.

Volleyball tournament coming

The pair are seen here during Thursday's win over Walled Lake Western, 112.8-103.85. Monday night the Chiefs beat Westland John Glenn 114.9-105.95, and in doing so, picked up their fourth qualifying score of the season. Michalik and Beale were the top scoring gymnasts at both meets, as Michalik won the overall titles twice, while Beale scored two seconds. Other Chiefs contributing to the team's successes are Lisa Lovich, Theresa Wheeler and Ruthann Trout, all of whom have improved their scores markedly, according to coach John Cunningham, since the departure of Amy Albaugh. # Salem matmen regain Sub 8 title, with 7 league champs

Seven league champions propelled Salem High's wrestling team to the championship of the Suburban Eight League Saturday, held at Belleville High.

With 202.5 points, the Rocks easily eclipsed second place Trenton High, which finished with 154.5 points. Last year's league champions, Belleville, finished third with 110. The Rocks were third last year.

Dearborn Edsel Ford was fourth, followed by Livonia Bentley, Dearborn High, and Allen Park.

During the Sub-8 dual meet season, the most points scored against the Rocks were 14, and Salem coach Ron Krueger was not surprised by the result.

"We were up by about 20 going into the finals," said Krueger, "and then we just blew everybody out."

Indeed the Rocks did blow out the competition in the finals, winning nine of 12 matches in the championship and consolation finals. All of the Rocks that wrestled placed in the top four.

Marty Piper was the first Rock to capture a league crown, winning the heavyweight title with a 6-0 decision in his final match.

At 126 pounds, Rob McDonald won his final match 13-6 for the league championship at that weight. The Beaudoin brothers, John and Randy, each won a title, John at 138 with a pin at 2:46 of his final match, and Randy at 155 with a 3-0 final decision.

Bruce Bachman won the 145-pound crown with a pin at 3:07 of his final match, and John Wochuk took the 167-pound title, winning a final decision 9-3.

Scott Wickens was the final champion for the Rocks, as he had a pin at 4:58 of his match to win the 185-pound championship.

At 105 pounds, Bill Hall was Salem's lone runner-up, as he was pinned 5:20 into his final match.

Tom Walkley won his 185-pound consolation match, with a 9-3 decision for third place.

Fourth place finishers for Salem were Rick Vershave, who dropped a 12-0 decision in his final 98-pound match, and Jeff Davis, who was pinned at 3:58 of his final match at 132 pounds.

The Rocks invade Temperence-Bedford High Saturday, for the district wrestling tournament. The Rocks district will be a tough one featuring Wayne Memorial, Westland John Glenn, and

Canton grapplers

runner-up.

At 167 pounds, Canton's Wain Yeung captured a fourth, as he was pinned by Greg Worley at 1:20 of their consolation match.

Don Page, the Chief 185-pounder, also scored a fourth, after being pinned by Northville's Dave Blackmer at 5:24 of their match.

Alex Young, wrestling at heavyweight for the Chiefs, was pinned in his consolation match by Jerry Eisen, to give Young a fourth place finish.

Not to be satisfied with the Western Six championship, the Chiefs will set their sights on district competition, which begins next Saturday. Chrenko said, "Last year, our goal was to win the league, so we were a little flat at districts. That won't happen again this year."

Canton High, all state-ranked teams.

Krueger, however, feels that the Rocks can realistically qualify nine grapplers for regional competition. "I'd like to get nine through the districts. We'd need a couple of strong efforts to get through," he said.

Rock cagers win 2

Salem High men's basketball team kept on winning last week, knocking a league win and a non-league victory. The Rocks are currently 12-3 overall and 8-0 in the Suburban Eight League.

Friday's win over Dearborn Edsel Ford, 56-46, was a key win for Salem with only two league games still to be played this season. Last Tuesday's triumph over Livonia Franklin, 60-47, was a confidence builder against a consistent area foe.

Senior Mike McBride paced the Rocks on offense in both contests. On Friday, he scored 21, while Dave Houle added 11, Dave Miller nine and John Cohen seven.

On Tuesday McBride tossed in a season-high 34 points and added nine rebounds.

The Rocks play tomorrow night against league foe Dearborn, Varsity starts at 8 p.m.

Canton basketball

Canton High basketball fans who made the trip Friday to watch the Chiefs battle Walled Lake Western didn't get to watch the Chiefs pick up their second victory of the season.

But they didn't watch the Chiefs give up, either.

Down by as many as 15 points, the Chiefs battled back time and again, before "running out of gas," in the words of coach Dave VanWagoner, and losing, 65-53.

Last Tuesday, Canton faced Dearborn, and committed 21 turnovers, losing 62-36. The Chief JV won, 43-33.

Canton plays its final home game tomorrow, when it faces Western Six foe Northville High. Northville won the teams last meeting, 51-47. The action will begin in Canton's Phase III at 6:15 p.m., with the JV contest. The varsity game will follow.

Canton swimmers

Canton High men's swim team easily defeated Western Six League foe Northville Thursday, 55-27. The Chiefs scored first place finishes in every event but the 200-yard freestyle.

The Chiefs were paced by Bob Simone and Peter Stern. Simone won the 200 IM and the 500 free, while Stern captured the 50 free and 100 free.

The Chiefs are 9-2 overall and have won 28 consecutive conference dual meet swims.

Canton swims again tomorrow when it travels to Livonia Churchill for a league meet starting at 7 p.m.

Flip Rowdies soccer

The BESL Flip Rowdies girls soccer team won the Under 19 Holiday Indoor Tournament sponsored by the Bonanza Express Soccer League, Saturday, with a 5-2 win over Bloomfield Lahser.

The Rowdies, made up of under 16 girls from Plymouth, Canton and Livonia, also knocked off three other under 19 teams during the three-week tourney held at Square Lake Racquetball Club.
