For school employes

No contracts yet

BY DAN BODENE

Time has become as important as economic issues in salary negotiations between Plymouth-Canton school district employes and administration.

The Board of Education upped the ante Monday night, awarding salary increases to crossing guards, security guards and non-affiliated personnel.

The raises are three per cent for the 1983-84 school year and six per cent for the 1984-85 year.

Meanwhile, other negotiations remain bogged down. Salaries for teachers, aides, secretaries, custodians, cafeteria and transportation workers are unresolved.

The district's basic offer so far has been a three per cent raise for 1983-84 and a five per cent hike for 1984-85.

Teachers represented by the Plymouth-Canton Education Association (PCEA) are asking for a three per cent raise for each year of a two-year contract, plus a cost of living allowance. Bargaining by other units, who have joined with the PCEA in a coalition, is closely tied to the teachers' union position.

Commenting on the non-union personnel salary raises, assistant superintendent for employe relations Norm Kee said, "These employes have been waiting patiently for some kind of adjustment. There is no reason to hold them up. They have been hard at work, doing the job, and they don't deserve to be held up because of some other group."

Trustee E.J. McClendon said, "To move on these people is a sign of our commitment. We do move when we can afford to."

Teacher's union and administration negotiators got nowhere last Friday in a hearing mediated by Ed Phillips of the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC).

Teachers are working in the second year of a two-year pact.

New admin changes undecided in Canton

By CHERYL EBERWEIN

In an emotionally-charged special session held last night and (Sept. 20), Canton's Board of Trustees debated the merits of hiring a professional superintendent to run the township while reducing the supervisor's position to part-time.

No decision was reached.

The proposal, originally presented to the board by a Blue Ribbon Committee of township residents brought mixed reaction from board members.

Trustee Robert Padget spoke favorably of the recommendation and will present the board with a final proposal on the issue at the Oct. 4 township meeting. Padget, however, was concerned that the board did not have enough time to make the change before May primary elections.

Supervisor James Poole said he did not oppose or support the proposal.

Trustee Carol Bodenmiller vehemently opposed the suggestion of hiring a superintendent, saying the township has been led by capable supervisors "whose hearts were in the right place" with their leadership. Bodenmiller did not feel governmental changes were necessary and said they would cost the taxpayers additional money.

Discussion during the meeting also centered on a proposal to change the treasurer's and clerk's positions to part time as well.

Canton OKs millages

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

Amid residential complaints that taxes are too high, police protection too weak and township concessions too few, the Canton Board of Trustees unanimously voted to increase police millage by .67 mills and decrease the general fund millage by .24 mills for 1984.

The move set the police budget at 4.07 mills and the general fund budget at 2.0 mills.

Board members also unanimously voted at the Sept. 13 meeting to leave the fire millage at its 1982 level of 3.06 mills.

Board members discussed the budgets for nearly an hour before reaching consensus votes. Much of the discussion

Vandals wreak havoc using...pumpkins?

Be on the lookout for the midnight pumpkin thrower. He or she could cost you a lot of money.

Plymouth Police are working to solve a rash of auto vandalism incidents that occurred last Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. In each of six instances, a pumpkin was used to extensively damage a parked vehicle.

According to police, the first incident happened at about midnight on Sept. 15. A man living on Canton Center Road reported that the windshield of his 1971 Ford had been shattered with a pumpkin. The man also told police he saw a gray flatbed pickup truck fleeing.

The same modus operandi was used in several more vandalism incidents the following night, police report.

A resident on N. Territorial Road reported that the window of his 1982 Ford had been broken out with a pumpkin, sometime near midnight. A woman living on Kellogg Street estimated that the rear fender on her 1979 Cadillac was damaged within a half hour of the N. Territorial case. And two other residents, on Holbrook Street and Canton Center Road, told police their auto windshields were shattered by pumpkins the same evening.

And on Sept. 17 a Canton Center Road resident returned from vacation at about midnight to find the grille, right headlight and radiator on his 1977 Ford van damaged by a pumpkin.

Police are continuing their investigation.

There comes a time in your life when you have to go out on your own. That's what Michigan Bell will be doing in January of next year, when we separate from AT&T and become a part of Ameritech, a new holding company for five midwest communications companies which include Illinois Bell, Indiana Bell, Michigan Bell, Ohio Bell and Wisconsin Telephone.

Frankly, a change like that could be unsettling, but we welcome the challenges it presents and the opportunities it provides to serve you even better. We've had time to think about it, to plan for it, to make sure that when you pick up your phone on January 1, 1984, you'll make those calls just as you always have. And you'll get the same reliable Michigan Bell service you've come to expect over the years.

Sure, there'll be some changes, but nothing we can't easily handle together. For instance, AT&T will be leasing you the phones Michigan Bell now provides you for a monthly fee. You may continue to lease them if you wish, or you may buy your own. The choice is yours.

There could be some changes in how your telephone repair needs are met... depending upon whether the problem is with the service or the equipment. Not a big thing for the most part, except for the possibility of new phone numbers to call if you need help.

You may notice one change right off... extra pages in your phone bill. That would be the result of your getting more billing information than you're used to seeing.

As we said, changes and choices... some now, some later... but nothing you can't take in stride with a little assistance. That's where we come in.

In the weeks ahead we'll be keeping you up to date with more detailed information on the changes as they take place.

We mean to make this transition as easy for you as possible because we want to be on the best of terms with you for a long, long time. After all...

Twp. eyes new surge in development

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

New commercial developments are going up left and right along Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth Township - as a small shopping center opened last week and plans for two more are in the works.

Eugene and Jude LeBlanc have renovated the building on the south side of Ann Arbor Road by General Drive. Four stores opened this week or plan to open soon on the building's ground floor - Carolina Linens, Nora Dale's Skin and Nail, Strom Discount Computer, and A.R. Kramelo Wood Floors and Linoleum.

The LeBlancs plan to rent office space on the yet-to-be completed second floor of the building.

A second building, of a similar nature with commercial outlets on the ground floor and office space above, has received approval from the Plymouth Township planning commission. LeBlancs are the developers of that project - planned for the south side of Ann Arbor Road also.

The Selective Group has received tentative site plan approval for a 20,000 square foot shopping center on the south side of Ann Arbor Road, west of Tonquish Creek.

Michael Horitz of the Selective Group said the company has a small center of boutiques and specialty shops planned. "We would like to develop something similar to the Boardwalk in West Bloomfield," he said.

Horitz said they have not signed any tenants yet, but have verbal commitments from some. The yet-unnamed shopping center will accommodate seven or eight stores, Horitz said. He hopes to begin construction before the end of the year.

Next to the Selective Group's development, a tire store is planned. Belle Tire Distributors was given site plan approval by the planning commission for a store on the east side of Tonquish Creek, south side of Ann Arbor Road.

Some residents whose property backs up to the proposed tire store attended the planning commission meeting. They expressed concerns about adequate screening and buffering to shield their neighborhood from the sights and sounds of the tire store.

The planning commission and the representatives from Belle Tire assured the residents that adequate buffering would be provided.

Canton admin proposal debated

In a cover letter to the township board to go along with the Blue Ribbon Committee report, Poole recommended that the positions of clerk and treasurer be returned to part-time.

Although not a part of the original Blue Ribbon proposal, Poole said he was suggesting the move because the treasurer and clerk would be unaffected by the reduction in hours.

"The treasurer and clerk were part-time positions before," Poole said. "The only time the clerk's busy is during elections and the only time the treasurer's busy is during tax season. The clerk and treasurer would not be affected by a move to part-time."

Poole also said neither a supervisor nor a superintendent could pick up duties of the treasurer or clerk by law.

The issue of hiring a township supervisor has been previously examined by Canton trustees. Poole said he brought the idea before the 1980 Canton Board in August and again in November of that year. The recommendation was not acted upon at that time, Poole said, because he was not in office.

Poole and members of the Blue Ribbon Committee stressed the importance of clearly defining the duties of the supervisor and superintendent.

"The supervisor-superintendent move will not work unless the board writes down what the supervisor absolutely can and can't do," Poole said. "The board must be very clear and detailed in defining the functions of these positions."

Robin Koelbel, chairperson of the Blue Ribbon Committee said the duties of superintendent would be those duties not delegated to the township supervisor. The duties of the supervisor are outlined in a booklet published by the Michigan Township Association.

The booklet, "Authority and Responsibility of Michigan Township Officials, Boards and Commissions" lists some of the following duties as the responsibility of the supervisor until a superintendent is appointed to take them over:

- To see that all laws and township ordinances are enforced;
- To manage and supervise all public improvements, works and undertakings of the township;
- To manage and supervise the operation of all township utilities;
- To be a member, ex officio, of all committees of the township board;
- To prepare and administer the annual budget under policies formulated by the township board and keep said board fully advised at all times as to the financial condition and needs of the township;

- To recommend to the township board for adoption such measures as he may deem necessary or expedient;

- To assume all the duties and responsibilities as personnel director of all township employees or delegate such duties to some other officer or employee;

- To be responsible to the township board for the efficient administration of all departments of the township government.

Other duties outlined in the book include the creation of an annual township budget which must include proposed township expenditures and could outline past township expenditures.

Although the superintendent proposal was the primary issue discussed at the special meeting, members of the Blue Ribbon Committee also discussed other ideas presented in their proposal.

Long term budget planning and the formation of an economic development strategy were recommended by the committee. Such planning and strategies were seen by the committee as essential to Canton's future growth and increased revenue opportunities.

The committee also recommended in their report that overtime costs be more closely monitored.

"We have noticed an excessive amount of township overtime," the report said.

Accounting for employee sick time was also suggested by the committee.

Poole said advisory ballots and a vote by the people on the supervisor-superintendent change was essential.

"The board shouldn't take it upon themselves by the nature of their position to decide on this issue," Poole said. "The people should have their choice - the board shouldn't just appoint a superintendent period."

centered around the treasury budget submitted by Treasurer Maria Sterlini.

Several trustees expressed concern that the budget request from Sterlini was excessive. The treasurer requested an additional $107,000 in funding for 1984 over 1983.

"These are astronomical increases," Trustee Loren Bennett said. "I want to be presented with a realistic budget proposal. This represents a 40.3 per cent increase in your budget."

Sterlini told the board the budget reflected the fact that several part-time employes in the treasury department had not received raises in 1983. She also told the board that the submitted budget had changed.

"You no longer have to count Tribunal judgements and adjustments on the treasury budget," Sterlini said.

"I want you to give me a direction. My staff can't be cut so what would you like to see in my budget?" Sterlini asked the board.

"I'd like to know what it costs to run your department," Trustee Robert Padgett said. "We're paying you a compliment by telling you that you've run a reasonably efficient department. We'd like to give you the same amount of money and a little more to cover increases for 1984."

While Sterlini supported the proposal for a 2.0 mill general fund budget, Supervisor James Poole told the treasurer her budget presented the biggest problem to this proposal.

The board did not discuss the fire budget before passing its millage and only limited discussion of the police budget took place.

Finance Director Mike Gorman told the board a half mill of the proposed police millage is being levied toward the construction of the proposed new police facility. Gorman said the present police facility is totally inadequate for police use.

A two hour public hearing took place prior to board action on the budgets. While some residents supported an increased police millage, others spoke against it.

"I object to expenditures in the police department and expenditures in the township," Ken Underwood, a resident said. "You're driving us out of the township - expenses are too high. You're running away with yourselves," he added.

Another resident, Barbara Vaillancourt said police and fire protection were important to the community. "Chief Cox and the police department need more money," Vaillancourt said. "This is important to the welfare of all residents. I know what you (the board) are going through but an increased police budget will help Canton in the long run."

School employe salaries not settled

PCEA bargainers were led by Tom Cotner, who had resigned his position as chief negotiator on Aug. 29 following a no-strike vote by the PCEA membership. After teachers petitioned for his return to the PCEA helm, Cotner took over negotiating duties last Tuesday.

Cotner said last Friday's talks "Broke down almost immediately. We then petitioned to go to fact-finding, where both sides would present an analysis of the district situation in terms of what they are asking for."

Cotner described the process as "Almost like a court case. There could be proposals, questions - it depends on how the mediator handles it."

The PCEA originally asked for binding fact-finding, Cotner said. In that situation, a mediator's decision would settle the contract. However, school negotiators would not agree to binding fact-finding, Cotner said.

"So, the PCEA asked for expedited fact-finding," he said. "We got it, and are certified for it."

MERC will supply an arbitrator for the process. Cotner said MERC's choice for the job will probably be announced this week.

"The mediation process is over. Fact-finding is as far as we can go," Cotner said. "We're willing to take our chances. It's the best shot we can take."

Units representing aides, secretaries and custodial, cafeteria and transportation workers voted independently Saturday morning to walk out if a tentative contract agreement is not reached by Sept. 30.

Trav Griffin, UNISERV of Western Wayne County director, said Monday that bargaining units exclusive of the PCEA would not seek fact-finding.

"The issues are such that right now we will not seek fact-finding. We will make a salary counterproposal tomorrow (Tuesday)."

Griffin said a walkout should not affect the coalition. "The coalition document says that if a member is fired, other units will support it. And that is still in effect."

Wayne Appraisal slated to do Canton assessments

Tax gripes or assessment problems? Canton residents will now have a new agency to direct their concerns to.

The Canton Board of Trustees hired a professional assessment company to handle all township assessments for the next year Sept. 13.

The board voted six to one to allow Wayne County Appraisal Company to perform assessment and maintenance work for Canton. Treasurer Maria Sterlini voted against the proposal.

"This is a complete contract," said Mike Gorman, finance director for Canton. "It is not another total reassessment of the township. We have an option to renew the contract for an additional two years after the first year is up," he added.

Gorman said Wayne Appraisal will have a full-time staff member at township hall to answer all residential assessment questions. The company will maintain all existing assessment files and will follow up on work permits to make sure work has been done and assessed.

"At the end of the calendar year, Wayne Appraisal will assess the value of all properties in the township and will be responsible for the board of review," Gorman said. "They will run a start to finish operation."

Sterlini said she felt there were many alternatives and other considerations which were not considered by the board when the decision was made.

"I offered to set up an assessment system," Sterlini said. "I would oversee its organization. I know it would be illegal for me to take charge of assessing and the supervisor would still be in charge of the system - I just offered to oversee its operation."

"We've lost alot of tax revenue because of assessment inefficiency," Sterlini said. "Assessments are up because there has been no record management and nothing has been written down to verify assessments."

Sterlini said bids for the assessment job should have been taken by the township. She also said specifications on just what the assessment job should and would involve needed to be drafted. Through the interview process an assessment department should have been set up. The department would be coordinated closely with the treasurer's department, she added.

Gorman said he felt Wayne Appraisal would provide the most cost-effective assessment service the township could hire professionally.

"We did not go out for bids on this job because we had earlier voted to allow Wayne Appraisal to do all of our assessment work. At that time, we had gone out for bids from different companies," Gorman said.

Gorman said department coordination would not be a problem with an outside assessor. He added that the township should not establish an assessment department with township employees "because we don't want to create another governmental department which we may not need."

State Police testing new warning signs

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

It's pouring rain and the road up ahead is dark and slippery.

Suddenly, as you round a corner, a bright neon green sign pops out of the darkness. What are you supposed to do?

If all goes as planned, Northville State Police Officer Robert Garcia hopes you'll slow down for a police emergency and heed the warning the sign is giving you.

Garcia said the post is trying out a new emergency road sign for the scenes of accidents and fires along freeways and streets.

Unlike traditional traffic hazard signs, however, the new signs will be bright

'These signs are hard to miss.'

— Trooper Bob Garcia

green in color. They will also be used exclusively for police and rescue personnel emergencies.

"We found that many people have become oblivious to yellow warning signs," Garcia said. "They're so used to seeing a yellow sign by the side of the road, they don't bother to read what it says. A green sign is unusual and jumps out at you."

Garcia said the Northville State Police Post is the only police agency in the United States currently authorized to use the green portable signs. A Farmington Hills company, Traffic Masters, came up with the concept of the portable sign and took the concept to the Northville post.

Garcia said the state police went to the national highway safety office in Washington to gain special permission to use the signs on an experimental basis.

A three-month study is being conducted by the post to determine the effectiveness of the signs.

"Too many officers were getting hurt at the scenes of accidents because nobody was paying any attention to signs," Garcia said. "Many people miss flares which we put out and will run into the back end of the accident cars. These signs are reflective and hard to miss."

The signs, in addition to being an unusual color, are completely portable. Made of lightweight reflective nylon and aluminum, the signs can be assembled by police officers in less than 30 seconds. Arrows and other messages can be changed on them through the use of velcro strips.

"Each patrol car in our department will carry one of these signs," Garcia said. "We have already used them at the scene of many accidents and they have proven effective."

Garcia said this is the first innovative traffic safety device the police have used in years. Although he was unsure of the cost of the signs, he said every police department would have the signs if the green color were officially adopted as the national police emergency color.

TROOPER Bob Garcia shows why new portable hazard signs being tested by State Police from the Northville Post are easier to see than road flares. Garcia says the high-visibility signs can help reduce mishaps at accident scenes. (Crier photo by Cheryl Eberwein)

Court decision could take 6 years

Suit has a number of possible determinations

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third part of a three-part series on the one per cent collection fee the City of Plymouth charges on non-city taxes it collects. This installment deals with the future and possible outcomes of a lawsuit filed over the fee.

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

Six years in the making, the one per cent collection fee suit could be another six years in the determining.

City attorneys, city officials and plaintiff attorneys can only speculate on the eventual outcome of the case, but a number of possible scenarios exist.

First, Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Alice Gilbert could decide to reverse her original decision that the one per cent collection fee (levied by the city on all school and county taxes) is constitutional or her decision that all the taxpayers are in the "class" to receive relief.

Gilbert's decision could be overturned by a higher court. Eventually, the lawyers say, a higher court will have to tackle the differences between the Oakland and Wayne circuit court decisions - two judges looking at substantially the same situations made different decisions. A higher court will have to decide which is the law of the land.

In any event, a reversal will mean that everyone will go home - out only the money for their attorney fees.

The City of Plymouth could decide to settle out of court, similar to Taylor. Assistant City Attorney Ron Lowe said that possibility is unlikely unless the make up and attitude of the city commission is changed substantially. "The attitude of the commission has always been to follow it through, they have reaffirmed that everytime they are given possible course of action," Lowe said.

"Also, the city of Taylor settled for 10 per cent (of their potential liability) and all of it went to pay the plaintiff's lawyers - not one penny will go back to the taxpayers of Taylor. That doesn't sit right with me," Lowe said.

If Gilbert decides that a rebate to all property owners since 1974 is required, Lowe and Graper say they believe the court would have to issue a bond. The City would get the money to pay the rebates and finance the administrative costs and then would have to pay it back over a period of years.

Graper and Lowe say a bond is about the only feasible way the city could finance a payback.

But Bernard W. Klein, and economist brought in by the plaintiffs, has suggested these ways that the city could finance a refund.

- A state law authorizes a municipality to impose an income tax upon all of its residents (not just property owners) as well as certain designated non-residents.

- Increase the rebates which can be obtained from the state-shared revenues generated by income and sales taxes and license fees provided that the cities aggressively pursue this relief.

- Subsidization of municipal activities, such as the subsidies obtained for the Detroit Institute of Art, public library and Historical Institute and the Pontiac Silverdome.

- State authorization for new taxation such as hotel, entertainment, telephone, and public utility taxes may be obtainable, he said.

- If the cities pursued more aggressive collection practices (i.e. the collection of traffic fees) that would generate additional revenues.

Another possibility which has been raised by the plaintiff attorney is that the "administrative fee" currently charged by the City of Plymouth and others is unconstitutional as well.

The state legislature last year passed a law allowing the "administrative fee" of up to one per cent. All parties agree that the "administrative fee" is just another name for the one per cent collection fee - and many believe that law could be declared unconstitutional as well, leaving the city with six more years of liability.

"The whole thing is certainly not going to be decided tomorrow," Lowe said. "With appeals and all, if we ever have to issue a rebate it won't be for years. There's a lot of work left to be done on this issue."

Academy gets new pre-school leadership

Beth King has been named Director of the Plymouth Christian Academy Preschool Program.

She holds a bachelor of science degree from Michigan State in early childhood development and has a Michigan elementary teaching certificate with an early childhood endorsement.

Her experience includes teaching first grade, co-op nursery work, daycare center and a five-year-old Sunday school class.

"My aim is to encourage a positive social and school atmosphere. Large motor, small muscle and perceptual activities will be developed for the children around themes of interest for youngsters," she said.

King lives in Westland with her husband, Paul. She plans to continue her education at Oakland University in the area of reading.

Assisting King will be Mrs. Lois Haarer in the three and four-year-old programs. A limited number of three and four year old openings are available for September at the school, located at 43065 Joy Road. Inquires on the preschool program may call 459-3505.

VFW wants members

The Mayflower Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has extended a special invitation to all veterans of overseas conflicts to join the club.

"Join your fellow comrades of more than 1.9 million (nationally) who know the horrors of war and have joined together towards a common cause - maximum defense of our country," said Mayflower post adjutant Archie C. Bunch.

VFW members also have a common goal of protecting veterans benefits which veterans have rightly earned.

"As a VFW member, you will be kept informed on all matters pertaining to your status as a veteran," Bunch said.

The post adjutant said no distinctions between wars are made. "Over 500,000 Vietnam veterans have joined our ranks as members. We are all fighting to preserve the rights of all veterans," he said.

P-C schools will crack down on substance abuse

The Plymouth-Canton Community Schools are toughening their stance on substance abuse at the middle school level.

A new substance abuse policy, formulated last spring and adopted by the Board of Education this summer, deals with possession, use, sale and distribution of illicit drugs.

Offenders caught abusing drugs in school the first time will be suspended, required to participate in a middle school intervention program for the student and parents and-or be subject to police involvement.

The second offense for use calls for a five-day suspension as well as further involvement with the student, parents and police. A second offense for sale or third offense for use will result in a Board of Education decision on student expulsion from school.

The intervention program is designed to help educate parents about chemical dependency. It will also help develop more positive working relationships among students, parents and the schools.

These guys helped get my motor running

Saxton's Garden Center will soon be celebrating its 55th anniversary in The Community. I'm usually loathe to plug any particular business, but Saxton's is special to me.

I got my start in combustion engine mechanics because of Saxton's.

Early in my reckless youth I was searching for a sure-fire source of spending money when my dad mentioned doing lawn jobs. Not the modern type of lawn job done late at night with skidding car tires, but rather the old-fashioned kind done with a mower.

The problem was getting my own mower. Dad's suggestion did not include free equipment rental.

The problem was half solved some weeks later when the piston of my dad's Lawn Boy came unexpectedly through the engine block halfway through an old-fashioned lawn job.

My dad said I could have the machine if I could fix it.

Nobody but nobody had parts for that geriatric Lawn Boy. Then my dad and I went to Saxton's. They not only had the parts, but a service manual as well. It was a little like Christmas in July.

In a few days I rebuilt the Lawn Boy engine, with tremendous assistance from my dad and the folks at Saxton's. Half the battle was having somebody to complain to when I screwed things up.

After my Lawn Boy (although my dad paid for everything, he still gave me the mower) was put back together, I lined up quite a few lawn jobs (the old-fashioned kind) around the neighborhood.

That took care of my search for pocket money, until I got greedy and acquired a newspaper route. But that's another story.

Earlier this summer I remembered the lawn mower rebuilding job as I worked on another engine - the one removed from my pickup truck. With hundreds of parts scattered all over my dad's garage floor, I kept telling myself the job would work out just as the Lawn Boy rebuild had.

Amazing how I bluffed myself out of panic. The truck engine eventually went back together and fired up just as easily as the Lawn Boy did.

I still have my old Lawn Boy, and it works fine. I still have my old pickup truck, and it works fine, too. Engines don't seem to scare me so much any more.

Thanks, Saxton's.

Bigger classes...less achievement

EDITOR:

I think it's important in this season of school employe salary increase debates and school budget discussions to say something about class size. My English class sizes at Canton High School have in some cases doubled in the last 11 years. Of course the bigger my classes the more work I take home and the fewer students I get to interact with on a one to one basis. In writing classes this is especially bad; evidence shows that writing students fall in achievement when the writing teacher has more than 100 students per day (National Council of Teachers of English). I now have 160 students per day.

The way class size is treated in this district reminds me of the Emperor's New Clothes: the people in charge think they have something nice going on when really they have little idea of the real consequences of their actions. Certainly the one thing they do know is that there is a lot of money in class size manipulation. If you give each teacher at CEP, for example, one more student per day you can eliminate one teacher (saving upwards of $30,000 in some cases). If you give each teacher at CEP just one more student per hour you can eliminate up to five teachers! So the people who get paid a lot of money to "save" money have found this an irresistible source. Of course teachers and students are the least powerful members of the institution so little is done to prevent this from happening.

Actually increasing class size has been like a blank check to the Board and Administration. They think they've saved money with impunity but actually they've contributed, in my opinion, to the decline of excellence in education; then they join the cry of "teacher mediocrity" as though they've played no role in producing some of the legitimate criticisms of education. Interestingly, in 11 years I've never seen a curriculum administrator in my room (except for my immediate supervisors) to investigate the consequences of increased class size and we have three highly paid ones in Central Administration.

So the Board continues to reduce the school millage, funded in part by increasing class size, and continues to budget no increases for its employes, and doesn't realize that they're standing in their underwear.

Keep taxes and busing up

EDITOR:

Recently the Board of Education reduced the school tax by one mill. At nearly the same time, we residents of Plymouth Estates and Rocker subdivisions learned that our East Middle School students would be required to walk to school. Every morning a Plymouth-Canton school bus stops in both subdivisions at the proper time and then stops at East Middle School, but it is for parochial students only - our children are not allowed on it.

Instead, they must walk along Lilley Road and Main Street and cross Ann Arbor Road. (Lilley and Main have no sidewalks.) And during most of the winter, they will be required to do this in the dark.

In my opinion, both intersections are unsafe as a school crossing. Ann Arbor Road is a five lane highway with traffic comparable to I-275. Right turns are allowed on red lights. At Main Street, there are left turn lights and at Ann Arbor Road there is a fire station a few feet from the intersection. In previous years, we have been told that it was unsafe for our children to walk by the Chrysler dealer, Stroh's Brewery and the school bus yard. All of these places have traffic early in the morning. Suddenly, like magic, it is now safe for our children to walk by all these places.

Instead of reducing the millage, they could have continued busing our students, at least until a cross-walk bridge is built.

Booze for Cultural Center a city mistake

EDITOR:

I read the opinion of Dr. William M. Stahl in your Aug. 31, 1983 paper. I am 13 years old and go to the Plymouth Cultural Center for activities. To bring a bar in the center to me would be a wrong choice. I don't feel like hanging around drunk people as I walk to and from the center. If they want to drink they should go somewhere else where kids my age are not.

I do hope this city will absolutely reconsider the liquor license.

Stop the fatal accident toll!

Certain stories have been appearing in The Crier with alarming regularity this year. The stories deal with fatal car accidents occurring in Canton.

That type of story has been printed 10 times since New Year's Day, usually with a photograph to accompany it. It is not the type of story most people want to read, not the type of photograph people want to see.

Canton police, rescue and hospital workers deal with the real thing. Families and friends of victims have to live with the aftermath.

Unfortunately, there is no real pattern to the accidents. Canton's 1983 Fatal Accident Listings reads:

- Jan. 27, Ford east of Lilley, one fatality, two vehicles, two-car collision.
- Feb. 5, Warren east of Lilley, one fatality, one vehicle, utility pole struck.
- Mar. 14, Ford at I-275 overpass, one fatality, two vehicles, one car-one truck collision.
- Apr. 19, Cherry Hill east of Robyn, one fatality, one car, utility pole struck.
- Apr. 24, Warren west of Haggerty, one fatality, one vehicle, utility pole struck.
- July 8, Mott Rd., one fatality, one vehicle, pedestrian riding child's toy struck.
- Aug. 2, Creekview Rd., one fatality, one vehicle, pedestrian riding child's toy struck.
- Aug. 17, Michigan east of Lilley, one fatality, one vehicle, parked vehicle struck.
- Ridge south of Ford, two fatalities, one vehicle, tree and creek ditch struck.
- Ford west of Canton Center, one fatality, one vehicle, creek ditch struck.

Eight of the ten accidents involved one vehicle; in more than half, alcohol was ruled a contributing factor.

Preventative measures have often been repeated - don't drink and drive, pay attention to the road, drive defensively, look out for the other guy and wear seatbelts.

But had more people remembered them and observed them, there would have been a lot fewer fatal accidents in Canton, and elsewhere.

Budgets which never were but may have been

The Canton Board of Trustees underwent the strenuous task of creating a budget for 1984 last week. The unpleasantness associated with this job are innumerable.

The board was skilled in slashing line items here, allowing some leeway there. They made the work seem, well, somehow more simple than it should have been.

For those of you unaware, however, the trustees actually did a little budget slashing before their Sept. 13 session. The following "Budgets-which-never-were-but-should-have-been line items" were stricken from the pages of the financial report before the public saw them and could comment upon their necessity.

ITEM: $1,500 - stage make-up to enhance the appearance of board members while on the Omnicom cameras.

ITEM: $700 - memory recall course for the personnel director to aid what seems a temporary lapse of memory every time the treasurer asks him a question.

From the Inside Looking Out

By Cheryl Elserwein

ITEM: $300 - foam insulation so Trustee Carol Bodenmiller's suit of armor makes less noise during board sessions.

ITEM: $8,000 - airline ticket to send the treasurer back to Greece as a permanent township delegate.

ITEM: $1.98 - 3-minute egg timer marked "Zoning ordinance presentations - one proposal per turn" for the planning director.

ITEM: $800 - inflatable smiling dolls in the likenesses of Chiefs Cox and Paulun so they don't have to attend board meetings and feign interest.

ITEM: $10,000 - State department bribe to now put Canton on the front of the map as well.

ITEM: $500,000 - funding for future project feasibility studies to determine how feasible future project feasibility studies are.

ITEM: $5,000 - audition for the supervisor in a John Wayne re-make.

ITEM: $7.98 - cassette version of "No More Mr. Nice Guy" for Trustee Loren Bennett.

ITEM: $475 - several copies of the "Everything you always wanted to know about the treasury department but never bothered to ask" blank book.

ITEM: $6,000 - a herd of goats and sheep to take care of fire department lawn maintenance.

ITEM: $200 - entry fee for a Haggerty Road write-up in "Guinness Book of World Records."

ITEM: $400 - course in direct communications for Trustee Steve Larson to solve his "I don't have a problem with this - except that..." syndrome.

ITEM: $7,800 - room fees at the motel overlooking the Wayne County Road Commission office.

ITEM: $3,000 - stereo sound system installation to play "Limbo" in the meeting room for people manuvering around Omnicom cameras.

ITEM: $73 - engraved nameplate reading "Robert Edsel Padget - has a better idea".

ITEM: $3,500 - 3-D glasses so trustees can read between the lines of the various township proposals.

ITEM: $70 - hammock for the clerk so he won't tip over in his chair during township meetings.

ITEM: $1,500 - one-arm-bandit for groups soliciting township funds.

This tongue-in-cheek scenario should prove, beyond all reasonable doubt, the Canton Board is truly interested in saving the taxpayers a little money.

'Little House' is big on special education materials

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

Everybody calls it the Little House on the Prairie, or just the Little House for short. But the importance of this structure to hundreds of teachers and parents throughout the Plymouth-Canton School District is nothing less than huge.

The Little House is a special education instructional materials center for the Plymouth-Canton School District. Housed inside the two-trailer unit which sits next to Salem High School are over 5,000 books, games, instructional tools, films and tapes. The materials are available to teachers and parents of special education students and help them to better educate and deal with special education teaching.

Edwin Page, executive director of special programs and student services for the district, said the Little House was actually established seven years ago with funding from a federal grant.

"At that time we received a grant to develop strategies for mainstreaming special education students in the middle schools into the main school system," Page said. "One of the things the Plymouth-Canton Schools did with this money, was develop a model resource room project. Little House came out of this project."

Page said materials collected for Little House were originally geared only to intermediate special education kids. Now the center has materials to help teachers develop curriculum for students of all ages. Page said although fund money for the center ran out two years ago, the Board of Education has now written Little House into the annual school budget.

Mary Robb, media specialist at the Little House, is the dynamo behind its operation. Robb and Center secretary May Smith circulate the facility's books and kits annually to over 500 teachers in Plymouth-Canton schools. Parents with special education students have also used the materials in Little House.

"Circulating and coordinating materials throughout the district is the most important role this center plays," Robb said. "I offer both a phone and walk-in service so materials are always available for use."

Robb said teachers and parents can call her with special instructional requests. Usually the teacher is looking for materials to go along with a particular unit of study and she can find such materials.

"I'll pack a box with materials I think the instructor can use and send it back," Robb said. "I include notes on how to use the kits, coordinate units of study with center materials and correlate instructional plans with what the Center can offer chapter by chapter."

Robb said she also works closely with the Wayne County Intermediate School District Special Education Library. Materials the Center doesn't have can usually be located in this library. By searching for these materials herself, Robb saves educators time and keeps herself abreast of the latest special education materials available to professionals.

"I provide people with a place to go with questions. I help them locate answers to these questions," Robb said. "This is a unique program in the state. I know of no other school district which has its own local special education materials center."

Although the Little House's budget has been cut by the Board of Education in the past two years, Robb said she will continue to make material purchases to upgrade the center. She said circulation of the center's materials helps teachers to avoid unnecessary duplicate purchases on their own.

"The Little House has tested sample text books and program materials for companies and then been given these materials to keep," Robb said. "It also receives donations from teachers throughout the district who find old kits and books they aren't using any longer."

"We have tapes of text books available for students with reading disabilities," Robb continued "and also have films and computer programs circulating throughout the district. We also offer inservice workshops for educators. In a little way we're able to coordinate what's going on out there between school buildings and teachers."

Teaching is only half the fun

Explaining journalism to an elementary class is one thing, a high school class is something else, but teaching a college class is a whole new ball game.

Last week I filled in for a friend who is teaching a journalism class at Oakland Community College. Since I've never taught a college class, it was a new experience for me.

If the idea of teaching sounded fun, I just didn't realize how much fun I was going to have -- trying to get to the class.

I dashed out of work, and despite a train, managed to get to the campus on time. However, I had forgotten how hard it was to find a parking place on a college campus. After driving all over the place, I finally ended up at the far end of the parking lot, in a no parking area. What else could I do?

Of course it was raining as I ran from one building to another trying to find out where I was supposed to be. With the help of some friendly people, I finally found the right place. The next problem was trying to figure out which room I was supposed to be in. Again I received some assistance, and finally arrived in class 10 minutes late.

At that point, I decided the best way to start class was to remind the students how important it was to be on time for assignments. I couldn't help wondering what their first impressions of me were, as I stood there wind-blown, wet and out of breath.

The next three hours went by quickly and before I knew it class was over. All I had to do then was retrace my steps to my car. Whoever drew up the plans for the sidewalks on that campus must have been a maze freak.

After walking in kind of the right direction, I finally spotted the parking lot. Since I couldn't find a sidewalk leading in that direction, I simply walked across the grass and mud.

As I walked out onto the lighted parking lot, I noticed the campus police sitting in a car not far from me. I walked across the lot toward the no parking sign, that just happened to be posted in front of my car, knowing the evening wasn't over yet.

To my surprise, the police drove up behind me, then took off in another direction. Wow, what luck.

As I told the class, begining journalism is simply a matter of common sense -- whatever that is.

Albion College recently announced the names of students who have been selected to serve as resident assistants and assistant residence coordinators for the 1983-84 academic year. Local students are:

Mike Papenfuse, son of Ralph Papenfuse and Maralyn Papenfuse of Westminster in Canton. A 1982 graduate of Salem High School, he is an RA in Wesley Hall. He is a sophomore.

Sue Evans, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Evans of Evergreen in Plymouth. She is a senior. A 1980 graduate of Salem High School, Evans is ARC for Whitehouse Hall.

Twp church finds its home

After three years of worship services held in Callimore Elementary School, the Canton Free Methodist Church has moved to a permanent sanctuary.

The new home for the Canton Free Methodists is at 44815 Cherry Hill Rd. The building formerly belonged to the Maranatha Baptist Church.

"We Have This Ministry" was the theme of Pastor C. Harold Weiman's opening sermon. Soprano soloist Diane Glass and pianist Phyllis Westveer provided special music for the service.

After the inaugural service, 148 worshipers enjoyed a fellowship hour which included finger sandwiches, cookies, punch and coffee.

The new church's program already offers Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., Sunday worship services at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. and mid-week family night program on Wednesdays at 7 p.m.

Same church, different name!

Christ Community Church is the new name chosen for the Reformed Church in American congregation worshipping in Canton.

Previously the church was called People's Church. The new name was selected to indicate that the church is both Christ centered and open to everyone in the community, church officials said.

The congregation continues to be a part of the Reformed Church in America, the oldest Protestant denomination in American with a continuous ministry since 1628.

The congregation owns property on Ford Road just west of Canton Center Road in Canton. Plans are being drawn up for a church building to be erected on this site. Meanwhile, the congregation continues to use the facilities of Canton High School for worship and Sunday School.

Worship services are held each Sunday at 10 a.m. The Rev. Harvey Heneveld is the pastor. The church office is located at 153 Corinne, Canton. 981-0499.

Saxton's Center celebrates 55 growing years!

One of Plymouth's oldest continuously-operating businesses is about to have a birthday.

Saxton's Garden Center will celebrate 55 years in The Community on Sept. 26.

Dean F. Saxton left Ford Motor Company to strike out on his own with a feed store in Northville in 1928. Son Bill recalls his dad had to grow a moustache to look old enough to run his own store.

The business expanded to Plymouth in 1934. The location was at the site of the Mayflower Meeting House; the Saxtons then bought and moved into the old Jewell and Blake building, their present location, in 1937.

The Plymouth Feed Store, as it was originally called, carried farming staples such as feed, salt and straw. After World War II, the store branched into gardening equipment. Later, Saxton's began selling power equipment.

Saxton's still carries feed, salt and straw; gardening supplies; and one of the largest inventories of power equipment in the state.

Although the Northville store and a Redford store have both closed, Saxton's growth in Plymouth has allowed the company to increase its retail space and build a warehouse. There are also plans for further expansion.

"When dad started he never dreamed we'd sell 650 lawn mowers in one year," Bill Saxton says.

The company's success is due in a large part to the dedication of the people that operate Saxton's. Right now, the staff includes Bill and his wife, three of their sons, a daughter, daughter-in-law and long-time employes Harlan and Gordon Smith.

Dean Saxton, 86, is now a resident of Del Ray, Florida. He still finds time to maintain his more than 40-year perfect attendance in Kiwanis chapters in Del Ray and Plymouth. He has also been involved in the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, American Legion and VFW.

And Bill says his dad still keeps a hand in the family business. Especially on birthdays.

Plymouth engineer to head HFM board

Dave Meuleman, metallurgical engineer with National Steel in Livonia and Plymouth resident, was recently elected president of the Hemophilia Foundation of Michigan's Board of Trustees.

Meuleman has also been named chairperson of HFM's camp committee.

HFM, a United Way Agency, is a statewide organization based in Ann Arbor. The foundation provides information and referral regarding medical and dental care for individuals with hemophilia or related blood disorders.

Hemophilia is a hereditary blood clotting disorder which affects males almost exclusively. Contrary to the common conception, people with hemophilia do not bleed to death from minor external wounds.

Koch helps ASPA

Canton's Douglass Koch has been appointed the 1983 representative of District 5 for the American Society of Personnel Administration (ASPA).

District 5, which Koch will represent, includes Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties.

ASPA is an organization of over 32,000 professionals dedicated to the advancement of human resource management.

The major problem is uncontrolled internal bleeding into muscles and joints which can begin spontaneously without apparent cause.

Although there are effective controls, there is no cure for hemophilia.

Any individual who has hemophilia or any related blood disorder, is eligible for HFM services, including individual and family counseling.

HFM also sponsors a residential summer camp for children with the disease. For further information, contact the foundation a 1-800-482-3041.

Bulk food a Meijer treat

Meijer, Inc. is going with the bulk.

In what is the latest addition to the consumer goods selection at the Meijer Thrifty Acres store on Ford Road, residents can now purchase food in bulk.

"This will be a self-service department where customers may choose the quantity of products they desire," said Bob Jager, the Canton store's director.

Jager said a bag or container will be weighed by a clerk and affixed with a scannable price label for easy checkout at the front of the store.

Meijer bulk food will carry 124 products such as baking items like cake and brownie mixes, spices, coffee beans, soups, jams, snacks, natural items, beans, pasta, cheese, candy, nuts and pet food.

"We want customers to make purchases of many items in the quantities they would like," said Jager. "These items compare to national brands in quality but are priced lower."

Bin outgrows building

Ronnie Sebeck didn't exactly leap into the world of business when she opened the Accent Bin five years ago on North Mill Street in Old Village.

The former public relations representative for a New York firm said she started small because she wasn't sure how the business venture would pan out.

However, it wasn't long before she moved to another spot on North Mill and now she's moved again - downtown to a location on Ann Arbor Trail.

"As the business grew, so did we," Sebeck noted.

Sebeck sells nic-nacs and other small items for the home.

Ardelean lends Academy some new leadership

Paul Ardelean has been named assistant administrator for the Plymouth Christian Academy.

He will focus on future development of the academy, and will head up business management for the school.

Ardelean's experience includes 3 and one-half years as headmaster of the American School in Brazilia, stints as a science teacher and assistant administrator, and two years as director of the Brazil branch of Wycliff Bible Translators.

He holds a Bachelors Degree from the University of Michigan and a Masters Degree from Eastern Michigan University.

He has been actively involved in the Association for the Advancement of International Education, and has served as vice president of the board of directors of the U.S. Information Agency Bi-National Center in Brazilia.

Ardelean and his wife, Jane, live in Westland. They have three children.

Hertz is back again!

Oscar Hertz's note to The Crier was brief. "Too young to retire!"

Oscar Hertz, late of Plymouth Furniture, is back. He and daughter Karen Hertz-Winshall comprise Oscar Hertz Interiors. They're bringing a time-tested idea to this area for the first time -- catalog selling.

"Because we don't have a store and its overhead, we can give discounts across-the-board," explains Oscar. "We can offer from 30 to 40 per cent off on factory fresh furniture by many famous manufacturers. And we've got services along with that, including delivery and a decorator service."

Hertz has been in the furniture business for more than 35 years, and he knows The Plymouth-Canton Community. Oscar Hertz Interiors isn't interested in getting really large.

"We have all that stores have, but with the added discount," says Karen. "Basically, people know what they want."

Oscar Hertz Interiors has no set business hours; it's always open. Personal consultation is a hallmark of the firm.

'Homearama' hosts city builders

The Professional Home Builders Group, Inc. of Plymouth is full of great housing ideas.

And they'll share these ideas with the rest of the state when they participate in "Homearama, 84".

"Homearama 84", sponsored by the Builders Association of Southeast

Michigan is a show designed to highlight what is innovative in the home building field. The show will run Oct. 1 through 6 from 5 to 11 p.m. on weekdays and 1 to 11 p.m. on weekends in the Fox Hall subdivision in Troy.

Hendry serves statewide

The Board of Directors of the Independent Business Association of Michigan (IBA) has some new Plymouth input.

John Hendry, administrator of Hendry Convalescent Home in Plymouth has been elected to serve a year term on the Associate Board for 1983 and 1984.

Hendry was chosen to serve by IBA members at a membership meeting in Grand Rapids. He has previously served as a member of the Michigan Delegation to the 1979 White House Conference on Small Business and as a member of the Detroit Delegation to the 1981 Michigan Conference on Small Business.

"John has consistently taken an active and leading role on behalf of Michigan small business," said John Galles, IBA executive director. "He will continue to provide an important contribution in IBA's efforts to preserve and enrich the state of small business in Michigan."

John runs bikes

Cynthia John has children and bicycles on her mind these days.

The Plymouth manager of McDonalds has agreed to chair the St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-thon in Plymouth.

St. Jude's is dedicated to seeking the causes, cures and preventions for children's diseases. Funds from the Plymouth event will help support this cause.

Mall gets new direction

Although Four Season's Mall seems to be harboring fewer tenants these days, Bruce Case and Rodney Sabourin hope they have solved the problem.

The pair, representatives of Colonial Realty, announced they have negotiated a management agreement with Schostak Management Company. The agreement became effective Sept. 1.

Schostak now manages, markets and acts as a leasing agent for Four Seasons's Square. They are responsible for all day to day operations in the mall.

Schostak is the largest management getting down

firm of its type in Michigan. They manage several malls and regional malls and also work in the food marketing area.

Hilton names Kuhn new G.M.

John Kuhn is the new general manager of the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

For nearly three years, he has served with Motor Hotel Management, Inc., which operates nearly 50 hotels nationwide. Kuhn was general manager of Rodeway Inns in St. Louis, MO and Bloomington, MN.

Before his work with Motor Hotel Management, Kuhn was employed by Hilton Hotels, Inc. in California.

His career actually started in the kitchen, as a purchasing agent for a company operating in the northeast states. He also operated his own restaurant in California.

Plans for the Plymouth Hilton Inn don't include any major changes, but Kuhn says, "We want to add van service to the airport, and upgrade the rooms and banquet facilities. We'll also become more active in the community. After all, we are the community's property."

Coates to manage Authur Andersen

Larry L. Coates is full of valuable information.

It was this information which brought the Plymouth resident a new position as manager of Authur Andersen and Company.

The management information consulting firm is located in Detroit. It is an international public accounting agency with over 167 offices in 45 countries of the world.

Coates joined the firm in May of 1978. He received his bachelors degree in industrial and operational engineering from the University of Michigan. He received his M.B.A. from Northwestern University.

Hartwig questions official record of investigation

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last part of a series on an interview with Ronald Hartwig, who was convicted of the death of Stacey Hurrelbrink in 1980.

BY DAN BODENE
AND RACHAEL DOLSON

Ronald Hartwig, awaiting retrial on charges he murdered Stacey Hurrelbrink in Plymouth two years ago, wants several questions answered.

In an interview nearly three weeks ago at the Huron Valley Men's Facility, he told Crier reporters there were inaccuracies in the record of his first trial.

Hartwig says a key issue in the case is the estimated time of Hurrelbrink's death the night of Aug. 22-23, 1980. He says the span of time estimated by the Wayne County Medical Examiner's Office in which Hurrelbrink was killed was incorrectly listed in the trial record.

Hartwig asks why that record was wrong.

Hartwig says another key issue is "newly discovered" witnesses. Hartwig says witnesses now considered by authorities as newly discovered were in fact known to the police and prosecutor at the time of his first trial.

Hartwig asks why those witnesses were never before called to testify.

Police contend that Hartwig confessed to the murder. Hartwig says the "confession" is a fake - it was never tape recorded, and no record of it exists.

Hartwig asks why police didn't substantiate the alleged confession.

Finally, Hartwig says many of his past troubles have been caused, not helped, by police. He says he has been treated unfairly by police numerous times.

Hartwig asks why he should cooperate with any police investigation.

Hartwig is scheduled to come to trial again on Oct. 4 in Circuit Court, under Judge Charles Kaufman.

Omnicom to air legislative debate

A "Legislative Floor Debate" will be held live on Omnicom Cablevision's Channel 15 at 7 p.m., Monday, Sept. 26.

State Senator Robert Geake and State Representatives Gerry Law and Ed Mahalak, all of whom represent The Plymouth-Canton Community, will answer questions phoned in by viewers.

Receive a red notice?

Pay the water bill!

Many city residences and businesses received an ominous red tag last week, sent from the city Water and Sewer Department.

The tags were water service shutoff notices, and they're being issued so the city isn't left holding the bag on overdue water bills any more.

City manager Henry Graper says Plymouth was losing out on tens of thousands of dollars in water revenues because of scofflaws.

"We bill quarterly for water," Graper says. "If a business gets behind, for example, they can get into our pocket pretty deep."

Graper says the red tags were sent to everyone with an overdue bill, be they homeowner or community business or industry.

Canton comeback falls short

Salem tops Canton in big game

BY TIM MCKERCHER

It was a game that didn't need any hyping.

Both Canton and Salem had been preparing all week for what may have been the most exciting game of the year.

Canton, coming off a tough loss to Livonia Bentley, played Salem, who pulled off a close victory over North Farmington last week. The two teams met at the Centennial Educational Park football field last Friday.

The result was a closely played, emotional game ending in the Rocks' second win of the year, 13-7.

Jody Spitz lead the Chiefs' offense. Rod Boyd and Rodney Williams were in the backfield for Canton.

The Chiefs faced the same problem this week as they did last week against Bentley. They were able to move the ball into Rock territory but could not punch it in for a score.

Marc Tindall lead the Salem wishbone offense with Ken Harmon and Scott Jurek as his principal running backs.

Both teams played a close first quarter but Salem loosened things up with 4:35 left to play in the first quarter. Tindall connected with Craig Morten on the Chiefs 20 yard line.

Canton's defense held the Rock attack for a few plays but finally broke as Harmon carried the ball over the goal line for the first score of the game.

The extra point was good and Salem took a 7-0 lead.

The Salem defense was successful in shutting down the Canton option which was successful against Bentley.

Salem held the ball at midfield as Tindall came out to lead his troops. An option play to the right side of Canton's defensive line moved the ball to the Chiefs 33 yard line. On the next play Tindall broke for 28 yards down to the Canton five yard line.

The Chief defense, lead by seniors Dave Szary and Jim Burczyk, shut down Salem for two plays but finally gave up the touchdown as Jurek plowed four yards for the second Rock score.

The extra point was blocked and Salem lead 13-0.

Canton didn't lose its spirit. Boyd found holes up the middle of Salem's defense and moved the ball into the Rocks' territory. With the ball on Salem's 37 yard line, Spitz connected on a 19 yard pass to tight end Jim Kaske.

Spitz used the power running of Williams and Boyd to move the ball down to Salem's one yard line. On the next play Spitz kept the ball himself on an option to the right side for the Chiefs only touchdown.

In the third quarter Boyd was successful again against the Rock defense and Canton had the ball on Salem's 29 yard line.

Spitz dropped back to pass and was intercepted by Jurek. Salem stopped another drive later in the game when Jeff Arnold came up with a finger tip interception.

The game remained close throughout the fourth quarter. Salem played strong defense and shut down Canton's drives.

Canton came up with a big play just when the game looked over.

They had failed to move the ball and were forced to punt. Kaske's kick sailed to the Rock 45 yard line and Morten recieved for the Rocks. Good special teams coverage by the Chiefs forced a fumble and Canton recovered the ball.

With 38 seconds left on the clock Canton had a first and ten on the 45 yard line.

On the first two plays Spitz tried to connect with split end Dave Knapp but was unsuccessful. On third down Spitz rolled to his left looking downfield. The Salem defense pressured and hit Spitz on the 40 yard line. He fumbled the ball but pulled it in to save Canton's chances.

Facing a fourth and four with 25 seconds left Spitz threw to the endzone but the ball and Canton's hopes for a victory were knocked down by Tindall.

Final score Salem, 13, Canton, 7.

Compuware takes third in tourney

BY TIM MCKERCHER

49 teams from around the country gathered in Austin, Minnesota on Labor Day weekend for the American Softball Association (ASA) 1983 National Men's Modified Fast Pitch Tournament.

Plymouth was represented by the Compuware Softball Team which came very close to being the best in the nation. After four consecutive victories the Plymouth team faced the eventual national champs, Silvestri's from Staten Island, New York.

Trailing by two runs in the seventh inning Compuware came back to tie the score at 3-3. In the bottom of the eighth inning the New York team hit a dramatic home run to give Compuware their first loss of the tournament.

Compuware continued with their winning ways for two more games. Then they faced Rotos from Massachusetts and used another thrilling come-back to beat the Massachusetts team 5-1. They held tough and refused to give up a run when Rotos loaded the bases in the bottom of the seventh inning with only one out. After their fine defensive showing they came out fired up and scored four runs in the top of the eighth.

The Plymouth team had yet another tough game against Mt. Hope Inn from New Jersey. The lead changed hands four times in the game before Compuware pulled out another extra innings win 10-9.

In the semi-finals the Plymouth team couldn't pull it out losing 10-0 to Stafford Tire of New Jersey.

The championship game pitted the two teams that beat Plymouth, Stafford Tire and Silvestri's. The New York team prevailed to win the championship 8-0.

It was their third championship since the ASA started sponsoring the tournament in 1975.

Compuware's final record for the tournament was 6-2.

Al White, a pitcher for Compuware, pitched a no-hitter against a team from Louisiana. His final record was 5-1, Curtis Richards was 1-1.

Dave Brubaker (catcher), Rick Dreher (outfield), Jim Lawson (shortstop), Richards (at second base), and White (at pitcher), were all named to the all-tournament team.

The team is sponsored by Compuware Corporation of Southfield and is managed by Tim Hawkins.

Chief golfers 2-1 in WLAA tourneys

BY BOB BUDLONG

Despite owning a record of only 2-3, the Canton men's golf team is still in the running for a divisional title.

That's because both of their wins, and only one loss have been against Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) competition.

The Chiefs opened the season with a pair of tough losses.

In the opener, played against divisional foe Livonia Churchill, Canton fell by a score of 212-218. Pete Mormon with a 41, and Eric Popp with a 42 over nine holes were the low scorers for the Chiefs.

Canton then traveled to Thurston for a non-league contest, and came out on the wrong end of a 206-211 score.

This time it was Popp with the best round for the Chiefs. He came up with a 37. Dave Musch also contributed with a 40.

The Chiefs finally registered their first win of the 1983 season on Sept. 12 against league foe Livonia Bentley. The final score was 211-224.

Popp once again led the Chiefs, again posting a 37 in this game. Musch chipped in with a 40, and Carl Mitroff shot a 41 to help the Chiefs.

In a big match against rival Plymouth-Salem, Canton came through with a convincing victory by the score of 208-221. The low scorer for Canton was Mitroff with a 39.

In another non-league match, the Chiefs fell to Dearborn Catholic Central, 165-171.

Low scorers for Canton were a 40 by Popp, and a 42 turned in by Musch.

Although Canton is still 2-1 in league play, Chief mentor Casey Cavell is not overly pleased with the play of his squad.

"We're not doing quite as well as we thought we would at this point," he said.

However, Canton is not out of it yet. "We're still in there," Cavell said.

Rock linksters get off to rough season's start

BY BOB BUDLONG

After three matches, there's some good news and some bad news for the Salem boy's golf team.

The bad news is that the Rocks are 1-3, and their one win was non-league, while both losses were against fellow Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) members.

Salem opened the season against defending league champion Livonia Stevenson, and were soundly beaten 200-222. Mike Moon led the Rocks with a score of 42 over nine holes.

The good news for the Rocks is the play of freshman Mike Granger. Granger was the Rocks second leading scorer against Stevenson with a 43.

Granger was one of the young players that Rock coach Rick Wilson kept on the squad this year as a building block for the future. But after only one match, Wilson feels that Granger has proven that he belongs on the team.

"I'm very pleased with the play of Mike. He's doing extremely well for being only a freshman," Wilson said.

At the Brighton Invitational on Sept. 8, Salem finished fourth in a five-team field that was headed by defending Class B state champions Jackson Lumen Christi.

In the 18 hole event, Lumen Christi took first with a 311, followed by Brighton, Dearborn, Salem with a 354, and Farmington Harrison.

Erich Hartnett led the Rocks with an 86. Jeff Speaks also played well for the Rocks, shooting an 88.

Salem's first victory didn't come until Sept. 12 against Redford Union. In a close match, the Rocks prevailed 213-216. Moon and Sean Kelley shot identical 39s to lead Salem to victory.

In a match that, according to Wilson, "should have been close but wasn't," the Rocks fell to their cross-campus rivals at Canton, 208-221. Once again, it was Granger that led Salem with a 41.

Although it's still early in the season, Wilson sees an area that Salem needs to improve.

"I've got to get better scores out of my seniors. My seniors are shooting in the mid to high 40s, and they have to do better than that if we're going to go anywhere as a team this year," Wilson said.

Chief cagers win two

BY TIM MCKERCHER

The Canton girl's basketball team couldn't have done much better this week.

The Chiefs evened their record at 2-2 by beating both Northville and Farmington.

The game against Northville was not one of Canton's best but they managed to pull out the victory 43-30. "We played a caliber of ball that was below us," said Coach Phyllis Cunningham Mulroy. The Chiefs made 20 turnovers against the Mustangs, "It was a sloppy game, poorly executed," said Mulroy.

Canton outscored Northville 15-12 in the first half and dominated the second half 28-20. The third quarter was an exceptional quarter for the Chiefs as they outscored their opponents 15-6. Diana Knickerbocker lead the Chiefs in scoring with 14 points and Marie Krashovitz was the next highest scorer with eight.

Canton had their first close game of the season on Thursday night against Farmington. The final score - 54-50 - wasn't secured until the last three minutes of the game.

With the score tied at 50, Krashovitz hit a lay-up to give Canton a one basket lead. Krashovitz then sealed the victory with two clutch free throws to end the game at 54-50.

"We played a much better game on defense," said Mulroy.

Against Farmington the Chiefs controlled the first half, outshooting their opponents 28-18, but had trouble in the second half as Farmington outscored them 32-26.

"For us nothing matters but the three play off games and the District at the end of the year."

-Phyllis Mulroy, Coach

"The girls came out relaxed. That was a big fear of mine," Mulroy said.

Canton was sparked by Lisa Russell who had 19 points on the night. "Lisa played a super ball game," said Mulroy.

The Chiefs have a tough schedule ahead and are looking for the playoffs as the right time to peak.

"For us nothing matters but the three play off games and the District at the end of the year," Mulroy said. The Chiefs play at Churchill tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Walled Lake Western hands Rocks first loss

BY BOB BUDLONG

Last week was not a particularly good one, if you're a Salem girl's basketball fan.

The Rocks split a pair of games against Redford Union and Walled Lake Western.

On Tuesday, behind the 12 point effort of Pam McBride, the Rocks defeated Redford Union 42-36.

However, it was not a well played game on Salem's part.

"There's a lot of areas that we need to improve on," said Salem Coach Fred Thomann.

Although it's still early in the season, the Rocks didn't do some things that Thomann felt they should have been able to do.

"I was disappointed with our inability to control the tempo of the game when we had the ball," he said.

Thomann also mentioned the poor showing at the free-throw line by Salem. The Rocks shot only 6 for 20, a 30 per cent mark.

Dawn Johnson scored nine points, and Terri Lesniak added seven to help lead the Rocks.

On Thursday, Salem suffered their first loss of the young season to a strong Walled Lake Western team.

"They flat out played better than we did," Thomann said about the 42-28 drubbing.

Once again, it was McBride with 13 points who led the Rocks. Johnson chipped in with eight to account for most of the Salem scoring.

Thomann was optimistic going into the game.

"We thought we could deal with their team," he said.

Yet a lack of height hurt Salem against Western. Walled Lake's Valerie Hall, who stands over six feet tall, poured in 17 points to lead their attack.

"We as a team didn't perform very well," Thomann said.

Although Salem played a good game defensively, Thomann said that he wasn't pleased with the Rock offense. He cited poor shot selection and a 4 for 11 showing from the free-throw line as areas that Salem needs to improve on.

"Until we can sustain our game offensively and defensively, we're not going to be a really good team. One game our offense is good, the next game it's our defense. We have to play with some consistency," Thomann said.

THE CANTON SOCCER TEAM easily defeated Farmington in last Thursday's matchup 8-1.

Chief kickers lose to Mustangs, top Farmington

BY TIM McKERCHER

The Canton boy's soccer team encountered their first loss of the season last week, losing to Northville 2-1.

The Chiefs then got back on the winning track on Thursday routing Farmington 8-1.

On Tuesday against Northville Tom Wright scored the only goal for Canton. Two days later Northville would go on to beat the number one ranked team in the state Livonia Stevenson.

"We didn't play as well as we had before," said Coach Tony Lonigro. "We didn't do the things we were supposed to do," he added.

The Chiefs got things rolling again on Thursday against Farmington with their impressive 8-1 victory.

Wright started the first half with a goal assisted by Brad Neville. He was also involved in the second goal of the game when he assisted Eddie Hintz for the goal.

Steve Morell scored the third goal of the game for Canton with a Hintz assist. Wright scored his second of four goals on the day with an assist from Neville to give Canton a comfortable 4-0 lead.

The next score was kicked in by Senior

Mike Jennings, who was assisted by Tim Mueller. Later, Wright scored his third goal of the game assisted by Jennings to keep things well in control for Canton.

Neville topped the seven-goal first half surge with a score of his own assisted by Jennings.

As the first half ended, Canton looked very strong holding a comfortable 7-0 lead.

Farmington finally got a goal of their own as the second half started but the fine play of goalie Dave Hawkins and the defensive efforts of John Luce and Rob O'Patry kept the Chiefs well in control.

Wright ended his impressive four goals and one assist day with the eighth and final goal of the game. Bill Lesko got the assist.

"We played well," Lonigro said, "We could have passed to the wings a little more, I'm still not seeing that, but we played well," he added.

The Chiefs face Churchill, who is rated seventh in the state tomorrow at 7 p.m.

"I heard they're not as strong this year because they lost their foreign exchange student. We'll see what happens," Lonigro said.

Ranked ninth in state Salem soccer undefeated

BY TIM McKERCHER

One day after being ranked the ninth best soccer team in the state, the Salem boy's soccer team defeated Livonia Franklin 2-0.

Rain showers made the field slippery as the Rocks faced Franklin last Friday. Both teams had to get used to the new conditions as the game started.

With eight minutes gone in the first half Salem scored with what Johnson called a typical Salem drive. Kevin Sultana got the ball at midfield and passed it through to senior Randy Johnson who beat the Franklin goalie to the far corner.

Johnson's goal was the only goal of the half as Salem outshot their opponents 10-2.

"We dominated but they put on a good show," said Johnson, "They're 0-3 but that's deceiving, they were aggressive," he added.

The second half was a defensive as the first half. Bob Bowling, Paul Weber and Andy Ward helped keep the Salem lead with strong plays in the backfield.

With twenty minutes remaining in the game Jeff Neschish assisted Mike Messina to give the Rocks a two goal lead which turned into a two goal victory.

Joe Knoerl recored his second shut-out in net for Salem.

"We played well, I was happy to win," said Johnson. "We played all our games on a dry field before so we had to get used to it," he added.

The Michigan Soccer Coaches Association (MSCA) poll was released on Thursday ranking Salem ninth. The first ranked team is Livonia Stevenson who lost on the same day to Northville. Gross Pointe North is the second ranked team, Bloomfield Hills Lahser is third, Troy Athens is fourth, Livonia Churchill is fifth, Sterling Heights Stevenson is sixth, Utica Eisenhower is seventh, Royal Oak Kimbel is eighth, Salem is ninth, and Chippawa Valley is tenth.
