

FLOSSIE TONDA

Board veteran will not run again

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Flossie Tonda, a member of the Plymouth-Canton School Board since January, 1976, won't seek re-election when her term expires this June.

"I'm going to miss the people an awful lot," she said.

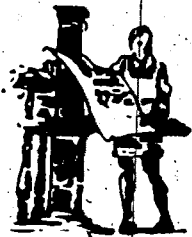

Although she had privately told friends some time ago that she would step down once her husband retired from his job, Tonda made her announcement public on Monday to open the way for prospective school board hopefuls and to clarify her intentions before tomorrow's hearing on a proposed recall of all seven school board members, she said.

Tonda, who is vice president of the local board and also has served as president of the Wayne County Association of School Boards for the past two years, said she and her husband, Tony, will begin spending much of their time in the Sarasota, Fla. area. He retired as a sergeant with General Motors security force in June.

Before Tonda was first appointed to the school

Y considers church site

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

The Plymouth Family YMCA is considering the purchase of the Assembly of God Church on Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth for conversion to a full-service Y facility, said Al Calille, chairman of the YMCA's building and site committee.

The YMCA plans to move to an "interim" administration site on Feb. 25, Calille said, a house at 245 Union Street that the YMCA purchased in December.

"The property (purchased on a land contract of $60,000) will be used for administrative offices and meetings," he said. "This purchase was not an abandonment of our principal goal of a full-service facility, but rather, was perceived as a necessary first step that would enable the YMCA to more quickly and effectively reach its goal."

Calille said the Assembly of God property may be what the YMCA is looking for to turn into a major facility. "The board has given us the go-ahead to investigate the feasibility of this site."

He described the parcel as being between two and three acres, basically two churches built with a connecting area. The ground floor of the churches have high ceilings and each facility has a basement underneath.

Calille said the YMCA is not at this time interested in the parcel across General Drive from the church, which is also for sale. "I am aware that it is for sale, but the YMCA is not interested in it at this time."

Calille said although the building might meet the needs of the Y, financing is still a big question. "During the entire year of 1983... efforts were concentrated on property that might be donated. This effort has proved unsuccessful up to now due to the weak financial resources of the YMCA."

Calille said he is currently assigning various assessment tasks to the members of his committee, so that the feasibility of the Assembly of God site can be determined.

Will Sterlini answer subpoena tonight?

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Will Canton Treasurer Maria Sterlini break the law tonight?

She is scheduled, under subpoena, to appear before the township's Merit Commission at 8 p.m. with her records to discuss charges she made alleging illegal activities in Canton government.

Sterlini was subpoenaed by the commission on Jan. 18 after she declined to appear at a meeting the commission called for the purpose.

At the Commission's meeting last Thursday, Sterlini's attorney, James Canham, said in a letter that his client's charges did not include employees under the jurisdiction of the committee.

But Commission Chairman Phil LaJoy said at the meeting that Canham's letter "certainly doesn't seem to address all those issues."

A ball, a time capsule, founder's day and more Canton throws big bash in honor of Sesqui.

Get ready for the BIGGEST party in Canton history.

To celebrate the charter township's Sesquicentennial, several months of festivities have been planned, according to the official schedule released Monday by Sesquicentennial Committee Chairperson Mary Dingeldey.

Preceding the celebration is the door-to-door distribution of Canton's "Time Capsule Edition" to every Canton home and business starting Feb. 29. This edition, which has been in preparation since last Fall, will provide a history of the township since its founding on March 7, 1834, including many rare photos.

The official goings-on commence Wednesday, March 7 - Founders' Day. That evening, starting at 7 p.m., Canton Township Hall will be filled with 15 decades of history, ceremonial trappings, surprise guests, and refreshments.

On Saturday, March 10, the Sesquicentennial Ball will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the U.A.W. Hall, 48055 Michigan Ave. in Canton. Period costumes are optional for this reception, dinner and dance. Tickets are $17.50 per person, are limited, and available by calling Canton Hall at 397-1000.

Come April, the Canton Seniors will perform in the Senior Follies at Canton High School Little Theater on the night of the 12th and a matinee on the 14th. For more information contact Diane Neihengen, Canton's seniors coordinator.

A Sesquicentennial Egg Hunt (no the eggs aren't 150 years old) will be held at Griffen Park on April 21 under the auspices of the Canton Parks and Recreation Department.

Recreation continues to highlight activities in May with: the Sesquicentennial walk for recreation on May 5, the Scrambler golf tournament on May 19, the Sesquicentennial "Hole In One" Tournament from May 14 - 19, and the Canton Soccer Club 2nd Annual Invitational Tournament at the Canton Recreation Park.

June is, of course, Canton Country Fest month - kicked off on June 10 by the annual Canton Parade (the largest held in The Plymouth-Canton Community) and, this year, a circus for the week. From June 13 - 17, the Country Fest itself will be held on the fields behind the Canton Historical Building and Canton Hall. The Fest includes Marine Band concerts, an arts and crafts show, the chicken barbecue and the host of other popular events.

July 4th will see a fireworks display sponsored by the Country Fest Committee.

During June and July, the Sesquicentennial Committee will begin selling raffle tickets for a new car.

A flower judging contest - saluting the township's official flower, Impatiens - will be held during August.

On Sept. 8, an historical homes tour will be held.

And, on the same day, one of the Sesquicentennial's most lasting events will take place - to the delight of Cantonites in 2034. The Time Capsule, containing artifacts from Canton's present and past, will be buried near the Canton Historical Museum. Items are currently being sought to be included; for information call 455-9009.

A "Treasure Isle" surprise white elephant sale will also be held in September.

Some lucky person will find out on Oct. 10 that he or she has won the new car being raffled off for the Sesquicentennial.

In November and December, antique Christmas decorations will be sought to help decorate the official Canton tree.

Dingeldey said that volunteers and ideas are still being sought by the Sesquicentennial Committee. Volunteers may call her at 495-0509 or call township hall at 397-1000 ext. 219.

Main Street accident

board in 1976 to fill the vacancy left by Gary Mirto's resignation, she had served on the Canton Township Planning Commission during its tumultuous "anti-growth" period in 1973 - 1976.

She ran for election to the school board in June of 1976 and 1980 and won handily, based largely on the vote from Canton where she lives.

Tonda has also been active in the Canton Republican Club and served as its first president when "nobody thought there were any Republicans out here."

In that capacity she thought of higher office. "If there's anything I regret (about retiring), it's not running for state office," she said.

Although she is one of the board members facing recall, Tonda emphasized her decision to retire is not affected by that move. Even though her retirement is now imminent, she said she will fight the recall because "I think it's ridiculous and unfounded."

School board petitions ready

Any resident who wants to run for one of two seats on the Plymouth-Canton school board has until April 9 at 4 p.m. to file a nominating petition.

In the June 11 election, residents will vote to fill two four-year terms on the school board. Those positions are currently held by Glenn Schroeder and Flossie Tonda.

Petition forms are available from the board offices at 454 Harvey Street in Plymouth and should be returned to that office. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Each petition must contain a minimum of 20 valid signatures, a figure based on the number of voters in the last election. April 12 at 4 p.m. is the last day on which a potential candidate can withdraw from the ballot.

Firemen fight CEMS test

BY MIKE FOLEY

The Plymouth City Firefighters Union will get their day in court on March 12.

The union filed an unfair labor practice charge, with the Michigan Employee Relations Commission, against the City of Plymouth over rescue operations in the city.

The charge stems from the city's decision to "test" an outside ambulance service in the city, Community Emergency Medical Service, for 45 days.

The union members feel that their contract with the city gives them the right to always be first responders to any emergency run in the city.

The firefighters lost that right because of the decision by Graper to institute the test of CEMS's service, where CEMS became first responders.

The union has also filed an internal grievance which has not yet been answered.

Captain Bob Degen, head of the firefighters union said, "I just get angry with them (the city), I try to be polite, but..."

Degen and Doug Eldridge, the vice-president of the union, are convinced that the change in the fire rescue service is another step towards a public safety organization.

"The National Association of the International Firefighters Union will fight PSO all the way," Degen said.

"Graper (city manager) says that we are at impasse, but we're not even negotiating. We have a valid contract."

Eldridge acknowledges the lack of communication between the city and the firemen.

"I didn't marry my wife by going up to her and saying, 'Let's get married, we'll talk about it tomorrow.'" Eldridge said. "But that's what they want to do about a PSO."

'Security services soon' Omnicom vows again

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

Omnicom will offer burglar, fire and medical alarms to its Canton Township subscribers within the next six months, Capital Cities Vice President Peter Newell told the Canton Township Board last Tuesday night.

But Newell himself admitted "We have given you two projected dates already, and missed both of them."

Newell, Omnicom general manager Rick Coleman, and representatives of American District Telegraph (ADT) - the company Omnicom says will provide the low-cost equipment for the in-home alarm systems - appeared before the board Feb. 7 to explain the many delays in making the alarm optional available.

Newell said the delay was due to time wasted on negotiations with other companies that eventually were unable to provide service, searching for an economically feasible proposal and the very nature of home security that demands everything be carefully planned and thought out.

Newell said he is optimistic that an agreement will be reached with ADT in the next 30 days - alarm service via Omnicom could be offered to subscribers within three or four months after finalization of the agreement.

Omnicom began discussing security systems with ADT in November of 1982, Newell said, "and they happened to be developing a line of equipment under $1,000 ... they are probably as far along as anyone in the nation (technologically)."

Newell said ADT began operation of cable-ADT alarm systems in Princeton, New Jersey in January of this year.

The wireless unit that ADT is proposing for Omnicom subscribers would cost $695. The cable company would charge $22 a month to monitor the alarm system, Newell said. This compares favorably, he said, with alarm systems now available in Canton (from private alarm companies) which cost several thousand dollars to install.

"Fire, burglar alarms and medical alert services are already available in this community - but we hope to provide those service at a better price. The problem is that those systems cost $50 a month and two or three thousand to install," Newell said.

In addition to the $695 wireless system, ADT will also offer the traditional wired system, he said.

Canton Trustee Steve Larson said, "We are a little frustrated because this service has not come to fruition - that is why we asked that Omnicom come to this meeting."

Larson scoffed at Omnicom's assertions that it was waiting for a reliable system to be perfected before offering it to subscribers. "It is my understanding that other systems have offered a fire and emergency medical alert for years ... this is an important item."

"The security facet is the only thing that is absolutely non-entertainment. The benefits offered to the community are far above the entertainment value," Larson said.

Larson, also a member of the Canton Cable Committee, had a number of documents for the board to review, including a Dec. 14, 1982 letter saying that security services would be offered by July 1, 1983 and a subsequent letter from Newell saying security would be available by Feb. 28, 1983 - a deadline Newell said they will miss.

Omnicom's original proposal to the township said that the security services would be provided via a computer terminal interface installed at the subscriber's residence. The resident could use very simple or very sophisticated sensing device connected to that interface.

"Information from that terminal will be transmitted to the computer at the system's head-end and will be processed appropriately. Alarms for smoke and fire will alert the fire department. Alarms for burglar and break-ins will alert the police," the proposal said.

Recall hearing set for Thursday morning

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

A hearing on the wording of petitions to recall Plymouth-Canton school board members will be held at 9 a.m. Thursday before the Wayne County Elections Commission.

A spokesman for the Wayne County clerk's office said that it has been determined that the number of signatures needed on each recall petition is 6,354 to successfully recall the board members. The signatures must be from qualified voters who live within the school district.

The hearing Thursday is to review the seven petitions for clarity. Board members have been invited to the meeting. All petitions list the same five reasons for recall.

Elizabeth Barker of Canton, a spokesman for the recall group, said the board should be recalled because of its actions during the employe strike this fall and because of other examples of what the group says is fiscal irresponsibility.

Five reasons lists on each of the petitions are:

- His-her action or inaction was the cause of employes of the school district withholding their services to the detriment of the students.

- His-her complicity in using unnecessary and time consuming legal processes to thwart negotiations during the strike thereby lengthening the time students were unable to attend classes.

- His-her failure to respond to proof that erroneous material was present in curriculum guides and was being taught in the school system.

- His-her failure to exercise fiscal responsibility by voting for an unnecessary change in the middle school day at a cost of approximately $300,000.

- His-her failure to exercise fiscal responsibility by not taking steps to terminate the existing food management contract despite a $36,000 loss since September of 1983.

If the election commission approves the wording of the petitions Thursday,

Former PSO director says 'couldn't prove any benefits'

BY MIKE FOLEY

Talk of a Public Safety Organization (PSO) is nothing new. The city has had such a set up before, but it was abandoned in the 60's because, "It wasn't functioning well," said Ken Fisher.

Fisher was the head of the last PSO in the city and a whole lot more.

"At one time I was head of the police, fire, urban renewal, building department and was an administrative assistant to the city manager," Fisher said.

The PSO was halted by Fisher because there were not any benefits.

"I couldn't show any economic benefits by having a PSO," Fisher said. "In fact there were no benefits at all."

"We gained a little aid from the fire department standpoint, but the police service wasn't enhanced.

"At that time only one person from the fire department was on duty at any one time. We couldn't call him off to help on police matters.

"The PSO only ran about two to three years, like I said I couldn't prove any benefits by having it."

Fisher said he has not seen the plans for a new PSO and does not know what the city might have in mind.

"I'd hate to think they (police and fire) wouldn't help each other out. And I don't know where the DFW workers come into it," Fisher said.

"The whole success of the program will depend on how willing to cooperate the people involved are. If the police and fire don't want to cooperate it isn't going to work.

"The firemen were more reluctant to get into it. But some cops were too. Without their cooperation it was never going to work."

Fisher said that the department tried to ease into it, by having police carry extinguishers and other equipment.

"(Henry) Berghoff (now a city detective) and Carl Berry (Plymouth Township Police Chief) were cops then and they took fire training. When the PSO folded some cops continued as volunteers," Fisher said.

"The studies on a new PSO are based on Oak Park's successful program. But Oak Park had the advantage of starting from scratch. That helped stem reluctance.

"They didn't have a lot of people going through a lot of changes. I'd hate to see them in a bind."

While rumors of a new PSO go on, the motto, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try, again" may fit the city's circumstances well.

Barker said the group will begin collecting signatures immediately. If the group is successful in obtaining 6,354 signatures on each petition, then the petitions will be turned into the Wayne County Clerk's office for review. If the required number of qualified signatures are on the petitions, the clerk will certify the recall.

An election to replace the recalled board members would have to be scheduled within 60 days from the certification date. If a majority or more of the board members are recalled, the governor may appoint an interim board if he desires.

"We have a lot of questions for the election commission Thursday," Barker said. "We have to find out about financing - can we just all pitch in $5 for the printing of the petitions? What kind of records do we have to keep?"

All the signatures must be collected within a 60 day period, group attorney Steven Boak said. However, 60 days goes backwards from the filing date, with signatures older than 60 days invalid.

Northville youth hurt in Friday car crash

A 17-year-old youth was injured in an auto accident last Friday evening, when the car he was riding in collided with a light pole on Main Street near Fralick in Plymouth.

William Donaldson, of Northville, was transported by Community Emergency Medical Service to St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia where he is listed in guarded condition.

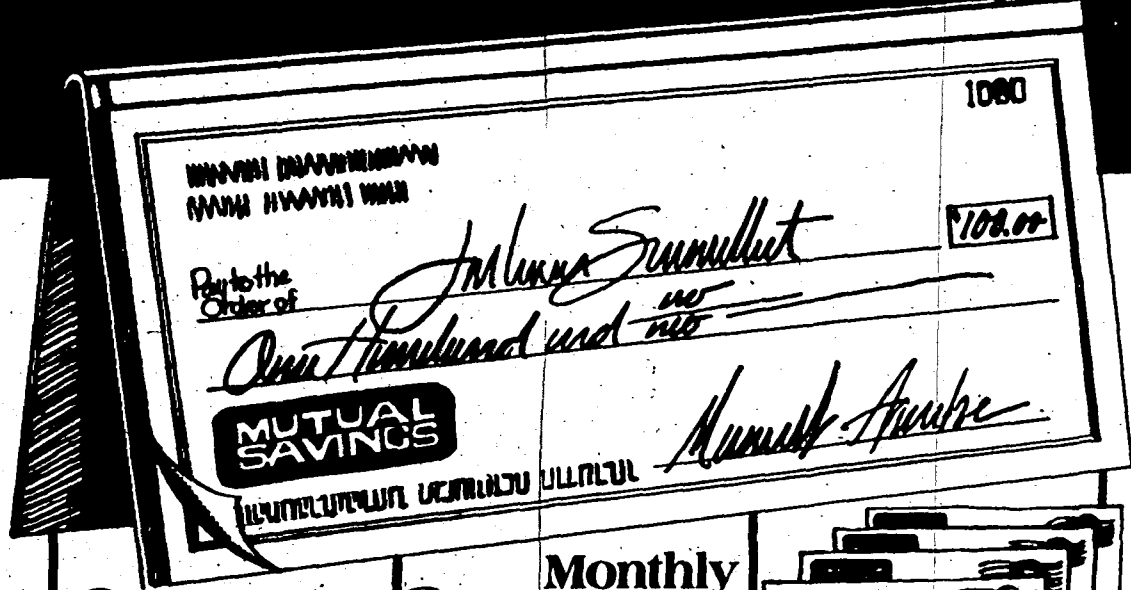

Witnesses and police reports say the vehicle, driven by James Joseph Ziegler, 18, of Northville, was northbound on Main Street, weaving through traffic, at 55 m.p.h. and over.

The car lost control and sheared off a light pole on the east side of Main Street near Fralick, at 10:38 p.m.

Ziegler and another passenger, Tom Stark, 17, of Northville, were uninjured in the accident.

Ziegler was arrested for operating under the influence of liquor. Police reports list his breathalyzer results as .13 and .14.

Be the belle of the Sesqui ball!

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

When Scarlet O'Hara was hard pressed for a stylish outfit - she tore down the green velvet drapes and got busy with the needle and thread. But, you don't have to go quite that far to get spiffed up for the Canton Sesquicentennial Ball.

Canton resident Jenny Materyn has the lowdown on lowcut cut gowns, the word on wing collars, and the info on informal wear. Materyn, who works at Daisies Don't Tell resale shop in Canton, said appropriate 1834 outfits can be rented, sewn from patterns, or made over from used clothing.

It's difficult keep track of what's in fashion today - let alone figure out the haute couture of 150 years ago - so Materyn has prepared fashion tip sheets which are available at the Sesquicentennial Office in Canton Township Hall.

The year 1834 was a long time ago - we are talking pre-Scarlet, folks, - and you may be surprised what was and was not in vogue.

The fashionable lady of the 1834 did not wear hoops - her grandmother did in her day and her daughter would 20 years later - but hundreds of starched petticoats and pantaloons were the rage in the 1830s. "Of course, if you can't find ten petticoats to wear under your dress, by all means wear a hoop to the ball," Materyn said. Better unfashionable than tripping over your skirts.

But, enough of the teasing, let's get down to brass tailors' tacks and discuss the total outfit, according to Materyn:

Women and girls fashions

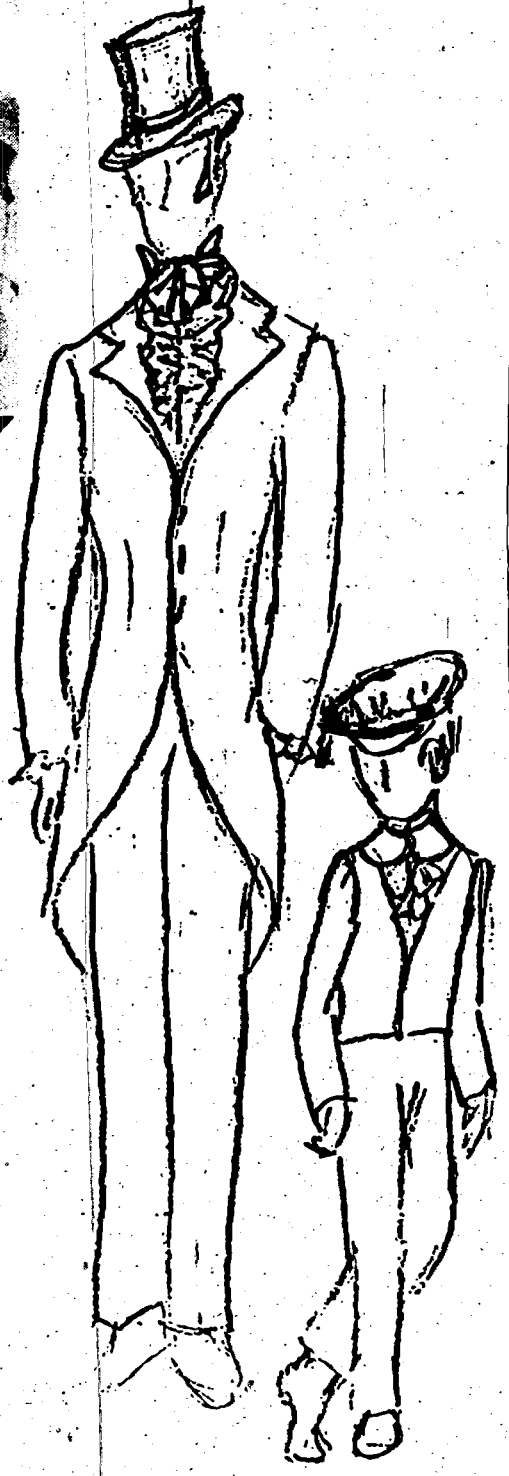

Dresses: very puffed short sleeves, along or with extended ruffle and long narrow sleeve; fitted waists, low neckline, V or scoop for evening; day wear was high neckline; full skirts with or without extra floor ruffle; many petticoats or crinolines.

Outerwear: Few women wore short jackets, most wore capes, any length, with hoods, fur trim, yolks, - or shawls - lacey, women, plaids, paisley, with long fringe.

Accessories: draw-string purses, muffs, short lace gloves with and without fingers, long opera gloves, hankies, fans, parasols, and white stockings.

Available: make your own with patterns from McCalls, Simplicity, Vogue and Kwik Sew; or buy or rent at La Point's Formal Wear and Costumes and Daisies Don't Tell.

JENNY MATERYN has assembled some typical costumes from the 1830s. (Photos by Rachael Dolson. Sketches by Jenny Materyn)

Cutaway coats were stylish for 1930s men

Suits: The business and formal outfit was the cutaway or morning coats, with matching pants for nightwear and contrasting pants for daywear; shirts have wing collars and ruffles; the popular tie was a long sash, double-wrapped with soft bow in front; vests were popular. Boys wore Eton jackets and shirts with Peter Pan collar and ribbon tie.

Outerwear: Capes were any length from hip to floor. Coats came in a variety of styles. Garrick: triple caplets over double-breasted full length coat. Chesterfield: slim cut, full length, velvet collar. Polanaise: military cut with braid closing. Mackintosh: fisherman's raincoat with cap.

Hats: For the most part, top hats were worn for formal and day wear. In cold weather, sportsmen wore stocking caps, Montero caps (fur-lined with ear flaps) and out West, cowboys wore 10 gallons hats and chaps.

Accessories: suspenders, redincote (riding coat), chitterlings (ruffled jabot), watch fobs, and all heights of caps.

Availability: find accessories in attics, rent from La Pointe Formal Wear in Canton, or makeover from clothes at Daisies Don't Tell.

To top it all off

Men were fairly restricted in their choices for headgear - but women had a variety of styles available depending on the occasion.

The most popular style was the cottage bonnet (look on your Blue Bonnet margarine box) - a wide brim, gathered crown, optional neck frill. Also called a poke, bibi or Quacker bonnet.

The more formal occasions called for the three-section bonnet with crown, head band and small back piece - trimmed in ribbons, flowers, feathers and lace.

European fashions had a great influence. Velvet berets with jewel and feather trim were worn to the opera.

Most of the founding ladies of Canton, however, were popular more often found in a working "mobcap" than in a velvet beret.

Restaurants give cops 'free lunch': despite policies

BY MIKE FOLEY

One of the great laws of economics is, "there is no such thing as a free lunch." True as that may be, no one ever seems to mention discounts.

The Plymouth and Canton Police Departments do have discounts and freebies available to them. Whether they accept them or not is conjecture.

Ralph White, acting police chief for Plymouth, says the rules and regulations of his force prohibit the acceptance of gratuities from businesses.

"It hasn't been brought to my attention that any one seeks it (gratuities)," White said. "If it was brought to my attention, that an officer was seeking something free, then I would have to act on it."

Canton Police Chief Jerry Cox, said his policy is to prohibit and discourage gratuities.

"I don't have a problem with officers getting free coffee," Cox said. "But free meals are another matter."

"I don't want them to expect it. I'm not aware that there's a lot of it going on.

There may not be a lot of it going on, but the opportunities are there.

Quick runs down Ann Arbor Rd. in Plymouth and Ford Rd. in Canton revealed these freebies and discounts to officers in uniform:

On Ann Arbor Rd.,
•Dennys Restaurant-Free beverages and

50 per cent discount on meals.

•Dawn Donuts-Free coffee and free donuts if eaten in the store.

•Burger King-In the evening, half off anything.

•McDonald's-Free coffee to Plymouth Police.

•Dunkin Donuts-Free coffee. On Ford Rd.,

•Donut Scene-Half price on coffee.

•Big Boy-Free beverages.

•Burger King-Half price on food eaten in the restaurant.

•House of Woo-The manager said that it is her business, "It's not for the public to know, everyone might want discounts if they find out," she said.

White said that it is not a problem with his force because the officers are well paid.

"Cops like to go to places where they are left alone," White said. "A free cup of coffee isn't going to lure them somewhere they wouldn't already go."

"The important thing that police look for is fast service. Cops don't know when they will get pulled away from their meal.

"They aren't going to wait in line for ten minutes to get food at a discount if they can get it faster next door. I'd think something was suspicious if I saw a cop waiting in line very long.

"Last time I was on the road I caused a

Sunday fire may be arson, chief says

An early morning fire on Sunday, in Plymouth Township, is under investigation as a possible arson, according to Plymouth Police reports.

The fire reported at 1:25 a.m., was at 40977 Schoolcraft, and caused an estimated $17,000 in damage to the house, according to Plymouth Township Fire Chief Larry Groth.

According to Groth, the fire started and was contained in the basement. Most of the damage was due to smoke and heat.

The residents of the dwelling were not home at the time of the fire.

The blaze was fought by township firemen. Four rigs responded to the call, and 18 firemen fought it. The fire was brought under control in a half-hour, according to Groth.

Samples were taken by Plymouth Police and have been sent to the State Police lab. The fire has been labeled as, "of suspicious nature," and is under investigation by Plymouth detectives.

Settlement

In last week's paper the story on the city's out of court settlement should have said the city paid $22,000. The $60,000 figure is how much income the city will lose. Also, the City of Taylor settled out court for $180,000.

Officials

A story in the Wednesday, Feb. 8, edition of The Community Crier on upcoming elections in 1984 gave the incorrect offices for school board members Glenn Schroeder and Flossie Tonda. Schroeder is board president and Tonda is vice president; both are up for re-election this June. Also, the article incorrectly said a Wayne County Road Commission seat was up for election. Road Commissioners are appointed, not elected.

Sterlini should come clean or resign public office

If Maria Sterlini does not come forth with evidence that gross illegalities have occurred in Canton government, as she has claimed, she should leave public office.

The township's Merit Commissioners have unanimously told Sterlini she must discuss the charges, but Sterlini says the charges don't apply to the civil service employees who are under the jurisdiction of that commission.

If the alleged violations were made by non-protected employees, then Sterlini has no reason to hide them.

Coming out into the open -- and fortunately for Canton the Merit Commissioners have stood firm on that point -- is the only way to clear the air.

Either, as Sterlini claims, some things not being properly handled at township hall, or, as the other six township board members maintain, the whole ruckus is nothing more than Sterlini's imagination and-or political maneuvering. It's high time the facts come out.

If Sterlini can't back up her claims, then she is simply wasting precious time for Canton employees and officials.

This newspaper suggested some months back that it would be best if Sterlini would remove herself from the treasurer's office stress by resigning, have the board appoint Trustee Carol Bodenmiller or Trustee Loren Bennett as treasurer, and then appoint Sterlini to that person's trustee spot.

It's becoming increasingly apparent that even Sterlini's board role is beyond her ability to contribute to government.

If Sterlini does not come forth on her charges, yet continues to cause unnecessary rifts in Canton Hall, she'd be better off to resign altogether. And it would probably be best for Canton as a whole too.

Barring her coming forth now, and assuming she won't resign, Canton voters will have an opportunity this upcoming election season to decide once and for all whether she's helping Canton government or hindering it.

Chief Berry was performing public service

EDITOR:

I'm sick of reading all of those letters from the bleeding hearts condemning Carl Berry for beating a dog, who was obviously was not wanted by anyone, to death.

Who needs a dog around breaking into garbage bags, littering garbage around and making a general nuisance of himself? I hope that we won't have to read any more of those letters--especially from residents of the trailer park.

That dog was nothing but a pain in the neck for them and they know it.

Where were those bleeding heart residents when that dog was wandering around starving, cold and hungry? Calling the police, that's what they were doing. Certainly not feeding the dog.

They, the letter writers, state that the sight of Berry beating the dog to death aroused their sensitivity. Too bad it wasn't aroused by a starving, homeless dog before the dog's death.

Berry was performing a public service. It was too bad that he obviously can't shoot and has weak hands. No one ever said that a police chief has to possess those characteristics. A weak mind perhaps, but nothing about hands.

Maybe from now on a demonstrated ability to shoot and strangle should be on the job description.

As far as the bullets going astray and endangering people--that was also too bad--but people who do not take care of starving, friendless animals are people whom I can live without.

NAME WITHELD BY REQUEST

Berry's actions OK

EDITOR:

In regards to the dog shooting incident -- I wonder who called the police about the dog?

Someone who was afraid of the dog?

If the dog wasn't harmful then there wouldn't have been a reason to call in the first place. Chief (Carl) Berry must have felt that using a gun was necessary. I'm sure that if there was another way it could have been handled it would have been.

Carl Berry was the City of Plymouth's police chief, and he has worked his way up to chief, doesn't that tell you something about his work? He did very well with the City and maybe the township will give him a chance.

I feel that this has been blown way out of proportion.

Let's let Carl Berry's record as a police officer stand for itself!

Dog killing appalling

EDITOR:

I was appalled by your article on the killing of a stray dog in Plymouth.

When there had been complaints of the dog for several weeks, I'm certain, if some thought had been given to the poor dog, there could have been a more humane way of helping it. The cruel way in which this situation was handled is beyond reason.

I am an animal lover, and donate to the Humane Society periodically to prevent cruelty to animals. I'm sure that if they had been contacted, they could have resolved the situation humanely.

It makes me happy that I live in Canton.

Community Opinions

Or, who's running for what The Manure Spreaders are coming!

Get out your boots; it's that time again. The bi-annual election onslaught is at hand. Before you know it, there'll be candidates crawling from under every rock to hurl political rhetoric.

The Manure Spreaders are coming!

With political posturing and book-making already evident, it's time to review the possibilities (If you're listed below, but not running, consider it a compliment. If you're in the race but not listed, hop on down to The Crier offices.)

The impending retirement of 35th District Judge Dunbar Davis and its ripple through The Plymouth-Canton Community's political waters is this year's major election theme.

When the distinguished jurist steps down, a different face will peer over that courtroom bench, but it likely won't be a face new to Plymouth-Canton voters.

Announced candidates include: Northville Township Supervisor John MacDonald and Plymouth Township attorney Carol Levitte. Add to that the possibilities of every other attorney in the 35th district (to be fair), and you've got a race.

Will that judicial plum attract the attention of Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen, former Canton Supervisors Noel Culbert and Bob Greenstein, or attorneys Steve Boak, Mike Pollard, Jim McCarthy, Al Calille, Jim Lewandowski, Pat Foley, Tom Healy, Roger Haslick, Ronald D'avanzo, Thomas Meconi, Boyd Armstrong, Eric Colthurst, Nevin Rose, Nick Simpkins, Bruce Patterson, Steve Foley or the others?

Would someone else - a Carolyn Archbold - move into the district to run?

At any rate, count on a primary election field that will read like the local bar directory. But the likely front-runners will be those who've run for something before - even if it means filing two sets of petitions and withdrawing from one race.

Once the jockeying for the judicial race is over, everything else will fall into place.

For example, take Canton Township - which easily wins the honors (?) as the first to become embroiled in the controversy of succession for the 1984 elections.

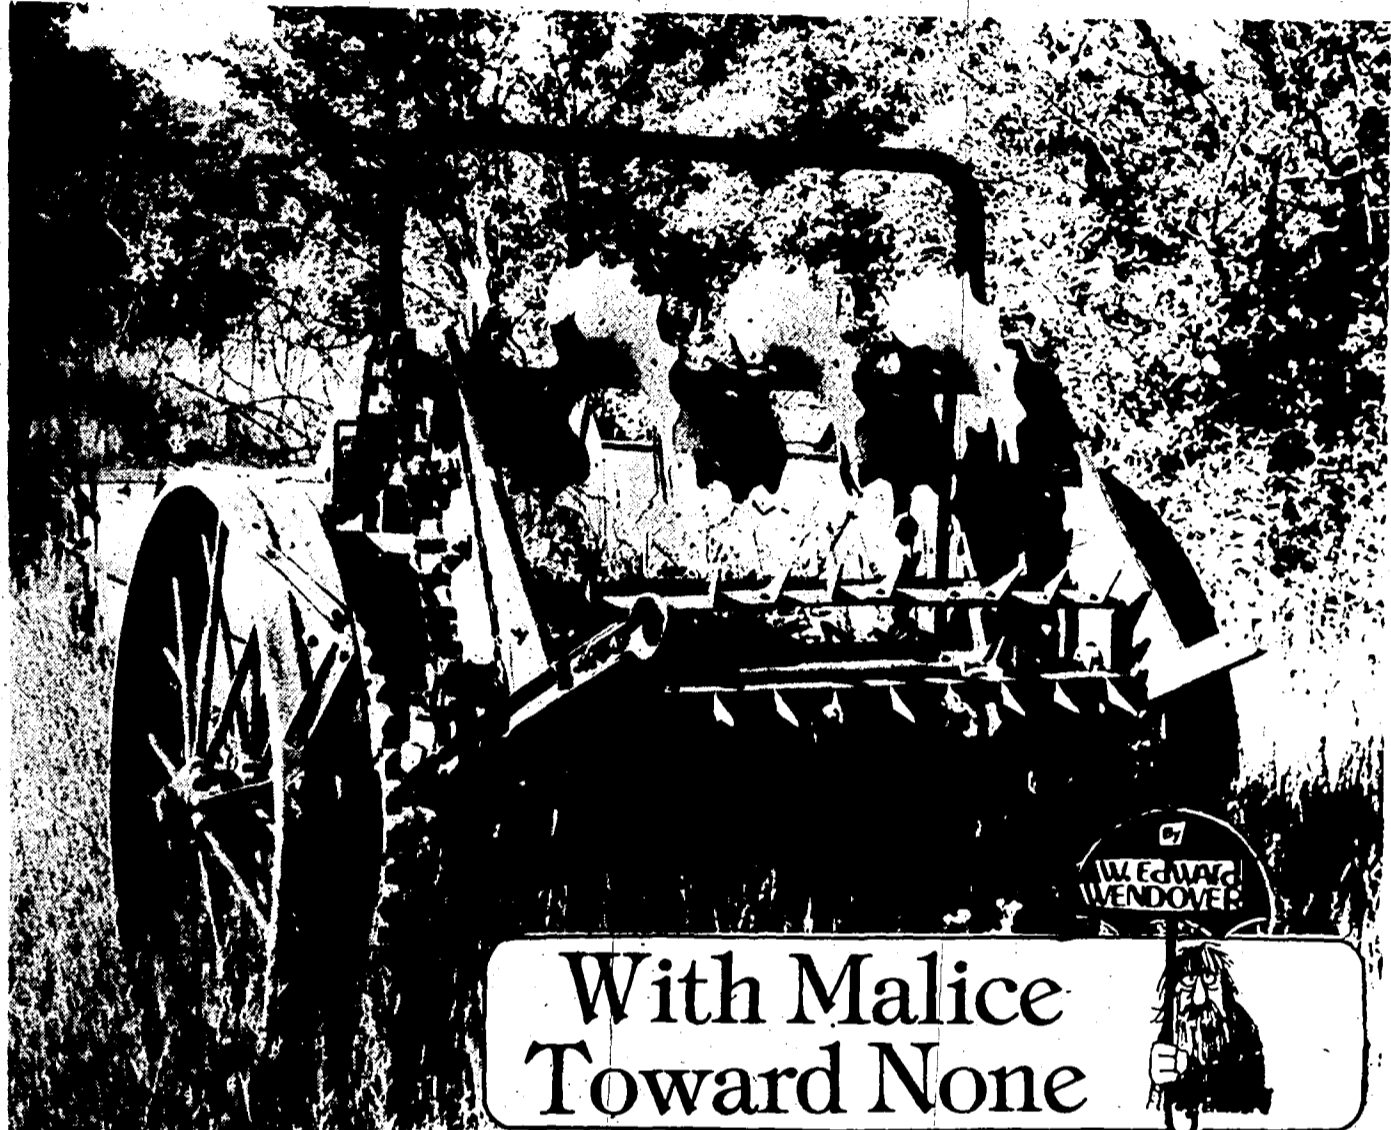

The question here is whether Maria Sterlini, Canton treasurer, will run for re-election, run for supervisor or just run for cover.

If she goes for supervisor it will keep Jim Poole in the race (he says he's not sure he'll re-run at this point). That field will also see two familiar faces - former Supervisor Harold Stein and towing-supervisory-operator John Barnette (who withdrew from the same race just a week before the elections last time).

Since the judge's race is on, the two other former supervisors - Culbert and Greenstein - will probably go for the bench.

It should be noted that no Canton supervisor elected in the past decade has won re-election.

John Flodin will run for Canton Clerk again even though he could retire to hunt elk or follow the Wolverine basketball team. He will be next to impossible to unseat unless he robs a bank between now and then.

With Malice Toward None

The treasurer's race, with or without Sterlini, should boast a field.

Trustee Carol Bodenmiller, county-administrator Dick Wolfe, or any others might go for it. Trustee Loren Bennett says selling real estate is too good right now, but he knows it's hard to resist Bart Berg's pressure to mount a good Republican slate.

For the trustee race, Bob Padgett says he's not sure that even though his physical health is better, his mental health could withstand another term - what with all the board-Sterlini fighting.

Who will seek to be new faces on the board? Are the 1980 cast-offs Larry Bowerman, James Bridenthal, Mary Dingeldey, Diane Neihengen, Michael Quick, Duane Bordine, Thom Carman or Robert Schaeztl still around or interested?

Or, what about Jim Gillig, Jerry Brown, Mary Feltz, Cathy Prince, Bob Shefferly, Phil LaJoy, Katherine Baldrice, Doug Ritter, Gene Daley, John Blumenshite, Dick or Joan Palmer, Dick Kirchgatter, John Preniczky or John Burdziak?

Plymouth Township's political future hangs on what the Old Guard decides to do. Will Breen run for judge or supervisor? Levitte's announcement that she's going for judge may scare him into staying put.

Whether Breen goes for it or not, there will likely be someone else filing. Would Jim Mckeon try to become the first township supervisor who served as Plymouth mayor first? What about former Supervisor Tom Notebaert or former Wayne County Commissioner Bill Joyner?

And then there's Police Chief Carl Berry. He says he's not running, being too busy running his one-man department, pumping township economic development and shooting-strangling stray dogs.

And what of former State Rep. Bob Law, who now lives in the township? Could he be a supervisor stand-in if Breen runs for judge? Or would he run for judge himself? How about the board?

Will Clerk Esther Hulsing and Treasurer Joe West run again? Since neither have to worry about their township checks paying the grocery bills, it's largely a question of their deciding whether what they have to offer is worth going through the daily grind. Maybe one or both would simply file for a township trustee position.

Board races here are hard to figure.

Probably the only sure candidate is Smith Horton, who'd like to prove he can win election to the post he was appointed to.

Lee Fidge and Andy Pruner have been quiet of late - will they run again? Barb Lynch would surely go for the clerk or treasurer spot if either opened or maybe even if they didn't.

How about: Pat Downes, Don Skinner, Ann Arendsen, Audrey Etienne, Dick Gornick, Ken Sabo, Tiv or Dot Balogh, Pat Touhey or Bob Degen?

So much for the local races this fall. You can wait a while, no doubt, for speculation on the two Wayne County Commissioner, or the two U.S. Congressional seats up this fall. When it comes to the two State Representative or State Senate seats, re-districting has those races confusing enough to discourage healthy speculation - but don't wait too long.

And if all that isn't enough - don't overlook the first salvos of the election year.

Two seats on The Plymouth-Canton School Board are up and at least one new face will get elected. Flossie Tonda won't run again (her husband's retired, so she'll force herself to enjoy Florida weather more). Will Glenn Schroeder seek re-election?

With the threatened recall of all seven school board members, most potential candidates are in a wait-and-see stance. More to follow.

Prepare for the Manure Spreaders.

Unsolicited Remarks

By Rachael Dolson

It was pretty nice this weekend. It was a joy to breathe fresh air that didn't coldly stab your lungs. For the first time in 1984 my coat felt prickly on my neck and too heavy on my shoulders.

I considered the possibility of the first luncheon of the spring in the Kellogg Park - the annual mud picnic.

Picnics in the park are not as simple as they were last year, however, since last week when the city amended the city code on permits required for special events and gatherings.

It's a good thing I thought of it early, because the new city ordinance requires that permit applications must be made at least 20 days in advance, making the first possible picnic date March 6. Spring will already be in like lion.

If we were bold enough to have the annual mud picnic without first applying for a permit, we could be subject to a fine of up to $500 or 90 days in prison. Pretty stiff for a few un-licensed bites of tunafish sandwich.

My application to gather would read something like this, according to the specification of the new ordinance:

- Name, address, organization: Rachael Dolson, 1226 S. Main, Plymouth, 453-6900; representing herself and other invited lunchers.

- Purpose: eat lunch, gather socially, lampoon local officials and businessmen, enjoy scenery, play frisbee.

- Date: First warm day after March 6 and before June 30. Hours: As long as we can get away from work without getting into trouble.

- Assembly and dispersal locations, specific route plans: Huh?

- Such other information as the City of Plymouth may deem necessary: Like what? Sexual preference? Past felony arrests? Type of sandwiches served? Give me a break.

The city will approve my permit only if "the special event is not to be held for any unlawful purpose and will not in any manner act so as to breach the public peace or unnecessarily interfere with the public use of the streets, sidewalks, parks and public areas."

This is pretty broad folks. What if a frisbee-catcher runs in front someone on the sidewalk?

You may think this is an extreme example. My picnic would not be a "special event" subject to the ordinance, you say.

But the ordinance is pretty vague. Acting Police Chief Ralph White said it would regulate the satin-pants juggler who throws fire batons. My friends and I have been known to do stranger things than that.

The ordinance defines special event to include any parade, gathering, assemblage or demonstration. I think my picnic could fall under two or three of those categories.

I am against these code changes, specifically and in principle, because they are an abridgement of the first amendment and generally unpractical. It's none of the City of Plymouth's business what the "purpose" of my gathering in the park is.

The park's there for everyone - not just those who apply 20 days in advance or those who meet with the city's approval.

This change to the city code should be rescinded by the city commission - now, before we waste city money trying to enforce it.

Our Symphony's great

EDITOR:

One of the advantages of living in Plymouth is the many community events which take place in the course of the year.

Everyone is familiar with the Ice Spectacular and the band concerts. Not too many are aware of the Symphony Concerts which I seldom miss.

I would like to commend th director and the fine musicians for their latest performance at the high school on Feb. 5.

I admired especially the solos of the concert master in the Scheherazade. I have heard this beautiful number played many times, but I have never heard a better rendition than the one I heard last Sunday.

Proposed aid formula may help school district

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

Plymouth-Canton School Superintendent Dr. John Hoben said the district could receive between $500,000 and $700,000 in additional school aid next year if the governor's proposed state aid formula is approved without drastic changes.

As the formula is proposed now, Hoben said, the district would receive $300 per pupil plus an additional $65 per pupil per mill above a certain level. This is about a five per cent per pupil increase.

The superintendent said that legislative analysts for the Michigan Association of School Board (MASB) and other school lobbyists have predicted that the school aid formula will be changed to benefit the school districts outside metro-Detroit area.

The formula, they predicted, will probably end up about $310 per pupil and $62 per additional mill. "This would be to our detriment, we would receive less if the formula is changed to benefit the front end," Hoben said.

Changes are expected in the formula because of the Republican-controlled senate and pressure from rural school districts, the analysts predicted.

Hoben said that the figures were all mere speculation on the final outcome of the state aid formula.

Hoben said despite the increased total amount proposed for the state education budget, the actual contribution from the general fund has remained about the same. "The increase comes from increased sales tax and lottery money," Hoben said.

Hoben also briefly discussed a half dozen tax accelerated rollback proposals currently introduced into the legislature. Any of these could affect the amount of state money available for schools, he said.

Law on Medicaid panel

State Rep. Gerald H. Law (R. Plymouth) is one of five legislators appointed to the special oversight committee to study possible needs for changes in Michigan's Medicaid system.

Law said the committee will investigate several aspects of the Medicaid program in the coming months.

"We will not only be studying the system for possible changes, but we will also concentrate on the methods used by various state departments responsible for administering Medicaid and monitoring the health care delivery system," Law said.

Law also pointed out that in 1982, nearly one quarter of all state tax dollars were spent on health care, and that from 1978 to 1982, state government health care expenditures rose by 54.4 per cent, while the entire budget only grew by 16 per cent during the same four year period.

"These health care costs constitute the single largest and most rapidly rising component of the state budget, and I look forward to the challenge that this committee presents in attempting to curtail this tremendous cost to the taxpayers of Michigan," Law concluded.

Should rec depts. use vacant school property?

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

The use of vacant school property by municipalities was discussed at the Monday night school board meeting.

Canton Supervisor James Poole had sent a letter to the board saying that the township recreation department was interested in using two pieces of vacant school district property - a 17 acre parcel on Canton Center Road across from the township hall and the 'Bartlett site' on the extension of Hanover Road.

"Mr. Poole, as usual, wants something for nothing," Board President Glenn Schroeder said, noting that Poole did not offer to buy the properties, despite the board willingness to sell at least one of the parcels off.

"I think this brings up a broader view," Trustee Thomas Yack said, "that we should entertain the sale of some of the property we will not need. I am not opposed to letting the city or townships use those properties until such time as we dispose of them."

"It would be safer for them, however, to use the properties that we intend to keep at least for awhile," Yack said.

Board Vice President Flossie Tonda said she was in favor of the sale of excess property to get it back on the tax rolls, and she was also in favor of letting the municipalities use the excess property until it is sold. "If they use it, they could find it really works well, then they would be more willing to pay the school district for it."

Yack said he was opposed to outright giving any property to Canton Township. "I don't think that would be right. Although it is all taxpayers money, this is property bought with money the taxpayers earmarked for schools it would be wrong to convert it to a municipal use without some gain for the schools."

The board members agreed to have the administration draft a resolution stating their position for official action at a later meeting.

The E-Z tax form?

This year, for the first time, I decided to start working on my income tax early. Every year I've always waited until the last minute and ended up mailing the stupid thing on April 15.

For some unknown reason I decided I was smart enough to figure out the forms myself instead of paying someone else to do it. That was my first mistake, and things have quickly gone down hill from there.

By the time I read through the rules and regulations and tried to understand what was needed on the forms, I was in a state of total confusion. I'm convinced Uncle Sam and Uncle Blanchard get enough of each pay check. I just wish they would use some of my money to make these forms a little easier.

When all else failed, I called my brother who agreed to help me. That was another mistake. When you have a good relationship with a brother, why spoil it over a stupid income tax return?

"What do you mean, how much of my car payment is interest? How in the heck do I know? I get this little payment book and I pay a certain amount each month."

Needless to say, after hours of going over everything with me, I think my dear brother was ready to kill me. I did learn one thing, when working on this type of project, it is best to go in a room and close the door so that no one else hears the language.

Thank heavens I started working on my income tax early this year. It's going to take me two months to dig up all the information I need, let alone connect the right numbers with the right lines on those stupid forms.

ADVERTISING ADVICE #54

WEIGH YOUR E.C.P.M.

Even with tight budgets, advertising is a controllable expense for retailers. But since you can't completely do without it, the trick is to get the most bang for your buck. To achieve that goal, simply determine where you'll get your most EFFECTIVE COST PER THOUSAND (E.C.P.M.) In essence, it's not the cost per ad, but what you get for the cost that's important. For example, if your ad budget is tight and you realize that 75% of your business comes from your immediate market area, it's wasting precious money to spend 60% of your budget outside your prime area. The EFFECTIVE cost of reaching your store's POOR PROSPECTS is not efficient.

Stanley will be out of town during the construction of the Central Lot parking deck and the new Health Center. Construction of the Health Center is projected to start in March. Energy auction set for February 17, at Schoolcraft College

"Going, going, gone ..." will be the words heard at Schoolcraft College on Friday, Feb. 17, when over 200 energy-conserving goods and services will be offered for auction.

Plymouth resident Penny Wright said Schoolcraft College will host the "Sunshine Energy Fair and Auction" - aiming to increase energy awareness. The fair will be from 6 p.m. to 12 a.m. at the Waterman Campus Center in Livonia.

This special fair and auction will feature only energy saving equipment including solar appliances. Auction items have been donated by area businesses. Proceeds from the event, Wright said, will go to benefit the Schoolcraft College Energy Studies Program which Wright is trying to build.

Wright said she became interested in energy and solar uses while on sabbatical in the Netherlands in 1974-75 and "I saw how other people existed using much less energy than we (Americans) did. This was the time of the Mideast oil embargo, she said, when interest in energy saving was just beginning to develop.

"I just got interested in it. I started giving lectures on it, teaching courses, then writing for various energy publications. I just got into it," she said.

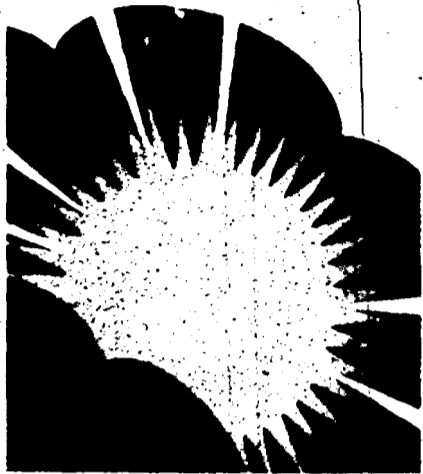

"It's amazing the change in people attitudes ... this year is the tenth anniversary of the Arab oil embargo. Ten years ago, people thought I was really off the wall talking about solar energy - now it is big business."

Auctioned off will be a number of energy devices donated by businesses, including a solar collector, air wall panel, photo voltaic cells, setback thermostats, vent dampers and window inserts. All companies that donated items will have displays set up about their products for the fair.

The goal of Schoolcraft's growing energy studies program is to develop a consumer-oriented approach - to provide information and ideas and classes and workshops on a do-it-yourself nature.

Other local people on the energy auction committee of Mike Rzeppa of Plymouth, Frank McMurray of Canton, and Al Grissom of Plymouth.

Free tax help sessions

Group self-help sessions on preparing your own tax return with free assistance from the IRS will be held on Saturday, Feb. 25, and Wednesday, March 7.

The Saturday session will be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and the Wednesday session from 7 to 9 p.m. Both meetings will be held in the first floor meeting room of the Canton Township Administration Building, 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

If you plan to attend, the IRS says it's very important that you bring all necessary data with you, including: the tax forms package you received in the mail, a W-2 form earnings statement for each job you and your spouse had last year, forms 1099 for interest and dividends received and summaries of tip and unemployment income.

If you plan to itemize deductions, take with you records of medical expenses, contributions, car loans, and charge accounts and tax deductions for state and city income taxes, sales taxes and real estate taxes, union dues and safe deposit box fees. The bill you paid to have someone do your return last year is deductible too.

For further information on the tax session, contact the department of treasury at 1-800-424-1040, ext. 3674.

Investigation taking place of Twp. dog shooting

The Michigan Humane Society, Cruelty Investigation Division, is investigating the shooting of a dog in Plymouth Township on Jan. 27.

The shooting, by Plymouth Township Police Chief Carl Berry, is being investigated as a cruelty complaint.

Sienna Larene, Director of the Cruelty Investigation Division, said she can not comment on the investigation at this time.

"Our investigation is in progress now. We have investigators talking to witnesses and we'll probably conclude our investigation by the end of this week," Larene said on Monday.

Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen said he would rather wait until after the township's board meeting Tuesday, to comment on whether the township would launch their own investigation into the incident.

"I'm sure the matter will be brought up at the meeting, and I'll address it then," Breen said.

Canton clinches share of WLAA hoop title

BY JAY KEENAN

That never-say-die, Canton basketball team came from behind Friday night to edge conference rival Livonia Bentley, 61-59 at Bentley.

The win guarantees the Chiefs of at least clinching a share of the Western Division side of the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) basketball title. Canton, 11-4 overall and 8-3 in the league, can win the outright division title with a victory in one of their final two league games this season.

Canton overcame a 53-48 deficit with 4:14 left in the game largely due to its accurate free throw shooting and solid man-to-man defense in the waning moments.

"My kids just believe they can win," said Canton coach Dave Van Wagoner. "Down five or 15, they can find a way to win somehow.

"It was a real good game for the team. When you're down by five with four minutes to go on the road, it shows everyone you're good."

The Chiefs, who connected on seven of 10 charity tosses in the final two-and-a-half minutes, knotted the count at 54-all with 2:55 remaining on a rebound basket by Mike Jennings.

Canton eventually took the lead for good with 1:07 left when Elijah Rogers sank two free throws to break a 56-56 tie, but the Bulldogs answered back 15 seconds later with a foul shot of their own to cut the Chiefs lead to one, 58-57.

Jennings, however, hit two free throws with nine seconds to go to put the game away.

Gary Thomas led Canton's balanced scoring attack with 13 points. Rogers followed with 12, while Mark Bennett and Jim Schlicker added 10 apiece. Jennings and Kevin Hawkins chipped in with nine and seven points, respectively. Jennings also contributed 11 rebounds.

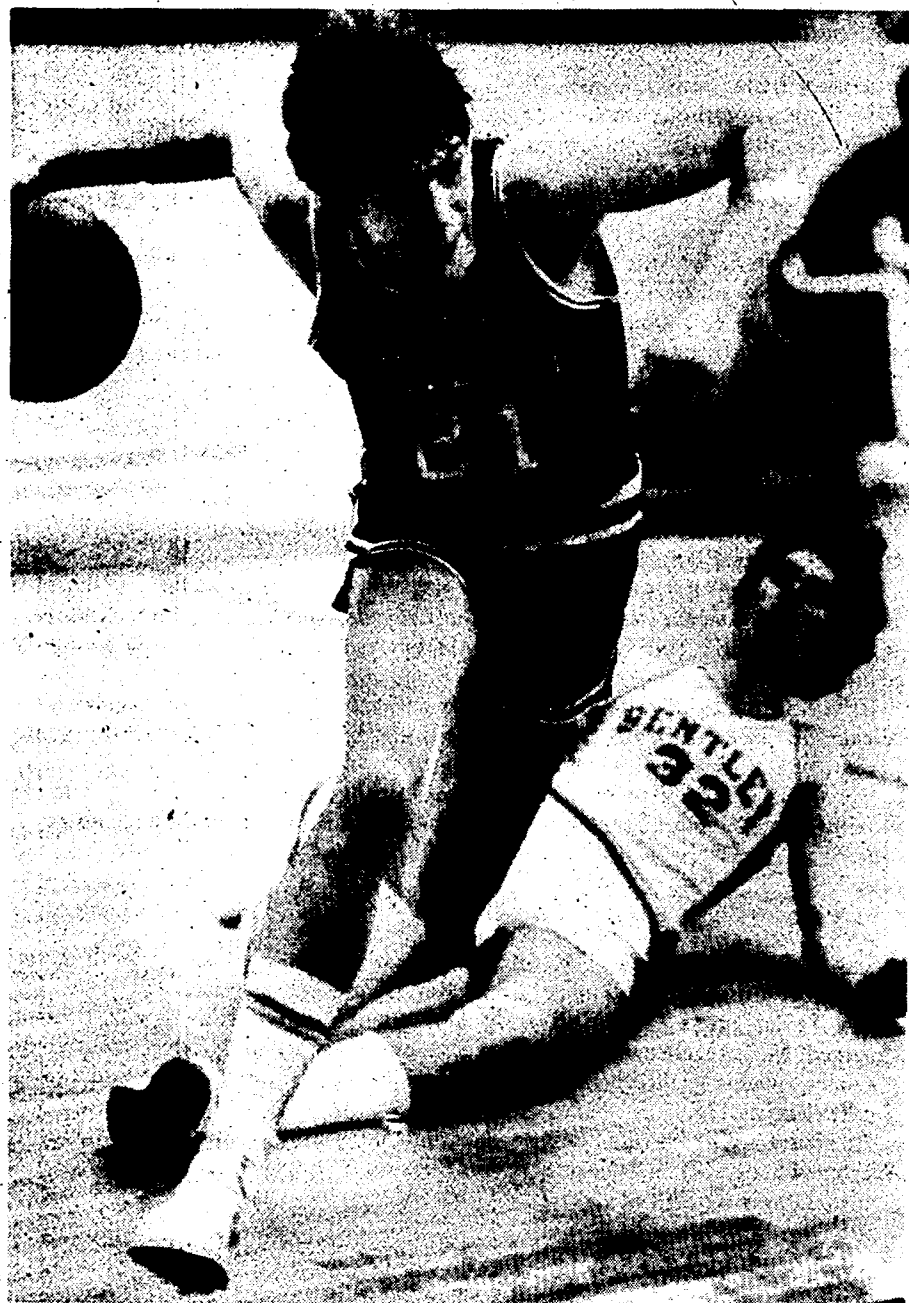

Van Wagoner credited the defensive play by Rogers and a "total team effort" as key reasons for the win.

"Elijah had a great defensive performance against their 6-foot-8 center (Phil Graczyk)," the Canton mentor said. "We played a good game. It was a very gutty game."

The Chiefs trailed 17-11 after one quarter thanks to the stellar outside shooting of Bentley's John White. But with senior play-making guard Bennett leading the way, Canton fought back in the second period and outscored the Bulldogs 21-8, taking a 32-25 lead into the dressing room. Bennett, who made a handful of nifty passes throughout the game, finished with 13 assists to set a new school record.

In the third quarter, Bentley temporarily stymied the Chiefs offensive attack as it switched from a zone to a man-to-man defense. Canton led by three, 46-43 heading into the final quarter.

"They switched their defenses on us a lot," said Van Wagoner. "But we did a nice job adjusting and reading their defenses. But that's because we have smart players who can read them right."

Last Tuesday, Canton blasted Livonia Churchill, 86-59 in an important WLAA clash.

The Chiefs were paced by the sharp-shooting Thomas, who hit 11 of 15 floor shots to lead all scorers with 24 points. Bennett tallied 13 points, eight assists and eight rebounds, while Rogers contributed 11 markers, nine rebounds and a one-handed jam which excited the crowd. Schlicker chipped in with 10 points.

"Everybody played about as well as they could play," said Van Wagoner, whose team lost to Churchill earlier in the season, 49-45. "It was just a total team effort."

Canton jumped out to a 17-12 first quarter lead and never looked back. The Chiefs increased their margin to 42-23 at the intermission as Thomas made seven of eight field goals in the second period. Six of those shots were from long range.

Canton's next game will be at home Friday night against WLAA nemesis Walled Lake Western. The junior varsity game will get underway at 6 p.m.

Skating competition comes to Skatin' Station

BY MIKE FOLEY

The state championships of roller skating are coming to Skatin' Station.

The 1985 state championships for the United States Amateur Confederation-Roller Skating (USAC-RS), are coming to the Canton rink in June of 1985.

In addition to the state meet, a pre-state meet will be held 30 to 70 days before.

Owner Woody Lynch says his rink beat out over 120 others in the state.

"There are 120 rinks or so in the state. They picked 30 from that for bids and narrowed it down to 5 finalists. And we won," Lynch said.

Lynch says it will be a boon for the whole community.

"It will bring in about $90,000 in outside revenues to be spent in the area. There will be 500 to 600 racers, plus officials, parents and spectators. They'll spend a lot, $90,000 for both the state and pre-state meet," Lynch said.

"Through past experiences we know this will benefit everyone."

The announcement of Skatin' Station's successful bid came at the Michigan USAC-RS meeting held in Flint recently.

Skatin' Station beat out Rochester, Midland and Riverside in Livonia for their winning state meet bid.

The state meet and the pre-state are both three-day events.

The pre-state meet is held to let athletes get used to the floor and to large competitions. Officials also get used to judging.

Lynch commented that the judges are

Rocks win, go to 7-1

BY MIKE FOLEY

The Salem Gymnasts upped their season record to 7-1 with a 122.40 to 110.05 win over Walled Lake Western Monday night.

The Rocks had one of their better meets of the season scoring their highest event score ever on the floor exercise, 32.55.

The Rocks victory followed a victory last Wednesday over Westland John Glenn, where they set a new school record of 123.65.

In the Walled Lake meet, Beth Rafail set a new high with her 33.1 all-around score. Jackie Huff and Sara Michalik followed in second and third place with their 31.2 and 28.9 scores.

In the vault against Western, Rafail scored an 8.2 to win, Huff scored an 8.0 for second and Debbie Bahna scored a 6.65 for sixth.

On the beam it was Rafail led sweep of the first three spots. Rafail had an 8.5, Huff a 7.65 and Michalik a 7.6.

The bars was Salem in places 1-2-3-4-6. In order they were; Suzanne Gibbons, 7.95, Bahna, 7.65, Rafail, 7.55, Michalik, 7.5 and Huff, who scored a 7.05 despite falling.

The floor exercise was Rafail with an 8.8 her highest of the season—and good for first, Huff, in second, with an 8.5 also a high for the season and Deidre Flynn in sixth with a 7.7.

Coach Kathi Kinsella said the scores were realistic.

"I talked to one of the judges and she said that the scores weren't inflated, but what the girls deserved," Kinsella said.

"We're doing real well right now. We're working on new tricks and improving all the time."

In the John Glenn meet the team improved enough to set their new school record and Jackie Huff nabbed the all-around title away from Rafail for the first time all season.

Huff scored a 31.1 for first, Rafail a 30.9 for second and Michalik and Bahna scored 30.3 and 28.55 for fourth and fifth respectively.

Salem has averaged 117.4 for a team score this year. But Kinsella says she hopes the best is to come.

"The big meet is Feb. 20 (against Canton). I'm real tense about the Canton meet," Kinsella said. "It's going to be hard on us because the teams practice together and share the same equipment. But it's going to be really competitive."

Hockey tourney

The Pee Wee Hockey District IV Playoffs were held at the Cultural Center last weekend and Plymouth teams fared well.

In the AA Division the Plymouth team bounced back from an opening round loss to take their next three games and enter the finals against Livonia.

The team was stopped in their title quest there, losing 5-4.

In the A Division, Plymouth won their first two games but then fell to eventual champs Birmingham, in the semi-finals.

In the B Division, Plymouth lost their first two games knocking themselves out of the tourney early.

Eight teams competed in the tournament. They were; Livonia, Lakeland, Southfield, Birmingham, Young Americans, Waterford, Bloomfield and Plymouth.

Time To Talk

by Tim McKercher

Rocks-Chiefs, tough teams

All the miles of jogging through the halls of Salem or around and around Phase III finally paid off.

All the days and nights of starving themselves so they could make weight finally paid off.

And all the hours spent in hot sweaty wrestling rooms finally paid off for the wrestlers at CEP.

They went to a tough league meet last Saturday and completely dominated the competition. The closest team to Canton was Walled Lake Western who trailed 19 points far behind.

Credit is due for both programs who have put together outstanding seasons. The final outcome was somewhat of an upset. Canton beat Salem in the dual meet earlier in the year and have beaten them in invitationals along the way. But Salem put it all together and had an outstanding day.

This started off as a rebuilding year for the Rocks. John Beadoin had packed his bags and headed for East Lansing leaving Ron Krueger without any real stars, but that didn't last for long.

The whole Salem squad jelled together just at the right time to take home the trophy.

Canton had a strong team to start with, but they also saw some people come together at the right time. The injury to Paul Fletcher left their heavyweights to be questioned, but they certainly came on strong.

Both Krueger and Dan Chrenko are fine examples of the great coaching that we have at CEP.

Hopefully the success won't stop here, there are still the districts to take care of, and from there the regionals and then state.

To coin a phrase from Krueger, it is realistic but tough. We may see a CEP wrestler at the state finals.

"It was a good representative job," Chrenko said about the meet, "The Plymouth schools finished one and two. I wish the one and two had been switched around but I'm the Canton coach. It was a real good day for the community as a whole."

Another step for the climbing athletic programs at CEP.

Jackson is 'hot'

Don Jackson of Wayne, bowled a 761 series Jan. 30, at Plaza Lanes on Ann Arbor Rd.

He had games of 225, 246 and 290. The 290, his lifetime high, including a string of 11 strikes.

This was Jackson's first series over 700, and is Plaza's high for the year.

Jackson bowls in the Ford-Sheldon League and had a 192 average going into his high series. His 761 also breaks the league record of 705.

Rocks win title; Chiefs take 2nd

BY TIM MCKERCHER

There wasn't a much better way for CEP to finish in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) League Meet last Saturday.

Salem finished as league champs, winning the meet with 174 points, and Canton finished second with 168 points.

"It was our goal all year, we felt it was realistic but tough. I'm really pleased with our kids, really pleased," said Salem Coach Ron Krueger.

"They deserve to be league champs," Canton Coach Dan Chrenko said, "We gave it our best shot and when you give it your best shot and come up short, it leaves you feeling a little empty inside."

There were three league champs all together from CEP, Tim Collins from Canton and Dave Dameron and Andy Ward from Salem.

From Salem, John Jeannotte, Rick Vershave, and Eric Retting all finished second. From Canton, Jeff Condit, Heath Smith, Todd Gattoni, and Larry Janiga were the second place finishers.

Mike Grayczyk finished third in the 198 pound division for Canton. Marc Cygan, Ken Freeman, and Bruce Zak finished third for Salem.

Freshman Dan Dameron finished fourth at 98 pounds for Salem, Earnie Krumm and Jim Malson came in fourth in the 185 pound division and in the heavy weight division for Canton.

Scott Tasker came in fifth in the 155 pound division for Canton, Tim Birely, John Allmand and Wein Yeung all came in sixth for the Chiefs.

It was a two team race all the way throughout the day, Canton and Salem finished far ahead of the other opponents.

Finishing third was Walled Lake Western with 149 points, fourth was Bentley with 133, fifth was Central with 130, sixth was Northville with 123, seventh was Farmington with 106, eighth was Churchill with 164, ninth was Stevenson with 48, and tenth was Harrison with 29 points.

"It was an interesting meet," said Chrenko, "We wrestled real well at the start, and pretty well in the middle but we sort of faded towards the end. We had our chances, we just couldn't do it. I'm not disappointed with the kids, because we didn't wrestle terrible."

"Collins was good all day long, he's had a heck of a year. Condit had to win some tough matches, Heath Smith wrestled well, he has 28 wins this year and he wasn't even a varsity wrestler last year. They had to beat us and they did."

"They just went out and wrestled," said Krueger, "I think, in every weight class our kids did an outstanding job. We were a young team this year and a pretty good team."

Both schools will go on to compete in the districts this weekend at Temperance Bedford.

Two wins for Chiefs

BY JAY KEENAN

The Canton girls' volleyball team failed to place in the eight-team Crestwood Invitational on Saturday, but the squad did not go without any bright spots.

Canton, winless in 11 duals this season, defeated Northwestern High in two straight games to place third in their four team pool.

"The two wins against Northwestern was the first 'real match' we've won this season," said Canton coach Peggy Moore. "It was definitely a boost for this team's confidence."

The Chiefs, however, were knocked out in the first round of playoff action against Southgate Aquinas, 15-7, 2-15, 7-15.

"Our main problem was that we were inconsistent. We played exceptionally well in the first game against Aquinas, but in the last two games, we couldn't get anything together. But for the most part we played very well and I'm pleased with them."

Moore praised the play of Laura Darby. "She had an exceptional tournament," said Moore.

The Canton mentor also cited the efforts of Jenifer Gorecki.

Last Wednesday, the Chiefs lost a tough match to Northville, 15-9, 15-12.

"We really controlled both games," said Moore. "We played better than Northville most of the game, but there were a couple of key times where we didn't get the serves over the net. And they had a couple of good spikers who put them over the middle with soft spikes and tips."

Moore said that Stephanie Sumner was "very aggressive at the net." Canton was also aided by the passing and serving of Gofecki and the fine setting of Cindy Fischer.

Earlier in the week, the Chiefs lost to Redford Thurston, 15-8, 15-5.

Kris Ingersoll provided the Chiefs with good serving despite the loss.

Canton will host Livonia Churchill tomorrow night at 7 p.m.

Rocks face title battle

BY JAY KEENAN

The long awaited showdown for swimming supremacy in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) is only one day away.

Salem and Livonia Stevenson, both undefeated in league dual meets, will clash tomorrow night for a 7 p.m. meet in the Salem pool in the battle for the Lakes Division title.

Chuck Olson, coach of the Rocks, said that he is optimistic about his teams chances against the highly touted Stevenson team.

"I feel that from the times I've seen, we're closing the gap," said Olson. "Right after Christmas, they (Stevenson) were eight to twelve points better than us. I'd have to say that right now, we're about four to six points behind them.

"I've got just about everybody healthy. We should be going in with a pretty straight lineup. We won't have any excuses. We'll just have to swim our best if we're going to have a shot at them. It should be an awful exciting meet."

Salem, 10-1 overall and 7-0 in league duals, is coming off one of its best weeks of competition, according to Olson.

The Rocks beat Northville on Thursday, 97-75 and edged Brighton last Tuesday, 88-84.

Against Northville, Erik Kleinsmith led the way for Salem by capturing two individual events. The senior standout won the 100- and 200-yard freestyle events with times of 49.3 and 1:49.6, respectively.

Kleinsmith also teamed up with Bill Mathews, Greg Wolff and Jon Cain to win the 400-freestyle relay with a clocking of 3:32.3.

Salem's 200-medley relay squad also placed first with a time of 1:45.8. That team consisted of Don Harwood, Dave Workman, Scott Anderson and Bob Bowling.

Other winners for the Rocks included Workman in the 100-breast stroke (1:06.3), Bowling in the 50-freestyle (22.8), and Wolff in the 500-freestyle (5:12.3).

Canton won just two events Thursday in losing to Farmington, 113-59.

The loss drops the Chiefs to 4-7 overall and 4-5 in the WLAA.

Andy Flower took first in diving for Canton with 211.2 points. Dean Roberts grabbed top honors in the 100-back stroke with a time of 1:03.8.

"Farmington has a terrific team," said Canton coach Hooker Wellman. "I had a couple of kids out sick during that meet. We're just working hard right now for the league meet. Hopefully the kids will swim their best times in the league meet and hopefully we'll get a few kids to qualify for the state meet."

Canton will host Northville tomorrow night at 7 p.m.

Rocks wrap-up league

BY TIM MCKERCHER

The Salem basketball team took all the fun out of the last week of play in the Western division of the Western Lakes Activities Association's season. The Rocks led the league by three games at the beginning of the week with only two games left on the schedule.

Walled Lake Central and Livonia Stevenson are in second place in the division with four losses apiece. Salem has an overall record of 13-2 so far this season.

The Rocks played their usual consistent game last Friday in their win over Churchill. They scored 16 points in the first quarter and 17 for the next three. Senior Jeff Arnold has been leading the Rocks with his consistent play over the last few weeks, he added to that last week scoring 14 points against Farmington and 16 points against Churchill.

Consistent has been the key word for the Rocks all season long, even when they lost they were consistent. Ypsilanti beat them in their gym on Jan. 24th and then the Rocks lost to Canton three days later in Canton's gym. Besides that week, Salem has been playing excellent basketball.

"We're still not where we want to be. When you play in those championship games, you have to play on another level," Coach Fred Thomann said.

When will the Rocks hit that level? "The league play offs are two weeks from Friday, we want to find a hold on our team by then," Thomann said.

What kind of game plan has Thomann installed in his Rocks this season to lead them to success?

"Our offense is based on what the other teams are doing to us. But on defense we have a very set way we want to play. Different teams do different things well and we try to take that away from them," said Thomann.

Chiefs lose to champs

BY TIM MCKERCHER

The Canton gymnastics team doesn't lose by 20 points too often, but when they went up against the defending state champ, 20 points wasn't so bad.

The Chiefs traveled to Freeland last Friday for a dual meet and lost, 133.45 to 110.25.

Facing the defending state champ is tough enough, but the Chiefs had more bad luck thrown their way. They had to compete without Annette Bryce and Magan McGow, and then Cheryl Battaglia injured her arm early in the meet and couldn't compete.

Freeland put on a show. They had three scores in the nine's, in the vault competition they had six scores in the eight's or above and in the floor exercise their lowest score was a 7.45.

"We were overmatched," said Coach

John Cunningham, "There was no question we were going to lose and without Annette I was worried about it even being respectable."

But Canton did put on a respectable performance. Linda Beale had another outstanding day of competition, she scored all eights, an 8.45 on vault, an 8.25 on the bars, an 8.4 on the beam and an 8.2 on the floor exercise.

Cunningham was not pleased with the scores awarded in the floor exercise. "Cindy Wyant finished sixth and scored a 7.75, she only needs two more regional qualifying scores and she'll be qualified for the regionals in the floor exercise. But the scores were relatively low. Linda's score of an 8.2 was low, but not complainable. Lisa Lovich performed a nice floor routine and got a 7.2."

PCA loses to Greenhills

The Plymouth Christian Eagles fell to Ann Arbor Greenhills, Saturday at the Silverdome, 50-34.

The game was scheduled as part of a high school doubleheader before the Piston's game.

Rod Windle led the Eagles with his eight points and Jim Stephens chipped in seven. The loss dropped PCA to 3-11 overall, 2-8 in the league.

The Eagles were on the short end of a 10-4 score after one quarter, but crept back to a 17-14 deficit in the second quarter.

Mark Doherty of Greenhills, scored 18 points to lead his team to the victory.

Coach Butch DeRenzo said his team missed a lot of opportunities.

"We kept it close until the last three or four minutes," DeRenzo said. "We had the shots, we just didn't hit them."

Windle leads the Eagles in scoring average with 15.8 a game. Rob Cannon and Pat McCarthy are next with 13.7 and 11 averages respectively.

Cannon and Stephens lead the team in rebounds with their nine and six averages. Windle and McCarthy both are dishing-out three assists a game.

PCA takes on Jackson Baptist, Friday at 8 p.m. The home game will be played at Pioneer Middle School.

Cunningham believed part of the problem was that Lorie Stannick received a nine for her floor routine and the rest of the competition was gauged according to that.

After the league play offs, the Rocks will move on to play in the districts held in the Phase III gym. Competing there will be Wayne, John Glenn, Belleville and Canton.

"It doesn't get easier, which is good," said Thomann.

Salem plays at Walled Lake Central tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m.

Beale placed third all-around with a 33.3, "I'm looking forward to her doing very well in the regionals," said Cunningham.

Pam Modson from Our Lady of Mercy also competed at the meet. She scored an
