

Fireworks in jeopardy without donation

The annual Fourth of July fireworks might not go off with a bang this year unless the Plymouth Jaycees can find another sponsor to support the show.

Last week Fred Eagle of the Jaycees said the group was short $2,000 after one of the sponsors backed out of the fireworks display.

"We're looking for a sponsor or sponsors," Eagle said. The entire show costs about $13,500 to put on, he added. "Other than that everything is moving along great (for this year's celebration).

The fireworks are set to go off on Monday, July 4 once darkness settles. They will again be fired from Plymouth Township Park on Ann Arbor Trail and McClumpha. The Plymouth Community Band will perform before the show.

Anyone willing to help sponsor the fireworks this year should call Eagle at 453-8500 or 464-6797.

Drought plagues struggling farmers

BY KEN VOYLES

"It's dry."

That might be the understatement of the summer. It came from the well-worn voice of Canton farmer Ross Hauk as he stood in his parched fields waiting to start another day's irrigation.

Yes, it is dry.

Those have been the words on everyone's lips for the past month in Michigan and across much of the United States. The hot, dry weather has affected farmers of all types and sizes, as well as homeowners, livestock, and local governments.

The battle against "the drought of 1988" has just begun in The Plymouth-Canton Community. It is a battle which will be decided on the front lines — in the corn fields and along the creek beds.

"I've been farming all my life," said Hauk, who owns 1,300 acres of crop field in Canton. "This is the worst I've seen it since 1934. There's just no way in God's world anything will grow without some rain soon."

Hauk has been somewhat lucky in that he has a well, two ponds and two creeks from which he can get water to irrigate his land every night.

But it is a never ending battle against the heat.

"All you can do is keep hoping," Hauk said. "I'm depressed, but you can always have some hope."

Hauk grows sweet corn, squash, pumpkins, wheat, soybeans and field corn on his 1,300 acres along Ridge Road. But as far as he is concerned there is no way of saving everything.

"You can't even do a 100 acres a night," he said. "We're not even trying to save the grain crops, just the market crops."

Hauk's efforts to save his crops have already cost him nearly $10,000 in new equipment. His consumption of fuel to keep the irrigation pumps going is also costing the Canton farmer.

"This ain't no fun," his son Richard

Hauk said while helping to set up an irrigation line. "I like irrigating for a day or so, but this 24-hour stuff just ain't no fun."

Hauk said a good three-day rain may save the fields, but it will have to be soon.

"The way the wind is blowing any water evaporates fast," he said. "Everything needs rain, a lot of rain."

For Duane Bordine the worst part is facing another day without rain.

"The hardest thing is getting up in the morning and seeing your crops dying and there's nothing you can do about it," he said.

Bordine has been farming for nearly 25 years but this year his stress levels are way up.

"I wish more than anything that we had rain," he said. "I pray for rain. It's just terrible. My corn hasn't moved."

Much of Bordine's early sweet corn is already tassling, but without water the tassles will fail to produce a ear of corn. And instead of the usual two-three foot high corn, Bordine's crop is inching its way up around a foot.

Travis House to be moved to historic park

BY KEN VOYLES

The historic Travis House on Canton Center Road in Canton will be moved to a newly established historic park on Cherry Hill at Ridge Road.

Last week the Canton Board of Trustees approved a request by the Canton Historic Commission to proceed with bid solicitations for the relocation of the house currently owned by Ken Dividock.

"We want to move and convert historic structures in the community. This is the first one we're looking at," said Kim Scherschligt, a member of the historic commission. She added that a sample bid put the moving cost at about $51,000.

The 100-year-old Victorian farmhouse is being donated to the commission by Dividock, a realtor in Canton. Dividock originally wanted to renovate it himself and turn it into office space. He has owned the building for almost two years.

"It turned out not to be feasible," Dividock said. "I was looking at saving an old building. It's a nice structure to preserve."

The farmhouse will be moved with funds from the Historic Commission, said Scherschligt, which have accumulated over the years.

"We've not made an estimate on the refurbishing of the house yet," Scherschligt added. "But that won't be for a few years." Renovation of the home may not begin for another five or six years.

"Once we move it we'll have to consider fixing it up," said Supervisor James Poole. "Right now, though, we should get bids on moving the house."

"I'm extra supportive of this," said Trustee Robert Padget. "These are the kind of things we need to do to establish our heritage."

Padget also expressed concern, however, about "hidden costs," such as site preparation and minimal restoration so that the house does not deteriorate between the time it is moved and when restoration begins in full.

The board unanimously backed the project.

Once bids are taken out the board will then consider awarding the contract for moving the home. Plans are to move the home sometime this summer.

In a letter to the board, architect Stan Tkacz said the "main house, other than the front porch, is in very good shape and structurally sound."

He added, "If the proper precautions are taken by an experienced building mover, I believe that the main house structure could be moved and restored at another location."

Trustee Loren Bennett suggested restoration work be done by volunteers once the home is moved, while Trustee Elaine Kirchgatter said she wanted to see the commission's overall plan for the next five years.

Canton board ratifies new YCUA agreement

BY KEN VOYLES

Canton's Board of Trustees last week unanimously agreed to allow the Western Townships Utilities Authority (WTUA) to go ahead and sign an agreement with the Ypsilanti Community Utility Authority (YCUA) which will eventually dispose of the community's wastewater.

The agreement has already been approved by the Northville Township Board of Trustees and next week the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees will consider approval.

"This is basically just a ratification of an agreement we've all been for," said Trustee Robert Padget.

Robert Law, secretary and general counsel of WTUA, said the board's approval was an "endorsement" which will allow WTUA to act on behalf of the township.

WTUA is an authority set up under state law which allows it to make arrangements on solid waste and sewage for local communities.

"The purpose of the group is to solve the problem for us, them and all of the above," said Canton Supervisor James Poole. "We do not give up our own rights to negotiate. We don't surrender any community liberties."

The Ypsilanti plant, to which WTUA will eventually hook up, was recently voted the best run plant in Region 5, according to Law.

Before the agreement is finalized the Ypsilanti Township board will also have to study the agreement. A discharge permit will also have to be obtained from the state's Water Resources Commission.

"We're trying to nail down the permits," Law said. "We feel they're imminent."

Eventually, WTUA will start looking at finances and begin engineering studies.

Law said WTUA anticipated having all of the correct permits by the end of the fall. At that point engineering studies will be made to compute the eventual costs.

"I don't perceive any problems with the DNR (Department of Natural Resources) or Wayne County," said Law. "We're also looking at possible federal funding."

Law added that it was difficult to gauge when actual construction will be finished. He said an "outside" year would be 1993.

"The most important thing is the good faith these communities have shown when we first broke from Super Sewer," said Poole. "The DNR and county fought us on this at first but now they support it."

Poole added that Canton could save

"million's" on the Rouge River clean-up by using water from YCUA to flush through the river.

The original agreement resulted after more than a year of negotiations between YCUA and WTUA.

Highlights of the agreement include:

- WTUA will tie into YCUA by 1993 providing at least one million gallons per day.

- YCUA will treat up to 8.7 million gallons per day of WTUA wastewater in the facility.

- WTUA will construct an outfall to the Rouge River, which YCUA will lease for 99 years.

- WTUA will have the right to participate in plant expansion and will have a 99-year lease on the portion of the plant expansion which it finances.

- WTUA will bear all costs of transporting wastewater to the YCUA plant.

Law also told the Canton board that if it was interested WTUA could look into a solid waste program for the community.

Padget suggested the board approve a motion to allow WTUA to develop a working relationship in regard to solid waste in the WTUA area. The motion was also unanimously approved by the board.

Band concerts kick off

The Plymouth Community Band begins the "Concerts in the Park" series with a performance in Kellogg Park on Thursday (June 23) at 8 p.m.

The free concert series features the band each Thursday night through the end of July.

The first concert is titled "There's No Business Like Show Business" and pays tribute to one of America's greatest song writers, Irving Berlin, who celebrated his 100th birthday in May.

Along with the music of Berlin, the Community Band will perform the music of Bach, Mozart and John Philip Sousa.

Fleet Street work will continue

BY PAUL GARGARO

Just when you thought it was safe to walk on Fleet Street, the Plymouth City Commission has set the wheels in motion for additional work to be done along the street and the surrounding area.

On Monday, city commissioners approved a resolution for the Municipal Building Authority (MBA) to entertain bids on a beautification project on Fleet Street to be paid for with funds from the Downtown Development Authority (DDA).

According to City Manager Henry Graper, plans to enhance the street, which runs along the periphery of the Central Parking Deck from Ann Arbor Trail to Harvey Street, date back to 1975.

Following the springtime construction project, which will bury utility lines along Fleet Street, the city commission decided that the area surrounding the parking deck was in need of improvement to attract pedestrians and accommodate the many businesses which are located along the street.

The proposed construction includes a brick walkway adjacent to the existing businesses with cement paving to cover the remaining asphalt surface and a number of planted trees, said

City Engineer Kenneth West.

The city has been given a bid price of approximately $210,000 for the project by the Sordo Construction Company, which constructed a similar project in Dearborn.

Without the brickwork, Sordo estimated that the work would cost approximately $160,000.

Sordo would subcontract the job from H and M Contractors. H and M buried the utilities this spring.

"I think that this is the best price, at the best time, with the best contractor," said City Manager Henry Graper. "It's expensive, but right now the area is a maintenance hazard."

Graper and other commissioners hope to see the project completed before the 1988 Fall Festival in September.

Commissioner James Jabara, however, maintained that the project may be overpriced and successfully requested that the commission pass a resolution stating that the MBA collect additional bid to ensure a competitive price for the project.

"It's of a magnitude that it should go for competitive bids," said Jabara. "I don't see why we're rushing into it."

"I don't see this as an emergency," added Commissioner Robert Jones.

Commissioner William Robinson thought that the project was overpriced and should not include the brickwork.

"I would never condone spending $40,000 for a brick sidewalk. It's a waste of money," said Robinson.

Mayor Karl Gansler, however, maintained that the job should be completed this summer.

Canton farmer Duane Bordine shows how high his sweet corn should be by now. Drought is destroying his fields. (Crier photo by Chris Farina)

With 100 acres in Canton (seven of it sweet corn), Bordine does his best to water, but he says he can't afford to irrigate. "I don't have a water source," he said.

He adds, "I've never seen a drought like this before. You don't have to go that far from Detroit to find out how bad it is."

Bordine has just picked up a 4,700 gallon tanker for water. And he's already gotten permission to pump it full from an area lake. The 1.5 million gallon pond on his property, however, is just about dry.

"The other thing I'm running into is I can't put weedkiller down. You need water to activate them," he said. "And it's extra bad for erosion this year. The ground is crusty.

"It's dry a foot down."

Bordine said a "good, steady" rain over one or two days would certainly help.

Until then, he adds, "it's no fun farming."

Bordine has been in close touch with the National Weather Bureau but that hasn't helped his outlook. "They keep saying 'nothing in sight,'" he said.

The average corn field needs nearly 55 gallons of water to produce just one ear of corn, Bordine explained. The average field is 20-25,000 stalks.

About the only type of plants which grow in this weather are weeds, said Bordine, but even those are tipping over from lack of water.

Bordine said he can't even get crop insurance at this point.

"I'm doing my best to water every day," he said. "And I cultivate to try and bring moisture out of the soil, but the soil is so dry nothing works."

The Canton farmer put in his early sweet corn back in April. By now it would be nearly ready.

The Hawk family spreads water lines in parched fields last week. The Hawks are irrigating every day in a losing battle with the drought. (Crier photo by Chris Farina)

"I don't think I'm going to have sweet corn as high as an elephant's eye by July," he said. "And the vegetables are going to be dry this year."

That in turn will put a lot of stress on produce prices which the consumer will eventually feel.

"Yeah, the consumer will blame us for those higher prices," he said.

So far, though, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) official retail food price estimates for 1988 have been raised only slightly since the drought began, but 77 counties in Michigan have been declared disaster areas.

Some experts believe July is the critical month for both farmers and food prices.

For farmers like Hawk and Bordine, the critical time is right now.

Let it rain, they pray, let it rain.

Canton faces problems, City, Twp. still okay

BY KEN VOYLES

Governments in The Plymouth-Canton Community are dealing with this year's staggering drought in different ways.

Both Plymouth and Plymouth Township have little to worry about so far, at least that's what officials are saying.

In Canton, though, there is a real concern that if the drought continues for another week or two the situation will become critical.

Canton Supervisor James Poole told the Board of Trustees last week that "if the drought continues for another week I'll request a ban on watering lawns.

"We haven't had any problems yet," Poole continued. "But if it continues we sure will."

Canton will conduct a variety of water pressure checks this week. If the pressure falls Poole will come back to the board with a recommendation.

At that same meeting of Canton Board of Trustees, a motion was passed to give Poole authority to set up a sprinkling program if it becomes

CO-SPONSOR 1988 CANTON COUNTRY FESTIVAL

"The Charter Township of Canton Board of Trustees does hereby agree to co-sponsor the 1988 Canton Country Festival. This co-sponsorship is contingent upon the Festival Board adhering to the Michigan Municipal Risk Management Authority Risk Control Guide and Recommendations for Special events, and working with the Authority in analyzing each special event. As co-sponsors of the Canton Country Festival, the Township will include the Country Festival Board and its workers under the Township liability insurance program. The liability insurance also covers Canton based non-profit service clubs or organizations that are vendors at the Festival providing their concession falls within category class I (low hazard) or class II (moderate hazard) in the Special Events Guide."

Item no. 6: FORD ROAD INTERSECTIONS

Mr. Tom Casari recommended to the Board to have a detailed traffic study completed for all intersections east of Canton-Center Road and north of Michigan Avenue. The Board suggested including the intersections at Beck and Warren Roads and Joy and Beck Roads in the study. A draft report could be provided within 8 weeks of the order to proceed with the study.

The Board directed Tom Casari to go out for bids for the study.

Item no. 7: REQUEST USE OF THE TOWNSHIP BUS FOR TOWNSHIP PLANNED EMPLOYEE FUNCTIONS

Motion by Brown, supported by Bennett, that the Township Board co-sponsor certain employee social events, prior to the event, to allow the Township employees availability of the Township Bus. Motion carried unanimously.

Item no. 8: BUDGET AMENDMENT POLICE FUND

Motion by Padget, supported by Kirchgatter, to approve a transfer of $4,455.19 from the Police Department's Fund Balance to the Police Department's Civilian Overtime Account (207-301-709-000).

Ayes: Bennett, Brown, Kirchgatter, Padget, Poole and Preniczky

Nays: Chuhran

Item no. 9: EMERGENCY REPAIR no. 1101

Motion by Brown, supported by Bennett, to pay Central Diesel, Inc. in the amount of $3,520.92 for the repair of fire truck no. 1101, waiving the bid procedures, and considering this expenditure as an emergency. Motion carried unanimously.

Item no. 10: DISCUSSION OF JUNE 21 SPECIAL MEETING

Motion by Preniczky, supported by Kirchgatter, to establish June 22 as the Special Meeting date to discuss the Storm Water Management Program, as some of the Board members are unable to attend on June 21. Motion carried unanimously.

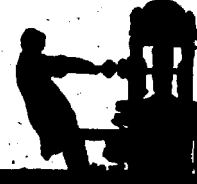

Item no. 11: SCHEDULE A CLOSED SESSION WITH D. BERRY REGARDING SHELDON CROSSINGS LITIGATION

Wednesday, June 22, at 7:30 P.M. was established as a Special Meeting with D. Berry.

Item no. 12: POLICE AUCTION

Discussion followed regarding Board approval of the disbursement of the items sold at the Police Auction. Mr. Santomauro stated that the State Law mandates that when owners of items are unknown, an auction must be held to dispose of property. He stated that the Department has a rigid internal property check system, but if the Board desired, when the auditors checked the books in the Administration Building, they could check the records in the Police Department of the funds collected from the auction, and the auditors could check the records of items stored in the property room that have been retrieved by policemen.

 Currently, since auditing of property is done internally by the Police Department, Clerk Chuhran recommended to the Board to hire an outside auditor for the Police Department's property records.
Item no. 13: HISTORIC DISTRICT ORDINANCE
 Kim Scherschligt will submit Section V (h) of the Historic District Ordinance, effective April 16, 1988, for the Board's approval.

 Motion by Padget, supported by Brown, to reappoint Robert L. Suggs, Jr. to the Building Authority. The new term would start on July 1, 1988, and expire on June 30, 1991. Motion carried unanimously.
 Motion by Brown, supported by Chuhran, to adjourn at 8:30 P.M. Motion carried unanimously.

Car thief nabbed

The theft of two Ann Arbor automobiles resulted in the theft of a third car in the City of Plymouth early Sunday morning, said Plymouth Police.

Police said that while on patrol at 2:55 a.m., a patrolman observed two vehicles parked next to each other on Harvey Street. As the officer doubled back to the scene, he observed one of the cars back into a driveway.

The passengers then left the car and the area.

Shortly after, police said that the officer noticed a passenger exit the second car and jog away. The officer stopped the suspect and was unable to obtain proper identification from him.

The officer then noticed that both of the cars were running and that neither had keys in the ignition, said police.

The officer placed the suspect in custody and asked for backup to search for the other suspects, said police.

Walker 4th

Incumbent Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education candidate Lester Walker finished fourth overall in the voting during the Monday, June 13 election, according to official results.

Originally, it looked like Walker was edged out by newcomer Annette Rensburg for the fourth spot. The official count, though, gave Walker 1,183 votes and Rensburg 1,179 votes.

At 3:25 a.m., the police received a report of a stolen car from Sunset Street in Plymouth.

Police suspect that the stolen auto was used a getaway car for the two other suspects, said police.

The apprehended suspect is a 17-year-old Detroit resident and a juvenile ward of the Probate Court. He was reported missing from the Boys Republic facility in Farmington Hills, said police.

Police turned the suspect over to the custody of the Probate Court.

Plymouth Police Chief Richard Myers said that the owners of the two stolen vehicles from Ann Arbor were notified of the theft.

Myers also said that the theft of the car from Sunset Street is still under investigation.

Gansler also said that the price offered by Sordo was realistic because the company is familiar with the ground and area involved.

"The company that has it knows what's under there, they know what it takes," said Gansler. "Another bidder could low ball."

Construction of the project would be funded by municipal bonds for the Fleet Street project as well as for the upcoming improvement on the Riverside Mausoleum.

School candidate Dahn was wrong on MEAP test result claims

EDITOR:

I feel compelled to respond to some misleading information that was circulated by one school board candidate in the recent election.

Mrs. Dahn incorrectly interpreted some Michigan Educational Assessment Program (M.E.A.P.) test results and, without having adequate background information tried to use these test results to support her candidacy and to impune the excellent reputation and integrity of our fine school district.

The purpose of the M.E.A.P. science test is to provide school districts and parents with a picture of how well their students are doing. The state assessment results are only one tool used by teachers and school administrators to look at students learning and consider ways to improve. The intent is to show how well local district programs match with the State expectations for student performance in science.

Student outcomes are used to analyze individual student performance on state specified minimum objectives. These results must be viewed as an overall look at relative student strengths and needs rather than the only measure of success or failure.

State science testing was mandated only for the fall 1986. Plymouth-Canton Community Schools volunteered to have students tested again in 1987. Because the process of curriculum revision is still going on, the design, organization, and expectations of our curriculum remain different from many of the items tested. As a result of this the performance of our students in science was not as high as we have been used to in reading and mathematics tests.

This was true statewide, not just in Plymouth-Canton.

Use of MEAP test results for comparison of schools or school districts is inappropriate and misleading. In a November, 1987 State Department of Education communication, Dr. Gary Hawks, Acting Superintendent of Instruction, emphatically cautions against such comparisons. Says Hawks, "Test results should never be used to compare one school district against another or another school with another. Other factors such as curriculum, staffing, composition of the student body, and expenditures also must be considered when looking at a school or school district."

MEAP test results are useful in learning more about the strengths and needs of our students and our curriculum. As a tool they are helpful in considering ways to improve.

So what have we been doing with our science curriculum in order to respond? Over the past three years (starting a year before the first ever MEAP science test in 1986) we have completely revised our science curriculum in grades K-9 so that it meets the state mandated science objectives. We are also examining the 10-12 curriculum to determine its alignment with the state objectives.

In order to implement science program changes, more than 40 teacher training sessions have been held utilizing State Department, university, and local experts. Two years ago the district appointed a curriculum coordinator for science.

We have purchased new textbooks at several grade levels and the 1986 Bond Project has provided teaching materials and equipment to support the science program improvements.

Progress does not come over night; change is a process not an event. You need to know we are working for improvement.

It is unfortunate that Mrs. Dahn overlooked the fact that 448 students received State certificates for achieving 100 per cent of the objectives on the MEAP test in 1987.

In the future I hope Board candidates will not only give accurate information but seek explanation of the facts before attacking the established quality of our school system.

Can supervisors afford to coast?

Will the incumbent supervisors in Canton and Plymouth Townships coast to victory while their two opponents each split the "anti" vote?

"Easily," say the same armchair political experts who were shocked by the results of the Plymouth-Canton School elections where the Christian Fundamentalists grabbed first, third and sixth of 15 places.

Canton's August primary promises to continue its rich 15-year tradition of political backstabbing.

Incumbent Supervisor Jim Poole -- the first of the past four in the job to survive a re-election attempt -- is content to attack his two challengers as players in a township-manager conspiracy. He doubts that Bob Padgett has the support he thinks he has and wonders whether Tom Yack can turn a former school board presidency into support at the township hall level.

Padgett, like his faithful Tonto in the clerk's race, hangs his hat on "good management" at Canton Hall and offers his position as a trustee to be dubbed the "moderating influence" in the Poole-Linda Chuhuran bickering.

Yack's chapeau rests on the

With malice toward none

By W. EDWARD WENDOVER

"outsider" label. He'll suggest being tapped to clean up the internal squabbling on the board.

In Plymouth Township, Maurie Breen's strategy will be to get 40 per cent of the vote -- letting his two opponents each take 30 per cent.

Breen figures there's an "anti" vote out there, he's fought hard against a Jim Irvine inspired campaign before (but lost) so that's a known factor, and the Jerry Raymor candidacy will cut the vote up.

But Raymor's alignment with the Fundamentalists should give pause to those who analyzed the precinct-by-precinct results of the school elections. While the old-guard sat comfortably back before June 13 saying, "They'll never amount to anything," the pulpits were busy, lawn signs were being painted and doorbells were being rung.

Irvine is gearing up to be the silver-haired knight to clean up Plymouth Township Hall, having rejected Raymor's last-minute call asking him to withdraw from the race. (The Breen camp didn't say whether Raymor also called them asking Maurie to step back.)

Lest Breen rest too comfortably between now and Aug. 2, he need only remember that he was removed from the same chair in the primary election in 1972.

Add that to Canton's past primary fights for township supervisors and the next six weeks should be fun.

Of course, some of the political "experts" will just disregard all this and just sit back... but they've been wrong before (like two weeks ago).

In defense of E.J. McClendon

EDITOR:

I appreciated the recent editorial endorsing Dr. E.J. McClendon for re-election to the School Board.

I did, however, feel that one of the comments in the Editorial needed explanation. The comment that McClendon missed 13 Board meetings in a row during his recent term in office was accurate on its face but deficient for what it left out.

During those 13 weeks, McClendon was serving mankind by making the world a better place to live in his duties as Professor Emeritus at the University of Michigan. He was assigned to the South Pacific during these 13 weeks by the World Health Organization in conjunction with Rotary International to lay the groundwork for the establishment of their Program which is just being put into operation to immunize all the children of the world by the year 2000 from Polio and other childhood diseases.

Worldwide, Rotary International is raising $120 Million for this project. Locally, McClendon was in charge of the Plymouth Rotary Club Committee responsible for fundraising in this Program called "2000 PolioPlus" and was responsible for raising some $100,000 on the local level.

He is scheduled to be honored for these efforts at an upcoming meeting.

Write in Twp.'s Halmekangas

EDITOR:

The greatest thing given to us by the founding fathers of this great country of ours, was the right of a free and just ballot box.

The privilege of voting for the best qualified, honest and capable person for public office is important and should not be taken lightly.

We want to urge the voters of Plymouth Township to consider a write-in vote campaign for Lorraine Halmekangas for the office of Plymouth Township Clerk as a Democrat.

Lorraine has been the Deputy Clerk for five years. She knows the job better than anybody, and she is good at it. In her early forties, she would bring new leadership to the Township Board and the office of Township Clerk.

Sorry to say, Lorraine withdrew from the race for Township Clerk at the last minute in a hasty and ill-thought-out decision. Sometimes emotions and outside pressures will cause people to make the wrong decision against their very best own judgement. This is what we believe happened to Lorraine Halmekangas when she dropped out of the race for Plymouth Township Clerk.

The huge odds against Lorraine in a race facing a Republican incumbent who has been a "household word" in Plymouth Township politics is not an easy task for anyone to tackle at election time. This was probably the main reason that caused Lorraine to question the wisdom of staying in the race since Hulsing insisted on running again after her long length of service and her age (she is in her seventies).

We believe that we are an important voice in the Plymouth Township community, crying out to the rest of the voters to mount a write-in vote campaign for Lorraine Halmekangas in the Aug. 2nd primary election for the office of Township Clerk.

Lorraine is one who will vote her conscience at the board meetings and give us the representation we deserve on important issues that are a real concern to the residents of Plymouth Township. Surely, Lorraine will be someone we can trust and who will be looking out for the residents of our community at all times.

So please join in the write-in campaign on Aug. 2nd -- vote Lorraine Halmekangas for Plymouth Township Clerk.

COMMITTEE FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lorraine Halmekangas acknowledged to The Crier she was aware of this group's campaign to write in her name for Plymouth Township Clerk. However, she declined to comment on her future involvement in the race.

In the margin

By Ken Voyles

"I just can't believe they're cutting it."

That is the reaction of Robin Blair to the school district's decision to cut the Begindergarten program this year following the failure of yet another Headlee waiver vote last week.

Blair, a Plymouth mother of two, said her son Justin went through the program. "I know the benefits my son got out of it," she said.

Blair has decided to put together a petition to show the Board of Education that parents in the community support continuing the program. No matter what it takes.

"I can't believe we didn't pass it (the Headlee waiver)," said Blair, who didn't vote due to an illness last week.

As far as Blair is concerned the Begindergarten program helps those children who are emotionally unready to start Kindergarten as well as the really young kids. It helps kids get used to being around kids.

"I really think the Plymouth schools are excellent," Blair said, "but I'm worried about the cuts. This is when the kids need it, not in high school."

Blair said she was mad at the school district and the voters who rejected the Headlee waiver. "These young kids need a good head start," she said. "They have to stop these cuts that will hurt the kids."

"Why are they cutting Begindergarten when there are janitor's in the district who sit on their ass all day long," she continued.

Blair said she has just begun her petition drive, but that she plans to hit up mothers in the district who have kids in need of the program. She has also sent a letter to the board expressing her concerns.

Begindergarten is just one of the many programs which will be affected by the cuts. Some might think it is the least important since it only affects the little ones, but if one thinks like Blair it becomes obvious that the program is just as important as those offered for middle schoolers or high school students.

Many of the district's best programs are those which help the younger students get adjusted to academics and relating to other students. There are a lot of programs like that offered by Community Education, Adult Education and Alternative Education.

All three of those areas will also be affected. Not only will the younger kids suffer, but so will the high school students and even adult students of this community.

Maybe it's time to consider alternative funding methods. The pay-to-play concept will be put into effect this fall for sports and other extra-curricular activities but it might also have to be used for the Begindergarten program.

That's a shame because voters who thought rejecting the Headlee waiver would save them money, really won't save a dime. Instead they'll now have to pay for programs that they have taken for granted all this time.

Administration let down student

EDITOR:

Seven weeks ago Gilanjli Singh, a Salem high school senior, won first place in the state for Lincoln-Douglas debate for the National Forensic League.

By doing this she qualified to go to the national contest held in Nashville, TN June 13-17. This is the first time in the history of our school district that a student has received such a high award; however, she was not able to attend this contest.

Her coach, Steve Marsh, applied for permission and financial backing to attend this contest which he had received for all the qualifying contests. He was denied permission to attend. He was denied a substitute for that week. He was denied money for fees. Only six schools in the whole state had qualifying students for Nationals. The other five schools gave their coaches and students full financial support to attend.

Not only was Marsh denied support, he was not told his request was denied until only two days before the event. Administrators kept putting off making a decision. Fees had to be paid. Marsh paid out of his own pocket $162.00 of entry fees for this contest. When he was denied his request to attend, he was also denied from our administrators any reimbursement for the fees.

I am heartsick that this great honor was denied to Gilanjli and Marsh. If they were going to be denied permission to attend, why did it take Michael Holmes and Tom Tattan six weeks to make the decision? Why will they not reimburse Marsh?

By this act, the administrators are making a very strong statement to me. They do not care about the development of a strong speech/debate program at CEP. They will not support students in this program. We will never be able to keep excellent coaches like Marsh, nor will we be able to encourage talented students like Gilanjli to participate in such worthwhile programs with such lack of interest or support by administrators.

I am sorry, Mr. Marsh. I am sorry, Gilanjli. I am sorry for all of us at CEP who are working so hard to develop a strong speech/debate/theater program for students.

Tell it to Phyllis

By Phyllis Redfern

The summer chaos of having both kids home only lasted a week. Just when I was starting to get used to kids coming and going, the phone ringing and my car disappearing, things are quieter again. A few kids are still in and out, the phone rings more than usual, but my car always stays exactly where I left it.

I must admit I miss not having my daughter around this summer - honest I really miss her. I don't have anyone to stay up and talk to for half the night and I can't accuse her of borrowing the earrings I can't find. Ok so it's easy to say now that she's back at school, but things sure are a lot quieter.

Thank heavens the other kid and all his friends are around. Even if we hardly see each other between our work and social schedules, it's just nice to know he will be there eventually.

It's hard being a mom trying to get used to kids growing up. I had a hard time when the kids went away to school in the fall, and an even harder time adjusting to them coming home in the spring. This year I hate the idea of a kid not coming home for the summer because that means she probably won't come back home to live except for weekends and visits.

If you think kids at this age are confused about some of the decisions they have to make, just look at their parents. Some of us still haven't figured out what we want.

DON'T MISS COPENHAGEN

Copenhagen, the capital of Denmark, is a medley of canals, parks, ancient churches, lakes, palaces and castles. It is a fascinating city in a fairytale country.

Begin your visit with a tour of world-famed Tivoli Gardens. It is a unique amusement park with variety entertainment, musical treats, dining delights, fountains and beautiful outdoor gardens.

Feast your eyes, in the Glyptothek gallery, on a $5 million Corot painting. See one of only two complete sets, in the entire world, of Degas' sculptures. A priceless collection of 16th century Flemish tapestries awaits you in the Royal Museum of Fine Arts.

Stop by the "Little Mermaid", who symbolically guards Copenhagen's harbor, walk the crooked streets with their marvelous shopping areas, observe the copper-towered buildings, enjoy the lively nightlife, considered by some the best in Europe. And the food!!! Copenhagen will extend a warm, Danish welcome that you'll remember always.

Douglass, Halmekangas withdraw from races

BY PAUL GARGARO

With this year's political races just recently underway, changes in the field of candidates should have an impact on two local races.

State Rep. Gerald Law (R-Plymouth) will face one less opponent in his bid for a fourth term in the 36th House District. Would-be-opponent Dwight L. Douglass, 72, of Livonia, was disqualified from the race by the Wayne County Office of Elections for filing in the wrong district.

With Douglass out of the race, Law's sole competition will come from Jean Stempian-D. An attorney in Northville, Stempian is currently on the board of trustees at Schoolcraft College.

Douglass could not be reached for comment.

In Plymouth Township, Deputy Clerk Lorraine Halmekangas recently announced that she will not be running against the Township Clerk Esther Hulsing-R.

As a result, Hulsing will run unopposed in her bid to regain the clerkship.

Halmekangas said that "many factors" influenced her decision not to oppose Hulsing.

City cops foil hit-and-run

Plymouth Police foiled a hit and run accident on Harvey Street at Ann Arbor Road Saturday evening by "treecing" the suspect as he attempted to flee the scene.

Police said that the suspect's car struck a southbound Harvey Street vehicle after turning north onto the street from Ann Arbor Road.

The suspect's car careened across Harvey Street and hit a stationary object on the west side of the street, said police.

At the scene, police observed the suspect crawling under a nearby pine tree. Police took the suspect from the tree and returned with him to the scene of the accident where he was identified as the driver of the car by witnesses.

Police said that he was taken back to the station after having been arrested for O.U.I.L. The suspect was then transferred to Oakwood Hospital. The police obtained a search warrant to have suspect's blood drawn to check the alcohol content at the time of the accident.

Police said that the suspect has been charged with OUIL, refusal to take a preliminary blood test, and leaving the scene of an accident.

There were no serious injuries in the accident, police said.

necessary. The program would limit the watering of lawns to one day a week, or odd and even days.

Two weeks ago the Canton Fire Department had to refill the pond behind the Canton Administration Building on Canton Center Road when it became clear the pond was running dry.

The pond is used for watering soccer fields in the area behind the administration facility.

Maurice Breen, Plymouth Township's supervisor, said no-one has been ringing his office phone with water problems just yet.

"There's no indication we need to be doing anything like that (enforce a sprinkler program) yet," Breen said. "We have significant water pressure, unless the Detroit water system becomes over taxed."

Breen added that modifications made to the township's water system over the past five years have helped in the battle against drought this spring and summer.

The township has, however, been the scene of numerous grass fires, especially along the M-14 freeway, which have been keeping local firefighters busy. There are half a dozen burnt patches along the freeway right-of-way, many of them so dry they could even restart.

In the City of Plymouth, things haven't been too bad, according to Assistant City Manager Paul Sincock.

"We haven't had to take any steps like in Northville," Sincock, referring to several water restrictions already in place in the neighboring community to the north. "They said it was so bad in Northville that one night they wouldn't have been able to fight a major fire if it happened."

Sincock said the city's water pressure and water supply are both in good shape so far this year.

"I don't see any problems getting the supply," he said. "And I don't anticipate any pressure problems. It's pretty quiet -- everything seems to be holding itself together."

Fast track 'Y' Run draws competitive field

BY MARTY TUNGATE

The Plymouth Community 'Y' held its 9th Annual Run on Saturday, June 18, and once again a record number of runners turned out for the event.

Organizers Debbie Glomski and Joane McCarthy estimated that 940 runners took part in the 10-kilometer, five-kilometer and one-mile runs, compared to last year when 755 people took part.

The top three finishers in the women's five-kilometer run were Susan Alt, of Taylor, in first place, Sandra Elliott, of Saline, in second and Gail Long, Coral Springs, FL, took third place.

The mens five-kilometer top three included Jeff Fedewa, of Plymouth, in first, Matt Schroeder of Monroe, in second, and Steve Takalo, of Plymouth, finished third.

The top three women finishers in the 10-kilometer race included Susan Tomanek, of South Lyon, in first, Lisa Butler, of Brighton, in second and Diane Hiamebaugh in third.

And they're off

The top three men in the 10k race included Terry Elsey, of Farmington Hills, in first, Patrick Norris, in second, and Phil Sanborn, of Monroe, in third.

Results of the one mile run were not available at press time.

A special award was given out at the run as well this year. It went to the Most Senior Entry — Delia Louise Curtis, of Ann Arbor.

Curtis, an 89-year-old, competed in the one mile run.

"Everything went great this year," Glomski said. "All of the runners were very happy with everything and the volunteers that helped did a fantastic job."

Dr. Tom Morse, this year's starter and race coordinator, was among the volunteers who took part in making the annual event successful, according to Glomski.

Hail to the victors

Members and coaches of the Canton Metro Magic Team pose proudly with their ribbons and trophy after their victory in the Michigan State Cup.

'Magic' takes state cup

Canton's Metro Magic under 14 boys soccer team, coached by John Boots, recently won the Michigan State Cup in Kalamazoo.

The team will next compete in Indianapolis in July. The squad will face 13 other state teams in a regional competition.

Members of the squad include:

Softball tourney scheduled

Team registrations are being accepted for the Sixth Annual Easter Seal Softball Tournament/Marathon which will be held on Aug. 6-7 at the Canton Softball Center.

Men's C and D and women's C and D teams will take to the diamond in the sanctioned, double elimination tournaments. Paid National Berths, trophies and Stroh's prizes will be awarded.

Teams not interested in playing the tourney can instead play in the Marathon, two hours of softball against a team of the same classification.

The cost is $75 deposit to register a team. Another $90 is needed on the day of the competition. Due to a lack of available fields, only a limited number of teams will be registered.

For further information call Phyllis Hodges at 722-3055.

It's not Wimbledon but...

Canton tennis tourney's a swing for singles

BY MARTY TUNGATE

Summer is here and for those local tennis enthusiasts that means one thing.

Wimbledon!

And those who can't take part in Wimbledon can take part in the next best thing.

And, of course, that is the Canton Parks and Recreation Department's Third Annual Singles Tennis Tournament.

Once again the tournament will be run by Kristen Harrison, local star in her own right.

Year after year the tennis tournament grows in numbers as is the popularity of tennis.

"I think people are more health conscious in these days," Harrison said.

The singles tennis tournament sponsored by the Canton Parks and Recreation Department is growing by leaps and bounds as well.

"Year after year the tournament gets bigger," Harrison said. "I think people like to get involved in tournaments to measure their level of ability, as well as the factor of competition."

The tournament will take place on Friday, July 8 through Sunday, July 10.

The tourney has five different divisions as well, 14 and under, 15-19, 20-29, 30-39 and 40 years or over.

The entry fee is only $5 per person. Each player must furnish a new can of

USTA approved tennis balls for each match (new balls go to winner.)

USTA rules will apply at all times.

There will be two out of three sets, with a 12 point tie breaker played at 6-6.

Participants who play on Friday, July 8 at 6 p.m. will be notified on Thursday, July 7.

The tournament will take place at the Canton High School tennis courts.

Registration deadline for the tourney is Wednesday, July 6 at 5 p.m.

If players have any questions or need more information call 397-5110.

It may not be Wimbledon, but it's the next best thing!

Symonds' Scholarship benefits local athletes

BY MARTY TUNGATE

The 1988 Jim Symonds' Memorial Athletic Scholarship was awarded to two Plymouth residents last week, Sharon Sweeney and Shannon Heutter.

The two will receive $500 scholarship toward their 1988-89 school tuition.

Sweeney, who will be attending Schoolcraft Community College in the fall, was also honored by the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees with $500 to go toward her tuition.

"I felt great about winning the Symonds' Scholarship," Sweeney said.

"With the two scholarships I should be able to work during the school year and pay for school myself the following year."

Sweeney's future career interests include a science-related career, and mathematics and business. She is also seriously considering a career in the medical field.

"I hope to transfer from Schoolcraft after my first year to either the University of Michigan-Dearborn or to Eastern Michigan," Sweeney added.

Heutter attends Huron Valley Lutheran High School in Westland and hopes to attend Eastern Michigan in the fall, where he can pursue his studies and sports, with a major in biology.

Heutter was really excited to win the award, said his mother.

HPLM baseball perches on the brink of 1st place

BY PAUL GARGARO

First place in the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League isn't far off for coach Dave Racer's Hines Park Lincoln Mercury baseball squad.

Comprised of talent from The Plymouth-Canton Community, the Hines Park team has won six of their last seven contests and is quickly gaining ground the first place Livonia Little Caesar's team.

In fact, Little Caesar's met with its first defeat at the hands of the Lincoln Mercury club on Wednesday.

Pitcher Jeff Lyle picked up the victory, while Ed Bardelli added two hits and two RBI's to the effort. Todd Marion also contributed two hits and two RBI's and Chris Sisler stroked in three RBI's.

The club's record now stands at 9-4.

On Friday, the team steamrolled rolled Londo's of South Lyon.

Canton's Mike Sulak picked up the win allowing a meager four hits. Chris Sisler added a pair of hits and two RBI's and Dan Niemiec collected three RBI's on two hits. Tim Dowd scored twice while walking on all four trips to the plate.

On Sunday, the team continued its winning ways by sweeping Walter's Appliance of Livonia in a doubleheader, 13-7 and 7-1.

Todd Marion won the first game and Derrick Darkowski got the win in game two. Darkowski struck out eleven in the effort and allowed only five hits.

Tony Aiken homered in each game and Rob Adams homered in game one. Adams had three hits on the day.

The Hines Park team takes the field tonight (Wed.) at 6:30 p.m. against Tom Holzer Ford of Northville at their home field at Canton High School. On Friday, they will meet Walter's Appliance at 5:30 p.m. at Ford Field in Livonia.

What to say. I don't know, but we've had some good times and we'll always have our memories.

Ahhh sweet memories!

I remember one of my first assignments at The Crier. Publisher Ed Wendover sent me to the Plymouth Township Hall to cover the 1986 election results.

What a night that night turned into.

The machine counting the all-new flawless punch cards broke down, and I was stuck at the Plymouth Township Hall until 2:30 a.m. surrounded by Republicans.

Yuck!

Then I remember asking my first sports editor T.M. Smith why he recommended me for the sports reporters job?

"You were the only one who wore a tie," Smith laughed.

And how about all of those great games and athletes I've come to know and love throughout my two year career.

Dena Head -- one of the greatest girls basketball players in the country. This girl will be in the 1992 Olympics if she continues to work hard.

Land of confusion

By Marty Tungate

Jill Estey -- first of all this 'multi-talented' basketball player/soccer player is incredible. She moves a soccer ball with her feet as well as Isiah Thomas moves a basketball with his hands. No joke. When she goes to college (maybe U of M), she may bring respect back to the U of M basketball program.

Then the great Angie Miller -- Two time State Champion high jumper. If I could jump half as high as she could I would be able to slam dunk a basketball.

How about Dave O'Malley -- this great Salem soccer goalie would constantly give up his body to stop a goal. Good luck, Dave.

Then there's Roger Trice -- he brought respectability back to the Canton football squad and he also helped to lead the Chief cage squad to a District Championship. Trice also leaped to a seventh place finish at the state track finals.

Then the speedsters in the Canton pool, Cassie Cummins and Nicole Drake -- before they graduate they may bring home a state title for the Canton swimming team.

Speaking of the Canton girls tankers, I almost forgot the great diver in Amy Van Bunker, she's a great one and she'll be one to watch next year.

Hey all of Salem and Canton coaches, no more Marty Tungate. I bet they'll like that. Well, I'll miss you too.

Fred Thomann (Salem's girls hoop coach) -- I hope some day a college team realizes what they're missing and I hope Salem realizes what they have in you.

Big "I" golf at Brae Burn

The Independent Insurance Agents of Wayne County will sponsor a qualifying tournament for local golfers 17 and under. The qualifying tourney opens the annual Big "I" Insurance Youth Golf Classic.

Brae Burn Golf Club will be the site of the Wayne County round which will be held on June 27.

Winners of the local tournaments will advance to the Michigan finals to be held in Cadillac on July 17-18. The state finalists will then have the chance to play with PGA pros in Texas.

Entry blanks and rules and regulations on entering the local qualifying round are available at Keh Agency, Inc. in Southgate -- 13113 Trenton Road (313) 284-0942.

Hoop shoot for hot shots

Hot shots, sure shots. Try that during the upcoming Canton Parks and Recreation Department sponsored annual NBA Hotshot Basketball Competition.

The competitions will be held at noon on three different days -- July 12, 18 and 20 -- at Eriksson and Hulsing

Ken Johnson and assistant Larry King (Salem girl's soccer coaches) -- thanks for all of your help, and thanks for all of the invites to your functions. What a team you've built!

Rob Neu, -- Mr. Neu, -- Coach Neu, you'll always be Rob to me. Best of luck and keep working. Things will get brighter.

Thanks to all of the coaches, it's been fun and interesting.

What about those feature stories??!

Did you know yours truly was the last reporter to interview John Ogradnick before the Wings traded him in early 1978? Johnny O. was a former Plymouth resident.

And I'll never forget getting up at 4 a.m. to interview horse trainers at D.R.C.

And the many more features I did.

It's time for the thank you session.

Thanks to Jill Estey, you were my first feature story.

Thanks to all of the athletes and coaches who put up with me.

Wendover, Phyllis Redfern, Ken Voyles, Chris Farina for those rides, Dan Ness, T.M. Smith, Paul Gargaro, Dan O'Meara, Julie, Mom, Dad, well you know, thanks!!!!

I've been through two sports editors here at The Crier and now I'm on my third. I think I'm leaving you sports nuts in good hands.

So folks, I'm no longer confused. I get it now. I understand.

I'll be leaving the newsprint. But I'll be in touch, trust me -- I'll be your worst nightmare -- well, maybe not.

Elementary schools. There is no fee.
