Pursell, Pollack target priorities

BY PAUL GARGARO

There are many differences between the two major candidates in the 2nd Congressional District.

For starters, take their stated agenda priorities.

For incumbent Republican Carl Pursell, of Plymouth Township, the main targets for the future are a reduction in the deficit and a balanced budget.

His Democratic challenger, State Senator Lana Pollack of Ann Arbor, on the other hand, stresses jobs, health care, and the environment as her priorities.

"We have to look at our (programs) in light of the budget," said Pursell. "The bi-partisan effort should be to exercise fiscal restraint. We cannot look at new policies honestly until we balance a budget."

While Pursell said he will stay committed to domestic issues like education, health care, and the war on drugs, Pollack has been outspoken in her criticism of the congressman's environmental record.

She criticized Pursell's voting record on the Clean Water Act and his willingness to allow a radioactive waste dump to be placed in Michigan as a part of a seven-state compact.

Pursell said that Pollack "hit the panic button" on the nuclear waste issue by changing her mind to placate Hillsdale County residents who fear a future dumpsite may be located in their backyard -- which he said probably wouldn't be located there anyway.

During a face-to-face debate

Monday at The Crier office, Pursell banged his fist on the table and raised his voice, "Don't lie before this group," on the issue of senior citizens and Social Security funding.

Pollack retorted at one point that Pursell had painted her with favoring unilateral (rather than bilateral) disarmament. "Talk about distortion of the record," she said.

Pursell said that Pollack is too far to the left to best serve the moderate majority in the district.

Pollack said she is not a pure liberal, but a candidate who is outspoken on the issues. She said her main difference with Pursell was on "approach and vision.

"It takes courage to stand up against the tide. No one has stood up to say we're being taken to the cleaners," said Pollack. "You have to be out in front."

Replied Pursell, "She may be out in front, but she's way out in the left."

The two also differ on the subject of military spending and future aid to the Contras.

Where is Bill?

BY DAN JARVIS

Maybe it's time to elect a Congressman who is more responsive to the 15th District -- which includes all of Canton -- say all three challengers seeking the post.

William D. Ford, the incumbent Congressman in the 15th, refused to attend a Crier forum at which his opponents were present.

VOTE

All three of his challengers attacked Ford's refusal to debate during the campaign.

Burl Adkins, the Republican nominee, said he's sent Ford a map of the district and airplane timetables so that the Congressman could find his way here.

"We've accepted every invitation from a legitimate group," Ford said in a telephone conversation from Washington D.C.

"Look, after all these years I don't have to be afraid of anybody," Ford said, referring to the other candidates.

"Mr. Ford has decided that he would rather hide from the voters than face them in a debate," Adkins wrote in an Oct. 10 letter.

"His refusal to meet with the people is understandable, though," Adkins

Janet Holt, 57, is retiring from The Crier as one of its most steadfast drivers. She joined the staff of the paper shortly after it opened.

Before her retirement as a Crier driver, Holt was honored as the company's "Employee of the Month."

Holt, a resident of Plymouth Township for the past 26 years, has made the job of many of the Crier's carriers easier by helping get the bundles of papers to them each Wednesday.

She is also known around town through her performance's as a cellist with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra (PSO) and the now disbanded Plymouth String Trio.

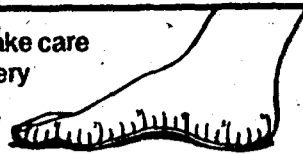

Holt is moving to northeast Georgia but will probably remain a Crier reader.

She also has sung with the First Presbyterian Church choir. "My music is my hobby," said Holt.

COMBATting DRUGS AND CRIME

DRUGS have become public enemy #1 in America. Congressman Pursell has proposed a five-point plan to intensify the war on drugs, including an expanded role for the military, coordination of all federal agencies, and a tough policy toward drug-producing nations which are closing their eyes to this deadly export.

Carl is no newcomer to this battle. Over a decade ago, when some public officials supported relaxing drug enforcement, then-State Senator Pursell was responsible for placing a modern crime lab in our district to help police fight drugs and other crimes.

Congressman Pursell has also supported: The death penalty for drug-related murders; Expanding the Crime Victims' Fund; Anti-child pornography and child abuse legislation.

Canton Chiefs' symbol derogatory, says state

BY DAN JARVIS

Following several weeks of debate at Canton High School regarding the use of an Indian symbol for the boys football team, the Michigan Department of Civil Rights has issued a set of recommendations for all schools in the state.

Art Stine, spokesman for the department, said the civil rights body has just completed a survey of 1,400 Michigan schools and found that 99 schools, including Canton, are using Indian symbols in a negative fashion.

"We've concluded that the symbols are very stereotypic, racist and discriminatory," said Stine. "Even when schools use a dignified Indian, it is laden with stereotypes which are inaccurate and harmful."

Tom Tattan, Canton High principal, said, "I still don't think the logo, chosen by students in 1977, is derogatory. If it was a caricature of an Indian in a warlike state, it would be."

Stine said the survey was prompted after an awareness raising poster contest produced such titles as "The Pittsburg Negroes, The Kansas City Jews, the San Diego Caucasians" and the well known "Cleveland Indians."

The same poster, containing all four titles, said Stine, included an afternote reading, "Maybe now you know how native Americans feel."

3 contend in 36th

BY PAUL GARGARO

Voters in the 36th District, which includes Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Northville Township and portions of the City of Northville and Canton, will have three contenders to choose from on Nov. 8.

State Representative Gerald Law (R-Plymouth) will compete for a fourth term in the 36th House District against Democrat candidate Jeanne Stempien, of Northville Township, and Libertarian candidate Jeffrey Hampton, also of Northville Township.

A Plymouth Township resident, Law is a former employe of Ford Motor Company and served as a Plymouth Township Trustee before his election into the state legislature.

Law is currently a member of the Judiciary, Insurance, and Public Health committees. In addition, he is vice-chairman of the House Committee on State Affairs.

A member of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, he is also a member of the Kiwanis Club, Our Lady of Good Counsel Parish, and the Knights of Columbus. He holds a masters degree in business administration from the University of Detroit and is a graduate of Wayne State University Law School.

Law is married and has two children.

Stempien is a member of the Northville Chamber of Commerce, the U of M Alumni Association, the Northville Business and Professional Women's Association, and a parishioner of Our Lady of Victory Church.

Stempien is married and has two children.

Hampton is a manufacturer's representative and the owner of Hampton and Associates in Northville Township. He is a graduate of Michigan State University (MSU) with a degree in mechanical engineering.

Hampton is the treasurer of the Michigan Libertarian Party and is a member of the Constitutionalists, the Cato Institute, and the MSU Alumni Association. He is married with two children.

Hampton has never sought political office.

"I'm not a hardline big defense advocate, but I'm not going to unilaterally knock out key components of the negotiation packages," said Pursell. "For the first time we have an INF Treaty. I want to have a bi-lateral, not a unilateral reduction."

Pollack said she advocates a stricter policy in defense spending and is against any future military aid to the Contras.

"We need a coherent statement of what is necessary for U.S. security -- approach it from what is necessary, not what's available," said Pollack, who has also challenged the amount of support offered to the West German and Japanese armed forces.

Pursell said he supports the Arias Plan in Latin America and supports an increase in economic and social interaction between the region and the United States.

"My future support of aid to the Contras depends on the success of that (Arias) plan," said Pursell.

Also in the race is a Libertarian candidate David Raaflaub, 44. An attorney from Ann Arbor, he ran for Ann Arbor City Council in the spring and for the Ann Arbor Board of Education in June.

Although invited, Raaflaub did not participate in The Crier's debate; neither has he supplied campaign information on the issues.

Questions remain

Superintendent issue dead?

Despite the fact that the residents of Canton have let it be known that they want to continue the supervisor (or strong mayor) form of government, some candidates seeking office during the Nov. 8 general election still see it as an issue.

Back in August when voters rejected the idea of hiring a full time superintendent to run the day-to-day operations in the township (and retain the supervisor as a figure head), many thought the issue had died.

But questions remain.

No one is really questioning supervisor-elect Tom Yack's plans, but much of the current concern revolves around how he will follow the voters' directions and how willing he is to work at the post full-time.

One candidate, during a recent election forum, said, "We have a ship ready to be launched and I'm not sure we have a captain at the controls."

Yack said he plans to take a leave of absence from his job as a teacher with the Wayne-Westland School District, but that he will not submit for the leave until after the new board meets and decides whether or not to return the supervisor position to full-time.

Earlier this year the current board made the supervisor job a part-time one. It also reduced the salary by more than half. Since the August primary, the board has wrestled with whether or not to return the job to full-time.

Not too long ago, though, the board decided to wait and let the incoming board make the decision, despite the fact that Yack encouraged the current board to go ahead and change the supervisor's status.

"It means I'm not going to do anything until they do," Yack said.

P-C needs a real representative

EDITOR:

As we enter the final stages of campaigning prior to the general election on November 8, it is becoming more evident that George Bush will be our next president. All major polls are proclaiming Mr. Bush will win by near landslide proportions. In order for the Bush administration to continue our nations economic expansion, and to reduce our dependence on borrowed money to finance that expansion, he will need to have members of Congress who are willing and able to make some very difficult monetary decisions.

The 15th Congressional District currently has as its representative a man who does not know how to turn off the money spigot to special interest groups. In a letter to Congressman Ford I asked him how he could continue to vote for pay increases for top-ranking Federal officials and members of Congress while we continue to have massive budget deficits and national debt approaching three trillion dollars. And please, let's put the blame where it belongs, Congress writes checks, not the President. Congress has been controlled by the Democratic party since the days of Franklin Roosevelt.

Mr. Ford has chosen not to answer my letter.

There is a way to straighten out the budgetary mess that we have lived with since the days of the Carter administration. Elect a Republican to represent the 15th District and who will work with our next President -- vote for Burl C. Adkins.

Mr. Adkins has stated on numerous occasions that he supports a "Balanced Budget Amendment" to the Constitution and a "line item veto" authority for the President. These two new laws would eliminate future RED INK budgets. At the state level, Mr. Adkins is demanding a full accounting from Governor Blanchard regarding the $29 million dollar tax break granted to Mazda to entice them to set up operations in Michigan. Speaking of Mazda, where are the 12,000 jobs we were promised?

It's time to elect a man who is truly a representative of the people, a man who wants to improve your standard of living, who wants to give new meaning to the word REPRESENTATIVE. Elect Burl C. Adkins as your Congressman from the 15th District.

RALPH H. SHUFELDT
CANTON

In The Margin

By Ken Voyles

Yack added that he will file for a "general purpose" leave from his school district when the new board returns the supervisor job to that of full-time. If granted, his leave would begin in January, 1989.

A decision by the new board will probably be forthcoming at the Nov. 22 meeting.

"My gut feeling is that there'll be no problem because the board sees the wisdom of a full-time position and because they know of my plans to take a leave," Yack said.

But he added there might be some "maneuvering" before or during the meeting.

If elected, one faction of the board will no doubt question Yack's plans, but the majority of the board will agree with his plans and the matter will be settled.

To file for a leave Yack will have to submit a letter to the Wayne-Westland Board of Education and await that group's decision, which could take 30 days or more.

There's a small chance Wayne-Westland will reject his request and put the supervisor-elect between a rock and a hard place, but Yack is confident he will get his leave.

A quick glance at the current candidates for the board suggests there will enough votes to make the job full-time again, but the nature of Canton politics still leaves some doubt.

If the new board begins its term bickering over the supervisor's role, that really won't be anything new for Canton.

Only the names and faces will have changed.

Suprise! Suprise!

Ford adds twist to election

It seems that each election carries some surprise with it. This time, Congressman William D. Ford, whose district includes Canton, supplied the new wrinkle.

It's nothing new that during his many years in Congress, Ford has refused to debate his opponents.

But it is startling to hear him say he's accepted every debate invitation from a "legitimate" group. The many voters who have attended League of Women Voters forums in Canton know that's simply not true.

Ford, once again, declined to debate his opponents in The Crier office last week, although he said he'd come in alone. (For the past eight years, The Crier's editorial board has invited all candidates in each race to debate together.)

Perhaps Ford feels that the League of Women Voters and The Crier aren't legitimate forums.

Ironically, Ford would do well in a debate against his opponents. His years in Congress and his important committee assignments make him a knowledgeable man on Capitol Hill. Additionally, he's a fairly engaging fellow to chat with.

With malice toward none

But it seems he's been in Congress too long.

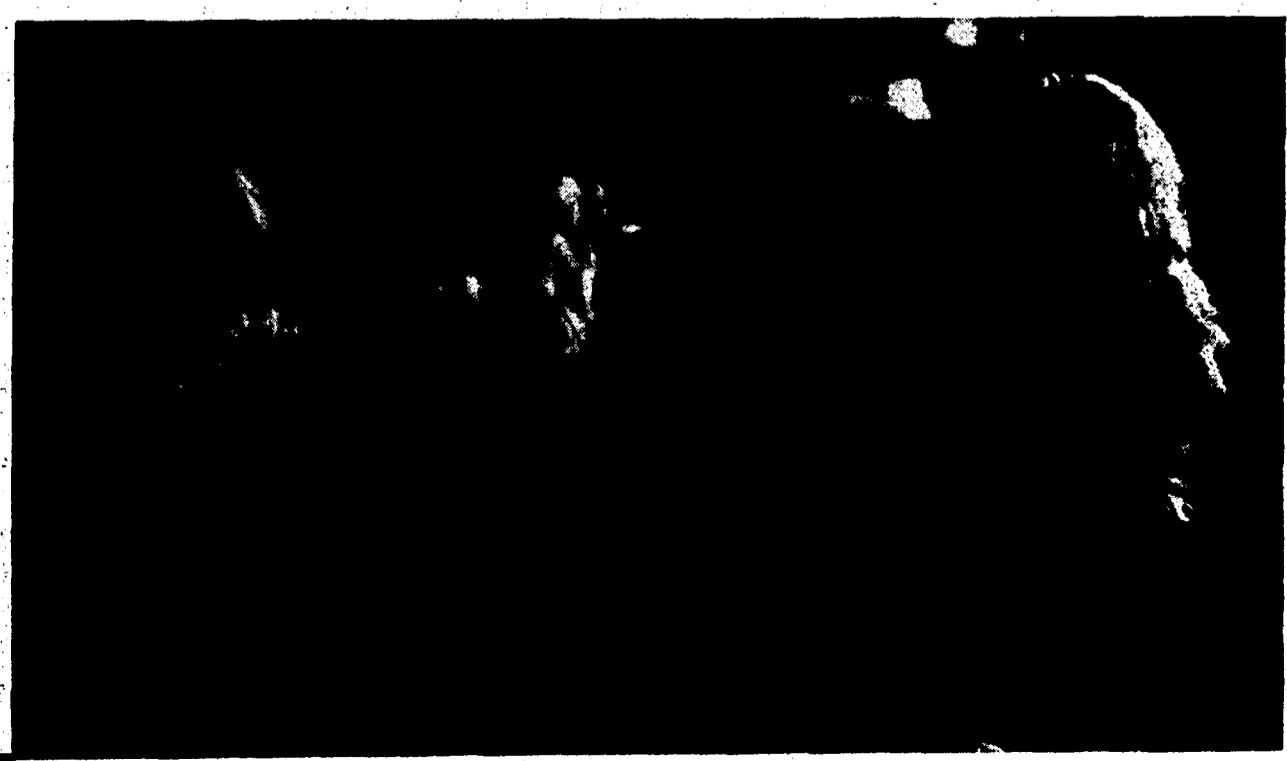

It's a shame he feels so secure that he can turn down all public debates. That simply lends credibility to his opponents' charges that Ford doesn't represent the district well because he rarely visits it.

Worse, he's lying when he says he's "accepted every invitation from a legitimate group."

He'll likely win re-election. It'd also be great if Congressman Bill Ford can win his battle with the deadly Potomac Fever too.

Cynical vote still a vote

The choice is yours, if you can wade through the bullcrackers of election year rhetoric.

If you believe what the politicians say, we should have all the country's problems sewn up within a couple of years.

Won't it be nice? Clean water, clean air, no wasted defense dollars? A world without war, hatred or corruption.

Well I'm not waiting for it to happen. It seems that whenever one problem is quelled, three more jump up to haunt us.

It may sound cynical, and I suppose it is, but it is not a cop out. I'm still going to vote and have my say as an American.

When someone says things could be better and in the the same breath says they didn't vote because it won't do any good, I have no sympathy.

Many potential voters in my age group (28) are discouraged and feel that their vote won't matter either way. Often I will ask "But isn't it worth a try?" They seem unconvinced nonetheless.

My feeling is that most politicians are simply unconvincing. Much of the rhetoric sounds like so many empty promises. When they get really good at what they do, they move on to greener pastures, only to be replaced by someone looking for the same thing.

I have talked to many with the same feelings, but to sit back just makes things worse. Candidates know how to take advantage of voter apathy.

I think by now you understand my point. Vote Nov. 8. Even if it is raining, even if there is a chance the candidate is just trying to sham. Even if the world's problems just keep on coming, like candidates on an assembly line.

No reason to change Chiefs' name or logo

BY E.J. McCLENDON

I am pleased at the opportunity to respond to the issue of the naming of one of our Plymouth-Canton athletic teams, The Chiefs.

In my mind, this is really a non-issue because the troubling parts of this were resolved, for me, when the name was chosen. At that time Kent Buikema, then principal of Canton High School, called me to say that he thought the name "Chiefs" was going to be chosen and wondered if I would have any objections to it.

My position then, as it is now, is that the naming of athletic teams for various American Indians, in itself, was not objectionable. However, the use of stereotypes in symbols, logos or performances that denigrate Indian people or Indian culture is highly objectionable.

E.J. McCLENDON

head penny which has always has been found acceptable to all Indians, to my knowledge.

Indian dances often have strong religious symbolism and should not be mimicked or faked by non-Indian people. Slogans that use terms like "savage" or "scalping the opponent" are also in very bad taste.

A large number of these kinds of practices had crept into the athletic jargon at Stanford University. To solve this problem and erase this practice, Stanford changed the name of its athletic teams from "Indians" to "Cardinals."

Since we have never done any of these kinds of things and have moved to correct any real or implied insult, I see no reason for Plymouth-Canton schools to change the name of the Chiefs.

I do feel we will need to continue to be vigilant to see that none of these objectionable practices are adopted in Canton High School. I believe our faculty, our students and our administration will be thoughtfully responsible to protect against such problems.

Canton's sports mascot and logo.

For example, when they chose the head dress as a symbol, some students had proposed a grinning Indian with an upraised tomahawk as the logo, to which I strongly object.

Kent assured me that it would not be approved and asked me what I would find acceptable.

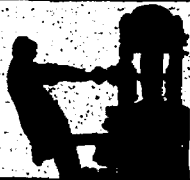

I suggested several things. One I recall was a lovely Indian maiden and there were others that I can't remember. Apparently the one I suggested, which may have been mentioned by others, was the Indian-

PLYMOUTH-CANTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS Financial Report Year Ended June 30, 1988

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE PLYMOUTH-CANTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS

The financial and statistical report for the PLYMOUTH-CANTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS is submitted in accordance with Section 216, Act 269, Public Act 1965, as amended, and is compiled from data submitted to the Michigan Department of Education and from the annual audit for the school year ending June 30, 1988.

This report substantiates that the PLYMOUTH-CANTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS is continuing to operate on a sound financial basis. The K-12 Fourth Friday student count increased only 26 students from the previous year (from 15,931 in 1986-87 to 15949 in 1987-88). The total mills levied for the 1987-88 school year decreased from the previous year by .58 mill due to a Headlee rollback. In 1987-88, the School District received $450.64 per student through the State Membership Aid formula, compared to $466.85 per student in 1986-87. This meant a loss of $1,846,000 in State Membership Aid.

Providing a sound educational program while living within our financial resources has become an increasingly difficult task. The Board of Education and Administration are very appreciative of the efforts of citizens and staff for their assistance and attendance at the Board of Education meetings and at the various committee meetings the Board of Education has established. By assuming the Board of Education will join the staff and citizens in continuous evaluation to determine the extent to which adopted goals and programs are producing the desired educational results and make necessary changes as warranted. Your continued participation in school activities is welcomed, encouraged, and appreciated.

The Board of Education meets on the second and fourth Monday of each month, and a plan on the agenda has been established for comments from citizens. We encourage you to communicate with the Board of Education in this manner.

Haggerty to be paved?

Canton's Board of Trustees were expected last night to discuss whether or not to proceed with the paving of Haggerty Road between Koppernick and Joy roads.

Earlier this year the township attempted to get the road paved, said Supervisor Jim Poole, but landowners along the road voted against it.

Apparently, according to Poole, some residents have since changed their minds and have agreed to proceed with the project.

Part of the project would include fixing the railroad crossing along that stretch of road, said Poole, who added that he has gone ahead and submitted paper work to Lansing for a federal grant to help pay for the crossing.

Poole, in a memo to the board, said, "If the vote to proceed is favorable (that is with the paving of the road) the federal grant would be icing on the cake."

Poole added that if the township does not get the federal grant, Canton could still proceed with paying for the crossing work if the board desires to do so.

He also urged that the project begin with the current board and not be held off until the new board starts following the Nov. 8 general election.

Ford: voters know me wrote. "If I had his record of supporting higher taxes, opposing tax cuts and slashing the defense budget, I would run and hide too!"

Ford reacted to the statements by saying, "I've never been invited to participate in a joint interview."

Ford has been repeatedly invited to The Crier to appear with other candidates but refused, stating in a letter, "I will be happy to appear in your offices to be interviewed alone. I will not, however, appear with other candidates..."

In past years, Ford has not participated in League of Women Voters' forums, although he was invited.

When Ford, like other candidates, was asked to send campaign literature, he responded by saying that he had not prepared any campaign information.

He then said the local library may have the information.

Eric Blankenburg, of the Libertarian Party, said of the voters he has talked to in the district, "No one has heard of Bill Ford."

"He's been hiding," said Blankenburg. "He's not doing much."

Ronda Bell, candidate for the Workers Against Concessions Party said, "It doesn't matter what party, it's who is going to represent the people. If you win, do your job. Working people are being taken advantage of."

Ford reacted to the other candidates statements by saying, "I don't know them and I don't know what their problem is."

"We'll see on Nov. 8th whether the voters know me or not," Ford added.

Stamper gets life for role in murder

Steven Stamper, of Ypsilanti, was sentenced Friday by Washtenaw County Circuit Court Judge Henry Conlin for his part in the slaying of Canton youth Mary Anne Hulbert two years ago.

According to William Delhey, Washtenaw prosecutor, Stamper, who was found guilty of second degree murder, was given a life sentence.

"But it's a parolable offense," Delhey said.

Chris Machacek, also from Ypsilanti, will be sentenced Friday (Oct. 28) for his part in the slaying. Machacek was found guilty of first degree murder and faces a mandatory life sentence without chance for parole, said Delhey.

'Perspective' awarded

The CEP Perspective, the student newspaper at the Centennial Educational Park (CEP), recently earned two national awards for the 1987-88 publication year.

The paper was named a Gold Crown Award Nominee by Columbia Scholastic Press Association through its National High School Journalism Contest/Critique. The paper attained All-Columbian status in writing and editing, coverage, and design with hands-on production.

The Perspective also won an International first place award in the 1988 News Media Evaluation conducted by Quill and Scroll, an international honor society for high school journalists.

English improvement

Tutoring available

Volunteer tutor training, to help children who have English as a second language in grades kindergarten through 12th, is being offered by the Plymouth-Canton Community Education and the Community Literacy Council.

The training involves participants in a 12-hour workshop on Nov. 17 from 3-9 p.m. and Nov. 18 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Dinner and lunch will be provided free and all books and materials used in the workshop will be offered free.

Before the workshop there is a special tutor orientation program on Wednesday, Nov. 2 from 1-3 p.m. at Starkweather in Plymouth's Old Village.

For further information call 451-6555.

'Liftmaster'

Local inventor shows vision and wit

BY KEN VOYLES

Not many residents may remember it, but Plymouth's Russ Bingley once designed and built an invention which helped revolutionize work done at funeral homes.

Bingley, who will be 88 in February, invented what was known as the "liftmaster," a device for handling bodies during the embalming process.

Sound distasteful?

Well, it may seem so, but Bingley's attempts to get it on the market tend to read like a Horatio Alger story of success and failure.

"My son said to me not too long ago that I should have been a millionaire," Bingley said. "I tried to make it a practical proposition. There was nothing as effective back then.

"We sold a few but never enough to stay in business," he added. "Someone told me I made it too good. It didn't break enough to make money."

Bingley, a native of Ohio, came to Michigan with his family when he was two years old, and, as he puts it, started a minor fuss between the states when "both tried to claim me as a native son."

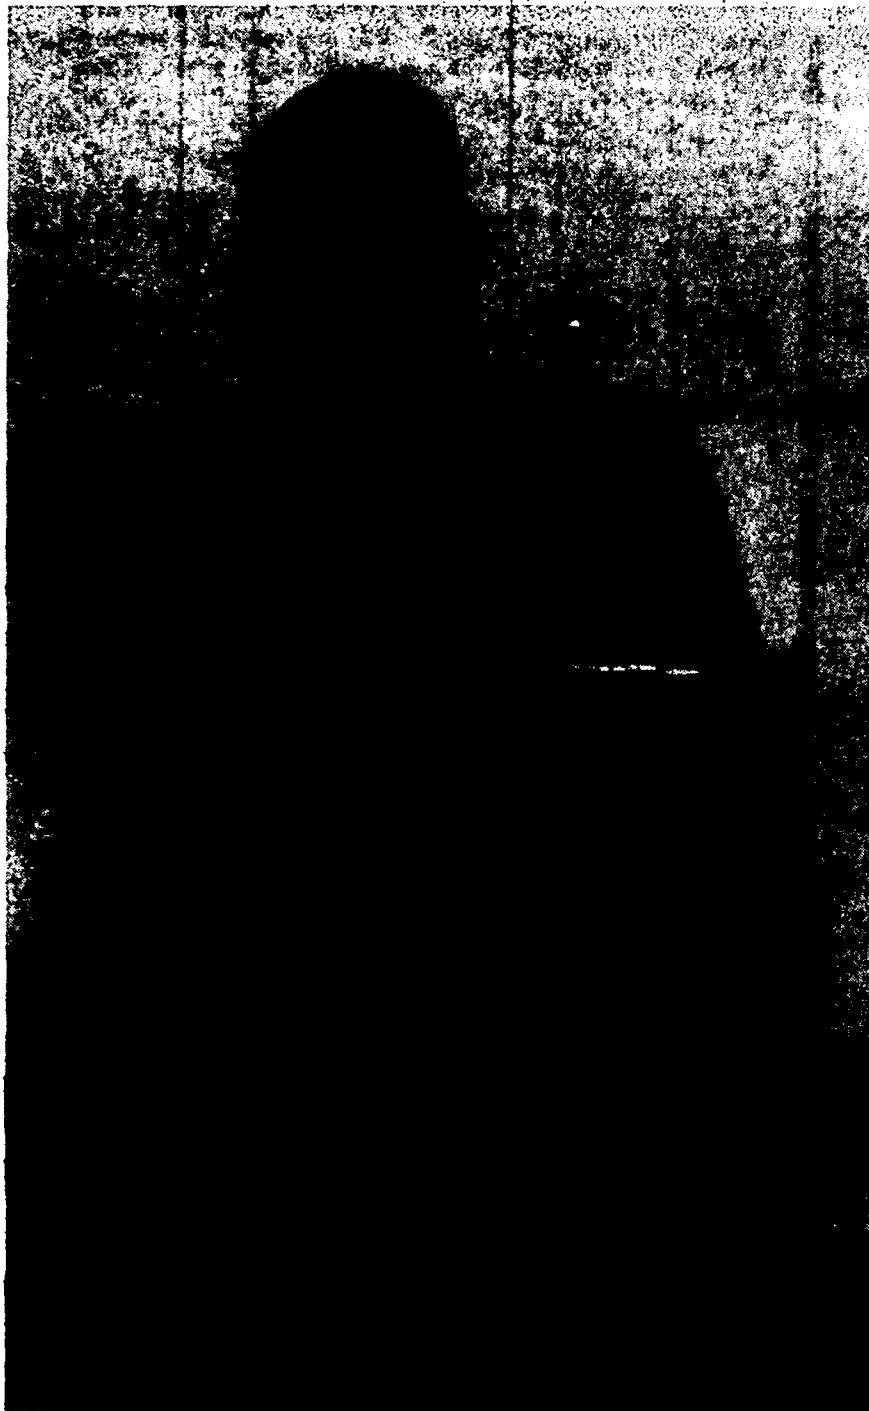

Bingley's caustic wit has led him to the realm of public speaking with the Oral Majority Toastmasters group, where he has repeatedly won awards for speaking.

But back to his origins. Bingley spent most of his youth near Homer, and attended Hillsdale College. He taught school, farmed and was even briefly in politics.

He eventually apprenticed in the funeral business and moved to Plymouth in 1926 where he went to work for the Schrader family. He left briefly to work in Detroit but returned soon afterwards.

It was then that Bingley was inspired to design the liftmaster. By now the world was engulfed in World War II and Bingley found it tough to get the materials he needed for the device.

He also ran into several "shady" characters who made promises to help his fledgling company but never came through.

"We had a tremendous response but couldn't get it out," Bingley said. "The promoters talked a good game but it was such an uphill struggle."

Bingley eventually bought out his partner Fred Schrader and tried to make a go of it himself. It was about this time he came up with a second revolutionary invention -- an orthogenic stretcher.

Bingley later moved to Northville and then Burlington where he worked for the school system and was even president of the Village of Burlington for a time. He returned to the community a few years back.

For the past three years Bingley has spent much of his free time writing and speaking with the Toastmasters. He's won more than 20 speaking trophies.

"I guess I have much to be modest about," he said. Besides speaking and writing, Bingley has a poet's heart and the get up and go of an 18-year-old.

"I get a lot of personal satisfaction out of the Toastmasters, but I also love the sociability of it," he said. "Until recently I did a lot of physical work, yard work and such.

"The last couple of years, though, feels like time has posed limits on me."

Still Bingley likes to stay up until 3 a.m. and "read, think," and of course write. And he can still be seen tooling around town in his automobile.

Bingley, though, is most proud of his liftmaster invention. He remembers when it once helped crack what turned out to be a murder case.

"I've lived by it," he said of his liftmaster device, which was strong enough to carry a horse. "It's something I still live with."

The first liftmaster was shown in 1945, but by 1959 the company was dissolved and Bingley's dreams of making an impact on the funeral business were over.

A few of the old liftmasters are still around, though, a testimony to Bingley's skill as an inventor and the quality of the design itself.

Blame the weather

Everyone is complaining about the rain.

In the past few weeks we have had more cold, dreary, rainy days than we know what to do with -- except complain.

Have you ever noticed how people's moods fit the same pattern as the weather? When it's gloomy outside, you know it isn't going to be much better inside.

Where was all this rain a couple of months ago when everyone was complaining about how hot and dry it was? It's either all or nothing and no matter if it's dry or wet, cold or hot, we still complain about it.

It seems to me I remember someone -- on one of those 100-degree days -- saying something like, "I can't wait until winter because when it's hot there's not much you can do about it, but when it's cold you can put on warmer clothes." I just have one question: how in the heck can you move or do anything when you have three layers of clothes on?

Saturday afternoon I managed to get out and rake up the leaves. They were a little damp, but not as bad as they would have been if I had waited until Sunday. I spent about an hour or two working in the yard and didn't think anything of it until that evening.

Suddenly I was stiff and had trouble moving. Arthritis was getting to me because of the stupid weather. Of course I blamed it on the weather. It couldn't possibly have anything to do with the fact that I'm a bit out of shape because I've been too lazy to exercise.

When in doubt, blame it on the weather.

Michael Brake, son of William and Judith Brake of New England Lane in Canton, had been commissioned an Army second lieutenant. He is a recent graduate of EMU.

Lori Suomela, daughter of Wilfred and Patricia Suomela of N. Umberland in Canton, received a $20,000 four-year Presidential-Congressional Scholarship to EMU. She is a graduate of Salem High School.

Plymouth-Canton graduates of the Corrections Officers' program at Schoolcraft College who received their Corrections Officers Training Council Certification are: Gerald Garver, Patricia Grosso, Tammy Nance and John Tregembo.

Plymouth students on the Dean's List at Indiana University are: Michelle Johnson of Coolidge and Mary Elizabeth Weast of Covington.

Students from Plymouth named to the Dean's List at Kalamazoo College are: Joel Ashton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ashton of Beacon Hill; and Kirstin Lurtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Lurtz of Hartsough.

Follies get new name

It's official. The Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC) Follies next year will have a new name. The Follies were dubbed "Spice of Life" in a naming contest recently. Cindy Shemwell came up with the new name. The Follies are slated for May 11-13, 1989 at Salem High.

Twp. searches for new DPW site

BY PAUL GARGARO

While Plymouth Township has expanded, its department of public works (DPW) yard has not.

To amend the situation, the township continues to look for property to relocate its overcrowded DPW yard.

Plymouth Township DPW Superintendent Thomas Hollis said one possible site for a future yard -- at Sheldon and Five Mile north of the CSX railroad and roads just west of R.A. DeMattia's Metro West Industrial Park in Plymouth Township -- is currently under consideration. It's a 20-acre parcel.

"Our operation has grown so much and we have materials scattered all over the township," said Hollis.

Township Supervisor Maurice Breen said the township has been looking for available property over the past two to three years. Breen said the township has contacted realtors and property owners, but has had little luck finding a parcel.

An earlier offer from CSX for property on Haggerty Road was rejected because of title restrictions, said Breen.

"We're looking at whoever can offer us acreage in Plymouth Township," said Breen. "We really need about 10 acres to accomodate outside storage."

"We've been leasing about one acre of storage space from behind National Concrete (on Mill Street)," said Breen. "But we're boxed out from where we're at over here."

Canton board approves rubbish collection increase

Canton's Board of Trustees recently approved 5-1 an increase in the cost of rubbish collection for households in the township.

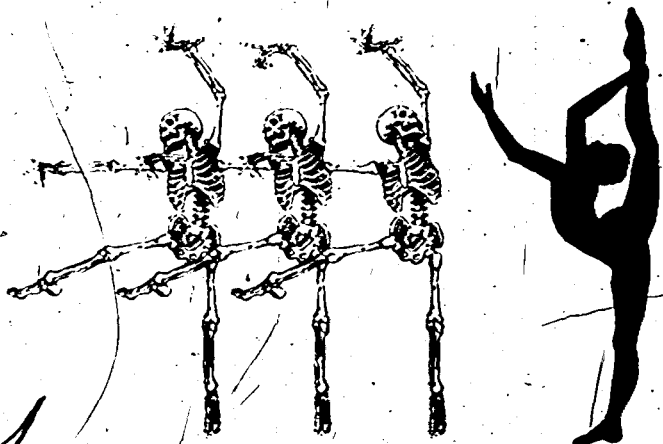

The board made its move following a letter from Dave Denski from Canton Waste Recycling which notified the township of increasing costs.

The increase comes to .45 cents more per household, per month. The new scale took effect on Oct. 1.

"This is an unpleasant task but we don't have any alternative," said Trustee Bob Padgett.

Denski said he faces an increase of $1 per compressed cubic yard to dump at area landfills.

Group's yard signs 'improperly' use logo

BY KEN VOYLES

A group promoting the idea of a community center in Canton is apparently using the township's logo improperly, according to a recent memo from Supervisor Jim Poole to the Canton Board of Trustees.

Poole said he does not believe the group — Citizens For the Community Center — "knowingly nor willingly" violated the trademark laws.

He added, "I do not believe that they are intentionally trying to deceive anyone."

The township logo has been seen on yard signs which support the ballot proposal and which have been placed throughout Canton.

The ballot proposal requests Canton voters to decide on whether or not they want to levy 1.2 mills for the design and construction of a multi-use community center. It will be on the ballot during the Nov. 8 general election.

The group has since been contacted about the problem, according to Michael Gouin, superintendent of parks and recreation in Canton.

One member of the committee called it an "honest mistake." He added that Poole has threatened the group with a lawsuit.

Poole said the use of the logo is both "improper and not authorized." The township cannot lend support to promoting a 'yes' vote on the community center, according to state laws.

He added that residents have been calling township hall questioning why the township is supporting the signs.

Poole's response: "Of course, this is not true."

The board was expected to discuss the issue at last night's regular meeting of the trustees.

Unisys donates $57,000

The Unisys Corp., of Plymouth, recently donated $57,244 in plastics testing equipment to Eastern Michigan University's Industrial Technology Department recently.

The equipment includes a capillary rheometer and prep mill, together valued at $41,350, and other items like melt point testers, a resiliometer, scleroscope, durometer and polariscope for photoelastic stress analysis.

An EMU spokesperson said the equipment will "enhance" the quality of classroom and laboratory experiences for students in plastics technology courses at the college.

Historic village closer to reality

A plan for turning the intersection of Cherry Hill and Ridge roads into a historic village area got a boost recently when Canton's Board of Trustees passed a resolution supporting development plans.

In a unanimous decision two weeks ago, the board agreed to seek overall development plans to guide future preservation work at the site.

Funds for the plan have been designated through the Community Development Block Grant program and Canton's Historic Commission is ready to solicit bids for a development plan.

According to Kim Scherschligt, deputy director of Canton's Department of Community and Economic Development, said the bid proposals would address the preservation and future physical and economic development of what is known as the Cherry Hill Village (an area that includes the Cherry Hill and Ridge intersection as well as stretches of road in either direction of that intersection).

The fear of encroachment into the village and loss of its historic integrity is the primary reason for the Canton Historical Commission's desire to implement the preservation plan, said

Scherschligt.

Cherry Hill Village was one of the original settlements in Canton, dating back to the 1820s. Preservation efforts in the area began in the early 1980s when grant money became available for renovating the Cherry Hill School.

Canton also recently purchased a 20-acre tract of land northeast of the school for the purpose of developing a historic park. Bids are currently being sought to move the first building (the Travis House) to the park.

Scherschligt added that Canton "lacks" a cultural focus and that the project could provide a chance to preserve a major piece of local history while also providing "cultural amenity."

- The development plans will address:
- structures that contribute historical significance to the district.
 - a phased plan for the economic development of the village.
 - rehabilitation and preservation recommendations.
 - a history of the village.
 - a map of the recommended district boundaries.
 - a plan for the development of the historic park and its relationship to the village.

Rouge meeting planned

There will be a meeting of the Rouge River Watershed Council on Thursday (Oct. 27) at the Plymouth Township Hall on Ann Arbor Road.

The meeting will be held from 9-11 a.m. and will include an executive committee meeting, general membership meeting (10 a.m.) and speaker Richard Hinshon of Wade, Trim and Associates.

Hinshon will discuss the North Huron Valley-Rouge Valley Sewer Project.

For further information call 271-4540.

Survey calls for communication

BY DAN JARVIS

Feedback is in on a questionnaire distributed by the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education to 176 residents who belong to the district's parent-teachers organizations (PTO).

The purpose of the questionnaire was to provide board members with an insight into the opinions of PTO members regarding all facets of the district.

Among the findings in the questionnaire, presented at Monday's school board workshop, it was revealed that a majority of PTO members feel:

•...they do not have good communication with the board of education.

•...that board members should attend PTO meetings. Many PTO members indicated, however, that they have not attended a board of education meeting.

•...they are not informed about actions by the board of education.

•...that while the individual principals are responsive to the needs of the school, board of education is generally not responsive.

School board president David Artley said the findings would be presented to the school principals within the district.

Artley added that he hopes the information will be presented to PTO members in the near future.

Engagements & Weddings

Reuschle, Weeks exchanged summer vows

Dean and Kathy Reuschle, of Plymouth, announce the wedding of their daughter Beth Marie to Kenneth Vernon Weeks, the son of Sue Weeks, of Port Huron.

The couple exchanged vows before Rev. K.M. Mehrle on June 25 at the Risen Christ Lutheran Church.

The bride is a graduate of Canton High School (1984) and holds an associates degree from Bethel College (1987). She is currently employed as a secretary for Bendix Corporation in South Bend.

The groom is a 1984 graduate of Port Huron High School. He is currently enrolled at Bethel College where he is pursuing degrees in music ministry and youth ministry.

The bride's attendants were Maid of Honor Kim Smith, of Plymouth; Lisa Ramage, of Plymouth; JoLynn Honsberger and Tammy Cummins, both of Indiana; and Karin Weeks and Kristie Gross, both of Port Huron.

REUSCHLE - WEEKS

The groomsmen were Best Man David Langolf, of Port Huron; David Rueschle, of Plymouth; Ken Hackler and Craig Weldy, both of Indiana; and David Fry and Robert Gross, both of Port Huron.

OV Assoc. plans get together

The Old Village Association, along with Station 885, is sponsoring a Get Acquainted meeting at Station 885 on Tuesday, Nov. 1 from 6-8 p.m.

Besides appetizers and a cash bar, residents will get a glimpse of the 1989 schedule of events in Old Village and a chance to meet the association's new officers.

Call 455-7011 if interested in attending the association's meeting.

Band wins at Durand

The Centennial Educational Park (CEP) Marching Band was awarded the Durand Railroaders Championship Trophy for the sixth consecutive year at the Durand Marching Band Invitational on Saturday.

The CEP band bested 19 other bands from across the state. The band also won trophies for Best Band in Flight I,

Best Winds, Best Marching and Maneuvering and Best Color Guard.

On Saturday (Oct. 29) the band will compete in the State of Michigan Marching Band Championships in Flint. The competition will be held at Flint Northwestern with the finals at Atwood Stadium beginning at 7 p.m.

CEP grad party meeting

There will be a general meeting for planning the 1989 Centennial Educational Park (CEP) graduation party next spring.

The planning session will be held on Thursday (Oct. 27) at 7:30 p.m. in the Salem High cafeteria.

Parents of both Canton and Salem high students who would like to help with party plans should attend the meeting.

The party will be held on June-11, 1989.

The agenda for the planning meeting will cover the party's theme, a review of the 1988 senior party, and organizational meetings for the various committees.

Getting down to business

Brothers propel company to the top

BY DAN JARVIS

When Vaquera Construction, of Plymouth Township, logged a five year sales growth rate of 8,560 per cent, naturally people were curious to know their secret.

"We are both optimists," said Rudy Vaquera, 38, describing himself and his younger brother Steve, 36, co-owners of the five-year-old company.

The brothers also credit the growth to a willingness to work long hours.

"People want to be pleased out there," said the younger brother. "They want to see you go the extra mile."

The positive attitude has helped the Vaquera brothers propel their construction firm into the fastest growing Hispanic company in the country, according to Hispanic Business Magazine. In addition, the publication stated that the company has increased its number of employes by 600 per cent.

The Vaquera brothers, both of Canton, have been in the construction business 20 years, and chose Plymouth for the company because of the close proximity to their home.

The company has been associated with mostly industrial projects, but the list also includes some commercial and institutional jobs as well, said the brothers.

"Most of our work," said Steve Vaquera, "is with Ford and Chrysler.

"We will soon bid $3.5 million on a job at Ford's Rouge Assembly Plant."

The elder brother, Rudy, said the firm aggressively goes after bids in order to increase the company's workload.

"We will not turn down a job. One of our keys is that we are very bullish about getting the job," Rudy Vaquera said. "Sometimes we take more than we can handle."

"The tortoise won the race because he stuck his neck out," the younger brother added.

And the numbers show that sticking their neck out has helped the Vaquera's speed up the company's growth. In its first year of operation Vaquera Construction went from a gross income of $40,000 to $400,000, a tenfold increase. Last year company sales grew to $3.6 million. That number has already been matched in the first six months of 1988. By year's end, the brothers hope to reach a sales total of $7 million.

Plans for the future include continuing the expansion trend and possibly diversifying into multi-unit residential construction.

"We also hope to do work for companies such as Unisys and IBM," said the older brother.

Added the younger Vaquera, "We plan to get into public works projects such as wastewater treatment plants."

"When you think positive," said Rudy Vaquera, "there are no bad times. If we didn't believe that, we wouldn't have gone this far."

Guild presents 'Night'

"Night of January 16th," a courtroom drama by noted author Ayn Rand will open the 1988-89 Plymouth Theatre Guild season on Nov. 4-5, 11, and 18-19.

The show will be held at the group's new performance center at the Plymouth Hilton Inn. Curtain times are 8 p.m.

Tickets for the show are $5. For ticket information call 420-2161. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

The courtroom drama centers on a murder trial. An interesting twist to the show is that the jury will be drawn from the audience each night and they will vote on the verdict.

Dunlap memorial show

A memorial program for Wayne Dunlap, former conductor of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra (PSO), will be held on Sunday (Oct. 30) at 3 p.m.

The concert, which features the PSO and the St. John Episcopal Church Choir, will be held at the church, located at 574 S. Sheldon Rd.

The Faure "Requiem" will be performed with soloists Carolyn Grimes, soprano, and Conwell Carrington, baritone.

Friends of Wayne Dunlap who wish to contribute to the commemoration of his 28 years as conductor of the PSO may do so by sending gifts to the symphony office.

The donations will be used for an endowment for the PSO.

For further information call Elaine Grover at 459-6685 or the PSO office at 451-2112.

PCAC art show accepting artists

The Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC) is again accepting applications for its second annual Michigan Art competition, sponsored by Michigan National Bank.

Artists who would like to apply, must postmark slides of their work and a $10 jury fee with the application by Nov. 16.

Applications are available by calling the Arts Council at 455-5260.

Works accepted for "Michigan Art '89" will be installed as a gallery exhibit in downtown Plymouth during the annual Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular. They will be on display from Jan. 5-15.

An opening reception is also planned for 7-9 p.m. on Jan. 4, 1989.

The statewide all-media competition features awards totaling $2,000. Those awards will be announced at the opening.

Carol Ann Carter, a professor at the University of Michigan, will be the juror for the show.

The PCAC is a non-profit organization devoted to arts programs which serve The Plymouth-Canton Community.

Chiefs stop Rocks in Districts

Fancy feet

BY JANET ARMSTRONG

The Salem High School soccer team took on Canton in a game that might be labeled the "Mud Bowl".

Approximately 300 students and family members braved the cold Monday to catch the first-round district play between the rivals.

In a close, aggressive game, Canton (4-5-2) came out the winner 3-2, and avenged their first round district loss to Salem last year.

Salem (11-4-2) was the first to score on the night when Matt Gold capped a drive for the Rocks eight minutes into the first quarter.

But Canton was quick to return the favor, scoring all three of their goals before the half.

Jerry Stazel scored the Chiefs' first goal with 20 minutes gone. He added another just three minutes later.

With two minutes left in the half, Canton's Jeff Tudor scored again for the Chiefs to bring the score to 3-1 at the half.

In the second half, Salem got its last goal when Jeff Gold capitalized on a penalty kick.

The muddy field and the light mist in the air played a part in the game.

"It was bad for everybody," said Canton coach Mike Morgan. But he felt his team may have had a small edge — "Our game is a short passing game."

Salem coach Ken Johnson felt both teams did a good job.

"They're a very good team," said Johnson of Canton. "I'd like to see them go a long way in the state tournament."

Johnson said he feels his team shouldn't be ashamed of the loss.

"There has got to be one winner and one loser," said Johnson. "They lost with honor."

Johnson gave special praise to his goal keeper Matt Tudor.

"Matt had six shutouts during the season," said Johnson. "He's had a good season."

Johnson picked out team captain Mark Lipke as one of the season's outstanding players although he said, "They've all played well this season."

Morgan, whose team next faces Ann Arbor Huron Wednesday at Canton, said his team played well Monday.

"It was one of those team effort wins," said Morgan.

However, he said the win was partially due to a few individual's play.

"Defensively both Jamie Nesbitt and Bill Teller played well," said Morgan.

Morgan said he was impressed with Keri Zavaganins play inside.

John Cortese, Canton's leading scorer for the year, also earned praise from the coach.

"John set up a lot of scoring opportunities," said Morgan.

Both Salem and Canton had play-off victories last Wednesday.

Canton beat Farmington 5-0, to finish in fifth place overall in the league.

Both John Cortese and Dave Presely led the Chiefs' scoring drive with two goals apiece.

Also scoring for Canton was Eric Miller.

Salem also beat their opponent 5-0 in the league playoff, the Rocks' unlucky victim was Northville.

The win gave Salem a third place finish overall in the league. They also finished up in second place in their division.

Jeff Gold, playing his first game of the season due to a broken foot, scored two of the Rocks' goals.

Sophomores Joe Nunez and Todd Lajoy scored their first goals of the season against Northville. Finishing Salem's scoring was Joe Tippman.

Johnson said he is looking forward to next year with only three seniors graduating.

"We should be in good shape for next year," said Johnson.

Canton and Salem to meet in annual "Halloween Bowl"

The "Halloween Bowl" throws cross campus rivals Canton and Salem into the trenches for four quarters of football ferocity.

Naturally, it's dubbed the "Halloween Bowl" because it's played so close to and sometimes on Halloween and because the high energy play is often devilish.

Regardless, it's still the Salem-Canton football game and it's a game that Salem has always dominated.

The Canton gridders will have a chance to reverse that trend on Friday at the Centennial Education Park football field. Game time is set for 7:30 p.m.

Canton girls hoops crush hapless Farmington Harrison

The Canton High School girls basketball team annihilated a winless Farmington Harrison team at home last Thursday by a score of 66-5.

The Chiefs, who are undefeated in division play at 8-0, have suffered only one loss this season.

The hoops squad dropped one to the number one ranked team at the time, Marion, which makes the team's overall record 14-1.

Canton's scoring drive was led by senior Amanda Bell who had 19 points for the Chiefs. Also contributing to Canton's effort was junior Susan Ferko who dominated the glass with 17 rebounds.

The overwhelming Chiefs' defense held Harrison to only five points in the game.

Harrison had only four points going into the half time, all of which were scored in the second period.

The Hawks then came out to score on one free throw in the third period, which was the last time Harrison scored.

The Chiefs next play host to Livonia Churchill Thursday, junior varsity play starts at 6:00 with varsity playing immediately following the junior varsity contest.

Hoops down John Glenn

Rock girls roll

BY RITA DERBIN

The first half told the story last Thursday as the Salem girls basketball team downed Westland John Glenn 65-51.

The Rocks improved their record to 8-0 in conference play and 12-2 overall with the victory.

Jill Estey led all Rock scorers with 19 points and nine assists. Teri King also added in 15 points, and Sarah Ruete chipped in with 11 points.

Lydia White pulled down 10 rebounds to lead the Rocks.

"We played an outstanding first half as a team," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "After the first period the score was 24-8 and at the half it was 39-22."

"We had good defense, we had scoring, and we had people pulling down rebounds," Thomann added.

Yesterday the Rocks played Farmington and tomorrow they will travel to Livonia Stevenson, who they beat handily earlier in the season.

Learn to skate this fall

The City of Plymouth Parks and Recreation will be holding registration for winter ice skating lessons on Friday, Nov. 4 from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

For residents in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools District the fee is $22. For Northville and Novi residents the fee is $24. For non-residents the cost is $26.

The classes will be taught by a professional staff with each session lasting 25 minutes. Classes meet once a week for eight weeks and will be held for beginners, intermediate and advanced skaters.

For further information call 455-6620.

Chief swimmers splash past Harrison, 108-64

BY RITA DERBIN

Many outstanding performances led to a good week for the Canton girls swim team.

The Chiefs won seven races last Thursday to defeat Farmington Harrison 108-64 and improve their record to 4-0 in the conference.

The 200-yard medley relay team of Nichole Montresor, Leslie Moore, Beth Yack, and Jenny Cooper won with a time of 2:10:50 and the 400-yard relay team Nicole Drake, Kelly Rische, Lori Engelhuber, and Cassie Cummins won with a time of 3:55:45.

Renee DeBell won in the 200-yard freestyle, Jenny Cooper won the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 28:62, and Erica Carson captured the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 1:12:45.

Also, Janet Roberts won the 100-yard freestyle with a time of 1:02:31, and Kristy Brugar won the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:10:59.

The Chiefs also defeated Trenton on Tuesday with a few outstanding performances, according to coach Hooker Wellman. Janet Roberts dropped her time in the 500-yard freestyle to 5:54:61, seven seconds faster than her previous best.

Lori Engelhuber had two season bests in the 50-yard freestyle (26:77) and the 100-yard freestyle (58:36). Freshman Amy Kodrik broke the freshman diving record with 167.40 points.

Diver Becky Hoisington turned in a personal best of 182.65 points against Trenton.

"We have a couple easy weeks coming up," said coach Hooker Wellman. "So we can give all the girls a chance and have our best swimmers rest while we look forward to playing Livonia Churchill in a couple weeks."

Canton will host Livonia Franklin tomorrow at 7 p.m. and will travel to Belleville on Saturday.

In Punt, Pass, and Kick

Locals advance to Silverdome

Canton resident Doug Plunk, 10, and Plymouth resident Darren Butler, 8, punted, passed, and kicked their way to first place in the regional Punt, Pass, and Kick Competition held Oct. 15 at Central Middle School.

Both boys will advance to the state finals at the Pontiac Silverdome during the half time of this week's Lions game with the New York Giants.

Joshua Brunskole, 8, of Canton, took second place in his age group as did nine-year-old Canton resident Bill Vitale in his age group. Thirteen-year-old Ryan McKigney, of Plymouth, took third place in his division.

Salem strokes to victory at home against John Glenn

BY RITA DERBIN

There was a total team effort on the part of the Salem girls swim team last Thursday night, according to coach Chuck Olson.

"For having everyone swim," said Olson. "We did very well."

The Rocks soundly beat visiting Westland John Glenn 124-42 to improve their conference record to 3-2. They are 6-3 overall.

Salem had eight first place finishes enroute to the victory.

The 200-yard medley relay team of Laura Maciag, Amy Austin, Amy Hobgood and Amy Syria finished with a top time of 2:14:09. The 400-yard freestyle relay also finished first with a time of 4:01:04. The swimmers were Stacie Anderson, Dawn Shiek, Tammy Hickey and Nicole Bosse.

Kelly Dunn finished first in the 200-yard individual medley with a time of 2:42:09 and Candi Bosse was first in the 50-yard freestyle race with a 28:04 time.

Andrea Alex was first in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 1:10 and Kari Laderack was first in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:13:08.

Maciag, who also finished first as a member of the medley relay team, won the 500-yard free style race with a time of 6:20:01.

Diver Jenny Ezzo also placed first with 206.05 points.

Second place finishers were Nicole Bosse in the 200-yard freestyle race, Megan Andrews in the 100-yard freestyle and Erin Olson in the 100-yard breaststroke competition.

Salem will be on the road to face Farmington tomorrow at 7 p.m.

Farmington trots by Rocks

The Salem boys cross country team placed four in the top 10 of the divisional championship on Thursday, but Farmington edged out the Rocks 24-33.

Scott Stryker was the top finisher for Salem with a time of 16:45. He was second overall.

The Rocks' second finisher, Dave Hamway, came in fourth overall with a time of 17:34, while Brendon Masterson finished sixth overall with a time of 17:45 and John Thomas finished ninth with a time of 17:59. Finishing in 12th place was Salem's fifth finisher, Sean Speakman with a time of 18:01.

The 12 teams in the league will face each other today at Cass Benton. The girls meet is at 4 p.m. and the boys will race at 4:30.

Regional competition is slated for Saturday.

Canton Harriers dominate

BY RITA DERBIN

Brian Beach led the Canton boys cross country team in their meet against Livonia Franklin last Thursday. The Chiefs swept the top five spots in the meet enroute to a 15-44 victory.

Beach's time of 17:06 won the race. He was followed by teammates Mike Ream (17:21), Matt Hall (17:23), Jason Napolitano (17:35), and Jim Gallagher (17:41).

Canton's Brad Hibner and Jason Crain also finished ninth and 10th, respectively.

"We're very excited to have been so successful and hope to do well this week," said coach Jim Hayes. "We have the opportunity to be very competitive in the big meets coming up."

The Chiefs, who are 3-1 in their division and 4-1 overall, competed in the conference championships yesterday and will run in the state regionals on Saturday.

The boys junior varsity team will compete in the Redford Union invitational on Friday.

Halloween happenings fill the weekend for ages 12 and under. Call 397-5110 for a reservation.

More than 500 students from Farrand Elementary School will march in their annual Halloween Parade on Friday (Oct. 28) at 2 p.m. The youths will be seen marching through their Plymouth neighborhood and once over they will return to school for Halloween parties.

Farrand is located in Lakepointe in Plymouth Township.

A Kids Pumpkin Carving competition is planned for this Saturday (Oct. 19) from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in The Gathering in downtown Plymouth. The event, hosted by the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, will include prizes. More than 500 youths are expected to participate in the competition.

Along with the carving competition there will be a Baking Contest, also sponsored by the Plymouth Chamber, from 10 a.m. to noon. Baked goods made with pumpkins can be entered by children ages six to 13.

At noon a special team of chefs will judge the baked good. Awards will be presented at 2 p.m.

Also planned on Saturday are a costume contest and trick-or-treating throughout the city's business district.

The trick-or-treating will be held from 6-7 p.m., when youths from Plymouth or Canton are welcome to visit Plymouth stores for treats. The costume contest will take place at 6 p.m. in the bandshell near Kellogg Park. Winners will be announced at 7 p.m.

For a safe Halloween, local police agencies suggest children and their parents follow some guidelines:

- wear light costumes with reflective bags or carry a flashlight.
- keep costumes simple and wear regular street shoes.
- don't wear masks that block vision.
- walk on sidewalks, not on the street.
- only go to houses that have porch lights on.

On Friday, in what's been dubbed the "Halloween Bowl," the Canton and Salem boys football teams will face each other for the first time this year. Game time at the Centennial Educational Park (CEP) field is set for 7:30 p.m.

Also on Friday, the Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department will host a Halloween Carnival from 4:30-6 p.m. in the Cultural Center. It is open to city children in kindergarten through sixth grade. There will be carnival games, a costume contest and prizes. Cider and donuts will be served. Call 455-6620 for details.

Finally, on the Halloween front, winners have been announced in The Crier's Halloween Window Decorating Contest.

Organized children's groups decorated local store windows with various Halloween themes on Saturday and their efforts were judged by a three-member panel.

Winners were selected based on creativity, originality and execution.

The winners were: first place, Metro News; second place, Community Federal Credit Union-Plymouth; and third place, Quicksilver.

Curiosities

KAREN is rarin' to go on an unlisted route! May fortune and friends smile on you all the days of your life! We'll miss you around here. Good Luck! — Craig

Where oh where has little Paul gone. Where oh where could he be. He headed north to the Land of Canada the scenery not to see.

Hey, SS, as we discussed at The Box, I hope "someday" is someday soon. Not to mention that I'm the other featured personage! All my heart, (and 125 million other things) — Topscore

Did you hear that Paul lost a few more hairs this past weekend?

In a battle of 2 great teams, the scarlet and gray triumphed Sat. night. The victory was good for 3 "hip hip hoorays" and a big smile from the lady on Ann Arbor Rd.

P.D. GRAHAM
Join us on December 3rd for our 7th Annual Craft Show (in Westland)

Wanted Crafters!! For table rental & more information call Chris at 695-6781.

Who was that beautiful young lady at The Crier last week with the curly bog?

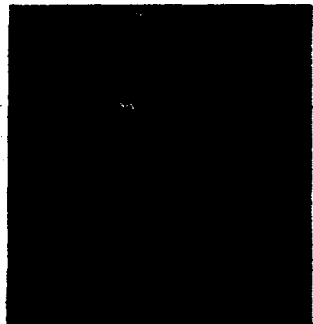

Larry better keep an eye on Pat & Bob

Hi Mike! How's college life? (Is there any truth to the rumor that you've changed your major to "Partying"?) An Anonymous Crier Employee

If you ever lose a candy bar, look for one of the little people. Downstairs is a good place to start the search.

Hello Ron are you there? Now that you have a phone will you please talk to me. Mom.

Correction to last week's curiosities. It was Pat & Larry who celebrated 32 years of wedded bliss. My apologies. Jack
