Battishill, Walker take election

BY KEN VOYLES

Fresh-faced Carl Battishill and veteran Lester Walker swept to victory in Monday's Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education race.

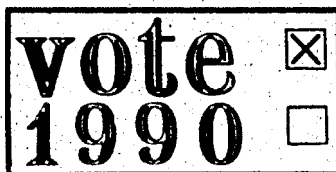

Unofficial results Monday night showed Battishill leading the field with 4,874 votes. Walker, a former board trustee, finished second with a total of 3,801.

Trailing by a distant 2,200 votes were the Citizens for Better Education (CBE) supported candidates, Robert Anderson Jr., with 1,635, and Diane Stamp, with 1,611.

About 12 per cent of the voters, or 6,989, went to the polls for Monday's non-millage election. That's just under half the 15,840 voters who cast ballots in last year's all-time record turnout on an important millage increase question.

Anderson, the CBE's main candidate in the last three board elections, also lost in total votes compared with his last run in 1989 when he garnered 3,100 votes. A combined vote total of CBE candidates would not have been enough to win one of the two four-year seats up for grabs this year.

The rest of the field in the school election finished like this:

K.C. Mueller, fifth, 887; Toni Hartke, sixth 385, and Richard Sumpter, seventh, 363 votes. John Engdahl, whose name remained on the ballot despite withdrawing near the end of the race, picked up 137 votes.

"I'm honestly surprised by the totals," said Battishill. "The differential there is real satisfying. I felt I put everything into this race. Win or lose I gave it everything I had.

"It's real gratifying. It's such an honor to have that many people support you," he added.

The City of Plymouth resident picked up the most votes in all 15 voting precincts Monday, as well as in the absentees, while Walker captured the second most votes in every precinct.

Battishill said he hopes he can "live up" to the voters' trust. He said it's very different when you go from

Police union demands Vachher retraction

BY SCOTT DANIEL

The union representing Canton police officers is demanding the retraction of statements made by the family of Paul Vachher, who was shot by police on May 21 and remains in critical condition.

In a letter sent to the Vachher family Friday, the Police Officers Association of Michigan (POAM), which is representing two of the three officers involved, Dave Boljesic and Brian Darow, demands "each and every word of your press release be retracted."

The union's letter, written by general counsel Frank Guido, says the Vachher release has "jeopardized the career and reputation of two fine Canton Township police officers."

The retraction is demanded by July 1, according to the union letter.

Dr. Prehlad S. Vachher, father of Paul, declined to comment on the union letter Monday, saying he would comment after the family's attorney reviewed the letter.

No charges have been filed in connection with the incident as of press time.

The incident is currently being investigated by the Michigan State Police. That investigation could be completed by the end of the week, said Sgt. Dean Sanderson, who originally said the report would be completed two weeks ago.

Canton Police Chief John Santomauro also declined comment on the union letter until the State Police investigation is completed although he

Tattan leaving post at Canton High

BY KEN VOYLES
Thomas Tattan is leaving the helm of Canton High School. Last night the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education was expected to name Canton's principal as director of secondary education. The 41-year-old Canton resident -- if approved for the post by the board -- will say his goodbyes to students and staff at Canton tomorrow on the last day of classes at Centennial Educational Park (CEP) this year. "I'm sad to be leaving Canton," Tattan said Monday before the official appointment by the board. "In my five years there I've met a lot of very fine people among the staff, and a lot of outstanding students. "It was topped off Sunday when we had our graduation (for the Class of 1990)," he continued. "I'm proud to have spent five years at Canton." Tattan came to the district five years ago and moved right into the principal's post at Canton. His wife, Cynthia, is a teacher at Isbister Elementary School. Tattan will be the district's first director of secondary education since Kent Buikema left the post more than three years ago. (Buikema was the principal at Canton before Tattan).

Hoben tops P-C salary list

BY PHILIP TARDANI

School administrators, police officers and firefighters are among the top public-funded wage-earners in The Plymouth-Canton Community.

At the top of the public pay scale in the four local governmental units -- including the Plymouth-Canton Community School District, Canton, Plymouth Township and the City of Plymouth -- is John M. Hoben, schools superintendent.

Hoben's pay, at $96,054 a year, does not include fringe benefits, which are estimated at an additional eight to 10 per cent. With 18 years on the job as superintendent, Hoben is by far the longest serving top official of the four units.

All 20 top earners in the Plymouth-Canton Schools were administrators and earned $60,266 or more, plus fringes.

In the City of Plymouth and Canton and Plymouth townships, the men with guns and fire hoses are at or near the top of the pay scale. Overtime accounts for much of their reported pay.

In the city, three police officers -- Commander Michael Gardner, Sergeant Wayne Carroll and Sergeant Robert Scoggins -- were the top public-paid employees. Their respective 1989 salaries, including overtime, were $58,165, $53,041 and $49,240.

Firefighters account for six of the 12 highest paid employes in Plymouth Township, with salary and overtime totals ranging from $45,886 down to $41,739. Fire Chief Larry Groth ranked fourth at $45,910.

Township Supervisor Maurice M. Breen topped the township list at $50,535, plus he gets an additional $4,000 in expenses.

Police Chief Carl Berry was the next highest paid in Plymouth Township at $49,566, while his counterpart in the city -- Chief Richard Myers-- made $46,186, eighth on the list, below four of the officers he supervises.

John Santomauro, public safety director in Canton, was at the top of the scale in that booming township with a salary of $53,015.

Also in Canton, Supervisor Thomas Yack ranked 16th on the highest paid list in 1989, below six police officers and four firemen.

The figures used for this comparison were supplied by the governmental units in response to The Community Crier's request under the Michigan Freedom of Information Act.

Fall Festival entertainment lines up

BY PHILIP TARDANI

Entertainment for the 1990 Plymouth Fall Festival is shaping up with a little something for everyone, according to Fall Fest Board President Larry McElroy.

McElroy said "variety" is the word for spectator enjoyment at this year's festival. "We have more variety in booths, more games," he said. "We also have entertainment going on continuously." Some of this year's activities outlined at the board's monthly meeting last week include:

•A bingo tent, sponsored by the Plymouth Business and Professional Women.

•Children's games, courtesy of New Morning School.
•A computer software exhibit, sponsored by the I-Care committee.
•An art exhibit and sale, courtesy of the Three Cities Art Club.

There will also be nachos, pop, popcorn, kielbasa, ice cream and frozen yogurt, among many other food items, McElroy said.
Entertainment for the festival is falling into place as well, according to Marilyn Altmich, Fall Fest co-ordinator.

Last look at 90-91 plan

Board expected to give budget OK

BY MIKE GUINN

The Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education was expected to complete its discussions of the district budget last night and adopt the 1990-91 plan.

Among the items in the budget to be discussed include a 14 per cent increase in school operations, an 8.1 per cent increase in major maintenance projects and a $318,720 to start an extended day care program.

Last week Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent for business in the district, presented the proposed 1990-91 budget at a special meeting of the board.

The district's figures released show an increase in revenues of nine per cent, along with an 11 per cent increase in expenses.

The total operating budget for the 1990-91 school year is $68,168,354 (expenditures). Total revenues will reach $69,877,597, resulting in some $1.7 million in excess revenues. The school district's fund balance is projected to be $6.3 million.

An 11.2 per cent increase in local revenues is partly responsible for the added funds of the new budget. A large portion of these funds is forecasted to come from tax abated properties.

Increases in local tax revenue and the Headlee rollback millage will result in the district levying only 35.39 mills of the 41 mill authorized by voters. This will result in a 1990 operating levy of 1.55 mills less than 1989.

Various reasons are cited for the increase in the 1990-91 budget. Items such as $310,000 for re-roofing Miller Elementary School and part of Canton High School, and $250,000 to provide partial restoration to the bus replacement program added to the increases. An increase of $138,886 to the athletic budget is also projected.

Approval for the budget is expected to come the final week in June.

Hoedel said the budget has a "healthy outlook" due to local growth in SEVs (State Equalized Valuation) and a stabilization of projected student enrollments. Plymouth-Canton is an out-of-formula district.

For the first time in several years the administration has been able to present a district budget without major funding cuts, said Hoedel.

In fact, the new budget calls for "restoring" funds in some areas where cuts had to be made in previous years.

They include: transportation, textbooks, athletics, capital outlay, major maintenance projects, and staff development.

Corbin facing murder charges

BY SCOTT DANIEL

William Roy Corbin, 27, of Van Buren Township, will stand trial later this month in connection with the shooting death of a Westland man in Canton on June 3, according to 35th District Court records.

Corbin allegedly shot Terrance Lee Serman, 36, of Westland, to death at the Canton apartment of Kimberly Ann Boland, according to Canton Police.

The trial is scheduled for June 22 in Wayne County Circuit Court at 8:30 a.m. He was arraigned last week in 35th District Court.

Corbin is being charged with first-degree murder, first-degree felony murder while perpetrating a breaking and entering, and using a firearm in the commission of a felony, court records indicated.

Police said Corbin, the ex-boyfriend of Boland, kicked in the door of the apartment and went up to the second floor of the unit.

Corbin discovered Boland and Serman, who had just returned to the apartment from a date the previous night, said Canton Police Officer Pat Nemecek.

Nemecek said Corbin, armed with a .357-caliber revolver, fired two shots, one hitting the floor and the other striking Serman in the left abdomen.

Serman died a short time later after being taken to Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, Nemecek added.

Fall Fest entertainment program

entertainment director.

The show begins on Thursday, Sept. 6, around 5 p.m.

"This is basically seniors night," Alimpich said, noting that Johnny Chase, The Country Kitchen Band and the Plymouth Community Band are lined up.

For Friday, Sept. 7, she said, the Downriver Dulcimers are on tap, a band that plays "a variety of music."

Johnny Trudell, a big band musician, will also play on Friday, Alimpich said.

Entertainment on those two nights ends at 9 p.m., she said.

Magic acts and Irish Step Dancing are planned for Friday, Alimpich said.

For the weekend, small groups from the Centennial Educational Park Band and the All Around Gymnasts will perform impromptu numbers on the street.

The race: good, bad ...

Monday's Plymouth-Canton Schools elections proved a few points.

For example, the War of the Lawn Signs is best summarized by one observation: "I never met a lawn that voted." Clearly, the number of signs did not greatly affect the election, although it did affect campaign expenses. Based on preliminary estimates and unofficial election figures, some candidates spent $6 per vote while others spent less than $1 per vote.

Also, the conservative Citizens for Better Education (CBE) has run out of steam. With two seats open, the top CBE candidate garnered fewer than a third of the votes he won a year ago in a couple key precincts. The vote totals of the top two finishers were more than double that of the CBE hopefuls.

Rancor and bickering was more evident this election than in the past couple years. (Although reaching further back in history here, even this was nothing new.) Some of the disagreements were childish: burning lawn signs and the like represent new lows. But as petty as it may seem, signs are others' property and there are laws protecting them, just as there are laws protecting the public by banning signs from public property and requiring campaign disclaimers.

Now the Plymouth-Canton School District must put the election behind it and move on.

With the transition to an "out-of-formula" state aid district still underway, with a projected classroom shortage looming at the high schools, with a bond issue on the agenda for next year, the district has a full plate.

The campaigns produced a few good, new faces and another look at others. These hopefuls can benefit by providing input through the decision-making process during the upcoming issues.

Meanwhile, the needs of education go on.

Election satisfies most

As the calls asking for school election results poured in last night, it became clear that many people in this community were relieved to hear Carl Battishill and Lester Walker pronounced the victors.

One woman pounded on the locked door of this newspaper, cheering after she got the news. Other residents out for a stroll along Penniman Avenue smiled when they found out the election tally.

Calls for results came in until nearly midnight - everyone wanted to know. Many were women, one even gave a whoop of "All right," over the other end of the line. A man found the news "Great!"

The voter turnout numbers were significant for a non-millage race, and the victory margins were large. Some were surprised, others weren't. Most just seemed relieved.

Shifting through any election

In the margin

By Ken Voyles

sometimes takes a layman's touch. It goes something like: the "word on the street" is. Or maybe it's just a voice over the phone.

Still there are also plain and simple results. Substantial results, from voters who cared, cared about this community and its education program.

There really are no "what ifs" in this election data. It's clear that the fate of our schools rested with the nameless, faceless defenders of the district.

And they came through with a victory, beating those with a more conservative educational view.

Let's face it. This community leans to the right when it comes to national (and state) politics, but it still demands a kind of educational liberalism, a kind of strength of freedom, from the school district.

It's something most parents want, and they get it. Others don't believe that at all and seek to change the direction of the district. Their view is as valid as any other, but it remains in the minority. And will probably always remain the minority.

It was obvious Monday night on the phone lines -- to satisfy most people's curiosity all you had to say was... "Battishill first, and Walker second..."

And you could almost feel the smiles.

Student says keep Central standing

EDITOR:

I am a former student of Central Middle School and I have heard many different rumors about the building being torn down to build condominiums. I feel strongly that this is wrong for two reasons. The first is because the "I Care" committee worked very hard to get the millage passed for our school system. The millage being passed raised taxes for the citizens. Tearing down Central could mean building another school or forcing the Central students into our already crowded four other middle schools.

The second reason why I feel Central shouldn't be torn down is because the school is equipped with many facilities that the other middle schools don't have, such as a track. Tearing down Central would stop middle school track altogether. As a former member of a middle school track team for two years, I wouldn't want any student who is eager to be a member of a track team to be denied that privilege.

Central Middle School is part of Plymouth's history and has recently had a lot of money spent on it to be improved. I would hate to see that money go to waste, therefore Central should NOT be torn down!!!

Mettetal study clouded

If you attended the Mettetal Study Committee meeting May 23 chances are you probably left more confused than when you got there.

The committee heard from a number of "experts" in their quest to make a recommendation to the Canton Board of Trustees on the township's role in the fate of Mettetal Airport. The committee will vote "yes" or "no" to recommend if Canton should buy the airport, which is owned by the Klochko family.

Depending on which expert you choose to believe, buying the airport will either be an "asset for many years" or a potential "white elephant" to the community.

Ashley Heimbaugh, who is the major occupant of Mettetal Airport with 104 of its hangars, said buying the airport would be an asset to Canton because of its "unlimited potential." With the addition of 100 to 150 more "t-Hangars," which are larger than a good portion of Mettetal's current hangars, and "external improvements," such as a re-built runway, the airport would be more suitable for business aircraft, he said.

Heimbaugh added that he would be willing to finance the cost of building the new hangars and then let Canton use them on a lease-buy plan. He said the cost of repairs to the airport could be paid, in large, by grants from the government.

Combining increased business traffic to the already substantial recreational and training usages would make Canton "fortunate to own the airport," Heimbaugh said.

Supporters of buying the airport also point to the fact that it would cost Canton little or nothing to purchase

Keep recycling!

EDITOR:

Starting in January of this year, the world witnessed an amazing "Save the Earth" campaign. With the 20th anniversary of Earth Day coming up the environmentalists came barking back with renewed evidence of global decay.

On Earth Day, April 22, the world saw nationally televised specials and by then, recycling was a household word. But now, only two months after Earth Day, recycling isn't such a big thing. Organizations that once thrived on saving the Earth have witnessed a high decline in business when the "Save the Earth" campaign ended.

An example of this is East Middle School, Plymouth, MI. An English teacher, Ronald Zang, formed a committee to start a recycling program at the school. At that time the group consisted of about 50 members. After the Earth Day celebration the population of the group dwindled to 20.

In conclusion, now that Earth Day is over, don't forget to save the Earth, "Make Earth Day Every Day."

Mettetal. According to Dean Nitz, Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) supervisor for Michigan, 90 per cent of the purchase cost would be paid through grants from the FAA.

At least half of the remaining 10 per cent of the purchase price would be covered by the state, again through grants, said John Wagner of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission. He said there has been discussion of the state covering all 10 per cent of the remaining cost to Canton because of the importance of keeping Mettetal as a link in the aviation system.

Sounds convincing. But, before you say "buy the airport," listen to the other side.

Along with the federal grant money to buy the airport would come some important restrictions. Nitz said grant rules wouldn't permit the airport to be sold by Canton -- ever -- even if it were losing money. He added that if the airport was losing money, the township would have to provide funds to keep it running, year after year if need be.

Thus, the potential of the airport being a "white elephant," said study committee member Sam Marshall.

Another important restriction is that any revenue generated by the airport would have to go to making continual improvements, said Nitz. Only if no improvements were possible to the airport, which wouldn't be in the near future, would revenue be allowed to be diverted back to the township, he said.

Mettetal Airport sits on 65 acres that is currently zoned for light industrial use. If Canton didn't buy the airport, it's likely the land would be sold for such usage.

Eric Mueller, who did a study of the possible revenues generated from either airport or light industrial use, said light industrial use would likely provide Canton with 10 times more revenue than an airport use would.

Mueller, who's objectivity was called into question by study committee member Vic Gustafson because his family owns the airport in New Hudson, doubted that a municipal-owned airport would make money.

"I don't understand how a government run facility could do better (make a profit) than a privately owned airport," said Mueller.

If Canton doesn't buy the airport it's unlikely that another municipality or private business would.

Tom Klochko, who represented the family at the meeting, said no formal offers have been made for the airport.

"I don't consider this a dangerous proposition for Canton," said Heimbaugh. "It is a great chance for the community."

With malice toward none

A favorite kid's book is "Where the Sidewalk Ends." Its title brings up a frightening topic -- The Plymouth-Canton Community is almost completely crossed by sidewalks.

Call it "Progress," call it "Growth," call it "Invasion." It's one and the same.

What once were corn fields, now are subdivisions. They're almost all the way to Napier Road -- the western border of our world here.

My father once gave a speech on the Napier Road Line. Even 25 years ago, he saw the urban sprawl crawling towards the family farm just west of Napier in Salem Township. His joking speech suggested erecting a wall at Napier to stave off the onslaught.

As usual, he was way ahead of his time.

Just recently, the sidewalks were completed along Powell Road for Plymouth Commons (a Rossi and Sons development of fine-looking houses). They end about half a mile from the county line.

It's not that their subdivision is any less an intrusion than other construction of the past 20 years in The Plymouth-Canton Community -- it's not. Simply, their sidewalks seem to signify the "almost-to-the-line" wall-to-wall sprawl.

The sidewalk isn't the only recent manifestation.

Ridge Road south of Five Mile Road is being paved, even though no one lives on that part of the road, nor are there businesses there. (The governmental grant monies for that U.S. Census tract in Plymouth Township had to be spent in that area somehow.)

Canton government officials are fighting the locating of a third McDonald's in the township at the same time those politicians are bragging that the population has hit 55,000. That's growth, folks. (Remember, "Flow with the grow.")

Pretty soon, there will be no sidewalk endings. The Plymouth-Canton Community is near the edge.

Friends & Neighbors

3 generations get diplomas

BY MIKE GUINN

Most relatives feel a sense of pride watching a family member graduate.

For Lois McCurry, that pride was multiplied by three last week as she joined her daughter and granddaughter in completing their high school requirements.

McCurry, of Canton, received her GED June 5 after attending the Starkweather Adult Education Center for the past two years.

Along with daughter Natalie and granddaughter KaTina, who graduated from the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools June 10, they represent the first time three different generations have completed high school together in Canton.

Leaving school in 1955 to get married, McCurry admitted to being worried about returning, especially "about going to school with teens." Her fears however, turned out to be unfounded.

"I didn't think there was a culture gap at all," McCurry said. "Everyone was just great. Very encouraging."

Although McCurry studied a wide ranging area of subjects including accounting and history, she credits her government class with being the most helpful to her in every day life.

"It made me more aware of the situations the world was in," McCurry said. "Voting was also discussed. It's encouraging to know I have a say in what is going on."

Each graduate is planning individual celebrations.

In the fall, Natalie plans to attend Henry Ford Community College, while KaTina will study at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

While Lois McCurry has no college plans as of yet, she is already considering taking interior decorating courses.

Tell it to Phyllis

By Phyllis Redfern

The month of June is the second busiest month of the year. It rates right up there, close to December, with the number of activities crammed into a short period of time.

While December is centered around the holidays, June offers a variety of events, from weddings, showers and graduations, to class reunions, school picnics and dance recitals. June also means the end of the year for many clubs and organizations.

Last weekend I went to my niece's dance recital. It takes a lot of planning and organizing to get a couple hundred kids on and off stage at just the right time and keep the show moving. The little kids are so adorable and look cute in their costumes as they go through the dance routine (not usually in time to the music).

As the kids get a little older, you can tell which ones are nervous and which kids remember the dance. Then there's the experienced dancers who have been taking lessons for years. Not only are they coordinated, they have the timing down pat and look like they are having fun. Talk about being in shape, there's not an ounce of fat hanging on those bodies.

I'd give anything to be able to dance like some of those kids. At least those of us who are not quite as coordinated can enjoy watching those with real talent.

All of the kids deserve a lot of credit for staying with the classes throughout the year, the hours they spent rehearsing and having the nerve to get up on stage and perform in front of an auditorium full of parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles and especially their sisters and brothers.

Hats off to all the moms and dads who have to make arrangements to drive to and from dance classes every week.

As parents we have sometimes complained about having to drive the kids to all kinds of activities, but I guess we've been lucky to have these activities available to our kids.

Now that my kids are older and I don't have to deal with it, it's easy to say how great it is to have kids involved in many things.

YMCA run coming up

It's nearly that time again, time for the annual Plymouth Community Family YMCA's run through the streets of the City of Plymouth.

This year's 11th annual event will be held on Father's Day, June 17.

Three runs are planned. At 7:45 a.m. there will be a children's run for one to eight year old youths. Then at 8 a.m. a one mile run/walk and a five kilometer race are planned. The main event, a 10- kilometer race, will be held at 8:45 a.m.

There will be awards for the top runners as well as a raffle and food to add to the festivities.

For further information call the Plymouth YMCA at 453-2904. Volunteers are also needed to help organize and run the races.

Says site is safe Compost committee report due

BY SCOTT DANIEL

A citizens committee formed to research residents' concerns over a proposed composting site at Geddes and Beck roads in Canton has found no negative impacts to the program, according to committee chairperson John Osborne.

"We haven't found any evidence that it would be damaging to the environment at this point," said Osborne.

The committee is expecting to get test results from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) later this week that will clarify the possibility of ground-water contamination from a composting operation, Osborne said.

The committee will wait until the study is complete before making a recommendation to the Canton Board of Trustees, Osborne said. He said the committee will likely make the recommendation to the board in a few weeks.

Osborne said Peter Rekshan, owner of Composting Systems Inc., which would run the 80-acre site, has agreed to guidelines formulated by the committee that would provide for strict regulation of the site.

Among those guidelines, Rekshan said he gave Canton permission to inspect the site at anytime, without notice. He said the public would also have access to the site at anytime.

Osborne said other guidelines include: the elimination of noxious odors from the site, no work at the site before

7 a.m. or after 7 p.m., removal of any refuse that may be dumped at the site and control of noise from trucks entering and leaving the site.

"They (CSI) have been cooperative with the committee," said Osborne. "I am very pleased with Rekshan's handling of the situation."

Rekshan said he believes most of the citizens concerns have been addressed. He said the committee has been "very friendly" and eager to learn about the composting operation.

"I don't have any problems with the committee's guidelines," Rekshan said.

Osborne termed the involvement of Canton's government as "positive" in resolving the residents concerns. He said the committee agrees with the township's finding, by the township's land use attorney, that the site's current zoning does permit a composting operation.

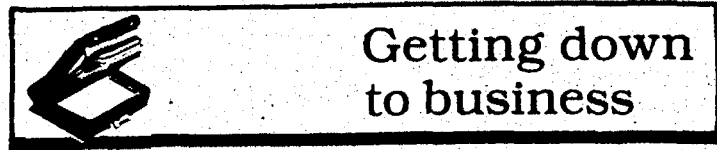

The site is currently unprepared for composting, Rekshan said. He said roads into the site need to be built as well as a garage to house equipment.

"I'm prepared to start work (on the site) now," Rekshan said.

Rekshan said all of the work needed to open the site could be done in about a month. A July opening is possible, he added.

Officials from the Western Townships Utilities Authorities (WTUA) said they are proceeding with the site "according to our original timetable."

Maurice Been, WTUA chairperson, said, "We hope that (the residents') initial fears have been fully allayed."

Getting down to business

Foster Kisabeth, 81, of Plymouth, includes tending bar at Fellows Creek Golf Course among his many activities. (Crier photo by Kelly Sauter-Dobson)

Family man living life in the fast lane

BY MIKE GUINN

There are what seem logical locations to look when trying to track down a senior citizen -- a nursing home or a hospital ward come to mind.

Looking in either of these places for Foster Kisabeth, however, would be a complete waste of time.

Kisabeth, an 81-year-old Plymouth resident, leads a lifestyle that might make men 30 years his junior drop from exhaustion.

Along with tending bar part-time at Fellows Creek Golf Course in Canton, he participates in a bowling league, ushers at his church, is Bingo chairperson at his Knights of Columbus hall and carves ornamental lawn ducks. In his "spare" time, Kisabeth also manages to collect coins and stamps.

Most of Kisabeth's current activities are continuations of lifelong hobbies.

"I've been bowling since I was 17, when I used to set up pins below Plymouth's old theatre," Kisabeth said.

Although his average was as high as 165 at one time, he describes his current 140 effort as "lousy."

In his bowling league this summer,

Oakwood is Advanced Medicine

Open Heart Surgery

At Oakwood, we specialize in open heart surgery, but that is only part of the story. Angioplasty, bypass surgery and aneurysmectomy are alternative procedures available here. But, before any procedure is performed, extensive diagnostic tests using every available technology are employed. These include Cardiac Catheterization, Cardiac Doppler and EKG Stress Thallium tests.

If open heart surgery is indicated, the story continues beyond the operating room. Oakwood provides a comprehensive cardiac rehabilitation program which begins during hospitalization and continues at our state-of-the-art outpatient cardiac rehabilitation center.

Oakwood Health Services is one of the largest health care systems in Michigan, with five hospitals, more than 30 local health care and specialty centers and more than 1,000 physicians in every major health care specialty and subspecialty. Oakwood will serve almost half a million patients this year.

Turnout a 'credit' to the community

being a candidate to a soon-to-be seated member of the board.

"Right now it's just a learning process," he said. "I want to get involved in the process, in the policies and direction of the district. I want to be part of the process, but I also want to be part of the inspiration for new direction."

Walker, who served one term as a school board member before losing a 1988 election to CBE supported Barbara Graham, said, "It feels great. 'I couldn't be more tickled,'" Walker continued, "I want to get back into the groove. I have a newer sense of what of it's like to be on both sides of the board."

The Plymouth resident said he wants to "resolve" some of the differences in the community which surfaced again during the election, and "reach across and touch hands"

"I see the need to make a stronger effort," he said.

This year's vote was far more political than the one in which he lost to Graham, said Walker. But he said he saw "what was needed" to be elected and "pushed on every front."

He said, "It was the strength of everyone else who helped that made the difference."

Anderson said the community may pay for its choice.

"If all the voters had voted and if they had accurate information, I believe I would have won," said Anderson. "And Diane.

"Getting information out to people and getting them involved is the real challenge," he continued. "Maybe I'm wrong and the community approves of what's happening in the school district, but I think, in the long run, the community will pay for its choice."

Union defends Canton

acknowledged receiving a copy of the letter.

The union's letter called the Vachher family's statements on the incident "destructive" and a "flagrant" misrepresentation of the events.

"It is readily apparent that your self-serving press release is intended to remove blame...from your son," the letter states, and to "transfer such blame to the Canton Township police officers."

Guido said Monday that the union would not "stand-by" while two of its members were being attacked. He added that he was unsure how the officers would respond if the Vachher family doesn't retract the statements.

Paul Vachher, 25, remains in critical condition at St. Joseph Hospital's intensive care unit in Ypsilanti, according to his father.

The union letter states that the "actions of the officers was clearly justified" in light of the fact that Vachher had the "clear intent to maim

Stamp said she was "amazed" by the election.

"I think I did really well considering what we were battling," said the Plymouth resident.

"We tried real hard," she continued. "I've grown a lot from this campaign."

Stamp called the results a vote for "business as usual." She doubted whether or not she would seek election again.

"I can only take this battering once for what I believe in," Stamp said.

"First, I would like to say I am pleased with the outcome," said Mueller. "There has been a clear message sent from the public. They want change but they want that change to take a more normal course. They want the schools to assist and support behavior and morality questions. They want the schools to try to teach the students to learn to make their own election.

"It's fine," Hartke said. "I really didn't know what to expect."

If she couldn't win a spot on the board, Hartke said, she was "glad it was who it was" that won on Monday. Four time board candidate Sumpter was unavailable for comment.

As for the turnout, Walker called the numbers "a credit" to voters in the community.

Jeannete Wines and Marilyn Schwinn, who did not seek re-election this year, said the voters gave the district a vote of confidence.

"The voters have certainly made known their preference," said Schwinn.

"I'm not unhappy with the results," Wines said. "I think this is a terrific vote of confidence."

Wines said Battishill will be a "fresh voice" on the board, adding that Walker "has the experience" the board needs.

Dave Arley, a current board member, said the vote "speaks well for the community."

Arley added that the voter turnout was "probably" the highest ever for a non-millage election in The Plymouth-Canton Community. "And I think that's good," he said.

Both Battishill and Walker, who were supported by district staff unions, will take over their new board roles at a July 6 organizational meeting.

In some ways, as Battishill put it, the newly elected candidates, "complement each other."

Battishill, who campaigned on somewhat more higher ideals, called Walker a "pragmatist" and "down to earth." At the same time, Battishill said he "gives back" to Walker a more "contemporary vision" of education in the 1990s.

Kisabeth has some familiar teammates. Son-in-law Charles and grandson Greg make up a trio in a league at the Oak Park Lanes.

Kisabeth's ties to the Knights of Columbus also stretch back many years. Joining the K of C in 1950 after converting to Catholicism, Kisabeth has been calling Bingo numbers there ever since the game was legalized. Apparently, it is one of his favorite places to be.

"My wife says I live at the K of C," Kisabeth said. "She goes along with it. She's used to it."

The attachment to the K of C seems to be a family trademark. His wife, Bertha, is a member of the ladies auxiliary.

One hobby that Kisabeth started in recent years was his carving of ornamental ducks, known as "whirlybirds" due to the movable wings. Carving and painting the ducks takes Kisabeth about four days to complete. He sells finished products from between $5 to $7.50.

"I just saw other people that made them before, so I copied them," Kisabeth said. "I didn't make any this year, though. I retired."

Kisabeth's activities have not been limited to the United States. He and his wife recently made a trip to Germany to visit the home of his ancestors. During the trip he visited with two of his cousins, Wilhelm and Fritz Kesseberth.

All five of the Kisabeths' children live within reach and call southeast Michigan home.

Although no formal plans have been made for this Father's Day, Kisabeth expects that he will see his children and their families this Sunday.

They have always "dropped in to the house" in the past, he said.

Originally from Ohio, Kisabeth has made Plymouth his home since 1928. He retired from the Pilgrim Drawn Steel Division as a traffic manager in

Fire damages City repair shop

Fire damaged a local automobile repair company next to the City of Plymouth DPW yard Tuesday morning, according to Plymouth Fire Chief Alan Matthews.

Yoder Motor Company Ltd., 1316 Goldsmith in the City of Plymouth, received extensive damage before the fire was extinguished, Matthews said.

"There was lots of smoke damage, lots of content damage," he said. "It was considered a major working fire."

1975.

On July 26, Kisabeth and his wife will celebrate their 57th wedding anniversary.

If keeping busy is a way to stay forever young, then for the Kisabeths, number 57 may only be the beginning.

Matthews said a shelving unit and motorcycle were among the damaged property. He added that 11 firefighters, a pumper, aerial truck and rescue vehicle responded to the call.

The owner of the company received burns on one arm and singed hair, but refused medical treatment, Matthews said.

There were no cost estimates of damage as of press time Tuesday.

"It's listed as suspicious, we're still investigating," he said.

Rocks' season ends in heartbreak

BY RITA DERBIN

The Rocks' late season surge came to an end Saturday afternoon when Farmington beat them, 6-5, in the state baseball regional semi-finals.

Salem (17-11) jumped out to a 3-0 lead after two innings behind the pitching of senior Jeff Paluk, who started the game. Farmington came back with two runs in the bottom of the second inning and two more in the third inning to take a 4-3 lead and knock Paluk out of the game.

Senior Rob Kowalski (8-2) relieved in the third inning and the Rocks tied the game in the fourth inning, and took the lead with a run in the fifth to make the score 5-4. Farmington, however, scored an unearned run in the sixth to tie the game and then scored in the bottom of the seventh to win and hand Kowalski his second loss of the year, both coming at the hands of Farmington.

"It was a heartbreaker," said coach John Gravlin. "I thought we were the better team but (Farmington) didn't make any mistakes and we didn't get good pitching on that day."

Eric Nielson led the Rocks offensively with three hits and three RBIs. Scott Rodgers scored three runs and had a double in the loss, and Ed Gundry had an RBI single.

For the season, junior Scott Rodgers led the Rocks with a .415 average. Senior Brian Rudolph (.410) and juniors Nielson (.404) and Scott Niemiec (.402) also batted over .400. Nielson and Niemiec both made the all-Lakes division team.

Kowalski, an All Lakes division pitcher, was named pitcher of the year at the team banquet Monday night. He led the team in victories, while Paluk had the team's lowest earned run average (2.01).

Also at the banquet, seniors Tom Noonan and Rudolph were named team co-MVPs. Noonan led the team with 23 RBIs and committed only one error in 90 chances at second base. He was also an all Lakes division selection at second base. Rudolph, who was the Rocks' all conference centerfielder, led the team in stolen bases. An honor student, Rudolph was also recognized as the team's scholar athlete with a 3.80 grade point average.

"This year was a real 'team' year," said Gravlin. "There were no state quality players but we put out a good team effort."

"We'll miss the seniors dearly," Gravlin said of his 11 seniors. "They provided leadership and great athletic ability. Even the guys who didn't play much had their roles on the team."

Along country roads

Farmland run

Run through the farmlands and along country roads in Canton during the 12th annual Canton Five Mile Run planned for June 23.

Sponsored by the Canton Parks and Recreation Department, the run starts at 9 a.m. on that Saturday. Check in and late registration will be at 8 a.m. at the Canton Administration Building.

The cost to participate is $7 in advance and $8 on the day of the event. Late registration begins after June 21. Special run t-shirts will be given to the first 150 participants.

Plaques and medals are planned for the first three finishers in each age group. The age groups, for both men and women, start at 14 and under and go up to 50 and older.

Participants will be eligible to win special donated prizes after the run.

Plans also call for an aid station along the race's route (at three miles) with refreshments available at the finish line.

For further information call the recreation department at 397-5110.

Helps team win state tourney

Local goalkeeper knows soccer

BY RITA DERBIN

By winning a national and state title -- both within a month of each other -- one Canton boy has experienced the feeling of being champion.

Darin Thompson, an 11-year-old goalkeeper for the Livonia-based Vardar III 78 Little Caesars Premier soccer team, helped his team win the State Cup tournament in the 12 and under category Saturday in Livonia.

The West Middle School student, who is just finishing up sixth grade, was in goal for the team's 1-0 victory over Livonia-Wayne. Teammate Mike Minicilli scored the only goal of the game.

The Vardar team is coached by Morris Lupence, who is the Marion High School girls soccer coach and an assistant coach at Oakland University.

The 16 team members include boys from all over metro Detroit: Jeff Backus, Ali Curtis, Louie Gavriloski, Tim Guest, Marko Jovanovic, Richie Keith, Ryan Kyes, and Minicilli. And Tony Moucoulis, Sammy Piraine, Jason Roy, Todd Smith, Thompson, Jeff Urbats, Chris Wasen, and Corey Woolfolk.

Members of the Vardar III 78 team show off awards after winning the indoor soccer national championship in Atlanta, GA.

Thompson started playing soccer after his parents, Allan and Sue Thompson, signed him up for a Westland YMCA team when he was four years old. He then played for the Plymouth-Canton recreation leagues before joining the Vardar team two years ago.

"I've been playing goal for the two years I've been in Premier," said Thompson, whose older brother, Derek, is on the Salem soccer team as stopper and center half. "I plan on playing soccer at least through the end of high school."

"I've always played soccer," he added. "I used to play basketball but I don't anymore. I like all sports -- especially tennis and golf -- but soccer is my favorite."

Vardar III 78 won the national indoor soccer tournament sponsored by Soccer Kick in Atlanta, GA over Memorial Day weekend. In the tournament, the team dominated, allowing only one goal while scoring 37. Thompson, who did not allow a goal in the tournament, won the tournament's most valuable goalkeeper award, Keith won the tournament MVP award, and Curtis won the scoring title with eight goals in six games.

In order to win the 18-team national tournament, the team had to defeat regional champion teams from across the country.

In their first game, the Vardar III 78 team defeated the Rockdale Rockers from Rockdale, GA, 7-0; In other games, the Little Caesars team defeated the San Raphael, (CA) Stompers, 9-0; DerBullen (Oklahoma City) 6-0 and 5-0; and Oakwood Select (Glastonbury, CT) 7-1. Vardar III 78 won the tournament by defeating the KY 102 Rockers from Wichita, 3-0 in the finals.

The Vardar team had advanced to the nationals by defeating teams from across Michigan, Toronto and London, Ontario, and Cleveland, to win their regional.

"I play year-round," said Thompson, who has also traveled to tournaments in Virginia and Washington D.C. in the past. "We practice two or three times a week and play a couple times a week usually."

At the present, Thompson's team is in first place in spring soccer. This summer the team will practice and play in tournaments before fall soccer begins, then it's on to indoor soccer in the winter.

And when he has some extra time, Thompson will play on the Canton teams as a guest player.

Thompson, who stops opponents cold when he's in goal, doesn't have any secret formula for success, it just seems to follow his team.

"We've just always been number one in our league," Thompson added. "We practice and, in a game, I just try my hardest."

Which seems to be more than enough to win.

For CEP teams Conference honors

Centennial Educational Park (CEP) was represented on the girls all state team. Salem's Michele Minton and Canton's Jenny Russell, both seniors, were named to the team.

In the Western Lakes Activities Association, Minton and Russell both made all conference. Also making the all conference team were the Rocks' Jennifer Marshall and Canton's Erin Morgan, both seniors. All Lakes division members for Salem were Sarah Hayes and Amy Krajewski.

School district appointments

The secondary education job had remained unfilled since then.

Tattan said his main goal when he takes over in the secondary education slot is to continue presenting a "consistent K-12 curriculum." He added that the district has a "fine curriculum," but that he wants to "work to improve it" even more.

"I'm looking forward to this. There are some positive challenges ahead," Tattan said.

The job will be posted externally sometime this month. Expected starting date is July 1 and the salary ranges from $56,282 to $68,054.

The board is also expected to consider the appointment of Errol A. Goldman as the new executive director of employe relations. If approved he will take over for Norman Kee, the retiring assistant superintendent for personnel.

Sharon Streen, who has headed the district's adult education program, may also be named an area coordinator at CEP.

The school district administration is recommending approval of all three appointments.

Superintendent John M. Hoben called the three candidates "outstanding professionals."

Band shows on tap

As summer warms the days, the Plymouth Community Band is getting ready to heat up the park.

"Concerts in the Park," a weekly series of free concerts, will begin performances on Thursday, June 21. The concerts will be held at Kellogg Park in downtown City of Plymouth, starting at 8 p.m.

This year marks the Plymouth

Community Band's 30th anniversary. The band is under the direction of Carl Battishill. The 45 members range in age from 14 to 77.

The first concert, a Community Band Birthday, features Carter Eggers, as trumpet soloist. Other concert dates are: June 28, July 5, 12, 19 and 26.

For more information on the concert series, call 453-5334.

Sign up for soccer

Although summer is just beginning, it's time to prepare for fall sports.

The City of Plymouth Parks and Recreation has announced that registration for the Plymouth Soccer Club will be held throughout this month. Boys and girls ages five to 18 are eligible to participate. The league will begin play in September.

The fee to join the club is $34. All participants must bring their social security number to registration. New participants must also bring a birth certificate.

For further information about the Plymouth Soccer Club call the recreation department at 455-6620.

Gary, we'll let you win at cards next time.

Happy Birthday Aunt Kathy — have fun on your cruise.

Good luck Kathe — thanks for all your help. Jan, hope you're feeling (and looking) better. — Phyllis Welcome back Ken — we missed you.

Judy and John: have fun in California — are you leaving the van here?

Congratulations to John Gravin in the Salem baseball team and good luck to all the seniors who played their last game Saturday! You had a great season and should be proud of your accomplishments!

JUDY: I'll miss you while you're in California — I'm also very jealous you're going and I'm not! I hope you and John have lots of fun. — Rita

Scott — Ready — packed — GO! Good luck!

Jimmy — Happy Father's Day to a super Dad and step-Dad — you're the greatest.

Kathe: we will miss you!!

Dale, you are a true fan — at least I stayed awake longer than Gene and Kim!

Bo — I know your name is spelled correctly. How did I do with Eric?

What happened to R.D.?

Mom, we have to plan our weekend soon!

Mark, Happy new computing!

Grandma Jo, watches the Pistons — Go team.

Happy Anniversary, Barb & Don Bush!

Thanks Phil for the flowers — are you sure Jack knows they come from his yard?

Thank you all those passers-by who stopped to help the "old man" that fell off his new mountain bike last week.

KENN CHRISTOPHER is older (again — the hill starts the other way at 45)

SARA AGED AGAIN with the SIXTH GRADE at CENTRAL starting her in the face.

CONGRATULATIONS PEGGY PURSELL on 30 years of service and, especially, on retirement.

GIVE BLOOD on Monday June 25 at St. Michael Lutheran Church. Call 458-3333.

VICKY & DAVE: barbecued turkey?!

GO PISTONS!

BOB: I told you not to worry, the finals are going back to The Palace.

JOHNNY: I hope you make good use of your new camera! Happy picture taking!

KIT: It's finally going to happen! You're going to cap day at Tiger Stadium on Sunday — UNLESS something important comes up, like getting your hair done!

Curiosities

"AREN'T YOU AFRAID she'll fire you?" asked some knaves. Rose's riposte was: "You can't fire slaves!"

KEVIN DUCKWORTH is pushing the wrong folk! Don't make Big Bill mad, Kevin.

If I had a choice between the Pistons and the Tigers — well, I'd still go with the Tigers!

"I LOVE TO crack myself up." — Lisa Filar, 1990 (at least she has a lot of company)

ALLEN O'DELL: we're not sure if the edit guys DESERVE geraniums; but they look great.

KATHE: It was great working with you. Thanks for all the sports tidbits you always had for me! Don't forget to call when George is going away to Europe this summer! — Rita

"IF YOU CAN make 'em happy with rutabagas, who needs diamonds?" — Ron Lowe, 1990 in D.C.

DIANE WILLIAMS poses as Washington photographer again.

JUNE 6, 1990 D-DAY FOR THE NEWSPAPER PRESERVATION ACT.

"I'VE GOT TO BE ABLE to see what I'm not supposed to find." — Sally Repect, 1990. Huh?!

NEW CRIER CARRIERS — Welcome to the Crier Team! Our newest carriers are Joshua — Route 121-A in Sunflower; Brian — Route 88 in Pickwick and Brian — Route 46, Aspen and Parkview area. Good luck, guys!

CONGRATULATIONS Jill Thomas for making the Honors Program at Eastern Michigan University — Love, your Grandma Hinkle and Uncle Johnny.

To all Crier Carriers — Keep up the good work — I'll miss seeing you on collection day! Remember to make all your George Washingtons face the same direction! — Kathe

To all the friends I've met in the last 19 months — Crier staff and people who stop or call in — I'll miss you all! You've made my time at The Crier fun, interesting & sometimes crazy — but I'll always remember it as one of the best times of my life! — Kathe

Me! Linda, hang in there — 2 jobs are tough — but in August your bank account will bulge!
