Neighbor faces 5 years

Driver arraigned in Chisholm death

BY KEN VOYLES

A 15-month ordeal for the Chisholm family in Canton ended Friday when the driver of the vehicle that killed 14-year-old Melissa Chisholm was arraigned in 35th District Court on a felony charge of leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

Joseph Donald Ryan, 39, a former neighbor of the Chisholm's in Canton was arraigned before Judge John MacDonald. Ryan, now a resident of Plymouth Township, stood mute on the charge and was released on a $20,000 bond.

A preliminary examination has been set for Sept. 20. If convicted Ryan faces a sentence of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

In a question and answer statement to Canton Police Thursday, Ryan admitted that he was involved in the May 14, 1990 accident and that he fled the scene, later discovering that he had a hit a person, said police.

School bond faces apathy at polls

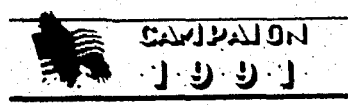

BY KEN VOYLES

More than anything else the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools will fight apathy at the polls during the upcoming 1991 bond proposal vote Sept. 24.

With a handful of elections already this year — and more to come — voters are running out of patience when it comes to going to the polls. That's the school district's biggest concern right now, according to administrators.

"No one really seems opposed to this but we're still working to overcome the apathy," Dick Egli, the district's community relations director told the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education Monday. "We want to overcome that and get the residents out to vote."

With more than 50,000 registered voters in the district, fewer than 8,000 are likely to turnout for any school election each year. Little more than 6,000 voters went to the polls during the school board race earlier this summer.

"I'm really excited and encouraged by what I see going on in this whole area," said Dean Swartzwelder, board treasurer Monday following a report from Egli on the progress of the campaign.

Dave Artley, board president, said the responses from residents he has been getting are "normal, but they haven't all been positive."

Artley has been among those speaking to various residents and groups this summer.

Egli said that the campaign phonebank set up by the elections committee has received supportive responses from more than 580 families already contacted. And several bond pamphlets have hit the homes of more than 40,000 residents.

One way to battle apathy, said E.J. McClendon, a board trustee, is simply for those who support the bond to talk to their neighbors. "A lot of citizens in my area have come forward and asked what they can do to help us," he said. "I told them to just talk to your neighbors."

Another way, according to officials, is to clearly present the elements in the bond proposal and the effects it will have on the district's budget and debt levy rate.

Petitions collected Farmer Jack protest likely weeks ago, the township voted to rescind the JOA with the city after it entered into a new JOA with Canton for owning and operating the airport.

Until the city voted, city attorney Ron Lowe said that the JOA still existed since it needed to be mutually rescinded.

Yet concerns and some frustration were raised during the discussion before the vote.

City Manager Steve Walters said no communications were made to the city about the new agreement between the township and Canton, and the action taken to end the city/township JOA.

"We were treated so poorly in not even being told about it," said Commissioner Jerry Vorva.

The commissioners also expressed concerns about recovering legal fees which were to be paid out of the airport board fund. A verbal agreement had been made that legal fees incurred from working on airport issues would be reimbursed.

"If the resolution (to rescind) is taken, the board is disbanded, and there is no revenue for reimbursements," Walters said.

"I would like some way to remind the township of that understanding," said Mayor Jack Kenyon.

City attorney Lowe said attorney fees "could run between $3,000 to $5,000."

But to prevent further conflicts and anxiety over the airport issue, the city commissioners voted to rescind the JOA and address the reimbursement in a separate letter to the township. If the commissioners had chosen, they could have stipulated that the JOA would not be repealed until the attorney fees were reimbursed.

City of Plymouth resident and commission candidate Bill McAninch had suggested that since the fees were estimated to be $5,000 to $6,000, it might be better to end the JOA now instead of placing demands on the township which could result in further costs.

"I think this is one of the few times I've agreed with Mr. McAninch," said Commissioner John Vos.

In other Mettetal news, Canton and Plymouth Township officials met with members of the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) and the Michigan Bureau of Aeronautics Thursday.

The group met to discuss the next steps in the process if the two townships decide to apply for another FAA grant.

"We went over our memorandum of understanding and they (FAA and Michigan Aeronautics) went over their requirements," said Canton administrative assistant Daniel Calabrese. "We talked about if and how the two can be rectified."

Calabrese said that Plymouth Township and Canton will be putting together a letter to send to the FAA. He said it will detail the 10 points of the memorandum and explain "why we think they are justified."

"I just can't believe their intentions are honorable," said John Wagner, of the Michigan Bureau of Aeronautics, about Canton entering into an airport JOA with Plymouth Township. "I clearly witnessed all the proceedings by Canton Township (with Mettetal). And those who fail to learn the lessons of history are condemned to relive them."

"I'm really disappointed by the whole thing."

Wagner said it was "absolutely not" normal for local government to specify certain requirements like the memorandum of understanding from Canton and Plymouth townships.

He said there is a great need to keep Mettetal open since several airports, including two in Westland and Salem, have closed. The Canton airport is also needed to relieve the large flow of traffic at larger airports he added.

Wagner said the money that was available was "discretionary funds" and can be used anywhere in the country. There is no guarantee the townships can get that amount of money back if they re-apply.

Peter Serini, of the FAA, said local officials were asked for an explanation of "why they feel these 10 points were needed." He said the process of re-applying for FAA grants was also discussed.

He said the two townships can re-apply "as soon as they can get the application in."

At meeting tomorrow DDA mulls P.O. sale

BY JIM TOTTEN

The U.S. Postal Service wants to dispose of the downtown post office building, and the City of Plymouth just might be the one to buy it.

The Postal Service offered the building to the city in a letter dated Aug. 7. Donald J. Fennelly, of the real estate division, wrote that the city must make a verbal offer by Sept. 17 if it is interested in buying the building.

The Downtown Development Authority (DDA) will be discussing the sale offer of the facility at its meeting tomorrow (Sept. 12).

Fennelly wrote that the fair market value of the property is $390,000. The DDA is currently reviewing the Postal Service's appraisal of the property.

City commissioners have expressed an interest in acquiring the building due to its historical significance and central location.

"We have almost the exclusive right to buy it," said City Manager Steve Walters at last week's commission meeting.

Along with local governments, the State and Wayne County have also received offers to buy the building. If local, county or state governments do not make an offer, the building will then be put up for public sale.

The carrier and bulk mail operations were moved two weeks ago to the new post office building in Plymouth Township. But the finance section (service windows) still remains open at the downtown facility.

Congressman Carl D. Pursell said in a Sept. 3 release that "U.S. Postal Service officials have promised to maintain a retail center in downtown Plymouth."

Pursell said, "I have undertaken numerous conversations with Postal officials, and each time they have assured me a retail center will be maintained in downtown Plymouth."

"Hopefully we can put this issue to rest; the Postal Service has agreed to keep a downtown service center and, until there is evidence to the contrary, I have no reason to believe they offer

Library plans for millage increase

BY JIM TOTTEN

The Plymouth District Library Board held a public hearing Monday to discuss a proposed increase of .0519 mills in its operating tax millage rate for 1991.

The proposed millage rate will be 1.0145 mills, which is the maximum rate allowed under the Headlee Amendment for 1991 after the Truth in Taxation hearing.

Based on preliminary budget figures, library director Pat Thomas said that state aid has decreased about 10 per cent and that the millage collection will be about $10,000 less than budgeted.

Thomas added that local revenues have increased about 10 per cent this year. Once adopted the additional millage will increase library operating

United Way begins fund campaign

BY KEN VOYLES

The 1991 Plymouth Community United Way fund campaign, which officially kicks off tomorrow (Sept. 12), is on its way to reaching this year's goal of $510,000.

According to Marie Morrow, executive director of the Plymouth Community United Way, the campaign began the first week in August as "Pacesetter" companies throughout The Plymouth-Canton Community set the pace for this fall's annual effort.

"I think it's going to be a tough year but we have a great campaign team," said Morrow, who added that this year's theme is "If it is to be, it is up to me."

Jim Connelly, with Detroit Edison, is this year's campaign chairperson, while Al Stevens from Unisys is the co-chairperson. The rest of the campaign team includes Don Keller, Edison; Dorothy Bokor, NBD Bank; David Williamson, Post, Smythe, Lutz & Ziel; Charles Portelli, Plymouth-Canton Community Schools; Pat Thomas, Dunning-Hough Library, Plymouth; David Breeden, Plymouth Family Service; Esther Hulsing, Plymouth Township; and Claudia Kuloff, Computer Services.

Board members include H. Kristene Rautio, Joan Morrison, Carole Rudio, Jon Huneke, James Anulewicz, Sister Sue Anne Brorby, Dr. Sidney Disbrow, Richard Gwynn, Sy Kernicky, Ronald Lowe, Rex Tubbs and Dennis Siegner.

A free kick off celebration is planned for tomorrow evening at 6 p.m. in the Mayflower Meetinghouse. The event, an agency fair, will include proclamations from the Plymouth city and township along with representatives from 16-18 benefiting local service agencies.

Funds from the annual effort go to support such groups as the American Red Cross, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, First Step, Growth Works, Michigan Cancer Foundation, Plymouth Community Council on Aging, Plymouth Community Family YMCA, Plymouth Family Service, Plymouth Opportunity House and Plymouth Salvation Army.

All total the fund drive helps 16 local and 21 state agencies that provide services to the community.

Following the official kick off tomorrow, the fund drive is expected to last through Nov. 30.

Throughout the campaign a variety of agency fairs are expected at local companies, including Ford's Sheldon Road plant and at the Unisys plant on Plymouth Road.

To find out more about the campaign this year call 453-6879.

The 1991 Fall Festival once again brought together numerous volunteers from the community. But some friendly competition was found at The Gathering when the Knights of Columbus painted their name on the barbecue pits which were also used by the Rotary Club (Crier photo by Ken Voyles).

Fest needs something besides food

Now that the 1991 Fall Festival in Plymouth is history, it's time to take a close look at the good, the bad and the ugly.

First of all, the weather was great, couldn't have been better. Maybe the ice fest folks could take a cue from the people who brought you the lovely weekend.

And what a great weekend for eating. There was plenty of it going on throughout the festival grounds in downtown. Most of the food booths this year experienced excellent sales all weekend long. Mainly, no doubt, because the food seemed above average this year.

The Rotarians sold nearly all of the 12,000 chickens they prepared Sunday -- 11,500, one member of the group said. The Polish Centennial Dancers were apparently running out of food by Saturday afternoon.

The set-up and arrangement of the festival went smoothly. Putting the students together along Penniman Avenue was a good way to give them group exposure and offer that street more than just kiddie rides, a dunk tank and games.

In fact, much of this year's festival had a student flavor. There were athletic teams helping as volunteers, the student food booths, the student radio station, the student performers on Sunday, not to mention other students like the Irish and Polish dancers, and the gymnasts and the karate demonstrators.

In many ways it was a festival to remember.

But there are also the usual gripes -- the bad -- that go along with the annual fete.

First of all the emphasis on food, food and more food will have to change. Too many food booths, too many main meals, too much to chow on...and not enough other things to do in between stuffing our faces.

While the entertainment was solid it once again failed to cater much to young people -- those are the ones who made the festival this year -- who have a taste beyond dulcimer music and big band sounds.

A variety of music -- such as the jazz and blues -- presented during the recent "Taste of Plymouth Music Fest" -- may strengthen the fest's appeal.

As usual, it was impossible to enforce the "no dogs, no bicycles" rule during the festival. While it may not be possible to stop the infractions, the city should consider adding an ordinance prohibiting dogs and bikes during events.

Not all of the major meals went over big. Just ask the folks at the Plymouth Knights of Columbus who brought the festival a steak dinner Saturday evening.

Other non-food booth participants also reported a slight lag this year both in sales and interest.

Above all, though, the biggest complaint is the lack of something to do other than eat during the festival.

And ask the downtown merchants what they think these days about blocking off the center of the city on Wednesday evening. More and more the talk this year focused on unhappy merchants who would like to see the festival for sure, but who also want to be accessible during busy weekday mornings and afternoons.

As for the ugly, about the only thing that comes to mind is the possible demise of the four-day festival.

Ugly too were the dumpsters all lined along Main Street. Yes, they were new (and thus as attractive as they can be) but were they needed there?

Between insurance hikes and complaints from the business folks, some festival organizers are wondering whether it would not be better to downsize the festival to a purely Friday, Saturday and Sunday event.

Delay the closing of the streets until Friday afternoon, they say. Yes, you can still have bingo and entertainment around the bandshell Thursday night, but it can be done without closing the streets.

Besides, many of the booths -- the reason Main is blocked off in the first place -- don't open early on either Thursday or Friday since sales at those times are already very slow.

If that's the case maybe it would be better to rethink the festival concept, saving the good, fixing the bad and addressing the ugly.

Potentially the best idea for a new Fall Festival was born this year -- an "all class" reunion for old Plymouth High School was held Friday night at the Knights of Columbus hall. If its organizers can tie into the festival more completely, this could add a new flavor to the festival as a homecoming for community residents of all ages.

With substance abuse list

Think before driving; or suffer consequences

If you can't do the time, don't do the crime, they say.

If you don't want your name on the monthly list of 35th District Court substance abuse convictions then don't drink and drive.

The premise is so simple. The list, published each month in The Crier, is intended to serve as a deterrent, having your name in print being the modern equivalent of wearing a scarlet letter.

Questions have been raised as to the list's effectiveness as a deterrent. After three months, it doesn't seem to be getting shorter (mostly because those now appearing committed their actual offenses months ago, before the lists ever were published).

But it is going to start working. Last week, a future listee called The Crier to see if it was possible to have names removed from the list. No way. No matter who you are, if you are convicted of a substance abuse offense, people are going to know. Not even Crier reporters are immune (see related story, pg. 17).

Now if we can just get people to think about the list before they get in their car. For any of us who believe we're still fit to drive home after a few beers (and this includes most of us, including the majority who are not caught), the question ought to be: do you want others to know you took a chance not only with your life but also with the lives of others on the road simply because you were too proud to call a cab?

I wouldn't — I don't — want anyone

The White pages

By Jim White

to think I'm that selfish. I didn't think in time once, but I won't make that mistake again.

The problem is, until you are caught the first time, you think you are in control. Threats of losing your license or of having your name printed don't deter, because you don't believe that any of that stuff really applies to you.

Unfortunately, I know whereof I speak.

Before "the list," there was Crier policy. If someone related to this newspaper (including the publisher's mother) is caught drinking and driving, they have to write their own arrest story.

Two weeks ago, that sounded like a joke.

But then I spent a night in jail with no belt or shoelaces, my hands stinking of ink used for fingerprinting, and I started to realize I had just been lucky before, not smart. It's a hard lesson to learn, but I guarantee I won't ever be staring at pink walls in a seven foot square cell again.

If you can't learn that lesson now, before you make the list, then people are going to know. It's as simple as that.

Let's talk about "the list" for a few minutes. It warrants further explanation at this point, now that we've printed it since June.

It clearly has become the talk of town. It worries some. Others say it's the right thing to do. It's a target for derision and praise, depending on who you are asking.

There is monthly anticipation, waiting to see who is on it. And, of course, the list is now a topic at cocktail parties.

Much has been said about the list, but only a few are bold enough to do it publicly. Well, here we are...

To the letter writer "disgusted" by our publishing the list and putting a "black mark" on people's lives:

The black mark is not our doing.

I would agree, though, that "most everyone in this town and surrounding areas has had a few drinks and crawled behind the wheel of their cars."

At the same time this is a free society and we all have a right to a public trial, an open hearing before our peers. What rights we have of privacy are forfeit under the watchful eyes of the law.

If we were unable to obtain the names for the monthly substance abuse (means everything from drinking to possession) your sixth amendment rights to a public trial by an impartial jury might also be impeded by a justice system that takes secrecy as a byword.

These are afterall only the convictions and not just arrests.

We have become a more open society, when it comes to revealing such offenses, or those involving homosexuals in rest stops or supreme court candidates smoking pot.

In the margin

By Ken Goss

What the average citizen does under the law is no different than those crimes, or alleged crimes, committed by famous personalities. We are as liable for the consequences as our favorite television star or football player.

While the reactions have varied from the letter writer to a man who said he was proud of what we were doing, the reality remains the same. Our society is threatened — by itself.

What you and I do on the streets effects how the lawmakers create the laws, how the judges handle the sentences, and how we as citizens live up to the very rights we have been given.

No, making the list is not some kind of badge of honor to be worn by anyone. It's also not a Scarlet Letter or a Star of David.

But it does count in the eyes of the law, it counts as much as when a newspaper labels a citizen or when a government official breaks his or her trust and tries to take advantage of a position of power.

It must count for something.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The list is being published by The Crier at the request of the Plymouth-Canton Substance Abuse Task Force.

From the horse's mouth

By Jim Totten

I have recently thought that my notion of how adults communicate with each other needs to be revised. It lacks reality.

I have seen few calm discussions turn into heated discussions that last over an hour but then turn calm again and result in both sides having reached some kind of understanding.

Sitting through commission and trustee meetings, airport forums and other public gatherings, I think a playground at a local elementary school would better fit the description of adults interacting.

Children at recess on the playground will occasionally shout, push, slap or threaten each other. And I have noticed that adults sometimes do the same.

Residents have more than once yelled out comments to trustees during airport discussions without the least bit of respect to the person who was speaking at that moment. Sometimes, they have yelled and then simply walked away and pouted.

A city commissioner was pushed by a resident after a meeting in February of this year. And just recently, a local attorney was slapped by a resident after an airport forum.

Now, an official from the Michigan Department of Transportation, Bureau of Aeronautics, has claimed a Canton official verbally threatened him after a meeting Thursday when Plymouth Township and Canton officials met with members of the FAA and Michigan Bureau of Aeronautics to discuss grant offers to purchase Mettetal.

Maybe there is a common thread in all of this?

It would be very good for people's health if the Mettetal Airport issue finally went to rest. But personally, I doubt it will go away soon.

Maybe the alternative would be for the adults in these communities to learn to talk, even in heated debates, about the airport (and possibly other issues) without losing self-control. Without wanting to hit or threaten each other.

But it doesn't just happen here in P-C-N. I remember that recently two of Michigan's illustrious state representatives got into a boxing/wrestling match while debating in the Capitol chambers.

The next time I see two kids fighting, I must remember that they are just following how adults behave.

Twp. acted cowardly

EDITOR

As a long time supporter of Mettetal Airport, my issue is no longer with the "opposition" nor is it in raising questions that have been asked a dozen times before.

Rather my issue is with the elected officials, the Trustees of Canton and Plymouth Township.

The Federal funds for the purchase of Mettetal were available only through the end of August. Anything other than a direct "yes" vote to accept these funds, by the Plymouth Township Trustees on Aug. 28, would spell the end of the airport. Rather than proceed with a vote to accept or reject the funds, the motion was tabled and a Memorandum of Understanding was introduced, voted on, and accepted.

This Memorandum of Understanding, agreed to at the "11th hour" between Canton and Plymouth Township is a solution to the deteriorating relationship between the two Townships, but not a solution to the airport issue. The agreement, in summary, states that the townships now form an alliance to jointly pursue the purchase, ownership, and operation of Mettetal Airport.

This is the same airport that Canton trustees, have on numerous occasions, indicated that they wanted nothing to do with. This agreement comes by the way, two days after Canton filed suit in Federal Court to stop the purchase of the Airport by Plymouth Township.

The Plymouth Township Trustees vote, to accept this "partnership" with Canton, will close the airport as surely as a "no" vote on the Federal Funds issue would have closed the airport. Trustees from both Townships look like heroes to their constituents because they have settled their differences.

If you are familiar with the issue, and study the Memorandum of Understanding, it becomes obvious that the move by the Township Trustees was not heroic, but cowardly. Avoiding the issue does not resolve the issue.

I will miss the airport and all that goes with it, and I certainly consider this a loss to the community at large. An even more important loss is our loss of faith and trust in our elected officials who, we find, make decisions using "smoke and mirrors" without addressing the issue itself.

Reliving the 1800s

Victorian Fest romances Northville

For three days this weekend, the City of Northville will travel back in time to the Victorian era.

Horse drawn carriages, food, special costumes and strolling musicians will descend upon the town to entertain folks along with many other events planned for the Northville Victorian Festival and Art Market (Sept. 13-15).

Festival goers may walk among Northville's historic homes, dance at a Victorian Costume Ball, play old fashioned games in the downtown streets, or stroll through the artist's market on Main Street. There will also be food booths, melodramas and fortune telling.

A Victorian parade kicks off the weekend of activities at 6 p.m. on Friday (Sept. 13) and will be followed by the Victorian Review at 7 p.m. in the downtown bandshell. A family auction starts at 8 p.m. at the Northville Community Center. The S.W.E.A.T. Band opens the entertainment, jamming in the bandshell at 8 p.m., to complete the evening.

Fresh, hot flapjacks will be in abundance at the pancake breakfast at the Presbyterian Church from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday. Also, the art market opens at 9 a.m. and stays open the entire day.

The bandshell will be bursting with entertainment all day Saturday with bands, a magic show, a barbershop quartet, a puppet show and the Salvation Army Band. A medicine man show, mimes, actors, a dulcimer group, and a Dixieland band will stroll through downtown streets to keep things lively.

The antique show runs from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the American

Canton woman walks through heart surgery

BY JIM TOTTEN

Only two months after her heart bypass surgery, Alice Mathis, 70, is now walking a mile every day in the morning.

Yet Mathis, of Canton, remembers how weak she first felt after the five hour operation, moving very little and eating only chipped ice since that was all her stomach could handle. Walking further each day in the hospital hallways and inside her home, she gradually recovered her strength.

"It's good to be able to get around," Mathis said, who was operated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor in July.

Mathis was one of the first patients in a new federal program designed to reduce costs and simplify complex billing procedures for Medicare recipients. The Health Care Financing Administration, which oversees Medicare, predicts they will save five to 20 per cent with the new program. St. Joseph and three other hospitals in the U.S. were chosen from among 200 applicants to participate in the program.

"Medicare pays the biggest part of it and what's left is paid by Care Choices," said Mathis about her medical bills.

For heart bypass surgery, the hospital and physicians would normally send out separate bills to the patient for their part of the treatment. Medicare, the federal health insurance program for the elderly and the disabled, would then reimburse the hospital and doctors separately.

Now, one fixed payment will be sent by Medicare to be divided among the doctors and hospital.

One part Mathis liked about the program was having a television and telephone for free during her hospital stay.

She went into the hospital for testing in July after suffering a mild heart attack.

"I woke up in the middle of the night and could hardly breathe," she said, adding that she had had no previous heart problems. Examinations including a catheter test determined five blockages.

"I couldn't believe my heart was that bad," she said.

The decision to go ahead with the operation was not a difficult one for Mathis, who said the whole procedure was explained very well. If the doctors said she needed to have bypass surgery, that was good enough for her.

On the second day after her catheter test, she went in for the operation.

"As long as I don't have to feel it while their doing it" was her main concern she said. Mathis, who has been a diabetic for 29 years, also takes medication for an irregular heart beat.

"The nurse would take you by the arm and walk with you as far as you could walk," she said. "I kept walking a bit more every day."

When she arrived home, she continued exercising and started walking around Academy Point Trailer Park where she lives with her daughter.

"I didn't care whether my hair was fixed or not — that's how bad I felt," she said.

Mathis was not allowed to drive for a month after the operation and was not to pick up anything over 15 pounds. This included her grandchildren who had to be handed to her so she could hold them.

Besides the exercise, she is supposed to avoid eggs and red meat in her diet.

Future plans for Mathis are focused around her family. She enjoys spending time with her two grandchildren, Sam and Jacob, who were born three days after she arrived home from the hospital. She lives with her daughter, Sharrie, her husband and the two babies.

No matter what she would also like to attend the family reunion next year in Adams to visit her sister.

Tell it to Phyllis

By Phyllis Redfern

Families and friends who play together know how to enjoy each others company and have fun together. Playing cards was always a big deal in my family. My brothers, cousins and I grew up playing cards. When we graduated from war and old maid to canasta and Pinochle we were allowed to play with the adults (sometimes).

I can remember many family gatherings where a deck of cards eventually made its way to a dining room table. I have fond memories of my cousin and I spending the week up north with grandma and grandpa, playing canasta. My dad was one of those people who knew where every card was and what you were going to play before you did (at least he knew which card I should have played before I messed up and played the wrong one). By the time we were in college, my cousin and I did quite well in euchre (too bad we couldn't receive a grade for it).

Playing cards (and other games) is still a favorite pastime in our household. The kids, their friends and my friends can throw an impromptu card party together in a matter of minutes. Many evenings, especially Sunday evening neighbors and friends stop by. Last Sunday we played bocce ball before gathering around the kitchen table for a game of euchre.

Saturday evening was also spent playing cards with friends. While I don't mind losing a game once in a while, I smile more when I win. Since I have been accused of naming the losing team in print before, I will humbly admit that Ron Carlson and Bill Lawton were the big winners this time. However, as soon as I find someone who is willing to be my partner watch out for a rematch (Liz, Joyce, Kay -- are you ready to give it a try?)

Since I'm the person who was asked to leave a Bridge group because I couldn't take the game serious enough, I obviously play cards for fun. There are enough things in life that we have to be serious about and cards isn't one of them.

If you can't laugh when you lose at cards, the next best thing is to attack the cookie jar. Eating cookies may not change the score of the game, but at least it puts a smile on my face.

Canton turns down treatment center plans

BY KEN VOYLES

Canton's Board of Trustees last week shot down plans by the Affiliated Management Group to proceed with renovation of the old Canton Care Center nursing home site on Michigan Avenue.

The board had been asked to approve the project plan as submitted by the Economic Development Corporation (EDC) of Canton. The board unanimously denied the request.

The rejection of the plan came after a public hearing during which several residents who live near the site on Michigan spoke out against the proposed drug and alcohol rehabilitation center.

The property, which has been vacant for several years, was to have been renovated and turned into a 40-bed care unit.

A spokesperson for the management group said the project would be "good neighbors," but residents raised safety concerns along with concerns about the renovation of a site that also contains some contaminated soil from a fuel tank.

The spokesperson said the treatment center would be a private, voluntary facility and would not house "dangerous" clients.

The site plan had already been approved by Canton and back in August the board designated the EDC project area.

Canton Clerk Lorea Bennett said he opposed the project and did not want to "entice" the organization to move into Canton.

"This board did approve the site plan, but we had not option," Bennett said. "This is something we can make a stand on by not making it easier for them to locate here. On this we do have an option."

POW/MIA service

Members of the Plymouth-Canton Vietnam Veterans of America 528 will hold a POW/MIA Memorial Service in Canton Friday (Sept. 20).

The ceremony will be held by the flagpoles in front of the Canton Public Safety building on Canton Center Road at 7 p.m.

The public is invited.

BOARD OF EDUCATION
PUBLISH: The Crier, Sept. 18 and Sept 23, 1991

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH BOARD OF TRUSTEES - REGULAR MEETING TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1991

Supervisor Law called the meeting to order at 7:35 p.m. and led in the pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. All members were present except Smith Horton.

Mrs. Hulsing asked that in the minutes of the August 28 meeting on page 7 under J.1 cross out 345th and 34 and insert 35th so that Gerald Law is appointed to the 35th District Court Advisory Board; on page 8 a motion was made by Mr. Horton to reaffirm action taken January 26, 1990 by the Township Board to approve the costs of printing, etc., should read January 9, 1990; and also on page 8 at the bottom it should read "bringing the final contract amount of $142,367.50 for D.O.C. Contracting" instead of $142,336.50.

Mr. Munfakh moved to approve the August 28, 1991 minutes of the Board of Trustees as corrected. Supported by Mrs. Brooks. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mrs. Hulsing asked that the agenda be amended by the following additions.

J.9 Esther Hulsing, Clerk RE: Set date for public hearing on request for a Plant Rehabilitation District designation for Plymouth Industrial Center Suggest September 24, 1991

K.A.-3 Abe Munfakh, Trustee RE: Letter to John M. Ambergger concerning "Regional Development Initiative Report"

Mrs. Hulsing then moved to approve the agenda as amended. Supported by Mr. Griffith. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mr. Munfakh moved to approve the Residential Unit Development Option as described and defined in Application No. 1139 for property generally located south of North Territorial, north of M-14, west of Ridge and east of Napier, subject to the following conditions.

1. The Final Site Plan shall comply with all conditions and standards per Article 17, Residential Unit Developments.

2. All engineering requirements associated with the development, such as the cross section of the road, drainage, etc., comply with the standards established for a planned development. The design and development of the site must ensure that the road could be made a public road with a 60 foot right-of-way if it were so desired in the future.

3. An extensive landscape development is provided that will screen and provide a positive open space development along M-14

4. A minimum of 65% of the units shall be developed as conventional single family residential consistent with the lot area and yard setbacks for the district with or without planting.

5. Staff contact the school district to receive comments on such development for transportation of students.

Supported by Mr. Griffith. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Supervisor Law asked for comments from the public as to any item that was not on the adopted agenda. Martha Suchanski mentioned environmental concerns, lack of proper venting through house attics, condition of streets and senior citizen transportation concerns.

Mr. Anulewicz addressed the Board reviewing his report of July 10, 1991 regarding the newly implemented Solid Waste and Recycling Program, its success, and anticipated addition of other recyclable materials.

No action taken.

Mr. Munfakh moved to set a public hearing date of September 24, 1991 for the discussion of the proposed 1992 General Fund budget. Supported by Mrs. Brooks. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mr. Griffith moved to set a public hearing date of September 24, 1991 for a Truth in Taxation Hearing. Supported by Mrs. Brooks. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mr. Munfakh moved to adopt an Awards Policy for use within the Plymouth Township Police Department as part of their manual as submitted by Chief Berry in his "Awards Policy" dated May 16, 1991. Supported by Mrs. Brooks. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mr. Stewart moved to pass as first reading Ordinance C-91-15 which regulates and governs the preservation and protection of properties designated as a "Natural Preserve" within Plymouth Township as proposed by the Township Attorney. Supported by Mr. Munfakh. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mr. Griffith moved to participate in the 1991-92 Concert Season for the Plymouth Community Chorus by becoming a patron with a donation of $50.00. Supported by Mr. Munfakh. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mr. Munfakh moved to approve the request from the Kiwanis Club of Colonial Plymouth that Plymouth Township allocate funds, not to exceed $1,000.00, for transportation of senior citizens to and from the Travelogue Series Programs for 1991-1992. Supported by Mr. Griffith. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mrs. Hulsing moved to authorize the Board's vote be cast for the Michigan Municipal Worker's Compensation Fund members listed as trustees on the M.M.W.C.F. ballot. Supported by Mr. Munfakh. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mrs. Brooks moved to approve the expenditure of $6,500 for the purchase of scales from Loadometer Corporation for the Weighmaster Program. Supported by Mr. Munfakh. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mr. Griffith moved to set a public hearing date of September 24, 1991 as requested for a Plant Rehabilitation District designation of Plymouth Industrial Center. Supported by Mr. Munfakh. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mr. Stewart moved to accept and file the Communications as listed. Supported by Mrs. Brooks. Ayes all.

It was moved by Mr. Munfakh and supported by Mrs. Brooks that the meeting adjourn at 9:55 p.m. Ayes all.

Esther Hulsing, Township Clerk Susan Koch, Recording Secretary Plymouth Charter Township

Attorney General rules against Plymouth Hills

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

The Michigan Attorney General's office has ruled against Plymouth Hills Mobile Home Park's requiring appraisals and minimum sale prices on manufactured homes in its park.

Based on complaints filed by park residents Allen and Jane Liston and Robert Henry, the Michigan Mobile Home Commission sought an attorney general's opinion on the Plymouth Hills park rule "J."

The ruling, issued Thursday, found the park's requirements in violation of the Mobile Home Commission Act, ordered the practice stopped and ordered the park to notify residents of the change by Sept. 30.

Joe Ruggirello, owner of Plymouth Hills, said Monday he would implement the change immediately, but that he might need more time to legally notify residents of the change.

Jane Liston praised the attorney general's opinion. "It's wonderful.

"I just hope it stops him (Ruggirello) from doing this again," she said.

Ruggirello replied, "Life goes on.

"In light of the ruling, we're going to delete Section J of our rules and regulations. We still want to require an inspection prior to sale of a home in the park and we'll expect them to make repairs in a reasonable time," he said.

This Plymouth Hills rule, which was earlier approved by the Michigan Mobile Home Commission, is the second time the park has had official complaints filed with the state over rules designed to upgrade the park. Two years ago, the park issued a rule to require the homes there to add pitched roofs and other amenities.

In that case, the residents, Ruggirello and the Mobile Home Commission reached compromises on the rules.

"We're trying to keep the aesthetics of the park maintained," Ruggirello said. "We feel we have a certain obligation to the residents that have been there and take good care of their homes and lots.

"We lost; we'll implement that change immediately," Ruggirello admitted. "There are no hard feelings over it, none whatsoever."

Plymouth Hills, which has 489 units now, is currently undergoing an expansion on its northwestern corner to add 144 more lots. Occupancy there is scheduled for later this year.

But Ruggirello's rule complaints may not be over.

He said that numerous complaints attorney, Geoffrey Smereck, if it were necessary. The transcripts would cost about $600.

By moving towards prosecuting for ordinance violations, the city is hoping to insure the program will be forced to leave. Lowe said it is like "literally holding everybody's feet to the fire."

Along with Light House, Inc., the landlord of the apartments on Roe Street would also be brought to court, for prosecution.

"The landlord has advised us that the (Light House) lease will be terminated on Sept. 30," said Lowe. "It is very clear in my mind that he plans to terminate the lease and move the tenants."

The residents said that they have nothing against the participants in the program, many of whom they have invited into their own homes. Their frustration was with the management of the program.

"It is the operation of the program and not the people in the program," said Bechler.

They said Andersen and Smereck "misrepresented" the program when it was first proposed.

"I think she (Andersen) owes us an apology," said Carol Hardy.

In a lighter moment, attorney Carol Levitte, who represents the residents, handed Lowe a paint brush.

"There are now enough paint brushes for Mr. Lowe to paint a picture for the court," Levitte said.

City cops nab gun toter

A Walled Lake resident was arraigned on felony charges after pointing a loaded handgun at a group of people gathered in the Maysflower Party Shoppe parking lot on the evening of Sept. 7.

Scott Hamel, 18, was arraigned in 35th District Court on Sept. 9 on a felonious assault charge and possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony.

City of Plymouth Police Chief Robert Scoggins said Hamel was with one of two groups of people gathered in the parking lot around 11:45 p.m. Saturday (Sept. 7). Hamel pointed the .22 caliber chrome-plated revolver, traditionally known as a Saturday Night Special, at one group, according to Scoggins, and threatened to shoot them.

Scoggins said Hamel's friends calmed him down at the scene.

City police responded quickly, said Scoggins, and arrived at the parking lot. Police located the gun in Hamel's car.

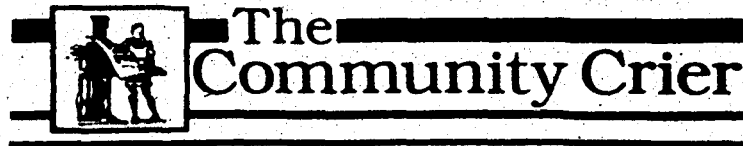

Scoggins credited the "rapid response rate" of Officer Robert Henry in handling the situation.

Bond was set at $20,000 or 10 percent.

Felonious assault carries up to a seven year prison sentence and/or $2,000 fine. Possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony carries up to a two year prison sentence.

The preliminary examination is scheduled for Friday, Sept. 20 at 35th District Court.

Bond Tuesday for $59.7 million

"It's just another tool for teachers in the classrooms," he said referring to the planned $12 million of the bond to be used for a technologies package.

Money generated from the bond will be used for the high-tech package, along with the building two new elementary schools, renovating and reequipping existing schools, adding 12 classrooms in the district, classroom additions at three elementary schools, purchasing school buses and improving outdoor physical education facilities.

Each of the district's school buildings will receive funds from the bond if it is approved. Of the money, $17.7 million would be used at the elementary and middle schools, another $10.2 million at Centennial Educational Park (CEP) and $12 million each for the new elementary schools and high-tech program.

Currently the district has students and staff members equivalent to one full elementary school being housed in portable buildings.

If the bond is approved, school officials said the new elementary schools would begin operating in the fall of 1993 for the 1993-94 school year.

One elementary school is expected to be built in Sunflower subdivision in Canton on land already owned by the district. The other school will be located either in the northwest or south section of the district.

Richard Egli, the district's community relations director, said the $12 million for technology will "go a long ways" toward bringing the district on line with a wide range of modern teaching tools such as videos, floppy disks, computers and satellites.

But the district also hopes to receive another $8 million from the federal government in the form of a grant. Hoedel said the money for Plymouth-Canton is still a line item "but whether it gets through committee is another question."

He added, "A lot of work has gone into this project. We've spent a year preparing for this."

Originally, as well, the district's "dream list" for the future totaled $116 million in spending, but that was put into manageable form for the current proposal, said Hoedel.

With the vote less than a week away, support has started to come in from several areas.

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the bond proposal along with all of staff unions in the school district.

In a letter to members of the staff, presidents of the union locals said that it is in "our best interest to assist in whatever way possible so that this proposal becomes a reality."

This Friday an "evening of information" is planned by the citizens election committee leading the bond campaign. It will be held at 44934 Ford Rd., Canton Landing mall, from 5-7 p.m. A $25 donation is requested.

Student count up for schools

Unofficial student counts for the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools show a gain of 161 students over the same time last year.

The official fourth Friday count is not due for another two weeks, said school district officials.

Numbers released Monday were dated Aug. 30.

According to those numbers, the district's enrollment is 15,092, compared with 14,931 at last year's fourth Friday count.

Of the 161 students gained this year the largest increase was in grades six to eight, which saw an increase of 98 students. Elementary school enrollment fell by 16 students, on the other hand, and grades nine through 12 increased by 79 students.

Fire station not yet open

BY JIM TOTTEN

Although the new Plymouth Township fire station located at North Territorial and Beck Roads appears to be completely finished, a few items are still missing.

Township Fire Chief Larry Groth said Monday that it will be more than a month before a certificate of occupancy is issued by the township building department.

"All the small things are not being done," he said. He added that there are no smoke detectors in the living quarters and a problem with the plumbing still exists.

Until these items are addressed, Groth said the building department will not issue a certificate of occupancy.

Also, he said that he has no knowledge that "any inspections have been done" of the new fire station. Before a building receives an occupancy permit, it must pass fire, heating, electrical and plumbing inspections.

OAKWOOD WOMEN AND CHILDREN'S HEALTH CARE CENTER

"I Wanted To Be A Good Mother Even Before My Baby Was Born. That's Why I Chose Oakwood."

"I knew that in order to be a good mother to my baby, there was alot I needed to learn. That's why we went to Oakwoods Women and Children's Health Care Center before my baby was born. They provided us with comprehensive, ongoing prenatal care classes, and physicians who specialize in the latest in prenatal medicine. And when the time came to give birth, we had our very own mother/baby nurse. We even had their Labor, Delivery, and Recovery Rooms to make the event special for our whole family. I'm glad I chose Oakwood. They helped me be a good mother to my baby, before we even met."

This year more than 5,000 babies will be delivered at the Oakwood Women and Children's Health Care Center, a Level 111 perinatal center that's part of the Oakwood health care system, one of the largest health care systems in Michigan, with six hospitals, more than 30 local health care and specialty centers and more than 1,000 physicians. For the name of a physician on our staff, call the Oakwood Physician Referral Service.

In Old Village

Apple Festival on tap

It's Apple Fest time in the City of Plymouth's quaint and historic Old Village.

The annual festival is set for Oct. 5-6 throughout the Old Village part of Plymouth.

The festival features apples, apples, and apples. But there will also be antiques, auctions, entertainment, raffles, balloons, a used book sale, bands, a bake sale and contests.

An Apple Fest King and Queen will be selected by local judges and there will be a baby contest. Register Saturday from noon to 2 p.m. The cost is $1 and a birth certificate is needed. Ages are one year and younger and 13 months to two years. Judging will be held at 3 p.m. and the winners will receive U.S. Savings Bonds.

There will also be a "Decorate Your Wagon" contest for ages five to 10 only. Register from 1-2 p.m. on Sunday. A wagon parade and judging will begin at 3 p.m. Prizes include gift certificates to local shops.

For further information call the Old Village 24-hour hotline at 455-7011.

Music program for youths

Children interested in discovering music can still sign-up for the Kindermusik program run by Thomasine Preniczky and Brenda Krachenberg.

The local Kindermusik program begins the first week of October and runs for 15 weeks. The program will cost $125 for each 15-week

Students learn about all aspects of music from reading and writing, to vocalizing and playing rhythm instruments.

Local Kindermusik classes are held at Arnoldt Williams Music in Canton.

For further information about the program call Preniczky at 420-2660 or Krachenberg at 453-9486.

Hosted by Friends

Woods walks planned

The Friends of the Miller Woods will host three more monthly walks in the rare climax-beech forest in Plymouth Township between now and December.

The walks, "Explore the Woods," will be held the second Sunday of each month and be conducted by Joyce Holmes and Emily Kemnitz. The walks begin at 1 p.m. at the woods entrance along Powell Road just west of Beck Road.

Group members, families and friends interested in learning more about the woods are welcome.

The three remaining walks are as follows: Oct. 13, "October's Party"; Nov. 10, "Those Who Go and Those Who Stay"; and Dec. 8, "Winter Woods."

For information about the free walks call Kemnitz at 453-6192.

This Sunday (Sept. 15) the group will host its annual meeting at the Dunning-Hough Library in the City of Plymouth from 2-4 p.m.

Schoolcraft College Professor Roger Sutherland will present a program on "Flowers Know How to Get Things Done." Also, plaques and honorary lifetime memberships will be presented to Evelyn Edgar, Penny Wright Steele and the Norman Miller family as founding members of the Friends organization.

Following the lecture and presentation there will be a short business meeting. Refreshments will be served and member applications available.

For further information call 451-6423.

Picnic, tour features look at historic sites

A Harvest Picnic and Historic Tour will be held Sunday, Sept. 29, from 1-5 p.m. at the Plymouth Historical Museum side lawn.

The main dish will be provided, and those attending should bring their own place settings and a dish to pass.

If your last name begins with A-H, bring a salad. If your last name begins with I-P, bring a vegetable or bread. If your last name begins with Q-A, bring a desert.

A special tour of Native American Indian Heritage and Historical Mills follows the picnic. The tour will be led by noted author Helen Gilbert and Mill Historian Gary Stone. If you plan on attending, phone 455-8940.

Red Cross offers courses

The new American Red Cross Center on Canton Center Road in Canton will be offering a variety of courses this fall and winter for residents interested in first aid, CPR and babysitting.

Courses offered are held in October, November and December and include Standard First Aid, Community CPR, Babysitting, and Home Alone. Most courses offered over a two-week period.

To register or for information call 422-2787. To donate blood at the new center call 494-2800. Fee for course materials only.

The first aid classes look at the basic principles of first aid and CPR. The Community CPR classes focus on emergency care techniques, while Home Alone instructs children in basic skills to be used if an adult is not at home. The babysitting classes look at duties and responsibilities of babysitters in home emergency situations.

The new center also plans to offer child safety education and community service projects.

Course dates are as follows: Standard First Aid, Oct. 1, 8; Community CPR, Oct. 3, 10; Babysitting, Oct. 19, 26; Standard First Aid, Nov. 5, 12; Community CPR, Nov. 7, 14; Home Alone, Nov. 7; Babysitting, Nov. 16, 23; Standard First Aid, Dec. 3, 10; Community CPR, Dec. 5, 12.

Library expansion likely downtown

Silvermode Company and the Starkweather School parking lot site.

A number of site options for library expansion within the block bounded by Main, Union, Penniman and Church streets are being considered, said the report.

The current 13,680 square foot building needs to be expanded to 48,000 square feet, according to the needs study done last year, but expansion of the current library to do that would require "extensive demolition and modification of the existing building" and its systems.

Also, expanding by adding a second story would require extensive demolition so much so that "little beyond portions of the current exterior walls" and concrete floor would "remain untouched."

The report says that adding a second floor is "not practically feasible."

The study adds, "In order to avoid the appearance of another piecemeal expansion and the functional, operational and design compromises that such an expansion would entail, it is impractical to consider a 34,000 square foot addition to the existing building."

Dunning-Hough was built in three phases, starting in 1952. An addition was made in 1957 and a third phase added in 1984.

The report says that land acquisition and building demolition or relocation are the only way to expand the current facility. Expansion, though, is possible only to the east or the south of the current building.

Expansion to the east, said the report, would require land acquisition in areas of what are currently parking and homes fronting Union Street. Expansion to the south would require demolition or relocation of the historic Baker House and Hugs & Kisses.

"Any expansion," it reads, "of the existing facility would also require additional parking spaces to accommodate the larger library."

The report notes that a 48,000 square foot structure would require some 239 parking spaces (there are 137 in the parking area behind Plymouth City Hall).

The decision to remain downtown was dictated by a variety of criteria, including public sentiment; retaining a "civic center" created by the library, city hall and museum; high visibility; access to parking; and the need to locate the library on busy primary streets.

The alternative locations for a possible library were appraised for assets and liabilities, said McPherson.

He said that liabilities of the existing site include the cost of land and the need for parking expansion. "But the assets of the site far outweigh those," said McPherson.

He said the current building is structurally sound and in good repair, but added, "It's a substantial addition that we're talking about."

McPherson said it would be impossible to expand the current site without destroying the facility. He said it would be expensive, but did not have a bottom line cost figure for the board.

Plans call for a new library to be built in 15-18 months once the decision has been made, said Carol Davis, the board president.

Davis said the library board would begin meeting with members of the Plymouth DDA and Plymouth Planning Commission to review possible options and see "where on this block" to put a newly expanded library.

Following the architect's report and other library business, the board went in to closed session to discuss the purchase of property.

expenses 5.4 per cent over revenues if the hearing were not held.

Thomas added that so far this year, the library has experienced a 17 per cent increase in circulation from last year. In 1990, circulation at the library increased almost 14 per cent and in 1989, it increased eight per cent.

Based on the circulation increase, Thomas said that staff levels should be enlarged. Thomas also said the library is considering staying open on Sundays the whole summer.

Budgeted items for 1991 include buying computer terminals for public use and purchasing a new circulation system.

The library is also the subject of a debate over expansion and whether or not it will remain in downtown Plymouth.

The Plymouth District Library Board will hold a key meeting to discuss Dunning-Hough's future Monday (Sept. 16).

The Board Report

A brief review of actions at the regular Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education meeting of September 9, 1991

The Board of Education presented a resolution of congratulations to the 1990-91 Plymouth Canton High School Quiz Bowl Team for an outstanding performance at the National Tournament of Academic Excellence competition held at Walt Disney World in Florida last spring. The Quiz Bowl Team placed among the top ten teams at the competition, while competing against more than 100 teams from Michigan and thousands of teams from across the country. Team members from the 1990-91 team are Patrick Meyer, Brian Sample, Steve Sedore, Ju-Lin Wang, Paul Wisniewski and Bryant Wu. The team coach is Scott Beaman.

Ray Buckman, Citizen Legislative Liaison, reported to the Board that 16 possible property tax revision plans are now on record. He also reminded the Board that the legislature is back in session on September 11.

Richard Egli, Administrative Assistant for Community Relations, updated the Board about information being distributed to help people become informed about the Bond Project to be voted on September 24.

Board President David Arley updated the Board on various speaking engagements scheduled to help communicate information about the Bond Project to the community.

The Board approved the Consent Calendar which included:

- payment of bills in the amount of $2,275,516.39.
- the leave of Lynne Lonigro, administrative intern and Lois Stuart, Hoben Elementary School.
- the resignation of David Snyder, station manager of WSDP.
- the hiring of Linda Merkel, German teacher at Pioneer Middle School.

The Board approved:

- the appointment of Dr. Russell Sansbury as the new supervisor of Student Services and Programs, effective October 7, 1991.
- the bid for carpet projects to A. R. Kramer Company for the low bid amount of $26,872.07.
- election inspectors for the special election to be held on Tuesday, September 24.

Here is the wording which will appear on the Sept. 24 ballot:

Shall the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed Fifty Nine Million Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars ($59,700,000) and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefore, for the purpose of:

- a. erecting, furnishing and equipping two elementary schools and acquiring one elementary site;
- b. erecting, furnishing and equipping additions to and/or partially remodeling and re-equipping existing school facilities;
- c. purchasing and installing technology systems and equipment for all school facilities; and
- d. purchasing school buses and developing, equipping and improving sites, playgrounds and outdoor physical education facilities?

The next regular meeting of the Board of Education will be held on Monday, September 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the Board of Education Office located at 454 S. Harvey Street in Plymouth.

This report is brought to you as a means of communicating your Board of Education's actions. If you have questions about these actions or would like further information about your schools, call 451-3188.

CEP open house set

An open house at the Centennial Educational Park (CEP) is planned for tomorrow night (Sept. 12) from 6:30-9:20 p.m. at both Salem and Canton high schools.

Residents can tour the CEP facility, meet the faculty and find out about courses and course content. Teachers will be in their classrooms to present the information.

Parents can follow their son or daughter's daily schedule and get a firsthand view of the upcoming activities planned for 1991-92.

Woods walks planned

The Friends of the Miller Woods will host three more monthly walks in the rare climax-beech forest in Plymouth Township between now and December.

The walks, "Explore the Woods," will be held the second Sunday of each month and be conducted by Joyce Holmes and Emily Kemnitz. The walks begin at 1 p.m. at the woods entrance along Powell Road just west of Beck Road.

Group members, families and friends interested in learning more about the woods are welcome.

The three remaining walks are as follows: Oct. 13, "October's Party"; Nov. 10, "Those Who Go and Those Who Stay"; and Dec. 8, "Winter Weeds."

For information about the free walks call Kemnitz at 453-6192.

This Sunday (Sept. 15) the group will host its annual meeting at the Dunning-Hough Library in the City of Plymouth from 2-4 p.m.

Schoolcraft College Professor Roger Sutherland will present a program on "Flowers Know How to Get Things Done." Also, plaques and honorary lifetime memberships will be presented to Evelyn Edgar, Penny Wright Steele and the Norman Miller family as founding members of the Friends organization.

Following the lecture and presentation there will be a short business meeting. Refreshments will be served and member applications available.

For further information call 451-6423.

Crier reporter nabbed

A reporter for The Community Crier newspaper was arrested early Thursday by City of Plymouth police for allegedly operating a vehicle under the influence of liquor.

Jim White, 24, of Plymouth Township, was stopped by police on Penniman near Sheldon after he failed to heed an officer signaling him to pull over with a flash light, police said.

According to a breathalyzer test, White's blood alcohol level was .10. Under Michigan law, a blood alcohol level of .10 or above is considered legally intoxicated.

Community Deaths

Igleharte, phone operator

Dorothy M. Igleharte, 77, of Metairie, LA, died Aug. 31 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Superior Township. Funeral services were held Sept. 5 at the Jacob Schoen Funeral Home in New Orleans.

Mrs. Igleharte worked as a telephone operator for 12 years. She was born and lived her entire life in New Orleans.

Survivors include: son Hugh West, of San Francisco; daughter Lynn McCabe, of Plymouth Township; one brother and three sisters.

Local arrangements were made by Lambert-Vermeulen Trust 100 Funeral Home.

Marinovich, UAW sec.

Irene Young Marinovich, 85, of Plymouth, died Aug. 27 in a Westland convalescent home. A memorial service will be held Sept. 20 at Schrader Funeral Home.

Mrs. Marinovich served as the first recording secretary of UAW Local 174 at the time Walter Reuther was the local's president. She was an active unionist advocate for women's rights during the 1940s while at the GM Ternstedt Plant and served in various union posts, including the General Council of Local 600 while working at the Ford Rouge Plant.

Survivors include: daughter June Endicott; son William Marinovich; grandchildren David Endicott, Deborah Greenwood, and Linda, Mark and Neil Marinovich; great grandchildren Whitney, Megan, Heather, Jordan, Billy, Emily and Lindsay.

Memorial contributions may be made to the United Ostomy Association or Citizens for Better Care.

Salem knocks off Trenton Canton defense shines in opener

BY JAY KEENAN

Canton's defense rose to the occasion Friday night.

The Chiefs managed to stop Monroe High on several key drives to help lift the football squad to an 18-6 season opener victory over Monroe.

"I think our defense, for the most part, did their job, and for the most part won the game for us," said Canton coach Bob Khoenle. "They did what we thought they could do and they did a heck of a job."

Few could disagree with that point.

For starters, the Chiefs kept the Trojans from scoring on nine out of 10 of their possessions, while forcing two fumbles. In the first half, Canton thwarted Monroe drives up to the Chiefs 10, 20 and midfield yard marks. And in the second half, Canton did not make it much easier for the Trojans, as it held the opposition to just one first down and stopped a crucial Monroe drive past midfield in the third quarter.

Canton also sacked the Monroe quarterback three times in the final stanza.

As if that wasn't enough, Canton's offensive attack, which is sporting a younger look this year, also had its share of encouraging bright spots, gaining 306 total yards with the aid of several key plays.

"Our offense did better than we thought," said Khoenle. "We made some typical first game mistakes, on top of being young, but we scored when we had to."

The Chiefs first scoring drive came in the first quarter after Shane Beaty recovered a Monroe fumble at the Canton 23. Several plays later, Steve Hohl set up Canton's first score with a 28-yard dash to the Monroe six. After a face mask penalty put the ball on the Trojan three, sophomore quarterback Kevin Shankie took the ball into the endzone on the next play to give Canton a 6-0 lead. (All extra point attempts in the game failed for both sides.)

Canton's second score came with 3:44

Canton now 1-1 Rock hoop team falls to 1-2

BY JAY KEENAN

After enjoying a 10-point lead at the half, Salem couldn't quite hold off a powerful Farmington Our Lady of Mercy girls basketball team, losing 36-28 Saturday at home.

The Rocks jumped off to an early 11-2 lead at the end of the first quarter and then led 22-12 at the intermission. Salem's offense struggled in the second half, however, as Mercy outscored the Rocks 11-4 in the third and 13-2 in the fourth.

"We had some great scoring opportunities in the second half, but we just couldn't make the ball go in," said Salem coach Fred Thomann, whose team is now 1-2. "Our team defense has been good, but we just have to improve our offense."

Cyndi Platter led Salem's scoring attack with 10 points, while Darcie Miller added six.

Despite the tough loss to Mercy, now

Canton hosts punt, pass, kick

Grab that pigskin because the football season is here.

The Canton Parks and Recreation Services will be sponsoring its annual Punt, Pass and Kick football contest on Saturday, Sept. 28.

Kids aged eight to 13 can enter the free contest, with the top finisher in each age group advancing to the regional level of competition. Also, the top three in each age group will receive awards.

Only gym shoes are allowed; no cleats or turf shoes. The contest begins at 10 a.m.

Registration will start at 9:30 a.m. at Griffia Park (the Sheldon Road side).

For more information, call 397-5110.

3-1, Thomann said that his team is doing a fine job handling the strong caliber of competition so far this year.

"Our players have done a good job stepping up against the good level of competition," he said. "Our schedule is tough."

Last Tuesday, the Rocks edged Waterford Kettering, 56-55. Salem held a 53-27 lead with 4:50 left in the game before Kettering went on an 18-2 run to tie it at 55-55 in the waning moments.

Kelly Austin, however, saved the day when she stole a Kettering inbounds pass in Salem's end of the court, dribbled the length of the court and got fouled near the hoop. She then made the second end of a two-shot foul conversion with two seconds left to seal the victory.

Miller led the Rocks in scoring with 19 points. Emily Giuliani contributed 10 points, while Austin and Platter chipped in with seven and six points, respectively.

Canton lost its game to Marian Thursday, 68-42.

The Chiefs trailed 30-22 at the half, but Marian ran away with it in the second half, outscoring Canton 18-6 in the final period.

"We played well through three-and-a-half quarters," said Canton coach Bob Blohm. "But midway through the third quarter we broke down defensively and we gave up some easy shots, and a lot of second shots. And we missed some shots."

Stephanie Gray and Britta Anderson led Canton with 12 points each.

Last Tuesday Canton trounced Trenton in its season opener, 67-13. Julie Nicastri led the Chiefs with 20 points, while Gary tossed in 10.

Canton next plays Muskegon Mona Shores in the Farmington Mercy Hoops Classic Thursday at 6 p.m. The Chiefs will then play either Mercy or Kettering on Saturday in the consolation game or the finals. Canton then travels to Flint Powers next week.

Salem will host Harper Woods Regins Saturday at 6:30 p.m.

Canton wins opener

left in the first half, when sophomore tight end Tim Moritz took a pitch back from Shankie and then baffled Monroe by lofting a nifty 60-yard touchdown pass to split end Eric Cunningham to make it 12-0.

The Trojans narrowed the margin midway through the third quarter on a two-yard touchdown run, which was set up by a 60-yard punt return.

Canton got itself out of a jam on the ensuing series when a high snap from center went through punter Mark Meszaros' hands near Canton's five-yard line. Meszaros, however, managed to pick up the ball, elude Trojan tacklers and get off a punt past midfield. Canton's defense did not allow Monroe to get past the Chiefs 41 on the drive.

Hohl helped put the game away for Canton in the final quarter when he broke around the outside for a 31-yard touchdown run with 1:39 left in the game.

Meszaros led the Chiefs' offensive attack with 97 yards. The senior fullback rushed for 54 yards on 13 carries, but also caught four passes for 43 yards. Hohl ran for 70 yards, while Shankie passed for six completions on 11 tries.

Salem, meanwhile, won its opener over Trenton, 14-0, on Aug. 30.

Leon Hister tallied the Rocks' first score on a 32-yard run an option play. Salem scored again in the third quarter on a 19-yard touchdown pass from Pete Zantop to Eric Wachlarz. Anuar Vargas kicked both of the extra points.

The Rocks' offense collected 324 net yards and 18 first downs, while the defense held Trenton to just 49 yards and only one first down.

"I thought we dominated them," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer. "Our defense played well. I guess the disappointing thing in the game was that we had four turnovers. We fumbled the ball five times and lost it on four of those."

Salem's next game will be Saturday afternoon against a powerful Farmington Harrison team. Game time is 1 p.m.

Canton next will host North Farmington Friday night at 7:30 p.m. at the CEP Football Stadium.

Lions win

The Canton Lions varsity team was unstoppable Sunday, beating Northville 52-0 in the season opener.

John Stopera scored two touchdowns for the Lions, while Alex Ponce contributed another score, as did Scott Gocaj, Jason Radziszewski, Joe Krall and Ken Seadeck.

The freshmen Lions also came up winners over Northville, 19-12. Bradley Volas scored for the freshmen, passed for a touchdown and ran for another score in the third quarter.

Despite a fourth quarter touchdown by Kurt Larson, the junior varsity Lions lost, 26-6.

The squad faces Belleville Sunday at 1 p.m. at Belleville.

With win over Brighton Chief kickers push record to 4-1

BY JAY KEENAN

Canton soccer devotees had reason to breathe a sign of relief Saturday afternoon.

After squandering an early lead, Chris Hayes kicked in the winning goal with 10 seconds left to lift the Chiefs to a 3-2 win over Brighton in non-league action.

Canton, now 4-1 overall, appeared to be in control at the outset and jumped off to a 2-0 lead on goals by Hayes and Jason Ripp. The Chiefs held that margin until the final six minutes, as Brighton rattled off two quick unanswered goals before Hayes came through with the winning boot.

"It was a good test for us to come back at the end," said Canton coach Don Smith. "We didn't let down. Brighton started to dictate for a while in the final six minutes, but then we got back in control at the very end."

Joe Sisko and Graham Wilk each contributed one assist in that contest.

On defense, Smith cited performances by Owen Crosby, Gary Weeb, Craig Miller and Todd Kerr, but added that "everyone played well on defense today." At the goalkeeper slot, Smith has been alternating Ryan Henkel and Jim Bradley between halves.

The Canton coach added that he is pleased that he is getting a balanced scoring attack from his players.

"We're coming together very well as a team, and we're not relying on just any one person to score," he said. "We've been playing with a lot of intensity."

In earlier action, the Chiefs blanked league rival Farmington Harrison, 4-0, last Wednesday.

Canton tallied two goals from Brett Kearney, and one score each from Gary Weeb and Crosby.

The Chiefs hosted the Plymouth Invitational Aug. 31 losing their first game to Portage Central, 2-1, but winning the second contest over Grand Blanc, 5-1.

Kearney scored Canton's only goal in the opener and also contributed two scores in the second outing. Crosby, Mike Hayes and Billy Power added one goal apiece against Blanc.

The Chiefs opened their season Aug.

29 with an easy 9-1 victory over Trenton. Chris Hayes and Ripp had three goals apiece. Kearney, Mike Hayes and Wilk chipped in with one goal each.

Canton will travel to Livonia Franklin today for a 4 p.m. match and then entertain Livonia Churchill Monday night at 7 p.m.

PCJBA fall registration

There is one last chance to sign up for the 1991-92 Plymouth-Canton Junior Basketball Association (PCJBA) season.

Registration is planned for this Saturday (Sept. 14) from 9 a.m. to noon at the Canton High School Phase III complex. Open to boys and girls living in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools district or in parts of Canton not within the district.

Age groups and leagues include: girls and boys C League, grades three and four; girls and boys B League, grades five and six; and girls and boys A League, grades seven and eight.

Also, students in grades nine through 12 interested in begin paid referees should stop by to register.

All players that register are placed on a team and do not have to make it on their athletic ability. Tryouts will take place before team organization for the purpose of equalizing the teams.

All players must play 40 per cent of each game and not more than 60 per cent.

C leagues are instructional and must play 50 per cent of each game.

"We are always in need of adults for coaches and board members," said PCJBA President Al Flower. "If you like basketball you are welcome to come out and enjoy playing and learning the game with us."

In season opener Steelers split

The Plymouth Canton Steelers opened the season Sunday splitting with the Ann Arbor East Eagles.

The Steelers freshmen fell to the Eagles 25-7. Jason Carnoes scored for the local team on a 15-yard dash to the endzone.

The junior varsity team won its game 18-6 with Kevin Salla scoring a pair of touchdowns and Nathan Gray adding another TD.

The varsity Steelers also won 23-13. Shaun Dyer notched one Steeler score, while Kevin Grim added two more touchdowns.

The Steelers play at home at Central Middle School this Sunday against the Dearborn Redskians. Kickoff begins at 1 p.m.

Joe and Debbie Chisholm talk with reporters outside of the 35th District Court following the arraignment of their former neighbor in the hit-an-run death of Melissa Chisholm. (Crier photo by Ken Voyles)

Statement led to hearing

It was Ryan's statement that led police to proceed with the arraignment, said Pat Nemecek, Canton's information officer.

"With the tip we received and the evidence we had, things were put together between our department, Mr. Ryan and his attorney that led to today's arraignment," Nemecek said Friday after the hearing.

Police have said that if the driver had stopped the night of the accident, he would not have faced charges since witnesses told police the driver had a green light when Chisholm was struck.

Debbie and Joe Chisholm were present in the courtroom Friday and made an emotional statement afterwards.

"It's a shock," said Melissa's mother. "We just found out for sure yesterday that it was someone we knew. It's a load off of us in that we don't have to think about it all the time and we can get on with our grieving."

"He did not come forward," she continued. "He never came forward in 15 months. I'm grateful to the woman who turned in the tip. I'd love to see him go to jail for the rest of his life."

"There is no justice for what he did," The Chisholms described how just one week after the accident, Ryan, who lived behind the family's Canton home for seven years, invited their younger daughter Amy to a church festival. Amy had crossed Ford Road moments before her sister was struck that evening.

"I stood in his living room a few months ago and we stood face to face," said Debbie Chisholm. "I'd like to ask him how he did that." She said her children saw a lot of the Ryan children, but Debbie and Joe did not socialize much with their neighbors.

"There's no justice for what he did. I will never forgive him for that," Chisholm said. "No satisfaction can bring back my daughter or stop the pain."

Nearly a month ago Canton Police impounded the Chevy Nova driven by Ryan following an anonymous tip. Police said that the car had indeed been an accident and repaired.

Flowers still mark the spot where Chisholm, an eighth grade student at Pioneer Middle School, was struck as she crossed Ford Road at Lilley Road. Chisholm was crossing the road at about 9:45 p.m. with her sister to buy school supplies at Richardson's Drugs. Her parents were finishing dinner at Johnson's Restaurant when witnesses ran in to say there had been an accident.

"I'm just glad for the sake of all my friends," said one of Melissa's friends after the Friday hearing. Many of Melissa's friends made it a point to show love for their friend by demonstrating at the corner where she was killed. Also, a tree has since been planted at Pioneer.

Following the accident, the Chisholm family made an effort to find the driver, posting fliers throughout the community and offering a reward of more than $2,000 for information leading to an arrest.

"We'll just let justice take its course," said Joe Chisholm. "We're grateful for all the support we've received from Melissa's friends and from the media."

"If I feel there has been some kind of agreement I'll hold off," said Mueller, who has plans to stage a protest starting Monday (Sept. 16). Mueller has been given permission by the city to picket the Main site anytime between Monday and the first week of October.

"I'm trying to give them as much time as they need," she said. "I think a good month is enough time to at least attempt to resolve this with the owners."

"The general public is just fed up with that building," she added, "even though they appreciate that it has been cleaned up a bit recently."

Besides the planned picketing, Mueller has organized a petition drive to
