A Man of Taste and Good Clothes :-: :-:

Have an affinity for each other. This is a fitting simile; (at least clothes ought to be fitting) and if a multitude of witnesses can be believed, there is a certain line of clothes that is always eminently fitting; and now while we have this clothes-line in hand, we may say—not for the purpose of "roping" anybody in, but simply as a legitimate business hint—that

The Royal Tailors

Are Famous Clothes Makers.

They are tailors to the trade, and are the most extensive house in their line in the United States.

They make clothes at close prices, and by reason of the high quality of their workmanship, coupled with their straight-forward methods, they have left old-time houses far in the background.

JUST A WORD and we have done—Do you want clothes made to order, Equal in Material and Workmanship to the best your local tailor can give you, but at prices which he positively cannot afford to offer you—at prices in fact 25 to 33 per cent. below the best he can do for you? If so, come to us and look over our extensive line of samples, tell us just what you want, just how you want it—and you'll get it. We are agents for this famous house. They do not handle ready-made clothing. Come to us and you will get what you want made to order.

Hats! Hats!

While we have been talking to you about clothing we want to call your attention to our new line of Hats just received, if you want anything in that line it will cost you nothing to look our line over and get our prices. Also our new line of NECKWEAR. Our line in Gents' Furnishing Goods is more complete than ever before.

Fancy Goods! Dry Goods! Ladies' Furnishing Goods!

In these lines we are continually adding new designs, new patterns and better goods. We have just received a fine line of HAND-MADE Knit Goods, such as

Infant's Sacques and Hoods, Ladies' Hand Made Ice Wool Shawls and Fascinators

Which are exceedingly Low in Price for the quality and style.

Crockery.

We are over stocked in this line and must make room for a large line of Fancy Crockery soon to arrive. For the next 30 days we will sell you FOR CASH a Beautiful Decorated Semi Porcelain 100 piece Dinner Set for only $11.00, former price $15.00. A 100 piece Semi Porcelain Plain White Dinner Set for $10.00. This sale only lasts 30 days.

Groceries.

We have only space to say our line is always Complete and Fresh, and especially call your attention to our Coffee. If you once use our Gilt Edge Mocha and Java 35c and 40c, Gilt Edge Cafe Brand 30c, Gilt Edge Golden Rio 28c you will use no other.

PENNIMAN-ALLEN.

TWO OF PLYMOUTH'S FAVORITES GET MARRIED.

Slipped Gently Away And Surprised Their Many Friends.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 20th.—Special.—Mr. Wm. O. Allen and Miss Kate E. Penniman, of Plymouth, were married on Tuesday evening, the 18th inst., at the parsonage of the Tabernacle M. E. church, Rev. W. F. Sheridan, performing the ceremony. The following morning Mr. and Mrs. Allen left for the east on an extended trip.

In addition to the above message we have a personal letter from an eye witness, whose pleasure it has been to witness many brilliant weddings, stating that a handsomer couple never were married in Detroit.

Kate E. Penniman and W. O. Allen went to Detroit Tuesday for the purpose of taking the boat for a trip east. Sadie Penniman and Mabel Hamilton accompanied them. Wednesday morning the many friends of the former two were agreeably surprised to read their marriage license in the Detroit paper, also to learn that they were married in Detroit on Tuesday evening.

Miss Penniman always has some good surprise in store for her friends, but this was not in the least expected. It was very gracefully received, however, and they will have the highest congratulations of all their friends here.

Miss Penniman and Mr. Allen are two of Plymouth's most wealthy and esteemed residents. Not a little have they done, and very liberally at that, for several institutions and people, their liberality and charity endearing them in the hearts of all citizens.

We heartily join their host of friends in wishing them a very bright and happy wedded life.

D. L. & N. Sunday Excursions, August 30. Grand Ledge, Island Lake, Detroit.

All attractive places for a Sunday play spell. Train will leave Plymouth at 8:45 and 10:55 a. m., and leave Detroit at 7:00 p. m., Grand Ledge, 6:30 p. m. Round trip rates, Grand Ledge, 75 cents, Island Lake, 85 cents, Detroit, 50 cents. (467-68) GEO. DEHAVEN, G. P. A.

Be Careful! Be Careful!!

In the use of Brandy during season of bowel complaint. Nothing is so useful to assist in checking cholera morbus or cholera infantum when ordered by your physician as Pure Brandy made only from Grape. But how or where to get pure is the question. If it is not pure from grape, it is poison and will help kill the patient. The Old Climax Brandy distilled from Grapes by Mr. Speer is absolutely pure. Be sure and see that the bottle has the cap stamped with Speer, N. J. Wine Co. Get it of your druggist; take no other. Price $1.50 a bottle qt. $1 pints.

The people have long since learned that the most disagreeable medicines are not necessarily the best. In fact, as a rule, they are not. What is wanted is something mild and sure, such as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. That is really pleasant to take when reduced with water and sweetened. Then it is acknowledged everywhere to be the most successful remedy in the world for bowel complaints. Ask any number of druggists for the best remedy they have for diarrhoea and fully nine cases out of ten will recommend Chamberlain's. In speaking of this medicine, Mr. B. B. Bufum, of Friendsville, Susquehanna Co., Pa., says: "We have used it in our family for pain in the stomach, colic and diarrhoea and found it to be a most effective remedy." For sale by Dr. J. G. Meiler.

Be Sure You Are Right

And then go ahead. If your blood is impure, your appetite failing, your nerves weak, you may be sure that Hood's Sarsaparilla is what you need. Then take no substitute. Insist upon Hood's and only Hood's. This is the medicine which has the largest sales in the world. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier.

Hood's Pills are prompt, efficient, always reliable, easy to take, easy to operate.

Resolutions.

WHEREAS:—The Women's Home and Women's Foreign Mission Society have been called to mourn the loss of one of their officers and members, Martha Noyes, it becomes the duty of the members of these societies to express the deep and heartfelt sympathy we feel, and to bow in submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, knowing he doeth all things well. Resolved—That a copy of this be handed to the family also printed in the Plymouth Mail.

English Names as They Are Spoken. (Ruthven, pronounced "Reven.") The proudest was Roderick Ruthven Of a family numbering suthven; So intense was his pride That they said, when he died, "He is really too haughty for hutzgen!"

In the Light of Experience. The Newly Married Man (on his first night off, sadly)—"I wonder what my wife will say when I get home?" The Other—"When you've been married as long as I have, old man, you'll know beforehand."

Right in Trim. College Trainer—"Have you ever had any experience as a sprinter?" R. Resting—"I acted four years out West as a United States deputy marshal."

Lack of Water Caused It. "Why did your wife blow you up?" "She is like a steam boiler. I had used too little water."

Another Removal Needed.

He—"I met an old friend at the club, dear, who detained me. He told me a story which took my breath away." She—"Took your breath away? I wish he were here now and would repeat it."—Truth.

A Modern View. I've read and thought and wondered long O'er things which were in days of old. I've heard a deal of pretty song Of times when thoughts were not of gold. When Cupid's aim was never wrong, And fair maids' hearts were never sold. Those were the days when hearts were true; I wish that I lived then—don't you?

Are not our girls of modern date As fair as ever theirs could be? Or were these maids of whom they prate Of some old type which we don't see? Were they more modest and sedate, Or were they still more full of glee? Were they?—But, great Jerusalem! They're dead and gone—we can't love them. —New Bohemian.

Demands of Summer Guests. "Them folks from town didn't stay much of a spell, Uncle Reub?" "Naw; went back mad 'cause we didn't hev no cycle paths an' lectric lights in their blackberry patch."—Chicago Record.

The Effect of Comparison. "The rooms in your new house seem small." "Yes," but we are going to the seashore for the summer and when we get back they will seem big and roomy."—Chicago Record.

Where It Counts. Physician—"What you need is a long course of physical training." Patient (disconsolately)—"This is what comes from the lack of a college education."

Not Ambitious Enough. Pip—"A lawyer's highest aim should be to keep his clients out of law." Flip—"True, but the trouble is so many of them are content to take a humbler view of the matter."

Hard to Tell. I summered on the Jersey coast, And I am puzzled still, As, twixt the skaters and hotels, Which has the longest bill. —Louisville Truth.

Outfit Complete. Mary got a little bike, When to that length she'd gone. She likewise wed that she might have A man to hold her on. —Detroit Tribune.

Her Self-Denial. "Mrs. Hopper is a very benevolent woman, isn't she?" "Yes; this time of the year she always gives away a large bundle of flannels to the poor."—Chicago Record.

So Thick. Mrs. Pompon—"But your milk never yields a particle of cream." Milkman—"Ah, mum, the cream is so thick it falls to the bottom."—Comic Home Journal.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Au Sable has a bustling preacher in the person of the Rev. F. L. Osborne, and many firms might well envy his business ability in these times of free silver bombard. For the last two years he has given an excursion by rail of 50 miles and managed to carry most of the Sunday school scholars free by selling enough outside tickets to pay for the train. This year on his advice, the school undertook a still larger task. They chartered a train for Lewistown, 75 miles away. As the time drew near it became apparent that one train would not be sufficient to carry the crowd, so a second was chartered. Things were manipulated so perfectly that all the Sunday school scholars, over 300, were given free tickets, as was also the band, and the two trains paid all other expenses and a round $100 net was put in the bank to the credit of the school, all from the sale of tickets to outside persons. If there is another Sunday school in Michigan or in the United States that gives its scholars a free picnic excursion of a 150-mile railroad ride absolutely free and make $100, Au Sable would like to hear from it.

The government has let the contract for buildings at the Northville fish hatchery. There will be a residence for the superintendent, to cost $3,000 and a hatchery building, containing offices, etc., to cost $6,000. J. Lanning, of Northville, was the lowest of forty bidders and secured the job, and the buildings must be completed in three months.

When you call at the office for your mail and the postmaster hands it out, ask him if that is all. If you ask him for your mail and he tells you there is none, tell him there ought to be, then go home and send the rest of the family around at different times during the day. Don't bring your mail to the postoffice until the mail closes, then sail into the postmaster for not opening the mail bag and putting your letter in. When you want a stamp on your letter tell the postmaster to put it on; if he don't lick it, lick him. In case you put it on yourself, soak it in your mouth long enough to remove the mucilage, it will then stick up till dry. Be sure to ask the postmaster to credit you with a stamp; if he has any accommodation about him he will do it. If you have a box, stand and drum on it until the postmaster hands out your mail. It will make him feel good, especially if he is waiting on someone else.—Ex.

Here's an up-to-date incident for you. In a certain sequestered rural neighborhood a small urchin drives the cows to and from pasture every morning and evening, just as has been the habit of such urchins in such neighborhoods since time immemorial, and contrary to all precedent and established convention regarding the matter, this youth does so upon a bicycle. He is dirty and touselled, is this youngster, not to speak of being barefooted and out-of-knees, yet he skims along the country lanes upon an 1896 high grade $100 wheel. This is what might be termed calling the cows home with all the modern improvements. Who says that there is anything left for the bicycle to revolutionize?—New York Evening Sun.

No matter how hard the times, whether men have work or not, whether merchants are able to secure trade sufficient to keep their heads above water, or not, the people will go to shows. Let cyclones blot out the fairest portions of the country and lay scores of human beings in the grasp of death, the remainder will rally with more apparent enthusiasm than ever to the sound of the sackbut and psaltery that proceeds from a big tent show.—Holly Independent.

Chas. Babcock and Edward Forbes, of Plymouth, are camping for sixty days at the Nicholson summer resort in Detroit. They didn't do a thing on July 31st last, but bag a couple of freight cars belonging to the D. L. & N. railway company.—Northville Record.

Wrong again, Mr. Record. They were both from Detroit.

Millford will have the only fair in Oakland Co. this year.—Northville Record. And Plymouth will have the only fair held in Wayne Co.—Plymouth Mail. What's the matter with Redford or Sand Hill?—Northville Record.

Redford's all right, Professor. They're going to have a fair down there, but Plymouth's going to have the only fair.

A merchant in a neighboring town is credited with making a very original and striking campaign argument by displaying in his show window 16 silver dollars and a gold dollar. Beside them was a placard bearing the question, "Which?"

An undertaker in Hillsdale county a short time since purchased a new style of casket. Upon its arrival his wife was much taken with it and expressed a desire to be buried in a similar one. Precisely two weeks from that date she was buried in the identical casket she had so admired. Since that time no persuasion can induce the undertaker to handle a similar one.

Bedford, the Ionia jeweler, has on exhibition the smallest working engine and boiler in the world. The inside of the cylinder measures 1 1/2 by 2 1/2 millimeters, the stroke of the piston is but two millimeters, and the smallest screw is but four one hundredths of an inch. The valve stem is two one thousandths of an inch and the engine, if placed upright, will hardly cover the end of an unsharpened lead pencil. The model was made as a test of skill by one of Bedford's watch-makers.

An agreeable disinfectant for use in a sick room is made by putting ground coffee in a saucer and a small piece of camphor gum. Light the camphor with a match and as it burns, let the coffee burn with it. The odor is healthful and refreshing.

A man named Clinton, of Vernon, has met his just deserts. He used a nail fastened to the end of a whip with which to punish his horse and while making a swing with the lash to strike the horse, the nail struck him in the eye, destroying the sight.—Eves Press.

Talk about "Jersey skeeters" why they are "small potatoes and few in a hill" when compared with the "skeeters" that are spending the summer in this town. We saw one of them lick a bull dog on Battle Alley the other evening while another broke in a plate glass window and drew blood on a fire proof safe. They are strong enough to do housework and their operations are characterized in every instance by an exuberance of enthusiasm that would do credit to a campaign orator.—Oakland County Advertiser.

There is an easy, simple way to tell if a diamond is genuine. Make a small dot on a piece of paper with a lead pencil and look at it through the diamond. If it shows but a single dot, the diamond is genuine. If it shows more than one or the mark appears scattered it is false, no matter what it costs.

An exchange says that one of the most interesting sights that town has seen for a long time was when a book agent called on a local life insurance man this week and tried to sell him an encyclopedia. When the book agent went away he was insured for $1,500 in an old line company.

Considerable attention has been attracted by the dead limbs on oak trees; an examination shows that a small worm is the cause of the limb breaking off. Some trees are nearly spotted with small dead branches and the ground strewn with those that have fallen off.—Washington Times.

It is refreshing to learn that those smart city people who are always talking about the country jakes coming to town to see the show and getting swindled by sharpers, leave their store doors open while they watch the procession and the sharpers slip in the back door and rob the money drawer.—Manchester Enterprise.

FREE PILLS.
Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by John L. Gale, Druggist.

IN WOMAN'S CORNER.

INTERESTING READING FOR DAMES AND DAMSELS.

Serving Warm Weather Meals—Skins Growing Narrower—Pretty Gowns for This Season of the Year—Interesting to the Sex.

THE MATTER OF breakfast and lunch during the heated term, when the very thought of eating until the cool of the evening is annoying, is one that puzzles many a business woman, who finds that it is difficult to do good work when she has forced herself to partake of the usual breakfast of meat, rolls and coffee. One woman, whose salary depends upon the clearness of her brain, has discovered that a breakfast of fruit, bread and butter and egg lemonade suffices for nourishment, while it does not overheat her. Her lunch is modeled on the same lines, iced tea or coffee, iced consommé or sour lemonade being frequently substituted for the egg drink difficult to obtain at the ordinary restaurant, while a cool salad sometimes takes the place of fruit. After two such meals as these she goes home at night ready, after a bath and an entire change of raiment, to do ample justice to the hearty dinner that awaits her. Brought up to believe that a heavy meal at night was injurious, it was only after harrowing experiences with dyspeptic pangs that she worked out such a summer regime for herself. In winter both breakfast and lunch are more nourishing and always made up of warm hot dishes, but both are light, so as not to overtax the stomach.

Wonderful Power Over Animals.
Rosa Bonheur's power over animals is marvelous. It has been repeatedly ascribed to hypnotism, but whatever may be the cause the fact remains that Mme. Bonheur has repeatedly gone into a cage full of strange lions and tigers and the animals have never resented her intrusion. On the contrary, they put up their heads to be scratched and show the greatest delight. For a long time she kept at Bay a lion that had been refused by the different circus managers on account of his fierce, untamable disposition, but no sooner did Rosa Bonheur take him in hand than he developed the greatest affection for her. Day by day she painted this magnificent beast, occasionally rewarding his patient posing with a caress. When, however, Mme. Bonheur became so absorbed in her work that she would forget all about him, very gently indeed would the king of beasts put up his paw to call her attention to the fact that his head had not been patted for ever so long. A lioness belonging to Rosa Bonheur died with her head in the artist's lap. In her huge paws she held the beloved hands of her mistress till death loosened her grasp.

Color Combinations.
Purple is one of the colors whose various depths of tone combine well, and this being a purple season, that fact is taken full advantage of in many ways. Green, too, is very fashionable, and green and purple also form a pleasing combination. Gray and yellow are again seen in companionship, and like green and black, the association always has a refined and exclusive look. Curiously enough, gray and yellow are not commonly placed in conjunction by some freak of taste. Perhaps that is one reason why the combination seems so elegant.

Fouillard is increasing in favor in Paris, and probably by next summer it will be universally worn here, although as yet little of it is seen. It is light, cool and pretty and suited to the composition of charming toilets. Lace is the preferred trimming, with embroidery and all sorts of white accessories. Sometimes plaquings of gauze are employed as a trimming; sometimes ap-

Bernhardt's Wealth of Hair.
Bernhardt, who has really the most remarkable personality of any living woman, will not exercise, and hates fruit unless she happens to feel in a mood for eating it, and still she has a handsome head of hair, and this, the health doctors say, is quite remarkable, in view of the fact that fruit and exercise make beautiful hair. She makes her hair grow winter and summer by exposing it. For several hours a day that hair hangs down her back with the air blowing through it and the sun touching it. Her theory is that whenever the hairpins touch her hair it will be dull and glossless. In the morning Mme. Bernhardt's locks are scattered over her breakfast robe, and caught only by the narrowest of ribbons, that do not tie the hair, but only confine it. Not until dressing for theater is her hair "done up," and this is for getting in and out of her carriage in street dress. In most of Bernhardt's plays the heroine wears unconfined locks, and here again madam has a chance to carry out her theory and show the result of it in the magnificent gloss of her long locks.

Interesting to the Sex.
The most fashionable hats among oars-women are manillas, with black or scarlet bands. Navy blue serges are, of course, being worn, and their somberness is relieved by bands of white cloth, edged with light blue braid or piping. Housekeeping in tents is the newest feature at Long Beach. About forty of these abodes can be put up at a moment's notice. They have a wide veranda, are divided by curtains into two apartments and are provided with gas and water fixtures. The cash is once again basking in the sunshine of fashion's favor. The broad richness that adds such a pleasant note to the gown of last season or serves so well to link the colorings of a blouse and skirts for a distinct reaction, has set in against the cleft-in-twain effect we have harbored so long and so fondly.

An English paper, in discussing the "coming-out" period, suggests that a year or six months before the formal and triumphant entry into society a girl should be brought out, so to speak, in her own family, attending little "at homes" and small parties, as this gives her confidence and imparts the advantage of unaffected manners.

The bodice is fitted at the back, with in front it forms three plaits separated by panels of white guipure. The plaits are laced together with black cord. The plain, close sleeves have full epaulets and are closed from wrist to elbow by lacings of black cord. The collar, belt and shoulder knots are of black satin; the neck and wrist frills of white tulle.

The Summer Mode.

Notwithstanding all persistency to the contrary, the skirt is getting narrower, and this is synonymous with saying that it is to be trimmed; tucks and volants with narrow lace belong to the light batistes and muslins; ribbons, braids in application, borders, etc., to the heavy stuffs. The stiff skirt disappears, and with it the folds; it is simply pleated all around, the pleats forming a point in the front breadth. A remarkable feature is the preference for small jackets on the waist—principally the zouave jacket, reaching barely to the waist line. The little sleeveless jacket harmonizes either with the skirt to contrasting sleeves and front parts of blouse, or else it consists entirely of lace of embroidered fabric, of batiste or gauze with volant edge. The supplement is the corselet or ribbon belt, which must stand in full contrast to the costume; for instance, black to blue or green, white to gray or brown, ruby to black or white.

When She Wants a Photograph.
When the Princess of Wales intends to visit the photographer's she usually arranges that her sitting shall take place in the morning. A special studio is set apart for the princess and other members of the royal family. It is approached by a private door that leads to an anteroom provided with easy chairs and a plentiful supply of illustrated papers. A small chamber is fitted up as a dressing-room, and here is to be found a maid from Marlborough house, who has preceded her royal mistress with a dressing case containing all toilet requisites. The princess, having decided on the position in which she wishes to be taken, arranges herself. It is etiquette on these occasions for the photographer to address any remark he may have to make to the lady-in-waiting in attendance, who in turn, addresses the princess, who replies through her.

Notice of Foreclosure.
Default having been made in the conditions for payment of a certain mortgage made by Gustav Borskowski and Dora Borskowski, his wife, of Detroit, Michigan, to The Industrial Building and Loan Association of Detroit, Michigan, dated the first day of August, 1895, and recorded in the Office of the Register of Deeds for Wayne County, Michigan, in Liber 334 of Mortgages on Page 58 on the 6th day of August, 1895, and the said association having by resolution of its Board of Directors, elected to consider the whole amount remaining unpaid on said mortgage as due and payable at once, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the time of this notice, the sum of sixteen hundred and fifteen dollars ($1615.00) and an attorney fee of thirty-five dollars, provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted for the recovery of said amount or any part thereof, or for the foreclosure of said mortgage.

NOW THEREFORE, by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained and of the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will sell the premises described in said mortgage at public auction or vendue, to the highest bidder therefor, at the Westway front door of the City Hall in the City of Detroit, Michigan, (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court for said County), on the 14th day of September, A. D. 1896 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, or so much of said premises as shall be necessary to satisfy the amount of said mortgage and all legal costs on the day of sale, together with said attorney fee as covenanted therein. Said premises are described in said mortgage as follows: Lot forty-one, (41) in Lot and Block No. 1, Elliott Avenue Subdivision of part of out lot thirty-two (32) Meldeum farm, Private Claim eighty-two (82), Detroit, Michigan.

Dated Detroit, Michigan, June 10, 1896.

Good Blood

Is essential to health. Every nook and corner of the system is reached by the blood, and on its quality the condition of every organ depends. Good blood means strong nerves, good digestion, robust health. Impure blood means scrofula, dyspepsia, rheumatism, catarrh or other diseases. The surest way to have good blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine purifies, vitalizes, and enriches the blood, and sends the elements of health and strength to every nerve, organ and tissue. It creates a good appetite, gives refreshing sleep and cures that tired feeling. Remember.

The one particular good thing about the Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. that showed here Friday night was the fact that it really remained one night. There was a large crowd in attendance and not a few could have been seen "kicking themselves around the block" after the show for having patronized it. It was the poorest excuse for Uncle Tom's Cabin our people have seen in many a day. They have a good scheme though. Their band and parade, which are good, give them a good send off, and they always have a good crowd. The manager told a MAN reporter that they had not played to less than a $125 house since they have been on the road.

On Tuesday evening a large number of her young friends gathered at her home and gave her a genuine surprise party. A delightful evening was enjoyed by all, the young folks departing for their homes sometime after midnight.

Ian McLaren's new short story, the last he will write until after his American visit, has been secured by The Ladies' Home Journal, for publication in the October and November issues. It is called "The Minister of St. Bede's," and is said to be in the brightest and cleverest Maclarenesque vein. Besides its charm as a delightful romance, the story is said to be notable for the admirable character that the author has created for the chief personage—the minister of St. Bede's, as the loyal lover of an humble Scotch lassie.

GETTING A POINTER.

The Stranger Was Not Encouraged to Go Into the Banking Business.

After I had got my mail at the post-office in a Nebraska village I asked the way to the bank that I might set some small bills, but the pedestrian of whom I inquired looked at me enviously and did not reply, says the New York World. It was so with a second and yet a third man, but the fourth looked me over and then replied:

"Are you a friend of the late deceased?"

"What late deceased?"

"Why, the banker."

"Then he's dead, eh? No, I didn't know him. Is the business going on as usual?"

"Skasally as usual, stranger, 'cause when a man's bin hung and his money ben divided up and his bank rented out for a grocery his business can't go on as usual."

"Did the people here hang him?"

"Of course. His body was taken down two days ago but I'll show you the tree. Yes, we hung him."

"What for?"

"He was packed up and ready to skip. Mebbe you was thinkin' of openin' a bank?"

"Oh, no."

"Cause if you was I'd give you a plinter. We've hung four bankers on the same limb in two years but the old rope is played out and we've got to get a new one and a new rope sometimes jerks a man's head off when he cums down. Better let some other banker start in and git hung first and soften up the rope!"

PENINSULA MATTERS

RELATED IN A BRIEF, CONCISE MANNER.

Woman Has Another Sensational and Bloody Affair—No State Office for Women in Michigan—Two Steam Barges Sunk in Lake St. Clair.

Woman's Double Tragedy at Owosso. Shortly after 6 a. m., Mrs. Geo. Russell was discovered on the sidewalk in front of the Russell home at Owosso, clad in her night dress, with a butcher knife imbedded in her cheek to a depth of five inches. A trail of blood led from the spot into the house and up stairs to the sleeping apartments. There her husband was found, lying on the floor in a pool of blood flowing freely from a deep gash in his throat. The Russells claim the deed was the work of burglars. Near neighbors, however, say they heard loud talking in the Russell house during the night. Mrs. Russell had closed a deal whereby she was to make the transfer of some valuable real estate and it was known that the couple frequently quarreled over business transactions. The cutting was done with knives belonging to the injured people. The bedroom looked like a slaughter pen, the walls being splattered with blood, and the bedding saturated with blood, and the general condition of the room would indicate that a fierce struggle had taken place. Both will die of their injuries. The Russells are well-to-do and have two grown children.

Women Not Eligible to State Office. Atty.-Gen. Maynard has given an opinion that Mrs. Lucy Morehouse, of Big Rapids, is not eligible for the office of state superintendent of public instruction. She was nominated by the Michigan Nationalists. He says the office was created by the constitution and stands on the same footing as governor, auditor general or any other state office. The constitution confines electors to males. It would be absurd to say that a woman who cannot vote can be a candidate for a constitutional office. A woman can be county school commissioner or member of the board of education, because such offices are created by statute not by the constitution.

Train Robbery at Bellevue. A special stock train on the C. & G. T. was boarded by four men at Bellevue, all masked and heavily armed, who, at the point of their guns, compelled the two men in charge of the stock to empty their pockets of all their money and a number of other articles of small value. Word was sent to Charlotte, but when the train slowed up there the robbers jumped off and the dark night aided them in escaping to the woods. They were located in a section house at Pottsville and a posse was organized and all were captured. Their ages are 18 to 22.

Bay Coates Guilty of Murder. The trial of Ray Coates, who murdered Enoch Lawrence last April at Holland and sank the body in the Black river, then went to Grand Haven with the widow of his victim, who was his own sister and married her, then went to Wexford county to live, where they were arrested, has ended, the jury rendering a verdict of murder in the first degree.

Thacker Acquitted at His Second Trial. W. H. Thacker, who in May, 1894, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary on a charge of poisoning his wife at Benzonia, is again a free man. Thacker was granted a new trial last May, and it took place at Frankfort. The jury was out four hours and a half and returned a verdict of "not guilty."

Killed by Falling 100 Feet. While taking down the steeple on M. E. church at Carson City, which had been struck by lightning, Samuel Long, one of the carpenters lost his balance and fell 100 feet, striking the roof of the church and rolling to the ground, killing him instantly. Mrs. Long and their oldest daughter, saw him fall. He was a respected citizen and leaves a widow and four children.

NEWS FOR MICHIGANDERS.

Willie Selley, aged 8, was drowned at Manistee. The Tri-State Band reunion at Adrian was attended by 22 bands. An angry bovine seriously horned Floyd Watkins at Traverse City. Will Flint was drowned by falling from a raft of logs near Saugatuck. The only child of Bartly McNulty, of Yale, was drowned by falling into a cistern. The Holland & Emery Lumber Co., at East Tawas, have closed their mills indefinitely. Gus Hanson, aged 17, was drowned while trying to swim from Hammond's Bay to Elk Rapids. The Standard Oil Co.'s brick warehouse burned at Traverse City, with 100 barrels of oil. Loss $3,000. Wm. Peno, ex-supervisor or Berringer township, presque Isle county, committed suicide by shooting himself. Mrs. Amelia Rusokoski tried to shoot her son, aged 19, at Grand Rapids, but failed. She then suicided by cutting her throat. The home of Wm. Clark, near Utica, was struck by lightning, the second time this season, and Mrs. Clark was dangerously injured. Fred Graves, aged 30, was extracting a shell from a revolver near New Buffalo when it exploded, killing his brother Lewis, aged 8. E. E. Oida, of the firm of Oida & Son, of Lansing, has perfected a household carriage which he says is a success. Gasoline furnishes the motive power.

THE FOUR QUARTERS

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM ALL OVER THE GLOBE.

The Strike at the Brown Hoisting Co.'s Works at Cleveland Continues to be the Cause of Bloodshed and Rioting—It is Extending to Pittsburg.

More Bloodshed in the Cleveland Strike. The trouble over the strike at the Brown Hoisting Co.'s works at Cleveland has resulted in more bloodshed. A gang of the non-union men who have taken the place of the strikers were attacked by a mob at the corner Wade Park and Madison avenues over a mile from the factory. A hot fight ensued in which revolvers, clubs and rocks were used, and four men were badly injured, two of whom will die. Thos. Evans, aged 26, a union man was shot in the left side, the ball passing through the spleen and hitting the spinal column so that both legs are paralyzed. He will probably die. Geo. Plumb, non-unionist, was shot through the bowels, and may not recover. J. W. Caldwell was shot through the fleshy part of the leg, and was struck on the head with a club. A dozen others were somewhat injured but not seriously. Several thousand laboring men of Cleveland are drilling nightly on obscure streets, or in halls of labor unions. The object is in accordance with a long cherished plan to form the labor unions into drilled companies, which has been under consideration among the labor unions for the past two years, but which has not been put into execution until the recent numerous encounters between police and strikers.

The Strike Extending. The Brown Co. strike has been extended to Pittsburg. The strikers learned a few days ago that the Schaife Foundry and Machine Co., of Pittsburg, was doing work for the Brown Co., and they sent a representative there. He sent back word that he would succeed in getting the pattern makers, machinists and iron moulders of the Schaife Co. to strike.

SPAIN MAKES DEMANDS.

Claims Big Damages From Uncle Sam for Filibusters Going to Cuba. The Spanish government is preparing a big bill of damages to be presented to the United States on account of the numerous expeditions alleged to have gone from our shores to the relief of the Cuban insurgents. In support of its claims to reparation it intends to invoke the precedent established by the United States against Great Britain in the celebrated Alabama claims awards made by the Geneva arbitration tribunal. Calderon Carlisle, attorney for the Spanish legation at Washington, has prepared a report of the demands of Spain and the same has been received by the U. S. government. Mr. Carlisle says the United States has been made the base of supplies for the Cuban insurgents and filibustering expeditions have gone from our shores very frequently. He says: "To tolerate this state of affairs and these actions is a violation of the law of the nations as they have been proclaimed to the rest of the world by the United States. To prevent and punish these acts, which are in violation of the laws of this country, it is believed that the federal government has all the attributes of sovereignty with respect to the subject under discussion and has for their exercise the appropriate agencies which are recognized among civilized nations. Nor is it perceived what distinction or difference in principle can excuse the exercise of the diligence commensurate with the existing emergency which in the sight of the world they required and enforced against Great Britain at Geneva."

A Case of Spanish Brutality. Capt. Gen. Weyler and Gen. Ochoando were the principals in a sensational affair at Havana which occurred shortly before the later sailed for Spain. The death of Gen. Ochoando's nephew, who was a lieutenant in the Spanish army, was the cause of the trouble. There were ugly rumors in circulation reflecting on the young lieutenant who was accused of conducting a treasonable correspondence with Maximo Gomez, the insurgent general. Weyler summoned the young man to the palace and was apparently satisfied of his guilt and told him that if he did not commit suicide in 24 hours he would be court-martialed and shot. The lieutenant left the palace and in six hours shot himself through the heart. The Spanish official report said the young man died of yellow fever.

When Gen. Ochoando learned the truth he went to the palace to call Weyler to account. He called Weyler a murderer and challenged him to a duel. Swords were drawn and but for the interference of officials one or both would have been killed in the palace. Ochoando threatens to make it warm for Weyler in Spain.

Fifteen People Killed—Town Destroyed. A terrible and most destructive cyclone swept over Augustine, Ala., leveling everything in its path. Twelve negroes and three white people were killed by houses falling on them, 10 other persons were injured and 24 head of horses and mules were crushed to death by falling barns. The cyclone was followed by the heaviest rain that has fallen in that section in 16 years. Creeks and branches were converted into raging torrents, sweeping away cotton, corn and other crops, causing heavy losses to planters. Near Manchester five barns were destroyed. Myron Pizmo was paralyzed by lightning. G. J. Nial's house was damaged and much stock was killed.

CASUALTIES.

Alex. Boscow, son of Dr. Thomas N. Boscow of Wasaw, Ill., was killed by the cars at San Jose, Cal. He was 43 years old. William Rufus Wilford, aged 24 years, is dead from the effects of a blow received from a lever while moving a house at Pocatamos, Id. M. C. Parsons of Berlin, Ill., while out with a camping party, attempted to swim across Prairie slough, near Oakford, and was drowned. Otto Chambers, aged 7 years, was drowned at Peoria, Ill. He was on a bathtub in the river with several companions, who fell into the water, but were rescued. Austin Craig, a cattle dealer from Mayaville, Mo., fell from a stock train in Joliet, Ill., and one of his feet was so badly crushed that amputation was necessary. By the falling of a drawbar the caboose of a northbound freight on the Louisville and Nashville road, near Morris Station, Ky., was thrown from the track down an embankment. Joshua Wright, a brakeman, was instantly killed. John Schleger, another brakeman, was fatally injured. Private George Collins, troop F, Sixth cavalry, started to swim the Missouri river at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and when in the middle of the stream he gave out and went down. Two comrades started with him, but they turned back after going a short distance. John Menapas and Jens Kumpola were instantly killed and badly mangled by a premature blast in the Lake Superior mine at Ishpeming, Mich., and Matti Franklin received fatal injuries from a fall of seventy feet in the same mine. Ferris, the 10-year-old son of A. J. Kaufman, of the grain firm of Bowman & Kaufman, at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, was drawn into a big coin bin at his father's elevator and suffocated before he could be taken out from beneath the tons of grain. Natalie, the 9-year-old daughter of N. E. Roberts, editor of the Fairfield (Ill.) Republican, died of lockjaw, the result of sticking a rusty nail in her foot one week ago. Nereca Bals, a young man of Fort Chartres, was drowned in the Mississippi river. He was riding along the river at that place, when his horse became frightened at some object in the road and plunged into the river. An Eastern Minnesota freight train ran into a Great Northern engine at Ground House, Minn., demolishing both engines and killing M. Moore, a Great Northern fireman. The plume is supposed to rest with the Eastern train crew. At Ottawa, Ill., George O'Meara had his left arm blown off at the shoulder by the accidental discharge of a gun. Herbert Roller, 19 years of age, was instantly killed near Metcalf, Ill., by the accidental discharge of a gun. He was hunting. The little daughter of Mr. Gus Fulkerson, of Zanesville, Ohio, fell into a vessel of boiling water and was so severely burned she died soon afterward. Capt. Henry Doolittle, of the Soldiers' home at Marshalltown, Iowa, assistant to the quartermaster, fell downstairs, breaking his neck, dying a few minutes later.

PARAGRAPHIC CHRONICLE.

Russian and French naval commanders at Canea, Island of Crete, have received instructions to protect all Cretan Christians. Over 600 employes of the Adams Express Co., in New York City and Jersey City have struck against too long hours and low wages. Moliah Reza, who assassinated the late Shah of Persia in May last, was hanged at Teheran in the presence of an immense crowd of people. The steamer Three Friends and a schooner are detained at Jacksonville, Fla., by U. S. revenue cutters, on suspicion of being Cuban filibusters. Sir John Millais, president of the Royal academy, died at London, aged 67. He was one of the foremost painters among Englishmen of this time. A fire truck collided with an electric car at Buffalo and seven firemen were injured, one fatally. No passengers were on the car, which was demolished. Emily Selwood Tennyson, Baroness of Elyncourt, widow of the late poet laureate of England, died at Farringford, the beautiful residence of the Tennyson family in the Isle of Wight. It is reported from Washington that Secretary Hoke Smith has tendered to President Cleveland his resignation as chief of the interior department. Differences upon the issues of the campaign are responsible. Dr. Nansen, the Norwegian Arctic explorer, who sailed from Christians June 24, 1893, in the schooner Fram, has returned safely, after having penetrated four degrees farther north than any previous explorer. William J. Stanthorpe, of the firm of Stanthorpe & Co., tallow-haulers, died in the padded cell at the central police station at Toledo. He was stricken by the excessive heat and his condition developed into a veritable frenzy. Three men were caught on an iron fire escape by the flames which consumed the six-story brick building, 465 and 467 Greenwich street, New York City. Before the eyes of the horrified spectators they were burned to death. A dispatch has been received at Ottawa, Ont., to the effect the balloon which was to take Prof. Andree's expedition to the north pole had been sighted by Indians at several points on the Kenia river. The balloon was taking a northerly course. A terrible conflagration broke out at Norfolk, Va., which covered several blocks on the water front and were fiercely fought by the firemen. The heat was terrible and no less than 35 firemen were stricken down. The total loss will reach $100,000. One of the most remarkable scenes ever enacted in any country occurred at Old Orchard camp ground, where the Christian Alliance held forth, when $101,500 was subscribed for foreign missions. Dr. Simpson was the speaker and he talked of "Debitis to Christ."

SEVERAL TOWNS FLOODED.

St. People Drowned by Cloudbursts About Pittsburg. A cloudburst of immense force descended upon Pittsburg and suburbs, causing the loss of six lives and destroying thousands of dollars worth of property. Not much damage resulted in the immediate city, but it was heavy in the surrounding places. De Haven, a small oil town on the Pittsburg & Western railroad, had to bear the brunt of the storm's fury, and it was there that the most of the lives were lost. This little town of 800 inhabitants is situated in a valley just at the junction of two creeks and every heavy storm fills these creeks and floods portions of the place, and this time a wall of water 18 feet high swept down upon it. When the storm burst the house of James Robinson was made the place of refuge by 10 persons. Of this number three women were drowned. Three other persons were drowned at other points. At least a dozen towns suffered much loss. Many Deaths from Heat. The fifth day of the continued torridity in New York City and suburbs was more terrible than the whole of the preceding days. No less than 100 deaths occurred in the New York City, 20 in Brooklyn, 13 in Jersey City, and 44 in other suburbs of the metropolis. The suffering among the poor in the tenement districts was something awful. Chicago has also witnessed a harvest of death unprecedented, no fewer than 31 deaths occurred on the fifth day. There were about 800 dead horses on the streets, the city being unable to secure sufficient assistance to cart as many away as daily succumb to the heat. St. Louis added five deaths to her list; Philadelphia seven; Boston two; Indianapolis two. The situation at Cincinnati improved somewhat and while there were several prostrations there were no deaths. At Akron, O., William Randall was driven insane by heat. At Parkersburg, W. Va., A. H. Thorp suffered a fatal stroke. At Sullivan, Ind., there were seven deaths from heat. The continued death-dealing hot weather in New York was somewhat tempered on the sixth day by a fresh ocean breeze, but there were over 100 deaths in the city and suburbs notwithstanding. Greater relief came the following day, however, and the death list took a drop to 72. Terrible Fatal Boiler Explosion. A 150-horse-power boiler at the Louisville brick and tile works near Maximo, O., exploded with terrific force, completely wrecking the building. Isaiah Johnson, engineer, had his neck broken, his body being penetrated by an iron bolt. Samuel Snyder was badly injured about the head, and his breast was crushed. Neither can recover and both leave families. James Graysy, John Ruffaneth, Sheridan Sell and Chas. Seifong sustained painful injuries, but will recover. The boiler was blown through two kilns, a distance of 75 feet. Loss $10,000, with no insurance.

FOREIGN.

A dispatch to the London Standard from Paris says that the police have seized upon 10,180,000 francs' worth of counterfeit French bank notes of three houses in Tunis. The bank's clerks were unable to detect the fraud. Several arrests have been made. The London Daily News says that a commission which has set for seven years' will report against compulsory vaccination in England. A dispatch to the London Daily Telegraph from Rio Janeiro says that the Frias Hermanos, engaged in the cattle trade, have failed, with 5,340,000 milreis ($3,000,000) liabilities. Emperor William's general health continues good. He climbed a hill with his physician on Friday. An Italian man of war has captured off the coast of Erythrae, the Dutch steamer Doelwyk, laden with 34,000 rifles, which are supposed to be of Belgian manufacture and which were destined for Abyssinia. Cholera again shows an increase, and anxiety is felt on account of the absence of reports from the camp of the Egyptian forces on the Nile. It is feared that a serious condition prevails there. Serious floods have caused much damage on the Mosquito coast. Several villages have been destroyed, the telegraph lines to Greytown are down and the Colombian schooner Pioneer, trading between Colon and Binefelda, has been lost.

CRIME.

The residence and drug store of D. W. Bonnell at Hubbard, O., was entered by thieves, who secured $300 in jewelry and medals won by his son, W. W. Bonnell, a bicycle rider. Lizzie Harrison, a young factory girl, attempted to commit suicide on the street at Elgin, Ill., by taking carbolic acid. It is thought she will die. Charles Hughes, a former Santa Fe engineer, who stole and derailed an engine in the Missouri, Kansas and Texas yards at Sedalia, Mo., while under the influence of liquor, had been sent to jail for six months. Had the engine not run off an open switch it would have collided with a south-bound passenger train which was almost due. Albert Wade, the alleged defuncting assistant cashier of the First National bank of Mount Vernon, Ind., has surrendered to Commissioner Weston of Evansville and given a bond of $3,000. A great legal fight is promised over this case.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

An extraordinary spell of deadly hot weather has affected trade throughout the country and other conditions are not stimulating. Labor difficulties extend and the closing of the establishments for want of work and the refusal of commercial loans by banks checked operations in many branches of industry and trade. The government crop report for August was so gloomy that a great rise in prices would have followed if it had been entirely credited. In fact wheat rose a little but again declined. Corn declined throughout the week. It is wise to remember that the government's accounts were based on returns prior to the first spell of heat and hence may be more nearly correct than they were when prepared. But official and unofficial estimates of great decreasing in wheat yield are connected with a movement from the farms of 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100. It is reasonable to believe that $1,000,000 would have been marketed since July 1 this year, against 11,350,000 bushels if the yield had been smaller, with the price 10 cents lower than a year ago. No one now questions the probability of a very large yield of corn.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

The plans for Li Hung Chang's visit to the United States have been greatly curtailed. He will arrive in New York Aug. 21, and will hold his first reception the following day. Sunday he will take an early train for Philadelphia, where he will lunch and remain a few hours. During the afternoon he will proceed to Washington, where he will remain a week. He will then go direct to Vancouver, B. C., and embark for China. Mayor McKisson, Director of Police Abbott and Lieut. Col. Whitney held a conference at Cleveland and after a long consideration of the situation Mayor McKisson gave orders that all the militia companies except one doing duty at the Brown Hoisting works should be withdrawn. No serious trouble has occurred recently and many of the citizens in the east end are protesting against the display of armed force and consequent oppression to which they have been subjected. In the neighborhood of Hudsonville at least 15 barns were burned and considerable stock killed by lightning.

SOME QUEER AND CURIOUS FEATURES OF LIFE.

Strange Tale Told by a Drummer Who Said He Was Rehearsed—A Remarkable Diamond Story—How He Cared Himself.

He touched the lyre, A hidden fire Upsprang, With heaving breast And strange unrest He sang.

Beyond the ken Of mortal men He saw, And roused again Each peaceful swain To war.

In fitful burst The notes at first Arose, Then swept along As river strong Onflows.

Of triumph sure And peace secure He told, And fired the throng With spirit strong And bold.

The bugles blew, The clansmen drew To arms; When from the night A fearful sight Alarms.

With hurried ranks A dread phalanx Appears, With Saxon hordes And Saxon swords And spears.

With battle cries They rend the skies And close; The claymore's clang And loudly twang The bows.

The Scottish hopes Are rent like ropes Of sand, And gloom and blight Enshroud like night The land.

Alas! for Scot; The bard saw not The end, For sounding lyre Let blazing pyre Ascend.

The field is red, The hosts are dead, The rill Alone doth string Its harp to slugs With will.

The stars behold The faces cold And scarred, And lying red Among the dead, The bard.

Is It a Ripe Story?

H. J. Boutelle is a traveling salesman from New York, who has had a room at 200 Ontario street, Chicago. The other afternoon he told Mrs. R. L. Baldwin, from whom he rented the room, that he expected company. Then he left the house, as he said, for a short time. The company called during his absence, but at Mrs. Baldwin's request remained until Boutelle returned. A few minutes after Boutelle reappeared the "company," who was A. B. Kennedy, alias LeClaire Miller, was taken from the house a prisoner. Kennedy was charged with robbery, and in his pockets were a revolver, a bottle of chloroform, several cartridges and pawn tickets, one for a watch belonging to Boutelle. At the police station Boutelle told this story: "It was in front of the Palmer house when I met a stranger. We got acquainted, and I invited him to my room. We played cards until 2 o'clock a. m. Then my acquaintance produced a revolver and demanded my money and valuables. I gave them to him. Then he ordered me to go to bed. I did it. He donned and donned my clothes. He sat down, held the revolver on me, and smoked a cigar. While he smoked he announced that he usually had a partner, but was without one, because the police had packed up his old one. Then he asked me if I did not wish to become his partner, and I said I would think about it and would give him my answer. He smoked from 2 a. m. Sunday morning until 8 o'clock, and then left the house. Today just before he was to return to see if I desired to become a highwayman I went for a policeman."

How He Cured Himself.

"For many, many years," said the tall, heavily built man, as he leaned against the bar and faced the small crowd of hangers-on that clustered around him, "I was troubled, annoyed, positively afflicted, with a raging, burning thirst for strong drink and alcoholic beverages. I sought relief in every way. I sought the advice of physicians and the counsel of friends. I tried various cures recommended by the newspapers. I spent seven months at Dwight dallying with the gold cure, but it didn't seem to do me any good. 'And by what means,' asked the Governor Stone and Chairman White Formally Announce His Nomination for the Presidency by the Democratic Party—His Reply.

The vast assemblage which gathered to witness the notification of William Jennings Bryan and Arthur Sewall in New York City as nominees for president and vice-president on the democratic ticket was called to order Wednesday precisely at 8:15 p. m., by Chairman Jones of the national committee. Hon. Elliott Danforth of New York was made chairman. Mr. Danforth said:

"You did not expect from me a speech, and in that you will not be disappointed. I have pleasure in presenting to you as chairman of the notification committee the distinguished governor of Missouri, the Hon. William J. Stone." Gov. Stone stepped to the front of the platform, and when the outburst of applause had subsided made the speech of notification. At the conclusion of Gov. Stone's remarks he handed to Mr. Bryan an engrossed copy of the resolution of notification adopted by the committee. When Mr. Bryan took the parchment there was a wild outburst of applause, and while it was still filling the hall, Chairman Danforth said: "Fellow-citizens, the next speaker needs no introduction at my hands, for his name is a household word throughout the land. I have the pleasure in presenting to you the democratic nominee for president of the United States, the Hon. William J. Bryan."

The applause continued for some minutes and was renewed again and again, Mr. Bryan standing and waiting for an opportunity to begin his speech. Foremost among the prominent men on the platform, seated at the left, was Arthur Sewall, the Bath ship-builder, and candidate for the vice-presidency, a vigorous-looking man whose frame told of the New England air. There was Gov. Stone of Missouri, a thin-faced man, ministerial in his bearing, and the presiding officer, Elliott Danforth, ex-treasurer of the state of New York. Among the prominent democrats arrayed back of the platform were: Senators Blanchard of Louisiana, Gorman of Maryland, Roach of North Dakota, Tillman of South Carolina, Congressmen Richardson and McMillin of Tennessee, Livingston of Georgia, Rusk of Maryland, Gov. Hogg of Texas, and many others who had borne parts in the convention which nominated Mr. Bryan.

Finally Mr. Bryan managed to still the applause, and began his speech amidst comparative silence. His speech in part was as follows: "Those who stand upon the Chicago platform are prepared to make known and to defend every motion which influences them, every purpose which animates them and every hope which inspires them. Andrew Jackson has stated with admirable clearness both the duty and the sphere of government. He said: 'Distinctions in society will always exist under every just government. Equality of talents, of education or of wealth cannot be produced by human institutions. In the full enjoyment of the gifts of heaven and the fruits of superior industry, economy and virtue every man is equally entitled to protection by law.' We yield to none in our devotion to the doctrine just enunciated.

"Our campaign has not for its object the reconstruction of society. We cannot insure to the vicious the fruits of a virtuous life; we would not invade the home of the provident in order to supply the wants of the spendthrift; we do not propose to transfer the rewards of industry to the lap of idleness. Property is and will remain the stimulus to endeavor and the compensation for toil. We believe, as asserted in the declaration of independence, that all men are created equal; but that does not mean that all men are or can be equal in possessions, in ability or in merit. It simply means that all shall stand equal before the law, and that government officials shall not, in making, construing or enforcing the law, discriminate between citizens.

"We are not surprised to find arrayed against us those who are the beneficiaries of government favoritism—they have read our platform. Nor are we surprised to learn that we must in this campaign face the hostility of those who find a pecuniary advantage in advocating the doctrine of noninterference when great aggregations of wealth are trespassing upon the rights of individuals. We welcome such opposition—it is the highest endorsement which could be bestowed upon us. We are content to have the co-operation of those who desire to have the government administered without fear or favor."

He defended the income tax plank of the Chicago platform in eloquent words, concluding: "The last income tax law, with its exemption provision, when considered in connection with other methods of taxation in force, was not unjust to the possessors of large incomes, because they were not compelled to pay a total federal tax greater than their share. The income tax is not new, nor is it based upon hostility to the rich."

He then turned to the paramount issue of the campaign, the money question, saying: "It is scarcely necessary to defend the principle of bimetallicism. No national party during the entire history of the United States has ever declared against, and no party in this campaign has had the temerity to oppose it. CORRESPONDENCE.

Newburg.

Although we are generally on the look-out for items, we have failed to mention the fact that Mr. Harmon Kingsley and Miss Mamie Millard were married in Whitmore at 12 o'clock, July 4th. The MAN. extends congratulations.

There will be a township rally held in Chas. Potter's woods, Friday, Aug. 28th, but in case of rain, Saturday. The exercises will begin at 10:30 sharp.

UNCLE RASTUS.

Teachers' Meeting.

The Wayne County Teachers' Association at a meeting held August 14th, at Wyandotte, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Robt. E. Barbour, of Highland Park; Vice-president, Fanny E. Gray, of Grosse Ile; Secretary, Fanny Begole, of Elm; Treasurer, Nora Smith, of Dearborn; Chairman of Executive Committee, T. Dale Cook, of Flat Rock.

YOUR BOY WON'T LIVE A MONTH.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had Lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month."

South Salem.

Geo. Robert's little daughter has been very ill with cholera infantum but is better at this writing. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bussey spent Sunday at the lake. The Y. W. C. T. U. and L. T. L. are preparing for a literary entertainment in the near future.

worth League, Miss Alice Quackenbush. The Sunday school picnic at Whitmore Lake was not as well attended as it would have been, if the weather had not been so stormy. About 100 were in attendance.

Salem.

Several of our townsmen attended the auction held on the farm of the late John Peer, of Green Oak. Benjamin Atchison and family are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Atchison's sister and family, of Plymouth.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Effie Denio, of Grand Rapids, to George R. Landon, of the same city. Miss Denio and her parents were once residents of Salem, and old friends of ye scribe, so we wish them unbounded happiness in view of the coming event.

Rev. O. M. Thrasher, of Holly, will occupy the Baptist pulpit next Sunday, Aug. 23. There is some talk of the church extending Mr. Thrasher a call to the pastorate.

Rev. D. H. Conrad will preach his farewell sermon Sunday morning, Aug. 30th. Rev. D. H. Conrad has commenced to pack his household goods preparatory to his removal to Belmont, N. Y.

At the close of the Wayne County State Institute held at Wyandotte, Aug. 10-14, the following resolutions were passed: Resolved,—That we, the teachers of Wayne County, at our annual institute assembled, extend our heartfelt thanks for the pains-taking interest, the kindly sympathy and the unflinching courtesy shown toward us by our instructors.

Resolved,—That we extend our thanks to the citizens of Wyandotte for their hospitality and kindness.

Resolved,—That we extend a vote of thanks to our County Commissioner, T. Dale Cook for the untiring interest he has shown in the improvement and uplifting of our schools.

Resolved,—That we furnish the papers of Wayne County with copies of these resolutions to be printed at their pleasure. F. E. GRAY, Sec., pro tem.

Redford.

Mr. Thos. Paulger, of Detroit, spent a day on his farm here last week.

The DuBoisville Sunday school will have their picnic in John Angell's woods on the 28th of August instead of the 20th, as reported in last week's issue.

The examination of Frank Holtz, charged with blowing up his father's house, will be held at Sand Hill this Friday afternoon.

Some years ago when suffering from an uncommonly severe attack of diarrhoea, Mr. W. B. Guinnip, of Atca, Pa., received through the mail a sample bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I found it to be one of the most effective remedies I ever used. It gave me almost immediate relief. It has no superior and I think no equal. No bad effects follow the use of this remedy. It is pleasant to take when reduced with water and sweetened. Children like it. It never fails. It is the most perfect remedy ever produced for bowel complaints." For sale at 25 and 30 cents per bottle by Dr. J. G. Meiler.

Lavonia.

Mrs. G. P. Benton, who has been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. A. Stringer, has returned home.

Ray Crates, of Holland, formerly of this place, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree. His sentence is life. It will be remembered he killed his brother-in-law some time ago.

The boys will have another dance at the Center, Aug. 26. All are invited.

Horace Kingsley has commenced to repair the school house at the Center.

C. L. Ferguson's wood-worker is doing a rushing business.

Grace Peck and Mabel Chilton went on the excursion Tuesday, to Lake St. Clair, Mr. Russel Peck acting as escort.

SCIENTIFIC CORNER.

CURRENT NOTES OF DISCOVERY AND INVENTION.

Room for a Genius in the Lawn-Mower Line — A Lesson in Equilibrium — Dentistry and Hypnotism — A New Pavement.

HERE is urgent need of a lawnmower that will cut vegetables cleanly, and not, as the regular habit is, skip some of the wiry stalks and leave a lot of unsightly stems after this important operation is finished. There are several new lawn-mowers recently invented, but very few of them perform the work satisfactorily.

A Substitute for the Giant's Diamond — A French scientist has discovered a method of combining certain substances that will produce a perfect substitute for the diamond as used in cutting glass.

The Fragrance of Plants. — It is said to be necessary to establish an exact equilibrium between light and moisture in order to produce flowers with perfume.

A Favorite Trick. — Few jugglers get through their performance without introducing that old and well-known feat of spinning plates on the end of a sharp-pointed stick.

A New Means of Locomotion. — Just about the time that everybody gets a bicycle the flying-machine problem will have been so perfectly solved that the rank and file of humanity will be able to propel themselves through the air and travel about without coming in contact with the earth.

A New Ventilator for Cars. — Anything that will ventilate a car without a draft will be hailed with delight by those who find it necessary to do a great deal of traveling.

A New Pavement. — A new idea in pavements is proposed in which the paving-blocks are so formed that when they are set up there will be a hollow space in a certain portion of one side.

The Phonoscope. — This is a newly invented instrument by means of which one may hear sounds, normal and abnormal, and by their means determine the state of health of the patient examined.

The Non-Removable Bottle. — So much has been said about the non-removable bottle that it may be interesting to describe in brief a patent that has just been issued.

are under-cut so as to form shoulders for a piece of metal which extends from one notch to another. After this piece of metal is put on and securely pressed into place, molten glass is run around the notch, which it securely fills up. When the bottle is emptied this glass must be broken away, which releases the strip and allows the cork to be drawn. It is claimed that the bottle cannot be refilled without detection.

Dentistry and Hypnotism. — The day of painless dentistry seems at hand. Hypnotism, which has replaced anaesthetics to a more or less degree in surgery, has now been called into use as a valuable adjunct to dentistry.

Dr. Fillebrown of Boston, Mass., an authority on dental science, says: "I prophesy that in a few years every man who practices dentistry scientifically will have his practice controlled by the principle of hypnotic suggestions. It has been urged as an insuperable objection to the success of hypnotism in dental operations that the constant control in the most sensitive portion of our anatomy, the dentine, would rouse the patient, no matter how thoroughly hypnotized."

This, it seems, is not the case when Dr. Fillebrown's method is pursued. He counteracts the constant pain by constant suggestion that there is no suffering. Dr. Fillebrown does not consider passes necessary to induce hypnosis. He says: "I, myself, use my eyes more for a fixed point for the patient's gaze. Laying my hand on the forehead and over the eyes to close them and exclude the light is very successful with me, and much preferred by many. In these cases audible suggestion is used the same as in others."

The implantation of teeth is an exquisitely painful operation, yet this was done the other day by the aid of hypnosis at a recent meeting of the First District Dental Society of the State of New York.

Just about the time that everybody gets a bicycle the flying-machine problem will have been so perfectly solved that the rank and file of humanity will be able to propel themselves through the air and travel about without coming in contact with the earth, for those who know declare that the principles of the flying machine are so thoroughly worked out that nothing remains but a little mechanical adaptation to put the thing in practice.

Anything that will ventilate a car without a draft will be hailed with delight by those who find it necessary to do a great deal of traveling. By the new system the air is taken into the car through a series of screens under the hood of the car. It then takes its course through the length of the hood and drops through the ceiling of the car. The current of air, after passing through the car, goes out again into the rear half of the roof by means of properly set partitions and ventilators. In passing out it takes all of the foul air with it, thus insuring a steady supply of pure and uncontaminated air.

A new idea in pavements is proposed in which the paving-blocks are so formed that when they are set up there will be a hollow space in a certain portion of one side. It is proposed to fill in this space with wooden lars. These hold the blocks together and will, it is claimed, make what is called a cushion pavement, having a given amount of elasticity, and yet being perfectly firm and snugly set. The pavement as described is certainly possessed of common-sense ideas, and its practical application will be watched with interest.

This is a newly invented instrument by means of which one may hear sounds, normal and abnormal, and by their means determine the state of health of the patient examined. It is asserted that capillary circulation has its distinct sound, and this is easily heard with the assistance of this instrument. All of the peculiarities of the respiratory and digestive organs, the muscles, joints and bones, and indeed every portion of the body, are clearly shown by the aid of this wonderful invention.

So much has been said about the non-removable bottle that it may be interesting to describe in brief a patent that has just been issued. The bottle is of the usual size, with notches on either side of the neck. These notches

Seven Months With Fever.

Dr. Baird's rapid and marvelous recovery from a mere skeleton to his normal weight, 270 pounds, was surely the greatest of the greatest strength-giving and building-up medicine ever produced, namely: Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine.

Gentlemen—I wish to express to you my gratitude for the great good that Dr. Miles' Nervine has done for me. I was taken sick with typhoid fever and I laid in bed for seven months. After getting over the fever I was thin, nervous and tired, and did not regain my lost strength. I tried several proprietary medicines, and finally after having been reduced in weight to 125 pounds, I began trying Dr. Miles' Nervine, and at once began to improve. I was finally entirely cured, and today I can say I never felt better in all my life, and weigh 270 pounds. This is my normal weight, as I measure 6 feet 5 1/2 inches in height.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.00 bottles for $2.00, or it will be sent prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
