THE VERDICT

OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE IS FOR PROTECTION AND GOLD STANDARD.

A Republican Victory in Every Sense of the Word—Majorities in Several States Were Enormous

Tuesday's election was so decisive that the general result was known four hours after the polls closed. It simply rained republican votes in New York, Pennsylvania and in several other states, and in democratic localities, the republicans pulled down democratic majorities to a great extent.

Our own state went republican by about 50,000.

Pingree for governor piled up a majority in his own county of 20,000, and carried the state by 60,000.

In Wayne county the republican county ticket was elected by majorities ranging from 7,000 to 9,000, with the exception of John Archer for sheriff, who was beaten by Harry Chipman. Chipman's majority is about 10,000.

The largest vote in the history of Plymouth township was polled here on Tuesday. 1130 votes were cast out of a registration of 1292. In this precinct 520 votes were cast out of a registration of 640. The republicans carried this precinct by 100 majority and the Northville precinct by 230.

The Fight is Over.

The result of Tuesday's election proves, beyond doubt, that a large majority of our people are in favor of protection, reciprocity and a gold standard of money. The battle has been fairly fought, it has been hard fought, and it has been settled by such a pronounced victory that one would think there could be no question as to which party was in the right.

But whether or not the tariff and financial questions have been settled for any length of time depends upon the results of future legislation. We have passed through a four year's period of hardships and oppression, of idleness and scarce money, of closed factories and business failures, and we are now in a first-class position to appreciate better things and better times.

We do not apprehend disastrous results from the election of the republican party to power. But on the other hand we believe that our country is secure, that our institutions are permanent, and that our people, as a nation, are too sensible to be reckless, and too proud of the stars and stripes to be dishonest. We hope for the best and the best is none too good for Americans.

Ladies' Literary Club.

The Plymouth L. L. club met with Mrs. C. W. Valentine, Oct. 30. The meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Hartsough, at three o'clock, with twelve members present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, followed by the reading and acceptance of the revised constitution and by-laws. It was then decided by vote that the club should send application for membership to the M. S. F. W. C. and Miss Harriet Hartsough and Mrs. E. W. Chaffee were elected as delegates with Mrs. T. C. Sherwood and Mrs. Ellen B. Roe as alternates to the convention held in Detroit Nov. 3-6.

After some further talk the work of the afternoon was taken up led by Mrs. Loomis in a discussion on the Empire and State of Learning under Charlemagne.

An excellent paper, "The Holy Roman Empire," was given by Mrs. F. Hodge.

The meeting adjourned to November 13 at Miss Maud Vroman's.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. are planning for a course of parliamentary drills to be given by Mrs. E. N. Law, one of the state lecturers. Mrs. Law spoke here in the Baptist church about two years ago, and will be remembered as a very interesting speaker. She will hold several public temperance meetings during her week's stay in Plymouth.

The regular Thursday afternoon meetings of the W. C. T. U. will be held at 2:30 instead of 3 o'clock, until notice is given to the contrary.

ELECTRIC BITTERS.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c and $1.00 per bottle at Gale's drug store.

Banking Commissioner Sherwood's Resignation

As noted in our local columns to-day, the resignation of Banking Commissioner Sherwood took effect at noon, yesterday. There is no significance in this sudden and rather unexpected change whatever. It is purely a business matter so far as Mr. Sherwood is concerned, and the State Republican congratulates him upon taking a step that cannot fail to redound to his own personal advantage.

The state banking department went into active operation, January 1, 1889, and has since been under the management of Mr. Sherwood. During this time 110 state banks have been organized; while during the same time there has been a decrease

25 in the number of national banks; thus indicating the popularity of the state banking law. During these years six state banks and six national banks have failed. This is certainly a highly creditable showing for Michigan's banking system, especially when we consider the terrible business depression of the past three years.

We mention these facts to show that the banking supervision of Mr. Sherwood has proved eminently successful, and he retires from the responsible place with great honor to himself and credit to the state. The State Republican is particular to emphasize this point, because there are those in high places who have seen fit to criticize the administration of the affairs of his department. But such criticisms have been unjust—a fact that is susceptible of unquestioned demonstration.—State Republican, Nov. 3.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S HANDS.

How She Keeps Them Plump, White and Unwrinkled.

"You are quite right in your surmise that her majesty possesses wonderfully beautiful hands, though they are by no means small for her height; that they are plump, white and unwrinkled. Would you like to know the reason?" asked the manœuvre who was beautifying my hands for a dinner party.

"Of course I was all attention." "Well, as you are doubtless aware, her majesty is a great knitter. Indeed, she is invariably at work with her needles, either at scarfs or mittens for the poor, little vests for her many great-grandchildren, or coats and bed quilts. The mere exercise induced by the hand tenders to whiten, refine and keep them in good shape, while, in the same way, the hands never look more attractive than when so employed."

"Why have so many cooks prettily shaped hands and arms?" I asked.

"Simply because they do so much work with them. Kneading bread is one of the best beautifiers the hands can have. Where women who work much in the house usually fail to secure pretty hands is by not drying them well after each washing, and by not wearing gloves for rough labor, such as the cleaning of grates. Of course, it is a wee bit of trouble always to put on gloves, but smooth, unwrinkled hands are worth a good deal to every woman, or should be, I think."—Answers.

Peering in the Giant's Casseway.

As a sequel to recent meritorious attempts to direct the attention of tourists to the many charms of scenery and greenery existing in "the distressful country," comes the humor that the astute owner of that portion of the coast embellished by the well-known Giant's Casseway is busily at work upon a ring fence which will effectually place this natural phenomenon on the footing of a paying exhibition. This policy is scarcely likely to increase the confidence of hesitating visitors who, at the present time, can with difficulty be persuaded to put aside prejudice and undertake that most delightful experience—an investigation of the many points of interest to be found in Ireland.—London Truth.

Perfectly Impartial.

The wife of one of Lord Powis' keepers was asked by the clergyman of her own parish why she went running off three miles to another church whenever the earl went there. "Why didn't she keep to her own church?" His lordship likes to see his servants at church," replied the woman. "Which do you think most of them, asked the parson. "Lord Powis or the Almighty?" "They have both been very good to me, sir," replied the woman, averse to "vicious comparisons.—Household Words.

To Improve the Flavor of Coffee.

During damp weather in the summer coffee often loses its flavor and strength. An old housekeeper says that if the quantity of coffee berries needed for breakfast be put into a bowl, covered closely, and put into the warming oven over night the flavor of the coffee will be much improved.—New York Sun.

A WONDERFUL ESCAPE.

Delated by a Keeper of the Michigan State Prison at Jackson.

(From the Jackson Citizen.)
Mr. A. E. Wing resides at 612 N. Jackson Street, Jackson, Mich. He is a keeper in the Michigan State Prison, a man of sterling integrity, and whose word is beyond dispute. He tells the following story of a wonderful escape, and the incidents connected with the dangerous position in which he was placed. He says, some months ago my attention was attracted by a swelling of my groin, which began to increase in size to such an extent that I was alarmed. It spread down my legs to my feet, and I was obliged to wear my shoes fully two inches before I could get them on. Even my face became puffed up, and my whole system seemed affected. I could hardly drag myself upstairs to unlock my men. I consulted a physician, one of the best in the city. He said the swelling was caused by an irritation of the kidneys, and I commenced treatment with him. But I seemed to be getting worse. I was strongly urged by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I finally consented. After the first week I commenced to see a change, and felt much better. This was encouraging, and I continued their use. I took five boxes in all, with the happy result that I was completely cured. I have never heard of any medicine which had such a pronounced and radical effect, and yet not affect the system generally and leave it in such a good condition. I feel better now than I ever did. After the effect was once established the swelling gradually disappeared until it was entirely gone. I received Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a most wonderful agent in the curing of any form of kidney disease.

For sale by all dealers—price, 50 cents per box. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Dr. Williams, and take no other.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—genie efforts—of earnestly directed thought. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed, so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

In the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Send Money Wins in the Hard Struggle Against the Free Coinage of Silver at 16 to 1—Republican Landside in Many States—Michigan in Lead.

The presidential campaign of 1900 will go down in history as one of the hardest fought in the history of the United States. It is a struggle between the American people over the issue of the free coinage of silver, which has become a question of the life of the nation. The Republican party, which has carried the state by a majority of about 15,000, is the only party which has carried the state by a majority of about 15,000.

In the agricultural line Texas leads all other states in the variety of its products. Cotton, corn and the cereals grow and are raised in every section of the state and in the central and southern portions sugar cane and sorghum are also profusely cultivated. On the Gulf Coast two or three crops of vegetables are raised each year. Berries are shipped six weeks in advance of the home crop in the north. Peaches, apples, pears, oranges, figs, olives and nuts all grow abundantly and can be marketed from two to three weeks in advance of the California crops. Large quantities of rice are now grown. If the land seeker, the home worker, and the settler desires to secure a farm larger than the one he occupies, on vasty more reasonable terms; if he wants more land to cultivate, a greater variety of crops to harvest, with proportionately increased remuneration, at a less outlay for cost of production; if he wants an earlier season, with correspondingly higher prices; if he wants milder winters, all the year past usage for his stock, improved health, increased boldly earnings and wealth and prosperity he should go to Texas. WOMEN WANT TO KNOW.

To Whom Can They Tell Their Troubles?

A Woman Answers "To Me"—Anxious Inquirers Intelligently Answered—Thousands of Grateful Letters. Women regard it as a blessing that they can talk to a woman who fully understands their every ailment, and thus avoid the examinations, experiments and theories of incompetent physicians, whose care deprives them of knowing by experience. The endless confidence placed in Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's American Women's prompts them to seek her advice constant.

Female diseases yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. Inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement of the womb, ovarian troubles, spinal weakness and kidney complaints, all have their symptoms, and should be "nipped in the bud." Bearing-down pains, backache, headache, nervousness, pains in groins, lassitude, whites, irregularities, dread of impending evil, blues, sleeplessness, faintness, etc.

Here is testimony right to the point: "The doctors told me that unless I went to the hospital and had an operation performed, I could not live. I had failing, enlargement and ulceration of the womb.

"I was in constant misery all the time; my back ached; I was always tired. It was impossible for me to walk far or stand long at a time. I was sorely a wretch. I decided that I would give your Compound and Sanative Wash a trial.

"I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used two packages of Sanative Wash, and I am now almost well. I am stouter and healthier than I have ever been in my life. My friends and neighbors and the doctors are surprised at my rapid improvement. I have told them all what I have been taking."—Mrs. ANNETTA BUCKNER, Bellair, Belmont Co., O.

While I was pastor of the Baptist church at River Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at John L. Gale's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00

Mosquitoes and Kerocoza.

Chestertown, Md., has found kerocoza effective in getting rid of mosquitoes. "Some citizens," says a resident, "had experimented with coal oil as a remedy and were surprised at the effectiveness of the liquid. The attention of the authorities was called to the matter and after a series of tests the people were given official notice that everybody should pour a little coal oil in rain barrels, stagnant pools and wherever water had collected. No great quantity of oil is required. A teaspoonful is sufficient for a barrel of water. The diminution in the number of mosquitoes was easily noticeable and now the pest has been almost gotten rid of."—New York Tribune.

The Reason.

"I wonder why," said Mrs. Noodle, as she stood looking in the glass, "the nose is put in the middle of the face." Mr. Noodle laid down his paper. "That's easy enough," he replied. "It's because it's the scener piece."

And when Mrs. Noodle had had this explained to her she laughed and declared that it was just as funny as some of those things you read in the papers.—New York World.

FEMININE ELECTRICITY.

The Unflattering Term "Negative" is Still Used.

From the beginning it had been noticed that there were two kinds of clerical forces, but these were named, with reckless discourtesy, positive and negative, as though the second had been inferior, inactive, merely receptive, says Harper's Weekly. And yet there were suggestions of the true relations of these two forces that should not have been overlooked. It is recorded that six years after the St. Petersburg professor's fatal experiment (about 1759), Robert Symmer, "when pulling off his stockings in the evening, remarked that they gave a crackling noise and emitted sparks" By varied experiments he discovered that the electricity was most powerful when a silk and worsted stocking had been worn on the same leg, or, if the stockings were both of silk, then more diverting results were obtained when they were of different colors. Two white silk stockings or two black ones gave no electrical indications. When a black and white stockings were withdrawn from the same leg, and then separated, they were so much inflated that each showed the entire shape of the leg and at a distance of eighteen inches they rushed to meet each other. Separated by force they would again become inflated, and be as ready to rush together as before. When this experiment was performed with two black stockings in one hand and two white in the other, the repulsion of those of the same color—their jealousy—and the attraction of those of different colors would "throw them into agitation and make them catch each at that of its opposite color at a greater distance." Plainly this eighteenth century student had to do with masculine and feminine electricity and yet the unflattering term "negative," as applied to the feminine, has persisted even to our day.

LAW AND LONGEVITY.

Chauncey M. Depew Advances an Interesting Theory.

In an address before the St. Louis Law School Chauncey M. Depew said: The law promotes longevity. It is because its discipline improves the physical and mental and the moral conditions of the practitioner. In other words it gives him control over himself, and a great philosopher has written that he who could command himself is greater than he who has captured a city. The world has been seeking for all time the secrets of longevity and happiness. If they can be united, then we return to the conditions of Methuselah and his contemporaries. Whether I may live to their age I know not, but I think I have discovered the secret of Methuselah's happy continuance for nearly 1,000 years upon this planet. He stayed here when we had no steam and no electricity, no steamers upon the river or the ocean propelled by this mighty power, no electric light, no railways spanning the continent, no overhead wires and no cables under the ocean communicating intelligence around the world, and no trolley lines reducing the redundant population. He lived, not because he was free from the excitements incident to the age of steam and electricity, but because of the secret which I have discovered, and it is this: Longevity and happiness depend upon what you put in your stomach and what gets in your mind.

During several years residence in the far west, I had many opportunities for observing the wonderful effects of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Its efficacy was demonstrated in the alkali regions, where the water produces violent purging. It allayed the attack when all other remedies failed. I repeatedly saw the greatest distress and diarrhoea cured in a few minutes. I used the remedy myself with the most satisfactory results, and can recommend it for the complaints for which it is indicated. H. Y. Gillingham, editor of the Republican, Pheasantville, Pa. This remedy is for sale by Dr. J. G. Meiler.

Down on Him.

Young Mr. Cumanphen, who has one of the cunningest little cream-colored mustaches in the world, so faint and modest that he has to color it in order to establish its identity, called again last evening.

"I've just been dying to see you Mand," he gushed, soon as he got his case through the parlor door. Mand looked him over with a critically unfavorable eye. "I see you have," she said coldly.

Heart Trouble Quickly Cured.

A Convincing Testimonial.

MISS ELLA KURTZ.

"For 19 years I suffered from heart trouble. During that time I was treated by five different physicians. All of them claimed that I could not be cured. I was greatly troubled with shortness of breath, palpitation and pain in the side. If I became excited, or exerted myself in the least, the pain in my side became very severe. At times it seemed as though needles were shooting through my side. Sometime in the month of November last, I commenced taking DR. MILES' HEART CURE and since then I have improved steadily. I can now sleep on my left side, something I had never been able to do before. I can walk without being fatigued, and am in much better health than ever before. I would recommend all sufferers from heart trouble to try Dr Miles' invaluable remedy without delay." MISS ELLA KURTZ, 518 Wright St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1.50 bottles for $5.00 or it will be sent prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
