About Wheat.

The magnitude of the wheat crop and what it will bring to the farmers of the United States this season is almost incomprehensible. It is estimated that over four hundred million bushels of wheat have been harvested this year, which at the present price—and it seems probable that it will go even higher—means just that many dollars to the farmers. The benefits that will be derived from the good crop and prices cannot be overestimated. Many a debt-ridden farmer will lift the mortgage that has held his farm in its relentless grasp for years. The wheat price is good simply because the world's supply is decreasing. It will be a good crop to raise for at least two or three years to come. It will require several million bushels of wheat to cause a burdensome surplus, in fact, if every wheat-raising country on the globe had good crops for two years it would not over-stock the market to any great extent. Farmers it will pay you to look into this matter. Make a study of farming the same as a merchant studies the wants of his customers. Study over the prospects for the coming year and put in your crops accordingly.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Engine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill. "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at John L. Gale's Drug Store.

THE FAIR.

PROMISES TO BE THE BEST IN

THE HISTORY

Of the Society: Good Races, Ball Game,

Sports of all Kinds.

Judging from the present outlook the 1897 meeting of the Plymouth Fair Association will be far more successful than any yet held. Every day adds new attractions that will add to the interest and attractiveness of the coming meeting.

At the meeting of the directors last Saturday evening it was voted to hang up $300 for bicycle races, some of the events to be professional, and to take place on Wednesday and Thursday. This amount and the fact that races open in Detroit Friday will bring some of the best riders in the state here. A base ball tournament will be another great feature for the last three days. Four teams will contest for money prizes, thus insuring good games, as the purse will be $125. Those who enjoy a good horse race will be accommodated as some good horses have been booked for those events.

Crops of all kinds have been good this year and the indications are that an unusually large exhibit will be made in this line. The superintendent of grounds has been kept busy answering communications, as has also the secretary, and taking all together, there is little doubt but that the exhibit and crowds will be larger this year than ever before.

If you have anything that will make a good exhibit bring it to our fair, get a premium and let the people know what you can do.

Wait for the crowds and come to the Plymouth fair.

Push.

(Contributed.)

While in Detroit a few days ago the writer had occasion to call at an office the door of which is large and heavy. It is always closed, and to the careless observer it looked as though it would take a strong man to push it open. On the door is a small sign bearing the single word "Push."

If you have any business in that office you walk up boldly and give that door a vigorous push. To your surprise it swings open easily, though so large and heavy, for special care has been taken to make it yield thus readily. It is put there for a purpose, but not to hinder or impede those having right to entrance.

Now, young friends especially, remember that each of you in the journey of life will frequently come to closed doors figuratively speaking exactly like that we have just described. Ever and anon in the path of duty you will find barriers loom up which require exercise of will and energy to effectually set aside. When you encounter them do not stand perplexed and helpless before them, but do what you are invited to do at the door of that office—push—promptly and energetically thrust the obstacles aside.

Every pursuit, every trade and every profession has something in the way which seems to bar your progress in following it. If you are not brave and determined in dealing with such obstacles, life for you will be a failure indeed. Do not be discouraged or turn aside in vain quest of freer access by other than the toll marked route. Give the door a push: that is the only way to gain a sure and prompt admission.

Do not fall into line with those we constantly see on either hand, standing idly whining that some door of usefulness does not open before them. Doors there are enough ready to respond to due exertions but they are not going to open by magic or without effort. If you want to get ahead, keep pushing, and you will find the operation no more difficult than that required to open the office door.

Timidity harms no less than presumption under any circumstances and is scarcely less despicable in the same relation to those who surrender to its influence. Between arrogance and cowardice, between ruthless ambition and thriftlessness there is a well defined and laudable mean. It is the path of duty and industry. Seek it and keep to it, reading the command push and putting it into practice of every obstacle that confronts you.

REDEEMING MUTILATED MONEY.

Full Value of a Note is Paid for Fragments Representing Three-Fifths of it.

According to the present rule of the redemption division of the United States Treasury nothing less than fragments representing two-fifths of a bank note or greenback will be redeemed by Uncle Sam. "If that much of a note is presented the United States," writes Clifford Howard, on "Destroying a Million Dollars a Day," in the "September Ladies' Home Journal," "will allow the holder one-half the face value of it, while three-fifths of a note will be redeemed for full value. Of course there are occasional exceptions to this rule.

"Some time since a man from New England forwarded a bunch of discolored paper money that he had found buried in a field. It had laid in the ground so long a time, and had been so generously feasted upon by worms, that it fell to pieces as soon as it was touched. It would have been utterly impossible for any one unacquainted with the secret marks that the Government places on its bills to gather these decayed pieces of money together in their proper order; but some of the clerks in the redemption division of the Treasury are particularly expert in sorting and deciphering bits of mutilated money, and through long years of experience are able to tell in an instant to what particular note or kind of note a certain scrap belongs. When the pieces contained in this bunch of old money were finally sorted and mounted it was found that while there was not one complete note remaining (not more than two or three scraps in some instances) the rightful owner was entitled to a redemption of four hundred dollars. Unfortunately for the man who found the money, he could not prove his ownership, nor could he make affidavit as to what had become of the missing portions of the notes. Consequently the United States was the gainer in this case. Accidents of this nature are by no means rare, as is attested by the number of charred remnants of money which are kept among the curious records of the redemption division."

INTERNATIONAL PRESS ASSOCIATION.

CHAPTER XVII.—(Continued.) It was half an hour past the appointed time when she neared the trying place, and she was beginning to wonder whether or not Monsieur Caussidiers had grown weary and had gone away. When, to her relief, he emerged from some nook where he had been hiding and stood before her. Yes, it was he, looking anxious and restless, but brightening up considerably at sight of her face.

that she was the one to blame. He was so much wiser than she, and he knew so much more of the world; and he loved her so much that he would never counsel her amiss. Majorie did not consent to his wish, for it is not in a moment that we can wipe away the deeply instilled prejudice of a lifetime, but she finally promised to think it over and see him again.

"Wheesh, Miss Marjorie," she answered, "speak low. A wee while syne he sank into a bit sleep. He's awfully changed! I'm thinkin' he'll no last many hours langer."

HIS GOLDEN WEDDING. The Fourth Wife Planning it with Miss Hetherington. "Of course, every man who has any appreciation of woman thinks he has the best wife in the world," said an elderly member of the Curbetone club the other night, to a Detroit Free Press man, "but I'll take an oath my wife goes ahead of all the women you ever heard of. You all know that I've been married four times; well, that's the point of this story. In a few months I shall have been a married man fifty years—counting all the years of all my marriages, you know—and Julia, my present wife, is determined that I shall celebrate my golden wedding. She reckoned it all up the other night. Let me see, there were twelve years I have lived with Eliza, ten years with Margaret, fifteen years with Kate and thirteen years with Julia—a round fifty years of respectable matrimonial life. Julia says it isn't my fault the other wives died and that I couldn't live fifty years with one woman to earn my golden wedding; and so she intends to see that I am not cheated out of it. She has an idea, too, that in letting me have a golden wedding celebration in which she, of course, cannot have any share, she will be sort of rounding up matters and be doing the square thing by my three other wives. I told her that public opinion would be against her—that everybody would talk like she mischief if she got up a golden wedding for me when she can't be in it; but she says she doesn't care a cent—that when people talk about us somebody else is getting a rest. So she is going right ahead, baking cake and getting ready for the celebration of my fiftieth anniversary. She says she knows Eliza and Margaret and Kate would think it was all right. Now, isn't that a scheme, and isn't she the finest woman you ever heard of?"

WISE WOMEN. Those Who Heed the First Symptoms of Nervous Derangement. Special from Mrs. Pinkham. A dull, aching pain at the lower part of the back and a sensation of little rills of heat, or chills running down the spine, are symptoms of general womb derangement. If these symptoms are not accompanied by leucorrhoea, they are precursors of that weakness. It is worse than folly to neglect these symptoms. Any woman of common sense will take steps to cure herself. She will realize that her generative system is in need of help, and that a good restorative medicine is a positive necessity. It must be a medicine with specific virtues. As a friend, a woman friend, let me advise the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If your case has progressed so that a troublesome discharge is already established, do not delay, take the Vegetable Compound at once, so as to tone up your whole nervous system; you can get it at any reliable drug store. You ought also to use a local application, or else the corrosive discharge will set up an inflammation and hardening of the parts. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is put up in packets at 25 cents each. To relieve this painful condition this Sanative Wash is worth its weight in gold.

A. M. Potter has branched out heavily into the newspaper subscription business and is making a lively success. Mr. Potter entered the journalistic field as a reporter a few years ago, and his efforts were attended with such success that he expanded with the rapidity of a mushroom but had the staying qualities of the Charter oak. During that time an old-line editor assailed Potter in his mental castle, expecting an easy victory, but during the melee never was an editor so basted with the potash of truth applied red hot, and when the smoke had cleared away there was nobody but Potter left to bury the dead.—Plymouth Cor. Courier.

The territory of Alaska affords a striking example of the inconsistencies of federal law concerning the liquor traffic. The United States government prohibits the importation and sale of intoxicants in that part of its domain, except for use as medicine, yet at the same time it is violating its own laws by issuing internal revenue licenses in Alaska, and thus becoming a partner in the drink business. Thousands of gallons of alcoholic liquors are being sent to Alaska each week, a large part of which is shipped to the Klondike. Saloons are running wide open, and liquor is being sold to the Indians as well as to the whites. The poorest kind of whiskey, it is said, retails readily at three dollars a bottle. When Uncle Sam himself manifests such scant respect for law, it is time for the more level-headed among his nephews and nieces to come to the rescue of the nation's dignity and good name.—Union Signal, Aug. 19th.

Embezzling Bank Cashier from Pennsylvania Captured at St. Clair After a Long Search—Dynamite Outrage Near Galesburg.

Work of Floods.

A farm house owned and occupied by Samuel Carson and situated three miles north of Galesburg was, by a second attempt, wrecked by dynamite. Mr. Carson is a farmer and capitalist owning a residence in the village, where his family resides. He is 70 years of age and is wealthy. Besides himself, a woman and her son residing in the family, were in the building at the time of the explosion, which is described as having been terrific. The destruction was complete. Strange to say, aside from slight injuries, none of the occupants were hurt. There are various reasons alleged for these attempts upon Mr. Carson's life and property. Investigation shows the damage to have been caused by placing dynamite about two feet from the foundation of the house and attaching a fuse some 45 feet in length.

Abducting Bank Cashier Captured.

Cyrus E. Breder, formerly a cashier in the First National bank at New Bethlehem, Pa., was arrested at St. Clair, Mich., by U. S. Marshal, Large, of Detroit. He brought his family to St. Clair shortly after his arrival and they have been considered wealthy people. Breder's shortages were discovered about a year ago, but he eluded the officers. He says he took the money at various times because his salary was too small to allow him to live. He had been with the bank for over 30 years.

BLOODSHED.

EXCITEMENT AMONG STRIKING MINERS AT FEVER HEAT.

One Conflict Between Workers and Strikers—Developments in the Situation Being Watched With Great Interest.

Religious services were held in the strikers' several camps on Sunday and all were largely attended, but notwithstanding the religious air pervading the camp, a conflict between workers and strikers took place in the afternoon, during which three strikers were badly hurt, but none are in a serious condition. Five of the men who are working for the New York & Cleveland Coal Gas Co. went to Wm. Seamon's boarding house, about one-half mile from Oakland Tipple, where a number of strikers are quartered, for the purpose of persuading the strikers to go to work. The meeting was a stormy one and resulted in Antonio Podasky being shot near the heart, the bullet going almost through his body. Grongron Pimold was shot in the eye and Botiste Dalmezo was cut with a razor. The injured men are all strikers. This was the only disturbance recorded at the camps on Sunday. The aggressive workmen escaped before the men on the Oakhill camp were aware of the fight.

Mine Owners Will Use Force.

The operators of the Pennsylvania coal mines held a conference in Cleveland, and determined that mines in the Pittsburgh district should be started and operated without further delay on the grounds that the miners have taken a high-handed position; that nothing but an unreasonable price for mining will satisfy their demand. It was determined that all coal sold at the 54-cent basis of mining this year must be mined at that price. At least three-fourths of the tonnage of the Pittsburgh district was represented at the conference, and all are unanimous and agree to, if necessary, forcibly resume operations, with the exception of M. A. Hanna & Co. It is the intention of the Pittsburgh operators to engage Pinkerton men to protect their non-union men. This action will probably precipitate a terrible climax and the operators admit that blood will probably flow. One operator said: "If it is found necessary to do so, a whole army of detectives will be employed, and if the worst comes they will be supplied with Gatling guns and other equipments to convince the strikers that we mean business. District President Dolan of the Miners' union says that the operators were warned long before they made any contracts for coal on a 54-cent basis that an increase of wages would be asked. He says the operators replied that they did not fear a serious strike. But now that the operators have called for a fight we are in it to the bitter end. President Ratchford says: "We would much prefer to fight along peaceable lines as we have been doing, but our board will be obliged to meet the tactics of the other side and, also, to take steps to extend the fight into other methods to meet the injunctions. Our people are being arrested in a wholesale manner for holding public meetings and we don't propose to have injunctions break this strike." The executive board of United Mine Workers has called for a conference of all federated unions at St. Louis, Aug. 30. The purpose is to secure the cooperation of all these organizations. They will be asked not merely for sympathy, but to join in the great strike. The plan is to tie up traffic on the railroads and in other channels of business so that the supply of coal may be effectively cut off and thus force the operators to negotiate for a general settlement of the wage question.

Martial Law in the Strike Region.

Martial law has to all intents and purposes been declared in Plum, Patton and Wilkins townships, Allegheny county, Pa., by Sheriff Lowry. The three mines of the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal Co. are in these townships, and all roads leading to them will be patrolled by his deputies. Persons walking or driving along the roads who cannot give a satisfactory account of himself or herself, will be ordered to leave the neighborhood, and upon refusal will be arrested.

10,000 Workers Out of Employment.

Judge Jackson, of Wheeling, W. Va., has given a new construction to his injunction against the strikers in the Fairmont region and in the Loup Creek valley which makes it mandatory upon the strikers to discontinue all marches, the marching being considered a form of intimidation. In Wheeling there is a serious coal famine, 500 families being without fuel. Factories are closed and 10,000 men are thrown out of employment.

STRIKERS MUST NOT MARCH.

Permanent Injunction Restraining Them—The Strike Nearing a Crisis.

The effect of the injunction upon the strikers in the camps was rather disheartening. Several hundred left for their homes. A new plan of marching in pairs 100 yards apart was attempted, but the deputies turned them back. The farmers of the vicinity sympathize heartily with the strikers and besides furnishing several wagonloads of provisions planned to march to the Pinn Creek and Turtle Creek mines and make speeches to the men still at work. The class of men who will compose the parades have no fear of interference and will not disband at the command of a few deputies. The plan of having the women take the places of the men in the marches was put in force and about 150 of them marched to Camp Victory, near Canonsburg. Heeded by a band the women marched to the mine of Cook & Sons, where operations are still being carried on and about 20 of these miners joined the strikers. The question of right of strikers to visit employees of the mines is to be tested in the courts.

CONSTANTINOPLE IN TERROR.

Bombs Exploded near the Sultan's Palace—Bombs Exploded in Paris Also.

Constantinople: The city was thrown into a state of panic by the news of bomb explosions, attempted or accomplished at three different points. The explosions are attributed to the Armenians. The first bomb was thrown just outside the police headquarters in the Pera district. It failed to explode. Almost at the same moment an Armenian was arrested at the imperial Ottoman bank, in the Galata district, while carrying a package of explosives which he was trying to ignite. Another bomb was exploded in a private road between the vizierate (offices of the grand vizier) and the state council house. One man was killed and several others were severely injured. It is rumored that a similar outrage was attempted within the palace limits. The most abject terror prevails in the precincts of the palace. In many parts of the city all the shops were closed, and it was necessary to call out the entire police force and military before anything like calm was restored.

Attempt to Kill President Faure.

Paris: The departure of President Faure of France, on his visit to the czar at St. Petersburg was marked by a scene of greatest excitement. Ten minutes after his departure a bomb exploded at the corner of the Boulevard Magenta and Rue Lafayette, on the route the president had followed and it is believed that it was intended to explode as the president passed over it.

Hopes of a Princess.

Princess Kaiulani, who has just attained her majority, will return to Hawaii in October, after an absence of 10 years in England and on the continent. She has hopes of being made queen of the present island republic if annexation fails. She is watching for a change. When it comes she looks for a compromise between the Republicans and the Royalists in favor of herself for the chances of her aunt, ex-Queen Liliuokalani, being restored to power are generally conceded to be very slim in any event. The princess will arrive in New York about September 25 from England. She will probably for a short time in San Francisco visiting with the ex-queen, who will then be residing there temporarily. Kaiulani's father will accompany her.

Accident to Maccabee's Train.

An engine attached to a Knights of the Maccabees excursion train on the Chicago & Calumet terminal railroad was derailed near Riverdale, Ill. The passengers were thrown from their seats by the jar and one man was probably fatally injured. Seven others received slight injuries. After a delay of two hours the engine was raised to the track and the train proceeded. There were 500 passengers on the train and had the train not been running at a slow rate of speed a terrible loss of life would have resulted.

The miners were threatening to lynch Wood when he gave in and ordered his staff unloaded and the miners' outfits taken aboard.

PIERCED WITH BULLETS.

The Farmers' Bank at Shepherd, Mich., Completely Looted.

Elmer E. Struble, cashier of the Farmers' bank, at Shepherd, Mich., was found in the bank with three bullet wounds in his body, one near his heart. He was unconscious when found by E. A. Wisdom, proprietor of a hardware store in the same building in which the bank was located, and was lying on the floor in the office. He was carried to his home, and rallied enough to make a sworn statement as to who fired the shots, and died about an hour later. Robbers completely looted the bank, leaving but $10, which was found under the counter. The People's Savings bank at Mt. Pleasant failed and J. F. Ryan, proprietor of the Farmers' bank, telephoned the cashier, asking him if he anticipated any danger of a run on the bank as a result of the failure at Mt. Pleasant, and requested the cashier of the Farmers' bank to bring him the deposit ledger at an early hour in the morning. Mr. Struble said he thought no trouble would follow, and volunteered to bring the books wanted before banking hours in the morning. At 4 o'clock in the morning he went to the bank to get the books. The parties who fired the fatal shots were either in the building at the time when he entered or followed. Four shots were fired, three of which took effect, one passing through the body and piercing the left lung, one in the shoulder and one in the wrist. The finding of the bullets was proof conclusive that the shots were fired at the cashier while he was in the vault. It cannot be learned how much was stolen, as the individual deposit, the certificate of deposit, the general and draft ledgers, were stolen. Not a cent was left in the bank, and no other books were disturbed. J. F. Ryan says that all losses will be made good to a cent. Discrepancies have been discovered in Struble's statement, as two of the parties he named are many miles away. The officers are doing all in their power to ferret out the perpetrators, and detectives are now at work on the case. Legal advice is carefully taken that a wrong move may be avoided.

HOW TO FIND OUT

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it or bad effect following use of liquor wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention THE MAIL and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

A worthy woman residing in this village has learned by experience, how despicably mean a man can be. A few years ago this woman's sister died, leaving an infant daughter and a worthless husband. The woman of whom we speak took the little motherless child to her home and has since given it a mother's love and care. A short time ago the "ne'er-do-well" of a husband wrote to the little one's foster mother, from Detroit, that he had married again, was housekeeping, and would like to have her come and visit him, and bring the little girl with her, as he was anxious to see the child of his dead wife. This good woman accepted his invitation and went to Detroit, only to learn that she was dealing with an utterly unprincipled man, for he claimed his child, and positively refused to allow the woman who had taken its mother's place, to have it again. Heart-broken, she returned to her home, and it is understood that legal proceedings may be instituted to recover possession of the child on the ground that its father is not the proper person to have charge of it.
