To use an eighteenth century plyrase, this is an "o'er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginia town in the winter of 1902, it is a story very much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Barmon, of Meifa Station Va; had no personal knowledge of the rare curstive properties of Chanberian's Cough Remedy. "Last January," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold: and at one time I feared she would have pneumonia, but one o' my neighbors told me how this remedy had cured her little boy and I began giving it to my aby at once and it soon tured her. I heartly thank the manufactures of Chamberian's Cough Remedy for piacing so great cure within my cast to my too much in its favor. Miss Capataine is an example of what physical culture will do for her sex She does a clever act on the trapeze in addition to giving her exhibition of muscular development.

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved" writes Mrs. W. Watkins of Pleasant City, Ohio. "Penumonia had played sad havoe with him and a terrible cough set in besides. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound and well." Woven of Love and Glory.

For the next three days there was a busy time at Swaffham. All the neighbors were summoned to hear the news, and a seemon from Dr. Verity; and he did not spare the rod in the way of his calling. There were some wealthy young men present, and he let them know that they ought not be present; furthermore, he told them how many miles it was to Duty and to Scotland.

"This is not a time." he said, "for men to be on their farms or in their shops getting a little money. "Thou Shalt' is written on life in characters just as terrible as 'Thou Shalt Not It is not enough that you do not help the enemy; you Shall shut your shop, you Shall leave your oxen untied; you Shall take your musket, and never once think in your heart 'Who is going to pay me for this business?' ward and think over it."

Then Acton rose and said, "Doctor Verity, I will go," and Caithorpe and Fermor followed, and the Doctor told them to meet him at Swaffnam Market Cross the following day. "And I will say this to you," he added, "you are like to have the good fortune of the man bired at the eleventh hour; you will get the full penny for the

Some of the guests lingered for two and three days, but Dr. Verity would not be delayed. The next morning he enrolled sixty men and then he was resolved to ride with them as far as York. "And if Neville comes, send him quickly after me," he said. "He thought he might be four lays, but I will give him saven, and then wonder if he keeps tryst. There will be many things in London to delay him."

In fact, Neville was so long delayed, that Mrs. Swaffbam was certain he had been sent back to Scotland at once on Mrs. Cromwell's order, and that he would probably be with the Lord General before Dr. Verity. After a week or more had passed, all ex-pectation of his visit died out, and Jane began to wonder why Matilda had not been to see her.

As she was speaking there was a slight stir in the passage and Jane smiled at her mother. It was only an illustration of the old law-they had been talking of Matilda, because she was approaching them, and had sent her thoughts in advance.

Jane went to meet her friend, kissed her and removed her hat. Then Matilda went to Mrs. Swaffham and laid her head against her breast and said, "I have a bad headache. I have a bad heartache. Oh, dear! Oh,

THOUSANDS OF AMERICANS FOR

WESTERN CANADA.

"There will be thousands of Americans coming up here in the spring," was the remark made by a farmer from the vicinity, of Langdon, North Dakota, when he arrived in Winnipeg, Manitoba, the capital of Western Can-ada, a few days since. He was the ad-vance guard of a large body whe are following him, and he has already invested in several farming sections for himself and others and purposes to take up his permanent abode in this country. He went on to say: dreds are coming from my district alone. I know this to be a fact for many of them are neighbors of mine. The chief topic of conversation with the farmers is the coming immigration in the spring.

"The impression general in the part of Dakota where I live that farmers can get from 10 to 15 cents more a bushel for wheat on the American side of the line than on the Canadian side of the line than on the Canadian has not prevented people from turning their eyes to Canada as a place to live in. They know they can get land in this country which is every bit as fertile as that in Dakota at about one-quarter the price. It is safe to say that the exodus from Dakota into Canada this year will exceed the expectations of all Canadians. of all Canadians."

Urgent Need for New Gavel. The speaker of the New York as-sembly has had occasion of late to use his gavel freely, the result being that splinters began to fly from it occasionally. One of these struck Clerk Baxter in the face dangerously close to the eye. In a few minutes Assemblyman Bedell sent a resolution to the desk. Clerk Baxter read it as follows: "Resolved, That the clerk of the assembly, for his own protection, be empowered to purchase a new gavel for the speaker." "The resolution is unanimously adopted," laconic-ally remarked the speaker, and the house smiled.

King Will Travel in State.
It is annoussed that the king of Italy will cross from Calais to Dover in the spring, on a visit to King Edward, in London. He will travel from Paris to Calais over the Nord railway, in the train specially reserved for the French President, which will be put at his disposal by M. Loubet. On leaving Calais by special steamer, the king will be received and saluted by the English and French warships, which will escort his majesty across the channel.

For Electric Lights.

In view of the fact that we are soon In view of the fact that we are such that we are such to vote upon the question of bonding our village for the sum of $12,500 for the purpose of installing an electric lighting system, it seems proper and in city has been far better lighted and at the control of the municipal plant that the city has been far better lighted and at the control of the municipal plant that the city has been far better lighted and at the control of the municipal plant that the control of the control of the municipal plant that the control of the municipal plant that the control of the contro vote intelligently upon the matter, that we should consider it in its various phases and aspects. All I desire to do is to take up some of the objections I have heard urged against electric lights, whether the plant be owned by a private concern or the municipality, and more especially objections I have heard urged against ownership by the village and attempt, in an entirely friendly way, to answer the same.

It is urged by some that the time has not yet come for us to have our streets lighted by electricity, that we are not large enough, that our present lights are good enough and that we should not attempt to put on city airs too soon. In answer to these assertions it is enough to refer to the fact that throughout the State of Michigan there are probably not more than two of three villages of the size of Plymouth which are not electric lighted; In fact many villages of three-fourths the size have been so lighted for years. So true is this that the first thing the stranger notices when he walks along our streets is the fact that we are still using a syslarge majority of communities. So much on the question of whether need electric lights or not.

When it comes to the question of municipal ownership of our lighting system many objections are raised. It is said first of all that the estimates which are now on file in the office of the village clerk are not high enough. and that $12,500 will not be sufficient to completely install a plant. In an at the present time seems to favor elecswer to this assertion it might be said that those estimates were carefully prepared and that every electrical eli-gineer who has looked over the ground plant and the furnishing of light under

In a majority of cases where making the actual final cost about doud municipal ownership has been resorted ble the estimates. Any electrical enterprise is the service has been more economical new that with the modern arc light of to-day the inished under contract, and it is very double system is not necessary, as in ohvious why this should be so. upon the same circuit. The engineers who prepared the plaus and specifications for the proposed local system planned for are lights of the latest ap- ty is looking for good service; the conproved pattern, with the idea not only of getting a better light, but also with that of avoiding the double system.

Then it is said that the cost of maintaining electric lights will be so great that our taxes will be materially in-creased. I feel safe in asserting that after the second or third year after the installation of electric lights the local plant will be nearly, if not quite, self-austaining and that at the least calculation our streets will be lighted better and at a less rate than would be possible with a plant owned by private parties, the village to pay so much for each street light. I do not make this asser tion upon a belief merely as a foundation, but after a careful study of the history, development and present condition of municipal lighting through-To enforce my position let me give a few figures as taken from private letters and official reports.

f Northville than in any for the purp other: It is generally talked that this plant is run at a great loss to the payers each year. The report for the last fiscal year shows that the total to have public business under public control. Instead of the voter being interest to have public business under public control. Instead of the voter being interest business plant to the old and specious plant. operating expenses, extentions and improvements was less than $1,000, with forty are lights in commission. This is true in spite of the fact that the village donated something like $500 in lights to the various factories located there. The Village of Durand furnishes very interesting figures on the subject The original cost of the plant in that ras $12,000. Since the third year the plant has been self-sustaining and is now paying all operating expenses as well as for the necessary extensions to the plant and is paying the bonds at the rate of $1,000 each year.

The Village of Romeo installed its plant in 1897 at a cost of $13,750 its tracts are lighted by 41 are lights and ial cost to the Village last year for the same, after paying all exp was only $650.00. This Village is conceeded by all to be one of the best ighted villages in the state.

The Village of Chelsea purchased its electric light and water works plant for $43,000. After the payment of all expenses the combined plant for the year ending March 2nd, 1902, turned $1522.59 into the general funds of the village. The interest on the bonds, amounting to $2100, was paid from the general funds. This made the service rendered by the combined plants cost the village for that year $622.29.

The experience of nearly every city or village in the State of Michigan have ing municipal lighting, has been equally as favorable. Howell for the last six months has been operating its own plant and the street lights have in that time cost less than forty percent of what they did under the contract sys-tem. The City of Detroit up to the time of Mayor Pingree was lighted by a much less cost than before. City of Ypsilanti owns its own plant, and has for years, and its streets are lighted in a far more satisfactory manner than those of the sister City of Ann Arbor, where the contract system is in vogue and at only about half the cost Other institutions might be mentioned

It should be noted also, that the cost of light to private consumers in these places where the muncipality owns the plant is, as a rule, much those where private parties own it. In Romeo and Northville, for example, the rate is only eight cents per 1000 watts, whereas no private concern will undertake to furnish the same light at less than from twelve and one half cents to fifteen cents per 1000 watts. This in itself in a great saving to the inhabitants.

Considering then, that our presen street lighting (?) is costing something like $600 per year and that other villages no more prosperous and, I hope no more enterprising, are getting their streets lighted with electricity furnished from their own plants for from $600 to $1000, it is evident that the installatem of street lighting long ago de-clared worthless and antequated by the ed and properly managed, as we know it would be, would impose very little if any additional burden upon the tax-

TURN ON THE LIGHT.

The concensus of popular sentiment those estimates were carefully real division of opinion seems to be behas estimated that a plant could be incontract with private parties. This stalled here for from $10,000 to $13,000, question of public vs. private owner-It is asserted also that we will need ship is a burning one, in many ways a double system, that is, one plant to and numerous municipalities have scent and are lights can be placed main object of the municipality is to get the most for the least money, while the contractor seeks to give the least for the most money. The municipalitractor is hunting for profits. With honest administration lights would not cost the village any more than the con tractor, and with the item of profit added to the cost, lights furnished by contract must certainly be the most expensive. An incompetent, dishonest public official can be easily detected and punished or superceded, but a money-grabbing contractor could scrimp the service in many ways and still hold the village to the contract Under the municipal system, improve ments and change of regulations could be adopted whenever experience prov-ed them desirable, while oversights could not be corrected, or advisable amendments could not be made, in a contract during its life except by consent of both parties. Whenever the interest of either demanded a change the other party could refuse the demand until the expiration of the con-We are perhaps more particularly intract. Unjust Taxation.

The cars of the D. P. & N. Ry. were withdrawn from service Monday by Supt. Richmond because he feared a hold-up. The company had not paid its taxes and Township Treasurer Sloan of Northville notified Mr. Richmond last week that his taxes must be forth-coming by Monday morning The tax was not paid and rather than have his cars attached and held in Northville, the superintendent put them in the barn here. Negotiations were then opened with the result that an agreement was reached between the township officials of Northville, Ply mouth and Wayne not to interfere with the running of cars for a week, in which time it is expected the tax will be paid. The cars were again in service Tuesday forenoon.

The company has been most unjust ly and unreasonably assessed on its property in Plymouth, the figures being made to Supervisor Root by the State Tax Commission. The value of the gentlemen at $27,000 and the dinks cars at $9,000, a valuation above the cost by considerable. Every effort was made by the company to get its assess ment reduced and Supervisor Root did all he could, but the commission turned a deaf ear to all appeals. MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

The bill of the state tax commission, proposing a misu of pay for its members, is causing a great deal of talk among meinbers of the legislature and Chalman Freeman is working hard to have the bill go through. While it is true that large amounts have been added to the tax rolls, the lowering of taxes on account of it is not so prominent as to attract attention. The more money raised, the more grafts, seems to be the result and where the small property holder derives any particular benefit is not clearly visible above the horizon just now. The enormous sums asked for state institutions, if granted, will swallow much of the extra money raised, and the creation of new commissions, for party parties who need jobs will help deplete the funds. It seems to be a case of raising more money for more jobs and higher pay.

The legislature assembled for work at 9 p. m. Monday, the senset doing very little in fact beyond calling the roll and adjourning. All that was done was to table the $10,000 appropriation for the Sault Ste. Marie celebration. The house passed four bills to a third reading. The general primary election bill, which the elections committee of the house decided to report out as the measure on which the fight is to be concentrated, is a combination of the measures fathered by Chairman Colby and Rep. The way the suburban towns are hastling to get through bills which will allow them to bond is causing the members from Wayne to look sharp for reasons. No provisions are made for taking care of the bonds, and there is a strong suspicion that as soon as the towns secure the improvements they are seeking they will then seek for annexation with Detroit, thus saddling the payment of the bonds on the larger city.

The principal difference between the bill settled upon by the house elections committee and Rep. Colby's bill of two years ago is the addition of a clause making it a felony to use more money in securing a nomination than the salary or fees of the office sought amount to. The Wayne county primary bill makes the use of money merely a misdemeanor punishable by $1.000 fine or a year's imprisonment.

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD

The Fope's Anniversary.

The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the coronation of Pope Leo MHI on Tuesday was a most magnificent affair. Over 70,000 persons managed to get inside the Vatican enclosure. The crowds which gathered before the first cordon of troops were impattent as they stood dripping under the persistent rain. There was a great chashing of ambrelsas and a general feeling of discomfort among the walting sightseers. When finally the doors of Sr. Peter's were opened an almost indescribable struggle octived to reach the interior of the sacred edifice, and many ladies who ware lace gowns found them to be in a much mutilated cradition, and some of the wanen were carried away in a tainting condition. From his elevation on the new sedia gostatoria, carried by twelve men in costumes of red brucade, flauked by the fanzaous flabelli (apreading feather fans), and surmounted by a white and gold canopy, the pope appeared to be naver than a human being. He seemed to be a white spirit, this impression being sadded to by the popenials white robes and white mitre, delicate features, face white as allabater and his thim hand inoving slowly in hencediction. All, including even the baby Soy and girl, were clubed into insensibility, bound and gagged. The bandits applied burning torches to the faces and feet of all their victims, falstering even the infant's little feet. Christian Lochlin, an aged paralytic, was beaten so frequently that there is not a spor on his head that is not bruised and raw. The marandeers, leaving their victims securely fied, searched every acroser of the house, securing $300 in cash and several articles of jewelry. They drank several calculations of wine which they found in the cellar, prepared a hearty meal, including meat, potatoes, coffee, wine and other edibles and coolly devoured it, leaving the house at 4 o'clock in the morning.

The Paris correspondent of the London Dally News reports that Princess Margaret Maria, sister of the ex-crown princes of Saxony, is willing to succeed her as the wife of the crown prince. Marriage with a divorced wife's sister is not illegal, and Princess Louise would prefer to see Princess Margaret the stepmother of her children than a stranger. She also believes that some of her own popularity among the Saxon people will descend to her sister.

Congress Adjoursed.

The fifty-seventh congress adjourned at 12 o'clock, noon, Wednesday. Speaker Henderson's valedictory was largely an appeal to partissim and was greeted with an immense demonstration. When the house was finally declared adjourned sine die at 1232 p. m. the whole membership mited in singing the national authem. The members still singing, then filed down to the speaker's rostrum to bid the speaker farewell.

The senate adjourned promptly at noon. Mr. Allson, chairman of the comfaittee on appropriations, made-a statebant showing the amount of money appropriated by the present courses to be $1.54.108.518, as compared with $1.440.483.438 for the fifty-sixth congress. The first and most important item included in this statement for the present congress is an appropriation of $50.130.000 for the Panama canal, which he said, accounts for nearly one-half of the increase. There is an increase of over $2.000.000 for the prosonics department owing to the coormous increase in expenditures caused by increased postal business, and fige trust free delivery service required large sinus.

Littlefeld Bill Erjected.

Littledeld Bill Rejected.

The senate passed the naval appropriation bill and the military scademy appropriation bill with the military scademy appropriation bill Friday. Mr. Blackburn then moved to take up the Littlefield anti-trust bill. Mr. Quny stated that if the vote came upon the bill direct he would ask to be excused, as he owned stock in some of the so-called trusts affected by the bill, but he reserved the right to voke upon asking it up.
Backburn's motion was defeated 2S to 33, a party vote, with the exception of McComas and Weillingson, of Maryland, and Nelson, of Minneson.

The senate then went into exacutive session to consider the Panama canal treaty.

Basaitic Pillars That Have Resem-blance to Women.

In the parish of Duirinsh, Isle of Skye, Scotland, there are three curlous basaltic pillars a few hundred yards west of Idrigill Point. They are pyramidical masses of rock similar to the stacks on the coasts of Shetland and Wick. These basaltic pillars rise vertically from the sea. The largest of the three attains The largest of the three attains a height of 200 feet. The other two are about 100 feet high. The two latter are perforated and occur respectively, one in Loch Bracadale and the other near Loch Eynort. They are called "Maidens" because at a distance they are very like gigantic women dressed in cloaks and hoods. Sir Waiter Scott refers to them, and compares them to Norwegian riders of the storm. The country people call them "the mother and her two daughters." They might be described as three spires of rock rising sheer out of the sea, having the appearance of women, whose feet are ever washed by the foamy waters of the briny deep.

Signs of a Hard Winter.

The Lawrence (Kan.) Journal de-clares that the end of the cob will not clares that the end of the cob will not protrude from the husk in corn this year. "Ordinarily." It says, "that is what the ears would do, but they are not doing it this year. The husks are long and have grown away out beyond the end of the longest ears. The ears will be very long, longer than ever before but for all that the husks will be found covering the points. Know what this means? If you do not, then it is time you were finding out. It means a hard were finding out. It means a hard winter and plenty of it. It means that the coal barons will wax fat, and that we shall have six months of winter three months late in the fall and several weeks hard spring weather. At least that is the lesson so far to be drawn. But in order to make sure it will be necessary to see how the muskrats build when the water goes down, and how the squirrels fill their storehouses when the nuts fall. The nuts have thick coverings already and that is another sign that doesn't fall wery often. It might, though, if the muskrats do not build thick walls, and the squirrel bides only small sand the squire interest only man stores. But to us has been given the first sign of a hard winter by the thickness of the corn husk, and the wise man will begin to hoard up money for his coal bills."

WHAT OF THE ENGINEERS

Milligan's Work Forgotten in Praise

Showered on Capt Clark Having talked themselves nearly to a standstill about the achievement of Capt. Clark in bringing the battleship Oregon through the Straits of Magellan (not around the Horn, as it has been published countless times) and putting her into action at the battle of Santiago, the emotionalists for the first time should pause to consider by what means the gallant captain was enabled to accomplish that wonderful feat. A belief is grow-ing in the navy that her engines brought the Oregon around. Who combrough the engines, kept them going prevented journals from getting hot, governed their speed, and made sure that they did not suffer the usual breakdown? I guess that genius was Robert Wiley Milligan.
Did you ever hear of Milligan, chief

Did you ever hear of Milligan, chief engineer of the Oregon on that most famous of all voyages since Jason sought for the Golden Fleece? I trow not. Like Brer Rabbit, he seems to have lain low. All honor to Clark, but there are a thousand officers in the navy who could have "commanded" such a ship on such a voyage. I doubt, however, if there lives an engineer in the service who could have equaled Milligan's work in the engineroom. But Milligan remains a chief room. But Milligan remains a chief engineer, with the rank of command-er, and is now on shore duty in the Norfolk navy yard, unappreciated, un-Norfolk navy yard, unappreciated, unhonored and unsung. What in heaven's name would a battleship be without her' engines? A derelict.
What sent the Oregon after the Spaniards, with a "bone in her teeth?"
Her engines, under Milligan the perfection of mechanism. Is there no reward for the engineroom?—New York

How often you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later-learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency towards pneumonia. It always cures and is pleasant to take. Sold by Hubbell's Pharmacy and Meiler's Drug Store.

Energy Counts.

The idea of perfection depended on the definition which is given to the word. In order to be successful the young man must be energetic and persevering.—Rev. Dr. Patton.
