SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, Editor of the Enterprise, Shortville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." ## SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bones called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

Crops Are Promising.

In the official state crop report for April Secretary of State Warner says that the weather during March was especially fine for that month. The temperature was uniform throughout the state and much above the normal. The precipitation was considerably below the average. The ground was practically bare all the month. There was very little freezing and thawing, so that no damage was done.

Conditions during March were very favorable to wheat. The crop grew during the month and in most cases suffered no damage, although there was but little snow to protect it. Considerable wheat was sown very late last fall and is consequently small for this time of year. Some damage by the Hessian fly is reported, but unless conditions are very favorable for their work a good crop of wheat may reasonably be expected this year. Just 110 out of a total of 753 correspondents reported that wheat was injured during March, the balance reporting no damage. The average condition of wheat in the southern counties is 92, central 80, northern, 91, and in the state 91.

The average condition of meadows is 90 per cent for the state; horses, 95; cattle and sheep, 93; swine, 86.

Reports concerning fruit vary considerably, especially as to peaches. In some localities the buds seem to be badly killed. The recent cold weather may have injured the buds inasmuch as the warm weather in March had a tendency to open them up. More accurate estimates can be given next month when the buds will have developed more fully.

The following shows the prospects for an average crop of the various kinds of fruit, the figures being for the entire state: Apples, 90 per cent; pears, 93; peaches, 83; plums, 79; cherries, 90; small fruit, 88.

Shot His Son.

Walter Green, the 16-year-old son of a well known piano tuner of Grand Rapids, was the central figure in a wild west show, in which an old revolver was freely used, with probably fatal effect. It was supposed the revolver was unloaded, and the father and others gave realistic imitations of shooting Indians. The family was suddenly startled by the gun being discharged. The bullet hit Walter in the back of the head, and he may not recover. Upon examination it was found that every chamber in the revolver was loaded, and weakness of the hammer spring was all that prevented it going off earlier.

Ruthless Slaughter.

Deputy Game Warden Brewster, of Grand Rapids, says the stories of deer being slaughtered out of season are not exaggerated. With Field Deputy Coulter, Brewster made a two-weeks stay in the woods, resulting in the seizure of 21 beaver and 223 deerkins in a warehouse at the Noo. Some 31 carcasses of slaughtered deer, stripped of their skins were found near an abandoned camp in Chippewa county, at the head of Glimet creek. Warrants will be issued this week.

The Sugar Beet Factories.

"Sixteen beet sugar factories were operated in Michigan last year, for which 98,000 acres of beets were sown," says the Michigan Investor. "The beets received aggregated 459,079 tons of 2,240 pounds and the number of tons of sugar produced was 48,843. The figures of the previous year were 13 factories, 61,000 acres of beets sown, 442,083 tons of beets of 2,240 pounds received at factories, and output of sugar 46,692 tons.

Millions of Lake Trout Fry.

One million lake trout fry were planted in the lake in the vicinity of Marquette by Capt. Johnson, of the United States fish commission. The fry were transported here in a special fish car from the hatchery at Sault Ste. Marie, and another consignment is to follow. From the Soo hatchery 35,000,000 trout fry are to be distributed this year among Lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron.

Marshall's Heavy Loss.

The burning of the Hurd mill and numerous adjoining buildings at Marshall resulted in the destruction of about $100,000 worth of property. The fire started in the Hurd mill, which belongs to T. G. Shepard and J. E. Stevens, whose loss is about $40,000. The Michigan Central oil house, Queen Anne Soap Co. plant, several small residences and 20 boat houses along the Kalamazoo river were also destroyed.

Killed Their Medicine Man.

Details of the horrible murder of Louis Thomas, medicine man of the Hat Creek Indians, has been received at Redding, Cal. Thomas was shot six times, his head cut off and his body stripped of flesh by members of his tribe because he had allowed three men under his care to die. The Indians kicked the head around like a football.

Almost Half a Million in Taxes.

Since Saturday night the deaths from smallpox have occurred in Flint, and a great many cases are reported in all nearby localities. The recently elected president of Tekonsha announces a reward of $10 to the person who furnishes evidence leading to the conviction of parties selling liquor contrary to law within the limits of the corporation. As a feature of his rigorous policy he proposes to make war upon the druggists, if they are not more discreet in dispensing intoxicants.

Vessel spars, formerly secured in Michigan, must now be brought from the Pacific coast. At the Davidson shipyard in West Bay City a fir tree has just been worked up, the timber in which, delivered at the yard, cost $210. Six of the sticks just received cost over $1,200, of which $500 was for freight. This is more than double what similar timber brought when it was to be had in Michigan. The finishing adds in the neighborhood of 50 per cent to this.

A whole family of Holland immigrants jumped from a moving train on the Lake Shore at Argenta as it was pulling out of the station. They were bound for Allegan and when they heard Argenta called out they thought they had arrived at the end of their destination. The train was stopped, run back and the immigrants picked up with no more serious injury than many bruises. Their bundles were packed up and the train started again. An interpreter was found to whom they explained the misunderstanding.

The Pacific Express Co. offers $2,000 reward for recovery of the bar of gold stolen from the depot in Detroit.

Jackson prison is not so expensive an institution as some of Michigan's other lock-ups, as is shown by the appropriations to be reported. The amounts to be allowed for prison maintenance being $204,000, of which $78,000 is for the prison at Marquette, while Jackson, with more than twice as many convicts, has cost the state $20,000 less. The reformatory at Ionia has been more expensive than either, the amount allowed for that place being $88,000. Altogether the prisons cost $12,000 less in 1902 than 1901. There was a big jump, however, since 1892, the amounts for that year and 1900 being $138,000, or $68,000 less than in 1901 and 1902. In some asylums are much more expensive than prisons, the amount spent for the care of mental unfortunates during these two years being $1,243,122, an increase of $129,082 over 1891 and 1900. The senate committee on elections will lose no time in reporting out the general primary election bill with recommendation that it pass. Senator Kelly, of Muskegon, a member of the committee, is drafting the bill now which the committee will report out. This will provide for the nomination by direct vote of candidates for city, village and township offices, and possibly for the nomination of candidates for county offices. County conventions for the selection of delegates to state conventions will be preserved, delegates to such county conventions being elected by the Kelly primary arrangement. Delegates in these county conventions will vote openly by roll call of the individual precincts. The state convention and the legislative and congressional conventions will remain untouched.

Senator Waterbury has taken from the table his bill providing for the interchange of freight between electric and steam railroads and had it referred to the committee on railroads. He also presented several petitions from his district asking for the passage of this bill. The measure provides for the interchange of freight between steam and electric railroads and the regulation thereof. In case matters of difference arise between the roads in the regulation of business the railroad commissioner determines all disputes.

The senate on Tuesday considered the house joint resolution proposing to amend the constitution so that legislators should be paid a salary of $500 a year. After holding the measure about a month, the senate committee on state affairs raised the figure to $750 and the bill went through the committee of the whole. When it came up on third reading, however, only four senators voted for it—Cannon, Jones, Weekes and Fuller, so $3 per day remains.

Rep. Batchelder is not knocking the casino proposition for Belle Isle any more. He says the hard criticism he offered on the subject last week was inspired by a clause in the bill providing that the issue of bonds of $150,000 should not be included in the bonding limit. Now that the bill has been amended to include the issue in the limit, he thinks the bill isn't so bad, after all.

A bill passed by the house allows embalmers, outside of cities, to issue burial permits in certain cases where the township clerk is not available within a reasonable time after a doctor has issued a certificate of death. Harbor Beach Lutherans are building a fine new church.

A hobo was arrested at Kalamazoo on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He claimed he carried the revolver to protect himself from robbery, but as his total worldly wealth consisted of a plugged quarter, the police couldn't see that there was much need of protection on that score.

Some months ago a general exodus of people from Bay City to the state of Washington began. Now every mail brings letters discouraging others from going to that country. Men en route for Alaska are stranded there by the hundreds, and there are many more idle persons in the cities on Puget Sound than anywhere in Michigan.

Shell Exploded on the Iowa.

The premature explosion of a shell in a 12-inch gun on the battleship Iowa at Pensacola, Fla., killed three men and injured five, two seriously. A part of the crew were at target practice at the time and in the forward turret under command of Lieut. Reed. Mess call had just been sounded and the gun was the last to be fired that day. When the gun had been loaded the order to fire was given. The dull sound of the shell exploding inside the gun was heard instantly after the discharge and three pieces of the muzzle, weighing about a ton each, outside of the turret, dropped through the deck, falling in the midst of a group of men at mess. The men who were killed were badly crushed and mangled. None of those who were firing the gun were hurt.

927 Soapbubble Trusts Crushed.

Gov. Murphy's annual proclamation dissolving the trusts and other corporations that have not paid their annual tax to the state of New Jersey, was sent to the printers. It wipes out 927 companies, having an authorized capital of $239,000,000. There are all kinds of wrecks in the list and their debris is scattered pretty generally over the United States and Alaska. Mining companies, Bologna trusts, railroad corporations, steamship lines and corn cure creations are intermingled indiscriminately. Nobody can tell how many hundreds of thousands of innocent persons have been swindled into purchasing their stocks, but the transfer books of a few, recently exhibited in the state courts, would seem to indicate that their number is legion.

With Silencers and Revolvers.

Under a murderous fire from 13 desperate Italians who were strongly entrenched behind heavy oak doors, 20 policemen charged a saloon at 1900 Armonk avenue, Chicago, in search of the assassin of Frank Wink, who was picked up near the saloon suffering from five knife wounds and other injuries. The battle between the police and the Italians lasted several minutes. A number of the Italians and two officers were injured.

The Dearest Gift

When all the dancing feet are still,
The rose's bloom is shed and sped,
When she has waited her happy fill
With Will and Jack and Ted and Fred,
Tired of the whirl and jollity,
Her lovely eyes weighed down with sleep,
Then, at the last, she comes to me,
And she is all my own-to keep!

I find her gloves and tie her wrap,
We say good nights to left and right;
Now I'm the to-be-awful chap!
Ah, now, indeed, it is good night!
Of lovers' joy let woeful prate;
What could a man ask more, in life,
Than this best, dearest gift of fate—
To have a sweetheart for a wife!

An Amateur Detective

No one who had happened to observe the figure of Mr. Bromley Brown wandering about his garden on a certain mild April morning would have imagined him to be suffering from an acute sense of regret for his wasted opportunities.

A girl's figure leaned out and a young voice called to him:

"Why do you look so solemn, papa, dear? What a perfect day it is! Warm and sunny enough for June!"

"I was thinking," he said, impressively, "of how very little material comfort signifies, and how few of us are satisfied! I know I may not look it, but since my earliest days I have often told you, I have had a curious, wild craving for adventure, for some excitement outside the deadly routine of a business life. It is hard that of a business life."

Valentine laughed and leaned still further out of the window. She, for her part, was absolutely satisfied with the fair face worn by the world around her.

Her father took off his gold-rimmed glasses and laid down his newspaper.

"Ha! this is most curious!" said he. "What a splendid chance if one could only light upon him—the plausible scoundrel! The shrewd young villain!"

Valentine turned her gray eyes on his shifting crimson face.

"Listen to me—Val," he cried; "you remember the general told us last week that the Mumbys and the Jellicoes had both had their pantry windows forced open?"

"Did he? I don't think I was listening."

Mr. Bromley Brown here proceeded to read aloud an extract from the newspaper.

"The architect-burglar," for by this sobriquet this accomplished criminal is now known, has been seen, it is believed, not long ago in this neighborhood, although probably he is now many miles away from the scene of his late exploits. He is described as a young man of gentlemanlike and military appearance, with fair hair and mustache, and wearing clothes of fashionable make."

Mr. Bromley Brown was soon absorbed in meditation. He pictured himself, resolute, terrible, cunning, bounding down this distinguished criminal, bringing him to justice.

He fell asleep to the accompaniment of the lark's song and dreamed that he was the chief of police in Russia. Waking up with a start he heard the clock strike 12.

A few yards away in the road he saw the figure of a young man, tall, fair, yes, and of unmistakably soldierly appearance! And he was sketching. A thrill ran down Mr. Bromley's spine. He might not be the chief of the Russian police, but was he not on the eve of a discovery, an adventure, the possible player in a great and dramatic case?

In one moment his mind had been made up. He would invite this young man, obviously no other than the architect burglar, with friendly greeting, into his house. A hurried word to the coachman would send him, on looked up smilingly. In answer to the remarks of the old gentleman by the hedge, he said that he had come a considerable distance—that—and this with a very pleasant laugh—well, yes he was thirsty and that there would be plenty of time to finish his sketch after luncheon, and that he thought it a most kind suggestion of his questioner to invite him to have some.

For one instant Mr. Brown glanced nervously at a silver box and candlesticks on Valentine's writing table. Then, murmuring an excuse, he ran panting to the stables; in a choking voice dispatched the astonished coachman for the police, and a helper, with an impressive message scribbled on a card, to Gen. Compton.

On his return he found the architect-burglar laughing over a favorite book of Valentine's, the "Diary of a Nobody"—and they two talked, Mr. Brown for his part with a curious absent-mindedness of books and different forms of humor.

The parlor maid interrupted them to say that some cold meat was ready, and the two men adjourned to the dining room. The guest seemed truly grateful for a whisky and soda.

"That's a beautiful old cup," he remarked, pointing to a piece of silver of Queen Anne date in the middle of the table.

Mr. Bromley Brown's expression of mingled triumph and sarcasm passed unnoticed by the cheerful young visitor.

The clock struck one—and he rose quickly to his feet.

"Thank you a thousand times for your hospitality," he said, pleasantly. "I am afraid I must be off. You see, I am sketching for duty, not pleasure."

There was a sound of steps at the door, and a voice outside, which

"And these are lovely spoons," observed the architect burglar, with appalling coolness.

sounded like a word of command, said:

"Where is the man?"

The door was flung open, and a tall, soldierly figure stepped quickly into the dining room.

"Well, Brown, what's all this about?"

Gen. Compton, young and alert for his years, stared at his friend with a pair of very keen eyes under white eyebrows. "You told me it was some very urgent business," continued the general. Then his eyes fell on the young man by the further window.

"Bless my soul, Estcourt, I didn't see it was you in the corner!"

"Yes, and how are you, general?" said the young man, advancing with a cordial smile.

Mr. Bromley Brown felt a sudden cold perspiration on his forehead. He was entirely unable to utter a word.

"Mr—Mr?" said the young man, "was so kind as to ask me to have a whisky and soda."

"Ah, then you don't know each other?" said the general. "Brown, this is Lord Estcourt, son of my old friend whom I have often talked about, you know. He is working like a nigger at the college," and the speaker pointed toward a distant view of a large white building miles away beyond the grove of pines.

"Estcourt, this is Mr. Bromley Brown, one of my best neighbors."

Mr. Brown felt as if some one had struck him a violent blow on the head.

"Papa, papa!" A fresh young voice came echoing from the garden, and in another moment a young girl ran into the room.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

"Papa, there are two policemen here! They say they have come for some one—what does it mean?"
"Oh! only about the chickens that were stolen, my dear," said her father miserably.

"But there are no chickens! You know you wouldn't have any, because you said they spoil the garden."

"Did I say chickens?" Mr. Bromley Brown's dreary expression was that of a victim being led to execution.

"Of course, I mean the forced strawberries. Valentine, my dear—"

The young man was still gazing at the lovely, puzzled face of his host's daughter.

"Your father has been so kind to me, Miss Brown," said he. "I am struggling over military drawing, and in daily terror of being plowed."

"Oh! You are studying at the college?"

"Yes—I wonder—would you and your father care to come over and see it some day?"

"Oh, that would be delightful, papa, dear, wouldn't it?"

"Yes, indeed, indeed it would." Mr. Brown was still feeling half paralyzed.

"Good-by, Estcourt, my boy," said Gen. Compton. "I have got to have a word now with Brown on some most important business about which I came down."

Lord Estcourt drew a little nearer to Valentine.

"You will drive over very soon, then, Miss Brown?"

"Thank you—I am sure we shall enjoy it ever so much!"

"Then we won't say good-by, I think," said he, as he took her hand.

Hope.

When all our dreams and aims have come to naught

And darkening clouds of fear and doubt assail;

When all in vain some comfort we have sought,

And all our friends and consolations fail;

When sad-eyed, heavy-lidded sorrow waits

Upon our souls, by poignant grief oppressed,

Deepening ourselves accursed of the Fates,

Who grant us neither happiness nor rest.

Thou comest, heaven-sent, with beaming eye,

To raise us from the depths of our despair;

Thou bidst us lift our glances to the sky,

With darkening gloom straightway to becometh fair;

The morbid mists which wrapped our souls around

Are quickly by thy influence dispelled;

Anticipated pleasures then abound

And all our fears and doubts are haply quelled;

The lowering clouds their silver linings show,

The weary road that once appeared so long

Each moment shorter to us seems to grow.

Whilst all our sighs are turned into song.

Victims of Too Much Sympathy.

The Rev. Dr. Lorimer, the minister at the Madison Avenue Baptist church, is responsible for this story, though he does not vouch for the truth of it, useful as it may be to point a moral:

"A nestful of young linnets were in the corner of a field in India. Having lost their mother, they were cold and hungry. They flapped their little featherless wings, thereby attracting the attention of a huge elephant which stood near by.

"Ah," said the elephant, "you poor little things. You have lost your mother, and have nobody to nestle you. I am a mother, and have a mother's heart. I will nestle you and keep you warm!" And thereupon the elephant sat upon the nest containing the poor little linnets.—New York Times.

"Hurry Up" Lacking.

Almost the first words which Italians learn in coming to this country are "Hurry up!" and this also expresses the first idea which they glean from their new environment. A young Italian who has been in this country just six months found, when he welcomed a younger brother at the end of that time, that there was already a slight difference in their point of view. In deprecating his brother's shortcomings to a friend he remarked:

"I see my brother sees too much Italian; I see he sees not 'buff hurry up.'"

How the Dahlia Was Named.

A strange spindly plant with nodding little flowers was sent from the city of Mexico to the Madrid botanical garden, in 1784, and being new to the botanists, was named Dahlia, after Dahl, a Swedish botanist. Florida soon noticed the great possibility of variation in the flower in color and size, but it was rare in Europe until Humboldt brought from Mexico a quantity of the seed.

Urges Change in College Methods.

Prof. Dewey of the Boston Institute of Technology, in speaking before the convention of educators and business men at Ann Arbor, Mich., deplored the lack of fitness shown by college graduates for the hard realities of life. Prof. Ripley of Harvard university, urged the enforcement of business methods of exacting attention to study all through a university student's course.

Room Needed.

Cadleigh—"I heard you would probably have to make an assignment."

Merchant (coldly)—"You have been misinformed."

Cadleigh—"Doin' well, eh? Oh, well, I suppose everybody's business is big these days."

Merchant—"Of course; otherwise you wouldn't be able to get your nose into it."

The Benton Harbor News editorially considers the question whether the game of flinch should be considered sinful, and its conclusion is this: Any game played with the "church pack" can be easily played with the regulation cards. A representative of the Lansing Sugar Co. was in town last week, says the Portland Review, closing up the contracts here for raising sugar beets this season. The steady growth of the industry is a source of much gratification to those who have hopes of some day seeing a sugar factory built in Portland. Last year only 78 acres of beets were raised in this vicinity, but the farmers were so well pleased that many of them have doubled their average this year and the contracts taken last up to 175 acres.

TWO SIGNALS.

There are two serious signals of Kidney trouble. The first signal comes from the back with numerous aches and pains.

The second signal comes in the kidney secretions. The urine is thin and pale, or too highly colored, and showing a "brick-dust like" deposit.

Urination is infrequent, too frequent or excessive.

You should heed these danger signals before chronic complications set in—Diabetes, Dropsy, Bright's Disease.

Take Doan's Kidney Pills in time and the cure is simple.

J. F. Wainwright, of the firm of Bones & Wainwright, painters and contractors, Pulaski, Va., says: "Four or five times a year for the past few years I have suffered with severe attacks of pain in my back, caused from kidney trouble. During these spells I was in such misery from the constant pain and aching that it was almost impossible for me to stoop or straighten and it really seemed as if the whole small of my back had given away. At times I also had difficulty with the kidney secretions which were discolored, irregular and scalding, and I was also greatly distressed with headaches and dizziness. I used a number of recommended remedies but I never found anything so successful as Doan's Kidney Pills. When I heard of them I had an attack and procured a box of them. In a few days the pain and lameness disappeared, the trouble with the kidney secretions was corrected and my system was improved generally. I have every confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Wainwright will be mailed to any part of the United States on application. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.

Of Galveston, Texas.

"Wine of Cardui is indeed a blessing to tired women. Having suffered for seven years with weakness and bearing-down pains, and having tried several doctors and different remedies with no success, your Wine of Cardui was the only thing which helped me, and eventually cured me. It seemed to build up the weak parts, strengthen the system and correct irregularities."

By "tired women" Mrs. Adams means nervous women who have disordered menses, falling of the womb, ovarian troubles or any of these ailments that women have. You can cure yourself at home with this great women's remedy, Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui has cured thousands of cases which doctors have failed to benefit. Why not begin to get well today? All druggists have $1.00 bottles. For any stomach, liver or bowel disorder Theford's Black-Draught should be used.

WINE OF CARDUI

It is the man who wishes he had rich friends from whom he could borrow money that so love to curse the rich.

You can always find out what gossips are saying about you to other people by listening to what they say about other people to you.

A woman who would face a pack of mad dog wouldn't have the courage to tell the cook she can't afford not to have warmed-over meals.

No matter how late a man goes home at night he ought to have too much consideration for his wife to argue with her about what time it is.

When a man gets the grip he can drink a quart of whisky to cure it, but all a woman can do is to cry because blowing her nose makes it red.

UNCLE RASTUS' PHILOSOPHY. If yo' enemy is gwine die, you is too.

"Taint constitution dat's de willin' hoss; taint resolution.

"Taint worth while suttin' up to be wise ef ou cyant keep yo' mouf shtet.

"Taint no use lettin' yo' neighbors see by de spression ob yo' countenance dat yo' shoe pinch you.

'Brer Rabbit would 'a got deah fns' ef he hadn' a knowed dey was bettin' on him.

When you sows yo' wheat, one grain tetch de groun' fore de yothers, but 'twont make no diffence in de growth.

MUSINGS. The man that talks most is usually heard the least.

The dog gives evidence of having more gratitude than most men.

Perhaps the Gorgon was a myth, but did you ever tread on a lady's dress?

Flying Visit to St. Louis

Through the well-directed efforts of the secretary of the Eastern Michigan Press Club, W. H. Maswin, of Utica, the members of the club were enabled to take a few days' vacation last week at a minimum cost. Mr. Marvin presented facts to the Wabash railroad officials in such a "taking" manner that they were induced to grant a favorable concession to the club and two elegant coaches were provided for the use of the pen-pushers. And more than that, the cars were attached to the fastest train on the road—the Continental Limited—which makes the trip from Detroit to St. Louis in eleven hours and fifteen minutes. To ride on such a train is really enjoyable. The party was accompanied by R. S. Greenwood, the Michigan Passenger Agent and all wants and information was promptly and pleasantly furnished by him. As is known, 28 telegraph posts are set to the mile, and on the return trip on a down-garde road, 56 posts were counted in 90 seconds. They were going some. Short stops are made only at the largest towns. The road-bed is of the best, there being but few curves or heavy grades. All through trains carry chair cars and sleeping and dining cars and they are lighted by gas. The service is as complete as it can be made, every comfort of the passenger being anticipated. If any of our readers are contemplating making a trip west or any of the numerous excursions advertised, we certainly would commend them to take the Wabash line, either to Chicago, St. Louis or Kansas City. Full information as to all excursions and time schedules will be gladly furnished by A. F. Wolfschlagler, passenger and ticket agent at Detroit.

The train bearing the editorial party, numbering nearly a hundred, left Detroit about an hour late, arriving in St. Louis at 8:30. Hotel headquarters were made at the Laclede—European plan. After a night's sleep, the next morning found the people facing a drizzling rain to mar the pleasure of the day. The program was a visit to the site of the St. Louis Exposition. Street cars were placed at the disposal of the party and the rain had no dampening effect on the spirits of any member. They were out for a time and a little water "on the side" was of no consequence. Arriving on the grounds, we were taken to the temporary administration building, a large college building, where were met the officials of the exposition, ex-Gov. Francis, who is the President, Secretary Walter B. Stevens and others. Both these gentlemen addressed the members of the club, giving a brief outline of the work of the exposition, its scope and its prospects for the most successful fair ever given. The grounds cover an area of 1,200 acres, larger than the Chicago world's fair, the Buffalo fair and the Paris exposition all put together. The buildings will be larger and more ornamental and the grounds laid out in beautiful manner. The fair association will not be handicapped for lack of money, over $50,000,000 being at their disposal. The managers have had representatives abroad and we were assured that every civilized country in the world would be represented with exhibits. Several remarkable foreign concessions had been made that were never granted before to any enterprise of any kind. At the present time most of the larger buildings are well under way and some idea may be obtained of their immensity. We have not space to go into detail in this matter. The various departments in the administration building were visited and the original plans and drawings were inspected, on which work was begun over two years ago.

After seeing these, the company was invited to participate in an seven-course lunch and an hour and a half consumed in this way. Carriages were then provided and the visitors taken on a tour of inspection of the grounds, which on account of the incessant rain, was rendered more or less unpleasant and unsatisfactory. Enough, however, was seen to convince all of the magnitude of the undertaking to eclipse everything heretofore seen in that line and if the citizens of St. Louis don't get the people of the world in 1904 to visit their show it will not be because they have not met all their promises and expectations. The fair is given as a commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the Louisiana purchase from the French government, and it will be known as the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Saturday morning the press people visited the Anheuser-Busch brewery, special cars being tendered by St. Louis Transit Company. This plant we understand to be the largest of the kind in the world, covering 125 acres, or 60 city blocks. The most interesting part of the whole visit was the bottling department, which has a capacity of 700,000 bottles of beer daily. Several dozens of machines are used for this purpose and it is wonderful how quickly a bottle is filled, corked, wired or tin-foiled and labeled. Much of this work is done by boys and girls, some of the children being scarcely more than ten years old. They become expert, however, in their work. Everything is automatic as near as can be made. Five thousand people are employed by the company. The brew-house has a capacity of 6,000 barrels daily. Not the least interesting to the visitors was the private stable kept by Mr. Busch, as fine a stable of horses and carriages as is owned by any person. Everything is kept as neat and clean as a parlor. After the tour of inspection was completed the visitors were in condition to enjoy a sample of the product of the institution, gratefully accepted by most of them.

Saturday afternoon was devoted by members as they pleased, many visiting the Inland Type Foundry, and were conducted through the plant by the President thereof. The weather was warm and nearly every one felt the inconvenience of it. The evenings were spent in visiting various theatres.

The writer, with a few others, visited also the Planter's hotel, probably the most magnificent hostelry in the west, Chicago not excepted. Colonel Meigs of the Detroit Western Newspaper Union, was a guest of the house, and through his kindness in securing permission we were enabled to visit the various parlors and rooms, the furnishings of which were simply grand and beyond our capacity to describe. The bridal suite was the most interesting to the ladies and our guide informed us that $45 per day was the price charged not including meals. The furniture and decorations was the best money could produce. The visit to the hotel was one of the pleasantest occasions of the entire trip.

Sunday morning nearly all the party started early for the Union depot in order to get a glimpse of the magnificent building, the largest of the kind in the United States. All trains arrive and depart from this station and it is a very lively place, even on Sunday morning. Cars were boarded at nine o'clock and at 8:15 we were landed at Detroit, each to look out for himself to get home, and each impressed most kindly with the courteous treatment of the Wabash officials.

Mr. McCleary, of McCleary & Colquitt, electrical supply agents of Detroit, was before the council Monday evening and made a verbal proposition to furnish all supplies for the new electric lighting plant, the work to be done by the village itself. The council members seemed to be very favorably impressed with the gentleman's statements and have asked for a written proposition. The gentlemen named have furnished supplies for a number of cities and villages to all of whom they refer for recommendation. The committee will visit some of these places and make a careful inspection. A site for proposed plant has not yet been selected, but several places are under consideration.

For some time matters have been pending looking towards the consolidation of the two village banks—The First National and the Savings. While some of the stockholders of both banks favored the proposition, there was some opposition manifest, not only by the stockholders but also by the people who do business with the banks. The matter was considered carefully and at a meeting of the directors Wednesday of the First National, the proposition was finally rejected. The banks are both in excellent financial condition and a credit to the business interests of the village. Business at both places will be conducted as usual. It is probable C. A. Fisher will be the new cashier of the First National. Mr. Fraser who has served in that capacity for many years, retiring from the active management.

Almost a Second Flood.

Saturday evening there came down from the heavens a flood of rain that inundated almost everything in this vicinity. The rain fell in sheets and undoubtedly was a cloudburst. At Northville the damage seemed to be most severe, the Amherst dam going out bodily and other destruction being wrought. At Waterford the creek there was swollen to such dimensions that a large section of the 20-foot railroad embankment was undermined and when a freight train passed over it, the track squashed out and eight or ten cars of coal were dumped over the banks.

The trolley line between here and Northville was also rendered useless by washouts until Sunday afternoon before repairs were made, and a small wash-out also occurred near Newbtry that delayed traffic for several hours. The crews were worked all night to make repairs.

The waters of the mighty Rouge also carried away about twelve feet of the west embankment of the Wilcox mill-dam, entailing a probable damage of at least $300. Other minor damage was wrought in and about the village and there probably was not a dry cellar in this whole section. Inhabitants say it was the most severe rain storm that has ever passed over this section.

A Good Recommendation.

"I have noticed the the sale on Cham berlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets is almost invariable to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Cascade, Iowa. What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when again in need of such a remedy? Try them when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. For sale by Moller's Drug Store.

THE PROSPERITY OF CHURCHES.
Valuable Property Owned by Denominations in Cities.

The marvelous business development of our large cities has brought a new element into the problem of the down town church. Such churches find that there are what Emerson called "compensations." While they are often worried over the loss of income-producing members, they find themselves in the possession of a valuable property; and the question is what to do with it.

Within a year or two a number of these churches have had to determine their policy in the light of their opportunities as owners of valuable real estate. The example of the Broadway Tabernacle is still fresh in mind. That church sold its corner for $1,350,000. A more recent sale, not quite so large in amount, but involving an even more historic site, was that of the Park street church, in Boston, which obtained $1,000,000 in round numbers for its property. The Madison Square Presbyterian church obtains a site for its new church across the street from its present location and a bonus of $325,000.

The first Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh has a valuable site down town in the heart of the business district. It was offered a large sum of money for this site outright, but preferred to accept, in lieu of such a sale, a ground rent of $30,000 a year on a lease for 999 years, plus a cash bonus of $150,000.

The Second Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh has been offered $435,000 for its present site, and expects to get a full million dollars for it. The proposition now is to add something like $300,000 to this, and with this sum erect on an adjacent site a structure which will include a secular and commercial feature, as well as provide accommodations for a well-organized church.—Church Economist.

W. C. T. U.
Next week Thursday, April 23rd, the W. C. T. U. will observe Mary T. Lathrap day. All members are expected to be present and honor our departed leader.

The annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. held Thursday April 9th in I. O. O. F. Hall was attended by about fifty members and guests.

Reports of officers and superintendents showed good work done during the year.

All the officers were re-elected except Mrs. Carrie Markham, she positively declining a re-election. Mrs. Jennie Voorhies was therefore chosen to succeed her as president. Mrs. Markham has served most faithfully for the past three years and it was with deep regret that the members heard of her refusal to hold office for the coming year.

After the election of officers a short program was rendered: an instrumental duett by the Misses Adams, which was greatly enjoyed by all present, an original recitation by Miss Belle Hanford which proved very amusing, and a dialect reading, "The Rose Suicide," by Miss Nettie Pelham.

Ice cream and cake was then served to the company and a pleasant time enjoyed by all.—Supt. Press.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed by Hubbell's Pharmacy.

What They Covered.
Ex-Gov. Alonzo B. Cornell, who was at the Astor house last week, was stopped by a ragged and unkempt panhandler on Barclay street the other night, and asked to contribute a dime for something for the hobo's supper, says the New York Times.

"Not a dime; not a cent, Sir!" ejaculated the ex-governor. "Why, sir, you are young strong and better able to get your own living than I am. I've no sympathy with the lazy nor with the dishonest, who come to want through crime, sir."

The panhandler, still importuning, resented the last stab, and replied: "True, my pants may be ragged, but, sir, they cover a warm heart, sir."

Danger of Colds and Grip.
The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale at Meilers drug store.

An Electric Tree.
There is a peculiar tree in the forests of central India which has most curious characteristics. The leaves of the tree are of a highly sensitive nature, and so full of electricity that whoever touches one of them receives an electric shock. It has a very singular effect upon a magnetic needle, and will influence it at a distance of even seventy feet. The electrical strength of the tree varies according to the time of day, it being strongest at midday and weakest at midnight. In wet weather its power disappears altogether. Birds never approach the tree, nor have insects ever been seen upon it.

A Great Sensation.
There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind. when W. H. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from Asthma, but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c, and $1.00. Guaranteed by Hubbell's Pharmacy. Trial bottles free.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.
How To Find Out.
Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
