A Great Sensation.

There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind. when W. H. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from Asthma, but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c. and $1.00. Guaranteed by Hubbell's Pharmacy. Trial bottles free.

Grueger and Taylor, the two Detroit men arrested for burglarizing the home of Fred Jarvis, of Salem, while he and his wife were in a hospital at Ann Arbor were bound over to the Circuit Court. Bail was fixed at $500 each and Taylor furnished his. The defense did not offer any testimony on the examination.

With the object of discovering a cure for typhoid fever a remarkable experiment is being tried at Ann Arbor University, Michigan. Six big tanks have been constructed with a layer of gelatin, and on these 144 square feet of the fever germs are grown at a time. These living germs are scraped off, killed and bottled up. Ten ounces of them would kill 70,000 guinea pigs. The object is, if possible, to extract the poison from the germ bodies, feed animals with it and try to discover an antidote.

On Tuesday evening, April 14th, at 7:30 Miss Anna Cowetzka of Swift and Mr. Frank Oaks were married at the home of the bride—Rev. Geo. Ehnis of Plymouth tied the knot. Tillie Oakes, sister of the groom, was brides-maid and Herman Cowetzka, brother of the bride, best man. After the ceremony the bridal party came to the home of Mr. Oaks where a reception was given them. Guests from the neighboring towns were present. A number of nice presents were received.—Wayne Review

Second Annual Field Day.

The only thing that can prevent the 2nd Annual Field Day being a huge success is the weather. All arrangements have been made for a very enjoyable time. South Lyon will not be presented this year but hopes to be next year. Northville is all broken up this year and has decided to make no entries. Northville's absence will be more than made up, however, by a very enthusiastic delegation from Chelsea. Season tickets, good for the ball game Friday afternoon and both sessions, Saturday, will be sold for 25c. Single admission has been placed at 15c. The Chelsea delegation will arrive Friday afternoon and will be entertained by the Plymouth boys while here.

The girls of the High School and 7th and 8th grades will give a reception Saturday evening in the school-house to the contestants and visiting school people. Beginning Saturday morning at 9:30 the following list of events will be given: 100 yard dash, putting 12 lb. shot, 440 yard dash, pole vault, 220 yard dash, 1/2 mile run, throwing discus, 220 yard low hurdles, throwing 12lb. hammer, high jump, running broad jump, 40 yard dash, standing broad jump, relay race.

The track at the fair grounds is being put in shape, the hurdles have been made by the students and Mr. Betty has made a very good vaulting pole for the boys at a very reasonable figure. Mr. Burton Brown and his assistant have been secured to be upon the fair grounds during the meet to see that no disorder occurs. Six of the stalls at the end of the grand stand have been cleaned and filled with fresh straw to accommodate the contestants. In order that no dispute shall take place every decision will be left to the referee, who will be appointed by the Inter-Scholastic Department of Athletics at the University of Michigan.

Warning.

If you have kidney or bladder trouble and do not use Foley's Kidney Cure, you will have only yourself to blame for results, as it positively cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases. Hubbell's Pharmacy.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, Editor of the Enterprise, Shortville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." THE MICHIGAN NEWS

What is Doing in All Sections of the State

A Narrow Escape.

Charles A. Jackson, of Benton Harbor, nearly lost his life by asphyxiation Sunday and Mrs. Jackson was almost overcome. Passersby heard Mrs. Jackson, who was in a dazed condition, trying to open the door, which was later forced from the outside. The mysterious part of the case is that one gas jet in the store where Jackson was found was turned on full force, a circumstance which no one is able to account for. Mrs. Jackson was occupying a room over the store and inhaled part of the gas. An investigation will be made. Jackson has for many years conducted the only pawnshop in this city, and both he and his wife are quite wealthy.

Davis Was Falsely Accused.

Eight witnesses were sworn Saturday in the investigation by the superintendent of the poor of charges against Overseer Davis, of Ithaca. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Dawson, who worked at the farm for the last five years of Davis' former term. They, as well as the rest of the witnesses, testified that the charges were false in every particular. The hearing will be closed early in the week. There is little question but the board will exonerate Davis, who declares he will not rest until he has punished his political enemies, to whom he attributes responsibility for the charges.

The Trust Controls.

It is learned from an authoritative source that the Michigan and Bay City sugar beet factories, now practically controlled by the trust, and the German-American, which is to be turned over to the trust, will be placed under one management. Worthy L. Churchill, president of the Bay City company, being placed in charge as manager and president of the three factories. In addition, Churchill is president and manager of the new factory being built at Tawas, which will make four factories under one head.

Rich's Sentence Confirmed.

The Supreme Court affirmed the conviction of Arthur L. Rich, a member of the last legislature, for an attempted assault of felonious character. Rich was sentenced from Newaygo county to two and a half years in the Ionia reformatory, and has been out on bail pending the decision on his appeal. The opinion of the court is unanimous. After reviewing at length the assignments of error, it asserts that the case did not depend on circumstantial evidence, the testimony of the complaining witness to the main fact being direct.

Three Were Drowned.

A triple drowning occurred Sunday in Excelsior township. The lake where the tragedy occurred is six miles east, and about a mile north of Kalkaska. Mr. and Mrs. John Victor and Miss Maggie Fultz, Mrs. Victor's sister, were out in a fishing boat, and the boat capsized. The unfortunate people went down when within six rods of the shore. All were from Kentucky.

Davis Exonerated.

The investigation by the superintendents of the poor into the charge of immorality and cruelty against Jerry Davis as keeper of the Gratiot county poor house results in Davis' complete exoneration as far as the former accusation is concerned, and he is pronounced not guilty on the second count by all but one member of the board.

Reached Billions.

The imports into the United States exceeded one billion dollars in the 12 months ending with March, 1903. This is the first time in the history of our foreign commerce in which the imports in 12 months have exceeded $1,000,000,000. Meantime the exports have grown with like rapidity. In the 12 months ending with March, 1903, the total exports were $1,414,780,954, against $1,001,506,683 of imports, giving an excess of exports during the 12 months of $413,274,271. Exports never reached a half billion dollars' value in a single year until after 1870. In 1880 they passed, for the first time, the three-quarters of a billion-dollar line; in 1892 they for the first time exceeded $1,000,000,000, and in the 12 months ending with March, 1903, they were $1,414,780,954; and should the exports of April, May and June average as high as those for March, they would bring the total exportation for the fiscal year past the $1,500,000,000 line.

The Killing of Gov. Goebel.

Henry Yontsey, who has told of the conspiracy to kill Gov. Goebel, of Kentucky, involving Gov. Taylor and other leading politicians, and who declared that James Howard, now on trial, fired the fatal shot, Thursday made other startling statements in the presence of a crowd which packed the court room. He told of making an arrangement with Mason Hookersmith, colored, to kill Goebel. Hookersmith wanted to interview Gov. Taylor before doing the shooting and witness went to see Taylor to arrange for the interview. Taylor told witness he could not afford to risk a negro and witness returned and told Hookersmith what he said. Johnson, who had been selected to do the killing, left here January 2, Howard, he said, knew when he arrived here that he had been selected to do the killing.

The Merchants Win a Point.

United States Circuit Judge W. H. Sanborn granted the petition of the Northern Securities Co. and the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads for a modification of the recent decree of the Circuit Court sitting at St. Louis against the merger, to permit the payment by the railroads of the regular May dividends to the securities company. They maintained that the money would ultimately reach the same individuals whether paid to them direct or through the medium of the Northern Securities Co. On all other points of the decree no modification was asked. This releases $4,000,000 for dividends.

After the Coal Roads.

The interstate commerce commission sat in New York Tuesday to consider the complaint of Wm. R. Hearst that certain coal carrying railroads are violating the interstate commerce law. The specific complaints of Mr. Hearst are that the railroads charge unreasonable rates; that they unjustly discriminate in favor of the bituminous against the anthracite coal companies, and that they have contrived, in violation of the anti-pooling section of the interstate commerce law, to discriminate against the independent coal mining companies in favor of the companies controlled by the railroads.

Venezuela Pays.

Venezuela, carrying out the provisions of the protocols signed by Minister Bowen, with the allies has met the payment due to Germany on March 15. Thirty per cent of the customs will be delivered to the Caracas branch of the Bank of England Saturday and the payment due to Italy on April 15 is ready. This is in spite of the fact that all the Venezuelan merchant vessels have not yet been returned and those that have been returned had no cargo aboard.

To Keep Up Price of Coal.

Of the 45 collieries of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Co., all but 11 are shut down, owing to the expense being looked out by an order of the company. At the 32 idle operations, many of the employees on Saturday refused to work nine hours as demanded by the management of the company. President Haer, of the Reading Co., declined to discuss the lockout of miners in the Schuylkill region. It was learned that the company has a large supply of coal in storage.

Miles' Report Not Staff.

Secretary Root has decided that Lieut. Gen. Miles' report of his inspection of the troops in the Philippines will not be made public now, and perhaps never. Mr. Root said that all reports of this nature were confidential and intended for no eyes but those of the chiefs of the army. It is alleged that the general has made many sharp criticisms of the uses made of soldiers in building roads; the beef supply, etc.

Took Himself to Prison.

A. E. Shaw, of Hobart, Okla., who recently killed a rowdy who was annoying him and who was convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to four years in the Kansas penitentiary, arrived Tuesday unaccompanied and informed the warden of his arrival. As his only credentials were a letter from the prosecuting attorney, Shaw could not be admitted to the prison, but will be a guest of the prison farm until the commitment papers shall arrive. Shaw is highly respected in Hobart.

The wire coiled about him and he was burned to death in the sight of the several persons who were attracted by his screams and did not dare to go near him.

The Methodists of the country are to take an informal referendum vote on the proposition for a merger of Methodist Book Concerns' publishing houses in New York, Cincinnati and Chicago, and also for only one general agent instead of four, as at present.

STATE LEGISLATURE

Brief Chronicle of Matters of Importance

The senate committee on railroads gave a hearing on the Waterbury bill providing for an interchange for freight between steam and electric roads, appeared before the committee and urged the passage of the bill. The question arose whether all electric roads in the state have heavy enough equipment to transport a loaded steam freight car. The committee showed a disposition to favor the bill if this feature could be amended so as to give the commissioner of railroads discretionary powers. The delegation said that the electric roads in their locality are willing to transport steam freight cars over their road but the steam roads had refused to either deliver or take from them freight cars.

It was a short day in the legislature, the session this afternoon being deferred until 3:30 p. m. in order that the members might attend the funeral of the late G. Willis Bement. There was a lot of talk in the house committee of the whole on the Fuller bill permitting wholesale liquor dealers or brewers to establish cold storage stations in townships, villages or cities upon the payment of a $50 license fee for each such station. The bill was finally passed, with an amendment that liquor should be sold at these cold storage places only to retail dealers paying the regular $500 license tax.

After many weeks of talk, the house committee on public health decided to report the medical registration bill. It is noteworthy that the measure, which as first introduced was supposed to be aimed at osteopathy, gives that class of practitioners greater recognition than they enjoy under the present law. The bill as agreed upon provides for an additional member of the board, who is to be an osteopath, and who is to examine applicants for certificates in osteopathy, while other members are to examine them in materia medica and therapeutics.

Speaker Carton appointed as the house end of the committee to go to Stillwater, Minn., to investigate the making of binder twine in the state prison there. Representatives Randall, Stone, Baumgartner, Duncan and Batchelder. The latter, however, declined, saying he did not feel equal to the trip and added that he hoped the speaker would appoint some member as much opposed to contract labor as himself.

Representative Higgins, in committee of the whole, renewed his fight against the Reas resolution proposing to amend the constitution so that a freight rate commission may be appointed, but Higgins' motion that all after the enacting clause be stricken out was defeated and the bill was adjourned.

Governor Bliss is reported to have said: "This legislature ought to adjourn May 8. There's no reason in the world why it shouldn't. Not very many appropriation bills have gone through yet, but most of them have been considered by the committees and are in shape to be got at quickly. They could be passed and out of the way in a week. Besides the appropriations and the primary election law, there isn't a thing for the legislature to consider that there is really need for. It can't adjourn too quickly now."

The most interesting appointment matter now before the governor is that of Oil Inspector Wm. Judson, whose term will expire July 1 next. During the past week Judson has spent some time in Lansing, as have Gen. Green and some others of Judson's opponents. It is asserted, however, that Gov. Bliss has already offered Judson's job to Charles L. Benjamin, of Saginaw, whom the senate tried to land in the office of game warden.

The house has adopted a resolution providing that a committee of five from the house and three from the senate shall be appointed to go to Stillwater, Minn., penitentiary to investigate the binder twine industry in that institution. The junkie, if the resolution goes through, will be one of the longest that ever went out of Lansing, and will give the junketers a nice bit for mileage and expenses.

The house committee on liquor traffic has reported the bill giving brewers the right to establish cold storage plants in various counties upon the payment of $50 for each one. The senate amended the bill so that any brewery firm may establish only one such plant in any city, which is intended to prevent "blind pigs" from going into commission upon the payment of $70 instead of the regular $500 liquor license fee.

A large number of petitions came to the house on the 20th from labor unions all over the state asking for the passage of the Greusel city ownership bill, the bill to give mechanics liens preference over all other claims and the bill to protect workmen of buildings in course of construction.

Gov. Bliss is receiving many telegrams from Detroit parties asking for the appointment of Frederick B. Smith as a member of the St. Louis fair commission. George H. Barbour's name has also been mentioned as a candidate for the position.

Gov. Bliss some time ago, has signed the bill cutting off the fees of the sheriff of Wayne county and making the salary of that officer $8,000. Apparently nobody asked his excellency to veto the measure.

The house committee of the whole considered the Van Zoeren license act Sunday and requiring five days' notice on marriage of non-residents, which is aimed at the Gretta Green at St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, which provoked a long discussion. Neal's motion to strike out all after the enacting clause was carried, 36 to 29.

Speaker Carton appointed Representative Campbell, of Gladwin, as a member of the committee to go to Stillwater, Minn., in place of Representative Batchelder, of Detroit, whose health would not permit him to go on the trip.

During the four months, or fractions thereof, that the Michigan legislature has been in session it has passed 27 general laws and changed the names of 12 citizens, and 4 lakes. The laws passed are:

- Establishing bureau for compiling histories of convicts.
- Amending law for incorporation of mining companies. (Ferry.)
- Prescribing terms on which foreign corporations may be admitted to do business in Michigan.
- Amending act to prevent issue of fraudulent stock by corporations.
- Amending general tax law. (Francis.)
- Providing for the incorporation of Michigan commanderies of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States.
- Amending act relative to competency of witnesses. (McCarthy.)
- Appropriation for monument to Michigan soldiers at Andersonville. (Hemans.)
- Repealing act for suppression of mob violence. (Oviatt.)
- Appropriations for current expenses and buildings at Michigan School for Deaf.
- Deficiency appropriation for Michigan School for the Deaf.
- Amending act relative to Circuit Court stenographers. (Herkimer.)
- Requiring notaries to affix date of expiration of commissions to instruments signed by them. (Byrns.)
- Deficiency appropriation for the Industrial School for Boys.
- Amending drain law. (Wm. Kirk.)
- Amending act relative to publication and distribution of laws and documents and Michigan manual. (Duncan.)
- Amending mechanics' lien law. (Anderson.)
- Joint resolution to amend constitution relative to circuit courts.
- Amending laws relative to public instruction. (Read.)
- To provide for stenographer to take testimony on examination and at coroners' inquests in Genesee county.
- Amending act for incorporation of Michigan and Huron institute. (Masterson.)
- Joint resolution authorizing Auditor-General to deed certain lands to Lawton.
- To amend act relative to preservation of public health, quarantine, nuisances and offensive trades. (Francis.)
- To provide for incorporation of slack water navigation companies.
- Joint resolution proposing constitutional amendment to provide for boards of county auditors in Saginaw, Jackson, Washtenaw and Kent.
- To fix compensation of upper peninsula members of legislature.
- Special appropriation for Industrial Home for Girls.

There have been two constitutional conventions since the original document was adopted in 1850. One in 1867, was made up of delegates selected from the various counties according to population, and one in 1873, was made up of two members from each congressional district, appointed by the governor. The first one ran for three months and the second for two months. Each of the proposed constitutions prepared by these bodies was rejected by the people, and there has thus been no general effective revision of the state's basic law since 1850, though it has been much amended in spots.

The senate finance and appropriations committee is considering a bill introduced by Senator Lockery which raises the age limit for the admission of children to the State Public School at Coldwater from 12 to 14. The St. Ignace bill also carries an appropriation of $25,000 for the accommodation of the extra number of children to be admitted under the higher age limit and for crippled children, whom he also proposes to take care of.

Michigan voters will have an opportunity, in the election of November, 1904, to say whether the state constitution shall be revised, the bill submitting the question to the people having been signed by Gov. Bliss this morning. Should the people vote in favor of a general revision it will be the duty of the next legislature to determine how the work shall be done.

Though Rep. Denby carried his whole point in passing through the house committee of the whole his bill to allow companies to incorporate without limit of capitalization, he will back water for the sake of insuring the passage of the measure. Instead of allowing the measure to go to the third reading he laid it on the table.

Chairman Neal, of the house ways and means committee, upon whom devolves most of the work of grinding out the appropriation bills, says he is trying to have the labor completed within the next 16 days, to facilitate early adjournment.

A conference of senators was held on Tuesday evening, at which a compromise primary election bill was agreed upon, to be reported next week for adoption. It was decided to stop business on May 7, final adjournment to be on May 14.

Gov. Bliss has appointed Thomas Seymour, Kenosha; Max Jennings, St. Clair, and R. G. Burwell, of Port Huron, as members of the board of jury commissioners for St. Clair county, term of six years beginning April 1, 1903.

The senate had no work ahead Monday and did little else but adjourn. Senator Kelly presided during the short time the session lasted.

Norway needs a hospital and will build one.

Joseph W. Stockwell, of Flint, serving eight years in Jackson for blackmail, was discharged Monday.

Michigan Central clerks at the Chicago freight offices have refused an offer of 5 to 10 per cent increase in wages in response to their demand for 15 per cent and an eight-hour day. Five men had a narrow escape from death, but suffered only slight injuries, when a large stack of giant powder exploded in the rock crusher of No. 3 shafthouse, in the Calumet branch of the Calumet & Hecla mine.

About Electric Lights.

The council members, and especially the electric lighting committee, are being sought by representatives of electric lighting companies and engineers. Four of the gentlemen were present at the council meeting Monday evening. The arguments of three of them was to the effect that the council could not afford to take chances on letting contracts for building the plant without the expert services of an electrical engineer to supervise the building and prepare plans. Each of the gentlemen offered to do this work on a five per cent basis or a lump sum of $650. The other gentleman was a contractor and would install the plant complete with such apparatus and machinery as the council saw fit to purchase on a ten per cent profit. The council listened attentively to all propositions, but did not indicate it would accept any. We do not believe they should be in any haste about the matter and we further believe the services of a supervising engineer may be profitably dispensed with. The people of Plymouth would undoubtedly prefer to have the council committee make its own contracts and supervise its own work, even if the committee is voted pay for the time so spent. They may obtain all information they need by visiting different electric light plants and getting the opinions of the owners or operators thereof. The council can purchase apparatus just as cheaply as the contractor or engineer, notwithstanding the claims of the latter to have "inside prices." A good electrician may be hired at $60 to $75 per month. However, if the council sees fit to make a contract, the understanding and provisions should be most thorough, with all the advantages, if any, on the side of the village. There should be no more water works deals.

The New Trolley Line to Detroit.

A special dispatch from Jackson contained the following in regard to the Boland line which will pass through Plymouth. It is of interest to our readers:

A new and strong syndicate has been formed to complete the connection of the Jackson and Battle Creek railway east of Jackson to Detroit. The active parties in forming the new syndicate, which will enable W. A. Boland to carry to completion his original plans, are Wm. Halls, Jr., vice-president of the Hanover National Bank, of New York; W. N. Coler, Jr., of W. N. Coler & Co., bankers of New York; N. S. Potter, manager of the Jackson City Bank and Jackson's strongest financier; and W. A. Foote, of the Jackson & Suburban Traction Co., who is identified with the companies owning the power plants at Allegan and Plainwell.

This important announcement was made this afternoon by the officers of the Jackson & Suburban Traction Co., and is entirely authentic. The preliminary contracts and agreements have been signed to accomplish a consolidation of the Jackson and Suburban Traction Co., now operating the Jackson City lines and an interurban line to Grass Lake and Wolf Lake, a resort east of the city; the Jackson & Ann Arbor Co., which has a roadbed constructed and rails laid to Dexter, and a right of way to Ann Arbor, and the Detroit Plymouth and Northville road, which has been operated by the Boland interest for some time.

The contract pledges the necessary funds for completion and equipment of the whole line through to Detroit, including the link east of Ann Arbor, to connect with the Detroit, Plymouth and Northville. Connection into Detroit will be had with the Detroit United lines.

A traffic arrangement will be entered into between the lines between Jackson and Detroit and the Jackson & Battle Creek Traction Co., which company will be running cars between Jackson and Battle Creek within a few days. The whole system between Battle Creek and Detroit will be under one management and will operate continuous lines of railway between these cities. Work on the lines east of Jackson will be begun at once and the statement is positively and authoritatively made that the whole system will be in operation the entire distance by the end of the year.

Robbed The Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Batters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed by Hubbell's Pharmacy.

Some thirty friends and neighbors of Mrs. Henry Baker made her a surprise visit Monday evening, the occasion being the lady's birthday. After a social visit and congratulations, refreshments brought by the company were served and the guests departed wishing Mrs. Baker many more happy birthdays. The affair was a most enjoyable one to all concerned.

Benjamin Miller died Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock aged 74 years. Funeral was held at the house at two o'clock Thursday afternoon. Interment in the Riverside cemetery, Rev. J. B. Oliver officiating. He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his loss. Deceased was an old and much respected resident of the township and enjoyed a wide circle of friends.

The Plymouth Telephone Co. has closed a contract with the Livingston county company to make connection eastward from Howell. Connection will also be made with the Detroit Co-operative company which is building a line this way, having already reached Oak. Before many months it is expected Plymouth subscribers of the local phone will be able to hello with almost every part of the State, as all the independent companies are working together to bring about this condition for their mutual benefit.

DRS. KENNEDY & KERGAN

Specialists in the Treatment of Nervous, Blood, Private and Sexual Diseases of Men and Women. 25 Years in Detroit.

Thousands of young and middle-aged men are annually swept to a premature grave through early abuse or later excesses. One man, Anderson, was one of the victims, but was cured in time. He says: "I learned an evil habit. A change soon came over me. I could not get my friends noticed. I became nervous, despondent, gloomy, had no ambition, easily tired, evil forebodings, poor circulation, pimples on face, back, neck, dreams and drains at night, tired and weak mornings, burning sensation. To make matters worse, I became reckless and contracted a blood disease. I tried many doctors and medical firms—all failed. But Drs. Kennedy & Kergan took my case. In one week I felt better, and in a few weeks was entirely cured. They are the only reliable and honest Specialists in the country."

READER—We guarantee to cure you or no pay. You run no risk. We have a reputation and business as stakes. Beware of frauds and impostors. We will pay $1,000 for any case we take that our NEW METHOD TREATMENT will not cure.

The Lady Maccabees had a little entertainment of their own at their hall last Thursday evening. It took so well that the performance will be given at the opera house at an early date with some elaboration. The ladies will appear as "colored folks," with coon songs, ad libitum.

While the various committees of the council are making estimates on how much money they are going to spend, it would be wise to include some improvements on the public park. It certainly is in need of it. A public watering place is also sadly needed and could be had at little expense. There is a demand for these things.

Cut flowers and floral designs furnished when ordered in advance. Potted geraniums, foliage plants, vines, border plants, etc., now ready.

All the saloon bonds were presented to the council last Monday evening and all of them were accepted, though perhaps not without some doubt. It was remarked that if assessments were made against one or more of the bondsmen to the amount qualified on the bond, there might be a surprise in store.

There was not a large attendance at the Ladies' Lyric Concert in the M. E. church last Friday evening, but those present enjoyed a very fine musical entertainment. Three of the ladies are personally known to many in Plymouth and they were given a very warm reception. Miss Deering on the piano, Mrs. West as cornetist and Miss Leonard as violinist, were the stars. Mrs. Leonard gave a reading very acceptably. The ladies merited a large audience by their performance.

People who like to laugh should attend the Avenue theatre, Detroit this next week. The Blondells, late stars of "The Katzenjammer Kids," who are now in vaudeville, will be among the headliners of the billing presenting an uproariously funny skit entitled, "An Awkward Boy." It is the greatest laugh creating act that ever happened. Other feature acts will be the Hoosier Zouaves, 17 finely drilled young men, and Geo. Techow's marvelous performing cats. Visitors to Detroit should not miss this show.

A Good Recommendation.

"I have noticed the sale on Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets is almost invariable to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Cascade, Iowa. "What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when again in need of such a remedy? Try them when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. THE LION'S WHELP

A Story of Cromwell's Time

BY AMELIA E. BARR

Author of "The Dow of Orange Ribbon," "I, Thou and the Other One," "The Maid of Maiden Lane," Etc.

(Copyright, 1901, by Dodd, Mead & Company. All rights reserved.)

There was no use prolonging a conversation so hopeless.

She was both angry and scornful, and she sought out her mother and found her resting in her own room. "I got tired soon in the day, Jane," she said, "I think it is the London air, and the strange life, and the constant fear of some change. No one seems to know what a day will bring forth. Did you see Stephen?"

"Yes."
"It can't be, I suppose?"
"You know it can't be, mother." She was hurt at the question. It was a wrong to Cluny, and she said with some temper, "It could not be under any circumstances. The man is mean, he has just threatened me. If I had not been a woman I would have given him his teeth back in his teeth. I would rather be Cluny's wife, if Cluny had not a crown."

The next day Clunin went to Jewry House and reported on his return, its forlorn emptiness. There were only two or three servants there, and they had no idea when the family would return.

About a week after Matilda's departure Cluny called early one evening and asked Jane to go with him to Mr. Milton's house in Petty France. They sauntered through St. James' park, and soon lost sight of all humanity, and were conscious only of each other's presence. So much so, that they never noticed a figure which emerged from behind a clump of shrubs, and stood looking at them. It was the Lord General. His face was grave, but not unhappy, and when he saw Cluny and Jane he stood still a moment, and then quietly withdrew into the shadow he had left. A smile was round his mouth, and his lips moved in words of blessing as he took another path to the gate he wished, and there was a feeling of pleasure yet in his heart when he entered the sombre apartment where Israel Swaffham, with a guard of soldiers, was in attendance. He then entered a lofty, royally furnished room, where the council were waiting his arrival—officers of his army, and members of Parliament.

Cromwell opened the discussion by reminding the members that he had already held more than a dozen meetings, in order to induce Parliament to pass an Act for the election of a new Parliament, and then discharge itself. "This is what the people want in every corner of the nation," he said, "and they are laying at our doors the non-performance of this duty and of their wishes."
Hessling reminded him that Parliament had determined to dissolve on the 3d of the ensuing November, after calling for a new election.
"It is now only the 19th of April," answered Cromwell, sharply. "Give me leave to tell you that the 3d of November will not do. Such a far-off promise is but words for children. I will better it. I will say to-morrow."

"Take that bauble away!"

This speech had a marked effect. The Parliamentary members agreed to let the bill for perpetuating themselves live over until after another conference to be held the following day, and with this understanding, the members of the Council separated.

CHAPTER IX.

Cromwell Interferes.

Daylight came with that soft radiance of sunshine over fresh green things which makes spring so delightful. Early in the morning Jane's friends called for her, and they went away together full of youth's enthusiasm and anticipation. They took the road to the river, and to the sound of music and the falling and clapping of the oars they reached Richmond and soon spread the canvas of their campers upon the grass under some great oaks in the secluded park.

After a happy, leisurely meal, they spent the rest of their holiday in wandering through the palace, until its unwholesome, monastic grandeur subdued them almost to silence.

would move my troop as one man. If that word came from himself, and he waited silently a little longer. Then Lord Cluny Neville came in very hastily, and said a few words. I know not what they were, and he had scarce gone when Col. Ingoldby entered, and there was no secrecy then.
"My lord," he cried, "Parliament is sitting at this moment, and Sir Harry Vane, Sidney and Henry Marten are urging the immediate passage of the bill so hateful to the whole nation."
"Then Cromwell roused himself like an angry lion. His passion at this perfidious conduct leaped into flame, he shouted to Lambert and his own troop of Ironsides. He gave me the signal I understood, and we went quickly to the Parliament house."
"But what then?" asked Doctor Verity, his face burning with the eager soul behind it.
"I stood at the door watching him, my men being in the lobby. He went to his usual seat, but in a very great and majestic manner, and for a little while he listened to the debate. Then he beckoned Major General Harrison and told him he judged it was high time to dissolve this Parliament. And Harrison told me this afternoon, that he advised Cromwell to consider what he would do, for it was a work great and dangerous, and who, he asked, 'is sufficient for it?' And Cromwell answered, 'The servant of the Lord, he is sufficient,' yet he sat down again, looking at me as he did so, and I looked back straight into his eyes that I and mine could be depended on.

"In a few minutes the question for passing the bill was put, and the man could be restrained no longer. He stood up, took off his hat, and looked around the House, and it quailed under his eyes, every man in it shifted on his seat and was uneasy. He began to speak, and it was with a tongue of flame. He reproached them for their self-seeking and their hypocrisy and oppression, and as he went on, there was the roar of a lion in his voice, and the members, being condemned of their own consciences, covered before him."

"Did no one open their mouth against him?"

"No one but Sir Peter Wentworth. He said, 'My Lord General, this Parliament has done great things for England,' and Cromwell answered, 'The spoke in the wheel that breaks most does not bear the burden in the cart!' Then Sir Peter told Cromwell his abuse of the Parliament was the more horrid because it came from the servant of the Parliament, the man they had trusted and obliged."

At these words Dr. Verity laughed loudly—"Cromwell, the servant of such a Parliament!" he cried. "Not he; what then, Israel?"

"He told Wentworth to be quiet. He said he had heard enough of such talk, and putting on his hat, he took the floor of the House. I watched him as he did so. He breathed inward, like one who has a business of life and death in hand. I could see on his face that he was going to do the deed that had been the secret of his breast for many days; and his walk was that quick stride with which he ever went to meet an enemy. He stood in the middle of the House, and began to accuse the members personally. His words were swords. He flung them at the men as if they were javelins; shot them in their faces as if from a pistol. He told them that the Lord had done with them. He said they were no Parliament, and that he had been sent to put an end to their sitting and their prating.

"And at these words Cluny Neville spoke to the Sergeant, and he opened the doors, and some musketeers entered the House. Then Sir Harry Vane cried out, 'This is not honest, and Cromwell reminded him of his own broken promise, and they began to go out, at first slowly, and then in a hurry, treading on the heels of each other.'"

"What of Lenthall? He has a stubborn will."
"He sat still in the Speaker's chair, until Cromwell ordered him to come down. For a moment he hesitated, but Gen. Harrison said, 'I will lend you my hand, sir,' and so he also went out."

"But was there no attempt to stay such dismissals? I am amazed, dumb-founded!" said Doctor Verity.

"Alderman Allen, the Treasurer of the Army, as he went out said something to Cromwell which angered him very much; and he then and there charged Allen with a shortage of one hundred thousand pounds, and committed him to the care of a musketeer for examination. I tell you, there was no gainsaying the Cromwell of this hour. He was more than mortal man; and Vane and the others knew, if they had not known before, why he was never defeated in battle."

"After the Speaker had left, what then?"

"His eye fell upon the Mace, and he said scornfully to some of the Ironsides, 'Take that bauble away!' Then he ordered the musketeers to clear the House, he himself walking up to its Clerk and taking from under his arm the bill which had caused the trouble, and which was ready to pass. He ordered the man to go home, and he slipped away without a question. Cromwell was the last soul to leave the Chamber, and as he went out of it he locked the door and put the key in his pocket. He then walked quietly back, to his rooms in the Cockpit."

"He will need God on his right hand and on his left," said Doctor Verity. "More than we can tell will come of this—Implacable hostility, rancorous jealousy, everlasting envy and spite. The members—"

"The members," interrupted Gen. Swaffham, "have tied themselves, hands and feet, with cords of their own spinning, and Oliver Cromwell holds the ends of them. They will not dare to open their mouths."

The Cost of Census-Taking.

The difference between the cost of securing the returns from the six simple questions asked in 1790, and that of the extended inquiry made a century later, is illustrated by the per capita cost, which in 1790 was 1.13 cents, and in 1900, 15.5 cents. In 1790 Virginia was the most populous state in the Union, having 747,610 inhabitants. The records of the Treasury department show that at the first census, the cost of making the enumeration in that state was $7,553.90. Moreover, at that enumeration, the unpaid assistant marshals supplied their own blanks, an item which was of considerable importance in the days when all paper was made laboriously by hand. In 1900 the population of Maine—about 700,000—most nearly approximated that of Virginia in 1790.

At the twelfth census the cost of actual enumeration in Maine, including the pay of supervisors, was $34,350.90, or more than three-fourths of the amount expended for the enumeration of the entire United States in 1790, though the pay of an enumerator in 1900 did not exceed the wages of an intelligent day laborer.—The Century.

Uncertainties.

Congressman Payne of New York met a gray-haired acquaintance of long ago the other day and asked how he was coming on. Shaking his head sadly the other replied:

"Oh, I've been out of employment a full month, having fallen a victim to the uncertainties of office-holding."

"And how long were you in office?" asked Payne, who was fast growing sympathetic.

"Just thirty years to the day."—Boston Herald.

Russia's Richest Man Dead.
The richest man in Russia, Nikolai Terestchenko, died the other day in Moscow, in his 85th year, leaving a fortune of $100,000,000. For more than fifty years he had been one of the curiosities of Moscow. He slept only four hours in the twenty-four, two hours at night and two hours after luncheon. At 2 o'clock every morning he had mass said in his room. At 6 o'clock he began work with his secretaries, eating nothing until noon, when he took an egg or a bowl of soup. He had only one solid meal a day, and that was at 10 o'clock at night.

His Own Rival.

When Margaret was eight months old she and her mother came home from the Philippines, leaving her father in Manila. Now she is two, and refuses to adopt papa, who, just returned, is trying to get acquainted with his daughter. Finding her busy with pencil and paper one day, he asked, "Writing a letter, baby?" Without deigning to look at him Margaret answered: "Go way, man! I'm writin' to my dear papa in 'Nilla."—Chicago Little Chronicle.

They "Waited" and "Saw."

Warren's Corners, N. Y., April 20th.—"Wait and see—you're better now, of course, but the cure won't last."

This was what the doctors said to Mr. A. B. Smith of this place. These doctors had been treating him for years and he got no better. They thought that nothing could permanently cure him. He says: "My kidneys seemed to be so large that there wasn't room for them, and at times it seemed as if ten thousand needles were running through them. I could not sleep on my left side for years, the pain was so great in that position. I had to get up many times to urinate, and my urine was sometimes clear and white as spring water, and again it would be high-colored and would stain my linen. The pain across my back was awful. I was ravenously hungry all the time."

"After I had taken Dodd's Kidney Pills for four days my kidneys pained me so bad I could hardly sit down. On the morning of the fifth day I felt some better, and the improvement continued until I was completely cured."

"This is months ago, and as I have had no symptom of a return of my old trouble I am sure I am permanently cured."

An Interesting Letter Concerning Peruina.

Miss Della Janveau, Globe Hotel, Ottawa, Ont., is from one of the oldest and best known French Canadian families in Canada. In a recent letter to The Peruina Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, she says:

"Last spring my blood seemed clogged up, my digestion poor, my head ached and I felt languid and tired all the time. My physician prescribed for me, but a friend advised me to try Peruina. I tried it and am pleased to state that I found it a wonderful cleanser and purifier of the system. In three weeks I was like a new woman, my appetite had increased, I felt buoyant, light and happy and without an ache or pain. Peruina is a reliable family medicine."

Adia Brittain, of Sekitan, O., writes: "After using your wonderful Peruina three months I have had great relief. I had continual heaviness in my stomach, was bilious, and had fainting spells, but they all have left me since using Peruina."—Adia Brittain.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruina, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

THE MEN AND WOMEN

Who Enjoy the Choicest Products of the World's Commerce.

Knowledge of What is Best More Important Than Wealth Without It.

It must be apparent to every one that qualities of the highest order are necessary to enable the best of the products of modern commerce to attain permanently to universal acceptance. However loudly heralded, they may not hope for world-wide pre-eminence unless they meet with the general approval, not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting, enjoying and learning the real worth of the choicest products. Their commendation, consequently, becomes important to others, since to meet the requirements of the well informed of all countries the method of manufacture must be of the most perfect order and the combination the most excellent of its kind. The above is true not of food products only, but is especially applicable to medicinal agents and after nearly a quarter of a century of growth and general use the excellent remedy, Syrup of Figs, is everywhere accepted, throughout the world, as the best of family laxatives. Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants known to act most beneficially on the system and presented in the form of a pleasant and refreshing liquid, but also to the method of manufacture of the California Fig Syrup Co., which ensures that uniformity and purity essential in a remedy intended for family use. Ask any physician who is well informed and he will answer at once that it is an excellent laxative. If at all eminent in his profession and has made a special study of laxatives and their effects upon the system he will tell you that it is the best of family laxatives, because it is simple and wholesome and cleanses and sweetens the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after-effects. Every well-informed druggist of reputable standing knows that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative and is glad to sell it, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, because it gives general satisfaction, but one should remember that in order to get the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs it is necessary to buy the genuine, which is sold in original packages only; the name of the remedy—Syrup of Figs—and also the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package.

THE MODERN MAIDEN'S TROPHIES.

Spoils of Victory Carried by Society's Sweet Pats.
We saw a damsel on the train—a damsel fair to see; her bonnie eyes were glad and bright, her smile was one of glee.
Her bonnet was the proper shape, her dress the latest mode—but, ah, the buttons, pins and things her natty costume showed!
Six army buttons on her cuff lent it a semblance gay. (They were no imitations, for they shouted, "U. S. A.")
Adown the bodice was a row that glowed with polish great—ten buttons from the soldier blouse that's furnished by the state.
Four yachting pins, a jeweled badge some hero's deed had won; a golden trophy given to some expert with a gun.
A Harvard pin, a Princeton pin, Northwestern pins as well; U. C., U. I., U. M.—She must have been a college belle!
Three golden links, a Mason's charm, an Alpha Beta stud—we wondered then how many youths had found their names were mud!
Her finger bore a graven seal—the size that's made for men, and on her collar we discerned a college pin, again.
About her hat there stretched a band from some grim man of war. We wondered at the ribbon there, and what she wore it for.
And as we gazed, a youth who sat beside this damsel fair gave her a badge from off his vest; she tucked it in her hair!
Lo, the poor Indian, sayage, crude, ill tempered, hard to tame—he ties his scalp locks to himself and gloats o'er them the same!

GAVE HIM GOOD ADVICE.

One of W. S. Gilbert's Anecdotes of His Early Days.
W. S. Gilbert tells an instructive story of his early days as a playwright. He had completed a short play, called "Dulcamara," for Mr. T. W. Robertson, "Mrs. Kendall's brother, and took his manuscript to Mr. Emden, Mr. Robertson's manager, for approval.
"This will do," Mr. Emden said, after glancing through the play. "How much do you want for it?"
"Thirty guineas," the young dramatist diffidently suggested.
"Make it pounds and I will take it," answered Emden—a proposal to which Mr. Gilbert eagerly assented.
"Now," said Mr. Emden, as he handed over the cheque, "let me give you a piece of advice. Never sell such good stuff for thirty pounds again."
"And," continued Mr. Gilbert, when telling the story, "I never did."

Danger of Colds and Grip.
The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale at Mellers drug store.

THE GAME OF GOLF.

How Exercise May be Dangerous for Aged Beginners.
The sneer that golf is a game only for those not agile and venturesome enough for games of greater danger has long ago faded from golf criticism, and now it has actually come to pass that golf is arraigned as a game dangerous for men who may be described as "aged." It is said that if a man all through his life has followed sedentary habits, allowing his muscles to become weak and flabby, particularly those muscles in the region of the heart, golf may very easily prove too severe a strain for his system. But in the pages of a golf journal this view is partially criticized by one who did not begin the game till he was very near the neighborhood of sixty. He declares that it is a matter of beginning gently, and he tells us that in his own case he does not find two rounds a day particularly exhausting. At the same time he confesses that he has always been an enthusiast for outdoor exercise, and is inclined to think that for a man who has never taken physical exercise—rather a rare experience—it may be a little exhausting to begin with. It is all a matter of not overdoing it at first, but, unfortunately, so attractive is the game that the oldest beginners are tempted to go in for it rather more vigorously than is wise. The result of all this latest potter seems to be that like everything else in life it is wisdom at the outset to "go slow," and this is a verdict that "aged beginners" should lay to heart.

Surprised Card Party.

Three civil engineers while traveling from Amiens to Paris began to play cards on an apparently abandoned lunch basket of large dimensions, which had been lying on the hat rack.
It appeared to be rather heavy, but they supposed it to be full of plates. The basket was placed on end and a leather portfolio placed on the top to form a table.
Suddenly they were startled to hear loud cries, which came from the basket. It was opened, and a three-months-old baby was found inside.
The baby was neatly dressed, and bore a card, on which was written: "To be delivered to Mme. Forsey, Creull."
The three men did their best to keep the child quiet until the train stopped at the next station. It was Creull, and there a respectably dressed woman came forward and claimed to be the owner of the baby.
It appears that the child had been put out to nurse near Bonlogne. Not having received any pay, the nurse had adopted this way of sending the child back to its mother.—London Express.

Reform in Language Teaching.

The American conquest of Europe in purely material matters has become an acknowledged fact. But even in matter not purely material, American expansion now progresses with giant strides. This is particularly evident in the teaching of languages. The old European methods are rapidly being replaced, or at least reformed, by the Berlitz methods, called in Europe, on account of its origin, the American method. The Berlitz schools, which have about two dozen branches in this country, have spread over nearly 200 European cities. President Loubet of France intrusted the linguistic education of his children to this institution, and the German Emperor displayed his confidence in the Berlitz school by placing in its care the French course at the military school of Potsdam, while in another Berlitz school the crown prince perfected himself in speaking foreign languages.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.
All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.
The kidneys are your blood purifiers. They filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.
Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.
Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.
It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.
If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.
You may have a small sample bottle by mail. Send five-cent stamp. Also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
