A Plea for Standard Time.

It is hardly necessary for an item involving such a topic to be discussed at length to the people of Plymouth. We are all aware that there exists at the present time in Detroit and its suburban towns the local and standard times. Most of us have, no doubt, experienced the inconveniences, yes, even disappointments in the existing of such time systems. For the past few weeks Detroit's people have carefully discussed the situation, and have finally decided to adopt only the standard system, beginning May 1st. Why will not Plymouth fall in line and adopt the same system and at the same time? Let the councilmen answer this question: What is the advantage in regulating our watches to the so-called local, fast, or sun time? If one travels either way on the electric road, before going far, he will have to change and figure to get his watch on a standard time basis. If one travels by the steam roads, he travels with standard time. In fact everything now a days is working toward some standard. Let us, then, make our watches work on a standard basis. Why do we use local time when standard time is the standard of all times? We have been fortunate in not experiencing the two times in Plymouth, but many times unfortunate in living with sun time. So I ask, gentlemen of the council, will you adopt the standard time in Plymouth, beginning May 1st, and in so doing be up with the time of all times, namely the standard time?

STANDARD TIMER.

Brighton Argus: Philander Monroe, who was elected constable on the Democratic ticket in Putnam township, has held that office consecutively for the past 41 years and has now entered upon his 42nd term. During that time he has never had a paper returned or caused a cent of extra expense. He is 75 years old and the past ten years has carried the mail to and from the train without losing a day.

NEWS OF MICHIGAN

GOV. WARNER ASKS THAT THE HOUSE PRIMARY BILL BE PASSED.

THE OWOSSO BANK IN THE HANDS OF A RECEIVER NOW.

REV. WELCH'S ATTORNEYS THREW UP THE DEFENSE OF HIS CASE IN DISGUST.

Governor Favors Bill.

In a letter from Farmington to Private Secretary Arthur P. Loomis, Gov. Warner made a formal announcement of his wish to see the Double-Ivory-Dickinson bill passed. His letter says:

"Thinking you may receive inquiries today, you may say that I believe that the house acted wisely in getting together on a measure so nearly satisfactory to all parties, and I trust the senate will see the wisdom of agreeing to the bill with equal unanimity.

"There are perhaps some minor changes which could be made to simplify the proposed primary system, but these should not require extended discussion or delay.

"I hope that by the end of the week the perfected bill may have been agreed to by both houses and without any friction. You may assure my friends that I will take pleasure in signing the bill at the earliest moment practicable. Yours truly,

"FRED M. WARNER."

"I shall vote for the Double-Ivory-Dickinson bill, but would advise a few amendments," said Senator Doherty. "I would add Mr. Baird's plan of representation of counties in convention proportioned to the party vote for governor. I would close all saloons on primary day, and, above all, would abolish the Wayne and other local bills."

A fight will be made on the provision to prohibit advertising by candidates in newspapers, but the bill may not be reported this week.

Receiver For Owosso Bank.

In the United States district court, Bay City, Tuesday the Detroit Trust Co. was appointed receiver for M. L. Stewart & Co., the bankers at Owosso. A petition to declare the banking company bankrupt was filed by Jesse C. Shattuck, Michigan Sewing Machine & Organ Co., Thos. O. Christian and George T. Campbell. The petition represented that the appointment of a receiver was absolutely necessary for the preservation of the estate. Referee Joslyn, who acted in the absence of Judge Swan, fixed the bond of the receiver at $25,000. The receiver is directed to take hold of the estate, collect and receipt all amounts due and in general protect the assets and estate. The action of four depositors does not mean that the petitioners are unfriendly towards Mr. Stewart. The matter was decided on only after a conference with him. It was agreed best in order to prevent suits being brought against the bank before its affairs were straightened out. The feeling towards Mr. Stewart continues to be friendly from all sources.

Welch Convicted.

When on motion of the attorneys for the defense all testimony of the defense in the trial of Rev. Clarence M. Welch, of Nashville, charged with Nina Caven with illegal parentage, was stricken out and the case submitted on the evidence of the prosecution, a verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury after 30 minutes' deliberation, ordering him to pay $3 a week for the next two years, for the child's support, and $2 a week thereafter until the child is 14. The little one is now two years old. When Welch was led away to jail he evinced an ugly disposition. He said he had paid his attorneys $600; that he was not guilty of the crime, and that he would not pay the money provided by the court for the support of the child. He said he would lay in jail and let the maggots carry him out piecemeal through the keyhole, but would never pay the money.

The Tar and Feathers Case.

Another startling result of the tar and feather incident at Hudson, in which Mrs. Pest was the victim, was seen Tuesday at Adrian, when Attorney Grant Fellows came to the county seat and started proceedings for divorce for Mrs. Loren Barrett against her husband, who is alleged to have been infatuated with Mrs. Pest. She asks for alimony. The lawyer also represented the brothers of Barrett, who have applied for an injunction restraining Loren from disposing of his property, as it is feared, they say, that he will try to avoid further trouble by skipping out.

The Hackley Estate.

The inventory of the estate of Chas. H. Hackley, Muskegon's deceased millionaire, has been completed, showing holdings in Michigan aggregating $3,356,352, while in other states there are much larger holdings, the bulk of his real estate being outside of Michigan. There are five lands in British Columbia and Louisiana, and the total value of the properties will be at least $7,000,000. A peculiar feature of the inventory was that of this large estate there was only $143 in cash on hand.

Mrs. A. Hartzhorn, the woman from Holland, who has become a public charge on Kalamazoo county, because she refuses to work, given as her reason that a lawyer refused to collect $150 for her from John Zourfider, a young man whose passage she paid to this country.

Martin Goina, one of the quartet who escaped from Ingham county jail after assaulting the sheriff on the evening of March 17, has now to face the charge of breaking jail and is sorry he left without leave. Goina has already served half of a 90 days' sentence for jumping a bond bill.

The Grand Rapids Scandal.

There is a new turn of affairs in the Grand Rapids water scandal deal, which is likely to bring a new respondent to the front. It develops that William C. Hollowell, at one time a reporter on the Grand Rapids Herald, committed his alleged crime in the water deal cases while he was reporting the trial of Thomas McGarry, at Allegan, three years ago.

It is stated that during the trial of McGarry, Hollowell was in the employ of the defense, and that it was his play to get valuable advance information from the prosecution concerning its moves and turn this information over to the defense.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Ward is in possession of an affidavit turned over to him by Hollowell, giving a full statement of the part he and Cameron, the star witness for the state, played in bleeding McGarry to the limit, while they supposed themselves to be screened from the law. Hollowell put this affidavit into the hands of the prosecutor, because Cameron gave him the slip, and left without dividing with him the money received from the defense for the information obtained.

A Mad Lover.

Mrs. Emma E. Moore, a widow of Nankaa, has just passed through a thrilling experience. J. H. Klime, to whom she was once engaged, paid her a visit. He locked all the doors and threatened to kill her if she did not consent to immediate marriage, and played on the organ one whole night, saying it was their wedding march. From Saturday night until Monday morning she was with him alone, when she persuaded him to leave. He came to Grand Rapids, where he evinced his madness by relating still further hallucinations, and is now locked up.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

The congested condition of the apple and potato market is being in a measure relieved in Kalamazoo county by feeding the crop to stock.

E. K. Warren has donated over 100 acres of land for free parks in five townships of Berrien county. The land borders on Lake Michigan.

Three Rivers is overrun with worthless mongrel dogs and the municipal government is wrestling with the problem of exterminating them.

Andrew J. Carnegie has presented Hope College, Holland, with $20,000. He asks the college to add $20,000 in addition to his sum to the endowment fund.

"Mother Jones," the "Stormy Petrel," has arrived in Houghton to instigate a general strike. It is thought by many that by May 1, 32,000 men may be idle.

Strikers at the Wolverine mine returned to work Tuesday morning after being out several weeks. The men gained no concessions and return under the old terms.

Tuesday night John Loheman, a stranger, working as hired man on the farm of M. Hayes, in Bedford township, fell dead while chopping wood. His home is unknown.

Mendon has accepted Andrew Carnegie's offer to give a $10,000 library upon the purchase of a site and the raising of a fund of at least $1,000 a year for maintenance.

Sharpshooters' and marksmen's badges are being sent out by Gen. McGurra to members of the M. N. G. who won them in the rifle contest at last year's encampment.

A farmers' mutual telephone company has been organized to furnish telephone service at cost to patrons in Oceana county, in opposition to the Lake Shore Telephone Co.

Mrs. J. T. Beckwith, an aged lady of Grand Rapids, was fatally burned by the igniting of gasoline vapor. In attempting to save her, Mr. Beckwith was also severely burned.

John Lentz, of Standish, ran his team into a rig driven by Zilda Lorraine, a 13-year-old girl, the tongue of his wagon knocking the girl out of the buggy, injuring her severely. Physicians say she may not recover.

A feature of the Presbyterian meeting in Grand Rapids Wednesday was the adoption of a resolution providing for the separation of the colored churches of the Presbyterian denomination into a presbytery of its own.

The body of a man found in the river in Log Rapids township, Saturday, has been identified as that of George Villenauve, aged 29, a farmer of that locality and a member of the river driving crew. He disappeared April 9.

Several farmers in Oxford and vicinity are sowing speltz, a new cereal, as an experiment. The grain has a dark berry, is sweet and makes excellent bread, similar to rye bread. It yields 40 to 60 bushels to the acre and sells at $1 per bushel.

Prosecutor Brown proposes to keep Rev. C. M. Welch, of the Nina Caven charge of illegal parentage, in jail indefinitely. When the term of six months is up, if he fails to support the child, he will be rearrested on a charge of non-support.

Mrs. J. McCarthy, of Otterburn, has asked the officers to find her husband for her. He left home last week to get some medicine for a sick horse and has failed to show up at home since. He had a check for $215 in his possession which he cashed in Flint.

The role of three was made good in Lapeer when Nelson Miles fell from a land roller and was picked up unconscious. Homer LaJolie lost two fingers in a sausage grinder and James Westby had his leg broken by a load of manure tipping over on him.

The decomposed body of August Nelson, who disappeared from Cadillac Sept. 18 last, was found in the woods by hunters and identified by his watch and other articles on his clothes. It is supposed he committed suicide. He was a native of Sweden and had no friends in this country.

Reyer Stonehouse, of Grand Rapids, who had worked up in the mail service to the rank of first substitute mail carrier, and was ready for appointment, will not be given a job, as the indemnity company refused to go on his bond on account of his confession that he accepted a bribe in the water deal case.

NO SEA FIGHT YET

A FIGHT BETWEEN SCOUTING CRUISERS SEEMS TO BE ALL SO FAR.

TOGO THOUGHT TO BE SCHEMING TO WEAKEN RUSSIAN FLEET GRADUALLY.

RUSSIAN AND ENGLISH VIEWS OF HIS COMING NAVAL BATTLE.

British naval men comment on the lack of secrecy regarding Admiral Rojestvensky's movements since his arrival in far eastern waters. The fact that he is keeping to the main trade route, although knowing his squadron would constantly be sighted and reported by passing vessels, they consider clearly shows that the Russian admiral is keenly anxious to meet Admiral Togo and fight it out to a finish.

A Small Scrap.

A report from Manila says that fighting has begun between the Russian and Japanese fleets near the Palawan islands, part of the Philippines group. The dispatch does not go into details, and while it is believed by naval men that there is a possibility of truth in it, it is not supposed that any of the heavy battleships of either fleet have been engaged. The fighting, if any has occurred, will probably prove to have been between scouting cruisers of the two fleets. Japanese scouts have been sighted in that locality within the last few days, and this fact lends some color to the report, as it is generally believed that the Russian fleet has anchored temporarily in some harbor in that vicinity in order to coal up and make other preparations before proceeding farther north.

Rojestvensky's Challenge.

High hopes are centered on Vice Admiral Rojestvensky, and gradually something like genuine enthusiasm has been aroused by the Russian admiral's hardihood in sailing straight for a combat with the Japanese. There are many Russian naval officers who do not believe that Vice Admiral Togo will accept the challenge. In their opinion the Japanese will be too prudent in such a crisis to risk the destruction of their fleet. They believe that Togo's tactics will be to avoid an open sea fight and that he will launch a series of desperate night torpedo attacks in the hope of throwing the Russian fleet into confusion, scattering the line of ships and giving his faster battleships and cruisers an opportunity to surround and destroy them individually, and if some of Rojestvensky's ships escape to Vladivostok to bottle them up there.

An English View.

There is a growing impression among British naval experts that, unless the Russian and Japanese fleets come together now, the long-looked-for sea fight may be postponed for two or three weeks, and may then resolve itself into a blockade of Vladivostok by Admiral Togo. It is thought by many close observers that the Japanese admiral may decide to avoid an open battle at sea and permit the Russians to reach Vladivostok, then close the entrances to the harbor and gradually wear down Rojestvensky's fleet, as he did the ships that were bottled up in Port Arthur.

Duraud Depot Burned.

Sunday midnight the new Grand Trunk depot was practically destroyed by fire, all efforts of the local fire department and of the Flint fire department, which came to assist, being unavailing. The depot was completed a little over a year ago at a cost of $80,000 and with the equipment and furnishing the loss caused by the fire will amount to $125,000. The fire was discovered in the basement by the night watchman, who says the flames leaped at once to the third story, and spread so rapidly that within 15 minutes they were absolutely beyond control. He rushed to the third story to alarm Rose and Lyda Creek, waiters in the depot restaurant, who roomed in the building, and it was with difficulty that they were rescued. Hunter, the night watchman, fell and sustained injuries. He says he attempted to close the large iron doors that shut off the rear of the depot from the front, but the heat was so intense that he could not manage it.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Senator Moriarty, of Crystal Falls, who is a candidate for lieutenant-governor in 1906, says: "I shall vote for the Double-Ivory-Dickinson bill, with a few slight amendments. Some of the senators wish to erase lieutenant-governor from the bill, but I don't care about that. I would be just as willing to stand for nomination on the direct nomination system as on any other." As a platform man, an upper peninsula senator and a candidate for lieutenant-governor, Mr. Moriarty's remarks have interest.

Rep. Ming, of Cheboygan, introduced a bill to provide for a patrol boat for the game and fish warden's department.

The house failed to pass Rep. Heald's bill repealing the present law forbidding a probate judge to appoint the guardian of an incompetent person administrator of that person's estate after his decease. Rep. Waters led the fight against the bill and only 46 voted, 32 for, 14 against.

Senator John D. MacKay is planning a bill to change the justices' courts act so as to allow the courts to open on standard time instead of on city time. The present law requires city time.

A primary election bill providing for the nomination of candidates for the offices of governor and lieutenant-governor by a direct vote of the people, should a majority of the electors of any political party so decide, and for the direct nomination of congressmen, state senators and representatives and county and judicial officers when a majority of the political electors in any political party in any congressional, legislative or judicial district or county so decides; a bill which, in short, goes further than the Republican platform—that is the kind of a measure passed by the house of representatives Thursday under a suspension of rules.

The new bill makes the submission of the primary question to the voters of all parties mandatory so far as governor and lieutenant-governor are concerned, while for districts, from congressional districts down, the local option plan is to be followed. This bill does not affect in any way the laws already in operation in Wayne, Kent, Muskegon and Alpena counties.

It provides that at any time any party adopting the system should tire of it, the electors of such party may reject it on its being resubmitted. The most prominent features in both bills were amalgamated into a measure to be known as the Double-Ivory-Dickinson primary election bill, and it was passed by a vote of 92 to 1. Morrice, of Emmet, voting no.

The senate adjourned to meet Monday and will have time to think over the matter. The only objections thus far come from upper peninsula representatives, they declaring, in the words of Lieut.-Gov. Maitland, that the amendments to the Double-Ivory bill were part of a plot to defraud the upper peninsula out of the lieutenant-governorship," which has been accorded to that section for 25 years. It has been suggested that the senate shall settle the whole issue Monday in a secret caucus, and come out to vote unanimously on whatever plan. In a caucus lieutenant-governor might be eliminated. The governor wants a bill. He wants a platform bill if possible, a broader bill if it must be such a one. He says: "I shall sign the bill which the legislature in its best judgment approves. I stand on the platform."

Rep. Wm. McKay, of Tuscola, is doing his utmost to get his bill to increase liquor licenses from $500 to $1,000 reported by the committee on liquor traffic.

The governor sent to the senate the name of N. A. Reynolds, of Coldwater, as a member of the board of control of the state public school of Coldwater.

Rep. George Lord received a petition from 436 Detroit business firms urging the passage of the Hudson local option bill, and another from 60 firms against its passage.

The house committee on state affairs killed the senate bill providing a penalty of the loss of primary school moneys to the school district where the American flag was not duly displayed.

The house committee on railroads reported the Elchhorn bill, giving electric railways the right of eminent domain and power of condemnation. The bill will probably cause a lively fight in the house.

The house game committee report a bill protecting deer for five years in the lower peninsula. The Byrns bill, extending beaver protection in the upper peninsula for five years, was also reported.

Roosevelt a True Sportsman.

According to Courier Elmer Chapman, who arrived at Glenwood Springs, Col., from the Roosevelt camp, the president is taking the true sportsman's delight in the rough life the party is experiencing. He is one of the first to be stirring in the morning, and always the first to sit down to breakfast. The fare seems to suit him, although he has said several times he would be as well pleased if it were less pretentious.

His idea of camp life is one kind of meat at each meal, and that fried; vegetables of the canned variety, coffee made over an open fire, and the smell of smoke in everything that is cooked.

Jake Borah, known as the most intrepid hunter in the Rockies, and the man who will take the most desperate ride after the dogs, admits that even a mountain guide of many years' experience has many things to learn about riding. He says he can teach the president nothing.

Open street cars have appeared in Chicago.

Dr. Oiler has been confounded. Austin Cronin, aged 100, is a street cleaner in Syracuse, and says he is good for 10 years more.

Ten men engaged in a poker game in Battle Creek were arrested Sunday evening in a raid. The paraphernalia also was seized.

In a tomb just opened in Luxor, Egypt, a jar of honey, which had been sealed, in the tomb for 3,000 years, was found in perfect condition except for a live flea squirming around in the honey.

NEWS OF THE NATION

CASTRO'S VERBAL PYROTECHNICS ARE ALL THERE IS OF THE MATTER.

THE TWO NIECES OF TREPOFF WERE TERRORISTS AND TRIED TO KILL HIM.

THE DEEP TRUST PEOPLE ARE CONSIDERING EUROPEAN TRIPS HEALTHY.

Castro's Family.

After holding it for a week, the state department today gave out the correspondence between Minister Bowen and President Castro, out of which grew the incident which Secretary Taft, acting for the president, is permitting to close itself because there is nothing of credit in it to the United States. This government asked Castro if he was disposed, yes or no, in a friendly way to submit all the questions at issue between the two governments to arbitration. At the same time, notice was served on Venezuela that if she would not submit them, the United States reserved the right to take such action as it might deem proper. The reservation is what caused the note to be regarded as in the nature of an ultimatum, although the fixing of a time for a reply, was not contained in it. But it is the same sort of notice that Japan gave Russia as a warning to prepare for war.

Castro's answer, which Minister Bowen characterized as contemptuous and insulting, was of the same nature, crisp and to the point. He called attention to the fact that diplomatically speaking there were no questions at issue between the governments because all matters in which Americans were interested were then pending in the courts, according to the terms of the concessions that were the subject matter of the cases pending. The same course would have been taken by the United States had a similar proposal been made by any nation concerning matters before the courts of the United States or of any state. A request to withdraw a case from the courts would have been considered an insult.

How the Terrorists Were Caught.

Gradually many interesting details surrounding the recent arrest in Russia of a band of about a dozen terrorists are leaking out. The capture, which is regarded by the authorities as being of immense importance, was accomplished by Kashovsky, the Russian Sherlock Holmes, who was dismissed from the secret police several years ago on account of his connection with Philippe, the spiritualist, who created such a stir at court, and who then went to Paris to live. Perhaps the most romantic feature is the fact that Mlle. Leontieff converted two nieces of Governor-General Trepoft, Mlle. Trepoft and Princess Delusheff, to the doctrine of assassination, and that after the arrest of her mentor Mlle. Trepoft actually attempted the life of her uncle, firing two shots at him, both of which missed. Thereupon the two girls became panic-stricken and attempted suicide. Mlle. Trepoft throwing herself under a train and Princess Delusheff shooting herself. Neither of them succeeded in killing herself. The family has since tried to make it appear that the girls' acts were the result of a mutual pact for self-destruction, both being in love with the same man, an officer of the guards.

Chicago Is Not Nice.

Two Chicago women are said to form a link in the chain of evidence which the government is trying to forge around the packers. The women are Mrs. Irving A. Vant, wife of the assistant secretary of Swift & Co., and Mrs. Richard W. Howes, wife of the head of the casing department of Swift & Co. The husband of each woman is in Canada. Messrs. Vant and Howes left Chicago shortly before the grand jury convened. That the husbands are in Canada at the instance of the legal advisers of a certain packing company, is a charge which, it is said, the government seeks to prove from the testimony of the wives, both of whom returned from Canada within the last few days. Since returning Mrs. Howes is said to have met an attorney connected with a prominent packing firm and discussed plans for a trip to Europe with her husband. A similar trip for the Vants is said to have been discussed at the time. The grand jury made special efforts to secure enough evidence to indict a high official of the leading packing firm in Chicago. The charge is attempting to influence government witnesses. Three witnesses were summoned on forthwith subpoenas and were rigidly questioned, but failed to tell as much as had been expected.

Dr. Kreuschner, Berlin, says spotted fever is not contagious, and never really epidemic.

While playing at a neighbor's house, Helen, the 11-year-old daughter of Joseph Prey, of Saginaw, was fatally burned, her clothing taking fire from a stove.

Willie Kasprovicz, a 5-year-old boy, was drowned in a cistern at his parents' home in Grand Rapids Thursday afternoon. His body was found after two hours' search.

A Berlin street car motorman didn't recognize Prince Henry in his uniform and told him to get out of the way. As a result he will probably be prosecuted for lese majeste.

Constantinople reports say the Sultan has given in to the French and will pay the $7,000,000 railroad indemnity and buy $14,000,000 worth of warships and artillery from French firms.

Once a power in New Jersey politics, formerly mayor of Trenton and a wealthy man, Frank A. Magowan, resigned to poverty by a stroke of family misfortune, was rescued by a $10,000 gift from Trenton city hospital. He fell in the street from exposure and starvation.

E. N. PASSAGE.

It is said seven of the present corps of teachers will not be here next year—Misses McDonald, Hunter, Guerin, Cavanaugh, McKinnon and the two Misses Ablason.

By the resignation of the third grade teacher of the Northville schools, Miss Charlotte Williams, a graduate of the Plymouth school and the State Normal, will fill the position for the balance of the year.

E. C. Leach is spending most of his time at his farm in Livonia, making extensive improvements thereon and bringing it back to some of its old-time appearance before it passed out of his hands.

House to rent on Ann Arbor street. Enquire at Huston & Co's store.

William Kline, who is ground-keeper for Bennett Park, Detroit, came out last Saturday and marked out the diamond for the new Plymouth park. The Plymouth grounds are a trifle larger than the Detroit ball field.

Quite a number of "fans" went down to Detroit Wednesday afternoon to see Detroit ball club win the opening game from Chicago by a score of 3 to 0. Donovan occupied the box for the home club and his support was fine.

Some dissatisfaction is expressed among business men that nearly all ball games are scheduled for Saturday afternoons—a time when everybody is busy. After school closes for the year, the schedule will be differently arranged.

Cheated Death.

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had kidney trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but I took Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and keep them constantly on hand since, as I find they have no equal." The Wolverine Drug Co. and John L. Gale guarantee them at 50c.

H. B. Jelliffe is reported seriously ill at this writing.

James Hughes, of Colorado, is visiting at the home of H. Riley.

Mrs. H. B. Snider, of Detroit, was the guest of Mrs. Art. Hood this week.

The Pere Marquette built a new crossing on Main street Tuesday. It was needed.

Aida Wade, a student of the Normal College at Ypsilanti, visited his sister, Mrs. Geo. Higger, this week.

The name of Luther Lyon appears as the only one drawn for the May term of the circuit court jury from Plymouth.

Evered Jolliffe, who is attending the University at Ann Arbor, has been elected recording secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of that city.

A meeting of trustees of the M. E. church was held Tuesday evening to consider plans for remodeling the church and building an addition at the rear.

Daniel Murray, who broke his leg in a runaway accident, is still confined at Harper hospital, but is doing nicely and expects to be able to reach home soon.

One of the finest greenhouses in this section just now is that of Carl Heide's. It is fairly "loaded" with all kinds of flowering plants and early garden vegetables.

Miss Lillian M. Phelps, of St. Catharines, Ont., will deliver one of her popular lectures at the Presbyterian church, Friday evening, April 28. Admission 10c.

A neat four-page circular announces the spring arrival of new goods by E. L. Riggs, who is now ready to wait upon his customers with one of the largest and best lines ever shown by him.

The old Plymouth fair grounds has "passed up." What remained of the original plot has been plowed up and what was once a place for the gathering of thousands of people will become a fertile field of corn. Time moves on.

Dr. Nichols, who underwent a difficult surgical operation some two months ago, has recovered so far that the professional nurse employed was dismissed this week. The doctor's many friends will be glad to see him again about the streets.

The weather the past week has been severely cold. On Tuesday morning there was a heavy frost, with quite a covering of snow. People who had "made garden" were disgusted with the weather bureau, and some of their work will have to be done over.

The remains of Mrs. Joseph Degraff were brought here from Rochester, Mich., last Saturday and taken to the home of Charles Shipley. The funeral was held Monday, the body being taken to Wayne for burial. Rev. H. Goldie conducted the funeral services.

The game of ball played here Saturday between Plymouth H. S. and Elm was easily won by the former by a score of 26 to 7. It was just a pastime for our boys. Monte Wood pitched two innings when Tommy Leith and Geo. McLaren were given turns in the box.

The people have not lost sight of the Main street improvement. Early action by the council is expected, so that the work may be completed before fall.

Chairman McLaren is a hustler when he gets interested, and he is interested in seeing that Main street is placed in decent shape. The preliminary work is always the most tedious—therefore, begin now!

A copy of the Long Beach (Cal.) Press has been placed on our table. It contains an elaborate account of the public schools of that place, of which J. J. Morgan, who was one of the first graduates of the Plymouth school, is superintendent, and who is highly praised for his work in behalf of the public. Long Beach is credited as a city of 10,000 inhabitants.

Some intimations have gone out that a large carriage factory now located in a neighboring village might be induced to come to Plymouth. If there is any foundation for the surmises, it certainly would be most advantageous for the business men of Plymouth to "go after" it. The Business Men's Club could very properly look up the matter and act accordingly.

Charles J. Miller has been appointed a deputy sheriff under Sheriff Burns and has been assigned to court duties. Charley was "the whole thing" in the recent Burns campaign and is deserving of his reward. There are now four Plymouth citizens who are or will hold jobs in the county offices: Harry Bennett in the clerk's office, Art. Cable in the office of register of deed, Charles Miller in the sheriff's and Jacob Streng in the treasurer's office. With W. H. Hoyt as a member of the State tax commission and Clay Hoyt in the auditor general's office at Lansing, Plymouth seems to be pretty well provided for politically.

Frightful Suffering Believed.

Suffering frightfully from the virulent poison of undigested food, C. G. Grayson, of Lula, Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes, "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give way to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at The Wolverine Drug Co's, and John L. Gale's, guaranteed.

Play Ball.

The weather permitting the first game of ball—Ypsilanti vs. Plymouth—on the new athletic park will be played Saturday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. The "fans" will assemble at the Plymouth House and headed by the band will escort the clubs to the grounds. It is expected everything will be in readiness on the grounds and the attendance ought to be a record-breaker. Entouse a little and come out and "root" for the boys. The ladies are included in this invitation.

CHURCH NEWS.

The subject for Sunday morning at First Church of Christ, Scientist, will be "Everlasting Punishment." All are cordially invited.

Dr. W. N. Lau, of Detroit, will supply the pulpit of the Baptist church again next Sunday. The annual meeting of the church for the election of officers will be held next Wednesday evening, April 26. The members will please remember this meeting.

Services in the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning and evening. The pastor will preach in the morning. In the evening the Lantern view lectures will be continued with colored pictures on the resurrection of Christ. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6 P. M.

The Sunday school assisted by the choir will have charge of the Easter music for Sunday morning in the M. E. church, the pastor delivering a brief address on "Our Prospects and Opportunities." The evening service will also be specialized by an Easter sermon and appropriate music.

The Epworth Leaguers will follow their custom of holding an Easter sunrise service. The meeting will be in charge of P. W. Voorhies and will begin promptly at six o'clock, lasting one hour. A spiritual song service will open the meeting. All young people of the village and the older ones, too, will receive a cordial welcome.

Somebody Says That—

When a woman asks a number of questions she is possessed of idle curiosity. When a man asks a number he is animated by a keen desire to improve his mind and enlarge his sphere of knowledge. That is just another one of the little differences between the sexes which ought to show a woman the utter impossibility of ever hoping to attain equality with man.

Named for "Grand Monarque."

When La Salle entered the Gulf of Mexico in 1682 he founded the fort of St. Louis and named it for Louis XIV of France and the surrounding territory he called "Louisiana." The inhabitants of this country originally were French and Spanish settlers, and their descendants even to-day are called "Creoles."

EVERY ONE ASKS HIM

HOW HE GOT RID OF HIS OBSTINATE MUCOUS RHEUMATISM.

Mr. Jones Tells of the Way by Which He Treated Himself Successfully When Doctors Failed.

Six physicians, all of them good, one of them a specialist, had done their best for Mr. Jones at different times during three years, and still he suffered fearfully from the tortures of rheumatism. The rheumatism that had been dormant in his system was suddenly brought to an acute stage by exposure while he was drawing ice in February, 1901. From that time on for a period more than three years he was a constant sufferer. He tried many kinds of treatment, but the rheumatism wouldn't budge. When regular doctors failed, and one remedy after another proved useless, many said: "I should think he would give it up and save his money." Of his condition at this time, Mr. Jones says: "My rheumatism started in my right thigh, but in time it appeared in every muscle of my body. I lost the use of my left arm entirely and nearly lost the use of my right one. My feet were badly affected, especially the bottoms of the heels. When my right side was affected there was swelling, but the left side didn't swell when the disease settled there. The internal organs didn't seem to be involved at all. The trouble was all in the muscles and the nerves."

Among the few who still encouraged Mr. Jones to think that a cure might yet be found was a friend who had reason for great confidence in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and acting on her advice he bought a box of them in September, 1904. The story of what followed is brief, but nothing could be more satisfactory.

"When I was on the third box," says Mr. Jones, "I could realize a change for the better. I felt more than that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were the right medicine for my case. I kept on with them for several weeks longer and now I am entirely well, and everybody is asking what I took."

Mr. Williams Jones lives at Oxford, Mass. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills affect wonderful cures in rheumatism, because they work directly on the blood which is the seat of the disease. They are sold by every druggist.

"Five days!" I repeated. "This is the night when I am to meet Lady Felton and receive it back again. I must get up—help me, Gil!"

"You cannot; you are not able," said he.

"She will think I do not care," I pleaded; "I must get up."

"It does not matter, my lord; the lady is not in London," said he.

"Ah, yes, you said that you had seen her—where has she gone?" I asked.

"I do not know," he returned.

I fell back exhausted from talking, big drops of sweat stood upon my face. I made a motion for him to explain.

"Three nights ago," he began, "at the close of another day of unrequited search, tired out, I was dozing in my chair. You see, sir, I have not slept in a bed since our parting."

"Poor Gil!" I murmured.

I remembered how he had ridden to and from Long Haut without rest, and now this weary search.

"You were right—it may be some consolation for you to know—there is nothing to beat this looking after young sparks for taking the pounds off one, hey Gil?" I said drolly. "You will be as slender as our friend, Noel, when next you meet."

"I had not finished my supper," he went on, heedless of my interruption. "I intended to go out again as soon as my cloak was dried; and, as I said, I fell asleep in my chair. I was awakened by Torraine, who came and said that the lady was at the lodge door. You will know that I am not at the Blue Boar, but in an old house on the fringe of town."

"What lady?" I asked him.

"The handsome one that came to the Tabard," he explained.

"I hurried on my clothes to be decent and went down to the door, where the fool had left her standing. I begged her to come in. She was ing other profuse apologies, when he discovered that the mirror was broken, shattered into a thousand tiny bits: 'A bad omen, ma cousin,' he said, 'a death!' His face glowed with the liveliest interest, and malignity was not far off. I twitted him with being spiteful because of losing the wager—I was not gentle with him."

"I may say I believed her, for upon the telling of the circumstance, her eyes sparkled like glow worms on a summer's night," was Gil's comment.

"He dallied with the locket," the lady continued her narrative, in a disdainful manner, turning it now this way, now that, while I waited his pleasure. Finally he gave it an extra fillip and the thin gold partition, which backed the mirror, fell out, and with it a bit of paper folded into a tiny square to fit the locket. Again there was a scramble, and again Raoul Dwight was the successful one. In spite of my expostulations, he opened and read what was written on the paper aloud—the dishonorable bound! 'A love letter,' he cried mockingly, 'a rendezvous, too!' He then held it up so that all the dandies present might see. I was in distress, for now I thought I understood why Mifer Waters had been so solicitous about the locket—he should have trusted me if it is of any value to him. It is not mine," I cried, scarcely knowing what I said. "I see it is not, cousin," he replied, "for the date on the billet doux, although almost indistinguishable, antedates your birth by some years—and I beg your pardon, coz," he added. The men's muttered cries of "Shame," helped him to fasten his slipping temper.

"Then he hastened to hand it to me, for he had seen what I too saw; my father watching us. You must know," she explained to me, "that I have a father here in London, although 'tis little indeed I see of him, living, as I mostly do, at Lady Dwight's. My father now came to

"If he is dead," I violently cried, "you have killed him!"

timid—pale—big black rings were under her eyes."

"Your master," she faltered. "Have you found him yet?"

"No," I replied, "and I have searched everywhere."

"I am afraid," she said, "that he is dead." Her voice broke and died away in a sob.

"What makes you think so?" I asked, stubborn enough still to contest the thought with anyone that you could be dead.

"Yes, dead," she repeated, "and a woman's vanity has been the cause!"

"I thought, if so, she would not be the first woman to do a man to his death by the same. I restrained myself, however, and gave her no hint of my thoughts."

I could have smiled any other time, he took so much virtue to himself at that restraint, but anxiety consumed me and I motioned him to continue.

"You must know," she said, "that my cousin, Sir Raoul Dwight, laid me a wager—it was to be a pair of jeweled gloves against my carol ring—that I could not get Mifer Waters to loan me that locket he wrung upon his breast. I could not let the wager pass; and that was the reason why I came to the Tabard instead of sending someone—to see him and to coax it from him."

"I will tell you that her voice lagged in the telling of this."

"No side remarks, if you please, Gil," I interrupted sharply.

"The night of the ball," the lady continued, "I wore the locket; it hung among the lace ruffles which encircled my neck. At once Cousin Raoul saw it—I knew he saw it, although he said nothing, and I flitted my triumph in his face. Tired of the minute, someone proposed a country dance. I like them not—they are rough. We were in the midst of one, where the gentlemen hold their swords up and the ladies pass beneath them. In a moment, I understand not yet how it happened, we all got bunched together. In the mix-up my dress was torn and the locket—Mifer Waters' locket—fell to the floor. Raoul Dwight's foot in an instant covered the bauble before the gentleman with whom I was dancing had time to stoop for it. Cousin Raoul was looking it to me (he had been the quicker to pick it up) with a low bow of mock humility, bewailing his awkwardness and makward us, pushing back the crowd debonairly. I forestalled the words on his lips by crying gaily to Raoul Dwight: 'I have won the wager; the gloves are mine.' But my father was not so easily to be put to rout. 'Allow me to see the paper, Mary,' he requested. But I courtseyed low before him, and replied, 'You must excuse me, sir; it would not interest you. Moreover, it does not belong to me.' I placed the paper back in the locket and fastened on the gold back.

"The men began making apologies for the fracas, and Raoul Dwight, as if to make amends for his rudeness, born of pique, and as I afterward learned, desire to see if the locket which Mifer Waters habitually wore contained the pledge of my hand, lingered to appease Lord Felton. I understood that Raoul Dwight was explaining about the paper. I heard him say (my ears are keen) words to the effect that it was naught but an old love letter written to Elaine, of which Mifer Waters must be choice indeed, since he treasured it so; and if it were ever to come again under his notice he would destroy it. And his information was punctuated with malicious chuckles. Which proved to me that it was of value to its owner, and that Raoul Dwight had either seen or heard of it before. I promised myself that, as far as I had the saying, he should never see it again.

"I did not look at my father, but I could feel his eyes follow me as I walked down the hall-room with my partner, and I knew that he was furious at being thwarted in his inquisitiveness. That was not to be the end of the affair. There is much more to tell, much more!

"I thought to escape an interview with him that night by spending it at Lady Dwight's. I had hardly entered the hall of her house when Lord Felton stood before me. After many pleasant words and compliments, for my father knows how to be most gracious when he chooses, and he can be the fiend incarnate when he pleases, also, he asked to see the billet doux. Again I refused graciously, but firmly. He was at a white heat with anger, and I was afraid that he would use force to wrench it from me. I should have known him better than that. He recovered himself and in his most suave manner said slowly and impressively: 'You are wasting your strength, my dear; better build a new fire upon the ashes of this old one—you will never see Quentin Waters—your lover—again. I think that you will not care to go unloved, no, not unloved, you could never be that, but unloving to the grave. Moreover, have your maid prepare your clothes; to-morrow I am going to take you away with me. I have left you too long to your own devices; and your lovers.'

"You have called Quentin Waters my lover," I replied. "I am more than happy to introduce him to you as such. When a father gambles away his daughter's hand in a room crowded with gamblers, holding her name as light as a thistle down—oh, I hate the thought of it!—he should thank her if she meet him in any spirit whatsoever. But if she acquiesces in what he has done, something more than thanks, are, I think, her due." Of course he told you that?" he said. His aplomb was admirable. "And you believed him?"

"Of course—he did not tell me that," I retorted. "He only lately became aware of the fact that Lady Mary Felton and Rosemary Allyn, whom he had seen at Castle Drout, were the same person. I saw—and possessed the paper the day he won it!—I recognized my father's writing!" He winced now, and the blood came to the surface of his face. "Then to make assurance doubly sure, I asked one who had witnessed the proceedings that night at the Lodge, and from him I learned the facts of the case. You and Cousin Raoul need not have been so anxious about the paper, since it has been in my possession all the time. Quentin Waters is not the man to force an unwelcome bride."

"I'm afraid he'll have to take a bride in heaven," he said harshly; "he'll get no earthly one."

"Then will I be that bride," I returned. Seeing there would be no end to the argument, he left me, after requesting my presence at home on the morrow.

"He had hardly gotten out of the door before Raoul Dwight put in an appearance. I had undergone my limit that night; patience not being a cardinal virtue with me, and I had no words for him. I was passing to my room, when he barred my way. 'A moment, sweet coz, I would have a word with you,' he said. 'I pray you grant me pardon for what happened at the ball to-night. I wished to know what that locket contained; I have found out. At that I cried, 'You dared make a fool of me for your base deeds?' 'Everything is excusable in love and war,' he answered. 'Again I crave your pardon—it seems there was no need of such rough measures, for I am confident that Quentin Waters is dead.'

"If he is dead," I violently cried, "you have killed him!" He answered, "I would have killed him joyfully in a duel, face to face, but I am no knave to stab a man in the back." "No?" I tauntingly questioned; "but perhaps hire men (and there are plenty about town who ask no better way to coin money) to do your delicate work for you?" He retorted, "I think you would not care to know, if such was the case, the name of the man in whose brain the plan was created."

"I looked scornfully at him and cried: 'Coward!' You not only make light of a woman before an assembly, but strike in the dark the character of one older than yourself—better not tell him your suspicions—coward!" "Peace, cousin, peace," he said. "I have proof that Quentin Waters was struck from his horse, and then mysteriously disappeared. At first I thought his man, Gil—the ape—had taken care of his body. But he has been hanging about the Duke's theater, obviously as much at sea as the rest of us as to the destiny of his master. I firmly believe that he is dead. Sweet coz, turn your thoughts from a dead man to me, a quick one, who has loved you for years—am I never to be rewarded for my fidelity?" (To be continued.)

JUDGING BY THEIR COLOR.

Fisherman Employed Somebody to "Break In" His Shirts.

The late Capt. Alfred Rice, the noted shad fisherman of the Delaware river, was no less remarkable for personal cleanliness than for his unequalled handling of the mile-long shad seine.

Capt. Rice was not only clean and neat himself; he insisted upon cleanliness and neatness in his men. If a new man proved to be a sloven, he very soon mended his ways under the captain's criticisms, or else he sought another job.

There was a new man, one shad season, who always wore a dirty white shirt. In shad fishing it is best to wear a black jersey. If, however, a white shirt is chosen, there is no reason why it should not be a clean one. So, at least, Capt. Rice thought.

He stood his new man's dirty white shirts for a month. Then, calling the fisherman up to him, he said:

"Friend, who the deuce is it that you always get to wear your shirts the first week for you?"—Los Angeles Times.

Wit Worth Overcharge.

A commendable characteristic of W. I. Douglas, governor of Massachusetts, is his enjoyment of a joke on himself as much as on the other fellow. Not long ago he dropped into a strange barber shop to have his scant hair trimmed. After the job had been completed, the barber handed Mr. Douglas a check for fifty cents.

"How's this?" said Mr. Douglas. "Doesn't that sign over there say 'first-class hair-cut for twenty-five cents'?"

"Yes—yes," replied the barber, "but you haven't first-class hair."

FOLLOWING A RELIGIOUS RITE.

A Custom That Is in Vogue in One Part of Italy.

In the "vanity" section of a museum at Florence, says the London Telegraph, there is an interesting collection of blocks used for what is called "religious tattooing" among the Italian peasants of the district enclosed between the Aruzzi, Umbria and the Adriatic.

Peasants in these parts at work with shirt sleeves rolled up display a Christian symbol of some sort or text tattooed in blue ink on their brown skin. This has been imprinted on the occasion of some special festival.

A wooden block is pressed upon the tightly drawn skin to make the outlines of the design. This is then punctured and a blue ink is rubbed into the wounds, which usually heal in about twenty-four hours. The custom, which is essentially Christian, is in commemoration of the branding of St. Francis, who founded a monastery close to Loretto.

Charms of the Riviera.

It has been pointed out that the temperature on the Riviera is a very few degrees above that of the south of England, but the charm lies in the almost constant succession of days of sunshine.

A Wonderful Discovery.

Broadland, S. Dak., April 17.—Quite a sensation has been created here by the publication of the story of G. W. Gray, who after a special treatment for three months was prostrate and helpless and given up to die with Bright's Disease. Bright's Disease has always been considered incurable, but evidently from the story told by Mr. Gray, there is a remedy which will cure it, even in the most advanced stages. This is what he says:

"I was helpless as a little babe. My wife and I searched everything and read everything we could find about Bright's Disease, hoping that I would be able to find a remedy. After many failures my wife insisted that I should try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I praise God for the day when I decided to do so. For this remedy met every phase of my case and in a short time I was able to get out of bed and after a few weeks' treatment I was a strong, well man. Dodd's Kidney Pills saved my life."

A remedy that will cure Bright's Disease will cure any lesser Kidney Disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills are certainly the most wonderful discovery which modern medical research has given to the world.

Advice to a Schoolboy.

William Hazlitt, the celebrated essayist and critic, wrote a letter to his son (of the same name) when sending him to school, says St. Nicholas. It contains excellent advice, is written in simple and direct style and will be found well worth your reading, though decidedly old-fashioned—a quality that makes it the more delightful. Hazlitt warns his son against being too fond of books, saying they "are but one inlet of knowledge; and the pores of the mind, like those of the body, should be left open to all impressions"—wherein the worthy father shows considerable ignorance of physiology. And, by the way, Hazlitt's essays touch upon every sort of subject, and all are charmingly written, so you might make a note of this when you wish for a book that is not a story.

A Personal Illustration.

Some years ago in a town meeting in Needham, Mass., a hot debate took place on the question of abating some alleged nuisances in the form of large pigeries. The claim was strongly made that they were a menace to health. One of the owners, a strapping, rosy-cheeked young farmer, who was much more at ease while feeding his swine than on the floor of a town meeting, rose to defend the sanitary side of his occupation by using himself as a striking illustration. Angrily sweeping his hand toward the objectors, he said: "These folks say hogs ain't healthy. Look at me!"

HONEST CONFESSION.

A Doctor's Talk on Food.

There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly confession of the fact.

A case in point is that of an eminent practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up:

"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all much advertised foods. Hence, I never read a line of the many 'ads' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food till last winter.

"While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons. I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill effects whatever, causing no eructations (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way.

"There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sits as lightly or pleasantly upon my stomach as this does. I am stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for 10 years, and am no longer troubled with nausea and indigestion." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

Look in each pkg. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

ALL BROKEN DOWN.

No Sleep—No Appetite—Just a Constant Backache.

Joseph McCauley, of 144 Sholto street, Chicago, Sackem of Tecumseh Lodge, says: "Two years ago my health was completely broken down. My back ached and was so lame that at times I was hardly able to dress myself. I lost my appetite and was unable to sleep. There seemed to be no relief until I took Doan's Kidney Pills; but four boxes of this remedy effected a complete and permanent cure. If suffering humanity knew the value of Doan's Kidney Pills they would use nothing else, as it is the only positive cure I know."

"MY WIFE'S PEOPLE COMING."

"We have had a splendid winter" in Western Canada.

Canada's inrush this year is wonderfully great and considerably ahead of any previous year. It is always interesting to those who contemplate moving to read expressions of opinion from those living in the country. It is therefore our pleasure to reproduce the following, written to an Agent of the Government, and forwarded to the Immigration Branch of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa: Birch Hills, Sask., Canada, Feb. 1 '05.

Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in dropping you a few lines to let you know how we are getting along up here and how we like the place. We have been here close on to a year now and think the place is fine. We have been out every day this winter working in the bush getting out logs for buildings, etc., getting rails for Yencung. We have not suffered with the cold as much as we did in Chicago. My little boys are out every day with their sleighs having a good time. The lowest temperature has been this winter is 34 below, and it is very still, no wind.

We had a splendid summer. We put up about 50 tons of hay and will have about 30 tons to sell. Hay brings $8 per ton now and will be higher in the spring. We have 20 acres broke and ready for crop. We worked on the Can. Nor. Ry. for awhile this summer and am just 3 miles from the R. R. and town site. The steel is all laid to within 2 miles of the river and we often see the train bringing supplies for the Bridge.

My wife's people are coming up about May. I wish you would write them and if there should be any one coming to Prince Albert that could do with a half a car let them know. The homesteads are all taken up within 12 miles of us. I often think if this land were only in the States what a rush there would be. It is the richest land and most productive I ever saw, and the climate is O. K.

I know that people back there that I write to do not believe me when I write them what a splendid winter we are having. They think we are all frozen up. We have only about 8 inches of snow, and there are cattle on the range that have not been rounded up this winter. Day after day the Ther. raises up to 60 and 60, and I don't believe we have had a day this winter that it stayed at zero. My wife says that we used to think that zero was cold in Chicago. But we don't mind it one bit. Christmas night we went out and drove 5 miles with our 3 little boys, it was 20 below, and there was not a whimper from any one of them; I'd hate to do it in old Chicago.

Well, I guess I will close, and you can tell any one in the U. S. that they cannot do better than come to the Prince Albert District. I remain, Yours truly, (Signed) J. D. Head.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; and cases of deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PAINFUL PERIODS

Suggestions How to Find Relief from Such Suffering.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it does not seem to be the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. If it is painful or irregular something is wrong which should be set right or it will lead to a serious derangement of the whole female organism.

More than fifty thousand women have testified in grateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes painful and irregular menstruation.

It provides a safe and sure way of escape from distressing and dangerous weaknesses and diseases.

The two following letters tell so convincingly what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do for women, they cannot fail to bring hope to thousands of sufferers.

Miss Nellie Holmes of 540 N. Davidson Street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"Your medicine is indeed an ideal medicine for women. I suffered misery for years with painful periods, headaches, and bearing-down pains. I consulted two different physicians but failed to get any relief. A friend from the East advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and no longer suffer as I did before. My periods are natural; every ache and pain is gone, and my general health is much improved. I advise all women who suffer to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Tillie Hart, of Larimore, N. D., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"I might have been spared many months of suffering and pain had I only known of the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills."

Vegetable Compound sooner; for I have tried so many remedies without help.

"I dreaded the approach of my menstrual period every month, as it meant so much pain and suffering for me, but after I had used the Compound two months I became regular and natural and am now perfectly well and free from pain at my monthly periods. I am very grateful for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound rests upon the well-earned gratitude of American women.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating, (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her name, she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass.

Waiting For Sixth Generation.

One year when we were spending our vacation in Maine a large party was held at one of the neighboring farmhouses. It was to celebrate the 93d birthday of an old resident in the vicinity. There were five generations present. A local photographer, Mr. Robins, was to take their picture. He was very slow, and the baby, about 6 months old, was very uneasy.

One of the farmers who was standing near by said: "Well, Robins, the sixth generation will be here before you get that picture taken if you don't hurry up."—Boston Herald.

HE HAD A MANIA FOR PROPOSING

Excuse of an Ardent Irishman Who Jilted a Widow.

"A weakness for proposing marriage to any good-looking woman he came across," was part of the defense raised in a breach of promise action heard at Liverpool assizes, says the London Mail.

The ardent lover was James W. O'Hara, formerly a village gardener, who two years ago became entitled, with his two sisters, to £24,000 left by an aunt. The woman who sued was a middle-aged widow, Martha Fairhurst of Aughton, Ormskirk.

The wooing was not romantic, and Mr. O'Hara's views, continued counsel, were represented in words of Owen Meredith:

We may live without poetry, music or art.
We may live without conscience and live without heart;
We may live without friends, we may live without books,
But civilized man cannot live without cooks.

At first the widow thought Mr. O'Hara was "merely chaffing her," but he wrote a formal offer of marriage, asked the consent of her sons and daughters and invited neighbors to the wedding. Then his ardor cooled and he refused explanations.

The defense was Mr. O'Hara had an inclination for making proposals when intoxicated. A woman said Mr. O'Hara had asked her, as well as her mother and her sister, to be his wife, while another witness remarked that two or three other women were waiting the result of the present action before going for Mr. O'Hara for solatium for blighted hopes.

The jury awarded Mrs. Fairhurst £225 damages.

PRINCESS STARTS A CAFE.

But It is a Charity Establishment for the Poor of Athens.

Society at Athens was invited to the inauguration of the new restaurant for the poor, or "Systition," established by the crown princess of Greece, near the Acropolis.

The ceremony of the inauguration was honored by the presence of the king and queen and all the members of the royal family, says the New York Herald. Princess Sophie herself was the first to taste the food which the poor of the city will have at a nominal price.

A large number of poor people were waiting outside and entered as soon as the doors were opened, most of them being aged men, women and children. They were served on that day by the most distinguished women of Athens.

The king and members of the royal family went frequently to the kitchen and through the rooms and took great pleasure in seeing the satisfaction of the poor people.

A similar restaurant for the poor, called "Systition," is already in existence in another quarter of the city, near the market, due to the same benevolent fondness. Princess Sophie has already acquired the name of "Good Princess," and has now made herself more popular than ever by the new establishment.

Doctor's Wife Was Squelched.

"Late the other night," remarked the doctor, "when my wife decided I must not make any more calls, the telephone bell rang. She went to the phone and assured the party I was not at home.

Asked to suggest something to calm a baby patient my wife turned her head and asked me what she should advise. I told her to tell the folks to give fifteen drops of paregoric. Then came the inquiry:

"What shall I do if the paregoric does not work? Again my wife looked in my direction and I said: 'Give a few drops of laudanum.' Once more my wife repeated my advice. Vexed, the party at the other end of the wire came back with:

"The next time the doctor is away from home, if you have occasion to use the telephone and there is a man in your room, please have the decency to place your hand over the receiver of the telephone when you speak to him."—Chicago Tribune.

A Hat Experiment.

A gentleman who visited a printing station of a city water works was shown into the engine room. "What I am proud of here is my draft," said the engineer. "Here it is." He raised a trap door in the floor, disclosing a black hole about a foot square, and the visitor looked in eagerly. Nothing was to be seen, but a tremendous draft sucked in his silk hat. "Ha, ha!" cried the engineer, joyously. "Now, this is an interesting experiment. Just watch that tail stack over there." He pointed to a lofty stack, and as he did so the silk hat shot straight out of it fifty feet up in the air, and then, like a big black bird, sailed slowly away. "Grand experiment, indeed," said the visitor, "and I thank you for it. I will now endeavor to secure the remains of my hat." And he chased away after his property, while the engineer looked on with an amused smile.

The Vindictive Poet.

The poet looked up with a vindictive glare.

"I am getting even," he snarled as he scribbled wildly on the sheet before him.

"What are you doing?" queried the alarmed caller.

"The editors say that I must write on one side of the paper only," the poet replied. "And I am doing my best with this piece of blank crayon to ruin the other side, so that they can't utilize it for any merely sordid purpose."

And he savagely crisscrossed the next virgin page.

FISHES FROM OCEAN'S BED.

Unusual Characteristics of Inhabitants of the Deep Sea.

When a deep-sea fish is brought to the surface, how gradually and carefully soever, its bones are often like so much touchwood and its muscles like rotten pulp, while its eyes are burst from their sockets and its viscera are often blown out of the body cavity by the expansion of the air bladder. It frequently happens that deep-sea fishes are found floating helplessly on the surface of the ocean, with large prey in their stomachs. Their appearance under these circumstances is accounted for by the efforts of their struggling victims to escape from their jaws, causing them to ascend beyond the horizontal zone which they usually inhabit. Deep-sea fishes are commonly black or dark brown. But although it is claimed that light is essential to the formation of colors, some deep-sea fishes are scarlet in parts, or uniform red or rosy. Others are silvery white, while, according to Alcock, the neocopelus is "one dazzling sheen of purple and silver and burnished gold, amid which is a sparkling constellation of luminous organs."

Weather Indications.

If it clears off in the night look for rain the next day. If smoke from the chimney settles instead of rising there is a storm at hand. When sound travels a long distance there is also a storm near. Never expect much storm in the old of the moon. The absence of dew and an unusually heavy dew are alike forerunners of rain. Not much frost need be expected in the light of the moon. An owl hooting in the hollow is a sign of a cold storm; on the hill it foretells a thaw.

Provided Handsomely for Pets.

Quite a large sum was left by a Rajput prince some thirty years ago "for the maintenance in comfort" of his three favorite elephants and a pet tiger. A curious provision was that special trappings and cloths were to be provided for the elephants, while the tiger was to be regaled with a specially mentioned diet, and was to be provided with a solid gold collar studded with a large number of precious stones.

Bishop Brooks at New Haven.

The late Phillips Brooks' ready wit is well illustrated by the remark once made by him, as he was starting for New Haven, in company with Dr. Edward Everett Hale, to witness a Harvard-Yale football game. To a friend who met him on his way to the train, and who inquired where he was going, he replied: "I'm going down to New Haven to yell with Hale."

Trades Are Independent.

A bankrupt sawyer recently stated in a London court that his trade had been ruined by the advance in the price of sugar. Confectioners and candy manufacturers were economizing by doing without wooden boxes and cases.

BABY'S AWFUL ECZEMA.

Face Like Raw Beef—Thought She Would Lose Her Ear—Healed Without a Bleemish—Mother Thanks Cuticura.

"My little girl had eczema very bad when she was ten months old. I thought she would lose her right ear. It had turned black, and her face was like a piece of raw meat, and very sore. It would bleed when I washed her, and I had to keep cloths on it day and night. There was not a clear spot on her face when I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and now it is completely healed, without scar or blemish, which is more than I had hoped for. (Signed) Mrs. Rose Elber, 291 Eckford St., Brooklyn, N. Y."

Wickedness in Luverne.

Everybody in Luverne knows the young ladies who lock arms with the devil. "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all of the time."—Luverne Journal.

Miserable Conditions.

Of body and mind, always result from a torpid liver, which leads to bile poisons being absorbed into the blood, and poisoning all the nerves and tissues. This dreadful state, some of the symptoms of which are headache, bitter taste, nausea, lack of appetite, yellow complexion, constipation, etc., can be quickly cured by taking Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin. It relieves the strain on your liver, relaxes the tightened bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and makes it as clean as a whistle. The result is perfect health, and freedom from pain and discomfort. Try it. Sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00. Money back if it fails.

Emigrant Buys Pistol.

A man charged in a London Police Court with carrying a pistol said he had bought it for "self-protection," as he was "going to America." He was sympathetically discharged.

QUEEN OF ACTRESSES PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

MISS JULIA MARLOWE
Heartily Approves of Peruna for the Nerves.

In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., Miss Julia Marlowe of New York City, writes the following:

"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna, as a nerve tonic. I do so most heartily."—Julia Marlowe.

This can be easily obviated by using Peruna. Peruna strikes at the root of the difficulty by correcting the digestion.

Digestion furnishes nutrition for the nerve centers. Properly digested food furnishes these reservoirs of life with vitality which leads to strong, steady nerves and thus nourishes life.

Peruna is in great favor among women, especially those who have vocations that are trying to the nerves.

Buy a bottle of Peruna to-day. If you do not receive all the benefits from Peruna that you expected, write to Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Sign of Bad Weather.

Distant sounds distinctly heard forebode no good weather. If the sun "draws up water" it will rain. The pitcher sweating and the teakettle boiling dry also indicate rain. Cobwebs thickly spread upon the grass are an indication of fair weather.

Nero an Esthete.

I am taking a new, but I sincerely believe a just, view of Nero. I consider him not only not a monster, but not even a radically bad man in the ordinary sense of the term. He was, in its most original sense, an esthete—placed in an omnipotent position.—Mr. S. Phillips, in Great Thoughts.

Walter J. Snyder, Secretary of The Detroit Driving Club, announces that Michigan's two classic events, the $10,000 Merchants' and Manufacturers' trotting, and $5,000.00 Chamber of Commerce pacing stakes have filled beyond expectation.

A total of thirty five responded to the call for entries in the Blue Ribbon classics,—twenty-three in the M. and M. and twelve in the C. of C. Michigan is represented in the M. and M. by Nanco entered by Meir & Kocks, of Grand Rapids. As usual the best horses in the country are numbered among those entered and next July when the bell rings the greatest race ever witnessed should be the result.

W. C. T. U.

During our National convention, held in Philadelphia last October, the National superintendent of soldiers and sailors, Mrs. Ella M. Thueher, visited the cruiser Prairie that was then laying at anchor near the city, and held a meeting, distributing pledge cards. Greatly to her regret, only a few were returned with signatures. But after a time the cards began coming and kept coming with "Jackies" signatures, and as a splendid sequel to that effort read the following from the Washington Star:

"The bluejackets who were brought to Washington on the cruiser Prairie to take part in the inauguration, established a record of which the officials of the navy department are proud. During the stay of that ship in this vicinity over 400 of her crew were given shore liberty to see the sights of the National capital. Every one of these men returned to the ship clean and sober, there not being a single straggler, and ship sailed away with her full complement." The W. C. T. U. certainly had a hand in it.

The annual meeting last Thursday passed off very pleasantly. There was a good attendance of members and guests and all felt cheered at the results of the year's work. The following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Jennie Voorhies.
Cor. Sec'y—Mrs. W. N. Isabel.
Rec. Sec'y—Mrs. M. A. Patterson.
Treas.—Mrs. E. L. Beals.

Beginning about May 1st Chelsea and Mason are to be connected by an automobile buss line which is somewhat of a new thing in this state. The proposed route is from Chelsea by way of Cavanaugh Lake, Stockbridge and Dansville to Mason, a distance of about 40 miles and one round trip will be made daily with Oldsmobile passenger cars of 20-horsepower and a capacity of 16 miles an hour, although the average speed will be 10 miles an hour. The cars will run on regular schedule time like street cars and make stops along the way to take on or let off passengers. They will carry twelve ordinary persons besides express. L. L. Gorton, of Waterloo, and his associates have formed a stock company to conduct the enterprise, and stock has been liberally subscribed for along the proposed line.

CURES STOMACH TROUBLES

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food sours on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Theford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Theford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.
