WANTED TO SEE HIS WEALTH

In the Process, Depositor Made Trouble for the Cashier.

An old negro went to the bank in which he kept his hard-earned savings and asked the paying teller to give him all the money he had deposited. He offered no explanation of his sudden desire to withdraw his funds, and after vain argument with him the teller counted out the bills and delivered them to the old man. He eyed the paper money a moment and said:

"Min I git dat in silver, boss?"

The teller assured him he could, and forthwith made the exchange. The old negro retired to a neighboring desk, remained crouched over it a long time, and then, to the teller's great surprise, returned to the window and gleefully thrust his money back through the pigeon-hole. Before he could speak, the old man said, grinning widely:

"Thanks, boss; you kin take it back. I jes' wanted t' see ef it wuz all there."—Harper's Weekly.

WISDOM IN CHINESE PROVERBS

Many Homely Truths Condensed into Short Paragraphs.

The verbal wisdom of the Chinese has become proverbial and, appropriately enough, it shows itself prominently in their proverbs. Many of these have already been translated into English, but here are a few more, from a collection by Herr Bruno Navarra, published in Heidelberg, which may be welcome:

"It is better not to be than not to be anything." "Repentance is the dawn of virtue." "Even the highest tower stands on the ground." "Man thinks he knows everything, but woman knows better." "Even the mandarin of the first-class has poor relations." "The carver of idols never worships idols; he knows too well what they are made of." "A day of grief is longer than a year of joy." And so on.—T. P.'s Weekly.

Rereading Business Letters.

While there is some question about the advisability of using it, the stamp "Not Reread" is frequently seen on the letters of the man who signs the mail. This shifts the responsibility of error on to the operator, whether to blame or not, and is also likely to leave the impression that the house has a heavy correspondence. It is a sign of shiftlessness rather than an indication of extensive business, and should be discouraged. The head of the business concern who countenances the practice misses the mark if he thinks it is a stamp of magnitude even if he has a large amount of business, and we would suggest that more help be employed if the present force does not permit of rereading the letters after they come from the typewriter.—Typewriter Topics.

Rest for Tired Brain.

Many are the suggestions offered as to resting, for strange as it may seem, few people understand the art of resting properly. Thorough rest does not necessarily mean lying down or sitting; it means to relax the entire system, the mind and body. For a tired brain physical exercise is the best remedy rather than a resort to drugs. If a brisk walk in the fresh air can be taken, so much the better. A very good remedy for a weary brain is to rise slowly on the toes (lifting the heels from the floor) until the muscles at the calf of the leg ache, and then to kick vigorously a few times. Repeat this simple exercise, several times and excellent results will follow.

Contrary Human Nature.

An amusing bit of human nature comes to light in Paris. The management of the underground railway until recently provided at every station a small box in an out-of-the-way corner for passengers to deposit their tickets in. A natural result of this system, or, if you prefer, of the fact that a ticket in ten was deposited in the box; the rest fluttered about at will all over the station. The authorities noted this, and changed the small inaccessible box for a large one in a prominent position. The surprising sequel was that instead of one in ten, only one in a hundred tickets found its way into the new box. The cashier it was to deposit the tickets the more careless were the passengers in disposing of them.

Joke of the Deep Sea.

"The sea's pressure is almost incredible," said the clubman. "If you extended deep enough it would crush the bones and all to a mass of red mud. Off Sicily last winter we ran out of ice, and some one suggested that to cool the champagne for dinner we lower it a half-mile or so into the sea's depths." This was done, and at dinner time the three bottles came up, delightfully chilled. But when we opened them we found that they contained nothing but salt water. The sea's pressure had forced the water in through the pores in the corks, displacing the lighter liquid.

Street Accidents.

Twelve per cent of all the accidents to people in cities happen on the streets. Statistics show that the average citizen, if he should meet with 100 serious mischances on his walks abroad, would slip on the ice, and fall down under other circumstances, sixty-eight times; he would get hurt ten times in boarding or dismounting from cars; he would be knocked down, or otherwise injured, by horses and wagons six times; he would be bitten by dogs four times, and he would step disastrously upon banana peels twice. The remaining mischances would be miscellaneous, and might include one or two collisions with motor cars, which have taken the place of bicycles as perils to the pedestrian.—Pearson's Magazine.

Complaint is an Old One.

Laxity in public worship has long been a theme for preachers. In 1743 one of them wrote of the congregation of St. James', Piccadilly, London, that "they seem to be more taken up with viewing, and contemplating each other's dress and equipage than in paying their devotions to the Divine Being they pretend to adore; and it is usual to see this set of people bowing to their neighbors, with a 'Glory be to the Father' in their mouths." And again: "The ladies show surprising memories on this occasion, being able to relate on their return home what clothes every woman of figure had on from head to foot, the fineness of the lace, and the color of every ribbon worn in the assembly."

Time's Advance.

Stern, yet dear and friendly, is the fall of Time, the comrade who never forsakes us. Why do we flaunt defiance at him, challenge his advances, and cheat ourselves into the belief that we can outwit him? From the pussy willow to the icicle, from spring to frosty winter, softly stepping, noiseless and invincible, Time keeps pace with us. He smiled over every one of our cradles. He does not halt until we reach the Inn of Journey's End. Meanwhile, he gives us many a joy, many a bright morning and moonlit evening and starry night. And Time is punctuated for us by beautiful anniversaries.—Margaret F. Sangster in Woman's Home Companion.

BURNED HOMES IN WHICH EIGHT LIVES ARE LOST.

VICTIMS OF THE FLAMES IN LONG RAPIDS, A HOME NEAR CHARLEVOIX AND FIFE LAKE.

Three Homes Burned; Eight Perish. A shocking fatality occurred at Hiram Marston's farm, Long Rapids, 20 miles from Alpena, Monday, in which Russel and Royal, the 17-months-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Danford, tenants of the farm, were burned to death in their cradle. The father got up before daylight, started the kitchen fire and went to the barn to do his chores, leaving his wife still asleep in the bedroom, and the children in the cradle in the kitchen. The mother awoke shortly afterward to find the room filled with smoke and the bedclothes afire. She jumped through the window in her night dress and rang the dinner bell. The father ran from the barn and rushed into the burning house and emerged an instant later with the children in the cradle, both dead and badly disfigured. The mother suffered serious burns on her hands and face. The father is in a serious condition. His eyebrows and eyelashes are burned off and his face frightfully charred. His eyesight is also probably gone.

Burned to death in their home near Charlevoix, the husband and father, unable because of locked doors to rescue them, was the fate Sunday night of Mrs. William Ostrum and her two children, one three years old and the other but six months. The mother was subject to apoplexy, and it is supposed that she fell in a fit, upsetting her lamp and precipitating the holocaust.

Ostrum says it was but a few minutes after he left the house at 6 o'clock that he learned of the fire. He ran back and frantically attempted to rescue his family, but the whole interior of the house was ablaze, and the locked doors further hindered his efforts at rescue.

When the fire had burned itself out, the bodies of the three victims were found in the cellar. The mother and the oldest child were found in the remains of the bed, and the body of the babe beneath the place where it usually lay in a chair.

Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ingersoll, ranging in age from 3 to 6 years, were burned to death in their home near Fife Lake, Thursday. The father was at work and the mother went to visit a neighbor, leaving the children in the house alone. The youngest child was cremated and the other two died shortly after being taken from the burning house.

The fire was started by the children playing with kerosene oil while the mother was absent looking for another child which had wandered away from home.

Death of St. John.

Jason E. St. John, superintendent of the state industrial school in Lansing, died suddenly at 11:30 Tuesday night of heart failure. He was ill less than an hour. For the past year he had expressed some anxiety about his health, but of late had been as well as usual. It was after he had retired that he was taken sick.

Mr. St. John was born at Somerset, Mich., 65 years ago. In early life he was employed as clerk in the store of D. L. Crossman at Dansville, Mich. He started at the industrial school 23 years ago as an overseer of a department, and was advanced to bookkeeper, assistant superintendent, and was made superintendent 12 years ago. Assistant Superintendent E. M. Lawson has assumed charge.

Fatally Scalded.

Robert McCullough, chief engineer at the Lake Superior Corporation's veneer mill, fell into a tank of boiling water Wednesday morning and was submerged up to the neck.

Although he was quickly gotten out and taken to the general hospital, where he is getting the best of care possible, it is not thought that he will survive.

McCullough walked into the tank without being able to see it on account of the steam, which was unusually thick, made so by the cold. His home is out in the country, where there are four children, who will be orphaned in case of his death.

Mrs. G. D. Obeman, of Grand Rapids, wife of an old soldier and in rather moderate circumstances, has received a $25,000 bequest from the £2,000,000 Guy estate in London.

Breaking jail is said to be the specialty of Marion M. Letts, the son of respectable parents in Kent county, arrested at Panama for the alleged burning of a station on the Santa Fe road at Ottawa, Kas. He is said to have made five escapes from jail.

Like his namesake depicted in the Sunday colored supplement, Willie Wheeler, aged 11, of Highland, when sent on a hurry-up message by his mother to call his father, James Wheeler, because the family cow was choking to death on a potato, forgot his errand and played with a companion all afternoon. Meanwhile the cow died.

Clasped in each other's arms, the bodies of Ralph and Ray Relyea, aged 11 and 13 years, respectively, were found in Coldwater river this morning. It is reported that Cressy L. Wilbur, chief of the department of vital statistics, will resign the first of the year. He has been in the department 13 years.

The game warden's department has seized 52 deep water gill nets at Beaver Island, in Lake Michigan, which belong to the Michigan and Wisconsin fishermen, and are valued at several thousand dollars. This is the biggest single seizure in the history of the department.

FEARFUL EXPLOSION.

A quick, sharp detonation, louder than the combined report of many cannon; a distinct tremor that shook Marquette; the sound of falling glass, and a dull, rambling roar that vibrated among the hills. These were the accompaniments of the disastrous explosion when 1,300 pounds of nitro-glycerin and a quantity of dynamite exploded, which wrecked the plant of the Eastern Dynamite Co., three miles distant from Marquette, Saturday morning. The scene at the works is one of dire havoc. The nitro-glycerin house is a total wreck, also the "dope" house. The packing houses look as though they had been bombarded with heavy guns, and the engine room and other buildings more or less damaged. Great piles were torn in the roofs, the walls were bulged in or shoved out, and in some instances the buildings had collapsed utterly.

Of the mixing house, located on the bank of Deer river, not a vestige remains. It was here that the explosion of the deadly nitro-glycerin had occurred—how, will never be known, for all five men in the building at the time were blown into atoms. Torn into splinters, the timbers had been scattered like so much chaff. The machinery broken into pieces, had been hurled in all directions, some smaller fragments being picked up a mile distant. Parts of the flywheel were found several hundred feet away on the ice of the river. Large pine trees had been broken in two, and in general the scene was one of devastation, for which, however, thanks are due that it was no worse. Had the nitro-glycerin house gone too, and it is regarded as remarkable that it didn't, the horror possibly would have been magnified many times over.

Of the five men killed, only enough shreds of their blackened flesh to cover the bottom of a small powder box had been found in the snow in the nearby woods up to late this afternoon.

The plant comprises about 30 buildings, scattered over 80 acres. Some structures were wrecked, others badly damaged, the property loss running well into the thousands. It will be necessary to rebuild practically the entire plant.

THE CRISIS IN RUSSIA BRINGS ON DRASTIC ACTION.

THE GOVERNMENT'S POSITION PLAINLY STATED SHOWS COUNT WITTE FAVORS HARSH MEASURES.

The Desperate Remedy.

The Russian government will now resort to drastic measures to restore order in the rebellious empire, and states its position clearly in this way:

The government sincerely desired to introduce the new regime without recourse to harsh measures, but it received no support from the constitutionalists or other moderates, while the proletariat organizations, under the leadership of the socialists, continued their mad campaign in favor of armed rebellion and openly incited the army and the navy to mutiny.

The climax of this campaign was reached when efforts were made to attack the credit of the country in the midst of a considerable panic. Had the government allowed such efforts to go unchallenged it would have precipitated complete financial and industrial ruin.

After all, self-preservation is the first law of nature, and, besides, without the restoration of a semblance of order, it would be impossible to hold the elections for the duma. The case was a desperate one and it demanded a desperate remedy.

The government believes that the radical aims of the socialists have the sympathy of only a fraction of the population, and that if their leaders did succeed in overthrowing the monarchy and in placing their doctrines in practice, they would be swept out of existence by a counter-revolution.

Nevertheless, the government is on the horns of a dilemma, as no matter how honest its motives, in the present state of excitement they are bound to be misrepresented; while, on the other hand, if enough order can be restored to hold the elections, the cry will be set up that the government has adopted this expedient to control the elections and to capture the duma.

We have taken the only course left open to us.

More Horrors.

Report comes that mobs of Lithuanians and Estonians attacked 100 Cossacks and dragoons, the only military force stationed in Tukum. The mobs, after wild fighting, killed the soldiers to the last man, cut off their arms and legs and ripped up their bodies. The streets were strewn with bodies and dismembered parts.

The troops, in order to avoid annihilation at the hands of the insurgents, have been forced to abandon the country districts and to concentrate at Riga, Mitau and Libau.

The garrison of Takum, consisting of a squadron of dragoons and a company of infantry, not being able to depart in time, was set upon at night and lost its commander, Lieut. Col. Mueller, and 30 men. The insurgents, evading the sentinels, penetrated the town and laid wire entanglements in front of the houses in which the wearied soldiers were quartered. They then set fire to the houses, and the troops, rushing out, were shot down from the roofs or cut up in the narrow streets. The soldiers retreated in confusion, leaving their dead. The latter were horribly mutilated by the insurgents, who gouged out their eyes and cut off their ears and hands.

Order has been re-established and the soldiers are burying the bodies of the slain and caring for the wounded. In all 240 soldiers and peasants were killed and many were wounded. Most of the remaining population have fled to Riga, which now is the safest town in this part of Russia.

Revolting tales are told of the barbarities practiced on the German land-lords than are the Russians. In a fight near Tukum, 14 dragoons were killed and 16 wounded. It is estimated that the insurgents lost 300 men killed. A squadron of cavalry was ambushed and badly cut up near Grossantz and limped into Mitau with its wounded.

German Families Seized.

The story of how 4,000 Lettish peasants, near Rotmershof, Livonia, defeated a company of Dragoons who were escorting 20 German families, and took the whole company captive, has just reached St. Petersburg.

The Lett camp was strongly barricaded and the Dragoons were easily repulsed. Then the Letts took the offensive, pressing on the retreating caravan. The ammunition of the Dragoons becoming exhausted, they surrendered, with their charges, on the understanding that they would give up their guns, but would be allowed to retain their revolvers.

Another band, however, made its appearance and insisted upon taking charge of them, because the capture was effected in its territory. The members of this band then carried off the captives to Lennawarden castle, where they held a regular orgie over their victims.

Unless we despise a woman when we cease to love her, we are still a slave without consolation of intoxication.

Charles T. Prescott has arrived at the Prescott farm from Oregon with 3,236 sheep. The trip was made in 14 days, and only 25 sheep died en route.

Rep. Gardner, of Michigan, has been appointed a member of the sub-committee on District of Columbia and pensions by the house committee on appropriations.

Rep. Payne, of New York, argues that the only way congress can control insurance is through the taxing power and in a discussion of the recommendations in the president's message in the house yesterday urged that the question be referred to the committee on ways and means.

PASS RATE BILL.

The visit of President Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania railroad, to Senator Elkins and the two Pennsylvania senators at the capitol Monday afternoon, coupled with the subsequent remarks of the hitherto unplaced Senator Penrose, makes the railroad rate situation much more clear according to popular opinion.

Penrose, after Cassatt went away, said he was for any rate legislation the president wanted. From this and other information that is being circulated, it is becoming apparent that the great trunk line railroads will withdraw all opposition to this legislation as soon as they are assured that a law will be passed that will effectually do away with rebates, and all other railroads will do likewise if the law will allow them to pool.

Chicago Bank Failures.

Action has been taken by the comptroller of the currency, William B. Ridgely, that will compel the three large financial institutions, the Chicago national bank, the Chicago Home Savings bank and the Equitable Trust Co., dominated by John R. Walsh to wind up their affairs.

The other national banks of the city have come to the rescue, and it is declared on the authority of the clearing house association, the comptroller and also by the officers of the Chicago National bank, that not a single depositor will lose a cent.

The difficulties of the three banks, which are practically one and the same institution, are attributed by the comptroller of the currency to the large loans made by the Chicago National bank to the railroad, coal mining and other private enterprises controlled by Mr. Walsh.

The liabilities of the two banks, and of the Equitable Trust Co. were roughly estimated at $26,000,000. The assets of the three institutions made up about $20,000,000 of this amount, and the directors and officials of the Chicago National bank came to the front with securities amounting to about $2,000,000 more. This left a deficit of about $3,000,000 to be faced, and the Chicago banks represented at the meeting declared at once that they would meet the situation, and care for the deficit. If it proved necessary to advance any more than $3,000,000 to meet all demands the banks pledged themselves to make up the amount whatever it might be.

Burning Everything.

The Lokal Anzeiger's Konigsberger, East Prussia, correspondent says the revolutionists are in full control of all of Courland and Livonia and that the neighboring government of Kovono is also a blaze of rebellion. Armed bands, he says, are burning everything Mitau and Riga are in flames and Libau is seriously threatened. The lives of all Germans are in the greatest danger. Everything is in an uproar from Kreutzberg, on the Duna to Kovno, and rescue parties to save the Germans are imperatively needed. Two gentlemen from the Baltic province, Baron Korff and M. von Rosenbach, who were about to take a train for Kovno, were seized by insurgents and detained as hostages.

Steamer Lost.

The German steamer Andes was 48 days overdue Tuesday from Newport News for Guanta, Venezuela, and she has been posted in Lloyd's register of shipping as lost. Since the Andes passed out of the Virginian capes, on the morning of Sunday, October 22, she has not been seen or heard of and it is announced that her owner has given her up as lost. It is believed that the vessel encountered a severe storm while passing through the West Indies and that she, with her master, Capt. Manz, and the entire crew of 22 went to the bottom.

Shanghai Rioting.

Armed guards and patrols are maintained in Shanghai to cope with a possible renewal of the disturbances. The streets are filled with rowdies. The shops are open but looting is greatly feared. The United States cruiser Baltimore has landed a force and the British cruiser Diadem sent 500 men ashore. Other warships are expected and it is reported that German troops are coming here from Kiaochow.

The Chinese newspapers say the rowdies proposed to take advantage of the mixed court dispute to attack and loot the foreign settlement.

CONDENSED NEWS.

A Pullman car porters' union, which includes every negro railroad employe in the United States, has been organized.

E. E. Snyder, banker, of Anamosa, Ia., charged with receiving money when the bank was insolvent, has changed his plea to guilty.

THE PANAMA-BILL GIVES DISPOSAL OF A LARGE FUND.

THE DISMISSAL OF MIDSHIPMEN FOR HAZING CAN BE ONLY BY COURT MARTIAL.

President's Power.

The senate has agreed to the house report on the canal bill by which the measure is finally disposed by this body. It was a disputed question whether under the bill, which provides for the emergency canal fund as well as for the issuance of $130,000,000 in bonds, the president is clothed with power to expend the entire sum without asking any more questions of congress.

The joint acceptance was reported to the house and the bill is now ready for the president's signature.

Dismissal of Hazers.

Secretary Bonaparte has found that he has no power to dismiss Midshipmen Coffin and Van Dever, charged with hazing and complicity in hazing Midshipman Kimbrough at the Annapolis naval academy. Attorney-General Moody having decided that a cadet must be tried by court martial as a condition precedent to dismissal, Secretary Bonaparte has sent a letter to Senator Hale and Rep. Foss, chairmen respectively of the senate and house committees on naval affairs, asking the enactment of a law giving the secretary of the navy discretionary powers in the matter.

John Bucklin Bishop, the fisherman canal "press agent" whose job was knocked out by congress and was subjected to a fire of criticism, has been appointed by the president as a member of the canal commission. The name came to the senate Wednesday and confirmation will be fought bitterly, but the president may win. Platt, of New York, has it in for Bishop because of some editorials he wrote in the New York Evening Post roasting the senator. The senate seems to feel that Mr. Roosevelt is trying to ram Bishop down its throat.

Rebates to Go.

Executive officials of all western railroads at a meeting in Chicago, entered into an agreement with a view to compelling a strict adherence to the provisions of the interstate commerce laws.

Every road bound itself to inform the interstate commerce commission of any illegal acts on the part of any road, in order to keep in close touch with the situation it was agreed that the roads should appoint a committee to represent the various western freight associations and to canvass the situation from time to time and report violations of the law.

It will be the duty of this commission to furnish evidence in the event of an investigation. It was the general opinion at the meeting that since the law has abrogated the penitentiary clause and substituted a fine against railroads violating the law, railroad men should no longer see any deficiency in giving information regarding infractions of the law.

Through this action the railroad officials say they expect to stop the payment of rebates and all devices for giving preference to shippers.

Dolliver's Rate Bill.

Senator Dolliver introduced a bill Tuesday designed to simplify the railroad rate regulation measure proposed by the interstate commerce commission. It authorizes the commission to fix and enforce a maximum and reasonable rate to go into effect 30 days after notice. The court procedure of the commission's bill is eliminated and railroads are left free to follow their constitutional remedies in the courts. The commission is increased to seven members with a salary of $10,000 each.

It had not been the intention of the senator to introduce the measure until after the holidays, but it was agreed at a conference at the White House participated in by the president, Senator Dolliver, Secretary of State Root, Attorney-General Moody and Judge S. H. Cowan, of Fort Worth, Tex., that it would be more effective to have the measure referred to the senate committee on interstate commerce in a statement Senator Dolliver said:

"The bill which I have introduced is intended to correct some of the abuses which still exist in the matter of railroad rates. It is not drawn in a spirit of hostility to the railroads of the country, but in the interest of harmony and good will between the railroads and their patrons."

Gov. La Follette, before resigning as governor, removed District Attorney John A. Kittell, who was thought to be too lenient toward graft and prize fights.

Mrs. Mary Higgins, proprietor of a jewelry store in Philadelphia, was knocked senseless and her place robbed of $2,000 worth of jewelry, Tuesday evening.

An offer of $50,000 toward a fund of $100,000 for the relief of aged Protestants in Ohio was announced in Cincinnati, Tuesday. The name of the donor was withheld.

Cyrus Richardson, of West Branch, was driving a team of mules when one of them balked. In his attempt to start them one of the animals kicked him, severing an artery in his leg. He almost died to death before he was gotten into town.

Women's suffrage has been granted by the diet of Finland.

"Shriveled ape" was the dainty epithet applied by Rep. Lamm, of Florida, to John Sharp Williams, of the West of the House of Representatives, because Williams charged him and Rep. Buckleford, of Missouri, from the committee on interstate commerce.

A Christmas Carol.

Christian people, come and sing,
 Hope and joy receiving!
 Tell of Him who is our King,
 Still His Words are living!
 Proud or humble, rich or poor,
 Christmas opens wide your door.
 From each heart its blessings pour,
 The joy of joys is giving!

Christian people, sing ye now!
 Earnest voices raising,
 Sing good will to earth below,
 Which, like heav'n, is praising!
 Proud or humble, rich or poor,
 Christmas opens wide your door.
 From each heart its blessings pour,

CHRISTMAS MEMORIES

Time was, with most of us, when Christmas day encircling all our limited world like a magic ring, left nothing out for us to miss or seek; bound together all our home enjoyments, affections, and hopes; grouped everything and every one around the Christmas fire; and made the little picture shining in our bright young eyes, complete.

Time came, perhaps, all so soon: when our thoughts overlapped that narrow boundary; when there was some one (very dear, we thought then, very beautiful, and absolutely perfect) wanting to the fullness of our happiness; when we were wanting too (or we thought so, which did just as well), at the Christmas hearth by which that same one sat; and when we intertwined with every wreath and garland of our life that some one's name.

That was the time for the bright visionary Christmases which have long arisen from us to show faintly, after summer rain, in the palest edges of the rainbow! That was the time for the beatified enjoyment of the things that were to be, and never were, and yet the things that were so real in our resolute hope that it would be hard to say, now, what realities achieved since, have been stronger!

What! Did that Christmas never really come when we and the priceless pearl who was our young choice were received, after the happiness of totally impossible marriages, by the two united families previously at daggers-drawn on our account? When brothers and sisters-in-law who had always been rather cool to us before our relationship was effected, perfectly doted on us, and when fathers and mothers overwhelmed us with unlimited incomes. Was that Christmas dinner never really eaten, after which we arose, and generously and eloquently rendered honor to our late rival, present in the company; then and there exchanging friendship and forgiveness, and founding an attachment, not to be surpassed in Greek or Roman story, which subsisted until death? Has that same rival long ceased to care for that same priceless pearl, and married for money, and become usurious? Alas! do we really know, now, that we should probably have been miserable if we had won and worn the pearl, and that we are better without her?

That Christmas when we had recently achieved so much fame; when we had been carried in triumph somewhere, for doing something great and good; when we had won an honored and ennobled name, and arrived and were received at home in a shower of tears of joy; is it possible that that Christmas has not come yet?

And is our life here, at the best, so constituted that pausing as we advance at such a noticeable milestone in the track as this great birthday, we look back on the things that never were, as naturally and full as gravely as on the things that have been and are gone, or have been and still are? If it be so, and so it seems to be, must we come to the conclusion, that life is little better than a dream, and little worth the loves and strivings that we crowd into it?

No! Far be such mis-called philosophy from us, dear reader, on Christmas day! Nearer and closer to our hearts is the Christmas spirit, which is the spirit of active usefulness, perseverance, cheerful discharge of duty, kindness, and forbearance! It is in the last virtues especially, that we are, or should be, strengthened by the unaccomplished visions of our youth; for, who shall say that they are not our teachers to deal gently even with the impalpable nothings of the earth!

Therefore, as we grow older, let us be more thankful that the circle of our Christmas associations and of the lessons that they bring, expands! Let us welcome every one of them and decays, for other homes and other bands of children, not yet in being nor for ages yet to be, arise, and bloom and ripen to the end of all!

Welcome, everything! Welcome, alike what has been, and what never was, and what we hope may be, to your shelter underneath the holly, to your places round the Christmas fire, where what is sits open-hearted! In yonder shadow, do we see obtruding furtively upon the blaze, an enemy's face? By Christmas Day we forgive him! If the injury he has done us may admit of such companionship, let him come here and take his place. If otherwise, unhappily, let him go hence, assured that we will never injure nor accuse him.

On this day we shut out Nothing! "Pause," says a low voice. "Nothing? Think!"

"On Christmas day, we will shut out from our fireside, Nothing." "Not the shadow of a vast City where the withered leaves are lying deep?" the voice replies. "Not the shadow that darkens the whole globe? Not the shadow of the City of the Dead?"

Not even that. Of all days in the year, we will turn our faces towards that City upon Christmas day, and from its silent hosts bring those we loved, among us. City of the Dead, in the blessed name wherein we are gathered at this time, and in the Presence that is here among us according to the promise, we will receive, and not dismiss, thy people who are dear to us!

Yes, we can look upon these children angels that might, so solemnly, so beautifully, among the living children by the fire, and can bear to think how they departed from us. Entertaining angels unawares, as the Patriarchs did, the playful children are unconscious of their guests; but we can see them—can see a radiant arm around one favorite neck, as if there were a whispering of that child away. Among the celestial figures is one, a poor misshapen boy on earth, of a glorious beauty now, of whom his dying mother said it grieved her much to leave him here, alone, for so many years as it was likely would elapse before he came to her—being such a little child. But he went quickly, and was laid upon her breast, and in her hands she leads him.

There was a gallant boy, who fell, far away, upon a burning sand beneath a burning sun, and said, "Tell them at home, with my last love, how much I could have wished to kiss them once, but that I died contented and had done my duty!" Or there was another, over whom they read the words, "Therefore we commit his body to the deep!" and so consigned him to the lonely ocean and sailed on. Or there was another who lay down to his rest in the dark shadow of great forests, and, on earth, awoke no more. O shall they not, from sand and sea and forest, be brought home at such a time!—From the writings of Charles Dickens.

Christmas eve at midnight has always in all countries been looked upon as the "ghostliest" time of the year.

Boticelli's Madonna

summon them to take their places by the Christmas hearth.

Welcome, old aspirations, glittering creatures of an ardent fancy, to your shelter underneath the holly! We know you, and have not outlived you yet. Welcome, old projects and old loves, however, fleeting, to your nooks among the steadier lights that burn around us. Welcome, all that was ever real to our hearts; and for the earnestness that made you real, thanks to Heaven! Do we build no Christmas castles in the clouds now? Let our thoughts, fluttering like butterflies among these flowers of children, bear witness! Before this boy, there stretches out a future, brighter than we ever looked on in our old romantic time, but bright with honor and with truth. Around this little head on which the sunny curls, he heaped, the graces sport, as prettily as airily, as when there was no scythe within the reach of Time to shear away the curls of our first-love. Upon another girl's face near it—placid but smiling bright—a quiet and contented little face, we see Home fairly written. Shining from the word, as rays shine from a star, we see how, when our graves are old, other hopes than ours are young, other hearts than ours are moved; how other ways are smoothed; how other happiness blooms, ripens, and decays—no, not

MIDSHIPMEN'S "CODE."

The midshipmen of the first class at the naval academy, who form the court of last resort in matters relating to the "code" have, it is said, passed the word among the fourth-class men who are being called as witnesses before the board of investigation that they may answer freely and fully all questions asked them.

This is understood to mark the breakdown of all efforts of the midshipmen to defy the authorities. The board has summoned so many midshipmen of the fourth class that the upper classmen are said to have decided that it will be useless to make any further attempt to control the matter.

Touching the rumor that whole classes, as such, contemplate admitting hazing, an officer in authority today said that midshipmen would not be allowed to admit hazing in a general way, but that any of them who desired to confess to a special case would have it attended to promptly.

Midshipmen Jerome P. Kimbrough and Henry G. Cooper, Jr., were both released from the hospital Monday and will, it is thought, shortly be called before the board of investigation.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 22, 1905.

Ferris wants to run for governor again against Gov. Warner, and thinks he can win, but we can assure him that if public sentiment has changed throughout the state the way it has in Leauwee county, he will be snowed under an overwhelming majority—Tecomseh News.

Representative Jenkins of Wisconsin introduced a resolution in Congress Wednesday fixing the last Thursday in April as the date for presidential inaugurations. Senator Clark of Wyoming introduced a similar resolution in the senate. The date proposed was decided upon by a committee, composed of governors of the states and citizens of the District of Columbia, which met some time ago for the purpose of starting the movement for a new inaugural date.

Representative William Lorimer, of Chicago, Tuesday, introduced in the house a bill providing for an appropriation of $31,000,000 to deepen the Des-plaines and Illinois rivers, so as to make a continuous ship waterway from the great lakes to the gulf. It provides to make possible the connection of inland cities from Buffalo to New Orleans, and says the Mississippi valley is the largest and richest of all the valleys of the known world. It is capable of producing more from its mines, fields and forests than any other similar area of land on the surface of the earth. Its development, the bill states, is retarded by the need of cheap transportation to the seaboard, which would be furnished by the proposed waterway.

Nobody Satisfied.

The farmer wants to live in town and the town man wants to live in the country. The fat man wants to be lean and the lean man wants to be fat. The poor man envies the rich one his money and the rich man envies the poor man his lack of responsibility. The girls wish they were married and the women some of them wish they were girls. The conductors want to be motormen and the motormen want to be conductors. The doctor wishes he had studied law and the lawyer wishes he had studied medicine. Thus we go, everybody dissatisfied and wishing he could do something different from what he has to do. Nine tenths of the people are dissatisfied and the other tenth would be if they had enough energy. It is not in the American nature to be satisfied.

Pere Marquette Alone Again.

At a meeting of the directors of the C. H. & D. railroad held in New York Wednesday, a resolution was passed rescinding, revoking and annulling every resolution and contract adopted or entered into by the C. H. & D. Railway Co., authorizing or purporting to authorize the lease of the railroads of the Pere Marquette R. R. Co., counsel having advised that such resolutions and contracts are in contravention of the laws of the state of Ohio and are beyond the corporate power of the company.

The president and other proper officers of the company were authorized to take all steps which may be legal to carry this resolution into effect, including the surrender to the Pere Marquette Railway Co. or its receiver, of all property received or held by the C. H. & D. Railway Co. in consequence of any such resolutions or lease and to surrender all the capital stock of the Pere Marquette Railroad Co.

Judson Harmon, receiver of the C. H. & D., was requested to apply to the courts for authority to take such action as may be proper to carry out the provisions of the resolution and for the surrender to the Pere Marquette or its receiver of all the rights of the C. H. & D. railway in that road.

Furious Fighting.

"For seven years," writes Geo. W. Hoffman, of Harper, Waa., "I had a bitter battle, with chronic stomach and liver trouble, but at last I won, and cured my diseases by the use of Electric Bitters. I unhesitatingly recommend them; trail, and don't intend in the future to be without them in the house. They are certainly a wonderful medicine to have cured such a bad case as mine." Mealey had recently died at their home in Wheeling, West Va., where Mr. Mealey is now professor of history in the high school. The school extends their heartfelt sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Mealey in their bereavement.

The entertainment in the school Wednesday night by the Junior class was given to a packed room. Each and every one of the actresses and actors rendered their part finely and their efforts were greatly appreciated by those present. They had been under careful training given them by the high school teachers and their demonstrations proved them worthy of much credit. Music was furnished by Miss Hall, Leslie Hudd, Bertha Beals and Miss Childs.

W. C. T. U.

At the meeting next week, Dec. 28, current events will be given and selection of poems read.

The National President, Mrs. Stevens, in her address at the Convention said that the remarkable agitation concerning patent medicines, their ingredients, their effects, and the methods of advertising them is likely to continue and it is best that it should. It is well that the W. C. T. U. should take a prominent part in this agitation inasmuch as in about seven hundred of these preparations alcohol is the principal ingredient, varying in quantity from fifteen to forty-five per cent. Some of the most pitiful drunkards we have ever known acquired the appetite through the use of some of these so-called patent medicines. In some prohibition sections these "medicines" have been classed as contraband goods, when found to contain above three per cent of alcohol, and if sold for beverage purposes have plainly come within the province of the law, being treated the same as the other alcoholics. The bill introduced last winter in many of the state legislatures requiring proper labelling of patent or proprietary medicines, showing in each case their ingredients was productive of much good because of the enlightenment which came through the discussion before the legislative committees and elsewhere, and through numerous press reports.—Supt. Press.

Why Draughts Are Dangerous.

As to the philosophy of the damage done by a draught it is impossible not to be reminded of the effect of unequal cooling on crockery. If a glass vessel is well warmed and then ice water is poured into it or applied to one side of it the vessel will be cracked and broken. This is easily accounted for on the principal of unequal contraction but there is nothing analogous to this in taking cold.

When a cold jet of air plays on the body of a person who is otherwise warm what happens is that the blood is driven inward until congestion is produced, and this congestion, unless soon relieved, becomes inflammation.—Chicago Chronicle.

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different soil than others; some crops need different handling than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about a mistake made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.

Water Tax Roll Approved.
At the adjourned session of the council Tuesday evening, the water tax roll for January was received and adopted. The pay of firemen for the past six months, amounting to $118 was allowed and the boys who were regular in attendance at monthly meetings and at fire alarms received each his quota. There wasn't money enough in the treasury to pay bills and the council authorized the borrowing of $500 for nine months. The committee on electric lights reported adversely on extending wires to the Plymouth flouring mills and the report was adopted. It was estimated the cost would be about $300. Council adjourned until next regular meeting.

Of Interest to Plymouth Merchants.
Milford Times: E. E. Goultry, who has been in this vicinity for some weeks, representing a Dayton, Ohio, grocery house, was placed under arrest Monday night on a charge of having violated the new transient traders' law passed by the last legislature. He gave bonds for his appearance Dec. 19.
The law's definition of a transient merchant is quite explicit and seems to fit this case, which is said to be the first brought under its provisions. It requires a transient merchant to apply for a license before doing business, the license costing $10 per day in towns of less than $20,000. Violation of the law is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of from $50 to $500, or 10 to 30 days in the county jail.

Postmaster Hall is of the opinion that the new box rent rate, held up three months ago, will go into effect January first. The department seems determined to increase the rent rate for Plymouth, but we understand the postmasters of Wayne and Northville have received no instruction to raise the rent for those offices. We can't see any justice in this discrimination.
The Wayne county teachers' institute held here last Saturday was attended by about 60 teachers, and was held in the M. E. church. There were also many others present to listen to the remarks by the speakers—Messrs. Ferris and Pattingill. The ladies of the M. E. church served the banquet in the church parlors at noon.

The Presbyterian Sunday school will have a Christmas tree and entertainment at their church Saturday evening, Dec. 23. The program will consist of music, recitations, etc. Miss Joy's class will give a Christmas drama, entitled "The Once a Week Club." Program to begin at seven o'clock.

TUMORS CONQUERED

SERIOUS OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the Case of Mrs. Fannie D. Fox.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

The growth of a tumor is so slow that frequently its presence is not suspected until it is far advanced.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by profuse menstruation, accompanied by unusual pain, from the ovaries down the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., will give you her advice free of all charge if you will write her about yourself. Your letter will be seen by women only.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine.

Eighteen months ago my monthlies stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly that I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician and was told that I had a tumor on the uterus and would have to undergo an operation.

Soon after I read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After trying five bottles as directed the tumor is entirely gone.

I have been examined by a physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It was also brought my monthlies around once more, and I am entirely well. Fannie D. Fox, 7 Chestnut Street, Bradford, Pa.

the tonic-laxative. It puts pure blood in the veins, and no woman can be homely when the rich, red blood of health courses in her veins. Sold by all dealers at 25¢ and 50¢.

For Family Colds

A reliable Cough and Cold cure should be always in the home ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear.

It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning.

It is safer, too.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in the United States and Canada to-day are never without it.

"We are sick in family. We have bought many bottles of Shiloh's Consumption Cure. It is good and we would not be without it."—Miss Mary E. Apple, Greenway, N.Y.

If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. If it does not cure, you get back all it cost you. We take all the chances. Neither you nor your dealer can lose. Isn't that fair? 25¢ is the price. All dealers in medicine sell.
