SCHOOL NOTES.

Gleanings from the comments of teachers who visited Detroit schools on Monday of last week:

The discipline in the Central High was handled with a promptness and dispatch that was pleasing. There is a great deal of "red tape" but it apparently brings results.

"Attention, strenuous attention is the most valuable mental power a human being can acquire. The wool gathering, sluggish mind is wholly incapable of strenuous attention." (Motto on the wall of class-room in Detroit.)

The advice of a Detroit teacher to his German class: "He who is to succeed must learn to express his knowledge completely to others."

In the Central High School the English students have public speaking once a week.

Four short lessons in physical culture are taught each day in the city schools.

A fire drill was an interesting feature of the Doty school. Three bells were to get ready and four to go; the pupils then marched out by two's and back again in four minutes, doing it in a very quiet and orderly manner.

A geography lesson at the Duffield school was made very interesting by the use of folders sent out by the western railroads.

The reading methods and seat work of the lower grades are about the same as in our school.

A splendid device for the protection of the children in time of fire or panic at the Doty school was a patent bar by which all outside doors can be opened from within at a touch, though closed securely against anyone on the outside. It is impossible to close these doors so that a pressure easily exerted by the smallest child will not open it from the inside.

Paper towels complete the sanitary equipment of the Doty school. In other respects the equipment of our school, along all lines, compares very favorably with theirs.

Much of the Kindergarten work of the Doty school out North Woodward is based upon nature. This is made possible by its location and surroundings in the midst of groves and open country.

"There is nothing like visiting to make one love home" is as true of the teacher as of the mother; at least this was the feeling of some in the school upon resuming work Tuesday morning.

The annual meeting of The Michigan Mutual Fire Insurance Co was held at Farmington March 7th. John Powell was elected president; L. D. Lockwood treasurer, James Hogle secretary and Chas. Ely and J. E. Wilcox directors for three years, the latter being chairman of the board. Nearly half a million dollars was underwritten during the year closed.

John W. Sicksel Smith, Greensboro, Pa., has three children, and like most children they frequently take cold. "We have tried several kinds of cough medicine," he says, "but have never found any yet that did them as much good as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." For sale by all dealers.

And then WE give you a discount of 10 per cent for cash. Don't forget that.

Workmen's Caucus.

The Workmen's caucus held at village hall last Tuesday evening was a very spirited one on candidates for trustees. There was a large attendance, nearly a hundred being present. The caucus was called to order by Evered Jolliffe. P. W. Voorhies was made secretary and Evered Jolliffe and W. T. Pettingill tellers.

President Louis Hillmer was renominated without opposition. There were two ballots cast for trustee to succeed B. D. Brown, the whole number of votes cast being 88. D. D. Allen won out on the second ballot by a vote of 56 out of 92. Fred Hall was nominated on the second ballot to succeed himself, receiving 55 out of 90 votes. It took three ballots to nominate the third trustee, A. J. Lapham, present incumbent, winning out by a vote of 53 out of 97.

C. A. Hearn was renominated clerk without opposition. Henry Wright was nominated for treasurer by a vote of 53 out of 97 on the second ballot. W. T. Rattenbury was nominated for assessor. The chairman appointed as caucus committee John Henderson, W. O. Stewart and Frank Beals.

The 1911 Banquet.

The 1910 banquet of the Plymouth Improvement Association was participated in by 86 members and it was a brilliant success. The 1911 banquet, held last Monday evening, was participated in by 110 members, fully establishing the popularity of the event and making it a permanent annual affair hereafter. At that many were called out of the village that evening who would have attended had they remained in town. This annual event of the association does much to promote good feeling among the people, and as President Voorhies stated, if the Association had accomplished nothing else in the past year, this feature has brought the members in closer touch and they have received words of encouragement and suggestions from the speakers present that can not be otherwise than helpful.

After the banquet, served by the Rebekah Lodge, President Voorhies briefly stated several pertinent facts about the association and what had been done the past year, introducing the toastmaster of the evening, Prof. J. Stuart Lathers, of Ypsilanti.

"American Ideals" was the topic selected by Hon. Hugh Shepherd of Detroit. Mayor McGlaughlin of Wyandotte told the members of what that city had accomplished in the past two years, and which was brought about in only one way—work. He stated that out of over 300 propositions the city had accepted eight. The Mayor gave some valuable hints as to how success could only be brought about and in that respect "The Message from Wyandotte" was of special interest. Judge Murphy of Detroit gave an eloquent exposition of "Modern Commerce" and his remarks were listened to with the deepest interest. Rev. B. F. Farber of Plymouth took for his text "The Waiting Plymouth." The toasts were interspersed with music by Miss Bertha Beale and Lester VanDeCar and the University Male Quartette from Ann Arbor.

The Mail would be very glad to have given more extended space to the oratory of all the speakers, believing it would be fully justified and prove interesting reading, but our columns are crowded this week with other matter that cannot be held over. There is no doubt whatever in the minds of all those present at the banquet that it was of a most inspiring nature, helpful materially and morally and the banquet and program committees are to be congratulated on its unqualified success. Here's to the banquet of 1912 and may all be there again and many more.

Men's Meeting Sunday Afternoon.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the cold itself that you need fear, but the serious illness that it often leads to. ### OBITUARY.

Myra Hodge was born in Commerce, Michigan, Jan. 25th, 1830, and died at King's Hospital, Detroit, March 9th, 1911.

When a young girl her family removed to Redford, and in 1852 she commenced teaching school. She was eminently successful in this calling. In 1856 her family removed to Plymouth, and she left her school in Detroit on account of ill health. In 1875 she was united in marriage to Mr. John Shaw. They resided in Livonia, till six years ago, when they moved to Plymouth.

Mrs. Shaw had been ailing for a couple of years, and though every effort was made for her recovery it was without avail. She passed peacefully away and her funeral, which was private, occurred at the late home last Saturday forenoon, in charge of Rev. E. King, assisted by Rev. DesAutels. The dear friends were present. The remains were laid to rest in Elmwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Shaw was a woman of fine Christian character. She was well and widely known, though reserved and modest. She was identified with various kinds of reform and religious work, being a member of the Ladies' Literary Club, the W. C. T. U., the Missionary Societies and an active church worker. To all forms of Christian work she gave unsparringly of her thought, effort and means. She had the fine faculty of showing out the best in people and enabling them to help themselves. She beautifully correlated her religious experiences and her everyday life. Of pre-eminent faith, she never murmured in her sufferings and her devoted husband, Mr. Shaw, and her friends she always spoke of the goodly heritage and privileges of life. Surely the words of Paul could well have been spoken by her "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith, henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of everlasting life."

Lenten Services Conducted by Dr. C. B. Allen

Lenten services will be conducted in the Methodist church commencing next Sunday. Rev. C. B. Allen of Detroit will be the speaker and Prof. Henry Maier of Chicago, assisted by Miss Carolyn Chew of Illinois will conduct the singing. There will be a large chorus choir and music will be one of the enjoyable features of the services.

Lenten services are quite customary the last few years in the larger churches and it is significant that this time of the year is observed thus. The local church is happy in securing Dr. Allen, as he is one of the most successful religious leaders of the Methodist church in this State. He is a comparatively young man, was recently pastor of the Tabernacle church, Detroit, then was appointed to the North Woodward Ave. Methodist church, which became under his pastorate the second largest Methodist church in the State, with a finely equipped church plant. From his pastorate there, he was appointed district superintendent of Detroit district and he has accomplished a great deal since coming to that office.

Under Dr. Allen's leadership meetings have been held the past few weeks at Campbell Ave. and Preston churches in Detroit with almost phenomenal results, last Sunday morning twenty-seven uniting with the former church, with probability of many more next Sunday.

Mr. Maier and Miss Chew have both been very successful and are both of pleasing personality.

The services will commence next Sunday, Dr. Allen preaching morning and evening. Weeknight services will begin with a song service at 7:15 and the service proper at 7:30. The public is invited.

Friends of Mrs. W. O. Stewart gave her a surprise last Thursday, March 2. Covers were laid for fourteen guests and all enjoyed a pleasant time. Mrs. Stewart also received 25 post cards the same day.

Three boys, thirteen and fourteen years old, came from Grand Rapids on a freight car, stopping off in Plymouth Wednesday morning. Officer Springer was notified and the boys were put in the lockup over night. Thursday morning, Probation officer Hyde of Grand Rapids came here and took the boys in hand. This makes the third time they have run away from home.

The closing number of the Citizens' Entertainment Course was given Wednesday evening by the Central Grand Concert Company. This was the number given gratuitously to the patrons and ticket-holders. It was an entertainment of high order and the company made good. Mr. Dick and Miss Adams did more than well on the violin and cello. The house was crowded and the entertainers were repeatedly applauded. The committee will close their books out of debt.

THE IMPORTANCE OF CIRCUIT JUDGES

Every Voter Owes a Duty to Himself," Says Charles T. Wilkins, Candidate for Circuit Judge.

We are all apt to "kick" on the lack of qualifications in the incumbents of public offices—sometimes even in the gentlemen who act as our Circuit Judges—and when we think them unfit, to blame the system for their selection rather than the lack of proper interest that we show in making that selection.

"The system is all right," said Charles T. Wilkins, one of the candidates for Circuit Judge, in a talk with us in the county building a day or two since. "The fault really lies with the voter. Unless the candidate is a friend of his, he is generally too apt to think, as he hasn't much, if anything, to do with the courts anyway, that the election of Circuit Judges isn't of much importance to him personally; and so he votes his party ticket, without examining into the qualifications of the various candidates. Then, if the man elected proves unfit as a judge, the voter blames the system, forgetting that the fault lies, really, in the voter's own failure to look up the qualifications of the respective candidates, before election, and in his failing to vote for and actively support the one whom he finds best qualified.

"Now, whether we have, or expect to have any litigation ourselves, or not," continued Mr. Wilkins, "no election is more important to every one of us than that on April 3d, for Circuit Judges. Our ordinary, everyday rights are being passed upon and settled from time to time in our courts, often in cases with which we have no direct connection, and of which we hear nothing and know less. It is therefore important to every citizen that those courts should be presided over by men who are qualified, who, by their knowledge of and experience in the law, are fitted to sit as judges, and whom we can trust.

"As to myself," he concluded, "I ask nothing better than that the voters should make the closest possible examination into the qualifications of the twelve candidates for Circuit Judge. If that examination does not show that I am one of the best six, then I ought not to be elected and I don't ask their votes. But, if I am one of the best six—and I think that I am, or I should not be a candidate—then common sense shows that the voter owes it to himself and that it is to his own personal interest to actively support me."

Mr. Wilkins was brought prominently before the citizens of our county, as an advocate of "good roads," a cause which he labored for, not only as attorney for the County Road Commissioners, but, also, as a private citizen before the Common Council in Detroit and in many public meetings. He was born in Detroit in 1861, educated in the public schools, and graduated from the Detroit High School in 1879, the U. of M. in 1883, and the Harvard University Law Department in 1885. In the latter year he was admitted by the Supreme Court to the practice of law, in which he has been actively engaged in Detroit for over twenty-five years. He was Assistant U. S. Attorney, having charge of all the Government law business in the Eastern District of Michigan, from 1887 to 1890, and from 1894 to 1896, when he voluntarily resigned to resume his private practice. He is one of the best known attorneys in Detroit, popular among all classes, and the esteem in which he is held as a lawyer is shown by the strong endorsement that he received for Circuit Judge at the Bar Association primary, the 1st of last month. The voters owe it to themselves, for their own interests, to examine the qualifications of the twelve candidates, and if Mr. Wilkins is one of the best six—and those who know him best, regardless of party, say that he is—to vote for and actively support him.

FEARED THE SCREECH OWL
Woman Was Not Superstitious, but She Cut Short Her Visit to the Country.

"I'm not a bit superstitious, not in the least bit, but—I don't ever want to hear another screech owl in the night," said a woman who remained in the country until the holidays. "Positively, I believe I should go mad if I ever heard that blood-curdling sound again."
"You know they say in the country that if a screech owl comes crying around the house it's a sure sign of death. Of course, I've no faith in that sort of nonsense, but all the same the coachman's mother died after the owl's first appearance."
"The owl came back and one of the employees died. It came back again and I decided that, after all, I didn't want to spend Christmas in the country and lighted back to town. The coachman said something about the old rule, and I just naturally packed up my duds and bought a ticket for New York."
"Ugh-h-h! I shiver now whenever I think of that owl in the apple tree."

HONEST CONFESSION
A Doctor's Talk on Food.

There are no fairer set of men on earth than the doctors, and when they find they have been in error they are usually apt to make honest and manly admission of the fact.
A case in point is that of a practitioner, one of the good old school, who lives in Texas. His plain, unvarnished tale needs no dressing up:
"I had always had an intense prejudice, which I can now see was unwarrantable and unreasonable, against all much advertised foods. Hence, I never had a slice of the many 'ads' of Grape-Nuts, nor tested the food till last winter.
"While in Corpus Christi for my health, and visiting my youngest son, who has four of the ruddiest, healthiest little boys I ever saw, I ate my first dish of Grape-Nuts food for supper with my little grandsons.
"I became exceedingly fond of it and have eaten a package of it every week since, and find it a delicious, refreshing and strengthening food, leaving no ill-effects whatever, causing no constipation (with which I was formerly much troubled), no sense of fullness, nausea, nor distress of stomach in any way.
"There is no other food that agrees with me so well, or sits so lightly on my stomach as this does.
"I'm stronger and more active since I began the use of Grape-Nuts than I have been for 10 years, and am no longer troubled with nausea and indigestion." Name given by Dr. J. C. B. Smith, M.D., Corpus Christi, Tex.
"I can't say too much for the Grape-Nuts. They have done me good."

CONGRESS ADJOURNS, WORK UNFINISHED

TARIFF BOARD BILL PASSED BY SENATE, IS DEFEATED IN THE HOUSE.

The sixty-first congress came to an end Saturday by constitutional limitation. Despite the peril that threatened some of the big appropriation bills almost up to the last moment they all finally got through and received the signature of the president. The last bill signed by the speaker of the House was the postoffice appropriation act.
Consideration of immediate statehood for New Mexico and Arizona held up the business of the Senate for two hours and threatened to defeat several big appropriation bills. The Senate had under consideration the resolution formally approving the New Mexico constitution.
Senator Owen insisting that the Arizona constitution should be approved at the same time, held the floor against all efforts to displace him until the Senate leaders agreed to couple Arizona with New Mexico.
After the two propositions had been coupled, however, the Senate voted down the resolution, 45 to 39. It was asserted later that this does not mean Mexico cannot be admitted by action of the president.
Taft Board Bill Passes.
Amid turbulent scenes the Senate passed the tariff board bill by a vote of 56 to 23. The end of the long fight for this bill, strongly recommended by President Taft, came amid stormy scenes.
The bill provides for the removal of the tariff out of politics. It places inquiries into tariff matters into the hands of a commission of experts, who will investigate one schedule at a time from a purely scientific point of view and report to congress as to what duties should be lowered or increased.
Tariff Board's Death.
The tariff board bill passed by the Senate was withdrawn and eliminated by the House, after one of the most riotous filibusters seen in that body for years. The withdrawal was formally made by Republican leader Payne.
The filibusters began with the first movement to put through the tariff board measure under an agreement limiting debate. The Democrats objected to the consideration of the measure and started a series of roll calls which defeated the measure.
All appearance of order was frequently lost in the House. Speaker Cannon repeatedly ordered the sergeant-at-arms to drive members back into their seats. Democrats clamored for the recognition they claimed was denied them, and the Republican leaders adopted every possible expedient to head off the filibuster.
The deficiency appropriation bill was saved by a parliamentary move unexpected by the Fitzgerald forces, Chairman Tanney of the appropriations committee was recognized by Speaker Cannon between the first and second calls of the roll on one of the Democratic motions. Through this means he had the conference report up for consideration before the Democrats could head it off and the defeat of the bill by the time limit was avoided.
The House at 12:35 p. m. adjourned sine die, following a speech by Speaker Cannon, in which he discussed the policy he had sought to observe in presiding over the lower House of congress. The speaker expressed the faith that the next House will observe fair play under the constitution.
Speaker Cannon in his farewell speech said he would be glad to serve under "the general title" of Speaker-to-be Clark, following adjournment. Members of the House joined in chorus singing "America" and other patriotic songs.
Bradley Says.
Though the committee which investigated the charge that Senator William H. Bradley had solicited a bribe from an appointee of the Senate, who was discharged, made a report that was adopted and was not favorable to him, by a vote of 15 to 14, he was allowed to retain his seat. That ends the matter as far as the Senate is concerned.
A ten per cent reduction in the payroll, curtailment in the working force of the locomotive department of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad is ordered. It will go into effect just as soon as adjustments can be accomplished.
Mrs. Carrie A. Batty, who was granted a divorce from Robert C. Batty of Bay City, and allowed $100,000 alimony, has appealed the case to the supreme court, alleging that the alimony was insufficient.
After consultation with his Tammany supporters, William F. Sheehan issued a statement in which he accuses Gov. Dix of "obstructing the election of the regularly chosen candidate of the party for United States senator," and says that he will go "with" the Democratic caucus caucus.

What 61st Congress Accomplished.
These are some of the more important measures, outside of appropriation bills, that the 61st session of congress enacted into law:
Providing for forest reserves in the southern Appalachian and White mountains.
Providing for the inspection of boilers on locomotives and New Mexico.
Providing for the purchase or erection of embassies, legation buildings abroad.
Provision of $3,000,000 for the fortification of the Panama canal.
Provision for two new citizenships.
Re-organization of the judicial courts—regarded as most important for the organization of the new justices.
These are some of the negative results:
Failure of the Canadian reciprocity agreement.
Failure of the permanent tariff board bill.
Failure of the resolution to admit to statehood Arizona and New Mexico, killed by a filibuster in the senate.
Failure of the proposal to increase the rate of postage on the advertising sections of the large magazines, but a commission provided for to investigate the subject.
Failure of the resolution providing for the direct election of U. S. senators.
Failure of the general age pension bill.
Failure to act on Ballinger-Pinchot investigation reports.
Failure to enact the ocean mail subsidy, passed by the senate alone.
Failure of the final session may have been of fruitless legislation, the Republican leaders point to the preceding session as more fruitful.
For the first, or extra, session they point to:
The Payne-Aldrich tariff act, with its maximum and minimum features and corporation tax provisions, and its extension to 1913.
The resolution providing for an income tax amendment to the constitution.
For the first regular session they refer to the laws for:
Establishment of postal savings banks.
Admission of New Mexico and Arizona to statehood.
The most extensive census ever taken.
Creation of the commerce court, and sweeping amendments to the interstate commerce act.
Ballinger-Pinchot investigation.
Conservation legislation, including authorization of withdrawal of public lands to preserve water sites, and authorization of the issue of $20,000,000 in bonds for completing irrigation projects.
Legislation designed to suppress the "white slave trade."
Amendment to the employers' liability act of 1908; supplemental safety appliances act; requirement that railroads report accidents to interstate commerce commission; establishment of a bureau of mines.
Reorganization of light-house service.
Authorization of expenditure of $25,000,000 for public buildings.

Comparative Appropriations.
For 1909 ..... $1,800,397,543
For 1910 ..... $1,056,663,267
For 1911 ..... $1,026,537,500
For 1912 ..... $1,012,000,000
The last is estimated.

CALLS EXTRA SESSION.

President Taft Fixes April 4th as Date for Sixty-Second Congress.

President Taft fixed April 4 as the date for the convening of the Sixty-second congress in extraordinary session. After reciting the steps already taken between the United States and Canada with regard to reciprocity, the president's proclamation says:
"The agreement transmitted to congress stipulates not only that the president of the United States will communicate to congress the conclusions now reached and recommends the adoption of such legislation as may be necessary on the part of the United States to give effect to the proposed agreement, but also that the government of the two countries will use their utmost efforts to bring about such changes by concurrent legislation at Washington and at Ottawa."
"Now, therefore, by virtue of the power vested in me by the constitution, I do hereby proclaim and declare that an extraordinary session requires the convening of both houses of the congress of the United States at their respective chambers in the city of Washington on the fourth of April, 1911, at 12 o'clock noon, to the end that they may consider and determine whether the congress shall, by the necessary legislation, make operative the agreement."

Development Company Officials Accused of Conspiracy to Obtain 43,000 Acres of Coal Lands.
Detroit, Mich., March 7.—The federal grand jury which has been investigating the Michigan-Alaska Development company land frauds handed down an indictment against seven of the promoters of the company, charging them with being the active workers in a conspiracy to defraud the United States of 43,000 acres of coal lands.
Assistant District Attorney Townsend stated that this fraud was the greatest of all the Alaska land frauds that has been perpetrated.
The men indicted are: Wilbur W. McAlpine, McCurdy C. Lebeau, Arthur L. Holmes, Albert H. Roehne, George W. Ross and Frank D. Andrus all of Detroit, and John M. Bushnell of Chicago.
The lands are in the Kona precinct of Alaska, the claims being filed at Juneau. The indictment estimates the value of the lands at $50,000,000. W. W. McAlpine, who had the power of attorney from 300 other individuals to file claims for them, estimates the value of the lands at between $150,000,000 and $300,000,000.
The indictment charges that the 300 who filed these claims had no intention of operating them individually, but combined their interests by means of fictitious entries to form a vast corporation which should own them for all time in violation of the land laws. The Michigan-Alaska Development company is incorporated in Arizona. The fraudulent claims were made mostly in 1907 and 1908.

PLOT TO KILL TAFT

THREE MEN ARE ARRESTED
All Are Alleged to Be Anarchists—Secret Agents Obtain Verbatim Conversations of Plotters Through Thin Hotel Walls.

Spokane, Wash., March 7.—In the arrest of three men here the police believe they have uncovered a plot to kill Mayor Pratt on the eve of the municipal election, and to kill President Taft when he leaves the White House for his summer vacation.
All Are Anarchists.
Moffett, the police say, was instigator of the Haymarket riots; Steele is an alleged anarchist leader, and Johnson is said to be the financial agent for the local band.
The suspects lived in a small room in the San Francisco hotel. Secret agents of the police have been in an adjoining room for several weeks past and had decided not to make the arrest until after Tuesday's election. The overhearing of a conversation Sunday night, however, in which the assassination of Mayor Pratt was set for election eve or the day of election, caused the police to make the arrests. The three men have been under surveillance for a long time. The police have taken verbatim reports of the conversations held by the prisoners by having stenographers in adjoining rooms. The hotel is a cheaply built house and the walls are thin.
Mayor Had Been Warned.
Moffett is said to have thrice visited the mayor's house only to find an armed guard. Mr. Pratt has been warned many times of a violent death at the same hands which killed Chief of Police Sullivan.
"We will get Taft when he leaves the White House for his vacation," is the statement Captain of Detectives Burns says he overheard Moffett make. Detective Burns also has verbatim statements in which Steele was telling of his maneuvers after killing the police chief.
Steele is said to have been in correspondence with eastern anarchists. Johnson, the financial agent, had almost $800 in gold and bills carefully hidden about him when arrested.
The verbatim statements will be used as evidence.

The annual convention of "Cattle Raisers," one of the most powerful organizations in the state of Texas, will then be addressed by the Colonel at San Antonio.
San Francisco, the termination of his trans-continental trip, will receive some ten days of his time.

ROB BROKER OF $100,000

Aged Man is Justified, Envelope Containing Securities is Taken and Substitute Returned.

New York, March 7.—George Bancroft a broker eighty-six years old, was robbed of securities worth approximately $100,000 in the vestibule of the offices of the Produce Exchange Safety Deposit and Storage company. As Mr. Bancroft was on the way from his office to the deposit vaults he was jostled by a man and the envelope containing his securities was knocked from his hands. A young man picked up the envelope and apparently placed it under the broker's arm and the latter placed it in his deposit box.
When his son unlocked the box to check up the securities before the opening of business for the week he found that the only envelope there contained three old newspapers. A clever substitution had been effected.

Will Participate in Many Events in South and West During Next Two Months.

New York, March 7.—Former President Roosevelt left today on a two months' tour of the south and southwest. A $10,000 dinner, a reunion of the Rough Riders, a day spent in pre-arranging over ceremonies to be held in the town of Roosevelt, Ariz., to mark the opening of the Roosevelt dam, one of the greatest engineering feats in the west, and long hunting and fishing trips in and about the Rockies are some of the things which will enliven the peregrinations of the former president.

New York, March 7.—George Bancroft a broker eighty-six years old, was robbed of securities worth approximately $100,000 in the vestibule of the offices of the Produce Exchange Safety Deposit and Storage company. As Mr. Bancroft was on the way from his office to the deposit vaults he was jostled by a man and the envelope containing his securities was knocked from his hands.

HEAD SOLID MASS OF HUMOR
"I think the Cuticura Remedies are the best remedies for eczema I have ever heard of. My mother had a child who had a rash on its head when it was real young. Doctor called it baby rash. He gave us medicine, but it did no good. In a few days the head was a solid mass; a running sore. It was awful, the child cried continually. We had to hold him and watch him to keep him from scratching the sore. His suffering was dreadful. At last we remembered Cuticura Remedy. We got a dollar bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bar of Cuticura Soap. We gave the Resolvent as directed, washed the head with the Cuticura Soap, and applied the Cuticura Ointment. We had not used half before the child's head was clear and free from eczema, and it has never come back again. His head was healthy and he had a beautiful head of hair. I think the Cuticura Ointment very good for the hair. It makes the hair grow and prevents falling hair." (Signed) Mrs. Francis Lund, Plain City, Utah, Sept. 19, 1910. Send to the Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Mass., for free Cuticura Book on the treatment of skin and scalp troubles.

Swimming Hole Defined.
Mrs. Suburb—What is a swimming-hole?
Mr. Suburb—A body of water entirely surrounded by boys.—Suburban Life.

The Lady and the Hobble.
"Do you think the hobble gown will remain long in vogue?"
"If it doesn't you can cast it aside."
"Yes; but I hate to waste time learning to hobble."—Suburban Life.

THE YOUNG BRIDE'S FIRST DISCOVERY
Their wedding tour had ended, and they entered their new home to settle down to what they hoped to be one long uninterrupted blissful honeymoon.
But, alas! the young bride's troubles soon began, when she tried to reduce the cost of living with cheap big cake baking powders.
She soon discovered that all she got was a lot for her money, and it was not all baking powder, for the bulk of it was cheap materials which had no leavening power. Such powders will not make light, wholesome food. And because of the absence of leavening gas, it requires from two or three times as much to raise cakes or biscuits as it does of Calumet Baking Powder.
Thus, eventually, the actual cost to you, of cheap baking powders, is more than Calumet would be.
Cheap baking powders often leave the bread bleached and acid, sometimes yellow and alkaline, and often unpalatable. They are not always of uniform strength and quality.
Now the bride buys Calumet—the perfectly wholesome baking powder, moderate in price, and always uniform and reliable. Calumet keeps indefinitely, stoves cooking easy, and is certainly the most economical after all.

TO OBTAIN A GOLD IN ONE DAY
Take a lot of Calumet Baking Powder. It will give you a gold mine in one day. It will give you a gold mine in one day. It will give you a gold mine in one day.

Some women are good to look at, but had to be tied to.
