DON M. DICKINSON ENDORSES WILKINS

(Detroit Journal, Republican, March 18, 1911.)

The first comment on political candidates which Don M. Dickinson has made in many years was offered by him this morning in the endorsement of Charles T. Wilkins and George S. Hosmer for the Wayne circuit bench.

"While we have a number of good men among the candidates," said Mr.

CHARLES T. WILKINS.

Dickinson. "I am particularly interested in two of them, Judge Hosmer and Charles T. Wilkins. Judge Hosmer read law in my office, and his record on the bench shows for itself.

"As far as Mr. Wilkins is concerned, I have known him and his family intimately for many years. Mr. Wilkins' record as assistant United States attorney is one that any lawyer might justly be proud of, while as an attorney in active practice during the past 25 years in the city he has demonstrated his great knowledge of the law and its application.

"Mr. Wilkins is brilliant, honest, experienced and fitted in every way to follow in the footsteps of his illustrious father, the late Col. W. D. Wilkins, and his grandfather, Judge Ross Wilkins, who was the first United States district judge of Michigan and who continued in the important position for so many years. I think Charles is a second edition of the old judge and should be elected."

IS YOUR DOG GOING MAD?

BY ARNO DOSCH
COPYRIGHT BY PEARSON PUB. CO.

ANYONE can tell when a dog is going mad and prevent him from doing harm. The symptoms develop over a period of from three to eight days before the biting mania seizes him. Meanwhile he gives a hundred warnings. All that is necessary is to chain him.

That this piece of information has not been given publicity before, except in the case of a few New England towns, is due to the general lack of caution, but, with the alarming increase of rabies both in animals and men, it has become essential. Too many dogs are going mad every day. Something will have to be done about it. The disease is now so prevalent that it is pertinent to ask:

Is your dog going mad too? This question may strike you as unnecessarily alarming, especially if you happen to live where there have never been any mad dogs. In that case you are to be congratulated. Places with such a record are becoming rare. Your turn may be next.

Left to spread as far as it might, with practically no attempt to stop it, rabies during the past few years has become thickly disseminated over the whole of the United States, except the far West. Along the Atlantic coast and in the middle West, both North and South, there is hardly a district unaffected by it, and each additional dog that goes mad is carrying it as far as he can travel in two or three days' time. It has arrived at the point where it threatens everyone, and, if it were not for the twenty-five or more institutions which are now giving the Pasteur treatment in the affected districts, the number of human deaths would be startling.

Three years ago rabies began to press itself upon public attention. Up to that time it had never appeared as much of a danger in America, although mad dogs had shown themselves at intervals for more than a century. Each in itself had always been a terrifying object, but the numbers were comparatively scarce.

Conservative estimates of the medical men and boards of health place the number of deaths annually from this dread disease at 20,000.

The question of what to do is also before this country. Two courses are open: policing and a study of the disease which may lead to its prevention. Effective policing has always meant a rigid muzzle and leash law and the chloroforming of all stray dogs. But it has been proved to be successful. After centuries of terror over rabid animals, England, since 1897, has succeeded by this means in remaining rid of them entirely, and only a few months ago when some of the virus was needed in a research laboratory in Liverpool it had to be obtained outside the country. Berlin has practically eradicated the disease within the city following an epidemic during which a dog went mad on the streets every day. Paris, overcoming a sentimental opposition, reduced the mad dogs from 560 during the year 1901 to 10 in 1907, simply by compelling owners to look after their pets.

Attempts to stop the disease in this country have been spasmodic and hysterical. It has required the death of some well-known person or some unusual circumstance to awaken the police.

There are three types of rabies: furious, which we recognize; dumb, which we do not; and a mixture of the two. The furious is the most important.

The first action on the part of a dog which points to furious rabies is a marked and unusual restlessness. He jumps up constantly without cause and is hypersensitive to light and sound. He snoops in dark corners and licks everything nervously. He becomes effusive in his affection, and his master, wondering, feels that there is trouble, and asks the poor dumb brute what ails him.

Then, all at once, his disposition changes. He snaps suddenly, and the next instant wags his tail in apology for his action. In a moment he snaps again. Meanwhile he eats and drinks normally and shows no sign of paralysis, which we have been taught to look for when rabies is suspected.

The restlessness increases in a way that can hardly fail of notice, and then a night comes when he gives little gasping howls, which sound as if they had been choked off in the middle. Anyone who has ever heard this howl knows instinctively that there is something wrong. There is no confusing it with the ordinary barking at passing or imaginary objects, and it sounds nothing at all like baying at the moon. The howls are senseless and the hearer realizes it.

At first the dog remains near the house, giving his master ample time to take action. In fact he forces the attention of everyone within hearing and spreads a vague uneasiness. His howls get on the nerves of those with in doors and they are rather apt to call out to him to be still. Some comment is probably made on the peculiar affect his howling has. A timid member of the household suggests that the dog is going mad, but the idea is scouted.

When this has gone on half the night, and the family is distraught for lack of sleep, the howls begin to grow fainter and the family falls into a peaceful sleep. But the dog has gone away to menace the surrounding country for fifty or a hundred miles. He wanders aimlessly, the disease gripping him tighter hour by hour, and, when the morning comes, he is foaming at the mouth—a mad dog. The biting mania is on him, and he attacks everything, cattle, horses, dogs, cats, children. Fortunately the only other animal which gets the biting mania is the horse. The disease is spread in almost every case by dogs.

when the morning comes, he is foaming at the mouth—a mad dog. The biting mania is on him, and he attacks everything, cattle, horses, dogs, cats, children. Fortunately the only other animal which gets the biting mania is the horse. The disease is spread in almost every case by dogs.

After two or three days, if he has not meanwhile been shot, he comes back, but, by this time, he has done his damage. He is weak in the hind legs, then in the fore legs. His eyes become covered with a film and his under jaw hangs down. Before long general paralysis sets in and he dies.

The warning which can hardly fail to be noticed is the howl, and, when his owner hears this, it is high time to act. He can be caught without much danger of biting, as a mad dog only attacks his master when the disease has completely captured his mind. But the saliva is already virulent, and gloves should be worn. Otherwise a little of it penetrating the skin or rubbed from the hand to a freshly shaved chin is enough to communicate the disease.

In dumb rabies the first sign is the drooping of the jaw. When this happens to a dog, it is only necessary to place a dish of water before him to discover whether he has rabies. He will lick at it, if rabid, but he will not be able to swallow, and the amount in the dish will remain the same.

As he cannot bite he is not very dangerous, but his saliva is as virulent as if he had furious rabies, and he should be kept apart. Usually a dog with dumb rabies is believed to have a bone in his throat, and some kindly person puts a hand in his mouth—literally into the jaws of death.

In mixed rabies the dog is more or less furious. He shows some of the symptoms of both the other forms. About the only other diseases to which dogs are prone show themselves in a way not to be confused with rabies. Gastric trouble and rheumatism appear much as in human beings, and distemper is accompanied by coughing and sneezing, a high fever and running at the eyes.

The cardinal rule is never to kill a biting dog if possible to avoid it. Catch and chain him, and wait to see if the symptoms of rabies develop. If he is all right at the end of a week those he bit may breathe more freely, but, if he becomes rabid, they have no time to lose.

With the increase in rabies some knowledge of what to do for a dog's victims is as essential as a pocket supply of potassium permanganate in the rattlesnake country. Dr. George G. Rambaud, of the Pasteur Institute of New York, gives the following directions as first aid to the injured:

"The wounds should be treated like any other infected wounds. Bleeding should be encouraged, as a free flow of blood may carry off with it a great part of the virus. Then the wound should be thoroughly washed with any good antiseptic solution. The newer colloidal silver or silver-salt preparations are to be preferred, but, in their absence, iodine, a four per cent solution of carbolic acid, or even lemon juice, are useful."

Cauterization, the oldest treatment, shouted to the motorman. He brought his car to a stop. When he got out he found a small boy whimpering on the fender. That was Joe.—New York Tribune.

Now Joe is "It" Joe Laver involuntarily discovered the best place to hide, that he ever came across while playing hide-and-seek with a number of playmates at Third Avenue and One Hundredth Street, near an excavation for pneumatic tubes for the post office. Joe, who is four years old, disappeared from the ken of Isaac Ross, who was "It" as completely as though he had been drawn into the tubes. But it was not the tubes that got him.

"Issy" had just finished counting when he caught sight of Joe ducking behind a Third Avenue car. He was not sure, and ran around to the other side of the car to look, but there was no Joe there. "Issy" went and told Joe's mother he was lost. Twelve blocks away a number of boys ran out and pointed at the front of the car and

Dr. Rambaud decries because, he says, it gives a false sense of security. But Dr. Anna Williams, who is devoting her life to the study of rabies in the research laboratory of the New York Board of Health, says she is willing to take her chances on cauterization, if the wound is not too deep. The average person, however, will prefer to take the Pasteur treatment. Since its discovery in 1884 it has been tried on more than 250,000 people, and of those who took it only one-half of one per cent have died.

On the subject of the disease itself there is not much room for question. The existence of the virus has been proved beyond all reasonable doubt by inoculating a whole series of dogs, one from another, and having each one develop the same symptoms and die in the same way. But, what has stood in the way of a greater knowledge, aside from the treatment, has been the doubt as to the nature of the virus. Some hold it is a bacterium, the lowest form of plant life, and others that it is a protozoan, the lowest form of animal life. Bacteria are subject to epidemics; the known protozoans are not. The layman can only hope for the protozoan conclusion.

The Pasteur treatment normally consists of injections into the flank of an emulsion of small portions of the spinal cord of inoculated rabbits dissolved in a salt solution. For bites on the hand or body, if the patient begins the treatment within a week, it is continued for eighteen days. If the delay is greater, it is continued for several days longer. Pasteur himself laid down the rules which have been followed more or less closely ever since. But experience has shown that this treatment is much less successful for bites on the face, where the reach to the nerve center is shorter. To meet the emergency face bites have given rise to, within the past two years a new treatment has been developed which immunizes the patient in twelve days. It is rather heroic, but it has been used a great many times without bad results, saving the lives of many who had no time to spare. Instead of using virus the virulence of which has been allowed to die out, as in the old method, the emulsion consists of a serum obtained from sheep strongly immunized against rabies mixed with fresh virulent virus.

The Pasteur treatment is only preventive. The serum meets and grapples with the virus on its way up the nerve to the brain. Once it has reached the nerve center, it defies treatment. But, if you do not know you have been exposed, your first intimation is after the virus is in the brain engaged in its fateful work.

Death from rabies has become too common to occupy a front-page position in the newspapers. That alone shows the prevalence of the disease. Tomorrow or next week, when you read of little children being bitten on the street, remember that one of those children might have been yours. Imagine, then, the furious animal rushing at your child, tearing at his face and body!—Is the picture too horrible? It is happening every day. Your child may be next.

Not the Means, But End. "Senator," the beautiful girl inquired, "are you in favor of being elected by the direct votes of the people?"

"My dear young lady," the statesman replied, "I am enthusiastically in favor of being elected thus or in any other way that can be arranged."

The world is divided into two classes: those who go ahead and do something, and those who sit still and inquire, "Why wasn't it done the other way?"—O. W. Holmes.

WILL QUIT FIGHTING WHEN DIAZ RESIGNS

THIS IS THE ULTIMATUM OF THE MEXICAN REBEL LEADER, FRANCISCO MADERO.

WILL NOT DECLARE AN ARMED TRUCE UNTIL PRESIDENT HAS GIVEN UP POWER.

Limantour is Not the Ruler He Wants; Names Conditions That Diaz Must Meet.

"An armed truce will be established in northern Mexico as soon as developments in Mexico City warrant, and Francisco I. Madero, the revolutionary president, will establish himself at a point in the field to be held neutral ground, there to receive any peace proposals that may come as a result of the arrival in Mexico City of Jose Yves Limantour, minister of finance, who recently had conferences with insurrecto leaders in New York."

This is the substance of messages brought by courier from Madero, who is 150 miles south of El Paso, Tex., in camp with 1,000 men. It is the first word coming direct from Madero since the beginning of the peace negotiations, which are supposed to have been under way in the United States for more than a week.

Names His Conditions. The text of Madero's messages to the revolutionary junta was not made public, but the term "as soon as developments in Mexico City warrant," was explained as meaning that Madero would insist on important stipulations before peace arrangements might be begun. The stipulations, it was stated, are:

"President Diaz must step aside and must relinquish all the political power which might result in returning him to office after peace terms were concluded."

"A new election for president must be called at once, with a free ballot for every male citizen of age."

"The promises for reforms in the land laws and in the administrations of the states by popular vote instead of by federal control must be under such conditions that they cannot be ignored after peace shall have been declared."

"The insurrectos will not lay down their arms, but will maintain an armed truce until the reforms shall be so far advanced that they cannot be revoked."

Not Agreed on Limantour. Whether Senor Limantour would be acceptable to Madero as "provisional president," pending negotiations, is not known. Ever since the peace proposals were made messengers have been sent with full details to Madero; but, as the couriers have to travel by horseback over rough country, and in circuitous routes to avoid federal soldiers, communication is delayed four or five days.

However, Senor Gonzalez Garza, insurrecto secretary of state, who carries on communication with Madero, whom he advised in starting the revolution, today said: "Limantour would not be entirely acceptable to us. We look upon him as the chief of the Diaz coterie. We would not under any circumstances take his word and lay down our arms. As provisional president, he simply would carry out the instructions of Diaz."

A telegram from Gustavo Madero, insurrecto financial agent in New York, was received by Senor Garza, stating: "Have had several conferences with Limantour. He has promised a full change of politics in Mexico."

The belief that Limantour was authorized by Diaz to open up a way for peace has caused much joy among the insurrectos. It is looked upon by them as a virtual recognition by the Mexican government that the demands of the insurrectos has some foundation.

See Danger in Pacific. Redoubled activity is being displayed by the war department in making emergency preparations for the defense of Hawaii.

That the activity is in preparation for prevention of an attack by Japan admits of no question, army authorities say, for Hawaii does not need to be defended against any other nation.

The fact that the department is making preparations for Hawaii in advance of the Philippines shows that the army experts have adopted the theory that the place which should first be fortified and prepared to resist attack is that which would afford a foe its closest base to the mainland of the United States.

Czar Picks New Chief. P. A. Stolypin, Russian premier and minister of the interior, resigned, and his resignation was promptly accepted by Emperor Nicholas. V. N. Kokovtsov, minister of finance in the Stolypin cabinet, will be the new premier, and unless unexpected circumstances intervene his appointment will be gazetted.

Barmails in South Australia. South Australia is suffering from a barmail famine. Two years ago barmails were abolished in that state by act of parliament. No more could be legally engaged, but those already employed could remain on condition that they registered themselves.

There are now only 400 of them left, and the competition for their services is such that their wages have jumped from 25 shillings to £3 a week. The hotels that have had to employ barmen report a considerable change for the worse in their receipts.

Professional Foresight. "That fellow has a fearful nerve," said the dealer in firearms. "Who is he?"

"An alienist. He says he will give me a commission on his business if I will hand his card to every wild-eyed person who comes in and buys a revolver."

Those days are lost in which we do not good; those worse than lost in which we do evil.—Cromwell.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pain in my sides, periodic pain, backache, indigestion, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pain, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

Private Leahy Questions Sergeant Donahue Regarding a Point in Military Law

Private Donahue and Private Leahy were the best of friends, but when Private Donahue became Sergeant Donahue, Private Leahy saw the failings of his former companion with amazing clearness.

"Sergeant," he said one day, after long, fixed gazing at his superior in rank, "if a private stepped up to a sergeant and called him a consorted little monkey, phwat wud happen?"

"He'd be put in the yard-house," said the sergeant.

"He wud?"

"But if the private only knew the sergeant was a consorted little monkey, and said niver a wurd, wud he be put in the yard-house for that?" inquired Private Leahy.

"Av course he wud not," said the sergeant loftily.

"Well, thin, for the present we'll have it go at that," said Private Leahy.

Greatest Little Invention. The greatest little invention that has been given to the world is the lucifer match. It was invented in 1827. It is small, but like Fortia's candle, it has shed a great light into the world. It gave man mastery of fire. Before this fire had been a contrary hired man, but now it became an obedient servant.

Profrisco. A census-taker while on her rounds called at a house occupied by an Irish family. One of the questions she asked was:

"How many mails have you in this family?"

The answer came without hesitation:

"Three a day, mum!"

Reckless. "Pipps doesn't care what he buys on credit."

"No. You would think that every day he lives is his last day on earth."

A FOOD STORY Makes a Woman of 70 "One in 10,000."

The widow of one of Ohio's most distinguished newspaper editors and a famous leader in politics in his day, says she is 70 years old and a "stronger woman" than you will find in ten thousand, and she credits her fine physical condition to the use of Grape-Nuts.

"Many years ago I had a terrible fall which permanently injured my stomach. For years I lived on a preparation of corn starch and milk, but it grew so repugnant to me that I had to give it up. Then I tried, one after another, a dozen different kinds of cereals, but the process of digestion gave me great pain.

"It was not until I began to use Grape-Nuts food three years ago that I found relief. It has proved, with the dear Lord's blessing, a great boon to me. It brought me health and vigor such as I never expected to again enjoy, and in gratitude I never fail to send its praise."—Name given by Fessenden Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a Reason." Look for it in the little book, "The Story of Grape-Nuts," to be found in packages. Every package from this to that. They are everywhere, from the store to the store. They are everywhere, from the store to the store.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

Army of Clerks Support Washington

WASHINGTON.—Who are the main support of the capital city of our nation? What class contribute most to the general prosperity of Washington? The first city of the United States, unlike most other cities, has no industries that are furnishing a revenue to its citizens and for this reason the question of maintenance naturally arises. Many towns are kept in a flourishing condition by the income which its citizens derive from working in mills, factories and various other forms of manufacturing industries, but Washington has no source of this nature from which to draw its support. Our capital depends on the government clerk. The government itself is the big mill that fills the envelopes of Washingtonians every week and the ducats that flow into the purses of the grocer, baker, plumber, lawyer, doctor and clergyman come from the envelopes of the 40,000 clerks that keep Washington alive.

The members of the legislature really take more money out of Washington than they bring in. When the height of the season is on they lend an atmosphere of hustling prosperity to the town, but when the warm months come around they leave town with filled purses and spend their bulky sum at the seashore and mountain resorts. The busy clerks stick to their posts in all kinds of weather and all through the year and when the gloom settles down after the big guns are gone the government clerk is the only hope of the merchant and the amusement managers. It may seem strange, but when closely figured out the humble government clerk is the mainstay of our capital city.

During the long months when the congressmen and senators are enjoying the luxuries of vacation the clerk must sweat for his daily bread. Those humid summer months of Washington are hard on a man's nerves and disposition and hence the physician and lawyer are kept from the door of poverty. Food, dress and amusement must be had and this necessity provides for the well being of still another class. In this way the 40,000 clerks keep things moving during the dead season. If the clerks were to follow the example of the legislators and go to summer resorts to rest up for two or three months the capital city would take on the appearance of a deserted village, the merchants would be compelled to close up shop and grass would begin to appear between the cracks of the sidewalk.

Labor Bureau Investigates Insurance

The federal bureau of labor, after devoting a year's study to workmen's insurance and compensation systems in Europe has put out a report in which it presents a study of the insurance and compensation systems for the benefit of workmen in case of accident, sickness, old age, invalidity and unemployment in 11 European countries. Charles P. Neill, commissioner of labor, believes the report will be of peculiar interest to working men in the United States at this time, in view of the fact that the subject of workmen's insurance is a live subject and one discussed in the legislature of nearly every state. He points out that within recent years eight states, Connecticut, Illinois, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Wisconsin, as well as the federal government, have appointed commissions to study methods of compensating workmen for disability incurred in the course of their employment. As a result of these activities one state, New York, has already enacted compensation laws of general application, while two states, Montana and Maryland, have made provisions for state systems of cooperative insurance against accidents to workmen engaged in mining.

The forms of old age insurance now in operation in the European countries are classified by the commissioner of labor as voluntary insurance not subsidized by the government, voluntary insurance receiving government subsidies, compulsory insurance, and non-contributory insurance. The investigation revealed that in a number of European countries funds are found which provide old age pensions for employees on the basis of contributions from both employers and workmen. Usually the employer requires the workman to join the fund, so that as far as the employe is concerned the system may be regarded as compulsory.

The three European countries having a national system of compulsory old age insurance are Austria, France and Germany. In each case the law enumerates the classes of persons subject to the law. In Austria, the law includes salaried persons only, though the government is now engaged in formulating a plan for a national system of insurance for workmen. In France and Germany the law covers nearly all the population gainfully employed who are receiving wages or salaries, though many independent persons of small means are included. The expense of the pension in each of the three countries is met by payments from the insured persons and from the employers.

Capital Society Women Hope to Fly

FIRST of all the women of fashion to take to aeronautics as a sport, Washington society leaders are planning to lead the world as "high fliers," in the literal sense. The thrill attendant on sailing through the air has fascinated Washington mondaines, and in order to indulge in it to their hearts' content they are going to establish a school and obtain instruction in the science of operating machines. The school may become an actuality some time this spring and after a course of lessons mildly confidently looks forward to becoming a skilled "sky pilot" and taking a three or four mile "fly" every morning before breakfast.

The leaders of the movement are Viscountess Benoit d'Asy, wife of the naval attache of the French embassy, witty, breezy and enthusiastic as a schoolgirl; Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, who retains the girlish vivacity and daring of her "Princess Alice" days, and Miss Gladys Hinckley, by many considered the handsomest unmarried girl in society, who is "in" for all that which makes for good, thrilling sport, be it hunting or careening around the Washington monument in an airship. Many others are interested in the movement, and the school promises to be a genuine success.

Even now the question of proper dress for aeronautics is engaging the minds of maids and matrons who plan to take the course of instruction. Each woman will be a law unto herself, for a time at least, until fashion prescribes a costume which all will adopt. None of the sponsors of the new school is yet prepared to answer what the dress will be; they prefer instead to flit on the pleasure in store for those who learn to operate their own machines.

Far more serious, even to women-kind, than dress, is the style of machine to be used. No definite plans have yet been made in this regard.

Next in order comes the question of a corps of instructors, a sort of faculty of the new school. Men instructors will be engaged at first. Yet when women become thoroughly proficient who knows what may happen?

Senate Shocked in Closing Session

FOR the first time in the history of the government the expiring gasp of a short session of congress was prolonged beyond the legislative day of March 3, and into the legislative day of March 4. The precedent was set in the senate, and it happened this way: Inadvertently a motion was adopted Friday to the effect that the Senate session of Saturday was to begin at 8 a. m. The custom had been to take a recess until the time agreed upon for the meeting on the calendar day of March 4, but early Saturday morning the Senate adjourned the legislative day of March 3. When the senate recovered therefrom it was for both the legislative and calendar day of March 4.

As soon as it became noted about that a custom had been violated, senators began a hasty examination of precedents. Senator Gallinger was in the chair. He referred the question to Henry H. Gilroy, the senate parliamentarian. After a long search it was discovered that while the senate never had a legislative day of March 4 for the purpose of winding up a session of congress, there was no reason, except custom, for that fact.

For the first time, therefore, leaders of the senate learned that the calendar day is superior to the legislative day in determining parliamentary situations.

TO DISARM STRIKERS.

1,000 Alien Strikers to be Disarmed by Illinois State Troops.

With 600 soldiers of the Illinois National Guard gathered in Gillespie, Ill., ready forcibly to disarm a thousand foreign-speaking coal miners who are terrorizing the district in an attempt to prevent their English-speaking brethren from going to work, the town appears in a state of war.

The aliens live mostly at Benid, a distance of 1-2 miles by wagon road and as many of them have been drinking and are wrought to a pitch of frenzy, bloodshed is feared as soon as the disarmament attempt begins.

Col. E. J. Lang, commanding the Fourth regiment, Illinois National Guard, is in charge of the situation and declares his intention of marching his men to Benid and suppressing the disturbance with an iron hand. He says he will declare martial law in Benid, if necessary.

Diaz Palace Stoned.

Authentic report of a serious demonstration against the person of President Diaz, of Mexico, which took the form of the stoning of his official palace in Mexico city by a mob of insurrectionary sympathizers, became public in San Antonio.

An American who has official connection with the United States government and who witnessed the incidents himself, is the one who has broken the rigorous censorship exercised at the southern capital, which has been so strong that not only has the event been kept from the press outside of Mexico, but the echo of it has only begun to penetrate by word of mouth to the northern provinces.

The stoning of Diaz's palace came so suddenly that the police utterly unprepared for the demonstration were unable to disperse the mob before much glass had been shattered and the guests of the president who were in the palace at the time, had been badly frightened. It is said that there were not many whole windows left on that side of the palace exposed to the stone throwers.

Dog Dies From Grief.

A dog's striking attachment to his master is recorded from Villeneuve-Saint-Georges. While attending the funeral of a municipal councillor's wife M. Constantin, a resident of that village, contracted congestion of the lungs, from which he died suddenly. He had a dog, a small fox terrier, which never left him. Since the death of M. Constantin the poor animal refused food and passed whole days at the cemetery moaning on the tomb of his dead master. Yesterday the terrier was found dead.—Le Figaro.

M. J. Lehman for Circuit Judge

Michael J. Lehman, one of the Democratic candidates for Circuit Judge of Wayne County, was born Sept. 3, 1850. He has lived in Wayne, Washtenaw and Jackson counties all his life. He was the oldest of a family of thirteen. He worked as a hired boy on a farm in Jackson county at $4.50 per month before he was eleven years old. He continued said employment until his 17th year, except three months in the winter following his 12th and 13th years when he attended a German school. At the age of 17 his desire for an education became irresistible, and he bargained with his father for his emancipation at $600.00. He then became a section hand for the M. C. R. R. Co. for three summer seasons, and attended a country school winters, working for his board as he had done when attending German school.

In the fall of 1868 he commenced attending the High School at Grass Lake. He rented a humble room and boarded himself, and after one year's attendance taught country school winters and attended school springs and falls for nine years. He graduated from the High School in 1874, and from the U. of M. Law Department in 1879. He is known about Chelsea as the boy who walked 22 miles from his home to Ann Arbor whenever he had a change of clothing.

In 1890 being $1150 in debt and without a dollar or a book, he settled in Chelsea to practice law. His rise at the bar has been gradual but steady. He was a Justice at Chelsea from 1890 to 1898. He was Prosecuting Attorney for Washtenaw County from 1898 to 1899. He was a member of the Board of School Examiners of said county for over eight years, three years as secretary.

He came to Detroit 14 years ago, and has for more than 30 years been engaged in general practice. Few lawyers have had a more general practice or tried more cases than he. His training ought to qualify him for the office he seeks.

He was married on Thanksgiving day 1881 to Mary Schumacher of Jackson County. They have three sons, Christian H., George M. and Carl A. C. H. is a lawyer associated with his father. G. M. is a senior law at Ann Arbor, and C. A. a freshman law.

At and about Chelsea no man is more often referred to as a truly self-made man than M. J. Lehman. Few have had a more uphill road than he; but as a laborer, teacher, officer and lawyer he made good.

Lenten Services Do Much Good

The Lenten services which have been conducted at the Methodist church for the past two weeks have done a great deal of good. The sermons by Dr. Allen of Detroit have been exceedingly helpful, and the singing and work of Miss Chew and Mr. Maier were greatly enjoyed. The church has been filled every night and quite a number of people have become Christians directly as the result of the meetings. Fourteen were received into membership last Sunday morning and at least that many more are expected Sunday. The shop meetings were interesting and Dr. Allen also addressed the pupils of the school. He goes to Wayne for a week commencing Sunday. The services close this Friday evening.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Editors this week: Uma Willett, Clarence Wright, Camilla Glass and Hazel Cady.

The first grade is preparing a program to be given at the chapel for the lower grades, the first Monday in April.

The second grade is studying and drawing coconuts and pussy willows.

Harold Thomas was absent from the second grade on account of a sprained ankle.

Marion Cline was absent from the second grade on account of the death of her grandmother.

The fifth grade gave the chapel program on the lower floor Monday. Dr. Allen gave a talk and Miss Chew and Mr. Maier sang.

The visitors in the fourth grade this week were Mrs. Casser and daughter Ruth of Detroit, Miss Chew and Mrs. Woolley, the fourth grade teacher at Northville.

High School visitors: Spencer Heeney, Norman Switzer, Gladys Smith, Maude Gracen, Charlotte Gittens, Elizabeth Byers, Iva Hench, and Dr. Campbell.

The High School teachers are sending the "High School babies" to the kindergarten.

The Modern History class have been debating the question: "Resolved that Napoleon deserves the name, 'The Great' and that his work helped France." The affirmative won by one point.

The seventh and eighth grade girls made ginger bread in the Domestic Science department last Wednesday.

We all recognized St. Patrick's Day by "The wearing of the green."

Eng. III. classes are not vegetarians we judge, as they "Lamb" and "Roast Pig" both on day.

Miss Freeland was absent Monday on account of illness.

The teachers report a splendid time at Mr. and Mrs. Isabel's Saturday evening when they succeeded in giving the former a genuine surprise, it being his birthday. He was recipient, too, of a fine postal shower from the members of the school.

Harry Farley, a member of our Senior class who was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital in Ann Arbor Sunday for a serious operation, died shortly before noon Tuesday. The deep sympathy of all High School students and teachers goes out to the members of the family. Our own loss is only less than theirs and is most keenly felt. His genial, unselfish nature made him a general favorite, his ideals were high and influential in the school was always for the right.

Description of Shelley's poem "The Cloud." "I'm a little bit of a storm but it was terribly wet."

The students of the night school still take great pleasure in their evening session. (As to the teachers, dependent sayeth not.)

We wonder why that certain Sophomore remarked that while in Saginaw, he did not have time to notice the salt wells.

The High School has joined the Michigan Spelling League and "spell downs" are now thefad.

Teacher (to student tearing sole off shoe) "Don't lose your soul in here!"

Lost—A freshman's voice; if found, return to Miss Freeland.

T. U.

On account of there being five Thursdays in this month there will be a meeting in the hall next Thursday, March 30. Mrs. R. C. Stafford and Mrs. E. L. Beals are the leaders. There will be a roll call on Why I Want to Vote, a paper upon What Women have Accomplished where they have the Ballot. A spell-down on Government dates and facts, which will be carried out if possible, and a short literary drill.

The president regrets that the extra session last week prevented any part of the excellent mothers' meeting held on March 9 reaching the papers and for the same reason no mention could be made of the meeting held March 2nd. The notes were written, but no opportunity was had to send them. Remember the meeting the 30th as it will be the last one before the annual meeting.—Supt. Press.

OBITUARY

HARRY FARLEY.

Harry Farley, the seventeen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Farley, living just east of Plymouth died at Ann Arbor after an operation Tuesday noon, March 21st. He had been ill for several weeks, first having had pneumonia and later having bowel complications. The best of medical and surgical skill seemed unavailing.

Harry was born Oct. 31st, 1893, and had lived with his parents in Livonia township all his life. He was a senior in the Plymouth High school and was to have graduated this June. He was a boy of fine promise and to know him was to love him. He was actively identified with the Newburg church and Sunday-school. He was honorable and true in his life and had a host of friends. His parents and sister and brother and a multitude of friends will deeply feel their loss.

The funeral took place from the Newburg Church Thursday afternoon, and interment in Newburg cemetery. Rev. E. King conducted the services.

GEO. C. PETERHANS

was born in Plymouth, Mich., Feb. 9th, 1840. At the age of nine years he went with his parents to Cincinnati, Ohio, but in about a year returned. In 1859 he moved to Tuscola county, but came back to Plymouth some 18 years ago. In September 1861, he enlisted in Stockton's First Mich. Independent Infantry, which afterwards became the 16th Mich. He served three years and again enlisted in February, 1865, in the 15th Mich. He was wounded in action June 1864.

He married Nannie A. Waugh, Jan. 31, 1866, at York, Washtenaw county. For over 45 years they were permitted to enjoy each other's fellowship until death separated them about 11:15 a. m. March 17th, 1911.

He was a man of sterling worth to the community in which he lived and was trusted with various offices in county and township practically all the time for half century.

For two years and a half he had been a great sufferer and was confined to his bed most of the time during the last three months. He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his widow, four brothers, Chris. (his twin), Henry and Emanuel of Caro, and Charles of Mt. Pleasant, two sisters, Mrs. Christina Ingersoll of Tuscola, Amelia Peterhans of Cleveland; a son, Wm. S., of Los Angeles, Cal., a daughter, Mrs. Mary Lincoln of Detroit, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in the Baptist church Monday, March 20th, at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. C. T. Jack of Mt. Pleasant and Rev. W. W. Des Autels of this place. Burial at Riverside.

FOSTER HANCHETT.

Foster Hanchett was born in Taylor township, Wayne county, Nov. 5th, 1870, and has always lived in this vicinity. Dec. 28th, 1898, he married Mabel Proctor.

Five weeks ago last Saturday he was taken ill, but no one thought he was so near the end of his earthly life. A week ago he was taken to Ann Arbor and everything done to save his life, but to no avail. He died Sunday morning, March 19th, at the age of 40 years, 4 months and 14 days. He left to mourn his loss, besides the widow and four small children, his father and mother and five brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. W. DesAutels at the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon. Burial at Riverside.

WILL KING.

Will King, a veteran of the civil war, who has lived in Wayne county and Newburg locality for several years past, died suddenly at the home of Nelson Barrows Monday, March 20th. He was born in Lyons township, New York State, March 15th, 1842. He enlisted in the 4th Mich. Cavalry in 1862 and fought in the battles of Atlanta, Jonesboro, Galesville, Selma and others. He was honorably discharged at the close of the war.

About two and a half years ago his wife died. He leaves two brothers, James and Charles King, and a sister, Mrs. Abbie McIntosh, of Isabella county. The funeral was held at the Newburg church Wednesday afternoon and his remains were laid in the Newburg Cemetery.

E. D. Wood has moved into the Conner house across from the post-office.

GEO. S. HOSMER

Democratic Candidate for re-election as

CIRCUIT JUDGE

Respectfully asks for your support.

"There are among the Democratic candidates men who are fitted for and deserving of places on the Wayne Circuit bench. Judge Hosmer for instance is clearly entitled to re-election at the hands of discriminating non-partisan voters."—Editorial of Detroit Journal, Jan. 30th, 1911.

Judge Hosmer is a jurist of unusual ability and learning and is recognized by both Republicans and Democrats as peculiarly adapted for the judiciary. His business is unquestioned and his brilliant career on the bench has fully demonstrated this fact. He has the unqualified endorsement of an admiring constituency.

You Can Have Better Coffee

And it needn't cost you a single bit more than the poorer kind. Look here! Wouldn't you rather pay, say, 25c for a good, strong coffee than 20c for a poor, weak one? Wouldn't it be better economy?

ROYAL VALLEY COFFEES are fully one-third stronger than any coffee at 5c less per pound. They're stronger—but smoother—than any other coffee at the SAME price, because they have so much more "body" and so much more of that natural rich coffee-oil.

Coffee without that bitter taste—without that burnt flavor—without that muddy color; richer, stronger, purer coffee will be yours if you use ROYAL VALLEY NERO at 25c. or MARI-GOLD at 30c. or TZAR at 35c per pound. And you'll be money ahead besides.

Ask anybody who has tried one of these delicious blends. Try one of them yourself—TO-DAY.

Village Electrician Havershaw has compiled figures from the village clerk's report published two weeks ago, which show that the electric light plant is certainly making good. The total receipts for current were $5,007.29 and the total actual operating expenses, as figured by Mr. Havershaw, were $4,025.41. The balance of the $7,049.43 expended during the year was for new equipment and interest on bonds. The figures show a balance above operating expenses of $3,024.02. The street lights have, therefore, cost the taxpayers nothing.

THE PRICE OF PROGRESS.

The historic reluctance of Oriental races to indulge in reforms is little understood, but time and experience will explain. These races are old in experience and in wisdom. Therefore, they are always apprehensive of the ultimate ends to which any reform will reach, says the Detroit News. Japan has modernized rapidly. It enjoys the benefits of a very improved form of government. Out of this change develops a gradual rise in the status of the masses and one of the consequences is a discontent. Alexander II. of Russia emancipated 23,000,000 serfs in the spring of 1861, after giving all landowners and serf masters three years' notice to prepare for the event and setting his own serfs free as an example. In 1881 the sons and daughters of the emancipated serfs, having enjoyed the benefit of education and thereby discovered the wrongs of the past and the oppressions to which the poor were still subject at the hands of the nobles and great land owners, expressed their discontent by killing the emperor who had lifted them to the status of free men and women. Russian discontent was fomented by Michael Bakounin, the founder of terrorism in Russia. Japan has her Bakounin in Denjiro Kotoku, a publicist of discontent. Recently a band of 36 conspirators were arrested upon the charge of plotting against the life of the emperor, and 12 of them have already been executed. These terrible blunders seem to be unavoidable consequences of a change in the status of the people of any nation, but only the superficial observer could condemn all attempts at progress because, in governments as in railroading, they involve a certain element of danger.

Rats are regarded as the most dangerous propagators of the bubonic plague that is raging in the East, and the matter has been under consideration by the Russian military authorities east of the Caucasus. They believe in killing off the rats to check the spread of the disease. But some of the methods they propose to employ will arouse the special wonder even of an age which is accustomed to remarkable developments. The military inspector of the district in question has issued an order in which is set forth "the hypnotic influence of music, as employed by wizards and witches," and it is remarked that this should not be ignored. In fact, the methods by which rat-catchers can lure their prey from the hiding places are specified, and the order concludes with the assumption that "it is very possible that among the soldiers of the Caucasian military district there are such wizards." If there is a piper in the Russian army he may now proceed to get busy.

Ecuador has rejected the proposition to submit the boundary dispute with Peru to the Hague tribunal. Colombia has sent a force of troops into territory claimed by Peru. War seems inevitable between those perennial squabblers, Haiti and Santo Domingo. And what looks like a pretty full-fledged revolution is under way in Honduras, says the Troy Times. It would seem that there are several unruly children in the international family of the western hemisphere who need a little wholesome discipline to make them behave themselves properly.

THE THINGS DONE AT STATE CAPITOL

THE LEGISLATURE, PARTICULARLY THE HOUSE IS FAST GETTING DOWN TO REAL HARD WORK.

THE DECISION TO ADJOURN APRIL 19 MEANS A SPECIAL SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE.

It is Admitted That Many Important Bills Cannot Be Taken Care of at This Session.

By Toby Candor.

Following its decision to adjourn on April 19, the earliest date in Michigan's history, the legislature has shown signs of getting down to work. In the house, especially is this tendency to be observed. Last week instead of adjourning early in the forenoon of Friday, the house went into session at 9 a. m. and sat through until 3 p. m. Then it voted to adjourn only until Monday at 2 p. m., instead of 9 p. m., as has been customary. The senate also had a quorum Friday morning, a somewhat unusual occurrence. The decision to adjourn April 19 means a special session of the legislature as it is admitted beforehand the legislature can never handle the great list of bills now in and especially those bills which are of vast importance dealing with the railroad rates, taxation matters, express rates, employer's liability and many other things the people are demanding. This special session will come either in November or the first of January when it will also be possible to reappoint the state congressional districts as the congress will doubtless have acted by that time. Governor Osborn is considering now which time will be for the best interests and greatest convenience of all, but has not determined definitely upon the exact time.

A whole lot of legislation relative to convicts and law breakers generally is before the present legislature. Among the important bills is that of Senator Wiggins which will provide that persons convicted of a crime, upon showing good cause, shall be provided with state aid for the purpose of appealing their cases. Senator Watkins has introduced another bill to change the system of paying convicts in the prisons for overtime work. At present they are paid according to the earnings of the prison. Senator Watkins' bill provides they shall be paid overtime in accordance with the time they work and the amount of work they accomplish daily but their earnings are limited to 15 cents a day for overtime.

No little talk is to be heard not only among the politicians at the capitol but out around the state over the refusal of the senate to permit Senator James Murtha, of Detroit, to make his reply to the charge of Governor Osborn. For an hour or more the accused senator and Senator Fowle indulged in a parliamentary sparring match in which every other word uttered by Murtha was met by a point of order by Fowle. At last the senate voted against Senator Murtha's resolution which had been offered for the purpose of having something definite to talk to and the accused senator was given no opportunity to make his speech.

St. Patrick's day was observed in strange fashion in the legislature. At the main door of the house stood the door tender clad in overalls, across the front of which was a big placard which said: "No pay for 54 days. Result of six days' pay." This was side winder at Speaker Baker, who, by objecting to paying the employes for seven days according to the custom, put the matter into the supreme court where it still hangs. In the senate with Senator John Leidlín, a German, in the chair, "Hil-lee Hi-boo," was sung as an appropriate anthem for St. Patrick's day. Afterward, shamrocks and Irish flags were distributed to all the members.

Michigan sportsmen from every section of the state have been to Lansing to appear before the joint game committee in the interest of game legislation. Almost without exception they favored the placing of the game warden's department under a non-partisan commission of five, the cutting out of spring shooting and making uniform seasons for all kinds of game and also the hunter's license. The farmers protest against the hunter's license, but as this is merely nominal, it is believed when they understand it a bit better they will approve also.

Speaker Baker took occasion recently to put a stop to some of the racket which has disturbed the sessions of the house since it convened. He announced from the chair that the house was there expected to do business and those who came into the house for other purposes must keep quiet. He declared if they had business to talk over there was plenty of room outside in which to do it.

Senator Lee has introduced a resolution permitting the governor to appoint a commission of three men to supervise the erection of an addition to the state capitol, the addition to be to permit enlarged quarters for the supreme court and to cost $400,000.

The Japanese bill, providing state aid for the families of convicts, was killed by the house. The chief argument used against it was that the family of a man sentenced would be left with nothing while the family of the man committing the murder would be cared for by the state.

A resolution ready for introduction in the house will provide for the taking of the bull by the horns and annulling the prison labor contracts at once without waiting for them to expire. The special committee which investigated Marquette prison finds that most of the difficulty with prisoners there is due to the efforts of the contractors to get out of them more work than they can do. Governor Osborn has expressed a similar opinion and he favors annulling the contracts at once and fighting a suit in the courts rather than permit the system to continue. The resolution provides an appropriation for the purchase of the machinery in the prisons in order that the state may continue to operate the plants and keep the prisoners employed.

The tonnage tax is going to be put up to the governor. His opponents in the senate, even though they are personally opposed to the tonnage tax, are willing to vote for it for the purpose of forcing the governor either to make the tax a law or veto it in either of which cases the governor's opponents believe he will get in bad. In consequence the senate is this week being flooded with letters, telegrams and resolutions and petitions from grangers all over the state demanding that the tonnage tax be passed. Meanwhile the governor's opponents sit back and smile broadly.

The bust of Zach Chandler is to fill the second niche belonging to Michigan in statutory hall at Washington. The Mapes bill which was once defeated in the senate was taken up once more and carried with 25 out of 32 votes in favor of it. Among these votes was that of Senator Murtha, Democrat, who declared he was a great admirer of Chandler and did not believe this a time to let politics interfere. The house will pass the bill without difficulty and Governor Osborn has declared he was willing to sign it.

Police Commissioner Croul, of Detroit, appeared before the legislature to argue for more liberality in the matter of holiday observance for saloons. Mr. Croul argued that under the present conditions with so many holidays it is next to impossible to enforce the law and he prefers that the only holidays to be observed shall be Sundays and election days, Christmas, Thanksgiving, July 4 and Decoration Day.

Under Senator Watkins' bill the work in all public high schools will be supervised by a commission consisting of the president of the University of Michigan, the superintendent of public instruction and the president of the Michigan Agricultural college. Three inspectors will be appointed who will supervise almost everything in connection with these schools and will be paid $2,500 a year each.

All feed stuffs for live stock will be carefully tagged and weighed if the bill of Senator Watkins passes. This provides that the manufacturers of the various brands of food for live stock shall tag the bags with a label stating the kind of feed on the bag, its ingredients and its weight. The department of agriculture is given power to inspect all such bags and a penalty is provided for violation of the act.

Senator Scott has introduced a bill directing the governor to appoint a commission of five to make an investigation into the subject of farm colonies for inebriates. At present they are confined in the county jails and no good to them comes from their confinement. It is the belief that were they placed upon farms they might be cured of the habit and become substantial citizens.

Representative Wolcott has passed in the house his bill which is of especial interest to farmers and will ensure them the kind of implements and tools they think they are buying. The bill prohibits the sale after January 1, 1915, of any vehicle, machinery, implement or tool in the manufacture of which other than U. S. standard taps and dies have been used.

After passing the bill providing that veterans of the Mexican and Civil wars and their widows shall be exempted from taxation on $1,000 worth of property, the house turned about on the next day, recalled the bill from the senate and reconsidered it. Then it was put over for a special order and seems likely to be defeated when it is considered once more.

A bill has been introduced providing for the abolition of the state live stock sanitary commission and the appointment of a state veterinarian in its place. The bill proposes to give to the state veterinarian all the powers of examination of live stock for disease and the killing of diseased cattle, the establishing of quarantine and such other duties as will serve to keep live stock in Michigan healthy.

The Rosenkrans threshers' lien bill has passed the senate.

Senator Mapes' bill providing that school districts may pay to the parents of poor children $3 a week while the children remain in school has passed the Senate. This is one of the several measures before the legislature which tends to lighten the burden of poor persons while their children are securing an education.

Rep. Wood has introduced a bill in the house prohibiting piece work in locomotive boiler shops in Michigan.

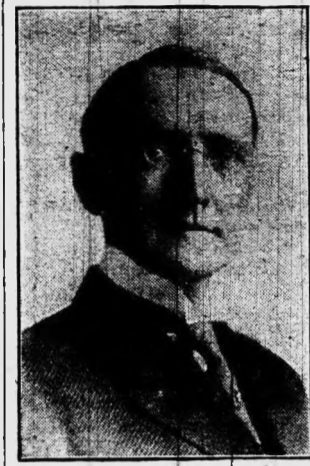

If the bill of Representative Warner passes, one great cause for disturbance in various school districts will have been done away with. The bill makes it unlawful for any member of a school board to in any manner act as agent for any author, agent, publisher, etc., of any of the books which may be used in the schools or to do any sort of work or furnish any supplies or material for school districts.

CAPACITY AND CHAMBERS

THESE ARE THE TESTS BEING APPLIED FOR JUDICIAL FITNESS.

Judge Murphy's Candidacy Has Risen Above all Partisan Considerations.

The discussion of the candidates for Circuit Judge has this spring, more than ever, been free from political bias. The questions of capacity and character are the controlling considerations in the public mind. This is a wholesome sign. So important an office, and one which performs no partisan function, can well be considered solely upon the grounds of fitness of the candidates.

JUDGE ALFRED J. MURPHY

An evidence of this is seen in the attitude of all the Detroit newspapers toward one candidate, Judge Alfred J. Murphy. Every Detroit paper, without regard to its politics, has advocated his re-election. This chorus has been reinforced by both of the German dailies of Detroit, The Abend Post and The Michigan Volksblatt, and also by The Polish Daily, the latter paper being printed in the Polish language. It is seldom that all the newspapers unite in advocacy of a candidate. That they do is not only a tribute to the man in whose behalf public opinion has thus crystallized, but it shows an alert and intelligent public spirit, as well.

Judge Murphy has been in receipt daily of letters from men in all walks of life and of all shades of political belief, tendering him their support. A characteristic letter is that from Rev. R. J. Service, of Detroit. He writes: "If you can use me or my name in any way, although a Republican, in aiding your re-election as Circuit Judge, I will consider it an honor. It would be a calamity if you were not re-elected. You have proven yourself to be an almost ideal judge."

His support from the members of the bar is practically unanimous. The business men of the community have been moved by his record as a judge to support him. While from many and varied sections of the city and county, to which he has always given freely of his time and effort in the furtherance of civic and philanthropic efforts, he is receiving support because of his broad sympathies and his willingness to sacrifice personal comfort for the common good. It is seldom that a man in an important public office has been able to acquire and retain the implicit confidence of an entire community in so complete a degree as has Judge Murphy. It is a tribute to him both as man and judge.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

Lansing.—Reuben F. Shunk of Alma, aged fifty-eight years, lost his life when the plant of the Ideal Motor company was gutted by fire. Shunk, after escaping from the building, went back after his coat in one of his pockets of which he had left $60. He was not seen alive again. Capt. Julius Baker of engine house No. 3, the oldest fireman in point of service, was hurt in jumping to escape a falling wall, and several employees of the company were slightly burned in escaping from the burning structure. The loss is estimated at $50,000, covered by insurance.

Hillsdale.—Taking a small 22-caliber rifle which he had purchased for his boy, John Sanderson, farmer, aged forty-five years, residing three miles north of North Adams, this county, went to the barn and shot himself in the head, dying in a few minutes. Sanderson had been melancholy for the past four years and for weeks the family had been fearful that he would put an end to his life and used every effort possible to forestall any attempt.

Traverse City.—Ora Carpenter was called before the court to answer to a charge of contempt for disobeying an order relative to the custody of a minor child. When Carpenter's wife secured a divorce, she was given the custody of the child during the school months. He had not allowed the mother to have the child and was therefore fined. He was ordered to bring the child to court and complied and the mother took charge of her.

Bessener.—Tony Ferrio and Sam Gentile, bartender and roustabout respectively at the "White Front," a notorious resort of Hurley, were larded in the county jail here in default of $1,000 bail. They are charged with holding up John Nuncia on the Hurley-Ironwood bridge at the point of a gun and relieving him of his watch and chain, the only thing of value he had.

Rochester.—Russell, six-year-old son of Motorman William Swartz of the D. V. R., was drowned in Neely dam while playing with a number of other boys. He was in the water 20 minutes. He was found face down in two feet of water. A doctor worked over him an hour, with no avail.

Saginaw.—While playing near the open cistern at his home, Jason Sanford, five years old, fell into the water and after two unsuccessful attempts of his mother to save him, Charles Roethke, a prominent florist, was summoned. Roethke jumped into the cistern and rescued the child.

Davidson.—Lulu, fifteen-year-old daughter of Phillip Diehl, died at the home of her parents here as the result of burns received. The child was cooking a meal when her clothing caught fire from the flames.

Holland.—Richard H. Post, the former Holland real estate dealer, pleaded guilty in the circuit court to the double charge of forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses.

Maple Rapids.—William J. Cusick, who mysteriously disappeared from the old farm home of his parents, near Hubbardston, Ionia county, about fifteen years ago, and who had not since been heard from by his relatives, has been located at Eureka, Cal. Cusick's parents died and he was sought far and wide that the estate might be settled. He was finally located through a Catholic priest at Arcata, Cal. Cusick is regarded as an eccentric and some doubt is expressed as to whether he will return to assist in probating the estate.

Muskegon.—Mary Matteo, a fifteen-year-old Italian girl, was assaulted and seriously injured by Paul Cressano, another Italian, of twenty-one years. Miss Matteo was in a grocery store when Cressano entered and started an argument, and becoming angered at some of the girl's replies, grabbed her and commenced to choke her. He also pushed her down and then kicked her in the neck. An officer was called, but before he arrived the man fled. Later he gave himself up.

Grand Rapids.—Anthony Carmack, an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, is on trial in the federal court here charged with violating the government liquor laws. The offense with which he is charged is that of preparing and selling a tablet, which, if dissolved, made an intoxicating drink. The contention of the prosecutor is that Carmack did a thriving business in Mecosta county and other "dry" territory last summer.

Kalamazoo.—James R. McCall, organizer and president of the Lincoln Voters' league, and a resident of Kalamazoo for 75 years, died suddenly at his home in this city. McCall had at no time been considered seriously ill and until two or three days ago spent his time at the headquarters of the league of which he was head.

Grand Rapids.—His leg crushed by a falling log, Henry Eberhardt, aged fifty, crawled more than half a mile from the woods to the highway, where he became unconscious and was found by a passerby. When a physician arrived he found that the leg had been fractured three times below the knee.

Kalamazoo.—Steven Kauric was arrested charged with stabbing Miss Frances Stevic in the face with a knife. The woman is badly injured. The trouble took place at a celebration among the Hungarians here.

EYES WOULD BURN AND STING

"It is just a year ago that my sister came over here to us. She had been here only a few weeks when her eyes began to be red, and to burn and sting as if she had sand in them. Then we used all of the home remedies. She washed her eyes with salt water, used hot tea to bathe them with, and bandaged them over night with tea leaves, but all to no purpose. She went to the drug store and got some salve, but she grew constantly worse. She was scarcely able to look in the light. At last she decided to go to a doctor, because she could hardly work any more. The doctor said it was a very severe disease, and if she did not follow his orders closely she might lose her eyesight. He made her eyes burn and applied electricity to them, and gave her various ointments. In the two and a half or three months that she went to the doctor, we could see very little improvement.

"Then we had read so much how people had been helped by Cuticura that we thought we would try it, and we cannot be thankful enough that we used it. My sister used the Cuticura Pills for purifying the blood, bathed only with Cuticura Soap, and at night after washing, she anointed her eyes very gently on the outside with the Cuticura Ointment. In one week, the swelling was entirely gone from the eyes, and after a month there was no longer any mucus or watering of the eyes. She could already see better, and in six weeks she was cured." He is universally known and respected for his exalted character, great learning and his judicial qualities. Judge Murphy has merited the vote of every Pole.

THE ABERDEEN POST

In the election of a judge, party lines must fall. Alfred J. Murphy is a Democrat. But he has shown that he is to be looked upon as an ornament to the bench. The German-American voters should pick those candidates who, it is assured, will fill the position in the interest of the whole community. They can rest easily if they vote for Judge Murphy.

THE DETROIT TIMES

Judge Murphy's candidacy, therefore, should take a wider range than personal initiative or party action. It should be the public's concern to give him the reward of a most able and courageous stewardship in the place he now occupies.

Please place an X before the name of Alfred J. Murphy in the Democratic Column. Election Day, Monday, April 3rd, next.

BEAUTIFUL LAKES OF GUATEMALA

IN THE LAKE COUNTRY

Bored by the loveliness of Norway's fjords and grown weary of the soft beauty of the Italian and the rugged grandeur of the Swiss lakes, the blase globe trotter turns in search of some new enchanted spot where the realization that it is seen for the first time lends again some zest to life.

The world is fast grasping the fact that in the comparatively small space between Mexico and the Isthmus of Panama lies, as it were, a Land of Promise—a promise of wealth incalculable to the realm of commerce, through the cultivation and development of marvelously rich and fertile countries which are being opened up with wonderful rapidity by the network of railroads that are spreading throughout the five beautiful republics of Central America. More than a land of promise to the archaeologist, who has here a vast field for research wherein to unravel the mystery which surrounds the history of the ancient American civilization and throw some light upon the origin of the people whose wonderful works are evidenced in the ruins of prehistoric cities found hidden in dense tropical forests. A land of beautiful realities to even the ordinary tourist, who finds easily accessible a wealth of scenic beauty unsurpassed and a perfection of climate rarely equaled. This is particularly true of Guatemala, the most northern of the Central American republics and our nearest neighbor after Mexico. It is reached by a three days' delightful sail on the Gulf of Mexico and along the coast of British Honduras.

Upon our arrival in Puerto Barrios we concluded to visit Lake Yzabal before going up to the city of Guatemala. Lake Yzabal lies about fifty miles inland and a regular line of steamers ply between Livingston and Panos, in the interior on the Polochic river. Entering the lake proper, a beautiful picture is before us—the lovely expanse of water with its wooded shores rising gradually to the rugged Sierras de las Minas, to the south, and the Santacruz mountains, to the north. Here stand the picturesque ruins of the old Spanish fort of San Felipe, built in 1525 by Hernando Cortes during his march from Mexico to Honduras and erected to protect the approach to the town of Yzabal, which at that time was the principal port of entry. Large brass cannon, bearing the date 1496, have been found scattered among the ruins of this old fortification. Neither pen nor brush can do justice to the wild beauty of the Polochic river and those in search of new sensations can enjoy the unique experience of traveling in perfect safety through a tropical wilderness where gayly colored parrots and inquisitive monkeys chatter and intruder from overhanging branches and crocodiles, with wide open mouths, lie basking in the sun.

In the northern part of the country lies the great lake of Peten, or San Andres, of which comparatively little is known, except to antiquarians. Situated in a wild, almost uninhabited part of the country, perhaps the richest in all Guatemala, it is difficult of access. This immense body of fresh water, 27 miles long and having a shore line of 70 miles, is dotted with numerous islands. On the largest of these is the town of Flores, with about 15,000 inhabitants. Near Flores are the ruins of a buried city, with stone images and monoliths covered with hieroglyphics, showing the unread history of a people which dwelt in the midst of this primeval forest ages ago.

At Lake Amatitlan we find ourselves on a much visited lake. The borders of this lovely body of water, lying only 18 miles to the south of Guatemala City, are the playgrounds of the capital. Situated at an altitude of nearly 2,000 feet above the level of the sea, 12 miles long and 3 miles wide, it is very deep and gives rise to a river, the Guastoya, which has its outlet in the Pacific ocean, 12 miles south of the port of San Jose, where it is 12 miles wide.

A curious phenomenon, which is a yearly occurrence, generally during the month of March, is an eruption which takes place at the bottom of the lake, and great quantities of sulphur rise to the surface of the water. This, for a time, is the death knell of the fish.

In the boiling springs which abound is done the laundry work of the city, the women taking advantage of this water heated by nature and ever ready for use. Groups of dark-skinned Indian women, in their gayly colored native costumes, kneeling by the deep blue waters amidst the piles of snowy linen, present a most attractive and fascinating picture. There is also a novelty about a picnic, when eggs can be cooked without trouble by merely dropping them into one of Mother Nature's ever-boiling pots.

It has been my good fortune to see many lakes in different parts of the world, but never have I seen one more exquisitely beautiful than the curious crater lake of Atitlan, incomparable for grandeur of scenery and perfection of climate. In the very heart of the mountains we find this lake, 20 miles in length and 10 miles in breadth. Although many streams empty their waters into it, there is no visible outlet and its depth is unknown, no soundings having been made with a line of more than 300 fathoms. No fish live in its icy waters, and here and there upon its surface mineral springs bubble up from its unfathomable depths.

It is impossible to describe the charm and witchery of this country, bathed in moonlight, the scenery at each step becoming more impressive. We forded rushing, tumbling mountain streams, looking like cascades of silver, and we rode through silent Indian villages, where the inhabitants were sleeping in front of their strange little bamboo huts. The only sound to break the silence was the plaintive call of the whippoorwill. Words are inadequate to portray the scene which was before us. The great expanse of water lay like molten silver in the moonlight, the mountains, solemn and awe-inspiring, standing in serried ranks like giant sentinels to guard this treasure. A soft, pearly mist hung over all, but not so dense as to hide the perfect outline of the three great volcanoes—the two Atitlans and San Pedro. These stupendous giants rise to the height of nearly 12,000 feet and fall in one unbroken sweep to the water's edge.

The filmy veil of mist which is characteristic of this region during the greater part of the year occasionally melts away, and as we stood on this spot, speechless before the wonder of this panorama, it seemed for our benefit alone to have crept silently away in the night and earth and sky and water were perfectly revealed, outlying each other in deepest tones of blue. But even as we gazed soft clouds formed in the valleys below and crept stealthily up, writhing and twisting like great white snakes, until once more they had encircled the mountains like giant serpents whose power even the great hills could not withstand. Nature seemed to say that we had looked already too long upon her secret treasures, and softly but swiftly she again drew around them the gauzy mantle in which, except at rare intervals, she keeps them wrapped.

E. F. TISDEL

Blaze Had Lasted Long.

A delegation of officials of fire departments of western cities was on a visit to fire headquarters in New York city a few days ago and their talk turned upon big fires.

"We had a big fire in our city a few years ago. The blaze wasn't entirely extinguished for nearly a week," said one of the visitors.

"A week may seem long in some cases, but we had a fire in this city that was not extinguished in two years," said Commissioner Waldo with a smile.

"It was only the other day that I ordered a fireboat up to Riker's Island in the East River to throw water on a fire that started two years ago. The fire was in the ground that had been reclaimed from the water by dumping cinders and other refuse from the city. In spite of the rains and water the underground fire has perished. The reduction of the cinders and refuse to ashes has caused the ground to sink."

NOTED NEGRO HURT

B. T. WASHINGTON ATTACKED BY MAN WHO DECLARES EDUCATOR SPOKE TO WIFE.

SAYS HE WAS "PEEPING"

Tuskegee Head Insists He Only Sought Home of Auditor of Institution—Is Given Severe Beating—Unable to Appear in Court.

New York, March 21.—Dr. Booker T. Washington was not able to appear in court because of injuries he received when he was attacked by a white man, according to the statement of his attorney, and the hearing of a charge against Albert Ulrich, the carpenter arrested on his complaint of felonious assault, was postponed. Ulrich was held in $1,500 bail.

Ulrich, a white man, maintained that he was acting within his rights when he pursued the negro educator for several blocks before a policeman appeared. Ignorant of the negro's identity, he declared that his wife had complained to him of a negro she had met in the hallway of their flat house in West Sixty-third street.

Dr. Washington, who was sent to Flower hospital, where 16 stitches were taken in his scalp, asserted that his mission to that neighborhood was perfectly legitimate and that he had been made the innocent victim of a most atrocious assault.

Washington has a hemorrhage. Attorney Smith, who represented Dr. Washington, told Magistrate Cornell that his client had 11 wounds, and that one of them had caused a severe hemorrhage of the ear. A short affidavit was then made by Policeman Tierney, who brought Ulrich in court, and on this the prisoner was held. A bond was furnished for Ulrich's appearance, and he was released.

Washington, who went to his apartments at the Hotel Manhattan after having his wounds dressed, told the police that he had received a letter from his secretary saying that D. C. Smith, the auditor of Tuskegee Institute, of which he is the head, was in New York city, and desired to see him.

Tells of Looking for Smith.

"This letter said Mr. Smith was stopping with a cousin, giving the name and address," said Mr. Washington. "On Sunday I attended church services twice, and, after speaking at a church in the evening, I recalled the letter concerning Smith and decided to look him up. I discovered that I had left the letter in other clothes at the hotel, but I thought I could recall the name as something like Moore, and the address as being West Sixty-third street. I went there and commenced to look at the name plates on the letter boxes in the halls of the different houses, seeking the name of Mr. Smith's cousin. It was while thus engaged that I was attacked."

Asserts Negro Was Peeping.

Ulrich, in an interview with his lawyers and others in court, said: "About nine o'clock my wife took one of our dogs out into the street. We live on the ground floor of the house No. 11½ West Sixty-third street. When she returned she said that she had seen a negro in the hall and that he spoke to her. Mr. and Mrs. Ravette and Mrs. Knowles, friends of ours, were in the house at the time. I went out and saw a man in the hall. The man went out of the vestibule door ahead of me when I came out. Ulrich said he saw the negro re-enter the hallway and later saw him 'bending down at my door peering through the keyhole.' Ulrich said that the negro swung a blow at his jaw when he asked him what he wanted, and that then he went after his assailant, who fell twice in his efforts to escape.

TONS OF BROOM CORN BURNED

Seven Buildings Are Destroyed by Fire at Charleston, Ill.—Loss $200,000.

Charleston, Ill., March 20.—This place narrowly missed destruction by fire when seven buildings and twelve hundred tons of broom corn were totally destroyed with an estimated loss of $200,000, covered by insurance of two-thirds of the loss.

Warship May Leave Haiti. Washington, March 21.—Conditions in Haiti have improved so that there is no longer necessity for an American warship there, according to a cablegram to the state department from American Minister Furness at Port-au-Prince.

WOLGAST STOPS MEMSIC AND RETAINS HIS TITLE

Champion Lightweight Outfights Opponent and Referee Stops Battle in the Ninth Round.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 18.—Ad. Wolgast is still the lightweight champion of the world and will remain so for the rest of his natural life, so far as the pugilistic prowess of George Memsic is concerned.

Boxing before a crowd of 8,000 people in the Vernon arena of the Pacific Athletic club, Wolgast whipped the Bohemian into such an abject state of helplessness that Referee Charles F. Eytton stopped the unequal contest early in the ninth round and awarded the decision to the champion.

Eytton's move was a most popular one. Memsic's two eyes were closed from the jabbing that he received, his mouth and nose were puffed and he was so badly weakened from the terrific bombardment of body punches that he had stood up under for 25 minutes that one more clean blow to the jaw would have dropped the beaten boy to the canvas.

Wolgast won without drawing a long breath or musing his hair. He took the very best punches that Memsic had to give, smiled at the blows, and fought back so aggressively and steadily that it became only a matter of time until he wore his man down.

DAVID H. MOFFAT EXPIRES

President of Denver, Northwestern & Pacific Railroad Dies of Grip in New York.

New York, March 20.—David H. Moffat, banker and railroad man of Denver, died here from the after effects of grip.

For many years Mr. Moffat has been recognized as a leading citizen of Colorado. His connection with the development of the state had gained for him the name of "empire builder." Perhaps his greatest recent work of development was the Denver, Northwestern & Pacific route, known as the "Moffat road," in honor of the builder. This road, to extend from Denver to Salt Lake, has been completed beyond Steamboat Springs, Col.

Mr. Moffat was rated as many times a millionaire, his wealth being estimated as high as $40,000,000. He was born in Orange county, New York, July 22, 1839.

3,500 JOIN EXPRESS STRIKE

United States and Wells-Fargo Employees Quit After Peace Proposals Are Overridden.

New York, March 18.—Thirty-five hundred employees of the United States and Wells-Fargo Express companies threw in their fortunes with the 1,500 striking drivers of the Adams Express company. This total was increased by the drivers of several smaller concerns, but the employees of the American and National companies stuck to their wagons, despite entreaties and the threat of a union official to declare a strike of "everything on wheels" in the Metropolitan district if the trouble was not adjusted.

Mayor Gaynor was astounded when he learned that his peace proposals, accepted by the men, had been overridden by the Jersey City men at a midnight conference.

MANY ARE HURT IN FIRE

Sixty People Leap From Milwaukee Factory Windows—Man Missing—Loss $100,000.

Milwaukee, March 18.—Sixty people were compelled to jump from the windows of the Minn Billiard company factory and many were injured and burned when the building caught fire following an explosion of dust or dynamite.

Eleven men were rushed to the Emergency hospital, and several were fatally injured.

It is believed that at least one man failed to escape and that the body is in the ruins of the building, which was destroyed. The loss is $100,000.

RICH MAN TRIED FOR MURDER

A. A. Truskett Faces Jury at Independence, Kan., Charged With Killing Banker.

Independence, Kan., March 21.—The trial of A. A. Truskett, aged seventy, a wealthy business man of Caney, Kan., who shot and killed J. D. S. Neeley, a banker and oil man of Lima, O., was called here. The shooting occurred in a hotel at Caney, Kan., January 7. There were no witnesses. Truskett declares he shot in self-defense. The men had previously disagreed over an oil lease.

FIRE DESTROYS BALL PARK

Grandstand and Fences at Washington Are in Ashes—Flames Threaten Other Property.

Washington, March 18.—Fire practically wiped out the grandstand and bleachers of the American league baseball park. Before the flames were checked they had destroyed the old Freedman's hospital and threatened for a time the largest lumber yard in the District of Columbia. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

Coal Mines Kill 1,125 Men. Harrisburg, Pa., March 21.—It cost the lives of 1,125 men to mine 23,699,070 tons of coal in Pennsylvania last year, according to the annual report of the chief of the state department of mines, just issued.

SUNSHINE AND GOOD HEALTH

Wherever Sun's Rays Penetrate Human Life is Quickened and Health and Happiness Promoted.

The sunlight, with its mellowing warmth and radiance, is one of the great essentials to good health. Whenever it penetrates, in prudently regulated moderation, it quickens human life, promotes health and happiness, and may be truly regarded as one of the best friends of man and beast. The common practice of providing blinds, shutters, curtains and other means for shrouding the windows and shutting out the sunshine, is undoubtedly a great mistake, and makes for physical weakness and ill health. More window light, more sunshine, and not less, is what we require. Let all your apartments, kitchen, sitting rooms, parlors and bedrooms, too, be flooded with sunlight as much as possible.

Famous Eccentric Toasts. Pitt, at Kidderminster, gave a toast in compliment to the carpet manufacturers.

"May the trade of Kidderminster," said Pitt, "be trampled under foot by all the world!"

A more audacious toast, freighted with double meaning, has been variously attributed to Smeaton, Erskine and to some others. Their after-dinner trade sentiment was delivered in this form:

"Dam the canals, sink the coal pits; blast the minerals, consume the manufactures, disperse the commerce of Great Britain and Ireland!"—Cornhill Magazine.

Bold Scribe. "Ho, hum!" ejaculated honest Farmer Hornbeak, who had encountered in the village newspaper an example of the perversity which the linotype sometimes displays. "The editor of the Plaindealer ain't afraid to speak his mind. He comes right out and says: 'In our opinion the Hon. Thomas Rott has lydaonkzounsootttptpn mnwaw trahahaha hawzww zena-kibby.' And, by jolly! he says it as if he means it, too!"—Puck.

No Doctor for Forty Years. Forty years' residence in the country near Etna with never a doctor summoned on a professional visit at his home is record of E. R. Hamilton, who has nevertheless raised a large family.
