NEWBURG.

Mesdames Mackender, LeVan and Ryder attended the Wayne Co. Sunday-school convention in Detroit Thursday and Friday of last week and were entertained by Mrs. James Norris, Mrs. LeVan and daughter Margaret. They also enjoyed the banquet Friday evening held in the dining hall of Elliott's new store. They report a fine time.

Mrs. James King has been quite ill for the past week, but is somewhat better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. James LeVan returned Saturday from their southern trip much improved in health. On their return they spent a day in Jacksonville and also one in St. Augustine, seeing the sights. They arrived in Detroit Saturday morning in the midst of a snow-storm. Quite a change from what they had been accustomed to.

Leona Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Joy, is quite ill with scarlet fever. The triplets are also sick.

The school house being so close to the residence of Mr. J. J. the teacher, Miss Baker, thought best to hold school in the hall for the present.

There will be a party at the residence of Mr. Bruske on the evening of May 6. Every one invited to attend.

Mrs. Lewis Lang is spending a few days with Mrs. M. Stark Kent at Northville.

Chas. Wegener of Howell, Mich., spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Wegener.

Constipation brings many ailments in its train and is the primary cause of much sickness. Keep your bowels regular, madam, and you will escape many of the ailments to which women are subject. Constipation is a very simple thing, but like many simple things, it may lead to serious consequences. Nature often needs a little assistance and when Chamberlain's Tablets are given at the first indication, much distress and suffering may be avoided. Sold by all dealers.

ELM.

Ira Wilson has purchased the Sochov farm of 40 acres. Consideration $1500.

Farmers in this vicinity are busy putting in their oats at present.

E. S. Roe, Will Brown and Jesse McLeod of Plymouth and Hiram Roe of Flint called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hirschlieb last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cort visited relatives in Detroit Sunday.

Asa Shaw was in Detroit on business Monday.

Chas. Krumm, Sr., visited friends in Plymouth last Sunday.

Mrs. Liverance, Sr., is seriously ill at this writing with cancer of the stomach.

Will Cort contemplates building an addition to his barn.

Fred Knochs lost a valuable horse recently.

Pearl Wilson and Louis Hawkins have leased the Ira Wilson farm.

Lame shoulder is nearly always due to rheumatism of the muscles, and quickly yields to the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by all dealers.

WEST PLYMOUTH.

The Grange meets in I. O. O. F. hall for an all day session the first Thursday in May. The roll call is to be responded to by a discussion on money, its origin, value, its economic use, or relation to mankind's happiness or unhappiness. The team will initiate in the third and fourth degrees at 10 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lucas visited Mr. L.'s cousin at Dearborn Sunday.

Spencer Heeney attended the Dollar Princess Wednesday night in Detroit.

The telephone has found a new use, that of delivering anonymous "knocks."

An anonymous letter seems contemptible enough, but when the telephone is employed it is the last extreme of cowardly smallness.

Mrs. C. F. Smith, Mrs. Daniel Murray and Miss Helen Smith were Detroit visitors Saturday.

People who sowed oats March 26th last year sowed April 26th this year. It is to be hoped, however, that 1911's May will present much warmer and pleasanter weather than did 1910's.

An Imitation

Is never as good as the article it imitates. An so it is with Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil. Hundreds of imitations have been offered to the public in place of the genuine but none of them have quite answered the purpose. Renne's does the work expected of it, both internally for cramp colic and cholera morbus, and externally for rheumatism, sprains and for sore muscles. The public know it well and use it regularly. Price 25 cts. Sold by Pinckney's Pharmacy and Beyer's Pharmacy.

STARK.

Last Monday afternoon sparks from a locomotive of the east bound passenger train set fire to a house in Stark and for a time it was thought the whole town would go. The fire demon licked up C. Minning's house and the depot in no time, and but for the help of the railroad men and neighbors who were summoned by the Home telephone company, the town might have been destroyed, as nearly every house in Stark took fire from the blowing sparks.

Mr. Merrett has rented his farm, formerly known as the Charley Johnson farm, to a Detroit party.

Mrs. Gould is in Detroit helping care for her sister's children, who are very sick.

The word Joy sounds good to every one but not in this case, for Jimmie's folks have the mumps and Mark's folks scarlet fever.

Mrs. Harmon Kingsley was in Detroit Monday.

Agent Woods looks very cozy in his new "depot," a passenger coach being pressed into service.

Company at C. E. Maynard's Sunday was Joe Maynard and family of Plymouth, Lulu Huber, Mildred Johnson and John Krumm, Jr., and family.

Floyd Bassett and family are comfortably settled in their new home, known as the Fisk farm.

A piece of charred shingle about three inches square was found near the Plymouth road, blown there from the Stark fire.

LIVONIA CENTER.

Mrs. F. Peck and Mrs. Wm. Cort were in the city Thursday.

Mrs. John Mau visited her mother in Redford Sunday.

Farm help was never so scarce as at present.

Mrs. Palmer Chilson was in the city a couple of days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Peck and little son visited the former's grandmother here Sunday.

Quite a few from around here went to Stark Monday night to view the remains of the old depot and other landmarks that were wiped out by the fire that day.

Will Pankov visited at H. C. Peck's in Canton Sunday.

Miss Nympha Peters has gone to Ypsilanti for a few week's visit with friends.

In cases of rheumatism relief from pain makes sleep and rest possible. This may be obtained by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by all dealers.

FRAGMENTS.

The canal zone is to have its first electric railroad.

New York has a school devoted exclusively to the study of motor boats.

The total traffic on Canadian canals in 1910 amounted to over 42,500,000 tons.

A Russian electrician has invented an insulating material made from milk.

More than 77 per cent of the total production of German alcohol is obtained from potatoes.

A simple tool that twists two or more wires together as it is drawn along them is a Texan invention.

Said to be the largest tree trunk in the world is that of a tulle tree at Hita, Mexico, which measures 145 in girth.

Rice, it is now said, can be grown more profitable in Manchuria than in China or Japan, notwithstanding the short season.

A steel wire rope a mile and a half long and three inches in diameter was a record breaker recently made in a New Jersey factory.

The total mileage of the Belgian government railways on January 1, 1910, was 1,268 miles of double track and 1,410 miles of single track.

British shoe dealers admit that the British people are under a debt of gratitude to America for teaching them how to make shoes that fit.

Territorial public improvements in 1910 in Hawaii were chiefly in wharves and water works. A $300,000 reservoir of 700,000,000 gallons capacity was completed for the Honolulu water works.

The Right of Way

Has to be given Harvell's Condition Powder, which for over seventy years has been the standard of excellence. Why? Because the ingredients are so well balanced that every particle of the powder performs its proper share in the work of restoring healthy conditions in your stock. Put it in the feed and note how they will improve in flesh and spirits under its influence. Price 25 cts. per package. Sold by Pinckney's Pharmacy and Beyer's Pharmacy.

HARD WATER

The fact is well known that the city water is very hard. This in no way indicates that it is not good drinking water, but it is not a recommendation for washing and toilet purposes. If you have had any trouble with your soap not lathering, try

Jergen's Cocoa Oil Buttermilk Soap

This costs but 5c a bar and is the equal of any toilet soap made. Get it at Commercial Hotel Afire.

As Al. Smith, proprietor of the pool room diagonally across from the Commercial Hotel, was closing up his place Tuesday night about 10:30 o'clock, he noticed a fire blazing briskly on the roof of the hotel. Landlord Heminway was immediately notified and an alarm of fire was turned in. The flames, however, spread rapidly, fanned by the wind, and before the fire department was ready for work, the whole roof was ablaze. The boys worked valiantly, however, when they did get to work, and the fire was confined to the roof and upper floor. Much damage was done to contents by water.

Just how the fire originated seems to be not quite clear, but it is presumed sparks from a passing locomotive lodged among the dry shingle and that the fire caught in this manner.

The boys of the Aetna hose company had succeeded in dragging the apparatus about a fourth of the distance to the fire when they were overtaken by Fred Schrader in his automobile. Mr. Schrader allowed them to "hook on" and the machine made record time the balance of the distance. The time saved was considerable and was worth many dollars, as the boys were able to get to work just that much sooner.

Farmers and Reciprocity.

Saturday Evening Post:—Last year's elections certainly raised a strong presumption that farmers of the Middle West were highly dissatisfied with the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. We do not know how else to interpret the rout of Standpat Republican candidates in the Mississippi Valley. But a number of organizations claiming to represent these same farmers are fighting Canadian reciprocity, which is the first tangible step yet taken in the direction of real tariff reform.

This relation, they say, would force our farmer to meet the competition of Canadian products duty free, though nearly everything he buys would still be charged with the high tariff tax. The only advantage under the agreement would go to the protected manufacturer.

If this were the whole case perhaps there would be much to say for the reciprocity agreement. But it is only the beginning of the case. This agreement definitely breaks the vicious circle by which the high protective system has so long maintained—vastly to the harm of the farmer. If farmers of the Middle West can be persuaded that their prosperity depends upon protection against Canadian grain, there will be little trouble in persuading them that they must vote continued protection to steel, wool, and so on, because the only way they can get protection is by joining hands with other people who want protection—and the only way the other people can get protection is by joining hands with the farmers. This hand-jointing has been going on for fifty years. The other people have got the chestnuts; the farmer has got the cinders. Lethim step out of the vicious circle, and the whole forty-per-cent system falls to the ground. Canadian reciprocity will take him out of the circle.

Mrs. Adelaide Carpenter, mother of Mrs. E. D. Wood, died at the home of latter Tuesday night, at the age of 73 years. She was born in Medina, N. Y., and with her husband came to Saginaw in 1865. For the past 17 years she had made her home with her only daughter, about 13 of which were spent in Plymouth. The funeral will take place this afternoon at two o'clock from the house on Ann Arbor street, Rev. E. King conducting services.

The fire which destroyed the railroad station at Stark last Monday afternoon, also melted down some forty telephone wires for the Bell company, and all communication from Detroit north was interrupted. A gang of eight men was sent out from here Monday evening and by working until three o'clock Tuesday morning, temporary connections had again been established.

Supt. Isbell is more or less occupied now in securing teachers for next year, and is having some trouble in securing the right material for the salary he is allowed to offer. The question of teachers' salary is a mooted one, and more money will have to be paid next year than heretofore to either secure new teachers and possibly to retain some of the present corps. The superintendent states some five or six of the present teachers will not be here next year for various reasons.

A GREAT ENTERPRISE COMING TO PLYMOUTH

The Beyer Pharmacy Makes an Important Connection with the Largest Co-Operative Corporation in America, Backed by Men Doing an Annual Business Amounting to $75,000,000.

PEOPLE OF PLYMOUTH BENEFIT'D

The proprietor of The Beyer Pharmacy of this village, has with characteristic enterprise, demonstrated his ability to keep well abreast of the times by connecting himself with the largest druggists' co-operation in America. The men connected with this enterprise do a yearly business aggregating over $75,000,000, which well emphasizes its soundness and magnitude.

About three thousand retail druggists throughout the United States have organized themselves as a co-operative company for the purpose of producing a line of medical preparations which they recommend, absolutely guaranteed and back up with their own names and personal reputations. The formulas of these remedies are thoroughly known to every one of these druggists and the ingredients of each will be truthfully described to the public and the remedies sold with the distinct understanding that their purchase price will be instantly refunded without question or quibble if they fail to benefit the user.

One thousand different formulas were turned over to the company. Each formula being selected because of its tested and proved value and established reputation, gained through continued and successful use by prominent physicians.

A research committee of expert chemists and physicians made a most thorough and exhaustive test of each one of these one thousand prescriptions until they had selected about three hundred as being the very best and most dependable known to medical science, each for the treatment and cure of a particular ailment.

These three hundred remedies are now manufactured by the company, which is known as the United Drug Co., Boston, Mass., in the largest, most modern and best equipped pharmaceutical laboratories in America.

The tremendous output of this company enables it to purchase drugs, herbs and other necessary material in very large quantities. The co-operation and professional advice of 3000 leading druggists guarantees the high quality of everything used and guarantees that only formulas of extraordinary merit are used in the manufacturing of their products.

The preparations of the company are shipped direct to the retail druggists who are connected with the enterprise. Thus their absolute freshness is assured, it is impossible for their quality to deteriorate, there are no middlemen's or jobbers' profits to be added to their cost, and the public can obtain these products at actual cost of manufacture, plus a single retail profit.

One noticeable feature of this business, and a very commendable one, is that no one remedy manufactured by this company is a "cure-all." Each one of the 300 different remedies is a known and dependable specific for a particular ailment. The confidence of the druggists interested in this enterprise is unquestionably demonstrated by this guarantee, which is printed on every package: "The United Drug Co., and the Rexall Store selling this preparation guarantee it to give satisfaction. If it does not, go back to the store where you bought it and get your money—it belongs to you, and we want you to have it."

This is certainly an innovation that must appeal to the people of Plymouth. It insures safety and satisfaction because our own local druggist, who is so well known and highly respected for his integrity, is connected with this enterprise and is staking his own personal reputation on the quality of these remedies, and the very frankness with which he takes the people of Plymouth into his confidence insures an unprecedented success for these remedies, which are sold under the trade name Rexall, which means King-of-All. From reports coming from thousands of towns and cities, the Rexall Remedies are certainly demonstrating their full title to the name.

Those who have previously refused to buy proprietary medicines because there was no way of ascertaining their ingredients, can now purchase Rexall Remedies, the formula of which they can have for the asking. Besides, they are sold by a concern personally known to you and located right here in our own city, who guarantees that they are in every way as represented or they will cost nothing.

Rexall Orderlies are one of these three hundred remedies. They are for the treatment of constipation in every form, except it be of a surgical nature. They are eaten like candy and do not cause griping, excessive looseness or other annoyances whatever. They come in two sizes, ten and twenty-five cents.

The proprietor of the Beyer Pharmacy is so well and favorably known for his sterling honesty and square dealing that we predict a great success for him with the Rexall Remedies, and he is to be heartily congratulated in bringing this great and modern business enterprise to Plymouth.

We urge all who may be in need of prepared medicines to call at the Beyer Pharmacy and learn about the Rexall Remedies. Enterprise of this sort should be encouraged.

Wash the Blood

Aching and enfeebled muscles should remind you of slowness of tissue repair. Eruptions of the skin and catarrh of the mucous membranes show diminished nerve power in the tissues.

In health or disease there is need of an internal bath. This is best obtained by drinking a glass of pure water with one or two teaspoonfuls of San-Jak 30 to 60 minutes before breakfast, washing the blood. This passes quickly from the stomach and stimulates the bowels to increased peristalsis, overcoming constipation and its attendant ills. It is quickly absorbed and entering the blood stream, bathes the cells of the liver and heart, then passes to the brain and washes out the cobwebs and awakes to new life every cell in the body.

MAN

does not wear out like a piece of machinery by constant disintegration for he is self renewing. When he loses his ability in self renewal or failed in the process of making young blood, the nerve tissues is not sufficiently nourished and his strength and health fails.

SAN-JAK,

is the only medicine which will enable you to keep a perfect balance between the elimination and renewal of the body. Decay of the body at any time of life is unnatural. Permanent waste of the system can be avoided by the use of

SAN-JAK

It is the only vegetable preparation in the world that sets free formaldehyde during the elimination by way of the kidneys.

Preventing and Curing Catarrh, Tuberculosis of Nose, Throat and Lungs or Bright's

Disease, by neutralizing poison in the tissue, disinfecting the urinal tract, strengthens the liquids of the bladder and prevents decomposition of the urine. It is therefore the most scientific formula for the treatment of male or female.

Rheumatism

the source of trouble to humanity is due to a too high or low specific gravity, which may be regulated to normal by taking

SAN-JAK

No other medicine in the world raises the specific gravity if too low, and prevents the dissolution of salts from the tissue and prevents swelling of the limbs and other parts of the body. You may have the ability to manufacture the normal quantity of uric acid and alkaloids, but if the specific gravity is too high, due to weakened condition of the kidneys, the normal quantity is not eliminated and carried back by the circulation of the blood, absorbed in the tissue causing soreness and lameness or rheumatism symptoms.

Have you Kidney Liver, Stomach or Bladder Trouble

Are you a Rheumatic with Backache and Swollen Limbs?

Take Dr. Burnham's

SAN-JAK

If you have the years of youth and disease of old age, no remedy equal to San-Jak. The tired feeling leaves you like magic.

Sold in Plymouth by JOHN L. GALE, who is reliable and will return the price of one bottle ($1.00) if San-Jak fails to do good. Made by San-Jak Co., Chicago, Ill.

DAMAGES $50,000

There was no question about John Denison, the banker in the suburban village of Clyde, being a good husband and a fond father. When his nineteen-year-old daughter, Clara, first got the idea into her head she figured that she would only have to ask papa and the thing was as good as done. When the asking took place she met with a surprise party.

"Buy you a runabout?" he answered. "Certainly not! You cannot be trusted with such a thing. In a month I should have three or four suits for damages, and the house would be turned into a hospital to boot."

"You know grandpa put $500 in your bank for me. That will buy the runabout and pay for any damages I may do. If I run over anybody it won't hurt them more than $50 worth. Do give your consent! Think of three other girls riding about in their own machines and sticking up their noses at me!"

"But you must settle all damage suits," he said at last.

The runabout was purchased and arrived. Perry Markham also arrived. He had an aunt in the village, and he arrived to see her. It was said of him that he was well-to-do financially, about twenty-five years old, reasonably good-looking, and that he had some great trouble on his mind. When he walked abroad he held his head down. That is always a sign in a young man that he has trouble gnawing at his heart. In an old man it simply signifies that he is looking to find a quarter in the road.

Miss Clara Denison had been running that runabout exactly a week, when she turned a bend in the village street one afternoon at a gait of twenty-five miles an hour. Her instructor had cautioned her that it was easier to dodge things at that gait than it was standing still. As the machine turned from one direction Mr. Markham turned from the other. Miss Clara was looking at a hat in a shop window, and Mr. Markham's eyes were on the ground at his feet. Some one yelled. Then some one screamed. Then there was a bump, and some one went into the ditch and there were more things for the downcast Mr. Markham to think about.

The victim of the head-on collision was conveyed to the house of his aunt, and a doctor attended his contusions. At the bank, Mr. Denison heard that there would a $5,000 suit for damages.

In eight days Mr. Markham limped out. He was crossing the street to get to the next office, and his eyes were on the gravel, when that runabout turned in from another street. None of the spectators of what occurred computed the gait at more than twenty-three miles an hour. Some said it was only 22 1/2. Whatever it was in miles, rods, feet and inches however, it was enough for Mr. Markham. He went down under the impact and was borne away by the sympathizing public.

When he finally emerged it was to visit the drug store for more arnica. As he was on the sidewalk, he probably felt that he had a legal right to look down. As Clara Denison was in the middle of the street with her runabout she probably felt that she had a legal right to hit up the speed a little to pass a carriage. But Fate was there. The machine took the bits in its mouth and ran up on the walk, and Mr. Markham was sent to his aunt's on a stretcher for the third time. A third suit for damages!

"What are you going to do about these suits?" asked the father when he heard of the latest. "You remember I told you that it would be at your own risk. Nice mess you have got into!"

There was no reply, and the girl didn't seem to be worried. She continued to use the machine, but Mr. Markham had had his innings and was run down no more. So far as the banker knew, the young man had left the town. As to the suits, he wondered why they were not called, but refused to be worried. When the time came of course he would back his daughter.

Weeks passed, and then one day he was rather startled by the announcement:

"Papa, I have been financing again in the interests of your bank. I saw I could never pay the amount of Mr. Markham's three suits, and so—"

"So what?" "He has called here quite a number of times, and I guess he wants to speak to you this evening. I guess he does."

"I shant pay him a cent to settle the cases," was the reply. "Oh, it isn't that. That's no financing. It's about my running over him and making him fall in love with me!"

The Quiet of the Home. "What I want," the young man said, "is to get married and have a peaceful, quiet home."

"Well," said the widower of a couple, "sometimes it works that way, and then again sometimes it's like joinin' a debatin' society."

Hard Luck. "He was praising her hair today. I was so angry."

"I wish I could get all this kind of good luck."

MISTAKE OF BRIDES

ARE APT TO BECOME DISAGREEABLE AFTER MARRIAGE.

Change of Temper May Be the Result of Many Causes, but Always It is Greatly to Be Deplored.

"Why is it that girls who are considered sweet-tempered and agreeable before marriage often develop into arbitrary and self-assertive brides?" This question was asked by a mother-in-law, and is worthy of comment.

It may be urged that this girl before marriage set a watch upon her lips and tried to be agreeable. The unmarried girl has so much more to gain by pleasant personal qualities than a married woman has, for unless girls make themselves pleasant and obliging they are apt to be left out when parties are being arranged and to be abandoned to their solitary fate by those who would be their allies.

Since girls are not expected to return as much hospitality as they receive, they must of necessity depend upon their personal qualities for invitations. On the other hand, a married woman who gives parties gets asked in return, whether she is agreeable or not.

Again, the bride is apt to foster an exaggerated idea of her own importance as the chatelaine of her house. Before marriage she had to get her mother's consent to most of her proceedings—the invitations she accepted and the friends she asked to the house.

The sudden freedom from restraint and the indulgence of a husband are apt to spoil her character and make her disagreeable to her relatives, especially to those on his side of the house, and immensely patronizing to her old friends, particularly those who have remained unmarried.

Another reason why some girls' tempers are spoiled by marriage lies in the trials and annoyances to which a girl with a number of relations is subjected. It is hard to please critical persons, and relatives seem particularly addicted to criticism of a bride's demeanor, her housekeeping and her domestic arrangements.

But in spite of undoubted provocation to ill temper the wise girl should first think of the effect it will have on her husband, before she allows herself to become disagreeable, instead of the tactful, charming girl he courted.

Ideals and illusions are fragile things and need care. A girl should keep her husband under their spell.—Exchange.

How to Cure GAPES

Kill the gape worm which racks the life blood from the throats of little chicks and tends to kill them by using Conkey's Lice Powder. Kill the worms. Kill the gape. Healthy, in powdered form, is mixed with soft feed. You do not need to handle the birds.

CONKEY'S GAPE CURE works where turps, smoke, creosote and horse hair fail. It reaches the worms through the fowl's blood—the only way. Use it if your fowls show any symptoms of gapes. Prevents as well as cures. A life-saver. This means dollars to you.
