

VOLUME XXV., No. 14

PLYMOUTH, MICH., FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1913

WHOLE No. 1316

THE ADVANTAGE OF TAKING Rexall Family Remedies

Are in their absolute purity, and as there are many inferior imitations, be sure to get the genuine with the REXALL trade mark. These goods are all guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money back.

Reall Cold Tablets for Grippe and Colds

Don't wait until your bones begin to ache, take them at the first feeling of pain and soreness of the head, back and chest.

Elkay's Syrup of Tar Compound

A fine Cough Syrup for Coughs, Bronchitis and Hoarseness. TRY A BOTTLE AT OUR RISK.

BEYER PHARMACY

THE REXALL
STORE

Phone 211-2r.

Rexall Store

Would John D. Rockefeller have been the richest man in the world if he had spent the first money he earned?
HE PUT IT IN THE BANK

When John D. Rockefeller went into the oil fields, he went with Two Thousand Dollars that he had saved and with which he was ready to take a good business chance. HAD HE NOT HAD HIS MONEY IN THE BANK, he would not have been able to take the business chance that led to his stupendous fortune. John D. Rockefeller was no different from other fabulously rich men. Their fortunes were the logical result of their FIRST savings.

Do YOUR banking with U.S.

We pay three per cent interest.

The Plymouth United Savings Bank

OUR WEEKLY LIMERICK

There once was a lady, named Mrs. Thayer,
Who liked for her kitchen, Aluminum Ware.

So she came
our Store

Where we have it galore

And her kitchen now shines with a dazzling glare.

IT IS ONLY NATURAL

That the Good Housewife should be proud of her Kitchen and Utensils

WHEN OF ALUMINUM

There is just cause for Pride, and for Satisfaction at the Wear and Service such Ware will give.

COME IN AND LEARN OUR PRICES.

CONNER HARDWARE CO., Ltd.

Woman's Says
It's Safe for Children

CONTAINS
NO
OPiates

BOLEY'S
HONEY TAR
For Coughs and Colds

JAMES H. BOLEY, M.D., says, "My children and I had had cold and Boley's Honey Tar promptly cured us."
Prepared by J. W. BLICKENSTAFF & CO.

THE ANNUAL "SCOOP"

Milinery Openings

The local milinery stores announce their Easter opening for Thursday and Friday, March 20-21. And in anticipation of this most interesting event many of the season's choicest creations are being prepared and will be on display at that time. The Plymouth stores will have a fine showing of the latest and best ideas from the milinery world. First, it might be stated, and you can tell it to the "men folks," the spring hats, as a rule, are decidedly smaller than for several seasons, and the new shapes are bound to be most becoming. And as to the trimmings—their name is legion, and they embrace many new materials, colors and shades. There are many new designs in shapes also, such as the Rajah turban, the Cosneck turban, the bonnet toque, and others that are simply indescribable, but it is safe to say that in regard to the trimming, if "my lady" has a "stick up" of some design on her spring hat she'll surely be in fashion, so there is no need for any lady in Plymouth to go without a new hat of some description at Easter time, for the offerings are many and varied, and you're sure to be pleased with what you will find in the Plymouth milinery stores.

Village Election

Although there was only one ticket in the field a much larger vote than had been anticipated was polled at the annual village election held Monday. There was no contest except for the office of treasurer. There was a total of 325 votes cast, two hundred of this number were straight tickets. The proposition for the purchase of an auto fire truck lost out by a vote of 177 to 134. The following is the vote given each candidate:

President—Louis Hillmer, 287
Clerk—Anson Heam, 288
Treasurer—Robert Todd, 217
Frank Beals, 77
Assessor—Wm. Rattenbury, 290
Trustees—Henry Sage, 283; Chas. Mather, 285 and George Lee, 283.

Death of a Canton Township Lady

Mrs. C. B. Truesdell Passed Away Last Sunday.

Harriet E. Smook was born near Rochester, N. Y., July 21, 1843. She was an only daughter of Charles and Elizabeth Smook. She came to Michigan at the age of four years with her parents and two brothers, Charles and George. They settled at French Landing, which place she called her home until her marriage to Cornelius B. Truesdell, May 21, 1866. They began housekeeping on the same place on which her last days were passed, her death occurring Sunday, March 9th, 1913. She is survived by her husband, Cornelius B. Truesdell and one daughter, Mrs. Carrie-Carleton of Detroit, and three sons, Burt of Petoskey, Roy of Kalamazoo and Frank of Canton. One son, passed away on March 29th, 1898, at the age of seventeen years. A large circle of friends feels the loss of a true friend and kind neighbor. The husband has been a patient sufferer for many years. Her last days were cheered by the presence of all her immediate family.

The funeral services were held at the Sheldon M. E. church, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Zetler officiating. Interment in Sheldon cemetery.

Must Stand Trial for Shooting Stepfather

Otto Pritskow, of Salem, charged with shooting his stepfather, Theodore Asch, recently, was bound over to circuit court Monday afternoon, with bonds of $1,000, which he furnished. Asch was arrested last fall on a charge of incest preferred by his 14 year-old stepdaughter, and he will be tried on this charge at the present term of court. Following the exposure his wife separated from him, and some days ago, while out on bond he visited the Asch home in Salem township. Pritskow is alleged to have prevented him from entering by shooting him twice through the hand.

Nelson Schrader, formerly of this village was elected President of the village of Northville at the village election Monday. "Nels" many friends have extended congratulations.

Matron's Contest

A Matron's contest under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society, of the M. E. church will be given at the opera house, Tuesday evening, March 18. The program which promises to be a very entertaining one is as follows:

1. Our Minister's Sermon
 2. The Confessional
 3. A powerful Sermon
 - Solo—Love, I have Won You, Miss Hazel Conner
 4. Mine Children
 5. So was I
 6. Naughty Jell
 - Solo—Top O' the Marnin', Cal. Whipple
 7. The Switchman's Ordeal
 8. Goin' Somewhere
 9. She would be a Mason
 - Solo—Happy Days, Mrs. R. E. Cooper
 10. Kate Shelley
 11. Busy
 12. How John Quit the Farm
 - Musical—Meldrum's Orchestra
- The following ladies are the contestants: Mrs. J. J. Travis, Mrs. A. White, Mrs. W. Bartlett, Mrs. I. Gussally, Mrs. Paul Bennett, Mrs. E. D. Smith, Mrs. R. Mimmick, Mrs. Earle Howell, Mrs. D. Murray, Mrs. C. Whipple, Mrs. F. J. Tousey and Mrs. R. Spicer.

Miss Czarina Penney will preside at the piano as accompanist. The curtain rises at 8 o'clock. General admission 25c.

Mrs. Joseph Webber Passes Away

Mrs. Joseph Webber passed away at her home northwest of the village last Sunday evening at the age of 88 years. Mrs. Webber has been in poor health for several years, having suffered a stroke of paralysis about two years ago which was followed by a second one and was indirectly the cause of her death. She was a lady highly esteemed by all who knew her.

Frances Bahen was born in Greenfield township, Wayne county, Michigan, August 4, 1845, and has lived practically all her life in this county. She was married to Joseph Webber February 13, 1873, and to this union six children were born, two dying in infancy. Two sons, Joseph, Jr. and Wm. C. Webber and two daughters, Mrs. W. K. McGorey and Mrs. Matthew McLean of Detroit, with the husband survive her. She also leaves a brother and sister in Denver, Colo.

The funeral services were held from her late home Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, Rev. Fr. Dowdle of Milford, officiating. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The interment took place at Riverside cemetery.

Local Notes

Mrs. Chas. Rupert is visiting relatives in Toledo.

Herman Wolgast is visiting relatives in Detroit.

Thos. Smith has rented his house to Edward Bird and family.

Call and see the beautiful new designs in wall paper at Ella King's.

Mrs. Hayes of Saginaw, was calling on friends here last Tuesday.

Mrs. Wm. Smitherman entertained the L. L. C. Club last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Ben Chamberlain of Benton Harbor, called on old friends here this week.

Miss Jennie Sayres has accepted a position with the J. L. Hudson Co., Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornell of Highland, visited Mr. and Mrs. Holcomb the first of the week.

Several from here attended a Cantata given in the Presbyterian church at Northville last Wednesday evening.

Stifford Wood, who has been staying with his grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gents, for the past three weeks, has returned to his home in Detroit.

An Eclipse

For quick and certain action RENNIE'S PAIN-KILLING MAGIC OIL eclipses any and all remedies ever offered to the public. It drives away pain. Just the thing for cramps, colic or diarrhoea. Cures rheumatism, sprains, stiff joints, sores and bruises.

A long record of more than seventy years in constant use in the New England States is the best proof we can offer of its marvellous power in the relief of internal or external pain. Price 50c per oz. Sold by J. W. Blickenstaff & Co. and Hayes Pharmacy.—Adv.

Another Big One Day Sale

Saturday, March 15th, Only

We will offer for sale our 60c. pound boxes of high grade and delicious Chocolates at 29c. a box. This candy is guaranteed strictly fresh. If you wish to make your sweetheart or wife happy, just take her a box.

We will also offer at the same time all of our Gum for 3c. a package.

Remember the prices are for Saturday only.

Pinckney's Pharmacy

THE VAL DONA STORE

Always Open

The daily bread problem demands your earnest attention. It bears a vital relation to the high cost of living.

Aristos Flour gives you the most for your money. It makes home baking well worth your while.

Milled from wholesome, sound, hard, Red Turkey wheat—no blending of misgraded, imperfect or poor wheat, just the high class, best grade, hard wheat.

There's more and better bread in every sack of Aristos Flour.

For cake, biscuits and pastry—all home-baking—Aristos is the perfect flour.

See for yourself. Order a sack from your grocer today. Know what about this valuable flour.

Send a postal for the Aristos cook book, mailed FREE. Many practical and unusually excellent recipes. Address The Southwestern Milling Co., Kansas City, Mo.

ARISTOS FLOUR

This Trade-Mark

on Every Sack

Be Your Own Judge

when buying. It isn't always the price that counts most, but the

..QUALITY..

give the New Drug Firm a trial. Prescriptions Carefully Compounded.

J. W. Blickenstaff & Co.

THE HOME OF PURE DRUGS.

Phone 234.

Open Every Night.

Harness

Harness

Are you interested in a harness with a world wide reputation? Every harness owner should be, and we believe you are. We carry the well known STUDEBAKER HARNESSSES that has the name Studobaker stamped on the trace of every harness, which is a guarantee of good material and workmanship of itself. However, we do not stop here, we absolutely guarantee every harness to be just what we claim them to be or we will make them good, and when it comes to price you cannot do better elsewhere and our stock is extensive and consists of Medium, Light and Heavy, Single and Double Harnesses. Now don't fail to give us a call before you buy that harness and look our stock over it will interest you and you will be well paid for your time, besides having a fine assortment to choose from.

E. H. Langworthy
The Implement Dealer and Auctioneer, WAYNE BLDG.
Home phone 243-1L, 28, Plymouth Exchange.

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Boston, Feb.—"Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound and being for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls."—Mrs. H. B. Carr, Beatrice, Neb.

The Other Case.
Cary, Mass.—"I feel it a duty to own to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and with a nervous I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not rest, then I would be so tired morning that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but my husband thought I had better write to you and I did so, stating my symptoms. I received taking Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pain, sleep, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Mass.

The Wretchedness of Constipation

Can easily be overcome by CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
Stimulate act surely and safely on the Liver, Cure
Biliousness,
Headache,
Dizziness,
and Indigestion. They do their duty
SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE.
Contains must bear Signature

Resinol

RESINOL STOPS ITCHING INSTANTLY

It is a positive fact that the moment Resinol Ointment touches any itching skin, the itching stops and healing begins. With the aid of Resinol Soap, it quickly cleans away all traces of eczema, ringworm, pimples, blackheads, or other irritating, unsightly eruptions, leaving the skin clear and healthy.
And the best of it is you need never hesitate to use Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. There is nothing in them to injure the tenderest surface. Resinol is a doctor's prescription which for eighteen years has been used by careful physicians for all kinds of skin affections. They prescribe Resinol freely, confident that its soothing, healing action is brought about by medication so bland and gentle as to be suited to the most delicate or irritated skin—even of a tiny baby.
Resinol is sold by every druggist in the United States, or sent by parcel post on receipt of price, Resinol Ointment, 50c and Resinol Soap, 25c. You can prove at our expense what Resinol will do for you. Write today to Dept. 3-K, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., and we will send you a liberal trial.

CANADA'S OFFERING TO THE SETTLER

THE AMERICAN RUSH TO WESTERN CANADA IS INCREASING
New Homesteads in the new Dominion of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan are being offered to the settlers of the United States. These lands are well adapted to grain raising and stock raising.
SPECIAL HOMEWAY FACILITIES
The new settlers will be given the same facilities as the American settlers. The Canadian Government will give them the same advantages as the American settlers. The Canadian Government will give them the same advantages as the American settlers.
In V. McInnes,
Canadian Agent, Detroit, Mich.
For full particulars, apply to the Canadian Government, Ottawa, Canada.

Readers of this paper desiring to know what they ask for,

should write to the publisher.

Lost Mines of the Great Southwest

By Joe Minster
from data by H. J. West
© by Ridgway Co.

A CROWD stood gazing into the wide window of a Spring street store in the metropolitan city of Los Angeles. It was an awed crowd that continued of large proportion throughout the day. Tolders from the factories intermingled with men from the offices, while society women, stepping from their limousine cars, edged through the ranks of the working girls who were also numerous in that always-changing crowd.

The lure of gold drew them there, rich and poor alike. It was the actual metal, the real yellow wealth in its various forms, quartz that exuded it from every pore, the nugget worn smooth on the rock bed of a stream, and the dust. It was dramatically displayed, not from a mirrored surface as though in a jeweler's cabinet, or from out of the folds of rich velvet, but in its native element, lying amid rocks and sand.

It was depicted as a desert scene, world in every detail, created by the hand of a master in topographical work and staged just within the heavy plate glass. The sands were molded into dunes and mounds across a long, flat plain and led into a mountain range which formed the background. And on this miniature desert waste were strewn equally miniature marks of the luckless adventurer who had treaded the waste in search of wealth. His bones, with those of the pack mules, lay bleached head on the rusting tires of a wagon wheel, telling a gruesome tale of lost hope and lost life.

And back among the mountain canyons were mankind men who toiled in the building of roads, at cutting away ledges of pure gold, at sinking shafts and erecting smelters. It was all real, so real that men and women seemed semi-hypnotized and many of them succumbed to the honeyed words of the glib talker who invited them within the doors of the place for further examination of the newly discovered bonanza.

He was attired in the staid vestment of a typical prospector, wearing high leather boots, corduroy pants buckled within their tops and topped with a wide sombrero. His chief duty lay in the distribution of highly illuminative literature on the redoubtability of one of the world's greatest mines, the famous Papapano de Guernare of southern Arizona near the border of Mexico, and extending the invitation to the fates that were caught in the web of curiosity to come into the parlor of the spider who peddled mining stock.

All that was necessary to bring this immense wealth to the mint at San Francisco was a railroad to the mines. Money for this was essential, and because the mine was so wealthy, and because of a desire to give many, instead of a few capitalists, the opportunity of adding still greater hundreds of dollars to their already large banks, the general public was given this opportunity to subscribe for a few shares.

So perfect was the staging of this financial bubble, so harmoniously conducted were all the details, that within three weeks the four men who controlled the combine had managed to clear up something like $75,000 on stock that sold for 25 cents a share. Only the fact that they used the mails led to the sudden termination of operations. The federal authorities had been making investigation and had found total lack of property to be one of the chief reasons why the swindlers should not be taking in a gullible public. Three of the four got-rich-quick artists were landed behind bars, while a fourth, having had an inkling of what was coming, managed to get away with a good portion of the public contribution.

Usually the story of the lost mine is the bait used to land the fish. There have been dozens of these properties and from time to time old tales are renewed by a sudden strike.

He had turned the barrel on and found that little fluid was forthcoming. Almost frantically he pulled out the bung. He rolled the barrel around to the opening and carefully placed beneath it a bucket. Less than two dozen measures remained.

The situation was not entirely new to a veteran in the mountains, but he at once realized the dilemma that confronted him. He waited for his partner, whose name is said to have been Crocker, though this fact has never been established, and when he came in from his trip to the adjacent hills he imparted his bad news.

Some vegetation showed on the range near at hand, and it was decided to risk a day in search for the precious fluid in the gulches and canyons of the mountains.

"It's our best chance," said Fish to Crocker after the two had talked over the matter for hours into the night. So early in the morning, after four or five hours of rest, they started resolutely into the hills.

"Crocker went up one canyon, while I took another, the one to the right," remarked Fish, in the months that came after when he recounted the story to friends in San Bernardino, Cal.

The main canyon deployed into a gulch on the right and I decided to follow this through the hot sun and down among the rocks as far that not a breath of air seemed to pass through the slit.

My feet were lagging, my shins were barked and aching, for in the rush I had neglected to be careful. Turning a sudden corner in the gulch, I came to a natural bridge that spanned the canyon. It was so odd, so regular in the outline of an arch that I could only stand and admire it. Beneath its shade, the most cooling place in that hell-hole, I found a large steady stream and there I sank down to rest.

While idly scratching the sand, which seemed coarse and heavy, its peculiarity attracted my closer attention. I got down on my knees and started to follow the dust away, and before me I had a great pocket of precious metal, gold that averaged the size of wheat grains. I filled several pockets with the heavy grains, and with all thought of thirst forgotten, hurried excitedly down the canyon to impart the news of the find to Crocker.

While driving the work along slowly under the brazen sun and amid the occasional sand-cloud, stirred up by a slight breeze from the mountains, a figure appeared in the distance, just a vague, traceable figure, slowly and wearily pushing along through the clogging sands. As it approached, it resolved itself into a wandering Indian squaw, apparently half dead, from lack of water, who, without going near the workmen, passed on to the tank and there started to drink from the small open trough.

Thinking to assist her when she seemed about to drop into a heap from nothing more than the exhaustion of her toilsome journey, several of the men started in her direction. She saw them coming, with an effort she arose and made off with all speed down the track in the opposite direction.

She was followed for a distance, until she turned off into the desert again, and having no great interest in a single squaw, the men returned. On arriving at the water-tank they discovered an old piece of blanket securely tied in a knot. On opening it they found a lot of black pieces of metal, which under a knife revealed pure gold of darkest hue. They were nuggets, dozens of them, varying in size from smaller than a dime to the size of an English walnut, and all of them black.

Nearly the men tried to follow the squaw, but by this time she had disappeared in the same range of mountains to the north, from which she had been seen to emerge. When the finders of the gold had an opportunity of having the metal assayed and valued, they were brought to a realization of the worth of the discovery. The little pack contained more than $2,000 worth of property.

Such a find could not help starting a search and creating talk, and it was but a short time before a number of old miners were on the scene. They knew the value of the black gold and also that in this section barred far from observation or generally overlooked by prospectors, who had been following the ranges before, lay the old Peg-Leg mine with its fabled wealth. There was a stampede from the camp, which did not last long, on account of the hardships the searchers had to face.

Only in the northwestern part of the range is there any living water, the Salvation springs. Other portions of the range contain huge natural tanks in the mountains, which at that time were discovered in all but one or two instances to be dried up. As a result, only a few hardy prospectors were steady in their search, which had its original inception in 1853 when "Peg-Leg" Smith wandered into Mohave with nearly $10,000 worth of black nuggets in his possession.

According to his story, he had been living with the Yuma and Cocopah Indians along the Colorado river for several years. They told stories of great treasures of yellow metal, but never ventured after it themselves. Smith, who had lost a leg while an encounter with the Indians in crossing the plains, wandered up all the stories, and after securing all information possible, he decided on a trip to San Francisco to obtain a partner in his work. At that time the desert was not mapped, and it was a really hazardous undertaking for any man to attempt.

In this desolate region Smith lost his bearings. The fierce yellow sun, the dancing, jiggling heat-waves, the dust-furries confused his direction. He finally climbed upon a black butte that stood near by, and arriving at its summit, probably 1,500 feet in the air, he attempted to locate his whereabouts. "When I reached the top," he told some of his friends, "I saw just a short distance away another butte of exactly the same height and type as the one on which I had stood. It was connected with a low saddle, and the twin buttes were isolated from the main range. Finally I decided on the way I was to continue and started back down the hill to my mate, which had remained at the foot of the incline.

terrible struggle with the Apaches and other hostile tribes the Papagoes had been entirely wiped out; Papan was the last man of the tribe to escape the hostile arrows, pitfalls and traps that were laid for him. Only one tribe had treated his people favorably, the Mohave Indians.

When all hope for his people was gone, he wandered into the tribal territory of the Mohaves, which was located in what at this time is Yuma county on the Colorado river. There he took up with an old squaw, who seemed almost friendless among her people, and the two were married with all the tribal ceremonial.

The squaw was not unappreciative. She wanted to show her devotion to her lord and master, and frequently the two Indians wandered away from the remainder of the tribe for days at a time. Whenever they returned they brought with them nuggets, all they could carry, and distributed them among the other Indians and bartered with the few white traders who happened that way.

One of them, Bill McCoy, after whom the McCoy range of mountains in Riverside county, California, is named, was running a store at Ehrenberg, a government post, in California during 1864 and for two years later. To him came Papan with his hoard of gold, so much that McCoy could scarcely believe his eyes. The Indian bought lavishly, traded for anything and everything that his heart desired, and in less than two years had contributed to McCoy about $75,000 worth of gold nuggets.

The trader tried every possible ingratiating method to learn the secret of his mine. He wheedled, coaxed, threatened, and made big offers of beads, jewels and horses, but never could learn Papan's secret. He sent his men to follow him, but they were never successful in keeping the trail.

In 1887 the Apaches carried their enmity to the Mohave Indians, and by their indignities stirred them finally to battle. Papan, a valiant warrior in his day, joined the people that had made him one of their own. He was killed, but in the rout of the Mohaves, his wife managed to escape.

The story of the gold had been waffled abroad, and about 15 years ago a middle-aged German of stalwart build, H. W. Hartman, arrived in Ehrenberg and began collecting the data pertaining to the placer diggings. He discovered that Papan's squaw was still living, and his plan at once embraced her. He sought out the decimated tribe, and found the squaw, now a withered old hag, and began to work upon her sympathy.

He cared for her like a son, looked after her every want and all the time tried to secure from her the location of the rich treasure-trove. For months she refused to divulge her secret, and Hartman had just about decided that all his work was vain, when one day she told him to prepare for a journey into the mountains after the treasure.

Free Free

Six Genuine Rogers Silver Teaspoons for only 100 Galvanic Soap Wrappers or coupons from Johnson's Washing Powder.

Here is the Offer

For each teaspoon desired send us one two-cent stamp and (only Galvanic Soap wrapper (used soap only) or coupon from Johnson's Washing Powder.

Galvanic Soap is Known as "The Famous Easy Washer"

It's a white Soap and the coconut oil in it makes it the easiest lathering soap on the market. Test it out your next wash day and don't forget to save the wrappers. Mail them to the Premium Department of B. J. JOHNSON SOAP CO., Milwaukee, Wisconsin

Honesty.
No man is so dishonest but what he considers his next door neighbor more so.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

ERUPTION LIKE PIMPLES

Wathena, Kan.—"My child's scalp trouble became so bad that I was ashamed to have anyone see him. His head had a solid scab on it. He also had a terrible breaking out on his face which was gradually growing worse. The eruption was like pimples which developed into sores when he scratched, which he did almost constantly. Baby would almost scratch himself raw."

"I had used several different kinds of salve, none of them helping in the least bit, when I saw the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and it made me think of the good results my sister had when she used it for her children. I had only used Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks before I noticed that the sores were almost entirely gone, and it must have been a month or six weeks he was troubled before I began the treatment. He would get easy when I would put the Cuticura Ointment on him. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured him and he has a clear complexion now." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Dec. 31, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32 p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

Trading compliments is a good deal like swapping green goods.

Exactness.
"Eggs are getting so expensive that fried eggs will be used next for trimming women's hats."
"Why not? I should think the effect would be chic."—Washington Herald.

FOLEY'S

HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND

STOPS COUGHS - CURES COLDS

Contains No Opium - Is Safe For Children

Certain Relief

from headaches, dull feelings, and fatigue of biliousness, comes quickly—and permanent improvement in bodily condition follows—after year stomach, liver and bowels have been toned and regulated by

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c, 25c.
FREE TO ALL SUFFERERS
If you feel that you are suffering from any of the above ailments, you can get relief by using Beecham's Pills. They are a natural product of the human system and are perfectly safe for all ages. They will cure all cases of constipation, indigestion, headache, and all other ailments arising from a disordered stomach, liver and bowels. Write for free literature to the proprietor, Dr. J. C. Beecham, 11, South Colindale Avenue, London, N.W., England.

BOY

OR MAN wanted to look up signs in your neighborhood. Good pay. Address: H. J. West, 100, Philadelphia, Pa.

Go This Spring Low-fare Colonist Excursions to Arizona and CALIFORNIA on Tourist-Sleeper Trains MARCH 15 TO APRIL 15

A farm is waiting for you in Arizona or California, where irrigation and almost constant sunshine help make crops certain and profitable.
These Spring colonist excursions offer you very low railroad and sleeper fares, with excellent service on Santa Fe trains, carrying modern tourist sleepers and chair cars. A fast run on the Fast Mail; two other daily trains to choose from. Fred Harvey meal service, too.
Write to C. L. Baggett, Gen. Advertising Agent, Santa Fe Railway, Dept. 100, 225 California Street, San Francisco, Cal., for full particulars. Santa Fe, March 1912.

THE PLYMOUTH MAIL

—BY—
F. W. SAMSEN
L. B. SAMSEN, Editor and Manager

FRIDAY, MARCH 14, 1913

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One Year, payable in advance, $1.00
Six months, .60
Three months, .35

ADVERTISING RATES.
Business Cards, $5.00 per year.
Resolutions of Respect, $1.00
Card of Thanks, 50 cents.

All local notices will be charged for at five cents per line or fraction thereof for each insertion. Display advertising rates made known on application. Where no time is specified, all notices are for one insertion and will be inserted unless ordered discontinued.

Local News

Wrestling Match at the opera house tonight.

Mrs. E. W. Hurd of Detroit, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. G. Samsen.

Patterson & Bennett are new advertisers this week. We call your attention to their ad on another page.

Mrs. M. A. Withee, a highly respected lady of Lapham's corners, died at her home there last Sunday night at the age of 66 years. The funeral services were held from the Lapham's church Wednesday afternoon.

The "Sun Flowers" will bloom at the M. E. church this evening, the program being a most entertaining one. There will be lots of fun and every one will enjoy the many laughs. Go and see the "Boys' Admission, 10 and 15 cents.

Try "Sal-Vet" 60 days at the risk of the manufacturer. If it don't rid your stock of worms, improve their condition, save and make you money, the 60-day supply won't cost you a penny. Read the "Sal-Vet" advertisement appearing in this issue.

A CARD—We wish to thank all those who have helped us by their sympathy and assistance during our recent bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carleton
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Truesdell
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Truesdell
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Truesdell

REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE

Notary Public
GEORGE C. GALE
PHONE 188 PLYMOUTH

Local Items

Alvin Warner of Detroit, visited at home over Sunday.

Hazel Kingsley who has been ill at Chas. Willard's for the past five weeks, is slowly convalescing.

The self served supper given in the M. E. church last Friday evening for the members and congregation was well attended.

Gayde Bros. have a large ad in this issue in which they set forth the merits of the Acme White Lead and Color Works paints.

In giving the names of the Workmen's caucus committee for next year it should have read B. Fisher instead of H. J. Fisher.

Don't forget the wrestling match at the opera house tonight (Friday). The contestants are Kidd Curry of Bay City and Ed. Kelly of Traverse City. This is sure to be an exciting contest as both men are out to win.

The state library at Lansing offers a traveling library of 50 volumes free to any school, grange or farmers' club on the payment of the freight. Write them if you want this kind of help, and pay the freight and that is all there is to it.

The general delivery has been in operation now for a year, and as far as we have been able to learn, has given general satisfaction. It's patrons are well pleased with the excellent service rendered, and have renewed their contract with Mr. H. Brown for another year.

The Williams Bros. Canning Co. will bottle their ketchup at their plant in this village the coming season instead of sending the tomato pulp to the main factory at Detroit as they have heretofore done. This will mean that the local factory will have to have additional help the coming season, which will rebound to the good of the village.

If the provisions of the new dog tax law are observed and why shouldn't they be—there will either be the full amount of dog tax collected or an increase of canine nuisances. The law provides that the treasurer must return the delinquent dog tax to the owner who is thereupon expected to see that the dogs are exterminated. If you own a dog therefore, it will be policy to pay the tax, if you don't want the sheriff to come around with his gun. In this case place it is up to the proper officers to see that the dogs are on the list.

Switches made from wood are the acquire of Mrs. G. A. Curtis, 15 Harvey street. Phone 131N.

Wm. Rhead of Hudson, visited relatives here last week.

Mrs. James McKeever is visiting friends in Detroit this week.

Mrs. Lee Jewell of Detroit, visited relatives here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Hudd visited relatives in Bay City this week.

Miss Hattie Smith visited the Ypsilanti high school last Friday.

Morris Campbell of Detroit, has been at home on the sick list this week.

Miss Grace Wise visited friends at Dearborn the latter part of last week.

Mrs. N. A. Eckler of Rochester, N. Y., is the guest of Mrs. W. J. Burrows.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Clark of Bad Axe, are guests at Wm. Pettigill's this week.

W. T. Conner, who has been sick for two weeks is able to be at the store again.

S. O. Hudd, who has been confined to his home for nearly two months is again able to be out.

The Lady Macabees surprised the Sir Knights at their hall last Monday evening. There were about forty present and cards were the entertainment, after which light refreshments were served.

Glad Melvin, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Todd, died from heart failure, early Friday morning. Interment in Riverside cemetery Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Todd have the sympathy of many friends in their sad bereavement.

Many people in this vicinity will remember "Old Dan" the horse that for the greater part of his 28 years has been the trusty pet and carriage-horse of Mrs. R. C. Safford. For several years he has been among the "pensioned" and his death is recorded very tenderly.

Gayde & Fisher announce the formal opening of their new implement store which will occur, Saturday, March 22. Representatives of the several lines of goods they will carry will be on hand to explain the merits of these goods and to demonstrate their use. Every farmer is cordially invited to attend and inspect their stock of farm implements, buzzies, wagons, etc. You will be well entertained. See their ad in this issue.

The local base ball fans are beginning to wonder as to whether Plymouth will be represented on the base ball map with a team the coming summer. It seems a shame with a fine ball park as we have here that the town is not represented with a good ball club every season. It is altogether likely that a public meeting will be called in the near future to see what can be done about organizing a team for the coming season.

CHURCH NEWS

CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST.

First Church of Christ, Scientist holds services at church edifice, corner of Main and Dodge streets, Sunday morning at 10:10. Subject, "Man." Sunday-school at 11 a. m. Wednesday evening testimonial service, 7:10. Every one is welcome.

METHODIST.

Rev. Joseph Dutton, Pastor.
10:00 a. m. public worship. 11:30 a. m. Sunday-school. 6:00 p. m. Epworth League. 7:00 p. m. evening worship. The pastor will preach at both services. Everybody welcome.

LUTHERAN.

Rev. O. Peters, Pastor.
Next Sunday will be Palm Sunday. Services will be held at 9:30 standard. The Ladies Aid will meet immediately after the morning service. Lenten service will be held in the church next Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. This will be the last Lenten service. All are welcome.

BAPTIST.

Rev. W. W. DewArchie, Pastor.
Services at our church next Sunday as usual, the pastor preaches at 10 a. m. upon "The Atonement" and at 7 p. m. upon "The Wandering Boy". This evening subject will be illustrated. Our Sunday-school will meet at 11:30. Everybody welcome.

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL MISSION.

Services will be held on Sunday at the above church as follows: Sunday-school 1:30 p. m. At 2:15 p. m. Mr. H. M. worth of Detroit, will preach. As this is the Sunday before Easter, we would like to see those members who have not been during Lent present. Practice of Hymns for Easter after Service. Hymn sheets provided.

PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. B. F. Farber, Pastor.
Services will be held in this church on Sunday, March 16th as follows: Morning worship at 10 o'clock. At this service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed and new members received into the church. Sunday-school at 11:15 o'clock. Presbyterian Guild at 6 o'clock. Subject, "How may every Sabbath be the Lord's Day?" Evening service at 7 o'clock. Special music. Preaching by the pastor. Subject, "David Livingston—a Real Hero." Prayer Meeting on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend these services.

Girls and Boys

We have the largest line of Easter Goods ever put on in Plymouth. Such as Easter Rabbits, Easter lamps, Bunnie's Baskets, Candy Baskets, Ducklings, Chickens, Easter Eggs. And a large assortment of Japan Easter novelties. Watch for the window. Watch for the Easter Opening at the Central Grocery.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Roland Ellis, Marion Smith, and Dorby Dibble of the third grade, are absent on account of measles.

Lula Alquist and Hilda Doane of the 4th grade, have left school.

The 6th grade has been very fortunate so far, not many being absent on account of measles.

The 7th grade, Monday afternoon was entertained with the lantern. Pictures were given of Palestine, India, and China.

Otho Ebersole entertained the Sophomores last Friday night, at his home. Miss Van Dusen chaperoned the party.

Last Saturday night, our Seniors gave a sleighride party. After the ride, refreshments were served in the Kindergarten room.

Mrs. Minor, formerly Miss Helen Woodworth, visited Miss Hanford Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Margaret Woodworth, who had to go home on account of illness, will not return this year.

Many sufferers from rheumatism have been suprised and delighted with the prompt relief afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires any internal treatment whatever. This liniment is for sale by all dealers.—Adv't.

MORE LOCAL.

Mrs. Jennie Gill of Ypsilanti, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wyman Bartlett.

Mrs. J. B. Henderson and daughters Dorothy and Marion of Saginaw, visited friends in town this week.

Dr. S. E. Campbell, delegate from Plymouth Grange, attended the meeting of Pomona Grange held in Ypsilanti last Thursday.

VALDONA
Best Iron and Wine
is a body builder, improves appetite, cures indigestion, cures the nerves, makes sound and refreshing sleep. If you are pale, listless and in a general weakened condition the prescription will greatly benefit you. Fifty Cents
THE M. J. BERRY CO.
PINKNEY'S PHARMACY

We Announce Our
Easter Opening of Trimmed Hats

Untrimmed Hats, Ribbons, Silks, Laces, Flowers, Feathers and Novelties.

A Fancy Hat Pin given with each trimmed hat.

Thursday and Friday, March 20-21

Giles & Bartholomew

'Phone 147

Plymouth

Easter Millinery ..Opening..

Thursday and Friday, March 20-21

We consider this a personal invitation to every lady in Plymouth and vicinity to call and inspect our beautiful showing of the season's Chic and Charming Models in rich and elaborate effects. Also Misses Collapsible Hats and other inexpensive designs.

Be sure and give us a call.

Mrs. F. J. Tousey

NORTH VILLAGE.

...CHILDREN!...
WATCH YOUR WINDOW
FOR OUR LINE OF
EASTER NOVELTIES
CENTRAL GROCERY

WATERBURY
If You Want
YOU can get them by advertising in this paper. It reaches the best class of people in this community.
Use this paper if you want some of their business.
Use This Paper

Paints and Finishes for Your Home

If there is a shabby surface in your home to be painted, enameled, stained, varnished or finished in any way, we have just what you need for producing the exact finish desired in the line of

ACME QUALITY PAINTS AND FINISHES

Let us show you colors for painting your house or barn, samples of finishes for floors, woodwork, walls, ceilings or furniture. Let us help you make shabby places look new and attractive.

COME IN and get a copy of THE ACME QUALITY PAINTING GUIDE BOOK. It tells what Acme Quality Paint, Enamel, Stain or Varnish to use, how much will be required and how it should be put on. It not only enables you to tell your painter or decorator exactly what you want, but it makes it easy for YOU to refinish the many surfaces about the home that do not require the skill of the expert—the jobs that a painter would not bother with. Ask for a copy. IT'S FREE.

GAYDE BROS., PLYMOUTH, MICH.

PLYMOUTH MAIL

L. B. SAMEN, Mgr.
PLYMOUTH, MICHIGAN

FIRE PREVENTION.

Recently New York had a "fire prevention day." Officials and insurance companies co-operated to give demonstrations of the various methods of safeguarding property and particularly of avoiding fires by the observance of the laws and the exercise of care on the part of those in charge of property. This educational work should continue without interruption. Every city should undertake to teach people the truth that fire is a cess, waste and if every one is vigilant there is no occasion whatever for fire visitations. In the case of gas pipes causing the ignition of woodwork, the blame is to be placed upon those who are responsible for the construction or the maintenance of the building. It is possible to protect all electric wires so they cannot cause the heating of cent materials and all forms of lighting apparatus can be similarly protected so that they are innocuous. Burning matches stored in tin boxes but of the reach of children they eliminated as a possible cause of fire. The fire loss in any city could be materially reduced if every person were careful in throwing away matches after lighting it or in casting away burning cigar or cigarette stubs, says the Washington Star. Give attention to greasy waste which causes spontaneous combustion. Comense in the kitchen will eliminate the danger of gasoline or oil explosions.

The Palestine exploration fund has made very interesting contributions to history. A press dispatch states that Mrs. Mackenzie and McAllister, working under the auspices of this organization, have unearthed the ancient Bethshemesh, about 20 miles from Jerusalem, which was the city of the tribe of Judah and allotted to the tribe of Benjamin. Bethshemesh figured in early history in connection with the city that befell its inhabitants on account of their irreverent handling of the ark.

The number of deaths among aviators is larger than it was because the number of aviators and the number of trips are larger. Really the rate of mortality in aviation is undergoing steady reduction. European statisticians assert that last year's deaths of aviators averaged only one for each one hundred thousand miles of air flight, whereas the rate was one for each one thousand miles of flight recently as three years ago.

Half a century ago the world was amazed by the discovery of spectrum analysis, which gave astronomers an opportunity to determine the physical composition of distant stars. Professor Wood of the department of experimental physics, has just discovered a new aid to investigations of this nature—photographs taken by means of rays of light invisible to the eye—the ultra-violet ray, the red.

A cadet has been dropped from West Point and a student from Yale for getting married before graduation. The marrying instinct prevails sometimes over the higher education. But possibly the young benedicts will not be so strong for the connubial tendency after a few years' experience of marriage before education is completed.

An amateur hunter in Maine who killed a companion in mistake for a deer has been ordered to pay $500 as fine to the orphan son of his victim. After a while amateur hunters will be complaining of the prohibitive fines which will put the chance of making such mistakes out of the reach of the deserving poor among hunters.

Despite reports of the continued killing of hunters and guides, under the impression that they were deer, an official statement from the Adirondacks in that 2,650 deer were killed in that region, and not a single guide or fellow hunter. Deduce as suits your taste whether this implies better aim or worse.

A college professor now declares that love of the romantic or clinging vine type is no good. Neither may suit college professors, but both have been in use long before college professors were thought of, and possibly will be found in the ring after the crises of love have changed fashions.

A football star attempted to kidnap a Philadelphia girl who he had unconsciously courted and "kissed" in jail. Probably he will have a chance now to compare the bars of the jail with those of a prison.

When Mr. Wilson proposes that making marriage license will not meet the needs of the masses, how many have wished that Congress were compelled to appear only to the masses?

Make Savings From Small Weekly Wages

By I. P. STEWART, London, Eng.

had been able to leave behind him the substantial sum of $15,000, every penny of it the fruits of saving.

When he married, a little over forty years ago, he looked around to see what economies he could effect. He found that he had been spending at least $1.25 a week on beer and tobacco; these he could very well dispense with. That meant a saving of $65 a year. And this was the nucleus of his fortune.

A few weeks later his wages were raised from $7.50 a week to $8.75 weekly. He could rub along without the extra $1.25, and was thus able to put by $130 a year. When his savings had amounted to $500, he bought two cottages, borrowing three-fourths of the purchase money and paying off the loan out of the rents. He was a man of property now.

The appetite for thrift took full possession of him. He was fond of gardening, and he decided to turn his hobby and his spare time into money. He rented half an acre of land; his wife opened a shop for the sale of the produce, and the first year he was able to increase his savings to $5 a week, with which, in two years' time, he was able to buy two more houses.

And thus simply his fortune grew. House was added to house, each paying for its own purchase with its rent, until at sixty-nine he was able to retire on $750 a year, almost twice his highest wages as workman, and when he died to leave a good $15,000 behind him.

And what John Morrison could do, and did, others have done. Only a few weeks ago a workman confessed in a court of law that he had already saved $3,000 out of wages which had never exceeded $7.50 a week. "How did you do it?" asked the magistrate. "By a little self-denial, your worship," the man answered, and then proudly added: "And I've brought up four children, too; and now there's only me and the wife. I'm going to buy an annuity with it, which, they say, will come to more than $350 a year."

Bachelor Should Wear Tag of Some Kind

By Dorcas Callahan, San Francisco

he's—" And why should n't she? Women all have the same ideal! You may raise your voice loud and strong for "votes for women." I may coo in dulcet tones of "art for art's sake," but you know as well as I know that we are all dying to stay at home and be a slave for the "right man," and shower all the tenderness of our souls upon the little one.

But because youth is fleeting and Cupid a drone we get panicky the first pop into womanhood. We don't know who is who—and we blunder along dreaming dreams. Then nine times out of ten we get shoved into the jam jar with the news of: "Why, he's married and has six children."

At this crisis some of us fall for the "first chance." Others of us wait around in moody cynicism until the "last call for the altar" rouses us into action, and worst of all, there are some of us who never hear even the faintest echo of the "masculine want."

I am smiling as my pen runs along. I'm thinking of a nice fat old maid of my acquaintance who stands A No. 1 in "medicine." Incidentally she is frozen to the core:

I can hear her say: "Drat the men!!! And you, you hussy, you ought to be ashamed of yourself."

But nevertheless I know that we women are "the female of the species" first, last and always, and if we could be sure that (individually speaking) the man that "takes our eye" is a bachelor and that we are not treading on the private lawns of our sisters, we might arrive at the proper ways and means of turning "our ideal" into the right pasture where he could be kept corralled and happy for the rest of his three score and ten.

Improving Health by Taking Exercise

By E. R. RICKARD, Boston, Mass.

the remarkable results that have been obtained and are being obtained through nature's own methods in relieving men of their physical ailments and weaknesses.

Within a few months I have put on ten pounds in weight. This result in spite of the fact that for the past six years I have been under weight and never put on a pound, although I dieted and slept sufficiently at all times.

My late increase in weight and improvement in health were obtained through deep breathing, full relaxation and full contraction exercise, under competent direction, which is really the natural way for the body to get these things, and was the everyday way, before we were perverted through our sedentary habits and tense, fast living.

But my improvements were insignificant when compared to other men who were in worse condition than myself to start with. I know of a large number of men who have, through these same methods, been relieved of their nervousness, insomnia, obesity, constipation, headaches, rheumatism, anemia and almost every affliction in materia medica. I have often seen men who were run down to the verge of nervous prostration built up to robust health and strength.

If some physician were to procure such results by his prescription the achievement would be the talk of the town, but when nature works these wondrous results we accept them as a matter of fact and think nothing of it.

Helpful Little Facts About Catching Cold

By George F. Baker, A.M., M.D., Chicago

Taking cold is frequently the result of taking too much food. It's another name for foul air, an overloaded stomach and a disordered liver.

Lack of proper nourishment, indigestion, improper oxygenation and mental depression are by far the more direct and important causes than mere exposure.

The proper care of the skin is the best preventive of catarrh.

The daily sponge bath with friction brush or with exposure of the body to sun and air is simple and helps to prevent and cure catarrh and other diseases.

What self-help and thrift can do for a man is strikingly demonstrated by the case of John Morrison, a Yorkshire carpenter, who, although his wages had never exceeded $8.75 a week, had been able to leave behind him the substantial sum of $15,000, every penny of it the fruits of saving.

SMART AND YOUTHFUL

FROCK OF WHITE FRENCH LINEN WITH EMBROIDERY.

Buttonholed Scallops and Dots Worked in Heavy Soft White Floss Give Distinction to Costume Sure to Be Popular.

Wise women have already begun to plan and work on the summer's wardrobe, and this is the time of year to find odd and attractive dress materials before the dressmaking establishments. Among the linen and lingerie dresses the very prettiest are those which have for trimming heavy hand embroidery. Embroidery takes time, as everyone knows, but for trimming there is nothing prettier, and with the heavy mercerized cottons and flouses, which are used most, a padded, buttonholed edge can be accomplished in short order.

The little gown of the sketch is smart and youthful, of white French linen with large buttonholed scallops and dots worked in heavy soft white floss. Aside from the plaited mull neck and sleeve ruffles and the girde of cerise satin there is no other trimming. Just such simple little gowns as this give the most service and look exceedingly well on most young women.

Smart Gown of White French Linen.

There is a kimono sleeved blouse with a round bib in front finished with the embroidered scallops. This arches up from the under arm seams over the bust line at center front. The girde has short sash ends tied in front and edged with crocheted ball fringe. The tunic skirt is mounted with scant even gathers to the belt and embroidered around the lower edge. About half way between hip and knee at the center front three small horizontally run tucks drape the material up a trifle. The remainder of the skirt is straight and rather narrow, with buttonholing to finish the

DAINTY BODICE

Almost any dress material would make up well in this style. The front is open in a narrow "V" to show a vest of fancy silk to match the point at lower part and the basque; all are edged with a binding of material. A square collar of spotted muslin edged with lace forms a dainty finish.

Materials required: 1 1/4 yards 40 inches wide, 3/4 yard silk 20 inches wide, 3 buttons.

Two-Colored Handkerchief. At one time any handkerchief that had its snowy whiteness sullied by a colored border was considered in the very worst taste, but now we not only think colored borders quite desirable, but complete pale-colored handkerchiefs are also chosen, and the very newest thing is a colored handkerchief with a different colored border. In both handkerchief and hem the colors are very delicate, almost pastel in tints, so they are not as tawdry as they sound. Very pale pink with an equally pale mauve border, and pale blue with a pale French gray hem, and orchid mauve with a pale blue pink, or gray border, are the favorite mixtures.

Walking Skirts. Walking skirts are distinctly short, and the side box pleats allow reasonable freedom of movement.

hem. It is not necessary to use entire lengths of linen for this undershirt; the linen need only run up under the tunic, where it can be mounted to a fitted upper part of lawn or muslin.

It might be advisable to mention here that no starch should be used in laundering such a dress. One can readily see that the draping of the skirt would not hang well when starched. A heavy loose woven linen drapes better than the others.

KEEPS SCENT FROM SPILLING

Small Stand in Which to Place Bottles May Also Give a Touch of Dainty Coloring.

Most women like to have a bottle of eau de cologne on their dressing table, for apart from the refreshing toilet properties of this scent, it is exceedingly useful in case of a sick headache or sudden attack of faintness. A little stand accompanying it has many merits, for it not only provides a touch of dainty coloring for one's bedroom, but also keeps the bottle from being easily knocked over and broken.

Scent bottles are made in standard sizes, so, before commencing to make the stand, procure the bottle of eau de cologne. Then take careful measurements, and your case will fit properly and can be refilled at will.

To make the stand, cut a round of stiff cardboard, three inches larger in diameter than the bottle, and another strip of cardboard which, when joined, will allow the bottle to be lifted in and out with ease.

Cover both the surfaces with fancy silk or ribbon, and line with either the same silk or a piece of thin white satin. Oversew all the edges and then stitch the upright portion of the case to the center of the base. The oversewn edges are trimmed with fine cord and a spray of artificial flowers or a smart bow of ribbon attached to the stand.

Let the case be in keeping with the character of the scent. For instance, a bottle of violet extract could be incased in mauve figured silk or embossed velvet and decorated with a bunch of ribbon violets.

FASHION.

Striped velvet which resembles corduroy is a much favored material. Revers and collars are frequently faced with a contrasting material and edged with fur.

Some of the tailored coats have long narrow sleeves which button the full distance of the arm.

Agrettes are grouped about the crown and are in some instances the only trimming.

Many women wear the hair ornament or bandeau well down upon the head, sometimes a pearl-shaped pendant drops down upon the forehead.

Short coats of brocade will be worn with cotton gowns and they should always match in color.

Flat lace flounces will be approved for evening gowns and are considered smarter than the pannier effects.

Brocaded crepe meteor is a new material and promises to outrival both chiffon and velvet in popularity.

Heavy veils with open mesh are favored in quaint and oriental designs.

Black and White Checks.

For strictly tailored wear the black and white checks are looked upon with favor, designed on lines that are severe, the cutaway coats trimmed with black satin collars and cuffs and having a piped seam at the waistline. The skirts are fashioned with seams running at various angles, according to the ideas of the designer. In the suite of white wool Bengaline suiting with a hairline stripe of black, the play of stripes made by bias pieces, and underarm pieces running in opposite directions adds a smart touch.

SMART DRESS

Here we show an elegant combination of Liberty bloom silk and velveteen; green is the color, the silk being light and the velveteen dark in shade.

The underskirt is entirely of the silk, just eased in at the waist; the velveteen tunic has a rounded back and is caught together at the lower edge of the fronts by buttons connected by cords.

The bodice has the lower part made of velveteen, cut in points at the upper edge and connected in front by buttons and cords; plain strips of velveteen are taken over the shoulders, also edge the sleeves, which are finished with lace frills; these match the collar.

Materials required: 3 1/2 yards silk 40 inches wide, 4 yards velveteen 26 inches wide, 4 buttons.

Bandboxes for Flowers. Tiny bandboxes that are like the old-fashioned big ones of our great-grandmothers are a novelty used for the bunches of artificial flowers now so much worn. When a bunch of violets or a nosegay of tiny roses is purchased, the bandboxes are sought for the purpose of keeping them safe in the bosom.

We Have a Proposition on FERTILIZER

For the coming season on all Homestead unloaded direct to the wagons, we will make you a price of $24.50 per ton. Your orders must be placed now, and arrangements made as to terms. This is a saving to you of $1.50 per ton, and we do not think you can buy the same goods, or goods of the same analysis at anything like this price. If you want to get in on the ground floor ACT NOW.

Our Goal and Coke

stock is complete, and we offer you Chestnut, Stove and Egg Anthracite at our regular prices. Also carry Chestnut and Egg Coke, Egg Poo-hontas, Massillon lump and nut and Pomeroy lump, all at prices that are right.

Seeds and Feeds

Our stock of Seeds and Mill Feeds is at all times complete, also Building Materials, Brick, Etc.

J. D. McLaren Co., Inc.

At The New Meat Market

You Can Get the Choicest Cuts of

Fresh and Salt Meats

Try our Home-made Sausage. It is fine.
Try our Pure Home-rendered Lard and you will use no other.

PHONE US YOUR ORDERS.
STRENG BROS.
Local Phone Free Delivery

Farmers' Listen!

We have some 6 inch top FENCE POSTS that we have just received. If you want something good it will pay you to see these.

We have a stock of both red and glazed DRAIN TILE. Why not get these home before the spring work commences.

Our stock of LUMBER and SHINGLES is better than ever. If there is anything in the Lumber line you are going to use in the near future, it will pay you to see us before you buy.

Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co.,

CHAS. MATHER, Sec. & Manager

Central Meat Market

Call Central Meat Market, phone 23, for

Choice Meats,

Smoked Meats of all Kinds,
Home Made Bologna and Sausages,

Try them and you won't eat any other.

FRANK RAMBO, Manager

BOTH PHONES FREE DELIVERY

WHEN IN DETROIT STOP AT HOTEL HENRY CLAY

ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF.

A Hotel for Your Wife, Mother or Sister STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS-NO BAR

25-42 CENTER STREET, Detroit

Between East Grand Street Ave. and John E. St. East Street by Grand.

Learn that the Michigan Hotel of Detroit is on a Grand Street. The Hotel is built in the heart of the city.

Telephone 2476

FRANK E. GILGUSTON, Prop.

SOLVED!

How to Reduce the Cost of High Living.

Why bake, when wood, coal and gasoline are so high? Buy our

SHELL WRAPPED CAKES

- Silver Slice (white).....10c
- Golden Sunbeam (yellow).....10c
- Creole Fruit (dark).....15c
- Raisin Pound (light).....15c
- Cinnamon Rolls.....12c

Take one home, try it, if you don't like it come and get your money back. It won't cost you a cent.

CENTRAL GROCERY,

R. G. SAMSEN

Phone 13, 2r Free Delivery

Local News

Easter—March 23.
Peter Alquist and family have moved to Grand Rapids.
Born, March 7th, to Mr. and Mrs. Emory Hix, a girl.
Mrs. John Matthews of Detroit, visited friends here Tuesday.
Regular meeting of the O. E. S. Tuesday evening, March 18th.
Mrs. Geo. Springer has gone to Detroit for a few days visit.
Miss Bamford of Ypsilanti, spent the week-end with Mrs. F. F. Bennett.
Lynn Van Vleet of Ann Arbor, was an over-Sunday guest at J. D. McLaren's.
Etta Reichelt of Detroit, visited her sister, Mrs. Louis Reber, over Sunday.
Miss Ella Jackson who has been ill for the past few weeks is slowly improving.

The Saline principal and teachers have been visiting our public school this week.
H. J. Woods & Sons of Stark have a new ad in this issue that will interest the farmers.
Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Van Gieszen of Detroit, are visiting at Chas. Bradner's and other friends here.

Several of the teachers from our public school attended the teacher's institute in Detroit last Saturday.
Miss Ethel Gracen entertained the Epworth League girls last Wednesday evening at J. D. McLaren's home.
Mrs. Marguerite Phillips of Charlotte, will address the Woman's Literary Club this afternoon on "Pictures in Art."

Mrs. Walter Wingard of Wayne, is staying with Russel Wingard while Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wingard are South.
Clarence Martin of Detroit, and Eugene Campbell of Ann Arbor, were over Sunday guests at Dr. S. E. Campbell's.

The friends of Walter Gordon will be sorry to hear that he is sick at St. Mary's hospital in Detroit with pneumonia.

A St. Patrick's masquerade ball will be given in Penniman hall, Thursday evening, March 17. Bill 50c. Spectators, 25c.

Mrs. Harmon Kingsley who has been here for the past month caring for her daughter Hazel, has returned to her home at Stark.

Mrs. L. J. Meldrum and son, Oliver attended a Home Missionary meeting held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Houk at Inster last week.

Carroll Adams and Mr. Shoemaker of the U. of M. were guests of Mrs. Jennie Voorhies and other friends, the latter part of last week.

The Baptist Woman's Mission Circle will give a 10-cent tea at the home of Mrs. S. L. Bennett, next Wednesday. Everybody invited.

J. W. M. Burton, formerly of this place, left March 1st for Cal., where he will build an electric line from Los Angeles to Montrose.

Many of our town's people have witnessed the first exhibition of Edison's Kinetophone, at the Temple theater, Detroit, this week.

A new concern to be known as The Automatic Muffler Mfg. Co., has been organized here for the purpose of manufacturing Automobile mufflers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamilton, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson and other relatives, have returned to their home at Colorado Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler, Miss Ella Palmer, and Mrs. Wealthy Chaffee of Wayne, attended the special meeting of the O. E. S. here last Tuesday evening.

Messrs. E. C. Hough, Evered Jolliffe, and John McLaren, Jr. attended the Michigan Manufacturers Convention held at the Cadillac hotel, Detroit, last Saturday evening.

Milo Corwin and family have moved on to the Cass Benton farm and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Arthur are occupying the house vacated by Mr. Corwin in the Blunk sub-division.

There were about 150 members present at the meeting of the Plymouth Grange held in their new hall last Saturday. Seven candidates were initiated into the order, after which an excellent chicken-pie dinner was served. In the afternoon an open meeting was held and several visitors from Ypsilanti and Plymouth were present.

In the winter of 1864 they had a great revival in the Methodist church of this place, and on Feb. 19th, over fifty persons joined the church. L. E. Bennett made a list of the names at that time and still has it for preservation. Of the whole number, only one is now known to be alive, Orlando Scofield of Detroit, who was here a few days ago.

Sixty Years Ago
The people of New England were using Dr. HERRICK'S SUGAR-COATED LIVER PILLS for biliousness, sour stomach, indigestion and constipation and they are still using them when needed for the same purpose. Why? Because they never fail to give the desired results and they do it gently and comfortably but thoroughly. A dose taken at night makes you feel fine, bright and cheerful next morning. Try them. Price 25c. per box. Sold by J. W. Blikenstaff & Co. and Beyers Pharmacy.—Adv.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

E. L. Riggs Mammoth Unloading Sale will continue one more week, from Saturday, March 15. Thousands of dollars worth of fine staple merchandise at your disposal at unloading sale prices. Don't fail to attend as it's money saved to you.

Order your flowers for Easter now at C. Heide's greenhouse.

Don't fail to attend E. L. Riggs one more week continuation sale. It pays.

Butternut Bread at the Central Grocery.

Bring your eggs to Rauch's.

Order your flowers for Easter now at C. Heide's greenhouse.

Ask about those wrapped cakes at the Central Grocery.

The Central Grocery has those good cakes your neighbor had for lunch.

Eggs are as good as cash at Rauch's.

Order your flowers for Easter now at C. Heide's greenhouse.

Bring your eggs to Rauch's.

Don't forget the birthday tea at the M. E. church, Friday evening, March 21st. Price 10c.

A CARD We desire to thank the pastor of the M. E. church for his kind and consoling words, the friends for their floral tributes and sympathy shown us in our late bereavement, also the choir.

Wm. J., L. H. and J. F. Monfils, grandchildren.

MURRAY'S

The only Candy and Post Card Store and Ice Cream Parlor in Plymouth.

School Supplies Stationery Paper Napkins

Crepe Paper Paper Doilies Sherbert Cups

Postal Albums Lowney's and Schrafts Chocolates

Home-made Candy a Specialty

Special attention given to orders for Sherbert and Ice Cream for entertainments.

Wants, For Sale, To Rent, etc.

5c. per Line, One Insertion

FOR SALE—Several good horses at Robinson's livery barn.

FOR SALE—A Maxwell touring car. Enquire of C. A. Fisher at the bank.

FOR SALE—An evaporator, 150 asp buckets and spiles, storage and gathering tanks. Enquire of John Patterson.

FOR SALE—Hay. Enquire of E. R. Daggett, one-half mile west of Plymouth on Penniman avenue. Phone 1873-R.

FOR SALE—Pure bred S. C. White Leghorn chicks for sale and eggs for hatching from famous winter laying strain. Chas. Kramer, R. F. D. No. 5, Box 84, Plymouth, Mich. Bell Phone 36 L-2.

FOR SALE—Eggs for setting, White Orpington from the Kellerstraus strain and Buff Orpington from John Willard strain. Ed. Tyler, 51 Union street, Plymouth, Mich. 612

FOR SALE—The property known as the Frank Oliver farm located south of the village of Plymouth is now offered for sale. For particulars see P. W. Voorhies

FOR SALE—A small farm of six acres with house, barn and hen house. Orchard and plenty of small fruit, etc. Enquire of George Brink, phone 221, Plymouth.

FOR SALE—A 14-acre farm on the Ann Arbor road. Enquire of Mrs. John Matthews, 253 W. 1st Ave., Detroit, Phone Walnut 523L.

FOR RENT—House on E. Ann Arbor st. Enquire of J. O. Eddy.

FOR SALE—Chunk wood $2.00, and split wood $2.25. L. J. Truesdell, phone 280 1L2S.

FOR SALE—A new 8-room house with electric lights, furnace, hot and cold water, bathroom complete and good fruit cellar. Another new 7-room house with electric lights, furnace, bathroom and fruit cellar. Would trade for farm. Enquire of M. G. Blunk, at Conner Hdq. Co.

FOR SALE—Good square piano cheap. Herbert Ede, Box 561, Plymouth. 2t 16

WANTED—An apprentice girl for millinery. Giles & Bartholomew.

FOR SALE—Some good farm mares and horses. Nelson Cole. 1t 14

The Advertised Article

is one in which the merchant himself has implicit faith—else he would not advertise it. You are safe in patronizing the merchants whose ads appear in this paper because their goods are up-to-date and never shopworn.

Join the "don't worry club!" Buy your Ford today. Thousands were disappointed last year. Don't take a chance this time. And remember that the more we make the better we make them. Insist on an immediate delivery. There are more than 220,000 Fords on the world's highways—the best possible testimony to their unexcelled worth. Prices—runabout $525—touring car $600—with complete equipment. Catalogue from

Bennett & Patterson

Licensed agents for Ford Cars—Townships of Lyon, Novi, Farmington, Northville, Plymouth and Canton. Garage, Penniman Ave. opposite Kellogg Park. Phone 131.

Absolute Security.

A safe-breaker can open your store or house safe. A fire can destroy it and its contents—valuable papers, bonds, notes, insurance, etc. Rent a Safe Deposit box and all such papers will be secure. We have them as low as $1 per year. We pay 4% interest on Savings and Time Deposits. This means 25% more income to you than 3c does. Is it not worth while?

Ypsilanti Savings Bank,

YPSILANTI, MICHIGAN

GALE'S.

House Cleaning Time Coming

AND WE HAVE THE GOODS

Soaps of all kinds including the new Clean Easy Soap, Washing Powders and Scourers, all kinds with the new Wyandotte in large boxes. We have Wall Paper Cleaner, Carpet Cleaner and the Wizard Carpet Cleaner for Dustless sweeping, 10c. box.

Large stock Wall Paper at low prices.

Field and Garden Seeds.

We have a fine stock of Groceries to from. Also Drugs, Crockery, Etc.

Phone 16 JOHN L. GALE

THE HOME of Quality Groceries

Quality Groceries Await You Here

The Kind That Make Hunger Disappear!

Here the Pure Food Laws Obtain

And Those With Appetites on the Wane, Get Them Quickly Back Again!

Brown & Pettinall,

THE WHITE FRONT GROCERY

Telephone No. 40. Free Delivery

Farmers' Attention

We are agents for the ROYAL FENCE (manufactured and guaranteed by the American Steel and Wire Co.) and have a good supply on hand at reasonable prices. For example, we will sell you a 10 wire, continuous stay fence, 47 inches high, No. 9 top and bottom, No. 11 intermediate and No. 12 stays placed 12 inches apart for 29c. per rod. Other styles as cheap accordingly.

Galumet Fertilizer

which we are selling at the lowest possible prices. Cotton Seed Meal, Coarse Out Middlings and all kinds of feed at prices that are right. Get our prices on Cement, Lime, Plaster, Etc. Also Cedar Fence Posts, Hard and Soft Coal after April 1st. Come and see us before buying.

H. J. WOODS & SONS

STARK, MICH.

A WATCH CLUB

On the plan of Large Sales and Small profits

For the Month of March Only

To every purchaser of a watch costing Five Dollars or more I will give a special discount. The larger the club or sales the larger the discount. Every watch to be guaranteed. All watches to be sold for cash or on contract at $1.00 or more a week.

Purchasers on contract to receive only one-half the special discount. Are you interested? If so, call and get our prices.

C. G. DRAPER

Jeweler and Optician

Phone 247 148 Main st.

A Good Pointer...

to remember is that anything you get from our store is strictly A 1 quality and is backed by our guarantee. We absolutely protect you in every way and all we ask is that you buy of us and be convinced.

Maple Syrup

time is here now. Leave your order with us for any amount you wish and we will fill it with the "pure stuff" at a price that is right.

Clean Easy Soap

Have you tried it yet? They are all telling us that it is the best yet. Try it and see.

ALWAYS FRESH

Turnips, Parsnips, Celery, Cabbage, Onions, Fine Eating and Cooking Apples.

D. A. JOLLIFFE & SON

BOTH 'PHONES

Studebaker

"I've been selling Studebaker Wagons and Buggies for over 30 years."

"I've sold them because my reputation as a dealer was at stake and from experience I have found that Studebaker means the best."

That tells the Story.
Farmers bought Studebaker wagons before the Civil war and they have been buying them ever since.
Because they had confidence in the name Studebaker and in the sturdy, dependable wagons and buggies they build.
And that confidence has been upheld. Studebaker wagons are built on honor and the Studebaker guarantee goes with every one.
There's a Studebaker for your needs—whether you live in city, town or country.

Team Wagons Business Wagons Trucks
Surreys Dump Carts Buggies
Fly Carts Contractors' Wagons

—And Studebaker harness also—as well and carefully made as Studebaker vehicles.

See our Dealer or Write us.

STUDEBAKER South Bend, Ind.

NEW YORK CHICAGO DALLAS KANSAS CITY DENVER
MILWAUKEE SALT LAKE CITY SAN FRANCISCO PORTLAND, ORE.

SERIAL STORY

STANTON WINS

By
Elmer N. Ingram
Author of "The Galley and the Canoe," "The Flying Mercury," etc.
Illustrated by
Frederic Thompson

Copyright 1913, The Banta-Merrill Company

SYNOPSIS.

At the beginning of great automobile races the mechanic of the Mercury, Stanton's machine, drops dead. Stanton, young Jesse Floyd, volunteers, and is accepted. In the race during the twenty-four hour race Stanton meets Miss Cartledge, who introduces herself. The Mercury wins, and Stanton receives flowers from Miss Cartledge, which he ignores.

CHAPTER III.

The Finish, and After.

Morning arched its golden hours across the stalled speeding cars, and melted slowly into noon. The weary drivers had settled to steady endurance gaits, saving their energy and their machines for the more spectacular work of afternoon and evening. At nine o'clock that night the race would end.

The Mercury car had registered ninety miles more than the Duplex, both of them being many tens of miles in advance of the other competitors. At six in the morning Stanton had gone in for a brief rest. At eight he was back, and kept the wheel until noon in the afternoon. Victory was in his hands if nothing happened to his car; an hour and a half lost in repairs would transfer all his advantage to the Duplex. He was jealously afraid to trust his machine to his assistant driver, and consequently mechanic to his mechanic and himself. But Floyd made no complaint. At half-past one all the cars were sent to their camps while an hour was spent in having the track hurriedly mended by gangs of workmen. The road-bed in places was furrowed like a plowed field by the flying wheels. Meanwhile the afternoon crowds flowed in, filling the stands to suffocation, massing on the promenade, banking in a solid row of private automobiles behind the screen.

When at half-past two the racers were recalled to start anew, Stanton sharply scrutinized his mechanic before leaving the camp. "I'm going to keep this car until the end of the race," he announced, not unkindly. "If you don't think you can stand seven hours of it, say so; and I'll have them find some one to relieve you. They can rush Rupert here from up the Hudson by four or five o'clock. If you get in for it, you'll finish, if I have to tie you in your seat. I'm driving to win."

The scarlet of resentment flushed through Floyd's grimed-streaked pallor. "You won't have to tie me," he promised, white teeth catching his lip. "I'll not flinch. Go on."

Stanton actually laughed, bending to his levers.

"I didn't mean to tie you to keep you from running away, but to keep you from fainting and falling out," he explained. "But—"

The car bounded forward.

The track had been filled in with wet mud from the infield—on the first circuit the heavy Loselle car skidded and went through the fence at the north turn. After that, nothing could have induced Stanton to allow his machine in other hands.

Hour after hour passed. The noisy music of the band crashed out monotonously; the crowd swayed, murmuring, applauding, exclaiming, argu- eyed and kaleidoscopic in color and motion.

At sunset, when the Mercury made a trip into camp for supplies, neither of its men left their seats. The beaming Mr. Green came to shower congratulations upon Stanton, and with him the head of the Mercury Company, himself a former driver whose quiet appreciation had an expert's value. Stanton was leaning across the wheel, chatting with them, when his employer broke the thread of speech.

"What is the matter with your mechanic, Stanton?" he queried.

Stanton turned, suddenly conscious of a light weight against his shoulder. With his movement, Floyd also started erect, their glances crossing.

"Nothing," the driver briefly answered to the other's question. "Tired, perhaps; he has been working. As you were saying—"

But the glimpsed picture stared with Stanton; the fatigued young face against his arm, the drowsy, heavy-lidded eyes, flashing keenly awake, the involuntary expression of angry shame at the moment's weakness. And he would sooner have tied Floyd in his seat, after that, than have added the fine insult of offering to relieve him.

"Ready," some one called; the workmen scattered in every direction, and the Mercury was off once more.

"Car coming," warned the mechanic, as they shot from the paddock entrance on to the track. "Duplex ahead."

Floyd was himself again, watchfully scanning the road ahead, mechanically fearless.

Color and glow faded from the sky; once more the search-lights flared out around the track and transformed it to a silver ribbon, running between walls of ebony darkness except where the lamp-gemmed stands arose. Already newspapers were being cried announcing Stanton's coming victory.

Driving evenly, steadily, refusing all challenges to speed duels and attempting none of his deadly tactics of the night before, Stanton piloted his car to the inevitable result. At nine o'clock the flag dropped, and amid a hubbub of enthusiasm the Mercury crossed the line, winner.

Later, when the triumphant tumult in the Mercury camp had somewhat subsided, Stanton walked over to where Floyd was leaning against a column of unused tires.

"You've had twenty-four hours of me," he said abruptly. "How did it strike you?"

Floyd raised his candid gray eyes to the other's face, and in spite of exhaustion smiled with a gliding frankness and humor.

"If you want me to tell you—" he began.

"I have asked you."

"It struck me rather hard. But—I'd like you to like me as well as I do you."

"I need a mechanic to race with me for the rest of the season," Stanton gave brief information. "Do you want the position?"

Floyd straightened; even in the uncertain light the color could be seen to rise over his face.

"You'd take me, you?"

"Yes."

"You know—oh, I can tune up a motor. I understand my work, but for road racing—you know I can't crank your car or change a tire without help."

Stanton smiled grimly.

"I guess I am big enough to crank my own car," he quoted at him. "You have your nerve, I can't have a whining quitter to drive with me. I make you the offer; take or leave it. But remember, I am likely to break your neck."

"I'll chance that," answered Floyd, drawing a quick breath, and held out his slender hand. "I'll come."

The pact was made. In after time, Stanton came to wonder at its bald simplicity.

The assistant manager overtook Floyd, a little later, when that young mechanic, at least superficially cleaner and wrapped in a long dust coat, was leaving the training camp.

"See here, Floyd; you are going to race with Stanton right along, he says."

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Green agitated his foreboding head.

"You won't get along with him," he asserted darkly. "No one does. He is—you'll see. But you won't leave us on the edge of a race, will you? We are entered at Massachusetts, for week after next; you'll turn up on time, no matter what he does in between?"

"Surely, sir. I would not leave any one without notice, of course."

"Plenty of notice, Floyd. For you can't stand Stanton."

Stanton at that moment was in his seat, contemplating with cynical speculation a forest's box of fragrant green leaves lying on a chair. There was no card with these, but they were sprays of laurel. In fancy he saw the message, that had accompanied the orchids, the delicately engraved letters: Valerie Atherton Carlisle. Did she take him for a matinee idol, he scoffed; or, what did she want? Something, she wanted something of him. What? Only amusement, probably, he had not grown to manhood in New York city without learning that men and women in a certain set alleged their extreme wealth as a license, which freed them from the restraint of small conventionalities, and arrogantly took such diversion as the moment offered. And should he play the game to which she invited him, or decline it? Was it worth while? He was weary to exhaustion, but still he remained gazing at the box of laurel.

"You can't stand Stanton," Mr. Green was warning Floyd, by way of farewell.

And the mechanic was laughing.

CHAPTER IV.

The Road to Massachusetts.

Stanton and Floyd did not meet again for a fortnight. Their ways of life did not run parallel except when a race was due or talking place. The Mercury car had gone back to the factory for a thorough overhauling, after the twenty-four-hour grind, and it would have as soon occurred to Stanton to seek out his mechanic as his mechanic. Some drivers grow sentimentally attached to their cars, watching them fondly and jealously; he did not, consistently and temperamentally practical in outlook on the minor facts of life.

It was in the railroad depot, the morning he started for Massachusetts, that Stanton saw his mechanic for the first time since the Beach victory. Floyd was seated on one of the waiting-room benches, reading a magazine; in his gray suit and long overcoat, his head with its clustering brown curls bent over his book, he looked like a particularly delicate and pretty boy of eighteen, perhaps even a trifle effeminate. Remembering that cry from the midst of the perilous struggle with the Duplex: "Cut him closer; he's weakening! Cut him closer!" Stanton's lip curved in amused appreciation as he crossed to the absorbed reader.

"Good morning," he remarked.

Floyd glanced up, then rose with an exclamation and held out his hand, his ready color rising like a girl's under his fine, clear skin.

"Good morning; I didn't see you coming," he responded.

"No, you were reading. You are going—"

"To Lowell. The car is aboard, you know."

"I did not know," corrected Stanton with indifference. He was studying the other curiously, striving to analyze his stogular attractiveness and to find the reason why he, Stanton, should feel pleasure at the prospect of having this companion at his side, he, who had never formed friendships as most men did.

Floyd laughed, his grey eyes mischievous.

"Well, I know. We've been working all the week at the machine, and we've got her ticking like a watch. You don't bother about that—I suppose you don't have to, it's up to us. But if you will take her out on the track tomorrow, I'll tune her up to the last notch."

Suddenly Stanton put his finger on the thing he sought, one thing that made this mechanic different; and voiced his thought before considering wisdom.

"You're a different class, Floyd," he stated abruptly. "You're no workman, nor descendant of workmen."

Floyd stared, started at the brusque irrelevance, then melted into a straight, direct smile as he met the keen gaze.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Leaning Tower's Secret.

The Leaning Tower of Pisa is in no danger of falling. For over eight hundred years it has been inclined to one side, but it is said to be as safe today as when it was built. This is because the workmen found it settling to one side while they were erecting it, so the tower was made accordingly.

Stanton Was Leaning Across the Wheel Chatting With Them.

Stanton was leaning across the wheel, chatting with them, when his employer broke the thread of speech. "What is the matter with your mechanic, Stanton?" he queried.

Stanton turned, suddenly conscious of a light weight against his shoulder. With his movement, Floyd also started erect, their glances crossing.

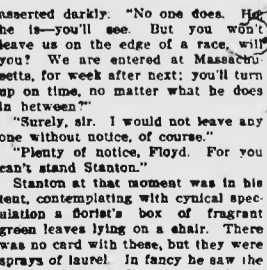

"Nothing," the driver briefly answered to the other's question. "Tired, perhaps; he has been working. As you were saying—"

But the glimpsed picture stared with Stanton; the fatigued young face against his arm, the drowsy, heavy-lidded eyes, flashing keenly awake, the involuntary expression of angry shame at the moment's weakness. And he would sooner have tied Floyd in his seat, after that, than have added the fine insult of offering to relieve him.

"Ready," some one called; the workmen scattered in every direction, and the Mercury was off once more.

"Car coming," warned the mechanic, as they shot from the paddock entrance on to the track. "Duplex ahead."

Floyd was himself again, watchfully scanning the road ahead, mechanically fearless.

BACK-YARD FARMER

Interesting Pointers on Gardening for the City Man or Suburbanite.

WHAT TO PLANT AND WHEN

Advice by an Expert on Agricultural Matters—When to Plant Vegetables—Raising Tomatoes—How to Grow Asparagus.

By PROF. JOHN WILLARD BOLTE.

ASPARAGUS—Put in the plants as early as possible, trenching deeply with well-rotted manure, covered with rich soil. Plant four inches deep, one foot apart, rows three feet apart.

BEANS—STRING BEANS can go into the ground about May 1st, or with the coming of settled weather. Light, dry, warm soil. Plant ½ inch apart, ½ inch deep, rows 18 inches.

WAX BEANS may be planted in the same way and about ten days later. Make successive plantings of both at intervals of ten days.

POLE AND LIMA BEANS—Plant four feet apart, rows four feet apart, ½ inch deep. Plant same in the latter part of May.

BETS—Early varieties may be planted before April 15th, if soil is ready, three to six inches apart, ½ inch deep, rows eighteen inches. Thin out later on. Plant every two weeks for four plantings. Plant early crops thicker than later ones, to overcome poor germination.

CABBAGE—Early cabbage about the middle of April to the 1st of May. Late cabbage the last part of May. Cut back leaves of late cabbage when transplanting. Set plants in rich earth, 1½ feet apart, rows 2 feet apart.

CARROTS—Start as soon as soil is ready, make very fine seed bed, rows two inches apart, ½ inch deep, rows 18 inches apart.

CAULIFLOWER—Set out when warm weather is assured, making three plantings at two week intervals, the last one a good fall variety like "Dry Weather." Plant two feet part, rows two feet part.

CELERY—Plant in seed bed early. Thin out and transplant to trenches when six inches high. Plant seed two inches apart, ½-inch deep, rows one foot apart.

CORN—Three plantings at ten day intervals from May 1st to June 1st. Plant in 3-foot hills, 5 seeds to the hill, about 2 inches deep. Place the earliest planting in a warm, protected location. Plant later seeds 4 inches deep. Thin to 3 plants to a hill and cultivate thoroughly.

CUCUMBERS—May 1st to 15th, in well fertilized and drained hills; 10 seeds to the hill, 1 inch deep. Hills 4 feet apart. Thin out after danger of bugs is past.

EGG PLANT—In late May or early June. Very rich ground, water in dry weather. Set plants two feet apart.

HEAD LETTUCE—May be set out at the same time, about a foot apart, but must be protected for a few days. Shade late plantings in hot, dry weather.

LETTUCE—Plant as soon as the ground is ready; plant in short rows and at intervals of ten days thereafter to get a constant supply. Sow thickly in very fine seed bed, ¼-inch deep, rows 15 inches apart.

MUSK AND WATER MELONS—Plant late in May in rich, light hills, well drained and well fertilized; 10 seeds to the hill, 1 inch deep, hills 6 feet apart. Protect from bugs and thin out when safe. Do not plant near cucumbers, squashes or any other vines.

ONION—Plant onion seeds as early as possible and thin out when necessary two inches apart, ½ inch deep, rows 15 inches apart. Plant onion plants about 4 inches apart about May 1st. Cut tops back 1-3 and roots back 2-3 when setting out.

PARSLEY—Plant early, soaking the seed for several hours in lukewarm water. Seed 4 inches apart, ¼-inch deep, rows 1 foot apart.

PEAS—First planting an early smooth variety, as soon as ground is ready; follow with wrinkled varieties at 10 day intervals until four or five plantings have been made. Plant in double rows, 8 inches between rows, and set brush or other supports between them. Plant 4 inches apart, 3 inches deep with 2 feet between outside rows.

PEPPER—Set out about June 1st, in very rich ground. Water during dry weather. Set plants 2 feet apart.

POTATOES—Plant early potatoes about May 1st. Late potatoes about June 1st. The early seed should be sprouted two weeks, then cut into pieces with two sprouts or eyes to each piece. Sow four inches deep, 1 foot by 2 feet apart. Late potatoes need not be sprouted. Have seed bed and bottom of narrow fine and loose. Do not let fresh manure touch the seed potatoes.

PUMPKIN—Middle of May. Handle as for cucumbers. Hills 6 feet apart, seed 1 inch deep.

RADISH—Sow early and at 10 day intervals up to May 15th. Globe radishes at first, yielding into long varieties later. Seeds 2 inches part, ½ inch deep, 1 foot apart.

SPINACH—One planting early will furnish a continuous crop of "greens." Use "New Zealand" and plant 8 inches apart, 1 inch deep and rows 18 inches apart.

SQUASH—Summer squash is planted about the middle of May and should be treated like cucumbers. Winter squash (Hubbard) should be planted about June 1st and handled in the same way.

SWISS CHARD—Handle like spinach, planting about May 1st. Do not cut leaves too close in harvesting.

TOMATO—Set out the latter part of May, using good strong plants. Protect from frost and stake up as soon as necessary. Keep suckers trimmed off. Set plants four feet apart in a sunny spot.

Growing Tomatoes.

The middle of May finds most of the tomato plants in the garden. The man who was wise enough to grow his own plants in a hot bed will have ripe fruit quite a long while before his neighbor, who has to depend upon half-dried, discouraged seedlings from a department store.

Still, by insisting upon getting the best plants you can buy, big sturdy fellows, with lots of leaves and roots full of water, you can do very well with purchased tomato plants. Do not secure them until you are all ready to plant and get them in the ground as soon as possible.

As usually handled, the amateur gardener gets a double crop of foliage and a half crop of ripe tomatoes. The fruit splits, rots at the ends and a large part of it fails to color up and ripen before frost catches it.

The purpose of this article is to tell how to avoid these troubles and secure twice as much ripe, sound fruit with no more trouble. It is a simple secret, but few seem to know it.

Tomatoes need a rich, deep, rather heavy soil, well fertilized. Muriate of potash, an excellent fertilizer, as is also steamed ground bone. Use a handful to each plant.

Spade and cultivate as for garden crop and drive in strong stakes about five feet long, placing them two feet by four feet. Set one plant four inches from the south side of each stake, covering the roots firmly and soaking the soil with water after setting.

Allow only three branches to grow on each plant, and tie them to the stake with strips of cloth. When they reach the top of the stake, prune them back. If a smaller quantity of the very finest and largest tomatoes are preferred, allow but one main stem to develop. Keep the branch ends clipped as soon as the plant has attained good size, and all of its energy will then go into making tomatoes.

Now comes the secret! Where a side branch leaves the main stem is a fork in which the fruit develops. In some places little shoots appear. Pinch out these shoots as fast as they grow and you cannot fail to get magnificent tomatoes. Do not plant one of the true varieties, but select a smooth, even, meaty type like Matchless, Stone, and many others of their kind.

Making an Asparagus Bed.

If you have a suitable patch of ground about 12 feet long by 6 or 8 feet wide, you can grow enough asparagus on it to supply a large family during the spring. This does not mean one or two meses that cost so much they taste like money, either. It means all you want to eat of one of the most delicious and healthful vegetables. Plant a bed this year and you can cut an excellent crop next spring. Of course you could get some this year, but it is safer to let it alone for a year so that the plants may get a good start.

Well drained, mellow, sandy loam is best for asparagus. It must be warm, rich and well drained. Heavy clay will not do. If your soil is heavy, your best plan will be to excavate your bed to a depth of 18 inches and fill in with loamy soil or a mixture of loam and sand.

Land that has been used for a garden is better than fresh soil. It must be spaded as deep as possible, preferably from 12 to 18 inches. Make the soil fine, but not necessarily as fine as a seed bed, except right around the roots. Do this the latter part of April or the first of May.

Next dig trenches or hills deep enough to bring the crown of the plants eight inches below the surface of the ground. Have these rows 12 to 18 inches apart and set the plants 12 inches apart in the rows. Cover them with a few inches of well packed earth and then put on stable manure until just the tip of the stalk is visible. Keep the patch hoed and fill the trenches in as the plant grows until the whole bed is level. Do not put manure directly about the roots.

Losses in the Manure.

One of the big leaks on many farms which are liable to be short from the standpoint of both soil humus and fertility is in the loss of a large per cent of the value of the liquid manures through careless handling.

The straw should be returned to the land that produced it, and there is no way of doing this that is so good as in the shape of bedding used generously for the definite purpose of absorbing the liquid manures. The soil is in great need of these two by-products and the good farm manager will see to it that both are returned to it with as little loss as possible.

Spreading the Droppings.

The droppings from the cattle will benefit the pasture more if they are spread or broken up with a spike tooth harrow with the teeth set well apart. This prevents the grass from being killed out and the weeds coming in where the droppings have laid

WHEN THE MIND FAILS

MAN WHO SUFFERED CALLS ATTENTION TO WRONG METHODS.

Prevailing Attitude Toward Insanity Ridiculous, if Not Disgracing, He Declares—Mental Disorders Should Be Looked To.

"In every line of mental research it is admitted that prevention is more important than cure—with the exception of mental diseases," says Clifford Whittingham Beers, who created a sensation a few years ago when, under the title A Mind That Found Itself, he published a record of his years of insanity and of his awakening from mental death. "Our scientific attitude toward diseases of the mind is truly amazing. We consider them as something unavoidable. We watch stupidly the disease running its course from a slight disturbance of mental processes until the first violent manifestations of insanity.

"If a man presents the slightest symptoms of pneumonia or even measles he receives immediate treatment of some kind. On the other hand, a patient who is suffering from disease of the mind, the most threatening calamity of life, must be so far advanced in the disease and so disordered in action or in speech as to satisfy a lay tribunal of the necessity of justification of the forcible deprivation of his liberty, must be told that he is 'insane,' must be 'adjudged insane' and committed by a court to an institution for the insane before he can receive the treatment best adapted to the restoration of his health.

"The public should be convinced that insanity is a disease like any other disease; people must be taught to seek intelligent advice promptly whenever something seems to be the matter with their nerves. Instead of concealing their fears for mere shame."

"Had I, for instance, at the age of eighteen, when I began to worry myself into a state of depression, had access to advice and information, and had I, as a result of an established and widespread interest in mental hygiene, sought such advice as a matter of course, as persons threatened with tuberculosis now seek the help and advice they need, I am confident that I should not have suffered the affliction of mental disorder. Though I took medicine for 'nerves,' I did not find the remedy I needed, which was a verbal corrective for thought and fears which were to prove my temporary undoing.

"It may take some time before a sick man is no more ashamed of calling on a physician for incipient insanity than for a cold in his head, but let us hope that time will arrive eventually. A campaign of education is sorely needed to dispel the superstitions still prevalent in the public mind as to the cause of insanity."

About Bagpipes.

The Bulgarian delegates would have been interested if they had heard before leaving that the Prince of Wales, was learning the bagpipes. For the pipes are the Bulgarian national instrument, as Sir Charles Elliot shows by a striking illustration. Until lately, at any rate, the servants who waited at the porte on the grand vizier were mutes, though not, as in former times, persons specially mutilated, but children born deaf and dumb. They used a language of signs, with a special gesture to describe the representative of each nation. To indicate the Bulgarian agent they imitated a man playing on the bagpipes. It was not the Bulgarians who invented the pipes, however. They are among the oldest of magical instruments. An ancient gem shows Apollo with them, and two instruments in the Book of Daniel were almost certainly bagpipes.—London Chronicle.

Score One for the Cook.

Young housewives obliged to practice strict economy will sympathize with the sad experience of a Washington woman.

When her husband returned home one evening he found her dissolved in tears, and careful questioning elicited the reason for her grief.

"Dan," said she, "every day this week I have stopped to look at a perfect love of a hat in Mme. Louie's window. Such a hat, Dan, such a beautiful hat! But the price—well, I wanted it the worst way, but just couldn't afford to buy it."

"Well, dear," began the husband recklessly, "we might manage to—"

"Thank you, Dan," interrupted the wife, "but there isn't any 'might' about it. I paid the cook this noon and what do you think? She marched right down herself and bought that hat!"—Lippincott's.

Left the Dean Chuckling.

The dean of the law department was very busy and rather cross. The telephone rang.

"Well, what is it?" he snapped.

"Is that the city gas works?" said a woman's soft voice.

"No, madam," roared the dean; "this is the University Law Department."

"Ah," she answered, in the sweetest of tones, "I didn't miss it so far, after all, did I?"

And the weary dean chuckled all afternoon.

Probably Not.

Wise—This is certainly a good cigar you've given me, old chap.

Gay—Great Jumbo! I bet I've given you the wrong one.

CONSTIPATION

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are unlike all other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods, they do not scour; they do not grip; they do not weaken; but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that passes these organs into healthy condition and corrects constipation. Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverishing it; they soothe an irritable stomach and all the secretions from food that it puts into it. Price 25 cents. All Druggists.

RECALLS LITERARY MYSTERY

Rev. Mr. Wolfe, Author of "Burial of Sir John Moore," Buried at Queenstown.

A literary mystery of a hundred years ago is recalled by the special centenary number, recently issued, of the Newry Telegraph, an Ulster tri-weekly. In its pages April 19, 1817, under the simple head of "Burial," appeared what Byron called, "the most perfect ode of the language." "The Burial of Sir John Moore," by Byron or Campbell, or any of the others to whom this poem was variously ascribed would doubtless have been proud to claim it. But the author was the obscure curate of Ballybeg, in Tyrone, Rev. Charles Wolfe, and the fame of the piece was but a posthumous fame for him. Not until his death, of consumption, in 1823, at the early age of thirty-two, did the authorship become known to the world. And Wolfe, who wrote much other verse of merit, is remembered only by that one poem, which sprang from the columns of a provincial newspaper to universal recognition in the big world of letters.—London Chronicle.

Municipal Golf Courses in England.

The parks committee of the Birmingham city council is considering the establishment of a municipal golf course, the proposed site being at Castle Bromwich.

Edinburgh, with six public courses, claims to have been the pioneer of municipal golf. London has public courses; Nottingham has two courses and Manchester has had one since 1811. Sunderland and Liverpool have similar schemes under consideration. Several seaside resorts include municipal golf among their attractions. Brighton and Bournemouth are instances. Yarmouth has a scheme in hand and Southampton has considered a similar proposal.—London Mail.

Thought He Had 'Em.

Farmer Brown—Hello, John! How you feelin'?

Farmer Jones—Poorly. I felt all right yesterday, but I kinder think today somethin's the matter with me. I feel some of the symptoms of a-c-t-i-c-a, l-u-m-b-a-g-o, d-y-s-p-e-p-s-i-a, r-i-n-g-w-o-m, br-on-ch-i-t-i-s and a few other sor-us ailments.

Farmer Brown—Du tell! What in th' name of Tophet did ye do last night?

Farmer Jones—W-y, I read th' new Farmers' almanac till near sp'ee-ee!

Point he Had Overlooked.

The story is told of a man who bought a gallon of gin to take home, and by way of a label wrote his name upon a pickup card which happened to be the seven of clubs, and tied it to the handle. His son, observing the jug, quietly remarked, "That's an awfully careless way to leave that liquor." "Why?" "Because some one might come along with the eight of clubs and take it."

Cowboys.

"I see Portuguese cowboys have been fighting with smugglers!"

"I thought all the cowboys in the world were working for moving-pict-ure outfits."—Denver, Republican.

STRENGTH

Without Overloading the Stomach.

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day.

Much depends on the start a man gets each day, as to how he may expect to accomplish the work of his day. He can't be alert, with a heavy, fried-meat-and-potatoes breakfast requiring a lot of vital energy to digest it.

A Calif. business man tried to eat some food combination that would not overload the stomach in the morning, but that would produce energy.

He writes:

"For years I was unable to eat a breakfast food that had sufficient enough to sustain a business man without overloading his stomach, causing indigestion and kindred ailments. "Being a very busy and also a very nervous man, I decided to give up breakfast altogether. But luckily I was induced to try Grape-Nuts.

"Since that morning I have been a new man; can work without tiring; my head is clear and my nerves strong and quiet.

"I find four teaspoonsful of Grape-Nuts with one of sugar and a small quantity of cold milk, is delicious in the cereal part of the morning meal, and invigorates me for the day's business." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the Grape-Nuts book, "The Road to Wellbeing," in plain "Thor's a Reason."

Have read the above letter? A very interesting story from those who have been troubled with indigestion, nervousness, etc., and still of course cannot eat.

WHEN THE MIND FAILS

MAN WHO SUFFERED CALLS ATTENTION TO WRONG METHODS.

Prevailing Attitude Toward Insanity Ridiculous, if Not Disgracing, He Declares—Mental Disorders Should Be Looked To.

"In every line of mental research it is admitted that prevention is more important than cure—with the exception of mental diseases," says Clifford Whittingham Beers, who created a sensation a few years ago when, under the title A Mind That Found Itself, he published a record of his years of insanity and of his awakening from mental death. "Our scientific attitude toward diseases of the mind is truly amazing. We consider them as something unavoidable. We watch stupidly the disease running its course from a slight disturbance of mental processes until the first violent manifestations of insanity.

"If a man presents the slightest symptoms of pneumonia or even measles he receives immediate treatment of some kind. On the other hand, a patient who is suffering from disease of the mind, the most threatening calamity of life, must be so far advanced in the disease and so disordered in action or in speech as to satisfy a lay tribunal of the necessity of justification of the forcible deprivation of his liberty, must be told that he is 'insane,' must be 'adjudged insane' and committed by a court to an institution for the insane before he can receive the treatment best adapted to the restoration of his health.

"The public should be convinced that insanity is a disease like any other disease; people must be taught to seek intelligent advice promptly whenever something seems to be the matter with their nerves. Instead of concealing their fears for mere shame."

"Had I, for instance, at the age of eighteen, when I began to worry myself into a state of depression, had access to advice and information, and had I, as a result of an established and widespread interest in mental hygiene, sought such advice as a matter of course, as persons threatened with tuberculosis now seek the help and advice they need, I am confident that I should not have suffered the affliction of mental disorder. Though I took medicine for 'nerves,' I did not find the remedy I needed, which was a verbal corrective for thought and fears which were to prove my temporary undoing.

"It may take some time before a sick man is no more ashamed of calling on a physician for incipient insanity than for a cold in his head, but let us hope that time will arrive eventually. A campaign of education is sorely needed to dispel the superstitions still prevalent in the public mind as to the cause of insanity."

About Bagpipes.

The Bulgarian delegates would have been interested if they had heard before leaving that the Prince of Wales, was learning the bagpipes. For the pipes are the Bulgarian national instrument, as Sir Charles Elliot shows by a striking illustration. Until lately, at any rate, the servants who waited at the porte on the grand vizier were mutes, though not, as in former times, persons specially mutilated, but children born deaf and dumb. They used a language of signs, with a special gesture to describe the representative of each nation. To indicate the Bulgarian agent they imitated a man playing on the bagpipes. It was not the Bulgarians who invented the pipes, however. They are among the oldest of magical instruments. An ancient gem shows Apollo with them, and two instruments in the Book of Daniel were almost certainly bagpipes.—London Chronicle.

Score One for the Cook.

Young housewives obliged to practice strict economy will sympathize with the sad experience of a Washington woman.

When her husband returned home one evening he found her dissolved in tears, and careful questioning elicited the reason for her grief.

"Dan," said she, "every day this week I have stopped to look at a perfect love of a hat in Mme. Louie's window. Such a hat, Dan, such a beautiful hat! But the price—well, I wanted it the worst way, but just couldn't afford to buy it."

"Well, dear," began the husband recklessly, "we might manage to—"

"Thank you, Dan," interrupted the wife, "but there isn't any 'might' about it. I paid the cook this noon and what do you think? She marched right down herself and bought that hat!"—Lippincott's.

Left the Dean Chuckling.

The dean of the law department was very busy and rather cross. The telephone rang.

"Well, what is it?" he snapped.

"Is that the city gas works?" said a woman's soft voice.

"No, madam," roared the dean; "this is the University Law Department."

"Ah," she answered, in the sweetest of tones, "I didn't miss it so far, after all, did I?"

And the weary dean chuckled all afternoon.

Probably Not.

Wise—This is certainly a good cigar you've given me, old chap.

Gay—Great Jumbo! I bet I've given you the wrong one.

CONSTIPATION

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are unlike all other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods, they do not scour; they do not grip; they do not weaken; but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that passes these organs into healthy condition and corrects constipation. Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverishing it; they soothe an irritable stomach and all the secretions from food that it puts into it. Price 25 cents. All Druggists.

RECALLS LITERARY MYSTERY

Rev. Mr. Wolfe, Author of "Burial of Sir John Moore," Buried at Queenstown.

A literary mystery of a hundred years ago is recalled by the special centenary number, recently issued, of the Newry Telegraph, an Ulster tri-weekly. In its pages April 19, 1817, under the simple head of "Burial," appeared what Byron called, "the most perfect ode of the language." "The Burial of Sir John Moore," by Byron or Campbell, or any of the others to whom this poem was variously ascribed would doubtless have been proud to claim it. But the author was the obscure curate of Ballybeg, in Tyrone, Rev. Charles Wolfe, and the fame of the piece was but a posthumous fame for him. Not until his death, of consumption, in 1823, at the early age of thirty-two, did the authorship become known to the world. And Wolfe, who wrote much other verse of merit, is remembered only by that one poem, which sprang from the columns of a provincial newspaper to universal recognition in the big world of letters.—London Chronicle.

Municipal Golf Courses in England.

The parks committee of the Birmingham city council is considering the establishment of a municipal golf course, the proposed site being at Castle Bromwich.

Edinburgh, with six public courses, claims to have been the pioneer of municipal golf. London has public courses; Nottingham has two courses and Manchester has had one since 1811. Sunderland and Liverpool have similar schemes under consideration. Several seaside resorts include municipal golf among their attractions. Brighton and Bournemouth are instances. Yarmouth has a scheme in hand and Southampton has considered a similar proposal.—London Mail.

Thought He Had 'Em.

Farmer Brown—Hello, John! How you feelin'?

Farmer Jones—Poorly. I felt all right yesterday, but I kinder think today somethin's the matter with me. I feel some of the symptoms of a-c-t-i-c-a, l-u-m-b-a-g-o, d-y-s-p-e-p-s-i-a, r-i-n-g-w-o-m, br-on-ch-i-t-i-s and a few other sor-us ailments.

Farmer Brown—Du tell! What in th' name of Tophet did ye do last night?

Farmer Jones—W-y, I read th' new Farmers' almanac till near sp'ee-ee!

Point he Had Overlooked.

The story is told of a man who bought a gallon of gin to take home, and by way of a label wrote his name upon a pickup card which happened to be the seven of clubs, and tied it to the handle. His son, observing the jug, quietly remarked, "That's an awfully careless way to leave that liquor." "Why?" "Because some one might come along with the eight of clubs and take it."

Cowboys.

"I see Portuguese cowboys have been fighting with smugglers!"

"I thought all the cowboys in the world were working for moving-pict-ure outfits."—Denver, Republican.

STRENGTH

Without Overloading the Stomach.

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day.

Much depends on the start a man gets each day, as to how he may expect to accomplish the work of his day. He can't be alert, with a heavy, fried-meat-and-potatoes breakfast requiring a lot of vital energy to digest it.

A Calif. business man tried to eat some food combination that would not overload the stomach in the morning, but that would produce energy.

He writes:

"For years I was unable to eat a breakfast food that had sufficient enough to sustain a business man without overloading his stomach, causing indigestion and kindred ailments. "Being a very busy and also a very nervous man, I decided to give up breakfast altogether. But luckily I was induced to try Grape-Nuts.

"Since that morning I

Opening - Announcement

NEW IMPLEMENT STORE

We desire to announce that our opening will take place

Saturday, March 22,

And at that time we will have on hand for your inspection a complete line of Farm Implements, Buggies Wagons, Etc.

A representative of the several different lines which we will carry will be on hand to demonstrate their goods.

Every farmer is cordially invited to come and inspect our lines. You will be well entertained.

GAYDE & FISHER

Warerooms and Office at H. J. Fisher's Blacksmith Shop, North Village-PLYMOUTH, MICH.

How Michigan Farmers Are Successfully Fighting Live Stock Diseases

If you are not doing something to rid your farm animals of the deadly stomach and intestinal worms you are simply Letting Down the Bars to hog cholera and all the other fatal diseases which have cost the farmers of this country over fifty millions of dollars the past year. YOU can't afford to run this risk. YOU can't afford not to take preventive measures. The best way of preventing these deadly plagues from getting a foothold among your stock is to keep every animal worm free and in the best possible condition.

Worms are the cause of 90 per cent of live stock losses. Thousands of Michigan farmers have learned this fact and by effectually striking at the cause have successfully won their fight. They have found "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." Read how they have stopped the loss and improved the value of their live stock.

"I have fed SAL-VET to all my sheep, hogs and pigs, and also to one of my most famous milk cows in my condition. The worms have been entirely exterminated. My sheep never looked so well as they do now. My hogs and pigs are all in the best of health. I have always been a feeder of worm feed, and ordinary conditions result in long stock in good health. I am well satisfied with the results obtained from SAL-VET. I have certainly improved to a marked degree. The condition of my stock is now such that I can sell them for a higher price than I could for some time. I have been feeding SAL-VET to my sheep, hogs, horses and cattle for some time, and feel that I would not hesitate to recommend it. It keeps all my stock in the best condition and in a high state of health, and since feeding your remedy I have seen no evidence of parasitic infection. I can confidently recommend SAL-VET to every stockman."—W. H. B. ANDERSON, Free North Second Bank, Grand Haven, Mich.

"We keep SAL-VET accessible to our sheep all the time and have found it very effective in keeping out worms, and the sheep in a generally healthy condition. We have also found it an excellent conditioner and worm cleaner for horses. The experience is that of many of the best farmers in this locality."—A. WOOD & SONS, Fur Lessor, M. Wood, Saline, Mich.

"Our horses are free from worms, and look sleek upon giving them SAL-VET. I feed it just as I do salt—just keep it before them constantly."—FRANK MANER, R. 2, White Cloud, Mich.

"Having thoroughly tested your 'SAL-VET,' I have found it to be exactly as you say it is. I feed it to hogs and cattle and never had better results in my life. Many hogs in the neighborhood died of cholera. My experience has been that SAL-VET works, and I can recommend it to all stockmen."—J. H. LINDENBACH, R. 2, Byron Center, Mich.

"We SAL-VET is so good, and so common, it does not seem to me to be worth mentioning. I want you to read me another year ago. I am sure that SAL-VET works. I have seen no evidence of parasitic infection. All my sheep, cows and horses are doing well. I can recommend SAL-VET to every stockman."—W. H. B. ANDERSON, Free North Second Bank, Grand Haven, Mich.

The Great Worm Destroyer and Live Stock Conditioner

Look Out for These Danger Signs

Coughing, rough coats, laggard steps, poor appetites and dull eyes. These are the common symptoms of worm infection and should disease break out in your neighborhood the chances are a hundred to one against you, and your entire herds may be swept away with a suddenness that will appal you. You can greatly lessen this danger from disease if not altogether avoid these heavy losses simply by letting your stock run on "Sal-Vet"—the cheapest and greatest worm destroyer as well as the best preventive of live stock diseases.

"Sal-Vet" is a medicated salt which works a wonderful change in all live stock. It first destroys and expels the deadly worms and gives nature a chance to put every animal you own in a healthy, vigorous condition. It is the best stock insurance you can get because it costs so little and does so much. For one-twelfth of a cent a day any hog or sheep can run to it freely and will doctor themselves. It costs only a trifle more for larger animals and requires no mixing, no dosing, no drenching, no starving—no bother at all. I prove all this or no pay.

Here is My Money-Back Trial Offer

Simply call at my "Sal-Vet" dealer's store and get enough "Sal-Vet" to last all your stock 60 days. Take it home with you and place it where all your farm animals can run to it freely. Then watch results. If "Sal-Vet" does not do what I claim—if it doesn't rid your stock of the deadly stomach and intestinal worms and prove entirely satisfactory TO YOU, simply notify the dealer and he will refund your money in full. You won't be out a single penny. I take all the risk. Remember, you get ALL your money back if you are not pleased. You certainly can't afford to risk the loss of a single animal when such a fair, square, liberal offer like this is made to you. You know your dealer—he accepts your word as to the results. You take no risk whatever.

STONEY R. FEEL, Pres. The S. R. Feil Co., Cleveland, Ohio

To Our Patrons: Get rid of the worms in your stock and watch your profits grow. "Sal-Vet" is giving wonderful satisfaction to our customers. We carry it in stock and will gladly arrange to let any farmer in this vicinity try it 60 days on Mr. Feil's liberal money-back offer. Come in and get a supply the next time you come to town. We guarantee "Sal-Vet" and back up every statement in this advertisement. You take no risk. You'll find it the cheapest worm-destroyer you ever used.

PICKNEY'S PHARMACY, PLYMOUTH, MICHIGAN.

In and Around Plymouth

The salaries of Northville employees of the government aggregate over $20,000.

Don T. Sayre, a South Lyon young man has been appointed a teacher in the Philippine service at a salary of $1,200 per year.

Pontiac has a new industry. The Pontiac Bridge and Boiler works.

The village council of Milford have raised the liquor license fee in that village from $250 to $500. There are two saloons there.

The annual St. Patrick's banquet at Milford took place last evening.

The steel ball factory at Chelsea has been sold to Ann Arbor parties and the plant will be moved to that city.

The twentieth annual May Festival will be held at Ann Arbor May 14 to 17 this year.

Dr. Jesse E. Wilson, a practicing physician of Rochester for 60 years is dead. He was the first president of that village and one of its foremost citizens. He was 84 years of age.

E. E. Ryan of Brighton, has received an appointment on the State Tax Commission.

E. M. Calkins has 17 white orphington pullets that he is rather proud of. During the month of January they laid 25 dozen eggs and during February 22 dozen. He thinks their record will be hard to beat. —South Lyon Herald.

William Tuttle sold a record breaking Holstein steer to Frank Leach, Wednesday. The animal was only two years old and weighed 1470 pounds, which is an average gain in weight of nearly two pounds for each day of its life. Local buyers say it is the heaviest two-year-old marketed here within their recollection. —Chelsea Tribune.

OBITUARY.

Martha Alderton was born in England May 25, 1847. She was married to Joseph Stanley Dec. 25, 1870, and together they started for America Jan. 11, 1871, coming directly to Plymouth and then driving to Salem, where they made their home until about four years ago when they moved to Plymouth. Mrs. Stanley united with the Baptist church about 25 years ago and has ever remained a faithful and consistent member, though her poor health prevented her attending church services for several years. Besides her loved husband, she leaves to mourn her departure, one son and two daughters. Deceased fell asleep in Jesus Wednesday morning, Feb. 26. Funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. W. Des Autels Saturday afternoon, Mar. 1st. Burial was at Riverside.

Thomas M. Kane was born in Maidstone, Canada, June 11, 1865, and departed this life Feb. 28, 1913 aged 47 years, 7 months and 17 days. His boyhood days were spent with his parents on the farm. When about 20 years of age, he came to Michigan and located near Salem. Dec. 21, 1893, he was united in marriage to Althea Warn of Salem, and since then, with the exception of a few years spent on the Geer farm, 7 miles west of Plymouth, has resided in Plymouth and Ann Arbor. Five years ago, he suffered from a sun-stroke and since then had been in very poor health. About 14 months ago, he went to California, thinking that a change in the climate might at least, partially restore his health, but from this journey little benefit was derived. Although a great sufferer, he bore his sufferings without a murmur, being always patient and cheerful. He leaves to mourn their loss a devoted wife who tenderly cared for him during the many months of his illness, four sisters and five brothers, besides a host of friends who on account of his honest and upright life had grown to honor and respect him. The funeral services were held at his late home at 1115 Lincoln avenue, Ann Arbor, and were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Stalkes. Interment at Forest Hill Cemetery.

LIVONIA CENTER.

We are enjoying a fine run of mud just now.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Landau visited at Wm. Garchow's Sunday.

John Mose, Sr. has been a great sufferer the past week and is now a very sick man.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith and three sons, also Mr. and Mrs. John Baze and children and Mrs. Dora Baze were Sunday visitors at C. F. Smith's.

H. C. Peck and family visited at Chas. Wolf's Tuesday.

Mr. Benjamin of Detroit, has purchased the Ed. Minkley fifty acres and is moving into Mr. Manks house across from the Union church.

Our esteemed friend and neighbor, James Kincaid was married to Miss Emma Schrader in Detroit Tuesday. Best wishes to them. They expect to be at his farm home here in a short time.

Now is the time to subscribe for the Mail. $1.00 per year.

ELM.

The youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trapp had an arm fractured last week and is under the care of Dr. Holcomb of Redford.

Mr. and Mrs. August Krumm entertained Mr. and Mrs. Geisler of Clarenceville last week Thursday.

Henry Fenington has sold his farm to his son-in-law, John Smith who has occupied it for several years.

Wedding bells are again ringing in this vicinity.

Chas. Wilson and Fred Lee went to Belleville Sunday.

A large crowd attended the masquerade ball at Burk's hall last Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wright won first prize for the prettiest costumes while Miss Ida McKinley and Will Downing carried away the honors for the best dancers on the floor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wilson called on Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hittman at Plymouth last Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hirschlieb called on the former's parents at Pikes Peak last Sunday.

Remember the Demonstration Day at Bentley's Bros. store, Saturday, March 15th. Big reduction on all goods for one day only. A box of axle grease given each customer free of charge. Hot coffee, lunches and music in the deal. Come and make us a call and use your chin music afterward.

Norman Wilson of Ann Arbor visited at Ira Wilson's several days this week.

You judge a man not by what he promises to do, but what he has done. That is the only true test. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judged by this standard has no superior. People everywhere speak of it in the highest terms of praise. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

PERRINSVILLE.

Wm. Schunk of Detroit, was seen on our streets last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rathburn of Detroit, spent last Sunday at the Meldrum farmstead.

Mrs. Sarah Herr and son John of Detroit, spent last Sunday at Geo. Barnes. Wm. Johnson is hauling the Detroit Creamery Co. milk to the Plymouth creamery.

Meldrum's three-piece orchestra will furnish the music for the masquerade at Penniman hall, Plymouth, Thursday evening, March 20th.

Mrs. Wm. Hirschlieb and daughter Lena spent last Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Minnie Pankow at Newburg.

C. V. Chambers and Joe Roach had a serious time one day last week, returning from Detroit with a load of building material. Ask Joe about it.

Edgar Caughell of Detroit, has rented Mrs. Sarah Herr's farm.

Mr. and Mrs. John Detloff of Stark, spent last Sunday with John Snyder and family.

STARK.

The sick are all on the gain.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Dean of this place and Ida Stoneburner and Mr. Fair of Northville, were guests at Rose Lawn, Sunday.

James Joy and family spent Sunday at John Rattenbury's.

Joe Maynard of Plymouth, spent Sunday at the home of his father, J. C. E. Maynard.

Mrs. Sarah Hoinington and family and Mrs. W. H. Coats spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harlow.

Will Coats spent Saturday in Wayne.

Adolph Mellow had a sale Monday and will soon move to Plymouth.

Hark! and hear wedding bells some night this week.

Willard Sherman's people of Perrinsville spent Monday at G. N. Dean's.

Mrs. Hoinington is spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. Ike Gunsolly at Plymouth.

There has been guide boards placed at every corner along the Plymouth road telling the name of each road.

School has been closed for a time on account of teacher and pupils having the measles.

C. E. Maynard spent Tuesday in Plymouth.

Chas. Mining has rented Spring Lake farm for this year.

Mildred Maynard is on the sick list.

John Pelkey has rented a little place in North Farmington, so will not move back to Stark as was talked. Mrs. Pelkey is better.

The Sum and Substance of being a subscriber to this paper is that you and your family become attached to it. The paper becomes a member of the family and its coming each week will be as welcome as the arrival of anyone that's dear.

It will keep you informed on the doings of the community and the bulletin of the neighborhood regularly provided will enable you to save many times the cost of the subscription.

ROYAL Baking Powder

is the greatest of modern-time helps to perfect cake and biscuit making. Makes home baking pleasant and profitable. It renders the food more digestible and guarantees it safe from alum and all adulterants.

TONQUISH.

Otto Stuhau and wife are moving from his father's farm to one of the Ford farms near Dearborn.

Henry Rowe made a business trip to Northville last Thursday.

George Gibson of Northville, visited his brother and sister in this neighborhood one day last week.

Mrs. C. B. Truesdell died at her home in Canton Sunday morning after a lingering illness. The funeral was held at Sheldon M. E. church Tuesday afternoon.

Herbert Warner was suddenly called home from Detroit Tuesday on account of the weather—maple sugar weather.

You can say goodbye to constipation with a clear conscience if you use Chamberlain's Tablets. Many have been permanently cured by their use. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

WEST PLYMOUTH.

Alfred Inpis left Tuesday for an extended visit with relatives in Canada, Mrs. Inpis accompanying him as far as Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Heehey have moved back to the farm.

Mrs. Emory Shook entertained a number of West Plymouth ladies Thursday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. J. J. Lucas.

Mrs. D. Murray visited Mrs. Will Pfeifer of Plymouth, Tuesday.

Miss Alice Willoughby of Northville, spent a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Smith.

Paul Becker returned home Tuesday after a long visit with relatives in Tyrone and Fenton. Mrs. Voyie Becker accompanied him home.

Everyone is having the measles.

D. W. Packard, Ed. Cook and D. Murray are tapping trees and preparing to make maple syrup.

Children are much more likely to contract the contagious diseases when they have colds. Whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and consumption are diseases that are often contracted when the child has a cold. That is why all medical authorities say beware of colds. For the quick cure of colds you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

NEWBURG.

Rev. Dutton's remarks along temperance last Sabbath were right to the point. Temperance people all over this broad land of ours are rejoicing over the fact that no wine will be served in the White House during President Wilson's administration.

Mrs. Reuben Barnes had the misfortune to fall as she was getting off the car in Plymouth last week Wednesday, hurting herself quite badly, all owing to the icy condition of the step. Mrs. Barnes is slowly recovering from her injuries. She has the sympathy of her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lungs of Lansing, are very happy as well as the grandparents over the advent of a baby girl in their home.

Guests entertained at the LeVan home last week were as follows: Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rogers of Detroit; Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Merryloes and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Snyder; Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Farley, Friday, Mrs. Sarah Hoinington and daughter Hattie and little Verne.

S. S. township officers are preparing for a S. S. convention to be held in Newburg, April 13th. There is great need of enthusiasm in Sunday-school work in this community. We have a large day school, why not a large Sunday-school?

Aunt Desire Stark, who has been quite ill is somewhat better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. James LeVan attended the funeral of Mrs. LeVan's cousin, Wilfred Thompson Monday. The funeral services were held in the People's church where Mr. and Mrs. LeVan attended church in their younger days.

We are glad to note that Mrs. Shild's is somewhat better at this writing, also Mrs. J. Bennett is slowly improving.

Mrs. R. LeVan and Mrs. C. E. Ryder spent Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. Pickett and daughter Edith.

Leigh Ryder returned from Florida last Saturday. He says it is a fine place to spend the winter, but don't think much of the soil.

Bring your eggs to Rauch's.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of coughs, colds and croup. It can be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

You Know Us

We are in business right here where you live. You are an acquaintance, neighbor or a friend of ours. This money-back, if-not-satisfied offer should prove the sincerity of our claims.

When we say we believe we have the best laxative and back up our statement with our unqualified promise to return without question or formality the money paid us for it, if it does not prove entirely satisfactory to you, we believe we are entitled to your confidence.

Our business success and prestige depend upon your confidence in us. We know we must secure and hold your confidence in order to get and keep your patronage. Therefore, we would not dare make this offer if we were not positively certain that we can prove our claims for relieve constipation. They act to overcome the cause of constipation. They tend to eliminate the cause of sick headache, biliousness, bad breath, nervousness and other ailments attendant upon inactive bowels.

Make Us Prove This

We want you to come to our store and act as judge of the quality of our goods. Use a few or use up the entire box. Then, if you are not entirely satisfied, come back and we will promptly return the money you paid us for them.

You promise nothing—you sign nothing—you obligate yourself to us in no way whatever. We stand your word.

Don't you now believe that Resall Ordinies are worthy of a trial? Could any offer be more fair?

Try Them at Our Risk

We particularly recommend Resall Ordinies for children, aged persons and for delicate people.

Resall Ordinies come in two packages: 12 boxes, 10¢; 24 tablets, 25¢; 50 tablets, 50¢. Usual dose one tablet.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Resall Ordinies are not sold by all drug stores. You can buy Resall Ordinies only at The Resall Stores.

You can buy Resall Ordinies in this community only at our stores:

BEYER PHARMACY

Northside

PLYMOUTH The Resall Store MICHIGAN

There is a Resall Store in every town and city in the United States, Canada and Cuba. There is a Resall Store in every town and city in the United States, Canada and Cuba. There is a Resall Store in every town and city in the United States, Canada and Cuba. The Resall Stores are America's Greatest Drug Stores.