"He is an engineer, and it is his duty to see that the Chilean division of the Trans-Andean railroad is kept free from and and snow sildes.

"That doesn't sound so bad, does it, because you can have no conception of what it means unless you have seen the country. The Trans-Andean railroad is a third-rail system in the strictest sense of the word. That third rail is located between the narrow gauge strips of steel on which the cars travel, and is a cogged affair into which the cars travel, and is a cogged affair into which the cars travel, and is a cogged affair into which the cars travel, and is a cogged affair into which the cars travel, and is a cogged affair into which the chile and the strip of the locomotive silp, giving sufficient grip to pall the heavy trains up the almost perpendicular course.

"Even then there was sufficient discomfort. The rain came down in torrents throughout the entire trip. The roofs to the coaches leaked like a sieve, and some of the passengers who were fortunate enough to possess such an article found it expedient to sit under an umbrella. The dining car had a couple of inches of water on the floor and we found it necessary to wear rubbers when going in to our meals.

"No respectable woman of the country is to be found in the innumerable cafes of an evening, for the reason that she would not be safe from insult. The only place of amusement where the young women of the city can go is the operahouse, and this has only a brief season.

"As an example of up-to-date construction and equipment the railroad which runs from Santos to Sao Paulo, in Brazil, commands attention. It is doubtful if there is anything more complete anywhere one earth. The road is only 25 miles long, but so far as I could discover the only thing they overlooked in their endeavors to outstrip all others was to gild the telegraph poles and to use gold wires.

The road impressed me so that I made some ers was to glid the triegraph poies and to use goud wires.

"The road impressed me so that I made some inquiries, and discovered the reason for this lavish expenditure. It seems that one of the terms under which the concession was granted was that all profits above 8 per cent. were to go to the government.

In common with many of the prophets of Bible times, Abijah, the man who placed Jereboam over the ten tribes of ferael, was a rural man, W. 4. Lippincott writes in the Kansas industrialist. Elijah, who outwitted the brilliant and acheming Queen Jezebel, went about preaching in his shepherd's mantel and carrying the shepherd's staff, as though proud of his country origin. Of Elisha, his successor, we are told that at the time when Elijah offered him a job as his helper he was plowing with 12 yoke of oxen. The fact that this is recorded we would interpret to mean that he was considered a skillful teamster.

When Saul first comes to our attention in the Old Testament, he was out on the range looking for his father's assess that had broken away from the picket or escaped the wrangler. Later we find him coming after the herd out of the field. David was a red headed farm boy called from his keeping the sheep to have Judge Samuel pass compliments upon him to his father and point out the great possibilities he saw in the boy.

The problems which confronted the people of the Old Testament and the questions involved in current legislation have just as modern a ring an which shelp had solved and which we have not was that of co-operation among farmers. "It almost tempts a fellow to play the detective."

The great jewel robbery was the biggest sensation that Fairmont had ever known. A great many wealthy people lived near the pretty lake adjoining the town, and the robbers had sought a grand field for operations. They seemed to have vanished completely, however, leaving no clew behind them. Then two evenings later a new excitement set the village all agog. Bartley had been found wounded and insensible in a waste piece of ground about a mile from the village. It was Saturday night, and Worth, apparently, had been on his way from the neighboring town where he worked, bent on his regular visit to the Winston family, when attacked He had been struck on the head with some heavy, blunt instrument. The motive of the assault was a mystery for although his clothing had been ransacked and torn, his money and desert and the surrounding countries. They cooperated just as the sturdy pioneers of our owr early colonial days co-operated in the use of the stockade—because they had to. And the trend of the times seems to be that the farmers of today are co-operating more and more for the same reason—because they find they have to.

It's a case of self-preservation now as much as it was in Bible or early colonial times. The enemy is not the same, save in the characteristic of being a common enemy. Then the necessity was military; now it is economic and social, but it just as real.

And there are those who have studied this questien deeply, who feel very cartain that the time

He has agreed to turn them over to me and have me verify them through the printed description for $1,000. I think it's a good specu-

The south for years was rich hunting ground for the lever of the picturesque, but changes both numerous and rapid have occurred there in recent years. The old negre types of the cotton fields are no more. The log cahina, the pine groves, eves the stately plannation mansions, recalling the flowery days of "befor do wah," are passing away. Mae was overloyed to see him convalescing, and told him so. She was solicitous as to his over-exerting himself; learned that he was bent on some specific mission, and insisted on acting as guard and helper.

For the first time she learned from his lips the story of his recent mishap. It seemed that while nearing the spot they had now reached he had seen a light among some bushes. As Worth investigated, he observed a man take from the hollow of a dead tree a box. He opened it with a chuckle. Evidently it had been hid den there some time before. The somet Worth caught a dazzling giltter he guessed that they must be the stolen diamonds.

"I don't know what possessed me," he told his fair companion, "but some limpulse made me seize the box. I ran. There were wild shouts, and the first man and two others just arrived, probably to share the hidden plunder, pursued me. Just about this rugsed spot I stumbled and fell. The box flew far from my hands. The men came up, dealt me a stunning blow and—this is the spot where it all occurred." "They probably regained the box and fled, theorized Mae.

"Probably that," refoned Worth, but he began looking about the spot and poking in the grass with his cane. Mae asked him what he was looking for. She flushed quickly when he told her that it was for the locket wrenched from his watch chain in his fall, which contained her picture.

lives in the iron, coal and copper mines; the railronds claimed three victims, electricity was responsible for two deaths, the remainder of the fatal accidents occurring in various other industries throughout the state. Seventy-one workmen received permanent injuries, against 56 of the same classification last month, sive of whom lost an eye, one a foot, one a leg, several lost two or more fingers and the remainder of those in the permanent injury class suffered amputations of fingers. Nine hundred and sixty were temporarily disabled due to fractures, contusions, lacerations, sprains, etc., the lumber industries sending in the greatest number of reports, closely followed by the automobile and allted manufacturers; 87 were temporarily disabled through injuries in coal mines, 60 in the copper mines and 11 in the coal regions; steam transportation reported 83 men temparorily injured.

During the past five months 3,500,000 bushels of wheat were marketed in Michigan, according to the monthy crop report issued by Secretary of State Martindale. In answer to the question "has wheat during December suffered injury from any cause," 129 crop correspondents throughout the tate answered in the affirmative, while 297 correspondents report no damage.

state government has increased enormously in the past thirteen years is shown by figures compelled by Auditor General Fuller which set forth the fact that it cost $3,470,333.16 in 1912

Fact that it cost $3,470,333.16 in 1912 than in 1960.

In 1960 the expense of the state government was $3,992,845.88. The figures for the other years including 1913 are as follows: $3,986,190.59 in 1901: $4,244,897.96 in 1902: $4,518,295.23 in 1903; $5,126,256.82 in 1904: $5,124,685.65 in 1905; $5,126,625.22 in 1904: $5,124,685.65 in 1906; $5,124,685.65 in 1907: $6,390,685.81 in 1908: $6,390,665.55 in 1909: $6,320,420.70 in 1910: $4,320,420.79 in 1911: $6,701,808.55 in 1912; $7,485,179.04 in 1912.

Regardless of the outcome of the attack on the validity of the state auto tax law, now pending before the supreme court, owners of electric automobiles "should worry," according to D. H. Mills, deputy secretary of state. The owners of electrics are peying a tax ranging from 75 cents to 12 on the high-priced machines for a 1914 tag. If the law is upheid the license fee-will stand. If it is knocked out, the state will have no way of retrieving the tags and compelling the payment of a tax commensurate with the value of the machines. Realizing this, the owners of electrics are not delaying their application for licenses.

not delaying their application for li-censes.

Up to January 6, Secretary of State Martindale collected $91,061 on the sale of 1914 license tags. This re-presents about 6,000 machines, or less than one-tenth of the number in the state.

An interesting case was argued be fore the supreme court recently in which the court is asked to decide whether an employe, burt on his way to punch a time clock during the noon hour, is entitled to compensation. Nov. 15. 1912, Adelbert Rayner, of Grand Rapids, was running to get to the time clock before the noon lunch hour when he collided with a fellow low rwman, and injuries sustained resulted in death.

The industrial accident board gave the widow 300 week's compensation and the Sign Furniture Co. appealed to the supreme court. The furniture firm contended that Rayner's death was not the result of the accident and that it did not arise out of and in the course of his employment and that he was guilty of intentional and wilful misconduct.

Whether there is a question of law

Through the initiative, a committee of state grangers will submit the proposed toanage tax and the Torrens system of land transfers to the roters of the state. The committee, which meets in Laneing every day to prepare the plans for the submission, is composed of Burr Lincoln, deputy food commissioner; T. H. McNaughton and N. P. Hall, of Dismondial. They will be assisted by James Helme, state dairy and food commissioner, and S. H. Clink, a Muskagon attorney.

Woman Captures Two Burgiars.

Battle Creek, Mich.—Noticing her front door unlocked when ahe returned from down town Saturday night, Mrs. George Battomley, tiptoed to a bureau drawer picked my a 32 calibre revolver and proceeded to search the house.

Going down cellar her efforts at "burglar catching" were rewarded, for after turning on the electric light she saw two men crouching down in a corner. She ordered them upstairs at the point of her gun and called for the neighbors, who summoned the police.

The men gave their names as Harold Simpson, aged 35, and William McKee, 30, both of Detroit. Mrs. Battomley is 55 years old.

MICHIGAN HAPPENINGS

Petoskey.—Instead of the Elka's state convention being held in Petoskey June 25 to 27, as has been repeatedly announced, the big meeting will convene here June 23, 24 and 25. The mistake in dates was made both by the state association and the local lodge.

Icoal lodge.

Grand Rapids.—Everett Kawackernack, who disappeared, went into a restaurant in South Bend, ind., and read a newspaper account of his death from exposure. He immediately wired his wife that he was very much alive, and would return home in a few Albion.—Seven hundred and fifty dollars is a tolerably high price for five harnyard fowls, but that is what E. C. Zoeller recently refused for a pen of five White Plymouth Recks. His Plymouth Rocks have taken first prize at every show in which they have been shown.

Centerville.-The St. Joseph coun

Alpena.—Herman Rude, a farmer of Sanborn towaship, this county, may die as the result of ligheries received when he was attached by a monstrose hog. The hog saught him by the calf of the leg, inflicting severe cuts and brothe his leg. There is danger of bleed posoning.

Menominee.—Buried for two henre under tone of sawdast in the sawdust burser of the Menominee Chumber company's plant here, August Bergfeldt of Marinette fought his way to the top of the burner and shewed for help, falling enconactous as & arrived. He is in a serious condition from shock.

Saginaw—Two years ago hast fall a traveling man whose hone is in Chicago was stricken with smallpox ring the epidemic here. The sales man was removed to the deteation hospital where he recovered. City Controller George C. Warren received a $25 check from him. In his letter he thanked the city for the care, and expressed regret that he was unable relimburse the city before this.

Detroit.—Armed with a heavy cane and a make-shift knife. Theodoro Stratton, twenty-six years old, entered the City Rescue mission and declared he was going to kill every "devil" in the place. He drove the 100 persons attending the services to the front of the hall, and held them there with threats of violence until an officer sneaked up behind him and threw him to the floor.

Hillsdale.—Ben Hinkley was near-and right arm broken. He leaves a young widow and one child in Union-City.

Corunns.—Members of the influential churches of Owosso have learned with surprise and a touch of dismay, that every church in the city with the exception of the Congregational and the Corunna Avenue Methodist Episcopal churches, is advertised on the state tax list for sale. As churches are exempted from general taxation, officials of these advertised are scurrying around to find out what specific tax has been overlooked.

Saginaw.—While testifying in a law suit in Judge Gage's division of the circuit court Rudolph Histormister, seventy years old, a real estate dealer from St. Charles.

WANTS FEDERAL INVESTIGATION

RESOLUTION IS PRESENTED IN SENATE ASKING STRIKE PROBE.

MICHIGAN SENATURE SUCH ACTION.

Lively Tilt Follo plution for Government vestigation of Copper Strike.

Washington—Thorough investigation of strike conditions in the copper mines in the Calumet, Hancock and South Range districts of Michigan was proposed in a resolution Monday by Senator Ashurst of Arizons. It would direct the senate education and labor committee to ascertais:
Relations between employers and employes, so far as they relate to the present troubles; the justice and reasonableness of a minimum wage and other demands of the strikers; original isvestments and profits of the companies; weather employers or employes have declined arbitration;
whether peconage is maintained or access to postoffices is prevented;
whether persons have been punished in violation of law and whether there is a combination in the mining district in restraint of trade.

The presentation of the resolution caused a lively tilt between Senator Ashurst and Townsend.

The Michigan senator charged that political expediency prompted, the action and that such an investigation would be a voluntary insult to the courts of his state.

The Arizons senator replied that if the conditions in his state were similar he would welcome the light.

Mary, 3, Walks Down Town, and Rides in Big Auto

DETROIT, MICH.—When a little girl gets new shoes it's quite the thing for her to want to show them off. That's Mary Williams' abiding belief, as expressed by her the other day. Anyway, it was the shoes that started it all, and somebody or something must be held responsible.

and somebody or something must be held responsible.

Those shoes caused a wonderful experience to come into Mary's life, wonderful for a girl of three years, and of course her mother was almost distraught with anxiety. For more than three hours Mary was among the missing. She and the new shoes went a-walking, and the whole combination, somehow or other, got to the city, in that wonderful land of enchantment known to every child as "down town."

Of course, Mary was bewildered. She had been down town before, but always she had felt the guiding hand of her mother, and she had been through the worst places. This was her first lone-hand invasion, and it frightened her.

The roar of traffic sounded in her ears. Autored calls and she looked in vain for a friendly smile or a life fame, and then followed the most worderful.
