That Boy and Girl of Yours

What kind of men and women do you want them to be? Is there any one who would not say: "We want them to become good, honest men and women." You do not want them to be "goody-goody," but you do not want them to be bad, or even morally careless. There is a big responsibility, as well as a joy and pride, in being the parents of healthy, ambitious children.

If you wish to promote the chances for the future welfare of your children, you must protect them to-day. "Safety first" for the boys and girls. Their chums are their most influential teachers, more influential than their instructors in school; and sometimes than the life in the home. Companions of childhood help to mould the character for manhood.

DO YOU KNOW THIS FACT? The percentage is small of those who go wrong after having attended Sunday-school during the character forming period. The large percentage of those who go wrong have received little or no training during childhood. The Sunday-school helps in this training. Bring your boy and girl to Sunday-school next Sunday (don't send them—bring them) and we will try to make you all feel it is a place where you are welcome and worth your while to go. We want you and your family.

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured.

There is nothing sicker, disgusting than a chronic case of stomach trouble. It is not surprising that many suffer for years with such a trouble, and are not cured until they are nearly dead.

BIBLE STUDENTS.
Services again at usual March 8th. Afternoon, berean study on "Tabernacle Shadows." Evening, a discourse entitled, "Was Man Created for Heaven?" The first part of the church? University teach man with his 6th sense to the contrary? Is it not the very way of the human nature to cling to earth and earthly things until they are actually forced out of his grasp by the most heartless and terrible of all enemies to mankind, death? Do we not employ the best physicians, the best and most up-to-date hospitals, etc., etc., to retain the breath of life in these elements of clay until the last fighting chance is gone? Spiritually speaking, was not man made lord of earth (not an angel of heaven)? Would not the original part have been given to the earth had not sin entered? Would not their progeny have been unimpaird and thus given a right to life everlasting upon earth? Would there have been the curse, the blight death at all? Was not Jesus, the Logos, the Redeemer of the church? Do we not know then could any before Him be of this class? Yet were not thousands of humans born before this time? Were not the Christians of His followers first called Christians at Antioch? Granting cheerfully that all Christians of all denominations and sects will go to heaven, is there not a vast majority still who need a blessing of some kind? Are all Christians? Have all renounced sin? Have all accepted Christ as their personal redeemer? Have all then made a full consecration of every talent, power and aim? Is not this the great apostles' teaching? Do we not expect to go to heaven? Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, March 11, at Bro. Welch's. All are welcome. No collection.

OBITUARY.

Joanna M. Tomlinson was born in Mendon, Monroe County, N. Y., on Sept. 29th, 1831, and died at Plymouth, Mich., Feb. 25, 1914 at the age of 82. On July 4th, 1848, she was married to John Whitebeck of Mendon. She was the mother of three children, Presto B., with whom she has resided in this place for the past thirty years, Florence A., who died at Ashland, Wis., and Carrie E., who died at Fargo, N. Dakota. Besides her son, she is survived by four grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Some forty years since she united with the Episcopal church, and was a charter member of Plymouth Chapter O. E. S. During her years of active life, she was ever ready to assist and care for the afflicted and sympathize with the unfortunate. We shall miss our mother and oft look toward that vacant chair.

Ezra Rotnour, son of Francis Rotnour was born June 27th, 1843 and departed this life February 25th, 1914, at the age of 71 years, 7 months and 28 days. He was of the very few who have the uncommon experience of having been born and raised on the farm of his father, who was one of the very first settlers to locate in the vicinity of Plymouth and is remembered as being the first man to swing an ax where the town now stands. Ezra Rotnour lived with a pleasant smile and kind word for everybody and was loved and honored by all who knew him. He leaves to mourn their loss a wife, one son, Ezra of Plymouth, one brother, Elijah of Weeping Water, Neb., and scores of friends.

W. C. T. U.
Twenty ladies were present at the meeting held February 26, at the home of Mrs. Wildey. At the conclusion of the business meeting a very interesting program of readings was furnished by the leaders, Mesdames Sayles and Griffith. The topics were, "Slavery in the Philippines," "The White Slave Traffic," "Follies of a Substitute for the Saloon." The President called attention to a book by Maude Glasner, entitled, "Questions and Answers on Eugenics." A number of books were sold to those present, and anyone else desiring copies can obtain them of Mrs. Voorhies.

The next meeting, March 12, occurs at the home of Mrs. Mary Lyon. The topics for that day are, "A Sinless Man," "The Lure of the City," "Current Events." Leaders, Mesdames Campbell and Showers.

The special correspondent of the Chicago Record Herald in Chester, Pa., sends to this paper the following significant item: Believing the efficiency of a working man is accelerated by total abstinence from liquor, the Philadelphia Quarry Company has offered a ten per cent bonus with wages of men who sign an agreement to abstain from drinking altogether. Nearly all of the 300 employed have signed the agreement.—Supp. of Press.

An Explanation
I wish to make an explanation in regard to the street commissioner and the money he received for his services. The report shows that he drew $2,410.72, but a part of the season the men working on the streets were paid every Saturday, but instead of making out checks for each day, the whole amount was paid in a check to him, he paying the men. The amount he received for his work as street commissioner was $222.65. For teams and drivers $308.57, making a total of $1,121.63.

It's The Difference That Counts

There's a difference in the way motor cars run; a difference in appearance; a difference in where they can go and where they can't, and a difference in the cost of operation. It's this difference the careful buyer wants to know about.

A Buick car is built in the Buick shops and means better material and better workmanship at a minimum of cost. A combination which gives the Buick owner the most for his money.

A Buick owner is the most satisfied owner in the world. The 1914 line is Delco started and ranges from $950 to $1,985, f. o. b. Flint. No matter what you're driving, we can make you better pleased.

The Forty Year Test
An article must have exceptional merit to survive for a period of forty years. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was first offered to the public in 1872. From a small beginning it has come in favor and popularity until it has attained a world wide reputation. You will find nothing better for a cough or cold. Try it and you will understand why it is a favorite after a period of more than forty years. It not only gives relief, it cures. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

Woolly Lamb, Pins and Needles.
Do you know that a useful accesa woolly toy lamb about five inches long? Encircle the length of its body with a inch-wide ribbon divided into pockets for thimbles, paper of needles, buttons and 'y' scissors. Hang a tiny cassidy around the animal's neck and Russian, Russian and Classes.

There is a very middle class in Russia; a family in either of the peasantry—although this term has now a very wide inclusion—of the aristocracy. And at court no one has preference according to inherited rank, but according to official position in the government.

CHAPTER I.
A Messenger From the North.
I stood alone on the banks of a small stream gazing down into the clear water, my thought centering upon the journey homeward, when the bushes opposite parted, and a man stood on the bank scarcely a dozen steps away, with only the stream between us. It was time and place for caution, for suspicion of strangers, and my rifle came forward in instant readiness, my heart throbbing with started surprise. He held up both hands, his own weapon resting on the ground.
"Not so careless, boy," he called across cheerfully. "There is no war, so far as I know, between white men." His easy tone, as well as his words, jared on me, yet I lowered the rifle.
"I am no boy," I retorted, "as though you can discover before we are through our acquaintance."

"No? Well, by my eyesight you look it, although in faith you are surely big enough for a grown man. Yours is the first white face I've seen since I left the Shawnee towns—a weary journey."

"The Shawnee towns!" I echoed, staring at him in fresh wonderment.
"You come from beyond? From the Illinois?"
He stroked his beard.
"A longer journey than that even," he acknowledged slowly. "I am from Sandusky, by way of Vincennes."

friend, if the message be so important, Hamilton did not dispatch an officer?" He had no choice. None volunteered for the task, and I was the selection of the tribes. You question me as though you were Harmar himself; and more, you have the look of it.
You're not a woodsman, you say; then I make a guess—you're a soldier."

"I am not overly fond of white men who turn Indian," I said coldly. "However I'll see you safe to the fort gates if you play no forest tricks on the way. And now you might tell me who it is I am to companion with."

CHAPTER II.
With General Harmar.
That will do, sergeant," I called out, the moment I could gain breath.
"Here now, don't hit that man! Surround this fellow and take him inside the stockade. Never mind me; I'll take care of myself."

"Let Go of the Gun Barrel, You Young Fool!" gings of leather, dirty and soiled by long use, yet exhibiting a bit of foppery in decoration which made me recall the French voyageurs of the north and their gay ribbons. At his belt dangled hunting knife and toma-hawk, but these, with the rifle, constituted his whole display of weapons.
Even before he had obtained the level on which I stood I had conceived a dislike for the fellow, a desire to have done with further acquaintanceship.
With feet planted firmly on the edge of the grass he scanned me from head to foot with unwinking eyes, that sought vainly to smile.

from across the river, men who had ranged the northern forests, and to whom the name of Girty meant much.
Let one of these look upon the man and his life would scarce be worth the snap of a finger. Not that I cared, except as his safe passage involved my own word.

"I understand that, boy," he said, not unkindly. "Your fighting was square enough, and no harm done. I like the way you went at it, but I reckon you don't quite sense how old Kentuckians feel about renegades of that stripe. Talnt natural you should, for there ain't been no Injun war to amount to anything since you come to this country. But I've seen that greasy devil in paint an' feather-ers; so has Evans here, an' these yer young fellows know some of the dirt he's done. He's led war parties against us, an' killed our neighbors.
That shunk stood by an' let 'em burn of man Roddy at the stake, an' never raised a hand. It's a hellish fact, true, sir! An' he only laughed at Kenton when the vedakins made him run the skinned alive!"

"Then Make Your Report, Sir." few hours rapidly, but clearly, and there was no interruption until I ceased to speak.
"Who did you say the man was?"
"Simon Girty, sir. That was the name he gave me, and Brady recognized him at once."

"I've heard all that," I replied when he stopped, his eyes blazing angrily.
"But two wrongs never made a right, him. He came here voluntarily as a messenger. The tribes are in council at Sandusky and sent him. That is why I stood in his defense against you.
We must learn what word he brings.
If he were killed on such a mission every Indian in the northwest would feel called upon to avenge his death.
It would mean raids and warfare the whole length of the Ohio; it would mean the murder of women and children; the burning of homes, and all the horrors of Indian warfare for years to come. There is only a fringe of white settlers on this side of the river, Brady, and a mere handful of soldiers to defend them. We cannot afford to have war, we are not ready."

"I gripped the barrel of his gun, pressing my way between him and the others behind.
"Whatever his name," I said sternly, "this is not your affair. The fellow comes with message from Hamilton, and has my pledge of safe guidance.
Stand back now, and let us pass."

London.—The British government's view that no immediate action could be taken by it in connection with the deadlock over the investigation into the death at Juarez of Wm. S. Benton was made quite plain Tuesday by Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary.

Washington.—Customs receipts for the entire United States for February fell off slightly more than $10,000,000, compared with the same month of 1913. This is by far the most marked discrepancy in such receipts from the months of 1913 that has been noticed since the new tariff became law. All receipts for the current month of February amounted to $48,638,857, compared to $54,803,419 in February, 1913.

ERUPTION ON ANKLE BURNED

Kingsville, Mo.—My trouble began eighteen years ago. Nearly half of the time there were running sores around my ankle; sometimes it would be two years at a time before they were healed. There were many nights I did not sleep because of the great suffering. The sores were deep running ones and so sore that I could not bear for anything to touch them.
They would burn all the time and sting like a lot of bees were confined around my ankle. I could not bear to scratch it, it was always so sensitive to the touch. I could not let my clothes touch it. The skin was very red. I made what I called a cap out of white felt, blotting paper and soft white cloth to hold it in shape. This I wore night and day.

I tried many remedies for most of the eighteen years with no effect.
Last summer I used some Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The very first time I used Cuticura Soap an Ointment I gained relief; they relieved the pain right then. It was three months from the time I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment until the sores were entirely healed. I have not been troubled since and my ankle seems perfectly well." (Signed) Mrs.
Charles E. Brooke, Oct. 23, 1912.

Mr. W. D. Smith, Ethel, Ky., writes:
"I have been using Dodd's Kidney Pills for ten or twelve years and they have done me a great deal of good. I do not think I would be alive today if it were not for Dodd's Kidney Pills. I strained my back

ago, which left it very weak. I was troubled with indig-

Pills cured me of that and the Kidney Trouble. I take Dodd's Kidney Pills now to keep from having backache. I am 77 years old and a farmer. You are at liberty to publish this testimonial, and you may use my picture in connection with it." Correspondence: Mr.
