CHILDREN'S DAY

Children's Day has become one of the festival Shadays of the year. The church has had her Saints' days and All Saints' Day, all in memory of the dead. Now we have a better festival day in which we think of and honor the saints that are to be. Some of the benefits of observing Children's Day are these:

FIRST: It interests the children. It helps them to feel that they have a place in the regard and life of the church. This is of great value.

SECOND: It interests the parents. It helps to disarm prejudice and win to an appreciative regard for the church those who are anxious for the welfare of their children.

THIRD: It awakens the interest of the church in the Sunday School. It lifts and corrects her ideals respecting the importance of the children, and of the church's provision for their religious nurture.

This day is observed in the wonderful month of June when all nature is open and alive and mankind is turning also toward the sun. We are going to observe this day with appropriate exercises by our children next Sunday evening.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

10 a. m.—Regular Quarterly Communion.
7 p. m.—Children's Day Exercises.

"Come one, come all, your children bring,
With smiling face, flowing curls,
And join with us in glad array
To celebrate our Children's Day!
Bring father, mother, baby, friend,
And by your presence gladness lend.

Come join in ripling song and rhyme,
And make for all a joyous time,
For on next Sunday, bright and fair,
Our songs of praise must fill the air!
We'll look for you, whatever the weather,
On Children's Day we meet together!

The KEY to Opportunity is through a Bank Book

MANY a man has been held down when Opportunity knocked loudly at his door, just because he had not the means to carry out her commands.

Many a genius has been compelled to step aside and watch some other man, inferior in intellect and culture, march on ahead, just because he had saved his money.

Take possession of that key today—insert it into a bank book and open an account at this bank. Then, when the Opportunity comes to you, you will be ready to meet it.

The Plymouth United Savings Bank

We Have Just Received a Car Load of Ohio Valley Rake Bar Hay ...Loaders...

These loaders have given the best satisfaction, due to the simplicity of construction, as the drive is direct on both sides and the mechanism is so arranged as to give an even, steady motion to the rake bars, should it be necessary to turn in either direction. The bars have long continuous motion and loads the hay very gently but firmly and will not crumble or break dry hay. The loader is easily handled in the field and may be coupled to or from the wagon without leaving the load. The material used in this loader is carefully selected being light, yet strong, so as to withstand years of wear and tear and all kinds of ground.

A Chance for the Boys and Girls

The Wayne County Farmers' Institute society offers the following prizes for corn grown by boys or girls under seventeen years of age, during the season of 1914: First, gold watch; second, silver watch; third, gold stick pin. Two other suitable prizes. There will also be a suitable prize given to the boy or girl bringing to the county round-up the six largest oat heads. The seed to be used in the corn contest shall be thoroughbred seed from the best crop that has been grown in your section. The variety does not matter so long as it is known to be a standard and of high yielding qualities. "It must be yellow dent." The corn must be grown where it separated from other growing corn. At time of tasseling of stalks and setting of ears the stalks not producing ears shall either be removed or detasseled before the pollen begins to fall. Contestants will bring their corn to the county round-up institute to be judged there. All persons contending for prizes must send their name and address to the secretary on or before the 1st of July, 1914. They shall also keep a correct account of time of planting, hoeing, cultivating, husking and the yield. All of which must be furnished to the secretary at the county round-up.

Country's Heroes Are Honored

Another Memorial Day has come and gone and the oldest inhabitant cannot remember a more perfect one. The sun shone brilliantly and the air was neither too warm or too cool, and in perfect accord with the spirit of the occasion. The members of Eddy Post met at the council rooms at 9 o'clock and marched to Kellogg Park, where headed by the Plymouth band they returned to the opera house where the exercises of the day took place. There were only twenty-four veterans in the marching column and it brings to our minds how fast the ranks of the "boys in blue" are thinning as each Memorial day succeeds the other, and that only a few more years will witness the last roll call and joined their fallen comrades.

"On fame's eternal camping ground their silent tents are spread,
And glory guards with solemn rounds the bivouac of the dead."
They have marched on with proud majestic tread
To their station up in heaven, the Grand Army of the Dead."

The opera house presented a very pretty appearance, being artistically decorated with flags and bunting. The decorations were in charge of H. J. Green, who is deserving of much credit for his work along this line.

Prof. W. N. Isbell acted as chairman of the day. The program opened with a selection by the Plymouth band which was followed by the invocation by Rev. Joseph Dutton. H. J. Green then read "General Logan's Proclamation to the Grand Army of the Republic." Then followed several flag songs, dialogues, and recitations by the pupils of our public schools. Every number was exceedingly well rendered and reflected great credit upon the boys and girls who took part. Miss Florence Sheffield gave Lincoln's Address at Gettysburg in a most excellent manner. Then followed the address of the day by Rev. B. F. Farber. Mr. Farber's address was one of the best that has ever been given in Plymouth on a similar occasion, and the speaker held the closest attention of his large audience throughout.

"The Message of Memorial Day," was the subject of his theme. He paid an eloquent tribute to the veterans who took part in that great struggle of '61 to '65. Also to the noble women who stayed at home while their fathers, husbands and brothers went to the front to defend their country's flag, and the great sacrifices they made. The speaker dwelt at some length on the importance of insulating the minds of the coming generation that the duty of observing Memorial Day would soon devolve upon the boys and girls of today, and that this beautiful custom of honoring the men who fought for the preservation of the Union should never be allowed to pass unobserved in the years to come. It was a masterly effort and could not help but have made a lasting impression on those who heard it. The exercises closed with another selection by the band and the benediction by Rev. Dutton.

Mrs. Geo. Hix and daughters Clarence and Olive of Redford, and Mrs. Minnie Johnson of Detroit, visited Saturday with the former's son, Emory Hix and wife.

The members of the Bridge Club and their husbands were very pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Cook at a pot luck luncheon last Tuesday afternoon.

Plymouth Conductor Killed at Howell

Arthur B. Estep, a conductor on a Pere Marquette freight was killed at Howell Wednesday forenoon, when he slipped and fell from his train, which was under way. He struck on his head and was so badly cut and crushed that he lived only a few minutes after the accident. Mr. Estep has been a resident of Plymouth for several years, being in the employ of the Pere Marquette railroad company. The remains were brought here Wednesday afternoon. A short service will be held at his late residence in north village this (Friday) afternoon at 1 o'clock. The remains will be taken on the afternoon train to Ionia where the interment will take place. The funeral services and burial will be in charge of the Elks Lodge of Ionia. The deceased was a member of Anna Arbor Lodge of this city. He was married by his wife and three small children. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

Boy Scout Exhibit

The Boy Scouts of Plymouth, are to give an exhibition of their work and work in the opera house next Tuesday evening, June 9th, at 8 o'clock. There will be a demonstration of what is required of a boy to become a Boy Scout, then some of the work and recreation in which he engages after his entrance into the organization. It is desired that parents come to see what the movement means and the aim it strives to realize. Business men and all those interested in boys should attend this exhibition. If you will but attend there will be satisfactory demonstration that the Boy Scouts is anything but a military organization. Place is at the very center of it. The proceeds of this exhibition go into a fund that provides for a camping trip for the boys at the close of school.

Why Not?

Some of our neighboring towns are agitating a movement whereby an effort will be made to get all the business men to close their places of business one afternoon each week during the hot season, say from 1 o'clock or noon to 6 o'clock. There are very few farmers who can find time to come to town during these hours at this time of the year. This would give our business men and their clerks an opportunity for a weekly afternoon off to enjoy whatever form of amusement they may desire. It has been suggested that several ball games might be arranged with the business men of neighboring towns. This is a splendid idea and some interesting games could be pulled off. A picnic for our business men, their families and clerks could be arranged, very easily and a most pleasant afternoon could be passed. Let's get together and all agree to have a half holiday. Who will start the movement in Plymouth?

The council held a busy session last Monday evening. A full report of the proceedings will be found in the supplement in this week's Mail. Read it.

"What's the Good Going to Church?"

We are very largely creatures of habit. Our habits are good or bad friends. The habit of pursuing the good everywhere is most valuable, hence the habit of church going is one worthy of being cultivated. There can be no higher dream of living, than the dream of how to get into right relation with things, thoughts, man and God. A habit of making the most that is possible out of life here, because men do not understand their relationship to other men and to the wonderful and intricate world about them. They quarrel and fight, shedding others blood in war. The Christian church is an institution to develop between man and man the best elements in human nature. The Christian church is the only organization that stands prominently for the development. It is the only organization that appeals for the development. It is the only organization that appeals for the ideal in our human life. The individual who permits his days to go by without acquiring the habit of associating with his fellow men in the work of this organization, is truly allowing his own best nature to be dimmed. We should find the place where we are most contented, which appeals to the best within us and then give with earnestness our work and worship to that cause.

All Are Welcome to this Service.
