Dance to the lilting tunes of the New Edison

The New Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph is a source of never-ending joy in the home. Its mellow tone, full in volume, makes it delightful for dancing. Just throw back the rug, start one of the many tuneful, lilting, popular melodies which the great library of Edison records contains and dance to its catchy measure. The New Edison brightens the home—no other present means of recreation. You will never grow tired of the New Edison, because it is distinctly a real musical instrument. No need for change.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde"

Have you read this book—Stevenson's masterpiece?
If you have you still remember the thrill it gave you.
Have you ever seen the play based on this work?
If you have you have not forgotten the play of your emotions during its presentation.
Have you considered the splendid truth underneath the plot of this wonderful story?
If you have its lessons continue to instruct you.
If you have not you need to have its message brought to your attention.
Next Sunday evening the pastor of this church speaks on this subject. He will endeavor to point out the great message it brings to men.

A Community Council May Be Organized Here

Some twenty citizens assembled in the village hall Tuesday evening to learn something about the American Civic Institute, whose headquarters are in New York, with a branch office in Detroit. A gentleman representing the institute was present and gave an informal talk as to the purposes and objects of the institute, at the conclusion of which he asked those present to join in forming a community council in Plymouth. Two dollars is required as a membership fee which goes to the head office. In return, if a council is formed here, the institute agrees to send a lecturer here once a month for twelve months to tell the people something about how to make a better, bigger, busier town and also to educate them along other lines. The local council pays expenses of such lecturer.

The speaker stated community councils had been organized at Marine City, St. Clair, Wyandotte and one is now in process of formation at Wayne. He asked that a committee be appointed to get in touch with these places and ascertain how the people there look upon its feasibility and benefits derived. The committee consists of W. J. Burrows, F. D. Schrader and George Richwine. They were present at a meeting held in Wayne last evening. A meeting of citizens will be called later, but in the meantime a representative of the institute will canvass the village for local council membership.

Another Civil War Veteran Passes Away

In the death of J. C. Peterans, which occurred last Friday morning at the family home just northeast of the village, Plymouth loses one of her well known and highly esteemed citizens, and another veteran of the civil war has answered the last roll call. Mr. Peterans was a man who was honest and upright in all his dealings and had a host of friends. The funeral was held from his late home Monday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Joseph Dutton conducting the services. There was a large attendance of neighbors and friends. The members of Eddy Post, No. 231, attended the services in a body.

The floral offerings were many and beautiful. A large American flag was draped at the head of the casket which was the regimental headquarters flag of the 18th Michigan Infantry, to which Mr. Peterans belonged. The flag was not a regimental flag that was carried on the march or on the field of battle, but a flag that floated over the commanding officer's tent, where he was in camp. It is more than fifty years old and has been under fire on several occasions. At the close of the war the flag was presented to Lieutenant Charles Salter, who saved the flag from being captured at Gaines' Mills, June 27, 1862, in 1897, Lieutenant Salter died and it was given to Major R. V. Jeklin for safe keeping. October 6, 1906, it was left with the late George C. Peterans and since his death J. C. Peterans has been its custodian.

The interment took place in Riverside cemetery, the G. A. R. taking part in the committal service at the grave. John C. Peterans was born in Plymouth, Michigan, Feb. 9, 1840, and departed this life Nov. 5, 1915. He was a twin brother of the late George C. Peterans, who died March 17, 1911. Mr. Peterans had been in failing health for nearly two years, having been confined to his home for the past two months. He bore his suffering very patiently. He was a member of Eddy Post, No. 231, G. A. R., and during his sickness spoke very much of his comrades. At the age of nine years, Mr. Peterans moved with his parents to Cincinnati, Ohio, remaining there about one year. He then returned to Plymouth, where he lived most of his life, with the exception of a few years spent near Caro, Tuscola county, on Sept. 16, 1861, he enlisted in Co. F, 16th Michigan Infantry for three years. On October 26, 1862, he was discharged on surgeon's certificate of disability, at Antietam, Maryland. On July 2, 1863, he married Hester A. Smith of Plymouth. To this union were born five children, two sons, George and William, having died in infancy. He leaves to mourn their loss, besides his widow and three daughters, three brothers, Henry and Emanuel of Caro, and Charles D. of Mt. Pleasant; two sisters Mrs. Christina Ingersoll of Caro, and Amelia Peterans of Cleveland, Ohio, also several other relatives and a host of friends.

The civic committee of the Woman's Literary Club of this village have secured the services of Mr. C. M. Carson, a prominent business man of Detroit, Mich., to give a heart to heart talk to the pupils of the Plymouth High school on Thursday, Nov. 18th, at 2:30 o'clock in the school building. Mr. Carson is much interested in the girls and boys of our country. We believe his talk has a message for the parents of our school children; and we therefore solicit the attendance of all parents and others, who may be interested in the vital question he has to present. There will be no charge for this speaker, and no collection will be taken. Mr. Carson gives freely of his services.—By request of the chairman of civic committee, Woman's Literary Club.

Will Give Lecture to High School Pupils

O'Donnell-Kidd

At the Methodist parsonage in Plymouth, on Saturday evening, Nov. 6th, Miss Mabel Kidd of Northville, was united in marriage to Roy O'Donnell of Flint. Rev. Joseph Dutton, pastor, read the marriage service. The young couple will live in Flint, where the groom follows the occupation of machinist.

What the Taxes Are Going to Be

We give below the amount of taxes that have been spread upon the assessment roll for collection in Plymouth township for 1915: Town tax, $3,420; state tax, $7,333.43; county tax, $4,920.18; highway repair, $500.57; school tax, $14,761.98. The total assessed valuation is $2,690,565. The rate will be about $16 per thousand valuation in the country and little less in the village.

Frederick Ramsey

Miss Marjorie Ramsey, a teacher in the Plymouth schools, was united in marriage to J. T. Frederick, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ramsey, in Redford, Saturday. Mr. Frederick is a machinist employed at the Daisy factory and is a young man highly esteemed by all who know him. Mrs. Frederick, although she has been an instructor in our public schools but a short time, is very popular with her pupils and has made many friends in the village during that time. The young couple will make their home in Plymouth, and have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy married life.

That New White House Bride

Practically everybody feels almost personally interested in the kind of woman, who, as President Wilson's bride, is soon to be the first lady of the land. We are publishing in this issue an excellent character sketch of Mrs. Norman Galt, the White House mistress-to-be.

WHITE HOUSE BRIDE

Mrs. Galt is a Woman of manifold Interests.

Will Not Follow Precedents in Wedding Ceremony—Society Breathes Easter Over Resumption of White House Functions.

Washington.—Twice before presidents of the United States have taken out themselves wives while in their high office. It is safe to say that Woodrow Wilson and the winsome Edith Bolling Galt will follow neither of the two precedents set.

President John Tyler evidently distrusted his public. Two years after the death of his first wife in 1844, he came to New York, and while the people were still under the impression that his wedding to Miss Julia Gardiner of New York was several weeks off, they learned suddenly that the chief executive had led his bride to the altar in the Church of the Ascension. It was almost an elopement.

There was a similar lack of warning, though not quite so extreme, when President Grover Cleveland married Frances Folsom, probably the most beautiful of all the brides of the White House, in 1886. The engagement was published two weeks before the day when the ceremony actually took place; but the day and the hour were not announced until about 48 hours before the arrival of the bride-elect and her mother in the capital. They had just come from several months in Europe.

The guests at the Cleveland wedding numbered fewer than forty. The only officials present were the cabinet and the president's private secretary. The scene was set in the blue room. Those in confidence of Mrs. Galt here believe she will arrange everything for a fine old Virginia wedding, not an unwise affair, but on the other hand nothing hurried or ill-considered.

Those who have visited the Galt home in Pennsylvania avenue agree that the future "first lady of the land" is a queen of hostesses and a marvel of foresight and graceful tact.

All in all, Washington society has learned of the president's coming marriage with a feeling akin to relief. The capital is a distinctly less lively and gay affair with no White House social season to set the pace.

With Mrs. Galt at the head of the president's establishment, Washington's great hostesses will breathe easier. She has never figured large on the society pages of the newspapers but she has a large circle of friends and these agree she can be depended upon as a worthy successor of a long line of gracious presidents' wives.

All Washington winter functions are arranged so as not to interfere with White House engagements. For this reason no other invitations can go out until the White House schedule is known.

The second Mrs. Wilson is an attractive dresser and she may well set the fashion for women of her age.

When walking about Washington Mrs. Galt is seen in a white serge-tailored suit, the jacket decorated in military fashion in white silk braid, white kid low shoes, white silk hosiery and a small black velvet hat.

For a woman of about forty years Mrs. Galt is strikingly handsome. She has dark eyes and wavy dark hair, splendid teeth, a peach bloom complexion and regular features. It is when she smiles, however, that she is irresistible.

Her exceedingly warm, sympathetic nature makes those who have the honor of entering her home immediately at ease and she has the faculty of the great French dames of causing those conversing with her to feel they have never before been so brilliant.

The president is not a poor man, but it is probable that Mrs. Galt will bring him a fortune greater than his own. Her husband is understood to have left her about $250,000. As her expenses have never been large, this has been increased considerably. She owns the century-old Galt jewelry store in Washington, which two of her brothers run for her.

Mrs. Galt is a woman of manifold interests. Her home is full of good books, which she reads with her music the long winter evenings. She is fond of the theater. She drives her own electric automobile about Washington.

NOW TAKE UP BEADS

Indian Women Devote the Winter to Fancy Work.

Passing of Season of Feasts and Dancing Enables Squaws to Devote Time to Making Indian Trappings.

Thomas, Okla.—Now that the Cheyenne social season has ended with the close of summer the women of the tribes have more leisure for making and decoration of moccasins and other Indian trappings. Their children are at school, their homes are stationary and dances and feasts infrequent.

Dealers in beadwork have learned that they get best results by supplying the Indian woman with all her materials and then paying for the work when finished. In this way an expert beader will receive better pay than she might be able to do if she had to get, tan and cut hides for herself.

The design for beadwork is often agreed upon beforehand, as well. In this way the Indian is saved from decision and the dealer can be sure he will get the designs and sizes which have been found to suit the markets. Moreover, this prevents the low in-steps which are invariably found in moccasins made for Indian wear.

The Indian has worn heelless footwear for so many generations that his instep is not as high as that of most civilized men, and the result is that, if left to themselves, the moccasin makers turn out footwear that few white people can wear.

But for all this the pattern, making and beaded design are genuine "Indian" in every respect, and have been carefully copied from old models. The present system probably has done a great deal to preserve old Indian patterns, which might have been forgotten or changed if left unstandardized.

ASKS U. S. TO FIND MOTHER

Indian Woman Has Not Seen or Heard From Her Parent in Thirteen Years.

Kansas City, Mo.—An Indian woman about twenty-four years old with a child almost eleven years old was in the federal employment office recently seeking aid in finding her mother from whom she has not heard in thirteen years.

The woman, who says her name is Juanita Myers, says her husband died a few years ago, leaving an estate in Chicago of $28,000, but that she has been unable to collect any part of it. Her child, she says, is with relatives in Chicago.

IS SAVED BY WOODEN LEG

Bear, When Surprised, Claws Horseback Rider's Artificial Limb.

Sunbury, Pa.—John Davidson, a Catawissa mountain farmer, who lives near the town of that name, says he is glad he has a wooden leg, for it saved him serious hurts in a battle with a bear.

Davidson says he was riding horseback along the Susquehanna, which skirts dense mountain growths at that point, when he saw a black bear fishing in the river. It would dive down and come up with a fish in its mouth. Angered by his approach, Davidson dropped a fish and gave chase, but Davidson drew his revolver and fired. He missed, and the animal came on after him and bit and clawed at his wooden leg.

He fired again, and then a freight train approached on a railroad near by. This, together with the tooting of the locomotive whistle, frightened the bear and it dropped to its feet and ambled off into the woods. The farmer exhibited a torn pair of trousers and lacerated wooden leg to his friends as proof of the truth of his story.

Honey in Court. Butler, Mo.—For weeks a swarm of bees has been noticed around the cupola of the Bates county courthouse. The county court ordered the veteran janitor, Fleetwood Thomas, to investigate. He found the bees had deposited about 500 pounds of honey. He took it to the grocery stores and realized about $75 from the sale.

It is remarkable with what deftness and speed an expert can cover a pair of buckskin moccasins, using only a thin strand of sinew and a sharp awl. The Indian woman has been adept at this work for years upon years, and her best work is easily distinguished from the cheap and irregular work of factories.

The art work of Cheyenne women and Cheyenne men is quite different. The man's art is realistic and is intended to represent things as they are. He devoted his attention to painting tepees, shields and buffalo robes, and these pictures are never twice the same.

The women, on the other hand, employ unchanging geometrical designs, squares, circles, triangles and lines. Flowering lines and flower patterns are utterly unknown to the women of the plains tribes, and whenever seen should be regarded with suspicion by the collector, as it is more than probable they came from Germany.

In reading the designs on a moccasin one can usually say that the triangles are tepees if they stand upright round the sole. If not, and especially if they are pointed toward some other figure, they stand for arrowheads.

Every Indian design means something and sometimes the colors have a second significance, quite independent of the design. A square with triangles pointing toward it represents a buffalo attack by hunters with arrows. Without the arrowheads about it a square is usually meant for a star. Diamonds stand for lakes.

Sometimes moccasins were made with a bunch of fringes a foot long at the heel. These were intended to smooth over the tracks by the wearer, so that anyone following him might be unable to know who had passed. Of course they also were decorated, especially when the wearer was mounted.

As time goes on and buckskin becomes scarcer the makers of moccasins will have to turn more and more to other kinds of leather, if they do not have to give up making them altogether.

Butterflies on the Wing. Dewey, Okla.—Millions of butterflies, presenting a kaleidoscopic spectacle of colors, flew for hours toward the south over this city recently. The butterflies flew at an average height of 100 feet.

Killed 400-Pound Bear.

Macon, Ga.—The hide of a huge bear weighing over 400 pounds, killed in the Ocmulgee swamp, near Phillips, is being proudly exhibited to his friends by Oscar Paul, a seventeen-year-old lad living in Bullards.

Medcoe on Brakes. Bedford, Ind.—When the northbound Monon accommodation arrived here a half-grown black cat was found on the end of a brake beam. The porter excitedly hustled the cat from the beam, regarding it as a hoodoo for the train.

Amazing Rise. "Some men have the commercial instinct highly developed." "For example?" "Well, there's Tom Jones, who used to go to school with me. He started with very little capital and went into the chicken feed business." "Yes, and now?" "He's a dealer in elephant fodder."

Soon Forgotten. "It is remarkable how soon a man is forgotten after he is dead." "And also when he ceases to advertise."

Appropriate Gift. "How could old man Smith afford to give his daughter so many stocks for a wedding present?" "I guess they came from his 'wed brides' speculations." A boy thinks when he reaches the truth that lies at the bottom of a well never gets in the milk.

Happy is the home where Red Cross Ball Blue is used. Sure to please. All grocers. Adv. Many a good man who condemns a dinner secretly envies him.

Out of Sorts

THAT IS, something is wrong with baby, but we can't tell just what it is. All mothers recognize the term by the lassitude, weakness, loss of appetite, inclination to sleep, heavy breathing, and lack of interest shown by baby. These are the symptoms of sickness. It may be fever, congestion, worms, croup, diphtheria, or scarlatina. Do not lose a minute. Give the child Castoria. It will start the digestive organs into operation, open the pores of the skin, carry off the fecal matter, and drive away the threatened sickness.

Castoria always bears the signature of J. C. Ayer & Co.

CALLED FOR MORE SECURITY

Baggage Carried by United States Senator Did Not Satisfy Colored "Overseer" of Hotel.

Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas tells this one on himself: "I had an appointment to speak at a town in eastern Kansas on a Saturday, and I arrived on a late train the night before, carrying nothing but a small handbag. I went to a hotel near the depot. There was no one on duty at the hour, except the night porter, and he was acting as porter, clerk and general overseer. I registered and he showed me to a room; but in a few minutes he came back and said: "Boss, my 'struction is, when a gemman haven't any baggage to collect in advance." "Why, I've got baggage," I replied, pointing to the little grip. "I know, sir, boss," he said; "but you've stayed too long on that already."

A Tight Squeeze. "New shoes, eh? Pretty nifty. They must have cost you at least ten dollars. Do they pinch your feet?" "No, but they pinched my week's salary." And sometimes love's young dream dies of old age.

Bigger Work Less Effort. A man well fed can accomplish more with less effort than one improperly nourished. That's just common sense. For the best nourishment of body and brain, thousands now-a-days use Grape-Nuts and Cream. Made of wheat and malted barley, Grape-Nuts food supplies all the rich nutrients of the grain, including their vital mineral salts necessary for building vigorous bodies and active brains. A ration of Grape-Nuts and cream, along with other food, insures complete nourishment. "There's a Reason" Sold by Grocers everywhere.

Mrs. Ned Lincoln of Detroit, and Mrs. Geo. Peterhans last Monday attended the funeral of their uncle, Chris Peterhans.

About twenty friends gave Forest Gorton a pleasant birthday surprise at his home on Forest avenue last Tuesday evening. Cards were the entertainment, after which light refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hillmer of Detroit, visited the former's father, Wm. Hillmer, last Sunday. Wm. Hillmer expects to leave next week for California, where he will spend the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Richard Benton.

Mrs. Ellen Thomas passed away at her home at Waterford last Sunday evening. Mrs. Thomas had been in failing health for several years and her death was not wholly unexpected by her friends. She is survived by her husband, Calvin Thomas and six children, Mrs. Lucy Perkins of Pontiac; Ira Thomas of Detroit; Jesse Thomas of Newburg, Mrs. Myrtle Steinable, Mrs. Adeline Nairn and Edgar Thomas, who reside here; two sisters, Mrs. Steven Hall of Lawton, and Mrs. Lewis Cable of this place, and three brothers, John Jewell of Pontiac, Chas. Jewell of Detroit, and Jesse Jewell of Plymouth. The funeral services were held from her late residence Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 10, at 2 o'clock, at the Waterford cemetery. The family have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Mrs. Adeline Rider, aged eighty-seven years, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Al Smith, in north village last Wednesday night. Mrs. Rider has been in poor health for some time on account of her declining years. The remains will be taken to Salem where the funeral will occur Saturday afternoon. Interment in the Walker cemetery.

B. J. Havershaw, who has been superintendent of the municipal lighting plant for twelve years, or ever since the plant was built was given notice Monday by the chairman of the electric light committee, Geo. H. Robinson, that his services would terminate Nov. 15. Upon receipt of the notice Mr. Havershaw tendered his resignation to take effect that same day at six o'clock, which was accepted. Difficulty over the hiring of help, we understand, was the cause of the change by the committee. Mr. Havershaw has always taken a keen interest in the lighting plant and under his able management he has seen it grow from one patron to over five hundred. At the present time Chas. LAMENT ABSENCE OF GENIUS

Frenchman Wonder That Great War Has Not Produced Literary Man of Great Ability.

That the epoch 1914-15 has not produced a single genius in France is made the occasion for comment by the French journal, Le Cri de Paris.

"In fact," says the Cri, "it appears that the stars in our literary heavens have been growing pale for some time. But the time has produced an astonishing, almost miraculous phenomenon. Certain works already ancient, of which the authors are dead, have suddenly become noted as incomparable, which before were not considered so beautiful. It is the war that all at once has revealed their splendor, and today they evoke universal enthusiasm. One may count them upon the fingers, for there are but four of them: A poem, a piece of music, a sculpture and a painting.

"The poem is the hymn of Victor Hugo, 'The Devoted Ones Who Died for Their Country.' Few French knew it before the war; now everyone knows it by heart, or pretends to know it. The piece of music is 'The Marseillaise.' The young people imagined it was a rittournelle, a mere flourish. They have just found that it is a masterpiece. The sculpture is the 'Marseillaise' that Rude cut upon one of the door jams of the arch of triumph. The painting is a panel by Puvis de Chavannes, in the Pantheon, 'St. Genevieve Watching Over Paris.' So in the midst of the storm that which was great has become very great; and that which was mediocre has become small, very small."

TAKE PRIDE IN NORSE ORIGIN

Natives of Orkney Islands Refuse to Admit That They Are of Scottish Blood.

Miss Elinor Root, who has been visiting the little-known Orkney islands, tells us that the natives are very proud of their Norse origin, indignantly repudiating the idea that their forebears were Scottish.

"People do not speak here with nearly so broad an accent as the people in Scotland," Miss Root remarked to her hostess, "and I notice the names do not sound Scotch—Cutt, Twaat, Flett, Curstoir, and so on. How is that?"

My hostess stiffened visibly. "They are not Scotch. We are not Scotch. We did not come from Scotland. Have you never heard of the Norsemen from beyond the seas? We are the descendants of them. We are not of Scotch blood. Ye do not call the Irish English; ye're not to call us Scotch!"

"I beg your pardon," I returned humbly, and to change the subject, plunged into the theme of afforestation. The venture was an unfortunate one, as trees refuse to grow in the islands.

"Trees spoil the scenery," declared my hostess: "We would not have them if we could. If ye go to the southland, ye cannot see anything of the scenery for the trees. We'd like to see scenery." —Lippincott's Magazine.

Mesa Verde Prophets.

The season so far verifies the weather predictions of the Indians who occasionally visit the Mesa Verde national park in southwestern Colorado for trading purposes, but who never stay a hour longer than is necessary, because of their dread of the "little people" who they believe still inhabit, in spirit form, the prehistoric cliff dwellings that have made the Mancos valley famous the world over. Last fall the Mesa Verde prairie dogs deserted their villages for new ones, and the Indians have been shaking their heads over it all winter. "Rain, much rain," they say; "rain all summer." So far they seem to have predicted right. And now they are again shaking their heads. "Cold, much cold," they say; "bad winter coming." And why? Because this summer game has been unusually plentiful on the Mesa Verde. Deer are more frequently seen than for years. Rabbits and hares are so numerous one can scarcely go about without seeing them in large numbers. Coyotes and mountain lions are also unusually plentiful, which may be explained by the abundance of the small game on which they live.

Mobilizing Brains.

Some world-famous names appear on the list of the consulting panel which has been added to the inventions board. Sir William Crookes, O. M., discovered thallium and invented the radiometer, among other valuable services to science, and has written books on such diverse subjects as beet sugar, dyeing, calico printing and fertilizers. Sir Oliver Lodge is a high authority on wireless telegraphy and other matters. The other names are equally distinguished and show that England has at last waked up to the necessity of mobilizing the brains of the nation.

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can root them. Mrs. G. H. Evinsland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried these and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills." Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Wednesday evening testimonial service, 7:10. Reading Room in rear of church open daily except Sunday, from 2 to 4 p. m. Everyone welcome. A lending library of Christian Science literature is maintained.

PRESBYTERIAN

Rev. B. F. Farber, Pastor. Services will be held in this church on Sunday, Nov. 14th, as follows: Morning worship at 10 o'clock. The pastor preaches. Theme, "Following the Procession." Sunday-school at the close of the morning service. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Special music. Preaching by the pastor. Theme, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." Prayer meeting next week on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Note the change of day from Thursday to Wednesday. Subject, "The Bible as Good Reading." These meetings are being greatly enjoyed by the large numbers attending. Never have we had prayer meetings in which so much interest is shown. You miss, something by staying away.

The Ladies' Auxiliary hold their annual bazaar on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 18th and 19th. Supper will be served on both of these days.

BIBLE STUDENTS

Services at I. O. O. F. hall for Sunday, Nov. 14, as follows: Berean from 2 to 3 p. m. Important feature, the discussion of the three ages or worlds spoken of in holy writ, and that each of these three ages are to close with a harvest. First, "the world or age that was," ending at the flood with a terrible cataclysm leaving only eight to start anew on the other side. Second, "the present evil world" or age, the one in which we are now living, to end with a "harvest," and time of trouble, the like of which has never been known and thank God the scriptures point out never will be known again. Before it is over man's last extremity will be used, and only for the intervention of the "fourth" at its close. Math. 24:22. "No flesh at all could be saved." The final or third, "the world to come" "wherein dwelleth righteousness," also is to end with a harvest 1000 years hence, and it is hoped "rich will be the harvest by." Every man that ever lived will then have had his one individual, fair, impartial trial under perfect conditions with all the advantages of his past experiences, and it is hoped the majority will choose the better part. For those who will not await the second death from which none will ever return. The church, the elect are on trial now.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Charles Gents of this place aged 71 years, died of pneumonia at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Newman, in Detroit, last week Wednesday. Mrs. Gents had been in failing health for some time and about a month ago went to Detroit to remain for the winter. Funeral services were held from the home of her daughter in Detroit last Friday morning and the remains were brought here that afternoon. Saturday afternoon another service was held from the Lutheran church, of which the deceased was a member. Rev. C. Strasen conducted the services. Interment in Riverside cemetery. She is survived by her husband, five sons and two daughters, Henry, Will and Louis Fisher of this place, Fred Fisher, Chas. Gents, Jr., Mrs. George Streng and Mrs. John Newman of Detroit. The deceased was a sister of the late Mrs. Wm. Hillmer, who passed away two weeks ago.

The out of town friends who attended the funeral services were: George Streng and wife, John Newman, wife and children, Fred Fisher and wife, Chas. Gents, Jr., Mrs. C. Streng, the Misses Kate and Mary Streng, Mrs. Claber and Mrs. Mack of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Giegler of New Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Burnett have been confined to their home this week on account of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Pettingill of Louisville, Ky., Mrs. J. G. Clark of Bad Axe, Mich., and Mrs. J. B. Pettingill, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Pettingill, and Mrs. Ida M. Dunn attended a birthday surprise on Mrs. Wealthy Chaffee at Wayne last Tuesday evening.

Class Enjoyed Fine Banquet

A very pleasant social event took place in the dining room of the Baptist church last Tuesday evening, when Rev. A. L. Bell's Sunday-school class gave their second annual banquet. The class has a membership of sixty-four and fifty-seven of this number were present at the banquet, besides a number of invited guests. The dining room was tastefully decorated in the class colors, red and white and presented a very pretty appearance.

The banquet was served at 7:30 o'clock and the menu was all that could be desired. Several of the younger members of the class served the tables most efficiently. During the serving of the banquet delightful music was rendered on the pathophone, through the kindness of Pinckney's Pharmacy. At the conclusion of the banquet, F. A. Bogert in a few happy remarks introduced the toastmaster of the evening, Rev. C. Maxfield of Detroit. Mr. Maxfield makes an ideal toastmaster, his fund of funny stories and ready wit kept everybody laughing. A solo by Miss Lucile Calkins of Northville, was beautifully rendered and she responded to an encore. An address, "Class Enthusiasm," by Rev. F. Haggard of the Warren Avenue Baptist church, Detroit, was filled with many good thoughts. It was a very fine address. A solo by Mrs. Wm. Baker was most charmingly rendered and she responded to an encore. Miss Bertha Sealts was accompanist. Rev. R. M. Traver of Pontiac, responded with a short address on "Class Loyalty," that was very fine and held the close attention of his hearers. A recitation by little Alta Hamill was rendered in a manner that would have been a credit to a person many years older. The little girl was given generous applause for her efforts.

After a song by the class, the benediction was pronounced by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Bell. Those who had the banquet in charge are to be congratulated on its success.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cable and Mrs. Bessie McDonald of Detroit, visited at Lewis Cable's last Wednesday and attended the funeral of Mrs. Calvin Thomas, at Waterford.

FOR CONGRESS 1916

Here is the official vote for congressman cast by the Republican party in the second district at the Primary Election held August 25, 1915.

Counties	Bacon	Larwill	Reece	Total
Jackson	1095	375	1875	3345
Lenawee	220	1173	42	1435
Monroe	1336	204	190	1730
Washtenaw	1136	320	394	1850
Wayne	2151	173	178	2502

Total... 5938 2245 2679 10862
 If you will take the total vote of Wayne county 2502, from the total Bacon vote 5938, you will still find Bacon ahead by 3436 votes.

Or you may take the combined total vote of MONROE, Washtenaw and Lenawee counties from Bacon's total vote 5948 and you will find him ahead by 923 votes.

Yes, you may take the combined total vote of MONROE, LENA WEE and WAYNE counties from Bacon's total vote 5938, and you will still find him ahead by 271 votes.

You may combine Jackson and Wayne, or make a combination of any two counties in the District and take it away from the Bacon vote of 5938, and you will still find him ahead.

The 1914 vote was the largest ever cast in the 2nd district at a primary election.

You cannot reasonably say that he received many Democrat votes, as they had a contest on for the congressional nomination among themselves and no votes to throw away.

Now, with his campaign last year, his acquaintance over the district, with justice in his claim for the nomination; with his appealing directly to the people and not to the politicians—being one of Lincoln's "plain people" himself; being a business man—born to labor, and on a farm; and with his known energy in a campaign; can you reasonably believe his chances for the nomination are not really better than either of the several candidates now seeking the nomination?

And you will not find him asleep at the switch in 1916.—Adv't.

Better Played Music--
 —Played with expression; with feeling; with artistic perfection unequalled in any other Player-Piano—

"Pianola" Player-Piano

The "Pianola" places the entire range of musical expression at your finger tips. One of its vitally important, patented expression-control features is

The Metrostyle On the Metrostyle music rolls is a red line which designates exactly how some famous artist plays the selection. With the Metrostyle pointer of the "Pianola" you follow this line, duplicating the interpretation of such artists as Paderewski, Bauer, Hoffman, Greig, Carreno, etc: Or, you can ignore the Metrostyle marking in part or entirely, and give to the selection your own interpretation.

The Themodist With the ordinary Player-Piano the theme or melody and accompaniment are of equal prominence. The Themodist, another exclusive expression-control feature of the "Pianola," gives just the right contrast to melody and accompaniment, causing the melody to stand out just as the voice of the singer rises above the accompanying instruments. Then there's the Automatic Sustaining Pedal; the Graduated Accompaniment, etc., also features of greatest artistic value.

"Pianolas" are furnished ONLY in these makes: STEINWAY, STROUD, STUYVESANT, WHELOCK, STECK and WEBBER. $550 up. Liberal allowance on other instruments in exchange. Small payments.

Note well this fact: no other Player-Piano has the Metrostyle; no other Player-Piano has the Themodist, etc.—no other Player-Piano approaches the "Pianola" in artistic musical results!

TO THE UNSHOD

We mean by that the unwell-shod, the men and women who through neglect and carelessness permit their shoes to become out of shape, worn through the soles, run down at the heel, etc. It is absolutely unnecessary, for the reason that we can renew shoes WHILE YOU WAIT—making the old, comfortable footwear as good as new and at trivial cost. When you dress, dress from the ground up, with your shoes making the good looking foundation.

How This Stove Does The Work of Two

A WARM KITCHEN IN WINTER—A COOL KITCHEN IN SUMMER.

That is what this "two-in-one" range affords. GAS in Summer—COAL in WINTER, both in the same range affording a service that heretofore was practically impossible, except with two ranges.

The "Garland" Combination Range and What It Accomplishes

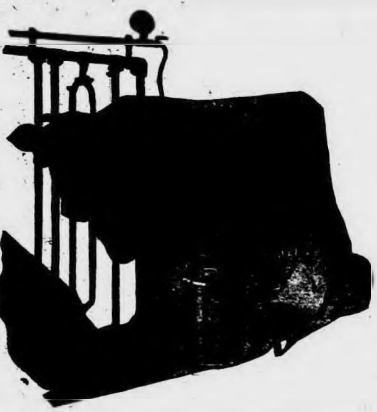

This "Garland" Range is successful because it operates perfectly with coal or gas, without interchange of numerous parts. Both coal and gas can be used separately or simultaneously. The use of one fuel does not interfere with the use of the other—a unique departure and a decided advantage. There are four top holes for coal and four for gas, and the same oven can be used for coal and gas. Could anything be more convenient? The strongest recommendation we can give this stove, aside from its utility and convenience, is the fact that it is a "Garland" made by the "Largest Makers of Stoves and Ranges in the World." This is a guarantee of excellence and a positive assurance of faultless construction and operation.

Don't think of buying a new range until you see this one

Officer of Steamship Company Says Boat Was Never Employed in Carrying Munitions of War.

New York—The Italian liner Ancona has been sunk in the Mediterranean sea by a large submarine flying the Austrian colors.

Left New York Last Month. The Ancona sailed from New York for Naples, October 17. She had on board 1,245 Italian reservists and a general cargo.

When the Ancona left New York on her last voyage she was in command of Captain Pietro Massardo.

For several months before Italy's entrance in the war the Ancona was engaged in carrying home Italian reservists from this country and supplies for the Italian government.

Statement of Officer. William Hartfield, general manager of the Italian line, immediately called for full information.

Although he had no list of her passengers, Mr. Hartfield said the Ancona on her last voyage to this country had carried 300 or 400 passengers, among them a number of American citizens in the first cabin and in the steerage.

At no time, said Mr. Hartfield, did the Ancona carry guns or munitions of war, because it was against the rules of the company to carry war munitions on the same vessels with passengers.

The Ancona has been in the Italian service for six years and without her cargo was valued at more than $1,000,000.

Thirteen Deaths Is Toll of Factory Fire by Brooklyn.

New York—Twelve bodies, those of eight women and four men, all but one man, summed up the casualties of the fire in the Diamond factory building in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn Saturday.

After an investigation by the fire department and the testimony of one witness who said he knew two girls met their deaths because of obstructions to the exits leading to the stairways to floors below, Samuel Barkan and Samuel Simon, proprietors of the Essex Shirt Co., which occupied an upper floor in the building, were held as material witnesses.

LANSING NOTES

Lansing—State Railroad Commissioner Charles S. Cunningham has sent a letter to the manager of each steam and electric railroad in the state requesting them to pay more attention to their highway and private crossings.

By rail and automobile, I notice there are a great many highway and private crossings that are in a dangerous condition, says Commissioner Cunningham in his letter to the railroad men.

legislature passed a law giving the railroad commission increased authority over railroad crossings. However, it is up to the private citizen to report dangerous crossings to the railroad commission.

tion sent to the office of Secretary of State Vaughan must be accompanied by United States money order or certified check. Articles accompanied by personal checks will be held up until the department is sure that there are sufficient funds on deposit to cover the amount of the check.

Governor Ferris on Saturday issued the following Thanksgiving Day proclamation: "The people of the United States are grateful to the Indians for their capacity and disposition to appreciate the bounties of nature. Through this appreciation, man cheerfully applies his labor to the earth in order that her bounties may serve as a means for realizing the essential joys of life."

The school at Benton has been closed because of influenza pandemic. There are 100 cases of the disease.
