MEMORIAL SUNDAY

Let every true patriot spend the day soberly and prayerfully, remembering with grateful hearts the great sacrifice both the dead and the living made to establish our national independence and to preserve the Union, and at this time to pray most earnestly for the success of American arms, that the government of the people, for the people and by the people shall not perish from the earth.

There will be no morning service held in the Presbyterian church Sunday, May 27. The G. A. R. Memorial service takes place in the Methodist church at 10 a. m. The Presbyterian congregation are cordially invited to join in this service.

There will be an evening service in the Presbyterian church at 7:00 o'clock, Rev. E. F. Farber of Detroit, preaching the sermon. The usual morning offering will be received at this service.

A congregational meeting will be held Tuesday evening, May 29, at 7:00 o'clock, to consider the calling of a pastor. Let every member be present.

Registration Day Placed on June 5

Tuesday, June 5th has been set for the coming war registration for the government selective draft.

All men between 21 and 30 years of age, inclusive, must register.

Any person failing to register or who registers falsely shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

In case of temporary absence from his legal residence a man must register by mail.

Hours of registration will be between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m., June 5, 1917, at the registration place in the village hall.

Those who are too ill to register are required to apply for instructions before June 5 as to how they may register by agents.

Supervisor Rattenbury and clerk, R. G. Samsen will have charge of the registration in Plymouth township.

That registration day, while not a holiday, should be made a great day of patriotic devotion and obligation, when the duty shall lie upon every man to see to it that the name of every male person of the designated ages is written on the list of honor.

Every person of military age will be required to answer the following questions:

1. Name in full.
  2. Home address.
  3. Date of birth.
  4. Are you a natural born citizen, an alien, or have you declared your intention?
  5. Where were you born?
  6. If not a citizen, of what country are you a citizen or subject?
  7. What is your present trade, or occupation or office?
  8. By whom employed? Where employed?
  9. Have you a father, wife, child under 12, or a sister or brother under 12, solely dependent upon you for support?
  10. Married or single? Race?
  11. What military service have you had; rank; branch; years; nation or state?
- Do you claim exemption from draft (specify grounds).
On the reverse side of the registration card the registrant must fill out blanks, stating the person is tall medium or short; slender, medium or stout; color of eyes; color of hair; bald; has lost arm, leg, hand, foot, or both eyes, or is otherwise disabled.

A Pleasant Surprise

A pleasant surprise was given Reuben Barnes at his home Tuesday, when friends and neighbors came to remind him of his 85th birthday. He was the recipient of flowers and other tokens of esteem, together with the best wishes of all for many happy returns of the day. Ice cream and cake was served, and as friends came and went the day was spent happily and one long to be remembered. Proven friendship, what a beautiful thing, to give cheerful greetings as we pass along.

Plymouth Athletes Ready for Track Meet

The sixteenth annual field meet of the Tri-County Athletic association, in which Wayne, Plymouth and Chelsea will participate, will take place at Wayne, Saturday, May 26. Each school is planning to send their best men into the contest and there is sure to be some exciting events. There will be considerable new talent found among the contestants this year, most of the holders of titles for the past two years having graduated. The Plymouth boys have been doing considerable training for the coming event, and there is no doubt but what they will give a good account of themselves in the coming contest. It is to be hoped that a big delegation of boosters will go with the boys and cheer them on to victory.

Knights Templar Observe Ascension Day Here

The First Presbyterian church of this place, was filled last Sunday morning to hear the former pastor, Rev. B. F. Farber, now assistant pastor of the North Woodward Avenue Presbyterian church of Detroit, give an address to the members of Northville Commandery, No. 39, K. T., in observance of "Ascension Sunday." About fifty members of the order attended the service in uniform, meeting at Masonic hall and marching to the church in a body. The church was attractively decorated with the K. T. insignia, national colors, ferns and white flowers. Special music was rendered by the choir. Mr. Farber gave an impressive talk, talking for his subject the three great principles of the "Truth, Purity and Justice." He stated that these were the foundation of all character building and the strength of all organizations. The many friends of Rev. and Mrs. Farber were greatly pleased to have him here again.

Flag Raising in Puritan Holm Addition Saturday

The new Puritan Holm addition will be the scene of a rousing flag raising next Saturday afternoon, May 26th, at 1 o'clock. A handsome eight-foot pole will be raised on a sixty-five foot pole, and the occasion is one which every citizen should attend. The flag will later be presented to the village and it to be placed wherever the council directs. Two hundred small flags are to be distributed free. The Ypsilanti band will furnish music during the afternoon. The following patriotic program has been arranged: America, Ypsilanti Band; Presentation of Flag, John B. Dayton; Acceptance of Flag, Harry C. Robinson. Music, Ypsilanti Band; Star Spangled Banner, By Everybody. Following the flag raising all the uncolored lots in the Puritan Holm addition will be offered at auction for fifty dollars in cash or on a 5% down payment. The sale will be held at 10 o'clock at the office of the Mail.

Methodist "Housewarming" a Pleasant Event

A large number of people from Plymouth and vicinity gathered at the Methodist church last Friday evening and took part in the "housewarming" of the new church building. The members of the official board and the Ladies' Aid society were jointly hosts of the evening and provided a variety of social entertainment. As the guests arrived they were received by the official members of the church and ushered into the beautiful auditorium, where delightful music was rendered by Miss Murray of California, who is spending a short vacation here from her musical work in New York City. All were delighted with her piano selections, all of which were played from memory.

Going below by way of the stairs leading from the end of the foyer, the people were delighted with their first view of the light, high-ceilinged dining room. The ceiling is nearly eleven feet high, and as the room is heated by wall radiators and is nearly all above ground on the rear side, it makes one of the lightest and best ventilated basement rooms to be found anywhere.

A varied program was rendered with Fred Thomas presiding at the Edison, and Rev. Field gave two interesting stories, illustrated by stereopticon views, Rip Van Winkle for the grown-ups and Cinderella for the children. The ladies served brick ice cream and cake to all. One friend of the church who could not be present sent his check for one hundred dollars.

Memorial Sunday

May 27th is Memorial Sunday and arrangements have been made by the local G. A. R. Post for the various congregations of the village to worship together next Sunday morning in the Methodist church, with the few remaining veterans as their honored guests. The members of the Grand Army Post will assemble at the town hall at 9:30 and from there go in a body to the church. Rev. Frank M. Field has been invited to deliver the sermon and will speak from the theme, "A Good Soldier." The church is being decorated with the national emblem and colors and special patriotic music will add much to the service.

Walter Gale has sold his farm to Dr. Jennings of Detroit. Charles Decker negotiated the sale.

H. E. Bradner of Lansing, was in town last Saturday. Mr. Bradner has had a list compiled of the soldiers who served in the civil war from Plymouth township, and those who have lived in Plymouth since the war. The list is at this office and any veteran is welcome to come in and look it over, and make corrections if there be any. The list will be published in the Mail at the time of the dedication of the memorial Mr. Bradner is going to present to the village.

U. S. TROOPS TO GO TO FRANCE; DRAFT SIGNED

Major General Pershing Directed by President to Command Division in France.

BARS T. R. VOLUNTEER ARMY

Executive Sets June 5 as the Date of Registration for Men Between Ages of 21 and 31—National Guard to Be Mobilized in August.

Washington, May 21.—President Wilson signed the conscription bill after rejecting that section of the measure which would permit Col. Theodore Roosevelt to organize volunteer divisions.

The president signed the army bill just after dinner at 8 p. m. on Friday, without formality, and set June 5 as the date of registration for all men between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-one for military service.

President issues proclamation, putting into effect the selective draft provision of the war army bill, signed last night, follows in part:

"A proclamation by the president of the United States:

"Whereas, Congress has enacted and the president has on the 18th day of May, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, approved a law which contains the following provisions:

"Section 5. That all male persons between the ages of twenty-one and thirty, both inclusive, shall be subject to registration in accordance with regulations to be prescribed by the president; and upon proclamation by the president or other public notice given by him or by his direction, stating the time and place of such registration, it shall be the duty of all persons of the designated ages, except officers and enlisted men of the regular army, the navy and the National Guard and naval militia while in the service of the United States, to present themselves for and submit to registration under the provisions of this act, and every such person shall be deemed to have notice of the requirements of this act upon the publication of said proclamation or other notice as aforesaid given by the president or by his direction; and any person who shall willfully fail or refuse to present himself for registration or to submit thereto as herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction in the district court of the United States having jurisdiction thereof, be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year, and shall thereupon be duly registered; provided, that in the call of the docket precedence shall be given, in courts trying the same, to the trial of criminal proceedings under this act: Provided further, that persons shall be subject to registration as herein provided who shall have attained their twenty-first birthday and who shall not have attained their thirty-first birthday on or before the day set for registration, and all persons so registered shall be and remain subject to draft into the forces hereby authorized, unless exempted or excused therefrom as in this act provided.

Registration on June 5.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, do call upon the governor of each of the several states and territories, the board of commissioners of the District of Columbia and all officers and agents of the several states and territories, of the District of Columbia and of the counties and municipalities therein, to perform certain duties in the execution of the foregoing law, which duties will be communicated to them directly in regulations of even date herewith.

"And I do further proclaim and give notice to all persons subject to registration in the several states and in the District of Columbia in accordance with the above law, that the time and place of such registration shall be between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. on the fifth day of June, 1917, at the registration place in the precinct wherein they have their permanent homes. Those who shall have attained their twenty-first birthday and who shall not have attained their thirty-first birthday on or before the day here named are required to register, excepting only officers and enlisted men of the regular army, the navy, the marine corps and the National Guard and Naval Militia while in the service of the United States, and officers in the officers' reserve corps and enlisted men in the enlisted reserve corps while in active service. In the territories of Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico a day for registration will be named in a later proclamation.

All must co-operate.

"The power against which we are arrayed has sought to impose its will upon the world by force. To this end it has increased armament until it has changed the face of war. In the sense in which we have been wont to think of armies there are no armies in this struggle. There are entire nations armed. Thus, the men who remain to till the soil and man the factories are no less a part of the army that is in France than the men beneath the battle flags. It must be so with us. It is not an army that we must shape and train for war; it is a nation. To this end our people must draw close in one compact front against a common foe. But this cannot be if each man pursues a private purpose. All must pursue one purpose.

"The nation needs all men, but it needs each man, not in the field that will most pleasure him, but in the endeavor that will best serve the common good.

"It is in no sense a conscription of the unwilling—it is rather selection from a nation which has volunteered in mass.

"The day here named is the time upon which all shall present themselves for assignment to their tasks.

"It is essential that the day be approached in thoughtful apprehension of its significance and that we accord to it the honor and the meaning that it deserves. Our industrial need prescribes that it be not made a technical holiday, but the stern sacrifice that is before us urges that it be carried in all our hearts as a great day of patriotic devotion and obligation when the duty shall lie upon every man, whether he is himself to be registered or not, to see to it that the name of every male person of the designated ages is written on these lists of honor.

"By the president:

"ROBERT LANSING, Secretary of State."

Division Ordered to France.

President Wilson directed that an expeditionary force of approximately a division of regular troops, under command of Maj. Gen. John J. Pershing, proceed to France at an early date as practicable. General Pershing and staff will precede the troops.

A division contains approximately 28,000 men. It is understood that at least 20,000 will be infantry.

American Women Who Fought as Soldiers

Memorial Day brings to mind many of the gentler sex who enlisted either by stealth or openly on both sides and fought bravely shoulder to shoulder with men during the Civil War

Who

IN THE war now being fought over in Europe women get into men's uniforms and fight battles. For instance, there is one girl by the name of Tomaszek who made a wonderful record in the Russian army; and many a woman like her has won similar fame. Yet there has been no war in which girls and women have not won this kind of celebrity. The Civil War was certainly no exception.

There were many girls who fought through the war on both the Union and Confederate sides. For example, Dr. Mary E. Walker received a commission as assistant surgeon, and went through the war with it, but there were many women who enlisted and went through hard service without making Doctor Walker's reputation.

For example, there was Frances Hook, a fourteen-year-old girl, who enlisted with her brother at Chicago. The two enlisted in the Sixty-fifth Illinois and were mustered out after three months. Frances Hook, wearing male clothes, enlisted in the Nineteenth. Her brother was killed at Shiloh, but the girl, still wearing the clothes of a man, fought through the war until Chickamauga, when she was captured and shot through the leg in an attempt to escape. While she was a prisoner in Atlanta, Jefferson Davis is said to have offered her a lieutenantcy if she would join the Confederate forces. Frances, it is said, replied to President Davis' offer that she would take up arms against the Union. She had enlisted under the name of Frank Miller.

In one of the regiments from Ohio a girl enlisted. She was the sister of a member of the regiment. While at Camp Jackson and Camp Dennison she handled lumber, performed sentry duty, and did other work of that sort. It was two weeks before she learned that there were two Camp Dennisons, and that her brother was at the other one. Straightway she made application for a transfer and failed. She wanted to go to the Pennsylvania Camp Dennison, and she wanted to go badly. The colonel of the regiment, a good sort of fellow named Morrow, talked to the girl for some time and made her confess that she was flying under false colors. Without much ceremony she was dismissed and sent home.

Just after the battle of Chickamauga, Colonel Burke of the Tenth Ohio exchanged a large number of prisoners with the Confederates. He noticed a particularly clever and able young man among the prisoners he received—a boy who gave the name of Frank Henderson. The colonel became interested enough to inquire who Frank was, and found out that he was a girl. He, or rather she, had enlisted with her brother at the outbreak of the war. They were orphans, and were devoted to each other, and she could not bear the thought of being separated from him. He had been her only companion from babyhood.

At the expiration of her enlistment for three months in the regiment she was mustered out, and next enlisted in another regiment from southern Illinois, where her sex was not discovered. She was wounded two or three times, discharged, and sent home, and a bullet wound in her leg led to the discovery of her sex.

There is no braver story in all the annals of war than that of Mary Owens. She came from a place called Danville, in Pennsylvania. Her husband decided to enlist. Mary went with him; she and he went to the front together; she had eloped with him, and now she was ready to carry her decision to the limit. Man and wife, they fought together until a bullet put the man out of the running; and even then the woman fought on. A Southern bullet struck her in the chest and she went to the hospital, but on the record were written the words, "A more faithful soldier never shouldered a musket."

In Brooklyn, N. Y., a girl enlisted and fought to the death through the war until she was mortally wounded in Hooker's advance on Lookout mountain.

Fanny Wilson enlisted in the Twenty-fourth New Jersey in order to follow her sweetheart, who was a member of the same regiment, into the field. He knew nothing of her action, but she saw him every day and came near being assigned to the same mess with him. At Vicksburg Miss Wilson was shot. So was the young man; and Miss Wilson, who nursed him, did not reveal her identity to him until just as the boy was dying. She stayed by him, closed his eyes, and then went to Cairo and got an engagement as a chorist girl. A little while later she enlisted again, still in male clothes, as a member of the Third Illinois. She was taken to the headquarters of the commanding officer, it being suspected that she might be a Confederate spy, but she made it clear that she was a good, loyal Federal soldier.

In one of the Pennsylvania regiments a bright little girl of twelve years enlisted as a drummer boy. She gave the name of Charles Martin, and she appeared to be a clever little fellow and made herself useful to the officers of the regiment in the capacity of a clerk. She was in five battles, but always escaped without a bullet wound. Her superior officers never suspected her sex for a moment. It was not until she was taken to a hospital in Philadelphia suffering from typhoid fever that her sex was discovered.

An officer of the Seventeenth Illinois, by the name of Reynolds, had his wife made a major. Reynolds himself was a lieutenant. She was a scout and spy and made no effort to conceal her sex.

A girl named Annie Lillybridge of Detroit became betrothed to a lieutenant in the Twenty-first Michigan and decided to put on soldier's clothes and serve with him until the end of the war. She enlisted in the same regiment without his knowledge and carefully hid her identity. She even went so far as to enlist in a different company from his. One of her comrades, after several months, became aware of the secret of her sex, and when he was killed in battle the girl found his body in the field. She was finally disabled by a shot in the arm, and her sex being discovered, she was sent home.

Major Pauline Cushman was one of the cleverest servants the Union army had throughout the war. She was an actress who lived in Cleveland and was employed as an officer of the Union army. As scout, spy, and soldier, the girl major made a reputation second to none in the Northern army. Pauline Cushman has left a reputation only second to that of Belle Loyal, to whom Stonewall Jackson wrote that she had saved his army.

Mary Slezgie, the wife of a soldier in the Forty-fourth New York, enlisted with him and fought in the battle of Gettysburg. She served for a while as a nurse, but afterward put on male clothes and did her share in actual fighting.

One little heroine of the war had the honor of being complimented in general orders. She was a fifteen-year-old girl named Schwartz, living in a farmhouse about twelve miles from Jefferson City, Mo. On the night of August 6, 1863, a party of bushwhackers who had heard that it was a rendezvous of Union men attacked it. There were four men in the house, one being the child's father; they all died and left her alone to confront the guerrillas. The little girl intrepidly opened the door with a revolver in her hand which the men had abandoned in their flight and said, "Come on, if you want to. Some of you will fall or I will." The bushwhackers told her that if she did not leave the doorway they would kill her. "The first one who takes a step toward this doorway," was the girl's response, and the marauders left.—New York Times.

MONKEY AND SQUIRREL, CHUMS ON STEAMSHIP, COMMIT SUICIDE, PASSENGERS DECLARE.

Bored ship news reporters who have listened indifferently for months to tales of Cuban revolutions, who have scoffed at German sea raiders because of their frequency, and have got up to walk when submarine captures were mentioned, the other day sat up with an appreciative jerk when passengers on board the steamship Santa Maria of the United Fruit line, from West Indian ports, began to talk, the New York Herald says.

The story would about the fact that the Santa Maria carried a large collection of animals which Henry Ruff was bringing from the tropics to the Bronx Zoological park in the Bronx. Among the animals was a monkey. Passengers noticed that conversation between the two was especially confidential, but thought nothing of it until one day when the animals were being aired on deck. Suddenly the squirrel either fell overboard or jumped overboard. Without a moment's hesitation the monkey sprang after. Neither was rescued.

A question bothered the passengers who related the remarkable occurrence. Did the monkey, out of affection for the squirrel, attempt a rescue, or did the two, fearing a separation when they reached the Bronx, form a suicide pact?

Grafting Wax.

The following makes a good grafting wax: Take four ounces of pitch, four ounces of resin, two ounces of lard and two ounces of beeswax. Mix these together and dissolve over a slow fire. Another recipe is as follows: Melt one pound of resin over a slow fire, add one ounce of beef tallow and stir with a dry stick or wire. When somewhat cooled add one tablespoonful of spirits of turpentine and lastly five ounces of 85 per cent alcohol, in small quantities. If the alcohol causes it to lump, warm again until it melts.

Not to Be Thought Of.

"Son, you are wasting your time reading such trashy books."

"Can't help it, pa," remarked the glided youth. "I've got hold of a book I couldn't lay down, I might miss a dancing date."

A Real Autocrat.

"Here's the photograph of a famous matre d'hotel. He has a stern and haughty look."

"Hasn't he, though? I dare say that fellow wouldn't stand for anything less than a hundred-dollar bill."

Competed to Tarry.

"What is the name of this roadhouse?"

"It's called 'Ride a Wee.'"

"Ah! A pretty name."

"And appropriate, too. As there are several roadhouses between this one and the city, by the time a bibulous motorist gets here he is often in such a condition that he can go no further and is compelled to 'ride a wee.'"

Completion.

Barber—Do you shave yourself? Victim—Yes. I also talk to myself.

MONKEY AND SQUIRREL, CHUMS ON STEAMSHIP, COMMIT SUICIDE, PASSENGERS DECLARE.

Bored ship news reporters who have listened indifferently for months to tales of Cuban revolutions, who have scoffed at German sea raiders because of their frequency, and have got up to walk when submarine captures were mentioned, the other day sat up with an appreciative jerk when passengers on board the steamship Santa Maria of the United Fruit line, from West Indian ports, began to talk, the New York Herald says.

The story would about the fact that the Santa Maria carried a large collection of animals which Henry Ruff was bringing from the tropics to the Bronx Zoological park in the Bronx. Among the animals was a monkey. Passengers noticed that conversation between the two was especially confidential, but thought nothing of it until one day when the animals were being aired on deck. Suddenly the squirrel either fell overboard or jumped overboard. Without a moment's hesitation the monkey sprang after. Neither was rescued.

A question bothered the passengers who related the remarkable occurrence. Did the monkey, out of affection for the squirrel, attempt a rescue, or did the two, fearing a separation when they reached the Bronx, form a suicide pact?

Grafting Wax.

The following makes a good grafting wax: Take four ounces of pitch, four ounces of resin, two ounces of lard and two ounces of beeswax. Mix these together and dissolve over a slow fire. Another recipe is as follows: Melt one pound of resin over a slow fire, add one ounce of beef tallow and stir with a dry stick or wire. When somewhat cooled add one tablespoonful of spirits of turpentine and lastly five ounces of 85 per cent alcohol, in small quantities. If the alcohol causes it to lump, warm again until it melts.

Not to Be Thought Of.

"Son, you are wasting your time reading such trashy books."

"Can't help it, pa," remarked the glided youth. "I've got hold of a book I couldn't lay down, I might miss a dancing date."

A Real Autocrat.

"Here's the photograph of a famous matre d'hotel. He has a stern and haughty look."

"Hasn't he, though? I dare say that fellow wouldn't stand for anything less than a hundred-dollar bill."

Competed to Tarry.

"What is the name of this roadhouse?"

"It's called 'Ride a Wee.'"

"Ah! A pretty name."

"And appropriate, too. As there are several roadhouses between this one and the city, by the time a bibulous motorist gets here he is often in such a condition that he can go no further and is compelled to 'ride a wee.'"

NEGRO IS BURNED TO DEATH BY MOB

CONFESSED MURDERER OF GIRL LYNCHED BY CROWD NEAR SCENE OF CRIME.

JURY EXONERATES LYNCHERS

Verdict Returned After Inquest Says That Negro Came to Death From "Unknown" Cause.

Memphis, Tenn.—Eli Persons, a Negro, confessed murderer of Antoinette Rappal, pretty school girl, several weeks ago, was lynched by a mob Tuesday.

Persons was chained to a tree near the scene of his crime, his body drenched with oil, and burned in the presence of a large crowd, after he had repeated his confession and after the mother of his victim had made a speech exhorting the lynchers to action.

Persons, who confessed that he killed and then beheaded the girl, was taken from sheriff's deputies returning him from Nashville. At Potts' camp the mob overpowered the sheriff's deputies, and carried the prisoner off in an automobile.

None of the members of the mob were masked. All defied the officers openly. Many of them are well known throughout the county.

Hunter Wilson, county attorney-general, announced that grand jury investigation of the lynching would be instituted at once. A coroner's jury, which held an inquest, returned a verdict that the Persons came to his death "from causes unknown to the jury."

SLAYS OPPOSE ALLY AIMS

Workers Demanding Peace Without Annexations.

London—The Petropgrad correspondent of the Daily Express says that a series of important negotiations is impending between Russia and her allies.

They deal with the question of a revision of war aims as outlined in the replies of the allies to President Wilson.

Russia will try to present its desire for peace without annexations or contributions and will make clear that the Russian workers, while not desiring a separate peace, cannot support the allies in their present war program.

A revision of the treaties between the allies and Russia will be requested, and it is believed that the allies will call a conference to consider the whole question of Russia's future in the war.

Political circles in sympathy with former Foreign Minister Milukoff and former Minister of War Guchkov view the negotiations with considerable alarm.

The Petropgrad correspondent of the Daily News writes in the same vein and believes that the coalition government will stand or fall according to the position which the allies take in the pending negotiations.

SNOW STORM SWEEPS STATE

Northern Michigan Visited By Real Winter Weather.

Cadillac—Rain, ice and snow swept northern Michigan by turns Tuesday. Fully an inch of snow fell. Fears are expressed that the ice storm will play havoc with the fruit crop for the coming season, although this question cannot be definitely determined.

Snow fell in Manistee throughout the day. At noon the downfall was so heavy it was almost blinding, but it is not believed that the crops have been damaged there.

Farming was temporarily discontinued around Boyne City because of a heavy snow storm. There were two inches of snow in the Gaylord district and a fall of as much as six inches is registered farther east.

Infancy of Whisk Playing.
According to an authority, whisk or "whisk," as it was called, was generally played three centuries ago. For many years the game, under the appellations of "whisk" and "swobbers," was played only by servants and others of the humbler classes, and it was not until more than a century had passed that it reached the drawing-rooms of the wealthy and the nobility. The first mention of whisk in literature was made by Taylor, the water poet, in 1621. He refers to it as "whisk," the name having probably been derived from the practice of whisking the tricks from the table as soon as played.

Pine Needles Now Valuable.

Since a visitor to Florida discovered that pine needles made excellent nest for hens, driving away vermin and furnishing an added inducement to the fowl to lay their eggs, the pine tree's discard has acquired a commercial value. Farmers have used the needles for bedding stock, making hen's nests and covering tender plants in winter for years, but they never regarded them as of any value commercially. A short time ago a Northern man purchased three tons. Shortly after the shippers were surprised to receive a check for $34, at the rate of $18 a ton. News of the sale soon spread throughout the section, and now many able-bodied men who have no other occupation have gone to work gathering and baling the needles, and an industry has been started in supplying the demand for this product.

Greatest of Letter-Writers.

While letter-writing in a somewhat crude and cumbersome form was practiced among the ancient Greek writers, there are, strangely enough, no existing examples of the epistolary correspondence of Socrates and Xenophon, of Plato and Pythagoras. But of the correspondence between Cicero, the greatest and perhaps the most attractive of all letter-writers, and his friend Atticus, there are 900 examples, all of which, in the purity and beauty of their original form or in the many translations, may be read by anyone who visits the New York library. The only other extant letters of the Roman period are those of Pliny and Seneca, all prolix, heavy and gutterably tedious.

Scare Pests While Lying in Bed.

During the mango season in India much injury is done to the fruit by night-birds, particularly the so-called flying foxes, and to keep these off with the minimum of inconvenience to themselves, the natives have invented an interesting contrivance. First of all they bedeck a long bamboo pole plentifully with the ears and other noise-producing utensils and fix this up among the branches of one of the fruit trees. To this, they tie a cord running down to the ground and the other end of this cord they tie around their own ankles. By this means, they can lie in bed and, while making the rest of their body, can "scare" the mango-maker with their legs.

STATE IS ASKED TO RAISE NEW UNITS

WAR DEPARTMENT ORDERS THAT GUARD BE RECRUITED TO WAR STRENGTH.

MUST BE READY BY JULY 15

Michigan Quota of National Guard is 10,400 Men—Already Have Half That Number.

(From Our Special Correspondent) Lansing

The war department has called upon the governor of Michigan for the organization of a series of new units to complete Michigan's quota of the National Guard.

Under the orders of the president the National Guard of the United States is to be mobilized, beginning July 15.

In addition to such National Guard units already organized, Michigan is called upon to produce new units as follows: one regiment of infantry; one regiment of field artillery; one battalion of engineers; one battalion of signal corps; one telegraph battalion; one headquarters train; one munitions train; one engineer train; three field hospitals; two ambulance companies.

The state is also asked for one regiment of cavalry, but is only called upon to furnish one squadron of it at the present time.

If each state supplies its quota the National Guard will muster 440,000 men and these will be in addition to the army to be obtained through the selective draft.

All old Michigan is asked to furnish 10,400 of the 440,000 men.

The state already has half that number.

State Ready for Registration.

Results from the work of preparing county officers throughout the state for selective draft registration June 5, work that had been carried on for days under Governor Sleeper's direction, showed itself when the proclamation finally came.

Within 4 hours after the notice was received at Lansing replies from sheriffs and mayors in all parts of the state rolled in, advising that they understood their orders.

The proclamation of the governor had been drawn up awaiting only the insertion of the date, and it was but the work of a few minutes to send it over the state. Then followed quickly the telegrams to the sheriffs and mayors.

The proclamation calls on officials of all municipalities required by law or appointed to perform any duties in connection with the registration to execute their tasks unhesitatingly and in line with their strict duty. It urges all persons liable to registration to present themselves promptly and cooperate with the state and national governments in every way to uphold Michigan's traditions.

The proclamation appoints the mayor of each village and the township supervisors to head committees for arranging fitting celebrations to observe the day.

Revised conscription orders received by Governor Sleeper from Washington provide one registrar for every 80 persons. The old instructions read one for each 175. Mayors and sheriffs were ordered to arrange for additional help required.

U. S. Wants Army Camp Site.

If any person in Michigan knows of a camp site which they think would be of use to the United States government, they should notify Colonel John S. Bersey, the adjutant-general of the Michigan National Guard.

The government is looking for camp sites in this section of the country to accommodate a division of troops, and wants all who think they have a good one, to come forward.

The tract must be at least 2,000 acres, near some city, have transportation facilities, infantry range of 1,000 yards with natural backdrop, artillery range of five miles with backdrop, drill grounds, etc.

Military men will visit all sites offered and report to the central department, which will pick a site in Michigan or Wisconsin, the tenth division area.

U. P. Potato Acreage Increased.

George W. McCormick, member of the food preparedness committee from the upper peninsula, reported that his section of the state would come to the front with an increase of 5,000,000 bushels of potatoes if the crop was anywhere near normal.

Michigan has planted 5,000 extra bushels of potatoes.

Boys Quit Schools for Farms. According to reports received here from school officials 10,000 farmers' boys in Michigan have already left the high schools and grade schools and have returned to the farms to help plant larger crops.

MOTORTRUCKS RUN ON RAILWAY TRACKS

WHEELS ARE SPECIALLY CONSTRUCTED.

A close-up view is given in the illustration herewith of the specially constructed wheels with which the new motortrucks in use by the United States troops are equipped.

These wheels permit the motortrucks to travel along on the railroad tracks as does the ordinary coach or freight car of the standard American railroads.

CARS IN SUMMER

Its Dress, Like Man's, Should be Changed From Winter.

HEAVY LUBRICANT IS NEEDED

Radiator Should Be Thoroughly Cleaned, Motor Overhauled and Grease Cups Refilled—Polish Up Top and Upholstery.

Warm-weather driving imposes a different set of conditions on the car than those which exist in winter. In the same way as a man would not go about the streets dressed in the same attire in June as he wears in January, the car should not be expected to perform with the equipment of winter in the summer time.

The change in conditions affects every part of the car, from the radiator back to the rear axle. It affects the radiator, because, in all probability, a nonfreezing solution has been used during the winter, and after the danger of freezing weather has gone by this should all be drained out.

The cooling system should then be flushed out with a solution of washing soda and boiling water.

The way this is done is to first drain the radiator, then run through a complete filling of boiling plain water, after which this is also drained and the cooling system filled with the soda solution.

In the motor the most important thing to be done is to change the oil. This is done by removing the drains at the bottom of the crank case and allowing all the oil to run out, after which the oil reservoir is flushed out in the same way that the radiator was cleaned.

While the rotor is being looked over it would not be a bad thing to readjust the tappets so that the clearances are at about the thickness of an ordinary business card, and also to clean the spark plugs.

The wiring of the ignition system should also be gone over, as sometimes it will be found to have been chafed at points where the insulation is in contact with the metal, in which case it is very liable to have worn off.

UNNECESSARY WEAR ON TIRES. Same Results Obtained by Gentle, Though Firm, Application of Brakes in Stopping.

The sudden application of automobile brakes and the consequent sliding of the wheels cause those worn spots on the tread of the tires which result in their being discarded long before they are really worn out.

Use a Heavier Lubricant. The consistency of lubricant in all these parts should be somewhat heavier in summer than it is in winter.

HIGH COST OF MAINTENANCE. Estimated that $3,000,000,000 Will Be Spent in Sustaining 4,000,000 Automobiles.

Fabulous figures are frequently published relating to the amount of money invested in this country in automobiles, but it is only recently that people have begun to figure up what is expended annually on their maintenance.

Detachable Headlights. English motor trucks are being made with detachable headlights which are taken off in the daytime.

Proper Food for Weak Stomachs.

The proper food for one man may be all wrong for another. Everyone should adopt a diet suited to his age and occupation. Those who have weak stomachs need to be especially careful and should eat slowly and masticate their food thoroughly. It is also important that they keep their bowels regular. When they become constipated or when they feel dull and stupid after eating, they should take Chamberlain's Tablets to strengthen the stomach and move the bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect.—Adv.

MAXFER

Turn your Ford into a truck. When your Ford is coupled to the Maxfer it makes one of the most reliable one-ton trucks on the market, and at a price within reach of every business, large or small.

The MAXFER BELL SPROCKET is an invention of the Maxfer engineers, which allows the retention and use of the Ford rear axle and all its essential parts without change or disarrangement. With most other truck-making devices, the Ford axle shaft must be cut off, which, in the first place, is a more or less difficult and delicate task, and in the second place, eliminates the possibility of again using the Ford chassis for pleasure-car service without the purchase and replacement of certain parts.

The special Bell Sprocket, that is used, simply replaces the ordinary rear wheel, and the driving chains which run back to the sprockets on the axle of the Maxfer attachment drive from the Bell Sprocket itself, which is keyed upon and turns with the live shaft of the Ford rear axle.

Let us demonstrate one to you.

Raise High Priced Wheat on Fertile Canadian Soil

Canada extends to you a hearty invitation to settle on her FREE Homestead lands of 160 acres each or secure some of the low priced lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. This year wheat is higher but Canadian land just as cheap, so the opportunity is more attractive than ever. Canada wants you to help feed the world by tilling some of her fertile soil—land similar to that which during many years has averaged 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre. Think of the money you can make with wheat around $2 a bushel and land so easy to get. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed farming in Western Canada is as profitable an industry as grain growing.

The Government this year is asking farmers to put increased acreage into grain. There is a great demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for service. Back to the Soil.

The young k-nut, unit for general service, volunteered for work on the land. He went down to his father's "place" and began "farming." A friend passing that way spied him in leggings and Norfolk jacket striding across a wide stretch of moorland. He hailed him.

"Hallo, Smutty!" he cried as he came up. "What are you doing in this forsaken land?"

"Farming. I've gone back to the land."

"Any good at it?" grinned the friend.

"I should think so! See this piece of moorland? Before I came it was going to waste—no use at all; but with a lot of work I've turned it into a ripping golf links."—New York Globe.

A Seed Waster.

"There's a man planting potatoes," said Farmer Cornstossel, "when he ought to be playing golf."

"You don't approve of gardening?"

"Yes, I do. But if he'd go ahead and play golf he wouldn't be spilling good potatoes that somebody could use."

An Unlooked-for Present.

Among little Willie's numerous birthday presents was a toy tomahawk, an airgun, and a lasso—these being sent by a sport-loving uncle who knew the youth's predilections.

Shortly after breakfast Willie's mother heard a crash in the greenhouse at the foot of the garden, and went to investigate. On the way she passed a few uprooted bushes and a power-bed trampled out of recognition, and in the greenhouse itself many lassoed flower-pots. Following the trail, she found Willie hiding behind a tree stump.

"What are you doing, Willie?" she cried in horrified tones.

"Looking for red skins!" replied the youngster.

With a grin look she took Willie by the ear and led him indoors.

"Looking for red skins!" she repeated ominously, as she took up a cane.

"Well, I'll give you one."

Too Much Gratiified.

"They say the czar of Russia is very fond of fish."

Annual Flowering Plants

By L. C. CORBETT
Horticulturist, Bureau of Plant Industry
U. S. Department of Agriculture

SWEET PEAS

(Lathyrus odoratus)

The sweet pea during the last decade has been greatly modified and improved by careful selection and cultivation, the flowers being larger and more varied in color and marking than formerly. The result is that the sweet pea has come to be one of the most popular annual flowering plants. It repays well the attention given it. The flowers are well suited for bouquets, and lend themselves well to table decoration. While the climbing habit of the plant is such as to prevent its use in groups and borders. Its height is not sufficient to allow its use as a cover or screen for a lattice. The most satisfactory method of growing it is in long rows provided with rabbit-netting wire, supported by strong anchor posts and intermediate stakes, to prevent the wire from sagging between its supports.

Sweet peas require a soil deeply tilled and well supplied with plant food. A satisfactory method is to open a trench about a foot wide and ten inches deep in rich garden loam, in the bottom of which about three inches of well-rotted manure is placed, with two inches of fine top soil scattered immediately over it. Upon this bed sow the peas in double rows about eight inches apart, the seeds being placed from half an inch to an inch apart in the row. Cover the seed about three inches deep, and after the young plants appear and have attained sufficient height fill the trench completely.

As the sweet pea can hardly be soon as the first true leaves have formed, the young plants should be pricked out into small boxes or pots, where they should be kept growing slowly until all danger of frost has passed, when they may be transferred to the open. After transplanting the young plants, it is desirable that they have sufficient room to prevent them from growing too tall and consequently from losing their lower leaves.

If planted in the open ground at the same time garden beans are planted, the castor bean will make a growth of from four to six feet by the middle of August. This plant loves a rich soil, plenty of moisture, full sunlight and great heat. The varieties range in height from three to ten feet and have leaves of corresponding size.

CALIFORNIA POPPY

(Eschscholtzia)

The eschscholtzia is the state flower of California, an annual of striking character both as regards the form and color of its flowers, which are bright and rich in their tints of yellow and orange. The plants average about a foot in height, have attractive silvery foliage, and produce their large poppy-like flowers quite lavishly from early spring until frost. They are most effective when grown in beds of considerable size, over which the seed may be thinly sown broadcast and lightly raked in. These sowings may be made early in spring, or late in autumn for earlier germination and bloom the next spring. The eschscholtzia is also very useful as a pot plant and for cut flowers.

SUNFLOWER

(Helianthus)

These tall-growing, bright-flowered annual plants have not received the attention they deserve. They have suffered the misfortune of having been cheapened by use as a burlesque. In reality, however, the tall-growing, large-flowered sorts, as well as the dwarf, many-flowered varieties, are useful when skillfully employed to mixed plantations with other herbaceous annuals. The golden yellow disks are like sunbursts among the shrubbery. The tall habit of the plant and the dense foliage of some varieties suit them well for backgrounds and screens. Their long stems and extraordinary lasting qualities make them of value as cut flowers.

The seed should be planted in the open garden in spring, at about the same time that corn is planted, and the plants thinned to stand from two to four feet apart, according as the plant is dwarf or tall growing. There is wide variation in the height and habit of growth of the different varieties, which range from two to ten feet in height, with from one to many flowers.

Boarders in the World.

The people who always live in houses, and sleep on beds, and walk on pavements, and buy their food from butchers and bakers and grocers, are not the most blessed inhabitants of this wide and various earth. The circumstances of their existence are too mathematical and secure for contentment. They live at second or third hand. They are boarders in the world. Everything is done for them by somebody else.—Henry Van Dyke.

Irrreconcilable.

placed in the soil too early in the spring, all general preparatory work should be done in the autumn, and the seeds sown as early in March as practicable. In sections with a winter temperature less severe than that of Washington the best results will undoubtedly be obtained from fall sowing.

CASTOR BEAN

(Ricinus)

The castor-oil plant, commonly spoken of as the castor bean, is especially valuable because it is one of the few annuals which can be used to produce a semitropical effect. Its rapid growth and large size make it valuable as the central object in groups where rich, luxuriant growth is required. The variety of color in the foliage of the different sorts of castor bean is of value in giving contrast, and when used in combination with cunillas, caladiums, coleus, or scarlet sage most striking effects of contrast can be produced. As a background for lower-growing plants the castor bean has no equal among garden annuals. Only the annual climbing vines, when provided with suitable supports, equal it as a low screen. It can be used with good effect in groups, as masses along shrubbery borders, or as belts for covering and shutting out an undesirable view.

At the North the castor bean is most satisfactory when started in March or early in April in a gentle heat. A heated greenhouse or living room can be made use of for the purpose. As Inded They Do!

Little Willie, although not much of a singer, has the spirit all right. He was rendering an especially erratic version of "Columbia, Gem of the Ocean," the other evening, and an entirely new, though suitable, interpretation of the words of the song. He began:

"O Columbia, gem of the ocean, The home of the brave and the free—"

The listeners withstood several painful lines of this and there wasn't a break.

"A world offers homage to thee," he screamed.

Then came the triumph of the song: "Thy banners make Germany tremble."

And the little group of listeners broke out into cheers—Indianapolis News.

A Babylonian Epic.

In the midst of it all, a man in Philadelphia, a professor, is intently translating a Babylonian epic. He has before him certain tablets which were buried in Mesopotamian ground thousands of years ago, upon which, in the time of Abraham, certain queer cuneiform characters were inscribed. Not many years ago the key to these characters was discovered. In the form of an inscription in two languages, one of which was known, and the meaning of the queer characters slowly emerged. The Philadelphia professor has discovered that the tablets bear an epic poem. He is translating the epic and finds it to be the story of the way in which a half-barbarous chieftain, named Enkidu, was redeemed from a career of tyranny and violence by the love of a woman. And day after day, while the papers are full of woes and wickedness, and the drums of war beat on the streets, indifferent to all the uproar this patient man goes on translating into good English the poem of Enkidu and his love.

Druggist's Customers Praise Kidney Medicine

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is the best seller on the market today in this locality. I believe it is all that is claimed, and during my experience of eight years in handling it as a kidney, liver and bladder remedy I have never heard a single complaint and know that it has produced very beneficial results in many cases, according to the reports of my customers who praise it highly.

Very truly yours,

A Suggestion.

"The English used to name their gunboats after birds. Now they ought to use those names for their airplanes."

"Of course. It is much more fitting for the latter to have names so suggestive of flights."

Women of Middle Age

Many distressing Ailments experienced by them are Alleviated by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Here is Proof by Women who Know.

Lowell, Mass.—"For the last three years I have been troubled with the Change of Life and the bad feelings common at that time. I was in a very nervous condition, with headaches and pain a good deal of the time so I was unfit to do my work. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it has helped me in every way. I am not nearly so nervous, no headache or pain. I must say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best remedy any sick woman can take."—Mrs. MARGARET QUINN, Rear 259 Worthen St., Lowell, Mass.

She Tells Her Friends to Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies.

North Haven, Conn.—"When I was 45 I had the Change of Life which is a trouble all women have. At first it didn't bother me but after a while I got bearing down pains. I called in doctors who told me to try different things but they did not cure my pains. One day my husband came home and said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash?' Well, I got them and took about 10 bottles of Vegetable Compound and could feel myself regaining my health. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and it has done me a great deal of good. Any one coming to my house who suffers from female troubles or Change of Life, I tell them to take the Pinkham remedies. There are about 20 of us here who think the world of them."—Mrs. FLORENCE ISALLA, Box 197, North Haven, Conn.

Explosion Averted.

"I hear you have been a very sick man," said the manager of the garage. "Yes, sir," replied Mr. Ernest Pinkley. "They most despaired of my recovery. But I never had no doubt about it myself. I jes' had to get well."

"Why?"

"Well, suh, I knowed I wasn't good enough to go to heaven. An' workin' in dis garage has got me souked so chock full of gasoline, dar wasn't a chance of deir wantin' me aroun' de other place."

SAXON

Strength-Economy-Service

You Take No Chances in Buying a Saxon

You may buy a Saxon believing it to be the best car in its class and you will get what you pay for.

You may look for longer service, better performance and lower up-keep bills from your Saxon than from any other car of like price. And you will not be disappointed.

If there was any doubt that Saxon cars are the best in their respective divisions it has long since disappeared.

And the proof of this you will find, a thousand-fold over, in the records of Saxon owners—and in the opinion of motor-car buyers in general. Saxon cars have definitely established their superiority in every phase of motor car performance.

And just as surely and decisively as they have proved themselves abler acting cars, have they proved themselves cheaper cars to keep up.

To build cars of such quality and such value clearly reflects the strength and soundness and ability of the Saxon organization.

FLAGRAISING

— ON THE NEW —

PURITAN HOLM ADDITION

SOUTH MAIN STREET

Saturday, May 26th

AT ONE O'CLOCK P. M.

YOUR FLAG AND MY FLAG

Your flag and my flag
 And how it flies today
 In your land and my land
 And half the world away!
 Rose-red and blood-red
 The stripes forever gleam:
 Snow-white and soul-white
 The good forefathers' dream:
 Sky-blue and true blue
 And stars to gleam aright—
 The gloried guidon of the day,
 A shelter through the night.
 Your flag and my flag!
 And, oh, how much it holds—
 Your land and my land—
 Secure within its folds!
 Your heart and my heart
 Beat quicker at the sight:
 Sun-kissed and wind-tossed—
 Red and blue and white.
 The one flag, the great flag—
 The flag for me and you—
 Glorified all else beside,
 The red, and white and blue!
 —Wilbur D. Nesbit.

LOVE OF YOUR COUNTRY

Youngster, you don't know what it is to be without a family, without a home, without a country. And if you are ever tempted to say a word or do a thing that shall put a bar between you and your family, your home and your country, pray God in His mercy to take you that instant home to His own heaven. Stick by your family, boy; forget that you have a self while you do everything for them. Think of your home, boy; write and talk about it. Let it be nearer to your thought the farther you have to travel from it; and rush back to it when you are free. And for your country, boy, never dream a dream but of serving her as she bids you, though the service may carry you through a thousand hells. No matter what happens to you, no matter who flatters you or abuses you, never look at another flag, never let a night pass but you pray God to bless the Stars and Stripes. Remember that you belong to your own country as you belong to your own mother; stand by her as you would stand by your own mother.
 —Edward Everett Hale

A handsome eight-foot flag will be raised on a sixty-five foot pole. Patriotic addresses will be delivered, and the occasion is one which every citizen of Plymouth should attend. The flag and pole will be offered to the village for erection in one of the parks, but the first raising will be on our property Saturday.
