"None So Blind As They That Will Not See"

Of course many outside the church will not comprehend the influence of convicting evidence. Their evasion of the Christ question is studied and habitual. As the Bible says, "pray," they won't. He says, "Do this in Remembrance of Me." They do it not. He says, "Come unto me, they avoid Him. We see this and it is often transparent enough. There is the other strange thing. Many inside never come into intelligent understanding of their church; don't know what is going on in the church world; steadfastly avoid seeing the currents of life and achievement in their own denomination. The reason some tradesmen or professional men never attains to highest efficiency, is, he takes no journal in his line. Well, so church people cripple themselves; can't understand and don't care to. The religious periodical is the telescope that gives an understanding view of the church and world. Yet some avoid the telescope.

25th Anniversary of Woman's Literary Club

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Woman's Literary Club was observed last Friday afternoon, March 1st. The meeting was held in the kindergarten room at the school building. About sixty ladies were in attendance. Club reminiscences were the response given to roll call. After a short business session, with the president presiding, the following program was given with Mrs. W. T. Pettigill acting as chairman. The program opened with a violin and piano duet by Miss Anna Baker and Miss Evalyn Thomas. A paper, History of the Club, was read by Mrs. O. A. Fraser, at the conclusion of which a rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Fraser for her excellent paper. Then followed a vocal duet by Mrs. R. E. Cooper and Mrs. William Bake, with Miss Evalyn Thomas accompanying on the piano. A very interesting paper, Natural Wonders of the United States, was given by former member, Miss Anna McGill. A letter of greeting to the Club from Mrs. L. F. Hatch of Vineland, New Jersey, was read by the secretary, Mrs. D. F. Murray. Then followed a few words of greeting to the club members by Mrs. J. J. Travis of Ann Arbor; Miss Madeline Bennett then favored the company with a piano solo. Mrs. S. E. Campbell was requested by the chair to say a few words of greeting in behalf of the Club to Mrs. O. A. Fraser, who is the only charter member of the Club who still remains an active member. For a quarter of a century she has watched the progress of the Club, and has always been interested in its work. Mrs. Campbell, in her usual pleasing manner responded, and at the conclusion of her remarks, read the following poem which was composed for the occasion and dedicated to Mrs. Fraser:

Twenty-five years of earnest work, Never a laggard, never a shirk, Active and earnest, loyal and true, Doing the work as few could do. Watching the growth of the Club, with pride, Seeing its influence grow more wide, Working cross the wrong, Helping to push the cause along. Watching the membership surely grow, As new faces come and old ones go, So that perchance, it oft seemed strange To you, who has viewed its every change, That all the years, since it had its birth, Till the present time, and its present worth. And now, as we gather here, today, Our homage to you, we gladly pay, As the only one who, from all the past, Has answered the roll call to the last.

She then presented Mrs. Fraser with a few cut flowers, a gift of the Club. This was followed by music—piano, Miss Evalyn Thomas; violin, Miss Anna Baker and Master Charles Chappell.

Then came the pleasing surprise of the afternoon, under the direction of Miss Brink, when little Marguerite Wood, dressed in a dainty little pink crêpe dress and carrying a basket of flowers, came tripping lightly into the room to the strains of a little dance played softly on the piano. She, like a dear little fairy danced most gracefully, and then suddenly disappeared only to return again accompanied by four other little girls—Ruth Hamilton, Peck, Doris and Esther Field, who brought with them a tea wagon daintily decorated with pink, and bearing a huge heart shaped cake with twenty-five lighted candles. Two songs were rendered by the children, and the program concluded with a little birthday song by Doris Field, after which the children led the way to the lunch room, where refreshments were served.

A ST. PATRICK'S SUPPER. Don't forget St. Patrick's supper at the Catholic society hall, Friday evening, March 15th, from 6:30 until 11:00 p. m. Come and enjoy the feast and the program.

Canton Soldier Given Full Military Honors

Funeral of Private Walter Gordon Held in High School Auditorium Monday Afternoon.

The second military funeral with flowers and the national colors, numbers, was held in the High school auditorium, last Monday afternoon at two o'clock, when the people of Plymouth and vicinity paid the last tribute of respect to the remains of Private Walter Edwin Gordon of Canton township, only son of Jerry and Adella Gordon. The auditorium beautifully decorated with flowers and the national colors, was none too large for the hundreds who came to do honor to one of our nation's heroes. A company of forty-five soldiers of the Detroit Guard, escorted the funeral cortege to the auditorium. Messrs. Calvin, Austin and Elmer Whipple sang two numbers. Rev. A. L. Ball of the Baptist church impressively read the Scripture lesson and made the prayer and Rev. Karl P. Miller of the Presbyterian church gave the address.

The military escort led the funeral procession to Riverside cemetery, where the remains of the soldier were laid to rest. The casket was borne by the squad over the body of their comrade, after which taps were sounded. Many beautiful floral designs were placed around the casket, silent tributes of love and esteem from friends and relatives.

Walter E. Gordon was born in Canton township, June 5th, 1894, and graduated from the Plymouth High school with the class of 1910, later attending the Michigan Agricultural College. At the time of his enlistment young Gordon was working on his father's farm, and on August 23, 1917, became a volunteer and was sent to the camp at Graying, with the 31st Michigan Infantry, being transferred later to the 125th, with which regiment he went to Waco, Texas. Recently he was moved to the Atlantic Sea Board with the object of being sent overseas and had boarded the transport, when his illness made it seem wise to postpone his trip, and he was sent to the army hospital near Hoboken, N. J., where he died February 23rd. Walter was a young man highly esteemed by all who knew him and his untimely death is deeply regretted by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Among the relatives who attended the funeral were: Mrs. S. L. Bloomer and Mrs. Lizzie Willis of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Goodell of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of Indian River and Mrs. Myrtle Hutchinson of West Branch, Mich.

Former Plymouth School Boys in the War Service

Supt. C. F. Reebbs of the Plymouth school is desirous of obtaining the names of every former student of the High school, who is now serving in Uncle Sam's army. A service flag is soon to be purchased, and it is necessary to know how many stars should be placed upon it. The names of former students now available is given below but there are undoubtedly many more. Look over the list, and if you know of a soldier who ever attended the Plymouth High school, and is not given in the list, call the superintendent's office, phone 62-F2 during the day and 295 at other times. Do it today. If you can give the address, rank and regiment of the soldiers, please do so.

Auto Skids, Two Die Near Newburg

Ralph Cochran, 34 years old, and his sister, Mrs. Margaret Dow, aged 20 years, were drowned in the River Rouge, just north of Newburg, corners last Friday about noon, when the automobile they were driving skidded from the roadway plunged down the steep embankment and landed upside down in the river.

The accident occurred near the bridge which spans the river on the crossroad between Newburg and the Plymouth road. Both were beyond aid when their bodies were taken from the water. The two had driven Arthur Dow, husband of the unfortunate woman to the D. U. R. station at Newburg on his departure for Jackson, to answer a draft call which would take him to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and they were on their way home when the fatal accident took place. As they approached the bridge, they turned out to pass a team, and in doing so, their car left the road and went over the embankment as stated above.

The young husband who was waiting for his car at the station was notified of the tragedy and hurried to the scene of the accident. Undertaker S. D. Schradler was called and the two bodies were taken to the Schradler Bros. morgue, where they were prepared for shipment to Eaton Rapids, Mich., for interment.

The parents of the victims live on a farm in Livonia township.

Band Benefit a Success

There was a large crowd at the picture show, last week Thursday evening, for the benefit of Plymouth's new band. The band, under the leadership of Frank Millard, gave a concert, during the evening that proved a delightful surprise to the large audience. Millinery Opening Friday and Saturday, March 15-16, '18 Miss Agnes Thompson Penniman Ave.

Dear Sister and All: Just before we left the transport I wrote mother a long letter telling you so much of the journey over. So will not try to tell you any more of that now, except that I was not seasick at all, but that the majority of the boys were. I will try to tell you of some of the interesting things I have seen since reaching here. I think I can safely say that we are in England, but do not expect to remain here long. I am not allowed to tell you the name of the boat we came on, nor what route we took, nor how long we were in coming.

We are having a terrible time getting used to the English money system, that is, pounds, crowns, shillings and pence. It is comical to listen to the boys. When they make change you will hear them say, "Let's see, this piece is 24c and this one 12c and this one 24c. They always translate it to American value to figure, and I do also. Our mail has not reached us yet, and it may be a week or two before it does. We just got our pay for December today. They will not let us go to town just yet.

They have fine roads through the country here. Most of the places have hedges instead of fences. The grass is real green for it would be real warm if it wasn't so damp. Every day it is foggy but at night it clears off. The damp weather makes it so cold, that is, you feel it nearly as much as you do there at home when it is zero. While the thermometer doesn't read lower than 50 degrees any of the time. All the houses are made of brick. You don't see but very little lumber, although the woods seem to be as thick and plentiful as they are in Michigan. Most of the vehicles are two-wheeled carts, haven't seen but two four-wheeled wagons, yet. Automobiles are pretty rare also, for they say gasoline is one dollar per gallon and that is shipped from the United States.

Oh, here I want to speak a word for the Red Cross. It is doing a wonderful work, and the Y. M. C. A. is also. The Y. M. C. A. is doing a good work among the boys, for it is like a club. You can go there to read, write, smoke, buy candy, and attend their religious services, and two or three times a week they have some kind of entertainment. Last night there were about a dozen girls from the town near here gave us a vocal concert. They were fine and gave us to understand right from the start that they did not look upon us as foreigners, and the English soldiers here have treated us in the same cordial way. So it has changed my attitude towards the snobbishness of the English people, and have heard lots of the boys say the same thing.

Well, must close as it is time for the "Y" to close. Mail your next letter to the following address, F. W. Townsend, 25th Aero Squadron, S. S. C., American Exp. Forces Abroad.

WE WON'T WIN IF WE WASTE. Tested Wartime Recipes FOR USE IN MICHIGAN. (Clip and save these recipes for future reference.)

Earnest Co-operation Needed.

Remember that the recipes which are being given here, and those which you will find in other places, are merely suggestive. They show what can be done. But recipes alone will not solve the problem.

Below are some tried recipes for war bread which may be found interesting and useful. When liquid yeast is used, a cupful may be counted as equal to one cake of dry or compressed yeast, and a slight reduction must be made in the total amount of liquid used.

Do your bit—small sacrifices now may save you from making greater ones later.

Chicken Salad. 1 C cooked chicken, 1 C celery, 4 lettuce leaves, 1/2 T salad dressing (or more), Mix chicken and celery with salad dressing. Arrange on lettuce leaves. Serve very cold.

Pie Crust. There are other ways of reducing the amount of white flour we use. Excellent Pie Crust may be made by using 1/2 cup flour and 1/2 cup barley. Use your customary recipe, reducing the amount of shortening, if barley is used. Serve pie less often than formerly. Let most of these be one crust pies. Try the New England deep apple pie, with only a top crust.

Corn Meal Crust. Grease a pie plate well. Cover with raw cornmeal, giving the plate a rotating motion so that an even layer of the meal will stick to the plate about 1/8 of an inch in thickness. Fill the plate with pumpkin or custard pie mixture. Bake in a hot oven.

Oatmeal Crust. 1 C finely ground oatmeal, 1 C boiling water, 1 fat. Scald the oatmeal with the water. Add fat and mix thoroughly. Roll very thin and line small pie or tart tins with the mixture. Bake in hot oven. Fill with apricot marmalade or other thick mixture. If desired, spread a meringue on top and brown in the oven.

Mush. Serve corn meal mush, oatmeal mush, Graham mush or barley mush, either fried or with milk. Remember that all cereals in form of mush must be thoroughly cooked and well salted.

Barley Mash. 1 C ground barley, 1 C boiling water, 1 fat. Add barley gradually into boiling salted water. Cook thoroughly about two hours.

Tapiocka. Tapioca is rich in starch. Use tapioca puddings often now, letting them take the place of butter puddings and pastry, both of which require flour. Be sure to cook tapioca thoroughly. The reason many people dislike tapioca is because it is uncooked, leaving a raw, starchy taste which is very disagreeable.

Vegetable Loaf. 1 C chopped carrots, 1 C peas—tinned or meat stock, 1 C oatmeal—ground or meat stock, 1 C cooked carrots, 1 C bread crumbs, or 1 C mashed potatoes. Season well with salt, pepper and onion. Celery and other seasonings may be used.

Carrot Souffle. 1 cup White Sauce, medium thickness, 1 cup carrots, boiled and mashed, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 2 eggs. Peel the carrot, the onion, and the seasoning to the White Sauce, then add the beaten egg yolks and beat the whites of the eggs until they are stiff. Fold them lightly into the first mixture and turn this into a greased baking dish. Set the dish in a pan of hot water and bake the souffle in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Serve it at once from the dish in which it was baked.

Carrot and Cheese Salad. 1 pint grated raw carrot, 1/2 cup grated cheese, 1 egg. Peel the ingredients lightly together and serve them on lettuce with either French or Holland Dressing.

THE PENALTY FOR HOARDING. Any person who willfully hoards any necessities shall upon conviction thereof be fined not exceeding $5,000 or be imprisoned for not more than two years or both. Necessaries shall be deemed to be hoarded when either held, contracted for or arranged for by any person in a quantity in excess of his reasonable requirements for use and consumption for himself and dependents for a reasonable time.

Red Cross Notes

Are you working for the Red Cross? You cannot find a more worthy cause. Every woman in this village, who can spare one hour a week of time, is needed in the work rooms. Come and do your bit. A special meeting of the chairmen of divisions of the Plymouth branch of the American Red Cross was held in the Red Cross sewing room at the school house, last Saturday afternoon. Fourteen ladies were present. Mrs. C. H. Bennett, general chairman, called the meeting to order at the appointed hour. Mrs. William T. Pettigill was appointed secretary pro tem.

The quota for March was read and the work allotted to each division. Mrs. Charles Reeb, who has been collecting and looking after the flower fund, reported that two floral pieces had recently been purchased, and that she had a small balance on hand. It was voted to appoint Mrs. Reeb permanent flower treasurer. The same was moved and carried that time cards be adopted in the work rooms so that each worker may know exactly how many hours she has given to the service. On motion the meeting was adjourned.

The following may be of interest to Plymouth workers: So much confusion seems to exist throughout the field in regard to the wearing of the coat and the bestowal of the emblem, that the following explanation is given. The white apron with long sleeves is the recognized costume for Red Cross work rooms. The apron should be worn in all work rooms, and in the surgical dressings rooms the head must be covered also. The use of the blue and red coifs is optional with the committee in charge. They may, however, be worn in any authorized work room where Red Cross supplies are made whether surgical dressings, garments or comforts for fighting men. Any worker in any of these rooms wear the white apron and white coif, which is worn for sanitation and cleanliness. The blue and red coifs have no other significance, but to distinguish those in charge of the room. The woman wearing the blue coif is thrice known to be in charge, and those wearing the red coifs her assistants for the day. These blue and red coifs may always have the Red Cross emblem on them as National Headquarters make them, but the Central division was otherwise given the right to reserve the privilege of wearing the emblem as a reward for service given.

In order to earn the right to wear the emblem women must promise definite time: Thirty-two hours must be given to Red Cross service in the work rooms before the emblem may be worn on the apron. Seventy-two hours must be given before it can be worn on the coif, except on blue and red coifs as stated above. One hundred twenty-eight hours must be given before the small red ribbon may be placed below the emblem on the apron. This applies to all workrooms. There are many faithful workers doing splendid work outside the workrooms who truly merit a reward for service, but this branch of the work proves too many difficulties to be satisfactorily solved as yet.

The young peoples $10.00 bond recently purchased, was conspicuous on the wall, and the program, so well arranged by the leader, Mrs. Charles Riggs, was further enlivened by Miss McClumpha's report that the society's Home Mission apportionment was paid this year before falling due. A letter of commendation was read from the Detroit secretary. The new song books were introduced. A "song feast" was held at Miss McClumpha's home Tuesday evening, to enable the Endeavorers to get acquainted with the new book.

The society has added one more point to its efficiency record by organizing a study class of twelve members which will meet regularly at the manse each Friday evening for a 45 minute session. The class meets this evening at 7 o'clock, and the lesson is the first chapter of the "Lure of Africa."

Our special representative, Kahn Bros. of Chicago, will be at our store, Friday and Saturday, March 8 and 9, with a display of spring and summer suitings. Suits made to your order.

About forty attended the monthly meeting of C. F. Reeb's Sunday-school class in the Presbyterian church dining room Monday evening.

A pot-luck dinner was delightfully served at 6:30, after which the class held a short business session; then followed a very lively social hour including games that tested the mathematical and scientific genius of all present. Mr. Wm. Shaw undoubtedly "out-buzzed" everybody, but all members ranked high at the interrogation game of Kingdom.

Mr. Reeb's class is a "ladies only" organization, but the men heartily approve of the mixed plan at the monthly dinner.

WHAT CAN WE DO?

A shortage of trained nurses confronts the Red Cross and young high school and college women must save the day for the organization in this dilemma. Even though these young women have no expectation of following nursing as a life vocation they may benefit themselves and show their willingness to help when help is badly needed by qualifying to do Red Cross work. The time spent in the nurses' training schools of the country, and in actual nursing, will prove a lifelong asset—broaden the vision and sympathies and make better and less anxious mothers of the girls who undertake such training.

We are to discontinue the knitting of trench caps because the government is to include a trench cap in every man's equipment. And furthermore, we are asked to use the yarn for socks and more socks. The hand-knitted varieties are most satisfactory and even when the upper part is made by machine the stitches may be taken up on needles of the correct size and the foot knitted by hand.

COATS WITH "THROW" COLLARS.

Gauntlet cuffs and "throw" or scarf collars are among the small innovations in coat styles that distinguish them from preceding seasons. Another almost universal feature of new coats is some sort of definition at the waistline which may be either above or below the normal waistline and is often most above. Nevertheless, many of the new coats achieve an almost straight silhouette. Bearing these three peculiarities in mind, it will not be at all hard to acquire an up-to-date coat, for spring styles show no radical departures from those of the winter. Although the throw is merely a supplement to the spring coat for wear on keen, chilly days, it may be made a style note full of charm. There is a knack in wearing it which lies in adjusting it becomingly. Each of the two coats illustrated here is provided with a throw and one of them is further favored with one phase of the gauntlet cuff. Both are of wool velour, which has proved itself an ideal fabric for coats.

The model at the left is in beige color. It has straight panels down the front and a rather wide girde set in about the sides and back, defining a long waistline. The skirt of the coat is shirred to the belt with scant fullness. The sleeves are roomy and finished with ample cuffs that are embellished with small buttons. There is a long, rolling shawl collar which may be fastened over the throat. The scarf hangs to the waistline and ends in large, soft tassels. It amounts to an ornament and is pictured with the throat uncovered and the ends hanging at each side of the coat.
The coat at the left resorts to small box plaits in the back to provide the required fullness in its skirt. It chooses the high waistline and a scarf in white with tasseled ends in dark taupe like the coat in color.

NEW FASHIONS

Rippling skirt sections are taboed by some of the smartest modistes. Gray handkerchief linen is used for some of the most distinctive of French hand made blouses.
Cat stitching in heavy silk is in some cases replacing fill the work on blouses, since it involves less time and labor and is almost as effective.
A novel edging, introduced by Lanvin on some of her blouses, is made of tiny seam heading, cut in half and applied by hand.
Colored pique is used for collars and cuffs on lingerie blouses for spring. Heavily embroidered front panels are used on some of the hand made lingerie blouses.
Blazer stripes are reported as returning to favor in England for sweaters.
Most of the best bandeau brassieres are now fitted with a shaped diaphragm band.
Tunics on suit skirts are more prominent when souve or Eton jackets are made to go with them.
The three piece or middy suit is being evolved in silk and cloth combinations with very attractive results. Anesthet needle draped and clasped with steel buckle forms the belt on a white velour waistcoat made to go with a short, box jacket of a navy tricote suit.
Pumpkin yellow handkerchief linen is developed into a mannish tucked front, sleeveless blouse to wear with a navy suit, the jacket of which is short and boxlike.

Old-Fashioned Frocks.

Frocks of organdie in combinations that harken back to the fifties give an inkling to what may be expected this season, and illustrated in a model seen of gray organdie, the skirt fluted slightly into the waist is banded at the foot with self color and finished at the top with cord and narrow knife plaiting of pale yellow. The quaint tight-fitting waist, modified by modern influence, depends upon knife plattings and cording to trim. A good looking brown and white plaid gingham dress is combined with white organdie and set off with a brown suede belt, which carries it above the rank of the commonplace.
Blouses Without Sleeves.
War Caused Simple Styles.
Tunics are very much favored in order that skirts may not seem unbecomingly skimpy. Loose fitting pants and apron effects are also in evidence. The vogue for simply designed clothes is traceable directly to the influence of the war. More and more women are becoming really useful members of society, and as this condition grows clothes that are practical as well as becoming and beautiful will have an increasing demand.
Custom makes all things easy.

Bowser's Villa

Folks Call It Something Else
(Copyright, 1917, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
By M. QUAD.
About mid-afternoon the Bowser premises were invaded by three or four strange men. Two of them brought ladders and the others cans of paint and Jugs of turpentine and oil. Mrs. Bowser when she had recovered a little from the invasion tried to make the men understand that they had made a big mistake.
"Oh, no, Mrs. Bowser," replied the leader of the gang. "I have known Mr. Bowser for three years and I've been by this place a thousand times. There is no mistake here."
"But what is all this stuff for?" she protested.
"It looks as if Mr. Bowser was going to do some painting. He didn't was painted a dark blue. Then followed a strip of red and a strip of green came next to it. Then there was more dark blue down to the sangles. Mr. Bowser came down the ladder and surveyed the house from the sidewalk. His art work was just boss; no landscape painter could have equalled it. The sign on the fence was simply magnificent. The half a dozen people who passed and repressed Mr. Bowser didn't utter a word of praise. In fact, some of them sniggered with contempt. This was scarcely noticed by the great painter, and he went back to his work highly elated. The stripes on the opposite chimney were reversed. Instead of beginning with dark blue he began with red. Just as he had finished and was about to take another survey a man came along and produced a piece of chalk from his pocket and made the sign read, "The Bowser Villain." Then he called up:

"Hello, old man. Is the villain at home?"
"What do you mean, sir?" demanded Mr. Bowser.
"I want to wring his neck for him for setting up a barber shop on this street."
Mr. Bowser hastened down the ladder, but the man moved on, but another man replaced him, and they kept coming and halting until thirty people were gathered in front of the house. They took Mr. Bowser for a house hire us to do it, but said that he had his own ideas to carry out. If he hasn't said anything to you he will probably tell you all about it this evening. He made us promise to have everything over here before four o'clock and everything is here. He can get up at four o'clock in the morning and go right at work."

"Thirty People Gathered in Front of the House."

If Mrs. Bowser had not had a sweet temper she would have spent the rest of the afternoon in kicking over chairs and discharging the cook. Mr. Bowser hadn't said a word about repainting the house. He had preserved the strictest secrecy about the enterprise. The house did not need repainting and the idea of having him daubing around for a week or two was unbearable. She made no outright demonstrations, however, but that evening would bring the talk.
Mr. Bowser came home at the usual time and took a look into the side yard before entering the house. He realized that Mrs. Bowser had seen the outfit and must suspect his evil design, but he entered the house with a flourish and did a lot of talking in the next five minutes. In fact, he did all the talking during the dinner and a great deal more than was necessary. He was putting the explanation off as long as possible, but it had to come when they reached the family room.
"Now, then," said Mrs. Bowser, as she straightened up and set her jaw, "why did you have those men bring all the things this afternoon?"
"Why, my dear," said Mr. Bowser, in an oily voice, "I am going to do a little painting. Didn't I speak about it a week or so ago? This is glorious weather for outside painting and I am anxious to be at the work."
"Mr. Bowser, this house does not need any paint on it," firmly replied Mrs. Bowser.
"You may not think so, but thousands of other people do. I am almost ashamed to turn at the gate and look at it. Besides, I have another object in view. How long have we lived in this house?"
"About fifteen years," was the reply.
"And it has been of the same color ever since. The house is red brick and the woodwork painted white. That's the way most of the houses on the block are. There is a dreadful monotony about it. I had almost as soon walk through a cemetery as along this block."
"Then your object is to change the color?" queried Mrs. Bowser.
"There shall be a complete change, my dear. You won't know the place when I get through with it. You know what a villa is, don't you? Well, there is not a villa within half a mile of us. I am going to make one of our house."
"Are you going to get a bunch of carpenters up here to tear this house all to pieces?" was demanded.
"Oh, no, no. There will be no carpenters and there will be no other painters beside myself. I shall make a villa of it by the way I paint it and thousands of people will stop to admire."
Mr. Bowser was up long before the sun next morning and getting a milk man to help him raise the longest ladder he mounted to the roof and made a closer inspection. While he was doing this a painter brought a sign about ten feet long and hung it on the fence. It read: "The Bowser Villa."
During breakfast Mrs. Bowser was very quiet and Mr. Bowser was in too much of a hurry to do any talking. As soon as he had finished he began carrying the material to the roof and in a little while he was ready to begin his hard work. The cap, or top of the chimney for a foot downward, painter, and he had to listen to such remarks as:

"Why, the man must be a fool!"
"What donkey lives here, anyhow?"
"Is it going to be a barber shop or a Coey Island pop-corn factory?"
"Villa! Villa! Why, it looks more like a chicken coop! There ought to be a committee formed to give the idiot notice that we can't put up with such a thing on this street. It will reduce the price of real estate 25 per cent."
Mr. Bowser went up the ladder and began on the third chimney, but his heart was not in his work. After the four stones, thrown by unseen hands, he had to listen to such remarks as:
"Why, the man must be a fool!"
"What donkey lives here, anyhow?"
"Is it going to be a barber shop or a Coey Island pop-corn factory?"
"Villa! Villa! Why, it looks more like a chicken coop! There ought to be a committee formed to give the idiot notice that we can't put up with such a thing on this street. It will reduce the price of real estate 25 per cent."
Mr. Bowser went up the ladder and began on the third chimney, but his heart was not in his work. After the four stones, thrown by unseen hands, had landed on the roof near him, he carried his material down to the ground and entered the house, and, without a word to Mrs. Bowser, who sat weeping, he changed into his business suit and left the house. An hour later three painters were at work wiping the first paint off the chimneys and repainting them the original color. Two boys took away the sign hanging on the fence and called it over a stable door, and the incident was closed—but the damage to Mr. Bowser's feelings. He had set out to beautify the street, and the people wouldn't have it. He wanted a villa, but the public wouldn't stand for it. He wanted to do some art work that should live after him, and he had been abused as if he had stolen a whole flock of sheep.

"Mr. Bowser Was Up Long Before the Sun."

Turkish Calendar a Puzzle.
According to the Mohammedan religious calendar, December 11 is New Year's day, but the Turkish financial year gives a different reckoning. Then, the Christian unbelievers and the Jewish "goyim"—also have to be taken into consideration. According to the Hebrew calendar, December 11 is the first of the month of Tebet, year 5778, and this information also goes into the Turkish calendar for the benefit of the Jewish population of the empire. Christians who claim allegiance to the Greek church, numerous in Turkey, are also given a subdivision in the Turkish calendar, December 11 being their November 27, while another section gives the new style date of December 11. Arabs and Armenians are also given a line, in their own language. The combination of diverse dates makes a Turkish calendar about as mystifying as a railroad timetable.

Cod Catch Brings $25,000.
A Japanese fishing schooner that had fished its way across the Pacific arrived at a Pacific port with a catch of 100,000 cod, which the captain immediately sold to a local fish dealer for a sum said to be in the neighborhood of $25,000.
After discharging the cargo, the schooner took on a large quantity of salt, with the object of fishing its way back to Japan.—Portland Oregonian.

He Should Worry.
They were shouldered on the front veranda of a Florida winter resort hotel porch.
Said the tourist to the drummer: "Do you believe there is really nothing new under the sun?"
"Oh, I don't worry much about that." The knight of the grip shifted his cigar to the other corner of his mouth. "What interests me is something new between me and the sun." He replied as he gazed admiringly at a pretty girl coming down the walk in a brand new seamstress skirt.—Florida Times-Union.

KIDNEY TROUBLE NOT EASILY RECOGNIZED
Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected
An examining physician for one of the prominent life insurance companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease.
Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.
We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.
However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Win the War by Preparing the Land Sowing the Seed and Producing Bigger Crops
Work in Joint Effort the Soil of the United States and Canada
CO-OPERATIVE FARMING IS MAN POWER NECESSARY TO WIN THE BATTLE FOR LIBERTY
The Food Controllers of the United States and Canada are asking for greater food production. Scarcely 100,000,000 bushels of wheat are available to be sent to the allies overseas before the crop harvest. Upon the efforts of the United States and Canada rests the burden of supply.
Every Available Tillable Acre Must Contribute; Every Available Farmer and Farm Hand Must Assist
Western Canada has an enormous acreage to be seeded, but man power is short, and an appeal to the United States allies is for more men for sowing operation.
Canada's Wheat Production Last Year was 225,000,000 Bushels; the Demand From Canada Alone for 1918 is 400,000,000 Bushels
To secure this must have assistance. She has the land but needs the men. The Government of the United States wants every man who can effectively help, to do farm work this year. It wants the land in the United States developed first of course; but it also wants to help Canada. Whoever we find a man we can spare to Canada's fields after ours are sowed, we want to direct him there.
Apply to our Employment Service, and we will tell you where you can best serve the combined interests.
Western Canada's help will be required not later than April 15th. Write to competent help, $50.00 a month and board and lodging.
Those who respond to this appeal will get a warm welcome, good food, good board and find comfortable homes. They'll get a man of man and a mile from Canadian boundary pointer to destinations and return.
For particulars as to routes and places where employment may be secured apply to: U. S. EMPLOYMENT SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

To drive a tank, handle the guns, and sweep over the enemy trenches, take strong nerves, good rich blood, a good stomach, liver and kidneys. When the time comes, the man with red blood in his veins "is up and at it." He has iron nerves for hardships—an interest in his work grips him. That's the way you feel when you have taken a blood and nerve tonic, made up of Blood Root, Golden Seal root, Stone root, Cherry bark, and rolled into a sugar-coated tablet and sold in sixty-cent vials by almost all druggists for past fifty years as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This tonic, in liquid or tablet form, is just what you need this spring to give you vim, vigor and vitality. At the fall end of a hard winter, no wonder you feel "run-down," blue, out of sorts. Try this "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's. Don't wait! To-day is the day to begin! A little "pep," and you laugh and live.
The best means to all the machinery of the body, put tone into the liver, kidneys and circulatory system, is to first practice a good house-cleaning. I know of nothing better as a laxative than a vegetable pill made up of May-apple, leaves of aloë and jalap. This is commonly sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and should be taken at least once a week to clear the twenty-five feet of intestines. You will thus clean the system—expel the poisons and keep well. Now is the time to clean house. Give yourself a spring house cleaning.—Adv.

Had He Picked Out His General?
Ben Haggood Burt, who writes popular songs, was haranguing a group of his fellow members of a theatrical club in New York city upon the subject of patriotism in the present national crisis. It was his contention that every man should do his bit—in the fighting line, if possible.
"Look here, Ben," spoke up a listener; "I haven't heard that you have enlisted yourself, yet."
"Oh, I've got my job all picked out!" said Burt. "And what's more, it's going to be a job in the army, too."
"What sort of a place are you going to fill?" asked another.
"I'm going to be chauffeur to a general with a yellow streak," said Burt.

Lime grows big crop

Take our free offer to all farmers to test their land so it will grow more high-priced crops. Solvay Pulverized Limestone destroys soil acids in the seed bed. It makes the ground soft, releases potash tied up by the acids, and lets beneficial bacteria grow in the sweet soil. All cropped land benefits from Solvay, because excepting those making fermenting manure, etc., create soil acidity, and soil acidity hinders growth of crops. Solvay Limestone is as fine as flour, and is 94% carbonate. Because of its big surface for weight it far outclasses coarse ground stone as a corrector. It costs little to apply; you use a $40 lime-spreader or fertilizer attachment on your seeder, and get a large increase in yield without much extra labor. Remember, it is the increase in yield that counts for profit, and big yield is very important just now. The acid-free potash gives strong plant growth. The sweet, ventilated soil permits nitrogen-gathering soil bacteria to furnish the crop material for heavy, plump seed. Plan to use Solvay Pulverized Limestone on your farm land and clay soils as soon as possible. It pays.

DISEASES OF CROPS CAUSE BIG LOSS

Lessons of Past Indicate Need of Controlling Preventable Troubles.

OATS SMUT IS UNNECESSARY

Can Easily Be Guarded Against, M. A. C. Man says—Same Is True of Wheat Smut and Potato Trouble.

By DR. G. H. COONS, Plant Pathologist, Michigan Agricultural College.

East Lansing, Mich.—The farmer is facing, as never before, high and almost prohibitive prices on the necessary materials and implements of his business. The problem of farm labor has been only partially solved. How can the farmer then answer the ever recurring appeal of the nation for greater production?

Those familiar with the losses caused by plant diseases recognize in these losses the great leak in agriculture. Here if anywhere the farmer should concentrate his attention, and by a little effort and by a study of the facts that directly concern his business learn to prevent these losses which year after year have been cutting down yields.

The methods the farmer is to use are not some new-fangled things manufactured on the spur of the moment but are standard, well-known and thoroughly tested treatments, which through ignorance or carelessness are now often widely neglected.

To meet the situation squarely the farmer must know the nature of the trouble he is trying to correct. Plant diseases for the most part are caused by parasites, so tiny as to be invisible except under a microscope, which steal their living from the farmer's crops. Sometimes the attacks of these parasites may cause only a spot or a blemish on the plant, as for example, the scab of potatoes and the "speckles" on apples. With other parasites, the destruction may be complete. In oat smut and late blight of potatoes for instance the crop shows the effect of the attack by diminished yields.

In carrying out the program for crop protection, which this article proposes, the most necessary thing for the farmer to understand, is that plant diseases are not beyond control just because certain weather may favor their increase.

Let us suppose that the farmer is a grain farmer and put to a test the proposition that plant disease control can increase his production. Some of the greatest wastes on many farms are those which result from smut—oat smut for example, and the stinking smut of wheat. By conservative estimate the average loss from oat smut has been placed at about $5 per acre for the Michigan crop. This amounts in the aggregate to an enormous sum. The average farmer who neglects to treat his seed feeds the smut parasites in his ten acres as much as would be required to keep a cow for three months.

The remedy for this situation is well known and has been pushed in many farming communities. Last year in Michigan the county agricultural agents recommended widely and with uniform success the new concentrated formaldehyde solution is sprayed on the grain as it is shoveled over and over. The treated grain is covered for four hours and is then spread out in a warm place to air. It should be planted at once. With a cost of from 80 to 50 cents for formaldehyde and a slight expenditure of time and labor it will be seen that any farmer can protect his crop.

Similar treatment to this is possible for wheat smut, which also is the cause of pernicious loss in this time of food shortage. This loss, which the farmer must stand, is enormous. A common practice in one community is to reduce the exchange value of wheat for flour by 11 pounds—a depreciation of nearly 80 cents per bushel. To neglect the treatment of wheat contradicts every element of good business judgment.

There are weapons also that the potato grower can use against plant diseases. Treatment of seed potatoes with corrosive sublimate against black scurf and scab guards against failure of plantings and insures a clean crop if the tubers are planted on clean ground.

In spraying the potato crop with bordeaux mixture, the grower has an additional control measure which will not only insure his crop against late blight but will prevent the parching of leaves in hot dry seasons.

The fruit grower, if he is at all progressive, has already learned that to raise sound and unblemished fruit, it is necessary to spray the trees regularly and thoroughly.

Stockmen Can Collect Damages.

One of the sections in Michigan's new dog law, it is announced by the department of animal husbandry of the Michigan Agricultural College, makes the following provision: "In case of damage done to live stock the services of a disinterested justice of the peace not related to the owner of the damaged stock should be asked at once to view the damage or killed animals and adjust the amount of the loss sustained. If he is satisfied that damage is done by dogs, he delivers a statement of the losses sustained to the township or village clerk. The clerk then issues an order for the amount to be paid at once by the township or village treasurer to the owner of the damaged stock if sufficient funds are at hand. These orders hold good from one year to the next until paid. Any surplus in these funds over $200 reverts into the general school fund of the village or township at the end of each calendar year."

American tobacco preparing and cigarette making machinery has been introduced into Algeria.

The farmer or fruit grower needs to study the requirements of his business. No field of study will yield better returns than a consideration of the diseases of our important crops. With such a study will come a realization of the things to be laid in so that materials may be obtained in due season for use in the summer at the critical times for crop conservation.

Formaldehyde, commonly readily obtainable at drug stores, is scarce and should be bought in proper quantity before the great demand which is sure to come this year exhausts the available supply. An early demand will equip the dealer to handle the business. Similarly, other fungicides, such as copper sulphate for bordeaux mixture, lime sulphur for use against apple scab, and corrosive sublimate for potato scab and black scurf are hard to obtain and should be ordered at once.

To delay securing these necessary materials or the necessary insecticides such as arsenicals and nicotine, is to invite loss when the great summer demand has exhausted the available supply. Nothing but foresight will meet the crisis which our congested transportation conditions present.

Spraying machinery too is most important in this year when we plan to protect our crops with properly made fungicides and insecticides. To insure even June deliveries orders should be placed at once.

Michigan has a number of excellently equipped factories turning out worthy and dependable spray machines. Local freight is moving fairly rapidly and accordingly it would seem the part of good judgment to order goods from factories near at hand. The same is true of spray materials, many of which can be bought in quantity from Michigan concerns.

Preparedness for the battle which confronts the American farmer demands attention to the serious plant diseases. The great gains in agriculture will not come to much from discovery of new and especially productive varieties as from the ravages of insect pests and plant diseases. The American farmer army must be prepared if it is to win this impending battle.

Best Stock Is Cheapest.

"For a man entering upon the business of raising ducks, the wisest and most economical move he can make is to purchase the best breeding stock possible," avers the department of poultry husbandry of M. A. C. "And in breeding, never use more than one male for five females. This breeding stock should be selected every year from the May batch, choosing when they have become five or six weeks old, the largest, strongest and thriftiest ducklings. Additional range in grass yards should be provided for them, and with it abundant opportunity for swimming. During September and October feed them twice daily only about two-thirds of what they can consume, as this will keep them from laying during the fall months and will get them into winter condition to respond to heavy feeding later on."

The Truth.

The truth is that something everybody wants on his side when trouble comes. You may not be overly well acquainted with it before you need it, but that makes no difference. Truth is the thing that lasts when other things vanish. Those who other claim that "truth is conformity of representation to fact." There is more or less of it in the world. Its prevalence depends upon the company you keep. In some circles men try to keep away from truth because they are aiming at unjust gains. Some trot the personal opinion to favor before reputed greatness. They are not concerned about what they are. It's what they want to be that keeps them thinking. And their thinking is purely of gain. To handle money, to exercise authority, to be looked upon as successful seems to be their chief goal. But if they only knew it the truth is the best way to attain it.

Spotless Town Found.

The spotless town of fiction has been discovered at last. It is Inlay, Nev., a freight division on the Southern Pacific railway, and its 300 inhabitants are mainly railroaders, says the Wall Street Journal. Its spotlessness is due to things the town is without. It has no saloons, and also no jail. It is without lawyers, doctors or a "red-light district." There is no church in the town and no cemetery on its outskirts. Neither can one find a "movie" or a pawnshop. The inhabitants eat three meals a day and work for their living.

Post Too Artificial.

In the same year as Lovelace, or just three centuries ago, was born Abraham Cowley, who published his first book of poems at the age of fifteen and to whom fell the posthumous honor of leading off Samuel Johnson's "Lives of the Poets." Johnson ranked him among those he called the "metaphysical" poets and expressed a dislike for his far-fetched conceits with which the present-day reader would heartily coincide.

What Testing Association Is.

A cow-testing association is simply a small group of farmers, usually 28, who unite in hiring a man to weigh and test the milk and keep the feed costs and production records of their herds. This man, called the tester, spends a day every month on each farm.

Looks That Way.

"Well, it is part of his business to put a good face on the matter."

"Oh, she married an aviator."

Back to Middle Ages Arc.

"This war is to destroy accepted civilization and restore to the world the culture of the Christian commonwealth, the middle ages," Ralph Adams Cram, Boston architect, told members of the Omaha Society of Fine Arts recently, the Omaha News states.

The loss of philosophy begun by the renaissance, the reformation and intensified industrial conditions of today are the remote causes of world disturbances, according to the lecturer.

Civilization's development, seen through architecture, reached a high standard in Egypt, Rome, and Greece, and its zenith in the middle ages, the speaker said.

"I recommend a return to the guild system and condemn the shackles of modern capitalism," said Mr. Cram. "In architecture we find the qualities essential to rebuilding the world morally, industrially and scientifically, which we must apply after the war."

It was an English avenue car. He was holding her hand in a courtly fashion, while looking across the way to read the headlines of a late pink extra. She became pouty at his negligence, and he noticed it with a yawn. "Gee, kid, I love you. I don't believe I could get along without you"—and he stiffed another yawn.

Her eyes blazed. "You poor seed," she snapped. "You have all the passion of an infuriated clam. What do you think you're doing, asking the conductor for a transfer?"

And everybody laughed and the young man blushed and the car rolled on and on.—New York Times.

"Blue" and Worried?

"Blue" worried, half-sick people should find out the cause of their trouble. Often it is merely faulty kidney action, which allows the blood to get loaded up with poisons that irritate the nerves. Backache, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder troubles are added proofs that the kidneys need help. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands thank them for relief from just such troubles.

ENGLISH HEDGES MUST GO

One of War's Results Will Be a Change to American Style of Landscape Gardening.

One of the pretty features of the English landscape will undergo drastic changes as a result of the great agricultural program this year. Hedges in many places will have to go down and thousands of trees which have wide-spreading roots must be removed to allow plowing. It is believed by many that the result after the war will be the adoption of the American style of landscape, with lawns minus fences and hedges surrounding homes.

When Sir Herbert Tree returned to England from America shortly before his death he extolled the American system, but the English did not take kindly to his idea, as the English people believed their privacy would be infringed and they feared the beautiful lawns would be ruined by trespassers.

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says: "I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 6th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Illuminated Title.

An attractive young lady entered a New York book shop the other day and told the clerk that there was one title missing from her red leather set of O. Henry.

"Which one?" he asked.

"Let me see," she replied, in evident embarrassment. To help her out he named over a few titles.

Brightening, the lady said, "Oh, now I have it. It is 'The Light That Failed.'"

It was now the clerk's turn to look the other way. Finally, leading her to a shelf containing the set, he asked her which of the books she wanted.

"Ah, here it is," she said.

Certain-lead Roofing

From every standpoint of service and cost—
Certain-lead has proved its claim—"The best type of roof for most buildings, and the best quality roofing of its type".

Certain-lead has made good all over the world under all conditions—as proved by its enormous sale. It has become the standard roof for buildings of all types and sizes—for factories, round houses, elevators, garages, warehouses, hotels, farm buildings, stores, out-buildings, etc.

Its economy is three-fold—first cost moderate, laying cost low, up-keep practically nothing.

Its efficiency embraces every important roofing quality—weather proof, spark proof, rust and rot proof, clean and sanitary, and very durable. Certain-lead is not affected by acids, fumes or smoke, and does not melt under the hottest sun.

Guaranteed 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness.

It pays to get Certain-lead because it costs no more to lay than ordinary roof roofing, and lasts much longer.
