"FAILURE TO LIVE FOR HUMANITY NECESSITATES DYING FOR HUMANITY"

When men shall brothers be in all the world then living for the welfare of the other fellow will be the common practice. The strong man who can indulge temperately will abstain totally for the sake of the weak man who goes the whole hog or none. The woman who can afford social extravagance will none of it, lest the sin of envy and discontent be aroused in another. The church member with no conscience must think of the church members who do have a conscience. The policy of America's social and business life has been "every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost." This spirit breeds wars. Would you like to see war forever ended? Don't answer yes unless you are willing to try to live up to your answer. Are you willing to consider the "other fellow's" welfare in the way you dress? In what you drink? In what you play? In your vocabulary? In all things? No? Then your vote is for another war. Generations unborn must bleed for your inconsiderateness. The "other fellow's conscience" is the theme Sunday morning at

War Savings Stamp Drive on in Plymouth

Workers Will Visit Every Person in the Village and Township to Meet Plymouth's Quota

A Returned Canadian Officer From the Front Will Speak in Kellogg Park Saturday Evening, and F. C. O'Meara on Sunday Afternoon During Band Concert.

The meeting called at the High School auditorium, Wednesday evening, for the purpose of organizing a committee to put across Plymouth's quota of the $26,000,000 worth of War Savings Stamps that has been allotted to Wayne County, was attended by Mr. Wayne County, who expressed regret that more people of the community do not feel sufficient interest in the welfare of our country in these trying times to attend meetings called for patriotic endeavors.

The meeting was called to order by Wm. R. Shaw, chairman of the local Patriotic Fund Committee. Edward Gayde, township captain of the War Savings Stamp drive explained briefly the purpose of the meeting. Mr. Hull of Detroit, vice chairman of the Wayne county committee was present and explained fully the plans outlined by the county committee to carry on the work of the campaign. At the conclusion of his remarks he called upon F. C. O'Meara of Detroit, who was also present, to give some of his experiences as one of Detroit's most successful salesmen in campaigns of this kind. Mr. O'Meara is an eloquent speaker and his remarks rang with true patriotism and loyalty that deeply impressed his hearers.

After some preliminary discussion it was decided that the work of the campaign in Plymouth would be carried on by members of the local Liberty Loan committee with a number of additional workers. The campaign is now on and there will be no let up on the part of the workers until the same is successfully concluded. Every person in the township will be asked to sign one of the pledge cards to take some of the Stamps. Each solicitor is also provided with a yellow card which will contain the information as to why any person refuses to sign one of the pledge cards. These cards are to be returned to the government officials. Plymouth's quota is approximately $50,000.

On Saturday evening the committee has arranged to have a lieutenant of the 16th Battalion Scottish Canadians speak in Kellogg Park. This officer has but lately returned from the battle lines and will have an interesting story to tell. All business places will be asked to close from 6:30 to 9:00, at which time the speaking will take place.

On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, F. C. O'Meara of Detroit, will speak in Kellogg Park, at the time of the sacred concert to be given by the Millard band. Mr. O'Meara will have a message for every man, woman and child; and it is hoped that everyone will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing this talented speaker. In case of rain the band concert and speaking will take place in the High School auditorium.

A big task confronts the workers. A large number consider the Stamps rather insignificant and principally for children. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The government expects the sale of $20 worth to every man, woman and child in the country. This means that those who are able to meet subscribe for larger amounts to offset the lapses bound to occur by reason of the inability of many households to absorb their full quota. If you can take a hundred or five hundred dollars worth, it is your duty to do so. They are one of the very best investments, and are the only obligations of the kind the government will redeem at the reasonable price.

The price of each War Savings Stamp is 25 cents. The first $20 worth of stamps may be bought on June 15 and 22, and on July 6 and 13, and so on. The stamps will be sold during the month of June, 1918, at 25 cents each. The Government of the United States will redeem all War Savings Stamps at face value, on the first day of the month following their issue.

Plymouth Chautauque July 25th to 30th

The local committee for the Plymouth Chautauque received word this week, definitely fixing the dates of the big event, with only a few days difference between the fixed dates and the tentative dates already announced. The Chautauque will open here on Thursday, July 25, and close on Tuesday evening, July 30, with both afternoon and evening programs, the entire six days intervening. These dates have gone to the printers, and are now being placed on the advertising matter which will be used to bring the splendid attractions offered before the people of Plymouth and the surrounding country.

Next Contingent Goes Friday, June 28

The next increment of men from the Fourth Division will leave Plymouth, Friday morning, June 28th, at 7:30 a. m. for the Pere Marquette for Camp Custer. Forty-three men will make up the contingent.

Lieut. Russell Warner Severely Wounded

A telegram was received Monday, stating that Lieut. Russell Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aron Warner, had been severely wounded in France on June 6th. At the time we go to press the family had not received any further news from the wounded officer. Lieut. Warner's many Plymouth friends are hoping for his speedy recovery.

Waid-Smitherman

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Hazel Smitherman, daughter of Mrs. William Smitherman of this place, to Mr. Glenn Waid of Detroit. They were quietly married in Detroit by Rev. E. King, former pastor of the Methodist church of this place, Tuesday evening, June 4th. Miss Mildred Mills of this place, and Mr. Hycock of Detroit, attended them. The bride, although she has been employed in Detroit for some time, is a well known Plymouth young lady, and the groom is city salesman for the Roe Stevens Plumbing Manufacturing Co. They have the best wishes of Plymouth friends for happiness and prosperity. They will reside in Detroit.

Elmer D. Riggs, who is in the United States Navy and has recently been transferred from the Great Lakes Training Station, Illinois, to Detroit, visited his uncles, E. L. and Eugene L. Riggs, last Sunday.

Sacred Band Concert Next Sunday Afternoon

The Millard band under the direction of Mr. Frank Millard will give a sacred concert in Kellogg Park, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. The following program has been arranged: "The Crisis," by Hall. Meditation, by C. S. Morrison. Paraphrase, "Nearer My God to Thee," by D. W. Reeves. Simple Aven, by Fr. Thome. Ave Maria, by Billeter. Selections from "Tannhauser" by R. Wagner. Love and Passion, by Messias. The Rosary. Largo, by Handel. Battle Song of Liberty. Star Spangled Banner.

The Alumni Party a Pleasant Event

The dancing party given in the Pennington-Alan auditorium, last Tuesday evening, by the Plymouth High School Alumni Association, was one of the prettiest parties of the season. The hall was attractively decorated with red, white, blue, daisies and pink peonies. Dancing was indulged in from 8:30 to 12:30, and delightful music was furnished by Finzer's orchestra of Detroit. In the dining room, below the hall, party corners were arranged, where the guests fatigued from dancing, might rest and partake of ice cream and cake. Many members of the association from out of town were in attendance.

At the business meeting held at 7:20 the same evening, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President—Mrs. Harold Rice. Vice President—Miss Maudie Green. Sec. Treas.—Mrs. John Quastel, Jr. Executive Committee—Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Joliffe, Howard Brown.

Red Cross News

All those who work at headquarters and give but one afternoon each week are urged to come at one o'clock and remain until five. Our men are going over seas by the thousands and each month our quotas are growing larger. The work is so imperative. To win this war we must all do our share and then more. If every woman, who can spare one-half day each week, would come and help with the work, the task would be lighter for all. We urge you to come.

Every worker in the Red Cross is asked to bring one new worker with her next week, as there are one thousand comfort bags and one thousand utility cases to be made by the Plymouth Branch in the next month. That means that 250 of each of these must be turned into headquarters each week. Let us all be soldiers in this war; if we cannot fight in the trenches we can help to win the war by working at home. Come and be a soldier.

Mrs. C. H. Bennett went to Elm, yesterday afternoon, to assist in organizing a work room there. Their work room will be under the Plymouth Branch, and their material will come from here.

Midsummer Nights With the Great Dreamer

In an effort to provide an interesting and satisfying service for Sunday evening during the summer months, Rev. Frank M. Field has planned for a series of "Midsummer Nights with the Great Dreamer." This popular series, which has been presented in the cities of Flint and Gladstone, with the result of increasing the summer congregations by at least fifty per cent, will begin here next Sunday evening.

The series is based upon the immortal allegory, Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," which Newell Dwight Hillis pronounces "the second greatest book in the English language." Following is the list of themes:

- June 23—The Start or Facing the Light.
 - July 7—The Little Wicket Gate.
 - July 14—The House Beautiful.
 - July 21—The First Battle.
 - July 28—Vanity Fair.
 - August 4—Doubting Castle.
 - August 11—The Delectable Mountains.
 - August 18—En Passant.
 - August 25—All Hail and Welcome.
- Harmon Gale and family of Salem, were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Gale, last Sunday.

The Plymouth People
A few Plymouth people have been fortunate enough to hear Rev. Thos. Sykes of Detroit, tell of conditions in his own experience in the war zone in France. An effort is being made by the local Red Cross branch to get Rev. Sykes to come to Plymouth to talk about the progress of the war as he saw it. He has just returned from France. Rev. Sykes is a most forceful and interesting speaker, and everyone in Plymouth should hear him. It is hoped he may come next week Friday. Watch for further announcement.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Assessed Valuation—Village Assessor Albert Gayde gives the total assessed valuation for 1918 at $1,547,890, $160,610 more than for 1917, or an increase of about 10 per cent. The rate of taxation will be 15 mills.

Payable Now—Subscriptions to the Patriotic Fund are payable now, and can be paid to R. E. Parrott, treasurer, at his office upstairs over the gas office. Payments are due each month from the 1st to the 15th.

Moved into New Garage—Stanley Chambers has got nicely settled in his new garage on South Main street. The new building is conveniently arranged and is equipped with everything needed for the repairing and caring of cars.

Will Go to Training Camp—E. R. Campbell and wife of Chicago, who have been visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Campbell, for the past ten days, have returned home. Mr. Campbell will go to a training camp the last of the month, and Mrs. Campbell has signed up as principal of the Hanover High school for the coming year.

Enjoyed Picnic at Lake—Mrs. N. I. Moore and Mrs. Fred Millard with about thirty-five boys and girls, members of the North End Garden Club, enjoyed a day's outing at Walled Lake, last Saturday. The trip was made on one of Ira Wilson's big trucks. At noon a picnic dinner was served, and boating and bathing were the pleasures of the afternoon.

Contingent Left Saturday—Merle Murray, Plymouth; Harry Wenzel, Redford; J. Leroy Cowan, Canton; Nelson House, Wayne, were the men sent by the Local Board of Division No. 4, to Ann Arbor to take the special course in mechanics in preparation for military service, last Saturday. James English of Wayne, went to Vancouver Barracks, Vancouver, Washington, Saturday as a carpenter in the Aeroplane division.

Big Crowd Again—The crowd in town last Saturday night was larger than on the first night of the free entertainment. The Millard band gave a splendid concert that was greatly enjoyed, and the pictures shown on the screen were very good. Another concert and free pictures again Saturday night. Everybody cordially invited to come and enjoy the free entertainment provided by Plymouth's progressive business men.

Cut the High Barberry—The request from the department of agriculture that the high barberry bushes be destroyed as a protection against the black rust which breeds on them and is carried by the wind to wheat and other cereal crops, has generally been complied with, although of course involving much damage to the looks of shrubby hedges. As the rust destroyed two last year, the necessity of removing these disease spreaders is obvious.

Men for Special Service—The Local Board of the Fourth Division has had a call for four laborers to go to Vancouver Barracks, Vancouver, Washington, July 2nd, for service in the aeroplane division. Men qualified for special or limited military service accepted. The Board also have a call for four mechanics to go to Valparaso, Ind., to take a special course in mechanics. Only men who are qualified for general military service accepted. The Board are in hopes that these places can be filled by volunteers.

Attending Synod—Rev. Charles Strasen is attending a session of the Michigan District Evangelical Synod of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, at Scio, Washenaw county, this week. Henry J. Fisher will represent the local church as a lay delegate. Rev. Strasen has been chosen to preach the sermon, next Sunday, at the Synod. Dr. F. Wente of Illinois, will give a lecture each day of the session on the education of children. There will be no services at the Plymouth Lutheran church and the Livonia church, next Sunday, June 23, because of the pastor's absence.

Pomona Grange Meet—The Wayne County Pomona Grange will hold its June meeting on Saturday, the 22nd, with the Huron Grange at Willow. There will be a very important business meeting in the morning and the noon dinner will be served by the Ladies' Aid society in the new Maccabee hall. During the open session in the afternoon, the subjects discussed will be "The Wayne County Exhibit at the State Fair," Junior Red Cross work, Results of registration, National prohibition and woman's suffrage, and Boys' and Girls' club work. Regardless of the heavy farm work at this time a good attendance is anticipated.

Will Submit Amendment—Petitions have been circulated and sufficient signatures obtained to secure the submission to the voters of a constitutional amendment, at the November election, 1918, which constitutional amendment provides for a limited number of licenses for the manufacture and sale of cider, light wine, beer, ale and porter. Such constitutional amendment provides for an increase amount of license: Seven hundred fifty dollars; two hundred fifty of which goes to the county, two hundred fifty to the city, village or township, except in the Upper Peninsula where the five hundred goes to the city, village or township, and throughout the entire state two hundred fifty dollars from each township goes to the construction and maintenance of good roads.

A CARD—We wish to extend sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness at the time of our bereavement; Rev. Miller for his comforting words; also for the beautiful floral offerings and for the automobiles.

Five Brothers in the War and Her Husband Died in Action

Here is the story of a brave little woman, Fred with American patriotism, who mounted F. C. O'Mara's automobile when he was selling War Savings Stamps from his trailer on a downtown corner in Detroit last week, and addressed the crowd in the interests of government financing. This woman had a story to tell. The war has touched her life at many points, and her soul has come through the fire of sacrifice.

She is Mrs. Anna Wright, 70 Mont calm street, Detroit.

"Two years ago," said Mrs. Wright, speaking clearly and distinctly to the curious Saturday night crowd, "I lost my husband. He died in France. I have five brothers over there now, and three of them I have not heard from in four months. As for myself, I too have been in the war lines, doing Red Cross work in a French hospital for eight months. During that time I have been in four Zeppelin raids. My father is 65 years old; and to take care of him, I returned to this country, determined to devote every spare moment of my time to some war activity in this city. That is why I am addressing you tonight. I know that America is at war—many of you do not know that. My message to you is to give—give—give. Give to every war movement that comes to your notice. If you give all, you have done but little. I say it is a wonderful government that will allow its people to invest money at interest in order that the war may be financed. There may come a time when the government will take your money. Bear these things in mind, and buy War Savings Stamps today, while Uncle Sam gives you the opportunity. The war is not over yet—and the end is not in sight."

At the close of Mrs. Wright's fervent appeal, the seven stamp vending machines on Mr. O'Mara's War Savings trailer, began to click furiously. In less than forty minutes $60.00 worth of stamps were sold.

If you have anything to buy or sell, place an ad in the Mail want column. It will bring results.

ROBBING PETER TO PAY PAUL

The Way Some People Figure The Fertility Problem

A certain North Dakota farmer had, besides other crops, 200 acres in wheat about ready for cutting. After admiring it sufficiently and learning that it would run about 20 bushels to the acre, a city visitor innocently asked, "How much profit will there be in that crop?" "It will sell for close to six thousand dollars," replied the farmer. "The cost for plowing, seeding, harvesting, threshing and hauling to the elevator will be something between four and five dollars an acre, say five dollars. There will be nearly five thousand dollars profit in it for me. That is what I call real independence."

That man is losing out because he is not figuring fertility in the cost of production. Fertility is the farmer's capital, and he cannot draw on it indefinitely without replacing it.

Cost of Fertility First Consideration
That twenty-bushel crop on the Dakota farmer's 200 acres yielded a total of 4,000 bushels. Experiments show us that the fertility extracted by that 4,000-bushel crop was as follows: Nitrogen 5,680 pounds; phosphorus 960 pounds; and potassium 1,040 pounds. At present prices, that nitrogen would be valued at $350, phosphorus $28, and potassium $32, giving a total of $640 worth of plant food used by that one crop—not taken into consideration by the farmer.

This kind of figuring perhaps goes on right in our own community. The loss of fertility in soil and the reduction so subtle as not to be noticed for years. But once in a while now we notice that the crops do not mature as rapidly as formerly. They linger—the soil's vigor of years ago is not there. Since we call upon to save immature corn, and so is the method of "hogging down."

We are urged to speed up production. With more efficient tools, better seeds, and a greater demand for food, still more of the farmer's capital will be taken out without being replaced. How is it to be maintained?

The use of legumes, good rotations, commercial fertilizers, etc., can, of course, be employed, but what about the barnyard manure?

Every Bit of Manure Should Be on the Fields

Do we realize that it has a crop increasing value of $6.50 a ton now? Most farmers do recognize the increased value due to increased prices of crops, but there are still many farms where we can see the cattle standing knee deep in fertility that should be incorporated in the soil. The rains are carrying away rich brown streams of nitrogen, potash, and phosphorus that the crops are hungry for and that other farmers are paying good prices for in the form of commercial fertilizers. Nitrogen gas is escaping up and floating away with dollars and dollars worth of leaf and stalk building material.

Spreader Most Important Tool on Farm
There is one thing that will correct this waste better than most anything else. It is the use of a spreader. The investment is a good one, for the spreader should pay for itself on fifteen acres or less the first season by the crop increases it produces even over the best of hand spreading. But while the investment is a remarkably fine one, the fact that the farmer has money tied up in the machine will make him use it often, and frequent spreading is just what is needed. Spread on the soil, the manure either from out and about farmstead, or from leguminous, or else the plant food is washed into the soil by the rain. The spreader saves so much time and labor that the work can be done often. The job becomes a light chore instead of a heavy disagreeable one. And why, what has even more come of these new wide-spreaders? They do it better.

Another Letter From Rev. B. F. Farber

"Somewhere in France"
U. S. A. P. O. 731
May 16, 1918.

Rev. Karl Miller,
Plymouth, Michigan.

My Dear Karl:
I presume you think that I have been discourteous in regard to your letter and the letters I was to send in return. But your letter did not reach me until three days before the time when you wished me to have a short time to get a letter to you to read at the April meeting of the Minister's association. Knowing that I could not comply with the requests, I acknowledge that I have put off writing to you until a more convenient season.

When I came over here I hoped to write you often, but this is a strenuous task, and because we have not enough men for our work, it means that the rest of us have to do more than our share; besides working all day, I am lecturing almost every night and preaching two or three times on Sundays.

It has been a joy of my heart that the boys have given me splendid audiences and wonderful attention; it is not an easy thing "to put across" a message to soldier boys, but when you do get it across you feel the greatest delight in having done so. I have never stood before more inspiring audiences than before these men. They draw the very best out of you, and there is an exhilaration in speaking to them that I have seldom experienced.

It has been my good fortune to see a good deal of the country, and my trips have come interesting experiences.

That you may know how well I am accomplishing my work, permit me to say that I was selected to direct the religious activities of an entire division, and not of just one hut; there are as many points in this area as 1-200th part of the population of Plymouth. I have the oversight of ten times as many souls as are to be found in the membership of the Woodward Avenue Presbyterian church. Another thing that bears testimony to my work is that on Mothers' Day a camp where I was not scheduled to speak sent word that they could not do without the services of their minister. I did not know they had considered me as such, but you can imagine that when such an appeal came I arranged my hours so as to be with them.

I hope this finds Mrs. Miller and the baby well, and your work going nicely.

I wish that I had time to write to you and other friends more often, but when I am on the go from seven in the morning until eleven or twelve at night, you know there is not much time left for letterwriting.

I hope to have the opportunity of telling my friends of my experiences upon my return to the States.

With very best wishes,
Sincerely yours,
B. F. FARBER.

W. C. T. U.

The meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, on the afternoon of June 13th, at the home of Mrs. I. N. Dickerson, was well attended. A fine report of the state convention just held at Jackson, was given by Mrs. Sarah Bartlett. The district president, Mrs. M. A. Patterson, gave a brief outline of the work planned for the temperance campaign, and explained how the state was to be re-districted by the W. C. T. U. and that Plymouth would then be in the second district instead of the first district. But in order to complete all matters of business, the first district will hold their convention as usual in October, and it will occur in Plymouth.

The next meeting of Plymouth W. C. T. U. will be held at Newburg, and it is hoped that there will be a good attendance. Mrs. Howard Brown will give her report of the state convention, and it will undoubtedly be most interesting.

Cholera Morbus.

This is a very painful and dangerous disease. In almost every neighborhood someone has died from it before medicine could be obtained or a physician summoned. The right way is to have a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house so as to be prepared for it. Mrs. Charles Engwert, Tunstun, Ind., writes: "During the summer of 1911, two of my children were taken sick with cholera morbus. I used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and it gave them immediate relief."—Adv.

Feed Your Crops

Growing crops must have food—plant food—which they can get only from the soil. Naturally, a well-fed crop does better, produces more, than one that is underfed. The only way to feed the crop is to feed the soil, and the easiest, best way to feed the soil is to spread stable manure properly.

Farm produce is worth so much now, and so much is needed, that no farmer can afford to waste the natural fertilizer accumulated through the winter. Use it this spring to top dress and feed your crops. Spread it quickly, easily, thoroughly, evenly, and cheaply with a

Low 20th Century Manure Spreader

This is the spreader that gives the manure a double beating, breaks it up into small pieces and scatters it beyond the wheel tracks of the machine in an even coating, light or heavy, over the entire surface of the soil.

The box is low and narrow. The spreader can be driven into the barn to be loaded. It turns short and is easy to handle around buildings and in the barn. There are three sizes—small, medium and large—all light draft machines.

Feed your crops this year with a Low 20th Century. Raise as much as you can from every acre. The increase will pay big this year. Come in and place your order as soon as you can so as to get an early start.

Nothing But the Nisco Spreader for Us.

Any old machine that would just carry manure to the field and dump it on the ground wasn't good enough for us. When one of our customers came in and said, I need a manure spreader, we wanted to point to a machine and say "There, brother, is the spreader that handles manure best, pays for itself soonest and lasts longest. That machine we can honestly recommend."

Naturally we investigated Manure Spreaders; and we've taken the agency for a machine that actually measures up to the ideal we had set in our own mind. This machine is called the

The New Idea
Manure Spreader

And we want every farmer in our territory to come in and see it! The machine is a mechanical marvel. It pulverizes and spreads a full load over three corn rows in three minutes. Here are some of the many good points of this wonderful spreader—see if they don't sound good to you. Low down and easily loaded. Wide-tired wheels—hence the machine is light draft. Chain conveyor carries all the load to the two cylinders, where it is thoroughly pulverized. Rapidly revolving steel paddles distribute this finely pulverized manure evenly. Can be set, by a convenient hand lever, to spread 3, 6, 9, 12, 15, 18 loads per acre. Positive chain drive—no possibility of clogging. Strongly built and able to stand steady things year in and year out. This machine is

Names That Signify Nothing. Really, what is in a name? Irish stew is little known in Ireland; Roman candles did not originate in Rome; what is known in baseball parlance as a "Texan League" happens in as many games played outside of the Texas league as those played in it; the Irish delay is in reality a dandelion; Netherlanders don't make it a custom to pay for their own refreshments while eating and drinking with friends, and thereby make constant what is known as a "Dutch Treat." And so on, for infinite examples.

Using Water as a Weight. A plant of water, of wheat, sugar, or butter weighs about one pound and may safely be used as a basis for weights and measures. This knowledge is often valuable to the farmer who keeps seed wheat on hand, for it may be made to weigh, by balance, all other farm products.

A well-bolted Spanish onion will induce sleep when most other things fail, and on this account alone it should frequently form a supply dish for the brain-weary man or woman of business.

OLD PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK KIDNEYS. Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfil the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says, "Take for example, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so long a sale."

KEROSENE LAMPS IN INDIA. Illuminating Agencies Used in Smaller Cities Were Originally Imported From the United States.

India is making slow but steady progress in introducing more modern lighting methods. Popular Science Monthly states. All public lighting in the large cities of India is by electricity; but in the smaller cities the methods of lighting, public as well as private, are still very primitive. For native festivals—and there are a great many of these—large kerosene lamps of an elaborate pattern are much used. They are known in many localities as "Washington lights" and were originally brought to India from the United States. At various religious processions and especially at wedding processions as many as 20 or 30 of these lamps are carried on the heads of bearers, who are engaged for the occasion and paid a fixed fee. These lamps are high-pressure kerosene lamps constructed upon the principle of the kerosene torches used in the United States. The light is protected by a mica chimney and is very brilliant. Colored globes are sometimes used. These lamps are no longer imported from the United States, but are manufactured in Bombay. The "Bombay lights" cost about $5 or $6 while the imported kind cannot be bought for less than $85 apiece.

ENEMY CHECKED ON ALL POINTS TOWARD PARIS

SOME SECTORS FOE FORCED TO CEDE GROUND GAINED BY VICIOUS DRIVE OF ALLIED FORCES.

FOE ATTEMPTS TO BETTER POSITIONS NEAR MONTDIDIER

Paris Preparing to Celebrate Landing First Contingent of U. S. Soldiers to Embark on French Soil.

Paris.—The offensive movement of the Germans between Montdidier and Noyan and from the south of the forest of Villers Cotterets apparently are on the wane. In the former region the fierce resistance, of the French and Allied forces, for the time being at least, has checked the enemy at all points and on some sectors the Allies have even turned vigorously upon the foe and forced him to cede ground he had gained.

Expel Foe From French Trenches. Likewise, south of the Aisne the invaders are meeting with unexpected opposition, and notwithstanding large numbers of men they have been thrown into the battle, their gains have been relatively small.

East of Soissons they penetrated to the village of Laversine, but were unable to advance on any of the other sectors, although at one time north of Courcy French trenches were entered under the force of the impact. A counter attack resulted in these trenches being recaptured almost immediately.

The sole result of the enemy's attack on the Montdidier-Noyan line up to the present is that he has by the violence of his attacks east of the French front the region west of the stream blotted out the awkward front salient and brought the battle-front more into direct alignment with that beginning at the Aisne.

CELEBRATE LANDING OF FIRST U. S. TROOPS TO REACH FRANCE. Paris.—France is preparing to celebrate Friday the anniversary of the fiercest German attacks of American troops across the Atlantic to take a hand in the great war. The French press is running laudatory articles, recalling the fact that three-quarters of the men who today are breaking up the fiercest German attacks northwest of Chateau-Thierry (on the Marne) were then the rawest recruits.

U. S. Marines Take 350 Prisoners. With the American Army at the Marne—a battalion of American marines took the northern half of Belleau wood (northwest of Chateau-Thierry), capturing 350 Prussian and Saxon prisoners, including ten officers, and two Krupp field guns of three-inch caliber, several huge minenwerfers and machine guns.

French Have Big Day. On that crucial battlefield northeast of Paris the day was for the French, the most successful since the great drive began. This is not, however, underrating the importance of the enemy's advance on the French right, for by taking a foothold in the village of Machingy—as Paris officially admitted he did—the enemy has brought his left flank more menacingly close to Compiegne and has begun the masking movement of "Eagles wood."

Allies Gain on Macedonian Front. Paris.—An important Allied advance on the Macedonian front was announced by the war office Friday. Progress was made to a depth of more than nine miles on a front of 11 1/4 miles and 11 villages were captured.

EASTERN COAST OF U.S. DANGER ZONE

REPORTS FROM BERLIN DE-CLARE NEUTRALS WILL BE WARNED NOT TO TRAVEL AMERICAN ATLANTIC WATERS.

U. S. READY TO COMBAT PIRATES

Raiders Already Off U. S. Coasts Have Sunk 18 Vessels, Several of Which Were Neutral Carrying No War Supplies.

London.—The German admiralty intends to declare the eastern coast of the United States, from Mexico to Canadian waters, a danger zone and will warn neutral shipping, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegram from Amsterdam, quoting reports received from Berlin.

U. S. Ready to Combat Ruthlessness. Washington.—In view of what has been happening during the past few weeks, officials here Thursday were inclined to regard as a bit of grim humor the report from Berlin via Holland, that the German government is about to declare the eastern American coast a danger zone and to warn neutral shipping of its purpose.

Germany to Issue Warning. It is recognized, however, that the forthcoming "warning" may prove to be a formal announcement of a zone in American waters, where ruthless sinking of all ships is to be the order of the day, forecasting a continuing menace of Atlantic ports through regular submarine patrols.

One Link Always on Duty. It has been figured out that by starting a new raider or flotilla of raiders every five days, one link in the endless chain of U-boats always would be on duty in American waters.

Such operations would mean that for every boat actively engaged on this side, there would be several on the way over and several more on the way back to Germany, none of which would have any substantial value while en route in either direction.

On this account, navy officials generally have discounted the patrol idea, believing that much better results would be obtainable by using the same number of boats where they are now used, in the North sea or adjacent waters.

It is not regarded as impossible that, either by using mother ships or through the establishment of a land base, no sign of which has yet been discovered, the Germans have hit upon a way of maintaining a U-boat flotilla for an indefinite time on this side.

An Atlantic Port.—Passengers who arrived here aboard a big transatlantic liner from a Dutch port reported Thursday two German submarines of the newest and largest type were sighted on the voyage. Neither of the U-boats molested the liner, which is owned by neutrals, though one of them followed her for a half day.

"WORK OR FIGHT" UNDERWAY. Completion of Lists of Men of Every Industry will be Taken in Detroit.

Detroit.—Determined that every eligible man in Detroit shall either "man a gun or make one." Ensign Coleman, of the navy recruiting office and the Detroit district draft board, will fire the first gun in the "work or fight" enforcement Friday when a compilation of lists of men in every line of industry in the city whose places can be filled by women, a work in which the co-operation of employers will be asked. A request was made from the state adjutant general's office that "all citizens report to the nearest draft board all facts coming to their knowledge regarding registrants who are idlers or engaged in non-productive occupations and employments."

This is held to be "the duty of all citizens," and it is accompanied by a promise that names of informants will be kept secret. Although the law does not go into effect until July 1, Mr. Coleman, for the navy, is preparing in advance. When the law becomes operative he expects to have the name of every man in Detroit who is amenable to the statute on his lists, and a strong appeal will be made them to enlist in the navy.

Three American Aviators Win Honors. Paris.—American aviators in the French army distinguished themselves in the second battle of the Marne. These men were members of the Lafayette corps. Sergeant David E. Parsons, Brookline, Mass., brought down two enemy planes and was cited twice in an order of the day. This makes his official total six, in addition to six planes brought down by another Lafayette pilot, Charles F. Wall, East Palestine, Ohio, and Albert H. Stanley, New York.

EXPERT'S TRIBUTE TO WESTERN CANADA SOIL

That there is good reason for the wonderful crops of grain grown in Western Canada, which have made thousands of former residents of the United States wealthy, is not always given the thought that it deserves is quite apparent. But that there must be a reason is quite evident. Probably more than one—but the one that requires emphasis—is that the soil is of the nature that will produce good crops. It was not long since that the farmer selected his land in the most haphazard way. He need not do so today. He will select it on the soil analysis plan. Soil from Western Canada was submitted to Prof. Stevens, soil physicist of the State College of Washington, at Pullman, Wash. His report should no doubt further encourage settlement in Western Canada. It reads as follows:

"We have analyzed this sample and find that it runs high in lime, very high in potash, phosphorus and in nitrogen; that it has a splendid supply of organic matter and is in the best of physical condition. There is nothing wrong with this soil from the standpoint of crop production, and I am satisfied that it will give splendid results wherever put under cultivation."

It is soil like this properly worked, and on scientific lines, as is the rule today, that gives the opportunity to quote the experiences of farmers who have increased their incomes from $500 to $30,000 in two seasons, and whose story would read as follows:

"I have threshed altogether 7,000 bushels of No. 1 Northern wheat from 200 acres, which went from 24 to 45 per acre—old breaking 24, spring plowing 38, hock setting 56 bushels—the average being 85 bushels per acre." The newspaper giving an account of this man's experience says: "When he disposed of his 1,800 acres from north of Brooks, Alta., to four Oak Harbor men, he was worth $30,000. Two years ago he came here with $500 and a few horses."

It is the soil of Western Canada, and the knowledge of what it will do that brings to Canada the hundreds of settlers that are daily arriving at the border. A growing enthusiasm for the fertile prairie lands of Western Canada is spreading all over the continent. This enthusiasm is the recognition of the fact that sufficient food could be produced on these prairie lands to feed the world. From the south, east and west, hundreds of men, too old for military service, are pouring into Western Canada to take up land or to work on the farms. A great many of the incoming settlers have arrived at such central points as Calgary, Edmonton, and Lethbridge, Alberta, and Regina, Moose Jaw, and Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. Judging from the bulk of their household effects, the number of their horses and cattle, and the quantity of implements they are bringing with them, most of the new arrivals also seem well blessed with the world's goods.

Reports from North Portal, Saskatchewan; Coutts, Alberta, and Kingsgate, British Columbia—the principal gateways into Western Canada from the United States—indicate that the present influx of farmers is in such volume as has not been witnessed for many years. From Vancouver, British Columbia, people are going to the prairies for summer farm work, many with the intention of taking up land themselves at the end of the summer.

The influence of this tide of farmer settlers on greater food production will be more readily appreciated when it is considered that the average settler takes up at least twice as much land as he has hitherto been farming—and land which, acre for acre, produces better and larger crops.—Advertisement.

GET USED TO SUDDEN DEATH

Grim Humor in the Trenches by Ne Means Denotes Calmness of Disposition. Capt. Leonard C. Wells of Baltimore, who recently permitted himself to be bitten by trench lice, thus contracting trench fever, said that the doctors might study it, said on his return home:

"To submit yourself to the hungry jaws of a trench louse is a grimly humorous procedure, isn't it? Well, was I guilty humorous in many of its aspects." "They tell over the water a story about a company of tough dough boys from New York's East side who sat playing poker one night in a dugout during a bombardment. "The game went on, and the shells whizzed and banged outside, and then a grenade came through the doorway and finished one of the poker players' playing forever. "While the rest sat waiting for the stretcher-bearers, the nearest dough boy took up the cards from the dead man's hand, studied them, and then put them down again and said: "It don't matter, fellows. Your Bill couldn't make it, anyway. I had four kings." FREDCKLES

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty."

Some times there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If applications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

HADN'T TAKEN HIM FOR THAT Nothing in Nuptial Contract Stipulated That Woman Had United Herself to Brass Band.

The trifling causes that some people set forth in seeking a divorce came up for discussion at a social gathering, when the following anecdote was related by William A. Smith of Michigan:

Some time since a woman entered the office of a lawyer, and on being asked the nature of her business by the legal light declared with a positive air that she wished to sue for a separation from her husband.

"Just a moment," responded the lawyer. "Let's begin at the beginning. Why do you wish a divorce?"

"Because my husband snored," answered the would-be client. "He snores so loudly that I cannot sleep."

"That is something, of course," returned the lawyer, with an inward smile, "but didn't you take him for better or for worse?"

"I surely did," was the prompt rejoinder of the other. "But I didn't take him for a brass band."—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

They Had Retired. Dr. Edilson Browning said in an address before the anti-gambling league of Duluth:

"It is impossible to speak a good word for gambling except in jest. "One of my addresses was interrupted on a certain evening by a chap who yelled: "Don't knock gamblin' so hard, doc. I know three men in this town who have retired, thanks to gamblin'."

"What's their address?" I demanded skeptically. "Corner of State street and Washington avenue" yelled the chap.

GERMAN PIONEERS THROW PONTOON BRIDGES ACROSS THE MEUSE IN FACE OF MURDEROUS FIRE

Synopsis.—The author of these confessions, an officer in the pioneers' corps of the German army, a branch of the service corresponding to the engineers' corps of the United States army, is sent into Belgium with the first German forces invading that country.

CHAPTER IV.

The scene of the slaughter could now be surveyed at leisure. Dead and wounded were strewn all around, and over them clouds of smoke and flames made the air thick. But we were already too hardened to feel much pity.

Some Catholic sisters lay dead in front of their convent. The only building that was spared in Donchery was the armory of the Twenty-third French dragoons.

There was not much time to which to do anything, for at seven o'clock the French began to hurl shells into the village. We fortified ourselves behind a thick garden wall directly in front of the Meuse. The river bank at this point was flat, but on the opposite side it was steep. Here the French infantry had dug itself in and established three lines, one above the other.

The French could not resist this hail of shot very long. They soon abandoned all the heights on the river bank. They abandoned Somban without a fight and it was left intact, which had not been the case with Donchery. Hardly a house had suffered.

When the bugles sounded in Donchery, it was discovered that our company had lost 38 men in battle. A position was taken behind the dragoon armory and our company, which now was reduced to 80 men, was ordered to attempt the building of a pontoon bridge over the Meuse.

After an hour's march we stopped in a small forest about 200 meters from the Meuse to rest until darkness set in. At twilight a division bridge train was driven up close to our hiding place. This was soon followed by a corps bridge train as a reserve.

After all preparations were made and the main advance work, such as setting up the bridge stays and landing platforms, were ready, the single pontoon wagons drove up. They were speedily but silently unloaded. We completed four pontoons, that is, 20 meters of bridge, without the enemy discovering anything.

Then suddenly the searchlight of the enemy was set in action and scanned the river. We dropped to the ground at once. The enemy must have seen us, for the searchlights played here and there and kept our bridge position under continuous glare.

We were discovered hardly before we knew what had happened, and a rain of fire fell in the water in front of us. We continued to lie flat on the ground as four more shots struck the water, this time a little nearer to the bridge and one shot hit the bank. At once a third rain of shot followed and two struck the bridge. Two men fell in the water and two lay dead on the bridge.

In spite of the continued volume of artillery fire, we brought the two dead men to land. The bridge was now greatly damaged and there was no choice except to replace the damaged portions by new ones. We began this difficult task as soon as the artillery fire let up. Hardly had we begun it again when a salvo struck and greatly damaged the bridge. Fortunately we had no losses. We were now ordered to retire, and after a half hour began anew. The enemy's searchlights were now dark. We brought about ten pontoons up without interference and then we were suddenly bombarded again.

We had attracted the attention of the enemy's patrol. Several batteries now opened fire on us at one time and after ten minutes the entire work was only a pile of wreckage. Two more men were killed. The order now came to retire. Eight men were detailed to attend to the dead and wounded and we were taken out of this danger zone. After we marched about two kilometers up the river, we were halted, and discovered that the corps bridge-train was in place. We were told that we would get the bridge ready on land. Sections consisting of two pontoons each were firmly fastened together, equipped with anchors, everything else made ready and then put in the water. The location for the bridge was indicated to us and we rode with all our might down to the bridge position. The enemy did not see through these tactics and did not interfere, so that all the parts reached the position in a very short time, where they were fastened together. In less than twenty minutes the bridge was completed and the infantry stormed over it.

The bridge was covered with straw in order to dull the noise of the troop movements. At the same time, at different places, transports with pontoons were assisting the army to cross and before the French found out what had happened our troops had occupied the opposite bank and established themselves firmly there.

The French artillery and infantry now opened a terrible fire on the pontoons. Our units, which had defended the pontoons, were relieved and replaced by infantry. I was made a leader in the pontoon and with four men at the paddle and 18 infantrymen as a crew, we started our first crossing in a veritable hail of shell, but with only one minor casualty, we reached the opposite bank. A comrade took my place at the steering gear. On the return trip, our pontoon was struck by bullets but fortunately above the water line. All about us the pontoons crossed, several in a sinking condition. The men who manned them, all of whom could swim, tried to swim to the bank, but many infantrymen were drowned.

Missouri Farmer Has Not Swallowed Food in More Than Twenty Years.

USES A SIMPLE DIET "Makeshift" Feeding Attachment Not Only Saves Man's Life, but Insures Him Excellent Health and Happiness.

Macon, Mo.—Thomas Tilden Arbutuckle, a farmer residing near here, has not swallowed a bite of solid food or liquid during the past twenty years, commencing in more ways than one to Food Administrator Hoover.

During all these years Arbutuckle has fed himself through a tube which he inserts into the stomach through a narrow incision. Arbutuckle "eats" with a relish, soup, Irish potatoes thinned with milk, coffee, molasses and has even tried beer. He weighs 140 pounds, is five feet and seven inches tall, is married and is the father of four children.

Since recovering from an operation to his throat May 23, 1898, he has not had a sick day in his life, all of which he attributes to his simple diet. He declares that if more people were more enthusiastic about Hooverizing they would spend less on medicine and doctors.

Tube Used as "Makeshift." Arbutuckle lived in Louisville, Ky., at the time his throat became clogged as the result of an attack of typhoid fever. His brother, who suffered from a similar affliction, died when he became unable to swallow. The doctors therefore determined to take a chance with Thomas and they made an incision in the "greater curvature of the stomach."

"Of course it's only a makeshift, Tom," they explained, "but it will keep you going a while, and maybe we can think up something else in time."

That "makeshift" feeding attachment is in use by Mr. Arbutuckle today, only he has added a small funnel so as to make it easier to get the food into the tube.

Arbutuckle's home is on the Thomas Brockman farm, in Lyda township, Macon county, Missouri, and Mr. Brockman says he has never had a more capable workman. When dinner time comes and the men gather about the table, Arbutuckle's food is brought to him in bottles and cups, he gets out his rubber tube and funnel and enjoys his meal as well as the rest, and after dinner he lights his pipe and makes a big smoke rings as anybody.

Easy to Control an "Overload." Arbutuckle takes no water from September until May, the liquid food furnishing sufficient moisture during those months. But during the warm months he uses water heavily, often taking from a quart to half a gallon at a time. Should he misjudge the capacity of his stomach, and overload it, he has a siphon by which he can quickly relieve the pain. In November, Arbutuckle will be forty-one. He was married in Indiana 12 years ago.

"I've been feeding myself this way so long there doesn't seem anything strange about it," says Arbutuckle. "I get hungry and in a way enjoy what I 'eat,' same as most people, I guess. I sleep well, and am strong and healthy. After I recovered from the operation on my throat, I got all right, and have had better health than the average man. Only four days, as I remember it, have I been laid off work on account of sickness in the 20 years."

Arbutuckle held out his muscular arm. "You can see by that my physical condition. My case seems to be a demonstration that people generally eat too much; that good health and vitality are the rewards for using easily digested foods, in moderate quantities. At least it has worked that way in my case."

Says Men Are Mushy. Uhrichsville, O.—"The mushy attempts of occasional men passengers who propose marriage," is the only drawback in her work seen by Mrs. Belle Stahl, thirty-eight, Ohio's only woman trolley conductor.

"Aire" Pants; $400 Missing. St. Louis, Mo.—While Felix Pawlaski, of this city, was sleeping peacefully his wife shook his trousers out of the window to air. She shook $400 out of his pockets. When the discovery was made later the money had disappeared.

Aged Woman Cuts Teeth. Owensville, Ind.—After having used false teeth 40 years, Mrs. Ben Thompson, age seventy-one, of this place, is cutting teeth, two having come in recently.

Complaints in Order. "Old Smith is complaining of the vertical writing in schools." "He's an old grocer. Next thing he'll be objecting to the horizontal bars."

The only way to be safe

THE proverb says that the only way to be safe is never to feel secure. But that proverb was made before the Two Hartfords began to offer their complete insurance protection.

If you have a fire insurance policy, you have wisely guarded against one source of loss, but there are many others which might cause you as much loss as a fire. The affords protection against every possible contingency. We would like an opportunity to explain it to you.
