CLASS CONFIRMED LAST SUNDAY

A class of seven members was confirmed at the Lutheran church, last Sunday morning, by Rev. Charles Strasen. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with ferns, palms, cut flowers and potted plants. An arch of evergreens was arranged before the altar, where the class examinations were conducted by the pastor. Each member of the class did exceptionally well in answering the various questions, which showed that they had been well instructed. The pastor's address to the class was taken from the Book of Revelations, giving three points: "The Lord says he is coming quickly"; "He asks you to hold fast, what you have now received"; "He promises you a crown in doing so." At the conclusion of the address the class knelt under the arch and received the blessing of the pastor. Next Sunday the class will partake of the Lord's Supper.

SERGEANT BEALS LOSES LEFT LEG

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beals Receive Letter from Their Son, Who is in a Hospital in France.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beals received a letter Monday, August 19th, from their son, Sergeant Myron Beals, who was seriously wounded several weeks ago, while fighting at the front. He stated that his wounds were located in his left shoulder and thigh, and although it was necessary to amputate his left leg, he seemed to be cheerful and said that he was now on the road to recovery. He wrote from a hospital in France, but said that in a few weeks, possibly by this time, he would move farther south, where he would have a long rest. This was the first letter Mr. and Mrs. Beals have received from their son in fourteen weeks.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM THE FRONT

Private Cassidy Was Wounded on June 30th, and is Now Recovering in Hospital.

Kenneth Cassidy has received the following letter from his brother, William R. Cassidy, who was recently wounded in France. Bill's many Plymouth friends will be glad to know he is on the road to recovery: July 29, 1918

Dear Kenneth: How is the foot? Father tells me about you every time he writes, but I haven't heard from you since before Christmas. I was struck by a "high explosive" as we were leaving for a rest after a hitch in the front line. We were hurrying along the side of the road trying to get out of range quickly, and they were shelling the road two or three blocks behind us, but that didn't bother us any, when all at once "zip bang," and one lit in the road right behind me and something stung me and dropped me over six feet. I felt my hip and felt the blood and the hole, and my booming leg felt like it was paralyzed. The Lieutenant lit me a cigarette and a couple of fellows did me up with my first aid. There were two other fellows hit at the same time, but they have left the hospital now. My poor old leg seems in pretty hard shape, but I can feel it getting better each day, and I sleep pretty well at night. My leg is in a comatose condition, because one shell fragment struck the sciatic nerve, they say. I have lain on my back for nearly a month now, and it's pretty tiresome, but I do plenty of reading; can get all the books we want. I surely wish I could get some mail. Haven't had a letter since I left the front, a month ago. I haven't heard from Blundy either, and all I can learn from the fellows who were wounded in the heavy fighting along the front, is that the last they saw of him, he was in charge of the platoon and was leading them forward. I hope that he wasn't hit, because I don't know what I'd do without him. My leg's fine fellow and not afraid of anything. He and I have had some great talks together, and you don't know how I miss him. When we were in rest camp we were together each night, and would sit up way late talking. Well, Kenneth, I could ask for no better care or treatment than I'm getting here. Please write me a good long letter. With love, BILL.

AUTO THEIF ESCAPES

Last Saturday evening Chief of Police Springer received a telephone message to go on the lookout for a stolen Ford car, giving the license number. Shortly after this the officers on duty in Main street spotted the number of the car and took the driver into custody. Officers Deane and Millard took the prisoner to the jail in the car, and while Officer Deane was watching the jail door, the prisoner escaped from the jail. Officer Millard and Springer are at the station. The car was stolen from the home of Mr. J. H. Hillman, 211 F-2.

REV. MILLER LEAVES FOR ARMY CAMP

There was a large attendance at the Presbyterian church, last Sunday morning to hear the farewell sermon of Rev. Karl P. Miller, who left that day for Camp Grant, Illinois, where he will take up his new work as a chaplain in the army, with the rank of first lieutenant. At the conclusion of the sermon, William R. Shaw in a most happy manner, presented Rev. Miller with a substantial sum of money, as an expression of love and appreciation of the service he has rendered the church during the year he has been its pastor. Mr. Miller responded most feelingly. Chaplain Miller has a host of friends in Plymouth, who will watch his career in the army with interest, and the best wishes of the whole community go with him in the great and noble work he has assumed, in ministering to the spiritual needs of our boys in the great national army.

No Bunk Promises Necessary

Joseph M. Weiss Has Always Been True

Today when certain Detroit interests are seeking to dictate the new Circuit Judges of this county to the people, it does seem good to see a man like Joseph M. Weiss running for this office, standing alone and unafraid, while he is clawed at from every quarter by those "higher up." Mr. Weiss is an able lawyer, sensible, practical, and ever mindful of the best interests of the people of the townships. He has never been weak-kneed, and past record and character are good reasons why he should be entitled to our vote on August 27th. Advt.

Repairing of lines and phones will be handled from the Plymouth office, and Mr. Matthews will, of course, spend a part of his time at each place. He will move his family to Plymouth in the near future and this feature of his promotion the Herald regrets, as Mr. and Mrs. Matthews have made many friends in South Lyon during their residence among us.—South Lyon Herald. A LETTER FROM FRANCE

France, July 8, 1918. "Somewhere on Battle Front." Mrs. Kate E. Allen, Plymouth, Mich. Dear Mrs. Allen: I had promised in my mind when I left the States, that when I had the opportunity I would write you a line. I'm so proud to learn, through one of my brother's, that you had received the article sent by me. I thought you would be proud to see something of that kind—that work is all done by hand. I don't forget the present that you gave me and other boys from Plymouth. I thank you very much for your kindness. I would like to tell you something about this country that would interest you, but we are not allowed to give any kind of news. No doubt that our work is great, and we are all ready for it, and it won't be very long until we are victorious. Respectfully, (Corporal) ANDREW SANBRONE, Co. A, 21st Engineers, American Expeditionary Forces.

EARL C. MICHENER OF ADRIAN FOR CONGRESS Will support the prosecution of the war to a complete American victory. His patriotism is genuine; he is for his Country first, his District, second, and himself last. Any success he has attained is due to hard work, and the confidence of those who know him. He appreciates the nature and volume of the work to come before the next Congress, and will attempt to represent and not misrepresent his District. His acquaintances feel that he is qualified to do this. PRIMARY ELECTION, AUGUST 27th.

I am out for the Republican nomination for SHERIFF of WAYNE COUNTY. I am not a fanatic or so-called reformer and have no wish to curtail the clean amusements of the people, but I do sincerely believe in the law's enforcement and make my appeal for the support of all those of my fellow Citizens who want this kind of administration. You can do your bit along this line by going to the primaries, Tuesday, August 27th, asking for a Republican ballot and making an X before my name. Manfred H. Herrmann Republican "Clean-Up" Candidate for Sheriff.

Attempt to Deprive People of Privilege of Voting for Best Judges Frustrated JOHN E. GOFF, ORMAND F. HUNT, PAUL W. VOORHIES, ARTHUR WEBSTER On technical grounds several candidates for Circuit Judge, who had failed to secure the indorsement of the Detroit Bar Association, sought by petition to prevent the Election Commission of Wayne County from naming Messrs. John E. Goff, Ormand F. Hunt, Arthur Webster and others on the list of qualified candidates. Such an attempt, if successful, would have eliminated three of the petitioners' most powerful rivals (the indorsement by the Detroit Bar Association meaning that the lawyers of Detroit consider the men they indorsed as the ones best fitted to sit on the Wayne Circuit Bench.) But the attempt failed. The writ of mandamus asked for by several of the men who had failed to receive the indorsement of the Bar Association was denied by Judges Dingeman, Callingwood (of Lansing), and Williams (of Jackson), in a decision handed down from the Wayne Circuit Court, Thursday, August 15. Therefore, the voters will not be deprived of their right to cast their ballots at the Primaries, August 27, for the four best qualified candidates.

Keep in mind these four names when you vote to nominate Circuit Judges: GOFF—HUNT—VOORHIES—WEBSTER For Probate Judges! The Detroit Bar Association indorsed Judges Hulbert and Command to succeed themselves as Probate Judges. Detroit Bar Association Campaign Committee WILLIAM J. GRAY, Treasurer. ALLAN H. LABOR AGAINST DIXON

(Copy of a Letter)
Monroe, Mich., Aug. 9, 1918.
J. G. Henley, Editor,
"Square Deal" (Labor Weekly)
Jackson, Mich.

My Dear Sir:
I promised that I would investigate the labor record of Thornton Dixon of this city, who is seeking the Republican Congressional nomination from the second district.

I have made a careful inquiry and cannot find that he has ever turned his hand over for organized labor in any way, shape or form. He has always been a corporation attorney, and the only business that he has ever been closely identified with in this vicinity is the stone quarry business.

As far as I have been able to learn from careful inquiry, he never employed Union Labor in operating same, and never made any attempt to do so. Instead the quarry was closed down several years ago and is still closed.

I was born and raised in the city of Monroe, and all my life have tried to be active in supporting and advancing the interests of organized labor, and I have no hesitancy in saying that I am not supporting his candidacy for congress, and neither are my co-workers in the labor field in Monroe county. Instead we are now supporting Mark K. Bacon of Wyandotte, whose record we all know, and who we believe we can trust to at all times look after our interests in Congress, and here is hoping our labor friends throughout the second district of Michigan will do likewise.

With kindest personal regards to yourself, I am,
Yours truly,
(Signed) WM. M. GESSNER,
Secretary Carpenters Local 1464

Billions of Dollars Thrown Away for Trifles That Ought to Set Nation Thinking.

SOME WAYS MONEY GOES

Postcard and Cheap Souvenir Take Big Sum Every Year—Billions Spent for Needless Telephone Calls and Telegrams.

By EDWARD MOTT WOOLLEY.

It seems incongruous that in this rich and wonderful land of ours it should be necessary to conduct mighty selling and advertising campaigns in order to raise money to crush our enemies—cruel and dangerous enemies who are bent on throttling the very liberty on which our country has been built.

The trouble is that even yet we do not realize the tragedy that is over us. The war has not sunk into the American consciousness. With a million or more of our boys in France, and the casualty lists coming home every day, we still lack the pulsating fervor of intrepid courage—the courage that wells within one and stirs the soul.

Fighting impulsive evidence of courage is the willingness to sacrifice. A man who sees his child in deadly peril is instantly ready to sacrifice everything, even his life. It takes no argument to "sell" to him the need of courage. He gets it from within. The fighting impulse dominates his every instinct. What we most need in America today is fighting impulse.

Once we get it the doom of Germany, as a menace to ourselves and to the world, will be sealed. If we had this valiant, undaunted determination we could raise, this coming year, not merely six or eight billion, but as many billions as our country might need. Let us search our hearts, therefore, and discover why it is that brass-band methods are needed to sell us Liberty Bonds. It seems all the more incredible that such should be the case when the money we are asked to contribute is merely money saved for ourselves.

Indeed, we could put through this fourth Liberty loan without even feeling it directly. I am not talking here about great sacrifices. With merely trifling and passing inhibition we can make this fourth loan a glorious manifestation of Americanism.

Never was there such a nation of spenders—we literally throw money to the winds. Cash runs out of our pockets into a hundred channels of extravagance. Tempted at every turn by something that appeals to our pleasure-saturated instincts, we hand out the dimes, quarters and dollars. "We work hard, most of us, and we play hard. There's of us play with an amazing abandon that scarcely reckons the cost. And we gratify ourselves not only at play, but we satisfy our luxury-loving tendencies and our vanity in many of the things that enter into our daily lives."

at it is grand stuff. Wooden articles are required to be made from trees that grow on historic spots, but are really bogus. Strings of beads are manufactured by the mile and sold to the public as the work of Indians. The same is true of moccasins, toy canoes and the like.

At best the bulk of these goods is rubbish, and our outgo for this purpose might well be cut off entirely during the war. To do this requires absolutely no sacrifice. The people engaged in this business will simply have to do what so many of us have already done, adjust themselves to war.

Aside from souvenirs, we are wretched spenders for actual merchandise that is inferior or worthless. There is a great class of people to whom cheapness or flashiness appeals, rather than utility and economy. A dealer in cheap goods told me that he netted $25,000 a year from merchandise that was practically worthless. He found it easy to appeal to the spending instincts of his customers.

Unnecessary Phone Calls. Not many of us ever stop to think of the immense amount of money that is spent for unnecessary telephone calls. Wherever you go the telephone booths are occupied, and when you catch fragments of the conversations you usually find them unimportant. Reginald calls up his best girl to tell her he still loves her, Maudie calls Algonquin to thank him for the chocolates. No matter how trivial the occasion, our first impulse is to step into a telephone booth.

If five million people would save one five-cent call a day it would mean a total of over ninety million dollars a year. Doubtless several times this sum could be saved very easily by the general public on local and long-distance calls. We are lavishly extravagant in the use of the telephone. I know of business houses that talk several times a day between New York and Chicago, incurring tolls on each occasion that run from five to forty dollars or more. If there is one thing that the Americans haven't learned it is economy of talk—which in these days of war need might well mean millions of dollars in Liberty Bonds. The telephone wires are heavily overtaxed, anyhow.

Then there is the telegraph. We have this habit, too. With a little planning we could commonly use a three-cent stamp instead of a ten-word message. One large wholesale house requires all its traveling men to report daily by telegram, an expenditure that might be eliminated. The telegraph tolls of some of the large industrial and commercial establishments are so big that they seem incredible.

The night letter is, in a measure, a luxury, at least we could do away with the social phase of it and much of the domestic. I happen to know one business man, who on his frequent and long absences from home, gets a night letter from his wife every morning and sends one each night. Nor are these messages confined to fifty words, but often run several times that length. Baby had the colic; Freddy fell downstairs and skinned his knee; Jeannette had her hair washed.

I happen to be acquainted also with a young man who reveals in night letters to his fiancée. They are real letters, too, beginning like this: "Darling Sue—I love you more than ever. I couldn't sleep last night thinking of you. Do you love me still?..." A certain business man, the head of a large concern, goes away at intervals to rest for a week or two, but insists on having a night letter every morning, narrating the substance of the previous day's business. These messages run into hundreds of words every day.

50 cents a day unnecessarily in barber shops under the act of August 22, 1918.

To have our shoes shined we spend at least $100,000,000 a year and a million more than the market price for shoe laces because we wish to avoid the trouble of putting them in ourselves. Some of this expense undoubtedly is necessary, but while the war lasts we need not be ashamed of any form of Spartan economy. We can be tight handed and rigorous with our nickels and dimes without being open to the charge of stinginess—provided we use the money for government needs. We can shine our own shoes for a tenth of this hundred million dollars. There are in New York a number of men who have grown very wealthy from the shoe-shining business. Among them are some large tenement owners—one reputed to be worth millions. There are more than fifty thousand bootblack places in the United States, some of them employing a dozen or more men. The majority of these bootblacks are within the fighting age, at least they ought to be doing some sort of war service, instead of shining shoes—while American blood runs so freely on the other side.

Women Big Wasters. But when it comes to this kind of self-pampering women spend far more money than men. Figures secured from one large department store give some interesting sidelights on possible economies. Its sales of toilet goods last year ran about 1.5 per cent of its total sales. Thus for every million dollars in sales its customers buy $15,000 worth of toilet articles. Apply this rate to all the stores in the United States and you have a total of unnumbered millions. The term toilet goods is very elastic, including both necessary and unnecessary articles, but the conscientious war saver no doubt would class one-third of these items as partly dispensable, such as perfume, certain soaps, powders, rouge, toilet waters, so-called beauty compounds, and the like.

America's women are highly scornful. We live in an atmosphere replete with ambrosia. From almost every woman one passes on the "parade" streets of the cities there comes an aura of roses, or perhaps violets. Our girls demand scents, in infinite variety, not only in perfume itself, but in hundreds of products. Merely to gratify our sense of olfactory luxury, we spend tens of millions of dollars annually. Yet in France the husbands, brothers and sweethearts of our women and girls are sweating and fighting in noisome places amid the stench of disease and death. The odors they get are of gunpowder and blood. Surely we can spare some of our perfume money in the cause for which we sent them abroad.

If it were possible to estimate the money spent by women in New York alone for hairdressing and beauty culture it would undoubtedly run into the tens of millions. One hairdresser in the metropolitan district states that within eighteen months, or since America entered the war, he has built up a business that nets him seven hundred dollars a month.

A woman proprietor of a so-called beauty establishment says that fifty customers bring her a revenue of $30,000 a year, that she realized a clear profit of $20,000 on powders, creams and perfumes, that she sold sets of cosmetics at seven hundred dollars each. Thousands of women pay fancy fees for hair waving, tinting and bleaching. One concern announces twelve colors, ranging from black to golden blonde. Much money also goes for removal of freckles, wrinkles treatment, face bleaching and so on. The manure bill in New York is enormous, and the chiropody outgo large. These places are furnished in the utmost luxury. If only we could impress on women of this class the dreadful hardships our American youths are undergoing in the great cause!

The lesson ought to sink home to all women in America, who in greater or lesser degree, feel their good money go for such futile vanities. It is estimated that a million men and women throughout the country are giving to the Turkish baths an average of a dollar a day. Thus we have a total of $365,000,000 a year. To this we can add perhaps half as much for massage, attendant fees, special treatment and incidentals.

Bathing is commended, but most of us, at least those who have the Turkish bath habit, can take our ablutions at home. The soldiers in Europe don't have Turkish baths. We imagine we need them here. We eat big dinners and fill ourselves with rheumatic deposits, poison ourselves by gourmandizing. We contract colds because our systems are too badly clogged to throw off the germs. It is when we are stuffed with rich viands and all sorts of luxuries that we turn to the Turkish bath for relief. Why not discipline ourselves during the war and transfer all these millions of dollars into the fund that is going to beat atrocity and the German peril?

YOUTHS 21 SINCE JUNE 5 TO REGISTER

SATURDAY, AUGUST 24 SET AS DAY BY PROVOST MARSHAL GENERAL CROWDER.

ESTIMATED 4000 IN MICHIGAN

Purpose is to Add Quickly to the Almost Exhausted Class One to Meet Army Needs.

Washington—Registration, on Saturday, August 24 of all youths, who have reached the age of 21, since the second registration last June 5, was ordered by Provost Marshal General Crowder, under proclamation by the President. The purpose is to add quickly to the almost exhausted class one to meet army draft calls in September.

About 150,000 young men will register. Most of them will qualify for class one, and, therefore, will join the army probably within a month after their names are recorded. Orders to draft authorities to arrange for the registrations have all been distributed. Only men in the armed service are exempted from registration.

It was pointed out that this registration would be entirely distinct from the registration that will be necessary shortly when draft ages are extended. Lansing, Mich.—Every man in Michigan who has become 21 years of age since June 5, will be required to register for military service with his local draft board August 24.

Orders for the registration of the new crop of 21-year-olds were received from Washington by Adjutant General Bersey. The men will register in the same manner as in the previous registrations. Colonel Bersey estimates that approximately 4,000 men will register next week. The registration last June was 24,400 in Michigan.

FIRST U. S. FIELD ARMY CREATED

American Army Now Placed On Same Footing As French and British.

Washington—Secretary Baker was formally advised by General Parshing that the First American Field Army had been created, General Parshing retaining command of the army as well as of the entire American expeditionary force for the present. The dispatch added nothing to details of the army organization already made known from Paris, Mr. Baker said.

The announcement is regarded as having deep significance at the war department, mainly because it places the American army in France on the same footing as the French or British forces there. Formation of the army is taken here to mean that the Americanization of a definite portion of the front has been completed. Supply lines, railways, bases, storage facilities, debarcation ports and the like, created and operated by Americans, stand behind the first army.

FIVE RUSSIA STATES LAUNCH REPUBLIC

The New Political Organization Will Be Known As the Supreme Government.

Washington—Birth of a new democracy in northern Russia that is to be headed by representatives of the people, elected by universal suffrage, was announced in official dispatches to the state department.

The new political organization is called the supreme government, indicating the breadth to which it is expected ultimately to expand. Leaders of the movement are the last delegates elected to the constituent assembly, restoration of which President Wilson has repeatedly urged. Among purposes announced are: To defend the north with the friendly assistance to Russia of the peoples of England, America, France and others. It also counts on Allied assistance against starvation and financial difficulties.

It is convinced that Russia and the Allies' interests in the struggle against the foreign enemy are one and the same. It knows that the Allied troops come not to interfere with the internal affairs and their arrival is not against wishes of the population. Therefore the supreme government greets the Allied forces entering the north to wage contest against the common enemy and summons the entire population to greet them gladly and to assist by every possible means.

Signers of the proclamation of the Supreme Government of North Russia are, with two exceptions, members of the constituent assembly representing the provinces of Novgorod, Archangel, Vologda, Viatka, Kasan and Samara—a chain of provinces extending from the Arctic to the region of the Don Cossacks in the south. The chain of provinces embraced in the western Siberian government where thousands of Czech-Slavs and loyal Russians are maintaining a stable government, ready and anxious to fight the Germans.

To the south are the Don Cossacks, backed by the Otenberg Cossacks, all trained warriors and well armed, equally ready to war on the Central powers. This news, which came from Archangel, where the new government is being organized, with news of the flight of Lenin and Trotsky from Moscow, was accepted at the White House and the state department as most encouraging. Recognition by the United States of the supreme government is regarded as certain as soon as ability of the new leaders to carry out the announced purpose shall have been demonstrated.

BOARD WILL BUILD BIG SHIPS

Ninety-one Different Types Are Now Being Built Throughout Yards.

Washington—Only a few types of ships are to be built in the future by the Shipping Board, says an announcement by Chairman Hurley and Director General Schwab, of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. A committee composed of Mr. Schwab, P. A. S. Franklin, chairman of the Ship Control Commission and J. H. Rosseter, director of operations, was named to fix the types.

Ninety-one different types are being constructed, this number resulting when the Government took charge of all construction a year ago. Greater production is expected through build a few standard types. The Board in the future, it was announced, will build larger ships. Among the types probably to be selected is the so-called "ore" boat. Contracts for 20 such vessels soon will be let. The ships are of 12,000 tons and the first built were used in Cuban trade. Recently railroad equipment was sent to France in such vessels, the large hatchways being found suitable for loading cumbersome material.

FORM PLANS FOR REGISTERING 18-45

STATE HEADQUARTERS, LOCAL BOARDS AND OTHER OFFICIALS ADVISED TO BE PREPARED WHEN CONGRESS ACTS.

13,000,000 MEN WILL REGISTER

It is Figured That 2,000,000 Will Be Qualified For Full Military Service From Those Registering.

Washington—Provost Marshal General Crowder has announced that plans already have been made for registering 13,000,000 additional men to estimates will be brought under the selective service law when congress enacts the pending bill extending army age limits to include men between 18 and 45 years. From this number approximately 2,000,000 qualified for full military service are expected to be secured.

So urgent is the need for additional man power, General Crowder said, that the draft machinery is being put into shape for the great task ahead without waiting for final action by congress. Men of the new draft will be needed by October 1, and in order to get them registration day will have to be held not later than September 15, and if possible September 5 will be fixed as the day.

When the 13,000,000 men are enrolled, nearly 25,000,000 will have been registered since the United States entered the war. Some 10,000,000 were enrolled the first registration day, June 5, 1917, another 600,000 last June 5, and several hundred thousand more are expected to be enrolled August 24. "Preliminary steps have been taken by the provost marshal general," said General Crowder's statement, "to provide for the registration of those men who will be affected by the act which congress expects to shortly pass extending age limits of the selective draft."

GOVERNMENTS COAL NEEDS UP

Shortage of BI-Production Denied Factories Where Other Can Be Used.

Washington—Shortage of bi-production coal, essential to steel production, including the smokeless variety, essential to the navy, has reached such alarming proportions that the government may have to curtail so-called lesser essential industries more drastically than contemplated when the fuel need of war industries first made restrictions on consumption necessary.

The fuel administration is now taking wherever it can be found every ton of this grade of coal from those industries, which may use other grades, including steam coal, just as well. With the government's steel requirement approaching the 22,000,000 ton mark for the remainder of the year, and many blast furnaces threatened with a shut down through lack of bi-product coal, the fuel administration and war industrial board are joining forces not only to stop private hoarding, but to develop additional coal fields.

SHIPPING TOLL CUT 50 PER CENT

Entente Tonnage Sunk in 1918 Half That Lost in 1917.

Paris—Allied and neutral shipping sunk by enemy submarines during July amounted to 270,000 tons compared with 524,225 tons sunk in July, 1917. This radical decrease in losses is a doubly significant when the increase in merchant marine navigation resulting from the American shipbuilding effort is considered. The Entente nations constructed during July a tonnage in excess of 20,000 to be destroyed during the month by enemy operations. The Entente tonnage sunk in 1918 was 69 per cent less than that lost in 1917.

WATER COLORED BY PLANTS

Interesting Discovery the Result of Tests Made by Scientists of Harvard University.

That many marine plants cause sea water to become alkaline when exposed to sunlight is definitely proved through interesting experiments devised by W. J. V. Osterhout and A. R. C. Haas of the laboratory of plant physiology, Harvard university. These gentlemen have found a way to measure accurately the increased alkalinity. Without going into details, it may be said that this consists in leaving a green seaweed in a glass tumbler of salt water to which a few drops of phenolphthalein have been added. After exposure to sunlight, the water turns pink, and the degree of pinkness, measured by matching against the colors of a series of tubes containing the same concentration of indicator in solutions of "buffer solutions" of known alkalinity, gives the quantity of alkali produced by the action of the sunlight.

Where They Generally Are

He emerged from the dining room window and slunk over to where his pal was waiting in the shadows. "Got her jewelry?" asked the waiting one. "No," returned the other. "Couldn't find it nowhere." "Where did you look for it?" "In her jewel case and in every drawer in the bureau." "Did you look to see if she was wearing 'em?" "Yes. But she ain't got 'em on. I'd swear to that!" "Lor, man, you don't know nothing about the ways o' women! Why didn't you go into the bathroom? You'd have found the whole bloomin' lot where she left them on the wash basin!"

The Robin's Quarters

At the country home of George G. King, on Pine lake, a robin has built its nest in a corner of the lattice which covers a pump, within looking and reaching distance of anybody who goes for water. With some friends from town who visited the place a few days ago was a little girl who was much astonished at what she saw. Stepping outside the lattice the little girl waved a hand at her mother and called: "Oh, come here, mother, and see where they keep their robin."—Youngstown Telegraph.

Squeezed Small. "What's this?" "That's your condensed milk." "But I ordered a quart. That's no quart." "Yes, it is. It's a condensed quart."
