13 Million Called to Enroll Sept. 12

President Signs New Man Power Bill; President Summons Half Million Wolverines to Serve in Democracy's Great Army

Local Board of Division No. 4, Wayne County, Have Appointed Township Registration Boards

Every citizen of Michigan who has not reached his forty-sixth birthday September 12 MUST REGISTER under provisions of the new draft law. If you are 45 years and 364 days old BE SURE TO REGISTER.

Nearly 13,000,000 men between 18 and 45 years old will register for military service on Thursday, Sept. 12th, the date set last Saturday by President Wilson, in a proclamation issued immediately after he had signed the Man Power Bill. The War Department in giving out an official estimate of the men brought within the draft by the President's proclamation, said the estimate of 12,778,758 registrants, is based on the last census, and that the total may be exceeded. It is estimated that 40,000 additional men are already in the armed services. Michigan's man power is placed at 498,965 by the War Department.

President Wilson, in issuing the proclamation, again voiced the nation's firm determination to use its every resource to gain a decisive victory over the enemies of the world's freedom.

All men between 18 and 21 and between 31 and 45 years old, not now in military or naval service, are directed to enroll with the local draft boards where they make their permanent homes. The hours of registration will be from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. All men within the new ages, whether citizens of the United States or not, must register, unless they are diplomatic or consular representatives of foreign nations.

In case of illness on registration day arrangements for tardy enrollment may be made with local boards. Men who expect to be absent from their homes may register by mail, if the record reaches the board by Sept. 12. Those out of the country on that day are required to enroll within five days after their return.

The Local Board of Division No. 4, Wayne county, have completed the arrangements for the registration in this Division of Wayne county. Registration boards have been appointed in each township. Dr. R. E. Cooper, chairman of the board, announces the following registrars for Plymouth and several of the neighboring townships. The first name given is chairman:

Plymouth—C. H. Rauch, F. A. Dibble, Cooley Hamilton, C. H. Goyer, E. V. Jolliffe, J. B. Rauch, Roy Farrrott, Ed. Gayde, D. G. Brown; H. C. Robinson.

Livonia—W. T. Shaw, Fred Newton, George Bentley.

Northville—Milo Johnson, Ernest Miller, Harry Taft, W. H. Yerkes, C. A. Dolph.

Canton—Lewis Truesdell, C. E. McClumpha, Ed. Shafer.

Nankin—J. D. LaRue, District No. 1; W. P. Crandell, District No. 2.

Eloise—Eugene Davison, Dr. John Marker, Dr. J. E. Bennett.

The Plymouth registration board will be in session in the village hall. Remember that the hours of registration are from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. Register as early in the day as possible. In other townships the usual voting precincts have been designated as the places of registration.

In compliance with the governor's proclamation, the village commissioners have asked that Thursday, Sept. 12th, beginning at 12 o'clock noon, be set aside as a half holiday. A patriotic program will be arranged, but at the time we go to press the details have not been completed.

REV. FIELD RETURNS FROM VACATION

Rev. F. M. Field returned to Plymouth with his family, having completed his vacation work with the National Lincoln Chautauqua, the first of the week. During the three weeks' absence from Plymouth, Mr. Field conducted six-day Chautauquas in Cambridge City and Brookville, Ind., and Eaton Rapids, Michigan, with splendid results in every place, securing a 1919 contract in each case. On the closing evening in his last town, there were 688 people in attendance, and a surplus was left for the local committee after all expenses were paid. Mr. Field has resumed the duties of pastor of the local Methodist church, and will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening this coming Sunday.

TWO PLYMOUTH STORE BUILDINGS COLLAPSE

The Store Buildings Occupied by Pettingill & Campbell's Grocery and T. P. Sherman's Poolroom Completely Wrecked

Nine Persons Occupying Second Floors Had Narrow Escapes From Death

About four o'clock Tuesday morning the building occupied by Pettingill & Campbell as a grocery, and the building adjoining occupied by T. P. Sherman as a pool room collapsed, and nine persons narrowly escaped death. Both buildings were of brick and were built about seventy years ago.

Just what caused the buildings to collapse is hard to determine. Apparently the middle section of the block fell out toward the adjacent street, and the buildings with it. The middle section of both buildings had been removed in 1917, and the buildings were supported about 100 feet by a wall of brick and concrete. The wall was about 10 feet high and was found to be in good condition at that time.

Washer Burns and family occupied the second floor of the pool room. They were over the pool room when the building collapsed. The family was rescued by the fire department. The fire department was called at 4:15 p. m. and arrived at 4:30 p. m. The fire department was called at 4:15 p. m. and arrived at 4:30 p. m. The fire department was called at 4:15 p. m. and arrived at 4:30 p. m.

She got up and made an investigation of the rooms; the noise in the meantime becoming louder. She returned to the bedroom and awakened Mr. Dunn, and so he was getting out of bed the walls caved in. There are seven in the Dunn family, and how they escaped death or serious injury is miraculous indeed.

A fire alarm was turned in and the fire department responded promptly, and began the work of rescuing those in the building. Tony McHale and John Hanley, occupied the first over the pool room. They were rescued by the fire department. The fire department was called at 4:15 p. m. and arrived at 4:30 p. m. The fire department was called at 4:15 p. m. and arrived at 4:30 p. m.

ANY person who owns a house ought to do two things. He should provide the most attractive and most efficient bathroom fixtures for the convenience and comfort of the whole family. He should do this not alone for the service to be rendered, but because efficient fixtures, especially in the bathroom, add to the value of the investment.

The Trenton Potteries Company Lavatories

offer these two and every other advantage any lavatory could possibly give. The Trenton Potteries Company Lavatories are white all the way through, won't rust, won't change color; and the attractive, hard finish remains after years and years of wear. Packers' Profits Are Regulated

The public should understand that the profits of the packers have been limited by the Food Administration since November 1, 1917. For this purpose, the business of Swift & Company is now divided into three classes:

Class 1 includes such products as beef, pork, mutton, oleomargarine and others that are essentially animal products. Profits are limited to 9 per cent of the capital employed in these departments, (including surplus and borrowed money), or not to exceed two and a half cents on each dollar of sales.

Class 2 includes the soap, glue, fertilizer, and other departments more or less associated with the meat business. Many of these departments are in competition with outside businesses whose profits are not limited. Profits in this class are restricted to 15 per cent of the capital employed.

Class 3 includes outside investments, such as those in stock yards, and the operation of packing plants in foreign countries. Profits in this class are not limited.

Total profits for all departments together in 1918 will probably be between three and four per cent on an increased volume of sales.

The restrictions absolutely guarantee a reasonable relation between live stock prices and wholesale meat prices, because the packer's profit cannot possibly average more than a fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Since the profits on meat (Class 1) are running only about 2 cents on each dollar of sales, we have to depend on the profits from soap, glue, fertilizer (Class 2, also limited) and other departments, (Class 3) to obtain reasonable earnings on capital.

Swift & Company is conducting its business so as to come within these limitations.

RED CROSS DOING ITS BIT AT HOME

Aids in Contentment of Families of Our Soldiers.

PROVIDES RELIEF FOR NEEDY

Human Touch Is Found Necessary in Addition to the Allowance of Pay—and Various Advantages From the Government.

(From the Committee on Public Information, Washington, D. C.)

Last Christmas a woman walked into the office of one of the Red Cross home-service stations and laid down $21.50. It represented the profits of a luncheon served at her home for the benefit of the children of the soldiers of the First Separate Battalion.

"It is my bit," she said. "You were all so good to me when I was sick that I wanted to do something for others now that I am able to."

This woman has been one of the first applicants for relief from the home service of the Red Cross. Her husband had volunteered in the army, and after his enlistment she had done such heavy work that her health had broken down. She had been ill in bed and had been attended by a doctor who had signed false certificates for her insurance. Finally, in despair, she sent word to the local Red Cross.

The Red Cross home worker came to see her and learned the facts in the case. A better physician was secured, and it was found that she had incipient tuberculosis. She was immediately sent for treatment to a tuberculosis dispensary, where she remained during the summer. Within a few months she had improved so wonderfully that she could hardly be recognized as the same woman.

This was only one of a very large number of cases in which the Red Cross has proved a blessing to the families of our fighting men.

A soldier who goes out to the wars leaves behind him his dearest possessions—those who are dependent on him. And every soldier has his dependents. Even if they are not beholden to him for the sheer necessities of life, they rely upon him in other ways. He is the active spirit of their little world. They rejoice at his successes and they become sober when he is worried. He strives to get on in a business way because he knows it will please his family. He knows they will be proud if he does well, and they will be disappointed if he fails. He is equally dependent upon them. If they are ill or unhappy, it is hard for him to do his work. He needs to be with them, to see them constantly, and to know that everything is being done to promote their happiness.

War disturbs the even current of our lives. Few indeed are the families who are not intimately touched by the call which has gone forth to the young men of the nation. Sons, brothers, fathers, and close friends have gone to the training camps, or will soon go. They will leave more gladly if they can be assured that the ones they love are being watched and cared for in every possible way during their absence.

The family in question had been public charges for years. The husband and father was a heavy drinker and never displayed the slightest inclination to support his wife and children. The mother was serene and happy-go-lucky and had no other thought than to get the most she could out of the different charity organizations. The house was dirty beyond description and everything was at sixes and sevens.

It is a splendid thing to help deserving families, but it is still better to put them in a position to help themselves. That is, of course, the ultimate purpose of social work as it is practiced nowadays. One of the large home-service sections was able to carry through a very large job of this sort recently.

It appeared that she had no clothes which were really fit to wear. When the Red Cross visitor first saw her up and about the house she was wearing one old white woman's shoe and one man's shoe and had on a threadbare wrapper. A remarkably good outfit was purchased for her; a pair of shoes, a coat, a skirt, a hat, two waists, and two cosset covers.

After the start, things began to be better. The husband made an allotment of his pay and took out war-risk insurance. As soon as the payments from these sources began to come in the family will no longer be in need of financial assistance. In the meantime the Red Cross worker is keeping in touch with them.

The legal committee of the home service has been especially valuable aids. Not infrequently a soldier's relatives are badly informed on the law and allow themselves to be duped. Occasionally they are not aware of the rights which accrue to them when the man of the family goes into the army. Every sort of snarl and tangle arises, and it usually seems as though the services of a lawyer may be too costly. The legal committee meet this need. All over the country lawyers have generously given their services to this important work.

Children's Welfare First. Nothing is more vital than the welfare of the children. One of the home-service directors issued this statement to the workers of the district: "The home service is especially interested in children, and we feel that it is most important service to the conservation of the child and the home for the future. For this reason we stand ready to see that any child does not have to leave school to go to work because its father has either volunteered or has been drafted into the army. We also stand ready to see that no woman with small children has to go to work because her husband or son is serving the country as a soldier or sailor."

A short time ago it was reported to the Red Cross home service station in one of the cities that a little girl of fifteen was about to be taken out of school because her family needed the money she could earn. Irene's father was dead. Her oldest brother, Alex, was contributing $10 a week to the family treasury, but he was saving to get married, and that was all that he could spare. The second boy, Joseph, had enlisted. The oldest girl, Helen, made $10 a week, while Harry, sixteen years old and just returned from a runaway jaunt, only earned $7. There was another little girl, eleven years old, who was still in school.

The Red Cross worker explained to Irene's mother why she felt so strongly that the child ought to have at least a grammar-school education. In June she would be through with the grammar grades, and in the meantime the Red Cross offered to pay Irene's family $6 a week, which was about all that she could be expected to earn. The arrangement was made, and Irene is still in school, while the mother is gradually paying off her debts. When June comes Irene will graduate, and she will probably be able to earn more than $6 a week.

It is a splendid thing to help deserving families, but it is still better to put them in a position to help themselves. That is, of course, the ultimate purpose of social work as it is practiced nowadays. One of the large home-service sections was able to carry through a very large job of this sort recently.

RUSSIA NEVER REAL NATION

Passionate Muscovite Explains the True Situation in the Former Empire of the Czar.

"We're a nation of artists and savages. You can reach us through our feelings—give us a poem, a play, a picture, and we can imitate it, or even improve on it. You send us cannon—He raised both arms helplessly and dropped them.

"You thought Russia was a huge country. That was a fiction built up by the old regime, which meanwhile intrigued with Germany. As a matter of fact, Russia extends for a few hundred kilometers, north, south, east and west of Moscow. The rest was a foreign country, held together by force. It might become a federation and grow into something like your United States, but it never was a nation in the real sense of the word.

"You think we're a great agricultural country. Another fallacy. We have land, but no agriculture. Our peasants dance on their fields instead of fertilizing them.

"Foreigners have been very naive. They assumed we were modern, strong and capable because of a few fine things we sent to them. They read Tolstoy or sat Pavlova and said 'Ah—a great people! They saw greatness through the entrechat of some ballerina's legs.'"

Originated With Webster. "When began the custom for individuals and audiences to be standing when the 'Star-Spangled Banner' was sung or played?"

It was a fair question. It was adopted by the army and navy long ago; but the army and navy did not originate the very appropriate and patriotic custom.

Between sixty and seventy years ago, when Jenny Lind, one of the sweetest singers the world ever produced, was the chief attraction at a Boston concert, Daniel Webster, the great senator, secretary of state and patriot, was present.

Jenny Lind sang the 'Star-Spangled Banner' as only that songbird could sing it. The audience called her back several times, and she sang a verse of our present national anthem.

Each time one man stood up, and at the close gracefully bowed to the singer. That was Daniel Webster.

It was a good example to set, a needed custom to establish, and one that has been an important factor in impressing patriotic lessons.

Fruit High in Belgium. You wouldn't want to pay $1 for two pounds and a half of apples, would you? Well, that's the current price in Belgium, and if you wanted that many russets you would have to pay up to $1.30, even though they would be specked and full of worms.

Other fruits have about the same prices: Peas, 45 cents apiece; lemons, 60 cents each, and grapes about $2.50 a pound. Recently at Liege pickled herring were placed on sale; the ration was one herring to a person, at the price of 31 cents apiece.—Belgian Bulletin.

Blamed for Women. One of the speakers at the retail tradesmen school at the Aetor house in New York predicted that men's neckties would run so glaring colors next season. Like all men, since the days of Adam, he laid the odium upon the women, so many of whom have taken the places of men clerks. These women, he says, are bound to show the young man who comes to buy the pink and glaring blue "creations" and they, of course, cannot dispute the opinion that such colors are just their style, and so having bought will have to wear the gay neckties.

Oh, You Gwan, Albert. "What have you in the package in your pocket, Albert?" asked his wife, as Albert wiped the snow from his shoes on the rug in front of the door, removed his steam-covered spectacles, chafed his frosty ears with his numb fingers and laid his icy cheek tenderly against his wife's neck.

"Well, I'll tell you, Marie, being it's you it is who asks. You've often heard of the proverbial pocket in a shirt, haven't you? I thought so. This is something different. It's a shirt in a pocket."

Handing It to Him. "Ad," said Eve, coyly, as she winked at the snake unbeknownst to Adam, "you are the one man in the world for me." Then she handed him the apple.

All Verger Cared About. The late Lord Alverstone's love of music made him for many years a member of the choir at Kensington parish church. A good many curious folk went to see the unusual spectacle of an attorney general in a surplice, but were not always able to identify him.

One of these visitors asked the verger which of the choirmen was the attorney general, and received the dignified reply: "That's the vicar, them's the curates, I'm the verger, and so long as the choir gives satisfaction it's not my business to inquire into the antecedents of any of 'em."—London Chronicle.

Sure to Miss Miss. Father was sitting in the den taking a peaceful smoke, when there came from the parlor a noise that sounded like a cross between the sigh of a pine tree and the wail of a locomotive. With something akin to strong language he rose and went downstairs. In the hall he met his daughter.

"Say, Bessie," queried the old man, "what is the agitation in the parlor?" "Charley," was the response of Bessie. "He is singing 'I Wonder If He Will Miss Me!'"

"Yes," answered dad, regretfully. "I can't see to shoot straight at night, and I am too rheumatic to kick."

Cool. "That lawnmower you loaned me is out of order." "Well!" "Can't you come over and fix it?"

Fletcher's Castoria is nothing new. We are not asking you to try an experiment. We just want to impress upon you the importance of buying Fletcher's.

Your physician will tell you this, as he knows there are a number of imitations on the market, and he is particularly interested in the welfare of your baby.

We Got Disgusted. A letter from my brother in California was received three months after he went to camp. As soon as they were in camp they were quarantined as usual, for ten days. Then a case of smallpox broke out and they were quarantined for fifteen days more. Next came mumps, for which they were again quarantined for five days.

One day before the quarantine for measles lifted a boy was sent to the hospital with the mumps. Again they were quarantined.

My brother wrote home in disgust. "Ma," he wrote; "if they get another case of mumps in this place I'll never get out till the war's over."—Chicago Tribune.

German War Clubs. Do they really use clubs in battle? Yes, they do. The Germans have a vicious iron-bound club about 30 inches long. In size a bit smaller than the grip end of a baseball bat. On the clubbing end there is a round iron band with inch-long spikes protruding. These spikes have sharp points. The British war museum presented our mission with a half-dozen of these evil-looking weapons. They fit in well with the caves and the muddy trench burrowings. That's where they are used most, too.

HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES. IF YOUR BACK ACHES. Do you feel tired and "worn-out"? Are you nervous and irritable? Don't sleep well at night? Have a "dragged out," unrested feeling when you get up in the morning? Dizzy spells? Bilious? Bad taste in the mouth, backache, pain or soreness in the loins, and abdomen? Severe distress when urinating, bloody, cloudy urine or sediment? All these indicate gravel or stone in the bladder, or that the poisonous microbes, which are always in your system, have attacked your kidneys.

You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The oil soaks gently into the walls and lining of the kidneys, and the little poisonous animal germs, which are causing the inflammation, are immediately attacked and chased out of your system without inconvenience or pain.

Don't ignore the "little pains and aches," especially backaches. They may be little now but there is no telling how soon a dangerous or fatal disease of which they are the forerunners may show itself. Go after the cause of that backache at once, or you may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease.

Do not delay a minute. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In 24 hours you will feel renewed health and vigor. After you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two Capsules each day so as to keep in first-class condition, and ward off the danger of future attacks. Money refunded if they do not help you. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand, and thus be sure of getting the genuine.—Adv.

The Human Touch Needed. Most soldiers have a friend to whom they can entrust the welfare of the mothers and wives. But many have not. The government does the best it can by providing allotments of pay and allowances for the families of soldiers and sailors. But something more is necessary. The human touch is needed. There are bound to be emergencies which call for ministrations of a special and extraordinary sort; situations calling for wits and resourcefulness. Obviously the best way to deal with such cases is to turn them over to trained social workers, whose skill and experience fit them to deal with these troubles. Hence, the government has done a wise thing in turning over to the home-service workers of the American Red Cross official responsibility for such soldiers' and sailors' families as come into difficulties.

Pawned His Wooden Leg. Douglas, the eldest boy, was in the navy. The second boy, William, was consumed with a desire to enlist, too. He had tried, but had been turned down because of a physical disqualification, and, in rage and disappointment, he had gone off to the West where he wandered for several months. When he finally came home, he, too, settled down to be a charity patient.

Blamed for Women. One of the speakers at the retail tradesmen school at the Aetor house in New York predicted that men's neckties would run so glaring colors next season. Like all men, since the days of Adam, he laid the odium upon the women, so many of whom have taken the places of men clerks. These women, he says, are bound to show the young man who comes to buy the pink and glaring blue "creations" and they, of course, cannot dispute the opinion that such colors are just their style, and so having bought will have to wear the gay neckties.

REGISTRATION DAY PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR
Program will be announced later.
WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States has enacted a law requiring all male citizens between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years of age inclusive to be registered for military service, and
WHEREAS, The President of the United States, by proclamation, has fixed September 12th, 1918, for the registration throughout the United States of all men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five inclusive for military service, except those who have already registered, and those who are not required under the law to do so, tion of prosecution of such officer or agent, as provided in Section 6 of the Act approved May 18, 1917.

It is essential that the people of this State shall accord the fullest measure of co-operation in the carrying out of this order. Ignorance of the law and of regulations issued by proper authority under the law excuses no one. All persons on the border line of the age of registration will be required to give adequate proof that they are outside of the age limit specified. The penalty for failure to register is one year's imprisonment and no man can exonerate himself by the payment of a fine.
Police officers may require any person subject to registration to exhibit his registration certificate.
Persons not subject to registration solely on account of being in the military or naval service of the United States become subject to registration and are required to register immediately upon leaving such military or naval service.
And I do further request that Thursday, September 12th, 1918, the date appointed by the President for such registration be observed as a holiday throughout this State, and urge upon all persons to lay aside their customary labors upon this date and to celebrate the day with such suitable exercises as may be provided in each locality, in order that the work of the general government may be properly carried out without interference or hindrance in this State.
I hereby appoint the mayor of each city, the president of each village and the supervisor of each township as chairman of their respective communities to head committees and to prepare such form of celebration as may be deemed suitable for the observance of the day of registration.
Given under my hand at the Capitol in Lansing, this second day of September, 1918.
ALBERT E. SLEEPER, Governor.

OFFICERS RECOVER STOLEN CARS

Fourteen stolen automobiles were recovered in and around Plymouth within the past ten days by Detroit detectives, with the assistance of Deputy Sheriff Springer and the local police force. They included twelve Fords, one Paige and one Chevrolet. Most of these machines had been purchased from Rose Sanbrone, Italian section foreman on the Fere Marquette, and living on Depot street. Sanbrone denies any complicity in the matter, and says he knows nothing about the parties from whom he received the machines, but was arrested by Officer Springer on Wednesday on the charge of receiving stolen property. He was to have had a hearing before Justice Wilcox yesterday. It is believed there are more stolen machines about here, the gang evidently finding this an easy place to dispose of them at a fairly good price.

GETTING READY FOR FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN
At a recent meeting of the Plymouth Liberty Loan committee, plans for conducting the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign in Plymouth and vicinity were fully discussed. It was unanimously decided to adopt the Volunteer Day plan, which has been very successful in every place where it has been tried out in the previous campaigns. This plan does away to a very large extent with the immense amount of work involved in a house to house canvass, as has been made in the three previous campaigns. This work has always fallen upon a few citizens, who freely gave of their time and effort to put Plymouth "over the top" in subscribing her quota. It is the duty of every citizen to subscribe voluntarily, and not wait to be asked to do so.
The committee has decided on having three Volunteer days, September 29, 30, and 1st October, when it is expected that every person who can do so will have rallied to the call for volunteers, and will have subscribed for bonds to the limit of their ability to do so. Just what Plymouth's quota is going to be for the Fourth loan has not been received by the local committee, but it is going to be considerable more than any one of the previous loans. We have got to dig deep this time - it is of the most vital importance that we do so. You have bought Liberty bonds before, you will soon buy more Liberty bonds; you have bought Thrift stamps, you have given to the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., the patriotic fund, etc. Is there no end? There is not - until the great end.
A subscription headquarters will be established by the committee in both ends of the village, where subscriptions will be taken during the three days' campaign. The committee has purchased a large number of handsome volunteer buttons, which are to be given to each volunteer purchaser of bonds.

4th. Local police authorities in all parts of the country will co-operate with the Government in the enforcement of order on registration day. Regulations prescribed by the President and sent to draft officials of the various states contain the following provisions:
5th. On the day set for registration all Federal Marshals, Deputy Marshals and Investigating Agents and all Police Officers - State County, Township, Municipal and Town - of whatever grade or class shall hold themselves in readiness to render whatever assistance may be necessary in preserving order at places of registration and in assisting in bringing about a complete registration.
6th. All Marshals, Deputy Marshals, Investigating Agents and Police Officers shall examine the registration lists and report without delay to the Local Boards the names of any persons known by them to have failed to register themselves when liable to registration; and it shall be the duty of Local Boards to report to the proper United States District Attorney all cases coming to their attention of persons who have failed to present themselves for registration as required by law.
7th. In every case in which a duly designated officer or agent refuses or fails to act, the Governor, Adjutant General or member of the Local Board will proceed at once to name another officer or agent for such duty, and will bring the fact of such refusal or failure and the circumstances connected therewith to the attention of the proper United States District Attorney, with a view to the institution of prosecution of such officer or agent, as provided in Section 6 of the Act approved May 18, 1917.

The present prices of tobacco will seem low in comparison with those the consumer will have to pay under the revised war taxes. Dealers say prices will be almost double. For instance, nickel cigars will sell for 9 and 10 cents, and 15-cent cigars will go to a quarter. Tins of smoking now selling for 15 cents will be cut to half the present size, but will retain the present price.

Just as we go to press, we learn that a telegram was received by Frank Beals yesterday afternoon, stating that his son, Myron, was killed in action July 31st. The body will be buried in France until after the war.

Miss Esther Strasen, after spending the summer vacation with her parents here, has returned to Detroit, where she will teach this year.

A very pleasant farewell reception was given Mrs. S. O. Hudd, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. E. O. Huston, 923 Penniman avenue.

Mrs. Hudd is to leave soon for Detroit, and has many friends here who regret to see her go. The ladies of the church presented her with a beautiful gift, to which she responded in her usual pleasing manner. Dainty refreshments were served, after which which the ladies left for their homes, wishing Mrs. Hudd all sorts of good luck.

BAPAUME, NOYAN AND JUVIGNY HAVE FALLEN TO THE ALLIED ARMIES

West German Armies Are Retreating Eastward Toward the Belgium Border Back to the Rhine—Many Prisoners and Guns Captured.

WHOLE GERMAN LINE FROM SCARPE TO SOISSON REGION TORN TO FLINDERS

British Have Dashed Four Miles Beyond Bapaume to Haplincourt—Haig Reaches the West Bank of the Somme On a Wide Stretch.

London—Field Marshal Haig reports that along the whole front from Bapaume southwards the Germans have been forced to retreat with great loss in prisoners, guns and material. The British have reached the west bank of the Somme opposite Brie and Peronne. The text of the report follows:

"Successful attacks delivered by the fourth, third and first British armies have rendered the enemy's positions on the old Somme battlefield untenable.

"On the whole front from Bapaume southwards the enemy has been forced to abandon, with great loss in prisoners, guns and material, as well as killed and wounded, the ground he gained at such heavy cost in last March and April. We have reached the west bank of the Somme opposite Brie and Peronne and have taken them."

Bapaume Falls to Allies.

London—Bapaume, Noyan and Juvigny, the main bastions of the 85-mile German stop-gap line for which a titanic battle has raged for a week have fallen to the Allies.

Combes and Nesle are reported taken and the French stand before Ham, while the British have dashed four miles beyond Bapaume to Haplincourt. The west bank of the Somme is reported to have been reached along a wide stretch. Peronne is doomed. It may have fallen by this time.

The whole German line from the Scarpe down to Soissons region has been torn to flinders, and fully 1,000,000 field-gray fighting men are fleeing eastward, ever eastward, toward the Belgian border—toward the Rhine.

Back across the Somme they must flee before another night settles upon the "desert of the dead." Back to the Cambrai-St. Quentin-Laon line, whence they surged westward in their super-drives of last spring. "Nach Amiens," and "Nach Paris," they are staggering, stunned by the merciless blows of the Allies, of whom a couple of brief months ago it was written in the Berlin bible, the North German Gazette, that there was "no punch left in them."

From the ancient cathedral of Noyan, erected on the site of a church built by Pepin the Short, through the cracks ripped by many a sacrilegious shell, rang out lately a solemn chant; a special service of gratitude was celebrated. From the top of the town hall the tri-color fluttered lustily in the evening breeze, proclaiming deliverance of the city where Charles Magnus was crowned; where Calvin was born; where the Meszierysians once held sway, and where this summer the Kaiser's generals over French Champagne, were fixing the day for the fall of Paris.

Thirty-six miles to the northwest, in the shambles that was once the flourishing city of Bapaume, French women and children and old men who for nearly half a year have been slaves of the invader, kissed the hands of husky "Tommys" and babbled sobbing thanks for the liberation of the town where France, in 1871, suffered one of her worst defeats.

But such scenes, though they took place this very day, are almost a memory now, so fast are things developing on the field of battle. Foch is marching with seven-league boots. The real Hindenburg line—Donal-Cambrai-St. Quentin-Laon—has its objective, and until it is reached there will be no stopping. In its rear the Germans may be expected to make their final stand. That battle,

WAR COSTS U. S. $600 A SECOND.

Washington—War bills this month are about $1,821,000,000, nearly twice the $870,000,000 spent in August 1917. Thus the war toll is now running about $200,000 a day, or about $500 every tick of the clock—a slight increase over July. August figures bring the total cost so far to America of the war to $15,700,000,000, and the cost, since Jan. 1 this year, to $10,500,000,000.

60,000 Men Given Release.

Washington—The national war labor board announced a final decision in the Bridgeport machinists' case. Over 60,000 men are involved in the 25 munitions plants there. The decision grants wage increase to workers receiving under 78 cents an hour and establishes a minimum wage of 42 cents an hour for all male workers 21 years of age or over, and 35 cents an hour for all female workers. Women doing mens work receive equal pay.

Would Close Non-Essential Plants.

Washington—Delegates to the federal board of farm organizations, in session here, authorized a petition to President Wilson to shut down all non-essential industries. The resolution said that there was serious shortage of farm labor, and that the agricultural industry had been more seriously affected by the army draft than any other. Other resolutions set forth that increased government price of wheat does not meet increased cost of production.

OWN GAS SHELLS FIRED AT ENEMY.

With the French Armies in France—the ruins abandoned by the Germans previously were carefully filled with mustard gas. For this reason Roye is still inaccessible for occupation. The Germans were not able to use all the gas projectiles they brought to the present front, and large dumps of them fell into French hands. They are now being fired against the enemy from some of the hundreds of German guns the French First Army has taken since August 8.

At Haplincourt, four miles east of Bapaume, where the British are reported they are only 1 1/2 miles southwest of Cambrai. Byng's left wing southeast of Arras is only 1 1/2 miles northwest of Cambrai.

The French, before Ham, are some 13 miles southwest of St. Quentin. The British army which links up with the French east of Chalons is little more away from it.

The British stand on the west bank of the Somme opposite Brie and Peronne, while the French have pushed their lines up to the western embankment of the canal Du Nord, where only two miles of front, between Catigny and Sermazie is still stubbornly defended by the Teutons.

Pressing eastward from Noyan, the French bit themselves into the western slopes of Mont Simon. They captured Landricourt and Morlincourt, the Paris war office was able to announce.

On the southern end of the battle line the French, aided by Americans, crossed the Ailette at many places north and south of Champs, overcoming fierce German resistance. Gunny and Pont St. Mard were captured.

The New Zealanders who captured Bapaume didn't stop a second. They dashed straight through and beyond the shell-battered town. The heaviest fighting rages around Vraucourt, four miles northeast, and in front of Haplincourt, four miles to the east.

Four and a half miles to the northwest of Peronne, the British have captured the little town of Hen, not to be confused with Hen, one of the strong points in Ludendorff's stop-gap line.

The Berlin war office had a few things to say. The German day report shrewdly prepared the public for the fall of Nesle, Noyan and Bapaume. In its ingenious way it told of the Allies' advancing "beyond" the line Dom pierre-Nesle-Beaulieu-Suzoy, of "Noyon lying before our battle line," and of Bapaume being "subjected to heavy British artillery fire."

By nightfall Ludendorff felt obliged to be a bit more explicit. He put the German line "east of" Bapaume, Peronne and Noyan," which, incidentally, implies the German evacuation of Peronne also.

"On the whole front from Bapaume southward," says Field Marshal Haig's report, "the enemy has been forced to abandon with great loss in prisoners, guns and material; as well as in killed and wounded, the ground at such heavy cost in March and April of this year."

MEXICANS BELIEVE UP ARMS

Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles Determined to Stop Border Sniping.

Nogales, Ariz.—General Plutarco Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, issued a manifesto ordering all civilians in Nogales, Sonora, to deliver their firearms and ammunition to the general military headquarters at once, to prevent further sniping across the border.

The manifesto was distributed in the form of a handbill, and resulted in many rifles, pistols and much ammunition being surrendered to the military authorities. General Calles apparently has complete control of the situation across the line and no further trouble is anticipated. The Mexican town is under martial law.

ARMY HEALTH RATE BEST EVER KNOWN

DEATHS FROM DISEASE REMARKABLY FEW, BOTH AT HOME AND IN FOREIGN LANDS.

TWO NAVY HEROES ARE CITED

Rowed Through Flames to Rescue Men From Burning Spanish Steamship—Work of Children's Year is Proving Very Effective.

A health rate which as far as known has never been surpassed has been established by the American armies both here and overseas, according to reports received by Surgeon General Gorgas.

For a recent week the combined reports of the American expeditionary forces and of troops stationed in the United States show an annual death rate for disease of 1.9 per 1,000, less than two men per 1,000 per year. The annual death rate from disease of men of military age in civil life is 6.7 per 1,000.

This new rate is based on approximate strength of 2,500,000 men, and includes men living under abnormal conditions. The overseas record was made while American soldiers were participating in the heavy fighting in the Marne salient, when they were compelled frequently to sleep and eat under the most primitive conditions.

That this record is truly representative of the general health of the troops is shown by the combined reports which indicate the figure of 2.8 per 1,000 as the average death rate from disease during the past two months.

An idea of the progress being made in military sanitation is gained by a comparison with the following: During the Mexican war the annual death rate from disease was 100 per 1,000. During the American Civil war the rate in 1862 was 40 per 1,000, while during 1863 the rate jumped to 60 per 1,000. The disease death rate for the Spanish-American war was 25 per 1,000. As far as available records show the lowest figure heretofore recorded was 20 per 1,000 during the Russo-Japanese war.

Two men of the American navy proved themselves heroes and won commendation from Secretary Daniels for the rescue of seven men from the burning Spanish steamship Serantes July 13 last. They are William E. King, seaman, and Clarence F. Ready, machinist's mate, second class, U. S. N. R. F., of the U. S. S. Ibis.

The two men took the port launch of the Ibis to the side of the burning ship and rescued from the burning forecabin seven men who were hemmed in by flames and who were panic stricken to jump into the water.

The launch's trip to the Serantes was made through an area of burning gasoline and the rescuers were in constant and imminent peril. Their commanding officer reports that the conduct of King and Ready during this time was cool and courageous. They probably owe their own lives and the lives of those they rescued to their steady nerves and cool judgment. Their commendation was for bravery and their initiative in undertaking the rescue.

The army general staff has completed plans for expansions at some of the camps and changes at training centers. Additional plans are being worked out and will be put into effect.

Camp Hancock, Georgia, is to be a machine gun center and will be enlarged to accommodate between 55,000 and 60,000 men. The officers' training school now housed in tents at this camp will be provided for in barracks and quarters similar to those at other establishments. These improvements will cost about $2,000,000.

It has been decided to make Camp Grant an infantry replacement camp to accommodate between 55,000 and 60,000 men. The present capacity of this camp is about 42,000. The alterations and changes necessary will be made after the division now located there has been removed.

Field artillery firing centers are to be located at West Point, Ky., Camp Jackson, S. C., and Fayetteville, N. C. Options on sufficient land in these places have been secured at all these places. It is planned to locate six brigades at Fayetteville, six at West Point and four at Jackson.

It has been decided also to erect permanent buildings for the officers' training schools at present housed in tents at Camps Lee, Gordon and Pike. These schools have a capacity of about 6,000 men. The estimated cost of these improvements is about $6,000,000.

As a result of the immediate and growing needs of the army for trained nurses, Miss Jane A. Delano, director of the department of nursing of the Red Cross, has sent an appeal for enlistments from this year's graduating classes at 3,000 nurse training institutions throughout the country. It is expected that about 13,000 students will be graduated as nurses between now and October 1, and it is hoped many of these graduates will be enlisted so they can be assigned to the nurse corps before that date.

Ann Arbor—According to information received at the office of President Hopkins of the University of Michigan, a student of the University of Michigan, dressed in the uniform of a petty officer of the navy, has been passing money from Michigan schools to Pa., on the strength of a navy officer's pass.

The work of children's year is proving to be an effective Americanization measure. The children's bureau of the labor department has as its goal 100,000 baby lives saved this year. According to reports received, foreign mothers are as eager as the native mothers, if not more so, to learn all they can about the proper care of their children.

The Japanese women of Seattle are asking for pamphlets on prenatal care, the Italian women of Wallace, Idaho, 1,500 strong, have arranged to study a standard book on the care and feeding of children, with the aid of an interpreter. The foreign mothers of the remote lumbering regions of Washington and of the manufacturing cities of New England are united by the common desire to learn everything possible about safeguarding the health of their children.

This desire is resulting in the breaking down of the barriers of alien language and old-world superstition that have long stood in the way of the health of little Americans born of foreign parents. It has been necessary in many cities to employ interpreters at the weighing and measuring centers to answer the questions of mothers who do not speak English. Classes in the care of baby being conducted in Seattle and Pittsburgh are made a means of teaching mothers to speak and read English.

Perhaps the most important educational measure that has been adopted is the provision of public health nurses whose function it is not only to give care and service to the sick but to advise mothers how to keep their children well. As a result of Children's year activities many communities have succeeded in obtaining public or private funds for public health nursing. Wisconsin has adopted the slogan, "A Public Health Nurse for Every County," and in Washington state an active campaign for school nurses is being carried on.

The work of the state councils of defense has been so valuable to the country that it has drawn public commendation from President Wilson with an accompanying suggestion that its unique and widespread organization be utilized by all government departments and agencies so far as practical.

Secretary Baker, chairman of the council of national defense, which brought the state councils into existence, reported to the president: "It is difficult to estimate the importance of the service rendered, since our entrance into the war, by these state councils, their county councils and the multitude of workers banded together under them, whom we estimate to number at least one million. I feel sure that you, Mr. President, as their commander in chief, will be proud of their unique contribution in the war and will use your authority to broaden the scope of their activities as conditions permit so that they may go on to still greater achievements."

The state councils, says Secretary Baker, have active county, or equivalent, councils of defense under them, while in nearly every state the organization of community councils in the school districts, bringing the government to the people and the people to the government, is progressing rapidly.

The president replied: "I shall be glad to have you express to the state councils my appreciation of the service they have so usefully rendered. I am particularly struck by the value of extending our defense organization into the smallest communities and by the truly democratic character of a national system so organized. I believe in the soundness of your contention that in the interest of economy and efficiency such machinery as that provided by the state council system for the execution of many kinds of war work should be utilized as far as possible by federal departments and administrations."

A recent proclamation by President Wilson puts into effect provisions of the shipping act making it impossible for foreign interests to obtain control of American shipping or shipyards.

Chairman Edward N. Hurley of the shipping board explains that the new law provides that during war or national emergency proclaimed by the president, it is a criminal offense to sell, mortgage, lease or deliver an American ship to a foreigner without the consent of the shipping board, or to make any agreement by which control of a ship is turned over to a foreigner. The prohibition applies not only to completed ships, but to ships under construction.

It is made illegal, without the board's consent, to make any contract for ship construction for foreign account, unless the contract expressly provides that construction on the ship shall not begin until after the war or the emergency has ended. Shipyards, also, cannot be transferred to foreigners without the consent of the shipping board.

The act has provisions which it is believed will prevent all attempts to evade the ship-transfer sections of the law by means of dummy directors and stockholders in corporations nominally American but actually dominated by foreigners.

Farmers who have been placed in army service deferred classifications to stimulate production are organizing throughout the country and reporting to Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture. "We are ready with 110 per cent increase of wheat, or whatever else you may call upon us to do to help win the war," is their message to the secretary.

The shipping board has allotted a vessel to bring coffee from Brazil to the United States to prevent a possible coffee shortage.

NEW BERRY WINNER IN STATE PRIMARY

EARLY DEFEATS FORD AND OSBORN FOR U. S. SENATORSHIP AT THE POLLS.

BABY LANDS NOMINATION

In Four Congressional Districts Republicans Where They Had Opposition Almost Landed.

Detroit—Commander Truman H. Newberry, U. S. N., should feel that he has been complimented highly by the voters of the Republican party in Michigan. They gave him many votes that were cast for Henry Ford in both parties, and they gave him practically as many votes as were cast for both Ford and Osborn in the Republican party.

The latest returns show the commander falling back slightly in the count against the combined vote of his adversaries. In 3,003 precincts out of 1,187, total for the state, he receives 105,121; Ford 8,060 and Osborn 40,771. Ford and Osborn totals 104,821.

Gov. Albert E. Sleeper and Lieutenant Gov. Dickinson were unopposed for the republican nominations for governor and lieutenant governor.

In the Democratic primary John W. Bailey of Battle Creek carried the nomination safely against Edward Frensdorff of Hudson.

The number of votes cast for governor in both Republican and Democratic primaries fell to a mere fraction of the vote for senator.

Rep. James D. Jerome again tops the legislative ticket in Detroit, with Rep. Andrew P. Toepel second, and Reps. A. Ward Copley and Leo M. Taube safely renominated.

In four congressional districts Republican congressmen who had opposition succeeded in obtaining renomination. Congressman Cramton was nominated in the Seventh district, defeating Capt. Gilmore G. Scranton by less than 2,000 votes. In the Eighth district Congressman Fordney defeated Townsend by about 2,000 votes.

Congressman Currie defeated former Congressman George A. Loud to the Tenth district by 2,000 votes, while in the Eleventh district Congressman Scott beat State Senator James Wood by 4,000 votes.

Interest in the second district centered in the Republican congressional contest, in which four sought the nomination. Minchear, of Adrian, is apparently the winner of the four-cornered race by about 500 votes. Newton was second and Dixon third. Mark Bacon, who was Congressman Beakes' opponent two years ago, ran fourth.

ONES HALF HOLIDAY SEPT. 12

Village Authorities Urge Cessation of Business at Noon Registration Day.

Proclamation by the Governor on a date not yet definitely fixed, but some time early in September, a day will be set apart for the registration of men who will come under the operation of the Selective Service law by reason of the extension of the age of military duty, under this law, down to 18 and up to 45. It is planned to make that day a general patriotic holiday throughout the nation to the end that one hundred per cent registration may be insured, and it is hoped that every citizen will enter heartily into the spirit of the occasion.

Gen. Crowder, in his letter to the Council of National Defense calling attention to this matter, says: "I want to have every flag flying and every band playing on Registration Day."

Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, Governor of the State of Michigan, acting on the suggestion of the Provost Marshal General of the United States, do hereby request all mayors of Michigan cities, and all presidents of Michigan villages to confer with local war boards and other patriotic organizations, and with them, to plan to make this day an occasion for the manifestation of a splendid patriotic enthusiasm.

I suggest further that mayors of cities and presidents of villages issue proclamations calling upon their people to render every assistance in their power in the carrying out of this program.

Given under my hand, at the Capitol in Lansing, this twenty-eighth day of August, nineteen hundred eighteen.

ALBERT E. SLEEPER, Governor.

In accordance with the above proclamation the commissioners of the village of Plymouth hereby set aside Thursday, September 12, beginning at 12 o'clock noon, as a patriotic half holiday.

(Signed) W. T. CONNER, President.

To Prepare Lunches For the Boys

Ever since the Local Board began sending boys to Custer and other camps, the ladies of the Plymouth Red Cross have, in a more or less informal manner, taken the responsibility of furnishing the recruits with lunches as they entrain.

From now on this worthy work will be more systematized. The Red Cross ladies have appointed a committee, of which Mrs. H. C. Robinson is chairman. It is desired that all ladies, whether Red Cross members or not, who are willing to prepare lunches for the boys, will please call on Mrs. Robinson, or Red Cross headquarters, as soon as possible. This work is important, and many can do their bit by volunteering to help.

Letter from Milo Johnson

I wish to convey to the voters of the Third Representative District of Wayne county my sincere thanks for their loyal support during my candidacy for the nomination for Representative in the next Legislature.

If elected, it will be my aim to so serve that none shall have occasion to regret his efforts in my behalf.

My highest ambition shall be to render such service as shall prove me worthy of your confidence.

Again thanking you for your splendid endorsement at the primaries, and soliciting your further support at the general election in November, I am, Yours sincerely,
MILO N. JOHNSON,

News of Our Boys

Mrs. George Johnson has received a letter from her son, George, who is currently boarding at Camp Wheeler, Georgia, August 7, 1918.

Dear Mother: Your most welcome letter to hand a few days ago, and as I have a little time this afternoon will write you a few lines. Well, we are all well here to the ridge range and everything, and it was sure a long hot trip. The road was covered with dirt and the trip with me who had not the week and fell out. I made the trip less better than the other times we came out. I have not done any shooting yet, and I guess the old man will not get to shoot much. They will let the boys who do not do any shooting have the practice. It is nice and cool here today, and I hope it stays that way while we are here. Four of us had our full of watermelon this morning. A nigger came along with a load and we bought some.

It was like the Fourth of July here with all these guns in action. Well, I have been moved to Columbia, S. C. I thought I might hear from him, but he has not written yet.

We will be moving down here soon about the 15th and we are going to Camp Greaser and we are going to see you on the 31st day of July. I hope we do go to Camp Greaser. I don't think there will be any such good luck. I got a letter from the other day, and she said that she was going to be with me. I guess she will be with me over the week. We sure have a pretty good time here. We will be here in the next week or so.

Well, mother, I have got to go now. I have to go to the office. I will write you again in a few days. I love you and the boys. I will be with you in a few days. I will be with you in a few days.

As ever,
GEORGE

Blankets

Have you all the BLANKETS you'll need this winter? With 75 or 85 per cent of the blanket looms in the United States taken over for government work, it's a wise plan to make sure on this point and buy now all you will need.
