SUPT. REEBS RESIGNS AS HEAD OF SCHOOLS

Prof. C. F. Reebbs Has Accepted a Chair in Bowling Green, Ohio, State Normal College.

Prof. George A. Smith for Several Years Superintendent of Schools at Manchester Succeeds Mr. Reebbs as Head of Local Schools.

Prof. C. F. Reebbs, who has been superintendent of the Plymouth schools for the past four years and has just entered the fifth year of his work, has resigned his position to accept a much more lucrative one in a higher institution of learning. Mr. Reebbs, who the past summer has been granted an A. B. degree from the University of Michigan, has accepted a chair in the education department of the Bowling Green, Ohio, State Normal College, which last year had a student enrollment of 1650 students. The new position was tendered to Mr. Reebbs unsolicited, and he was one of four men considered for the place. The latter part of August he was asked to go to Bowling Green for an interview with President H. B. Williams of the college, and he received notice of his selection for the place, last week. The new position carries with it a handsome increase over his present salary, besides considerable prestige. At a meeting of the Plymouth board of education held last Monday evening, Mr. Reebbs' resignation was presented and accepted. While the board were reluctant to lose Supt.

PROF. C. F. REEBBS

Reebbs just at the beginning of the school year, yet felt that he had received a well merited advancement and one that he could not afford to refuse, and his resignation was thereupon accepted, and George A. Smith, who has been superintendent of schools at Manchester, Mich., for several years was hired to take the place of Mr. Reebbs. The new superintendent is a young man and comes highly recommended. He takes up his work here next Monday morning. During the years that Prof. Reebbs has been superintendent of our schools he has done some splendid work, that has placed the Plymouth schools in the front line of high schools in the state. His progressive ideas have brought the school to a high standard of efficiency that classes it with the best. He has succeeded in making it a six-year high school, beginning with the seventh grade, which is in keeping with all the better schools of the state. Our schools have been put on the North Central Association list, which is of the highest distinction.

During Mr. Reebbs' superintendency the school building was burned with all of its contents, and the re-establishment of the schools under adverse conditions was accomplished with no little hard work on the part of Mr. Reebbs. He took an active part in the planning of the new school building, and all its equipment and many of the splendid arrangements and conveniences, which our school building has, were due in a large measure to his thought and planning. He was enthusiastic in getting the best that money could buy and the best for the money; he could not have taken any more interest in the matter had he been planning the building for himself.

Mr. Reebbs will take up his new work in the Ohio city, next Monday. He will leave his household goods there as soon as he can return a home to live in. During the years that Prof. Reebbs and his estimable wife have been residents of Plymouth they have taken an active part in the social and civic affairs of the village, and they will be greatly missed in their new home. The large number of a host of friends go with them to their new home.

LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN

Plymouth and Vicinity Will Back Our Boys for the Full Amount of the Quota That is Assigned Us.

While the Plymouth Liberty Loan Committee have not yet received the quota for Plymouth for the Fourth Liberty Loan, yet we know that it is going to be more than any one of the previous loans, probably in the neighborhood of $150,000. That will be about the amount our people are to buy of the total, which must be sold if the government is to successfully finance, during the next few months, our part in the terrible conflict the Kaiser and his hordes have brought upon the world.

Of course, the people of Plymouth are going to buy the amount that is allotted to us—there is no question about that. Plymouth people are going at this bond-buying proposition in just the same way that our Plymouth township boys are going at the Heimle's in France. We are not going to stop until the full quota is raised, any more than our boys stop when they reach the first German trench or the German machine gun nest.

We are going to put the dollars of Plymouth and the surrounding community back of our boys and let them work together, so that in the end the world may be a decent place to live in.

WHITNEY I. SMITH PASSES AWAY

Former Well Known Newburg Resident Died Suddenly at His Home in Lansing Last Week Thursday

Whitney I. Smith, a former resident of Newburg, died very suddenly at Lansing, last Thursday. He retired the night before feeling quite well, but was found dead in the morning. The remains were brought to Newburg for burial, the funeral services being held from the Newburg church, Saturday afternoon, with Rev. F. M. Field in charge. The Masonic order from Plymouth conducted services at the grave. Whitney Smith was born at Newburg in 1857, and spent the greater part of his life in this vicinity, having moved to Lansing about ten years ago. While still a young man he united with the Methodist church at Newburg and was always very faithful to the church services, never missing if able to get out. He attended church twice the Sunday before his death. Since his removal from this vicinity, Mr. Smith has retained an active interest in the Newburg church, and has made at least two visits every year to his former church and home. He was a member of the Maccabees and Masonic orders, and was an officer of the Humane society at Lansing at the time of his death.

PLYMOUTH OBSERVED HALF HOLIDAY

The New Liberty Pole Was Presented to Village with Appropriate Exercises, Thursday Afternoon.

Plymouth observed registration day yesterday with the closing of the factories and business places at noon. At 3:00 o'clock the new steel liberty pole, which has been erected near the drinking fountain on Main street, was duly presented to the village by the Plymouth Liberty Loan committee. We go to press too early to give any details of the program, which was arranged as follows:

Music—Millard's Band
Registration—Rev. E. M. Field
Presentation of Pole—Liberty Loan Committee
Acceptance—Village Commission
Raising of Flag—G. A. R. Commander, O. F. Showers
Star Spangled Banner—Audience, accompanied by Millard's Band
Address—Judge George F. Codd, District
America—Audience, accompanied by Millard's Band

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott and Mrs. George F. Codd were the guests of Mrs. William C. Codd at the home of Mrs. Codd.

GOVERNMENT ORDER FOR NEWSPAPERS

All Subscriptions Must Be Paid in Advance Before Papers Can Be Sent.

We call the attention of the subscribers of the Mail to the following new rules prescribed by the U. S. government in the interest of the saving of paper made necessary by war conditions. We give below only those rules which directly concern our readers:

Rule No. 2. No publisher may continue subscription after date of expiration, unless subscriptions are renewed and paid for.

Rule No. 3. No publisher may give free copies of his paper, except for actual service rendered; except to camp libraries and clubs or canteens of organizations, and libraries which will agree to bind for permanent keeping; except to government departmental libraries which use said publications in their work.

Northville's Second Annual Fair

Northville is to have its second annual fair September 24-27. Last year's event was a big success both as an attraction and financially. This year's event promises to outclass that of last season, and it is admitted it will have to go some to do it. A new grandstand is being built and the base ball diamond has been moved so that a good view of the ball games and horse races can be obtained from the same seats.

The exhibits will again be housed under huge tents, adding much to the attractiveness of the grounds. Within this tented city will be housed live stock, fruit, vegetables, poultry and fancy work, galore.

There will also be free attractions well worth seeing as well as an exciting midway. For the horse races there is prize money to the amount of $1,100 and for the ball games, $175.

New Officers Elected

At a meeting of the Citizen's Entertainment committee, held at the High school building, Tuesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

...WATER...

is the most necessary thing in the world—there's more of it than anything else.

Four-fifths of the earth's surface is covered by water, and seven-tenths of our bodies is water.

Yet, with such a bountiful supply of this commodity of nature, many households do not enjoy its benefits owing to inconvenient and improper means of securing water and conveying it to places where it is wanted.

If you are interested in securing the proper conveyances for water in your homes or buildings, come in and talk the matter over with us.

Mission Festival

Next Sunday St. Peter's Lutheran church will celebrate its annual mission festival. The morning services begin at 10:15 o'clock and are in German. The Rev. John Gauss from Janera, Ohio, will preach the sermon. In the afternoon there will be English services, when Rev. G. Schmelzer from Detroit, will preach. In both services collections will be taken, the money to be used for mission work. Everyone bring a lunch and the Ladies' Aid cooks coffee and sets tables in the church basement, where a community dinner will be eaten. The Lutheran congregation of Livonia is invited to unite for the festival with the church at Plymouth. All others are also welcome at both services.

Services at Universalist Church

Rev. Leon P. Jones will speak in the Universalist church, Thursday evening, September 19. He comes, in part, to extend the invitation of his parish, at Liberty, to the State Universalist convention, which will be held there next month. In addition to this, he brings a live message under the topic, "The Permanence of the Christian Church." Since this church is so rarely open for Universalist service, we urge all to make a special effort to come out Thursday evening to hear Mr. Jones.

DETROIT OFFICER FALLS IN BIG BATTLE

Capt. Charles Learned of Detroit, and Brother of Frank K. Learned of Plymouth, Gives Life on Battlefield.

Capt. Charles A. Learned of Detroit, who fell in the second battle of the Marne, as reported in Wednesday's Detroit News, is brother of Frank K. Learned of this place. "Charley" Learned was a familiar figure of the Detroit Light Guards for twenty years, having served in the Spanish-American war, also on the Mexican border. Previous to sailing overseas, he was at Waco, not returning to bid his family and relatives good-bye. To Capt. Learned fell the honor of leading the first Michigan outpost on German territory. That the work was being well done is assured us by Capt. Kelly, who witnessed the death of many Michigan boys after a week of most terrible fighting. Capt. Learned was acting major for Major Ganser of Bay City, recently wounded, and was in conference with his men when a bursting shell killed him instantly. In all his military experience it is singular to note that Capt. Learned had never been wounded or been in a hospital. He was buried where he fell, and a wooden cross bearing his name is all that marks the resting place of another Michigan hero. Besides his wife and two small daughters, Captain Learned leaves three brothers, George of Denver; Frank of this place; Walter of Louisville, Kentucky; and four sisters, Mrs. Rebekah Kerr of Salem, Mrs. Dean P. Gray, Mrs. Sidney Goodman and Mrs. William Statesman of Detroit.

COMMUNITY HOUSE AT CAMP CUSTER

State is Constructing Much-Needed Building for Visitors

Preparatory work for the big community house and dormitory to be constructed by the state at Camp Custer is already under way and within less than two months the fathers, mothers, sisters, brothers and sweethearts of Michigan's soldier boys will be able to go to Custer to visit the selected men under comfortable circumstances. Thus far there have been at Custer no accommodations of any kind for those who go to pay a farewell visit before the boys leave for the battlefields in France. The community house will not only be a place where the boys can meet and entertain their visitors, but the latter can secure accommodations there at a nominal price, both rooms and meals. Mothers and fathers will be able to say good-bye in the seclusion of their own rooms. The club house will be for enlisted men and officers alike—there will be no distinction. It is the wish of the army heads that these club houses be democratic. The humblest private will have every privilege accorded a major general; they will meet and mingle on equal footing. Entertainment will be given every night for the boys—a big auditorium being provided. Writing rooms, reading rooms, lounging rooms and all other benefits of club life will be afforded. The dormitories will be built on wings on two sides of the club house and have accommodations for 300 persons.

NATIONAL PROGRAM

SAVE SUGAR—Two pounds per person per month is the American consumption. Try to eat less and add to the national surplus for canning. Do this that the fighting forces may be kept fully supplied, and that England, France and Italy may receive their greatly restricted requirements.
USE FRUITS—Take advantage of the natural sugar in fruits. Can without sugar. Add sugar later, when it will be more plentiful. Select fruits, such as raisins, dates and figs have much sugar in them. Use honey, maple products and syrups when available.
USE VEGETABLES—Make local vegetables all as large a place as possible in your diet, thus conserving not only meat and wheat, but transportation and labor. Don't use canned goods now, while the fresh are available.
USE DAIRY PRODUCTS—Always give the children plenty of milk, milk products and eggs. Use them yourself freely now, and thus conserve meat for export.
USE FISH—New species are being popularized and supplies increased. Eat this nutritious but perishable food several times a week and let the non-perishables go abroad.
RESULT—Our efforts during the fiscal year 1917-18 saved the Allies 18,944,600,000 pounds more meat and fats and 90,900,000 bushels more cereals than during 1916-17. From American sources of supply also 1,968,400,000 pounds more sugar was shipped than the pre-war annual average.
 HOW MANY POUNDS WILL YOU SAVE FOR THEM IN 1918-19?

SHORT PARAGRAPHS The New Interurban Rates

Closed His Barber Shop—Charles McConnell has closed his barber shop on Penniman avenue, and has accepted a position at the Harroun factory at Wayne.
Will Open Poolroom in Tighe Block—T. P. Sherman has moved his poolroom equipment to the Tighe building on Penniman avenue, which was formerly used as a bowling alley.
No More Free Entertainments—The last Saturday night free entertainment for the summer took place last Saturday evening. The entertainments the past summer have been largely attended and much enjoyed.
German Helmet on Exhibition—Miss Dora Liverance received this week a German helmet from a friend in France. The helmet is made of steel and weighs over two pounds. It is on exhibition at Gayle's Bros. grocery store.
Epistats to Have Business Meeting—A business meeting will be held at the Baptist church, next Monday evening, September 16th, at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the congregation are urged to be present as important business is to be considered.
Enters Military School—Cass Sheffield Hough left Tuesday for the Culver Military school at Culver, Indiana, where he will attend school this year. This school is one of the finest military schools in the United States and ranks second to West Point.
Former Plymouth Boy Wounded—Word has been received here that Fred Leach, a former Plymouth boy, serving with the Canadian troops, was wounded in action in France, August 27th. His many Plymouth friends sincerely hope his wound is not serious, and that he is well on the road to recovery by this time.
Former Plymouth Boy in France—Mr. and Mrs. H. Felton have received a letter from Chris Rank, a former Plymouth boy, who lived with them several years, and is now in France with Uncle Sam's forces. He would be pleased to hear from Plymouth friends. His address is Christopher Rank, Co. I, 114th U. S. Infantry, American Exp. Forces, via New York.
Closed His Blacksmith Shop—John Lorenz, who has conducted a blacksmithing business in the Willis shop on East Ann Arbor street, has closed up the shop and disposed of the stock and material to H. J. Fisher. Mr. Lorenz says the high prices and scarcity of material are reasons for closing the shop. He is undecided as to what he will do.
Only a Few Automobiles Out—Gasless Sunday was practically 100 per cent patriotic in Plymouth, last Sunday. During the day the local police force, with the assistance of some of the boy scouts, took the numbers of fifty-five cars, and the larger portion of these were trucks on urgent business and farmers who were hauling their milk to town. This is a splendid showing when it is taken into consideration that a day like last Sunday would have seen many hundreds of cars pass through town.
Orlo Brown of Detroit, was a weekend guest at William Glympse's.

MICHENER'S CHANCES ARE VERY GOOD

That's the Way John Fitzgibbon Put's the Lenawee County Candidate's Prospects.

John Fitzgibbon, the political oracle of Michigan, in his weekly article in the Detroit News recently had the following to say of Earl C. Michener of Lenawee county, Republican nominee for congress in the second district of which Plymouth forms a part: "When Henry C. Smith of Adrian, was elected to Congress for the Second district in 1898, he took Earl C. Michener to Washington for his clerk. The allowance of the clerk of a Representative in Congress at that period was $1,200 annually. During Rep. Smith's four years in Congress, Michener, who was just 21 when he was taken to Washington at the opening of the session of 1899 for the first time, typed the letters of his patron, looked after the mailing to thousands of his constituents of packages of farm and garden seeds furnished free by the Government, and performed numerous other minor duties. Even then he was ambitious to be a lawyer. He had taken some law studies at the University of Michigan before he went to Washington. At the capitol he found time to complete his studies between working hours, at the Columbian University, and from this university received his law diploma. In 1903, when Charles E. Townsend succeeded Henry C. Smith as member of Congress for the Second district, Earl Michener returned to Adrian and opened a law office. He had a natural aptitude for the legal profession, and genial ways that won him hosts of personal friends. Friends that he could always count upon. His first public office was assistant prosecuting attorney of Lenawee county. Then he was twice elected prosecutor, and became one of the ablest trial lawyers that has ever practiced at the Lenawee county bar. Earl Michener has now been nominated by the Republicans to represent in Congress the district for which he was performing a clerk's service 15 years ago for $1,200 a year. It happened at the primaries, last Tuesday, and he won easily over three other Republicans: Thornton Dixon of Monroe; Mark R. Bacon of Wyandotte, and Frank T. Newton of Washnaw. In his home county of Lenawee, he received a larger percentage of the vote cast than any candidate ever before polled in the county as far as recalled. The vote was: Michener, 2,343; Dixon, 800; Bacon, 151; Newton, 65. Inasmuch as the normal Republican majority in the district is about 3,000, Michener would seem to have an excellent chance for election. He will oppose Rep. Samuel W. Beakes of Ann Arbor, in the November election."

A Mean Act

Last Saturday afternoon, while moving a few things into the rooms over George Richwine's harness shop, A. H. McHale laid his coat on the ground at the rear of the building. On returning for it a short time later, he found that someone had taken it. The person who took the coat did not steal because they wanted it to wear for it was an old shop coat, but in the inside pocket were Maccabee papers, of value to no one but the owner, and four War Savings Stamps. On the label of the coat was a necktie pin, which Mr. McHale valued greatly for its associations, as it was a gift from his dead wife. It does seem deplorable that there are those in our midst who have so little feeling for the misfortune of others, that they would take advantage of them in a time like this, for only a few days ago Mr. McHale not only lost his home and nearly all his furniture, but almost lost his life, and is still suffering from bruises he received in the collapsing of the Shafer-Pettingill building. It is surely beyond the comprehension of ordinary people that there are persons who have so little humanity in their make-up that they would seek profit and gain from another's downfall.

FOOD QUESTIONS ANSWERED

SUGAR PRICES

How do sugar prices here compare with those in other countries? Net wholesale prices of refined sugar per pound in chief cities of Allied countries since sugar control was established in the United States by the Food Administration.

	New York	Montreal	London	Paris	Rome
Oct. 1, 1917	$0.6812	$0.6667	$0.6664	$0.1232	$0.2463
May 1, 1918	.778	.6967	1.269	1.1232	.463

What is the average retail price of sugar in the United States? From 2-1/2 to 12 cents a pound, varying slightly in different localities. During the Civil War retail price for 55 cents a pound, when there was no real shortage. Speculation then was rampant; now it has been checked by Food Administration regulation.

How have prices been regulated? By voluntary agreement with producers and refiners, with regard to the price of the raw sugar and refined sugars; and by establishing maximum margins for wholesalers and retailers.

Would our prices be higher if there were no control of sugar? The price would be in the line of the world's market, have mounted rapidly, we think, in comparison with the controlled price. As the American people consume upward of 4,000,000,000 lbs. of sugar annually, each cent per pound increase would cost the people more than $60,000,000 a year.

How can I know whether my grocery is charging excessive prices for sugar? Consult the list of "fair prices" published in the newspapers or write directly to the State Food Administration or its representatives in your locality.

What penalty is there for the retail dealer who is found guilty of charging excessive prices? The retail dealer is liable to a fine of $100 for each offense.

FROM OUR BOYS

We Are Always Glad to Print Letters From Our Soldier Boys.

The following post card and letter were received last Saturday, from Harold Joffe, son of Mrs. H. B. Joffe, who is with Uncle Sam's army in France.

Somewhere in England.

Dear Mother: Arrived here and am at a Soldier's Rest camp for a few days. Everything is O. K., and I am feeling fine. England is some place; the cities are clean, the streets narrow, but it is terribly damp—rains a lot. It is some place for crops, especially potatoes and grain. They all look fine. Did you get the things I sent from Chester?

Somewhere in France. HAROLD

Dear Mother:

At last I am across the water, considered the most important part of the trip. I have seen a good bit of England, and after traveling a couple of days in box cars have arrived at a small village in the central part of France. It is a very old place, and the people are very friendly. We are scattered in billets or houses, and are living with the French people. We are the first Yankee troops in this town, and the folks hardly know how to take us.

The women do most of the work here, and everything looks neat and clean. The crops are fine and vineyards are plentiful. As a whole I like France much better than old England. Didn't get a chance to see London, but am going to. We are not very far from another well known place I would like to see. The cattle are nearly all pure white and they have a lot of them.

We are in a quite section, and I guess a good thing for our soldiers, although there are plenty of them. I have received no mail whatever, but am sure it will come when we get straightened around. We haven't received our barracks bags yet.

The trains here are old-fashioned and remind me of the first ones ever built, but they can travel. You should have heard the fellow holler when we were passing through a railroad yard and spied some large locomotives with U. S. A. on the sides. I will confess they looked pretty good to me.

I only wish you folks could see this country. I hope to get some views to you some day.

Our Captain is quartered with the major of the town. He is quite a nice, and the people go to him with anything. How are the youngsters? Write when you can.

Lovingly, HAROLD.

Corporal Harvey Springer writes the following letter from somewhere in France.

August 18, 1918

My Dearest Folks:

As you are all out for a vacation today, Dad and "Doc" in mind, I have some good news and good news to tell you. I am very well and am feeling fine.

if we were all together, having lunch at some nice roadside inn—roast chicken, etc. Say, would that taste good? Hm!

I received your letter of June 11, a few days ago, and didn't have time to answer it until today, which is Sunday. I am looking for a letter from you to this new address any day now, and will answer it immediately upon receiving.

Roscoe and I are writing to each other every week now, and in his last letter to me he said, "Everything was fine," and that he had heard from you all at home and you were well and happy.

Things are looking very bright for the allies now, don't you think so? Here's hoping they get it good.

I suppose the old town is pretty dead right now—most of the younger fellows are in the service now, are they not? I have not seen Mr. Farber yet, nor any of the other boys from home. I certainly would like to shake the hands of some of them. I haven't seen Blundy or Bill for three or four months.

I saw a beautiful little spot a few days ago. It reminded me very much of Belle Isle, only, of course, it wasn't an island, and it wasn't nearly as large. It was a botanical garden. In this little park they had many different kinds of animals, birds, fish and flowers. The flowers were simply beautiful, and I know you would have been in your glory if you could have seen them. On both sides of one roadway, which was about three squares long, there were millions of flowers of all species, color and variety. I enjoyed myself wonderfully that afternoon. There are many places that you can go and see—places you have read about and heard about when you were in school.

We are leaving this place for another town in a very short time, but my address will be the same. I enjoy the work real well and like the fellows and conditions very much. I am using a typewriter and will write the next letter with it.

You asked about my ears. I will tell you just what is wrong with them. I cannot hear an ordinary whisper with my left ear but my right is a little better. That is there is a small hole in each drum—nothing dangerous though, and in time they will get better.

I sincerely hope dear grandpa is feeling well, and you also mother dearest. And I am pretty sure daddy is well, also Doc, but tell them to keep that way. Give my best wishes to all my friends and God bless you, with all the love I have, I am your son.

La Vega, D. R., August 15, 1918. The Plymouth Mail:

Dear Sirs:

Perhaps you will think I have forgotten you and my other Plymouth friends, but that is not the case. I just returned to my company after a two months' stay in the Field Hospital at Santiago, D. R., where I underwent an operation.

On my return, I received a number of Plymouth papers, and I enjoy them very much. I have also received several letters written by other Plymouth boys, and they are very nice.

I think that the people of Plymouth are doing a wonderfully large "bit" in this war. I read so much about what they are doing, and I know that the home boys in France must be reading about it also.

For the last few months we have been having terribly hot weather, but it has begun to change a little now and our nights are real cool.

I have a little work to do this afternoon, so I will close for this time, with best wishes to the Mail and all my Plymouth friends.

Sincerely,

PVT. MAURICE S. FULLERTON, U. S. M. C., La Vega, D. R. Care of Postmaster N. Y. City

The following letter is from Corporal Daniel Trussell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Trussell, Sr., of Canton township, who was wounded in action, August 2nd:

Base Hospital No. 19, August 18, 1918.

Dear Mother:

Just a line to let you know that my wound is healing fine, and it will not be long before I am O. K. again. I go out walking in the parks nearly every afternoon and night now. The scenery is beautiful here.

How is everyone at home. Hope all well. I suppose father and Wesley have their harvesting all done and the oats threshed by this time. The harvest is nearly over here, and there is a good crop of everything.

I had my picture taken yesterday. They are not very good, but I am sending you one. I hope by this time next year I will be home again, and I am sure I will be if things keep on the way they are now.

Mother, here is a little poem I have made up:

I see you, mother, yes, I see your dear face now,

It is in memory's mirror though distant in the space;

Your voice I hear it say, for my sake be true,

While fighting in France for the Red, White and Blue.

I see the tender look in your face, the troubled and anxious brow;

Oh, how I would like to hug and kiss her now.

Your thoughts of me I cherish, keep me always in your prayer,

Home or in heaven, mother, I want to meet you there.

Your loving son, DEWEY.

WAR OF SERVICE AS WELL AS MEN

Italian Editor Visiting in This Country Speaks of the World Food Situation.

Crisis is Passed But Storehouses Must Be Filled For The Future Safety of Our Allies.

Washington, Sept. 5.—One of the Italian editors visiting this country said: "We are not here in the service of Italy. We are not here in the service of the United States. We are here in that greatest of all services, the service which ennobles all who engage in it—the service of mankind."

It is this service, the service of mankind, that is demanding the conservation and fair distribution of our foodstuffs.

A crisis has been successfully passed. Due to the awakening of her collective conscience, America last year saved enough wheat to share her breadstuffs with Europe and tide over her own supply until the present abundant harvest.

These past months of conservation discipline will enable her to keep below the pre-war consumption of wheat until her storehouses are again filled and a surplus built up for her own and friendly Europe's future protection.

Because the light weight cattle are now moving so rapidly to market, due largely to the extreme drouth in the south-west, the American people are now being urged to demand meat from the lighter weight animals, those that dress below 475 pounds. This will relieve the drain on the heavier beef needed abroad and will help producers.

The present sugar allotment of two pounds per person per month still gives us half a pound more than France's ration and a pound more than Italy's. Fair play demands that we keep within this amount in order to share with them.

This war cannot be won without a sympathetic distribution of food. Selfishness and individual taste must be forgotten in the broader service of mankind.

LINE UP! It ain't the guns, nor armament, Nor the funds that they can pay, But the close co-operation That makes them, win the day.

It ain't the individuals Nor the army as a whole, But the over-riper teamwork Of every bisconk' soul. —Rayford Kipping.

"HUNS" BREAK ALL HONOR AND PRECEDENT

Sink a Belgian Relief Ship and Murder the Crew, After Guaranteeing Protection.

Washington, Sept. 5.—Last Thursday The Okecenter, one of the Belgian Relief Commission ships, while en route to Belgium with a cargo of food, was attacked by a German submarine off Haugsumb in Norwegian territorial waters, and was sunk. After the ship was sunk, the submarine fired on the life boats, killing the first officer and five men, and wounding several others of the crew.

The Belgian Relief ships operate under an undertaking given by the German Government that they shall be immune from attack so long as they are not in the war zone. This special act of piracy has features of hideousness even greater than ordinary submarine work.

A shipment of food to a starving people, proceeding under guarantee from the German Government, is sunk in neutral waters and even after that the crew is murdered.
