When You Hear
Edison

"The Phonograph with a Soul," you do not realize that the great inventor has actually evolved a new art. Even more vividly and convincingly than the motion picture reproduces the drama, this marvelous instrument re-creates music. In fact, as the famous tone tests have effectively proved, no human ear can detect a shade of difference between the rendition of the living artist and that of an Edison Diamond Disc.

Both Suit and Overcoat at $20 to $40

You'll probably want a neat overcoat this fall, as well as a new suit. But with prices as they are on account of the war, you may have thought you couldn't afford both.

You can! You can get a Clothcraft Suit for $20 to $30, and a Clothcraft Coat for $20 to $30—and the two together will cost no more perhaps than you had expected to pay for either alone!

If that looks too good to be true, just come in and try on some of these splendid garments. You can then judge of the fit and looks, which we think you'll find very satisfactory—and the wear is guaranteed.

Great Din Marks Peace Celebration

Citizens Join in Hilarious Festivities as the Great War Ends With Signing of Armistice

Plymouth and Northville Join In Monster Parade

A Free Dance and a Huge Bonfire and the Burning of the Kaiser In Effigy Big Features

Plymouth citizens were awakened before dawn Monday morning to a genuine peace celebration, with enthusiasm undampened by the hoaxed report and the disappointment of last week Thursday.

The first noise to be sounded was the whistle at the Pere Marquette round house, and the engines in the railroad yards, which began blowing at four o'clock. Despite the false alarm of Thursday, our citizens awoke with readiness to receive the expected good news. With the shrieking of the whistles and the clanging of the church and fire bells, came also the firing of guns and revolvers and the shouts of the joyous citizens.

The town was awake and in an incredibly short time the streets were alive with people and automobiles. Within an hour after the first whistle was sounded the Millard band appeared from somewhere and marched down town playing stirring music. A bonfire was kindled near the corners, around which a hilarious crowd was gathered. At 6:30 the factory whistles cut loose in a bedlam of noise, and amid the uproar a parade was formed with the band leading, and marched to the north side of town and back cheering wildly, as they marched.

President W. T. Conner immediately proclaimed a holiday. The action of the president met with general approval, but it was hardly necessary, for loyal old Plymouth had long ago made up their minds that this was the day it would celebrate, and they did.

About nine o'clock President Conner called a meeting of business men and citizens to order at the council chambers, to take action and formulate plans to properly celebrate the day.

It was decided to form a monster parade and give the thirty-five selected men, who were to leave that afternoon for Sparta, N. C., a royal send-off. It was also decided to have a dance after the parade and during the evening a huge bonfire with the burning of a dummy Kaiser. Committees were appointed and the work was on. Following the meeting President Conner extended an invitation to the citizens of Northville to come over and join with us in the day's festivities, and the send-off to the selected several of whom were Northville boys. They gladly accepted the invitation, and it seemed that when the long line of autos and trucks rolled into the village at the appointed hour, about everyone in the neighboring village was here.

At 1:30 the parade was formed on Penniman avenue and the march to the depot began. The procession was headed by two of Uncle Sam's soldiers, Privates Lee Fisher and Earl Kloller, each carrying a large flag. Following came the Plymouth Police Department, Millard Band, Boy Scouts, Plymouth Red Cross ladies, carrying a huge flag. Selected men, Plymouth L. O. T. M., members of the old Plymouth band, the Northville automobile contingent with the Northville band leading and hundreds of gaily decorated autos, and trucks, each carrying noise making contrivances.

When the parade arrived at the depot it was found that the selected men were not to leave for the training camp, as all draft calls had been cancelled. The parade then returned and marched back to Bellows Park and disbanded.

After the parade many enjoyed themselves dancing at the Penniman Allen auditorium, which Mrs. Kate E. Allen very kindly opened for the occasion. After the supper hour a large crowd gathered down town to the bonfire and the burning of the Kaiser.

The opening of Plymouth's handsome new playhouse, the Penniman Allen Theatre, which was to have occurred on October 25, but which had to be postponed on account of the influenza epidemic, has been set for Friday evening, November 22. This event has long been looked forward to by our citizens, who are anxious to get a glimpse at the interior of the new theatre, of which all Plymouth is justly proud.

For the opening night, Mrs. Kate E. Allen, to whom Plymouth is indebted for this splendid and completely equipped playhouse, has decided to put on an entertainment for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A., and the proceeds therefrom will go to that great organization, which has done so much for our boys "over there." It is a most worthy cause and one that is very opportune at this time.

"Mores and Manners," is the title of a playlet that will be given by some of Plymouth's best talent. This little playlet abounds in fun and comedy, and there was not a dull moment from beginning to end. The play is being staged under the direction of Mrs. Anna Ward Foster of the Anna Ward Foster School of Dancing and Dramatic Art of Detroit. The following is the cast of characters:

Gertie Gay, a saleslady at Make-much Co. Millinery Department - Mrs. W. T. Rettingill
Mary Mocker, another saleslady - Mrs. E. E. Cooper
Miss Ann Thorpe, who needs no label - Miss Henry Conner
Miss Waver, a typical shopper - Mrs. H. C. Robinson
Miss Aider, her friend - Mrs. John Quatral, Jr.
Mrs. Eminence Blount, a modern mother - Mrs. F. D. Schrader
Francesca Blount, the latest thing in daughters - Gladys Schrader
Miss Optimist, a humorist unafraid - Mrs. E. O. Mirzack
Mrs. Daniel Cherry, an old-fashioned lady - Mrs. E. A. Dibble
Floorwalker - Harry C. Robinson
Scene - A Millinery shop
Time - Morning
Following the playlet there will be a splendid high-class vaudeville program, which will include, Jessica Cook, a comedienne who needs no label; Mrs. noted Detroit singer and pupil of the Anna Ward Foster School of Dancing and Dramatic Art. Every number is a head-liner that cannot fail to please.

OPENING OF NEW THEATRE

The Penniman Allen Theatre Will Be Opened to the Public, Friday Evening, November 22.

A Home Talent Playlet and Eight Big Vaudeville Acts and a Dance in the Auditorium Will Furnish the Amusement.

The Proceeds Will Go the Y. M. C. A., To Be Used For Our Soldier Boys.

The admission to the entertainment at the theatre has been placed at $1.00, which also includes the admission to the dance at the auditorium, or in other words it is two big entertainments for the price of one.

Reserved seats will be on sale at Pinckney's Pharmacy, Monday, November 18th.

GOVERNOR NAMES VICTORY SUNDAY

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 12.—Governor Sleeper issued the following proclamation today:

"The tragic war which for 51 months has rocked the foundations of the earth is over. One hundred and fifty-five billions of dollars have been spent, forty millions of men have been under arms and more than eight million lives have been sacrificed.

"But now peace has come to calm the world, and it is fitting, while we mourn for those who have yielded their lives in the cause of democracy, that we should rejoice and give thanks for peace with victory.

"Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, governor of the state of Michigan, do hereby designate and proclaim Sunday, November 17th next, Victory Sunday, and I call upon the people of Michigan to gather on that day in their accustomed places of worship, and there by prayer and praise render thanks to Almighty God for the triumph of our cause and the restoration of peace on earth."

The Commission of the Village of Plymouth strongly urge that the citizens observe this proclamation in the above mentioned manner on Victory Sunday, Nov. 17, 1918.

Signed,
W. T. CONNER, President.
D. G. BROWN, Manager.

Victory - Peace - Thank God

NATION CALLED TO WORSHIP ON VICTORY SUNDAY, NOV. 17

The first Sabbath of Peace in two hundred weeks should find the churches in all christian lands thronged with worshippers, who have not forgotten God in our day of triumph.

Governor Sleeper has issued a proclamation naming November 17 as Victory Sunday and calling upon the people of Michigan to gather on that day in their accustomed places of worship, and there by prayer and praise to render thanks to Almighty God for the triumph of our cause and the restoration of peace on earth."

Mrs. Emma Wise of Reed City, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Evered Jolliffe.
R. G. Samsen was home from Wilmington, Ohio, over Sunday and the first of the week.
Mrs. Ernest Hill has moved her household goods to Detroit, this week, where she will reside.
Mrs. Seiwell of Gaylord, Mich., has been spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Hill.
Kenneth Secklinger and mother of Jackson, were guests at William Baxter's, the latter part of last week.
George Bridger, who enlisted in the Tank Corps, went to Camp Folk, North Carolina, last week Wednesday.

Mrs. Ella Peck and Mrs. Holbrook spent the week-end with the former's son, Dexter Peck, and family in Detroit.
Mrs. Frank Rambo, son, Stuart, and mother, Mrs. Etta Stitt, visited friends at Rochester, last week Thursday.

Mrs. Zetta Smith returned home, Saturday, from a two months' visit with friends at Lynn, Massachusetts, and other places in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Spicer and children of Highland Park, visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Spicer, and attended the celebration here.

Dr. J. H. Kimble, who has entered the United States service, left Monday morning for Camp Brady, near the Soc. Mrs. Kimble will stay with her mother, Mrs. L. C. Hough, during her husband's absence.

Mrs. Ella Hood and daughter, Marian, have moved to Detroit, where the latter has a position in the drug store of McKieran & Taylor, which was moved to the city from here, last week. Mrs. Hood and daughter will reside at 166 Vicksburg avenue. Plymouth friends regret their departure from our village, but wish them success in their new home.

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT

Royal Welsh Concert Company Give Two Fine Entertainments Here.

In spite of the almost universal attraction in the peace celebration down town on Monday night, the Royal Welsh Concert Company gave their entertainment before a good audience in the Methodist church to the great delight of all who heard it. The musical numbers by Mr. Ben Davis, the Welsh tenor and Mr. Rieca Williams, baritone, author and composer, were enthusiastically received, as were also the clever musical readings by Miss Dexter, the accompanist.

The lecture on the Sinking of the Lusitania by Rieca Williams, was a thrilling, human interest account of that terrible tragedy, but told in a simple, unassuming manner. Those who heard it will never forget it, and in the years to come when the great war is mentioned together with its one outstanding crime, the sinking of the Lusitania with two thousand passengers on board, they will be glad they heard the story by one who was there.

On account of a date being cancelled in a city where the influenza ban is still on, the Welsh singers were able to repeat the concert here on Tuesday evening. No admission was charged, but the audience showed their appreciation with a generous offering. The concert netted the Epworth League, the local auspices, twenty-two dollars.

DEATH OF CANTON YOUNG MAN

John Salts, aged thirty-one years, son of Thomas Salts of Canton, died at Harper hospital, Monday night, after an illness of two weeks from typhoid-pneumonia. The deceased was first taken ill with Spanish influenza, which later developed into pneumonia, and he was taken to the hospital two weeks ago. He is survived by his father, two brothers, Andrew of Sunfield, Mich., and Thomas, who resides with his father in Canton, and one sister, who lives at Scott, Ohio. The remains were brought to Plymouth, Tuesday, and later taken to his home in Canton, where the funeral was held Thursday afternoon, Rev. Wallace of Denton, conducting the services. Interment took place at Cherry Hill.

THE PEACE CELEBRATION

The vacant lot opposite the Plymouth hotel. The feature of this part of the program was the Kaiser's "palace," in which a substitute Kaiser had been placed and the interior lighted with candles, which cast an uneasy light over the figure standing just within the door of the doomed building. At 8:00 o'clock the match was applied and the flames leaped high in the air, and the crowd cheered as the "palace" soon fell and likewise the figure of the Kaiser. After this part of the program the crowd went to the Fenimore Allen auditorium, where dancing was indulged in by a large crowd until a late hour. Sirens' orchestra and the Millard band furnished excellent music for the dancers and it was a most delightful ending for a perfect day.

LIBERTY NOTES

It was a real celebration. Hats off to the Millard band. Old Glory was much in evidence. All kinds of devices were used for making a noise. Nothing like it has ever been held in Plymouth before.

Business was suspended and everybody celebrated. Biff! Bing! Boom! Bang! Armistice signed!

No one was hurt and the day passed off without a mishap. The public schools were closed and the pupils joined in the jubilee.

Charges of dynamite fired at short intervals during the day made things jingle. The sum of $5.53 was tossed into the big flag carried by the Red Cross ladies.

The members of the L. O. T. M. made a splendid showing in the line of march.

The people in the rural districts were notified of the "do-in" and everybody came to town to join in the celebration.

The Daisy Mfg. Co.'s truck carried the figure of the Kaiser on the gallows, guarded by six Boy Scouts with leveled bayonets.

All formalities were laid aside and business men, professional men, factory heads, all joined in raising the lid off everything. Northville did herself proud. Several hundred autos were in the parade. Several big trucks on which were mounted large bells, kept up a continuous clang. The Goddess of Liberty and Uncle Sam were features of the Northville delegation in the parade.

Although Harry Robinson is still compelled to walk with a cane, nothing could keep him out of the parade, and our genial "Robby" was right there with the bass drum as of yore. The "old top" did well for the first two miles, but was forced to make the finish sitting on an auto hood.

One of the big features of the parade was the members of the old Plymouth band, led by their veteran leader, "Toot" Cable. The boys had rigged themselves up in uniforms of various hues and colors, and they certainly presented a nobby appearance. They played all the national airs and were roundly applauded for their efforts.

If there was ever a musical organization that did yeoman service, Monday, it was the Millard band of this village. From five o'clock in the morning until late at night, the musicians were on the job. They are deserving of unstinted praise for the part they played in the great celebration. We know that Plymouth appreciated their splendid services of last Monday, as well as they have on all other occasions when the band has freely given their services.

A big feature of the parade was a dummy of the Kaiser, dragged behind Schrader Bros. truck and closely followed by the "Devil," who carried a pitchfork and took particular delight in jabbing his fork into the figure of the "best disliked" man in the world, and pitching his body high in the air at short intervals. Wesley Dunn impersonated the "Devil" in a most befitting manner.

METHODIST MENTION

The resumption of services for worship seemed to be much appreciated by the congregations which assembled both morning and evening, last Sunday. In the morning, Rev. G. H. Whitney, an honored member of the Detroit conference, who has retired from active service after preaching for nearly forty years, and has taken up his residence in Plymouth, occupied the pulpit, much to the delight and profit of all who heard him. His theme was "The Sanctuary," and his message most timely, being suggested by the churchless Sundays.

While the pastor, Rev. F. M. Field, was preaching Sunday evening on the theme, "The Kaiser's Peace and God's Peace," neither he nor any of the large congregation realized how near peace really was.

Both congregations, last Sunday, were much delighted with the beautiful solos sung by Miss Ada Leach, who has recently assumed the direction of the music for the church services. Under her direction a quartet is planned for the morning service and a chorus choir for the evening, together with other special musical features.

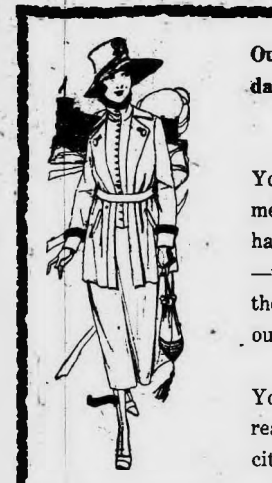

The attendance at Sunday-school on rally day was 185, with an offering of $8.40.

George W. Richwine entertained his Sunday-school class of boys at a class supper at the church, Wednesday evening. A jolly time was enjoyed by the boys.

The monthly meeting of the Wesleyan's Missionary society was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Jolliffe on Mill street.

In accordance with the proclamation of Governor Sleeper, the Methodist church will observe the Sunday as Victory Sunday, with services of prayer and praise for the triumph of our cause and the restoration of peace among men. A special Victory praise service is being planned for 7:00 o'clock, with special music by the church, and a sermon by the pastor on the theme "What Had God to Do With This War?" The morning service will also be appropriate to the day.

FORMER PLYMOUTH BOY DIES IN THE WEST

Plymouth's friends were greatly shocked, Thursday morning, to hear of the death of Edgar Jolliffe, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Jolliffe of this place, and well known here, as both he and his wife, formerly Miss Elsie Eddy, were Plymouth young people and resided here until a few years ago, when they located in Bozeman, Montana, where Mr. Jolliffe has since been court stenographer. Word was received earlier in the week that he was seriously sick with pneumonia, but was holding his own, but Wednesday night a message came saying he was critically ill, and Mr. and Mrs. Jolliffe and Mrs. J. O. Eddy left for Bozeman at once, but Thursday morning word came of his death. E. O. Mimmack, brother of Mrs. Jolliffe, was trying yesterday to reach Mr. and Mrs. Jolliffe in Chicago and inform them of the death message. It is probable that the remains will be brought to Plymouth for burial.

PLYMOUTH BOY DIES IN ARMY CAMP

Mrs. Dora Birch received word, Monday, of the death of her son, Charles, who died of pneumonia. He was in the United States service and in camp near San Francisco, Cal.

The deceased, who was thirty years of age, was born at Fairport, New York, August 29, 1888. He came to Plymouth with his parents when one year old, and received his education in the Plymouth school. He left Plymouth when nineteen years of age, and since that time has been in the west. He is survived by his widowed mother, Mrs. Dora Birch of this place, four sisters and three brothers, Mrs. Margaret Thomas and Mrs. Mabel Darling of Detroit, Harry Birch of this place, and John, Myron, Viola and Eudora, who reside with their mother in north village.

Word has been received that the remains will arrive here next Monday evening. At the time we go to press no arrangements have been made for the funeral.

Hang On to Your Bonds

Millions of subscribers to the Fourth Liberty Loan are now on their mettle. They are face to face with the job of completing their payments. It will take nerve, courage and "staying power." It will take self-denial. Subscribing for the bonds, and making the first payment of 10 per cent was a sign of loyalty to the government and to the army and navy.

Keeping up the payments until the Liberty bonds are fully paid for—that is the real test of mettle. Anybody is likely to be carried away by the fervor of a "revival meeting." It takes earnestness to live up to new principles for the rest of one's life. That is the real test. The same thing applies to the duty of "making good" our pledges for the Fourth Liberty bonds. From now until January 30, 1919, a steady, sustained, effort to save and meet Liberty bond installments will indicate 24-karat patriotism and character.

Do not let anybody induce you to sell any Liberty bond you have paid for. Do not let anybody induce you to turn over your Liberty bond as "first installment on a piano," or anything else. Have those Liberty bonds entered up in your savings bank book, and make arrangements with your bank, if possible, to have the coupons clipped and added to your account.

Always deposit in your savings account the interest money received for coupons cut off your Liberty bonds in this way you enjoy compound interest and get ahead faster.

Every Liberty bond that is sold, throws a strain on some bank or on the government. Every Liberty bond that is unnecessarily disposed of tends to divert money from the conduct of the war. And it deprives the owner of the benefits of his own self-denial and thrift.

Therefore: If you want to keep peace with your own conscience and maintain your own self-respect take great care of all these points:

1. Do not "tap" aside out of your income the money needed to meet Liberty bond installments under your plan of payment. Put that money in the bank.

2. Do not "lapse" on your Liberty bond subscription for any reason whatever, short of some absolute disaster.

3. Do not sell your Liberty bonds unless compelled by "dire necessity" to raise money; and then try to borrow on the bonds instead of selling them.

4. Do not let anybody induce you to "tap in" your Liberty bonds for merchandise.

Hang tight to your Liberty bonds, and complete all the payments by brave and persistent saving, sacrifice and self denial. That is the way to get the utmost possible return from your financial and moral investment.

NO KNIFE—NO STAIN—NO ALCOHOL—NO OPIATE WARNER'S GUARANTEED SIMPLE GOITER REMEDY HAS NEVER FAILED TO REMOVE GOITER WHEN USED ACCORDING TO INSTRUCTIONS

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE KNOW THE REPUTATION OF DR. H. H. WARNER, OF "WARNER'S SAFE CURE" FAME. PERSONALLY, AS WELL AS THE COMPANY WHICH IS COMPOSED OF BANK OFFICIALS AND PROMINENT BUSINESS MEN OF MINNEAPOLIS AND ST. PAUL, GUARANTEE TO RELIEVE YOU OF EVERY APPEARANCE OF GOITER OR REFUND YOUR MONEY.

THE GUARANTEED TREATMENT consists of a sufficient amount of medicine to relieve the patient of all traces of simple goiter without danger to health or the necessity of an operation. It is reliable, but gentle, and surely restores the thyroid glands and affected parts to their normal condition.

One treatment lasts about three weeks and consists of two kinds of medicine: Tablets, taken three times a day, which contain the active ingredients of the system. The other, a harmless solvent, applied at night, but thoroughly rubbed on and about the goiter—Does not irritate or discolor the skin and is easily washed off in the morning with warm water.

THE BENEFIT WILL BE REMEMBERED LONG AFTER THE PRICE IS FORGOTTEN.

Upon receipt of price, which is $20, we will send you four, three weeks' treatment, of Warner's Guaranteed Simple Goiter Remedy.

Another GUARANTEED OFFER: We will forward you the four treatments for $17, provided you send us the names and addresses of five or more people, 35 years of age, or under, who have simple, or external goiter. Warner's Guaranteed Goiter Remedy will remove most cases of long standing, but our guarantee applies, only to persons 35 years of age, or under. This emphasizes the importance of early treatment.

The quantity of medicine sent under our guarantee will effectively and permanently remove the goiter, but YOU must co-operate: YOU must assist us by using the required four full treatments if necessary. If, after using the four treatments, you are not satisfied, we will, on application, refund your money.

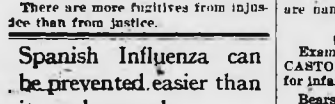

OUR SPECIAL OFFER POSITIVELY EXPIRES JANUARY 15, 1919

Landing Space. Discussing the proposal to put 20,000 American battleplanes in France. Lucian Cary says in Collier's Weekly: "Three squadrons of flyers—and there are 18 machines to a squadron—require a field nearly a mile long in which to land safely. Allow 50 machines to a field, which is a good number, and a third of an acre to a field. It would require more than 300 fields to land 20,000 machines—more than 100 square miles of level space just behind the front lines."

SAFE, GENTLE REMEDY CLEANSSES YOUR KIDNEYS

For centuries GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been a standard household remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and stomach troubles, and all diseases connected with the urinary organs. The kidneys and bladder are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers of your blood. If they become clogged, your system through the blood and stomach are not entirely thrown out by the kidneys and bladder, you are doomed.

Weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, headache, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, difficulty when urinating, cloudy and bloody urine, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago, all warn you to look after the kidneys. The barrier that separates the blood from the rest of your system through the blood and stomach are not entirely thrown out by the kidneys and bladder, you are doomed.

They are not a "patent medicine," nor a "new discovery." For 200 years they have been a standard household remedy. They are the pure, original imported Haarlem Oil your great-grandmother used, and are perfectly harmless. The healing, soothing oil soaks into the cells and lining of the kidneys and through the bladder, driving out the poisonous germs. New life, fresh strength and health will come as you continue the treatment. When completely restored to your usual vigor, continue taking a capsule or two each day; they will keep you in condition and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not delay a minute. Delays are especially dangerous in kidney and bladder trouble. All druggists sell GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They will refund the money if not as represented. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They are prepared in correct quantity and convenient form, are easy to take and are positively guaranteed to give prompt relief. In three days, sealed packages. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL. Accept no substitutes.—Adv.

Acid-Stomach Makes Millions Weak and Miserable

For years doctors have been telling you that it's the acid that makes the teeth rot. This acid that is powerful enough to eat through the hardest metal can eat through the teeth and decay them in tasteless, its presence can be detected only by chemical tests. No chemical test is known to tell you that you have acid-stomach. Indigestion, belching, heartburn, sour stomach, flatulence, that miserable feeling of feeling after eating, intestinal trouble, headache, etc. These are all symptoms of acid-stomach. They are all signs of acidity. They are all signs of acidity.

Acid-stomach prevents proper digestion and assimilation. It causes the blood to become thin and impoverished as a result of which people become emaciated, gaunt, listless, sick and bed-ridden.

Acid-stomach causes stomach and intestinal fermentation, producing poisons, and it irritates the liver, the blood and causes throughout the system, cause indigestion, flatulence, heartburn, sour stomach, and all the other symptoms of acidity. It causes the blood to become thin and impoverished as a result of which people become emaciated, gaunt, listless, sick and bed-ridden.

"Is it? Well, no, they didn't tell me that," admitted the visitor, "or I'd not started so late. You see, I came up on a schooner. This here lake hasn't ain't in my line. I'm deep-water, I am."

"So I should s'pose," said Mr. Parlow. "How'd you git up here, any way?"

"The war," said the visitor. "The war done it. Couldn't git a good berth in any deep-water bottom. So I tell you, I'd try fresh-water sailin'. I tell you, matey, I been workin' as quartermaster's mate on the old Cross and Crescent line, a-scootin' 'cross to Naples from N'York—there and back—goin' on ten year."

"What did you leave your boat for?" asked the carpenter curiously.

"She was sunk. There's things batspein' over to the other side of the ocean, mate," said the injured man earnestly, "that you wouldn't believe—no, sir! The Cross and Crescent line's give up business till after the war's over, I reckon."

"You'd better not encourage him to talk any more, father," interposed Miss Amanda, coming into the room again. "The best thing he can do for himself is to sleep for a while."

"Thank ye, ma'am," said the sailor humbly. "I'll try."

Darkness came on apace. The sky had become overcast, and there was promise of a stormy night—more snow, perhaps. But Miss Amanda would not allow Carolyn May and Prince to start for home at once.

"Watch for your uncle, Carolyn May, out of the front-room window, and be all ready to go with him when he comes along," said Miss Parlow.

When Uncle Joe came along, Carolyn May ran out and hailed him from the porch.

"Wait for the Uncle Joe! Wait for me and Prince, please! Just let me get my mittens and Prince's harness and kiss Miss Mandy."

"That last she did most soundly, and in full view of the man waiting in the white room."

"Oh, Uncle Joe, I've got just the wondrous story to tell you! Shall we harness Prince up again, or will you?"

"I can't wait for the dog, Carolyn May. I'm in a hurry. You oughtn't to be out in this wind, either. Get aboard your sled, now, and I'll drag you myself," Mr. Stag interrupted.

CHAPTER X. A Salt-Sea Flavour.

Swiftly Joseph Staggy trudged toward home, dragging Carolyn May behind him.

"Oh, dear me!" exclaimed the little girl with exultation, "we're all so excited, Uncle Joe!"

"I can see you're all of a-twitter," he returned absent-mindedly. "What's the matter?"

"Oh, you never could guess!" was Carolyn May's introduction, and forthwith, in breathless sentences, went on to tell of her discovery in the snow and about the old sailor now lying asleep on the Parlow couch.

Of course, when Carolyn May arrived at home, the story had to be told all over again to Aunt Rose Kennedy.

"A mighty plucky youngster, this Carolyn May of ours," Uncle Joe remarked. "What do you say, Auntie Rose?"

"She is indeed, Joseph Staggy," agreed the woman.

Carolyn May insisted on going to the Parlow house herself after school the next afternoon to inquire about her "sailor man."

When she had been kissed by Miss Amanda, and Prince had lain down by the kitchen range, the little girl demanded:

"And do tell me how my sailor man is, Miss Mandy. He got such a bump on his head!"

"Yes; the man's wound is really serious. I'm keeping him in bed. But you can go up to see him. He's talked a lot about you, Carolyn May."

The sailor lay in the warm bedroom over the kitchen.

Carolyn May prattled on gaily and soon had her "sailor man" telling all about the sea and ships, and "they that go down therein."

"What a dreadful car'ous about the Dunraven," Mr. Staggy explained about the ship. "My papa and mamma were lost at sea."

"The Dunraven?" gaped Mr. Staggy.

"You don't say so, little miss?" exclaimed the old fellow. "Aye, aye, that's too bad."

Miss Amanda had disappeared, busy about some household matter, and the little girl and the sailor were alone together.

"Yes," Carolyn May proceeded, "it is dreadful hard to feel that it is so."

"Feel that what's so, little miss?" asked the man in bed.

"That my papa and mamma are really drowned—dead," said the little girl with quivering lips. "Some of the folks on their boat were saved. The papers said so."

"Aye, aye!" exclaimed the sailor, his brows puckered into a frown. "Aye, aye, matey! That's allus the way. Why, I was saved myself from a wreck. I was in the first officer's boat, and we in that boat was saved. There was an' other boat—the purser's, it was—was 'driftin' about all night with us. We come one time near runnin' into each other and wreckin' both boats. There was a heavy swell on."

"Yet," pursued the sailor, "come daylight, and the fog splittin', we never could find the purser's boat. She had just as good a chance as us after the steamship sunk. But there it was! We got separated from her, and we was saved, whilst the purser's boat wasn't never heard on again."

"That was dreadful!" sighed the little girl.

"Yes, little miss. And the poor passengers! Purser had twenty or more in his boat. Women mostly. But there was a sick man, too. Why, I helped lower his wife and him into the boat 'fore I was called to go with the first officer in his boat. We was the last to cut off. The purser had just as good a chance as we did."

sitting down without being asked. "Hannah—"

"There is no hope, of course," Amanda Parlow spoke up quickly, "that your sister, Mr. Staggy, and her husband were not lost. But having found out that Benjamin was on the steamer with them, I thought you should know. I have warned him to be careful how he speaks before Carolyn May. You may wish to hear the story at first hand."

"Thank you," choked Joseph Staggy. He wanted to say more, but could not. Benjamin Hardy's watery eyes blinked, and he blew his nose.

"Aye, aye, mate!" he rumbled, "hard lines—for a fact. I give my testimony 'fore the consul when we was landed—so did all that was left of us from the Dunraven. Me bein' an unlettered man, they didn't run me very close. I can't add much more to it."

"As I say, that purser's boat your sister and her sickly husband was in had just as good a chance as we had. We nigh bumped into each other soon after the Dunraven sunk. So, then, we pulled off away from each other. Then the fog rolled up from the African shore—a heap o' fog, mate. It sponged out the lamp in the purser's boat. We never seen no more of 'em—nor heard no more."

"And were Hannah—were my sister and her husband in that boat?" queried Mr. Staggy thoughtfully.

"I am sure, by the details Benjamin has given me," said Miss Amanda softly, "that your sister and Mr. Cameron were two of its passengers."

"Well, it's a long time ago, now," said the hardware dealer. "Surely, if

No Mystery in Meat

Some things are so simple that they have to be explained again and again. When things are obvious, people keep looking for mysteries behind them.

So it is with the packing business. The mere size of Swift & Company confuses many. Because their imaginations are not geared up to scale, they believe there must be magic in it somewhere—some weird power.

Swift & Company is just like any other manufacturing business run by human beings like yourself; it takes in raw material on the one hand and turns out a finished product on the other.

Swift & Company keeps down the "spread," or the expense absorbed between raw and finished material, to as low a figure as possible. (If it didn't it would be put out of business by others who do.)

How much Swift & Company pays for the raw material, and how much it gets for the finished product, depends upon conditions which Swift & Company does not control.

It depends entirely upon how much people want the finished product, and how much raw material there is available to make it from.

The profits of Swift & Company amount to less than one cent per pound on all meats and by-products—less than one-fourth of a cent on beef.

Warmly Greeted. A rookie was placed on guard on a post between the officers' quarters and the camp, in the middle of a clump of large trees. He was heating his post quietly when he heard footsteps.

"Halt! Who goes there?" he challenged.

"Officer of the day," was the reply. The guard answered with the usual formula, and while the officer was advancing the guard did likewise, in ignorance of the fact that he should have stood still. As he stepped forward his feet tripped against an outcropping root of a tree and he fell. With a perfectly good pair of soldier lungs he said: "Hell's fire!"

The officer replied: "No, sonny; officer of the day," and passed on.

Proving it. "Trouble never comes single." "I know it. Last year we had double pneumonia, and this year we had twins."

Relieved. At Camp Dodge one night a Swede was on guard duty. Being new to the business, time dragged slowly, but finally the officer with relief came along. The Swede said: "Half," they halted, and next he said: "Who was dat?" The officer replied: "Officer with relief." The sentry, after waiting several minutes in a vain attempt to recall to mind what he should say, brought forth this startling command: "Dismiss yourself and be reconciled." "Dismiss yourself and be reconciled." The Americans are paid almost entirely in French money and they are getting used to francs, though they all agree "a franc's so small it slips through your fingers like water."

Your Mercy Dollars Can Not Be Too Late

There are still many patriotic Americans in this County who, possibly through no fault of their own, cannot as yet say, "I have done my share."

Some have moved into our County since the close of our War Chest Drive—others who were here were not called upon and asked to subscribe when the drive was on.

While the majority of our citizens gave generously, the total in War Chest is far below what we would like to have. All of the Patriotic Organizations in the field are increasing their forces and their work among the soldiers every day. As more soldiers leave our shores, more patriotic workers and supplies are needed for them. As the battle line progresses farther and farther into the devastated districts of France, Belgium and Germany, heavier and heavier will become the expense of keeping up the Canteens and Huts in the field.

More money is needed. If you have not subscribed, do so now. If you have subscribed, can't you increase your subscription?

To Those Who Have Not Yet Given

President Wilson has stated that no limit will be placed on the number of men to be called to the colors—and there can, therefore, be no limit to the funds given to these great war service organizations to properly care for these fighting men.

If you have not already made your subscription to the Patriotic Fund, make it TODAY. Your money is NEEDED. And be sure that your gift represents your just share in this splendid work. Do not make those who have already given bear part of your burden.

Among those who can give, only the Kaiser's friends will fail to subscribe. Where do you stand?

FROM OUR BOYS

Somewhere in France, October 8, 1918.

My Dear Brother and Sister and All—Well, this is Tuesday morning, and got up feeling fine, after a good night's sleep, so will take the liberty in answering your letter of Sept. 13, which I received all O. K. with the money order for $25.00, and I thank you very much for being so kind as to think I needed it. I have plenty at the present and expect to be paid again today, but it is perfectly safe in my belt that you folks bought me at Custer. I never did get the one you sent by mail. A wagoner gets the same wages as a corporal does, so I get quite a little extra money over being a private. I don't get a lot of pleasure out of my money over here, anyhow, as there is nothing much to buy that I care about. I spend most of my spare time writing home, and make the best of everything I can. But don't be surprised if I should get home to eat Christmas dinner with you. Things look as if they were nearly at an end, but I would not be satisfied leaving here until I knew that the old Kaiser had drawn in his horns so far that there would never be any more war, like this one has been, and I am willing to give anything I have got, even my life, if it is necessary, to keep the little fellows like Melvin from getting in a mix-up like this one is.

I suppose you are getting my letters by this time; yours stated that you had received two at that time. I received four Plymouth Mails yesterday, that you folks sent. You said you were out to the aviation field on Warren avenue, and saw them. Well, Manna, airplanes are more common to me than automobiles. There has not been a day since I hit Camp Mills, but what I have seen them in every way and shape until you can't rest. They were even flying over the camp. By the way, Manna, that pond is some puddle of water, but it will be a joyous trip coming back.

It must seem funny not to see autos galore out in the States on Sundays. Most all of the cars that are used here are Dodges and Fords. I was surprised to hear that the old car I had sold for $262.50. I saw the first fellow from Plymouth, yesterday, when I met Karl Blake over here in the railroad yards. I was just loading up a load of ammunition and he hollered at me. He came back and we had quite a talk. He is stationed about three miles from where I am. He told me that Ray Smith, who went when I did, was there. The first thing he said was: "What are you doing over here in this God-forsaken country?" I said, "Same as you are doing—our bit as they tell about in the States, but that little bit means a lot to some certain souls."

Did you ever get that agreement back that you sent me? Did you ever call at the postoffice for any of my mail? If there is anything of importance send it to me. If there are any of the Plymouth boys in service that you can find out their addresses, send them to me, and I might be able to find them. It seems like everybody looks alike over here after they get on their feet and all dressed the same, and believe me, there is a bunch over here.

Well, I guess I will have to close for this time, so wishing you all the best of health and happiness, I will say good-bye.

From your soldier brother, IRVING Wagoner Irving E. Blunk, Co. B, 310th Trench Mortar Battery, American E. F., via New York.

We are pleased to publish the following interesting letter from Eugene Campbell, son of Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Campbell of this place:

Somewhere in France, Monday, October 15, 1918. Dear Father and Mother: Today finds another member of our company and myself away off from the rest of the bunch at an aviation camp. We are sent here for a few days to learn something about signaling as it applies to the exchange of messages between the airplanes and the infantry. But the weather is not propitious for work today, so we are trying toeke out an existence as best we can, being heavily on the possible close of hostilities as a result of the present peace plea of the Central powers and the military successes of the allies. Most of the boys who were sent here for the same work, have taken an afternoon or hiking to large town about three miles distant, where they expect to get a hot bath, a rare luxury in this country, although I got one last Friday night in the little town where our company is billeted.

We had a pay day last week, and although the money of the French people in fact, anything outside of the U. S. army canteens, is very expensive, a little sweet stuff is mighty acceptable. That is what I hope you can send me in my Christmas box, using the enclosed label furnished for that purpose. Note that not a very large box can be sent, due doubtless to the fact that packages for more than 2,000,000 absent boys would occupy quite a little shipping space. But whatever comes will be most gratefully accepted by your eldest son.

We hope that hostilities may cease before many months. At any rate, we'll keep it up as long as a German soldier under arms remains in France or Belgium. At the present rate of retreat we may have the "Boche" out of France by the time this letter reaches you, in about a month.

Sunday (day before yesterday) I got your letters of September 14 and 16, so you see they are getting through quite promptly now. But then, yours do not have to be held up for censoring whereas mine do. None of the mail from U. S. A. to the soldiers is censored as far as I know, but I can see several reasons why mail going home should be.

I wish you could see how hale and hearty I'm looking and how well I am. Guess I've gained ten pounds since becoming a soldier, but I can't eat Fletcher at that, can I? Your letter stated that he had just come some that morning on a 10-day furlough. Wish I could too. However, I know that all of you had a bully good time while he was there. Shall try to write him today.

I told you in my last letter, I guess, that I came through my two weeks at the front O. K. as did all the rest of Company I. In fact, I never see shot off my gun up there. But then, my work wasn't in the trenches very much, but consisted of carrying messages to and from them. I got no bad scares nor had a hair turn gray. The chief disagreeable item was the excessive blackness of the nights. Then, however, is when most of the artillery fighting is going on, and the singing shells keep a fellow awake all right. Even in our dug-out we could hear the boom-boom. I got plenty of sleep at the front all right and even managed to shave regularly, a thing the fellows in the trenches can't very well do.

Passing some prisoners at work in a yard this forenoon, I yelled out, "Der Kriese ist bad gesendet." (The war is soon over), and one of them yelled back in good English, "I hope so." Then they called for cigarettes, which I should have liked to give them, but couldn't because I had none and because their French guard would have forbidden it anyway. I felt sorry for the poor cusses, in a war which most of them don't want. But we've got to make them realize first that if it is to be stopped they must rise up and put down that wicked class of militarists who control them.

The geese and chickens herabouts are poorly attired, as the inhabitants rob them semi-occasionally.

The little prayer on page four of the enclosed pamphlet is so good, I'm learning it, and I know you will like it too. The "Y" gives out some good literature. Have been appreciating its privileges quite a bit lately, especially as I had a chance to run one for three days last week, and I may do it again when I get back to my company, as we now have a branch with our battalion. Will try to write again soon.

Your loving boy, EUGENE.

ELM

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bentley accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Will Garchow, motored to Ionia, last week, to visit friends there. They returned Tuesday evening and report a fine trip.

Asa Wilson had a bad accident, Sunday morning, when the car he was driving collided with another, throwing him into the ditch near Charles Rank's on Plymouth road. Asa's car was badly smashed up, but fortunately he escaped serious injury.

Charles Wilson is building a fine new hog pen on his Elm farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Otta Luks' are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a daughter at their home.

John Bentley's new residence is nearing completion. The weather has been favorable for fall building.

Everyone went wild, Monday morning, when the glad news of the end of the world's war reached them. All kinds of devices were used for making noise. One lady from this locality went to Detroit with some sleigh-bells and rang them, too, as she passed up and down Woodward avenue. One policeman remarked, as he held his hands to his ears, "There may be peace in Europe, but there seems to be none in Detroit."

Mrs. Harriet Blue, Mrs. James Noctor, and son, Milan, and Glen Bothwell motored to Detroit, Sunday, and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Blue. Mrs. Blue remained with her son's family for an extended visit.

The students from this locality who attend High school at Plymouth, returned home, Monday morning, as there was nothing doing owing to the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Crizer arrived Sunday from New Mexico. Mrs. Crizer will remain to care for her aged mother, who had the misfortune to fall and break her hip.

FREE CHURCH

Another star has been added to the service flag at the Miller school in honor of Ralph Cole, who has enlisted in the Aviation Corps of the U. S. Army.

The Miller school was closed all day Monday in honor of the national peace celebration.

The shadow social for the benefit of the Red Cross, which was postponed a few weeks ago, on account of the influenza, will be held a week from Friday evening, November 22, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Root. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to come.

Ray Dunham is quite sick with influenza.

Mrs. O. D. Peck and daughter, Pauline, were callers at John Forshoe's, Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank Hesse, who has been sick for some time, is improving slowly.

Anyone wanting lovely cabbages at five cents per head, call up 307-F11. Messrs. Moravik & Bushko sold a large load of cabbage in Detroit, Monday, netting them $40.

Allen Brown writes from Miami, Florida, Aviation Field that while Florida is fine, old Michigan will look good enough to him on his return.

Charles Forshoe and wife visited his brother, John, Sunday.

Our neighbors, generally, celebrated the peace celebration at Plymouth on Monday.

Philo Forshee is now in Camp 10. From there they are sent to some seaport town, and he expects to go soon to Newport News, Va.

A flock of eleven airplanes passed over here, Sunday morning. We learn that they were carrying certain guests from other places and taking them out for an outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Geer and Mr. and Mrs. J. Forshoe were dinner guests of Mrs. Abram Culver in Ypsanti, last week Wednesday.

Ed. Quackenbush and family were Sunday visitors at John Magle's, south of Ypsanti.

Albert VanVoorhies received the sad news of the death of his granddaughter, Dorrine VanVoorhies, at Kendallville, Indiana. She had the influenza. Although only fifteen years old, she had a trained voice for singing, in which she was fine. Mr. VanVoorhies left Tuesday for Kendallville to attend the funeral.

An Old Man's Stomach As we grow older and less active, less and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If too much is habitually taken, the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age of 85 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally get more than you should eat. The need of Chamberlain's Tablets to correct the disorder. These Tablets do not contain pepper, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels. Adv.

(Local Board for Division No. 4, Wayne county, received notice Wednesday, that men over 37 years of age need not fill out questionnaires. Men between the ages of 18 and 36 years must fill out their questionnaires. Men above the age of 37, who have received questionnaires must return them to the Local Board. However, they do not need to fill them out.

Friends of Lieutenant Charles F. Chappel will be glad to know that he has written from northern Russia. In his letters he speaks of a little skirmish directly after their arrival, of the efficiency of the men of his platoon at seeing the midnight sun, the marshy country, of hearing the leader of the battalion of death speak of attending a Cossack wedding and of the inability of getting mail.

The sewing and surgical dressings rooms of the Plymouth Branch of the Red Cross has been closed for the past few days as the month's quota is finished, but all members of the division are requested to keep in touch with their respective chairmen so that work will not be delayed when the next quota arrives. Although peace has been declared, it is earnestly hoped that enthusiasm in Red Cross work will not be retarded as it is usually supposed that there will be a general and urgent need for hospital and refugee garments. The sewing department is open the same as usual.

PERRINSVILLE

The Young People will resume their Sunday night meetings. Everyone cordially invited to attend next Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Stokes and family spent the latter part of last week with her sister, Mrs. Peter Kubie.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Beyer will be sorry to hear of their leaving for Colorado, where they will spend the winter.

Miss Hazel Klatt of Elm, spent Sunday at home.

Last Thursday evening about fourteen friends of Theodore Cousins gathered at his home to help him celebrate his fifteenth birthday. The young folks played games and had a good time generally until about 11 o'clock, when a hospital supper was served. The guests left at a late hour, wishing Ted many happy returns of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Avery of Wayne, took dinner with Mrs. Peter Kubie, last Tuesday.

The M. E. church will reopen Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The church school at 2:00 and church at 3:00 o'clock.

Miss Hazel Smith, teacher of the Cooper school, gave a Halloween party for the pupils and parents at the school, Monday evening. A good time is reported by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Leta Darby visited Mrs. William Beyer at Plymouth, Sunday.

LIVONIA CENTER

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Chilson were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bassett.

School opened Monday with a full attendance, after more than two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Harry Peck and son, Carl, are numbered among the sick.

Mr. and Mrs. William Garchow and son, Maurice, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bentley motored to Ionia, Wednesday, and are guests of Mrs. Garchow's sister, Mrs. R. Hawley.

Everybody was awakened early Monday morning by the tooting of whistles and ringing of bells, and it was not necessary to ask what it meant, for the people in general were expecting to hear the good news that the war was over. The whole country suspended business and turned out to celebrate, some going to Detroit and others to Farmington and Plymouth.

Robert Lee was among the number of enlisted men who were to leave Plymouth, Wednesday morning for Rockwell Field, San Diego, California. All the necessary arrangements had been made for them, and they were to be sent to the front with the word came from Washington that no more troops would be sent to camp this month.

Mrs. Paul Lee, in company with Miss Myrtle Eckles and Mrs. J. Clark, was a Detroit visitor, Wednesday.

Charles Pankow is home from Camp Custer, with an honorable discharge.

George Krumm, who was sent to Camp Custer about a year ago, was transferred to Jacksonville, Florida, last week.

The Misses Merritt of Northville, and Harold Wilson of Elm, were entertained at the Fred Lee home, Sunday.

Ray Garchow is having a severe attack of mumps.

WATERFORD

If "actions speak more plainly than words," we would say that John Lang and the school children went to the front to see the peace came last Monday morning. They paraded around our little town with waving flags and all the noise that could be made by screaming children, tin horns and honking of horns.

Mrs. Emma Passage has returned to Detroit, after spending a week with Mrs. Mary Lord.

Our school was closed this week, after being closed for two weeks.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bulmon is visiting her brother, M. B. Sherwood.

Mrs. Archie Herriek spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Will Eckles.

Mrs. Ida Hughes, after spending several weeks with her daughter at Reed City, returned home last Monday, on account of the illness of her little granddaughter, Katherine Waterman, whom we are glad to report is much improved at this writing.

Charles Barber was calling on old friends this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Innis were in Detroit celebrating Monday evening. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles King, November 11.

Mrs. Albert Eberole entertained her nephew, Horace Wright, wife and baby of Symeria, Ohio, a few days this week.

Mrs. Harry Northrop, Mrs. Delbert Bulman and Mrs. Paul Wood helped Glen Northrop celebrate his birthday, last Thursday.

Mrs. Lewis Wells and Elizabeth Taylor of Detroit, are spending a week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor.

NEWBURG

People appreciate having the church opened again after being closed for four Sundays. Our pastor gave fine sermon on Peace, which was indeed a timely subject. Next Sabbath, Misses Anna and Ada Youngs will sing. Now is the season of the year when our Sunday-school should increase in numbers. All children, as well as adults are urged to attend.

The L. A. S. will hold their regular meeting at the hall, Friday, November 22. Dinner will be served at noon. Everyone cordially invited to attend.

The Newburg Fair and Home Coming which was postponed on account of the influenza epidemic, will be held December 6th. Don't forget to furnish articles for the different booths. It is necessary that we make a success of this fair, as the finances of the L. A. S. are at a low ebb.

School opened again Monday. L. A. S. members and Arthur LeVan left Saturday night for a hunting trip in the northern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Walker of Detroit, visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Durfee last Sunday.

celebrate the most glorious event in the history of our nation—the ending of the Civil War—on the 15th of November.

Miss Cecie Gunning of Detroit, spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Chilson.

Anyone wanting assistance in caring for their sick, will call on Jack Horton, storekeeper at Newburg. He is an experienced hand.

Don't forget the Veterans' meeting at Ed Maynard's in Plymouth Friday, today.

Glad to note that all the sick are getting better, with no new cases reported.

Now is the time to subscribe for the Mail. If you didn't get anything more than the soldiers' letters it would pay you.

WEST PLYMOUTH Mr. and Mrs. Don Packard and Cecil visited Mrs. Durfee in Wayne, Sunday.

Mrs. Becker of Fenton, spent last week with her son, F. L. Becker.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. O'Bryan of Wayne, entertained at Sunday dinner; Mrs. J. A. Johnson of Denison, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. John of Highland Park; Mrs. A. Stout, Mrs. T. S. O'Bryan and Miss Helen O'Bryan of West Plymouth.

Mrs. F. L. Becker entertained in honor of Miss Helen O'Bryan, Tuesday afternoon at luncheon, and Mrs. A. P. Davis, Wednesday evening, at a seven o'clock dinner.

District No. 7 was closed Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sharrow have closed their home for the winter.

Mrs. Sharrow has gone to Detroit, and Mr. Sharrow to Washington, D. C., where he enters government employ.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Becker and family of Fenton, spent last Sunday at F. L. Becker's, Madame Becker returning home with them.

Mrs. Blanche Campbell spent last Wednesday at lunch, and Mrs. Louisa Bennett of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. George Grover of Northville, were guests at Mr. and Mrs. Eli Schoch's home, Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Shearer has returned from Milford, where she has been caring for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nash and little Junie, all of whom have been ill of influenza.

Influenza has invaded the home of Melburn Partridge, Mrs. Partridge and two sons being ill with it.

SALEM There will be services at the Baptist church, November 17. If no pastor comes from away, Rev. Baker will preach.

STYLE applied to dress is variously interpreted, whereas a "Good Figure" has only one interpretation—the corset that gives it shape.

WARNER CORSETS keep pace with changing fashions, and combine all corset attributes with style. The form so naturally takes to itself the stylish shape of the corset that it seems Nature's way.

You may, therefore, safely count upon a Warner for style and healthful comfort. Guaranteed not to tear, break or rust.

The young girl must start with a good corset. If she wears the proper model while she is young her figure will retain its youthful lines when she reaches maturity.

WARNER'S RUST-PROOF CORSET, style 143, is exceptionally good for the young girl of average figure. It has a low bust with rubber top from front steel to under arm. The thin double boning with its springy suppleness gives a comfortable support without binding. Size 19 to 30. PRICE, $2.00.

The Indispensable Brassiere Even the very slight figure today needs a brassiere or bandeau to accomplish above the waist what the corset does below.

Warner's Brassieres are made in distinctive lines, wear well, launder well, keep their shape.

We have them from 50c up.

GRANGE NOTES The following program for the next regular meeting of the Plymouth Grange, Thursday afternoon, November 21st, will be given:

Conservation of Clothing, by Miss Rogers.

Culling the Flocks, by Miss Campbell of the poultry department of the M. A. C.

Balancing the Rations for the Dairy Cow, by Mr. Waldron of the M. A. C.

Conservation of Farm Machinery, by J. F. Root.

Emergency Medicine, by Mrs. C. W. Root.

Certain Care for Croup Mrs. Rose Middleton of Greenville, Ill., has had experience in the treatment of this disease. She says: "When my children were small my son had croup frequently. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always broke up these attacks immediately, and I was never without it in the house. I have taken it myself for coughs and colds with good results."—Advt.
