FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

REV. LUTHER MOORE BICKNELL, Pastor

FOR OURSELVES

We must rise to meet and discharge the obligations and responsibilities that rest upon us in making this church the largest asset in this community for righteousness by faithfully and generously financing its enlarged program.

THE SERVICE OF GIVING

FOR OTHERS

We cannot pray, "Thy Kingdom Come," unless we are willing to sacrifice and give till it hurts, that OTHERS in every clime and on every shore may have the Gospel for which we are ambassadors. Our ratio of giving has been declining. Shall we not start it upward by doing nearly as much for OTHERS as we are doing for ourselves.

"Let each man do according as he hath purposed in his heart; not grudgingly, or of necessity; for the Lord loveth a cheerful giver."

We are but stewards of the riches of God. "Here, moreover, it is required of stewards, that a man be found faithful." Let us render an accurate stewardship on next Sunday when an opportunity will be given us to manifest our real zeal and interest in making the Kingdom First.

We wish to extend to our customers and friends our best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year, and thank you for the many favors you have shown us during the past year, trusting that we may merit a continuance of the same during 1919.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN IN PLYMOUTH

CHRISTMAS ROLL CALL MEMBERSHIP DRIVE A SPLENDID SUCCESS

There are 1190 people in Plymouth and vicinity who are Red Cross members by virtue of their contributing to the Patriotic Fund. Three hundred and seven took out $1.00 memberships, and some of these 307 were also Patriotic Fund subscribers, but their degree of patriotism was such that they insisted on paying the extra money. Total cash—including donations, magazine subscriptions and memberships—received during the roll call week, $347.88.

Much credit is due Mrs. C. H. Bennett, who directed the work for Plymouth, and the following assistants:

Major—Mrs. C. H. Bennett.
Captains—Mrs. J. W. Henderson, Miss Madeleine Bennett, Mrs. H. C. Robinson, Mrs. Robert Mimmack, Mrs. Ella Chaffee, Mrs. W. R. Luten, Mrs. Frank Rambo, Mrs. J. A. Kimble, Mrs. F. A. Distribution of Posters—Russell Bogart, Elton Roe, Bennett Wilcox, Cass Hough, Lawrence White.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE

FULL EVENING'S PROGRAM AT THE M. E. CHURCH TUESDAY EVENING.

Beginning at eight o'clock with the ever popular moving pictures, to which all are invited, and continuing with a varied program throughout the evening, an old-fashioned Watch Night service will be held at the Methodist church, next Tuesday evening. Some interesting films of interest to grown folks as well as to children will be shown during the picture hour from 8 o'clock to 9:30. Then will follow a "Community Sing," including both patriotic and religious songs, and appropriate religious exercises, interspersed with social features, which will make the evening most enjoyable. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered just at the close of the Old Year.

CHRISTMAS AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Baptist Sunday-school observed Christmas last Sunday at the regular hour in place of the regular bible study. The exercises were a change of Miss Ruth Scott and Miss Mary Smith, and the children were a credit to their leaders. The exercises consisted of songs by the Sunday-school recitations and songs by three Bible girls. At the close of the exercises a program was presented with a box of candy.

MAKING EXTENSIVE PLANS FOR FUTURE

We take the following from the Ypsilanti Record, which will be of interest to Plymouth citizens:

"The Michigan Machine Tool and Foundry company, formerly the Michigan Press company, located at the corner of Grove and Rabbit streets of this city, have recently purchased the Plymouth Motor and Castings company of Plymouth, from the receiver and also a half mile of land extending along the tracks to be used for future developments. Mr. L. A. Roller, associate manager of the foundry at Ypsilanti and Plymouth; Mr. G. S. Burke of the Lincoln Motor Castings company and manager of factory and planing department of Edman Jones company of Detroit, will have charge of accounting and costs departments of both the Ypsilanti and Plymouth plants; Mr. Manly, formerly chief engineer of the Lewis Spring and Axle company, is chief engineer.

"The L. W. Smith company of Detroit, has been engaged to handle the factory output.

"The new plans of the Michigan Machine Tool and Foundry company, which were found at once as being too small for the business which this firm is doing, have been removed to the second floor, after quite extensive alterations were made in the floor plans, and they are now occupying the first floor. The arrangement is at this time planning to build an addition to the factory for assembly and stock rooms to take care of the large future business which is in store for them."

OCCUPYING THEIR NEW STORE

Pettingill & Campbell are now in their new location, in the store formerly occupied by the Central Drug Store on Main street. The store room has been newly decorated, and presents a bright and neat appearance. Some new shelving has been installed, and the tasty display of the various kinds of merchandise lends a pleasing effect to the new store. A row of silent salesmen show cases line the north side of the store, where a line of fancy groceries and confectionery are on display. But very few towns of the size of Plymouth can boast of a more complete stock of groceries or a more up-to-date store than the Messrs. Pettingill and Campbell are now occupying, and they are to be congratulated on their progressive spirit and their efforts to please the public. The firm were the recipients of a beautiful basket of American Beauty roses from the business men of Plymouth as a token of their good will and best wishes; also beautiful baskets of flowers from the Johns Bros. and the Messrs Campbell of Detroit.

A CHANGE IN TIME

A change of time went into effect on the Pere Marquette, last Sunday, which only effects the time schedule of one train at this station. Train No. 2, for Detroit, is due here at 10:55 a. m., instead of 11:40 a. m. Two new trains have been added to the service: No. 17, west bound at 4:28 p. m., making all local stops. (No. 7 is now a fast train.) No. 8 for Detroit at 10:10 a. m.

J. O. Eddy is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Avery Downer, and family in Chicago, this week.

The Old National Bank and the Grand Rapids News have formulated a plan to take moving pictures of all friends and relatives of our soldiers overseas, and send the film for display in their camps in Europe. Arrangements have been made to take one of these pictures at Albion, Tuesday, January 7, 1919. Anyone desiring to appear in these pictures are invited to go to Albion on this date.

TOWNSHIP TAXES

I will be at the following places on the given dates for the collection of taxes:

At Pinckney's Pharmacy—
Dec. 23, afternoon and evening
Jan. 4, all day
Jan. 10, all day
At Gayde Bros.—
Dec. 31, afternoon
Jan. 7, all day
After January 10th four per cent will be added for collection.

J. E. KAISER, Treasurer.

A VICTORY NEW YEAR'S BALL

The victory fancy dress ball to be given at the Penniman Allen auditorium, New Year's night, promises to be one of the biggest social events of the new year. The arrangements have all been completed, and nothing has been left undone to make this occasion one long to be remembered by all who attend. One of the pleasing features of the coming party is the assurance that many of our soldiers and sailors will be home, and their presence will lend a most happy atmosphere to the evening.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will serve a delicious luncheon in the dining room in the basement.

Finn's six-piece orchestra, which is very popular with Plymouth dancers, will furnish the music. It is desired that it be understood that the party is not a "dress affair," but on the order of a masquerade without the masks. The dancers are urged to appear either in fancy or comic costumes and the public generally is invited to come and start the new year with a jolly good time. The bill for the dance is $1.50. The dancing will start at 8:30 o'clock.

All soldiers and sailors in uniform and their ladies will be admitted to the dance and luncheon free.

THE SAXAPHONE SEXTETTE

The Saxophone Sextette, the first musical concert of the Citizens Entertainment Course, will appear at the High School auditorium, next Friday evening, January 3rd. This is the entertainment people have been waiting for. Six men saxophonists, trained by Edmund Knyl, the great bandmaster, who also present full orchestra numbers.

Five numbers of the entertainment course remain, and four are big musical concerts, Saxophone Sextette, Musical Comedians, Woodland Singers, Madis, Comedians, and Antonio Sala & Co., and tickets for the rest of the season are offered at $1.25 plus war tax. You will pay more than that for just three concerts in single admissions. Seats on sale at Pinckney's Pharmacy.

CHRISTMAS IN THE METHODIST CHURCH

TWO SPLENDID PROGRAMS WITH TREE AND TREAT FOR THE CHILDREN.

In spite of the unusual amount of sickness, which made rehearsals difficult and kept many away who wished to attend, two splendid Christmas programs were given in the Methodist church this year, and were enjoyed by a large number of people.

On Sunday evening a White Gift Christmas was observed with an illustrated song recital for the program, and the offering of "White Gifts for the King" by the members of the Sunday-school. The old, old story of Bethlehem was told by Miss Imogene Smith in a charming manner, while appropriate colored views were thrown on the screen. The gifts of substance were all for the Methodist Children's Home in Highland Park, and amounted to $25 in cash, besides a variety of supplies for the home, ranging all the way from corn meal and soap to dressed dolls, game and fruit. The Sunday-school at Newburg also made an offering of $19 to this cause.

The Monday night program was rendered by the little folks themselves, and was thoroughly enjoyed, although many who are sick were greatly missed. At the proper time the jingle of bells was heard and the children's old friend, Santa Claus, appeared and sang a jolly song, after which all went down stairs to the Christmas tree, where a treat was provided for all the boys and girls in the Sunday-school.

OBITUARY

William Edgar Sherwood, who passed away at his home in Youngstown, Ohio, Tuesday, December 17th, had reached the mature age of eighty-three, having been born June 1, 1835. Geneva, New York, was his birthplace and boyhood home, but while he was still a young man the family came to Michigan, stopping first at Redford, and then settling on a farm near Wayne. Plymouth was then coming into prominence because of the thriving fanning mill industry, which had been introduced by "Judge" C. Henry Bennett, father of E. K. Bennett, and young Sherwood came to Plymouth and became associated with Mr. Bennett in the new industry as a salesman through the surrounding country. He was here when the civil war broke out, and when the need for men became imperative, he responded with many other Plymouth boys, enlisting in Co. C, 24th Michigan Volunteer Infantry. He saw two years and eight months of active service, serving until the close of the war. At the funeral of the martyred president, Abraham Lincoln, Mr. Sherwood had the honor of being a member of the escort, which guarded the body as it lay in state at Springfield, Illinois. At the close of the war he came back to Plymouth and took up his old position, but soon was transferred to Norwalk, Ohio, where he was connected for two years with a branch factory. It was during his connection with the Norwalk concern, that his marriage to Eliza J. Larabee occurred at Battle Creek, December 19, 1866. A weakened physical condition as a result of his service in the war has made it impossible for Mr. Sherwood to lead a very active life, but a genial personality and unselfish disposition have helped him to make himself a blessing to others wherever he has made his home. The latter part of his life has been lived mostly in the east, he having had his home in recent years at Buffalo and Philadelphia, and for the past two years at Youngstown, Ohio. He has always been very much interested in the G. A. R., being actively identified with its activities. At the time of his death he was a member of the Post, G. A. R. in Youngstown. He is survived by his faithful companion of many years and one son, Harry M. Sherwood, who has for four years been identified with charitable and philanthropic enterprises. He also leaves a younger brother, Lester M. Sherwood, of Pontiac, Mich., the last of a family of six boys and one girl.

Mr. R. Wiles, from near Plymouth, brought 14 dressed hogs to the Sinking market on East Cross street, weighing 2,323 pounds, which he received a check for $622.16.—Ypsilanti Record.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Green of Northville, have received official notice that their son, Lloyd, of the U. S. Machine Gun Battalion, had been killed on the battle front in France.

Three carloads of Livingston county Holstein cattle were shipped, purchasers from a distance, Monday, one car going to Panama, one to Minnesota and one to Pennsylvania.—Livingston Democrat.

L. W. Lovewell shipped out five carloads of live stock, Tuesday. For this shipment he paid the farmers of this section over $8,000. This was the banner shipment and the last for 1918.—South Lyon Herald.

It is generally understood that the prevailing price of $3.80 for milk in the Detroit area, will prevail during the winter months without change unless there is a serious advance in stock food prices.

For Croup
"Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is splendid for croup," writes Mrs. Edward Hassett, Frankfort, N. Y. "My children have been quickly relieved of attacks of this dreadful complaint by its use." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult.—Adv.

FEDERAL MARKET REPORTING SERVICE

The installing of the federal market reporting service will without a doubt prove a great benefit to local producers. The new service was formally established on the Eastern market this week, and its installation is to be permanent. The service is under the supervision of Dolph Berli, who has held similar positions in Washington and Cleveland. Bulletins are posted giving information as to the goods offered, prices, etc.
Farmers and growers, who desire, can have furnished them daily market letters, giving exact information as to conditions on the local market. Mr. Berli will also before the spring planting season, give information as to what crops will be most in demand next season. This new department keeps the city folks posted as to what vegetables are coming into market, that they be guided accordingly. The service has tended to increase the consumption of green goods, thus preventing glut and stabilizing prices. Growers should give this new federal official all the assistance possible, for they are surely to be benefited by his work.
At the coming January meeting of the Plymouth Agricultural association, Mr. Berli will be present and explain fully the federal market reporting service.

Local News

Mrs. Henry Ruehle died at her home on the C. R. Benton farm, near Waterford, Tuesday, of pneumonia. Deceased was 38 years and 7 months of age, and leaves a husband and ten children, the eldest of whom is eighteen years and the youngest seven months. The funeral was held Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. Charles Strasen officiating. Interment at Northville.

About seventy members of the L. O. T. M. enjoyed a pleasant meeting in their lodge rooms, last week Thursday evening. Mrs. Carrie Gilbert, deputy, who is organizing the guards here, was present. During the evening, the losing side in the recent membership contest, entertained the company with a little Christmas play, and music also added to the entertainment. Later in the evening each guest was presented with a small gift.

Ward has been received here of the death of Mrs. Clyde Fisher, formerly Miss Cora Hansen, daughter of Mrs. Eva Hansen of this place, who died at her home in Detroit, Monday, December 23rd. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher were both residents of Plymouth until about a year ago, when they moved to Detroit. The deceased is survived by her husband, one little daughter, Evelyn, and a young son only a few days old; her mother, Mrs. Eva Hansen, of this place, and brother, Edmund, who is in the government service and is now stationed in Florida. The funeral was held in Detroit, Thursday. Plymouth friends extend sympathy to the bereaved family in their affliction.

Darwin Dean made a second shipment of fur this week, amounting to $2260, making a total of $5290 sold so far this season. To show about how far runs it may be mentioned that the last consignment included 55 coon, 31 mink, 314 skunks, 820 muskrats, 1 fox, 1 badger and 11 squirrels or weasels. Some fur is purchased at distances of 15 or 20 miles from home.—Milford Times.

Few Escape
There are few indeed who escape leaving at least one cold during the winter months, and they are fortunate who have but one and get through with it quickly and without any serious consequences. This Chamberlain's Remedy and observe directions with each bottle, and you are likely to be one of the fortunate ones. The worth and merit of this remedy has been fully proven. There are many families who have used it for years, and who can testify to its value.

Frank Whitbeck, salesman for the Detroit Vapor Stove Company, has returned home from a four months' western trip. He will remain home until the first of the year.

Harry Bradner of Lansing, who recently underwent a serious operation at a hospital in that city, is slightly improved. Mr. Bradner's many Plymouth friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wood of Pittsford, N. Y., seventy-nine years old has knit fifty-two pairs of socks and hemmed four dozen handkerchiefs for the Red Cross. Mrs. Wood is a sister of J. C. Dunham of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rattenbury entertained the following friends, Christmas: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunning and daughter, Margaret, of Redford; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smith, daughter, Helen, and son, Vaughn, of Wixom, and Manuel Cordova of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lusk entertained at a family dinner at their home on South Mill street, Christmas day. The following out of town guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Dale Underwood and family of Detroit, Mrs. Grace Brown, daughter, Gladys, and son, Milton, of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Felt entertained the following guests Christmas day, at their home on Fairground avenue: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Felt of this place; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Proctor, Mrs. T. R. Bacot and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Isaminger of Detroit, Mrs. Isaminger remaining over for the week.

Mrs. Elizabeth Welch entertained her children and families at her home on Pearl street Christmas day. The following out of town guests were present: Mrs. Pearl Bennett, Miss Naomi Welch and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Welch of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Alva Rowland of West Plymouth, and Mrs. Myrtle Lukache and son Arnold of South Lyon.

Mrs. Adeline Merrill, aged 72 years, passed away Monday, December 23rd, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Wilson on Harvey street. The deceased had been an invalid for several years. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. J. Wilson of this village and Mrs. Virla Waigart of Detroit. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at one o'clock from the Wilson home, Rev. F. M. Field conducting the services. Interment in Woodmere cemetery, Detroit.

Plymouth Branch of the Red Cross is again asking the knitters of Plymouth and vicinity to assist in knitting sweaters. Many who have pledged to knit sweaters have been ill and the chairman of the knitting department are fearful that the quota assigned Plymouth will not be filled unless others take hold of this work. All during the week, Plymouth, never once being in a queue, how let us keep our reputation good and everyone who can possibly do so, knit a little sweater, as to how Plymouth's reputation is to be maintained, we leave to the knitters themselves.

Banish Pain

There is no use talking—no one can work or play when they are not feeling well and strong. Life, without health and strength, is a mere painful, pleasureless existence.

One of the most important conditions of good health is to keep the kidneys cool and active. When work is done, they do not filter out of the blood the impurities that should be eliminated from the system. When these impurities remain, the blood stream is poisoned and pain and suffering result.

Doyle Kidney Pills

Old and new ailments. They cleanse and invigorate weak or diseased kidneys and help relieve backache, rheumatic pains, all or certain forms of neuralgia, and all other ailments of the urinary tract.

WHERE THE NAVY DEPARTMENT IS HOUSED NOW

The navy department has almost completely abandoned the old state, war and navy building on Pennsylvania avenue and has moved into the big, barnlike structure in Potomac park. This building, and its companion building for the army, seen in the distance, constitute one of the largest office buildings in the world. Each of them will accommodate 9,000 people.

AMERICAN HERO, DESPITE LOSS OF FEET, QUALIFIES AS AN AIRMAN

Atlanta Man Fought With Dublin Fusiliers Until Injured—Later He Was Made a Flight Commander in the British Air Service and Was Going Big Until He Was Captured by the Huns.

With American Army in France.—Loss of one foot and part of the other did not end the fighting career of Owen Cobb Holleran of Atlanta, Ga. A man with artificial feet is unfit for infantry duty, so Owen was honorably discharged from that branch of the service. Being a soldier of fortune, Holleran refused "to be dumped on the army scrap heap," as he expressed it.

He was at Cliveden hospital, maintained by Mrs. Astor. He was fitted out with artificial feet there. When it came time to think about sending Holleran back to the states the case was referred to me. But Owen Cobb Holleran did not intend to go home. He said anybody who thought his fighting days were over just because he had game feet had another guess.

He said he had read about a new type of airplane while at the hospital. It was operated entirely by hand levers, which fact gave him an inspiration. He said he had given the matter much thought on his cot and while sunning himself in a wheel chair. He had finally resolved to become an aviator and he felt confident he could make good.

The next thing I heard about Holleran he was a full-fledged flyer in the British air force. He made good from the start. One day a very large and official-looking envelope came to me. It contained the honorable discharge of Owen Cobb Holleran from the Dublin Fusiliers. It had been sent by the colonel of the regiment, who wrote very flatteringly about the young American. I hadn't seen or heard from Holleran for months. I finally learned the location of his squadron and forwarded the army certificate.

Physical Defect Barred Him. "A few days later I received a cheerful letter thanking me and inviting me to dine with him at my earliest convenience at the squadron mess. You could have knocked me over with a feather when, at the end of the letter I read that Owen Cobb Holleran was now a captain and flight commander. There is material for a book in Holleran's experience," said Captain Lowry. "Stranger than fiction in spots. His papers came to me at the embassy and he has kept up a correspondence. There is a lot in the chap. He is as clever and brave as they make them. He was employed as a clerk in the office of the Southern Bell Telephone company in Atlanta. Like many other young Americans he wanted to see the great war. It got into his blood long before our country was involved. In 1915 he started out from Atlanta with a friend named Gray. They had just $100 between them for the big adventure. They went to New York and tried to enlist in the British army, but the consul said he couldn't enroll Americans.

"From a crossing policeman they learned that a cattle boat was to sail next day. They decided to work their passage. They applied and got the job. Reaching London, they were accepted at a recruiting station in Scotland Yard. The recruiting sergeant wanted to know what branch of the service they preferred. Holleran replied: 'No choice. Just as soon serve in one branch as the other. My only request is that you send us to a warm climate. I came from the South and I like it hot.'

"You can get it hot enough at any part of the front," replied the sergeant. "I see your point, lad, and we'll see what can be done. With a name like yours I think an Irish outfit is the place for you." Holleran was assigned to the Dublin Fusiliers. His friend Gray went to the same regiment. In a few months Holleran's regiment was sent to Gallipoli. He served through that campaign and saw hard fighting. The regiment went with other British units to Egypt to be refitted after the Gallipoli scrap. Feet Badly Frozen.

"Next Holleran went with the Dublin Fusiliers into Serbia with the first allied expedition. In the mountains many of the soldiers suffered from frozen feet and hands. Holleran's feet were badly frozen, and he told me with a grin that he couldn't help seeing the funny side of it after having asked to be sent to a hot place.

"Fate began to extend a helping hand to Holleran away out there. Attached to the British field hospital in Serbia were two American surgeons, one from Georgia and the other from South Carolina. Learning that Holleran hailed from Atlanta, they took special interest in him. They did everything possible to save his feet, but later to avoid more serious complications and possibly death, they amputated part of each foot.

"Holleran returned to England,

He mentioned more than once that he regretted his inability to serve his own country when we entered the war, but his physical defect barred him. And he wanted to keep right on fighting the Boche, so he remained in the British service.

"I was very eager to see him and to congratulate him on his success; but had to defer the visit owing to the activities of the British army. It so happened that I selected the day following the most dramatic day in Holleran's career, but I was too late.

"Motoring to the squadron I found English and Canadian and American aviators in a spirited game of baseball. I asked for Captain Holleran. A fellow shouted to a lieutenant who was playing second base. The lieutenant came up panting. He said: 'Captain Holleran is gone.' 'Gone?' I reiterated. 'What do you mean? He isn't dead, is he?'

"No. Taken prisoner by the Boche yesterday. I roomed and chummed with him. Gang miss him terribly. Happened like this: We went on a daylight bombing raid. Holleran led the flight. Before we started he remarked that he had a sort of presentiment something was going to happen to him. Our bombing trip was a success. We had orders to fly low on the return and machine-gun certain positions. Ran into heavy enemy fire. Holleran's machine was hit. He went down inside the enemy lines.

"We could see him waving to us. Then we saw Boches surround him with leveled guns and saw Hol's arms go up.

"Can you beat it for a melodramatic last scene?" asked Captain Lowry. "Holleran was captured on Sunday, September 15. A game kid. Pity they got him."

CASTOR OIL FROM ORIENT Thousands of Gallons Are Coming Through the Port of Seattle.

Seattle, Wash.—Thousands of gallons of castor oil are coming through this port from the Orient, and it has been largely due to this importation that America's airplane performance in the war has proved to be the best lubricant for airplane motors, but its production in this country was limited.

The United States government encouraged the planting of castor beans, but the crop was a failure. In the Orient crops have been exceedingly bountiful. It is believed the stream of oil flowing into this country soon will be increased owing to the use of airplanes on mail routes.

JUDGE FREES MAN WITH FLU Court Joins in Rush for Doors When Prisoner's Condition is Discovered.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Walter Sanowski went into the criminal court recently as a prisoner and came out scot free and without the regular process of law.

Sanowski was sitting in the prisoner's dock when attention was called to his physical condition. A doctor was called.

"What's his ailment?" asked the judge. "Influenza," replied the medical man. Immediately there was a rush for the doors, in which the court joined. His case was dismissed and Sanowski was taken to a hospital.

CAPTURED HUN BAND PLAYS OUR ANTHEM Pittsburgh, Pa.—In France recently a German regimental band of 60 pieces, whose members had been taken prisoner, played "The Star-Spangled Banner," according to a letter from Corporal Ewan W. Allan of the Three Hundred and Ninetieth Infantry, to his dad. The band was taken during a surprise attack which was made without a barrage preliminary. The German musicians played the air in a very creditable manner, according to Allan.

BIG ADVANTAGES OF MOTOR TRUCK

Longer Hauls at Less Cost Disclosed in Reports to Bureau of Crop Estimates.

DUE TO GREATER EFFICIENCY

Made-Over Passenger Cars and Trailers Are Used by Farmers in Various Parts of United States for Hauling Crops.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) Motortruck hauls in 1918 from farm to shipping point averaged 11.3 miles, while wagon hauls averaged 9 miles; and a motortruck made 3.4 round trips per day over its longer route of 11.3 miles, while wagons made 1.2 round trips per day over the 9-mile distance.

The estimated cost of hauling in wagons from farm to shipping point averaged in 1918 about 30 cents a ton a mile for wheat, 33 cents for corn, and 48 cents for cotton; for hauling in motortrucks or by tractors the averages are 15 cents for wheat or corn and 18 cents a ton-mile for cotton. These figures are based on reports made by correspondents of the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture.

Motor Cost Declines. A similar inquiry in 1906 showed an average for wagons of 19 cents per ton-mile for hauling corn or wheat, and 27 cents for cotton. In 1918 wagon costs were naturally higher, since prices and wages have increased, but motortruck costs were much lower in 1918 than even the wagon costs of 1918, due to greater efficiency of the motortruck.

The cost of wagon hauling a ton-mile for wheat among the geographic divisions in 1918 was lowest in the Pacific states, 22 cents. Above this, in order, are the North Central states east of the Mississippi river, with 28 cents; the West North Central States, 29 cents; the West South Central, 32 cents; the East South Central, 36 cents; New England and the Middle Atlantic states, 38 cents; the South Atlantic states, 39 cents; and, high-

NATIONAL LEAGUE FOR WOMEN'S SERVICE MOTOR CORPS IS PERFORMING GOOD WORK

WOMEN REPAIRING A MOTORCAR.

The women chauffeurs of the motor corps of the National League for Women's Service not only drive autos but also do all their own cleaning and repairing. Some of the women have taken courses in auto repairing and are thoroughly familiar with the mechanism of motors, thereby eliminating the necessity of sending them to repair shops.

- Check Car Speed. If the new owner will learn to make use of the throttle when desiring to check the speed of the car he will save his brakes. Using the brakes instead of the control is a common fault with the new driver.
- Following Other Cars. When following other cars on a crowded country road watch out for a sudden stop. Get in the habit of running the car slightly off the road, if there is room, so that if the brakes do not hold you will be in no danger of hitting the car ahead.
- Keep Desired Temperature. An adjusting rod operated from the driver's seat alters the angle of the blades in a new cooling fan for automobiles to keep the motor at a desirable temperature at all times.
- Towing Injured Cars. For towing damaged automobiles in mountainous, low-toned, creek-bottom, hills as a car body has been damaged at all times.

Graceful Fashions for the Flapper

To whoever invented the term "flapper" is due a vote of thanks from the younger, growing girls. This rather rollicking title has replaced "girls of the awkward age," often insinuating descriptive title, often undeserved, used to be applied to the younger generation when it arrived at eight or ten years, and continued until sixteen was a thing of the past. A new order of things has come about in the matter of clothes for the flapper. It is the business of special designers to see that her apparel does so much for her, that awkward may not be mentioned in the same day with her. All her clothing is carefully designed. If she is too thin, that fact must be artfully concealed, and she is usually a little thin. Occasionally she is too fat, and, being corsetless, must be shaped up by means of skillful lines in her frocks and coats.

Versatile and Original Trotteur

This has proved to be a season in which more is required of frocks and suits than in pre-war times. With the very good intention of saving wool or labor, clothes have been created to answer for different sorts of wear, to fit in with varying background, and to make it possible to be well dressed on a contracted allowance of money. If one were to try to define the one thing that distinguishes this season's apparel from all others it is likely that the wearableness and adaptability of outer garments would be selected as the outstanding features. The street suit that is easily converted into an afternoon dress, and the frock that is quickly adapted to street wear, are flourishing in the good opinion of women.

The effort of designers to make these two-in-one garments has resulted in some original and handsome street clothes as well as in lovely frocks that do duty for day and evening wear. Now that the war is over there may be no further need for such street garments that were inspired by them are sure to remain with us. The handsome and original "trotteur" which is pictured here is an example of fine designing—a "going about" costume that will bear comparison with the best of street suits. It is graceful and unusual, with a suggestion of the Russian blouse in its lines. The easy, comfortable body is extended into a pointed yoke at the top of the skirt and has a smart high collar and a deep cape at the back. Length of line is emphasized by the row of small bone buttons down the front from neck to hem, which is not disturbed by the narrow girdle of cloth. A little border of fur at the top of the wide collar is a smart touch that could not be spared. The skirt is ankle length and might be a very little longer for a short figure.
