A simple way to add strength and vigor to in-door workers.

Often times the inactivity and confinement of in-door work results in the general "falling off" of physical fitness.

Pepton, our best tonic, is ideal as an aid in combating these conditions, and in rebuilding run down systems.

Pepton contains organic Iron, Malt, Manganese and Extract of Cod Liver Oil, so combined that it is pleasant to take and easily assimilated by even very weak digestive organs.

An athletic meet to take the place of the old tri-county meet has been planned to take place at Northville on June 15. The following base ball schedule has been arranged:

May 2—Northville at Wayne;

May 9—Dearborn at Northville;

DIES SUDDENLY WHILE ON A VISIT

DEATH COMES TO MRS. ALFRED LYON LAST SUNDAY MORNING WHILE VISITING RELATIVES IN CANADA.

Plymouth friends were greatly shocked, late last Sunday afternoon, to hear of the sudden death of Mrs. Alfred W. Lyon, who passed away at the home of her brother, Alex Lyon, near West Lorne, Ontario, Sunday morning, April 27th. Although Mrs. Lyon had been in ill health for some time, her death came as a great shock even to her closest friends, as she had been able to get around most of the time, and only a week ago motored with her husband to West Lorne, Ontario, where she had planned to visit her brother and other relatives for a few weeks, but early Sunday morning Mr. Lyon received a message telling him of his wife's serious illness, and although he left immediately for that place, he did not arrive there until several hours after her death. Heart trouble was the cause of her sudden illness and death. Mrs. Lyon had been a resident of Plymouth for about thirty years, and during that time had made many firm friends, who deeply sympathize with her bereaved husband in his affliction. The deceased was a woman of sterling qualities. She always had a smile and pleasant word for friends and acquaintances, and although being afflicted with ill health for several years and greatly saddened by the loss of her only child, Louise, nine years ago, she bore her afflictions with patience and fortitude.

Elizabeth Lyon was born at St. Thomas, Ontario, July 20, 1864. At an early age she moved with her parents to a farm near Eagle, Ontario, and received her education in the schools at Eagle and Dutchess, Ontario. February 1, 1897, she was united in marriage to Frank E. Bell. She departed this life April 28, 1904. One daughter, Laura, was born to this union, who also passed away October 1, 1910. The deceased was united in marriage September 12, 1904, to Alfred W. Lyon, of this place.

Today's Reflections

A Plymouth father should be known by the kind of company his daughter keeps.

The smaller the calibre the bigger the bore. And this applies to some men we occasionally come across.

Some poet has said that angels are all blondes, but that does not prove that all blondes are angels.

One form of punishment would be to spare Bill Hohenshell's life so that he never makes mistakes, also make very little of anything else.

It has always been our observation that the Plymouth man who brags that he never makes mistakes, also makes very little of anything else.

Swat the fly now—right now before he becomes the grand-daddy of about five million that will want to make your house their home.

Every Plymouth man wishes he could earn as much money as some richer man he knows without having to work as hard for it.

Somehow or other we can't help but feel that the consumer isn't worrying as much as the dealer about the coming dry wave.

If a Plymouth man is wise he will never start a fight until he has enough friends present to interfere if he commences to get the worst end of it.

It is contended that town dogs never kill sheep. That is possibly due to the fact that they are too busy chasing town cats.

Instead of starting strikes and knocking Germany ought to be thankful that she has a chance to secure peace on the installment plan—a little down and the balance as she's able.

Wise is the Plymouth man who is willing to climb down off his dignity long enough to do his duty.

We have not decided where we will spend our vacation this summer, but we can say right now that it won't be in Russia.

If a Plymouth woman doesn't continue to trust her husband, it is because she believes in trust busting.

We are told that the millennium is coming, but as long as the government has charge of the railroads we hope it isn't coming by express.

Cause of Headache. By knowing the cause, a disease may often be avoided. This is particularly true of headache. The most common cause of headache is a disordered stomach or constipation, which may be corrected by taking a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets. Try it. Many others have obtained permanent relief by taking these Tablets. They are easy to take and mild and gentle in effect.—Adv.

ITEMS GATHERED HERE AND THERE THAT WILL BE OF INTEREST TO OUR READERS.

Milford's Chautauqua has been set for August 12-16.

Howell city had a quota of only $40,860 in the Fifth Loan.

Howell will celebrate the Fourth this year. Will Plymouth celebrate? Milford is another town that is getting ready to buy a new auto fire truck.

Northville's auto club has 111 members, and expects to increase this number to 200 this summer.

Washtenaw county proposes to raise money for county roads by bonding. A mighty good idea.

Supervisor F. W. Roberts of Salem, was chosen chairman of the Washtenaw county board of supervisors at their meeting held last week.

A. F. and R. A. Limbright, father and son, of Northville, have purchased the Henne hardware stock, taking possession the first of the week. Both gentlemen are experienced business men, and all will feel that their selection of Saline as a place in which to get into business proof of their excellent judgment.—Saline Observer.

Ann Arbor's great music festival which this year will take place on May 14, 15, 16 and 17, is attracting unusual attention throughout the state, not alone because of the exceptionally fine programs which are to be heard and the distinguished artists who will participate, but because of the poetic significance of the occasion as well.

The General Motors Corporation is to follow in Pontiac the same plan that is in progress at Flint, and as announced by the Ford interests at Dearborn—the extensive building of homes for the employees of the big manufacturing plants and the selling of the homes to the workmen at cost, and on the easiest possible terms of payment. About 600 acres of land have been secured near the Oakland plant at Pontiac and 750 houses are to be built as soon as possible.

Tuesday L. W. Lovewell shipped four car loads of livestock to Detroit. This shipment cost Mr. Lovewell $10,000, and as far as money paid made from this station. Among the items entering into this day's work was a Durham bull, purchased of Joe Purdy of Brighton, that weighed 2000 pounds and for which he paid $200. Another was 12 head of steers from Albert Read for which he paid $1542.50.—South Lyon Herald.

Beekeepers of Michigan are being warned that the state law requiring sanitary quarters for honey bees, passed two years ago, will be enforced after July 1. B. F. Kindig of East Lansing, is the inspector of apiaries and he says that inspectors will carry blank warrants preparatory to arresting people who are still keeping bees in box hives, log gums, skeps or in modern hives with crossed combs. A bulletin has been prepared on the subject, which may be had by sending a card to the inspector at East Lansing.

After appealing to the town and county road commissioners for years, the taxpayers along the U. S. Fishery road and in Washtenaw county for two miles west of the Ways county line, appealed to the state highway missioner with a petition covered by the Covert act, and the state commissioner will send in an engineer and after a survey is made the road will be built by state contractors. In some places they don't have to wait for county commissioners.—Northville Record.

The farmer or village citizen who neglects to use the village paper to his or her advantage is, so to speak, working against their own interests. The village paper should be a channel for the farmers to be on speaking terms, not only with their immediate neighbors, but with the farmers of the surrounding townships, where topics of live interest should be discussed, and the village citizen, by his grievances before election as well as to elucidate on the advantages of this or that proposition. To make it a mere channel for the coming and goings of the people without taking the weightier matters into consideration is nothing less than a self-inflicted wrong. Yes, we say again, use your village paper, and don't abuse it by sheer neglect.—Linden Leader.

The banquet given by the Belleville Automobile Club at the Masonic dining parlors, Thursday evening, was one of the most successful ones ever held in this town. Over 100 members and invited guests, and the feed that was set before the hungry crowd was fit for a king, and those present did ample justice to the efforts of the menu committee. The afternoon speeches from local speakers, and those from neighboring towns and cities, were most interesting, which were Edward N. Hines of the county road commission, Captain Gilbreath of the Detroit Automobile club. A number of the Northville club were present, as were several prominent citizens of Washtenaw county, who all made a good word to say for their own village. The Washenaw people were much interested in the banquet, and we hope to soon see a line that organized in that neighborhood. These meetings are one of the best things in having better roads, as those interested in them get together and talk over the matter and advise each other what to do in order to secure something in their own town. We hope to hear of us soon, for we want to see the Belleville road.

STAND ON SITE OF TRAGEDY

Ancient Willow Trees Believed to Be Near Scene of the Deportation of the Acadians.

Whoever has read Longfellow's poem, "Evangeline," will be interested in visiting the land of Evangeline, the Annapolis valley in Nova Scotia, Canada and the country about Wolfville, which is the center. Grand Pre, the little village which was the scene of the deportation of the Acadians in 1755, is only a short distance from Wolfville, but little is left of the village where the tragedy told of by the poet was enacted. The chief object of interest in what was once Grand Pre, are the mammoth, gnarled ancient willow trees, known as Evangeline's willows, which stand, a conspicuous group, amid the fertile green meadows and serve as a windbreak. They show their age, these ancient trees, and were undoubtedly planted by the French Canadians, for the Acadians invariably planted willows wherever they settled, and these trees are perpetual memorials of them. Beside the willows, there may be seen at the site of Grand Pre the old well, portions of the foundations of the church of St. Charles, and some stones that mark the site of the priest's house. These willow trees are always visited by tourists, and although history does not exactly tally with the poet's account of the deportations of the Acadians, and though there may be a division of opinion as to the justice of the act by the English in the deportation of the Acadians, the old willows tell no tales, but stand, sturdy and strong, and are sightly landmarks still hale and vigorous.

Poetical Inspiration. It is not about great events that great novels are written. The same is true of great poems. Not "the 15 decisive battles of the world," but such relatively unimportant ones as Balaklava, Ivry, Hohenlinden and Blenheim have inspired the poets. Waterloo was considered to be the greatest battle of modern times, but the lines Byron inserted in "Childe Harold" constitute the only memorable poem ever written about it. The only ballad of the Civil war, which became fixed forever in people's minds, related to no great battle but to Stonewall Jackson's march through the little town of Frederick.

The great events are peaks in the mountain ranges of time, that leave little to the imagination. Literature thrives by the streams of legend and glory that run down from them and by the lanes and roads of emotion, aspiration, passion and endeavor that lead up to them. The slide lights and side issues and everyday events make literature, as they make life itself.

Insects in Amber. The proverbial "fly in amber" is strikingly exemplified in a collection of red amber from Burma recently presented to the British museum by R. C. J. Swinhoe, of Mandalay. The amber is unusually rich in insects, including, according to Prof. T. D. A. Cockerell, who has examined the material, 51 new species, of which five are types of new genera. Most of these are found in a block of amber rather larger than a man's fist. This has been cut into slices about half an inch thick. Nearly every large order of insect is represented with the exception of ant—Scientific American.

Moline Monitor Grain Drills

I have taken the agency for the famous Moline Monitor Drills, and would be pleased to have you call and see them before buying a drill.

Moline Grain Drills are built to stand many years of hard service. This means they are thoroughly constructed in every detail. Many machines will do good work for the first season or two, but few will maintain a high standard of work year after year.

A grain drill, of all machines, must do good work—too much is at stake to trust to an unreliable machine. Thus the construction of a grain drill is of the utmost importance. In this respect unusual care has been taken to make the Moline-Monitor Drills all that can be desired, as steel is used almost entirely throughout. In addition to the extra strength which steel gives, less weight is required, and in case of an emergency steel can be easily repaired by the local blacksmith instead of waiting for repairs which breakage of a cast part would occasion.
