A SEASON TICKET TO METROPOLITAN OPERA OFFERS YOU NO MORE THAN

The NEW EDISON

Since Thomas A. Edison perfected this instrument, Grand Opera itself has been able to offer you no more than the New Edison. If the two million people who have attended Edison tone tests have been utterly unable to distinguish the artist's living voice from the instrument's RE-CREATION it is clear that no difference exists isn't it? And if there is no difference between the artist's rendition and the instrument's then obviously the artist can give you no more than

"The Spray that Adds to Your Profits"

Pyrox kills bugs and worms, prevents rots and blights, invigorates the plants, increases the yield, and improves the quality.

At the Virginia Experiment Station, tomatoes sprayed with Pyrox produced 291 bushels per acre. The unsprayed field yielded only 94 bushels per acre.

Moline Universal Tractor

"IT SOLVES THE HELP PROBLEM"

The Moline-Universal Tractor solves the farm help problem because it enables one man to farm more land than was ever before possible. This is what one man and a Moline-Universal can do in one day of 10 hours:

Plow, with two 14-inch bottoms, 9 acres; disc, with 7-foot tandem disc, 27 acres; disc with, 10-foot disc, 38 acres; harrow, with 20-foot pay-tooth harrow, 76 acres; plant, with 7-row planter, 22 acres; plant with 4-row planter, 43 acres; cultivate, with 2-row cultivator, 34 to 29 acres; drill, with 10-foot drill, 38 acres; harvest, with 8-foot binder, 25 acres; harvest with corn binder, 10 acres; mow, with 8-foot mower, 25 acres; rake, with 12-foot dump rake, 40 acres; load hay, with 8-foot loader, 12 acres (depending on haul).

Ample allowance has been made for actual delays in turning. Tractor to be run at 3 to 3 1/2 miles per hour, except for cultivating, when it is run 2 to 2 1/2 miles per hour.

WOMAN'S LITERARY CLUB ENJOY PICNIC

The annual club picnic of the Woman's Literary Club was held last Friday afternoon on the beautiful lawn at the rear of the homes of Mrs. Ella Chaffee and Mrs. W. S. Thomas on Main street. At 2:30 o'clock, the guests numbering about fifty, were invited into the spacious home of Mrs. W. S. Thomas, where the program of the afternoon was given under the direction of Mrs. L. A. Thomas, chairman of divisions. The opening number on the program was a piano duet by Miss Madeleine Bennett and Mrs. A. A. Thomas. The five pupils of the Plymouth High school, who won prizes during Animal Welfare week, had been invited to attend this picnic and read their prize papers, which were as follows: Julia Wilcox, fifth grade; Russell Robinson, fifth grade; Louva Rowland, sixth grade; Madeleine Kingsley, seventh grade, and Carol Pierce, eighth grade. The reading of these papers was greatly enjoyed by the members of the Club. Mrs. R. E. Cooper favored the company with two beautiful selections, and Mrs. Charles Humphries contributed to the pleasure of the afternoon by giving a couple of selected readings. At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. L. A. Thomas, in behalf of the Club, in her usual pleasing manner, presented the president, Mrs. C. H. Bennett, with a handsome basket of flowers, to which Mrs. Bennett graciously responded. Later in the afternoon, the company was invited to go out on the lawn, where refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed. The Club picnic is one of the most enjoyable meetings of the year, and is always looked forward to with great anticipation by the members.

ATTENTION! RED CROSS

All Red Cross workers, who have given of their time and efforts to the great cause during the past two years, are requested to meet at the Plymouth High school building, next Monday afternoon at 3:00 p. m., in order that the entire organization may be photographed. The ladies are requested, as far as possible, to come in uniform and everyone is asked to bring a copy of the program. This request includes all workers in every department—knitting, surgical dressings and sewing departments—also all the members of the executive board.

(Signed) C. H. BENNETT,
Chairman of Executive Board.
Alfred Lyndon of Ann Arbor, who makes a specialty of group work, will take the picture.

FORMER PLYMOUTH BOY PROMOTED

The many Plymouth friends of Arthur N. Whipple, who has held a position as clerk in the probate court for the past ten years, will be pleased to learn that Judge Durfee has advanced him to the position of Deputy Probate Register. Mr. Whipple's advancement comes as a reward for faithful service, painstaking and conscientious work during the years he has been employed in the probate office. Mr. Whipple was born on the Whipple homestead, three miles northeast of Plymouth, and is a graduate of the Plymouth high school. Plymouth friends extend congratulations and best wishes upon his advancement.

PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED

Miss Sarah Gayde entertained several young ladies at her home on Mill street, last Tuesday evening, the occasion being a kitchen shower in honor of Miss Edna Fisher, who was the recipient of several useful gifts. A social evening was enjoyed and later in the evening the girls were invited into the dining room, which was prettily decorated in pink and white for the occasion. Pink and white roses adorned the center of the table, and the menu was selected by the hostess. The evening cards, which were laid for twelve.

BOY SCOUT SUNDAY A GREAT SUCCESS

Boy Scout week was inaugurated last Sunday in the Presbyterian church by a special service in honor of the Boy Scout troop of this village. Mr. Giles, Scout Master, headed some thirty Scouts in uniform and marched down to the front of the church. The W. C. T. U. graciously provided small bouquets of flowers with an appropriate verse attached on a neat card. The service was very impressive and helpful. Mrs. Cooper, Miss McClumpha and Mrs. Bake sang a beautiful trio; and Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Bake also sang a duet, which they rendered in their inspiring fashion. Rev. Mr. Bicknell gave a short outline of what this movement is, and pointed out the need of greater interest and concern on the part of all the citizens here for the welfare of our boys. The efforts of the Boy Scouts during this week will be expended to increase the membership by a million boys, and enroll a million associate members among the older folks, who will have the opportunity of paying dues of one dollar or more for the International work, and subscribing for the local work. Rev. Bicknell delivered a strong and stirring sermon on the text, "Young men your glory is your strength." He noted the glory of the four square man made up of the glory of his physical life, his intellectual life, his moral consciousness and his spiritual life. He made a challenge to all the Scouts to strive to be that man and to allow nothing to hinder them from reaching the full round development of true manhood. The Scouts gave interested attention through the entire discourse. The church was proud to have the Scouts as guests, and extends to them its interest and sympathy and co-operation in their plans.

JUNIOR PLAY A SUCCESS

The Junior class play, "Tompin's Hired Man," given in the High School auditorium, last Friday night, was an acknowledged success. There was an audience of about 350 people, and all were evidently well pleased. The Junior class wish to thank the Conner Hardware Co. for kindly loaning them a stove; Huston & Co. for the loan of milk pails and strainer; the High school orchestra for their splendid music; Mr. Green and Mrs. Chappel for their services, and all those who helped to make the play successful and entertaining.

Mrs. George Vidian and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jones of Detroit, visited Mrs. Peter Gayde, Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. John Nowlin of Cherry Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dunlap of Portland, Oregon, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burns Freeman.

SUMMER READING

It isn't often that we call a man's attention to the fact that he owes it to himself and the community in which he lives to have his name upon the subscription list of his home-town paper. But yesterday we suggested it to one gentleman and he replied, "It's getting 'round where it is too infernal hot to read."

There is a man whose conversation, then, is only interesting in cool weather. For it's only when a man reads that he can talk in an interesting way. And there is also a man who fails to understand that the old world is still whirling on at a rapid rate in hot weather, the same as in the cooler months, and that if he expects to keep up with it he will have to read "summer" news just the same as that dished out by his home newspaper in the fall.

But the fact of the matter is the home paper is a home institution, and as such is entitled to support twelve months in the year. It would be a fine community if we quit going to church and kept our children out of Sunday-school just because the house of worship is not as comfortable in summer as it is in winter. And wouldn't it be bad judgment to quit doing business with the banks through the summer months, or to buy up enough from the grocer in the early spring to last until cold weather?

The man who argues that it is too hot—any day in the year—to read and keep himself posted on affairs about him, is on a par with the old fossil who once told us that, "he took more papers than he could read."

TODAY AND TOMORROW

One Plymouth citizen, who has lived to a ripe old age said to us a few days ago:

"The lesson which I have learned in life, which is impressed on me daily and more deeply as I grow old, is the lesson of good will and good hope. I believe that today is better than yesterday and that tomorrow will be better than today."

The cry that the times are degenerating comes from the man with a sluggish liver or dyspepsia. Back of the statement that we do not have as great men nor as good men in this age as in the ages past is a torpid liver or much ignorance.

Today is better than yesterday—a thousand times. Every time the sun rises it views a world that is much better than the one it went down on. There are troubles enough left, and God knows that man is still imperfect, but there is hope. The trouble is, we do not understand. Only the great things of life appeal to some people, but it is the little things that are improving, and the little things are the things that count.

It isn't necessary to go over the list of improvements in the world, nor is it profitable. The thing is to feel that the world is growing better, and it isn't any trouble to feel it if one is himself in harmony with the improvements that are daily taking place here and everywhere else.

DESIGNING COSTUMES TO BE WORN AT METHODIST CENTENARY CELEBRATION

DESIGNS for thousands of costumes to be used in the pageants and life plays of the Methodist Centenary Celebration at Columbus, O., June 20 to July 13, are being prepared by Livingston Platt, the noted costume and scenic designer of New York, who has taken the big job of costuming appropriately all participants in the big exposition. Mr. Platt's designs range from the garb of the ancient Babylonians and their Jewish captives, worn in the first episode of the big pageant, "The Wayfarer," to the more modern dress of Belgian refugees in the war front scene. Seventy thousand yards of material have been ordered for the costumes used in the Centenary Celebration which marks in a spectacular and impressive manner the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Methodist missions. Mr. Platt has made research work for weeks through authentic pictorial records of costumes, ancient and modern. In addition to the costumes of Biblical times, he has lined plates of Japanese, Chinese and Hindoo garb.

The Doctor Away From Home When Most Needed.

People are often very much disappointed to find the family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like pain in the stomach and bowels, colic and diarrhoea require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life.—Advt.

BEAUTIFUL COLORED MOVING PICTURES

THE PROGRAM AT METHODIST CHURCH INTRODUCES NOVEL FEATURE.

The moving picture program at the open house night in the Methodist church last Tuesday evening, will be especially notable from an artistic standpoint, in that the main feature will be a colored picture all the way through. Colored scenic views have been seen here before, but a feature drama is rarely seen produced in the natural tint.

"The Princess Yolande" is the title of this feature, which is a story of fiction, depicting the joys and sorrows of a beautiful young lady and her Prince Charming, with Baby Early and Charles Miller as the principal characters.

In addition to the main feature a one-reel comedy, "The Runaways," will be shown. An amusing story of a boy who couldn't go fishing and a little girl who couldn't have any jam. The best child picture in years.

WAYNE COUNTY SECURES GREATEST HOLSTEIN SIRE

Nothing has ever taken place to give the Holstein breeding industry in this part of Michigan such a boost as the purchase by Robert Pointer of Dearborn, premium cattle man, of "Ragapple the Great," for the record breaking price of $125,000. This famous young Holstein sire, now only two years old, was raised on the farm of Oliver Cabana, Jr., near Buffalo, New York. His dam holds a world's butter record, aside from the fact that Ragapple the Great comes from a double family of prize winners. Although only two years old, one of his calves sold for $15,000 when only a few hours old.

Robert Pointer, known all over Michigan for his activities in the live stock industry, was offered $25,000 for his bargain in Ragapple before shipping his purchase to Wayne county. He simply smiled and placed an insurance policy on the prize animal on which the premium was $10,000. Ragapple the Great will reside on the Pointer farm, west of the village of Wayne, where he will be one of the show sights in local Holstein circles. He will also be a guest of honor at the Michigan state fair, this year, as well as other big live stock show events. Mr. Pointer has been showered with congratulations since returning from his successful trip to the big eastern Holstein sale with the admitted prize package of the present year. This new member of the Holstein aristocracy of Wayne county will attract attention to our growing interest in thoroughbreds from all parts of the country, and thereby is an asset to the entire community.—Detroit Courier.

Chronic Constipation

Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercise, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle laxatives. Strong and harsh cathartics take too much water out of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take, and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.—Adv.

A. A. BALDWIN HAS RETURNED

BROKEN HEARTED SOLDIER THINKS HE WOULD LIKE TO RE-ENLIST IN ARMY.

Broken in health and spirit, Arthur A. Baldwin, the Port Huron fiance of Irma Casler, the 19-year old school teacher, who was shot to death in her school near Saine, Mich., in March by Robert Warner, was just returned to New York, and learned for the first time the details of the tragedy that robbed him of the girl to whom he wrote from a hospital in France.

"I'll be coming home soon to protect you all your life," Baldwin was transferred from one hospital to another in France so often that he had received only one letter from Michigan since the tragedy occurred and only a brief inkling of it through the Paris edition of an American newspaper. Until a few weeks ago Baldwin expected that his sweetheart would meet him in New York on his arrival, and the two had planned an early summer wedding.

The returned soldier feels that his sweetheart gave her life for him, and he is heartbroken.

"Only a few weeks before she died," he said, "she wrote me and said she was lonesome and wished I would come back. I replied, trying to cheer her, and urged her to go out and meet lots of people and enjoy life.

"At the time I was fearful of losing my eyesight, and I wrote her that I would not expect her to wait for a blind soldier. I never received any reply, although I presume she wrote one, but her attitude toward the man who killed her was answer enough. She was true blue."

Baldwin's most cherished possession is a photograph of Miss Casler, which he has carried through the war.

On the back of it is written: "Have faith in me and I will be true to you no matter what happens."

Baldwin explains this by saying he and his fiancee had talked before he left this country, about the likelihood of his being maimed for life, and he had repeatedly told her she had better not wait for him, for he might not come back at all. The scribbled sentiment on the back of the picture she sent him a few days before he sailed was her answer. Baldwin doesn't know what he will do. He is in class 8-B, which means he is not in good shape physically. It will be a long time before he can resume his old position as fireman on the Grand Trunk railway. His eyes are still weak, he says. He expects to be transferred to the Camp Custer hospital or to the base hospital 36 in Detroit within a few days.

He says he thinks he would like Cuba or "some other place far away from the man who broke his heart."

Miss Casler was a graduate of the Plymouth High school, and her tragic death brought sadness to the young girl's many friends here.

EPWORTH LEAGUE PICNIC FRIDAY EVENING

The June meeting of the young folks of the Epworth League will take the form of an out door frolic, this (Friday) evening. The young people will meet at the D. U. The New Modesty. "The new modesty," said Clarence Underwood, the magazine illustrator, "has a frank quality. It is born of athletic beauty. The old modesty was merely a desire to conceal ugliness. A beautiful girl in a white bathing dress came out of the water at Palm Beach the other day and advanced over the sand to her mother. 'Dear me!' the mother whispered. 'You shouldn't have got white, darling. That suit is almost transparent.' 'The girl smiled calmly. 'Don't worry,' she said, 'I'm not so formed.'" - Detroit Free Press.

PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that gets men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit. The kidneys are the most overworked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out for those sharp crystals that scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do, turn into kidney Bright's Disease. One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, less of a pain in the back or rheumatism. EPISODE NO. 7. WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Dick and Polly Van Brunt held one of six pieces of a chart flag, the only key to the location of a buried treasure. Scarface had another piece, and he kills Polly's father and gets her. A struggle to the death for the missing flag and the treasure begins. Three other flag holders join Dick. They are caught by Scarface on the desert and left suspended over a cliff to perish.

Suspended, bound and gagged, along the sheer face of the cliff, Dick and Polly and their companions faced a death that would be mercifully quick in the blistering desert sun. Scarface and his evil pals turned in their saddles and laughed wickedly at the futile struggles of their hapless victims. Six pieces of the "Riven Flag" were in their possession, and they had put Dick out of the way for good and where shortly there would be no evidence to tell the tale. Scarface was in an almost merry mood as he led his murderous band into the desert.

"I told you that the time would come when we would get even with those trouble makers who were all the time butting into our affairs," he told his companions gleefully. "I reckon by this time they wish they had staid home and minded their own business. They never had a chance with me from the beginning, and I beat them to every bet. Furthermore, we have now got six pieces of that rag in our clutches and it won't be long before we have the seventh and last. Then for the treasure and a merry life forever after."

"Hurry for Scarface and the treasure," cried his companions exultingly. Spurring their horses deeply they rode on their way with boisterous exultations over their success. Meanwhile Tomas, son of Red Cloud, had not been idle. Unseen by the others, he had watched the secret visit of the renegade Indian to the camp of the outlaws upon the occasion when Scarface where Red Cloud was buried with his piece of the flag, and had instantly suspected that the other Indian was up to some treachery. Knowing that he would be able to follow their trail he had let the conspiracy proceed in order to find out what it was. He kept his own counsel until the outlaws had left, then he commenced to take action.

Tomas rode into the outlaws' camp while the ashes were yet warm, and quickly took up the trail. A mile out on the desert a huge vulture winged its way above him toward the cliff, followed by a score of others. "Ah!" said he softly as he watched the great bird circle about in ever narrowing circles. "Those white devils who wanted to disturb the grave of my ancestor have been up to some heap bad business. But Tomas will find out. He will watch where the vulture alights, and there he will find something." Keeping his sharp eye upon the circling denizen of the sky he rapidly approached the spot that the bird hovered over.

Further, yet, out on the sands, Scarface looking backward through his field-glasses, saw the birds, and an evil grin spread over his features.

"Take a look. They have visitors," he said, handing the glasses to his companions. "Great God! The vultures," exclaimed Screwwe, and he and the others shook their heads ominously, as though the thought of leaving their victims to be eaten alive was too much to stomach. Deep dyed villains though Screwwe and his companions were, they began looking out of the sides of their eyes at Scarface with disfavor. While they had no compunctions at thought of their enemies suffering an unpleasant death, the thought of the girl hanging there in midair and food for vultures even while she lived made them twist a bit uneasily in their saddles as they rode on.

Tomas had no glasses, but his eyes, following the vultures, made out the human forms against the cliff. For an instant he wavered between keeping on after the outlaws and returning. Then swinging his horse's head, he galloped back to the cliff.

Shots from Tomas' pistol that scattered the vultures roused Dick and the others to renewed struggles, and the Indian, connecting their predicament with some new villainy of Scarface and his gang, hastened to scheme their release. He could not reach them from above; his lariat was all too short to reach them from below.

Snatching an ax from his saddle, he cut four stout stakes and drove them in the ground directly beneath Dick's twisting form. To the stakes he tied his stout blanket, fashioning a life net, as it were. Then a bullet from Dick's head, and Van Brunt, falling on the sloping ledge, slid off and landed safely in the blanket. Tomas cut his bonds and Dick, taking only a moment to bathe his swollen wrists, helped the Indian to place the net beneath Teel. In this way and in an incredibly short time all were saved but Polly, who, unconscious of what was going on, hung limp in midair.

It was an anxious moment for Dick as he gazed aloft at the suspended girl and measured the distance she must fall before she would be received at the bottom by the net, and he shuddered at the risk to which they must subject her. But already she was unconscious, and unless they got her down and revived her very soon she would undoubtedly perish through the exposure to the blistering heat and the squeezing of the rope which was around her.

"Hurry up, Tomas, and use extra care in making the blanket fast to the stakes," he commanded as they bent to their task. Tomas nodded. "You no be afraid Tomas will make any mistake. He have squaw down here in a jiffy. He fix the blanket so she fall into it soft as a feather from the wing of a bird."

Once more the blanket was spread and again the Indian raised his rifle, the rope parted and the girl fell prone on the ledge. She rolled partly over the edge but did not clear it. As the group of rescuers looked at her in expectancy, a cry of horror rose from their lips as the head of a great mountain lion appeared right beside Polly - almost on top of her.

Dick and the Indian kept their heads. The former snatched up a rifle and as he fired the lion with a snarl withdrew its head. Tomas as quickly cut a lariat to the cliff, where it caught firmly about a projecting rock. "Did I get him?" cried Dick, lowering his rifle. As if in answer, Polly's body was drawn slowly back from the edge of the cliff. Pistol in hand, and with a knife between his teeth, Dick sprang to the rope and was up the side of the cliff in a flash, those below standing with rifles ready should the lion again appear.

Snarling above the girl's body stood the lion as Dick gained the ledge. He made one spring at Dick, but a bullet caught him in midair. This gave Dick time to unsheathe his knife. A blow from the animal's paw robbed him of its use, but not before he had forced it over the cliff. As it fell a dozen bullets ended its career.

Dick tenderly picked up his wife, mercifully unconscious but not even scratched by the lion's claws, and lowered her to earth, following down the lariat. She was quickly revived, and while coffee was being prepared, Dick told of how Scarface had robbed his father's grave of the sixth piece of flag, and when he learned of Dick's connection with the flag, he sagely enlivened on his side. And when all had rested after their meal, he repeated his oath of vengeance and, pointing out on the desert, said: "Get horses - follow white devils."

While these exciting events were taking place, Scarface and his party had reached the shadow of the foot hills. Halting, the outlaw leader gathered his men about him and told them:

"I have not mentioned to you men about it before for the reason that I did not think the time was ripe. I thought it would be better to keep your attention upon one thing at a time, and my plan has proven to be a good one. Now, however, I will tell you the rest of it.

"I found out who has the last piece of flag, Juan Diaz, a vaquero, has it. I saved his life once. He's got a shack in the mountains near San Rafael, down in the State of Sonora.

Dick Tenderly Picked Up His Wife.

in Mexico. And we'll go to the Mexican while the goat is good."

The others agreed to this, and at Screwwe's suggestion the Kid was left behind to watch for any possible pursuers while the others pushed on, the plan being to meet at sundown on a certain rift in the mountains.

Led by Dick and Tomas, the brave seekers of the "Riven Flag" set out across the desert to the distant mountains, following the easily defined trail of the outlaws. In high spirits at their marvelous escape from the cliff and encouraged by the addition of the Indian to their forces, they traveled swiftly over the sand stretch, to be halted by a sudden warning from Tomas, whose keen eyes had seen a lone horseman riding leisurely back along the trail.

Pulling their horses behind a hillock, they watched and soon recognized the rider as the Kid.

Turning aside, by urging their horses among the rocks and hillocks, they soon passed the Kid and took up their position just back from the trail along which he would pass to join Scarface. It was easy for the Indian to haul the unsuspecting Kid from his saddle with a lariat and binding his arms they threw him across a horse and continued their way toward the mountain pass.

Scarface and his men had made camp and were waiting the arrival of the Kid, when their leader, sweeping the trail with his glasses, caught sight of Dick and his companions.

Screwwe took a look, and with a curse exclaimed: "Yep! The Injun done it. And they got the Kid, too. Come on."

In the outlaw camp a council was held, and it was the villainous ingenuity of Scarface that evolved a scheme to capture or kill their pursuers and rescue the Kid.

The trail at that point ran along the side of the mountain. On one side rose a sheer cliff, on the other was a deep ravine with sheer sides, the ground rising a few feet, forming a sort of chute. The trail rose rather precipitously and at a sharp bend a huge boulder blocked the way. It was on that boulder that Scarface centered his activities. Beneath the boulder and on the upperside, he placed a heavy charge of dynamite, to be exploded by a detonator. Above this detonator was suspended a small rock, easily dislodged by a sharp pull on a string running out and across the trail a few inches from the ground, but well concealed by twigs.

The plan - and it worked with deadly perfection - was that the horse of the leading rider would give the string the pull that would loosen the small rock on the detonator, and then the huge boulder, dislodged, would crush its irresistible way down the trail, giving to any one caught there the option of being crushed to death against the side of the cliff or of leaping to death into the ravine.

Unsuspecting and unsuspecting, Dick and his companions rode into the trap, and it was Dick's horse that stumbled against the string. There was a rocking explosion that almost hurled him from the saddle and sent the other horses cowering against the cliff, and the boulder, torn from its foundation, came rolling like a death juggernaut down the trail.

BURLESON GIVES UP WIRE CONTROL

TELEGRAPH AND PHONE LINES RETURNED TO PRIVATE OWNERSHIP.

RATE QUESTION NOT AFFECTED

Action Comes As Complete Surprise - Wire Operators in 10 Southern States Out On Strike.

Washington - Postmaster General Burleson on June 5, issued an order returning the telephone and telegraph systems of the country to private ownership, effective immediately.

Under Mr. Burleson's order, while it places operation of the wire systems under private control, does not affect questions of rates and financial relations between the government and the companies, which the postmaster general announced would be left to congress. It also provides that each company keep its account during the remainder of the period of government control, so that proper settlement may be made when such control ends.

Regulations prohibiting discrimination against employees because of union affiliations also are maintained.

The wire operating board is abolished, but the wire control board will continue to function.

Congressional leaders to whom the action of the postmaster general came as a surprise said the order was somewhat confusing in that it returns physical operation of the systems, but retains actual control, through the financial provisions.

Telegraphers in 10 States Quit. Washington - Employees of the Western Union Telegraph company in Florida, Alabama, Georgia, South and North Carolina, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and in New Orleans, who are members of the Commercial Telegraphers' union were ordered to go on strike on June 5 by S. J. Koenekamp, president of that organization.

President Koenekamp said the strike order was issued in support of Atlanta telegraph and telephone operators, who went out several days ago, and asserted that it would unquestionably be followed by a nationwide strike within a few days.

83 KILLED IN POWDER BLAST. Trolley Wire Sets Off Explosives On Train Passing Through Tunnel.

Wilkesbarre, Pa. - Eighty-three men dead and 50 burned and maimed, many of whom will die, is the toll of a disaster in the Baltimore tunnel of the Delaware & Hudson Coal company, in the east end section of this city, June 5. Seven kegs of black powder, 300 pounds in all, were detonated and the dead and maimed were literally roasted by the super-heated gas flames following the explosion.

The tragedy occurred while the men were on their way to work in a train of 14 mine cars drawn by an electric motor, the powder being carried in two cars in the middle of the train. The train had penetrated the tunnel about 200 feet when the overhead trolley wire sagged, and, touching a steel powder keg, formed a short circuit. In an instant there was a shower of sparks and a terrific blast. A great sheet of flame, drawn by the air current, enveloped the helpless men who had no possible chance to escape.

SUFFRAGE NOW UP TO STATES. Three-Fourths of Legislatures Must O. K. Measure to Make It Valid.

Washington - With their fight in congress won after nearly 40 years of effort, advocates of woman suffrage have turned their attention to the various state legislatures, three-fourths of which must ratify the constitutional amendment, before victory can be won.

Realization of the hopes and efforts of the leaders in the equal suffrage campaign came on June 5, with the adoption by the senate of the historic Susan B. Anthony constitutional amendment resolution by a vote of 56 to 25.

The house adopted the amendment on May 21.

Eighty Die in Movie House Fire. Valencia Sur Rhone, France. - Eighty persons died and scores of others were injured when fire destroyed a motion picture house here. Four thousand spectators were in the theater and there was a mad rush for the exits. Many children were trampled.

Daring Fireman Prevents Suicide. New York - Tying a rope around his waist Fireman Timothy Fitzgerald leaped from the tenth floor of a fashionable Brooklyn hotel, swung through a window on the ninth floor, knocking down Mrs. M. M. Canda, and frustrating her threatened attempt to hurl herself to death. The woman had locked herself in the room after announcing her intention to commit suicide. Hotel clerks succeeded in keeping her in parley while Fitzgerald got ready.

Congress to Probe War Expenses. Washington - Unanimous approval was given by the house to a resolution increasing the war expenditures committee to 15 members, so that five separate investigations of disposition of funds by the war department may be made. The republican leaders explained that inquiries were planned into expenditures for aviation, ordnance, camps and cantonments, quartermaster supplies and in foreign countries. Each committee consists of two republicans and one democrat.

"CALLUS CORNS" LIFT RIGHT OFF

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bipro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, it develops, arm, neck and bust, and replacing dry hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Your body needs more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Phosphorus, which is a building material that will apply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as Bipro-Phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, Bipro-Phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should disappear and eyes become bright, and pain cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION - Always buy Bipro-Phosphate in unbranded packages for relief of nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness. It should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

Weak From Pain

Mrs. Gibbert Was in Misery, But Doan's Brought Her Splendid Health. "About 16 years ago my kidneys were in bad condition," says Mrs. Lucy Gibbert, 1830 Columbia Ave., Harvey, Ill. "There was a constant, dull, boring, down pain in the small of my back. I couldn't turn over in bed without such pain I could hardly breathe. Mornings I was stiff, sore and lame all over; my back was like a rusty hinge. Inflammation of the bladder nearly drove me to the world. The kidney sections passed every little while, day and night, a little at a time and burned like fire. Great seas of water formed under my eyes."

"I was in such misery," Mrs. Gibbert would become weak and so nervous I would scream. I had nerve-racking headaches and the back of my neck ached me. I was so dizzy I didn't dare bend over for fear of falling on my face. My sight became blurred. I was stiff, sore and lame all over; my back was like a rusty hinge. "Five boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble. Since then I have enjoyed splendid health and I owe it all to Doan's. It made the case and scores to before me." SAMUEL DANIK, Notary Public.

BILIOUSNESS Caused by Acid-Stomach

If people who are bilious are treated according to local symptoms they seldom get very much better. What over relief is obtained is usually temporary. True biliousness is its cause and removal the cause and the chance are that the patient will remain strong and healthy.

Doctors say that more than 100 organic diseases can be traced to an Acid-Stomach. Bloating, belching, sour stomach, flat and gas, are other signs of acid-stomach. EATONIC, the most powerful stomach remedy, brings quick relief from these stomach ailments which lead to a long train of ailments that make life miserable if not corrected.

EATONIC literally absorbs and carries away the excess acid. Makes the stomach strong, cool and comfortable. Helps digestion, improves the appetite and lets the gut full strength from your food. Thousands may get EATONIC in the mail, and receive stomach remedy in the world. It is the only one. Try it on our money-back guarantee. Write for a free trial. It costs only 50c for a big box.

PUBLIC NOTICE

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Notice is hereby given that it is the intention of the Commission of the Village of Plymouth to construct a public sewer or drain along the following route in the village of Plymouth, to-wit:

From a point in Tonquah Creek and running thence northerly across the private property of Edson O. Huston and Charles A. Fisher to Penniman avenue; thence across Penniman avenue; thence across private property of Kate E. Allen and John E. Rauch to Church street; thence across Church street to Blunk avenue; thence along Blunk avenue to the intersection of Blunk avenue with Farmer street.

That two-thirds of the expense of said improvement will be assessed on the lots or lands particularly benefited by said improvement in proportion as near as may be to the benefit which each of the aforesaid pieces or parcels of land will receive by reason of said public improvement; the property to be so assessed being included within the following bounds, to-wit:

Beginning at the intersection of Church street and Blunk avenue; running thence west along Church street to the west line of Lot 1 of Kate E. Allen's Addition to Park Place; thence north along said west line to the northeast corner of said lot; thence easterly to the west line of Lot 192 of William A. Blunk's Addition to the Village of Plymouth; thence along the west line of said lot 192 to the center of William Avenue; thence west along the center line of William Avenue to the center line of Arthur Avenue; thence along the northerly line of Arthur Avenue to the center line of Junction Avenue; thence easterly along the center line of Junction Avenue to the alley between Blunk and Ann avenues; thence southerly along said alley to Farmer street; thence easterly along the center line of Farmer street to the center line of Ann Avenue; thence southerly along Ann Avenue to William Avenue; thence westerly along William Avenue to the northeast corner of Lot 187 of William A. Blunk's Addition; thence southerly to Church street; also beginning at the intersection of Church street and Blunk Avenue and running thence west to the west line of the property of John H. Kimble; thence southerly along said Kimble's west line to the center of Penniman Avenue; thence easterly to the east line of the property of William A. Rattenbury; thence northerly to the center of Church street aforesaid.

That maps, plans, specifications, drawings, diagrams and estimates of the cost of the said sewer are now on file in the office of the Village Clerk subject to public inspection, and that the Commissioners of said Village of Plymouth will meet in the village hall at said village on Monday the 16th day of June, A. D. 1919, at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of hearing objections and suggestions in regard to the construction of said improvement.

D. G. BROWN, Village Clerk.
Dated, June 2, 1919.

A whole lot of Plymouth men could raise themselves in the estimation of their wives if they'd say to them, "Let's get along without as many warm meals as we can during the heated spell."

According to Dr. Marker, Eloise is no longer furnishing free living to the usual number of bums who were considered useless because of drink. Since the state went dry the number of this class of inmates has gradually dwindled from 1500 in the six months before the state went dry to 450 in the six months following prohibition. Dr. Marker states that now when a man can't get a drink he goes to work while formerly the practice was to put up at Eloise.

The Musolf Bros. of this place, have been in the business of raising Holstein cattle about four years, and are now at the top of the heap of Michigan breeders. Even the celebrated Pontiac Asylum herd causes them no worry in competition. At the Howell sale recently, they sold a cow to Pennsylvania parties for $700, and a male to Michigan parties for over $600. No other breeder at the sale came anywhere near touching these prices.—South Lyon Herald.

Funeral services for Thomas Gittins were held at the Baptist church, Tuesday morning, Rev. H. H. Davis officiating. Mr. Gittins came to this country from England in May 1863. He later married Josephine Andrews of Redford, and resided in the vicinity of Plymouth a number of years. Twenty-two years ago he moved to Gerfield. Six years ago he united with the Baptist church of Crump. Besides his wife he leaves five children, four sisters, one brother and numerous relatives to mourn their loss. Mrs. M. D. Kennedy and Mrs. George Miller, sisters of the deceased, are residents of Redford. Interment was at Grand Lawn cemetery.—Redford Record.

Today's Reflections

Thank goodness, Herbert Hoover is still in Europe, and this year we can return to the old-fashioned reunion with "dinner on the ground."

As poor as he may be, many a Plymouth man would gladly give a week's wages if it were possible for him to again go around with his toe tied up as in the good old stone-bruise days.

It remains to be seen if we learned enough from the war to make every foreigner show a clean slate before he's allowed to land on our shores.

As one well-known Plymouth man figures on the war, it was a super-thing because it left us all broke, and we won't have enough coin to finance another one for the next few years.

Germany never fully realized that she had lost the war until she got hold of the peace decision, and saw that she wasn't going to get off with a suspended sentence.

Our boys did wonderful work over there—but they can't walk back home. Drop around and buy a few more thrift stamps.

And the Plymouth boy who has to pay a little more for a ball, a bat or an ice cream soda, also knows what it was that Mr. Sherman said about war.

The average Plymouth wife finds out how her husband likes to have her do her hair up—and then she does it up some other way.

The girls have become so nervous nowadays that widows are the only ones who get as it they were afraid of men.

Musical Authority Places Stamp of Approval on Centenary Trombone Choir of M. E. Celebration

A WONDERFUL organization of 100 trombone players, to be heard in concert of sacred, semi-sacred and patriotic numbers, is to be one of the outstanding features of the Methodist Centenary Celebration at Columbus, O., June 20 to July 13. At first this unusual musical organization was not taken seriously by musical authorities. Investigation, however, stilled all criticisms and turned doubt into enthusiasm. The picture shows Dr. Edgar Stillman Kelley of Western College for Women, Oxford, O., composer of "New England Symphony," "Pilgrim's Progress" and other orchestral compositions of world fame, congratulating Frank M. Sutphen, director of the trombone choir on his great success. Dr. Kelly at once arranged to furnish some special scores for the trombone choir. On the left of Mr. Kelley is Hermann Bellstedt of Cincinnati, a bandmaster of national reputation, who was also amazed at the work of the trombone choir. "Not trombone spoken so wonderfully," he says. "The days of Berlioz has the trombone spoken so wonderfully," he says. Between Mr. Bellstedt and Mr. Sutphen stands H. B. Dickson, organizing secretary of the Centenary Celebration, who is the father of the trombone choir idea and who had faith in it, before the musicians themselves.

FORMER PLYMOUTH BOY IN FRANCE

We are pleased to publish the following letter from Egbert R. Isbell, a former Plymouth boy, and the son of W. N. Isbell, formerly superintendent of the Plymouth schools. Egbert has been attending the university at Beaune, France, since last March, and has just finished the course and is expected home soon: Wednesday, March 26, 1919.

My Dearest Parents: Two days full of everything. Yesterday morning we started at 8:45 to re-bike the twelve miles back to Beaune. One meat sandwich each was issued before we started, which we ate on the way. It drizzled most of the way, and when at 1 p. m. we arrived it was raining quite hard. This didn't bother us much though till we entered our barrack and found it floor-less, roof-less, stove-less, light-less, bunk-less and mattress-less, and with cloth windows. This made things appear a bit discouraging, but after some coffee and bread we went to work to make things habitable. It wasn't long before bunks and mattresses appeared. An open fire at each end of the barrack was also built and we dried out considerably. After supper our packs arrived (they had been carried in trucks) and it wasn't long before things looked real home-like with bunks made up and candles burning. We stretched our shelter-halves over us and slept tight and dry as a bug in a rug.

It was very interesting to watch the temper of the fellows throughout. When we first arrived language couldn't express their disgust. And a Yank's disgust and disappointment always expressed itself in cynicism, derision made forcible by a super-abundance of all kinds of language. The prevailing thoughts were: "Who wants to go back to his outfit now?" "Why in h— did they want to start such a thing as a university for anyway? Why didn't they send us home and send us to school there? A. E. F. University! Three cheers for Beaune! Beaune! Beaune! Pas-bon!" !!! Those of an optimistic, cheerful disposition shone very distinctly indeed for awhile. But they all got busy just the same, and if you had been through it all you would have hardly believed your ears in the evening when things were even a little better. "When we get things fixed up here it won't be so bad." Yanks always make a far bigger fuss over a thing than it deserves. And underneath all of this talk there's a certain buoyancy that won't be downed by anything.

Today we worked hard all morning covering the mud floor with gravel and putting the tar-paper roofing on. The fellows in the other end of our barrack got their half of the roof and most of ours done by shortly after noon. Then they all struck and said that if we wanted protection, we'd have to finish it. But for some reason or other our bunch seemed indisposed so the roof went undone. Then, about dark, it began to sprinkle and look stormy—and you should have seen the industrious roofers.

Things aren't just right yet. For instance we have to go to mess in formation and come back in formation! Likewise with those who go at 1:20. And tonight we had to get our shelter-halves, one for every two men, and go to a distant gravel-pit and carry gravel back for the floor of another company. And we have to do the same thing tomorrow morning after breakfast till class time! And the work that is laid out for our lieutenants permits them time for one meal only per day—dinner.

But there isn't nearly the cussing tonight, and things will soon settle down, and we'll become accustomed to the new order of things—and I feel that in some respects Beaune will be the greatest university in the world.

Love,
EGBERT.

FIXING LEAKY FOUNTAIN PEN

Really No Need to Put Up With Annoyance That Can Be Remedied Easily.

If you have a fountain pen that leaks around the joints, especially so if it is one of those types of fountain pens having a point which disappears by turning a section of the barrel, try an application of heavy oil. To remedy the defect, soak the pen in warm water, not hot, and allow it to dry, particularly inside. Then apply oil on the spindle which revolves. The oil should be worked through the bearings from end to end. You can now refill the pen and wipe off the excess oil. A heavy cylinder oil is best for this purpose. To unscrew the parts of a fountain pen which have become set, merely heat the pen with hot water or by holding it near a flame, but be careful not to get too hot for there is danger of melting. While pen is heated a slight twist will often loosen the set.—Frank P. Goeder, Colorado Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colo.

Good Advice.

"I am to make my first public speech tomorrow night. What would you advise me to do?" asked the young man of an old-time after-dinner speaker.

"Are you fond of your wife and children?" asked the old-timer.

"Yes, very."

"Like your home?"

"Very much."

"Do you enjoy having an occasional evening at home with your wife and kiddies?"

"I certainly do."

"Well then take my advice. Make that speech of your's tomorrow as bad as you possibly can. Make it so bad that they'll never ask you to speak in public again, and live in peace and contentment the remainder of your life."

"Then guard houses at the train's camps is shuah doin' a gran' work, jes' like the Red Cross," observed Cindy, the colored laundress. "They saved mah boy Duke's life."

"How is that, Cindy?" queried her employer.

"I dunno how they done it. Only he wrote me a postal card sayin' if he hadn't got ten days in one of 'em he'd a' been a corp."

Michigan Happenings

Kalkaska—Six sons ranging in age from 9 to 26 years acted as pall bearers at the funeral of Mrs. Clara Foster, of Alden.

Petoskey—One hundred and forty cans containing 700,000 wall-eyed perch, were received here and distributed in nearby lakes.

Kalamazoo—The new concrete paved way between Kalamazoo and Galesburg, nine miles east of the city, will be opened June 9.

East Lansing—Treatment of seed corn to make it unpalatable is recommended by M. A. C. experts as the best method of keeping a corn field free of crows.

Caro—Remaining unconscious for 76 hours after complaining of a severe headache, Miss Mary Dyer became partly roused and after taking light nourishment died an hour later.

Jackson—Six farmers of Summit Township returned to their homes, after a day spent in Jackson, to find burglars had been busy and had used an automobile to carry away their plunder.

Kalamazoo—Charles Denaen received a telegram purporting to come from his son, just landed at Hoboken from overseas and asking for funds. Denaen has learned that his son is still in Europe.

Roscommon—Many towns and villages in Roscommon County have already appointed committees to make arrangements for demonstrators in home economics who are coming here from Lansing.

Bay City—Adam Kolb, retired business man, has deeded a tract of 30 acres to the board of education to be used as an athletic field. The tract is valued at $12,000 and will be known as the Adam Kolb Field.

Leatie—Mrs. Anna O'Brien, was instantly killed and Mrs. Rebecca Dennis, of this village, was seriously injured when the automobile driven by Mrs. Dennis skidded and plunged down an embankment two miles west of this town.

Grand Rapids—Richard Cook, 69 years old died of a bullet wound, received while boys were at target practice. Cook was struck as he was planting potatoes in his own back yard. He leaves a widow and four children.

Adrian—Six representative Adrian business men have been selected to draft plans and draw articles of incorporation for the proposed housing corporation here, whereby it is hoped to solve the home shortage problem of this city.

Oakley—The first jury of women in Saginaw County decided that although a potato crop was raised on Michigan Central property by Tom Sawyer, hotel keeper, Charles Bullock, the railroad's agent, was not entitled to a share of the spuds.

Bay City—George Harris, of Bay City, went unscathed through six big battles while with the Canadians in France. Recently while riding a bicycle, he was hit by an automobile driven by Joseph Gates, of Midland, and received a broken arm.

Royal Oak—When a work car crashed into the rear of a D. U. R. passenger car near here, Francis Galbart, of Ortonville, had his leg so badly crushed that amputation was necessary. Both cars were badly smashed but no other serious injuries resulted.

Owosso—Lieut. Edward Jennings is one of the five men who reached here with Co. M of Owosso. Lieut. Jennings crossed as a private but was promoted for bravery on the field of Javigny. He was awarded the Croix de Guerre and the Belgian war cross.

Battle reek—Mrs. Alice Rogers has been awarded $7,800 in Circuit Court in her suit against the estate of Frederick Mayer, for whom she was a housekeeper for 10 years. She claimed Mayer had no heirs and had frequently told her she would inherit all he left.

An Gres—A 107-lb. sturgeon was caught here in the Saginaw bay at the Brackenbury fishery. It was six feet in length. Sturgeon are very rarely caught in these waters. They capture many small fish and, like the German carp, are a very voracious eater of the fishy tribe.

Grand Rapids—Joseph Watznauer is dead as the result of a broken neck, received when his automobile turned over in front of police headquarters. Immediately after the accident he and four companions were rescued from the wreckage and locked up on a charge of being intoxicated. The next day he complained and went to the hospital. He was sent back, the physician reporting that he was still intoxicated. The second trip to the hospital revealed the broken neck and death followed a few hours later.

Lansing—Father Patrick R. Dunigan, chaplain 126th infantry and former mayor of Leeper, has been promoted to the rank of major and is now chaplain-in-chief of the entire army on the Rhine. He did not return with his regiment, but volunteered to remain overseas to assist in adjusting the many difficult questions that remain to be solved when a large part of an army of occupation withdraws from once hostile territory. Chaplain Dunigan, it is understood, is to supervise the exhuming of the bodies buried in France.

Houghton—The most remarkable demonstration ever seen in the copper country was put on when the Michigan battalion of the 107th engineers of the Thirty-second division of the A. E. F. came home. Throughout the district every whistle at every plant was blowing, every station was packed with humanity. At Calumet automobiles were provided for every man to reach home. Calumet had sent a complete company of engineers to the war and justly rejoiced over the fact that every man returned home—no one was accounted for.

CHILDREN'S DAY IN METHODIST CHURCH

CHILDREN HAVE RIGHT OF WAY SUNDAY MORNING.

We have Mothers' Day and Old People's Day, but next Sunday morning the children have the right of way in the service at the Methodist church. A special program of recitations, songs and drills, in which the younger boys and girls predominate, has been prepared under the direction of Mrs. G. H. Whitney, Florence Newell and Roxie Jones, and will be given at 10 o'clock, the hour of the usual morning service. The baptism of the children of believing parents will be a part of the service.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The services of the church next Sunday are somewhat unusual and special attention is called to them. The morning service will be given over to the children, and the time is 10:30 o'clock. There will be no Sunday-school hour. The whole service will be for the children. Some special numbers will be given, and the quartet will as usual supply their very large and helpful part of the service. A quartet of children will sing, and the pastor will deliver a special sermonette to children. We all can be children on that day, and worship in the spirit and mind of the children, and then we can be assured that our worship will not be in vain. Let all the parents see to it that the children are all at the church by 10:25 promptly. The children will march in singing, "Onward Christian Soldiers." Come and join with the children.

PLYMOUTH DEFEATS WAYNE

The Plymouth base ball team defeated Wayne in a closely contested game at Wayne, last Saturday afternoon, by a score of 3 to 1. Tousey and Williams was the battery for Plymouth. Tousey pitched a no hit game.

Wayne will play a return game here, Saturday afternoon, at 3:00 o'clock, and it promises to be one of the best that has been played on the home lot this season. Don't miss it. Tousey and Williams will be the battery for Plymouth.

BIG TIME AT YPSI

Ypsilanti will hold its third Alle-Festa and Victory celebration in that city, July 2, 3, 4, 5. This event has always been a great success in the past, but this year it promises to far eclipse any previous celebration that has ever been pulled off in Ypsi. Among the events scheduled to take place is a stupendous Independence Day parade at 10:00 a. m., July 4th; an old-fashioned one-ring circus, vaudeville acts, dancing and minstrel shows, any number of other attractions. It is going to be the biggest time old Washtenaw has ever seen.

Presbyterian Notes

The Board of Trustees held a very important and busy session last Monday night, clearing up a full slate of business for the church. Every member was present but one, and manifested a keen interest in the work of the church. It is a splendid guarantee for the sane and wise management of the affairs of the church, and that they shall be handled in a business-like manner to see such a group of thorough going business men earnestly giving themselves without stint to this end of the work of the church. It is deeply encouraging.

Rev. Mr. Bicknell is planning a special feature sermon for the 22nd, when he will deliver an address to all who are expecting to spend their summer vacation anywhere. The whole community is asked to consider itself invited to hear this special message on the theme, "God's Temple of the Great Out of Doors." Announcement is being made of this service thus far ahead in order that all might plan for it, and arrange the schedules so as to be present. Special music will be rendered which will make the service worth while to be present. If it is too warm we will hold the service in the basement, which is the "coolest place in town." Come and see for yourselves.

The regular communion service of the church will be held on the 29th of June. This change is made from the first Sunday in July to the last in June as so many are going away the first of July. Make your plans to be present. You need this means of grace, do not neglect it.

School Notes

Last Friday night the Junior class gave the play, "Tompkins Hired Man," in the High School auditorium. Everyone said that it was very good. One man remarked that it was the best amateur play he had ever seen, while several said it was the best home talent ever given in Plymouth. A former Plymouth student said that the people picked out were just the right ones for the characters which they were to portray. It is well known that Mildred Hood, as Julia, could well take the part of the spoiled daughter of the family. Mildred Gates, as Louise, seemed accustomed to the part she had to take, and although Floyd Kehrl, as John Remington, was a bit shy at first, he became an expert later on. Sarah Wilson looked the part of the old farmer's wife, Mrs. Tompkins, and Louis Thomas, as Mr. Tompkins, was satirical and again emotional enough to be a regular actor. Florence Greenlaw, as Ruth, had the "pop" and the "snap" needed for her part. Lyman Judson, as Dixey, was the hero, and someone said that the whole audience fell in love with him. He and Ruth were Mr. and Miss Fix-It. Vernon Weed, as Jerry, looked and acted the part of a half-grown, awkward country-lad, and his brick-red hair made quite an impression. Considering that the Juniors had but three weeks of rehearsal, the way in which they carried off their play must be credited to their ability and that of their director, Miss Leach.

Mrs. O. Beyer visited the sixth grade on Monday, June 9th. Mrs. Edna Oliver of Lodi, California, visited the second grade, last week. Miss Alice Brudson of the M. A. C., visited the domestic science department, Monday, June 9th. Miss Brunsdon expects to continue the work of Mrs. Cavanaugh, next year.

LETTER FROM ARCHANGEL

Northern Russia, Archangel District, April 20, 1919

Dear Mother and All:

I received your most welcome letter the 10th of April, and was certainly glad to hear from you. We are all feeling fine, and hope you folks are all the same. Lee Sackett and Harry Mumby are still with me, and are in the best of health.

Well, the snow is most gone now, and is very muddy and it rains most every night. Well, it won't be long before we will be home, for everything is in fine shape, and we ought to be home by the first of July.

"Gee," Ma, all the women over here are wearing boots, and I tell you it looks pretty tough.

I have been in this "Godforsaken country" nine months, and it seems like nine years. We left New York on the 27th of July; landed in England, August 4, 1918, and we left England for Russia, August 24, 1918.

Well, I have not much more to say for it is bedtime, so good night. Hoping to see you all soon.

From your son,
CORPORAL CLARENCE SCHWARZ,
Co. A, 319th Engineers.

Archangel, Northern Russia.
P. S.: Harry, Mumby, and Lee Sackett give their best regards to all the Plymouth folks. By the way, I ran across Leon Willett and he is looking fine.

The Wrap You'll Want for Cool Summer Evenings

may be either one of these lovely billowy taffeta and satin dolmans—

Or a serge Cape—

Or one of the newest black velvet artist jackets.

Or if you want one that you can use on the way to tennis, and golf, or for canoeing, make it a bright wool or silk sweater—or a wool jersey sport coat.

There's something attractively youthful and summery about all of these—and any of them may be worn with the summer girl's white skirt and Georgette waist costume.

It pays to buy the right kind of silk stockings! We carry Eiffel, Phoenix and Gotham brands, because we know they're good, and because we can truthfully recommend them.

Dainty Silk Underclothes—camisoles, petticoats and envelope chemises—will do much to help you keep cool in hot weather.

We're still continuing our Final Clearance of Coats, Suits and Dresses.

Bible Students

Our Revelation study thus far has disclosed the meaning and significance of the seven churches (apocals) and the seven messengers (angels). Now for the breaking of the seven seals. When were they broken? What the significance? etc., etc. If the breaking of the last seal permits the scroll (God's plan) to be wide open (become fully known), and the mystery of God to be disclosed, do we not well to know it? Also has the seventh messenger of the church (angel) yet sounded? "In the days of the voice of the seventh angel... the mystery of God should be finished." Rev. 10:7. Come and have a study with us, June 15th, at 2:00 P. M.

To Prevent Bleeding.

Make a regular habit of eating slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, and you may have no further trouble. If you should take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after dinner.

Straighten Up

THE man or woman afflicted with backache, swollen muscles, stiff joints, rheumatism or other symptoms of kidney trouble, is entitled to sympathy and should be helped. Chamberlain's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for these ailments. Nature gives every warning of kidney trouble by pain in the back, spots before the eyes, dry mouth, biliousness, weakness and pain, watery, dry skin.

It is useless to neglect the slightest warning of kidney trouble. Chamberlain's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for these ailments.

Foley-Kidney Pills

These pills are the best remedy for kidney trouble. They are sold in all drug stores.

FLAG DAY/PROCLAMATION

Our flag floats today over a land that rejoices not only in peace with victory, but in peace with victory and honor. No shameful or unworthy act has dimmed the glory of our starry banner. A year ago the free nations of the earth were looking to America as the hope of democracy and civilization. America has not disappointed them. She has been true to her trust; and today, thank God, our brave soldiers and sailors and marines are coming back to us after gloriously upholding the honor of the flag on land and sea.

It's only an old bit of bunting. But thousands have died for its honor. And shed their best blood for the flag.

Let Flag Day then remind us of the meaning and significance of the flag of our country; and I suggest that on that day we inaugurate the general custom of uncovering for the colors. Whenever the flag goes by, let every man remove his hat and every woman stand at salute.

In this way we shall do honor to ourselves and to the memory of the gallant men who have laid down their lives in the cause of human rights and human freedom.

Therefore, I, ALBERT E. SLEEPER, Governor of the State of Michigan do issue this my Proclamation, and urgently request that Saturday, the fourteenth day of June, 1919, be observed as Flag Day.

Let flags be displayed on both public and private buildings; and, as Flag Day will fall on Saturday, when the schools will be closed, I suggest that on Sunday, June 15th, fitting Flag Day programs be given in all the churches in the state.

Let us honor the flag.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of State, this sixth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-third.

ALBERT E. SLEEPER—Governor.

By the Governor: COLEMAN C. VAUGHN, Secretary of State.

Willard SERVICE STATION

WHAT'S A BATTERY EXPERT?

Expert: "One who has special skill, experience or knowledge." Every Willard expert must have all three when it comes to handling batteries.

Our experience immediately tells us where your battery troubles are. Our knowledge tells you what needs to be done; and our skill assures a workmanlike job.

We're at your service.

We want to tell you about Threading Rubber too, and give you a copy of the booklet, "A Mark with a Meaning for You."
