New Perfection Oil Cook Stoves

Over 2,000,000 housewives prefer the New Perfection Oil Cook Stove. It has the famous Long Blue Chimney Burner—that's why it's so popular. The secret: This long Blue Chimney Burner turns kerosene oil into clean, intense cooking heat and radiates it full force, directly against the utensil. Because it is exactly the right length, it gives you exactly the right heat for every cooking.

At the touch of a match you have a flame that will do your cooking without the dirt of kerosene or kindling. You can also use wood, any other cooking flame you want, right down to the bottom—a simple turn of the hand does it. The flame is steady, it shines right through the mica doors—and always stays on.

COMMISSION BUY AUTO FIRE TRUCK

COMMISSION DISPOSES OF SEVERAL IMPORTANT ITEMS OF BUSINESS MONDAY EVENING.

At a meeting of the village commission, Monday evening, considerable important business was transacted. For some time past the commission has been considering the purchase of an auto fire truck. They have been giving the matter careful investigation with a view of getting the best truck possible for the money, and at the same time get something that will meet the needs of the village for some time to come. Several different trucks have been under consideration, and Monday evening it was finally decided to purchase the American La France truck, manufactured at Cortland, N. Y. This truck is a combination hose and chemical truck, and carries 1000 feet of 2 1/2 inch fire hose; two 35-gallon copper chemical tanks and 200 feet of 1 1/2 inch chemical hose; one 12-foot roof ladder and one 24-foot extension ladder. The truck is equipped with a four cylinder Continental motor, and develops 42 h. p. The truck is guaranteed to get to a fire and back again under any fire load. The cost of the outfit is $4,200, and it is expected it will be delivered here in about two months. The new truck will be housed in the village hall, which will be remodeled to provide suitable housing conditions for the village fire apparatus.

Plymouth has felt the need of more modern fire equipment for some time, and the commission are to be congratulated on the purchase of this splendid piece of up-to-date fire apparatus.

The matter of a drain on Blunk avenue was up before the commission for consideration, and was disposed of by granting the request of the petitioners for a drain on that street.

The request of the Plymouth & Northville Gas Co., asking that they be allowed to place a meter rental charge of 25c per month, was discussed at some length, but no action taken.

RIGGS' STORE BURGLARIZED

THE DRY GOODS STORE OF E. L. RIGGS IS ROBBED OF ABOUT $1,500 WORTH OF MERCHANDISE.

ROBBERS ENTER THE STORE BY CLEVERLY UNFASTENING A REAR WINDOW.

The dry goods store of E. L. Riggs was burglarized at a late hour Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning and about fifteen hundred dollars worth of merchandise spoiled. The robbers gained an entrance to the store through a rear window. The manner in which the thieves worked would indicate they were no novices at the game. A hole was bored at the top of the sash, and the window fastener released, and two nails which were driven into the casing as additional fasteners were removed by boring a hole at each corner and then pulling them out by means of a wire.

The robbery was discovered by Charles Riggs when he opened the store in the morning and found that goods in large quantities were missing. A show case that contained about forty silk waists was completely emptied. Quantities of silk yard goods, georgette crepe, percales, sheeting, caps and underwear were taken.

The thieves must have had a conveyance of some kind in waiting somewhere to get their loot out of town.

Lee Jewell, acting as one of the special night watches who are on duty in the business districts this week, says that once during the night he saw what seemed to him to be a flash of a light in the Martin dry goods store, but after watching the store for about twenty minutes saw nothing more. Outside of this one instance Nightwatch Jewell neither saw nor heard anything on his rounds that aroused his suspicion.

Chief of Police Springer had two detectives here from Detroit, Wednesday forenoon. The officers are working on a clue that may lead to developments. It is believed the robbery was pulled off by an organized band of men who are making a specialty of that line of goods all over the country, and who have "fences" for the disposition of their plunder in the larger cities.

SURVEY NEW RAILROAD

WORK HELD UP BY WAR IS AGAIN UNDER WAY.

A gang of surveyors has started on the proposed outer Detroit belt railroad, which had to be abandoned during war activities. The proposed road will extend from below Tranton north through Romulus, Wayne, Plymouth, Northville and thence to Pontiac, from which place it will run north towards Port Huron, connecting with the Handy Bros. line, which touches many industrial points in Michigan.

The local promoter of the proposition, F. N. Jacobson, has always been successful in enterprises in which he was interested, and he is very confident of the ultimate success of this project. The surveyors are now working between Pontiac and Mt. Clemens. In case the Handy Bros. become interested in the project, it is almost certain to be constructed quickly as they are experienced railroad builders.—Detroit Courier.

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The Wayne County Beekeepers' Association held a very instructive meeting at the beautiful home of Clifford Sorenson, near Dearborn, Tuesday, June 24th, which was very well attended. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President—A. E. Sharrow; Vice President—M. H. Hunt; Sec'y-Treas.—Mrs. A. E. Sharrow.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN DIES

William Tolles, a Civil war veteran, who resided between Plymouth and Newburg until last fall, when he was stricken with paralysis and taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Edward J. Knapp, 546 Vermont avenue, Detroit, died Thursday, June 26, aged 77 years. Mr. Tolles was a member of Co. E, 27th Michigan Infantry. The funeral was held from the home of his sister, Monday afternoon, at 2:00 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Atwater officiating. Interment in Elmwood cemetery. The following comrades of Eddy Post, Plymouth, attended the services: O. P. Showers, C. J. Banya, James Manser, James King, Charles Westfall, James Purdy.

Mrs. I. W. Hummell and children motored to Bellevue, Ohio, last week Wednesday, returning Monday. They report a very pleasant time.

Chief of Police Springer has a supply of operator's license application blanks for distribution. If you want one he will be glad to supply you.

At a recent session of the legislature, the so-called Operator's License Act was amended, whereby the minimum age was reduced from sixteen to fourteen.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT

FRED SCHMIDT OF DETROIT, SUFFERS A BROKEN LEG WHEN BIG BEAM FALLS ON HIM AT NEW BANK BUILDING.

Fred Schmidt, superintendent of the General Machine & Iron Works of Detroit, met with a most unfortunate accident shortly after the noon hour, Tuesday afternoon, while working on the new bank building. Mr. Schmidt was superintending the work of placing the big iron I-beams in position, and the last one was on the floor and just ready to be hoisted into place, when Mr. Schmidt was caught beneath the heavy beam when it suddenly tipped to one side, and he was pinned to the floor. Fellow workmen and citizens, who rushed to the scene of the accident when they heard the crash of the big beam and the unfortunate man's call for help, lifted him from the prostrate man, and he was taken to Dr. Kimball's office, where it was found that the left leg was broken near the hip, and he was badly lacerated. He was later taken to Harper hospital, Detroit, in Schmidt Bros' ambulance. It was a most lucky thing that Mr. Schmidt was not more seriously hurt, when it is taken into consideration that the beam weighed close to five tons. The fact that the beam, scraping down the side of the brick wall kept the greater part of the weight of him, no doubt saved his life.

TRANSFORMING THE FARM

Uncle Sam is busy, and getting busier, in making rural life attractive. Congress and various cabinet departments are working in this direction.

Everywhere in this country the telephone has reached the farms. Good road movements are looming up. Farming pays better than it ever did, but the signs are that the best is yet to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Olson of Chicago, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Baker on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett, who underwent an operation a few weeks ago, and granddaughter, Miss Eva Bennett, who has been visiting friends in Detroit, have returned to their home here.

D. A. Holloway has been awarded the contract for decorating the interior of the High school building. When the new building was built it was not decorated, as it was thought that the walls would be in better condition for decorating after thoroughly drying out.

Little Elaine and Mary Jane Hamilton have gone to Jackson for six weeks' visit with their grandmother, Mrs. E. E. Russell, while their parents are away on a western trip.

Edgar Harshbarger has sold his farm south of the village, to D. A. Campbell of Detroit. Mr. Campbell also purchased the live stock and farm tools.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Grace E. Oliver, aged 78 years, wife of Rev. J. B. Oliver, former pastor of the Methodist church of this place.

The mail representative is in receipt of a Chautauqua program from John E. Wilcox, who is spending the summer with his son, George, at Twin Falls, Idaho.

OBITUARY

MARY LOUISE ANDERSON
Mary Louise Anderson, second daughter of Lucy S. and the late Henry C. Anderson, was born at Hamtramck, Mich., October 18, 1874, and when a small child moved with her parents onto a farm in Canton township, a few miles south of Plymouth, where with the exception of the last few years, she spent her entire life.

She was educated in the district school near her home for a few years, then accepted a position in the Hamtramck school, where she remained for twelve years, resigning a year ago to accept a position in the Plymouth school, in order that she might live with her mother, but at that time her health failed and she was unable to carry out her plans.

Early in the fall with her sister, Mrs. Barber, she went to Arizona, but returned in March, not having received the benefit she had hoped to gain, and the past few months she had spent with her sister in Ypsilanti, returning to Plymouth only the Saturday preceding her death.

On her return to Michigan Miss Anderson seems to have improved in health, and her friends hoped that she might be gaining in strength, but the end came quietly Wednesday morning, June 27.

The deceased was a woman of the highest ideals, and was interested in anything that pertained to the uplift and advancement of mankind. She was a true, kind friend wherever her friendships were bestowed, and although at times during her illness she suffered greatly, she bore her sufferings with patience and fortitude.

Besides her mother she is survived by four sisters and three brothers: Mrs. W. H. Horn of Ypsilanti; Mrs. Grace Barber, Detroit; Mrs. George H. Robinson, Plymouth; Mrs. Perry Hix, Shelton; Frank, of Pesca River, Ontario, Alberta, Canada; and Harold C. Anderson of Plymouth, besides many friends, who deeply sympathize with the afflicted family in their bereavement.

The funeral was held from the home of her sister, Mrs. George Robinson, on Maple avenue, last Friday morning, June 27th, Rev. Karl P. Miller conducting the services. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

The following out of town friends attended the funeral: Mrs. Eobert Maitsevich of Sandwich, Ont.; Mrs. Eric Herdman of Orice, Ont.; Mrs. J. M. McKerchey, Mrs. John Malony and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Francis of Detroit; Mrs. Wm. Hayward of Wayne; Mrs. Alfred Rowe of Denton; Mrs. Charles Horn, Mrs. M. Barber and Mrs. Elmer Mower of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Charles Stanbro of Salem.

M. D. JOHNSON
M. D. Johnson was born October 27, 1856, in Ellington, Chautauqua county, New York.

When a young man he went west, and in 1886 married Emma Emerson of Spencer, Iowa, where they lived a few years, then came to Michigan, where they have lived the past twenty-three years.

He leaves a devoted wife, two sons, a daughter and husband, one grandchild and two sisters to mourn their loss. The family lose thoughtful and affectionate husband and father, and the vicinity a kind and considerate neighbor and friend.

The funeral services were held at the home in Livonia, Tuesday afternoon, June 16, Rev. F. M. Field officiating. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN ROBINSON

William Robinson and family and George Robinson and family were called to Wayne, Wednesday, to attend the funeral of the former's daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Robinson, who died suddenly at her home near Wayne, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Robinson lost her husband only four months ago. She is survived by two sons, Sergeant Orlo and Lieutenant Guy Robinson, both of whom served in the recent war.

The latter who served in the aviation service and received sixteen shots while maneuvering with his plane, had just been released from the hospital and returned home that day. Burial took place in the family lot at Glenwood cemetery near Wayne.

Mrs. Robinson was born in Nankin township, September 3, 1869, and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Coleman. She was married to John Robinson in 1888, and had since lived on the farm where she died, with the exception of four years in Ypsilanti.

She was a member of the W. R. C. E. S., and Sons and Daughters of Veterans of Ypsilanti, and the W. R. C. of Wayne.

LEACH-SHAFER

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Beatrice Shafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durham of this place, and Corporal Arnold F. Leach of Kansas City, Kansas, which took place in Detroit, Wednesday, June 11th.

Miss Mary Lorenz of this place, and Maxwell Barrett of Kalamazoo, were quietly married at Wayne, Thursday morning, June 13th, at a wedding trip they will return to Plymouth, where they will reside for the present. Mr. Barrett is employed by J. H. Patterson.

Expenses of Telephone Company Increased 89.3%

Mr. Geo. M. Welch, General Manager of the Michigan State Telephone Company, declares that the increased rates authorized by the Postmaster General are needed to meet an emergency unparalleled in the history of the Company.

No dividends have been paid on the common stock since 1915. From 1915 to 1918, inclusive, new business requiring added capital increased the revenue of the Company 23.5% while expenses, not including depreciation nor interest charges, increased 89.3%.

If the Company had paid a reasonable return on the investment for the year 1918 it would have needed $2,823,692 more than it did earn. As a matter of fact it did not earn enough to wholly take care of its depreciation.

The General Manager calls attention to the problems in Michigan that faced the Postmaster General when the Government took over the operation and direction of the Telephone lines last August. With a continuing deficit increasing monthly because of the increasing costs of materials and labor, added revenue had to be obtained in order to prevent the Government from having to make up the loss.

For this reason an application was made before the Michigan Railroad Commission for increased rate schedules. The rates asked for were not claimed to be adequate but it was thought that they would produce the minimum amount with which the Company could continue doing business and were so low and the amount of added revenue so small that no one could conscientiously challenge them.

Since that time costs have still further advanced and conditions have changed so that the rates now authorized by the Postmaster General will not meet immediate needs.

Mr. Welch says that for six years there has been a continued effort to adjust telephone rates in Michigan. Because of rapidly changing conditions each schedule proposed has become obsolete before the regulatory bodies considering it had finally passed upon it.

With this change in rates the increase in charges for telephone service are not proportionately as great as the increase in price for all other commodities.

The dates for the Northville fair this year are September 24, 25, 26 and 27.

NEWBURG

In the absence of the pastor, who is attending the Centenary Exposition, Rev. Whitney of Plymouth, will preach at the usual hour, 2:15. Sunday-school at 1:30. Everyone cordially invited to attend. Don't forget your Centenary offering next Sabbath, the first Sunday in the month.

The L. A. S. will hold their regular meeting at Newburg hall, next week Friday afternoon, July 11th. Everyone urged to be present, as there is important business to transact.

Thirty-six W. C. T. U. ladies spent a very pleasant afternoon at the hall, last week Thursday. A ten-cent self-service lunch was enjoyed by all. They expressed the wish to come again next year.

The two circles in the L. A. S. contest have chosen the following flowers as their emblems: Mrs. C. E. Ryder's is the Michigan flower, golden rod, and Miss Hattie Hoisington's is the modest violet. Each member is to wear a dollar or more. The contest is to close the second Friday in August.

The interior of the Newburg hall presents a very neat appearance with its new windows, paper, paint, etc. Mrs. Mackinder as chairman is to be congratulated on the successful manner in which the work has been completed. The L. A. S. wish to thank all those who have assisted in the work.

July 1st was the cause of great rejoicing among temperance people. After spending two and a half weeks at the home of her son, Raymond, in Chicago, Mrs. C. E. Ryder returned to her home, last week Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Mackinder and little son of Grand Rapids, visited the parental home recently. Mrs. W. E. Lyman and Mrs. Edgar Stevens attended the funeral of Mrs. Smith in Plymouth, last Friday.

Mrs. James Bassett and Mrs. Beckett attended the funeral of William Tolles in Detroit, Monday afternoon. He was a veteran of the Civil war, having served in the navy. He had resided in this community for over forty years. For several years past he had lived alone in a cottage on the Ed. Bassett farm, until he became ill and helpless, when he went to Detroit to reside with his sister, Mrs. Knapp, where he passed away at the advanced age of 77 years, last Friday.

He was greatly respected by all who knew him. He had been a member of Newburg M. E. church for the past thirty years. Right of the old veterans from Newburg and Plymouth went to pay their last respects to their old friend and comrade. The Newburg Patriotic society also sent a beautiful wreath.

WHAT THE WORLD WAR COST

Ability to Meet it Consists in Country's Productive Power Exercised to the Limit.

The ultimate factor in war finance is not the dollar, but what the dollar can buy—at the moment when it is necessary to use it. The economic burden of a war is not borne by capital, that is, the stored-up savings invested in railroads, factories and banks, but by the productive power of the country, engaged in unproductive consumption.

When estimating the financial ability of a nation to make war a consideration of her wealth does not tell the story, just as a consideration of population, which would give Russia the first place, would be altogether false. It is the ability of a nation to master and mobilize her dollars and send them into the trenches and make them fight, that reveals her financial power as a military nation.

Great Britain and the United States, not being versed in the science of war did not understand this factor. The economic resources of these countries were not mobilized and massed all at once, but each government was forced to take over more and more of the machinery of production as war needs became increasingly great.

The cost of the war, as nearly as it can be estimated in money, shows the national debt which each belligerent now carries ranges from 46 per cent of the national wealth (in Japan) to 80 per cent of the national wealth (in Hungary). How these staggering liabilities are to be met is the problem for the future; but the United States, with a debt amounting to 5 per cent of her national wealth of $250,000,000,000, is in the favored position undoubtedly, facing unprecedented possibilities in credit expansion.

Threw but Seven.

The quartermaster's department in Hoboken is anything but a place of joy. It is where the effects of many thousands of doughboys who "went West" are sent for distribution. Each pitiful package or bundle or box is checked up and sent to the nearest relative. Occasionally, however, the solemnity of the situation is relieved by the laughter of one returned hero who comes to the spot to announce that he is not dead and to claim his precious belongings.

Sedulous Bards.

The descriptive power and fidelity of Arabic poetry in setting forth both the life of the people and the scenery of the clime are remarkable. It conjures up visions of tawny brows, flowing beards, soft eyes, picturesque turbans, pawing chargers, and patient dromedaries. We seem to be there. It is the land of the date tree and the fountain, the ostrich and the giraffe, the tent and the caravan. It is the home of the sturgeon and the mung. It is the world of the desert and the stars. Hospitality waves her torch through the night to win the wanderer to be a guest. The very picture, embodiment, breath, blize, of all this is in the lyrics of the Bedouin bards. The richness of their language, and something of the character of the people who use it, are shown in the fact that it has 80 names for honey, 300 for the lion, and a thousand for the sword!—William Russell Alger.

Take No Chances.

The following interesting bit of information is from Safety Engineering: "Not every one understands how inflammable and explosive chlorate of potash is. One man learned in a peculiar manner. He was carrying chlorate of potash tablets in a small bottle in his coat pocket; the cork presumably became loosened and fell out. Entering a street-car, he knocked the ash-tray from his pipe, as he supposed, and put it in this pocket. In a few moments there were spurts of blue flame, and the tablets 'went off.' For a time the man was in danger of being mistaken for an enemy spy, carrying bombs. The mystery of the explosion was solved by finding small particles of glass wedged in the clothing around where the bottle had been. Other than the shock to his own nerves and those of the passengers, the only damage was to his clothes, which were burned badly."

MATTERS THAT ARE APART

Woeer Discovered That Business Methods and Loversaking Are Things That Will Not Mix.

There was no sentiment about the young man. His had been a business training, and he carried business methods into his social life.

"Will you be my wife?" he asked bluntly. The girl looked startled.

"I'm not much of a lover," he added, "but I guess I'll make a pretty good husband. I might give you a whole lot of soft talk, but what's the use? Marriage is a contract and should be settled on a business basis. When I want anything in business I go after it bluntly. I generally know what I want, too, and I want you."

"Fortunately," she said, "I've had a little business training myself, so we can discuss this proposed contract properly and dispassionately."

"I'm glad to find you so sensible," he told her. "I can give you nothing better than a second option," she said.

"What!" he exclaimed. "I might tell you that I am conscious of the honor you do me, but that I am already engaged," she explained.

"That's sort of cold-blooded," he complained. "That's business," she asserted. "I don't believe I like business as well as I thought I did," he remarked.

"Very likely," she returned. "I'd rather have a first option."

"A first option never has been and never will be secured by business methods."—Brooklyn Eagle.

On With the Dance

ORIENTAL pipes and drums will play one-step and fox trots for a great community dance up and down the broad pavement of the Michigan State Fair, Detroit, Aug. 25 to Sept. 7. For this novel feature the pavement is to be washed and waxed from the Administration Building to the Grandstand. Admission to the grounds will be free while the dancing is going on from 5 to 8 p. m. American brass bands will play the waltzes.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE COMMISSION

Plymouth, Mich., June 30, 1919. At an adjourned meeting of the commission of the village of Plymouth called to order by President Conner on the above date. Commissioners present: Conner, Burrows, Dagggett, Pierce, Robinson. Absent: None.

Resolution regarding the construction of drain on Blunk avenue was presented and read.

Resolved by the Commission of the Village of Plymouth, State of Michigan:

Section 1. That there be constructed along Blunk avenue in said village of Plymouth, a sewer or drain; said sewer to commence at the Tonquish creek, so-called, and running thence northerly across the private property of E. O. Huston and C. A. Fisher to Penman avenue; thence across private property of Kate E. Allen and J. R. Rauch Church street; thence across Church street to Blunk avenue; thence along Blunk avenue to the intersection of Blunk avenue and Farmer street.

Section 2. That of the estimated cost of construction of said sewer, the village of Plymouth shall pay 33 1/3 per cent thereof, and the remainder of said expense shall be assessed upon the lots or lands as shown by the map of special assessment district as now on file in the office of the village clerk, said assessment to be made as near as may be, in proportion to the benefits which each of the aforesaid pieces or parcels of land will receive by reason of the construction of said public improvement.

Section 3. That said sewer be constructed in accordance with the plans, specifications and details as submitted by the Village Manager, and under the general supervision of said Village Manager.

Section 4. That J. O. Eddy, W. R. Shaw and W. H. Hoyt, special assessors of said village of Plymouth, and not interested in any of the property above described, as to be benefited by the construction of said public improvement; and not akin to any person interested therein; are hereby designated as commissioners and directed to make an assessment on all lots and lands benefited with said sewer, and to assess thereon, as set forth; its proportion of 66 2/3 per cent of the expense of said improvement as above set forth, as near as may be to the benefits which each of the aforesaid pieces or parcels of land will receive by reason of the construction of said improvement; and the remainder of said expense shall be assessed against the village at large to be paid from the general fund of said village.

Moved by Burrows, supported by Pierce, that the resolution be adopted as read. Ayes—Conner, Burrows, Dagggett, Pierce, Robinson. Nays—None.

Moved by Pierce, supported by Dagggett, that the bid of the American LaFrance Fire Engine Co. for a double tank combination chemical and hose truck be accepted, and the Manager be instructed to purchase same. Ayes—Conner, Burrows, Dagggett, Pierce, Robinson. Nays—None.

Moved by Burrows, supported by Pierce, that the appointment of Lee Jewell and John Jewell as special police for one week, beginning July 1, be approved. Carried.

The following bills were presented for payment: Roy Jewell $ 3.75 Walter Dethloff 15.20 Ray Sackett 86.40 Nat Rider 48.00 Carl Dethloff 29.20 Roy Fischer 27.20 George Youngs 88.00

Total $386.35. Moved by Burrows supported by Dagggett, that the bills be allowed and warrants drawn on the proper funds for the payment of the same. Carried.

Moved by Burrows, supported by Dagggett, that we adjourn. Carried. D. G. BROWN, Clerk.

FERTILIZER PRICES SAID COMING DOWN

FARMERS ADVISED TO DELAY PURCHASE OF STOCKS FOR FALL DELIVERY.

Commercial fertilizer prices are coming down greatly for fall delivery, according to Dr. M. M. McCool, soils specialist at M. A. C. The prediction is based upon information gathered from fertilizer men and farmers all over the country. "In most cases farmers who intend to buy fertilizer should delay their orders until the present level of prices becomes better," says Professor McCool. "Prices are certain to come down, and those who delay purchase will save the difference."

Mixed fertilizers will be appreciably lower in the fall, while prices of acid phosphate will show less change. All indicators, however, point to a sure fall in the price of all commercial fertilizers, and in plenty of time for the fall delivery.

Outstanding Dogs of the Country To Be Benchd at State Fair Show

"ATTENTION TITO", CHAMPION POMERANIAN, OWNED BY MRS. FRANK J. NAVIN, DETROIT.

It is seldom that a dog, never before shown in a ring, can go from puppies or novice classes to winners, but this is just what this little black fellow did. You have before you a fine specimen of the toy breed called Pomeranians. This particular dog's name is "Attention Tito" and the owner is Mrs. Frank J. Navin, of Detroit, whose husband is the owner of the Detroit Tigers.

Mrs. Navin bought "Attention Tito" last winter and exhibited him for the first time at the Detroit Kennel Club's show last March. Tito won all his classes and topped off those honors by getting winners. Later on he was declared best Pomeranian in the show and on the final night of the show he got the highest honor a toy can win being awarded the dark green ribbon declaring him best toy of any breed. "Attention Tito" will be entered in the licensed show which will be held in connection with the Michigan State Fair. The dogs will be on exhibition and pass before the judges on Aug. 30 and 31 and Sept. 1. Secretary Manager G. W. Dickinson, who is putting on the affair, will devote the entire upper floor of the poultry building to the dogs. His show last year was the biggest given in the country during the summer and fall months and this year's affair should be much bigger. Toy breeds, which will be judged by Enno Meyer, prominent expert of Cincinnati, O., will carry a big entry list.

BOY'S STATE FAIR SCHOOL ENLARGED

Modern, scientific methods of farming have supplanted the old rule of thumb mode, especially since the necessity of intensive farming was brought about through the great world's strife. In view of these improved conditions, the Boys' State Fair School at the Michigan State Fair, will be of more importance in 1919 than during any previous years. One boy from each county will attend the exposition in Detroit during its ten days—August 29-September 7—as guests of the association. G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager, has made arrangements for some of the authorities of the country on farming subjects to lecture before the students. It is his belief that one thoroughly competent young man in each county will work wonders in improving farming methods through the community and he is endeavoring to make the ten days' course more comprehensive than ever. All expenses of the boys, from the time they leave home until their return, are defrayed by the fair.

FREE ENTERTAINMENT AT MICH. STATE FAIR

During the ten days of the Michigan State Fair, at Detroit, August 29 to September 7, free attractions, the equal of which has never been collected in this state, will be presented. G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager of the fair association, has secured the nation to obtain the greatest, outstanding attractions in the amusement park. Trained animals, circus performers, airplanes, fireworks and many other big features including automobile races and auto polo will fill up every afternoon and evening of the entire fortnight. Among some of the acts which are to appear are: Trained apes and a trained elephant; Hawaiian singers; Fernikoff Rose Band; clowns; trained dogs; Jap tumblers; Aronty Brothers, and many other clever and eccentric acts. Danbar's White Hussar band is to be at the fair during the entire 10 days to play afternoons and evenings in the grand stand and give band concerts in the parks.

REDUCED RATES ON RAILROADS

U. S. RAILROAD ADMINISTRATION MAKES SPECIAL FREIGHT AND PASSENGER FARES TO STATE AND COUNTY EXPOSITIONS.

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR VICTORY
G. W. Dickinson Leads Committee Which Carries On Successful Fight for Fair Patrons.

Following importunities by a committee of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions, of which G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager of the Michigan State Fair was a moving spirit, the Government Railroad Administration has broadened largely its ruling of the railroad return free privilege for fairs.

Coincidental with this sweeping victory for the Michigan State Fair, after a fight of several years, the Railroad Administration announced that railroads would give a one and a third fare to all passengers to state and county fairs this year.

Prior to 1915 the railroads returned free, exhibits to fairs when the ownership had not been changed. During that year the privilege was taken away and full rates were levied up to last year, when Mr. Dickinson succeeded in having the return free privilege reinstated. However, the new reduced rate for exhibits, as now granted, by the Railroad Administration, goes farther than anything ever before obtained.

Under the old return free privilege an exhibitor making a circuit of a number of fairs was allowed to return free only from the last fair to the circuit to the original starting point. The concession obtained by Mr. Dickinson and other members of the committee this year is such that the exhibitor pays only half fare when making the circuit or visiting a single fair. Horses were not included under the ruling of last year.

Convince Railroad Head. The committee convinced Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads, that this was a direct blow at the horse breeding industry of the country, shown by the war to be one of the most important of industries, despite the automobiles.

The decision of the Railroad Administration for so sweeping a concession to state and county fairs of the country is a direct recognition by the Government of the growing importance such institutions are assuming as great educational factors. It will mean vastly larger and better exhibitions at fairs and will permit display of record breaking stocks and products over a far greater field. In Michigan it will mean that exhibitors may show their products at the Michigan State Fair at one-half the cost for transportation of former years. The ruling regarding passenger fares also will mean that many thousands of persons in the state will have the opportunity of visiting the fair this year at two-thirds of the transportation cost of all previous years.

HAPPENED IN THE STONE AGE

Beautiful Love Story of How Cave Man Showed His Great Devotion for His Mate.

Glub, the cave man, hurried home through the early dawn. Slung from his shoulder were three large stones, and on his face was an anxious grin. At the door of the cave stood Bia, the cave woman, a scowl of wrath in her face, and a large, knotty club in her hand.

Glub gulped when he saw her, and hastily set the stones on the ground. Grinning sheepishly, he approached and struck her affectionately on the side of the jaw, following the blow with a tug at her black hair. But these blandishments were all lost on Bia, the stony-hearted, who fixed him in the eye with the largest knot on the club.

"Have a heart, sweetie"—or words to that effect—beggd Glub. At the sound of his voice, Bia broke into a prehistoric snuffle and removed the club from her mate's eye.

"Where have you been?" she sniffed. "I'll bet I know. I'll bet you've been over with those nasty, lowdown tree dwellers rolling bones till all hours, with your wife and children waiting for you and thinking you had been run over by a glacier, and the best thing you could do was to go to waste. O! Booh Hoo!"

Breaking into loud, paleolithic sobs, Bia once more brought the club to bear upon her spouse's pithecanthropic man. Glub was grieved and her reproaches made him feel guilty, so he knocked her down apologetically and confessed that she was right. He had been rolling bones with Sweek, the tree dweller.

"Yes," howled Bia. "I know it. I knew you were rolling bones. A fine thing for a man with a family to gamble away all his good shells and stones and even skins, when the children have hardly a whole fig leaf to their names, and the meat is so low that unless you scare up a dinosaur this very day we shall starve. Fine goings on for a man with a family that needs to be saving his strength to go out and get meat for them and fig leaves and skins to keep them warm!" Glub was repentant.

"Bia," he said. "I know it was wrong to gamble—very, very wrong—but see what I won from Sweek, the tree dweller. See the three hollow stones filled with dinosaur meat and Adam's apples. Wah! What do you think of your Glub now?" Bia, in the transports of her joy flung the club into the cave, and flung herself upon Glub's neck, choking him violently.

"My own Glub!" she cried. "Come into the cave and have breakfast." Moral: There is nothing new under the sun.—Detroit Free Press.

Observed Father's Wish. Thackeray's daughter, Lady Ritchie, the widow of Sir Richmond Ritchie, died recently at the age of eighty-two. She had endeared herself to a wide public by her delightful reminiscences of her father and of the other famous Victorians among whom her early life was spent.

If as a novelist she achieved no popular success she was incomparable in relating anecdotes of the sort that illuminate, about the many remarkable men and women whom she had known intimately. It is much to be regretted that, in obedience to Thackeray's dying wish, she was precluded from writing her father's "Life."

Ritchie's "Thackeray" would have ranked with Lockhart's "Scott." Lady Ritchie's charming introductions to the biographical edition of "Thackeray" tantalize without satisfying his devotees. The reader wants more.—Living Age.

Recording Tree Growth. Botanists of the Carnegie Institution keep an interesting record of the growth of tree trunks, with their daily and seasonal changes of shape, by means of a new apparatus called the "dendrograph." It has two forms, each using as a supporting belt a series of wooden blocks hinged to gether and fastened around the tree. In one form of the instrument, plungers, supporting an encircling wire at their outer ends, touch the trunk at selected points, and any movement of a plunger is transmitted by the wire to a recording pen on a revolving cylinder. In the other form, a yoke carrying four contacts surrounds the tree, the variation in the distances between the contacts caused by any change in the tree's girth being indicated on the recording drum.

Her Offering. The elder sister had married a grocer and was well pleased with her choice. But not so her eighteen-year-old sister. She was taking great pains to impress the family with her ambitions for a husband. "He'll have to be a college graduate, a successful man in some big business and very handsome," she ended.

The elder sister smiled placidly. "And what charms," she asked blandly, "have you to offer for all these demands?"—Indianapolis News.

Pineapple Fiber for Cloth. The pineapple, curious as it may appear to people in the accident who know it only as an article of food, is used in China for making cloth. At least, its leaves are so used. The leaf fiber, after being extracted by a simple process, is first made into thread. The thread is then spooled and run on bobbins. Old-fashioned native looms next handle the thread, converting it into serviceable cloth.

The Detroit Liberty band has asked the city for $15,000 to help in its maintenance. It did wonderful work during the war campaign, and now unless supported will have to disband.

A County Normal class will also be established at the Detroit Normal in September. This work is open to all residents of Wayne county and leads to a certificate that entitles the holder to teach anywhere in the rural schools. This course is one year in length.

ROAD TO SUCCESS

Obey General Order No. 1, Which is Simply, Find Out!

Heads of Big and Little Business, Who Do This, Will Be the Winners in the Great Industrial Battle Now On.

Find out! That's general order No. 1 in American big business. Cau Du Ponts, who made three-quarters of all explosives used against Germany, swing that vast machine into a useful purpose of peace?

It hired 2,000 chemists, set them to research work and found out! Can the United States double its wheat product and add a half to its meat supply? Spend $25,000,000 in research work along agricultural lines as it did two years ago and find out! How can Standard Oil utilize every drop of that black ooze which pours from thousands of oil wells? By employing chemists and engineers who can find out.

Why does Armour have 125 subsidiary companies, many of them highly profitable, and which as the elder Armour said utilize every part of the pig but the squeal? Because it spends an immense sum to carry out that general order No. 1 of all big business. Find out!

There are in the United States today 40 concerns, each of which spends anywhere from $100,000 to half a million annually on this great game of finding out, writes "Girard" in the Philadelphia Ledger.

It is the supreme day of the expert, the engineer and the chemist. It is the era of unlimited research work. Leather too scarce and expensive? Find a substitute.

Is there a famine in white paper? Set your researchers to discover a new crop. Two-thirds of all the energy in coal goes up the chimney in smoke. The biggest fuel burners, such as the Pennsylvania railroad, spent big sums to find out a way to lessen the smoke and increase the heat in a boiler.

"Can you take that battery?" asked the general. "I think I can," replied the colonel. "Go take it," said the commander, "and don't come back until you do."

"Here's $10,000," says the corporation president to his chief of research workers. "Find out how we can save a fraction of a cent on each ton of output."

And the fellow who can find out has won a great industrial battle and captured a battery from his more sluggish competitor.

One winter day in his banking office I saw Winthrop Smith hand a silver dollar to his old friend, the magician, Keller.

"Here, do a trick," said the banker. "Hands are too cold," replied the sleight of hand artist, but taking the coin he flipped it into the air and instantly it seemed as if it were raining silver dollars in Keller's silk hat.

That's how some of the wizards in trade operate. By an apparent stroke of genius they multiply one dollar of profit into nearly a dozen.

"Luck," you say. Not that at all. It wasn't luck which enabled the magician to manipulate the coins, but years of patient practice and study.

The fellow who thinks he can win in business today without once following the injunction "find out," had better telephone for the sheriff to nail up his door.

Color Blindness. Color blindness proves to be less simple than has been supposed, the defect being one of coloring instead of vision in some cases. As reported by Dr. H. E. Howe of the American Chemical society, eyes quite perfect in ordinary color perception have become weak or fatigued for red and then have responded to the green ray combined with the red from certain red glass. A veteran engine driver properly identified red light near at hand, while at considerable distance the signal appeared green. The disc of the lamp was found to be copper ruby glass and this and some other kinds of red glass permit rays toward the blue end of the spectrum to pass in mixture with the red. The use of selenium ruby glass is advised. Its transmission of only red rays insuring that the normal eye will see no green.

Peculiar Patches in Sky. Not less than 192 more or less clearly defined dark patches in the sky are recognized by Prof. E. E. Barnard in his latest catalogue. In some cases they are fairly round and regular, in others they are of complicated and contorted form and their appearance and sharpness suggest that they are dark clouds or nebulae cutting off a background made faintly luminous by unseen stars or diffused nebulous matter. Most, though not all, of the dark patches are in the region of the Milky Way, where so much of the material visible to the heavens is concentrated.

Belt Had Tightened. Two soldiers from Fort McKinley, Maine, attended a bounteous repast on Thanksgiving day, and after partaking of the most varied assortment of dishes, the hostess inquired if they would have anything else. One soldier gazed longingly at the fruit, candy and ice cream as yet untouched, and remarked: "A little more room, please."—Everybody's Magazine.

STOCK AUCTION AT MICH. STATE FAIR

"DICK."

"Dick," the grand champion steer at the Michigan State Fair, last year, was put up at public auction during the exposition and when the hammer fell a record price for fat steers on the hoof was established. The animal, entered at the fair and placed on sale by C. H. Prescott & Son, of Tawas City, was bid in by Thomas Newton, Detroit packer, at 70 cents a pound on the hoof. The animal weighed 1280 and netted the owner $896, the highest price ever paid in Michigan. At the coming state fair, to be held in Detroit from August 29 to September 7, a great public auction of all kinds of fat stock will be held and buyers from all over the country will attend. This is a new department of the fair, established by G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager, which promises to grow into a great market for Michigan livestock breeders.

AGENT GAVE IT UP RAN TRUE TO FORM

Nothing for Him to Do but Hand Out Ticket.

Now He Makes Plaintive Appeal for Rule by Which He Can Tell a Minister From Ordinary Run of Mankind.

"Sky pilots! Whe-e-w!" whistled the ticket agent of a Missouri town the other day, so the story goes. "Well, it seems to me there are just ten times as many as there used to be in this neck of the woods, and I tell you some of 'em guys who come up here to this window sayin' they're ministers and asking for half-fare tickets look more like hullyhoo men 'at a street fair or circus than sky pilots.

"The trouble is when a fellow comes up here to the window and says 'I'm a preacher,' there ain't any rules laid down for me to go by to tell him from a professional crook, or moll buzzer, or a right reverend, and so I have to hand out the ticket.

"The other night I was talking to my wife about it, and we hit on a scheme, and when I went down to work next morning I had the family Bible tucked under my arm, and when a sporty-looking old chap, puffing a cigarette, with a plaid suit and a necktie so loud it was screaming at you, came up to the window, and says 'minister's ticket to Kansas City, please,' I said respectful like:

"Please excuse me, sir, but will you please tell me who wrote the second book of St. Paul's Epistle to the Galatians?"

"He smiled at me friendly, and said pretty quick, 'Why Paul, of course. Now get busy with a ticket.'

"'Nope,' said I, just as cold as you please, looking him hard in the eyes. 'You're dead wrong there. Paul didn't do any such thing, and nobody else ever wrote a second book to those Galatians, for there ain't any such book,' and I thought I had finished him.

"But, mind you, he just sort of looked at me sad-like for a minute like he felt sorry for me, and then he reared back and said in a voice just like he was praying: 'Sir, I am a minister of the holy gospel, whether or not this finite thing called mind tricks me in reference to the number of books written by the blessed saint, Paul. I teach the philosophy of rational thought so as to co-ordinate with the elucidation of internal forces upon the outward or extraneous matter which operate in opposition to the complete domination of the purely physical to the intellectual—the soul, some call it—and that the elevation of the spiritual retards the development of disease and error on this terrestrial planet on which we live and move and have our being.' "I looked at him a minute, and then I said out loud, 'Well I be dogged!' For I was thinking all the time to myself how a ten-dollar-a-week ticket man was ever going to get wise to a line of talk like that even with a Bible in his hand. And I handed out the ticket."—Kansas City Star.

Quaint Island.

Elmley, one of England's oddest little islands, though only 48 miles from London, is a parish where roads, shops, lamps, telephones, motor cars, public houses and postoffices are unknown. The island, which lies off the Isle of Sheppey, Kent, has an area of about 2,000 acres, and is the property of Oxford university. The inhabitants are mostly shepherds of large flocks of sheep. The oldest man of the village is in his seventieth year. He has yet to see a motor car. The school and church are the two chief landmarks on the island. The reason they were built in such a sparsely populated spot is that in winter it is almost impossible to leave the island, as the ferry which runs to and from the island is dangerous.

A novel method of obtaining the services of the ferryman, who lives opposite to the island, is the opening of the white door of a hut facing the shore. At night a lighted candle held aloft serves the purpose of the open door.

Stonewall's Plan.

As an American troopship pulled away from a New York dock on its journey to France, Stonewall Jackson and Welcome Brown hung over the forward rail and looked with solemn faces down into the choppy waters of the Atlantic.

"What you'll gwine to do, Stonewall, if one of dem powerful mean torpedoes smash into dis here boat?" Stonewall remained silent for a minute, then he turned a sober face toward his brother in sorrow.

"What I gwine to do? Listen, Welcome, my ole mammy done told me dat dere nebber wuz but one man dat eber walked on de water an' got away wid it—but ef one ob dem chasers ever smash into dis boat—sly, Welcome, Ah'm goin' to be de second one."—John E. Scroggins, U. S. N., in Judge.

Rats Cause Losses.

Losses from rats in cities are enormous. In 1908 the biological survey made a careful study of rat infestations in two cities, Washington and Baltimore, with the result that actual losses of produce and other property amounting annually to $400,000 and $700,000 respectively, were revealed. These sums are nearly in ratio to the populations. The Woman's Municipal league of Boston recently announced that losses from rats in that city amounted to $1,350,000 each year. Losses in Pittsburgh, Pa., have been estimated at over $1,000,000 a year.

The Joy of Living

To enjoy life we must have good health. No one can reasonably hope to get much real pleasure out of life when his bowels are clogged a good share of the time, and the poisons that should be expelled are absorbed into the system, producing headache and indigestion. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets will move the bowels, strengthen the digestion and give you a chance to realize the real joy of living. Try it.—Adv.

Nothing Really Remarkable About This Tree.

Considering Its Variety and the Place Whence It Comes, It Could Hardly Avoid Having a Criminal Nature.

The Boston Globe, in its "Odd Items" column, prints an item about a tree which absorbed some of a rail fence. We have lost the item, so we don't know where this tree was, or is, but it couldn't have been anywhere near Harmony, Me., says the Lewiston Journal. If it had, the owner never would have had the nerve to mention it in the face of the remarkable performances of a tree that stood on the land of a relative of ours.

Our relative had been a soldier in his youth, and when he bought this farm he brought to it a number of shrubs, trees and flowers collected in his wanderings about the earth. This particular tree of which I speak was of the Thievohunnish variety, and came from Prussia.

It grew rapidly after it was set out and crowded out all other growing stuff for 20 feet around. In ten years it was three feet through, and in 15, four feet through at the base.

The peculiar thing about this tree was not its rapid growth, however. Let us explain. Our relative built a barbed-wire fence by this tree and to save driving a post nailed it to the tree. Well, the ends of the fence began to disappear. Our relative thought someone was snipping off the ends of the wire for some reason. His wife was of the opinion that the wire had too much wool in it and was shrinking in the dews and rains. In any case from 10 to 20 feet of the wire would disappear every night.

My relative finally gave it up, and in about two weeks the wire had disappeared entirely and the mystery was greater than ever. We simply couldn't trace it.

Then we began to miss articles left near the tree. A hired man left a scythe in its branches one night. The next morning it was gone.

Some one left a pall near by and that disappeared.

Finally the matter was brought to a climax when the blooded bull, calf which had been tied to a stake near this tree vanished during the night.

About this time my relative noticed that there seemed to be an extraneous growth of some sort of about six feet above the butt of the tree. He began to have his suspicions about this tree. He determined to sacrifice the tree to satisfy his curiosity. He got an ax and chopped it down. Inside the tree was the scythe, hundreds of yards of barbed wire, the partially dismembered carcass of the calf, palls, stones, a pair of overalls, one overshoe and many other articles.

The tree had a criminal nature and developed a kleptomaniac streak. Everyone was glad to see that tree cut down.

Flower Language.

In remote Alpine hamlets and villages, especially in the Bernese Oberland, there still exist ancient and pretty customs of proposing marriage by a language of flowers. If a maid accepts a bouquet of edelweiss from a man she at the same time accepts him as her fiance, the idea being that the man has risked his life to obtain the flowers for the woman he loved.

Another method which exists in the canton of Glarus is for the young man to place a flower pot containing a single rose and a note on the window sill of the girl's room when she is absent from home, and wait—perhaps days—for a reply. If the maid takes the rose the young man boldly enters the house to arrange matters with her parents, but if the rose is allowed to fade away the proposal is rejected without a single word having been exchanged between the couple.

They and We.

A wounded corporal in a hospital told how, while on patrol duty, he had seen the body of a noncommissioned French officer hanging by the feet, his face bashed in with muskets.

"My men and I were furious," he said, "and made up our minds that we'd do the same thing to the first German we caught. That night we found two Germans hidden in a barn. We fell on them and then as they were hungry we gave them bread. We could not do what they did, for we are not of the same race."—Everybody's Magazine.

Fowls Plucked With Vacuum.

A machine of the vacuum type for plucking fowls is described and illustrated in Popular Mechanics magazine. With it, it is said, a person can remove all the feathers, dry, from an average-sized bird in about five minutes. A motor-driven fan creates suction in a large flexible tube, at the free end of which is a special plucking apparatus. Once placed, the feathers pass through the tube into a large receptacle overhead.

No Honeymoon Trip.

I attended a wedding of a dear girl friend whose father was a well-to-do farmer. After the ceremony we girls crowded around the blushing bride and she was asked where they expected to go on their honeymoon trip. She replied: "We aren't going to take a trip, for the money we would spend will buy a nice cow."—Chicago Tribune.

STATE FAIR EXECUTIVE TO BE HOST

G. W. Dickinson, Secretary-Manager, Has Arranged to Take Care of 500,000 Wolverines At the Exposition Grounds During the Ten Days of the Fair; Michigan State Fair Now Largest in Country.

G. W. DICKINSON.

More than 500,000 Michigan people will be entertained during 10 days, through the efforts of a single man, this year. Added to this, a vast number will be given 10 days of intensive education along the lines from which they obtain their daily bread and butter.

G. W. Dickinson is going to be the host in Detroit from August 29 to September 7, for the pleasure seekers and head schoolmaster for the students. The Michigan State Fair, of which he is secretary-manager, is his playground and school-room.

To hold the interest of 500,000 and keep them entertained for 10 days, so thoroughly they won't forget it for a year, requires an institution vast in its scope. Michigan farmers and stock breeders are experts in their professions now. To act as a teacher and to give them real constructive education, which will rebound to the benefit of all the people of the state, requires a super-expert and an organization as great as that which provides the entertainment.

As an institution capable of providing these two great features for Michigan—for pleasure, as well as education is a real necessity to the people of the state—the Michigan State Fair has had to grow to tremendous proportions.

Secretary-Manager Dickinson who, in a large measure, has been responsible for this success, in the six years he has held the position has made himself an expert.

Six years' study of physiology, that science without which entertaining of vast throngs would be impossible; six years' study of fair management recognized as a difficult profession; and as many years intensive study of agricultural problems and stock breeding is the reason for the success of the State Fair manager.

More than $75,000 is to be spent this year in premiums at the State Fair. This is more than double the amount paid six years ago when Mr. Dickinson first took office. Besides this many more thousands will be expended in defraying the great cost of the vast entertainment projects which have been arranged for the fair.

The same six years also has seen $162,566 spent in permanent improvements on the Fair Grounds in Detroit. This too, despite the fact that during the time a very material decrease was made in the Fair Society's bonded debt. Enhanced values to the Fair property have carried the investment in this, one of the biggest institutions in the state, to a point where it ranks with some of the largest business enterprises in Michigan.

The Michigan State Fair has climbed steadily in the ranks of the big fairs of this part of the world until last year it was recognized as being the largest. This year it promises to surpass its own record.

No assistance in the way of permanent improvements or maintenance has been rendered by the state during the six-year period in which the fair has made such tremendous strides. The money appropriated by the state for the past 4 years has been added to the premium lists.

Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR The Ford Model T Trucks The Ford Model T One-ton Truck is now a little over three years old, and we have yet to hear of the first trouble it has given. That's because of the worm drive. Not a bit of the power of the motor is lost through the worm drive. It simply cannot be. Up to the introduction of the Ford Motor Truck, you could only get the worm drive in the highest priced motor trucks. It is too expensive an equipment for ordinary priced trucks. That's one reason why we put it on the Ford Truck. Quality in materials, scientific application of transmission of power, dependability in service and economy in operation are cardinal virtues in Ford production. These are what made the Ford "The Universal Car," and these are the qualities that will make the Ford One-ton Truck "The Universal Motor Truck." In town, in the city, in village and farm, the Ford Motor Truck is the essential necessity because it solves the problem of economical transportation. Come in and let us give you a demonstration. Let us have a chance to point out the superior merits of the Ford Motor Truck. The firm listed below will be only too glad to take your order and give you the delivery with the least delay possible, and assure you of splendid "after service." Today's Reflections

An eastern doctor says his new cure for the flu makes it no worse than a boil on the neck. Anybody who thinks a boil on the neck a mere trifle never had one.

A dollar in Plymouth is worth 100 cents, the same as everywhere else. And it will only buy about thirty cents worth of grub here, the same as everywhere else.

It's been our observation that a man can get used to anything—except his relatives' fool actions.

One of the hardest things we have to fathom in looking at some gardens in and around Plymouth, is to tell which is the vegetables and which is the weed.

It's too bad the Italian delegate didn't take his wife with him to the peace conference. Then he'd have somebody in Paris who would agree with him.

We see where they're having a hard time getting people to the games in Washington City. Congress seems to be funnier to most people than a ball game.

When the average Plymouth woman refuses to go away for a week's visit, it isn't because she is afraid her husband will be lonesome—but because she's afraid he won't be.

It's a pretty fast world, but we notice that burglar-proof safes are still being robbed, while fire-proof buildings burn up every day.

A Plymouth man may be all his wife thinks he is, but he is seldom all he thinks he is.

Remember, that even if you can't do anything else, you can at least help things a little bit by keeping out of the other fellow's way.

One Plymouth man said yesterday that about the only danger in flirting is that it might lead to matrimony.

Maine still keeps a few leaps ahead of the rest of the country as regards prohibition, her attorney general having ruled now that Jamaica ginger is intoxicating.

If any man in Plymouth feels uncomfortable during the next few weeks, but fails to have the usual dark-brown taste in his mouth, he should be wise enough to keep his feelings strictly to himself.

If you have anything to buy or sell, an ad in the Mail will bring quick results. Try it and see.

TAX NOTICE

Every Saturday afternoon during July and August, commencing Saturday, July 5th, I will be at the clerk's office in the village hall for the collection of village taxes, which are now due. Those who wish to pay their taxes on other days can do so by calling at my residence on Pennington avenue.

Water taxes are also due and payable July 1st.

WILLIAM RATTENBURY, Treasurer.

Wife's Stock of That Commodity Pretty Well Exhausted in Effort to Reform William.

A Chicago lawyer said at a banquet: "Let me tell you a temperance story."

"A long, rangy woman said one day to a parson: 'Parson, Bill was drunk again Saturday night.'"

"But the parson answered in a soothing tone: 'Dear sister, if you would try being patient with William! Patience and forbearance work miracles, and I have faith to believe that in dear William's case it would be even so.'"

"But the long, rangy woman shook her head.

"Looks to me," she said, "as if I'd tried patience and forbearance about long enough. Talkin' of forbearance, don't I go weeks at a time without speakin' to the cuss, no matter what he asks me? Yes, hull weeks, but it don't seem no good. Then, when it comes to patience, why, parson, I've locked him out of the house 'st night more often than I got fingers and toes, and time and again I've sewed him up in a sheet when he was full and walloped him with a rope till I felt fair dropped with tiredness; and I've bolted him in the henhouse three days runnin' in the patient hope he'd sign the pledge, but he wouldn't; and I've doused him all over with cold water on many a fressin' winter's night, and I've had him run in twice, and I've mixed vinegar with his booze so as to make him sick, and then waited with the patience of Job to see if he'd repent when he came round, but, parson, nothin' done no good. No sires, it'll take more than patience and forbearance to straighten that man out."

Who's Who?

In making the interesting portrait collection of Americans earlier than the eighteenth century, recently published by the Boston Athenaeum, the librarian of that oldest history in the New England capital had to take into consideration the tricks that time has a way of playing with the identity of ancient portraits. Several pictures of men and women who lived in the original group of colonies were excluded because it is no longer possible to say with certainty that the names by which they are known are those of the sitters. It is now known to be more than likely, for example, that the English poet, Charles Churchill, was the original of the picture long believed to represent the American soldier of King Philip's war, Col. Benjamin Church. The portrait generally thought to be that of Miles Standish is open to the suspicion of really representing somebody else, and some of the surviving pictures supposed to show the features of Roger Williams have been plausibly identified as the portraits of other persons.

Astronomers Puzzled.

Some astronomers are of the opinion that the moon was once upon a time part of the earth, and that, while the latter was in a plastic state, our satellite was thrown out from it. They point to the Pacific ocean as the gash from which it was rudely rent.

Maybe so. But nobody knows why the surface of the moon, of which we never see much more than half, is covered with so-called "craters" that bear no likeness to anything on the earth. They are bowl-shaped, usually circular, and rimmed by cliffs 5,000 to 10,000 feet high. There are at least 25,000 of them visible to the telescope, the biggest being 800 miles in diameter.

The late Professor Pickering of Harvard was convinced that the moon has a little moon of its own, a few hundred yards in diameter, which can be seen only when the earth passes between the sun and the lunar orb, throwing the latter into its shadow.—Exchange.

In the Days of the Bustle.

I was making a new dress for myself. It was a good many years ago, in the days when we wore bustles. The bustle which I wore was a home-made, crude affair. When fitting the dress, I had put on the bustle in order to get the proper hang to the skirt. So, to save time, I tied the bustle around outside of my house dress, and then tried on the new skirt.

During the morning I found it necessary to go to the store, and while waiting in the crowded grocery for my parcels, a friend came up to me and said, to the amusement of the bystanders: "Why, Lillie, what have you tied around your waist?"

I found I had forgotten to take the bustle off, and had worn it on the outside of my house dress all the way to the store.—Exchange.

Americans Rear New Town.

A number of views of the up-to-date village, built by the American Red Cross near Pisa, Italy, are shown in Popular Mechanics Magazine. The village has been built to provide homes for artisans and their families who fled from Venice during the war and since have not been in a position to return. The village will accommodate 2,000 persons.

Handicapped by Law.

"You are suffering from brain fag and ennui," announced the specialist. "You should take more interest in your business."

"I would like to," replied the patient.

"Then why don't you?" demanded the specialist.

"The law won't let me," replied the patient. "I'm a pawnbroker."

NEW RUBBERS ARE SAID

ESSENTIAL IN CANNING

USE OF OLD AND POOR RINGS

POINTED OUT AS POOR ECONOMY BY M. A. C.

"It is poor policy in home canning to use rubber jar rings a second year," declares Miss Anna B. Cowles of East Lansing, state leader of Girls' Canning Clubs. New rubbers of good quality are absolutely essential for consistent success in canning. Metal tops should also be inspected carefully, as they must fit perfectly. Even a new rubber is not necessarily a good one, for there are many rubbers of poor grade on the market today. Miss Cowles gives the following tests for an acceptable rubber ring:

1. A rubber should stand a reasonable amount of stretching and pulling without breaking and should always return to its original shape.
2. A good rubber will not crack or show results after being pinched between the thumb and fore finger.
3. For pink jar rings, a rubber should be 5-16 of an inch wide, 1-12 of an inch thick, and have an inside diameter of 2 1-4 inches.
4. Color is no index of quality. Good rings can be either red, white or black.

Full information on canning subjects may be had by writing to Miss Anna B. Cowles, State Leader Girls' Clubs, East Lansing.

The Newburg division of the Plymouth W. C. T. U. entertained the Plymouth members, Thursday, June 26, at the Newburg hall. The thirty-nine members who went from here report a most enjoyable time. After the regular business meeting, an initiatory service for four members was conducted by the president, Miss Cora Pelham. An impromptu program was then given, which consisted of a vocal duet by the Youngs sisters; a recitation by Mrs. Lela Humphries and a reading by Mrs. Eva Smith. A social hour was enjoyed and a ten-cent tea was served.

There will now be a vacation until September 11th, when a tea meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. I. N. Dickerson.

A Car Overload is A Tire Overload

MOST cars, particularly Fords, are overloaded. To give real service under such conditions, tires must have doubly strong side walls, built of the best fabric. They should be at least their full rated size—not skimped to save cost.

Horse-Shoe Tires for Ford rear wheels are really 3-5/8" in diameter—more than 10% over-size. This increased air space adds wonderfully to the life of the tire. Many of the tires used locally have run nearly twice the 5,000 miles guaranteed.

Notice that you seldom see a car with only one Horse-Shoe Tire on it. Ask the owner why. Then let us tell you more about this record-making tire.

Keep them Moving.

THE next best thing to "swatting the fly" is driving him away. The sweeping breeze of an electric fan will keep flies from sleeping infants (or adults) and from exposed food on dining table or in kitchen. A G-E fan costs but a trifle to operate and insures cooling breezes and protection from flies. We have sizes and types to suit every requirement.

Finally father summed up the situation: "Mother," he said, "I'm going to shake your pride and add several years to your life. Do you move along looking this sum?" Susan pretended to be a little, but she became more and more successful and overcame that. "What's the trick?" she asked. "The girl replied, 'I had times to be humiliated. Those spicy little ginger snaps, 'are the best' and 'they're a feast in themselves.'"

LETTER FROM FRANCE

Mrs. C. E. Ryder has received the following interesting letter from her son, Don:

Conly, France, June 5, '19

My Dear Mother:

Will tell you a little about the fine trip I had on my fourteen day furlough. My friend, Nelson, and I left Coules, May 14th, and got to Paris the morning of the 15th. We took in a Y. trip, going through the garden of the Tuileries, and the old place that has stood for three hundred years, where the kings of France lived. Then we went through the very old part of the city, seeing old buildings that have stood for hundreds of years, and all having a history, poor people living in most of them. The very narrow streets looked odd. This is an island which of course is made by the River Seine.

On the afternoon at 3:30, we left for Marseilles, getting there the next morning. From there we went on to Coules, where we spent the day. Coules is a beautiful place, built right along the Mediterranean. There are fine palm trees and flowers that make you stand and admire them. We went swimming in the afternoon, and enjoyed that very much after our long trip, the water being nice and warm. In the evening we went on an electric line to Nice, which is about fifteen miles from Coules. That was a pretty ride, traveling along the Mediterranean. Got to Nice and went to a hotel, where we had a good room. The next morning we took an auto trip up in the mountains, called the Guesstrip. We stopped at a perfume factory and were allowed to go through and see how it was run. We had a fine dinner at noon in one of the little mountain towns, which was served in fine style. The next morning we went on an auto trip to Monte Carlo. That was a wonderful place to see. From there we went into Italy, coming back through the mountains, coming back over the road that Napoleon took his army into Italy. The scenery was fine all the way back to Nice. The next morning we went through the old city of Nice, and saw some of the old Roman ruins. One place was an old arena and others of old forts. Nice is a beautiful city, with a great many hotels. We left there on the morning of the 31st, going on the narrow gauge-all through the Boase and Maritime Alps, stopped at Diagon, Grenoble, Aix le Bain and then to Chamouix. All of these towns are fine resorts. At Chamouix we had a great time climbing Mount Blanc. We got up at 3:30 in the morning and our party was composed of two Y. M. C. A. men, a second lieutenant, my friend, Nelson, two guides and myself. We took eats along and a good strong rope, which came in very handy.

Orders just came in to pack up and start for home. Will see you by the Fourth.

Lots of love,

Your son,
DON.
